C Endorses Cleanup Week

Knox City Chamber of Commerce went on record Tuesday in endorsing the plan of the Christian League in their Clean-up Week program. While the Chamber of Commerce did not feel it was its duty to sponsor the campaign in any way, a committee was formed to meet with the City Council and a committee from the C. W. A. to secure the cooperation and support of the city.

Respectable comment was made by the Chamber of Commerce members concerning the C. W. A. and their desire and plan to have a cleanup campaign. Highway Connection Favorable. D. Brown of Rochester was in attendance at the meeting Tuesday of the Chamber of Commerce. He made an interesting report of the work being done in the highway department. He stated that the outlook was very favorable. The plan now is for the construction of the highway commission. The C. W. A. the former furnished 79 and the latter 30 per cent of the road cost. A committee is being formed to submit an application to the City Council for this cooperation. Should the City Council give the highway department the cooperation, the base will be placed now while the top will be laid later from the maintenance office.

C of C Banquet Soon
The annual C. of C. banquet, the election of new officers, will be given soon. E. O. Jamison, E. Warren and H. L. White were appointed committee for making banquet arrangements, program and planning committee. This will be the earlier part of March. Luncheon Tuesday was served at Teague Cafe.

A. A. Cooper, M. D. of Childress was in Monday on the 9, 10 and 11 of February. He has been doing work for 12 years and has successfully treated hundreds of cases of blind bleeding and protruding. Read his advertisement in this issue of the Herald.

TAX PAYMENTS GAIN IN NEARLY THOUSAND

Roll tax payments for this year exceed those of last year by nearly a thousand according to incomplete returns compiled at the Collector's office Friday. There are yet a few tax payments in the mail which are not yet accounted for but are not expected to raise the total much. Below is given the voting strength of the county by boxes:

Girls Escape Asphyxiation

Mr. A. Y. Barnes of this city received a frightful shock Sunday when in route to Lamesa he discovered his two girls unconscious in the back seat of his car, being overcome with gas fumes. Their escape from asphyxiation was narrow.

Discovery of the condition of his daughters was made when Mr. Barnes had a flat tire and alighted to fix same. He and a young man accompanying him jacked up the wheel and would have believed the two girls to be only sleeping and had not moved, shaking the car from its support on the jack. Mr. Barnes started to scold the girl when he realized that something was wrong. He opened the car door and found both girls unconscious.

Hailing a passing motorist Mr. Barnes carried the girls 9 1/2 miles into Rotan when medical aid was given. They recovered and returned to their home in Knox City.

To the Citizens of Knox Co.

In announcing my candidacy for County Superintendent of Public Instruction of Knox County, I am fully aware of the importance of that office. Your public servant certainly ought to know intimately your needs, from close personal contact, be sympathetic with them, and be willing and able to actually strive to meet them.

Our people never needed serious, well balanced, real thinking, hard working, public officials as they do in this time of readjustment and uncertainty. Whatever else may be said of me, it is a fact that most of my life has been spent in school, either as a student or earnestly and actively engaged in teaching boys and girls. It is a matter of record that upon leaving college I came to Knox County, and began my life's work. It is in Knox County and with Knox County people that I have lived and worked ever since.

No hesitancy is entertained in reminding the citizens of this county that they have a right to expect and demand service from those to whom they entrust the duties of public office. That is what you elect them for. In this respect I yield to no person in my desire and ability to serve you. Look up my record as a teacher in, and as principal of the Benjamin School. Habit, it seems to me, is a strong thing. Unless a man has from the beginning been a leader in all progressive activities for advancement of his community, county and state you may hardly expect him to change and begin serving as one just because you elect him to office. Hard work has never ceased to count in America.

In the beginning of my campaign for the nomination to the county superintendency I wish to make it clear that I am not a politician. The office of county superintendent should not be presided over by a politician, because the superintendent should have something to do while in office besides catering to the tactics of the politician with a future campaign in view. I like to give expression unto the conviction that the proper education and training of our boys and girls, the making of good citizens is an obligation that no one can shirk. Good schools are and have always been the bulwarks of American liberty and freedom and constitute our safety to-day.

The duties of the county superintendent are chiefly those of supervision and administration. If the people of this county want a superintendent who will attend to the supervisory and administrative duties as they should be, then I make them one and only promise that is, to honestly, efficiently, and courteously perform those duties should I be honored with that privilege. I hope to personally present my case to the individual citizens of the county and let the same rest with them.

Respectfully and earnestly asking for your consideration, influence, and vote in the Democratic Primaries, I am

Sincerely yours,
Vernon Brewer

Odd Fellow Lodge Reorganized

A number of Odd Fellows of Knox County met at the City Hall Friday night, February 2. J. W. Coats was elected chairman of the meeting.

After several good talks on the good of the Order, a motion carried to re-organize the Odd Fellow Lodge, Number 310 and the following officers were elected:
L. W. Graham, N. G.
C. S. Amos, V. G.
W. N. Reynolds, Secretary
W. W. Hyde, Team Captain.

Motion carried to meet each Monday night. This, the greatest of all fraternities, was organized in April, 1819 at Baltimore, Maine and for 115 years it has lived to bless humanity. In my opinion Odd Fellowship has been triumphant and successful because back of its origin there was a purpose almost inviolate. There are three cardinal principles upon which this Order was founded. They are destined to live forever in the hearts and lives of all members. No one can ever assume the obligations imposed upon him by Odd Fellowship with out realizing that the cause advocated by Odd Fellowship is worthy of respect of the best of our citizenship.

Friendship is the cornerstone upon which this Order has been founded. That friendship so beautifully portrayed in the Sacred Scriptures of Jonathan and David. That friendship that seeks no hope of reward but is unselfish in its ministry. Love is also one of our cardinal virtues. "God is Love". It is the controlling sentiment of every good and kind heart.

Truth is the third and imperial virtue of our Order. Shakespeare said: "To thine own self be true and as the night followeth the day that thou canst not be false to any man." There are three imperative duties which Odd Fellowship teaches. First, we must be grateful to our creator, the greatest sin is the sin of ingratitude and no man can be a good Odd Fellow who is not grateful to the God of us all.

Second, we must be faithful to our country; and third, we must be fraternal to our fellowmen. We must play the part in our daily life of the good samaritan and not pass by as the priest and the Levite did on the other side. These are some of the teachings of Odd Fellowship.

W. N. Reynolds, Secretary
Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Earnest moved this week from the J. R. Bradberry home to the W. H. Day place in the north east section of the city. The Earnest family came here the first of the year from Mississippi. She is a sister to Mrs. J. R. Bradberry.

Stunt Flier Killed At Sun Set

Many citizens of Knox City witnessed Sunday the plane crash that caused the death of stunt flyer Clarence Steffens at the Sun Set field. The plane crashed when Steffens failed to pull his monoplane out of a "tailspin", and hit the ground within a few feet of automobiles from which crowds had been watching.

When the plane crashed Mrs. Steffens was prostrated. Funeral services were conducted Wednesday in Capron Oklahoma for Mr. Steffens. Besides his wife, Mr. Steffens is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Steffens of Capron Oklahoma and several brothers and sisters.

ENTERTAIN FACULTY WITH BUFFET SUPPER

Miss Elsie Graham and Miss Claydene Hoge entertained the faculty of the Knox City schools with a buffet supper in the home of Miss Hoge on the evening of Tuesday, January 31. The menu included creamed chicken, brown potatoes, green beans, congealed salad, Celery, Olives, beet pickles, hot rolls, butter, coffee and date scotch pie.

Table games of Salamungudi were played and greatly enjoyed by those present.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our deep and sincere thanks to our neighbors and friends for the kindness and loving deeds shown us in the illness of our loving husband and father, and especially for the beautiful floral offering and the food which was brought.

LEAGUE MEETING IN SEYMOUR

The Epworth League Meeting held over the weekend in Seymour was well attended by Knox City Leaguers. The crowd included Brother and Sister Gillbreath, Jeff and Miss Mary Lou Graham, Miss Wynell Edwards and Mary Leone Hoge, Jack Wetzel and Bill Evans. The theme of the meeting was "Commit thy works unto the Lord". The next Union meeting of the League will be in Knox City, February 17.

County Pioneer Buried Sunday

Mr. J. S. Wilson, pioneer resident of Knox County died at his home Saturday, February 3, 1934. Services were conducted from the residence Sunday by the Reverend Dunn of Crosbyton and burial was made in the Odd Fellow cemetery of Knox City.

Mr. Wilson was ill only five days, his death being due to a heart attack. He is survived by his widow and five children. They are Mrs. Bill Lankford, Bill, Clyde and Misses Alice and Edith Wilson.

Other than his immediate family Mr. Wilson leaves a host of friends who mourn his passing. Funeral services were attended by a very big crowd, among whom were all the old settlers of the county and many relatives of Mrs. Wilson. Mr. Wilson leaves no relatives other than his family, nearer than Kentucky. The procession driving to the burial park was spoken of as being the longest witnessed here in many months.

Mr. Wilson was a fine man. He was honest beyond question, an active, progressive citizen. He has served for many years on the school board of Union Grove. The success of the school has been attained in a good degree through the interest and work of Mr. Wilson. His passing will be felt heavily by Union Grove, all of whom are joined by the Herald in extending condolence to the family.

McMurray Artists To Be Here Sunday

The membership of the Knox City Methodist church is looking forward with much pleasure to the eleven o'clock service Sunday morning due to the fact that artists from McMurray college will be here. The privilege is granted the musicians from the various departments of the college of hearing the musicians from through the efforts of the pastor Brother Gillbreath.

Mrs. Gypsy Ted Sullivan Wyley will be in command of the program. Miss Ruth Lasley, head of the violin department will be numbered among the group, which incidentally, will include 25 or 30 persons. These artists will perform at the eleven o'clock hour, being granted ten minutes. Friends of as well as members of the Methodist church are invited to attend the service Sunday morning.

The McMurray artists will visit three other towns Sunday in addition to Knox City, at 9:45 they will be in Rule, at 11:00 in Knox City; at 3:00 p. m. in Rochester and 7:30 in Haskell.

Attend Rally In Sweetwater

Knox City was represented Monday in the evangelist rally of the Methodist church in Sweetwater at which meeting four bishops of the Southern Methodist church were speakers.

This meeting was slated to cover the south half of the Northwest Texas Conference and pastors, lay leaders and church officers from the Stamford, Abilene, Sweetwater, Lubbock and the Vernon districts were in attendance. The purpose of the meeting was for the promotion of an evangelistic program or campaign to be effective through Easter. The crowd numbered several thousand.

Bishop Boaz of Houston, presiding bishop of the Northwest conference, presided for the rally. Bishop Arthur J. Moore of San Francisco California delivered the main sermon of the day his subject being "The Sound of the Trumpet." Bishop Moore's sermon presented the challenge of the church to go forward, the emphasis upon the fact that the church is neither dead nor defeated, just facing the largest task it has ever yet faced.

Bishop John Moore delivered an address on "Trained Leadership". Other speakers included Dr. W. G. Gram, secretary of the general board of missions, of Nashville and Bishop U. V. W. Darlington of Huntington West Virginia.

In the Knox City group were Brother and Sister R. R. Gillbreath, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McGee and daughter Ruth, Mrs. L. W. Graham, Mrs. J. A. Wilson, Mrs. E. L. Huntsman and Mrs. C. C. Hoge. Knox City was as well represented as any church in this section of the district included. Those attending report the sermons and messages heard to be among the finest they have ever had the privilege hearing.

Church Loyalty Campaign On

The church loyalty campaign in progress at the Methodist church enters its fifth week with increased attendance and the figures climbing. The campaign is to cover a period of eight weeks with a different department of the church responsible each week for an increase in the attendance. This likewise includes every service of the church, Sunday School, preaching services, Missionary Society meetings and prayer meetings.

The first week was designated as "everybody week", in that no particular division was called upon. Second week belonged to the ladies of the Missionary Society and attendance upon all the above mentioned meetings increased nearly 50 per cent. Third week was designated as the Mens week; fourth was the Official Board week and this, the fifth week is the Young Peoples week.

The third and fourth weeks failed to be a true test of the two divisions called upon as there was interference in the various services. One occasion being the lack of lights Sunday night and the service being dismissed.

The pastor, Reverend Gillbreath states that there will be an increase in attendance this week and that he is expecting the continuation of this increase throughout the remaining three weeks of the contest.

Family and Full House Week

It is interesting to know that at least two of the three remaining weeks have been designated as "family" and "full house" weeks. Full particulars have not yet been made by the pastor; however, they will no doubt be made Sunday.

Brother Gillbreath entertains the hope of being able to interest every member and enlist every worker in this campaign. The results of the 8 weeks campaign are not to be visible on the black board alone, but also in the attitude and interest of the members.

Every Methodist is not only invited to the services; his presence and interest are requested. Those not worshipping elsewhere are invited to join this group and members of other churches are invited to visit as often and when they desire to do so.

Without guile and with pure purpose, let us renew our trust in God, and go forward without fear and with manly hearts.—Abraham Lincoln.

The Whittou Ducks have had a sad experience the past few days. Something happened and for several days their evening parade through town included only four of the seven; however, the three missing ones have returned and all seven were in the march Wednesday evening to the fire hall.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Rev. Chas. E. Dunn
 Timely Warnings
 Lesson for February 11 Matt. 7.
 Golden Text: Matt. 7:19.

Our chapter contains the final segment of the Sermon on the Mount. In it are commands that may be considered acid tests of judgement for the guidance of the Christian.

The first is the test of charitable judgement (vs. 1). This warning not to judge cannot be interpreted in any absolute sense, for judgement is a necessity. What Jesus means is well summed up by President Park of Wheaton College: "Do not judge another harshly, unless facts drive you to it, unless you hate to do it, unless there is something in the man that you like." And remember that an unkind estimate is a boomerang, returning to plague its author. "Judge not, that you may not be judged," "Criticisms," says Prof. Hayes, are like chickens, they always come home to roost.

The second test the Master recommends is a discriminating reserve in offering the blessings of our religion (vs. 6). Aristotle advances similar counsel: "Do not let your wisdom aflit on the public highway."

The third test is that of resolute desire (vs. 7, 8). Here is vigorous testimony to the effectiveness of persistent ambition, of continued prayer, of long sustained effort. It is the law of life that a dominant wish will finally reach its goal.

The next test is the familiar Golden Rule (vs. 12). This is the climax of the Sermon, that "little bundle," as Luther says, into which all its instruction is gathered.

We come now to the test of the two ways (vs. 13, 14). How many walk in the wide, well lighted boulevard of destruction, so alluring to the eye!

The final test is the doing of God's Will (vs. 21). It is not essential that the individual disciple should be a "gogetter," a super-salesman. His supreme need is the possession of inward Christian grace. So also with the Society of Christ, magnificent buildings, large budgets, heavy increases in membership will not save the church unless it demonstrates, by its prayerful walk with God, that it is acutely doing the Father's Will.

THANKFUL

I take this method of expressing my gratitude to the people of Knox County for the honor conveyed upon me in voicing their approval and confidence in me by their loyal support in the past two elections.

I am grateful to each act of kindness or influence shown me.

The Constitutional Amendment voted at the last General Election, combines the office of Assessor and Collector making it a very large responsibility, and I do not wish to place myself in line for that large responsibility.

Gratefully Yours,
 Sarah Wright

TENNIS CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS
 Members of Tennis club of Knox City met Monday night in the city hall for reorganization of the club and election of officers.
 The election resulted as follows:
 President, Chad Wilson
 Secretary, Mrs. Gordon Acker
 Treasurer, Casey Jones
 Reporter, Mrs. Holt Moseley
 The club is giving this week to paying of dues by old members, and beginning Friday of next week applications made for membership into the club will be considered in the order in which they are received. The membership is limited to 50 with old members being granted preference. Quite a few members last year failed to play and it is expected that these will not desire membership this year; these vacancies will be filled from the waiting list in the hands of the president.
 The tennis club has two courts, located south of the S. M. Clonts home. The club plans some nice improvements on the courts this year; and it is the matter of only a short time until players will be seen morning and evening enjoying this out door sport.
 The next meeting of the club will be Tuesday evening of next week in the City Hall.
CARD OF THANKS
 We wish to thank the many good friends who so kindly assisted during the illness of our daughter and sister Fioe McBrayer. We are glad to state that she is getting along well now but such return of health was made possible only through the kind hands of the doctors, nurses and our many good friends. We also especially appreciate the many beautiful flowers that were brought to her room during her long illness. Again we want to express our appreciation for the many good deeds. May God's richest blessings rest on each and every one of you.

 Thursday, February 15, Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist, College Station, will conduct a school in Munday on the uses of the Foundation Pattern for the Wardrobe Demonstrators in Haskell, Baylor and Knox counties.
 A similar school was conducted in Baylor County last year on the making of the plain foundation pattern and this is to be a continuation of that work. The demonstrators will learn to make different types of leaves and collars and any garment they want from these individually fitted patterns.
 It is hoped that each of the organized clubs will have their demonstrator attend this school.
HOTBEDS
 I wouldn't care if my hotbed was right in the front yard: I am proud of it, said Mary Howell, 4-H pantry demonstrator in the Knox City Home Demonstration club.
 "I made this hotbed on the south side of the house. It is 3 feet wide and 16 feet long. The cover was made in 2 sections so it would be more easily handled. I am using cellophane to cover the bed. I am all ready now to start raising my plants and some early vegetables.
 Mary plans to lay some tile for sub-irrigation in her garden. "Even if I have to make it myself," she stated at the tile making demonstration in Knox City, February 2.
4-H Bedroom Improvements
 "There is more improvement to be made and I believe I can get the best results from this room," stated Mary Bell Mills, 4-H bedroom demonstrator in deciding which of the two upstairs rooms she should take for her demonstration.
 The room Mary Bell selected is a nice six south room. It has two windows and one door. There is a nice built in closet in the room also.
 "My biggest problems will be the painting and papering," said Mary Bell. "I have a new mattress but I have a great deal of improvement to make on my bed. I plan to make a small rug or two for my floor along with several other articles such as book and shoe racks and a dressing table to improve the appearance of my room and make it more comfortable."
 Miss Lucille Williams of Crosbyton is in Knox City this week.
 Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Hurd of Rochester are the proud parents of a new baby boy who arrived February first.
 Mrs. Rhodes of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Leroy Melton of Benjamin spent Tuesday with their mother Mrs. A. J. Gore.
 Mr. and Mrs. Dave Whitford, Miss Gene Messer and Miss Jones of Paducah are vacating this week in the valley.
 Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lawson of Pampa Texas spent the past week end with Mr. and Mrs. Otto Lawson.

MARE MULE FURNISHES COAL AT HERFORD
 HERFORD, Feb. 6—Amare mule on a farm near Black recently foaled a colt a feat which is generally considered a biological impossibility. The strange mother and her offspring both were reported to be "doing nicely" by their owner, B. J. Jones. The colt has attracted widespread interest, and persons have driven great distances to see it.

Play Is Well Attended
 The play "Where's Grandma" sponsored by the Christian Womens Association and staged last Friday night in the school auditorium was well attended. The characters were well selected, each portraying his and her part well.
 Music furnished for the evening was the best ever rendered at a home talent play in Knox City. The CWA is indebted to Mrs. Milton Eradberry, Mr. H. L. White, Mr. Hollis Warren and Mr. Grady Benedict of this city and Mr. Claude Franklin violinist of Rochester and Mr. Zane Franklin, guitar player of Rule., for this portion of the entertainment Friday night. It was simply fine.
 Ed Hackfield of Rule is in Knox City. He is recuperating from his recent illness.

THE SCHOOL OF TOMORROW

The school that looks backward tries to salt. Thinking people no longer expect tomorrow to be the same as today. China tried that and stood still for four thousand years. The school of tomorrow will have respect for the past combined with enthusiasm for the future. It will be more interested in progress than the status quo. This about face as between the ancient and the modern implies a changed emphasis on ideals. These ideals run like a golden thread through ten thousand books and a million magazines that reflect the thought of teachers. They are not stated in dogmatic terms or with finality. The world is growing more content to be open minded. But the force of the new ideals and the new trends are unmistakable.

First, the school of tomorrow will define education simply as guided growth. Teachers will understand that growth comes from within and that it concerns the whole life. There will be less distortion in the school; less unnaturalness and unreasonableness. Well-rounded development for each child will be the goal.

Second, the school of tomorrow will start much earlier in the life of the child than the school of today. The scientific study of infancy is just getting underway. Preschool laboratories and children's hospitals are putting increasing numbers of children under scientific observation. The early findings of these studies suggest that the present preschool years may be important for educational purposes that all the school years put together. The simple basic habits that underlie successful living may be formed then. The great attitudes toward life have their roots in infancy.

Third, the school of tomorrow will continue its guidance longer and release it more gradually than the school of today. No one will be dropped from school because he does not fit. Schools will face frankly their task of fitting themselves to the children. There will be closer integration with adult work on the one hand and with adult leisure on the other.

Fourth, the school of tomorrow will demand teachers of greater skill training and the school of today. Candidates for teaching will be selected more carefully. Training will be longer and more thorough. Salaries will be higher and based on skill rather than the age of children taught. Tenure will be secured. Community recognition will be more generous. Educational effectiveness could be doubled in two years if the nation would select and train teachers with as much energy as it gave to training officers for its army in the World War.

Fifth, the school of tomorrow will not worship fixed seats, textbooks, set routines, and mere grades. It will give children a chance to grow. Longer school days and years will go hand in hand, with a more varied program of activities. The child will find joy in school because in it are rich opportunities for guided self-realization.

Sixth, the school of tomorrow will lay in rich sensory experience the foundation for a vigorous and well balanced mental life. Children will get actual experience not mere descriptions of others' experiences. They will not be content with reading that the magnet attracts iron. They will themselves feel it pull.

Seventh, the school of tomorrow will use objective measurements to guide and stimulate the learning process. It will not depend on teacher's guesses. It will rely more on the natural desire to achieve and will waste less energy on artificial prodding.

Eighth, the school of tomorrow will distinguish between the noble art of teaching and the routine aspects of school management. It will provide clerks and machines to do the routine. Industry and business have learned to conserve talent for key activities. Schools still dissipate the precious energy of the best teachers on tasks that a well-trained clerk could do better.

Ninth, the school of tomorrow will use a wealth of mechanical equipment to aid learning. Scientifically developed films, radio television and telephone will bring the world's best to the remotest child.

Tenth, the school of tomorrow will be associated with vastly enlarged provisions for the lifelong education of adults. As high schools, junior colleges, colleges, and libraries with large technical staffs multiply in number, the elementary school, in spite of its very army of children and its key position as the foundation school, will become lesser phase of society's educational effort.

This tentative catalogue of the characteristics of tomorrow's school does not exhaust the possibilities, but it does suggest that education is entering upon a new era. If society is to meet that era halfway, it will insist on having its best minds and greatest hearts in the school where life is in the making. If parents are to do their part they must give more time and more thought to the great adventure of parenthood. If teachers are to rise to the new opportunities they must elevate the basic aims of education above grades and degrees in their own minds and in the minds of the children and the general public. The basic aims, the great objective of education abide. Methods change and the setting varies, but health is fundamental; the tools and techniques of learning are necessary; citizenship is inescapable; service is a radiant star; home is man's greatest joy; leisure is liberty; and character is humanity's greatest food. To take the human plant in the garden of today's life and to fashion out of it the kind of individual and group life that the best men and women desire is the challenge of tomorrow's school.

WHO'S WHO IN THE SENIOR CLASS

Gerald Barnard
 Gerald Barnard was born on the 22 day of September, 1917, at O'Brien, Texas. He attended grammar school and high school there and graduated from the O'Brien High School last year. Gerald is attending the Knox City High School this year and is a member of the senior class this year in order to affiliate his credits.
 Gerald has blond hair and blue eyes and is about five feet, eleven and one-half inches tall. He is fond of athletics, having played in the O'Brien indoor baseball team at O'Brien throughout his work in the grades and two years on the high school team. He was on the basketball team for the last two years of his high school work there and is on the local basketball team this year. Gerald and Burris Toaff are chums and are often seen together.
 Gerald's weakness seems to be driving a certain new car. He doesn't drive it to school so you kinda figure it out for yourself.

WE WONDER WHY

George Hodges makes eyes at all the girls.
 Arnold Davis goes to Rochester so often.
 Yvonne Jamison is so far behind in her school work.
 Herman Reeder walks in his sleep.
 Mary Leone Hoge had her hair cut so short.
 Magistrate Copps manages to get by H. C. Armstrong in English Class.
 Doll Hammons is so cute.
 Our History Notebooks are so punk.
 Earl Hester is so smart in history, Algebra, and General Science and fails in English.
 Park Swift is slow but sure.
 Bill Evans is so unusually quiet.
 Truett Stovall goes to O'Brien when they have ball games.

Mrs. Joe Averitt and Mrs. S. L. White were hostesses to the ladies of the B. W. M. U. Monday afternoon in their monthly business and social meeting. A very beautiful devotion in Faith was given by Mrs. Stovall. Refreshments of sandwiches, hot chocolate and individual pie were served. Mrs. A. H. Samms of Benjamin was a guest.

BASKET BALL BOYS WIN TOURNAMENT

The Greyhounds won the invitation tournament at O'Brien last week end after two of the most thrilling games of the year. In the drawing Knox City was placed in the bracket with Tonk Creek, Old Glory, Bonarton and Sunset.

Sunset held the Greyhounds to a close score in their game last Friday night but several of the boys pulled the games out of fire with some well aimed shots. Homer Lee Rutledge was high point man of the tournament even though he played in only two games.

Eleven teams entered this tournament and we are proud of the boys in winning this contest as this now puts Knox City in the lead of athletics for this year. No games were played this week on account of mid-term exams but the county tournament will be played at Goree Friday and Saturday of next week, February 16 and 17. Lets all go and help the boys and girls win.

KNOX CITY GIRLS WIN SUNSET TOURNAMENT

The Knox City Girls entered and won the invitation tournament given by Sunset last Friday and Saturday. Ten teams were entered and all played real good games. The Greyhounds first met and defeated Rochester 21 to 5. To some this was the most interesting game of the tournament as it was played in two divisions and the majority of fans had never seen a two-division game.

At eleven o'clock Saturday morning the girls' club defeated Weinet 25-9. This game was rather hard fought however the score was not so close.

The final game was played between Sunset and Knox City Saturday night and this proved to be one of the best games of the tournament. Both teams realized that they had a fight before them and at the sound of the whistle all twelve players were found in their places ready to go. Knox City took the lead in the first play and held in throughout the game. Never during the game was Shannon of Sunset able to ring the basket as she had done in previous games. As the game closed the final score stood at 27-9 in favor of the Greyhounds.

On February 16 and 17th the Knox County Basket Ball Tournament will be held at Goree. Every one be there and help the boys and girls win county.

HOME ECONOMICS NEWS

Home Economics II Class Honor Members of School Board
 The Home Economics II Class served a dinner Tuesday at noon. Their invited guest were the members of the school board, Superintendent King, Mr. Dean, Mr. Wetzell, Mrs. Cash and Mrs. Averitt, president of the Parent-Teacher Association. The dinner was served old fashioned type. The menu follows:

- Tomato Cocktail
- Roast, Browned Gravy, Hot Rolls.
- Potatoes and Turnips
- Pear Salad
- Ice Cream, Angel Food Cake and Coffee.

The entire menu was planned by the girls of the Home Economics II Class. They also worked out the market list and the buying of the necessary supplies. Preparation began Tuesday morning at 8:30 and in spite of the fact that other classes had to be met the dinner was served on time. A color scheme of red and white carried out.

demonstrated to the girls the proper handling of a patient and the way to change bed linens without discomforting the patient.

Dr. Edwards came in for a few minutes and gave them some interesting and valuable facts to observe in case of serious illness. Among other things he gave instructions as to what should be done in case of severe cramping. He said never to give salts or strong purgative under such circumstances because it would be very dangerous in case of a ruptured appendix. If the case is severe enough to necessitate taking the patient to the hospital he should always be allowed to sit up in a comfortable position rather than lying down. In case of a severe cut where there is profuse bleeding, after to blood has been stopped by first aid, the patient should be placed with his head down and his feet up so that the blood would not run from the head. There are some of the outstanding facts given and there were others given that are very useful in the care of patients in emergencies. We wish to thank the hospital, and especially Miss Buckholt and Dr. Edwards for their time and consideration.

The Home Economics III Class have been making various field trips lately in their study of home planning, building and interior decoration. Among other places they have visited the Cameron Lumber Yard where they learned much about build

New "Knee-Action" Chevrolet Gives Passengers' Ride Like a Glide

In the design and development of the new 1934 Chevrolet, particular attention has been given to driver and passenger comfort, all annoying sensations of disagreeable sound and feeling having been eliminated. The upper photo shows the new Chevrolet coach with its long, sleek lines. Wind rush has been eliminated by the Fisher No Draft Ventilators and the new streamlined bodies. The radiator of the new car has added beauty through its graceful and sharply pointed design. Smartness has been the theme in every line of this year's Chevrolet.

The driver and passengers in the new 1934 Chevrolet get a ride like the glide of an airplane. One of the main factors in improving the riding qualities of the new car to such a great extent is the "Knee-Action"—or independently sprung front wheels, to use the technical term.

So much has been written about independent springing that the public has doubtless concluded that it is something too technical to understand. As a matter of fact, there is nothing complicated about either the Chevrolet's "Knee-Action" or the construction of the system. Being enclosed in a welded weather-tight housing in which the entire spring mechanism and shock absorbers ride up and down in a bath of oil.

An automobile gives a perfect ride when both the front and rear springs have the same "frequency," or tension. Actually this has been impossible to carry out in the past because the front springs had to be over twice as "stiff" as the rear springs in order to hold the front axle, wheel and brakes in place. In independent springing, the wheels and spring mechanism are rigidly attached directly to the frame and there is no front axle. By relieving the front springs of the task of carrying wheels and axle, therefore, it became possible to make the front springs as "soft" as the rear springs. When the new Chevrolet strikes an irregularity in the road, both front and rear move up and down with the same frequency—there is no inclination on the part of the passenger end of the car to lean into the air and throw the passengers forward and upward.

Chevrolet's "Knee-Action" has additional advantages all contributing to a comfort in riding never before thought possible in a motor car. There is a decided improvement in handling, steering, safety at high speeds and tire economy.

In design, the front spring is a neat, compact and efficient unit, as Mr. Miller points out in the accompanying picture. The entire spring mechanism is carried rigidly to the frame. From this enclosed unit the whole spring vertically at the ends of strong, steel horizontal arms.
