ABILENE FISHERMAN WINS

Bass Tournament Is Proclaimed Success

Munday Chamber of Commerce manager Kay Looney and Jo Heard, chairman for the first Chamber bass tournament, must have been living right last week, because the unpredictable weather settled to almost perfection for the Sunday tourney. Morris Stephens of Abilene, a member of the Big Country Bass Club, left Miller Creek Reservoir with a top prize of $655 in cash Sunday after bringing in the largest bass. The winner weighed in at an even five pounds.

Second place went to Ralph Cypert with his 4 pound, 15 ounce entry. He took home $325 of the purse. Sandy Gilly of Aspermont, third place winner with a 4 pound, 3 1/2 ounce bass, won $200, and Roy Booth of Wichita Falls earned $130 with a fourth place 4 pound, 2 1/2 ounce catch. Seventy-five persons registered for the tournament.

Other prize winners, in order, were Will Johnson of Cisco, Lee Buchanan of Abilene, Kenneth Groves of Munday, Eugene Guthrie of Seymour, Larry Welch of Munday, Larry Knutson of Pampa, Rodney Hons of Seymour, Butch Willingham of Cisco, Gary Cypert of Munday, J.L. Stracener of Abilene, Mark Decker of Lubbock, Cotton Harvey of Stamford, Mike Jurecek of Seymour, Gwen Decker of Lubbock, Allen Bates of Abilene, Gary Vita of Seymour, Helen Vestal of Electra, Keith Conner of Benjamin, Wesley Penner of Seymour and Judge Ward of Aspermont.

"Overall, I'd say we had a very successful first-time tournament," Mrs. Looney said. "We had some rough spots that we hadn't foreseen, but the fishermen seemed happy. And I was thrilled at the number of people who came to just watch."

"And some of them had never fished before," added Ralph Cypert. "The out-of-town people enjoyed fishing here. I think it went off real well and it will be even bigger next year."

The amount of cash given as prize money was large for a first-time tournament, Mrs. Looney said, and she received many comments on how well the tournament was organized.

Chamber directors are satisfied, too, with the profit made from the tournament. They have already voted to make it an annual affair and have agreed to sponsor a two-day tourney next year.

"The weather was perfect, the skiers even stayed off the lake until we were finished, and we had lots of local entries and others from as far away as Pampa," Mrs. Looney continued. "All in all, I don't see how we could have done much better."

The fish caught ranged from the five pounder down to some that were almost too small to be weighed. The smallest prize-winner weighed about a pound and a half.

In an ad located elsewhere in the Courier, the Chamber expresses thanks to those persons who worked so hard to make the tournament a success.

Lions, Wives Enjoy Ladies Night Supper

Members of the Munday Lions Club feted their wives with a hamburger supper Tuesday evening, June 9, at the home of Gary and Paula Schur. Thirty-four persons enjoyed a delicious meal of grilled hamburgers, potato salad, baked beans and all the homemade ice cream they could eat.

The fun and games that took place after the meal included an "old" couples' newlywed game for some local husbands and wives who are not exactly newlyweds. Lucky participants in the game were the Richie Smiths, E.B. Littlefields, Bob Browns and William Stewarts. For any additional comments on the games, queries may be directed to Mary Smith, Orbyrie Littlefield, Allene Brown and Elsie Stewart, who found out just how much their husbands had learned in twenty-plus years of marriage!

The group expressed thanks to the Schurs for the supper and for their hospitality.

Ranch Day Planned By Knox County Historians

July 18 will be a special day for members of the Knox County Historical Commission, as they join a county-wide Ranch Day celebration at the Benjamin Memorial Building. Proceeds from this fund-raiser will help finance the formation of a Knox County Museum.

Activities planned for the special day include arena events in the morning, various games, a craft show for local artists, a display of historical items and quilts and a pioneer and ranch reunion. Also on display will be brands used in the county, and ranchers are urged to bring branding irons to this event so many of the local brands will be represented. Donations of lumber for the display will also be appreciated.

A tour of early day homes in Benjamin is also planned. Homes will include some of those built around the time Knox County was organized. A barbecue meal will be catered by county women in the evening. Donations of meat and paper products, etc., are needed for the supper, and those interested in helping can contact Pearl Ryder at Benjamin. Concession stands will also be set up during the day's events.

MUNDAY BLOOD DONORS were recognized for surpassing the set goal of the past fiscal year at the annual meeting of the area Red Cross Blood Services held recently in Wichita Falls. Mrs. Latrece Lane, right, coordinator for the Red Cross bloodmobile visits in Munday, received a plaque which will hang at the Munday Community Center, where bloodmobile donations are taken. At left is Jeanie Carden, administrator of the Community Center.

Munday Honored By Area Red Cross Blood Service

The city of Munday was one of three regional blood services honored at the 70th annual meeting of the Wichita County and Red River Regional Blood Services held Friday night at the Sheraton Hotel in Wichita Falls.

Jackie David of Dallas was keynote speaker, following a theme of "70 Years of Service to People Through People." Mrs. David, a Red Cross volunteer for 19 years, served as national chairman of volunteers from 1982 to 1985 and is a member of the National Board of Governors.

She remarked, "Volunteers are the greatest renewable resource of our community, and they are needed more than ever for blood services."

Special recognition was given to all regional volunteers, several of whom received awards. The town of Munday was honored for having attained 102 percent of its blood donation goal for the past fiscal year. The blood mobile comes to Munday twice a year, with a goal of 60 pints of blood for each trip.

Mrs. Latrece Lane, chairman of the bloodmobile visits in Munday, was at the banquet to receive a plaque proclaiming Munday outstanding for its contribution to the Red Cross. Mrs. Lane said the honor belongs to all our area volunteers.

"The planning of a mobile visit, the donors, the many workers, all comprise a successful team for these Red Cross visits," she said. "Each one who has a part in the bloodmobile, in any capacity, can feel proud of the plaque and the honor that has been bestowed upon our town."

School Board To Appoint New Trustee

A replacement on the Munday High School teaching staff has created a vacancy on the school district's board of directors, and trustees are seeking persons interested in filling the empty spot on the board.

Bob Winchester, a longtime science teacher at the school and a trustee since 1984, will return to the classroom next fall to replace Bill Kingston, who will serve as secondary school principal. Winchester had resigned from teaching several years ago due to health reasons but has stayed in close contact with the school's operation by serving on the board of trustees.

The remaining trustees will appoint someone to fill the vacancy created by Winchester's resignation, according to school superintendent Doyle Lowrance. Qualified individuals interested in being considered for this appointment need to contact Lowrance at the superintendent's office in person.

The appointment will be effective until the next election in the spring of 1988, and names of those who wish to serve the remaining two years of the term will be placed on the ballot at that time.

Deadline for filing for consideration to the appointment is Thursday, July 2, Lowrance said.

Average Potatoes Dug As Munday Harvest Begins

Potato harvest in the Munday area started Sunday, and what had at first looked to be an excellent crop has been downgraded to average in most spots. The late freeze and excessive rainfall are targeted as the culprits for a low yield in chip potatoes.

The quality of area red potatoes is good, one spokesman said. The color, one of the factors looked at in determining quality, is good, but the skin is not set as well as producers would like. More sunshine and drying weather would be required for this particular quality to improve.

The red potatoes are good sized, and the market demand is moderate to strong with a fair price, according to a producer. The yield will range from low to average in this variety.

Yields of chipper potatoes is down considerably in many fields because of the inclement weather. These potatoes just didn't get enough sunlight. The demand for chipping potatoes is strong and the price is good, and an authority said the availability of this type of potato usually determines the price, so this indicates an overall low yield.

Harvest is expected to continue for another three or four weeks if the weather remains cooperative, and producers will wait until all the crop is out and sold either to contractors or on the open market before assessing the final results.

Local Vegetables To Be Judged At June 27 Show

Gardeners who think their vegetables are among the best in the area should enter them in the Knox County Vegetable Show to be held Saturday, June 27, at the Munday Community Center. Entries will be accepted between 8 and 9 a.m. at the show site.

Rules on entering the vegetable show are available at the Knox County Extension office in Benjamin, Farm and Garden Supply in Knox City and the Texas A&M University Vegetable Research Station in Munday. Included in the rules is the amount of each vegetable required to make an entry.

Virgil Woodfin of Iowa Park will judge the vegetables in three divisions: junior, 19 years and younger; senior, 20 years and older; and commercial. A champion vegetable will be selected from each division, and awards will be presented to the best overall junior and senior home gardeners.

Organizers of the vegetable show are members of the Knox County Horticulture Committee chaired by David Bordovsky. Other members are Jim Dillon, Oscar Mangis, Lloyd Don and Jacquita Welch, Linda Jackson, Paul Richwine and Dwayne Johnson.

Sponsors for the show are the Whittle and Paint Shop, Dillon Greenhouse and Tri-State Chemical, Knox City; First National Bank and Osbornes, Munday; and Zeissel Brothers Fertilizer and Seed, Rhineland.

A farmers market will be held on the Community Center parking lot during the vegetable show. Spaces are available at $5 each for producers and home gardeners who wish to sell their vegetables to the public. For information contact Paul Richwine.

MAYBE IT'LL GROW! What must have been the smallest fish at Miller Creek Sunday is filmed here by Ray Ford with his camcorder. Maxine Wilde holds the fish in a water glass as onlookers asked if this was the best she could do for a bass tournament entry. Reports were that it took both Mrs. Wilde and Earlene Kuehler to haul the monster in.

Steer Validation Scheduled June 24

Show steer validation for Knox County is set for 8:30 a.m. Wednesday, June 24, at the Beavers Mulky Ranch north of Benjamin. Validation cost this year is $3.50 per head, and all 4-H and FFA members who plan to show a steer in any livestock show other than the county show must have the animal validated in order to be eligible for the show.

Each steer validated will receive a Texas Validation Tag which cannot be removed. Two nose prints and two pictures will also be taken of each steer. These will serve as permanent records of identification for the calf and can be checked at any livestock show.

Additional information is available at the Knox County Extension Service office at 454-2651.

Pest Identification Workshop Planned

The crops committee of the Knox County Extension Program Council has scheduled a crop pest identification and control workshop for 8 a.m. Tuesday, June 23, at the Texas A&M University Research Station in Munday.

Extension Service entomologist Emory Boring will introduce a slide presentation on cotton, sorghum and some vegetable pests. The group will then move to the field for some hands-on identification.

The 44 young people attending came from Santa Rosa Parish in Knox City, Holy Family in Vernon, St. Mary's in Quanah, St. Patricio in Throckmorton and St. Joseph's.

Funeral services were at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 16, at the First United Methodist Church in Munday with Rev. Rex Mauldin of Lubbock, a former Munday pastor, officiating. Sales Tax Rebates

June tax rebate checks released by Comptroller Bob Bullock are down about 6 percent from the payments made last June. The checks represent taxes collected on sales made in April in cities that levy a one percent city tax.

Munday's check was for $2,327.22, a small amount larger than the rebate at this time last year. Knox City's June payment was also slightly increased at $4,589.01. But both towns show an overall decrease in 1986 payments, Munday's drop the smallest at 11.32 percent, from $23,564.91 at this point in 1986 to $20,896.21 now. Knox City has received $22,677.18 in 1987, compared to $41,018.37 last year for a decrease of 17.90 percent.

Goree received a check for $595 in June, bringing that community's 1987 total to $3,401.39, down 20.45 percent from last year.

Low Income Texans Eligible For Help

Some low-income Texans may be eligible for help in paying cooling bills this summer through the Home Energy Assistance Program, according to Texas Department of Human Services Commissioner Marlin Johnston.

Johnston said the one-time payment is available to many low-income households. Applications for energy assistance were mailed to households that received food stamps, Aid to Families with Dependent Children, or Supplemental Security Income in May. If those households have at least one member who will be 60 or older in 1987 or a member with a medical condition that is aggravated by heat, they may qualify for assistance. Other low-income individuals may request an application from local DHS offices during the enrollment period of June 15-July 17.

Eligibility is limited by gross income and resources. This year, because of budget cuts and participation rates, the benefits for the cooling program may be lower than last year's. Aid is available for a one-person household with less than $555.49 gross income per month. The gross income limits are $745.49 for households of two persons, $935.49 for three, $1,125.49 for four, $1,315.49 for five, and $1,505.49 for six.

Households are eligible if the cost for cooling is included in the rent payment or if the household pays a portion of its home energy costs.

Energy assistance checks are sent directly to the people who are eligible for assistance. However, the checks are made payable to the energy company.

Persons receiving one of these energy assistance checks should mail it or take it in person to the energy company business office with their regular energy bill. The check can be cashed only by the energy company. If the HEAP check is more than the energy bill, the additional amount will be credited to the person's account for the next month's bill. If the energy bill is higher than the check, the person is responsible for paying the difference.

Mammography Lab To Be Here Tuesday

The Breast Screening Mobile System will be in Munday from 9:30 to 12 noon Tuesday, June 23, to provide mammograms for interested women. The screening lab will be set up in the parking lot west of the City Hall. The test will take approximately 15 minutes and the cost is $90.

Ann Baker of Numed, Inc., who administers the test, said if 10 or more women make appointments for mammograms, the price will be reduced to $70 each. Appointments are preferred, and can be made by calling 915-695-2038 or 800-527-4159. Drop-ins will be accepted. If no more than five patients are scheduled, the system reserves the right to re-schedule patients.

The mobile testing service will be in Anson and Hamlin on Monday, and in Knox City Tuesday afternoon. The van will travel to Haskell and Throckmorton on Wednesday.

MRS. MAUDE REAGAN celebrated her 95th birthday Monday, June 15, at the Munday Nursing Center. Mrs. Reagan was born in 1892 in Jones County and moved to Knox County when she married Arthur A. Reagan. The couple lived in this area all their married life. He died in 1956. Mrs. Reagan was active in the First Baptist Church in Munday until a fall resulted in a broken hip and forced her move to the nursing home several years ago. Of her six children, four are living. They are Ruby E. West, who also lives at the nursing home, Annie B. Lain and Frances Cypert, both of Munday, and J.C. Reagan of Crosbyton. She also has 18 grandchildren, 18 great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren.

★ TRUSCOTT-GILLILAND NEWS ★

By Mrs. Clara Brown

The sunshine didn't hold out last week so harvest got put on hold for a few days. By Friday combines were back in the fields again and Saturday and Sunday harvest was in full storm around Truscott and Gilliland although showers Saturday stopped cutting for a while at Foard City and Crowell. Monday morning came on bright and clear with some custom cutters preparing to move north and others ready to finish up their contracts here.

Most people are reporting good averages on their wheat, much better than they had expected after the late freeze and then the dry weather that held on just when the heads were filling out in late spring.

Grandma served dinner to 60 at the community center Sunday. She'll be having company again July 12.

Richard Jones is in Bethania Hospital following a heart attack.

Thelma Jamison spent the night with her sister, Mrs. Pete Mayberry of Vernon, the weekend of June 6. Sunday she went with her granddaughter, Debra Myers, to get their pickup at Iowa Park and then on to their home near Jean.

Jimmie and Cathy New and family of Jean were supper guests in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Owen New, on Saturday.

Norma Lee of Vernon attended the Truscott Church of Christ Sunday, ate dinner with Grandma at the center, and spent the afternoon visiting her father, Edgar Jones, and brother, Vernon Jones.

The Hord family reunion is set for this coming weekend. They would be glad to have friends drop by to visit when they gather at the Truscott Community Center. The next weekend, June 28, the J.D. Smith family will be gathering at the Truscott center.

Another reunion is being planned for July 18. It will be the Pioneer and Ranch Reunion at the Knox County Ranch Day in Benjamin. As plans stand at the moment, arena events will be in the morning and the reunion will be in the afternoon at the air-conditioned memorial building. Truscott and Gilliland will make a special effort to notify anyone who has worked on a Knox County ranch in our communities or who had relatives who worked on one. This will be an opportunity for some good visiting plus the Knox County Historical Commission hopes to get information that day about ranchers, cowboys, and other ranch workers that can go into the archives of the planned Knox County Museum.

The Ranch Day is a fund raising project for the museum which many people have hoped for and worked for in past years. It is getting closer to reality, and finances are part of the reality. With over 70 ranches listed in "Between the Wichitas", Truscott and Gilliland should be able to turn out a good attendance at the reunion.

Does anyone have old time pictures they would like to display? More information is needed on the Newton F. Atkinson, W.T. Ball, Bomar, Bugbee, Luther T. Clark, Craig, Daggett, Dempsey, Farr, Fataman, Eight, Featherston, Garratson, Gunter, Foster, Hamby, JF, P8, Kilworth, Ratliff, Sheek, Stevens, Turner, Childers, Glascoe, and Hinton and Stewart ranching interests. These are mostly the older ranches which no longer exist under those names.

Mrs. Martha Riley of Seymour is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J.C. Langston.

Joyce Williams of Floydada visited her father, Edgar Jones, Friday through Saturday, and also attended the mid 40's class reunion at Crowell Friday and Saturday.

She said several people at the class reunion had nice things to say about "Between the Wichitas". One family history hobbyist said he bought the book even though he had never lived at Truscott or Gilliland. He called it one of the best community history books for genealogical references that he had seen. Everyone who contributed a family story or helped in any way shares in that compliment, and there are scores of people who helped.

Todd and Vernon Benson have taken over the Shamrock station formerly owned by Steve Conner. The Bensons invite their friends by to visit them.

Imogean Young entertained her family, Dee Ann Lamb and Anthony, Brenda Golleher of Wichita Falls, the Mike Youngs of Seymour and Joy Yancey and Kerri, also of Wichita Falls, with a dinner on Saturday night to celebrate Anthony's first birthday and also Father's Day early.

Judy Conner was in Oklahoma City last Friday for a checkup with a bone specialist.

A familiar sight in Benjamin is being done away with. The building which housed Hazel's Cafe for many years and the house behind it is being torn down. The demolition began last week and probably will be completed before very long.

Sorghum Growers Call For Deficiency Payment Release

Final deficiency payments on 1986 grain crops should be paid now, not next October, according to the national sorghum association. The National Grain Sorghum Producers Association (NGSPA) has requested that payments be based on the first five months of the marketing year and paid promptly.

"There is no justification for making grain producers wait more than a year after their crops have been harvested before they receive a large part of their income," said Elbert Harp, executive director of NGSPA, in letters to the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives.

"Farmers made financial arrangements for producing the 1986 crop more than a year ago," Harp said. "They borrowed money, planning to repay it with the deficiency payments. Withholding a part of that payment has increased the farmers' debt load, lengthened their interest payments and added to their losses."

A bill to speed the final 1986 feed grains deficiency payments came out of the House Agriculture Committee last week. A similar measure has been proposed, without success, in the Senate. Senate opposition comes from the fact that the payments, if paid now, would have to come from the 1987 budget rather than 1988. USDA has not announced the form of the final payments but a large proportion is expected to be in generic certificates.

The remaining deficiency payment is the difference between the basic loan provided in the Agricultural Act of 1985 and the adjusted loan set by the Secretary of Agriculture for the 1986 crop. In 1986, the basic loan for sorghum and corn was $2.28 and $2.40 per bushel, respectively. The adjusted loan is $1.82/bu. for sorghum and $1.92/bu. for corn.

"The amount due producers--and being withheld--is 16 percent of the target price," Harp said. "In most cases, the target price is a farmer's gross income. When profit margins are only two or three percent (or less), as they are for most feed grains producers now, that sixteen percent payment is very important."

For one cup of honey a recipe calls for, you can use instead a cup and a quarter of sugar plus a quarter cup of liquid.

With canning season upon us I thought the following would be helpful. If you have questions during the year, please give us a call at 454-2651.

CANNING FRUIT WITHOUT SUGAR

If you want to can fresh fruit and cut back on your sugar intake, try canning your own "lite" fruit.

Recipes for canning fruit normally call for adding sugar or a sugar syrup. The sugar helps maintain the texture, shape and color of the fruit as well as improve the flavor.

Since sugar doesn't regard spoilage, it can be omitted without compromising the safety of canned fruit. But the texture and flavor will not be as good in fruits canned with water or unsweetened juice.

When canning without added sugar, use only firm ripe or slightly overripe fruit. Overripe fruit has less acid and becomes too soft.

Prevent darkening of light colored fruit by adding ascorbic acid tablets or commercial anti-darkening preparations to the water or juice used to cover the fruit in the jar.

You can make fruit juice for canning by simmering crushed ripe fruit over low heat and straining it through a jelly bag or other cloth.

Processing times for the sugar-free fruit will be the same as for fruit packed in syrup.

Don't use artificial sweeteners in canning fruit. The heat of processing will cause some to become bitter and others to lose their sweetening power. You can add artificial sweetener when the fruit is served.

PROCESSING JELLIED FRUITS

The USDA recommendation to process jams, preserves, marmalades and butters in a boiling waterbath has not changed and USDA does not anticipate a change in their processing recommendation for these jellied fruit products.

This is in response to instructions with General Foods pectin that recommends inverting jars for 5 minutes after closing. Their printed materials will continue to mention the USDA waterbath directions as an alternative.

The waterbath processing of jellied products (except jelly) is recommended for these reasons:

* The 5-minute waterbath process has proven adequate to prevent microbial growth and still result in a high quality product.

* The process exhausts oxygen from the headspace for a better seal and reduces oxidative color changes.

* General Food has indicated that they do not intend to publish their studies and USDA is standing by its commitment to base its recommendations on research data.

A BEAUTIFUL TEXAS SESQUICENTENNIAL quilt will be given to a contributor at the Knox County Ranch Day celebration set for July 18 at Benjamin. We've said this before, but a black and white photo just can't do justice to this lovely creation with its pattern of stars and red and blue border. The quilt was made by a trio of Truscott women and reflects a great many hours of painstaking needlework.

GARDENERS FACE A FEW GROWING PAINS

This is the time of year when problems begin developing in the vegetable garden. Frequent complaints are that tomatoes won't set fruit or that the fruit develops a rot on spot on the bottom end. Sometimes squash and cucumbers have fruit that won't develop. Most of these difficulties are related to the weather.

Tomatoes at this season come under stress from high temperatures and will stop setting fruit as days and nights continue to get warmer. Although it's not caused by a disease organism, blossom-end-rot may look like a fruit rot. The cells at the blossom end of the fruit die because of moisture stress, and the dead tissue continues to develop until it becomes a black, water-soaked area.

Calcium seems to be involved so spraying the plants with a calcium chloride solution or side dressing with a calcium nitrate fertilizer may help some. It is important to keep the plants watered in dry weather, and use a mulch. Too much nitrogen can prevent tomato blooms from setting, and using a small amount of sugar -- about a teaspoon per plant, watered into the soil -- may help to temporarily tie up some nitrogen, slow down the plant growth and promote fruit setting.

Squash is a different story. The main problem has been a lack of pollination. The same is true of cucumbers. When the squash blossoms don't become pollinated, the little fruit sits there, gradually shrivels and then falls off. Cucumbers may turn yellow and fall off, but if only partially pollinated will develop shrunken ends.

Hand pollinating is one answer. In the case of squash, take the male blossoms (they don't have a small fruit at the base of the flower), tear off the petals and dab some pollen on the female flowers. With cucumbers, the flowers are smaller and you may find it more convenient to use a small brush to hand pollinate them.

Mildred Habib of Corpus Christi has been visiting her sisters, Ruth Griffith and Elaine Gulley, and her brother, Cotton Smith.

In a kitchen emergency, you can substitute a tablespoon of flour for a teaspoon and a half of cornstarch.

Outreach Service Planned For Victims Of Family Violence

Area women who have not had access to specialized help in coping with family violence will be able to receive that help in the near future through the Noah project of Abilene.

The situation is common. A family disturbance gets out of hand and ends in physical abuse. Many times - an estimated 65,000 times in Texas - the wife receives the brunt of the violent attack.

Across the state, dozens of outreach programs and shelters for battered women are springing up in an effort to provide abused women with counseling and protection. The Noah Project has seen much progress in the past few years. Like its namesake, Noah began with a small group of people, but armed with limited funds and unlimited determination, the Noah supporters have watched their program grow into a successful organization complete with a board of directors, volunteers, staff and community support.

There has been no outreach program of this nature in our immediate vicinity. However, over a four-month period, there were over 20 referrals of battered women and children from the Haskell, Knox, Throckmorton and Stonewall County area to the Abilene Shelter. Many victims of family violence are reported each year to the Central Texas Mental Health-Mental Retardation Center and to other local human service agencies. Because studies indicate that this statistic represents only a small portion of the women abused in this area, Noah Project workers see a definite need for an outreach program in the area.

Plans are now underway for a local outreach service, according to Betsy Nanny of Haskell, Noah Project's outreach coordinator. She said two core groups of area citizens are needed to plan the community-based program - an advisory committee of men and women in Haskell, Knox, Stonewall and Throckmorton counties and a group of volunteers to carry out the services. The target date for the introduction of the local outreach service is on or before September 1.

Statistics surrounding the subject of battered women are startling. Reports indicate that 16 out of 100 couples in the U.S. experience one or more violent incidents each year. A recent survey showed that as many as half the women who marry in any given year will be beaten by their husbands some time during their marriage.

The average victim of this type of physical abuse is a far cry from the stereotype of the battered wife. According to studies, most of the women who seek help from public funded shelters like the Noah Project are Anglo, and only ten percent receive any type of welfare assistance. The average victim is 25 years old, does not abuse alcohol or drugs, has a high school education and two children and does not work outside the home. Most have been beaten several times off and on for a period of at least a year and have stayed in the violent situation primarily because of economic dependence.

The 70 Texas centers for battered women provided food, shelter and counseling to almost 12,000 women and children last year but were unable to assist nearly 17,000 others because of the lack of funding and space. In 1983, the Abilene shelter helped 222 people, but was forced to turn away another 150.

A state attorney who visited Abilene's Noah Project has called on the federal government to earmark funds for programs aimed at eliminating family violence. The Noah Project shelter is funded by the Criminal Justice Department, the State Department of Human Services and by private contributions. The center receives approximately 60 percent of its funding from groups and individuals in the Abilene area and about 40 percent from the state.

A call to the local crisis hotline, which will probably be located in Haskell, will result in a trained volunteer being sent to a safe site to meet with the battered woman. At all times the outreach service will work hand in hand with local law officials. The volunteer will make an assessment of the case based on the severity of the battering and will decide whether or not it is safe for the woman to return to her home. If the volunteer determines that it would be dangerous for the woman to return home, transportation to Noah or one of the other state shelters will be provided or the woman will be taken to a safe place at no cost to her. Her whereabouts will remain completely confidential.

Whether the client is placed in a temporary residence or is returned to her home, she will be offered professional counseling. The counselors will map out the various options available to her, and in cases where needed, help find housing and jobs and assist her in signing up for any government aid programs for which she might be eligible.

"We're not out to break up the family," stressed Mrs. Nanny. "We just try to present these women with the options. The client makes her own decisions."

Volunteers are needed to help serve on the outreach advisory committee or to learn to assess and counsel battered women in this area. Interested persons should contact Mrs. Nanny at 817-864-2551 or 864-3972 or the Haskell County Sheriff's Department at 864-2345.

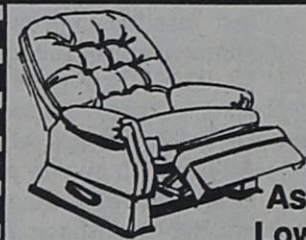

A bass tournament sponsored by Skinny's and Conoco of Abilene will benefit the Noah project. Fish may be caught at any public lake and weighed at the parking lot of Westgate Towne Centre in Abilene. The tourney will be held Saturday, June 27, and entries must be received at any Skinny's location by midnight June 26. Entry fee is $40 and $7,600 in prizes is guaranteed. Fish must be caught between 6 a.m. and 3 p.m. that day to be eligible, and must be weighed in from 2 to 6 p.m.

Saturday Benefit To Aid Farm Hotline

A benefit concert and dance to help finance the Texas Farm Crisis Hotline will be held from noon until midnight Saturday, June 20, at the Wichita Mounted Patrol Arena on Farm Road 369. Sponsors will be the Texas Department of Agriculture, radio station KLUR FM and the Wichita County Mounted Patrol.

Deputy State Agriculture Commissioners Mike Moeller and Nancille Gallimore, executive director of the farm crisis hotline, will be on hand for the benefit, according to Ronald Bertrand of Vernon, district supervisor of the Department of Agriculture.

Several North Texas area bands including some familiar names from Wichita Falls are scheduled to play during the benefit. A barbecue dinner featuring Texas beef, buffalo and goat will be prepared by the Red River Renegades and served from 6 to 8 p.m. Among those donating food for the meal is Munday vegetable producer Larry Smith.

Tickets for the concert and dance are $5 each, and the meal costs another $3. More information about the function is available by calling 817-552-9954 or 817-322-7170.

Founded 18 months ago, the Texas Farm Crisis Hotline has served more than 10,000 farmers and averages about 200 callers a month. Most frequent concerns of the callers include problems with the U.S. Farmers Home Administration, operating loans, bankruptcy, foreclosure and miscellaneous legal questions.

Local Lady Enjoys Visit With Family

Mrs. Lala Morgan of Munday has had a busy few weeks, entertaining several visitors in her home and then taking a trip herself. She took a few minutes from her schedule to share part of her travel itinerary with us.

Visitors in Mrs. Morgan's home in late May were Neva Biggs and sons, Scott and William, of Austin, Otis Spann, Gerald and Gayle Morgan and children, Elaine Reese and Jayson and Tony Morgan, all of Munday. The group attended Munday High School graduation exercises.

After visiting their aunt and uncle, Ursel and Nolan Phillips, Mrs. Biggs and sons returned home, taking Mrs. Morgan along. During the week in Austin, Mrs. Morgan's sons, Nolan and Dennis, and their wives visited in the Biggs home and the ladies did some shopping. She enjoyed a movie and spent one night with Nolan and Martha Morgan and attended two church services with her daughter.

Before she left Austin, Mrs. Morgan was the guest of honor at a family supper featuring fresh garden vegetables and homemade ice cream. Those attending were the Biggs family, Nolan and Martha Morgan, Dennis and Judy Morgan and their son, Kent and his wife, in addition to two of William Biggs' friends. The group spent a happy evening visiting and looking at old pictures, while also taking some new photographs.

Neva Biggs celebrated her birthday on June 8, so Mrs. Morgan made her a cake and stayed for a special birthday supper, then returned home on the bus the next day. She reported a very enjoyable stay in Austin, even though it rained nearly every day!

Community Calendar

June 18 - Chamber of Commerce.
June 22 - Fire Department.
June 23 - Lions Club; Pest Identification Workshop.

The Weinert Community offers its sympathy to the Rich family, former long-time residents here, as we mourn the passing of Jack Rich, who was interred in Willow Cemetery at Haskell on June 13. Jack and his family have resided in California for many years.

Our sympathy is extended to Tom Kreger and to the rest of the Kreger family at the sudden death of Melvin Kreger. The Kreger family are also long-time residents of the Weinert community. Melvin's memorial service was held at the Church of Christ on Tuesday, June 16, at 10:30 a.m. and he was buried in the Pleasant Valley Cemetery east of town. Mr. and Mrs. Kreger moved to Haskell a few years ago when he retired from farming.

Eddie and Myrnie Sanders spent some time in Wichita Falls last week. Myrnie's brother, Johnnie Johnson, and his new wife of California, are here for a week's visit with relatives.

Pamela and Tim Marshall and Sarah of Weatherford, Oklahoma were in town to visit her grandmother, Francis Mahan, and attend worship services at the Church of Christ on Wednesday. Pamela is a student at a pharmacy school and will follow in the footsteps of her parents, Margie and Pete Jordan, who are both pharmacists at their own drug store in Hamilton, Texas. Tim is a coach and also preaches part time.

Debbie Hutchinson is at home for the summer and will be working at M-System in Haskell.

Sallie Sanders was in Ft. Worth for a reunion of her family tree the past weekend. They met at the home of Marie and B.D. Kirkland and approximately 100 of her descendants of five generations were present for the activities.

Sallie and her daughters left on Sunday afternoon for a tour of Arkansas, destination Eureka Springs, where they spent a delightful week last year. Looks like it might become an annual trek!

Bob Raynes was the honoree at the reunion of the Bob and Crystella Raynes' family held on June 13 and 14. All the children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren gathered at the Bobby Raynes' cabin on Lake Stamford to honor Bob on his birthday and to celebrate an early Father's Day.

There were 35 descendants and six visitors present for the festivities of boating, fishing, visiting and of course, eating.

Joe Yates was honored on his 35th birthday when his family and friends gathered at his home for dinner on Thursday night, June 11.

David Pheemister celebrated his 46th birthday at a party in his parents home on June 11. Those from out-of-town included a sister, Lola Williams of Harlingen, nieces, Jenny Pollostro and Emily of Phoenix, Arizona, nephews, Robert Tipton of Ft. Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Pheemister and Dacia, Joseph, Desha and Jeffrey, and Ricky Pheemister, all of Haskell. Charlotte Futrel of Florence was a special guest also.

Marilyn and Johnny Earp were in Abilene to visit her mother, Francis

Smith, who was hospitalized there. She has been dismissed, and is at home now in Goree.

Visitors at the First Baptist Church on Sunday were Ann Ogle and daughter, Martha, of Kansas who are here with a harvesting crew.

Visitors in the home of Raymond and Bernice Mathison were her sisters, Elva and John Rich and daughter Belinda, of Ingleswood, Calif., and Lucille Wickson of Brownwood. Carrie Mae Rich Brown of Reseda, Calif. was also a visitor. They were here to attend the memorial service for Jack Rich.

Kelly Watkins returned home to Garland with her parents for the summer months. She is enrolled in college for morning classes, but will return in September to finish her senior high school work in Weinert. While she is away her grandmother, Thelma Edwards, is working at Lane-Felkers in Haskell.

The Jerry Walkers are entertaining their two grandsons this week, Justin and Rance Parrot of Wichita Falls, children of Cindy and Stacy Parrot. The Parrots were here Friday to visit Cindy's parents, Deena and Barry.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Coffman and sons will be in Austin this weekend where Mark will help with coaching duties at the University of Texas basketball camp.

The Coffmans were in Bridgeport this week as they looked for a house to rent. They will be moving to a coaching position in the Bridgeport school in the near future. We regret their leaving Weinert, but we are pleased he has been offered the better job.

Our Little League ball team finished their fourth week of competition as they played at Munday on Tuesday night. They look forward to two more weeks of baseball.

COMING EVENTS:
Descendants of the late Jim and Ophelia Alexander will gather for their annual family reunion to be held June 19 and 20 at the Kiva Inn in Abilene. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Caddell of Springtown are planning the event, and will be in charge.

Mrs. Sandy Lampert of Stamford will be guest speaker at the June 25 meeting of the WMU of the First Baptist Church. The meeting will be at 7 p.m., and ladies in the area are invited to attend the fellowship meeting.

Mrs. Lampert has been a missionary in Argentina, and will base her speech about missionary work. Her husband is pastor of the First Baptist Church in Stamford.

Francis Mahan will leave Saturday for a trip to Mesa, Arizona, to be with her son, Billie Allen, who is having heart problems and may require surgery.

Leonard Mahan Jr. will undergo surgery in Abilene on June 23 to correct an injury to his arm that causes his arm to be displaced easily.

Our birthday people this week are Bernie Kimmel, Mabel Derr, Francisco Diaz, Shelia Castorena and Rene Vojkufka. Happy Birthday!

These couples are observing anniversaries: Ricky and Karen Harlan, Mark and Kim Stewart and Gilbert and Sophia Jimenez. Best wishes to each one!
