Middlemen and Grain Exchanges Will Be Regulated and Trading in Fu-tures to Be Eliminated

Washington-The food administra tion has announced its plan for con trolling wheat, flour and bread, re realing that the government is pre-pared to take over the whole 1917 wheat harvest, if necessary, to conserve the supply, obtain just prices for America's fighting forces and their allies and reduce costs to the reneral public in the United States. Establishing of buying agencies al til the principal terminals, licensing of elevators and mills, fixing of a price to be considered fair, regula tion of the middleman and of grain exchanges, with the elimination of trading in futures, are the chief fea-tures of the plan. The licensing will begin Sept. 1.

The minimum price of $2 for wheat fixed by congress does not become until next year, but the adeffective ministration proposes to exercise very thorough control over this year's trop, through powers conferred under the food and export control bills.

There are two methods of designing a house so that it will have sufficient capacity to meet the needs for which it is required. One method is to proportion the size of and number of rooms to the special requirements of the case. The other is to utilize certain of the space for two or more purposes and thus obtain the same results with a lesser actual floor area. Home equipment designed for the purpose of sav-ing space has been and is being developed with success because of the fact that its need is urgent, calling forth the efforts of exceptionally ingenious men to meet the need.

Suppose, for instance, we consider how it may be possible to realize the same utility out of a house of three rooms which might be expected of a house of five rooms. Naturally, this requires that two of the rooms in our three-room house be so constructed and equipped that each will success-fully provide every useful quality of the corresponding room which has stores and fruiterers or consigned to commission dealers. One grower put practically his entire crop in half-bushel peach baskets which were handled by a commission dealer. He used 3.500 baskets, which sold at 75 cents to $1 each. The results in each instance were generally profitable and satisfactory.

GETTING APPLES TO MARKET

Several Eastern apple growers were

satisfactory. Several styles, types and sizes of packages were employed. Some used cartons holding 12 or 15 apples in individual compartments, like egg boxes. One big grower used a similar type of box holding either 50 or 100 fruit. These are made with compartments of four sizes and are especially adapted to supply fruiterers with fancy apples, peaches, etc. Apples were shipped suc-cessfully in them from Massachusetts to California to California.

A popular family package is one folding a peck of fruit. A western Massachusetts grower used many of them and sold them at 50 cents direct to retailers who got 65 cents for the same. He supplied them daily as peeded making delivaries each more needed, making deliveries each morn-ing and taking orders to be packed and filled the next day. In this way there was no shrinkage or loss for the retailer to stand.

FENCE COMING INTO ITS OWN

Discarded From One End of Country to Other, It Is Now Being Revived in Many Suburban Colonies.

The great American fence is coming

Time was when every home every-where gained a sense of seclusion with the aid of post, picket or paling, but in recent years these have been con-verted into firewood from one end of the country to the other. Suburban development and the broadcasting of the "home beautiful" idea had much to do the evolution.

to do the evolution. In nine cases in ten the change was for the better. The fence had deteri-orated. From a work of art, in many instances designed by the architect of the home it inclosed, it became a mat-ter of unsightly "pickets," and finally a solid, forbidding, ugly affair of boards, often unrelieved by any effort at decoration whatever.

at decoration whatever. A new interest in the fence, how-ever, is developing. It is manifest in many famous suburban colonies in the North, it has spread westward to wage war with the universal hedge. The revival grows out of the fact that few appreciated the decorative possibilities of the fence. The white-washed array of nickets, the forbid-washed array of pickets, the forbid-ding hideousness of the vertical rows of knotted boards, the equal unloveliness of iron spikes were not represen tative of the idea. They were a de generation born of an era of utilitarifence rejuvenation has nothing to do with either type. And yet the fence that is coming into its own again is

These are merely suggestions. The subject, discussed in all its phases, would fill an encyclopedia. Some very helpful books have been written for persons interested in flowers, and for a detailed knowledge of the subject, as well as for specific instructions and suggestions, one can with profit turn to these works for guidance and for avoidance of needless mistakes—and the beginner in gardening will make blunders enough, at best.

There are two subordinate commissioned officers—the first and ments in the squad as a unit, for it would be impossible to explain to the company as a whole the details of a company movement which is based a collective squad movement, un ess the squad movement itself were first comprehended. HARVEST WAR CROP OF APPLES SHORTLY Will Equal Two Bushels for lt

Every Man, Woman and Child in the Land.

Motto This Year Is "Eat an Apple and Send a Biscuit"-Unusual Need For Handling Crop-May Be

Short of Help.

The United States is about to har vest its great war crop of apples. It equals two bushels to every man, wom an and child in the country. In order to send as much staple food as possible to our fighting allies, Americans are urged to use as many apples as possible. The motto this year is: "Eat an apple and send a biscuit."

War conditions also confront the apple growers, for there is a scarcity of pickers, and careful preparations must now be made to see that this crop is all safely harvested and put into storage. Now is the time to be gin organizing picking crews in every apple growing section. A survey of the situation shows that the farmer will need co-operation from business men in the towns and cities round about at which he trades, and which have just as great an interest in this crop as the farmer himself. This is emergency organization work to be taken up immediately by chambers of commerce, boards of trade, state and county councils of defense, and busimen generally.

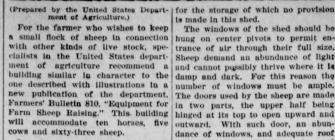

The labor supply to harvest this crop exists right in the cities adjacent to the apple orchards in most cases but the draft and demands of fac-tories and railroads for labor have disturbed the normal supply of work ers upon which the farmer usually draws, and it is necessary to recruit new kinds of workers. People who have never regarded themselves as ap-ple pickers may this year be asked to go to the orchards and help get in the crop for patriotic reasons

The organization work should take he form of an immediate survey of the labor resources to see where a picking force is to be recruited. Stores and factories can often release clerks and workmen for this service if notified in time. Families who would like a week or two of vacation in the country with light, healthy outdoor work at satisfactory wages, may also be induced to join the picking army. It has been suggested that the schools might be open ed later this year so that boys and girls can be sent to the orchards, but this will not be necessary in all cases. One very good source of pickers can be found among the women's organiza-tions of this country.

Much is heard about the scarcity of labor, but there is not as great a scar city as most people imagine. Workers upon whom the farmer depends in ordinary times have simply been shifted into other occupations, and war condi-tions demand that business men step in, locate other classes of workers who can be shifted to the orchards for this emergency and see that the farmer has plenty of help.

The principles of careful fruit picking are very simple, and easily under-stood. If the farmer can start with two or three experienced pickers and spend a little time explaining good picking methods to his volunteers he should get excellent results, for these volunteers, while new to the work, will also be people of good average intelli-gence, and the war emergency will appeal to their interest so that they will be more than ready to help harvest the crop skillfully.

Apple growers are advised to get in buch with the business organizations in their nearest town, ask that help be given in securing pickers and rep the number of pickers needed by the selves. One of the greatest difficul ties in organizing harvest hands for any crop is that of gathering accurate information as to how many helpers needed on each far For lack of such informa tion it very often happens that one township will be handicapped because it is without sufficient helpers and a township twenty-five or thirty miles away will have a surplus of workers. By ascertaining in advance just how many workers will be needed in each locality, business organizations will be able to recruit a sufficient force and there will be neither scarcity nor surplus in any section. This year's apple crop calls for special methods of handling. The size of the crop makes it necessary to send the crop makes it necessary to send only the first-class fruit to market and to see that All seconds and culls are sold in bulk around home or worked up into by-products. There must be great care to see that apples are not exposed to the heat or outdoors a picking, but are properly housed utdoors after temporary storage places on the farm The scarcity of and carefully cooled. pickers will probably make it neces sary to pick and house the crop first and grade and pack it afterwards. Full directions for handling the fruit will be published later. The great big task immediately ahead is that of securing a picking ahead is that of securing a picking force, and in this work the business man and the farmer are co-operating to an extent never known before. This is a war crop. It will be harvested with a war organization.

In order that the different kinds of stock may not disturb each other and to prevent drafts, the quarters for the horses, cattle and sheep are parti-tioned off. The cow stable is celled on the inside of the study to make it warmer and to provide a smooth sur-face which will not collect dust. The rest of the barn has a single wall. FINDING THE BOOK OF THE LAW. LESSON TEXT-II Chronicles 34:14-33. GOLDEN TEXT-I will not forget thy

The Book of the Law Found (vv. 14-17). I. The occasion (v. 14). It was found while the work of repairing the temple was going on. At what part in the temple we do not know; perhaps in the treasure house, for it was found while bringing out the money to pay for the repairs. Perhaps this was in or near the ark, for the law was usually kept in or by the ark.

2. By whom (v. 14). Hilkiah, the high priest, was the finder. It is strange that the high priest was ignorant of the place where the law was found. It is a sad comment upon the moral and spiritual condition of priests and kings, since they were appointed guardians of God's law. It is, however, always true that when one does not want to have his life ordered by the Bible he will put it out of his sight. The disappearance of the Bible from our homes, and the neglect of it in our study, is a certain sign of evil in our lives. Be assured, however, that though the law of the Lord be removed lives from our sight it shall sooner or later come before us to judge us. God has declared that his Word shall not return anto him void, but shall accomplish that whereunto it hath been sent. 3. Its disposition (v. 16). Hilkiah gave the law to Shaphan the scribe, who delivered it to the king along with his report as to the disposition of the money which had been collected. II. The Book of the Law Read (vv. 18, 29, 30). 1. To the king (v. 18).

This was a most impressive scene, the king listening to the reading of the law of God. It was the proper thing to do, for those appointed by God to rule over the people should be anxious to know the will of God concerning them. The pious king, believing in it as God's Word, was anxious to know God's thought concerning the nation. His interest became intense, as he was made conscious of the apostasy of his people from God's law. His chief anxi-ety was to know what was God's purpose as to the nation in view of their idolatry. It is a sensible thing to make oneself intelligent as to his responsibilities, even to know what judgments shall befall those who have turned from God. One should know the worst while there is time yet to escape his wrath, for repentance is the only door of escape from perdition.

2. To the people (vv. 29, 30). At the direction of the king the priests, elders and all the people were called together to hear God's Word read. This was as it ever should be. People have a right to hear what God has to say to them as well as the king. To keep the people ignorant of the Word of the Lord is a great crime. The crying need of the age, with all its boasted knowledge, fine objustic acquirment and collowed pinis church equipment and cultured minis-try, is for the Word of God to be brought to the ears of the people. III. The Effect of the Reading of the Law. (vv. 20-28; 31-33). When God's Word is intelligently read and under-stood there is bound to be an impres-

1. The king rent his clothes (v. 19). The man who will hopestly listen to the reading of God's Word will be brought to his knees, for he will be con victed of sin, and will take the place of self-abasement before the Lord. The king first saw his own sins and confessed them. It is a good sign when one sees his own shortcomings and failures, and not primarily those of Feeding From Dirty Pails or Giving ns Unhardened Stomachs Cannot Properly Digest.

Those who raise young calves by hand know that scours is one of the greatest, if not - greatest, source Dr. C. C. L.pp. veterinarian loss. at the South Dakota college. feeding from dirty pails, or feeding rations the unhardened stomachs of the young calves cannot digest. the two main causes from which this trouble may arise.

The milk pails cannot be kept too clean. Scrupulous care must be ob-served if the feed pails are not to be the source of scours. Washing after each feeding with cold water is not enough; a thorough scalding at least once a day is essential and exposure to bright sunlight on every clear day will not come amiss. Bacteria are little things, but the way they live and multiply is remarkable, and the damage they can do when they get started assumes mighty proportions.

When the feed is hard to digest and the first evidence of stomach disorders appear, a dose of physic is the best cure. A few tablespoonfuls of castor oil or an equal amount of salts will remove the offending food and restore the system to working order again.

A 40 per cent solution of formalde-hyde has also been found to be an effective preventive of scours. One tablespoonful of formalin is diluted in one pint of water. A spoonful or two of the solution may then be added to the calf's milk as many times a day and as long as conditions demand.

A very good method to cure a cow from kicking and to teach her to stand still while milking is to fasten a 2-by-4 timber securely to the floor and cell-ing just back of the cow, then have a good, strong strap, with a buckle, pass around her hind right leg and then around the 2-by-4 and draw up tight and buckle it. Drive a spike in the 2-by-4 part way to keep the strap from slipping down when the cow struggles to get her leg free.

er there is not a way of escape. Alongside of the flaming, thundering Sinal was placed the Levitical system of offerings. Law and grace are not far removed. The law becomes our schoolmaster to bring us to Christ. Through Huldah the message came that God had taken account of all their sins and that judgment must fall, but Josiah would be spared the sight of all God's that visitation of wrath. The penitence of the king turned aside God's wrath from himself, but the nation would be obliged to suffer for its awful apostasy 3. The king made a covenant (vv. 31, 32). This was to the effect that he would walk in the commandments of the Lord. He also made the people stand to this covenant. He no doubt acted from the sincerity of his heart. 4. Further reforms (v. 33). Josiah now reached out as far as the national boundaries, took away their abomina-tions and made Israel to serve the Lord their God. The fact that the book of the law was found implies that it had been lost. The way it had been lost is not definitely set forth, but nulost is not definitely set forth, but hu-merous ways may be suggested. The Bible is a lost book to many professing Christians today, maybe through lack of interest in it, willful neglect or ner-lect through the stress of life's busi ness and pleasures.
