by Cynthia White

Mr. Bain was terribly overweight, so his doctor put him on a diet. "I want you to eat regularly for 2 days, then skip a day, and repeat this procedure for 2 weeks. The next time I see you, you'll have lost at least 5 pounds."

When Mr. Bain returned, he shocked the doctor by losing nearly 20 pounds.

"Why, that's amazing!" the doctor said, "Did you follow my instructions?"

Mr. Bain nodded. "I'll tell you though, I thought I was going to drop dead that 3rd day."

"From hunger, you mean?"

"No, from skipping."

Other cultures have ways of wording things that do seem rather odd to those of us in the good 'ole U.S. of A. Here are some odd signs from England.

IN A LONDON DEPARTMENT STORE: Bargain Basement Upstairs.

OUTSIDE A SECOND HAND SHOP: We exchange anything - bicycles, washing machines etc. Why not bring your wife along and get a wonderful bargain.

NOTICE IN A DRY CLEANER'S WINDOW: Anyone leaving their garments here for more than 30 days will be disposed of.

NOTICE IN A FIELD: The farmer allows walkers to cross the field for free, but the bull charges.

IN AN OFFICE: Would the person who took the step ladder yesterday please bring it back or further steps will be taken.

MESSAGE ON A LEAFLET: If you cannot read, this leaflet will tell you how to get lessons.

A first grade teacher collected old, well known proverbs. She gave each child in her class the first half of a proverb, and had them come up with the rest. Here are some of them.

As you shall make your bed so shall you...mess it up.

Better to be safe than...punch a 5th grader.

Strike while the...bug is close.

Don't bite the hand that...looks dirty.

If you lie down with the dogs, you'll...stink in the morning.

Two's company, three's...the musketeers.

The following sign was spotted at a high school where sports are VERY popular: HELP WANTED: Every athletic team should have a man who plays every position, never makes an error, and knows just what the opposition is planning...but so far there's been no way to get him to put down his popcorn and coke to come down out of the stands!!

Homecoming

By: Angela Cuba, Age 10 (granddaughter of Billy Jake and Dot Myers)

Homecoming is a place, where people come together, to sit around and talk about more than the weather.

Homecoming brings back stories from your long ago years.

Stories about joys, stories about fears.

You remember seeing from a long time ago, like the teacher you love, and the people you know.

The cheerleaders and twirlers were skinny, but that was before now some of them can't even fit through the gym doors.

The high school beaux, the good looking guys, those once muscular hunks you should see their thighs.

You dress real good, you dress your best, trying to be better than all the rest.

But when you meet your friends, the fun never ends.

If your memory goes back a while, it will bring a big smile.

These memories come from your heart with all of them you will never part.

Homecoming is a lot of fun, why don't you come?

Come to homecoming, and have a good time. (Just like the years when you were in your primes.)

METER TAMPERING NOW A FELONY

The State of Texas has recently adopted an amendment to the State Penal Code making meter tampering a third degree felony. A third degree felony comes with a punishment of confinement in the Texas Department of Corrections for a term of not more than 10 or less than 2 years. In addition to imprisonment, an individual adjudged guilty of a third degree felony may be punished by a fine not to exceed $5,000.

Before the amendment of the new law, it was a class A misdemeanor for meter tampering unless the loss of service was more than $200. Under the new law, any meter tampering regardless of the amount of loss is now a felony of the third degree.

Meter tampering consists of, but is not limited to:

- (1) Diverting electricity from passing through a meter device.
- (2) Preventing electric service from being correctly registered by a meter device.
- (3) Unauthorized activation of electric service.

As a special note to our members, it will also be considered meter tampering if a meter is reset and electrical service is restored by anyone other than a Cooperative employee.

All Cooperative meters are sealed. This seal should not be cut or broken without special authorization. In cases where the seal must be cut for emergencies, the Cooperative should be notified as soon as possible so that the meter can be resealed.

Truscott-Gilliland News

by Mrs. Clara Brown

Becky Smith, daughter of Ken and Tracy Smith, represented the Crowell School in the Scripps-Howard Spelling Bee at Wichita Falls Saturday, March 28, 1998. It was the 14th Scripps-Howard annual bee. Congratulations go to Becky for making it through the fourth round.

It takes hard work and the whole family to get ready for this contest as the study list has words you may never have heard of, with pronunciations to match. Becky was accompanied to Wichita Falls by her family. This is one of those contests where you are a winner if you just get ready to enter. We're proud of you, Becky!

Frances Cook and Sybil Simmons attended a funeral at Vera Sunday afternoon, March 29, 1998, for the sister of John Kinnibrugh, Marie Coffman. Mrs. Coffman lived at Stanton, Texas but was a former Vera resident.

Services were held at the Vera Baptist Church with burial in the Vera Cemetery.

The Derrell Hords went to Childress Sunday to shop.

Justin Horne celebrated his 18th birthday Saturday with his parents, Tim and Barbara Horne; brother, Clint Horne; and grandfather, Jack Horne. Justin is a senior at Benjamin High School.

Barbara and Tim Horne were in Wichita Falls, Thursday, March 26, on business.

Frances Cook returned Wednesday, March 25, from a trip to Kerrville and the Hill Country with her daughter and son-in-law, Kay and Terry Sanner of McKenny. They dropped her off in Mesquite for a few days visit with son Phil and Fred Cook before she returned home.

Frances said they saw a replica of Stonehenge west of Kerrville, visited some game preserves, saw Luckenbach, saw lots of wild grape hyacinth, visited a wild plant seed farm, and enjoyed poking around in many antique stores.

Lula Baty reports that her brother, George Scott of Crowell, entered Bethania Hospital at Wichita Falls Saturday, March 28, but seemed to be doing much better Sunday.

Farah Looney, a junior at Abilene Christian University, visited Friday to Sunday in the home of her grandparents, Newell and June Looney, her father, Lee Looney of Lubbock, came Saturday to see her.

Emily Gray of Vernon also visited her Looney grandparents Friday to Sunday. Sunday afternoon her mother, Kay Gray, and Mike Hardage came after her.

Don't forget, there will be another community pot luck dinner at noon, Sunday, April 19. We'll have a report on the roof from the insurance adjuster then.

Local News

Dennis and Judy Morgan visited his mother, Lala Morgan over the weekend. They came up on a Saturday afternoon. After a rest and visiting, they took her shopping down town then they drove out to the cemetery where Judy put flowers on her fathers' grave and her uncle and aunts graves.

Saturday was a super day. Elaina and Cody Reece came to visit a little while.

Sunday morning Dennis took Lala to church then they went to see Dennis' brothers Melton and Gerald Morgan. After lunch they left for home and stopped in Haskell to visit with some of Judy's aunts and uncles.

CORRECTION:

Texas wouldn't be Texas without the cattle industry

by Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry

Cattle production is so intertwined with Texas history, values and economics, it's impossible to imagine the state without its ranches and feedlots. Raising beef cattle is a business and a way of life that helped mold the Lone Star State and bestow its identity. What's more, it is at the core of the Texas mystique, which gives our state its unique image in the minds of people around the globe. Historian T.R. Fehrenbach in his book, Lone Star, says it better than I can: "Here in Texas...something evolved that burned its image like a smoking cattle brand into the consciousness not only of North America but the whole world. A handful of border Texans, adapting to the realities of their time and place, began what was always essentially a small business but they conducted it with a...magnificence equaled nowhere. They exploded not a business, but a new way of life, across the entire North American West...They stamped a memory into America, and the world, that refused to die.

Say Texas anywhere, and people answer cowboy."

That's true from Paris to Hong Kong, from London to Beijing. The Texas mystique - with roots in 19th century cattle drives - has captured the world's imagination.

Without the Texas cattle industry, the legends of the Old West that are our heritage - Loving and Goodnight, the Chisholm Trail, the XIT - would not exist. Even the intense commitment to private property rights we Texans feel grew from the period when the cattle range was fenced.

Cattle production and marketing, of course, are more than mystique. The industry may be less colorful than it was 100 years ago, but it is even more important to the state's fiscal health. With some 14.3 million head of cattle and calves and more than 2.8 million feeder cattle, Texas leads the nation in cattle production and feeding. Without beef cattle, our economy would suffer a significant blow. Agricultural cash receipts would dwindle by nearly half, and Texas would lose its ranking as the country's second-leading agricultural state. Cattle actually add more to the state's economy than natural gas production. In 1995 in cash receipts for cattle and calves hit $6.3 billion, natural gas production was valued at $5.6 billion.

Texas A&M University estimates that cattle production and feeding generate $15 billion to $16 billion a year within the state's economy. These figures do not include the transportation, handling and retail sales of beef. Add those numbers in, and cattle's economic impact skyrockets. The National Cattlemen's Beef Association calculates that for every dollar generated by sales of cattle and calves $4 circulates within the economy. That means cattle sales worth $6 billion total $24 billion in economic impact to Texas.

Cattle also influence other types

Harmon Cable adds new programming to line-up, May 1st

Harmon Cable Communications recently announced the replacement of MOR Music with VH1 due to unexpected programming changes. The local telecommunications company is upgrading its music programming to include VH1 due to MOR Music's change of format to a shopping channel. Beginning May 1st, Harmon Cable's Munday customers will be able to receive VH1 on channel 33 in full stereo.

VH1, channel 33, is a music based entertainment and information channel which exposes its core audience to the evolution of contemporary music culture. Virtually everything seen on VH1 is driven by music and enhanced by other music related entertainment. With videos and concerts by the biggest stars and newest faces, artists new, reviews and more, VH1 has it all. Artist of the Month, stunts and specials have also become a large part of VH1's programming to keep viewers in touch with today's music.

THANK YOU FOR READING THE MUNDAY COURIER

of ag production. If it weren't for cattle feeding, growers on the High Plains probably would not raise corn. Some 65 to 70 percent of Texas corn production takes place in the Panhandle, and 90 percent of it goes to feed cattle.

From the ranch to the slaughtering facility, beef cattle pump billions of dollars into our state and provide thousands of jobs. They also contribute another invaluable service - converting native grass into high quality protein. Of 157 million agricultural acres in Texas, 111 million are used to graze cattle, other livestock and as habitat for game animals. Cattle harvest grass from rough, arid land unfit for plows and cropping. When well managed, these herds become a tool that helps the land capture rainwater and replenish the state's aquifers.

It's hard to imagine what Texas - and Texas agriculture - would do if we had no cattle industry. Texas depends on cattle for jobs, a healthy economy and for a legacy that helps past. Say Texas, think cattle - a partnership that will continue into the 21st century.

Don't forget...
your taxes
credit unions.

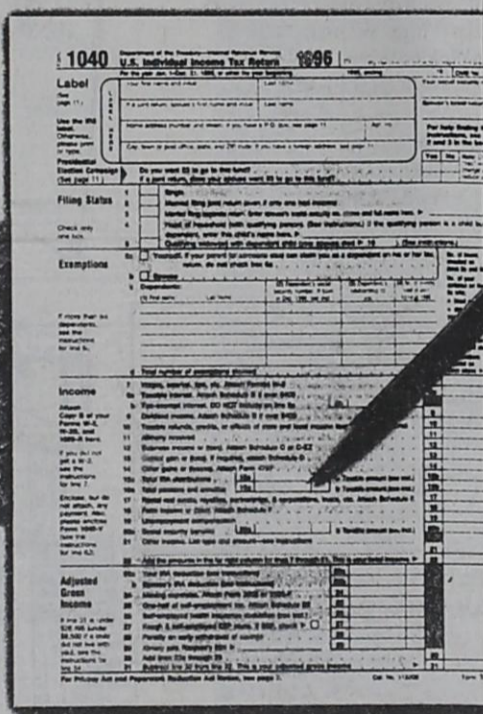

That's right. Each year, you and your fellow taxpayers pay nearly a $1 billion subsidy for credit unions. That may have made sense years ago, when credit unions were small and served only a narrowly defined group of members with limited financial means, like employees of the same company. But take a look at credit unions today:

Not all credit unions are small. The AT&T Family Credit Union, which operates in 50 states, is larger than 90 percent of the country's depository institutions which are not subsidized.

Not all credit union members are of "small means." The average credit union member has a household income 18 percent higher than the average US household, according to the Credit Union National Association.

Not all credit unions limit service to a defined group. The average credit union now serves 21 groups instead of just one; Eastern Airlines' credit union boasts nearly 1000 different groups!

While many credit unions no longer operate like credit unions — despite a recent federal court ruling compelling them to do so — they still want credit union benefits, like exemptions from taxes.

Shouldn't your taxes only subsidize credit unions that operate like credit unions?

TONY CUNIFF, BLAKE BEALL AND BRIAN URBANCZYK are preparing their roles for the area competition of Munday High School's one act play. The competition will be held in Munday on Thursday, April 9 with Munday High School taking the stage at approximately 5:30.

"Nevermore"

competition was Mr. Louis Munoz of McAllen, Texas. Mr. Munoz is the Vice President of a production company that has been honored with the awarding of several "addies," the advertising version of the Emmy Awards. He is also responsible for the filming of music star Selena's last video. He is past president of the Texas Educational Theatre Association and was selected for the Founder's Award - the highest honor bestowed upon members of that association.

Mr. Munoz credited the Munday students with a tight ensemble. He said he was impressed and surprised with the ending and called the Munday group "David Copperfield's who presented on complete package."

The cast and crew members of "Nevermore" will be diligently working on their production for the next week due to an opening in the main character role of Edgar Allan Poe. Tony Cuniff will be filling the part that has been vacated by Wes Stein. Cuniff and the other students are determined to go further with the production and they are confident that they will indeed be ready for the area competition which will be staged at Munday High School on Thursday, April 9. Munday will perform at approximately 5:30. The public is allowed to view the competition but the doors are not allowed to be opened during the staging of each school's presentation and it is advised that the audience remain quiet and in their seats during each performance.

Congratulations are in order for all students and their instructors who are involved in the endeavor and to those who have been presented with wonderful awards and honors. The community is proud of each one.

The geographic center of the continental U.S. is in north-central Kansas, near the village of Lebanon.

SURPASSING THEIR SIX FLAGS GOAL of 600 minutes in six weeks are (from left) Adrian Garcia - grade 4, Jorge DeHaro - grade 6, Ashley Hernandez - grade 5, and Sam Pierce - grade 3. These students are now members of the Read to Succeed program sponsored by Six Flags, Inc. and top minute earners in their class. They will receive a free ticket to any Six Flags theme park. They are the children of Hilda Aguilar, Jorge and Mary DeHaro, Mike and Lena Hernandez and Corey and Donette Pierce, respectively.
