Special Council Session Deals With Annexation

The City Council of the City of Munday met in special session at 7 p.m. Monday, April 2 in City Hall.

Members present included Richard Albus, Gene Brown, Jessie Andrade, Jessie Tucker and David Booe.

Mayor Pro-tem Richard Albus called the meeting to order. The purpose of the meeting, Albus stated, is to hold the first public hearing regarding the annexation request by Ralph and Frances J. Cypert to wit: Being .0337 acres of land situated in Section 35, Blk. 2, D&W RR Co. Survey, Knox County, Texas. Albus declared that Public Hearing #1 is in progress. Anyone wishing to comment, if appearing, will be heard at anytime until this meeting ends.

The next order of business called for the Council to pass an ordinance rescheduling Public Hearing #2 on April 16, 1990 at 7 p.m. at City Hall, due to an error in publication. Booe made a motion to pass the ordinance resetting the date on Public Hearing #2. Motion seconded by Tucker, carried.

The City Council instructed the city administrator and the assistant city administrator to establish the service plan providing city services to the area involved in the proposed annexation according to Federal law. This plan will be adopted if and when the proposed annexation request is adopted.

Mayor Pro-tem Albus next called for any final comments regarding Public Hearing #1. Notice of this public hearing has been published in the Munday Courier and posted at City Hall on both the bulletin board and the outside front window. Citizen input was requested, however, no one came to this meeting to make a request.

Adrade moved meeting adjourn. Brown seconded; all in favor.

Registration For Pre-kindergarten Students Continues At Elementary

Registration for the 1990-91 pre-kindergarten classes at Munday Elementary School continues and parents whose children are eligible are urged to register their child now.

Registration is open to all children four-years-old on or before September 1, and school officials encourage early sign-up in order that planning may be done to give the students the best possible learning experiences.

Parents are urged to register their children now, even if all records are not complete at this time. Necessary records can be taken care of later before fall enrollment.

The 1990-91 pre-kindergarten program will be in two half-day sessions and lunch will be available for both classes.

Pre-kindergarten curriculum will consist of many learning and readiness experiences. Priority activities will be in five different curriculum areas: communication, awareness, physical development, fine arts, and social development. These areas are so designed as to prepare the child for the basic English language arts, math, and social sciences. The children will learn to listen and speak effectively, to identify, compare and contrast, classify, sequence and order, and predict cause and effect relationships. Rhythmic activities and skills related to physical fitness will help develop coordination and confidence. Fine arts and social activities will enhance the development of appreciation and self-discipline.

"Munday Elementary School is looking forward to serving all four-year-olds in this new pre-kindergarten program," said Doug Donoho, principal.

"The program will be a real advantage in developing readiness for future years. A structured program for children of this age will better prepare them for the world of words, vocabulary, comprehension, numbers, discipline, and getting along with others," he said.

Illegal Trash Dumping Poses Problem For City

Illegal dumping of trash at Munday's City Lake has become a major concern for our City.

Administrator Walter Hertel and assistant administrator Jim Slayton have issued a plea to local citizens for help in stopping this illegal act, which is causing not only an unsightly mess around the lake, but threatens the loss of lake privileges.

In making their request, the administrators have issued the following statement:

"Munday has a lot to be thankful for. There are a multitude of things that this City has that others do not. This reflects on the attitudes and pride of each citizen.

But, as always, there has to be a bad apple or two. One of Munday's seems to be a select few that tend to scatter their excess garbage in places other than the landfill. I realize that the landfill is not always open when it is convenient for everyone. With the new EPA regulations that are being proposed, we may have to completely close the landfill before long. We all hope that this will not happen and we are fighting the regulations in Austin and Washington to the best of our ability to prevent this.

One of the two most popular places to dump trash seems to be in the drainage ditch and at the City lake. If it weren't for the ditch, most of you would have serious drainage problems around your homes and businesses. The lake is there for your pleasure to fish, have a picnic or just enjoy a sunrise or sunset. If someone is passing through and they stop by the lake, what do you think they will tell their friends. As I stated, it reflects on all of us. If this continues, then the City will be forced to fence off the lake. This will deny everyone access to the lake.

We have gathered some names from the garbage and these people will be fined for littering. The City crew will have to be pulled off of their regular duties to clean up around the lake.

Please take your garbage to the landfill. We will work with you as best we can.

Thank you,
Walter Hertel and Jim Slayton"

VIEWS

of the situation, but getting out meant betraying my friend.

At last, it was my dad, who had taught me in the first place to stand firm when I believed in something, who stopped the whirlwind into which I had so innocently blundered. He went to my friend and told him he would have to make the necessary apologies - apologies I learned were really due - because he was not going to use me any longer. It was only then I realized I was, in deed, being used. I was taking the brunt of everybody's wrath because of someone else's mistakes.

My friend followed my dad's suggestions - demands, really - and soon I was back in everybody's good graces. People stopped changing aisles in the grocery store to keep from meeting me face to face. They stopped turning their heads as if they didn't see me wave at them. But I'll never forget how it felt to be completely ignored by people I called friends.

Peter, after all, was not some divine being sent from Heaven. He was just an ordinary working man. He had the same dreams and the same fears we all have. He really did love Jesus. He really did believe in all the things Jesus stood for, he just wasn't willing to face public alienation - perhaps even death. He wasn't willing to die nailed to a wooden cross for a cause, no matter how noble nor how much he believed in it.

But, Jesus was willing. He loved us so much that he was willing to endure unspeakable torture to save us from our sins, and he did it alone. He could have named his disciples - brought trouble on them, too. But he didn't. At one point, he could have, perhaps, even saved himself. Neither Pontius Pilate, the Roman governor in Judea, nor Herod, king of Galilee, really wanted to execute him. Jesus could have said, "I am not the Messiah - the son of God. It was all just a hoax," and he might have been set free. He would probably have been asked to leave Jerusalem, but they wouldn't have killed him. It was because he loved us that he didn't take the easy way out. He was in it for the duration - all for us.

I am ashamed of myself on those occasions when I may sacrifice my principles just a little to save myself from ridicule or criticism. Sometimes it's so much easier to say, "I don't want any part in this. I hardly know her," than to get right into the "thick of things" and take a stand. It's so much less trouble to just kind of go along with everybody else, even when our hearts tell us it's not right. None of us wants to be criticized or ignored by our peers - not even when we believe in the cause.

And Jesus understands. Some of the things we do may hurt him, but he understands. His words to Peter could be the same words he would speak to us today - "... Satan has asked to have you, to sift you like wheat, but I have pleaded in prayer for you that your faith will not completely fail."

Jesus had confidence that Peter would finally pick himself up and continue in the way he had been taught. He knew he could depend on him to finally carry through. He knew he would eventually measure up to his expectations.

He has expectations for me, too. I hope I can eventually measure up.

Richard Avery and Don Marsh wrote a joyously song sun to a Calypso entitled "Every Morning is Easter Morning."

The song reminds me on the day after Easter -- when we are packing away the decorations of Easter; when we are distributing Easter lilies that have been left from Sunday; when I know that the attendance this next Sunday will be lower than on Easter Day; and when I begin to get the Easter "blahs" -- that every morning is Easter morning.

The words of the song are as follows:

Every-morning is Easter morning from now on!
 Every day's resurrection day, the past is over and gone!
 Goodbye guilt, goodbye fear, good riddance!
 Hello Lord, Hello Sun!
 I am one of those Easter People!
 My new life has begun.

Every morning is Easter morning from now on!
 Every day's resurrection day, the past is over and gone!
 Daily news is so bad it seems
 The Good News seldom gets heard.
 Get it straight from the Easter People:
 God's in charge! Spread the Word!

Every morning is Easter morning from now on!
 Every day's resurrection day, the past is over and gone!
 Yesterday I was bored and lonely;
 But today look and see!
 I belong to the Easter People!
 Life's exciting to me!

Every morning is Easter morning from now on!
 Every day's resurrection day, the past is over and gone!
 Every morning is Easter morning, Every morning is Easter morning, Every morning is Easter morning, From now on!
 We are the Easter People. We are the Resurrection People! We are the people who say and believe the Good News of the Resurrection and affirm that that makes a difference in our lives.

Christianity is not putting something on for worship and taking it off when we leave the sanctuary. Christianity is not a one time event. It's a way of life. A way of life that lets us live with the assurance that We are accepted, loved, and forgiven; that God sent his Son into the world for you and me; and that makes a difference in our lives -- the way we treat one another, the way we celebrate life, the way we spend our time, the way we use our money, the way we give our talents, the way we -- and how often -- worship this Great God, the God and Father of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

Every morning is Easter Morning!
 Let's live it.

COFFEE: WITH OR WITHOUT CAFFEINE

Pharmacologists classify caffeine as a mild stimulant to the central nervous system and consider it one of the world's most widely used drugs. Caffeine, classified in a group of chemicals Generally Recognized as Safe (GRAS), was reviewed in 1978 and the safety of caffeine for human consumption was reaffirmed.

Today, however, public concern continues over the safety of caffeine and its possible negative effects. Extensive research on the relationship between caffeine and the human disease indicates these results:

* Coffee, both regular and decaffeinated, has been shown to stimulate the gastric mucosa and increase secretions of stomach acid, aggravating existing ulcers.

* The 1978 review of caffeine based on available data from long-term animal studies revealed no evidence that caffeine was carcinogenic.

* The data on the relationship between caffeine and fibrocystic breast disease is inconclusive, with some studies suggesting a minor relationship between caffeine consumption and palpable breast findings and others suggesting no relationship at all.

* There is no evidence to prove that moderate caffeine consumption by pregnant women causes birth defects.

Recently, Dutch researchers concluded that the consumption of boiled coffee raised serum cholesterol levels by 10 percent. On the other hand, drinking filtered coffee did not affect serum lipid levels.

This is actually good news since 75 percent of all American coffee drinkers drink their coffee drip-filtered. The researchers speculate that the differences may exist because the boiled coffee is in contact with the grounds longer and at a higher temperature than drip-filtered coffee.

Decaffeinated coffee has also been

Counts Receives Service Award

Rep. David Counts of Knox City was presented the Texas Chamber of Commerce 1989 Distinguished Service Award March 31 at the annual Snyder Chamber of Commerce banquet.

The board of directors of the Texas Chamber of Commerce based their selection for this year's recipients on two main factors. Of consideration was the legislation members sponsored, and their voting record on legislation pertaining to issues that affect the business economy, such as workers' compensation, economic development, rural health care, and criminal justice reform. Rep. Counts received the highest ranking of the 181 House and Senate members by the Texas Chamber of Commerce.

"The legislative package that this award was based on will improve the business and industry climate for the entire state of Texas. An improved business climate will translate into more jobs and higher wages for West Texas and the 78th District," Counts commented.

At Your Service

by Dr. Larry Fitzgerald
Minister, Munday Church of Christ

Q: Where did Easter come from? Does the church of Christ celebrate this holiday?

A: Originally, Christians celebrated the resurrection of Jesus (along with the remembrance of His death) every Sunday with the Lord's Supper (Acts 20:7 compare with 1 Corinthians 11:17-26; 10:14-22). However, in the late third and early fourth centuries Jewish Christians had begun celebrating the resurrection in lieu of Passover. Some Gentile Christians started the same celebration in lieu of the pagan holiday of Easter (the heathen goddess of light from which the holiday's name comes). The council of Nicea in 325 A.D. decided that the holiday would occur the first Sunday following the first full moon of the vernal equinox. That's why the holiday falls anywhere between March 22 and April 25.

I vote with the early Christians who learned from the apostles, prophets and Christ. I prefer to celebrate the resurrection every Sunday with the Lord's Supper. (See Colossians 2:16; Galatians 4:10). Culture, however, sets Easter as a time when friends and family get together. Kids decorate eggs as signs of Spring and little children hunt for the eggs. As long as we don't add a special "holy day" to our worship such activities among friends, relatives and members of the church is acceptable. This Sunday we will have two special lessons on the resurrection of Jesus Christ. The 10:30 a.m. message will be "The Last Days of Jesus: Defeat or Victory?". The 6:00 p.m. service will feature "Why Do You Seek the Living Among the Dead?" You are welcome to celebrate your holiday with us.

(For more information about Easter read: The New Westminster Dictionary of the Bible, page 236; and The Zondervan Pictorial Bible Dictionary, pages 230-231. By the way, the term "Easter" in the King James Version of Acts 12:4 is a mistranslation. It should be rendered "Passover.")

TRUSCOTT-GILLILAND NEWS

By Mrs. Clara Brown

It turned out to be a wet winter in 1990, and the spring has started out damp and green. People are even, carefully and cautiously, expressing happiness when we have a warm, sunny day instead of grey clouds and rain. Nearly all the rain has been slow and has soaked in deep. About the only ones wanting rain are those who would like some tank water. Even those are saying, "If it's not going to rain hard enough to run water, we might as well have some sunshine."

We have had so many rains and showers that a dry day is more news than a wet one!

Wichita Divide people get uncomfortable not wishing for rain, but they are so unused to damp weather that they get uncomfortable with a string of cloudy days too. Maybe what we need is a two-inch hard rain over each stock tank with bright sunshine everywhere else.

The 1990 Census has started. Kenneth Roberts of Benjamin went to a few places in town last week, but was waiting for drier roads before visiting people in the country.

Wonder how many people Truscott and Gilliland will record. The last, unofficial, estimate was about 36 people who actually live in Truscott.

It is hard to believe that almost 700 copies of Between the Wichitas have been sold in two communities as small as Truscott and Gilliland. Ten copies have been sold in the last two weeks and sales should pick up Labor Day weekend since this is the year for Gilliland and Truscott reunions.

L.G. McGuire was a Sunday dinner guest in the home of A.L. and Frances Cook. Other visitors were the Cook's daughter, Sherri Miller, granddaughter Shayla, and great-granddaughter, Amanda, all of Merkel.

Knox City got a big hail last week. The hailstones were up to baseball size and very hard. Many cars had holes knocked in windows and there are a few reports of big hailstones that smashed through a roof and ceiling into the house. For once people living on the Wichita Divide were glad to escape falling moisture. They were satisfied with the brief showers that fell here that night.

Staci Harkness and Bill Brown of Brownfield visited Jack and Clara Brown Sunday and Monday, March 18-19. Clara Brown spent Monday night with Staci before catching a plane to Houston Tuesday morning.

Vula Hord has received a letter from her brother, John Campbell, who recently moved back to California. He and Grace arrived safely and are settled into their new apartment.

THE VOICE OF KNOX COUNTY

WEINERT NEWS

By Mrs. Myrtle Phemister

The cool front brought a 7/10 of an inch rain to Weinert, and things are sure "looking good"! We hope the cold spell was our "Easter spell" and from now we will have only spring weather.

We hope you remembered to vote on Tuesday, even if your neighbor voted against you, you have a voice and used it. Congratulations.

Congratulations are in order for Roy Herricks and Billie Sparks who were united in marriage on Saturday at the Four Square Church before a host of relatives and friends.

Congratulations to Erlinda and Tiffen Mayfield who will celebrate a wedding anniversary on April 16.

We will sing the birthday song to Kenfy Forehand, Robin Raynes, Jace Yates and Ramon Castorena, Jr. Happy Birthday!

J.T. Alexander celebrated his 80th birthday on Sunday, April 8, with no party, but a visit from son J.W. Alexander of McKinney.

Sarah Guess was feted with a party held in Albany and hosted by her daughters, to celebrate her birthday last week. They enjoyed dinner together and a get-together with other relatives and friends in Albany.

Bertie Alexander was feeling poorly this week, but a visit from her children helped to boost her morale. There was Audra and Bob Schindler of Abilene, Sue Alexander and Faye Crawford of San Antonio, Evelyn Ellington of Muleshoe, and Roy and Murl Alexander of Lubbock.

We are so proud of Janet Frazier and the work she does with our preschool and kindergarten students.

This week she had a visit from Abilene Reporter farm editor, J.T. Smith, and he ran a feature story of Janet's class projects in the Sunday Reporter-News.

She is making one group of children aware of where their food and clothing comes from. In another of her projects, they are learning that distance does not alter friendships, we all share common bonds. Congratulations, students. You have a great teacher.

Ted and Faye Jetton were in Iowa

Park on Saturday for a visit in the home of grandchildren, Diann and Terry Tatum, Jeremy and Troy.

They were met there by daughters, Jimmy Young of Holliday and Sandra Stafford of Great Falls, Montana, who was holding a seminar in Oklahoma City and came on to Iowa Park for a day.

In the afternoon they enjoyed a winning baseball game in which Jeremy and Troy were participants.

Sandra continues with her company, Express: Temporary and Permanent Personnel, for which she is a visiting consultant for seven states.

Nova and Wledon Walling were in Hawley to stay with their grandchildren while their son-in-law, Bill Vannoy, underwent surgery on his leg in Ft. Worth.

Weinert enjoyed a population boost over the weekend. Twenty-one, of Shelia Harber's relatives met in the Harbers home for a family reunion.

Guests from Bay City and Victoria and from Bradfield, Arkansas called for plenty of "Baptist pallets" and lots of fun and food.

Brother Donnie was preaching for a weekend revival in Gilliland, and by taking his guests with him, the attendance was doubled on Sunday night at the Gilliland Baptist Church.

Mrs. Lawrence Hill (formerly Ruby Collins) was in Weinert on Saturday and renewed acquaintances with old friends and attended the wedding of Roy and Billie Herricks.

Bob Brannon of Benjamin, preacher for the Weinert Church of Christ, was a guest in the home of Marvin Phemisters, and they enjoyed lunch at the Weinert Cafe, where a sell-out crowd was in attendance for a turkey dinner.

Ann regretfully announced she will not be open for lunch on Easter Sunday, April 15.

Thelma Boone has moved her mother, Ruth Landers, from the hospital to the Haskell Nursing Center. Thelma's daughters, Judy and Brendi Boone, were home from Abilene for the weekend, as was her brother, Jack Landess, of San Angelo.

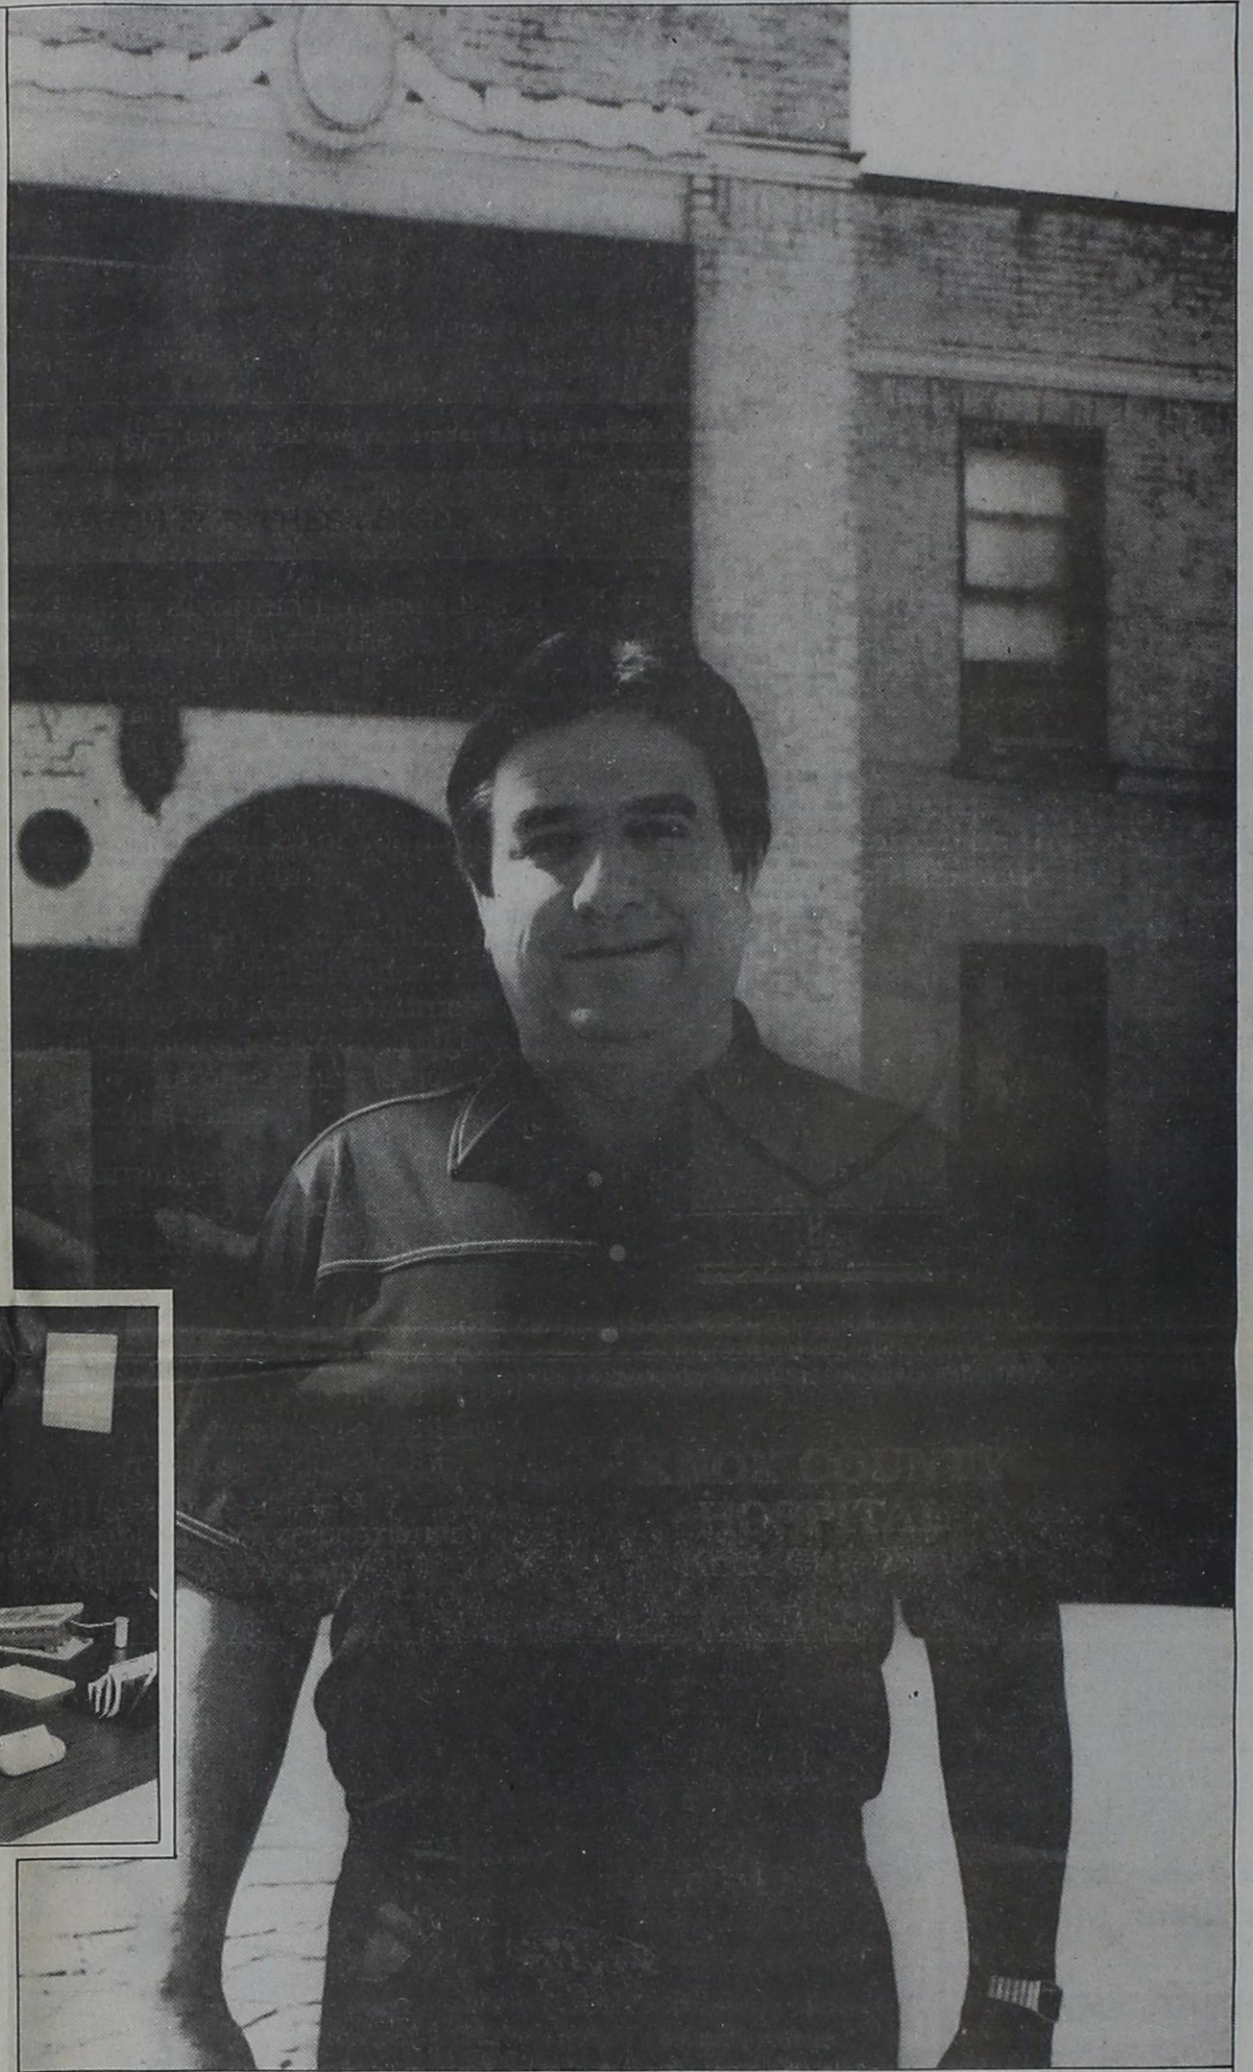

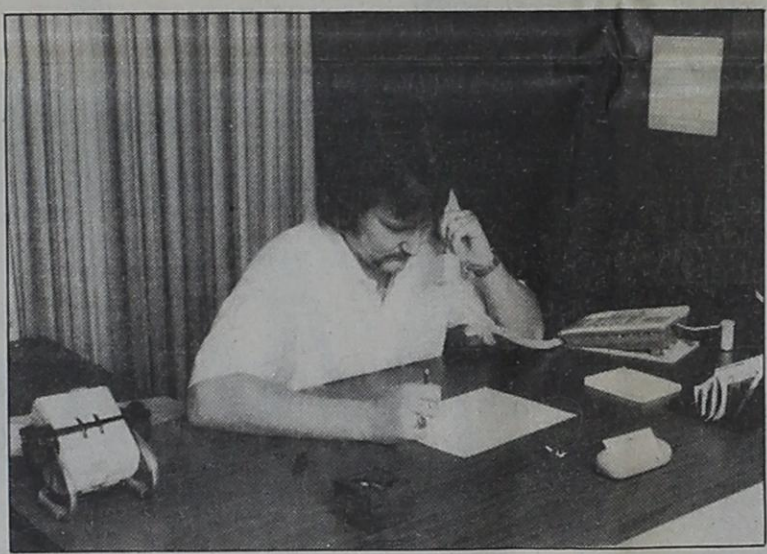

Our prayers are for Junior Stewart as he again enters M.D. Anderson Hospital for tests and consultations. Have a nice day!

John Hancock was not merely the first person to sign the Declaration of Independence; he was the only one to sign in on July 4, 1776.

The world hates change, yet it is the only thing that has brought progress. Charles F. Kettering

“Our partnership with the Cardiac Emergency Network at Bethania is probably one of the most important advances in health care for the rural community in the last 20 years.”

Dr. Terry Springer, physician at Knox County Hospital, studies the EKG findings with the Cardiac Emergency Network at Bethania.

Terry Carter will long remember his trip to Knox County Hospital on December 13, 1989.

Terry Carter awoke on December 13, 1989 with a severe case of indigestion. At least he thought it was indigestion. The owner of a Knox City oil field supply store, Terry went to work that day as usual. Yet as it ended, December 13 proved anything but normal for the Knox City native.

Throughout the day, the uncomfortable indigestion Terry suffered from worsened. And by early evening the pain was so severe he and his wife decided a trip to the Knox County Hospital was in order.

"It was the most crushing pain I had ever experienced," Terry recalls today. "I honestly thought I wouldn't live through it. I couldn't bear it."

Like many heart attack victims, Terry Carter mistook chest pain as a severe case of indigestion. Rather than seeking medical attention, he suffered through the day thinking it would go away as normal indigestion would do.

According to Terry's doctor, Dr. Terry Springer, it's a common mistake patients make. First of all, having never experienced a heart attack, a patient may not realize that he or she is suffering far more than indigestion until it's too late.

Second, it's a form of denial. The last thing someone wants to believe is that they're having a heart attack. So, they put off going to a hospital until they've wasted a lot of valuable time.

Terry Carter was no different. To this day he'll tell you that you can't believe it's happening to you. Fortunately, for Terry time was on his side. His second trip to the ER showed a heart attack in progress. Immediately the Knox County Hospital medical staff and Dr. Springer put the Cardiac Emergency Network into operation.

As a member of the Bethania Regional Health Care Center Cardiac Emergency Network, the medical team of Knox County Hospital administered TPA, the newest and most effective clot dissolving drug. In the process, Dr. Springer was in constant contact with a cardiologist on the Bethania staff who confirmed Dr. Springer's findings and consulted on Terry Carter's treatment and condition.

"Our partnership with the Cardiac Emergency Network at Bethania is probably one of the most important advances in health care for the rural community in the last 20 years," according to Dr. Springer.

"With it we are able to make the most of that short 4-6 hour time period that is so important when a heart attack occurs. To save heart muscle, we use the latest drugs and we have on hand, the immediate expertise of a cardiologist."

With the Cardiac Emergency Network, and the Knox County Hospital staff, Terry Carter received the best possible care. Within hours, he was stabilized and then transferred to Bethania in the Cardiac Emergency Network Mobile Coronary Care Unit.

Further tests showed Terry's condition was treatable with medication and a change in diet and exercise. One thing for sure, Terry Carter is proof that the symptoms of a heart attack should never be ignored.

"People have got to take chest pain seriously," Dr. Springer advised. "With the help of the Cardiac Emergency Network and early treatment, patients have a good chance. When they do nothing, they take a big chance that they won't survive. Or they run the risk that their heart will be severely and permanently damaged."

Knox County Hospital is proud to be a part of the Cardiac Emergency Network at Bethania Regional Health Care Center. Together, we're working hard to make sure that the citizens of Knox City and the surrounding areas receive the best possible cardiac care.

But we can't help if you ignore the symptoms.

WATCH FOR THESE SIGNS:

- Pain or discomfort in the chest that may spread to the shoulders, arms, neck or jaw. Discomfort can last minutes or even hours.
- Pain accompanied by sweating, nausea or vomiting, weakness or fainting.
- Chest pain that starts in any type of stressful situation. An exciting ball game, argument, or sudden shock may trigger pain, but often there is no obvious cause.
- Warning signs may be preceded by several days of chest discomfort or not feeling well.
- Heart attacks can occur with no symptoms at all. It is important to become educated about maintaining a healthy heart and see your doctor regularly to detect any problems before permanent damage can occur.

If you or someone you know suffers from these symptoms, get to the emergency room at Knox County Hospital as quickly as possible.

When it comes to a heart attack, minutes can mean the difference between life and death.

BENJAMIN NEWS

By Mrs. Gladene Green

My deepest sympathy to two Benjamin families who lost loved ones by death last week. Vernon Smith passed away on Tuesday at the Knox County Hospital after a brief illness and Joe Trepanier's father passed away, also on Tuesday, in a Ft. Worth hospital. Both funerals were on Friday.

SOROSIS CLUB MEETS

The Benjamin Sorosis Club met on April 5 in the meeting room of the Corps of Engineers office near Truscott. A short business meeting was held with the town clean-up day rescheduled for April 21. The program was given by Dennis Duke, resident engineer with the Corps. He showed a film depicting the work of the Corps of Engineers in war and peace from its founding in 1775 to the present. Then a slide presentation was given showing how the Truscott Brine Lake project was built and explaining the purpose.

Eight members and one guest, Ozelle Kilgore, were given a tour of the facilities.

SUNRISE SERVICE SET

The annual Easter sunrise service will be held Sunday morning at the rush arbor on the Moorhouse Ranch west of Benjamin. This is a change in location from where it has been held for many years, so please keep the change in mind. Breakfast will be served, as usual, beginning around 8:30 a.m. Everyone is cordially invited to attend this very impressive service. For those who don't know, the Moorhouse Ranch is 14 miles west of Benjamin. There is a sign. Turn south there, follow the road. You can't miss it! I'll be there if all goes well, and I hope to see you there.

HONOR PASTOR

The congregation of the First Christian Church in Benjamin honored their pastor, Jack Maddox, and his wife, JoAnn, with a covered dish lunch on Sunday at the ex-student building. Jack is resigning as pastor of the church after several years. A good crowd joined in wishing Jack and JoAnn good luck in whatever they decide to do.

HERE AND THERE

Benjamin visitors last week were Billy and Annie Mae Crenshaw of Bayou. They are doing quite well and are always glad to get back to see their many friends in the area.

Jim and Barbara Pratt visited their son and daughter-in-law, Troy and Alecia Pratt in Lubbock.

I was in Vernon Saturday for the one-act play competitions at VRJC. I saw several good plays presented and the one I was hoping to advance did not, but the Munday kids did well and they can now center their attention elsewhere.

Leroy and Gloria West were in Aspermont Sunday to visit their daughter and family, Betty, Roger and Sabra Parker.

Visiting their Moorhouse and Propps relatives the past few days were Mary Lee and Lonnie Morgan and children of Los Alamos, New Mexico.

Peggy Dillard of Lubbock visited her sister, Virginia Griffith and her family in the Care Home at Knox City on Saturday.

Collins Moorhouse had a good day Saturday in observance of his 50 years in business. He said for those who came by he gave them refreshments and they all enjoyed it. (I went by too early for the refreshments!!) Collins is feeling fine and looks forward to being in business for a long time to come.

News is scarce this week. Guess everyone is getting ready to take off for Easter. In all the hustle and bustle of this particular holiday, let us not forget the real meaning of Easter. I hope you all have a very nice weekend. And I'll see you next week.

And don't forget the Easter egg hunt sponsored by the Benjamin VFD. It will be Sunday at the City Park, beginning around 2 p.m. So kids, come on over, bring your baskets and hunt eggs with everyone else.

Specialists Urge Proper Egg Handling For Holiday Hunts

If you are planning a traditional Easter egg hunt this weekend, specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service remind you to follow safe food handling practices.

Like any other perishable product, eggs should be properly stored and cooked to prevent the growth of potentially harmful bacteria, such as Salmonella enteritidis, said nutritionists Dr. Mary K. Sweeten.

"While the risk of contracting salmonellosis from raw or undercooked eggs is extremely small, special precautions should be taken when preparing eggs for Easter or any time," Sweeten said.

Dr. James Denton, poultry marketing specialist, said cooked eggs do not contain salmonella. However, it's important not to recontaminate eggs after they've been cooked.

Here are a few tips for preparing eggs:

- * Keep eggs refrigerated before preparation, and don't let them sit at room temperature for more than two hours before or after cooking.

- * Eggs should be hard-boiled. Put eggs in cold tap water and bring them to a boil, turn off the heat and allow the eggs to cool for about 10 minutes.

Watching Washington

The 1990 census is of vital importance to Texas. Why? Two critical issues—Congressional representation and federal funding formulas—ride on the outcome of this year's population count. The 1980 census undercounted Texas, and our state's wallopp and wallet were both diminished by it.
The census will determine how many members Texas will have in the U.S. House of Representatives during the next decade. There's no doubt we will gain some additional Congressional seats. Texas grew by more than 2.6 million people from 1980 to 1988—the second highest population growth in the country. The question is: Will we pick up three or four new seats?

Currently we have 27 representatives and three or four more votes for Texas would help. We already have a larger delegation than all but two other states in the U.S. House, compared with the 1950s when we had fewer Congressmen than five other states.

Texans in Congress hang together to an extent that is the envy of other states. While our delegation certainly has philosophical and geographical differences, we're solidly unified when the interests of Texas are at stake. That unity was evident when we fought to have the Superconducting Super Collider located in Texas and continues as we work to get going on construction of the SSC.

The delegation's cohesiveness and our growing size definitely add up to real clout for Texas, making it easier to promote legislation we like or block something we don't.

Substantial amounts of federal aid are also at stake in the census. Each year the U.S. government distributes billions of dollars among the states. The amount of money a state receives depends on its population. Funding for a wide variety of programs—from education to health care to roads and bridges—is allocated to the states using formulas based in large part on population. To get our fair share in the '90s, the Census Bureau must get a full count of all people living in Texas.

The undercount of Texas in the 1980 census cost us dearly. By some estimates well over half a million Texans were missed by the count and, as a result, our state lost millions of dollars in federal aid throughout the '80s.

Most undercounting is due to the way the census is conducted, even though the Census Bureau is persistent in its efforts to count every resident. The Bureau relies mainly on forms that are mailed to people with readily identifiable addresses. If there is no response, Census workers follow up with telephone and personal contact.

I have been working to ensure that the Census Bureau adequately staffs its offices around our state. I have also pushed the Bureau to work with local officials knowledgeable about their communities so they can develop plans that will work for specific areas.

Census forms have been showing up in mailboxes across Texas. The stakes are high, and the benefits will be great for Texas if we have a complete count in 1990. Providing the Census Bureau with the information it needs will help you and our state. If you have any questions regarding the census call this toll free number, 1-800-999-1990, or for a Spanish-speaking operator call 1-800-283-6826.

Nineteen ninety is a time for all of us to stand up and, literally, be counted for Texas.

FARM AND RANCH REPORT

COTTON PLANTING TO BEGIN SOON

Cotton planting season is rapidly approaching and many producers may be wondering what variety to plant.

To aid in determining some of these answers I compiled information from five years of irrigated cotton variety demonstrations and six years data of dryland cotton variety demonstrations conducted in Knox County. The data was averaged to even good and bad years or a comparable average formula.

Listed in Table 1 are the top ten varieties in irrigated cotton variety results and Table 2 shows the top ten varieties on dryland fields.

IT'S NO FISH STORY - R.J. Duncan caught these two hybrid stripers Monday morning at Miller Creek. He was fishing off the bank out from the rock pile by the dam. The bass weighed 14 1/2 and 15 pounds and were hooked on a 1/4 oz. chartreuse roadrunner.

The Fishing Doc

By "Doc" Fitzgerald

Miller's Creek Reservoir - Level: 4 1/4 feet low
Temperature (at surface): 55°F
Condition: slightly murky
Black Bass: Good to 8 pounds. Taking spinning lures, flipping jigs and some plastic worms. Several people caught fish while wading shorelines this weekend. Favorite colors: chartreuse combinations, white, black, motor oil and chrome.

Hybrid Bass: Fairly good. Mostly taken on trolling lures near dam.
White (Sand) Bass: Improved, good to excellent. Taking jigs and minnows at night under the lights of the new docks.

Crappie: Good. Hitting minnows and jigs. Favorite colors: clear and chartreuse combinations. Best in very brushy areas and near water intake. Several taken this weekend in the 2 pound range.

Catfish: Good but mostly small in the 1-4 pound range. Hitting Tan Bait, blood, worms, minnows and some on liver.

Carp & Buffalo: Excellent to 12 pounds. Hitting Tan Bait, dough and some on cheese-dough.

Fishing Tip

Q: How come these reports frequently tell us that people are catching large fish out at the lake but when I go I don't catch any?

A: This is an excellent question. Most people are confused about the purpose of fishing reports. When I (or another writer) says "to 7 pounds" that means the largest fish caught in that species for the week. It doesn't mean that everyone is catching 7 pound bass. When limits are reported it doesn't mean that everyone that week has caught 25 crappie. It means that some have caught their limit. One rude fellow said "I only keep 7 pound crappie" when he learned who I was. He was mad that he had fished all day and caught only a few small crappie. Right after he left, I caught seven in the 1 1/2-2 pound range. He left too soon!

Fishing is like any sport. One needs to stay current with new methods and equipment. Many people do not catch fish because they don't know how (yes even some who have "been fishing 50 years"). The latest north-central crappie tournament proved that. The top three winners were under the age of 40. One has only been fishing two years.

A fishing report gives you hints about current activity for the week. It tells you about what others have done. It does NOT guarantee that you will catch fish. Fishing takes a combination of know-how, appropriate timing at fishing cycles, the right location and a good dose of luck doesn't hurt.

(If you have a question for this column write The Fishing Doc in care of Route 1, Box 115B, Munday, TX 76371.)
