Proclamation

AS, the Texas agricultural industry, in all of its activities to be our most important industry, and AS, agriculture continues to have great growth in our county with the rewards from such growth to the benefit of all citizens, and AS, there is an urgent need for an active crusade to the public's knowledge, acceptance, and appreciation of the highly significant contribution which agriculture makes to the economy of our county and to the level of living of its citizens, and AS, it is recognized that all citizens of this county have a stake and a legitimate self-interest in the general well-being of the farmers and ranchers who provide the abundance and variety of food and fiber of highest quality which we all enjoy, and AS, "3.76 in '76" is a well-conceived program by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, with the active support of agricultural agencies, organizations, and individual leaders, to help the agricultural industry achieve its full potential through an intensification of efforts by producers, agri-businesses, and professional services to bring about an increase in income to Texas farmers and ranchers of $1 billion by the end of crop year 1976, "3.76 in '76" will narrow the gap between production and practice through the coordinated application of modern production and marketing practices that have been shown to be sound and profitable, and AS, the achievement of an increase of almost $3 billion in agricultural income by the end of crop year will improve the net profit and competitive position of Knox County farmers and ranchers and make significant contributions to the future economy of the county.

Your Paper Needs You - Do You Need Your Paper?

By The Staff

As of February 1, 1971, the staff of Herring Publishing Company will assume management of The Rule Review and The Rochester Reporter, The Knox County Herald, and The Munday Times. Mrs. Bill Bowley of Munday will assume manager duties with Mrs. Billye Bess Angle of Knox City and Mrs. Fychele Sloan of Rochester as assistant managers. These three will be backed and assisted by the rest of the employees.

Through the past two years, the newspapers have had increasing difficulty remaining in operation because of financial problems. In the past few months matters have become crucial. In a last ditch effort the employees of Herring Publishing Co. have banded together to try and keep a hometown newspaper for Rule, Rochester, Knox City, and Munday.

Each employee has decided to make sacrifices in some way to keep from closing the doors of these papers. Now, it is up to you as citizens of these towns to make a decision as to whether a hometown newspaper matters to you. Stop and consider the towns you know of that do not have a hometown paper. Yes, they are all small towns that have slowly but surely lost population.

Perhaps, the towns tried but could no longer support a newspaper and finally, with no choice left, the owner closed his doors and moved to where he could make a living for his family. Such could be the future of these newspapers. The time has now arrived for the citizens of these four towns to come to a decision.

We, the employees, solicit your help in keeping a newspaper in your hometown. Report your news and advertise regularly because as you know advertising is the life of the paper. We want to thank the Knox and Haskell County merchants for their patronage in the past years and hope to keep serving you in the future.

We have made our choice to keep trying, but we cannot do it alone.

Voters, Have You Registered?

Prospective voters who have not yet registered to vote in this year's elections still have today (Thursday) and tomorrow before the Friday, January 29, 5 p.m. deadline. The deadline for registering is not until January 31 but due to the fact that the 31st will be on a Sunday, the Court House in Benjamin and the local Chamber of Commerce will be closed Saturday.

Eligible persons may register by personal appearance at the Chamber of Commerce office or by written application made to the County Tax Assessor-Collector's office in Benjamin. Those who have reached the age of 18 must register to be able to vote in the federal elections and those who will become 18 during the year must register 30 days prior to a federal election.

John Smith, Tax-Assessor-Collector, stated that "not very many" had registered in the Benjamin office. He said not as many had registered this year as they did last year. Doris Crowmover, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, told the Herald that there had been 140 to register through her office.

Don't forget, you have only a couple of days left to register!

Foursquare Gospel Buys Property For Youth Camp

An 80-acre site one-and-a-half miles west of Buffalo Gap has been purchased by the International Church of the Foursquare Gospel for use as a youth camp.

Rev. Floyd V. Bailey, local Foursquare pastor, and several of the church members have been going down two days a week to tear down the old buildings and get ready for the new construction.

The proposed camp, which members hope will be completed in late 1971 or early 1972, is the first one of its kind in the five-state district that the church "will own, not rent." Rev. Bailey said for the last several years they have rented camps from the Baptist Churches in Stanton, Siloam Spring, Ark., and Luaders.

The site near Abilene was also chosen, Bailey said, "because it's an unusually nice area... there are many live oaks and pecan trees."

The camp will include a dining hall, dorms, a tabernacle, and a sports area in its facilities.

The district supervisor said the decision to buy the site came in September - it was the first we had seen that really appealed to us."

The deal was closed in the middle of December. The land was purchased from T. J. Edkins of Buffalo Gap.

Rev. Bailey said the camp will also be for rent to other churches or groups after it is built.

The area Foursquare churches include Abilene, Haskell, Stamford, Weibert, Hamlin, and Knox City.

KC Study Club Members Hear Two Guest Speakers

Mrs. George Davis was program leader for the Knox City Study Club meeting January 21 when members and guests observed "Texas Day".

Mrs. E. R. Carpenter introduced guest speakers Miss Martha Jones and Superintendent W. R. Baker.

Miss Jones spoke on the danger uses of drugs, and how the drugs were being used by youths throughout the world. She presented slides and explained how drugs are acquired and what types of drugs were found by the youths. She said that the drug problem is evident in all size communities, large or small and no place is without exception.

Supt. W. R. Baker's topic was on the participation of the Knox City School System in the Knox-Haskell Special Education Cooperative. Mr. Baker emphasized that community support was instrumental in helping Knox-Haskell to obtain the pilot program.

The Knox-Haskell Cooperative is one of five pilot programs of Plan A Special Education now in operation throughout the state. Other pilot programs are underway at El Paso, Galveston, Richardson, and Alamo Heights in San Antonio. Since all schools will be watching this joint program with an eye toward the systems developed and the potential problems encountered in the pilot schools. In order to help those who will soon be following Plan A, the schools in the cooperative will be open to visitors at a later date.

Special Education program is two-way, dealing with early childhood, ages 3-5, and the special education component. Teachers and aides in our area have access to a quarter million dollar resources and the programs benefit every child in that the slower ones may progress at their own level - they are not by-passed but are later programmed back into the regular class rooms.

Personnel in the Knox-Haskell Unit are James Mickler of Paint Creek, Lora Beth Ross of Knox City serving as diagnostician, Dorothy Meyers of Monday serving as counselor, and as research teacher, Wanda Briles of Rule. All those involved are persons who have been in the Knox-Haskell area for several years, a factor which gives the staff a depth of understanding that they otherwise might be unable to achieve according to Mr. Mickler, chief administrator. The early childhood division is headed by Don Lamb of Rochester. A total of 27 staff members, teachers and aides staff the special education component. Staff, teachers and aides for the early childhood unit total 16.

This project is being administered by funds from a grant of $365,000 and is reaching 425 children who were previously ignored, Mr. Baker said.

Participating school districts include Rule, Munday, Goree, Knox City, Benjamin, Paint Creek, Haskell, O'Brien, Weisert and Rochester. The necessity for a total of three thousand and student population in order to qualify for the supportive personnel necessary to run the program.

In the above ten schools of the two counties there are more than 3000 students, 145 of these in the 3-4-5 year old age group.

Music was provided by Mrs. E. R. Wilson. Hostesses were Mmes. Martha Floyd, Mary Bigham, and E. Q. Warren.

Carney Schools Announce New Policy

Knox City - Carney School District has long recognized the need for helping meet the nutritional needs of its students. A well-balanced nutritional lunch is served each school day. The charge to students who can pay is 35¢; both for elementary and high school students. However, since some families find it difficult to pay the full price, the school will provide these lunches free of charge or at a reduced price to those children determined by the Superintendent of Schools to be unable to pay the full price for their lunches.

Families who feel that their children may be eligible for free or reduced price lunches are urged to apply. Copies of the application form were sent home in a letter to parents earlier this week. Additional copies may be obtained at the superintendent's office. The completed application, signed by an adult member of the family, should be sent to the Superintendent of Schools. Such applications will be reviewed promptly and within 15 days, the family will be notified in writing as to the decision made. All information provided on the application will be held in the strictest confidence. Decisions for applications for free lunches based on the income Scales.

Advisory Council Will Host Vocational Education Hearing

The Advisory Council for Technical-Vocational Education in Texas has invited persons from 31 West Texas counties to the Region 7 public hearing on vocational education on February 4 at 9:30 a.m. in the Abilene Civic Center.

This hearing is one of fourteen regional hearings being conducted around the state by the Advisory Council between January 26 and February 23. The purpose of these hearings is to gain local input for an annual report going to the Governor in March.

Roff W. Hardy of Abilene, a member of the Advisory Council and chairman for Region 7, said that the public hearing "will give all the citizens in Region 7 a chance to speak their minds about how best to train Texans for jobs." Hardy went on to say, "I urge all interested people to attend the hearing and make known their views on vocational education in order that the council will have a better understanding of what needs to be done for vocational education in Region 7."

Assisting Hardy during the hearing will be council members W. T. Crouch of Itasca and William L. Jones Jr. of Odessa. Hardy is president of West Texas Utilities Co., Crouch is past president of the Texas Association of School Boards and Jones is associated with A-1 Engineering and Construction Co., Inc.

The hearing will begin at 9:30 a.m. with an overall background briefing by the Advisory Council based on a motion picture for prospective vocational students, review of data and trends, a slide film presentation on council recommendations for legislation, and a question and answer period. At 10:50 there will be a panel discussion on the "Needs" of vocational education. The panel chairman will be A. B. Shelton, chairman of the Industrial Committee of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce.

At 11:50 there will be a panel discussion on the "Resources" of vocational education. This panel will be headed by James E. Jeter, director of vocational and industrial education in the Abilene Public Schools.

There will be a recess at 12:00 noon and the hearing will reconvene at 1:30.

The afternoon session will be divided into three groups to provide a greater opportunity for all to be heard. Each group will be chaired by a member of the Advisory Council and council staff representatives will act as resource personnel and recorders.

The council will be especially interested in hearing responses to the subjects discussed in the morning session. The group will be encouraged to put forth any suggestions and proposals relative to Technical-Vocational Education.

VA Questions And Answers

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their dependents are asking being made available between now and June 30, to support child nutrition programs. This is 25 per cent more than the $754 million provided a year ago.

Most of the extra cash is to assist states in providing free or reduced-price meals to needy children in cooperative federal-state-local child feeding programs. A total of $359,400,000 - more than 2 1/2 times the amount allotted last year - has been apportioned specifically to help feed needy youngsters. Of this amount, Texas will receive $27,380,074.

For the first time, a part of the funds will be budgeted for developmental projects for the programs, and for nutrition education and training. This provision was in the new legislation signed by President Nixon last May, amending the National School Lunch and the Child Nutrition Acts. An amount of $750,000 is set aside for nutrition education and training, and an equal sum is reserved to assist in financing developmental projects.

The Texas apportionment will be turned over to the Texas Education Agency, for further distribution to schools participating in the National School Lunch, School Breakfast and Special Milk programs, Garber said.

The Texas apportionment includes $11,466,239 in cash assistance for on-going lunch service authorized by Section 4 of the National School Lunch Act. The apportionment of $224,250,000 for all states for this purpose is $56,209,000 more than a year ago. Additional support for these lunches comes from state and local sources, and from the amounts that children pay for their meals.

Special assistance funds for Texas to reimburse schools for free or reduced-price lunches to needy children include $15,598,186 under Section 11 of the National School Lunch Act, and $11,781,888 from Section 32 sources. Under the new legislation, any school is eligible for special cash assistance to meet the need for free and reduced-price meals, and such special assistance is no longer limited to only the food costs of a lunch program. Section 32 funds also can be used in the breakfast and non-food assistance programs.

Additional funds for Texas include: $528,335 - for food assistance in the School Breakfast Program, largely in schools in needy areas.

$473,995 - for reimbursing up to 75 per cent of the cost of obtaining equipment for needy schools for the initiation, expansion or improvement of lunch or breakfast programs.

$796,082 - for Special Food Service Program for children in day-care and recreation centers and other non-school situations.

$4,209,874 - to help pay the cost of milk served to children by schools and child-care organizations.

Nationally, USDA is donating food valued at $240.4 million to the states for their use in all food service programs for children. In addition, schools participating in the National School Lunch Program get the added benefits of $64.3 million of foods that are bought by USDA especially to help meet the nutritional requirements of school lunches, as authorized by Section 6 of the National School Lunch Act.

Streams In Desert Places

BY OZELLE STEPHENS "If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink." John 7:37. In one of the Exodus stories we hear the Lord saying to Moses, "Go on before the people and take with you the Elders of Israel, and the rod, wherewith thou smotest the waters. Behold, I will stand before thee there upon the rock, and there shall come water out of it that the people may drink." Moses did so in the sight of the Elders and the people who were thirsty. In obedience to God's command Moses took the rod and smote the rock and water streamed forth. This rod was a token of authority. It represented God's kingship and when Moses used it at God's command nothing could keep the water from streaming forth - much water so all the people and their cattle could drink. They were living waters which represented the Spirit of the Living God.

Federal Land Bank Reduces Interest Rate

Joe Harper, Manager, received word today that The Federal Land Bank of Houston has reduced the interest billing rate on variable rate loans to 8%. "This reduction affects more than 90 million dollars more of variable rate loans to more than 2800 farmers and ranchers throughout Texas," Harper stated.

The variable rate loan plan which was introduced by the Houston Bank in July 1969 lets the interest rate "float" over the variations in the money market. In large measure, therefore, the rate in any specific year will reflect the changes in prices which the Bank must pay for the money it makes available for farm mortgage loans. Mr. Harper pointed out that this action is in line with the bank's policy in providing farmers and ranchers credit at the lowest possible cost consistent with sound business practices.

The local association makes and services loans in Haskell, Jones, Baylor and Knox Counties. Members of the local board of directors are O. G. Lewis, E. H. Burnett, J. P. Jones, Ralph Howe, Weldon Walker, and J. E. Nix.

Tom E. Craddock To Head Scout Sustaining Member Enrollment

Tom E. Craddock, general manager of B-K Electric Co. in Seymour, has been named chairman of the Northwest Texas Council, Boy Scouts of America, Sustaining Membership Enrollment for 1971, according to J. O. Hancock, council president.

"The Annual Sustaining Membership Enrollment is conducted annually throughout the 13-county council and provides the Northwest Texas Council with the necessary funds to sustain and expand the Scouting program locally," Hancock said.

Craddock is a long time member of the council's executive board and was awarded the Silver Beaver Award for his service to Scouting, his community and his church in 1949.

"During the fiscal year 1970-71, the Northwest Texas Council has adopted an operating budget of $124,755. Of this amount $60,000 will be received from United Fund organizations within the council boundaries," Craddock said.

The council includes the counties of Archer, Baylor, Childress, Clay, Cottle, Foard, Hardeman, King, Knox, Montague, Throckmorton, Wichita and Willbarger. Cities within the council which have a United Fund are Bowie, Electra, Munday, Quanah, Willbarger County and Wichita Falls; and each participates in supporting the Scouting program.

"The United Fund base leaves approximately $65,000 that we must raise additionally among parents of Scouts and other 'Friends of Scouting'," Craddock related. He further stated that "the Sustaining Membership needs can only be estimated until all United Funds announce actual allocations."

"For the last several years the cost of providing Scouting to boys in our council has been held at a bare minimum. Because of continued inflation the cost of program services has increased beyond the council's ability to remain within the minimum cost plateau, and we must now make a major effort to secure adequate Sustaining Memberships to balance an adequate budget," Craddock said.

Scouting in the Northwest Texas Council is extended to almost 5,000 members through some 165 Cub packs, Scout troops and Explorer units. The council owns and maintains two camps which last year provided more than 10,000 "boy days" of camping to Scouts in the council. Perkins Reservation is located north of Wichita Falls and Horizon Wilderness Scout Ranch is located southwest of Bowie.

Senior Class News

By GWEN ANGLE

The seniors are violently making plans for our trip which will be in May. We have received a whole lot of good information from Los Angeles and the surrounding suburbs. Just thinking about leaving KCBS for awhile is exciting!

In Texas History we saw a film entitled "Texas, Our Texas!" and it was quite interesting. We all enjoy studying something that we know a little about. Coach Lowrey has read to us about the "Spider Rock Treasure" which is supposed to be buried somewhere around Kiowa Peak. The story we heard was intriguing enough that several boys went out and explored the area. Could they have found it?

John Keats is the author we are studying in English IV. An assignment of ours was to write a summary on one of Keats' long poems, "The Eve of St. Agnes". Mike Newton had a good paper, so he gets to be in the news this week.

NEWS THIS WEEK:

THE EVE OF ST. AGNES

John Keats reveals in "The Eve of St. Agnes" the story of a young man and woman in love. The poem starts out with the young man praying out in cold, harsh weather.

While this young man is praying, the young virgins, under the spell of Saint Agnes, are having visions of their future husbands.

Porphyro finishes his prayer and goes to meet Madeline. He ventures into the castle where he hides in the closet of Madeline's chamber. An old lady, Rose, helps Porphyro through the corridors in the very bedroom of Madeline.

Porphyro gazes on the dress laid aside by Madeline and then gazes at her in bed. He gazes at her longingly, but cannot remain. He hears the music in other parts of the castle and leaves, leaving all that is quiet behind.

The visions of Madeline now take place. She dreams of Porphyro and having him close. She dreams of his playing music and making love to her. She awakes only to find that no one is here. She begins to weep.

Porphyro then comes back to see Madeline crying. He assures her that he is no dream, and while Madeline's father, the baron, sleeps, he leaves the castle with his love.

Junior Class News

The Junior play will be presented on February twenty-third in the school auditorium. The play is "The Fakers" by William D. Fisher, author of "Here Comes the Bride" and "Take It Easy", and published by The Newer Publishing Company, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Admission will be $1.00 and $5.50.

Triouts for parts in the play were held during English Class last Thursday and Friday. Mrs. Cash, Mrs. Baker, Mr. Hays, and Mr. McGaughey were judges. The cast consists of ten characters: Ben Allen, a good-looking, wealthy, unassuming young man, played by Charlie Lieb; Ed Weston, a somewhat conceited young man of Ben's age, played by Kenny Woodall; Ruth Aldrich, a pretty, serious-minded college girl of twenty, played by Terri Whitten; Jessica Aldrich, (Ruth's mother) a flighty, rattle-brained woman, highly interested in spiritualism, played by Mary Jo Campbell; Roberts Houston, a practical, likable, attractive woman of forty-five, played by Jan Lankford; Helen Johnson, a pretty girl of twenty and Ruth's close friend, played by Carol King; Mrs. Schyler Van Schuler, Jessica's friend, also highly interested in the supernatural but not as scatter-brained as Jessica, played by Ceissia Skiles; Dorothy Aldrich, Ruth's pretty, lively teenage sister, played by Carol Speck; Gene Peters, Dorothy's boyfriend, also a lively teenager, played by Brent Ralstack; and Professor Randolph Rawlings, a pleasant, neatly-dressed, middle-aged psychologist-spiritualist, played by Victor Gonzales.

Homemaking I

By JANNA HISE

We are working several different subjects this week. Some are working on their Junior degrees, while others are working on reports, showcases, and cleaning the kitchens, dressing room, bathroom, living room, magazine rack, and tables. We are also selecting our kitchen partners and will begin cooking presently.

Last week the Homemaking I class worked on their Junior Degrees of Achievement. Most of us had forgotten about them but Mrs. Newton took care of that.

Last Friday a group of Homemaking I girls consisting of: Denise Grindstaff, Alice Valdez, and Janna Hise, had a program on "Disputes between Parents and Teen-agers." Debbie Bishop, Karen Leach, and Mary Espinosa furnished the refreshments.

Greenhand News

By RANDY PACK

Last Monday, Mr. Burkham, Art Crowover, and Rusty Trimmur went to Abilene for the Taylor County Livestock Show. Art Crowover exhibited his various breeding sheep, and his wether, Rusty showed his Hampshire Wether.

While they were at Abilene, the rest of the Greenhands outlined four chapters of Sheep Production. We wrote and wrote!

The results of the show were: Art did not place and Rusty got thirteenth place from over eight entries.

This Friday several Greenhands, along with Mr. Burkham, will go to the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show. They will leave Friday and come back Sunday. The boys leaving will be Randy Pack, Ricky Warren, Buddy Card, Billy Baker, Randy Egenbacher, Nefro Gonzales, and Adrian Gonzales.

The Greenhands will be busy all this week getting their animals ready for show, Goodluck.

The Greenhands would like to thank Mr. Burkham for all his work with our animals. Without his help we would not be going to Fort Worth, Abilene, or Houston.

Again thank you, Mr. Burkham.

FHA News

The FHA met Monday, January 18, in the school library, because no one member had done outstanding work this month. The Chapter voted not to elect a "girl of the month" for this month.

Mr. McGaughey talked to the group about the "New MORALS". I'm sure Mr. McGaughey answered a lot of unspoken questions, and we really appreciated his taking time out to come and talk to us.

Tuesday night we played our last district game in the first round. It was against Albany at Albany. From the start, we were leading pretty well. The final score was 52 to 28. Jan Gutsco was high point with 21.

Friday night we started the second round. Aspermont was hot that night, and we were too confident. They beat us 44 to 39. Betsy was high point with 20. When we go to Roscoe this Tuesday, we're going to put up more of a fight than we did here.

Coaches' Comments

By COACH LOWREY

Last week's basketball action saw the Greyhounds lose one and win one. The loss being the last game of the first round to Albany. The win being over Aspermont in the first game of the second round. The win was achieved through a real balanced team effort. Any opposing team can stop one of two boys, but they can't stop everybody. The tendency here of late by our opposition has been to double team Mike Newton inside and to cover Rogers Lankford with tight man-to-man coverage. However, in doing this, they have three men covering two and leaving us with three offensive men on only two defensive players. It has been especially gratifying to see these other three boys come through in the clutch for us. This is actually what basketball or any team sport is about. You are only as good as your team as a whole. Any one knows you can stop one or two men with five. We also felt as if we had one of our best defensive games against Aspermont. We were very cold in the first half on offense, but our defense kept forcing them to make mistakes and as a result we were only down three points at half-time. Then, in the second half, our shots began to fall in and
