Rats seek loving homes

DES MOINES, IA — Recently abandoned rats are now being offered for adoption by the Des Moines animal shelter. "Quite frankly, rats make very good pets," said Tom Colvin of the Animal Rescue League of Iowa. Colvin's organization picked up 60 of the rats from the shelter to send to humane humane societies around the state. Pet lovers have already adopted 30 of the 78 rats.

Turn in a gun, get a few rounds

LAS CRUCES, NM — Anyone who turns in a gun to police here will receive two $25 tickets to see 10 boxing matches - one featuring former bantamweight champion Johnny Tapia - and $50.

There's no limit on how many firearms anyone can turn in, and officers will not any questions.

Tapia convinced the Las Cruces Police Department, Dona Ana County Sheriff's Department and Crime Stoppers to sponsor his project, an effort to get as many guns off the streets as possible. Tapia's mother was murdered when he was 8.

Bong causes evacuation

WILMINGTON, N.C. - Investigators treated a bong as a possible bomb and evacuated 1,000 students on the anniversary of the Columbine High School shooting. The bomb scare occurred after seven teen-agers who were walking Thursday behind Roland-Grise Middle School ran when approached by a deputy assigned to the school.

A search turned up a cardboard fireworks tube. Because the seven wouldn't tell officers what the tube contained, the school was evacuated. Only after a bomb squad destroyed the tube did detectives learn that it was being used to carry a bong, a pipe for smoking marijuana. "What we have is a B-O-N-G, not a B-O-M-B," said sheriff's Capt. David Smithey. Two students were released without charges.

Hospital District receives $100,000 grant

The Muleshoe Area Hospital District has been informed of a $100,000 grant awarded to the district by the Meadows Foundation of Dallas, Texas.

The purpose of the grant is to apply toward building and expanding a nursing care facility to include Alzheimer's services for seniors. It is contingent upon issuance of bonds, according to the terms and conditions of the grant.

The award is made "to assist your organization's efforts to provide nursing care, including Alzheimer's services for seniors in Muleshoe," stated Bruce H. Esterline, vice president for grants, The Meadows Foundation, in a letter announcing the grant award. The Meadows Foundation is a private philanthropic institution established in 1948 by Algor H. and Virginia Meadows to benefit the people of Texas.

The hospital district has been working with Meadows for some time, and are pleased that they are willing to assist in realizing a new nursing home and a new service for the home, said Muleshoe Area Healthcare Center administrator Ed Dudley.

SPS promises future rate cut in preparation for next merger

AMARILLO — Southwestern Public Service Company has announced it will reduce future electricity prices to most of its customers in Texas by 7 percent, and, beginning in 2001, will sell to competitors at least two-thirds of its electric-power generating capacity.

The changes will allow SPS customers to join the majority of the stated in choosing among competing power suppliers as early as Jan. 1, 2002, said SPS President David Wilks.

Texas law enacted in 1999 requires that for a region to be "qualified" to be opened to electric compe-dition, no one supplier may own more than 20 percent of the generation available to serve the region. SPS owns about 70 percent of the generation in this region. The Public Utility Commission of Texas required SPS to address its "transition to competition" plan as part of the approval process for the proposed merger between SPS-parent new Century Energies and Northern States Power.

A settlement agreement on the merger and on the transition plan will have been filed with the commission. The agreement is among SPS, the commission staff, the Office of Public Utility Counsel, the Texas Industrial Electric Consumers and the Texas attorney General's office. SPS also reached related agreements with the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority and with its rural electric cooperative wholesale customers in Texas. A open meeting on the merger application likely will be scheduled in May.

The price reduction will be in two phases, Wilks said. Upon Texas approval of the merger, $4.8 million in annual merger-related savings will be passed through. Rates of Texas customers using 1,000 kilowatt-

Horse owners urged to vaccinate early

AUSTIN — After a mild winter, Louisiana already has reported its first case of Eastern Equine Encephalitis (EEE), or "sleeping sickness" in a six-year-old unvaccinated Shetland pony in Vernon Parish, adjacent to Texas' Newton County. "We recommend that owners have their equine vaccinated against this mosquito-borne disease, if they live east of Interstate 35, or if they plan to travel to the area with their animals," said Dr. Terry Beals, Texas' state veterinarian and executive director of the Texas Animal Health Commission (TAHC), the state's livestock health regulatory agency. "Veterinarians in Texas should report any cases to the TAHC or to the Texas Department of Health, so the incidence of the disease can be tracked."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Part-time thespian has good memories of Muleshoe

Dear Editor:

On behalf of the cast and crew of the "Greater Tuna" theater troupe, I want to recognize the greater Muleshoe area for the wonderful hospitality given us during our recent production and stay in Muleshoe.

Not only by the Chamber of Commerce as a group, but by so many individuals across town were we treated with such generosity and down-home, warm kindness.

Each of us embraced the friendliness and goodwill of the people wherever we attended during our stay.

We were involved with various individuals in the schools and businesses, with business leader and individual citizens in many different circumstances. We felt a strong sense of community wherever we went.

As an educator for thirty-one years in my (real) professional life, I feel qualified to say that it can never be over-emphasize how important this sense of community is to children growing up in it.

With the concerns that are occurring in other towns and communities across the country, and with the violence in which to many children engage as a matter of routine, it is gratifying to experience the friendliness of Muleshoe, and to feel that this is a good place to raise a child.

Muleshoe done me good as a kid growing up there . . . except I never really grew up. I am now the only kindergartner at Nob Hill Early Childhood Center in Ruidoso, New Mexico who is old enough to vote.

Super-size kid explosion has health pros concerned

HOUSTON — An explosion of "super-sized" kids has American health professionals clamoring for improved obesity-screening tools.

But according to preliminary findings from a large-scale study, the body mass index (BMI), an obesity-screening tool being considered for use with kids, can produce inaccurate results if factors such as age, sex, maturity level, ethnic background and physical activity are not considered.

"One out of six children in our study who had a BMI in the normal range had an unhealthy level of body fat," said Dr. Kenneth Ellis, a Baylor College of Medicine professor of pediatrics.

The study compared the results of two obesity indexes, the BMI and the percent body fat (% Fat), in an ethnically diverse population of 979 boys and girls between ages 3 and 18. The BMI values were calculated using the standard ratio of body weight in kilograms to the square of height in meters (wt/ht²). The %Fat was determined with a special instrument called DXA.

Two basic assumptions regarding body composition lead to inaccuracies when the BMI

The Empty Tomb Points Us To a "Living Hope"

A human being can endure almost anything—if he or she has hope.

I love the words of the Apostle Peter as he assures us that by the mercy of the living God all who through the blood of Christ have entered into a covenant relationship with Him have been "born anew into a living hope" (1 Peter 1:3).

Focus On Faith

Curtis Shelburne

Peter knew what it was like to live a life in which it seemed that the sun of his hope had finally set. For three years he had rested his hopes on Jesus. For three years he had followed and listened and learned. He'd come a long way.

And then at the fateful last supper, Jesus had looked at him and said, "Peter, before the rooster crows, you will deny me three times."

Peter was aghast. He screamed inside and then aloud, "Lord, I would go to prison for you! I would die for you!"

He meant it. Hadn't he willingly left his boat to follow the Lord? Had he not powerfully confessed that Jesus was the very Son of God Himself? Would his sword not be the first drawn to defend his Lord? Wasn't his very name proof of his rock-hard stability?

And yet the eyes of Jesus had read in him some weakness that even Peter himself had not yet seen. Later that very night, Peter, the rock, crumbled, and Peter remembered Jesus' words as out of his own mouth spewed the poisonous syllables, "I don't even know the man!" He'd betrayed the most important person in his life. He'd betrayed God.

Thank God, for Peter and for all the rest of us who in action and attitude have also denied the Lord, that God was not content for Peter to remain hopeless! Three times he had disowned the Lord. Three times the risen Lord asked, "Do you love me, Peter?" Three times Peter replied, "Yes, Lord!" And Jesus had commissioned him: "Feed my sheep."

Peter would. Oh, he would make other mistakes, but he would never forget the One who was his hope and who, because of an empty tomb, is still the living hope for all who lay down their own claims to save themselves and place their trust completely in Him.

hours a month will decline by $0.47, from $64.24 to $63.77.

When full competition begins — likely, Jan. 1, 2002 — there will be an additional, legislatively-mandated $12.4 million (6 percent) reduction in prices for service to residential and small business customers. The additional monthly savings for the 1,000-kwh residential customer will be $3.83.

Afterward, SPS's rates for residential and small business customers will not increase for at least five years, as required by Texas law.

A primary goal of the transition plan is to bring new providers of electric service into the area, Wilks said. The agreement describes sales of power plant required before the SPS-served region in Texas would be designated by the commission as "qualified" to allow customer choice.

The plan anticipates the sale of at least 2,864 megawatts of SPS generating capacity to meet the customer-choice requirements. The amount is about 64 percent of the 4,472 megawatts of capacity owned by SPS and its affiliates at 13 plants in Texas and New Mexico. The agreement also states SPS may sell 3,191 megawatts, or 71 percent, of its capacity, if the commission deems the larger amount necessary to "qualify" the SPS-served region for competition among suppliers. SPS and its affiliates will retain either 1,608 or 1,281 megawatts of capacity in Texas and New Mexico, fueled primarily by natural gas.

The agreement says SPS will sell the following plants to meet customer-choice requirements: Tolk Station-Muleshoe, Tx., Harrington Station-Amarillo, Tx., Jones Station-Lubbock, Tx., Moore County Plant-Dumas, Tx., and one of SPS's two natural gas-fueled power plant near Hobbs, NM.

The grant award is a great gift to the nursing home project, and will be put to good use in enhancing a project of which the community and district can be proud," said Tim Campbell, president of the board of Muleshoe Area Hospital District.

The Meadows Foundation is among the most recognized private philanthropies in the country. It has received numerous awards for both its philanthropy and its management, and has been named an Outstanding Foundation of the year by the National Society of Fund Raising Executives.

"We are delighted that Meadows has chosen to make this award and recognized the effort being made by the hospital district to serve the senior citizens of the community," said Jim Bone, Muleshoe Area Hospital District administrator. "The reason it is contingent upon issuance of bonds is for their reassurance that the project is one the people of the district want and are willing to support," Bone noted.

is used in a one-size-fits-all screening tool for fatness.

Ellis said. One assumption is that individuals who have a BMI

The study found that body fat in children in this BMI range varied from 10 to 40 percent.

Department of Health, said encephalitis cases in equine signal public health authorities that infected mosquitoes are or have been in the vicinity. Although no cases have been reported in Texas in 20 years, humans also can contract the virus from infected mosquitoes. He advised that ordinary precautions be taken, such as controlling pests and wearing mosquito repellent. Symptoms of the infection in humans include fever, headache, vomiting, lethargy, neck stiffness, convulsions and coma.

Equine affected by "sleeping sickness" or encephalitis develop central nervous system disorders, such as an irregular gait or circling, grinding of the teeth, drowsiness, and an inability to swallow. Affected animals may have paralysis of the limbs and be unable to rise. The AHC and public health officials advise owners to have symptomatic animals tested, because the signs for rabies and "sleeping sickness" often mimic each other, and appropriate preventive measures must be taken, if an owner is exposed to rabies. In addition to horses, donkeys and mules, many species of birds, such as emus, ostriches and rheas also are susceptible to the "sleeping sickness" virus.

Dr. Beals said private veterinary practitioners can administer a vaccine to equine that will provide protection against the Eastern and Western strains of equine encephalitis. A "three-way" vaccine also will protect against the Venezuelan strain (VEE), which is considered to be a foreign animal disease and is recommended for equine residing or traveling in South Texas.

THE SECOND SON BORN TO JACOB (BY LEAH, GEN. 29: 33) WAS SIMEON. WHEN ONE OF JACOB'S SONS WAS NEEDED AS A HOSTAGE TO GUARANTEE THE RETURN OF THE REST OF THE BROTHERS TO EGYPT, JOSEPH CHOSE SIMEON (GEN. 42: 24). IN MOSES' TIME, THE TRIBE, WHICH BORE SIMEON'S NAME, HAD SWELLED TO INCLUDE 59,300 FIGHTING MEN AT THE FIRST CENSUS TAKEN IN THE WILDERNESS! NO WOMEN OR CHILDREN WERE INCLUDED IN THIS NUMBERING NOR IN THE SECOND COUNT, YEARS LATER, WHEN THE TOTAL NUMBER OF FIGHTING MEN HAD DROPPED TO 22,200 -- AFTER A PLAGUE HAD THINNED THEIR RANKS! SIMEON, THE MAN, WAS RESPONSIBLE, ALONG WITH HIS BROTHER LEVI, FOR THE MASSACRE OF THE INHABITANTS OF SHECHEM ---

---AS REVENGE FOR THE HARM DONE TO THEIR SISTER DINAH (GEN. 34: 24-30) WHICH THEIR FATHER, JACOB, DID NOT CONDONE! PERHAPS THAT IS WHY JACOB'S BLESSING (GEN. 49:5-7) UPON SIMEON WAS SUCH A HARSH ONE!

VFW LADIES AUXILIARY NEWS

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 8570 met for its regular monthly meeting April 10 at 203 E. Ash.

President Janie Rodriguez called the meeting to order with members Carol Buhrman and Vicki Ferguson and officers Yvonne Stockman, Mariann Anzaldua, Linda Stracener, Joy Nicholson, Leah Bell and June Green present.

Club rituals, including the recitation of the Pledge of Allegiance and opening prayer, were offered by club members.

Minutes and treasurer's report from the March meeting were read and approved by those present.

In old business, auxiliary members heard reports concerning ongoing club committees.

Buhrman reported that the Campbell's soup label collection is still going well. Auxiliary members along with several community people have collected another 300 labels to send to the state auxiliary. The final destination of these labels is the Campbell's company where the auxiliary earns credit for school supplies. All earned credit by the local auxiliary has been earmarked for Muleshoe schools.

Bell reported that she will be making a buddy poppy scrapbook for the auxiliary's final District 13 project. This scrapbook will compete at the May 7 district meeting.

Several items of correspondence were read by Nicholson. Women's Protective Services of Lubbock wrote the ladies a thank-you note for the $100 donation sent to help furnish the Bailey County victim's wing.

The state Sr. Vice President sent a letter asking each local auxiliary for a donation to buy the outgoing president a "love gift." The motion was tabled for further discussion.

In new business, twelve lap throws have been donated to the local organization for distribution to veterans. Members carried a motion to give seven local veterans a lap throw with the remainder of them to be sent to the Amarillo Veteran's Hospital.

Election of new officers was held. Elected were: Anzaldua, president; Green, vice president; Bell, junior vice president; Nicholson, secretary/treasurer; Buhrman, chaplain; Stracener, conductress; Stockman, guard; Ferguson, one year trustee and Rodriguez, two year trustee. Installation of officers will take place at the May meeting.

The ladies and VFW men hosted two visitors, Dawn Williams of Williams Athletics and Lavon Hunt of Joe's Boot Shop. They represented the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce renovation grant project.

Williams and Hunt discussed a donation to help landscape the new Hugh Young Visitor's Center located on the old Mule Lot. They presented landscaping blueprints and several options for donations, including money or time.

Both organizations passed the motion to support the project. The VFW will provide manpower to relocate the flag from its current position to a new one laid out in the blueprints. The auxiliary will provide a monetary donation to build the flower bed surrounding the flag pole. In return, a plaque commemorating the VFW/Auxiliary will be placed on the site. The auxiliary will have a one item concession stand at the VFW on Friday night to help raise funds for the flower bed.

A wooden deck will be built as a foundation for the entire chamber beautification project. Anyone may purchase a plank for $20. Each plank will be branded and personalized for its donor. All community members and local organizations are encouraged to help complete any portion this project. Contact either Williams or Hunt for more information.

Being no further business, a silver drill was held, closing prayer conducted and meeting closed.

The next meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary will be at 7 p.m. on May 8 at 203 E. Ash.

Women who meet membership criteria and are interested in joining the auxiliary, a service organization dedicated to veteran support, may contact Rodriguez at 272-3345.

KENW-TV schedules 24th annual auction

KENW-TV, the public television station serving Eastern New Mexico and West Texas, has scheduled its 24th annual Tele-Auction for May 29-June 3.

From a cellular telephone to a vacation trip to designer jewelry, there is a great variety of items — about 2,000 — to bid on. This year's auction will be computerized, which will give it a new look, provide a faster pace, hopefully ensure more accurate posting of bids, and provide better exposure for the donors and board sponsors.

The event has become one of the most-watched televised events staged in the area.

Many local civic clubs are serving as local auction coordinator for area towns, and are busy soliciting merchandise. Anyone interested in donating items or making cash contributions can contact Sheryl Borden, Frankye King or Wanda Pettus at KENW-TV, (888) 367-5369 (toll free).

Those three can provide information on the auction as well as answer any questions a prospective donor might have. The auction potentially reaches more than 350,000 people.

Begun in 1976, the auction is one of the most successful fund-raisers conducted by the station.

This year's goal is $80,000, and all money raised will be used to purchase and broadcast programming on the region's only public television station.

Mother Nature sets a cow trap

Dick's got a little age on him, so to keep his body limber and his heart afloat he takes frequent strolls.

BAXTER BLACK

ON THE EDGE OF COMMON SENSE

Course, strolling where he lives, east of the Salt River Range near Merna, is different from power walking with the seniors through the Casper Mall at 9 a.m.

On one of his strolls he discovered a cow stuck in the crotch of a tree. No, she hadn't been climbing in and fallen back so that one hind leg hung on each side of the cross, she had merely poked her head through a tight "V" and wedged herself in. Two little knobby horns put a lock on the deal.

Had she stood on tiptoe and raised her head, she could have extricated herself. But having the IQ of a salamander and the belligerence of a G5 bureaucrat in charge of manning the telephone barrier, she simply pawed the ground with her front feet, digging herself deeper into trouble.

Dick used his hand-carved diamond willow walking stick to try and pry ol' Bessie out of the tree. She didn't cooperate. She actually tried to charge him, which proved impossible though she did manage to blow snot all down his shirt front.

He broke his walking stick — over her head, I suspect. Realizing the predicament, Dick back-tracked and made a call to the cowboy who was watching the cows. He came out with two young men, and the four of them drove to the scene of the accident.

The cowboy had brought a hand saw, but he didn't mention it when he saw the tree. It was like two young sequoias had sprouted side by side. After a little cowboy cogitation, they devised a plan with a winch, a pulley, some cotton rope and a sixpack. They tied the rope to a limb, snaked it under the cow, through the pulley and to the winch hook.

With a man on each hind corner, Dick, irritating her head with the long piece of his walking stick, and the cowboy crankin' the winch off and on, they tried to elevate her enough to pull her head out, to no avail. It finally worked when one of the hands got a double half-hitch granny around her head, straddled her back, put his feet against the tree forks and pulled her over backwards. He tangled in the winch strap and got stomped, hooked and rolled as she escaped the scene of the crime.

From the draw, they heard a calf bawl.

"Ah," one of the boys said. "I'll bet the little feller's hungry."
"I doubt it," Dick said. "I reckon he took advantage of the situation. When I found her this morning, there wasn't enough milk in her bag to white a cuppa coffee."

Wild Horses: An American Romance

Mustangs represent the spirit of the Old West. Wild and free, they invoke images of vast rolling prairies, untamed hills, mountains, and hidden canyons. Wild Horses: An American Romance takes a look at the rise and fall of the mustang in the western United States.

In the remote deserts and mountains of the American West lives an animal with a legendary history. Descended from the mounts of the Conquistadors and shaped by a vanishing frontier, wild horses have been outlaws for most of the century. Taking viewers on a stunning ride, Wild Horses roves across the West to explore the plight of the mustang, pausing in Montana, Texas, Nevada, South Dakota, and Nebraska. The program also introduces the wild horses to horse lovers across the nation through an adoption program sponsored by the U.S. Bureau of Land Management.

Wild Horses: An American Romance airs Sunday, April 23rd at 11:00 a.m.

"The Frontier Decade"

In Scientific American Frontiers "The Frontiers Decade" longtime series host Alan Alda looks back on the progress of science over the last decade of the millennium — a decade which happens to coincide with the first decade of the PBS series. And, hold on to your seats — this is going to be a lightning-quick trip. In less than an hour, the program revisits more than 200 different stories.

In its first ten years, Scientific American Frontiers has covered an enormous range of subjects: medicine, human behavior, animal behavior, nature, the environment, Earth and space sciences, archeology, robotics, and computer science — almost every branch of scientific endeavor.

"The Frontiers Decade" takes advantage of the tremendous breadth of reporting to identify a number of significant trends that have emerged, literally in front of the series' cameras.

Scientific American Frontiers "The Frontier Decade" will be broadcast Tuesday, April 25th at 9:00 p.m.

International Festival of Puppet Theater

Sunday, April 23rd, 1:00 p.m.

Every two years, The International Festival of Puppet Theater attempts to break away from the American notion that puppetry is just for kids. Featured are some of the wackiest, most offbeat, and intellectually stimulating performances, plus commentary from executive producer Cheryl Henson, daughter of the late Jim Henson. (Contains some adult subject matter; not for children)
