

Appraiser Discusses Increased Valuations

MOORE AG IS ALMOST READY for production after the six tanks, each weighing 10,000 pounds, were moved behind the retaining wall June 23. It took most of the afternoon to move the tanks with a huge crane. The tanks will be used to begin production of sodium chlorate. The plant is still in the construction process and is one of the final projects before production begins.

Emergency Service Works Likes Family

By Kirsten Bowden

The Knox County Emergency Medical Service in Munday is one of the most intimate groups you might find in town. There are husbands and wives, cousins, aunts, nephews and long-term members that rush to the aid of others in emergencies.

And all of them rescue people for different reasons.

"There was a big need for volunteers and they were offering ECA classes," said Jay Hutchens, volunteer worker, currently enrolled in the police academy.

The 15 certified volunteers and two paid ambulance workers that make up the service work closely together with success, said Joel Greenwood, ambulance coordinator.

"We work together really good as a team," he said.

The ambulance workers are Tommie Crawford, Joel and Deanna Greenwood, Lena Hernandez, Jay Hutchens, Mickey Jackson, Jayson Morgan, Sheila Morgan, Lissa Myers, Traci Ramirez, Dwayne Redder, Jai Reed, Pam Reed, Keith Rogers, Debi Sellers, David Tidwell and Bill Williams.

They are tightly organized with bi-weekly training and business meetings, officers and sign-up schedules, said Lissa Myers, ambulance worker.

There is a reason for the tight unity.

"We reorganized two months ago trying to become incorporated to be eligible for grants," said Deanna Greenwood, secretary/treasurer.

Although memorial donations are often received, the service is trying to replace the 16-year-old ambulance--a much larger expense.

COMMODITIES TO BE DISTRIBUTED JULY 6

The Aspermont Small Business Development Center, Inc. will distribute USDA Surplus Commodities on Tuesday, July 6, from 3 to 4 p.m. at the Munday community center.

Goree and Knox City will also receive commodities on Tuesday.

"It's wore out," said Joel.

Pam Reed, memorial chair, stressed that donations only help buy equipment in Munday, like the heart monitor--they don't go to the hospital.

Pam, a volunteer for 15 years, said fund-raisers have proved successful, raising money to buy both ambulances.

"Every ambulance we made money to purchase ourselves. Our ambulances in Munday are very well-equipped," she said, adding that they are comparable to bigger cities' ambulances.

Mickey Jackson, became a volunteer member 16 years ago because he felt like someone needed to help, he said.

"It grows on you. It's fulfilling knowing you can help somebody," he said. "But I've also gone home and cried many a night."

Volunteers must be certified every four years. Myers said another EMT class should be offered next year.

Officer Discovers Fire At Munday Gin & Seed

What could have been a disaster turned out to be a good samaritan act.

Munday Police Officer Tom Tejeda was making his rounds at approximately 2 a.m. Saturday morning, patrolling the streets and checking that all businesses were secure, when he noticed a bright glow in the front window of Munday Gin and Seed. Upon further investigation, he could see flames going up the window shade.

After calling the fire department for help, Officer Tejeda picked up a small board and broke the window out. "It felt like my younger days of crashing windows!" he said. Then he grabbed a nearby water hose and proceeded to spray the flames.

Bobby Hutchinson, gin manager, arrived at the scene after his wife, Pat, had alerted him after hearing the call to the fire department over the scanner. He unlocked the door and extinguished

Guys And Dolls Golf Tournament Winners Reported

Sixteen teams entered the Lake Creek Guys and Dolls tournament held Sunday, June 27.

Richie and Mary Smith won the Championship Flight with a score of 64. Shooting a 65 for second place was Troy Nuckols and Chris Burnett.

First Flight winners were Gaylon Albus and Kim Scalf, who scored a 70. Bobby Burnett and Jan Wilde shot a 72 for second place.

Richard and Cathy Albus won first place in the Second Flight with a score of 78. Larry Welch and Julie Myers also shot a 78, but placed second following the score card playoff.

A big thank you goes to those that helped make the tournament a success. A special thanks to Sheila Benson and all the ladies who brought food. Alvin Michalik, Terry Bufkin, David Michalik, Gaylon Albus and Daniel Ramirez are commended on the fine job they did of fixing up the clubhouse. Everyone's help is needed in keeping it in good shape.

the rest of the flames.

When the fire department arrived, they checked the area and set up their suction fan in the doorway to draw out the smoke.

The fire was believed to have been started by a short in an oscillating fan, which was sitting on a cabinet next to the window. It toppled over onto a gas heater which was under the window, and then the flames from the fan caught the window shade on fire.

"Thank goodness Tom saw it when he did. If it had been 5 minutes later, the whole corner would have been up in flames," Bobby stated.

When locking up the building after everyone had left, Bobby noticed a footprint on the door, where someone had kicked it, and there was a split in the wood above and below the doorknob. They now believe that someone had tried to break in, but have no further evidence at this time.

Property seemed to be appraised higher this year because it has possibly been undervalued for years, Stanton Brown, chief appraiser, said.

"The appraisal district came into being in 1980. The property hasn't been reappraised since that time," Brown said.

Brown said reappraisals were conducted in 1990, but not by him. He said he developed his own schedules of values and depreciation because the former schedules were outdated.

"All property is supposed to be valued at 100 percent of the market value for taxing purposes," Brown said.

He defined the market value as the point when the buyer and seller know all of the advantages and disadvantages and the property is exposed to the market for a "proper length of time."

Consequently, the reappraisals caused confusion for many homeowners, Brown said. More appraisal notices were sent out than last year (these documents reflect a change in appraised value or ownership).

In addition, almost twice as many protests have been filed to be reviewed by the Appraisal Review Board, a board of citizens appointed by the board of directors of the Appraisal District.

More than 50 protests were filed this year compared to 28 protests last year. Brown said he also receives many questions about the appraisals.

"My job is not to try to make the laws," he said. "Appraisal deals with value--I'm not responsible for taxes."

Brown said the value of a home is determined by the houses around the area. He said the appraised value does not necessarily equal the sales value. Your property value should be the same as similar properties, according to Texas Property Taxes--Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies & Responsibilities.

Brown explained that the Property Tax Division of the State

Comptroller conducted an annual property value study. This study is the basis for the funding of schools and shows the value of the area.

"It tells us what kind of job we're doing," he said.

At any rate, Brown said he doesn't always get complaints.

"A prominent citizen told me 'I think it's a privilege to pay taxes,'" he said.

Brown said that farmers seem to be more satisfied with the annual agricultural appraisals, which are based on the agricultural production.

"Farmland actually went down a little this year," Brown said.

However, Brown said there are more houses than farms and businesses in the area, and everyone is affected by increases--all reasons for more complaints about home appraisals.

Take Precautions During 4th Of July Celebrations

The 4th of July is one of the most highly celebrated of all holidays throughout the United States, and rightly so. This occasion should be remembered and should be celebrated, because of the rights and freedoms that each of us possesses.

We are also reminded this time each year that far too many will not have much to celebrate in this great State of Texas. Trooper Joe Clement of the Texas Department of Public Safety states, "At least 50% of all traffic deaths are alcohol related and during this holiday many people will celebrate by consuming alcoholic beverages. We urge those that drink to plan their celebrations and to always have a sober driver behind the wheel of their automobiles, if the automobiles must be used. For everyone to remember, if you drink, don't drive - if you drive, don't drink. Become a responsible person, if you are going to drink, help us protect you, as well as the other people, on our state streets and highways."

Trooper Joe Clement said, "Remember to obey all traffic laws and to use that little piece of insurance that is lying right beside you, buckle that safety belt. It costs no money and only takes about two seconds to insure yourself."

You are also reminded to be careful with fireworks. Children need to be watched at all times while setting off firecrackers, rockets, Roman candles, etc. There are many fires innocently started this time of year, so be extra careful around dry grass and weeds.

Have a safe and enjoyable holiday!

Trade Plan With Mexico In The Works

The "High Plains Quarter," the informal name for a trade plan between Canada and Mexico was discussed June 24 at a meeting for the Texas Rural Development Council, said Lynn Fitzgerald, Munday Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture manager.

Ron Wilson, director of the Huck Boyd National Institute for Rural Development of Kansas, promoted the idea, along with a group from Manot, North Dakota.

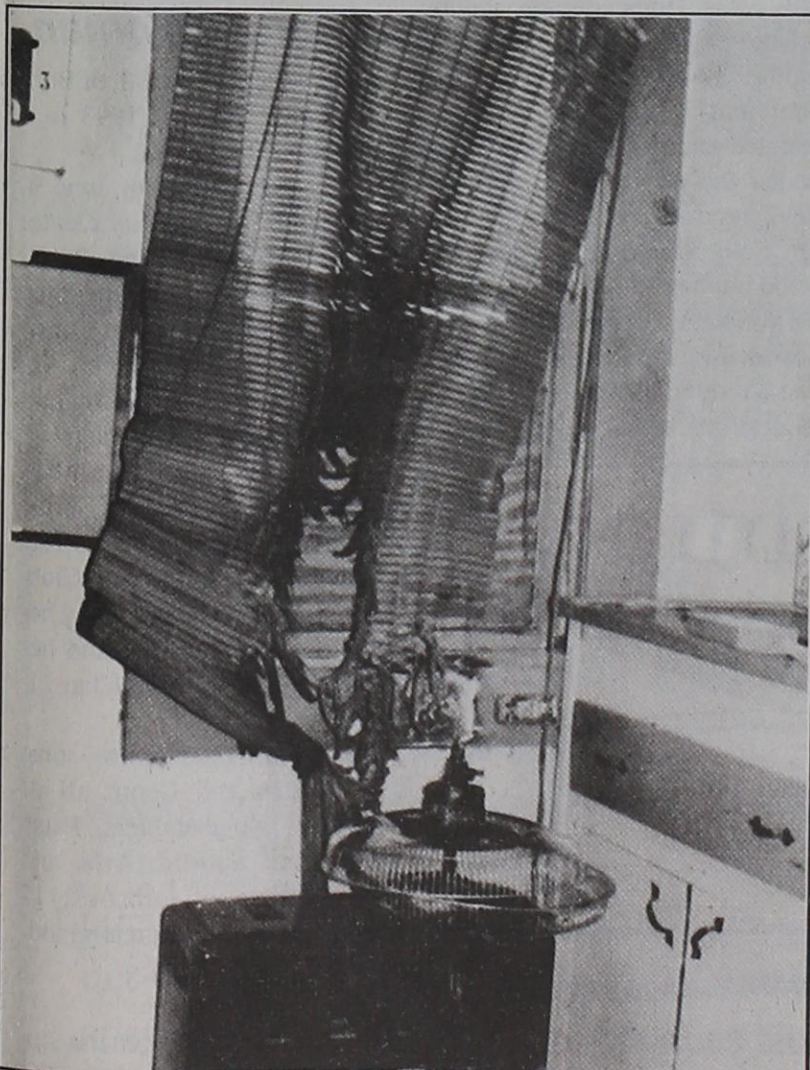

The plan could increase trade, especially processed meat and wheat, between Canada and Mexico through the "Bread Basket" area--from the Dakotas to Texas, Fitzgerald said.

"Whether or not there is a free trade agreement, there will be increased trade with Mexico," she said. "We need to prepare for it."

Fitzgerald stressed that preparation could grant Munday a place in the plan.

"They're going to choose to go in the direction that something is already happening," she said. "We've got to develop something to attract them."

Fitzgerald said 21 groups want the route to come through their areas in Texas. She said factors such as processing facilities, rail and highways will be important.

A SHORT IN AN OSCILLATING FAN is believed to be the cause of a fire at Munday Gin and Seed early Saturday morning, June 26. Luckily Officer Tom Tejeda was driving by and saw the flames. After calling the fire department, he broke the window and put out the blaze with a water hose.

Task Force Identifies Health Care Problems

by Stephen Kuehler

Knox County Hospital Administrator

As we noted last time, the Texas Health Policy Task Force identified four major health care problems in Texas: access to coverage, providers, infrastructure, and cost containment.

This week, we'll look at access to coverage. The Task Force found that Texas shares this problem with most other states. Although Medicare assures access to health care for the vast majority of the elderly, there is no such guarantee for children.

Of the 17 million Texans, about 3 to 4 million are currently uninsured. Of that number, over 1 million are children, or about 35 to 40% of the uninsured population. This is higher than in the United States as a whole.

According to David Smith, MD, Texas State Health Commissioner, "The United States and South Africa are the only developed nations that do not offer basic health care insurance for children."

In addition to this, many more Texans are considered underinsured. Basically, that means that the family would be dealt a crippling financial blow if faced with a major illness or accident. According to the Task Force report, many of the uninsured population comes from employed single and two-parent families who live above the poverty level.

Another part of the problems of access to health care that concerned the Task Force is related to prenatal care. In Texas, 1 in 4 pregnant women currently have no form of health insurance. About one third of Texas women receive no prenatal care during the first three months of pregnancy. Of course, this contributes to low birth weight and infant mortality.

The report states that, from a purely financial perspective, "every $1 spent on prenatal care saves approximately $3 in newborn intensive care costs."

Another aspect of the problem is that Texas ranks 47th among the states in getting back federal tax dollars through Medicaid. In the 1980s, federal and state policies made children's health and maternity care a top priority, but Texas has not aggressively pursued this benefit.

Even Texans with insurance face problems in accessing the system. Private insurance, in many cases, has set higher rates for dependent coverage. Also, traditional insurance has not encouraged their customers to spend any money on preventive services.

Access to health care was one of the gravest concerns of the Task Force. It is a concern shared by the residents of Knox County, who have struggled with these problems for years.

Next week, we'll look at the solutions the Task Force presented for this problem.

MRS. CLINTON MICHAEL LEE
...nee Katherine Louise Kuehler

Kuehler, Lee United Saturday Afternoon

Katherine Louise Kuehler and Clinton Michael Lee were united in a 1:30 p.m. wedding ceremony June 26 at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Wichita Falls. Rev. A. Donlon, chaplain of Bethania Regional Health Care Center, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kuehler of Rhineland. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lee of Holliday.

The sanctuary was decorated with twin candelabras entwined with ivy. A glass-topped brass stand featured the unity candle.

Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Green of Wichita Falls provided vocal selections. They sang Wind Beneath My Wings as the mothers' lit the unity candle escorted by the couples' fathers. They also sang Somewhere Out There and Sunrise/Sunset prior to the ceremony.

As the couple lit the unity candle they sang Just You and I and during the ceremony they sang There Is Love. Mr. Jim Quashnock provided traditional wedding music.

David Kuehler, brother of the bride, was lector.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her parents, wore a shimmering candlelight ivory satin and lace gown which featured a lavishly embroidered high illusion neckline with appliques of lace, iridescents and hanging pearls. The Basque bodice and Gibson sleeves were adorned with pearls, sequins and hanging beads in a Victorian design. The keyhole back, also adorned with pearls and sequins, along with the beaded peplum, complemented the cut-out cathedral train, satin bow and beaded scalloped hem lace.

The bride's double tiered veil of ivory tulle, made by her mother, fell from a band of sea pearls and ivory gypsophila. She carried a bouquet of pink and ivory roses enhanced with ivy, burgundy and ivory gypsophilas and seed pearls. The bride's burgundy rosary was draped in her bouquet.

In keeping with tradition, the bride wore something old--an ivory handkerchief, something new--her dress, something borrowed from her mother--her great great-grandmother's wedding ring and something blue--the traditional blue garter.

Ann Decker of Bryson was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids, also sisters of the bride, were Diedra Peters of Seymour, Jeannette Reeves of Munday and Bernadette Moore of Rhineland.

The bridesmaids wore identical gowns of pink taffeta, featuring a bateau neckline and high-low hemline. The bodice was accented with a self bow in front and a deep V in back. Pink satin shoes completed the ensemble. Each attendant wore pink gypsophila, sweetheart roses and a pink ribbon in her hair and carried a stem of pink roses, ivory gyp and pink seed pearls adorned with ivory ribbon and ivory beads.

Kayla Moore, niece of the bride, and Chris Overman, cousin of the groom, were flower girl and ring bearer. The flower girl wore a pink floral dress and carried an ivory basket of pink and ivory roses. The ring bearer wore a charcoal grey tuxedo matching the grooms.

Marc Fleming of Wichita Falls was best man and groomsmen were Bob McNeil of Dallas and Rick Williams and Rob Diehl of Wichita Falls. Ushers were the bride's brothers, Joey Kuehler of Satanta, Kansas and David Kuehler of Rhineland and the groom's cousin, Darin Robinette.

The groom wore a charcoal grey tuxedo complemented by a grey vest and ivory rose boutonniere. The men in the wedding party were dressed identically to the groom.

and wore pink rose boutonnieres. Mary Jane Kuehler of Munday, sister of the bride, registered guests.

The couple and their parents were hosts for a reception and dance at the Elks Lodge. An ivory cloth overlaid with an ecru crocheted tablecloth covered the bride's table, where the bride's bouquet was reflected on a mirrored surface and was complemented by crystal candleholders and pillar candle holding pink candles. The groom's parents were the hosts for the rehearsal dinner at the church.

The three-tiered wedding cake was flanked on either side with stairs leading to an additional layer. The stairs held miniature groomsmen and bridesmaids. The cake was decorated with pink and mauve roses and topped with a porcelain bride and groom. Appointments were crystal and silver. Serving guests were sisters of the bride, Susan Gulley and Mary Jane Kuehler of Munday, and Denise Kuehler of Abilene.

The groom's table was covered with a grey tablecloth. A round chocolate cake decorated with strawberries, a silver coffee service, belonging to the bride's mother, and silver mint trays adorned the table. Also a wooden train from the groom's childhood accented the table setting. Mary Moyes, cousin of the groom, Teresa Diehl and Lynn McCrary served the guests.

The bride is a graduate of Munday High School and Midwestern State University. She is a member of the American Registry of Radiologic Technologists and the Texas Society of Radiologic Technologists. She is employed in the Bethania radiology department.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Holliday High School and Midwestern State University where he was a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity. He is employed by Bethania in the emergency room. The couple will make their home in Wichita Falls.

Pathways

by Randy White, pastor
First Baptist Church

I read a little statement today that inspired me. It said "The road-way of life is lined with people who said it couldn't be done, watching a small parade of people doing it."

If I could have a nickel for every time I said "It can't be done" and then saw it done... I'd be rich! We all have a tendency to think and believe "It can't be done."

Maybe "it can't be done" is partially true. It can't be done if we won't believe it can. It can't if we won't try. It can't if we won't work with others to get it done. It can't if we won't try some new ways to do it.

But "It can't be done" has been disproven time and time again. They said Mt. Everest couldn't be climbed. It has. They said automobiles would never replace carriages. They have. They said man would never fly. He has. They said it was impossible to put a man on the moon. It wasn't.

This week, don't believe "it can't be done." Instead, join the small parade of people who are finding ways to do what can't be done.

"Lord, I believe I can do, all things through Christ, who gives me strength. Strengthen that belief as I begin to be someone who does what can't be done. Amen."

ANGIE AND APRIL OFFUTT

Spotlight On Knox County... College Splits Best Friends/Twins Apart

By Kirsten Bowden

Distance makes the heart grow fonder, especially when you've always been together.

That's what Angie and April Offutt say. The twins, 1991 graduates of Munday High School, are college students trying to handle being away from each other, besides the amount of studying and responsibility.

"Our first semester was really hard. We'd never been really alone," said Angie, an accounting major at San Angelo State University. "We almost decided to change and come to the same schools."

"It's like a whole new identity. No one knew we were twins--where here it was no big deal," April, who plans to graduate from pharmacy school at Tarleton, added.

To survive, the twins said they talked on the phone "a lot!" to bridge the 3 hour distance, something they still do daily.

During the summer, the twins find time to be together. For the past three years, they have been lifeguards at the City Pool and they pick cantaloupes in July to make money.

The students, who love to shop and sunbathe, say that family is the most important facet to their lives.

"All our family is in Munday," Angie, said. "We think it's about the best place around."

The twins said they were always together while in Munday.

"Mom always says we don't let anyone get close--so there probably are things that people don't know about us," April, salutatorian in high school, said.

Angie, valedictorian of her high school class, is quick to name the differences between them.

"April has been tolerable of me--I'm bossy," she said. "She seems to balance me out."

The 9 month separation each year has worked out for the better, said the twins. They found benefits where before they felt a piece of themselves missing.

"It's brought our friendship closer," April said.

"It's more fun--she has friends and I can come visit," Angie said. "It's made April not have to be so shy!"

Police Report

by Officer Tom Tejada

For the week of June 21 through June 26, five warning citations were issued for speeding; one citation for speeding; and three citations for setting off fireworks in the city limits.

And on that subject, it is against the city's ordinance to set off fireworks in the city limits and on city property, for example the City Lake. Late Sunday evening, Munday's firemen answered a grass fire call at the City Lake. While at the scene, 3 separate bundles of fireworks were found.

We need your help if you were out there. Some of the area golfers witnessed several persons at the lake throughout the evening and some were setting off fireworks. One of the bundles was responsible for the fire getting started, the other two bundles were not. We are only interested in the one. If you were out at the lake, and witnessed someone unsafely setting off fireworks, please get in contact with me. Remember, if you saw them, they saw you, and as a rule, guilty people tend to point fingers at innocent bystanders. Fingerprints were lifted off of the fireworks, but it will take a week to get a return identification on those prints, and that's why I need your help now.

Thompson and Brown Graduate From Texas Tech

Trey Thompson of Munday and Lance Brown of Rhineland, 1988 graduates of Munday High School, recently received their degrees from Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

Trey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Thompson of Munday. He studied Agricultural Systems Management and received a Bachelor of Science degree during the 1993 spring commencement exercises.

Lance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene A. Brown of Rhineland, also studied Agricultural Systems Management and received a Bachelor of Science degree.

Kingston And Risinger Receive Auxiliary Awards

Jay Kingston, a Munday High School graduate and Brandi Risinger, a Knox City-O'Brien High School graduate were each awarded $500 scholarships by the Knox County Hospital Auxiliary during their respective commencement exercises.

The scholarships were presented for the first time this year to students who will be pursuing careers in the medical field, according to Peggy McGaughey, auxiliary president.

Jay is the son of Bill and Sammie Kingston of Chico, former Munday residents.

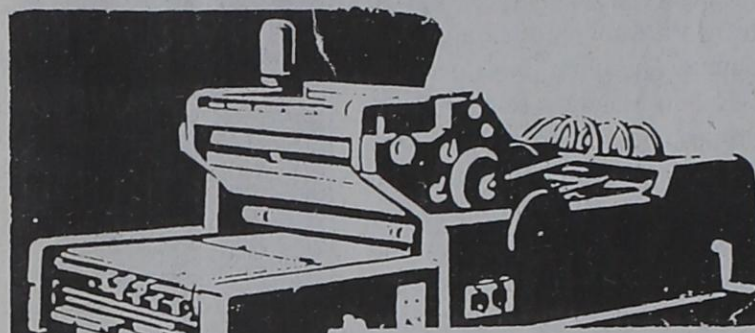

Host Families Sought For Exchange Students

American Host families are being sought for high school students from Western and Eastern Europe, Asia, South America, and Australia for the 1993-94 school year in a program sponsored by the American Intercultural Student Exchange (AISE).

These exceptional students, ages 15 through 18, will arrive in the United States in August, attend a local high school, and return to their home countries in June of 1994. The students, all fluent in English, have been carefully screened by the local representatives in their home countries, and have their own medical insurance and spending money.

Host families may deduct $50 per month for income tax purposes. Call 1-800-SIBLING for a free brochure.

Thank You

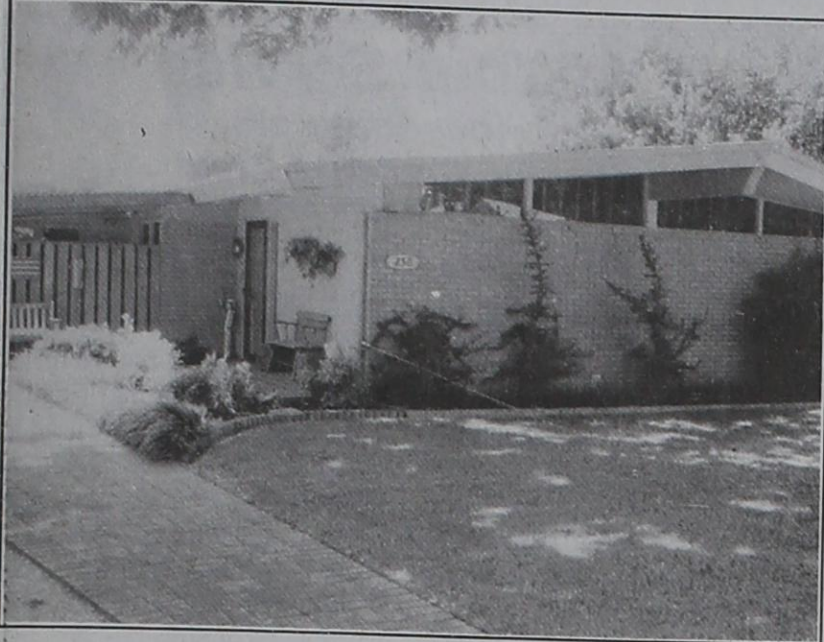

Since Arnold's accident, you have shown your thoughtfulness in so many ways, such as: your many prayers to lift him up, your visits, sending cards, sending pot plants and bringing flowers, mowing our grass, sending tapes to listen to, feeding our dog, watching our house, loaning us books to rest the mind as well as the body, your many kind, encouraging words, and 911's quick response to our call.

"Thank You" are two small words with a world of heartfelt meaning. And we want to say, "Thank you for showing that you care."

After nine weeks in the Wichita Falls Rehabilitation Hospital, Arnold is at home again.

BOTTLES OF ALL COLORS fill the tables and shelves of Roe Allred's home. Allred began painting white bud vases four months ago and now has about 100 individually designed bottles. Each bottle takes him about two hours to paint.

Retiree Adds Color To His Home, Gains Hobby

Four months ago, Munday resident Roe Allred picked up a white bud vase and had an idea.

"One day I picked up a pencil and found all these crooks," he said.

He began decorating bottles, vases and bowls with colorful designs. More than 100 bottles later, Allred said he has found his new hobby since retiring from the plumbing profession last year.

"I love them. I hate to leave them and I think about them when I go away," he said. "They are different than just any other bottle."

Allred said he finds the plain vases at second-hand stores or people give them to him. He starts painting on one side of the vase using watercolors and finishes about two hours later.

"People say they didn't see how I had time to do it," Allred said. "It gets more interesting all the time." Allred said the hobby is becoming a family project. His two-year-old granddaughter, Ariel, has the gift of painting also. He picks up a vase with blue squiggles adorning the white surface.

"My little granddaughter got me on that. She marked all over it and I finished it and made a pretty one," he said.

Allred said he hopes to sell them in town and said he doesn't have a favorite.

"I look at one awhile and then another...I've got some that look like diamonds," he said with pride.

Lala Morgan Celebrates 82nd Birthday

On June 14, Lala Morgan was honored with a special 82nd birthday dinner in the home of Nolan and Ursel Phillips.

The dinner was prepared by Lala's sisters, Ursel Phillips and Irene Carmichael, and her niece, Juana Etheridge. Since the date was also "Flag Day" they used red, white and blue for decorations.

A white lace tablecloth, red and blue place mats, red napkins and white china with red and blue trim were used for the table setting. The centerpiece was red apples and waving flags. The birthday cake was homemade chocolate with white icing and decorated with small flags.

Lala enjoyed many visits, letters, cards, gifts and phone calls throughout the day. She wants to express a big "Thank You" to all for making the day so special.

Lala's daughter and son-in-law, Laquita and Roger Johnson of Alvarado, who were visiting her over the weekend remained for the birthday dinner and celebration on Monday.

Laurence J. Peter

At Your Service

Dr. Larry Fitzgerald
Minister, Church of Christ

Q: Should we say thou, thee and thine when praying to God?

A: The original languages of the Bible are Hebrew, Aramaic and Greek. In all three languages, God is always addressed with the same pronoun as man. For instance, in the Greek New Testament, the same word (soi) is used for God, Christ and man which we can translate either thee or you.

Christ, himself, prayed to God: "I thank soi (thee or you), O Father, Lord of Heaven..." (Matthew 11:25). Christ used the same pronoun when speaking to Peter. He said: "Flesh and blood has not revealed this to soi (thee or you)." (Matthew 16:17). Likewise, Peter used the pronoun directed to Jesus in Matthew 16:22. The reference was not considered a matter of respect or disrespect. Peter simply said you.

Centuries ago, when men started translating the Bible from the original languages into English, thou, thee and thine were used for you, your and yours. Over the years, the previous terms have become archaic and have been replaced by the latter. Thou is no more holier than you. Therefore, thou mayest pray using either term. I prefer the more modern because that is natural for me.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTIFICATION ACUTE VIOLATION

The City of Munday water system collected 1 positive sample during the month of June, 1993, that contained coliform bacteria. Of these, 0 samples contained fecal coliform bacteria.

The City of Munday water system is required to submit a minimum of 3 water samples each month for bacteriological analysis.

The Texas Water Commission sets drinking water standards in Texas and has determined that the presence of fecal coliforms or E. coli are generally not harmful themselves, but their presence in drinking water is serious because they usually are associated with sewage or animal wastes. The presence of these bacteria in drinking water is generally a result of a problem with water treatment or the pipes which distribute the water, and indicates that the water may be contaminated with organisms that can cause disease. Disease symptoms may include diarrhea, cramps, nausea, and possibly jaundice, and associated headaches and fatigue. These symptoms, however, are not just associated with disease-causing organisms in drinking water, but also may be caused by a number of factors other than your drinking water.

The Texas Water Commission has set an enforceable drinking water standard for fecal coliforms and E. coli to reduce the risk of these adverse health effects. Under this standard, all drinking water samples must be free of these bacteria. Drinking water which meets this standard is associated with little or none of this risk and should be considered safe.

The Texas Water Commission recommends that consumers take the following precautions: Water used for drinking, cooking, ice making, etc., should be boiled prior to consumption. The water should be brought to a vigorous boil for at least 3 minutes. In place of boiling the water, you may wish to purchase bottled water for your drinking water purposes until this notice has been rescinded.

If you have questions regarding this matter, you may contact Jim Slayton at 422-4331. 38-2tc

A View From the Hill

GUN CONTROL IS NOT THE ANSWER

Washington, D.C. is where much of our nation's history is made. This is also the city with the highest crime rate in the nation and the strictest gun control laws. If history is being made here, could it be that history is trying to tell us something?

How do we solve the problem of violent crime plaguing our great nation? Gun control is not the answer. The criminals will always find a way to bypass that system. I believe we need stiffer and surer punishment imposed on those convicted of crimes where firearms are used. We have got to be tough and enforce the laws that are already in existence.

It's obvious the criminal justice system isn't enough of a deterrent. Just read the paper or watch the evening news. Take a look at the large number of criminals being released from jail, only to commit another violent crime, many times taking away someone's precious life.

Why isn't jail something that criminals fear? Maybe jail has become the only place where criminals can feel at home. If that's the case, we've got to find a way to improve the penal system so that those who engage in a crime where a firearm is used are appropriately penalized.

While each state makes its own laws concerning the punishment for crimes, I hope Texas and other states will take a look at California's law concerning crimes committed with a firearm. In California, if a person uses a firearm in the commission of a felony, upon being convicted, that person would receive an enhanced jail sentence anywhere from three to five years. So if the normal punishment for that crime was a ten year jail term, the person could be sentenced to fifteen years in prison. The California slogan "Use a gun - go to jail" really has teeth in it.

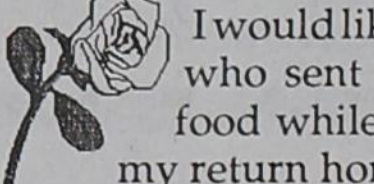

The Brady Handgun Violence Prevention Act is one of several gun control bills that have been introduced in Congress again this year. I plan to oppose that bill along with all other gun control legislation. The Brady Bill would provide for a waiting period before a handgun is purchased, during which a criminal background check would be performed. Ultimately, this type of system would adversely affect only the sportsman, who owns a gun for recreational purposes. The criminals would purchase their firearms illegally, as most of them do already.

Several weeks ago I attended a hearing focusing on the increasing numbers of violent incidents involving children. One of the witnesses was an 18-year old teenager who had once fallen into the wrong crowd. The boy's only constant companion now is his wheelchair. Last summer, one of the teen's friends was killed and he was paralyzed following a drive-by shooting. He is now a member of a group called P.O.W.E.R., or People Opening the World's Eyes to Reality. The group hopes to warn children about the dangers of being involved with violent behavior.

I asked the teen if he had ever owned a gun, and his answer was no. I asked him if he could get one. "Easily", he responded. And then I asked this 18-year old boy, who will spend the rest of his life in a wheelchair, "If we had a gun control law in this country where it was illegal, could you still get a gun?" Without hesitation, this young man answered, "Yes."

Gun control clearly has not worked in the District of Columbia. Every day on the news I hear about another innocent human being whose life has been taken away by an unfeeling criminal with a gun. And we all know guns are not the only weapons used by criminals. Just as many people are injured or killed with knives, hammers, and other objects. So would the killings stop if we outlawed knives and hammers? Let's start channelling our efforts to get at the real root of the problem. We don't need to control the guns, we need to control people who use them for illegal acts. The laws are there, they just need to be enforced.

Many times you hear about band-aid solutions to problems. I believe gun control would be the wrong medicine for the sickness. Instead we should focus our attention on finding a cure for the disease, and I believe the right medicine is enforcing all of our current laws and making sure those convicted receive swift and sure punishment.

I would like to thank my wonderful friends who sent cards, flowers, calls, visits and food while I was in the hospital and since my return home. A special thanks to the local beauticians for taking care of my customers while I was gone. It's great to live in a small town where everyone helps their neighbor.

God bless each of you.

Jellied Product Basics

In order to have good quality jellied products, proper ratio of four main ingredients must be used - fruit, pectin, acid and sugar. Why do we need these four ingredients? Let's look at each ingredient and see why it is important in jellied products.

Fruit provides color and flavors to the jellied product and a part of the pectin and acid needed for a gel. The fruit should be just at the ripe stage for best natural color and flavor.

Pectin is the substance that causes fruit to set. Some fruits have enough natural pectin to make high quality products. Others require active pectin. Pectin of highest quality is found in just ripe fruit. Pectin from under-ripe fruit will not set. It is produced commercially in powder or liquid form. These are not interchangeable in recipes.

Acid is needed both for gel formation and flavor. The acid content varies among fruits and is higher in under-ripe fruits. When fruits are low in acid, lemon juice or citric acid may be used.

Sugar must be present in the proper proportion with pectin and acid to make a good gel. Sugar is the preservative for the product, preventing growth of micro-organisms. Granulated white sugar is usually used in jellied products.

Do not substitute brown sugar, sorghum, or molasses because these tend to over-power the flavor of the fruit.

Here are a few tips to remember when preparing jellied products:

- Use a large sauce pan because jellies tend to boil over.

- Use a jelly, candy or deep fat thermometer to determine doneness in jellied products without added pectin.

- Use a boiling water bath canner to process all fruit spreads.

- Do Not double recipes to cut down preparation time. Often times the product will not gel properly.

- It is best to use 1/2 pint jars unless the recipe specifies a different size.

- Be sure to make adjustments in processing times if altitude is above sea level. Add one minute for every 1000 feet of additional altitude.

- Do not move jellies for at least 12 hours after they are made. Check the seal, remove the screwband, label and store in a cool, dry, dark place.

More information is available on extracting juice from fruit, making jelly without added pectin, testing for doneness, and making jelly with added pectin. Recipes for low sugar products are also available. Contact Jane Rowan at the Extension office for more information, 454-2651.

Roys, Tidwell Wed Saturday In Plano

The West Plano Presbyterian Church was the setting for the uniting of Lianne Grace Roys and Joe Douglas Tidwell Jr. The 5 p.m. ceremony was held Saturday, June 26, 1993, in Plano. Dr. Wes Lackey, minister, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Sharon L. Roys and Frank B. Roys of California, and the granddaughter of Frank and Laura Roys of Maryland, and Robert Haycock of Pennsylvania.

The groom is the son of Joe and Claudia Tidwell of Munday, and the grandson of Vera (Bill) Tidwell of Knox City.

Wedding vows were repeated in front of a brass candelabra decorated with greenery. Antique white wicker baskets holding fresh jewel-tone wildflowers were placed on each side of the altar. Church pews were marked with hurricane lamps and greenery.

The bride was escorted down the aisle by her father. She wore a bright white wedding gown with a V neckline and short puffed sleeves edged in pearls. The dress featured a dropped waistline and a row of tiny pearl buttons down the back. She wore a gold heart-shaped necklace with a diamond cluster, a Valentine gift from the groom. Her bridal bouquet was made of white and jewel-tone wildflowers.

Wedding music was provided by Jan Worden-Lackey, organist; Laura Logan, harpist; and Joyce Foster, soloist.

Shuvawn O'Brien, best friend of the bride, was Maid of Honor. Bridesmaids were Megan Roys, sister of the bride, and Andrea Thomas, Nicole O'Sullivan and Melissa Miller, friends of the bride. They wore claret pink tea-length suits with straight skirts and fitted jackets.

Serving as Best Man was David Tidwell, brother of the groom. Groomsmen were James Tidwell, brother of the groom, and Michael Waggoner, Brandon Saffel and Joel Eldridge, all friends of the groom. Ushers were Michael Johnson, Troy Davis, Harper

Stewart and Jeffrey Robertson.

The male attendants wore black tuxedos, and the groom was attired in a black tuxedo with tails, and a white vest and bow tie.

Guestbook attendant and candlelighter was Danielle Roys, sister of the bride. Erin Tidwell, niece of the groom, was flower girl, and the bride's sister, Bre Roys, helped with the bridal train.

Diana Wiedman, friend of the bride, was wedding coordinator.

A reception was held at Prestonwood Country Club, where a buffet awaited the wedding party and guests.

The bride's table held a three-tier white chocolate wedding cake with fresh flowers cascading to a silver candelabra.

The groom's chocolate cake had the Texas Tech symbol on top, and scrolled T's around the sides.

Following their honeymoon in Alberta, Canada, they will return to Lubbock and attend Texas Tech University during the Fall semester. After graduating in December, they will make their home in Munday.

Lianne is a 1989 graduate of Plano High School. She is a senior English major at Texas Tech, with a double minor in Spanish and Education.
