Senior Report

Well, we have finally heard from our rings. Just as soon as every one brings his money, you'll see us showing them off—in a big way. These rings signify hard work, combined with good times and unhappy times all through these years of schooling. Of course, this is something to wear a ring for.

Maurice: "If Mr. Benson doesn't take back what he said to me this morning, I'm going to leave class."
 Beth: "What did he say?"
 Maurice: "He told me to leave class."

Pa: "Well, son, how are your marks?"
 Doyle: "They're under water."
 Pa: "What do you mean 'under water'?"
 Doyle: "Below 'C' level."

Miss Couch was instructing a class in English and called on Viola to write on the board. "He can ride the mule if he wants to."
 "Now," continued Miss Couch, can you find a better form for that sentence?"
 "Yes, ma'am, I think I can," was the reply. "He can ride the mule if the mule wants him to."

"I wonder how old Miss Couch is?"
 Jack: "Quite old, I imagine. They say she used to teach Shakespeare."

Emogene's punishment in school was to stay in during noon and write a composition of 300 words. This is what she wrote: "A driver said to his horse 'Giddap,' 'Giddap'—and so on for 292 more giddaps. The teacher asked what all these words were for and Emogene explained that the driver wasn't able to get the horse started."

Junior Report

Since last Tuesday many things have happened. We juniors had a grand time at our class party last Thursday evening. The pep squad and football boys enjoyed the theatre party Wednesday evening, too. We certainly do thank Mr. and Mrs. Williams for helping us to make this entertainment possible.

Several weeks ago Dr. Bass said, "Ignorance is so thick in this history III class that you could cut it with a knife." It isn't that thick now, we are more interested since we are further advanced in the history of the United States. Some good advice is never to say anything that is not worth while. A thought for today is as follows: Every word you speak requires the use of 72 muscles. Do you ever stop to ask yourself whether the words you are using are worth so much effort?

If we juniors are too serious-minded, maybe this fun will help out. From Sue Stodghill's essay on punctuation:

"A semicolon is a period sitting on top of a comma. Some think that the first time a semicolon was used was when some man didn't know whether to use a comma or a period, so he used both of them together."

Miss Couch asked Audrey Nell to use deduct, defence, defeat, and detail, in sentences. This is the sentence she received.
 "De duck flew over de fence and landed on de feet before de tail."

Dr. Bass: "So you lost your job in Dallas because the climate didn't agree with you, and you want to teach school out here?"
 Mr. Benson: "Yes, sir."
 Dr. Bass: "What did the climate have to do with it?"
 Mr. Benson: "I was the weather prophet."

Sophomore Report

The sophomore class seems to be progressing nicely. We have not had much excitement since Halowe'en, but after several days of recuperating we have once more entered into the routine for school work, and I think we will all be in high spirits for the game Friday night.

This is David's prayer:
 Move onward, move onward
 O time in thy flight!
 Make that bell ring
 Before I recite.

One of Dick's bright remarks to Charles:
 I trusted you
 I thought you knew
 I copied your paper
 Now, I'm flunking too.

Bobbie to Clyde Jr.:
 When a girl starts giving you dirty looks, it's time to apply a little soft soap.

This applies to the whole class:
 F—fierce lessons
 L—late hours
 U—unexpected company
 N—naught on exams
 K—kicked out.

 Food—Ice Cream.
 Movie Star—Priscilla Lane.
 Love—The Wizard of Oz.
 Radio Program—The Aldrich Family.

Texas Youth Builds a Place to Worship

(1) This "Chapel in the Woods" on the campus of Texas State College for women was constructed of native gray limestone by NYA boys ranging in age from 18 to 25. Primarily a place for individual worship and meditation, the chapel will also be used for many student weddings.
 (2) Over 500 art students of the college, supervised by Miss Dorothy A. LaSelle, director of chapel art projects, have contributed to the design, decorations, fixtures, and furnishings. General theme of the art work is woman ministering to the needs of the world. Critics pronounce this one of the nation's outstanding amateur art projects. Miss Marilyn Yates, Houston, is shown working on window sketches.
 (3) Sammy Tate, Ennis, designed and constructed the main lighting fixtures of brass, saw-pierced and riveted.

(4) Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt took part in the dedication ceremonies November 1.

Inset: President L. H. Hubbard who made his dream of such a chapel come true. Funds for the materials came from a $15,000 gift of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Nicholson of Longview, who have three daughters in TSCW and a like sum raised by students, alumnae, and faculty members.

THOSE FASCINATING SPOTS

by Mae Pace Killingsworth

Memories... how they cling... especially the very pleasant ones. For instance, my visit recently to an old town in Indiana by the fascinating name of Vincennes, shall forever be remembered as a wholly delightful occasion. The fact that it was the first permanent settlement in Indiana, only tends to make it twinkle a bit brighter.

All the songs and poems seem to have been dropped into the very lap of that one small town. Rather for the moment, I could not think of the Wabash river flowing anywhere but right in Vincennes. It belongs there to echo its song, for Vincennes streets are paved with history; its hills around have been rocked with adventure.

September's world was all sun-washed and sparkling blue, the day some friends and I decided to visit the historic place along the river. The trees with their leaves beginning to turn red and brown, and the corn shocks toting the mark in prim rows, were sights that greeted our eyes, as we skimmed over the countryside from the small Illinois town, in which we were stopping.

Arriving about 1 p.m., of course, we blew in with fierce appetites. "St. Ann Tea Room" stared at us from a prodigious sign in front of an old Colonial home. The whole place had charms and airs a-plenty, and we knew right away it would be something after our own hearts.

And so it was! The owners of the attractive place are two maiden ladies, who are sisters. Their ancient, white-pillared home is right in Vincennes. The furnishings, throughout are the kind the antique-minded would give a kingdom to possess—but what these two, lived with and collected through the years. And what food! "Twas indeed a taste blended with that little extra something, that makes you vow then and there to come again soon. No wonder the popularity!

NOTICE...

I have leased the old Cooper Auto Service place, and invite all my friends to visit me there.

I am handling Bell Gas and will also have your favorite brand of oil. I will appreciate a portion of your business.

and foresight just ups and gets 150 men together and started on his great adventure. Once started nothing stopped him! Not even flood nor hardships. He just plugged right on. He captured Vincennes (his greatest achievement) along with a lot of other territory and opened the way to the Pacific.

So Vincennes reeks with old French cemeteries, Indian mounds, convents and cathedrals. We saw where St. Clare, St. Rose, St. Francis and all the other Saints have trod, during the course of our visit there. Leaving the town we crossed the bridge and, perhaps, took one of Clark's routes and advanced westward.

Yes, George Rogers Clark captured Vincennes, and Vincennes captured me!

America's most prolific living inventor is Carleton Ellis, Montclair, N.J. At 63 he has received patents on 750 inventions, compared to 1099 for Edison. He is particularly outstanding for his patents on quickdrying paint.

AAA SHORTS

Of the 500,000 farms in Texas, nearly one-fourth do not have cows to provide the farm families with milk.

Under the AAA, farmers shift to soil-conserving crops that build up a production reserve for emergencies—an ever-normal granary of soil fertility.

Since 1933 the number of forced farm sales has declined substantially. During the 12 months ended March 15, 1933, there were 64.1 such sales per thousand farms. By the year ending March 15, 1937 forced sales had dropped to 22.4 per thousand farms.

About one-fourth of the food stamps issued by the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation are being used to buy butter and another one fourth to buy eggs.

If cotton marketing quotas are adopted for 1940, producers who plant their cotton acreage allotments can market without penalty all cotton produced in 1940.

Gypsy Tea Room

The Home Economics girls and their sponsor, Miss Phillips, had charge of the Gypsy Tea Room on Halloween night.

The tea room was located in the Home Economics Department. It was decorated with green boughs and leaves from various trees. There was a bouquet of flowers on each table. The tables were covered with white linen cloths.

There was a menu placed on each table. It consisted of tuna fish, chicken, and cheese sandwiches, coffee and hot cocoa with ice box and vanilla cookies.

The waitresses were dressed in vivid colors with all kinds of jewelry. One of them, (Margaret Hardin) looked very much like a gypsy. In fact, everyone thought that she was one. She was dressed in black with a "Loud" apron, red sash, and you can't imagine how much jewelry.

The entertainment was furnished by the radio.

The Home Economics girls enjoyed sponsoring the Gypsy Tea Room as their part of the Halloween Carnival.

It was about four o'clock, p.m., when they started for the dip, and it was about dusk when they started home. The Juniors enjoyed the picnic very much and hope to have another one next spring.

Already one week has passed and we can hardly realize it. We have been working very hard in preparation for exams that are coming next week. In Civics we are studying about the governor and his duties. After the lectures we get in class we feel as though exams are just daily assignments.

Our English is quite the opposite. Themes seem to be our weakness, but we manage to get them somehow even though they do sound like Freshman work. The time we spend on our themes may be the reason why we are always doing last minute work on our bookkeeping. We are actually learning to draw straight lines!

Who was the high school student who was guilty enough to give Mr. Hoffman a nice red apple?

Wouldn't it be wonderful if the rulers of the destroying nations would do as was done twenty-one years ago when the armistice was signed?

Senior Lives

Alma Schumacher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Schumacher, was born February 25, 1923, on a farm one half mile north of Rhineland. She has spent all her life helping wherever she can. At the age of six she entered the Rhineland school and is still with us.

Alma is five feet two inches tall and weighs 104 pounds. Her hair is dark blonde and she has blue eyes.

In grammar as well as high school, Alma has worked very hard for the benefit of her school. In the seventh grade she and her companion won first place in the spelling contest of the Interscholastic League. When she again entered this contest in the eighth grade she won second, having missed first place by a very small margin. For three years Alma has played on the softball team and last year was a member of our volleyball team.

She not only helps her school but is a great helper to her class. She has served two years as class reporter and is now Editor-in-Chief. She is also president of our class.

Alma has an outstanding personality and is liked by all. Her broad choice of favorites helps us remember her. Among them are dill pickles, chewing gum and peppermint candy. The latter is to help her concentrate. Other favorites are:

- Color—Blue.
- Flower—Rose.
- Sport—Volleyball.
- Hobby—Learning popular songs.
- Friend—Everybody.
- Teacher—All of them.
- Subject—All.

Alma wants to be another Dorothy Thompson, but she says there is no hope for that, so if she can

Junior Report

Hello! Here are those Juniors again. During the past week we have learned that all things valuable come in small packages. Richard and Cletus are exceptions, of course.

We have always thought about it, but since people have told us, the Juniors really believe that they ought to be in the movies, because they are rather comical. We don't like to talk about our looks.

Richard, how do you think you can erase a blackboard by going around in circles? All day Monday we wondered what you looked into Sunday. The next time you had better close it up and find something more useful to look at, for instance, your Geometry book.

We have started playing volleyball and are trying our best to have a good team.

And . . . Did You Know . . .

Albert Redder is quite "the" thing with his hair done up in curls.

A Junior has lots of ability, especially when it comes to solving Geometry problems and learning new dance steps.

Florine Williamson, a junior of the Rhineland High School, can be seen walking in the doors of the theatre on certain occasions.

Ethel Stengel is one of R.H.S.'s best story-tellers. She can tell one that will last for five minutes and three minutes is her minimum.

Sophomore Class

The end of the second week of school finds the Sophomores working seriously not only because examinations are near at hand but because they wish to improve their mind and prepare themselves for their future stations in life.

A suggestion: Nadine, why don't you bring your bicycle to school and challenge somebody to a race?

Mr. Hoffman: We shall now take up the study of the symbols of aggravation.

Albert: What did you say?

Mr. Hoffman: I said we shall now take up the study of the symbols of aggravation.

Albert: Oh! I thought you said the symbols of aggravation.

Freshman Report

We have received new history books this week and we think they will be more interesting than our old books.

Kenneth, do you think K. of C. is a public building?

The Freshmen's favorite songs are:

- Calvin—Beer Barrel Polka.
- Urban—You Must Have Been a Beautiful Baby.
- Francis—Beer Barrel Polka.
- Victor—Old Gray Mare.
- Joe—Yankee Doodle.
- Kenneth—Makes No Difference, Now.
- Bernard—Texas Plains.
- Theresa—Cocoanut Grove.
- Mildred—Over the Rainbow.
- Lucille—Sweet Angelina.
- Helen—Pocket Full of Dreams.
- Elsie—South of the Border.

The Freshmen leave you with this thought:

"For all your ds., prepare, And meet them all alike; When you are the anvil, bear— When you are the hammer, strike!"

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS

Austin, Tex.—A Texas Game department warden recently arrived upon the scene of one of those terrific battles nature's children sometimes engage in just in time to rescue one deer, but the other had not survived a struggle to death, which, persons who have witnessed such battles declare are as thrilling as any plot ever conceived by an author.

The warden arrived on a flat on the Herbert Ranch in the Hill country to find a pair of seven and eight point bucks with their horns locked and signs of a terrific struggle having taken place. One buck was dead, but the warden worked with the other, the eight-pointer, got him loose and watched the deer literally stagger off into thick cover. Bucks fight frequently, but it is not so often that their horns become locked. However, if that occurs and no outside help is available, both deer are generally victims of the battle.

White-wing doves, considered much better sport than mourning doves, generally remain in Texas' Rio Grande Valley. Large numbers are found in several counties there, but this year, and the reason is not known by Game Department biologists, the birds have come much farther north than usual. Flights of several hundreds each have been seen in Medina county and a good many sportsmen of that section have gotten their limits of white-wings without having to make the usual trek to the Valley. Infrequent reports of white-wings nesting as far north as Medina county have also been received by the Game Department.

An Abilene fisherman recently lost $30 in prizes because he had not spent $1.10 for a fishing license. Abilene merchants marked a dozen fish and released them in Lake Abilene. The largest one carried notification of a prize of $50 for the person catching it PROVIDING HE HAD A FISHING LICENSE. Smaller fish were marked for prizes of less amount. Only one sportsman has caught any of the marked fish according to latest reports. However, he did hook the $50 fish, but was unable to collect because he did not have a fishing license. He remedied that situation with a $1.10 purchase, and believe it or not, returned to the lake to catch another fish which had been marked. However, the second catch was worth only $20 in prizes and the fisherman was "out" $30. Other sportsmen of that section are still trying to catch the remainder of the marked members of the finny tribe in Lake Abilene.

Motor cars takes a terrific toll of deer, as is attested by a report to the Game Department's executive secretary by the Warden at Fredericksburg, who stated that a personal check disclosed seventy-six deer found dead on the highways of one county, Gillespie, during a period from October 1, 1938, to October 1, 1939.

Ducks have almost as many names in different parts of the United States as there are states and to aid hunters in identifying the more common species of the migratory birds, the U.S. Bureau of Biological Survey has issued the following list of local names: Blue-winked teal: Bluewing, teal

YOUR FARM FEEDS BRING MORE CASH IN BALANCED RATIONS . . .

You get more value from your farm grains and roughages in TWO WAYS when you feed them in balanced rations to livestock.

FIRST, you get more cash from livestock and livestock products than you can get for the feed sold as feed.

SECOND, the actual FEEDING VALUE of your corn, oats, grain sorghums, hay or other crops is GREATER when fed in rations balanced with COTTONSEED MEAL or CAKE. This is true because they supply the essential protein that grains and roughages lack. You have to have PROTEIN to feed efficiently, and COTTONSEED MEAL or CAKE gives you the protein you need.

THE MESSAGE OF AMOS

By Rev. W. R. Bryant

Civilization and Judgement
(Amos III-IV.3)
Introduction:
These few brief oracles open upon the same note that the previous chapter closed. The crimes of Israel are greater than those of the heathen; and that the people's peculiar relation to God means, not their security, but their greatest judgement. Israel's social life was sapped by luxury and injustice to the extent that judgement was bound to come upon them and the nation would perish. The women deserved a great portion of the blame because of the part they played in the corrupt life the people were leading. Amos deals with these women in the latter portion of the chapter.

"Hear this word, which Jehovah hath spoken against you, O children of Israel, against the whole family which I brought up from the land of Egypt..." Amos is speaking here of the whole people or Judah as well as Israel. "Only you have I known of all the families of the ground..." ground is used to stamp the people as mortals or to remind them that they are no different than other nations. "Therefore will I visit upon you all your iniquities."

Amos, prophecy is like unto a seal of thunder and God's judgement is about to break over Israel as a roaring storm over a peaceful valley. Then the prophet suddenly changes his course to explain that God is ready now to carry out his judgement of the nation. "Will a lion roar in the forest, when he hath no prey?" "Will a young lion cry out of his den, when he hath taken nothing?" Amos is trying to tell them that if God was not ready to carry out His plans, then He would not have sent him to warn the people. God is ready and the time is at hand.

"It is a crisis that has happened more than once again in history; when helpless man has felt the absolute relentlessness of the moral issues of life; when renunciation of the past, however much they have helped to form it; their sacrifice of every development however costly; and of every hope however pure; their deafness to prayer, their indifference to penitence; when no faith saves a church, no courage a people, no culture or prestige even the most exalted order of men; but at the bare hands of judgement, uncouth of voice and often unconscious of a Divine mission, the results of a great civilization are for its sins swept remorselessly away."—George Adam Smith.

Amos uses the rest of the chapter to declare unto them their sins. These people have felt high and mighty under the protection of the Lord because He had chosen them but now they were to be destroyed because of their sins. These people were simply living in the light of the promises made to their fathers in the past. They wanted all the security of salvation but were unwilling to do as God would have them in order to receive it. They felt secure because they had come from a God-loving people.

I pause here to ask, do we feel security today because of our great fathers who have blazed the way before us? Do we lay hope today on the faith and works of our fathers? Can one generation save another? Amos answers all these questions in his message to Israel. Every man or each generation of men must look to their own salvation which comes through obedience to the will of God.

God and His will is not changed. It is the same yesterday, today and forever.

When we look out upon the world conditions of today and see the great Church jealousies and the arsenals of powerful Christian nations filled to overflowing with implements of death, we can not help but see that there are forces capable to threaten the very destruction of civilization. Let us look again and see if the times are different today than they were then. Are the poor still oppressed? Do our children still have to struggle to find the true way of life? Are our political leaders still corrupt and glory in that corruption? Do people still cry for freedom or do we see a false note in that cry that champions licentiousness? Does our civilization still smell to high heaven with sin and corruption?

Dear Reader, when you answer these questions you will begin to see the reason that Amos, not only prophesied to Israel, but is speaking directly to us today. I would have you continue to study Amos closely and see the truth for yourself.

We will see what Amos had to say concerning the False Peace of Ritual in this column next week.

The morning worship service will be held Sunday at 11:00 o'clock. At that time the pastor will speak on "The Technique of Christ." The most humble man that ever lived was our Savior. The greatest man that ever lived was our Savior. The greatest sacrifice that was ever paid for our sins was paid by our Savior. Christ set the truest example for us to live by in His own life and His technique was perfect as He went about His Father's business.

Come out Sunday and study His word with us. Visitors are always welcome to our services.

All services next Sunday will be at the regular hours. Sermon subjects: Morning, "Behold the Man"; Evening, "Took Him by the Hand."

Our Sunday School attendance will average over two hundred for the past four months. Let's not let down as the cooler weather comes on. The work is well organized and the teachers are doing some excellent work. You will enjoy taking your place and helping carry on for "The King Eternal," and will be greatly blessed thereby. The church needs your best and you need the church's best. Get a good wide smile on your face and a prayer in your heart and come on, let's do our best. No one ever gains anything by neglecting the house of God. But, on the other hand, if you have been neglecting God's house, and public worship for some time, you will find, by taking inventory, that you have lost a great deal from your spiritual life, and maybe in other ways.
