Tax Evaluation Meetings Scheduled At O'Brien June 26

The Board of Education of Carney Rural High School, O'Brien, has scheduled two tax equalization board meetings for the latter part of this month. On June 26, at 2 p.m., the equalization board, composed of Ford Waldrip, S. J. Brothers and Buster Hodges, will meet with representatives of the oil companies, railroad and utility companies and individuals with oil interests.

Representatives of Pritchard and Abbott, valuation engineers, will be present, also. They are hired by the school to gather tax information on mineral, utility and railroad interests in the school district.

At 9 a.m. on June 29, the equalization board will meet with real estate and personal property owners. No radical change is expected in either mineral or real estate values.

This is the first school tax assessment made separate from that of the county in approximately 15 years. It was made necessary last year by the failure of the oil interests and the Haskell County Commissioners Court to agree to tax values in time for the school to make plans accordingly.

Roy Hester is in the process of assessing local property owners. The Haskell County tax assessor-collector will continue to collect the taxes.

MARILYN SEARCEY AND JEFFERSON GOODIN JR., MARRIED IN BENJAMIN

The First Baptist Church was the scene of a double ring ceremony uniting Marilyn Rhea Searcey and Marion Jefferyson Goodin Jr., in marriage.

The Saturday ceremony was read by the Rev. Lynn Wilson, pastor, at seven o'clock in the evening.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd G. Griffith of Benjamin. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Jefferyson Goodin of Las Cruces, N. M.

Presenting nuptial music were Karen Swartz of Herber Springs, Ark., and Bette Welch of Seminole, soloist.

Mr. Griffith gave the bride in marriage. She wore a gown of chantilly lace and tulle. The bedice, which was covered with chantilly lace, was styled with long, pointed sleeves. The full tulle skirt was accented with lace panels and showered with lace medallions.

The bride's veil of silk illusion with a hand rolled finish, fell from a crown of pearls and lace. Her white Bible bound in white satin held an orchid surrounded by lilies of the valley.

Nancy Gene Johnson of Stamford was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Lynda Louise Smith of Munday, cousin of the bride, and Joy White of Odessa.

Bridal attendants wore sheath dresses of orchid satin. Their headdresses were bands of orchid satin over orchid nylon tulle. They carried long stemmed white carnations.

Johnny Jeffries of Olton was best man. Ushers and groomsmen were David Deaton of Abilene and Wayne Searcey, brother of the bride.

Joy Maphis, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl and Marty Griffith, brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

The reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. Jayne Smith of Stamford, Judy Graham of Cisco, Carla Kay Maddox of Breckenridge, Sue Ryder, Mrs. Dorothy Dodd, Mrs. June Hamilton and Mrs. Andy Habel of Corpus Christi were members of the houseparty.

The bride wore a sheath of toast linen for the couple's wedding trip to Columbia, S. C.

The bride was graduated from Benjamin High School and attended Hardin-Simmons University. She was one of the six white horse riders and 1961 Rodeo Sweetheart.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

LAWS OF THE SEA

Sea law is one of the oldest branches of law. Venturing seamen have needed recorded rules to govern their affairs. For it's lonesome out at sea with no one around to hear your complaints.

This law became "admiralty" law, and it goes back to about 900 B.C. One of the early rules of the sea—dealing with jettison—is still part of today's laws: If one needs to save a ship in a storm by casting your cargo overboard, the ship and the remaining cargo owners all must chip in to pay the loss incurred for the common safety.

Nations needed uniformity in sea since commerce is international.

Seamen's customs from all the nations became written into laws—Nations have agreed to make the laws largely uniform.

Only the federal courts can hear admiralty cases. Many American court decisions refer to sea law as the law of all nations. In this, admiralty differs from the landlubber laws. For example:

When two ships collide both owners could be negligent and, if so, the damages will be apportioned depending on the degree of blame. But not on land. Here if you are even slightly negligent you lose your right to damages.

On the high seas seamen have long been subject to strict powers by the captain. An employer on land has far less power over his workers. In the early days employers often abused seamen until special federal laws were passed to protect seamen's wages.

Uncle Ben from Benjamin says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I was telling the fellers at the country store Saturday night about what that column writer said it was costing the world to git ready fer war. Ed Doolittle allowed as how maybe we better try one more time to set down with them Russians at the Summit.

Zeke Grubb was agin it, said he couldn't figger how it would do any good. Zeke said he was reading a piece last week showing that since we recognized Russia in 1933, Russia has broke 51 of the 53 agreements they has made with us. And Bug Hookum said he saw where Herbert Hoover claimed that when Stalin come to power he made treaties with 34 countries and in 1939 broke ever one of them.

I don't know what decision President Kennedy will make in this matter, but it was agreed at our session Saturday night that we'll never git anywhere setting down at the Summit table with them bandits. Clem Webster just about hit it on the barrel head when he said the only noise they respect is the hum of our missiles. It's a sad thought, Mister Editor, but it looks like all we can do is fer us to put our trust in the Almighty and keep our missile factories running on three shifts.

And I see by the papers where the Chinese Reds is thinking about sending eleven diplomats over here to argue about gitting in the United Nations. This is es, set standards for their employment, and to pay them if they were injured at sea.

Admiralty law also gives the ship its own personality. It became a legal entity something like a corporation.

A ship has rights. It takes with it the law of the flag it sails under.

Persons who go out to save a ship from peril are entitled to a "salvage" award for their efforts.

A special federal court sits for admiralty cases and has power over civil and criminal cases arising out of activities connected with the high seas. An admiralty court settles the disputes over contracts as well as personal injury cases that arise on the high seas, and on navigable inland waters, lakes and rivers, if connected with navigation.

This (newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

the first time I've noted the two platoon system in peace circles. The Russians has now got a big advantage over us, seeing as how they can send in the Chinese platoon while they rest up a bit between scrimmages.

Maybe them Zoomites that founded that new religious order at Rockport near Boston had the right idea. If I recollect the story in the papers correct, a feller named Goldie was elected the Zoom, and his followers lives by a code he set up. They plan to stay underground until 1962, as that is the time they figger these space missiles will destroy civilization. Then they plan to come out and start a model civilization. The Zoom says their new civilization will be without fear, hate, violence or want. Now I don't take no stock in their plans for a model civilization. It wouldn't be more'n two year afore the Zoomites would be fighting amongst themselves to elect a new Zoom or murder the old one. But what appeals to me is that underground cellar the papers said they had built. I have writ the head Zoom fer some literature. I may be moving to Rockport soon.

Yours truly,
Uncle Ben

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN, Tex. — See Texas first this summer. Texas Highway Department will help you plan a good time.

"Many Texans have never seen their own state through a tourist's eyes," says State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer. They're unaware of the pleasures immediately available to them via Texas' excellent highway system.

For example, Greer noted, Texas has:

1. One National Park (Big Bend).
2. Four National Forests.
3. More than 600 miles of coastline.
4. More than 50 mountains over 6,000 feet high.
5. Numerous scenic caverns, inland lakes, old cattle trails, restored forts, monuments and museums.

6. More than 50 state parks for outdoor recreation including water sports and camping.

7. Some 1,000 roadside parks where travelers may rest or picnic.

Highway Department will send maps and descriptive literature on points of interest and special events upon request without charge. Those writing should indicate the part of the state they want to visit and the sort of things they would like to see and do.

Address the Texas Highway Department, P. O. Box 5064, Austin 31, Texas.

TASK FORCE FOR TAXES—Gov. Price Daniel has named a 19-member committee to study Texas tax problems and recommend a plan for raising some $350,000,000 for the next two years.

All the 19 appointees are in positions causing them to have a strong interest in seeing sufficient money raised for coming state appropriations. They include the chairmen of the governing boards of the state's educational, welfare and hospital systems and officials of a number of school-connected associations.

Their report is to be ready prior to July 10, opening date of the special legislative session.

WHAT'S IN A NAME—Pro-sales tax legislators declare that Governor Daniel is merely calling "a rose by another name" in his labeling of what is and what is not a sales tax.

Sen. Wardlow Lane and four House members to the presented "their side of the story" in a formal answer to the governor's report to the people on the regular session failure to pass a tax bill.

Any $350,000,000 tax program, including the governor's, will have to run heavily to sales taxes, whatever they're called, said the lawmakers. They recommend "telling the truth about it."

Governor Daniel announced he had received a heavy volume of mail since his talk, with the sentiment running 6-to-1 in favor of his program.

Several legislators said this was contrary to the way their mail was running.

TROUBLES ALL OVER — To make matters worse, Comptroller Robert S. Calvert reported that some of Texas' prime sources of tax revenue seems to be dwindling.

Oil production taxes for the nine months ending May 31 were $92,110,769, down by $3,000,000 from the same period a year ago and down $12,000,000 from the year before that.

Gasoline taxes, which have spiraled up at about 5 per cent a year, have hit a slowdown. They are expected to be about $129,000,000. This is identical to the same nine months period of a year ago.

Corporation franchise taxes were also down to $51,542,964 for this year, a drop of about $7,000,000 from last year.

One bright spot was in "sin taxes." Cigarette taxes brought in $7,821,931 during May compared with $6,310,562 for April. Taxes on alcoholic beverages (beer, wine and liquor) were up from $2,672,947 in April to $2,835,650 in May.

But poll taxes were down from $2,818,527 in 1960, the presidential election year, to only $1,827,574 for 1961.

Despite everything, the deficit in the state general revenue fund dropped in May to $78,848,137 from a high of $102,000,000 in April. Hopes are that it will go even lower, not to exceed $63,000,000 by August 31, the end of the fiscal year.

SOME CHANGES MADE —

Despite the bog-down on tax bills, the Legislature did add quite a bit to the law of the land in its recent session. Among noteworthy changes:

1. Old age pensioners, beginning next January 1, can receive help with their hospital, doctor and nursing home expenses. Any state-licensed hospital or nursing home will be eligible for participation in the program.

2. Filing fee for candidates for statewide office will be $1,000. Previous fee for candidates in special statewide elections was $50. This brought out 71 candidates in the recent special senatorial race.

3. Persons who refuse to hang up when a party telephone line is needed for an emergency call will be subject to fine. Notice will be printed in this year's new telephone directories.

Not all these bills have been signed, but the governor has indicated no opposition.

SMALL LOAN LAW URGED—Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has urged Governor Daniel to add loan company regulation to the list of subjects which may be considered in the upcoming special session.

At present the governor has limited the session to revenue and appropriations bills. Only subjects included in the governor's "call" may be considered in a special session.

Wilson said that, by beginning where the last session left off, lawmakers should be able to pass a loan bill quickly. A regulatory bill was passed by the House last session, but opposing forces came to a deadlock in the Senate.

Governor Daniel has evidenced coolness toward considering anything else until a revenue and appropriation agreement is reached—not even his pet escheat bill.

Also being asked for special session consideration is a bill to increase unemployment benefits which failed in the regular ses-

KNOX CITY, TEXAS

Delbert Hayes Lloyd
Here Friday, June 9

Fields, Redge Heard, all of Snyder.
Groomsmen were Homer Hutto, brother-in-law of the groom, Abilene, Lynn Mendenhol, Billings, Montana; and Ed Hayes, Ravenswood, West Va.
Best man was E. J. Bradbury of San Antonio.
All the bride's attendants wore dresses of emerald green silk organza over green taffeta styled with fitted bodices and full sleeves and skirts. Green satin roses accented the waist line at the back and each wore green circlets of net for head pieces. Their flowers were white pom poms centered with yellow daisies.
The bride was presented for marriage by her father, M. S. Denton. She wore an original gown, designed by the bride and made by her mother.
The fitted bodice of lace, featured a sequence neck line outlined by seed pearls. The voluminous skirt of silk organza over net and taffeta featured a lace panel extending from the waist to the scalloped hemline. A cluster of white satin roses accented the lace panel in the back and fell into a chapel length train.
Medallions of lace and pearls were appliqued underneath the organza on the skirt. Her finger tip veil fell from a crown of pearls.

She carried a yellow throated orchid surrounded by lilies of the valley and stephanotis atop a white Bible.

A reception was given in the Woman's Club. The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth over green featuring the bride's chosen colors of white and green. The table arrangement was white gladioli and fern. White candles in crystal holders completed the decor.

The four tiered cake topped by love birds and wedding bells, was served by Jane Sharp of Spur and Mrs. William Allred of Munday served the punch. Both are cousins of the bride. Jerry Hodges registered guests.

After a short wedding trip to Wichita Falls, the couple will reside at 2725 South 12 St., Abilene.

For travel the bride wore a two-piece suit of blue silk, a flowered pill box hat and bone colored shoes and bag.

The parents of the groom hosted the rehearsal dinner at Roddy's Cafe, Thursday evening, June 8.

The bride is a graduate of O'Brien High School and the groom is a graduate of Snyder High School. Both have completed their sophomore years at H-SU. He is presently employed at Hutto Printing in Abilene.

Get more from clothing dollars.

1. You can do more with less, if you plan well. The well-dressed person emphasizes the coordinated look in each outfit.

2. A wardrobe of fewer clothes, well chosen as to style, use and quality, is less expensive, easier to care for and allows for more distinctive results than a larger wardrobe chosen with less thought.

3. Start planning by taking a look at the clothes and accessories you now have.

4. Clean out the garments you never, or seldom, wear and consider at the time why these "white elephants" are in your wardrobe. Was it poor planning or hasty selection or just an irresistible "bargain"?

5. Based on what you now have, plan what you will need for a season, or a year, by listing the kinds of activities in which you are likely to take part.

6. Decide where and when you will shop, and how you will finance your purchases. Be sure you know all of the costs or the different types of available credit.

Texas produced 14 per cent of world oil in 1959; 22 per cent in 1949; and 23 per cent in 1939.

"The tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity: so is the tongue among our members, that it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the course of nature; and it is set on fire of hell." (Jas. 3:6) It is of special importance for every one to be careful of words, for they affect every department of human life. Words have death and life in them, for "Death and life are in the power of the tongue," Jesus said. "Not that which goeth in the mouth defileth a man but that which cometh out of the mouth."
Some words are like fire that consumes some priceless thing. The tongue is considered powerful because of it are the mighty forces of will and desire, forces that the sense mind cannot control. "The tongue can no man tame."

But when the heart is filled with the word of God, which is mouth will be filled with good quick and powerful, then your words of God. Words of truth, faith, words of power and eternal life. Read then not with doubting, but read them with faith believing and you will tap the reservoir of strength for your daily cares. You will be kept serene in the midst of turmoil, joyful in the times of sorrow, loving when there are disagreements, victorious over temptation.

I may be a lowly creature who is scorned by many, but you would be surprised how much I see as I make my way among the books in your town. The editor has kindly promised me some space to tell you what I learn and to permit me to make some observations. "Old Chel" I am called by my friends.

Observation Number One is that an inventory is being made in the high school library and it seems that quite a few books are missing. This is not funny either and Old Chel is right ashamed of it. So if you know where any of these books are, please take them quickly to someone who will return them to their place on the shelves.

For instance, Volumes 5 and 18 of the World Book are missing. Volume 18 disappeared shortly before school was out. SHAME! There are others, too, and they will be named later.

On the other hand, there are many people in this community who are working to BUILD UP the school library. From time to time their names will appear here.

Both the high school and the elementary libraries have Memorial Shelves. Books in these collections have been given in honor of or in memory of friends or relatives. Old Chel can think of no way better of honoring a loved one. A waiting list of books that are needed is available.

Books are especially needed in the elementary department. Mrs. L. V. Worley gave a box full of books last week for use in the lower grades.

"Ask not what your country can do for you but what you can do for your country" and let it start right here in Knox City.

Good books for our boys and girls can make for a better informed America.
