Mrs. Baker Is Red Cross Roll Call Chairman

Annual Roll Call Set at November 11th to November 30th

Mrs. P. B. Baker has been named as the Red Cross Roll Call chairman in Munday this year.

The annual membership drive will begin in Armistice Day, November 11th, and will continue through November 30th, it was announced. These dates have been set aside at the National Red Cross roll call dates for a number of years.

"The Red Cross feels the need of an increased membership this year," Mrs. Baker said, "in order to carry on its work of supplying assistance in times of calamities over the nation, and every adult person in Knox county is urged to join during the 1939 roll call."

Mrs. Baker is preparing a campaign which will give every individual an opportunity to become a member of the American Red Cross.

Knox Co. Pioneers Hold Jubilee Reunion Thursday

About 60 Of Pioneers Hold Picnic at Old Oxford Place

The second annual celebration of the Golden Jubilee of Knox County Pioneers was held last Thursday September 7, at the "Old Oxford Place," north of Rhineland, on the Brazos river.

Around sixty of Knox county's pioneer settlers gathered for the day, enjoyed the fellowship of old timers, and renewed memories of their yesteryears. All brought their lunches, and at noon a huge basket dinner was enjoyed in the shade of the large cottonwood trees.

Among settlers who gathered were Mr. and Mrs. Will McClain and their daughter, Mrs. Rotha McClain-Berry and her husband, who were the last owners of the Old Oxford place before it became a part of the League ranch. About fifteen guests also attended the picnic.

Several of the pioneer settlers were those who were residents of Knox county before 1888, shortly after the county was organized.

P. B. Liles of Mesquite exhibited a quilt of beautiful design, which was made by the pioneer ladies of Knox county.

Judge Joe A. Wheat of Seymour was a guest of the McClain family at the picnic. He made a short address in which he paid tribute to the pioneers who had gathered for this enjoyable occasion.

It was voted to hold the reunion on the first Thursday in August next year, on the Cartwright place—the land which the City of Munday has purchased for a city park. All pioneers are asked to consider themselves as members of this pioneer organization, and to bring their families to this reunion next year.

Mr. Jones stated Monday that they might visit the Golden Gate Exposition at San Francisco while away, as well as other points of interest. He still wanted to keep in touch with his home town, however, and had The Times sent to him at Holbrook.

The Jones family will be gone for a month, and maybe two months, Mr. Jones said.

Howell Burton and family of Hamlin visited friends and relatives in Munday over the week end. Mr. Burton is a former cafe operator of Munday, and he and his family are well known here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Blanton of Stamford visited friends and relatives here last Sunday.

Marine Corps Will Accept 62 New Recruits

A quota of sixty-two enlistments has been assigned to the United States Marine Corps recruiting district of Dallas, headquarters for Texas and Oklahoma, Postmaster Lee Haymes said today according to information received from Captain J. D. O'Leary, Officer in Charge.

The new recruits will be selected from applications now on file and on passing their final examination will be enlisted and immediately transferred to the Marine Corps Base, San Diego, California, for training, the Postmaster said.

Young men of good moral character who have had high school training and are between the ages of 18 and 30 are eligible to make application. Applicants applying for enlistment now will be placed on a waiting list to be called for final examination and enlistment during the early part of October, he said.

EXTRA SESSION

President Roosevelt called a special session of congress Wednesday, and expressed the hope that congressmen would come to Washington a day earlier for an informal conference with the president. Congress will convene Sept. 21.

Roosevelt proposed that the present embargo on arms shipments to Europe's belligerents be abolished by a "cash and carry" amendment to the neutrality act.

Record Crowd To See Opening Football Game Here

Just a little more than 24 hours from press time, the Munday Moguls and Weinert Bulldogs will blast open the new football season. Fans of this section are impatiently awaiting the initial whistle at eight o'clock Friday evening on Scraggs Field. Indications are that one of the largest crowds to ever witness a sporting event in Munday will be on hand for the kickoff. A number of fans from all over Knox County will be here to urge on the new edition of Munday Moguls. It is also known that the entire population of Weinert and vicinity will move on Monday to cheer their favored Bulldogs.

There will be no advance sale of tickets but the ticket desk will be open at the rear of the elementary building at 7:15 in order to accommodate those who wish to buy tickets early and occupy the stands. With the filling of the bleacher seats, standing room only along the sidelines will be available. The game will begin at eight o'clock. Admission is set at 50c for adults and 25c for all schools.

The new superintendent will assume her duties September 21, directors said. Appointment of other employees on the hospital staff remains to be made.

The date for opening of the county hospital, one of the most modern institutions in West Texas, is yet to be set, but will likely be some time this month, directors said. Facilities of the institution are adequate to serve a wide territory of West Texas.

The Times Announces Annual Bargain Rate

Announcement of the Munday Times' annual bargain rate, giving citizens of Knox county and surrounding territory, another opportunity to subscribe to Knox county's leading newspaper, is being announced this week by Grady Roberts, publisher.

All persons residing in Knox county, or within a 50-mile radius of Munday, may receive The Times for a full year for only a dollar, if their subscriptions are received during our annual bargain days. The same reduction is made in subscriptions outside the county. The regular subscription rate outside the county, or beyond the 50-mile radius, is $2 per year, but during the time of the bargain rates these subscriptions will be only $1.50.

The Times is announcing this bargain rate earlier than usual this year. This is being done in order to give subscribers whose time is now up an opportunity to renew at the bargain rate.

"The Times has enjoyed an increased circulation during the past two years," Mr. Roberts said, "in fact the circulation has more than doubled during the period in which The Times has been under its present management. We take this as an indication that citizens of Knox County appreciate our efforts in trying to give them a good newsy paper, one that can be read and enjoyed by every member of the family.

"We appreciate so many of our friends having added their names to our ever-growing list of subscribers. There are others, of course, whom we believe would enjoy receiving The Times each week, and our bargain rate is extended to them just as it is to those who are now taking the paper.

"Our bargain rate begins next Tuesday—in cooperation with Munday merchants who are offering exceptional prices on their merchandise in celebration of the first anniversary of the Munday auction barn. We cordially invite you to come in on that date, or at your first opportunity, and have us send you The Times for another year."

In spite of present conditions, The Times has gone to considerable expense in order to continue serving the people of Knox county with a high-class newspaper. Several hundred dollars have been invested recently in new type and other equipment which makes The Times better and more clearly read by its subscribers.

No date has been set for closing this bargain offer, but, naturally, it must remain in effect for a limited time. Subscribers are urged to come in at their earliest convenience and pay their subscriptions or send in their checks and be assured of receiving this bargain rate.

"What a Man Does For Himself Dies With Him—
What He Does For His Community Lives On and On"—

MAYBE JOE IS RIGHT

The average American has the reputation in some circles of being too cocky—of thinking he's a lot more important than he really is when you consider his position in the scheme of things.

Joe Z., who comes close to being the average American himself, has his own opinion on this particular subject. Let's listen in on Joe for a moment:

"So you think I take myself too seriously? You think my job, for instance, isn't important enough to justify my acting this way?"

"Well, maybe you're right. I said maybe. Of course I don't have the best job in this plant. But what I do is important just the same. Here's the way I look at it.

"I've got a job, a self-respecting one that means I can support my family and that means I have the chance of getting a better job if I have the stuff. And it's a job in the United States of America. Makes a man feel important just to be an American these days—to know his position in life doesn't depend on his race or creed or the way he ties his necktie. We Americans have the shortest hours and the highest pay for what we do in the whole world. And we buy the best products in the world with the money we earn. We know how good those products are; you and I provide the skill that makes them.

"Why shouldn't I feel important? I'm an American workman, ain't I?"

Maybe Joe Z. has an idea there that's worth remembering.

A TRIBUTE TO INDUSTRY

A recent interview with Dr. Victor G. Heiser, world famous health authority and author, makes interesting and pleasant reading for those who believe industry in this country has made tremendous progress along many lines besides the mere marketing and servicing of goods.

Dr. Heiser, being interviewed in his capacity as consultant to the Committee on Healthful Working Conditions of the National Association of Manufacturers, said that most of the committee work would be in other fields than that of healthful working conditions. And the reason that he gave was an encouraging one; he said that most of American industry had done such a good job of wiping out its industrial hazards and cutting down accidents.

So, Dr. Heiser's Committee is going to concentrate its efforts on helping public health agencies to curb non-occupational diseases and spread education on diet, for they have found that 9 out of 10 absences for factory work may be traced to these sources.

And there's another tribute to the high and constructive standards of modern American industry!

World citrus production has increased at the average rate of about 10,000,000 boxes per year during the last decade and probably will continue to expand in the next five to ten years.

More than 16,000 theatres in the United States show sound films. The country with the next highest figure has only 5,271 theatres of this type, and many of these are dependent on American films.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Calling all citizens—for Fire Prevention Week, which is to be observed this year from October 8 to 14.

Fire Prevention Week marks a definite, intensive effort to save your life and your property from the ravages of fire. It is an intensely personal thing, which comes straight home to all of us.

Insurance organizations, fire departments, public officials, newspapers, the radio, civic clubs and organizations, all will work cooperatively together to make the Week a success. They are working for you, and their hope is to enlist your support and interest. They will offer you every opportunity to learn about fire—it causes, the magnitude of its destruction, the means of controlling, fighting, and preventing it. This is nothing dull about these lessons—to the contrary, they are intensely dramatic and interesting.

And they are much more than that. When you learn how to inspect your home for hazards, and apply what you learn, it may be the means of saving that home from ruin. Vastly more important, it may be the means of saving the lives of your family from one of the most horrible of deaths. Nothing pays greater dividends than fire prevention.

So do your part when Fire Prevention Week comes. Observe it with an open, inquiring mind. And when the Week is over, remember what you have learned, and keep on using your knowledge. One of the things this country needs most is a nationally observed "Fire Prevention Year."

A number of Arkansas farmers are adding from $300 to $800 a year to their net farm income through the storage and subsequent sales of Irish potatoes.

Fertilizer tag sales in Texas from Sept. 1, 1938 to May, 1939, were equivalent to 88,829 tons. For the corresponding period last year they were 82,478 tons.

A pound of coffee costing 23 cents in the United States would cost $1.25 in Germany and about 12 dollars in Russia.

U. S. MILK DRINKING

In the United States, milk consumption is at the rate of 39 gallons a person per year, which is nearly 70 per cent above the amounts used in Great Britain, France or Germany. In these countries, one person consumes about 23 gallons a year.

It took the automobile industry until 1912 to produce a million cars. Increased sales resulted in gradually lower prices so that, in a single year recently, one American company alone built twice that number.

Ushering in the club activities for the year, the Munday Music Club met at nine o'clock breakfast Saturday morning in the Munday Study Club House.

Hostesses Mrs. D. E. Holder, Mrs. T. G. Bengel, and Mrs. P. V. Williams greeted members and guests who were served breakfast at individual tables. Table centerpieces and floor baskets of purple zinnias and bachelor buttons formed the decorations. Large black notes were attractive place cards.

Mrs. Jim McDonald, club president, introduced Mrs. E. Q. Warren of Knox City, who played Si-bellius "Romance" and J. S. Bach's "Gigue-Bach Suite." Following Mrs. Warren, Miss Louise Ingram, accompanied at the piano by her mother, Mrs. Louise Ingram, sang an Italian air, "Caro Mio Ben," by Giuseppe Giordani and Anton Dvorak's "Songs My Mother Taught Me."

Before adjournment, Mrs. McDonald explained and reviewed the contents of the new yearbook, compiled by Miss Fannie Isbell with the assistance of Mrs. Louise Ingram.

Staple of Knox Cotton Has Improved

The staple of cotton has improved in Knox county since 1936, when 75 per cent of the entire crop was classed as short staple cotton, according to statements of cotton buyers to County Agent Walter Rice last Monday.

In 1936, the farmers with the assistance of the Chamber of Commerce and business men inaugurated a program to improve the staple length of cotton grown in Knox county. This is the third year that the program has been in operation, and it has certainly proved its value to this county.

Ray Kelly stated that about 40 per cent of the cotton he had handled this season has had a staple length of 1 inch or better, about 50 per cent has had a staple length of 1 1/4 or better, and only 10 per cent has a staple length of 7-8 or less.

T. G. Bengé, manager of the West Texas Cotton Oil Co., and who was one of the leaders in this movement, stated there was no question but that marked improvement has been made in the cotton staple. "The type of cotton selected by the one-variety communities has all the fine qualities for production in this section," Bengé said, "and yet it produces the longer staple. Another notable thing about this cotton is that it held up much better than other cotton this year, and if dry weather had not cut the quality and quantity of cotton short, I believe a large majority of the 1939 crop would have been 1 inch staple or better."

Similar statements were made by others who have watched the continued improvement of Knox cotton during the past three years.

The Farmers Union Gin has ordered a carload of registered Acala planting seed for 1940, and plans are being made to have a bloc of seed grown from the registered seed certified for 1940. Several carloads of cottonseed were sold from Munday last year for planting purposes, bringing a nice premium.

"The better cotton program would not continue unless the farmers were realizing more money for their efforts," Mr. Rice stated.

Meters of West Texas Util. Co. Will be Tested

Special Crew to Work in Munday Within Next Few Days

"Pardon me, lady, while I put up a brand, spanking new electric meter."

This, or words to that effect, is what members of a meter-testing crew will be telling women in Munday during the next few days, according to A. H. Mitchell, local manager of the West Texas Utilities Company.

A special crew in a motorized machine shop has arrived in town to test all electric meters for accuracy and possible needs of repairs. The crew is under the supervision of Forest Campbell and has been making a house-to-house canvass of homes served by WTU during the last 20 months and now has tested over 30,000 meters.

The tests are made periodically in conjunction with the State Bureau of Weights and Measures and assure customers of the company that their meters are as nearly accurate as mechanically possible. The "stroboscope," being used in the Southwest for the first time, now is known to test electric meters within 25-100ths of 1 per cent absolute accuracy.

Testing equipment is located in a huge trailer which will be opened for inspection while here. Campbell said visitors will be welcomed after working hours when workmen will have time to explain the complicated system of tests.

"Procedure in testing meters has been greatly improved, along with advanced methods of providing customers with first class electric service," said Campbell, "and it is now possible to test as many as 80 meters a day compared to 25 or 30 a few years ago. The work here will proceed along these lines:

"A pick-up truck, loaded with new meters, will call at the home of customers. Our 'contact' man will arrange with the home-owner to exchange meters. The old one will be removed and a new one installed without serious interruption of service. The meter reading at the time of removal is photographed and filed away as a permanent record. The old meter is taken to the trailer-laboratory, tagged, and passed on to the testing department where the per cent of error, if any, is recorded. After receiving a new coat of paint, the meter is disassembled, cleaned, and new parts installed if needed.

"As a final check, the meter is connected with the stroboscope and tested for accuracy. The glass cover then is replaced and a testing seal reading 'Tested and Inspected in Accordance with the State Laws' attached."

The crew is expected to be here about 25 days, after which it will move to Vernon. Other members of the crew are:

L. D. Derryberry, R. C. Gilliam, H. L. Halsey, Ralph Bernard, Elbert Simmons, Homer Pearce, Jr., A. H. Kucholtz.

Uncle Sam To 'Check Up' Next Year

Census For 1940 Will Begin April 1st

Your Uncle Sam want to know:
 How many people are under his protection.
 Where they are located.
 How they earn a living.
 How many stores and factories they operate.

How many farms they work.
 The Sixteen Decennial Census to be taken in 1940 will give the answers to these and many other questions which are of vital importance to everyone.

Many things have happened in this country of ours during the eventful years since the 1930 Census was taken. People have been driven from certain areas by dust storms and floods. Others have changed their homes in search of employment. Factories have been relocated. New crops have been developed.

No business or nation can operate without taking an occasional inventory. Next year the United States is going to take the biggest inventory of them all. The 1940 Census will give a new, accurate, and up-to-date balance sheet of our people, our industries, and our resources.

The 1940 Census will be broad in scope. It will cover population, agriculture, manufactures, business, employment and occupations, drainage, irrigation, mines and housing. It will spread halfway around the world—from the rugged coast of Maine to sunny Guam in the far reaches of the Pacific Ocean. Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, the Panama Canal Zone, and the small scattered islands in the Pacific—used as stepping stones of the China Clippers—will be included.

The population and agriculture canvasses start on April 1, 1940, as provided by law. The censuses of business, manufactures, mines, irrigation, and drainage will begin in January 1940. The subjects covered in the 1940 Census are specified by an Act of Congress.

Once again there's a ring in our ears and this time we don't fool ourselves as to its cause. We've known for three months! So sure enough, on the fourth day of September, 1939, the old school bell rang once more (if there'd been a bell.) The farmers and farmerettes dropped their plows, washed off the collected dirt, and came to town. The local boys typed their last mistake, lassoed their last cow, or summoned their energy enough to dig over to our new location.

After going for the last few years, the students seemed not in the least bashful. In fact, they went in, took their seats, and with an expectant grin (?) on their faces waited for what might come. After much friction, our schedule was straightened out; and there being no further excuse for idleness (?), the students blew the dust off their books and looked at the pictures in them.

But seriously, though we are somewhat limited for proper space, we expect to do this much this coming year.

Since classes are being conducted in the business section of our city, new traffic regulations have been passed. Pedestrians (which is simply a big name for those people who do not or can not ride) are required to walk in designated lanes which have been laid off. During recess hours of school cars stop at these lanes which have been laid off. Also, those who drive cars are required to go around the turns in the streets, drive slowly in the school zone, stop at all intersections and obey every other regulation set out in the ordinance passed by the city council. These ordinances are tacked in every conspicuous place, and failure to obey them is likely to engage serious results. So far splendid cooperation has been shown, which we hope will continue.

I might add that as a whole, the student body has cooperated splendidly with all requirements. Unfortunately, our building has been torn down, and for that reason, it is no easy job for us to keep our minds on our work. Of course, a few of us have cricks in our necks from watching traffic, but soon this will become old. However, the student body realizes that this year will be just what we make it, and judging from the present attitude, this will be the most closely knit and capable student body in the history of our school.

We have been given heavier responsibilities, and each person is taking it upon himself to overcome the disadvantages and replace them with advantages by a contagious air of lightheartedness and true American citizenship.
 —The Editor

Present School Conditions

Due to the building of a new school, the students of Benjamin School are forced to attend school in different vacant buildings in town. The high school students, including the seventh grade, are located in the Beavers building south of the courthouse. The study hall and two of the class rooms, English and Science, are located (behind) held a class meeting in order to appoint a class cabinet. By almost unanimous vote the following officers were elected. As bad as the girls hated to admit it, Billy Joe Sams was appropriately elected president. The boys still lead in offices when Buddy Sams was elected vice-president. Since there are only 3 boys in the class, it was decided that the girls should be given a chance to show their ability; thus, Clodell Jackson was elected secretary-treasurer and Mary Lucille Smith was elected reporter.

Following the trend of past senior elections, Mr. Watson and Miss Diersing were elected sponsors. The motto carries out the characteristics of the Seniors in saying "Look toward the sun and the shadows will fall behind you." The class colors are silver and gold, and Easter lilies and roses are the flowers selected. Mrs. H. B. Sams and Mrs. Fred Jackson were appointed room mothers.

This ended the first class meeting held by the Senior class of 1940. Sometimes we hardly realize that we have a senior class when we consider how many seniors have the same subjects. It is now difficult to determine a senior from a junior since so many of our classmates fell beneath the burden of English and plane geometry last year.

Our Editor-in-Chief may find it a little difficult to adjust himself to his new environment since the atmosphere of the Home-Economics Department is always crowded with girls.

Speaking of girls, the senior class had no limited supply compared with the boys which makes the score of seven to three. Calling all Juniors! Calling all Juniors!

Due to financial obligations, we seniors are going to find it difficult to sponsor an annual this year, but we are going to cooperate in order to keep up the good work of composing annuals which was begun in previous years.

How the "Old Teachers" Spent the Summer

After examining the diary of all the old teachers, we find that they spent the summer in the following manner:

Toby Baird enjoyed a summer "schooling" in her dear ole Alma Mater, N.T.S.T.C., at Denton. Mrs. Cunningham found her past-time to be cooking for her husband and going to Lubbock during the summer.

Francis Diersing passed the first of the summer with her family and friends near Littlefield, Texas, and the last half attending Texas Tech in Lubbock.

Wendell Watson stayed in Benjamin some time before he departed for his home in Morton, Texas.

W. C. Cunningham divided his attention during the summer between the construction of the new school building and working on his thesis. He received his Master of Arts degree from Texas Tech in August.

Voyle Vaughn spent the entire summer in Lubbock attending Texas Tech.

W. D. Greer spent the summer in school at N.T.S.T.C., with his wife.

New Teachers

We have three new teachers in our school, namely:
 Miss Willie Fay Wells of N.T.S.T.C., who teaches the 4th and 5th grades.

Miss Vera Evans of E.T.S.T.C., who teaches the 2nd grade.
 Mrs. W. D. Greer who is now engaged in teaching Home Economics, and typing.

Can You Imagine...

Juanita Brown hurrying to class?
 Butch McCanlies getting excited?
 Mary Lucille Smith being sophisticated?

 Mr. Cunningham at the proper place at the proper time?
 Gertrude Laird being flirtatious?
 Miss Diersing being a brunette?
 Joe Barton without a wisecrack?
 Mr. Watson not being run after by 2 local girls?

Guess-Whats

What Junior girl came back wearing diamonds (dime-ones)?

Ginning

Is Our Business

For many years Farmers of this territory have found the Pendleton Gin a most satisfactory plant at which to gin their cotton. They find a spirit of friendliness and cooperation here that we try to show toward each and every customer, and we believe this is what keeps our customers coming here to gin their cotton year after year.

Then, too, we give strict attention to each and every bale ginned at our plant. We see to it that our gin is in good repair each year and that everything is kept in tip-top shape so there is no delay in ginning service.

Another feature of our gin is our Lummus Thermo-Dryer. This exclusive piece of machinery protects the grade and staple of your cotton.

We Are Buying Cotton

It has always been our custom to buy cotton ginned at our plant, giving the very highest market price for each and every bale. Additional connections have been made in our cotton department which assures you, as we always have, highest prices for your cotton.

Munday Library, Just a Year Old, Serving Many of This Community

About this time last year, the people of Munday were asked to contribute to a fund with which books were to be purchased for the Munday Public Library, sponsored by the Study Club. Most of you very willingly contributed to this fund. As a result of these contributions the club was able to open the library.

Those who live near the library know from observation of the boys and girls passing to and from the library that it is one of the most worthwhile projects ever sponsored in Munday. Children of all ages and from all over town took advantage of the benefits of the library during last year, and especially during the vacation months when they did not have access to the school library. Many of these children had no books or magazines in their homes, and but for the public library, they would have had no means of obtaining reading material of any kind. These are the people the library is striving to help.

Someone has said, "Show me a reading family and I will show you a happy, intelligent family." This can very well be applied to a whole community. The major objective of the library is to furnish our city with a creative and constructive method of spending leisure hours. We want to make our town a "reading town."

In an article in the September McCall's Magazine, Henry F. Pringle says that in days of lush prosperity people buy silk shirts and automobile and go on trips. In hard times people read a great deal. This is not merely because they are out of jobs. It is because they are more serious-minded and anxious to improve themselves. A much larger percentage of books were read in 1938 than in 1937.

In most communities a library membership fee is charged. This is usually from twenty-five cents to one dollar. The Munday library has no membership fee.

Why not plan to visit the library soon and examine the books on the shelves. Most of them are free. A few of the newer and more expensive books are on the rental shelf. However, the rent per day is very low. You can always find a best seller of fiction on these shelves. Two of the newest books are, "April Was When It Began," by Benefield, and "Not Peace But A Sword," by Vincent Sheehan.

Our new librarian, Mrs. Gillespie, is there from 8 a.m. until 1 p.m., and is always ready and willing to show the library to visitors and to assist in any possible way.

Rhineland Band Plays At Farmers Union Meet

Members Gather, And Hear Details Local Cotton Office

A highlight of the Farmers Union meeting on Thursday night of last week was a band concert given by members of the Rhineland Lone Star Band. This band is one of the oldest organizations in the county and is very capably directed by John Hoffman, head of the Rhineland school.

This band concert was enjoyed by approximately 300 Farmers Union members and their families. The Farmers Union Cooperative Gin of Munday was host to the group.

The meeting was primarily for the purpose of explaining details of the Classified Cotton Marketing Association, which was recently established in Munday.

Peter Loran of Rhineland was chairman of the program. Talks were made by L. B. Patterson, L. B. Patterson, Jr., John Burgess of the Farm Credit Administration, who is assigned here temporarily to assist in the cotton market, and County Agent W. W. Rice.

Mr. Crabb of the Texas State Employment Service also made a short talk in which he told local farmers that this service is operating in Munday and will assist in placing cotton pickers where needed.

Wallace Reid, manager of the Farmers Union Gin, said over 200 watermelons were served by the group. Unable to secure enough melons locally, Reid sent a truck to DeLeon for a load.

This was a combined meeting of the Munday local and the Rhineland local of Farmers Union, both members and their families. All seemed enthusiastic concerning the marketing facilities offered farmers through the cotton marketing association of Knox, Baylor, Haskell and Stonewall counties.

It was conservatively estimated that between 800 and 900 persons attended this meeting.

Farmers of Knox County Are Urged To Earn Soil Building Allowances

Knox County farmers are urged to earn the soil building allowances as provided for as a part of their 1938 payments. The soil building work is one of the most permanent features of the farm program, and farmers should certainly take advantage of it, explained County Agent Walter Rice.

In 1936, Knox County failed to earn $16,524; in 1937, $4,906, and in 1938 they failed to earn $26,800—or during the past three years Knox County farmers have lost $47,830 in permanent soil building practices on their farms.

The most widely used soil building practices in Knox County are terracing, contouring, and the glowing under of green manure crops.

Under the present farm program, 50 cents is allowed for each acre of soil conserving land which must be earned by some soil building practices, such as building terraces or plowing under green manure crops. For example, on the average 160-acre farm there are about 42 soil conserving acres, or the so-called government land. Then at 50 cents per acre, the 42 acres would permit $21 of soil building work to be earned for this farm. One acre of sudan or cane is valued at $15 toward earning the $21. Then it would require 14 acres plowed under green to get the full soil building allowances. Terracing is paid for at the rate of $1.50 for each 200 linear feet of standard terraces.

Applications for payments that have earned their full soil building allowances will be held in the county agent's office, so that these farmers will be given sufficient time to earn the payment. The state AAA office will not accept the applications for payment early unless the soil building money has been earned.

M. T. Chamberlain of Benjamin, county clerk of Knox county, was a business visitor here Saturday.

County Agent W. W. Rice of Benjamin was a business visitor in town last Friday.

Mrs. J. D. Kethley of Abilene visited friends in Munday over the week end.

Bring Us Your... Cotton

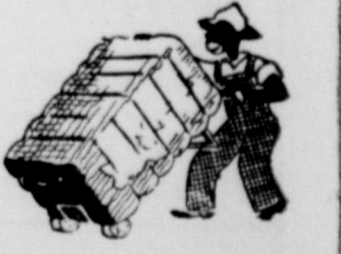

25 Years of Continuous Service to Farmers

In 1914 this company started ginning cotton in Munday. Since then, year in and year out, during good years and bad years, we have operated, and it is because of the patronage of our friends we have been able to carry on . . . To them we say, "Thank You," and to these same customers, and others we hope to include this season, we are going to operate during the coming cotton season and render the same good service for which we are noted.

OUR MACHINERY IS IN FINE SHAPE

Two of our gin plants will be specially prepared for handling the one-variety cotton grown in this territory.

This organization was organized by farmers for farmers. Everyone who patronizes it is helping to make the profits. Therefore, everyone who gins a bale of cotton here, shares equally in the patronage dividends.
