Lowrance and school trustee Ronnie Stewart conducted the ceremony dedicating the track in McAfee's memory at the district meet held here Saturday, and presented Mrs. McAfee with a commemorative plaque.

Two New Coaches Sign Contracts For Coming Year

Ron Steele, a coach at Graham High School for the past five years, has been hired by the Munday ISD board of directors as athletic director and head football coach for the Munday Moguls. Steele replaces Jim Edwards, who recently resigned to take the head coaching job at Mineral Wells.

The new coach is a graduate of Farwell High School and McMurry College. He coached at Clyde one year before moving to Graham, where he has served as both offensive and defensive coordinator for the Steers football team and was head track coach the past two years. "Ron had plenty of responsibility in their football program," commented Munday superintendent of schools Doyle Lowrance.

Steele takes over the reins of one of the state's most successful Class A teams in recent years. Lowrance said between 20 and 30 coaches applied for the position, but only a few were brought in for interviews. The new coach was to begin his duties at the school about mid-week.

Steele, 31, is married to an elementary school teacher and they have two small children. The family is affiliated with the First Baptist Church.

Also signing a contract with the school was Gina Farmer, who will head the girls' athletic program. Farmer, 24, is a graduate of Merkel High School and McMurry College and has served as head girls' junior high basketball and track coach at Coahoma the last three years. She will move to Munday this summer to begin work in the fall.

"Until just a few years ago, we had five on our coaching staff," Lowrance said, "then we had to cut back. But our numbers have increased to the point that we really need an additional coach, and we are excited about the prospect of fresh approaches brought in by our two new people. We feel our athletes will be participating in a high quality program."

Residents Get Another Chance To See Play

Starring Kathy Hunter, who was named Best Actress in zone, district and area competitions, the play is about a troubled teenager, and any interested adults or teenagers are invited to attend the rehearsal.

County Republican Primary Divided Into 3 Locations

Mrs. Clara Brown of Truscott, Knox County Republican party chairman, has announced that voting in the May 3 primary will be done in three consolidated boxes in the county. Several candidates for state office will be on the Republican ballot, including gubernatorial hopefuls.

Persons in Goree and Munday who wish to vote in the Republican primary may do so at the Munday Elementary School, where votes from Box 5 in Goree and Boxes 6, 6N and 6W in Munday will be cast. Box 1 in Benjamin, Box 2 in Truscott, Box 3 in Gilliland and Box 4 in Vera will be at the Benjamin Memorial Building concert room, and Knox City and Sunset voters (Boxes 7N, 7S and 8) will vote at the Knox City Community Center, where a ramp has been built and other Justice Department requirements brought up to standard.

Persons voting at either of the three polling places are urged to know which box they should vote in and be sure they are voting on the correct ballot. Mrs. Brown said precinct conventions will be held at each voting location following the May 3 election, which runs from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Munday Youth Strikes Paydirt At Golf Course

Veteran golfers can feel envy this week for one who has not played nearly as many rounds of the game but who has already mastered the goal of everyone who has ever tried his hand on the links.

Howard McPherson, a junior at Munday High School, hit a hole-in-one on the ninth hole of the Lake Creek Course near Munday one afternoon last week. He used a four-iron for his lucky shot. Witnessing the feat were other members of the foursome, Neil Waggoner, Mark Brown and Jeff Bruce.

It was reported that Munday's recently departed football coach was a little green-eyed over the accomplishment of his son, since he has never been able to hit one of the usually once-in-a-lifetime shots. That's okay, Jim, now you have something else to shoot for besides another state football championship!

DESPITE SLOSHY TRACK

Moguls Outrun Pack At District Meet

Despite an unwelcome cold shoulder by Mother Nature, the Munday Moguls managed to navigate the wet lanes Saturday to win their third district athletic championship of the school year. The defending state champion tracksters compiled 249 points, far out-distancing second place Knox City, which had 147. The other schools entered lagged behind, with Rochester finishing third with 39 points. Weinert had 25, Chillicothe 21, Benjamin 18, Harrold 10 and Vernon Northside 1 point.

It was a bit closer in the girls' bracket, with Crowell coming out on top of Knox City in team totals 110-101. Chillicothe was third with 92, Benjamin fourth with 88, Munday fifth with 64, and Goree sixth with 60. Rochester's 29 and Vernon Northside's 7 points rounded out the field.

In all, Munday will take almost 20 athletes to the regional meet in Abilene May 2-3 to compete in 16 individual events and three relays. In the boys' contest, Munday only missed out on having one of the top two finishers in one event, finishing third in the pole vault. Munday's junior varsity team ran with the varsity and did very well, with three JV's qualifying for regional competition.

Purple Cloud Band Wins Sweepstakes!

For the first time in over 20 years, the Munday High School Purple Cloud band has won Sweepstakes ratings in University Interscholastic League competition. The band earned their honor at the UIL concert and sightreading contest held April 15 in Wichita Falls.

The Sweepstakes designation is awarded to bands which win overall first division ratings at the fall marching and spring concert and sightreading contests. Munday was one of two district bands chosen to represent the district in the regional marching contest last fall but fell short of advancing to state. Winning Sweepstakes honors was the band's final goal for the school year.

Director Rodney Bennett said the 50-piece band did a very good job at the competition, but admitted he heard some flaws in the performance. But the judges' comments were very complimentary, citing a controlled sound, good musicianship and excellent musicians who showed a lot of spirit and pride in themselves. The band was also noted as being very well disciplined and musical in their sightreading performance.

The band will perform at the Six Flags Invitational Concert at the Arlington theme park on May 3 before entertaining a Munday audience in the annual Musicade on May 13.

Members of the band are seniors Mark Brown, Salwa Choucair, Tim Collier, Tammy Decker, Lynette Norman, Kathy Sosa, Donna Welch and Janet Williams; juniors Kathy Byard, J. B. Jones, Christy Morgan, Elaina Morgan, Karen Munoz, Jeanette Navarette, Leann Oustad, Amy Parker, Renita Redder and Richard Toliver; sophomores Alexis Bordovsky, Natalie Hernandez, Kathy Hunter and Christi Nelson.

Also, freshmen Cheryl Bunton, Debbie Cypert, Ronald Edrington, Lowell Hutchens, Scott Hutchens, Holly Jackson, Lynn Parker, Angie Partridge, Rita Ramos, Doug Tidwell and Melissa Zachary; and eighth graders Marc Andrade, Jenni Bowman, Alicia Cook, Neomi Hernandez, Amy Hosea, Rohn Kingston, Bryan Latham, Susie Morgan, David Owens, Ann Parker, Robin Reneau, Shawna Simpson, Johnathon Smith, Lisa Steedley, Richard Thompson, Christie Wilde, Kathy Wilde and Youlanda Wright.

THANK YOU

I want to thank all my friends in the Munday area for their many acts of kindness during my stay in the hospital and since I have returned home. The cards, calls, visits and flowers all helped to make my hospital stay seem shorter and were greatly appreciated.

Special thanks to a special group of men who were willing to give their time and effort and help out on my farm. Friends like you are what small town life is all about.

My family and I will always remember your thoughtfulness.

HOW TO ACHIEVE YOUR FINANCIAL GOALS IN 1986

The beginning of a new year is the ideal time to review your financial situation and create realistic goals for the coming months. A little forethought and a sense of determination can help you reach your financial goals in 1986.

Before you put pen to paper to write down your personal ambitions, consider these essential money management guidelines.

1. Define financial goals. The first step on the road to financial success begins with setting up your goals and objectives and writing them down. Make your goals specific and measurable. This will help you gauge your progress.

Determine your financial priorities. Do you want to buy a new car first or escape on a two-week vacation? Estimate how long and how much money it will take to reach that goal, realistically. Then establish a workable financial plan to help meet it.

2. Act on your plan. The cost of procrastination in any financial situation can add up quickly. If you invest the initial time and effort into drafting a practical program to meet your goals, make sure you act on it.

3. Keep careful, updated records - one of the most important jobs of a wise money manager is careful and accurate record keeping. Draw up a personal file on all your financial activities to keep you apprised of your assets and liabilities. A handy way to keep this information is by recording each item separately on a file card. Keep records of such dates as credit card purchases, real estate purchases, life insurance policies, taxes, wills and so on.

Once you establish a financial file, review and update it regularly. Situations change. Tax laws change. Children mature, and so do investments. Many unforeseen factors may alter your priorities. A six-month or annual financial review will give you a clear picture of where you stand today as well as the progress you have made and the direction you are heading.

4. Use credit wisely. As you know, credit can be a valuable tool when managing your money, if used wisely and correctly. Credit usage of 10-15 percent of annual after-tax income (excluding mortgage payments) is a reasonable amount. Of course, only you can determine a safe debt limit for your individual circumstances. Remember to make all credit payments on time and in the proper amount to maintain a solid credit rating.

5. Put yourself in control. Even professional money managers may have a difficult time dealing with today's economic environment and setting priorities for daily living. But with careful planning and the desire to succeed, you can avoid serious financial mistakes and put yourself in control of your money.

Once you have reviewed your total financial situation, set your priorities and implement a plan of action. With a realistic, written strategy, you can make 1986 a financially successful year.

BRUCE YEAGER and TRACI ELDRIDGE

Engagement Announcement

Mr. and Mrs. Cherry Eldredge of Goree are proud to announce the engagement of their daughter, Traci Ann, to John Bruce Yeager, son of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Yeager of Seymour. The couple will exchange vows on Saturday, June 7, at the First United Methodist Church in Goree.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Three-Way High School and Clarendon Junior College and is currently attending West Texas State University in Canyon. The prospective bridegroom is a graduate of Goree High School and received a bachelor of science degree in education from West Texas State University. He is employed as a teacher and coach at Bovina High School.

Visiting the Cotton Smiths and Spike Bryans over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Owens and Stephen and Kyla Reid of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Welch and Bryan of Fort Worth, Sharla Bryan and Phil Riggs of Stephenville.

Mrs. Ruth Griffith, Mrs. Elaine Guley, and Mr. and Mrs. Cotton Smith attended a Smith's cousins reunion at the Royal Inn in Abilene on Sunday.

And the rains came! That was the situation in much of the area Saturday morning as storm clouds gathered, the thunder rumbled and the lightning lighted the sky and much needed moisture began to fall. We're thankful that we didn't get the turbulence that some places got but the rain, regardless of the amount, was very much appreciated. Varying amounts from less than 1/2 inch to over an inch were reported right here around Benjamin.

HERE N THERE

Virginia Griffith and Dorothy Hibdon were in Lubbock Tuesday for Virginia to have a medical check-up. She got a good report and was able to return to work Wednesday.

Jo Etta Cartwright took her mother, Ruth Ressel, to Brady Wednesday where they met Ruth's other daughter, Katy New of Seguin. Ruth went home with Katy for several days visit with her and her family.

We were in Abilene Wednesday for Van's medical check-up. He got a good report and his next regularly scheduled check-up is in July.

Randy and Dorothy Hibdon spent the weekend with her sisters and families in Arlington.

Rex and Maretha Patterson spent the weekend in Midland visiting the C. B. Clowers in the home of their daughter, Lorene Powers. They report Clarence and Maudie to be feeling better. Rex and Maretha had only been through Sweetwater about ten minutes when the tornado hit. They were glad, needless to say, that they had "timed their trip" so well!!!

Becky and Cody Taylor of Munday spent the weekend with their grandparents, Van and Gladene Green.

Kathy Tovar and Sandy of Burkburnett visited Kathy's parents, the Joe Trepaniers', one day last week.

Rev. and Mrs. K. E. Woolley visited their children, the Kermit Woolleys, in Spur during the weekend.

The congregations of the First United Methodist Church and the First Christian Church had a covered dish lunch Sunday in the Benjamin Memorial Building. A good crowd was on hand to enjoy fellowship and lots of good food.

Ken, Gaye and Mark Roberts of Hereford spent the weekend with Clodell Duke and the Kenneth Roberts.

Kent Hertel of MSU in Wichita Falls and Craig Hertel of Vernon were weekend guests of their parents, Don and Louise Hertel.

CEMETERY NEWS

The Benjamin Cemetery Association endowment trust fund continues to grow. Donations have come in rather slowly lately but all things considered, I think we have done quite well. We have almost $11,000.00 at this time and several have pledged a certain amount each month and are giving their donations in that way.

It has also been suggested that I list the ones who have donated to the trust fund. I can't list them all in one week but will start and continue until everyone who has given has been acknowledged.

Since we are newly organized and funds have been limited, we have

Election Set For Senior Citizens

Senior citizens this year will have their own interests presented to the State Legislature by a para-legislative body made up of their peers.

It will be the first Texas Silver Haired Legislature, to be elected May 30 by registered voters age 60 and over. Candidates also must be at least 60.

Elected representatives will meet in the State Capitol next September to draft legislation of benefit to senior citizens. The legislation will then be presented to the 70th State Legislature for consideration and possible adoption into law.

"This probably is the first time that Texas seniors have ever had such direct representation by other seniors of mutual interests," said Paul S. Dulaney of Clyde, candidate for District 3, which covers 12 counties, including Knox County.

Dulaney, 64, said SHLs have been effective in 22 other states. He is a founding member of the Clyde Chapter, American Association of Retired Persons.

"I understand that SHL-recommended legislation of benefit to seniors has been passed by State Legislatures in many of these 22 states," he said.

May 30 balloting will be held in senior centers across the state. Absentee ballots will be made available at area rest homes and nursing centers from May 1-23.

Sing Tonight With Senior Citizens

The Munday Senior Citizens will resume their monthly gospel singings at 7 p.m. Thursday, April 24, in the Munday Community Center. A number of out-of-town singers have been invited and have expressed interest in attending.

Any singers are welcome, and those who just wish to listen are invited, as well.

Task Forces Study Plans For Action

A special Knox County citizen study group began mapping a program for the future of the county during a recent meeting at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Rhineland.

Study group members formed four task forces to identify and discuss broad issues of concern in agriculture and natural resources, home economics, youth and community development.

Similar study groups have been organized to represent all 254 counties in Texas, and more than 10,000 leaders are contributing their ideas, as well as those of their friends and neighbors, to assist in identifying critical concerns. Many of the problems have been triggered by rapid changes occurring in the state economy and population.

A second meeting of Knox County task forces is planned for 7 p.m., Thursday, May 8, at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Rhineland, to present findings and establish objectives and goals.

DPS Statistics Show Texas Crime Rate Up By 9 Percent

The crime rate in Texas increased by 9 percent in 1985 compared to 1984, according to statistics furnished to the Texas Department of Public Safety.

The crime rate is the number of crimes per 100,000 population. It is calculated from figures provided to the DPS by 796 Texas law enforcement agencies representing 99.9 percent of the state's population.

"In 1985, 6,570.9 crimes were reported per 100,000 population, compared to 6029.2 per 100,000 population in 1984," DPS Director Colonel Jim Adams said.

The incidence of all categories of crime -- murder, rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, theft, and motor vehicle theft -- increased in 1985, the statistics show.

"In 1985, the number of major offenses reported in Texas grew by 11.6 percent, from 964,014 crimes in 1984 to 1,075,656 in 1985," Adams said.

The largest increase was the number of rapes reported, which rose by 14 percent compared to 1984. The smallest increase was in murder, with 1.6 percent more homicides reported, Adams stated.

Texas peace officers cleared 21 percent of the felony crimes reported in 1985. In violent crimes, clearances were made in 75 percent of all murder cases, 59 percent of all rape cases, 29 percent of all robbery cases and 63 percent of all aggravated assaults.

Officers cleared 15 percent of all burglaries, 20 percent of thefts and 18 percent of the vehicle thefts.

Total value of property stolen in Texas in 1985 exceeded $1.25 billion, with $500 million recovered by police.

Seven peace officers were killed in the line of duty in Texas in 1985, with another seven officers dying in duty-related accidents. Additionally, there were 3,617 assaults on officers.

The crime figures provided to the DPS' Uniform Crime Reporting Program have been submitted to the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington, which compiles national crime data.

6 Flags Cuts Price For Senior Citizens

For the first time in its 25 year history, Six Flags Over Texas is offering a special discount for senior citizens.

Persons age 55 and older may purchase one-day park tickets for $9.95. The regular ticket price is $14.95.

"Folks who have just turned 30 when we opened back in 1961 have been among our most loyal supporters through the years," said Six Flags general manager Bob Bennett. "Back then, they brought their children to visit the park. Today, they're bringing their grandchildren, and we appreciate that loyalty."

Bennett said the lower price was introduced, without fanfare, when the 1986 season began, March 1. "Already, more than a thousand persons have taken advantage of the discount," he said.

Six Flags is currently operating on weekends only. Daily operation for the summer months will begin May 24.

Many Canning Methods May Not Be Completely Reliable

If you're counting on canning some of the extra produce from your garden this summer, plan now to do it the safe way.

Some canning methods, equipment and procedures are not safe and can result in food spoilage and even serious illness or death, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist Marilyn Haggard.

She says that canning in a microwave oven, for example, is dangerous. Microwave ovens do not allow even heat penetration in the closed canning jar and the metal lids interfere with heat distribution. The use of metals in a microwave can also damage the oven's magnetron tube, requiring costly repairs.

Canning in a conventional oven is not advisable, because oven temperatures vary as the heat goes off and comes on again. The dry heat may not penetrate the food thoroughly either.

"Trying to can in a conventional oven is also a safety hazard," Haggard explains. "Pressure can build up in jars causing them to explode, or jars may break as drafts of cooler air hit them when the oven door is open."

Haggard, a specialist in food safety and preservation, says the "open kettle" canning method, which was popular years ago, may not kill spoilage organisms.

In the open kettle method, foods are simply heated and put into sterile jars. Spoilage organisms can enter the jar when the food is transferred from kettle to jar. Also, the initial heat treatment may not be sufficient to destroy spoilage organisms and even if the jar seals, it may be only temporary.

Steam canners are also not fool-proof for canning. Haggard says the U.S. Department of Agriculture does not recommend the use of steam canners when the process time is based on boiling water bath times.

Research shows that the ability to kill bacteria in a steam canner is considerably less than in a boiling water bath canner when using the same process time, says Haggard. For that reason a steam canner should never be used for low-acid vegetables and meats, warns the specialist.

If you are planning on doing some home canning, Haggard recommends setting aside old cookbooks, grandma's recipe or advice

Texas Weed Crop May Be Big In '86

Rain last fall and a mild winter could mean a big weed crop for Texas pastures in 1986, particularly if there is normal moisture this spring.

Pastures were green in South Texas in February. Dr. Wayne Hanselka, Extension range specialist in Corpus Christi, predicted "it will be a bad year for weeds if we continue getting rain."

Moisture conditions were mixed in the rest of Texas, but weed specialists say there always will be weeds to compete with desirable grasses. The best time to spray weeds is when they are young, green and growing. They advise that weeds can be controlled with the least amount of herbicide early in the spring.

Cattlemen should "get the jump on weeds," Dr. Hanselka urges.

"A good time to apply herbicide is just when weeds are breaking through to two inches tall," advises Dr. J.B. Grumbles, range scientist for Dow Chemical U.S.A. Even many of the hard-to-kill species will curl up and die when sprayed early in the year.

Grazon herbicides, recently introduced by Dow, are popular among ranchers and farmers because of effectiveness in helping increase grass and forage where weeds compete for space, sunlight and nutrients. Controlling broadleaves, range experts advise, is one of the most profitable practices available to stockmen.

The shaded counties are areas where weed infestations are expected to be high in 1986.

"Obviously," Dr. Hanselka says, "response to weed control is dependent on the degree of infestation, type of weed competition, moisture and many other considerations. But many studies show that weeds reduce pasture yields and lower hay quality."

"From a purely grass management aspect, weed control is an important tool that a rancher should be using."

"On native rangelands, we can expect a grass increase of 300 percent in South Texas with weed control. Stocking rates could be improved threefold."

★ FARM AND RANCH REPORT ★

David Tunmire, County Agent

USDA ASSISTANCE FOR COUNTY PRODUCERS

Knox County has been declared a contiguous county for USDA assistance to farmers and ranchers, according to County Judge David Perdue. Eligible farmers and ranchers may receive emergency loans from the Farmers Home Administration.

The declaration was made due to hail, high winds, drought, excessive rainfall, and abnormally low temperatures which occurred May 19, 1985, through December 12, 1985. The counties included in addition to Knox are Foard, Lamb, Bailey, Baylor, Castro, Cochran, Cottle, Hale, Hardeman, Hockley, King, Lubbock, Palmer and Wilbarger.

Emergency loan applications will be received through December 3, 1986 for physical and production losses. For loan information contact FmHA.

FRUIT THINNING IMPORTANT

Thinning of fruit is a key practice for both backyard gardens and commercial growers.

Thinning is important for getting good-sized peaches and other fruit, thereby increasing the crop's value.

For top production, fruit should be 6 to 8 inches apart. On a well-pruned tree, leave about 600 fruit. It's always best to thin fruit trees early in the season. Fruit thinned at bloom will average about one-fourth-inch larger than fruit thinned at six weeks of age.

Thinning at 28 days after blooming is a good guideline because the danger of frost is normally past at that time, the fruit thins easier, and increased fruit size can still be realized. However, thinning after pit hardening will be of little value other than to prevent limb breakage. All doubles (twin fruit) should be removed.

Thinning can increase the value of the fruit crop dramatically. Peaches two-and-a-half inches in diameter are often worth twice as much as from friends so you won't be taking chances with your family's health and your home-grown produce.

Safe and reliable home canning methods are outlined in Extension publications available at your county Extension office.

HAVE A NICE DAY!

two-inch peaches. Thinning can be done by hand or by using a mechanical tree shaker. Studies are being conducted by the Extension Service on the use of chemicals for thinning, and this practice looks promising.

Conservation Sign-Up May 5-16

A second sign-up for the Conservation Reserve Program is scheduled for May 5-16. This program is designed to take highly erodible cropland out of production. It is administered by the Agricultural Conservation and Stabilization Service with technical assistance provided by the Soil Conservation Service. Landowners wanting in the program must first have their land evaluated by SCS personnel to determine if it is eligible. Land that is fully eligible or questionably eligible can be bid into the program. As in the last sign-up, bids will be accepted on a competitive basis. Landowners with successful bids can put their land into pasture grasses, native grasses, or wildlife cover for either the 1986 or 1987 program year. The cost of these plantings will be cost-shared at a 50 percent rate. Soil Conservation Service technical assistance will be provided for planning and carrying out these practices. Anyone interested in bidding cropland into the Conservation Reserve Program is encouraged to come by the ASCS office in Knox City during the sign-up period.

Extension Service Programs Aid Texas Cotton Producers

Integrated pest management programs of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service have reached into many areas of crop and livestock production, but a major emphasis has been in cotton and the successes have been numerous, points out Dr. Mike McWhorter, Extension pest management program leader.

The Extension Service has been a partner with the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas Pest Management Association and cotton organizations in implementing IPM technology.

The Extension Service has helped prevent the westward spread of the destructive boll weevil into the High Plains, a major cotton-growing region. This has been accomplished with a fall spraying program before the weevil reaches the diapause state in which it overwinters. A continuous program since 1964, the effort has resulted in a savings of some $1.9 billion due to reduced insecticide treatments by farmers and increased yields.

Bollworm management strategies in the High Plains also have paid handsome dividends over the years. The bollworm problem has cost producers as much as $30 million annually in control costs and yield losses, but emphasis on field scouting and improved use of insecticides as advocated by the Extension Service has turned the tide. The strategy has provided an annual savings in cotton yield of some 32 pounds per acre over the region valued at about $7.5 million.

In the Rolling Plains where the boll weevil has plagued cotton growers for years, the Extension Service devised a management strategy in 1972 centered around a delayed uniform planting date. All cotton farmers in the region are encouraged to plant around May 20 (about a month later than normal) so that female weevils emerging from overwintering sites by mid-June do not find cotton squares for laying their eggs. Since only a small percentage of the female weevils survive until cotton squares become available, damaging populations seldom develop until late in the growing season. This has kept insecticide use to a minimum and has generally allowed beneficial insects to keep bollworms and tobacco budworms under control.

This delayed uniform planting strategy has resulted in a 25-pound per acre yield increase and a reduction in insecticide, seed and labor costs, leading to an increased annual return of $21.36 per acre -- an economic impact on the Rolling Plains region of some $192 million.

In far West Texas where pink bollworms have been a nemesis to the cotton producer, Extension agents and entomologists have initiated pest management programs focusing on more efficient control techniques while improving environmental quality.

Educational efforts in that region have emphasized the need for farmers to destroy crop residue early to reduce overwintering populations of bollworms. During the growing season, field scouting, pheromone traps and a computer prediction model are all used to determine the need for insecticide applications. Extension staff have encouraged the adoption of a new application technique which has reduced per acre insecticide use 10-fold. In El Paso County alone, this effort saved cotton growers some $750,000 last year. Total savings in crop loss and pesticide application costs over a seven-county area are estimated at $1.7 million for 1985.

Boll weevils nearly devastated the cotton crop in the Rio Grande Valley in 1980. Since that time Extension efforts have focused on encouraging farmers to destroy cotton stalks early to reduce food and habitats for overwintering weevils. This led to a net reduction of eight pesticide applications over a five-year period for a net gain of $48 per acre in insecticide savings last year. At the same time cotton yields have increased 370 pounds per acre. Overall, farmers have realized an increased in gross income of $270 per acre for a total regional impact of some $31 million.

Pest management efforts have helped cotton make a comeback in the Coastal Bend area. Extension IPM programs have emphasized use of short-season varieties and cost-effective pest control that have boosted cotton yields by 200 pounds per acre and decreased insect control costs by about $15 per acre. In one year, savings in insect control costs alone on 170,000 acres amounted to $2.55 million.

"These educational programs in cotton pest management have meant a lot to the Texas cotton industry," points out Zerle L. Carpenter, Extension Service director. "However, such programs will be affected by decreased resources should additional budget cuts at the state level and proposed reductions at the federal level take place. While the Extension Service will continue to focus its efforts on high quality educational programs aimed at meeting the needs of clientele, budget restraints will definitely limit the scope of these programs," Carpenter adds.

This report of a successful educational effort clearly demonstrates that public funding for Extension is an investment which returns economic benefits in excess of funds committed to the Extension system, Carpenter notes.

It's A Boy!

There's a new addition to the Clower family! He's Michael Caleb, and he arrived early Wednesday morning, April 2, at Dallas Park land Hospital. He weighed 6 lbs. and measured 18 1/2 inches long.

His proud parents are Bud and Debbie Clower of Duncanville. Paternal grandparents are Leroy and Gloria West of Benjamin and maternal grandmother is Mrs. Raymond Lloyd of Winters. His great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Clower, also of Benjamin.

He also boasts a bunch of uncles, aunts and cousins who will no doubt do their share in helping to spoil him when given the chance!

CARD OF THANKS

We deeply appreciate all the visits, cards, flowers, phone calls, letters, food and especially the prayers from all our friends while Weldon was in the hospital. What wonderful friends!

May God richly bless you all.

Lovingly,
Weldon & Flora Lee Floyd

Senior Class Dines At Baptist Church

Munday High School seniors were guests of the First Baptist Church for a special supper on April 14. Also attending the supper sponsored by the Baptist women were Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Lowrance, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Donoho and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Decker, representing the school and senior class, and Helen Patterson and Dorothy Brown of the WMU.

Decorations followed a spring-time theme, with butterfly fans, rainbows and balloons festooning the dining room. Tables were covered with pastel cloths and baskets of helium balloons served as centerpiece and favors.

A meal of chicken fried steak, baked potatoes, green beans, salads, hot rolls and homemade ice cream was served. Mike McKinney, a former FBC youth director who now lives in Childress, entertained the group with music and a brief message.
