M. T. Chamberlain Announces For Another Term

County Clerk M. T. Chamberlain on Tuesday authorized the Times to announce his candidacy for reelection, subject to the action of Knox county voters in the Democratic primaries.

Mr. Chamberlain needs no introduction to the citizens of Knox county, as he is well known over the entire county.

"Since I have been serving as your county clerk," Marvin said, "I have tried to do the work of this office just as efficiently as possible at all times. If returned to this important county office, I shall continue to serve you to the very best of my ability, giving courteous service to all who have business in the county clerk's office."

"It is my desire to see all the voters of Knox county between now and election date and personally solicit your vote and influence. It may not be possible for me to do this and at the same time keep the affairs of my office in first-class shape. I consider my first duty to the office to which you have elected me, and I want every voter to consider this announcement a personal solicitation of your vote."

Harry Hines in Governor's Race

HARRY HINES

Tossing his hat into the ring with an announcement as a candidate for Governor of Texas, Harry Hines, member of the Texas Highway Commission for the past five years, Wednesday raised the curtain on the 1940 gubernatorial contest.

Hines, announcing that he would later issue a platform and discuss every issue pertinent to the campaign in full detail, put himself on record on several burning issues.

He pledged himself: 1. Against the sales tax, which he termed a tax on poverty and opposed to his understanding of the meaning of Democracy.

2. In favor of fulfillment of the social security program, including payment of adequate old age pensions, and aid to dependent children, needy blind, the State's part of the teacher's retirement program.

3. The raising of the additional money needed to pay these obligations by cooperative effort with the legislators, spreading the cost without "dealing a death blow to any one group."

Hines indicated he will be a conservative candidate, and declared he will not try to "out-promise the promisers," and promised to be a "doer instead of a promiser."

"At no time need you expect Harry Hines to play upon ignorance or emotion in an effort to bait voters," he said. "If sound basic fundamentals of government as envisioned by our forefathers based on honesty, integrity and economy is what our citizens want, then it is an insult to their intelligence to promise them impractical, unsound, vote-getting bait."

Spelling Bee Is Held Wednesday At Lions' Meeting

FIRST TALKING MOTION PICTURE OF THE LIFE AND CRUCIFIXION OF CHRIST TO BE SHOWN HERE

The Great Spectacle, "Golgotha," Is Most Unusual Picture Ever Filmed

A talking motion picture utterly different from anything ever shown in this community will be presented in the school auditorium on Monday, February 26 at 8:00 o'clock, and at matinees at 1:00 and 4:00, under the sponsorship of the First Presbyterian church. The title of the picture is "Golgotha," and it is the first and only talking motion picture ever made of the life and crucifixion of Christ. "Golgotha" presents the immortal story of Christ in a spectacular and impressive manner. Critics everywhere have acclaimed it the greatest talking picture of its kind ever made. It is a remarkable film, that every man, woman and child in this community should see. As this great motion picture is being presented in the school auditorium, a complete set of the finest talking motion picture equipment will be brought to this city for the showing of the film. This equipment includes special projector, complete sound system, and a modern screen. As a result, this picture will be shown at the school auditorium in an effective manner.

"Golgotha" Was Made at Cost of $800,000

The average motion picture made in Hollywood costs approximately $200,000, but "Golgotha" cost $800,000, or four times more than the average motion picture made in Hollywood. This will give you some idea of the size and magnitude of this great picture. It is not an ordinary motion picture, but instead, a tremendous spectacle. Technically, the picture is a masterpiece. The cast, costumes and settings make it one of the greatest scenic dramas ever filmed. "Golgotha" was made in the old country, consequently the scenic backgrounds are accurate and correct in every detail. However, all the speaking parts in this picture are in English.

This Motion Picture the Greatest of its Kind Ever to be Filmed Without question "Golgotha" is the greatest motion picture of its kind ever to be filmed.

Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock, the Munday school teachers will challenge the parents to a volleyball game.

Bishop Holt to Visit Here On March First

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, bishop of the Northwest Texas Methodist conference and the New Mexico conference, will visit the Munday Methodist church on Friday, March 1st, it was announced this week.

Holt will preach at the local Methodist church on 3 o'clock on the afternoon of March 1st.

kind ever to be filmed. In the past, several attempts have been made to film the story of Christ, but it took the making of "Golgotha" to actually bring to the screen an accurate and effective presentation of this immortal story. In every way, "Golgotha" is a remarkable film. The acting, costuming, direction, settings, photography and sound are all superb. It stands out as one of the greatest films of all time, brilliantly and impressively produced. It is an extraordinary picture. The most that we can say is: "Don't fail to see it." Plan now to take every member of your family to witness and enjoy this great spectacle. It is not only worth while, but at the same time, wonderful entertainment. Old and young alike will enjoy the film. The picture is being shown at popular prices, only 35c for adults and 15c for children. The date is Monday, February 26, and the place of showing is the school auditorium. Plan now to see "Golgotha." Matinees 10c for all students; evening show 35c for adults and 15c for children.

Chair in Bottle

Henry Johnson, formerly of Goree but who is now employed on the city park project, was in town Saturday exhibiting a chair which he had built inside of a small bottle.

The four chairposts were glued to the corners of the bottle, and all other pieces were wedged in their places. The chair was constructed mostly of match stems. Johnson says it's not such tedious work, but rather fascinating if you have the patience. Work inside the bottle is done by means of a sharp-pointed wire.

Meter Deposit Refund Made By W. T. Utilities Co.

As a reward for prompt payment of electric bills, a large number of West Texas Utilities customers here are getting their meter deposit back—with interest.

A. H. Mitchell, local manager, announced that the company is refunding the deposit to all customers with a consistent record for prompt payment of bills over a three-year period. This means that a total of about $316.89, including interest for the past year, is being returned to electric users in Munday.

The deposit will be returned to other customers annually as they qualify as three-year prompt payment users, possibly at the close of each business year.

"It is a new policy being tried out this year for the first time," Mitchell said. "We believe our customers and friends will appreciate it—and maybe they can use the refund, too."

The company, he said will continue to require the deposit where new connections are made until the householder has qualified for the refund.

County Superintendent Merick McGaughey last week received word of presidential approval of the W.P.A. project for completion of the Vera school.

Forty men will be employed on the project for a period of three months.

The project is now eligible for operation at the discretion of the state works projects administrator. His decision will be governed largely by availability of funds, the presence of certified relief labor of the types and skills required, and other considerations that may be important in the locality, it was stated.

When the project is completed, Vera will have one of the best rural school plants in Knox county.

LONG MACHINE GOES DOWN IN DEFEAT TUES.

The Huey Long political dynasty, born of 12 years of dictatorial power, died but not peacefully at the hands of the voters in Louisiana Tuesday.

Voters in the Democratic gubernatorial runoff primary swept to defeat Gov. Earl K. Long, brother of the "Kingfish" and leader of the machine, and nominated Sam Jones of Lake Charles, unknown in politics, by a majority of over 20,000 votes, according to unofficial reports.

"What a Man Does For Himself Dies With Him—
What He Does For His Community Lives On and On"—

THE NOT-SO-HARMLESS MATCH

Take a match from your pocket and examine it. It looks harmless, and it is, when properly employed. But identical counterparts of that match you are holding in your hand have caused the destruction of billions of dollars worth of property, and tens of thousands of human lives. They have deprived men of jobs and families of incomes. They have ruined whole communities.

So it is with all fire hazards—gasoline, heating plants, mechanical devices of one kind or another, and so on. Not one of them, handled with knowledge and respect, is dangerous. But all of them, mis-handled, can bring disaster and death.

It's easy enough to say, "I'm careful—fires are started by the careless other fellow." But there's always a first time. A woefully small percentage of us give fire, fire prevention and fire control the attention and thought they so richly deserve. Comparatively few of us periodically study the causes of fires and how they may be avoided.

There's no better time for doing that than right now. Your fire marshal or insurance agent will help you. Remember that fire prevention always begins at home, in your house and your office. Remember that the really unpreventable fires are so rare as to be almost non-existent. Above all, remember that the human element is responsible for most fires—and that means you.

ANOTHER LIFT FOR THE FARMER

One of the most encouraging signs on the horizon of the American farmer, facing as he is with the persistent "agricultural problem," is the way in which industry in this country is laboring to find new uses for farm products and to increase the current use of these products.

All over the country, in industrial research laboratories, the process of turning farm produce into new materials is going on at a tremendous rate. Every new success in this field means a lighter burden, a lessening of his surplus, for the American farmer.

A recent example offers an interesting case in point:

Four or five months ago, a plant was opened in the South to manufacture cigarette paper from American grown flax fiber. The cigarette paper market up to now had been very largely in the hands of foreign manufacturers, and hence farmers abroad produced most of the raw materials going into the making of the paper. Thus the possibility of selling the raw materials for America's annual consumption of about 163 billion cigarette papers has been virtually closed to our farmers.

Now, after years of experimentation, a blend of midwestern and California fibers has been converted into a paper to match the European product.

The flax straw purchased from the farmers after the seed has been threshed out nets the farmer up to $4 an acre here it formerly cost him about $1.50 an acre to destroy the straw.

The first factory going into operation to turn out this paper already employs 700 workers and is at present being expanded. Meanwhile, wider areas are being explored for the proper flax fibers to take care of an expected increase in production.

Thus American industry and American research have scored again for the farmer—turning a formerly wasted material to the uses of production and a higher standard of living for all concerned!

ISMS AND AMERICANISM

By Pierce Brooks

America may be threatened by the forces of Nazism, Fascism, Communism, Socialism, and what have you.

But the American system as founded by Washington and clarified by Jefferson and expanded so vigorously by Cleveland, as facing a threat more serious from an ism that has grown up among our native-born population, and is purely an internal ism.

It is the fast-growing doctrine that deficits in government are not dangerous, that those who have not must be given that which others have earned by hard toil and business ability. In short, we are seriously threatened by the present trend with an abortion of our present system to the place where it will be state capitalism, with every right of private property overthrown and every initiative destroyed.

There is a point where taxation becomes confiscation. The tax bucket can be carried to the well once too often. When that time arrives, private industry will be forced to close its doors, millions of men and women will be unemployed, their labor unions can no longer function and they will be vassals of the state capitalistic regime, working at whatever price the bureaucracy sets with no appeal and no redress.

The principal that the people should support the government, and not the government the people, is as sound now as when enunciated. America has grown great under the present system. Any assault upon that system from within or from without is a distinct threat at Americanism and is therefore un-American.

Davy Crockett, renowned as a frontiersman and hero of the Alamo, served three terms as congressman from Tennessee.

IT COULD HAVE HAPPENED

By Capt. Chas. F. Lindsay
Texas Safety Council

It didn't happen in Texas . . . but it could have. A little boy and his still smaller sister were crossing the street of a Northern city, enroute to the grocery store for a bottle of milk and a confection for the little girl.

"Bounding around a parked car at the curb on the side of the little boy and girl, came a youthful driver of a high-powered piece of mechanism—a modern automobile," Pierce Brooks, president of the Texas Safety Council explains.

"He was making more than 50 miles an hour. He saw the little form of the girl emerge from behind the parked car too late to stop at that speed. He applied all force he had to stop his car. The boy defender of his little sister sensed the peril. He made a valiant dash and grabbed her, and by the breadth of a hair he rescued her from the wheels of that messenger of death.

"Several things were wrong with this picture. "In the first place, a motorist driving through residential sections of our towns and cities, ought not to be making 50 and more miles an hour. He never knows when little feet, guided by immature minds, will dart in his path. His car ought to be under control at all times so that he can halt it within a few feet.

"The parents of the little girl ought to have already instructed her in the necessity of glancing both ways before entering a street, and never doing so from behind a parked automobile without first having made this careful investigation."

The little girl would have been a traffic accident, but for the quick thinking of her brother. If such had been the case it would doubtless have been marked down in the police records as an "unavoidable accident." But it wasn't. Precaution upon the part of the driver, and education on the part of the parents of the little child would have never created a situation so fraught with death as was this.

JOBS, PROFITS AND OPPORTUNITIES

"We have learned the lesson that when opportunities for profit diminish, opportunities for jobs likewise disappear."

"These words happen to be the formal declaration of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, but any other group sincerely interested in the well-being of the United States could utter them at this time with equal logic. For the "lesson" mentioned is one that has been taught over and over again in the course of the depression years through which this country has passed.

Business, whether the "business" in question happens to be farming, running a manufacturing enterprise, or performing some other legitimate function in our economy, is the real source of jobs. Unfriendliness toward those who produce the nation's goods, accompanied by constant misunderstanding of business motives, strikes at the roots of the job-making opportunities in this country.

It's a truth that becomes evident as soon as it's thought over on a common-sense basis. But at the same time it's a truth that will bear plenty of emphasis.

Labor's representatives serve progress by affirming their belief in the profit system at this time.

BETTER TIMES ON THE FARM

"Better marketing for agriculture is not a selfish goal, because it will help the producer and consumer alike," said L. J. Taber, National Grange Master, recently.

The consuming population depends upon the farmer for a constant, never-failing supply of high quality food products. More orderly, efficient marketing means a better and wider variety of foods for millions of homes. This has been thoroughly proven in those areas where agricultural marketing cooperation has been most highly developed.

On top of that, the farmer constitutes the largest single market for the products of our factories. Clothing, machinery, automobiles, insurance policies, building materials, newspapers and magazines—the farmer spends hundreds of millions of dollars for such things each year. Increased farm income thus means more jobs and more opportunities for business and industrial workers.

Better times on the farm means better times everywhere.

ENDURING WISDOM

THEY SAY!

"The contributions made by the steel industry to standards of living through spectacular new developments are probably of no greater importance than the sum of its steady contribution in improving and reducing costs of its standard products which the public is using constantly."—Charles R. Hook, president American Rolling Mill Co.

"Beyond doubt commercial production of new products constantly being formulated in industry's laboratories will continue to result in higher standards of living for our people in the World of Tomorrow just as they have done in the past."—Thomas H. McInerney, president National Dairy Products Corp.

Full Conservation Course

Austin.—With the announcement that plans have been completed for the incorporating of wildlife conservation study into every branch of the curriculum of Prairie View State Normal and Industrial College in Waller county for initiating a wildlife restoration project on the 1,491 acres of land administered by the college, conservation education continues to spread.

W. R. Banks, principal of the school, has appointed a committee of faculty members to incorporate conservation teachings into the curriculum. Extensive food and cover improvements for quail are planned on the acreage, including a dozen food patches, fifteen brush shelters and 150 cover plantings. L. A. Potts, director of agriculture, is in immediate charge of the habitat improvement work. R. S. Bird, professor of soils, and two advanced students will carry on life history and management work under the supervision of the regional game manager of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, sponsor of the project.

Going even farther in the teachings of wildlife conservation, the subject is being incorporated in the elementary school at Prairie View, in Boy Scout work and even before colored women's clubs. Wildlife will also have a place in future short courses at the college.

It is believed this project will be the means whereby colored people of Texas and other states will be reached with the Game Department's conservation work from both demonstration research and management standpoints.

Survived First Norther

Contrary to popular opinion, whitewing doves do not leave Texas, presumably for Mexico, after the first norther of the year. Game managers of the Texas Game Department found last fall. It was after the fourth cold spell that decreases in the ranks of whitewings were noted. An abundance of food was still present when the whitewings left Texas late in October.

GRASSHOPPERS

The grasshopper control campaign of 1939 protected crops on 3,544,670 acres from serious damage and saved farmers an estimated $4,254,203.

Actual losses from grasshoppers totaled $536,779.

The campaign, with R. R. Reppert, entomologist of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, as state grasshopper control leader, was supervised in the various counties by county agricultural agents with the cooperation of county commissioners' courts, W.P.A. Texas Highway Department, Texas National Guard, Soil Conservation Service, and other agencies.

Early and thorough poisoning on the part of 6,358 farmers and ranchmen held down the infestation of the migratory hopper in the Panhandle area, where the potential damage had been estimated as 28 per cent more severe than that of 1938. Although 3,320 tons of bait, containing 40,289 gallons of sodium arsenite, were used. Various counties contributed $21,411.28 and farmers in many cases matched the amount of poison bait material furnished by the federal government.

The government's contribution, administered by the U.S. Department's Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, amounted to $96,192.

Sufficient bait material was left over from the 1939 campaign, and is now stored at various points in the state, to control the infestation anticipated for 1940, Reppert said.

The machinery stopped in a large factory and an expert was summoned. He asked for a hammer. After he tapped here and there the machinery started. He sent in a bill which read as follows: "For tapping machinery with hammer, $1. For knowing where to tap, $49. Total, $50."

The second group of the first grade has now advanced enough that they are reading with the first group. They are very glad to have Donald Wayne Mincey back with them.

The second grade is now planning a George Washington party for their mothers. The pupils have made mint cups, plate favors, and all other plans for the party.

In the fifth grade, the policeman and policewoman for this week are Leo Reddell and Glynna Dean Nix, respectively. They are sorry that so many of their classmates are absent because of sickness.

Grammar school is organizing a choral club. Each student has to sing every club song before he can become a member. The following students have sung every song: Earleen Brewer, Margie Lowrey, Richard Henderson, Betty John Beauchamp and Betty Nell Walker.

Basketball Report

The Sunset Eagles played their first game in the county tournament against the Vera Pilots on Friday night. The Eagles were victorious and the game ended in their favor 28-15.

They played their second game against the Goree Wildcats at one o'clock Saturday evening. In the last second of a fast game the score was tied 19-19. In the extra period the Goree team ran up three points and the game ended in their favor, 23-19.

The Eagles lost several games during the season, handicapped by having their captain and center, Payne Shannon, benched with an injured hand. The interests of the team for the next few weeks will be centered on track in preparation for the county meet.

The Junior Baseball

Sunset High School junior baseball has been organized and one game has been played.

Jeanette Partridge and Pauline Goodson have started playing the past week.

The girls are looking forward to their next game.

Freshman Report

and honk your horn. If you want to let somebody on the ninth of nineteenth floor know you are there to take him home, just honk your horn. It may be hard on other people's eardrums and make their nervous system more nervous, but it's a free country, ain't it?

That white line down the middle of the highway is a track for your inside wheel to run over. Of course, if you meet another autoist who thinks the same thing, they can just hold a double funeral.

It's great sport to put on full speed ahead, whip in front of another car, then stop at a filling station nine feet afterward.

For a left turn, hold your arm straight out; for a right turn, arm straight out; for a stop, arm straight out. Well, anyway, the motorist behind you ought to be grateful that you indicated something was going to happen.

Now to be serious: If city, county and state officers would arrest all traffic offenders and then if the judges would just impose and collect a fine in each instance, one of two things would happen: Either so much would be collected in fines that the taxes would be abolished or this reckless driving would end and this awful toll of human lives and broken limbs would be greatly reduced.

In the lower left hand corner of the first page of the Dallas News a few mornings ago there appeared these few lines by your columnist:

MIRACLES

When all the world was blue and gold,

It seemed a dream that rain could fall;

Now all the world is wet and cold—

Will sunlight ever stream again,

Will roses ever dream again

Along my garden wall?

The recent passing of Cyclone Davis marked the loss of an eloquent and picturesque figure who long held a prominent place in Texas politics. Someone could write a highly interesting book on powerful stump speakers of by-gone days in the Lone Star State. Such a gallery would include Dave Culberson, (the father of Charles Culberson), who was an opponent of Cyclone Davis; and others would be "Stump" Ashby and "Howdy" Martin, the latter receiving his nickname from his habit of greeting everybody he met with an up-lifted hand and a deep "howdy."

Quite a few Texas newspapermen by the way, have found time—in spite of their heavy day-by-day writing duties—to write a book, too. Among them are Sam Hanna Acheson, who wrote "Joe Bailey," and Wayne Gard, "Sam Bass" both of the Dallas News, that is Acheson and Gard. Douglas Meador out at Paducah, authored "Trail Dust," based on his celebrated column, and C. L. Douglas of the Fort Worth Press has written several volumes, best known being "Gentlemen in the White Hats."

And speaking of old jokes, which we were a while back, there's the one about the town tightwad who refused to subscribe toward the cost of building a fence around the cemetery. His reason was "Nobody on the outside wants to get in and nobody on the inside can get out."

Dale Carnegie Will Lecture At H.-S. University

Dale Carnegie, author, radio star and newspaper columnist, and a national figure on the lecture platform, will bring his philosophy on "How to Win Friends and Influence People" to West Texas, on Thursday night, February 29.

Carnegie will speak in the Hardin-Simmons University Auditorium, in Abilene, and will autograph copies of his famed book after the lecture. His famous book has sold more than 1,200,000 copies, to set a record for non-fiction works.

Born on a Maryville, Mo., farm where his father was a breeder of white-faced cattle, Carnegie brings to the lecture platform an experience of 27 years in training men and women in the art of effective speaking and personality development.

In his lectures, Carnegie covers such subjects as how to get a job, how to spend leisure time, planning life work, climbing to success, and public speaking, turning a hobby into money, the art of reading, and employment after 40.

Geronimo's Last Wars Subject Of New Movie at Roxy Theatre

There may have been greater men to write their names into the annals of the great Southwest, but these certainly was never a more appalling one than Geronimo, arch fiend and warlord of the Apache Indian tribe which fought the United States to the death for the arid wasteland they knew as home.

Cruel, vicious, ferocious, brave, treacherous and resourceful—possessor in fact of almost every quality of villainous distinction—Geronimo roamed, raided and ravaged through a career of carnage unparalleled in Indian lore.

The exploits of this butcher-brave inspired filming of Paramount's "Geronimo" which opens on Tuesday at the Roxy Theatre with Preston Foster, Ellen Drew, Andy Devine, William Henry, Gene Lockhart, Ralph Morgan, Chief Thunder Cloud, Marjorie Gateson, Kitty Kelly and thousands of others.

Ruthlessness of Geronimo's hatred for the white race, as a whole, was not born of love for savagery. The last to kill was not a product of his nature, but rather outgrowth of a vow for vengeance against treacherous white traders, who, in his youth, are said to have murdered his father, mother and sister. For this act, the warlord of the Apaches has sworn that a thousand white men should pay with their lives for what had been done to him and his people. For several decades, Geronimo and his followers waged war not only against the residents of New Mexico and Arizona, but also against the soldiers of the United States, detailed to this section of the country in an effort to hold the Apaches in check. This conflict entailed an outlay of over $41,000,000 on the part of the government. Thousands of lives were the victims of Geronimo's hatred and that of his followers. It has been estimated that the property loss to settlers in these two states as the result of Apache depredations ran into millions. Terror reigned in these states for years because of the crimes perpetrated by the redskin outlaws. Finally as a result of public clamor aroused by the nefarious acts of this tribe of Indians headed by Geronimo, President Grant ordered the Secretary of War to send troops to bring peace and security to the inhabitants of these states. At first the troops were hampered by the delay in delivery of much needed supplies and this fact prompted the Indians to make raids on settlements and ranches and attacks on stage coaches with renewed vigor.

In the activities that followed the Indians were pursued with redoubled energy. They were finally compelled to flee to the mountain fastness of the territory, where food and water were hard to obtain. Pursued night and day by the cavalry, they were not given a moment's breathing time and were hunted down like wild beasts.

Finally they were overcome. Struggling lines of Apaches found their way to the army forts, laid down their arms and surrendered. Geronimo and a few of his more loyal henchmen were the last to admit defeat.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Blanton of Stamford are the parents of a son, Ralph Irwin, born at the Knox City hospital on February 14. Mrs. Blanton, who has been visiting in the A. U. Hathaway home, and her little son are reported doing nicely.

Dr. T. P. Frizzell of Knox City was a visitor in town last Saturday.

M. L. Wiggins and Miss Jim Moody went to Abilene last Sunday to see "Gone With the Wind."

County Superintendent Merick McGaughey of Benjamin was a business visitor here Tuesday morning.

Mrs. E. M. Roberts, Mrs. Jack Mayes, Mrs. J. C. Harpham and Mrs. Grady Roberts were visitors in Wichita Falls last Tuesday.

"I've Got It!" U.S. Inventor Cried— It Was product Meaning 25,000 Jobs

The American patent system has its 150 birthday this year. In February industrial communities over the nation are marking the occasion by paying special tribute to their "Modern Pioneers"—inventors and research workers whose patented ideas have laid the ground work for the building of new job-giving industries. This is one of a series of stories telling of the development of some of these industries.

The beginning of one of America's most important industries can probably be traced to a college professor's oft-repeated challenge to his class: "Fame and fortune await the man who discovers an inexpensive method of making aluminum."

A school book also may be said to have played a part in the development of this industry, which today gives jobs to 25,000 persons, and has made easier and simpler the housewife's duties and has played a major role in the development of modern aircraft, trains, and other forms of transportation.

The professor was Frank Fanning Jewett, chemistry teacher at Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio. The book was a chemistry manual published in 1841.

Many times Professor Jewett repeated his challenge to his chemistry class. One day it inspired one of his pupils to remark to a fellow student: "I'm going after that metal."

The remark was made by young Charles Matrin Hall, who, in his boyhood, had been fascinated by the mystérieuse of chemistry. Young Hall's father, the Rev. H. Bassett Hall, had given the boy the chemistry manual that plays a part in this story. In that manual, Hall found the subject of aluminum dismissed with only these few words: "The metal may be obtained by heating chloride of aluminum with potassium in a covered platinum or porcelain crucible and dissolving out the salt with water. As thus prepared, it is a gray powder similar to platinum, but when rubbed in a mortar, exhibits distinctly metallic luster."

With his meager allowance and funds borrowed from Professor Jewett, young Hall began his experiments. Success finally came on February 23, 1886, in a woodshed in the backyard of the Hall home. The young inventor, on that day, developed the process that today makes it possible to produce aluminum cheap enough for commercial use.

The discovery was made public when young Hall, then only 22 years old, dashed from the woodshed clutching a few "buttons" of bright metal. He ran up the street to the Oberlin campus and into the office of Professor Jewett, shouting "Professor, I've got 't!"

It was two years before young Hall could organize a company to finance the construction of the first aluminum plant. With the aid of friends, however, this was finally done, and on Thanksgiving Day, 1888, the first metal was produced in Pittsburgh.

Great European scientists had tackled the problem of aluminum many years before—and had failed. Even Napoleon III had commissioned a French chemist, Henri Deville, to devote his time to the subject. In those days aluminum ranked with gold and platinum in value, costing $500 a pound. Deville, too, failed. Thus it remained for a youth not a year out of college to make the discovery in a backyard woodshed that brought the metal within the reach of everybody's pocketbook, for through his research the cost was ultimately lowered to about 20 cents a pound.

More important, perhaps, was the fact that it created employment for approximately 25,000 persons in an industry that would not exist today if the metal still cost $500 a pound.

Professor Jewett's prediction of a great fortune and fame for the discoverer of this process was fulfilled. Both were considerable. Hall died in 1914 and is buried in Oberlin not far from the woodshed site of his discovery and today every pot, pan, streamlined train and airplane made of aluminum represents a monument to his achievement.

New Burpee Flower Makes Its Bow

Miss Jean Burpee, niece of David Burpee, famous hybridist of Philadelphia, helped usher in at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York recently, the new "Tetra" Marigold, first flower ever created by the use of a chemical for reproduction from seeds. It was developed by doubling the chromosomes of the Guinea Gold marigold, a feat accomplished by treating the marigold with colchicine, a chemical extracted from the bulb of the common autumn crocus. Miss Burpee is a student at the Sarah Lawrence School in Bronxville, N. Y.

Money For Rural Aid is Received

Knox county schools this week received almost half of their rural aid money from the state. Warrants were received in the county superintendent's office for a little more than $6,000, Merick McGaughey said.

Three rural schools have not completed their reports on attendance requirements, and Mr. McGaughey said they would receive their rural aid money about April 1st. "It looks like the state will pay the rural aid obligations in full this year," McGaughey said.

Transportation warrants for bus transportation will be received about March 15th, and it looks favorable for schools to receive their full quotas in this phase of state aid.

Eight Texas towns and cities went through 1939 without a single traffic fatality.

The Santa Fe System carloadings for the week ending February 17, 1940, were 16,436 as compared with 18,046 for the same week in 1939. The total cars moved were 21,710 as compared with 23,066 for the same week in 1939. The Santa Fe handled a total of 21,346 cars during the preceding week of this year.

GINGER COOKIES WITH A FUTURE
Crisp, molasses-y ginger cookies are a welcome addition to a school lunch, a picnic or any occasion when cookies are in order. But did you know that you can combine these spicy, crunchy cookies with whipped cream to make a truly delightful company dessert?

However, like the old recipe for here pie that used to begin "first catch your hare"—we'd better make our ginger cookies before we start this dessert. Here is the recipe for Ginger Refrigerator Cookies. It's a recipe you'll find convenient to have, even though you have no occasion at present to use the dessert. It's so much easier and quicker to simply slice the cookies from a long narrow loaf of well-chilled cookie dough than it is to roll out the dough and cut the cookies.

GINGER REFRIGERATOR COOKIES

1 cup shortening 4 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1 cup sugar 1 tsp. soda
2 eggs 1 tsp. salt
1/2 cup molasses 3 tsp. ginger

Cream the shortening and add the sugar gradually and cream thoroughly. Blend in the well beaten eggs and the molasses. Sift flour once before measuring. Sift flour, soda, salt and ginger together and stir gradually into the mixture. Mold into roll, wrap in waxed paper and place in refrigerator for several hours. Slice cookies 1/2 inch thick and bake about 10 minutes in a moderately hot oven, 400° F. This makes about 4 dozen cookies.

FOR AN EXTRA SPECIAL DESSERT
Sometime when you want a really distinguished dessert with lots of character, try this Ginger Cream Roll. It has the advantage of being the sort of dessert you can make the day before the party and have all ready to serve without any last minute finishing touches. That makes it an ideal dessert for the hostess without a maid.

GINGER CREAM ROLL
Use 20 large 3-inch cookies 1/2 inch thick and 1 pint whipping cream whipped very stiff. Blend 4 tablespoons confectioners' sugar into the whipped cream. Spread 1 tablespoon sweetened whipped cream over a cookie, place another cookie above it. Repeat until all cookies are used. Lay roll lengthwise on platter, spreading cream evenly over sides and top. Set in refrigerator to chill at least 8 hours, keeping the dessert covered if possible. Decorate with slices of candied ginger. Serve by cutting slices diagonally across the roll. A bit of clear apricot jam on each serving adds a delicious flavor. This will make 12 to 15 servings.

Note: A teaspoon of gelatin soaked in 1 tablespoon milk and dissolved over hot water may be blended into the whipped cream to help it hold its shape.

Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And departing, leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time.

And great they were, these authors whose features are now seen on United States postage stamps. In tribute to their memory we present a series of biographies of these authors.

James Fenimore Cooper

James Fenimore Cooper was a great American novelist. He is known for his series of stories of frontier life, called "Leather Stocking Tales."

His early life was spent with the red men in his country. From his experience then he gathered his material and information for his many works.

After studying at Yale and being asked to leave college, he joined the United States navy. From his sea experiences he wrote many realistic sea tales. Just before the War of 1812 he married and retired from the navy.

One day while reading a novel, he told his wife he could write a much better novel than those appearing at that time, thus he wrote "Precaution." When turning to adventure of his own country he wrote "The Spy" in 1821. This novel caused him to be recognized at once as a novelist of great force.

Some more of his publications were "The Last of the Mohicans," "The Prairie," "Pathfinder," and "The Deerslayer." He died at Cooperstown, in 1851, at the age of 52 years.

On Tuesday night, February 13, the high school students were entertained at a Valentine party. Refreshments were served, and valentines were distributed. Games in keeping with the occasion were played. Prizes were given to Nadine Kretz, Elsie and Alma Schumacher.

The auditorium was beautifully decorated in colors of red and white.

Senior Class News

The Seniors reported an enjoyable time at the Valentine party last Tuesday night.

In English IV we are beginning our study of poetry. At present we are studying the forms of poetry, versification and rhythm. Bernice thinks she is a class A student since the teacher bragged on her.

Rosa Lee likes to visit a farm east of Rhineland. Clara enjoys the singing on Saturday afternoons in Munday.

We wonder why Margaret watches for a 1934 Chevrolet, especially on Sunday nights. (Could it be the one in it?)

We have noticed a certain Freshman boy washing dishes with an apron on backwards. (Vick, do you know anything about it?)

We wonder why Jean has such a liking for Fords.

Their cars having collided, Cletus and Richard were surveying the situation. Cletus offered Richard a drink from his bottle. Richard drank and Cletus returned the battle to his pocket.

"Thank ye," said Richard, "but aren't you going to have a spin yourself?"

"Aye," replied Cletus, "but not until the police have been here."

Junior Report

A puppet show under the auspices of the State Department of Education will be given here in the high school auditorium on Wednesday. The parents are invited to see it with the children.

During a previous Senior economic class, Mr. Hoffman asked the Juniors to turn out a burner on the stove. We have been wondering what was the matter with the Seniors.

Everyone reported an excellent time at the Valentine party last Tuesday night.

We Have Observed That . . .

Catherine enjoys driving down to see Margaret. (We wonder why.) Elsie has been taking advantage of Bernard's driving lesson.

Victor pats Geneva on the back, not because he wants to hurt her, but because he likes to be near her. Alma hasn't been to the theatre for a while. (Alma can you stand it any longer?)

Bernice and Jean watch for a red pickup.

Ethel has a keen way of writing notes to a certain someone. All she has to do is to leave it in Geneva's notebook. (Ethel, you had better keep Geneva from seeing it.)

Cletus loves to go in Room II. Florine jumps into action when she sees a pickup coming up the lane.

Albert Redder enjoys staying at home during rainy days. Clara makes a good volleyball captain, and also a good singer, especially on Saturdays.

Richard sent a Valentine saying that he had fallen for a certain someone. (Rich, you can't afford to fall much more.)

Mr. Hoffman thinks a great deal of the Sophomores. Rosa Lee and a Junior boy make a good pair.

Margaret and Ethel agree on the same thing. Albert Brown could sit all day and talk to the Sophomore girl who sits behind him, if he didn't have classes.

Sophomore Report

The Sophomores are very happy over the grades they made in the sixth month examination, especially in algebra. They made an excellent grade.

The Sophs had a good time at the Valentine party Tuesday night. Hip, Hip, Hurrah for Washington. A really good man whose good deeds never end. Thank you

Urban: When you grow up will you be a G-Man?

Weldon: No, I'll be a motor cop so when there's trouble I can get away quicker.

Calvin: By inserting special spraying nozzles at regular intervals, one good length of nose can be made to distribute a fine mist in all directions.

We sure had fun talking into the telephone Francis made. We heard some long, interesting messages, too.

We wonder why the Freshman girls call Mildred and . . . 'aunt and uncle' and she hates it so much too. Who's the 'uncle,' 'auntie'?

Freshman Report

It makes me giggle,
I want to laugh
At the funny reporter
On this week's staff.

It's Lucille and a funny one, at that. You may wonder why it's Elsie one week, Mildred another and Lucille a third, but Elsie (our regular reporter) wants us each to have a chance at it to see what it's like. (You still have too much to do, Elsie?)

Well, folks, we have been having examinations this week, which proves that we really have been working hard. But after all the working some of the pupils and teachers are a little disappointed in our grades. We will try to do better next time or we'll "plumb disgustinate" our teacher.

In Mathematics we are on one of the most difficult chapters in the book. "Building and furnishing a Camp." Our exam papers show that, but our teacher says it's nothing new. We can really see it, too, on some of the higher students' freshman notebooks. Although we have been working hard we also found time for a little fun at the Valentine party Tuesday night. Each and everyone of us really enjoyed ourselves even if we didn't win a prize. Well, we just ain't as lucky as some.

Some Things Seen and Heard . . .

Ben (after staying up late the night before): Mr. Hoffman, I saw a star fall this morning right at Michael's place.

Mr. Hoffman: At 10 o'clock in the morning! Whew!! I always knew you'd see stars after the night before.

Urban: When you grow up will you be a G-Man?

Weldon: No, I'll be a motor cop so when there's trouble I can get away quicker.

Grade School News

If Sue keeps on at her present rate of studying, we know that Gene doesn't have a chance of winning the prize, that is, unless he puts up a better fight. How about conquering "Old Man Laziness," Gene?

We wonder why Gene couldn't win a prize in Health this month?

TEXAS OUT-O'-DOORS

U.T. Has Conservation Club

With the forming of the University Rod and Gun club at the University of Texas another school has joined the ever-increasing ranks of conservation conscious institutions in Texas. Many schools are now organizing conservation classes for the study of proper methods of preserving the Lone Star State's wildlife.

Membership in the newly-formed club at the state university is composed of students from the majority of the sections of the state. Gerald R. Mazur of San Antonio is president; Paul D. Marable, Clarksville, vice-president; Richard Anderson, Austin, secretary, and John Armstrong, Kingsville, treasurer. Berry Whittaker, director of intramural athletics, is sponsor of the club.

Would Train Cat as Retriever
C. E. Alvis, Jr., of Gatesville, Texas, has a cat he hopes to train to retrieve quail only during the open season. The other day the cat came to the Alvis door in quite a pleased state and making distinct noises of pride. He held in his mouth an uninjured full-grown Bobwhite. Mrs. Alvis took the bird from him, liberated it and the quail flew away to safety.

Wild housecats do much damage to the wildlife of all sections of the country and many states carry on campaigns to prevent people from dumping unwanted cats on the roads.

hawks in Texas which are not protected, but it is feared many sportsmen are mistaking the male marsh hawk for one of them and are shooting many.

This belief was emphasized recently when the game warden in Colorado County reported to the Game Department's executive secretary that while checking the Garwood rice belt for ducks and geese he saw 26 female marsh hawks and no males. The following day he sighted and identified 41 female marsh hawks and only 4 males in the Eagle Lake rice belt.

Goshawks, duck-hawks, sharp-shinned hawks and Cooper hawks or blue darters are the unprotected hawks. It is known that all other species of hawks do much good by eating rodents. Because the male marsh hawk is blue in color most people believe they are the Cooper or blue darter and shoot them. The female is brown. Both the male and female have a light ball of feathers at the rump. They fly slow and close to the ground.

Don't Kill Robins

"Don't kill robins," is the warning being issued constantly by the executive secretary of the Game Department. Reports are being received from all over the state of small boys and boys not so small slaughtering the songbirds with air rifles and slingshots. Game Wardens are kept busy answering calls from irate citizens who are seeking to protect the birds. Robins are protected by law and being migratory birds, persons found guilty of killing them are subject to fine in federal court.

One Hitch Hiker Less

Texas probably has one hitch hiker less these days as a result of an experience by one member of the gentry of the open road. This particular hitch hiker decided to spend the night in a culvert in Gillespie county, the Fredericksburg Standard relates. When he started under the culvert he was confronted by a huge cat. The hiker left hurriedly in one direction and the cat in another. The hiker swore the cat was a full-grown panther.

Valuable to Wildlife

Evidence of the value of hollow trees to wildlife was shown conclusively recently when a Texas farmer cut down a big tree. He got three opossums, each weighing seven pounds, five fat squirrels and twenty pounds of honey out of the tree.

SERVICE OFFICER HERE

J. T. Gray, state service officer of the American Legion, was here for several hours last Monday assisting local ex-service men and others with their compensation and disability claims. He went from here to Neocoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Ferris and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Binnion visited relatives in Sweetwater over the week end. Mr. and Mrs. Binnion remained for several days visit.

Senior News

Something good seems to be filling the atmosphere, or maybe the outcome will be the filling of the senior's stomachs; never-the-less, I think a party is predicted—a kid or masquerade—or some sort. All are looking forward to a grand time with lots of fun.

A surprise was awaiting the students of M.H.S. as well as the grade school, when a puppet show was given them in the auditorium, February 20. This was a show to teach better health for little boys and girls—but maybe it did some good for the larger ones too.

Some of the Seniors who are in the chorus were very much disappointed Monday when they learned that their trip to Vernon was called off. Because of the illness of their director, Miss Kennedy, they were unable to present a program from the radio station at Vernon, but they are expecting to fulfill this in the near future.

O, my! How those shorthand pupils work! Not being content with an hour's study, they devote at least two study periods to pounding the typewriters and racking their brains. If practice makes perfect, then I feel sure every student in that class will some day be a genius.

They never seem to have too much work to do. Every day they read their lesson over several times, write it as many times as they wish, at least once, prepare their secretarial practice lesson which I can assure you is a lesson in itself, and beside all that I have noticed them lately writing more "pot hooks" and "chicken tracks" from the Gregg Writer.

This little poem which I think describes the subject pretty sufficiently was taken from that magazine:

you should find out.

I have just been reading an article on the pronunciation of words which reminds me to remind you that Floyd is Bobbie's last name. It must be very hard for some people to pronounce it.

The lady of the week is Inor Beth Hendrix. If you want to improve yourself—there is an example. The gentleman of the week is Clayton Stevens. His manners are probably due to a disease or they come in spells (short ones at that). It cannot be natural.

The subject for the week is Algebra—and a bigger headache there never before was. Did you ever try to eliminate something you did not know and could not find unless you got rid of? It is a terrible puzzle and is beyond my comprehension.

People have been coming to me complaining about the "slams" they received in this column. I did not know what they were talking about, but have I been closing the doors softly ever since. Have I improved any?

Freshman News

The Freshmen had a Valentine party the 14th in the Home Ec cottage. Miss Moody and Mrs. Golden helped us with it. We were sorry Dr. Bass could not be present. There were 35 present and we exchanged Valentines. We all had a very nice time.

Private Life of Margaret Womble

Margaret was born on a farm five miles west of Munday. She started to school in Munday when she was seven. A year and a half later she moved to Sunset. When she was in the sixth grade, she moved back to Munday and has been here ever since. Margaret has blue eyes, blonde hair, is 5 feet tall and weighs 88 pounds.

Her favorites are:
 Color—Blue.
 Teacher—All of them.
 Subject—Home Ec.
 Sport—Tennis.
 Hobby—Reading.
 Song—"The World is Waiting for the Sunrise."

Movie Star—Alice Faye.
 Radio Program—"Pot O'Gold" or "Stop Me If You've Heard This One."

WE WONDER WHO—

Gave Joe the nickname of "Step-and-a-half."
 Helen could want to see at Keek's.

At Goree could have Ray and Troy in such a haze?
 In grammar school gave Bonnie Jean the nickname of Little Princess.

Betty Jean enjoyed seeing in Junior basketball.

Could have written Earl a letter last week.

Gilbert goes to see 6 miles south of Munday.

It could be that made Bonnie Jean so sad by coming to the Valentine party.

Theresa was so happy over at the party Wednesday night.

Looks at Jerry so sweet in the study hall.

Has been blackmailing Alta lately. Made Ruby so happy the tenth.

At The Churches

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

We can well rejoice in the expression of David in Psalms 68:9, "Thou, O God, didst send a plentiful rain, whereby this didst confirm thine inheritance, when it was weary." Jeremiah 5:24 says, "Let us now fear the Lord our God, that giveth rain." In everyone's heart there is the spirit of gratitude for the very fine rains that have fallen.

Next Sunday week, March Third, we are having all-day service. We are bringing our dinner and spending the day in worship and service. We are urging every member of the church to come, bring your dinner, and have a good time in service and fellowship. Rev. Henry Littleton is to be with us for the day. We feel that it is better for our District Missionary to go to one church for the whole day than it is for him to spend the day going to two or three churches. We hope that, regardless of what has come or gone, that you will listen to this call of your church and come for this one day.

WHATEVER YOU DO, MAKE YOUR PLANS TO COME FOR THIS SERVICE.

We are looking for you next Sunday.

W. H. Albertson

Betty Golden.

We Wonder Why . . .

Colleen and Gladys think the little flower in the English room is so pretty.

Mr. Cobb likes to talk about his red Dodge so much.

Hugh thinks driving a Ford is like driving a tractor.

Goree doesn't like to be talked about in the Munday Times.

We wonder who drew the pictures that were posted before the study hall.

Zell is so loyal to that handsome Munday "Fan."

Allene can't make up her mind as to the town she likes best, Munday, Knox City or Goree.

Certain Junior girls want to write this gossip column.

Sue was so sleepy Monday morning. (Who was your company last week end, Sue?)

Jerry took a sudden notion to go to Haskell the latter part of last week but now she doesn't want to go.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Sunday School 10 o'clock.
 Church service, 11 o'clock.
 Mid-week service, 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, at pastor's home.

Many of our people were kept away from church last Sunday because the roads were too muddy. We are looking for our whole congregation to be present next Sunday and thank God for the season that he has given us. We are working to double our congregation by Easter. If you are a member of our church we invite you to come on out Sunday and bring a friend with you.

We received one of the nicest gifts any church could receive this week. Mrs. Calhoun of the First Presbyterian Church, Fort Worth, gave us one of the best pulpits Bibles I have ever seen. It was published in 1891 and is a library in itself. It must have cost around $150. We are pleased with the gift and grateful to Mrs. Calhoun for it.

"I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord."

Winston R. Bryant, Pastor

MUNDAY METHODIST CHURCH

We heartily appreciate the many kind remarks about the church since it has been under reconstruction inside and out. Some things that were necessary for practical use rather than planning with beauty in mind, have not detracted from the artistic appearance as some had thought. We find now that it is both practical and very much improved in appearance. Still there is more we hope to have done.

The Bishop came by last year and we were ashamed of our church, but he is coming again this year on March 1st, just one week hence, and we want that the church be attractive for his coming and our own satisfaction as we worship God. We now invite the general public, those who like "Down the Methodist Way," to come and worship with us. We want to be friendly and we want to be helpful to our fellow man. Give the church a chance by giving it your best.

Services Sunday: Sunday School, 10:00 a.m.; church worship hours, 11:00 a.m., and 7:30 p.m. Devotional service, Wednesday 7:30 p.m.

m. The District Retreat, Spiritual Life section of the W.S.C.S., will be held here next Wednesday, February 28. See program in this issue of Munday Times. Friday of the same week, as above stated, Bishop Ivan Lee Holt will preach in the church at 3:00 p.m. and that night at Stamford. The afternoon meeting is held in the interest of the churches in this end of the District and for those who might not be able to attend at Stamford that night. Bishop Holt is indeed a friendly man and well liked throughout his area. "Fidelity comes not in easy chairs, but in the mastery of our tasks."

Ray McWhorter of Weinert was a business visitor here Monday.

Ford Tractor Dealers Go To Dallas Meet

H. A. Pendleton and J. L. Stodghill, local dealers for the new Ford tractor with Ferguson system, left Monday for Dallas where they joined over 300 other dealers and salesmen from all over Texas in a meeting held Tuesday at the Adolphus Hotel by the Bull-Stewart Equipment Company. Highlights of the meeting were talks to the dealers by Mr. E. C. Sherman, president of Ferguson-Sherman Manufacturing Corporation, national distributors for the revolutionary new tractor and by the guest speaker, Mr. C. E. Sorensen, widely-known executive of the Ford Motor Company, which manufactures the tractor. Tuesday noon they joined in ceremonies welcoming the arrival of two special trainloads of the new tractor to Dallas, what is believed to be the largest single shipment of agricultural tractors in the history of the United States. The trains were broken up after the ceremonies and the cars dispatched to dealers in cities and towns throughout Texas, two of the cars will be sent to Munday, for farmers in this vicinity.

Facts Concerning Group Hospital Service

Q. What is Group Hospital Service?

A. Group Hospital Service is a hospitalization plan made possible by an Act of the State Legislature for the hospitals of Texas to organize a hospitalization plan to give the people of Texas hospitalization at cost.

2. What would be the approximate amount your company would save a man for a 14-day stay in the hospital?

A. We would pay approximately $135 in case of accident and $120 for the average cost of hospitalization due to an operation.

3. How are your policyholders admitted to the hospital?

A. By recommendation of the attending physician or surgeon. They present their identification card to the hospital and the business manager attends to the details. There are no claim adjusters.

4. Why is it written in groups instead of individuals?

A. By writing in groups we keep our overhead expense to a minimum. We can handle a group of five or more individuals as quickly as we can handle one. Then, too, it prevents a person from going to their doctor and being informed that they must have an operation, then coming down, taking out our policy and dropping same upon being released from the hospital. A group of five tends to offset our loss in a case of this kind.

5. Do you write farmers and ranchers under this plan?

A. Yes, we are very anxious to cover farmers and ranchers, but they must band themselves together in groups of five or more and pay through a group chairman.

6. When does the protection under your plan begin?

A. Upon acceptance of the application in our Dallas office our subscribers are covered in case of accident. Ten days from that date they are covered in case of sickness.

7. Which hospital may your policyholders go to?

A. Our policyholders may go to any legalized hospital in or out of the State of Texas.

8. Does the plan pay doctor's bills?

A. No. Our plan pays hospitalization only.

Call your hospital for detailed information, or see Mrs. Bess C. Neff, Munday, Texas.

Munday Boxers Eliminated In State Tourney

Billy McDavid Loses Decision; Boyd In Semi-Finals

The Munday district won't be represented in the Chicago national Golden Gloves tournament, but the boys from this district put up fights that still have sports fans talking. Each of the eight fighters were eliminated in the state tournament in Fort Worth, with only Carney Boyd, Olney welterweight, going into the semi-finals.

Billy McDavid, flyweight champion of the Munday district, drew his toughest opponent for the first bout, and lost the decision of the judges. Jose Andreas of Fort Worth, who won the state championship on Monday night, won the McDavid decision over McDavid. Sports writers commented over this splendid bout for several days.

Pictures of seven of Munday's eight representatives in the Golden Gloves appeared in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram as the state tournament was run off.

Carney Boyd lost the decision in his semi-final bout last Monday night.

Neon Installed At Local Stores

Bright colors of red, blue and green are "dressing up" the business section of Munday, as many merchants have had the neon lights installed.

At least a dozen business houses have been decorated with neon within the last two weeks, and still other merchants plan to dress up their places of business in the near future.

Some of them are "clocking" the neon to see if it will be expensive to keep burning both day and night.

Most folks will welcome the coming of spring. But it will be a time of dread for the poor Finns who expect the Russian juggernaut to swarm over them as the icy weather breaks.
