VOTE FOR ROAD BOND MONDAY

Local Farmers Enter Progressive Farmer Master Farmer Contest

Knox county is being represented in the 1927 Master Farmer Contest by E. B. Bowden of Munday, Texas and E. L. Park of Knox City, Texas. These men, who were selected by the local committee, are in competition with the best farmers from counties in every section of Texas for the coveted honor of being selected as a Master Farmer.

The Master Farmer Contest, which is being conducted by The Progressive Farmer in cooperation with Extension Service of Texas A. & M. College, has for its purpose the promotion of safe farming by selecting the fifteen best examples of safe farming each year and holding these individuals up as ideals in the sections from which they come. A Master Farmer is not only an efficient tiller of the soil and a skillful herdsman but he must measure up to an equally strict standard of citizenship. Selections are made on the basis of a score card, which has been carefully worked out to fit Texas conditions. The scoring falls under six main heads as follows:

1. Operation and organization of farm;
 2. Business methods and ability;
 3. Appearance and upkeep of farm and home;
 4. Adequacy of farm home plant;
 5. Home life;
 6. Citizenship.
- These divisions are further divided in order to get an accurate and detailed score on every phase of the farm operation.
- Eugene Butler, editor of The Progressive Farmer, states that Master Farmers are really deserving of this title for an analysis of their farms has revealed much evidence of the mastery that these men have attained in their profession. The attention that has been focused on them has stimulated them to be even more masterly and additional improvements have been reported by a large majority of these men since this honor was bestowed on them. We feel that the time and expense necessary to conduct this contest is more than justified by the influence that it has on permanent agriculture in Texas.

All Cousins Named As Sheriff Haskell County Last Week

Following the resignation last week of Sheriff W. C. Turnbow of Haskell county Wayne Perry was chosen by the commissioner's court as his successor, but declined the offer and another meeting of the court was immediately called with the result that Al Cousins was chosen. Mr. Cousins immediately accepted the office and immediately made the $5,000 bond required with Joe Lee Ferguson, Lynn Pace and C. K. Jones as sureties, and he took over the duties of the office, appointing B. M. Gregory as chief deputy.

The resignation of Sheriff Turnbow ended a series of civil litigation that has been in progress for some time following an effort on the part of the commissioner's court to force the sheriff out of office, and immediately following his resignation he stated that he would leave at an early date for Lincoln, Ark., to reside.

It is said that the appointment of Mr. Cousins was received with general satisfaction over the county, he having formerly served the county in that capacity.

Eleven of these Master Farmers planted 39 per cent of their land in cotton and 61 per cent in feed, which was consumed by livestock at home. Livestock played a prominent part in the prosperity of these farms for we find high-grade and registered animals on all of them and they average 8 dairy cows, 192 standard bred hens, 3 purebred sows and 41 sheep per farm. They all used high-producing strains of purebred seed and their crop rotation was so planned as to get maximum yields from their soil.

The prospective Master Farmers in this county will be visited by Paul Huey, Field Editor of The Progressive Farmer, sometime later in the summer at which time additional facts concerning these farms will be gathered by him which will aid

Will C. Edwards Goes to Washington As Publisher Herald

Will C. Edwards of Denton, editor of the Denton Record-Chronicle and widely known in Texas newspaper circles, left for Washington, D. C. last week to become publisher on Aug. 1 of the Washington Herald. Starting with the Denton paper thirty-two years ago, Mr. Edwards has built it up from a weekly to one of the best small city dailies in Texas. He also has been intimately connected with the upbuilding of the newspaper profession in the State, having served as president of the Texas Press Association, and was one of the founders and the first president of Texas Daily Press League.

In addition to this newspaper work, Mr. Edwards has taken an active interest in Rotary Club work, and only recently ended a term as Rotary governor of the West Texas district. He attended the International Convention in June and had charge of the publicity of the convention for North America. Mr. Edwards served in the thirty-eighth Legislature from Denton County and was in the run-off for Lieutenant Governor three years ago.

Camp Fire Girls Organization Here

The first meeting to be held in the organizing of a Camp Fire Girls group here in Munday will be in the Junior Sunday School room at the Methodist church next Tuesday evening, August 16, 1927, at 8:00 p. m.

Everyone interested in the carrying on of this work is urged to attend this meeting. All mothers having daughters over eleven years of age who would like to take up this work are asked to be present so they may understand the work and assist their daughters in the many ways offered to carry out all phases in the wide field we have at our disposal.

The attendance of anyone who cares to watch the development of one of the best groups in the history of Camp Fire will be greatly appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Glasgow have returned from Brownfield and other points on the plains where they visited friends and relatives. At Brownfield they visited her son Lawrence Dunn and family, and then they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Dan H. Smith of Portales, N. M., and they enjoyed a family reunion, Mrs. Smith being a daughter of Mrs. Glasgow. They report Mr. and Mrs. Dunn as getting along fine.

Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Ashford of McCamey, Texas, were here Saturday and Sunday visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Billingsley.

Miss Flora Camp has returned to her home at Conway, Arkansas, after a visit in the home of Mrs. J. R. Smith.

AT METHODIST CHURCH SUNDAY, AUGUST 14TH

Preaching at 11:00 a. m. by the pastor.

Rev. R. B. Freeman is recovering from his recent operation and expects to preach Sunday at 11:00 a. m. Come worship with us. A hearty welcome always awaits you at the Methodist church.

JUST LIFE

It ain't so far from right to wrong.
The trail ain't hard to lose.
There's times I'd almost give my shirt to know which one to choose.
There ain't no signboards on the road.
To keep you on the track; Wrong's sometimes white as driven snow.
And right is sometimes black.
I don't set out to be no judge
Of right and wrong in men.
I've lost the trail oftimes myself.
I may get lost again; But when I see some chap who looks
As if he's gone astray,
I'll always shove my hand in his
And help him find the way.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. McStay left on Monday morning for Carter, Elk City and other points in Oklahoma. At Elk City they will visit with Mrs. J. L. England. They made the trip in their brand new Dodge car.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Lowry and Mrs. J. C. Campbell have returned from Baird, where they visited their daughter and sister, Mrs. Carl Cutbirth.

ROAD BOND ISSUES

Haskell county's $1,500,000 bond issue failed to receive the necessary two-thirds majority at the polls last Saturday, and from the leaders of the movement for the issue of the bonds we learn that they are highly elated over the result rather than disappointed. Leaders of the good roads movement in Haskell county feel that inasmuch as a large majority of the citizens of the county are in favor of the issuance of the bonds it is but a question of time that they will receive the necessary two-thirds majority at the polls, and we understand that they have already started a movement for another election in the near future.

In this connection let us say that the good roads movement is coming to Knox county, just as it has come to all other counties throughout this section of the state, and it is but a question of only a brief time until the matter will be placed up to the voters to pass upon from a county-wide standpoint.

Realizing that the movement is inevitable we cannot see how the voters of this precinct who are opposed to high taxation can cast a vote against the election in this precinct next Monday, for it must be conceded that this is the best assurance that the citizenship of this section of the county have against having a heavy tax levied upon them for the building of highways in which they are not vitally interested.

The cost of this issue is negligible as compared with the benefits from this issue as we would from a county-wide issue, and the issuance of this small amount of bonds against our precinct would be a constant protection against the burdening of the precinct with a county-wide issue.

There are some who contend that the county-wide issue would not meet with success, but be it remembered that there were those who were equally as positive that a hospital bond would not carry in the county. We now have the hospital bond issue outstanding, and just so will the county-wide bond issue be outstanding against the county within the next few years unless we stand together and protect ourselves against such a movement, and since there are numbers of heavy tax-payers in both Munday and Goree who would prefer the county-wide issue to losing the only highway serving this section of the county it is safe to say that they would join in with other sections of the county in putting over a county-wide campaign.

The independent road district has been created for the protection of the citizenship of this section of the county. Now it is squarely up to the voters of this precinct to provide this protection to themselves, and if they fail and the county-wide issue is brought on and the constitutional limit is voted upon them, they certainly will have no complaint to make toward those who have interested themselves in the creation of this district.

And, in this, our farewell appeal to the voters of the precinct before the election, let us make the prediction that if they reject that issue that is before them now they will be burdened with the heavier county-wide issue to the constitutional limit within two years—and those who have striven to throw this protection around their interests will derive very little if any pleasure in saying "I sold you so."

When you go to the polls Monday you are indirectly voting upon the county-wide issue. A vote for this bond issue is a vote against the county-wide issue. A vote against this bond issue is a vote for the county-wide issue, and all we can say is pay your money and take your choice.

Large Crowds Are Attending Revival At the Tabernacle

Large crowds have been in attendance at each of the services which began on Sunday morning at the community tabernacle under the auspices of the Church of Christ, and both the attendance and interest is growing with each service.

Evangelist U. R. Forrest has proven himself to be a most capable preacher and the excellent discourses which he has delivered this week have proven an inspiration to many and we are sure that the attendance and interest will continue to increase throughout the remainder of the week, which will likely continue through next week.

MRS. BILL HENDERSON REPORTS ON TRIP TO FARMER'S SHORT COURSE

Last Friday night the Red Top Home Demonstration club members and their families met at Mrs. E. B. Frasure's. All members were not present, but there was a fair representation.

The meeting was called for the purpose of Mrs. Bill Henderson giving the report of her trip to the Farmers Short Course at College Station. We also had our last club program that we failed to have on fourth Wednesday of last month, due to unfavorable weather. Subject "Books and Magazines in the Home." The president, Mrs. E. T. Cluck, called the house to order. Then as the names of those present were called they answered with a book they desired in their home. Different magazines were discussed, kind of ones of benefit to farm homes, kinds that were had to have in our homes, etc. After a few pep songs Mrs. Bill Henderson gave her report, after which we enjoyed a watermelon feast.

We hope next year more of the Knox county H. D. C. members will go to the short course. Also those that are not members. The meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. E. T. Cluck the 15th, a called meeting. Miss Maxwell will give a demonstration on "Canning Chicken with Pressure Cooker." Next regular meeting is at Mrs. Will Stranges' subject: "Health."

Haskell County's Good Road Bonds Fail to Carry

Haskell county's $1,500,000 road bond issue failed to receive the necessary two-thirds majority at Saturday's county-wide election by about 80 votes, according to information received direct from Haskell, and it was also ascertained that steps had already been taken by good roads enthusiasts of that county to call another election in the immediate future to vote on the question again, and those who have been instrumental in the campaign for good roads are firm in their belief that the issue will carry when it is again submitted.

All of the larger boxes of the county gave good majorities for the issuance of the bonds with the exception of Rochester, whose vote it is said defeated the issue Saturday.

It is said that another election will likely be held within sixty days, as petitions asking for the election have already been circulated and presented to the commissioner's court, and it is said that it will require about that length of time to carry out the necessary publication notices of hearing and notice of election as required by law.

Q. Who can vote in this election?

A. All resident, legally qualified voters, whether paying a tax on land, auto, stock or whatnot. The wife of said qualified voter is also entitled to vote.

Q. For what amount is this Bond election?

A. For $135,000.

Q. What amount will be received from the State?

A. $135,000.

Q. What kind of road is to be constructed?

A. Concrete that will meet State and Federal specifications.

Q. What roads are to be built?

A. Nothing. The State Highway Department will maintain it for all time to come after taking it over from the contractor.

A. Yes. All road money received by the precinct can be used by the commissioner for the improvement of lateral roads.

Q. What part of an $800,000 county-wide bond issue would this precinct pay?

A. According to the tax rolls 38 per cent of the county valuations are within this precinct, therefore, this precinct would have to pay $304,000.

Highway No. 30 will be further improved should a bond issue carry in Precinct No. 4, Knox county, scheduled for August 15. The proposed issue is for $135,000, which with state and federal aid would be used in hard surfacing the Ozark Trail through Knox county. All the other counties on the highway are hoping favorable action will be taken by the voters of this precinct. Baylor county has it on her program to hard surface her part of the highway, the portion from Seymour west to the county line already having county graded and gravelled. Archer county has voted to concrete her part of the road with concrete already down on Wichita's part. Eventually Haskell and Jones counties will join in the program which would altogether give an all weather road from Wichita to Abilene. Slowly but surely the main arteries of traffic over the state are being placed in condition demanded by the modern mode of traffic, the automobile.—Baylor County Banner.

LAW AND ORDER OR ANARCHY?

The famous Sacco-Vanzetti case has reached the point where it is a show-down as to whether law and order are superior to anarchy in these United States. These two radicals have been given every consideration that may be accorded those charged with criminal acts, both in the courts and by boards of investigation, and by the Governor of Massachusetts, and no cause has been found upon which to base a reversal of the trial court, but, with utter disregard to the legal procedure or the evidence introduced, radicals, who would tear down the courts of justice in all countries, have staged demonstrations and committed heinous crimes in protest of the execution of these two radicals, and now it seems to revert to a conflict between law and order on one side and anarchy and radicalism on the other, and to us it would seem that the success of one side of the conflict would be an inspiration to the other, so it is hoped that Cacco and Vanzetti are made to pay the penalty for the crime they have committed and that our government may impress indelibly upon the minds of all radicals that law and order are supreme in these United States and that they will be compelled to return to their native lands if they expect to establish mob law over the administration of justice in an orderly fashion.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Lovless Entertain.

On Thursday evening of last week Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Lovless entertained a number of friends with a progressive eighty-four party on the lawn at their beautiful home. Tables and chairs had been arranged for five tables and the spacious lawn was attractively decorated with Chinese lanterns spreading their soft rays over the happy assembly.

The evening was spent in playing this scientific and fascinating game, and it was observed that the strict rules worked a hardship on some of the menfolk, as they could not apply some of the methods of winning that they do on the golf course, and only in a few instances did too many trumps appear in any one hand, which of course, was purely accidental.

When the rounds had been made and most all of the guests had had an opportunity to visit the head table, a delicious refreshment plate consisting of sherbet and angel food cake with plate favors of pretty flowers was served to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. J. WEST TEXAS UTILITIES CO.

Good Citizenship and Good Business

Do you know why it is that when this Company enters a new town in West Texas with its service the leading citizens of that town generally consider themselves fortunate? One reason, of course, is because they know that their homes, their business institutions and their industries are assured for all time an adequate, absolute dependable electric light power service at reasonable rates.

But that is not the only reason. They have every reason to believe, from what they have seen of this Company's actions and policies in other towns that they are gaining a GOOD CITIZEN.

Good citizenship and good business policy and practice usually go hand in hand. The good business man realizes that the success and growth of his business depends exactly upon the success and growth and welfare of the community in which he does business. And if he conducts his business on sound principles he will neglect no opportunity to aid in the advancement and growth of that community.

Steinmetz once said that "Cooperation is not a sentiment; it is an economic necessity."

The stockholders of this company, through their directors, have permanently invested in West Texas more than twenty millions of dollars, building here one of the major electric power distribution systems in America. Unless West Texas shall grow and develop and prosper, this enormous investment will have been unwisely made.

This company therefore conceives it to be not only a duty it owes to the public it serves, but an economic necessity that it shall in every possible way foster and encourage and assist in every proper effort for the advancement and improvement of the communities which it is privileged to serve. It has always been found, and will always be found, in the forefront of every worthy movement looking toward the development of the schools, the churches, the civic institutions and public enterprises soundly and properly promoted for the general welfare.

That is its conception of GOOD CITIZENSHIP and GOOD BUSINESS.
