Munday Band Advances To Region Competition

1989 MUNDAY HIGH SCHOOL PURPLE CLOUD BAND

Members of the Munday High School Purple Cloud band didn't seem to notice the rain-soaked turf or puddles of water at Memorial Stadium in Wichita Falls Saturday as they marched and played their way to their sixth Division I rating, earning their fifth consecutive appearance at the Region A contest. Although intermittent downpours of rain caused delays in the schedule, loyal band parents and fans donned rain gear, and eagerly awaited the performance of the Purple Cloud Band.

All three judges awarded the Munday band first division ratings at Saturday's contest and unanimously rated the Purple Cloud the number one band in the district. Rodney Bennett, director, was overjoyed with the ratings and the students' performance.

"The kids did marvelously well considering the adverse weather conditions they had to endure," Bennett said.

"From my perspective, it (the show) was probably the single finest marching performance a band under my direction has ever performed," Bennett bragged. "The judges' comments were very complimentary and basically offered no criticism at all. One judge was a little nit-picky even though his first comment on the critique was 'Wow!'" Bennett said he had been waiting for that kind of comment for a long time.

"The judges also commented that the show was well-correographed, well-designed, flowed nicely, and kept their interest," Bennett continued.

Other Class A bands at Saturday's contest receiving division I ratings were Windthorst, Paducah and Petrolia. Throckmorton and Knox City received II's and Crowell was rated III. Petrolia earned the right to advance to regional competition along with Munday.

In the south zone contest held in Abilene, Jayton, Baird, Roscoe and Cross Plains all earned I's, Bronte received a II; Rotan and Roby III's and Trent and Aspermont were rated IV.

In Class AA bands, Henrietta and Seymour qualified for regional competition. Olney and Jacksboro received I ratings; Electra received a II; and Quanah, Archer City and Holliday each received III's.

Competition in the Region A contest, to be held at Memorial Stadium in Wichita Falls on Saturday, November 4, will begin at 2:00 p.m. with Petrolia marching first. White Deer, a newcomer to region competition this year, will perform at 2:12, followed by Munday at 2:24. The final Class A band will be Sunray, at 2:34.

The announcement of state qualifiers was not definitely known at press time, however Bennett said, "Assuming the program follows the same format as in the past, the announcement will be made following the performance of the first Class AA band."

Bennett is very confident of his band's chances Saturday. "I will say it again, if we do as well as last Saturday, nobody, but nobody will be able to touch us," he commented.

In Saturday's twirling competition, varsity twirlers Alicia Cook and Angie Offutt received first division ratings on their solo routines. Junior varsity twirler Kammie Haynie and junior high twirlers Laura Burnett, Heather King, Andrea Longan, Mandy Moore and Farrel Selzer received II's.

A $2 admission will be charged for Saturday's region contest, but it is a small fee to pay in return for the afternoon's entertainment.

During Tommy's three month incarceration in a city hospital following his 1972 roping accident, many friends and family members spent lots of long and difficult hours sitting with us. Halfway between consciousness and coma, the part of him that recognized the need to surface to the land of the living in order to survive became not only a mental battle, but also a physical one, as he struggled constantly to free himself of the tubes that kept him alive and the restraints that held him. It became essential finally for some of us to sit by his bed - not only to encourage and lead him through his murky dream world - but also to keep him from injuring himself.

Winter came early that year, with the freezing rain and snow falling softly from a dark gray sky as though Nature found it necessary to set the score for our winter hearts. Around the middle of November, it happened that Tommy's dad became stranded in Abilene with Tommy and me. Road conditions made it impossible for him to return to Lamesa and for anybody from home to get to the hospital, so for three days and nights the grueling task of sitting with Tommy fell to his dad and me alone.

We took turns, through the long, weary nights, sitting in the chair by his bedside and catching a few minutes of sleep in the recliner in one corner of the room. Exhaustion had taken its toll on both of us as he awakened me from a deep sleep to take his place.

"Buck, do you think we're going to make it?" I asked, forcing my weary legs across the room to begin my turn by the hospital bed.

"Well, Mama-Joyce," he said, using the name he had given me at the birth of our first child, and pulling his hand over his eyes as he pushed the recliner to a horizontal position, "I guess we're a little like the rabbit. We've got to make it now. We've done jumped up."

In a few moments he was sleeping soundly as I sat thinking about what he had said. More at home in a saddle under a west Texas sky than anywhere else, Buck might have thought I was insulting him had I used the word "philosopher" to describe him, but he was that sometimes, and the rabbit simile was especially fitting. He was right. He was Tommy's father and I was his wife and the mother of his children. I guess you could say we had definitely "jumped up".

Sometimes I wonder if people give up too easily instead of feeling the need to "make it" once they've "jumped up". In personal ventures, everyday tasks, as well as relationships, sometimes it seems easier and much more attractive to say, "This is it. I quit." Do you think once you've made a commitment, if circumstances will allow at all, you're more or less in it for the duration?

Certainly there are extenuating circumstances when associations become intolerable or when a person is not given a choice but to walk away from a friendship, a relationship or marriage. But all those annoying, selfish little things we find about each other that build up over a period of years can sometimes be talked through and in some cases, perseverance is all it takes to get through the bad times.

I don't think I ever seriously considered leaving Tommy. I often entertained fantasies of his running off with a "meter maid" and - as he has done many times - I might have wondered how much prison time a spousal murder conviction carries. But, I don't think either of us ever honestly planned to leave. Who would get the dog and the picture albums?

"Oh sure, Smarty," I can hear somebody say. "It's easy for someone who's never had both eyes black or had to run for her life in the middle of the night to be sanctimonious."

Your right. I don't know what it would be like to be beaten. I also don't understand why women stay around for a second one. Surely there's somebody somewhere who'll help them.

And any woman - or man - who can stand by and see someone abuse her/his

Moguls Down Dragons 21-7

Penalties, penalties and more penalties seemed to be the name of the game Friday night as a total of 278 yards was stepped off against the Munday Moguls and Paducah Dragons in Dragon Stadium.

The penalties started even before the kickoff, as the Dragons were late reporting on the playing field and were penalized 10 yards for delay of game. It was the first of 15 penalties for 138 yards against Paducah. The Moguls had 13 penalties for 135 yards for the night.

The final outcome of the game put Munday on top by a 21-7 score.

If the game had been televised and had instant replay, Munday fans might have been cheering on a pass play early in the game. Quarterback Marc Andrade threw to Terry Collier from the Dragon 19 yard, and fans on the side line thought Collier crossed the goal line before he fumbled the pigskin, but it was ruled otherwise.

Paducah took over on the 20, ran six plays and was forced to punt from the 39-yard line with Bobby Dockins blocking the kick. From the 9-yard line Perry Collier scored on the extra play and Dockins kicked the first point with 6:23 left on the clock.

The Dragons then drove to the Munday 29 yard line being stopped with Terry Collier picking off a Seth Davis pass at the 10 yard line and returning it to the 45. The Moguls drove downfield to the Paducah 20 only to turn the ball over with their second fumble of the night.

Early in the second period the Moguls drove to the 9-yard line of the Dragons, only to be stopped with a penalty of 10 yards and two running plays with a minus 18 yards.

Paducah's only score came on a pass by quarterback Seth Davis to Cruz Garibaldi with 1:46 left in the half. Garibaldi kicked the extra point to tie the score at 7-7.

An onside kick was recovered by Paducah at the 44 yard line and the Dragons moved down to the Munday 5. The Mogul defense held as the half ended.

In the third quarter, Terry Collier intercepted a pass and stopped the Dragons on the Mogul 16 yard line. Munday's second score came on a 12-play drive and a one-yard run by Andrade. Dockins was good for the PAT. After taking a 14-7 lead the Mogul defense allowed the Dragons only 24 rushing

Saturday Turkeywalk To Aid Heart Association

Over 31 walkers have signed up for the annual Heart Association Turkeywalk to be held here on Saturday, November 4. The walkers are taking pledges of donations based on the number of kilometers they walk up to ten kilometers. All monies raised by donations will be used by the American Heart Association for research needed to curb heart disease.

The official walk-a-thon will begin Saturday at 9:30 a.m. at the Chamber of Commerce office. Refreshments will be served by American Heart Association directors, headed by Ernestine Dickerson.

child without breaking somebody's head is as bad as the abuser, in my opinion. People who abuse other people - physically or emotionally - be it child, parental, or spousal abuse, forfeit any consideration or respect. Fortunately, though, most people are not like that.

For as long as I live I will remember a night when I was a child and the pretty little woman who lived down the road from us appeared at our door in the middle of the night. It was pouring rain and she stood shivering on the porch of our old farmhouse, crying unconsolably, panic in her voice as she begged my dad to help her.

Her husband had come home drunk and started to beat her. He had awakened their three small children, and when she had tried to take them and run away, he had loaded his gun and forced her to leave without them. She had run crouched in the ditch along the road to our house and even as she stood there, we heard the sound of the shotgun blast from the direction of her house. She didn't know that he was only trying to scare her and not turning the gun on her children.

When my dad cranked up our old car to go and bring her frightened children safely back to our house, I thought he had to be the bravest man in the world. I thought how lucky I was to have him and not my little friend's dad.

One of the saddest things I ever heard was a woman who said, "I haven't spoken to my mother in years."

Her reasons were valid ones. Her mother had wronged her during an estate settlement, but how can you just turn your back on your mother, or your father? They were there when you took your first faltering step. They smiled at each other over your head when you said your first word.

How can you completely sever ties with your brother or sister? Everybody gets angry. Nobody has had more vicious confrontations than my sisters and I, but there's really nothing wrong with honest confrontation, even if people around you take cover in the midst of it. But how can you not love them? When you look at them and see your mother's expressions and your father's eyes, how can you walk away and never ever look back?

Then there are the parents who say, "I've washed my hands of that kid. I'm through trying."

Did you see the Prime Time documentary on runaways? Some of the kids had been on the streets since they were thirteen years old, eating from garbage cans, sleeping wherever they could find shelter from the winter winds. How can a mother go to sleep in a warm bed at night if she doesn't know where her children are?

Wouldn't it be great if we could, during the holiday season, go to a mate - a son or daughter - a parent - brother or sister - friend and say, "I'm sorry. I don't like what you do, but I love you and I don't want any more wasted years."

We might really be able to patch up just one broken relationship, especially if we've "done jumped up."

That's not to say it'll be easy. Sometimes people just flat refuse to meet us halfway and the taste of "crow" is not a pleasant taste, but once eaten, the results can be fantastic.

Will somebody please help me off this soap box?

And, who threw the tomato?

yards; passing was 0 for 5.

The Moguls final TD came on a 61 yard drive after Munday intercepted Paducah for the third time with Terry Collier scoring on a 9-yard run. Dockins kicked the extra point for a 21-7 score.

COACH EDWARDS' COMMENTS

Friday night's game was very exciting because Paducah is a very good football team. I thought our kids played great defense. Offensively we sometimes were our own worst enemies by not executing. Paducah put a lot of pressure on us and we needed to maintain a poise throughout the ballgame and sometimes we didn't do that.

We had some injuries. Brett Bruce hurt his ankle and Tyler Thompson broke his leg but we had some young men come in to do a terrific job replacing them. I thought Chris Key, Dwayne Rodder, and Tony Hunter did an outstanding job of replacing those injured.

We only gave up six first downs and Paducah's one score came on a fluke play, so I feel like we played outstanding defense. It was good for us to play a hard ballgame because we had not had to play in a pressure situation in the second half this year. We told the boys at the half that we would find out who would get tough the second half, and ours seemed to have gotten tough.

I think the fans got their money's worth last Friday night. Now we have to get ready to play the Knox City Greyhounds and I am sure our young men will rise to the occasion for this opponent.

The Moguls will take a week off before playing the Greyhounds in Knox City on November 10.

Truscott-Gilliland News

By Mrs. Clara Brown

The rain promised for the weekend finally made its way to the Wichita Divide Sunday night, along with a big show of thunder and lightning. The rain, about an inch, was a "lifesaver" for the wheat, so it deserved a sound and light show.

A.L. and Frances Cook were in Wichita Falls last Thursday. They visited Alene Groves at Wichita General and also visited Doyle and Loretta Davis and Otis Cook.

Sybil Simmons was in Odessa recently visiting her sister, Faye Smith, who is in the hospital with pneumonia. Betty and Harry Taylor of Flint, Michigan arrived in Truscott last Wednesday to visit her daughter, Chris Dushan, and her family. They plan to return home on Tuesday.

Most people at Gilliland have their cotton strippers ready to go, but John Kinnibrugh is the only one said to have been in the cotton field yet.

Gilliland won the high point award as a club at the recent Knox County Achievement Day. Lula Baty placed third high individual in points, although only about two points separated third place from first. The competition was very close. All the Gilliland members who entered the show brought home at least one blue ribbon.

Jodie Miller won a blue ribbon and a best of show in the division for her canned peaches. She also won blue ribbons for her Around the World bedspread and sampler quilt. She received a red ribbon on cucumber relish and a white on green beans.

Florence Miller won a blue ribbon on crochet, a blue for a bonnet, red for a pecan pie and white for her cookies.

Frances Cook won a blue for a mini-quilt, a red for a quilt she pieced, and a white for a Seminole sampler wall hanging.

Sybil Simmons won a blue for a quilt, a red for a fresh flower arrangement, a white in horticulture for pimentoes, and a white for candy.

Lois Welch collected a bouquet of blue ribbons with a blue in accessories for a crocheted purse, a blue for canned tomatoes, and a blue for sweet cucumber pickles. She also won a white in horticulture for her shelled pecans.

Ila Mae and Paul Bullion were in Lubbock last Wednesday to get their travel trailer from the repair shop. While there they visited in the home of Sam and Wanda Bullion with Kelly and Frankie Bullion of Odessa.

Crystal Dishman got her 4-H pigs Saturday so she can be ready for the livestock show in February.

Gail Whitley, Crystal Dishman and Ila Mae Bullion were in Wichita Falls with the Crowell band Saturday. The band made a III, which is the highest rating in several years.

The Lord's Corner

by Dr. Pete Bradfield, Pastor
First Baptist Church

Most of us have heard of the "Four Spiritual Laws." Well, I want to share with you today the "Four Spiritual FLAWS."

1. Flaw #1: Because you are a Christian, all your problems are solved. The Bible never says that. It promises us that we will be new creatures; it assures us that we will have a destiny that is secure; but it does not guarantee a downhill slide once Christ comes into a person's life.

2. Flaw #2: All the problems you will ever have are addressed in the Bible. They are not. There are many times when we don't find an explicit answer in Scripture for our particular problem. At such times we are to walk by faith, trusting the Lord to show us the next step as it is needed.

3. Flaw #3: If you are having problems, you are unspiritual. Isn't it a shame that this idea is conveyed in so many places today? Having a problem simply proves you're human. We all have problems. You are not unspiritual because you are wrestling with a dilemma.

4. Flaw #4: Being exposed to sound Bible teaching automatically solves problems. Bible instruction alone will not result in instant solution to problems. The declaration of truth does not provide the removal of difficulties.

See you next week and remember: you have never tested God's resources until you have attempted the impossible.

What Jesus Taught

by Dr. Larry Fitzgerald
Minister, Munday Church of Christ

The following letter came in the other day. It wasn't signed and needs response.

Q: I am a (junior high) girl and have been dating a 17 year-old boy. I am mature for my age. Lately he has been wanting me to sleep with him. Even though me and my parents don't go to church, I believe that this is wrong. But I'm afraid I'll loose him if I don't give in. I can't ask my parents about this.

A: Thank goodness you have learned good morals despite your parents poor example. You are right. God does not want you to engage in sexual intercourse or foreplay until your marriage and then only with your husband. To do this is called "fornication" (1 Corinthians 6:9; Hebrews 13:4). Once you are married you can enjoy intimacy without guilt because God has intended this to be one of the great gifts of marriage (1 Corinthians 7:4-5).

Despite your maturity, I believe that a girl should not date until she is at least 15 or 16 due to the emotional conflicts it causes. However, since your parents allow it there is nothing that can be done about it. I would advise you to consider double dating until you are older.

When I was in high school there were certain boys who would date younger girls so that they could have their way with them then drop them. This may or may not be the case with your young man. But any young man who would force you to sleep with him under the threat of dropping you does not really love you. True love is pure and has a good conscience and a sincere faith (1 Timothy 1:5).

I suggest that you and your boyfriend include attending church in your dating routine. Often our young people attend with their dates Sunday at 6 p.m. and Wednesday at 7 p.m. Perhaps you and your boyfriend can grow in love for the Lord together. This is what my wife and I did when we started dating in high school.

Also, feel free to call or write me at anytime. I care.

FHA Chapter Strives For Better Communication In Friends Project

Better communication was the objective of the Munday High School FHA Chapter projects committee when they selected their first project of the school year. Projects chairperson, Neomi Hernandez, led the 48 members of the Munday Chapter as they selected secret friends from Munday Elementary School's sixth grade.

The Chapter completed the project on Tuesday, October 24, with a party for the selected group.

Brandi Crawford and Sheila Morgan seated guests as they arrived. Ann Parker, chapter president, welcomed the group and expressed appreciation for their participation in the project. Christy Williams and Jae-Jae Reneau got the party off to a start with an energizer, "Singing in the Rain". Next on the program was a game led by Youlanda Wright and Missy Reneau.

The invocation was voiced by Alicia Cook and refreshments were served.

Food was prepared by the home economics classes and decorations were made by the Life Management class. Sophomore FHA members served refreshments.

Revealing of the Secret Friends was made by Neomi Hernandez as FHA members presented gifts to their special secret friends. Kathy Wilde presented gifts to sixth grade teachers, Mrs. Chapman and Mrs. Partridge, and expressed the thanks of the chapter for their help in the project.

A final game was led by Robin Reneau and Dixie Reid. Shawna Simpson, vice president of programs, thanked the group for coming to the party.

The eighth and ninth grade FHA members were responsible for clean-up. The planning process was used for all phases of the communications event. The chapter members developed communication skills and knowledge that will help them now and in the future.

Elementary Students Make Plans For Competition In Map Contest

Students from Munday Elementary School will compete in the district level of the Discover Early America: The National Historical Pictorial Map Contest which is taking place in schools in the 13th congressional district.

Now in its second successful year, the Discover Early America Map Contest has been highly acclaimed by students, teachers, and administrators as an outstanding educational program. The contest is designed to encourage students to study geography in relation to historical events in early America.

Fifth grade teacher Peggy Urbanczyk, as well as principal Doug Donoho, have been instrumental in implementing the contest at Munday Elementary School. Congressional Representative Bill Sarpalius supports the program in the 13th district with the assistance of Lynn Kemper, district coordinator, who administers the program at the district level.

Students participating in the contest complete special outline maps of the original 13 colonies, creating ways to illustrate significant events, persons, and places that shaped the Colonial and Founding eras of the country. Key criteria of the competition are historical accuracy, artistic creativity, and imagination. Last year, only grade 5 social studies students at Munday Elementary participated. This year, the contest is open to social studies students in grades 4, 5, and 6.

Only one local winning class will go on to the congressional district contest. Students from the social studies classes of Nell Sloan, Peggy Urbanczyk, and Linda Chapman will be competing against each other to determine a winner.

Each winning school at the congressional level will receive a $100 cash award and enter the state level of competition. Munday students hope to recapture the first place they won in district last year. The money received from their win last year was used to purchase a set of social studies video filmstrips and cassette tapes.

Retired Teachers Meet In Knox City

The Knox County Retired Teachers met October 24 in the Knox City Community Center with Doug Myers presiding.

Members voted to send a donation from the organization to the Silver-Haired Legislators elected volunteers who keep up with pending legislation in the State Legislature that is of vital interest to senior citizens.

They also passed the hat and collected money from members to send to Stillwell Home in Waco. Stillwell Home is a home for retired teachers.

Myers announced that two Knox County ex-teachers were honored in a memorial service at the district meeting of Texas Retired Teachers in Wichita Falls on September 28.

Herbert and Alice Partridge brought a very interesting program on the Mogul influence on the history of India. Babar, a prince from an area that is now Afghanistan founded the Mogul Empire in 1526. Rule of the empire was then passed down to his descendants. While his great-great-grandson Shah Jahal was reigning in the 1600s the Taj Mahal was built, along with many other architecturally beautiful buildings. Many of these buildings still stand.

Partridge, accompanied by his wife, was in India as a field man for General Mills.

Hostesses for the meeting were Margie Clonts, Louise Kemletz and Mary Frances Shannon.

ALL SAINTS' DAY

Today is the celebration of All Saints' Day. Here is some information on the early beginning of this Feast of All Saints.

Originally called the Feast of All Martyrs, it had its beginning in Antioch and was celebrated on the first Sunday after Pentecost. St. John Chrysostom, the preacher at the church in Antioch before becoming the patriarch of Constantinople, gave an annual sermon entitled "Praise of all Holy Martyrs of the Entire World". By the 7th century this celebration was world-wide and it was kept as a public "Holy day".

On May 13, 615, the Feast of All Holy Martyrs was introduced by Pope Boniface IV. The Feast was then held annually in Rome on that date. Two hundred years later Pope Gregory IV transferred the celebration to November 1, the reason being there were many pilgrims in Rome for the Feast and it was easier to feed them after the harvest than in the spring.

Meanwhile, the practice spread to include the memorial of not only martyrs but the other saints as well. Pope Gregory IV requested that Emperor Louis the Pious (840) introduce the Feast of All Saints in his territories. With the consent of the bishops of Germany and France, he ordered it be kept on November 1. Pope Sixtus IV (1484) established it as a Holy day of obligation for the entire Latin Church, giving it a liturgical vigil and octave. The octave was discontinued in 1955. (For those who are not familiar with the Catholic Church, an octave is an eight day period of observance beginning with a Festival day.)

The purpose of this festival day is to venerate all the merits of all the saints during this one common celebration since there are not enough days in the year for each to have their own day. Also, any negligence, omission or irreverence committed in the celebration of the saints' feasts throughout the year can be atoned for by the faithful.

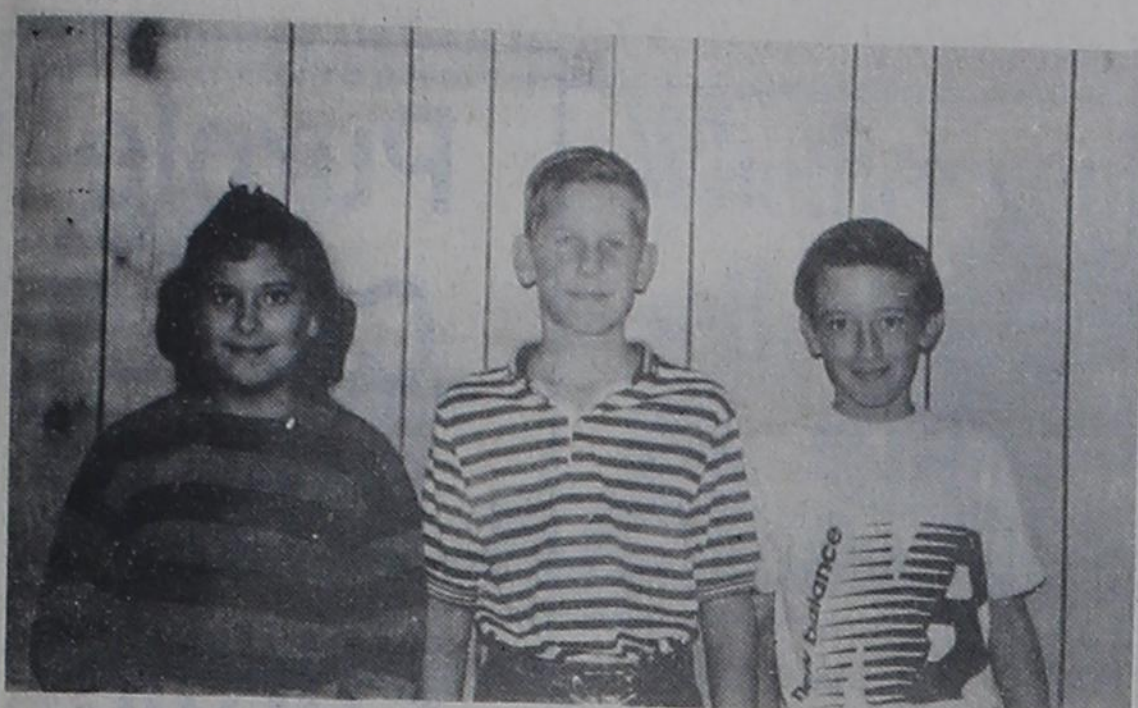

This is generally a Latin church of Catholic or Greek Orthodox celebration, but many other denominations remember the saints on this day as well. As we go through the day, think of those saints in the early church who gave everything including their lives to bring the gospel to all the world, doing as our Lord commanded: "Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, Teaching them to observe all that I have commanded, and lo, I am with you always, even to the close of the age." Matthew 28:19-20 (RSV).

Goree JH Football Team Plays Jayton

The Goree junior high football team traveled to Jayton Thursday, October 26, to take on the Jayton Jaybirds. It was a hard fought battle and an exciting game to watch, with Goree losing by only one point.

Goree pushed ahead in the third quarter on a run by Jessie Nunez. The Wildcat defense played extremely well the second half, but Jayton did manage to score on the last play of the game to take a 20-19 victory.

Benjamin News

By Mrs. Gladene Green

Aliene Groves is still a patient at the Wichita General Hospital. Friends visiting her on Saturday report that she was resting well and in a cheerful state of mind, which we all know is very good medicine for anyone. It is unknown whether chemotherapy will be started soon or if the doctors will choose to wait until she's stronger. Surely, as always, the prayers of all of Aliene's friends in this area are for her and her family during this time.

We received word today that Homer T. Melton is still a patient in the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. He seems to be improving but may be hospitalized several more days. We wish him well and special thoughts also go to Kathleen at this time.

The Halloween Carnival at the school Saturday night was quite successful. A good crowd was on hand to enjoy all the fun. A program featuring all the school kids and based on the popular TV show, Hee Haw, preceded the coronation and carnival.

The Harvest Royalty was crowned by Superintendent Ben Grill. Duke and Duchess from the kindergarten class were Casey Conner and Ashley Cartwright. They are the children of Pam and Keith Conner and Susan and Tracy Cartwright.

The Prince and Princess were the 6th grade class representatives, Zeke Duke and Tracy Condron. Their parents are Pam and Dennis Duke and Marsha and Darrell Condron.

Representing the senior class and being crowned King and Queen were Christi Whitten and Fred Redder, children of Jack and Judie Whitten and Herman and Ruth Redder.

We congratulate all these youngsters. The PTO expressed much appreciation to all who came, and all the donations that were made to help make the carnival both profitable and enjoyable. HERE 'N THERE

THANK YOU

The Goree Parent Teacher Organization wishes to express a sincere "Thank You" to the merchants in Munday, Knox City, Seymour and Goree who donated prizes for our Halloween Carnival.

The Carnival was a big success with perhaps the largest crowd we've had in a number of years. Much of this success was due to the many out-of-town participants in our costume contest who stayed to enjoy all the games . . . and we appreciate it.
