FACTS -AND THE OPEN MIND

THE MOST important element in business success— I and the most difficult—is to be sure that you have all the facts before you act.

GET them all, from every possible source, is the I first objective in General Motors. The Research Laboratories contribute some. These are nuggets, left in the crucible, after hundreds of ideas that looked good have been burned away. The Proving Ground contributes others. Dealers contribute. The public contributes. Every department contributes. Through the whole organization runs a spirit of inquiry and of rigid insistence on proof.

OUT OF such thinking come the new models announced from time to time by Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Oakland, Buick, LaSalle, Cadillac-all with Fisher Bodies. And by Frigidaire. Each new model is a tested step forward. Nothing goes into it as a result of habit or guess or pride of opinion.

Nothing counts but hard-won facts, gathered and used with an open mind.

MUNDAY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Always Boosting For

An Oath of Allegiance To Your Community

A new spirit of local patriotism has been developed within the last few years through the modern Chamber of Commerce. There are about three thousand cities, towns and villages in the United States today that are organized for concerted community advancement. While many names are used for these organizations, the most of them are known as Chambers of Commerce and this name has been standardized. The Chamber of Commerce is the central civic force for good; the clearing house of the most advanced thought of the community and the machinery for putting this thought into action.

The Chamber of Commerce offers the best opportunity for concerted team work along the line of improving living conditions right here at home. Your Chamber of Commerce here in your home city belongs to you. If you do not belong, it is your duty to belong. If you do belong and do not attend the meetings, you are not in a position to know what is being done

The activities of the Chamber of Commerce throughout the United States are many and varied. Whatever can be done to benefit your local community, whatever can be done to make it a cleaner, happier and better place to live, your Chamber of Com-

Patriotism, like charity, begins at home. The love of one's home town should be an even more intimate emotion than the love of our country. American youths might well be instructed as were the boys of aucient Athens, who were required to take an oath of allegiance to their city.

The glory of Grecian cities is not surprising when we read the exalted ideals presented in the Athenian oath:

'We will never bring disgrace on this. our city, by any act of dishonesty or cowardice. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the city, both alone and with many. We will revere and obey the city laws, and we will do our best to incite a like reverence and respect in those above us who are prone to annul them or set at naught. We will strive unceasingly to quicken the public's sense of civic duty.

"Thus in all these ways, we will transmit this city, not only, not less, but greater, better and more beautiful, than it was trans-

DOES IT PAY?

We were very much impressed Sunday when reading the Dallas News and saw that one Dallas store had used 16 full pages in that one issue. We could but think of some merchants who live in the small towns who do not believe that advertising pays. When business is dull they tell us that they are not getting enough business to justify advertising. When business is good they tell us they are getting all the business they can do without advertising. When we study the methods of the big business men, and some who are not so successful, we are made to believe there is a reason. And we may be wrong, but we sometimes believe the little town might have been different with men who are of the type of some to be found in the cities. After all, it's us .- Goree Advocate.

Certainly it isn't a difficult matter to determine the successful business concerns in the towns and cities by looking over the newspapers. Business concerns that have grown from small concerns to dominating positions have been persistent advertisers. With them advertising is as much an integral part of their business as is any other phase of their business, in fact, it is the most important factor, for it is the only means by which they can reach the public with their messages. When business is poor-they advertise. When business is good-they advertise. And by watching the progress of these advertisers from year to year one will find that they are continually expanding, and in this instance one of Dallas' most persistent advertisers was announcing its ex-

It isn't price cutting, for everyone knows that merchandise cannot be sold for less than its cost. It isn't the art of misrepresentation, for indeed that policy would bring about dismal failure, but it is a straightforward presentation of the merit of your merchandise offered at its cost esteem for a girl friend, an ilplus a reasonable protit.
