JOHN ED JONES IS THE FIRST VICTIM OF GAS

That head we've just written is a little misleading, for John Ed still lingers on this side of the great divide, and we're mighty glad to say that the story connected with the head isn't going to be anything like as tragic as the head might lead one to believe. The truth of the matter is John Ed merely received a severe burn on his right hand the other morning when he went out to investigate the low gas pressure in his home, and in so doing lighted a match near the box which covers his meter and well John Ed was a very busy man for some few seconds thereafter, and after it was all over he was mighty glad that it was not more serious than it was. As it is he is carrying his hand in bandages and it will take several days for the badly burned hand to heal, and he admits that hereafter he is going to use other methods in testing out his gas pressure.

Basketball Card For Week-end Calls For Munday-Wichita Tilt

The basketball game between the Munday Independents and the Texas Electric Service Co. team that was postponed from last week on account of bad weather has been rescheduled for Friday night, February 15th. As it was previously advertised this game will probably be the best exhibition of basketball ball seen on the local court this season. The Wichita team is composed of ex-college stars and is leading the field in the city league at Wichita Falls this year. On the other hand the Munday Independents boast of a powerful aggregation of players. They have lost only one game in three years and will be out to annex another victory Friday night. Other games for the week end cannot be announced at this time because of the unsettled status of the county meet.

AGED LADY SUSTAINS A BROKEN ARM IN ACCIDENT
Mrs. G. W. Walker, 61 years of age, sustained a broken arm some days ago during the extreme cold weather. One of her sons was working in an effort to start a car when it suddenly started and lunged backward and Mrs. Walker, who was standing at the rear of the car, was knocked down and sustained a broken arm. We are glad to report that she is getting along very nicely following the accident.

YOUR TOWN
(By Ben H. Moore)
If you want to be found in a first class town—
A town that is up and doing,
You needn't set out to look about,
The map of the state reviewing.

Attack
You're sure to land the same old brand
As the town where you felt so blue!
To knock on the place is not a disgrace
To a living soul—but you!
In the best old town the world around,
The bad stands along with the good;
And back of the best and all of the rest
Some kind of a citizen stood.
If you want to improve, don't get up and more!
Better tackle the job at hand!
Just buckle right in with a firm-set chin,
And your town will be like you've planned!

Marsh County, Tenn. Made Rapid Dairy Development

Marsh county, Tennessee located in the Southern part of Middle Tennessee had been engaged in stock farming to some extent before the advent of the boll weevil but had not gone in for dairying. However, when the boll weevil hit in 1921, the people immediately turned to dairymaking. After one year's experience with the boll weevil a cooperative creamery was built at Lewisburg. There was another creamery at Chapel Hill in the same county and these two creameries (both cooperatives) now have 750 patrons. Then early in 1927 the Borden Company completed a condenser at Lewisburg, which is valued at $1,000,000. This plant has 80 employees and 1900 milk parlors from which it receives 82,000 pounds of milk daily. The plant also has receiving stations which bring up the total dairy milk receipts to 140,000 pounds. Lewisburg also ships a carload of milk daily to Chicago. Sales of dairy cattle bring 250,000 more to dairy farmers of the county. There are now 25,000 cows and heifers above one year of age in the county. There are 2700 farms in the county and 60 percent of the farmers have dairy cows. It is said that there are a thousand owners of registered cows in the county which probably explains why there is a quarter of a million a year from sales of dairy cattle. There is not a scrub bull in the county. The county has a Jersey Breeders Association which has 150 members. All of this development has attracted the interest of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and as a result, Lewisburg is to get a Federal Dair Experiment Station.

On your mark! Get set!—and then wait until February 28, March 1 and 2 to GO! The plans are being made for the A. A. U. Basket Ball Meet that is to be played here on the dates just mentioned. A new plan of seating the spectators has been solved. The building will be just as warm as your home. Just everything is being planned for you to have a good time and see some real good basket ball games.

Trophies have been bought through a local dealer and will probably be on display the latter part of this month. They are real good looking and the winners will certainly be proud of them.

Help entertain West Texas! Gas has been installed in all of the rooms of the high school, and at present we are waiting for stoves to arrive for the grammar grades.

Let's put the A. A. U. Meet Over! The weather has been disagreeable for the last few days but today (Monday) it has decided to warm up somewhat, and Old Man Sun is shining again.

February 28 and March 1 and 2 are the days! John R. is back in school after having been given a "reprieve" by Mr. Jesse Rhodes in the "crime" that he committed a few days ago. John R. is under special observation though. Three detectives and a sheriff are on his trail. Johnnie is afraid he "musta" done something or other.

Are you going? They say that Johnnie was on the level, but the level must have been rather low.

Where would I go? "Icky" thinks the battle of Bull Run was a bovine affair. He just forgot folks, do not blame him for it for something that J. C. told him and told it so that it seemed true.

To the A. A. U. Meet of course! The high school had better go to Sunday School for the grammar grades are going to win the prize, unless something happens.

Leading grades in Sunday School attendance through Sunday, February third.

SENIORS
 The reporter did not feel well or maybe she was lazy this week, but anyway she did not write anything for the paper for this week and this inexperienced substitute is going to try to do his best to take her place and the winners will certainly be proud of them.

The Seniors are ready—! "Icky" got back to school finally after the snow had all melted and gone away. He said that he was afraid that he would catch cold in his feet if he got out while the snow was on the ground.

Ready for what—? Elton and Buster are now wearing their rings. They did not get theirs with the rest of the Seniors, so they had to wait a while before they could get theirs.

The A. A. U. Meet of course! The Junior class, after having studied newspapers in English Class, made a visit to the Munday Times office. Below is given an account of the visit.

MUNDAY TIMES PRESS
 The Junior English class visited the Munday Times press Monday, February 4, 1929, and we were shown the machinery in operation. Mr. Kennedy, editor of the paper, and his assistants were kind and patient in explaining to us the various parts of the machinery and how it was operated.

The following article, written by Madeline Craig, shows us that she certainly has the right attitude. Here's hoping that this feeling will be catching and that all the student body will join in helping to put over anything the school undertakes. Just now we need to lend our support at the basket ball games.

Students, Pep Up! By Madeline Craig

How can a person get anywhere without pep and determination? How can a school prosper without pep? Nothing is a bigger failure than something done half-heartedly. Nothing is more disgusting than a pretense of something that is not felt. The time has come when it is going to take pep to save some of our classes and organizations from ruin. Every student should be proud enough of his organization to serve it in any possible way. Stand by your class and help to make it a success. If a party is given, attend. If you are called on to represent your class in any way, do it with zeal and enthusiasm. If the school calls on you to represent it, whether it be in athletics or literary work, give your best if you expect your school and yourself to get anything out of it. So, when you are called upon, be ready and willing to take your part.

 'Ray, for Mr. Kunkel and Mr. Rhodes, when they grow up they will be better than the great statesman, Clay. They can make talks before the Study Hall without even getting scared. That's grand! We can hardly wait 'till each Monday comes that we may hear the "teachers' talk."

Where is this meet to be held? The cold weather is over for a while at least, and those that missed the thrill that comes once in a lifetime. Of course it's dangerous, but if one stopped to count every dangerous act of the modern young people, I'm afraid the number would be too great. This is the first time the Munday inhabitants have had the chance to take advantage of the winter sports and now we know what we've missed.

In the heart of the Famous Knox Prairie. Here is a poem that our famous class poet, Rex Holder, wrote:

"Sophomores' Special" Say folks, just take a gaze, And look us over, We're so tough, we don't use cover. Just give us four books, and a teacher to match, And we'll come out, without Even a scratch.

"Algebra, of course, is our best you know; When we have exams, it's bound to snow. But we had a hard exam, And we all started cheating; So we looked out the window, And it started sleeting.

But we have the class With the spirit that is best, At the periods we should study And at classes we rest, I told you once and I'll tell you twice The Sophomore class is quiet as mice.

FRESHMEN
 On account of weather conditions

The Freshmen did not get to have the long planned weiner roast, but we are planning for some kind of an entertainment in the near future. I'm going to see the A. A. U. Meet.

Freshmen, pupils and friends. You ought to be ashamed of yourselves for being so unreligious. We want to win that prize for Sunday School attendance, but it seems that you won't cooperate and attend Sunday School. It is an old saying that you can not get anything by not working for it, so why not all of the Freshmen attend Sunday School on Sunday morning and raise our Sunday School average of attendance. There were only 22 who attended Sunday School last Sunday. (What is your excuse for not attending?)

Boy Howdy! Let's go!
 These two poems were selected as the best from the poems written by members of the English class section "A". They are paying tribute to our mothers.

Will you be there?
 Mother, the one who taught me courage,
 To face life's battle line
 Who always seems so patient,
 When I would fret and whine.
 The one who always smiles
 Through every single day,
 To that one I give my tribute,
 My mother, in every way.
 —Dolores Campbell.

I can hardly wait for the time to come.
What Mother Is To Me
 Mother is all the world to me
 She helps me along from day to day.
 From life's cruel ways, she helps me to flee,
 And drives all my cares and troubles away.

When things I want, I cannot see,
 She can find them always;
 "Strange" I say,
 The rents I have torn in my stocking knee,
 She mends them up at close of day.

Mother gives to me all my joys,
 My punishments and my happiness,
 She'll help me when, to her, it annoys,
 And punishes me for my naughtiness.

I think of mother as a saint,
 With smiles of cheer and beauty,
 She is a picture that no one can paint,
 And one that always does her duty.

When life I cannot seem to grasp,
 And things cannot seem but blue and dark,
 She helps me along, shows me my task,
 And makes me happy as a lark.
 —Mavoureen Reeves.

Three big days—Oh Boy!

JOKES
 Mr. Kunkel—"Name a poisonous substance."
 Maxine N.—"Aviation."
 Mr. Kunkel—"Explain."
 Maxine N.—"One drop will kill."
 It will be here February 28 and March 1 and 2.

Mr. Kunkel—"It this milk pasteurized?"
 Dale—"Yes, sir, I got it from the preacher's cow."
 The Moguls will be represented.

Mr. Rhodes—"I am glad to note, Mr. Arnold Matlock, that you are getting to school on time now. Do you get up earlier?"
 Arnold—"No, I leave my auto at home and walk to school."

Fried Chicken? NO, NOT YET!

Fine, Juicy Watermelons--No, Not Yet

That summer vacation? No, not yet. Rich with millions? No, not yet. In love? No, not yet. An angel? No, not yet. Most all of these things will come to pass by and by. But why think only of what we desire, not yet possible? Think about and love the things of the present, for if you don't there will come bad humor—wrinkles and sourness.

Then when those fairy tales come true what a sorry mess you'll be not to have kept happy and jubilant before that time!

RESOLUTE EFFORT

It was not as a feat of navigation that we admire the crossing of the Delaware by Washington and his ragged handful of followers. It was for their grit, their resolution, defying the cream of King George's army. In attaining financial independence, too, one needs to be resolute. A steady stream of savings despite all odds and obstacles will mean victory in the end.

TEXAS SENATORS IN U. S. CONGRESS 1845-1930 Louis Trezevant Wigfall—1860-1861

(Copyright 1928 by Alva O. Hearne)

Louis Trezevant Wigfall was born in the Edgefield district, South Carolina, on April 21, 1816. He attended the College of South Carolina, where he pursued the regular course until the outbreak of the Seminole war; when he was commissioned as a lieutenant of volunteers. Upon his return home he took up the study of law in the University of Virginia. When admitted to the bar he removed to Marshall, Harrison County, Texas, where he commenced the practice of his profession.

Wigfall was elected to the Texas house of representatives and served in 1849-50; was a delegate to the State convention in 1857, and served in the State Senate in 1857-58 and 1859-60. He was an able debater and thoroughly versed in the principles of States' rights and had been conspicuous in their advocacy ever since he moved to Texas.

The death of Senator J. Pinckney Henderson in 1858 made necessary the election by the State legislature of his successor in the United States Senate. John Brown's raid into Virginia to produce an insurrection of negroes, believed by many to have been instigated by abolitionists of the North, caused angry feelings of resentment throughout Texas, and the regular Democrats in the State legislature determined to send to the United States Congress the most violent partisan. Wigfall, then serving in the State Senate, was selected as the statesman for the occasion. He was not personally popular generally, and the Houston party in the legislature sought to defeat him. However, his election was assured by a Democratic caucus which prevented the name of any other Democrat being submitted to the legislature. It was well known that if the Democrats who objected to Wigfall had not been bound by the party caucus, necessitating their prearranged absence from the joint session of the legislature, that their votes with those of the Houston forces would have elected some other candidate.

Following his election by the legislature, Wigfall took his seat in the United States Senate on January 4, 1860. He immediately assumed a position as an uncompromising defender of the right of secession, and when the extra session of the Thirty-Seventh Congress was called, July 4, 1861, he was not present in his seat, and for that reason was expelled from the United States Senate by resolution adopted on July 11, 1861.

Senator Wigfall had in the meantime transferred his field of operation to the seat of war at or near Charleston, S. C. As a member of General Beauregard's staff, and with the consent of General Simons, who commanded the forces on Morris Island, Wigfall crossed the bay during a lull in the bombardment of Fort Sumter, gained ingress to the fort through an open porthole, and demanded from General Robert Anderson the unconditional surrender of that fort. The fort being of no longer tenable, General Anderson, feeling that further resistance would be folly, consented that Wigfall should hoist a white flag, and the surrender was accomplished.

In the formation of the volunteer troops to defend the secession movement, Wigfall was commissioned colonel of the 2nd Texas Infantry regiment on August 28, 1861. On October 21, 1861 he was commissioned brigadier-general of the provisional army of the Confederate States, his brigade being composed of the 1st, 4th and 5th Texas and the 1st Georgia infantry regiments, assigned to the Army of northern Virginia.

Wigfall's service in the Confederate States Army ended on February 20, 1862, when he resigned his commission to take his seat in the Confederate congress to which he had been previously elected as a senator from Texas. He had already served in the house as a representative from Texas in February 1861 to February, 1862. He remained a member of the Confederate senate until the close of the war, when he took up a residence in London, England. He remained in England for several years, returned to the United States in 1873, and settled in Baltimore, Maryland. Soon thereafter he began a lecture tour throughout the Southern States. He died at Galveston, Texas, on February 18, 1874 while on a lecture tour.

Suffered For 15 Years; Then Took Sargon, He Says

"For fifteen years I suffered from a complication of troubles. I was weak, nervous and generally rundown. I frequently had sharp, shooting pains in my side. My sleep was poor and I lost weight, strength and energy. Nearly everything I ate caused indigestion. I took a trip to Hot Springs, but got no relief there, and then I visited several health resorts in the North seemingly without benefit.

Right after I started taking the Sargon treatment I began to sleep better and to eat anything I wanted and now I feel like a new man. My appetite is fine. The pains in my side have disappeared. I am not the least bit nervous, and am full of new energy. I have gained weight and my friends are all commenting upon my wonderful improvement.

"Sargon Soft Mass Pills are wonderful. They ended my constipation and biliousness without gripping in the least. I wouldn't be without Sargon if it cost twenty dollars a bottle."

The remarkable statement was made by A. J. Mason, residing at the Colonial Hotel, Ft. Worth, and owner of considerable property, in that city.

Sargon may be obtained in Munday from the Rexall store.

REV. SAMUEL D. PRICE, D. D.

PRAYER
Matthew 6:5-13; Luke 18:9-14;
11 John 5:14-15.

A suggestion of the universality of prayer is found in the "Pater Noster" Church, on the summit of the Mount of Olives. In the vestibule are 32 large tablets bearing the Lord's Prayer in as many different languages. Then three more such translations are close at hand in this building. The most illiterate people has its prayer forms, in which they seek to placate an injured city. Prayer, however, is much more than an effort to avoid consequences for wrongs that have been committed. In this means of grace the Christian approaches the Throne for spiritual fellowship and to express thanksgiving, before any requests are made for personal benefits or favors. In this manner of address we talk things over with our personal God and indicate our confidence in Him.

Scripture portions for special study in addition to those indicated above, are Genesis, 18:23-33; Exodus 32:31-32; Nehemiah 14:11; Daniel 6:10; John 17:1-26; Thessalonians 5:17. One of the most helpful books on the subject is "With Christ in the School of Prayer," by Andrew Murray.

Intercessory prayer is especially illustrated in the portions in Genesis and Exodus. Abraham pleads for Lot in Sodom, which is about to be destroyed, and though ten righteous men could not be found therein the nephew is saved, which is the purport of Abraham's prayer. Moses' prayer involves a nation. Sinning Israel is saved, though Jehovah had said that of Moses he would make a greater people. The decree of a king could not stop Daniel from keeping his daily prayer tryst with God. Even so we are to establish both time and place for daily prayer, and permit nothing to interfere.

The disciples asked Jesus to teach them how to pray and the model called the Lord's Prayer is the answer. While we are to follow the general content the Christian world has made blessed the use of the actual words. We must use this prayer, rather than as any form of recitation.

The approach is by a formal recognition of Deity and an ascription concerning Him. It is in order to confess our sins before we seek favors from one who has been wronged by our acts. Note most carefully that Jesus indicated that the way in which we forgive our debtors is the standard by which we seek pardon from our heavenly Father. Here is a test indeed. Being at peace with God we begin to seek His blessings. We want His Kingdom to be established here on earth. This is the socialized Gospel in action. His will is to be done by us, even as the angels and redeemed souls absolutely follow His desire in Heaven.

This prayer was answered and the man returned joyously to his home.

"How are you going to raise money for the crew this year?"
"We thought of starting a sinking fund."

"It is easy to smoke with a cigar holder?"

"Sure; it's a regular pipe."

WAS RIGHT

The basis of treating sickness has not changed since Dr. Caldwell left Medical College in 1875, nor since he placed on the market the laxative prescription he had used in his practice.

He treated constipation, biliousness, headache, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a combination ofenna and other mild herbs, with pepsin.

The simpler remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you. And so you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with strong drugs?

A bottle will last several months, and all can use it. It is pleasant to the taste, gentle in action, and free from narcotics. Elderly people find it ideal. All drug stores have the general bottles. Or write "Syrup Pepsin," Dept. BB, Monticello, Illinois, for free trial bottle.

MOST people know this absolute antidote for pain, but are you careful to say Bayer when you buy it? And do you always give a glance to see Bayer on the box—and the word genuine printed in red? It isn't the genuine Bayer Aspirin without it! A drugstore always has Bayer, with the proven directions in each and every box.

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer, a German firm of Monach, (Headquarters of Bayer) Ltd.

EDUCATION AND PROHIBITION

President Elect Hoover is going to try to make the country dryer. His proposed plan is said in part to be based on the education of the public. A splendid idea. It seems to us one of the best ways to enforce Prohibition.

It was this method, that of educating the public as to the evils and bad effects of alcoholic stimulants, that was making America the most sober country in the world before the adoption of the prohibitory laws. It is this method, intelligently applied, that will save the existing laws. That will diminish the disrespect of law that has, according to many, grown out of the prohibitory measures.

Prohibition based on individual choice is true prohibition. Personal liberty is a precious possession. It is worth while to teach the true facts of the case against alcoholic excess in order to make persons aware of the idea of prohibition of their own free will, eliminating the atmosphere of compulsory regulation of personal habits.

GIVING ADVICE

A man, in giving advice to his son, who had reached the fifteenth milestone of his life, said: "My son, life is before you. You may not ever be rich or great, but you may be many, clean and reliable, you may be honest, truthful and free from bad habits; you may not be gifted with a silver tongue, but you may keep your lips free from tasting liquor or uttering words that would bring the blush of shame to your mother's cheeks; you may never climb high on the ladder of fame, but you may be known to those about you as a self-respecting courteous gentleman, who does right because it is right and unworthy of your better self to stoop to do those things that you know to be wrong. As you grow older, my son, you should realize that your life was given to you for a short period of time.

By Farmer Smith

"Mummer, what have you in that bundle?" asked Bobbie Rabbit one morning after breakfast.
"I do not like the way you say 'Mummer'. I wish you would call me 'Mother'. That's the sweetest word in our language."
"Just as you say, Mother dear,—but what have you in that bundle?"
Mrs. Rabbit sat down and took her little bunny on her lap. "Did you know," she began slowly, "that curiosity once killed a cat?"
"Yes, Mother, I heard, but what did the cat want to know?" asked Bobbie, with a laugh.
"I do declare you children will be the death of me yet!" exclaimed Mrs. Rabbit, as she put Bobbie on the floor. "I have some carrot sandwiches for your lunch in that bundle."
"Oh, goodie!" shouted Bobbie, clapping his paws. "How did you come to think of that?"
"It was the greatest thing in the world that made me do that," said Mrs. Rabbit, with a wonderful look in her eyes.
"And what is the greatest thing in the world?" asked Bobbie Rabbit.
"You know, 'Mother' is the sweetest word in our language, and want to know what is the greatest thing in the world? Well, I'll tell you: It is LOVE."
"I guess you're right, dearest," said Bobbie, as he kissed his Mother.
"Don't guess, my dear; KNOW!"
"I know LOVE is the greatest thing in the world, my dear, sweet, lovely Mother. Give me my sandwiches, and another kiss, and I'll be home." Get the best position for your store, by all means. But get also the best "position," and the best copy for your advertising in a newspaper.
Have what the people want, then let the people know you have it. That's the secret of success.

Work fearlessly for the right and you will be honored, and appreciated. AFTER YOU DIE.
Mrs. Pankhurst thought women should vote. Since they created the men for wars, they should have something to say about war.
Everybody agrees with Mrs. Pankhurst now, and Mr. Baldwin, who opposed her, will unveil her monument.
When she was alive, demanding justice for women, they put her in jail. She starved herself until she was released, justice not being the idea of disposing of her corpse, and that is what it would have had to do.
Released from prison, she renewed her fight, chained herself to the iron railings before the Commons, was jailed again, and again entered self-imposed starvation.
Her courage won British women vote in the House of Commons. It helped to make laws. Mrs. Pankhurst lies in her grave, her deeds have been honored by her country, and her name is a name of honor. She is satisfied.

and you should make the best of things right where you are, laying up something for the future while enjoying the present. And my son, be not deceived. If you sow your wild oats, you will reap sorrow, disgrace and misery and you will find out that it does not pay. Therefore, my son, choose your companions with care. You will be known, largely, by the company you keep. And come what may, never be afraid to come to your father, who, my son, was once a lad himself."—Higgins News.

FIRST!

We are to observe a national holiday dedicated to a man who was always "First."
It was said of him that he was "first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen."
Washington's Birthday! The day on which we pay tribute to one of the noblest spirits that ever breathed the air of America.

His achievements and nobility are too well known even to be mentioned. What American has not thrilled to the story of his life! Important however is the necessity of learning from the example of Washington—let us each try in our own way to be "first" in whatever service we render or occupation we practice.
And Washington's career proves to us that to be "first" does not require questionable acts, illegitimate aggressiveness, or disregard of the "other fellow."

Washington teaches us that to be "first" we must have high qualities of heart and mind; must strive to be honest and kind at all times; must apply ourselves thoroughly to whatever we wish to do well.
Washington rose to great esteem because of qualities that are worthy of emulation. He did not become "first" by pushing others to the rear. He became a leader both in war and peace through his intrinsic ability and intelligence.

580,000,000 HOT DOGS
ONE MORE MIRACLE
WILLIAM H., AGED 79
ELECTRICITY IN THE HOME

Chicago packers say 580,000,000 sausages, commonly called "hot dogs," were eaten last year.
Properly made, well cooked, eaten at regular hours, and chewed slowly to avoid swallowing small pieces whole, the "hot dogs" are good for men. But, eaten between meals, haphazard and rapidly, they contribute to the 50,000,000 cases of American dyspepsia.

A child in Chicago, five years old, born without feet, will be enabled to walk, run and play by surgeons operating on the muscles of the upper leg.
That is an interesting miracle, and there are many others in modern science. Those born deaf and dumb, that never hear a sound, learn to speak and understand the speech of others. With imagination's power, never having seen the earth or the sun or the sound of a friend's voice, they are able to understand beauty and friendship.
That answers those who ask: "Is there really such a thing as a soul?"
William Hohenzollern, once Emperor of Germany. He looks well, but disillusioned, wears a full beard, mustaches no longer waxed or turned up at the point.

He will celebrate by publishing a book called "My Ancestors." It could be interesting, going back to the early money-lending family of East Prussia that got its name from high interest rates. But it's hard to write impartially about your own people.
William decided that some things were wrong in the Hohenzollern family, and blames its troubles, passion, sudden rages, bad temper, etc., on a woman, Maria Pawlowa, Russian by blood, Hohenzollern by accident of marriage. That reminds you of Adam blaming Eve.

William says Maria was "the villain of my family." His predecessor, Frederick the Great, would know better. Maria Pawlowa, because she was wild, violent, ungovernable, may have given Prussia's ruling family its genius.
Use of electric machinery in the home, sweepers, washing machines, fans, irons, mangles, exercising apparatus, has increased enormously in the past year.
L. J. Harowitz, head of Thompson, Starratt, biggest building concern, announces privately, a new electric cooking stove that will be operated as cheaply as a gas stove. That will interest General Electric and Westinghouse.

A bill in Indiana's Senate suggests "hogging for male criminals who carry weapons while committing crime."
Strokes would be "administered to the bare back, well laid on," and punishment graduated up to SIXTY LASHES.

Why not have criminals, operating with or without weapons, put to work for ten or twenty years. Pay them for work. Let them accumulate money, and except in cases of murder, release them after these convictions that work and saving are worth while.

China, with almost as many problems as she has inhabitants, decides to run her army on two leavings. ONLY 715,000 fighting men to be fed by others. ONLY 40 per cent of the nation's total revenue is to be spent for military expenses.

Reduction In Electric Rates

Lower rates for electricity for domestic and commercial purposes have been made voluntarily by the West Texas Utilities Company. The cost per kilowatt-hour has been reduced.

The New Rate For Residences

- 13 Cents net per kilowatt-hour for the first four kilowatt-hours used per room per month.
- 9 Cents net per kilowatt-hour for the next four kilowatt-hours used per room per month.
- 6 Cents net per kilowatt-hour for all energy used in excess of the above amount.

Minimum Monthly Bill $1.50 Per Meter.

Determination of Number of Rooms

The room count is based upon the ordinary real estate rating, and in making the count, alcoves, unfurnished attics, bathrooms, cellars, hallways, laundries, closets, pantries, open porches, garages, barns, and outbuildings will not be included. Premises with less than three rooms, real estate rating will be classed as 3-room premises; those with more than seven rooms will be rated as 7-room premises.

THE NUMBER OF OUTLETS AND APPLIANCES USED DO NOT AFFECT THE RATE.

Table Showing New Net Rate and No. Kilowatt-Hrs. Each Step

SIZE OF RESIDENCE	First Step 13 Cents Per Kilowatt Hour For First	Second Step 9 Cents Per Kilowatt Hour For Next	Third Step, the New SIX CENT RATE
3 ROOMS OR LESS	12 Kilowatt-hours	12 Kilowatt-hours	For all Kilowatt-hours used each month over total of first and second steps, per kilowatt-hour 6c
4 ROOMS	16 Kilowatt-hours	16 Kilowatt-hours
5 ROOMS	20 Kilowatt-hours	20 Kilowatt-hours
6 ROOMS	24 Kilowatt-hours	24 Kilowatt-hours
7 ROOMS OR MORE	28 Kilowatt-hours	28 Kilowatt-hours

You will note how few kilowatt-hours per month need be used before you reach the new low SIX CENT price.

COMMERCIAL RATE

- 13 CENTS net per kilowatt-hour for the first 30 hours of maximum demand.
- 10 CENTS net per kilowatt-hour for the next 60 hours use of maximum demand.
- 5 CENTS net per kilowatt-hour for all energy used in excess of the above amounts.

The new rate makes liberal use of electricity for all purposes in commercial establishments inexpensive. Minimum monthly bill $1.50 per meter.

Further explanation of the rates will be given gladly upon request.

These rates were effective in Munday on the first day of December, 1928.

HINTS ON COOKING

The lower animals in natural state live on food that is uncooked, and do so, unless they become domesticated. With highly organized man, it is different; for the most part his nourishment is more perfect with cooked foods.

Cooking serves two principal purposes—tough fibers are made tender—and, heat sterilizes. In these days of many microbes, the latter is a very important item. Infected food is one of the most common causes of disease.

A very common fault is in the overlooking of vegetables, the humble turnip and the platoon cabbage are frequently blamed for causing digestive disturbances, when the fault is entirely in their being overcooked. Both of these useful vegetables contain vitamins that are destroyed if kept too long in the kettle; neither should be cooked over fifteen minutes. Old or tough specimens, that will not surrender in less than an hour's boiling, are unfit for use—just so much bulk, of no nutritive value.

Cabbage and turnips should be steamed. Enough water in your kettle to almost cover the vegetable and seasoning, should make enough steam to thoroughly tender them in the quarter of an hour devoted to that purpose.

Frying is a make-shift, a time-saver. Fried foods are at the other extreme—they are cooked too fast; the vital principles are driven out by the fierce heat, the hard and indigestible parts being left. Meats should be cooked in a vessel nearly air-tight, and in their own juices. A "Dutch oven" is admirable for the purpose.

Baked Bean Pudding
1 cup sugar, 2 eggs beaten light, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 cup chopped nuts, 1 cup chopped dates, 1-2 cup cracker crumbs. Bake in moderate oven, serve with whipped cream.

Prevents Run on Toward
Before using new tinware, rub well with lard and stand it in a hot oven until thoroughly heated. This will prevent run in future use.

Looking Forward to Spring—
From present indications prices will be more interesting than ever, for there are countless new, practical and moderate priced patterns ready for the market, as well as the more usual floral and classic designs. Among the conventional patterns are a number with horizontal stripes and zigzag lines, leathery effects and bordered patterns. The printed jumper is shown with plain colored skirt, and ensembles combining plain and pattern fabrics will continue.

Pin Tuck Trimming
A leaf pattern done in pin tucks forms the trimming motif for the blouse of a handsome two-piece spring costume of green crepe in the new "sun-faded" shade. A narrow stitching of gold is used to outline the collar and cuffs; a heavy dull gold cord forms the loosely knotted belt.

A Deceptive One-Piece Frock
You may be looking at a one-piece frock and think you see a separate skirt and tucked blouse, if one of the newer models becomes as popular as it promises to be. Though the dress is actually in one piece, it has a yoked hip band with a belted top in bloused effect, creating the appearance of a two-piece costume.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

So much can be done to brighten dull rooms without completely re-furnishing. To add a pleasing note of hospitality and brightness to the living room we may stand on a low table one of those large red lacquer trays with a tea service in Royal Canton or some other colorful pattern—or use on the table one of the new photograph boxes which come in bright colors with delightful old prints mounted on the lid.

In the dining room the eye likes to find a satisfying mix of color in the neighborhood of the sideboard or serving table. This can be given by the appointments on the board or by a lovely picture hung above it—or both.

One chair in colorful upholstery can do wonders for an otherwise drab room—and color and pattern in the draperies prove an almost certain cure for dullness.
