STATE CAPITAL
Highlights
AND Sidelights
by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Texas — Into and out of the State Supreme Court flow many of the most controversial issues of the day. Public officials, large corporations and important persons often are involved in the cases, and the lives of many less-celebrated persons frequently are affected by the decisions.

After a two-months summer recess the high court reconvened this month and waded into a stack of disputes. Among interesting cases either decided or due to be decided are these:

WATER RIGHTS are involved in a case filed by Southern Canal Co. of Houston against the State Water Board. Southern Canal wanted a permit to take 280,110 acre feet of water per year from the Trinity River for industrial use in the Houston area. Water Board refused the request, and the company appealed to the courts.

Upstream cities such as Dallas and Fort Worth had opposed the Houston company's request when it was before the Board. Oral arguments were centered on whether the courts have the right to review Water Board decisions.

Supreme Court's ruling will have implications for every person interested in the course of Texas' water development.

KEEPING ROOMERS and setting up a church in a residential area were the cause of contention in two cases from Houston. In both cases certain property owners in university neighborhoods argued that other property owners were violating deed restrictions.

Lower courts ruled in favor of the room renters and church builders. Supreme Court agreed to review the roomers' case and denied a motion to force the lower court judge to move the student religious center.

OFFICE-SEEKERS had their inning in the usual contests arising out of the year's elections. George Parr, a familiar figure in the courts, won the right to a new trial in his effort to be certified winner in a 1956 election for Duval County sheriff.

Laredo Attorney William Wright lost out in an attempt to force Sec'y of State Zollie Steakley to place his name on the general election ballot as a Constitution Party candidate for district judge. Steakley had refused on grounds Wright voted in the Democratic primary.

Myron Love, choice of Houston liberals, won out in a dispute over the legality of his selection as Democratic nominee for district judge. Harris County Executive Committee had ruled that no candidate filed in time for this office, and Love was nominated by the one-man District Executive Committee. Conservative forces had contested this method.

BETTER TRAVELING DAYS AHEAD — Holding promise of better traveling days ahead is the 1961-62 interstate advance planning program announced by the State Highway Commission.

REPUBLICANS JOCKEY FOR POSITION — Texas Republicans got no help from Secretary of State Steakley in their efforts to break into the first column on the general election ballot.

In the past the Secretary of State's Office has sent out the list of certified nominees, to counties, with the Democrats listed in the first column. GOP protested, demanded a drawing for position.

Steakley said he was not authorized to set up a procedure. His office mailed out ballot forms this year, without comment. Democrats were in the first column on the forms.

"M" SYSTEM STORES

Uncle Ben from Benjamin says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I see by the papers where a Congressman from Virginia is recommending that the Government require schools getting Federal lunch money to put cane syrup back in all school lunches. That's the first sensible suggestion that has come from a Congressman since them boys left Washington in August.

Back in my school days syrup was the backbone of the educational system, and when a boy didn't have a big piece of bread he could pour syrup on, he did n't have no lunch. Now they give 'em lettuce leaves, tuna fish and alphabet vitamins and hope for the best. School ain't as rugged as it used to be, and

1958's HIGHEST PRICES PAID AT FORT WORTH'S SHOWS & SALES

Highest gross and highest average commercial cattle sales in Texas this year were the double-header stocker-feeder events at Fort Worth. Compare! Our September sales grossed over $532,100 on 3,743 calves and yearlings.

Our Fall roundup time special will be October 16-17. Trophies and dozens of special prizes. Here's what they say:

Mr. Dick Atkins of Tuscola Texas, says, "It was a strong show and sale. They do a lot to put our good calves before buyers willing to pay premiums for them. I was very well pleased."

The cream of the nation's cattle buyers will be in Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 16-17. Display your cattle before them under favorable sale conditions. Cash in on proven successful shows and sales. Show and sale both days.

that's why we're getting so many rock 'n roll graduates. When I went to school it took up at 8 in the morning and lasted until 5 in the afternoon. The teacher put all the juvenile delinquents like me on the front row so's she could reach 'em with a yardstick without getting up, and when school let out at 5 everybody knewed it had been a full day put in fer the sake of solid education. What this generation needs is more cane syrup and longer yardsticks.

Speaking of them bygone days if I live to be a hundred and these newspaper fellers asks me how I did it, I'm going to give 'em a answer they ain't had before. I was brung up on a corn shucks mattress. There's a heap of the old timers around now that won't admit it, but I ain't ashamed of it. I was 20 year old afore I knowed they made mattresses out of anything but corn shucks.

We used to git a bed tick and fill it with shuck combings and it was always comfortable fer a few nights. Then the shucks started humping up and from then on it was like sleeping on a pile of rocks.

I used to git up in the morning and put on my clothes very careful on account of being twisted up so's it was dangerous to dress too fast. Then I'd limber up by walking down to the barnyard where I'd chin the limb on a mulberry tree about a dozen times to git the rest of the kinks out. A feller that can stand this fer 20 year gits a constitution that's hard to wear down. And if I live to be a old man I'll always attribute it to them corn shuck mattresses—and plenty of cane syrup in my lunch pail.

Yours truly,
Uncle Ben

New Chevrolets to Go On Display Here Next Thursday

The 1959 Chevrolets, restyled and boasting an array of mechanical improvements, will go on display at Stephens Bros. Chevrolet Co. showroom here Thursday morning, October 16.

As is customary with the company, the presentation here against a festive background of decorations will be held simultaneously with the introductions at other retail locations across the country.

The new models have been veiled in secrecy. Advance word from Detroit, however, describes them as "the most unusual in company experience." The passenger body carries a unique design and the cars will reportedly incorporate equally as progressive refinements in the chassis.

Representative models of the entire passenger car line and the 1959 lineup of 139 commercial vehicles are slated for the exhibition here. The "formal" announcement period will continue throughout the remainder of the week.

According to Chevrolet, a revision in series identification is planned for the passenger cars. The Impala, introduced with meteoric sales results as part of the Bel Air family a year ago, have been expanded into a complete series. Other models making their debuts will be new Bel Airs, Biscaynes and Station Wagons.

Chevrolet will bring out its new models in the wake of an extensive promotion and advertising campaign. The newspaper schedule alone covers, 7,500 dailies and weeklies.

Streams In Desert Places

By Ozelle Stephens
"The soul of Jonathan was knit with the soul of David, and Jonathan loved him as his own soul." (1 Sam. 18:1).

This is one of God's standards of Christian friendship. When one is filled with the most valuable virtues of God, which is Christian love, respect, devotion and truth, there is a relationship of souls that is born of the spirit of God. Jesus the Master friend will walk with you daily, through every circumstance of life.

If you want to belong to Him and live for Him you must show His love to all people. He said, "Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you." As you love and treat people, so is your love and respect to your Lord, for He said, "As ye have done it unto one of the least of these, so ye have done it unto Me."
