Mass Meeting Cal- led Monday Night

Educational Plan Presented

For the purpose of making it possible for all the people in this section to secure detailed information on the plan and program of the Federal Farm Board for assisting the farmers through the Texas Cotton Co-operative Association a general mass meeting has been arranged to be held on Monday evening July 29 of next week at the Texas Theatre in Knox City at 8:00 p. m.

At this meeting, a speaker well informed on the organization and the government's connection with it will be present and explain the proposition and answer any questions asked concerning it. All farmers, merchants, bankers and others desiring to learn more of the undertaking are invited to attend the meeting.

The Texas Cotton Co-operative Association is the only organization in Texas through which the farmers can secure the benefits of the agricultural marketing act which became law on June 15, 1929. That association absorbed the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association and its membership contract has been considerably changed in order to meet the requirements of the Federal Farm Board.

Under the old farm bureau contract, a member was required to deliver every bale of his cotton to the co-op. The Texas Cotton Cooperative Association membership agreement calls for the delivery of only every other bale of cotton that is produced by the farmer up to 20 bales. In other words, if a cotton farmer produces 20 bales he is only under contract to ship 10 of them to the association. If he produces 10 bales he must only ship five bales and if his production reaches 100 bales, he is required to deliver only ten bales, but may deliver all or any part of his total crop.

Business men and bankers all over Texas especially in West Texas, are manifesting much interest in the co-operative program under government direction, and which is being operated with government money, and many of them are urging their farmer friends to affiliate with the organization.

In communities where the program has already been explained, the farmers are in many cases signing the membership agreements in large numbers. Already over 50 percent of the total cotton acreage in Sevier county has been signed up for the marketing this year through the co-op. Sign-up campaigns in Fisher, Mitchell, Coleman, Jones and several other West Texas counties are now well under way and meeting with satisfactory responses, workers in the drives report.

No professional paid membership solicitors and organizers are being used in the co-op campaign in this part of West Texas. The work is being done by farmers, merchants, bankers and others who are enough interested to voluntarily give their time to the program.

The mass meeting announced above will be held simply to supply information on the cooperative plan to the people in this territory who are wanting to learn of its details and no efforts will be made to "high pressure" any farmer or other person to endorse this idea against his better judgement.

ART CLASS TO HAVE EXHIBIT

The Knox City Art Class, which is studying under Mrs. Bobbie Bradberry, is making plans for an Art Exhibit to be held here in the early Fall. The class and the instructor are well enthused over the exhibit and special studies are being secured to be painted for the occasion. It will take the assistance of the town to make the exhibit a success, however, the class feels assured of that cooperation.

Bride Elect Honored With Shower

Last Friday evening the large lawn at the Baptist parsonage was the setting for a beautiful miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Opal Branton, bride elect of Mr. Cleveland Hutchinson. The honoree was escorted to her seat of honor which was under an arch profusely decorated with ferns and flowers. The program for the evening consisted of a vocal solo by Miss Myrtle Evans, piano solo by Mrs. Billie Clarke, a reading by Mrs. Gordon Acker and a vocal duet by Misses Claydene Hoge and Elsie Graham.

Following the last number Miss Grace Orsborn appeared on the scene with an object which caused much wondering and excitement. The object of curiosity was a dummy made of pillows, etc., tea towels for arms, a pot holder for a face and a sauce pan hat. This "girl" applied to the bride-to-be for work.

Following Miss Hazel Jones delivered to the honoree a suitcase of linens and then a huge display of gifts was made. Tray after tray of useful gifts were brought out and placed before Opal for inspection. After everyone enjoyed this inspection with Opal, refreshments were served to nearly a hundred guests.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mesdames T. E. Robbins, J. H. Finley, H. W. Finley, W. V. Favor, E. O. Jamison, C. B. Stovall, E. W. Holland, A. B. Reese, and G. A. Brown and Misses Willie Jones and Alta Hamm.

DR. CALDWELL'S THREE RULES

Dr. Caldwell watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation is a mild vegetable compound. It can not harm the most delicate systems and is not habit forming.

The Doctor never did approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. Use Syrup Pepsin for yourself and members of the family in constipation, biliousness, sour and crampy stomach, bad breath, no appetite, head aches, and to break up fevers and colds. Your Power Supply and Your Neighbor's

The grouping of electric service requirements of a widespread area into one large electric system has brought about today's efficient power supply in our communities. Just as in the large city, mass production and mass distribution of electricity become possible. Greater efficiency in operation, and hence greater economy.

THE DON'T IN ADVERTISING

DON'T advertise just to keep your local editor from getting sore and asking you, advertise for your own benefit. Some people think that they have done the editor a good deed when the consent to advertise for a week or two, they never stop to consider the fact that they are getting the benefit of the advertising. It doesn't look to me like this sort of a person would make a very good business man.

If advertising didn't increase the trade and profits, do you think that the large concerns would continue to advertise? Of course not.

Do you know why so many people order their things from Mail Order Houses? Then let me tell you. It is because the Mail Order Houses ADVERTISE. Every year there comes into your home a catalogue which will make it quite plain to you what they have to sell and what they want for it. Then there are the Sale catalogues that keeps you posted on the current prices. People just naturally find it easier to buy things where they know they can find them. For instance if they see an add in the paper stating that you have in some fresh vegetables or some bargain prices in Dress materials, don't you think that they would come to your counter before they would go all over town asking all the stores if they had the same bargains offered? Of course they would, hence the necessity of advertising for your own benefit.

L. B. Hammock

Being pleasant with others and not making cutting remarks, that hurt and humiliates them without profiting me in the least, is a mighty good way to make and hold friends.

The only things one merchant has to offer a customer that he can't get at some other store, is his smile, his hand,—in other words, his personality.

Be charitable, and do not be too quick in criticizing those who talk too much. Remember they are men who think little things, and therefore have more to talk about than men who think big things.

What I would call a "Good looking" man is one who has lived a life so clean that his thoughts have stamped their impression upon his countenance.

I suppose my being quick to excuse others of their mistakes, comes from the great amount of practice I have in excusing my own.

What you are depends upon what you think, but that does not mean that all men are what they think they are.

The knowledge and ability to perform useful honest labor of any kind is infinitely important and of

Are You Ready

When your Children Cry for It

Baby has little upsets at times. All your care cannot prevent them. But you can be prepared. Then you can do what any experienced nurse would do—what most physicians would tell you to do—give a few drops of plain Castoria. No sooner done than Baby is soothed; relief is just a matter of moments. Yet you have eased your child without use of a single doubtful drug; Castoria is vegetable. So it's safe to use as often as an infant has any little pain you cannot put away. And it's always ready for the crueler pangs of colic, or constipation, or diarrhea; effective, too, for older children. Twenty-five million bottles were bought last year.

Abilene Man and Wife Praise Argotane for Wonderful Good It Did Them

"I have not only been relieved of troubles that bothered me for three years since I started taking Argotane, but am in better health generally than I have been for years. And I want to add that it has also restored my wife to health, too," said D. W. Sieglitz, of 2630 South Seventh Street, Abilene, Texas, recently.

"For the past three years," continued Mr. Sieglitz, I have suffered from constipation. This naturally was followed by a bunch of minor ailments which usually accompany this trouble. I had a sluggish liver and felt tired and worn out most all the time. I did not sleep well, lost in health and gradually grew worse notwithstanding the fact I was continually taking something for my ailments all the time.

"I kept hearing so much about Argotane, and what it was doing for people I decided to try it also. Well, I have not finished the first bottle before I realized I had at last struck the right medicine for my improvement was remarkable. I continued taking it and I am glad to say that I am a well man. I have a splendid appetite and eat anything I want without it bothering me in the least. I always sleep well and get up feeling rested and refreshed. I have more pep and vitality than I have had in a long time.

"My wife had been suffering from a run-down condition, and she saw how Argotane helped me so she decided to take it and today she is completely rid of her troubles, like me, she can eat anything she wants and never suffers the least bit from it afterward.

"We both never miss any opportunity to praise Argotane, for it has surely brought health and happiness in our home."

J. P. Kennedy for County Treasurer

As the campaign draws to a close I desire to say a final word to the voters of Knox County. Whatever the result of the election may be, I wish to say that my association with the citizens of the county have been very pleasant, and every courtesy has been extended to me in all parts of the county, for which I shall ever feel grateful.

When a person presents himself to the voters for their support for public office there are several questions which naturally arise in the minds of the voters. Is he qualified? Is he honest and trustworthy?

As to qualifications I can say that I am in every respect well qualified to hold the position to which I aspire. I have had many years experience in clerical work, and for a number of years served as a deputy in the office of county clerk of McLellan county at Waco.

Due to failing health some seven years ago I entered the mail service as rural carrier and served that capacity until I was retired, having reached the age limit, and the way of answering the question as to trustworthiness beg to say that I have a letter from the American Surety Company, with whom I bonded for seventeen years in the mail service, soliciting my bond as county treasurer in case I am elected to this post, and there is no better bond than a surety bond in a reliable company like this, which has the sanction of the United States Government.

In some quarters it has been charged that I drew a pension from the Government as a retired mail carrier. In answer to this charge I beg to state that in 1920 the Federal Government began to deduct a portion of the salaries of all classified employees with which to create a fund to be paid to retired employees, and having contributed to the creation of this fund through the deductions from my salary all these years, it can by no means be called a "pension," but rather the payment in small installments of money that I have earned in years gone by, which has been withheld by the Government to be paid in small installments upon retirement from the mail service, and in no sense could such a payment be termed a "pension." This explanation is made in order that the citizens may know the real facts and may cast their ballots with all the facts before them.

If honored with this responsible position I promise the citizens of Knox county a most efficient and faithful administration, and will feel grateful to those who give me their support, and shall hold no malice toward those who do not.

Very respectfully,
J. P. KENNEDY.

Vote for Ben G. Oneal for State Senator

Mr. Oneal is in no sense a politician. He is making his first race for public office.

Practically his entire life has been spent west of Fort Worth in this section of Texas. He knows the needs of the farmer, the stockman, the oil producer and the laborer.

His twenty years of law practice, fourteen of which have been in Wichita Falls, as well as his continual contact with other business, give him a broad and valuable experience to draw upon and be guided by as State Senator.

His every act and vote as senator would be solely in the interest of the people.

ANOTHER FINE VICTORY WON BY NEW KONJOLA

Lady Was About To Give Up Hope of Finding Escape From Stubborn Ills

MRS. FLORA STANLEY

No wonder Konjola has won a million friends, no wonder seven million bottles were used in two years. Would you not like to know all about the medicine that wins such triumph? Ask your druggist about it, but right now before you do anything else, read the words of Mrs. Flora Stanley, 215 North McMaisters street, Amarillo, Texas. Praising Konjola, Mrs. Stanley says:

"I was in miserable health for five years, the result of stomach kidney and liver disorders. My back ached terribly and my feet and ankles were badly swollen. Gas formed after each meal, and I endured awful pain. Dizzy spells and bilious attacks were other sources of distress. My husband insisted that I try Konjola, and now I have a good appetite food digests as it should, dizziness and biliousness are gone and my weight is back to normal. We will always recommend Konjola after what it did for us."

Konjola does work swiftly, yet a full treatment of from six to eight bottles is advised for best results.

Konjola is sold in Knox City by Orient Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

VERY LATESTS BY MARY MARSHALL

Narrow ribbon outlines the raised waistline of many of the most attractive of the summer dresses. It is precisely as trim as the dress without being tight enough to cause a single wrinkle or pucker and almost always there are loops and ends hanging down at the left side.

For the woman who is not decided by slender through waist and hips the narrow ribbon belt is an unfortunate choice. A far better selection for her is a sash made of wide ribbon draped so as to make the hips seem as slender as possible—and unfortunately these wide ribbon girdles are just as smart as are those of narrower ribbon.

The little summer dress of flowered voile shown today was finished with a girdle of this sort. The top, as you will see, is placed at a fairly high waist line but the lower edge comes well over the hips. To make the sash as shown in the sketch you will need two and a half or three yards of ribbon eight or ten inches in width. Narrow tucks are taken in the ribbon at one side to shape it in at the waistline and to prevent it from riding up from the hips.
