SCOUTS ADVANCED AT COURT OF HONOR

Neighbors Help S. E. Hastings With Spring Plowing

Thirteen Tractors Are At Work Monday on Hastings Farm

Proof of the fact that neighbors are just as neighborly as they were in the olden days was shown this week by neighbors of S. E. Hastings, who farms five miles south of Munday.

Mr. Hastings has been "laid up" with a broken leg for several weeks. The injury was sustained when spinning rear wheels of a mired truck threw a 2x6 against his leg, breaking it between the ankle and knee. He has been unable to get out and do his spring plowing, so his neighbors came to his aid.

Last Monday morning the neighbors gathered with their tractors and organized for getting Mr. Hastings' land in shape for planting the 1940 crop.

Soon the roar of tractors was heard, as thirteen of them started in on the Hastings land. All of the land was plowed the first of this week.

This is the type of neighborliness known to West Texas for many years, and Mr. Hastings is appreciative of this group of farmers who have helped him at a time when help was most needed.

Seniors Asked To Open House at John Tarleton

The senior class of Munday high school recently received an invitation from Dean J. Thomas Davis, head of John Tarleton College, inviting them to be the guests of the Stephenville institution at an open house on April 18. In addition to the invitation from the dean, letters urging attendance were received from representatives of various Tarleton social clubs, who are sponsoring the affair.

Included in the program for the hundreds of high school students expected to attend will be a tour of the campus, lunch in the dining hall, motion pictures, a program by the music department, and a military review of the Cadet Corps.

Gossett Bill Passes in House

The house of representatives in Washington Thursday amended the interior department appropriations bill to prohibit the department's radio section from broadcasting programs designed to influence the vote or legislation pending in congress.

Arising principally because of a recent, vivid broadcast predicting the nation would be out of oil within 17 years and dramatizing conditions in which there would be no oil, the amendment was introduced by Representative Ed Gossett.

Miss Kennedy Leaves For Washington, D.C.

Miss Mildred Kennedy, who resigned her position as instructor of music in the local schools, left last Saturday for Washington, D.C., where she will take up her duties in the treasury department. A large group of teachers, school children, and close friends of Miss Kennedy gathered at the depot to see her off.

Her mother, Miss Darabelle Kennedy, left for Parsons, Kansas, where she will visit two sisters before joining Miss Kennedy in Washington.

Mrs. J. R. Collier of Abilene visited her sister, Mrs. B. L. Blacklock last Sunday. Her mother, Mrs. Nellie Broughton accompanied her home after several months visit in the Blacklock home.

Head Local Chamber of Commerce

Heading the Munday Chamber of Commerce for next year are W. R. Moore, re-elected president, and Leland Hannah, vice president, who were named at the annual banquet last Thursday night. Miss Maud Isbell was re-elected publicity chairman. Various committees for the year will be named later by the president.

Chamber of Commerce Banquet Attracts 300 From This Section

Over 70 Out of Town Guests Attend

Nearly 300 persons from Knox and adjoining counties gathered here last Thursday night for the annual Munday chamber of commerce banquet which was held at the school gymnasium. Included in this number were more than 70 out-of-town guests.

The principal address of the evening was made by Prof. Robert E. Jackson of N.T.S.T.C., at Denton. Jackson praised the chamber of commerce as an organization for civic development in his talk entitled "Give Your Town a Personality." Jackson never spoke seriously, always illustrating his points with humorous jokes, yet he made an address that brought many ideas worthy of serious thought.

A special guest at the banquet was Walter Davis of Dairen, Conn., owner of the League ranch near Benjamin and a member of the New York stock exchange. Mr. Davis was born in Galveston and is a grandson of Mr. League who founded the League ranch. In a brief talk, Davis said he was very interested in his Knox county farm and ranch holdings.

W. R. Moore, president, and Leland Hannah, vice president, were introduced as officers of the organization for the ensuing year.

The directors are T. G. Benze, chairman, J. C. Campbell, C. R. Elliott, C. P. Baker, E. W. Harrell, W. E. Braly, Emmett Partridge, M. F. Billingsley, J. A. Caughran, W. V. Tiner, Lee Haymes and P. V. Williams, Fred Broach and A. H. Mitchell.

Miss Mildred Kennedy, music teacher in Munday for 15 years who is moving to Washington, D. C., was presented gifts in recognition of her service by the Lions club and by school children's parents. Lee Haymes made the presentation for the Lions and Mrs. W. V. Tiner for the parents.

Included on the entertainment portion of the program were musical selections by the high school quartet, a singsong led by Don Ferris and music selections by the Chester Francis string ensemble from Anson. Rev. W. R. Bryant, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, gave the invocation.

Cities represented at the banquet were Seymour, Abilene, Haskell, Knox City, Goree, Wichita Falls, Benjamin, Truscott, Rhineland, Gilliland and Vera.

Out-of-town guests included the following: Haskell: Mrs. Alfred Pierson, O. E. Patterson, Guy Collins, John Couch, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Duncan, Dr. Ernest Kimbrough and A. E. Pierson. Gilliland: Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Cure. Floydada: Mrs. G. V. Smith. Knox City: Mr. and Mrs. E. Q. Warren, Dr. and Mrs. T. S. Edwards and Dr. and Mrs. T. P. Frizzell.

Local Firemen Making Plans For Firemen's Meet

West Texas Firemen To Meet Here On May 7th

At Monday night meeting of the Munday Fire Department, the local organization started plans for entertaining visiting firemen at the convention of the West Texas Firemen's Association which will be held in Munday on May 7th. Between 100 and 150 firemen from this section are expected at the convention.

Of interest to local citizens is Munday's record of fire losses during 1939. The department reported a loss of approximately $1,600 from fires during the entire year, an exceptionally good record.

Fire Chief Clint Hawes appointed various firemen to companies at this meeting. They are as follows: Engine company: Harvey Lee, captain; Chas. Massey, Curtis Coates, Joe Massey, H. H. Harrison, Cecil Bookout, Gene Harrell, Hubert Homer, Lowry Rigby, H. D. Warren and O. A. Cox. Nozzle company: Grady Thornton, captain; Slick Moore, Ed Johnson, Red Brumley, G. H. Hammett, D. E. Holder, Jr., DeTroy Trammell and Clarence Daugherty.

Hose company: Ardelle Speice, captain; Jack Mayes, E. H. Bauman, E. B. Littlefield and Frank Trammell.

New Type Light At Eiland's Drug

Installation of the new type of lights was completed last week at Eiland's Drug Store. These are the new fluorescent lights, which are in the form of beams of light running the length of the store.

The store is brilliantly illuminated with a soft white light at night, and gives the entire store a more attractive appearance. Eiland's is the first store in Munday to be entirely equipped with these new lights.

Fourteen units were installed in the store; eleven at the ceiling of the store, one at the soda fountain and one in each of the show windows at the front of the building.

Softball League May Be Formed

Meeting Is Called For Tuesday Night To Discuss Plans

Softball players, managers and enthusiasts of this area are asked to attend a softball meeting to be held Tuesday night at eight o'clock at the city hall in Munday.

It is hoped that a six club league can be formed at this meeting and a regular schedule adopted for the softball season. Prospective clubs will be Rhineland, Vera, Benjamin, Knox City, Goree, Weisner, Seymour and Munday.

Herbert F. Barnes of Munday will preside at the meeting.

Bakers Attend Market in Dallas

Mr. and Mrs. Pitzer Baker spent last Tuesday in Dallas and Fort Worth, where they attended market, and purchased new merchandise for the Baker-McCarty store in Munday.

While in Dallas, they attended a meeting of a group of merchants who maintain an office in Dallas for the purpose of buying goods direct from the manufacturers.

Baker-McCarty's store is a member of this organization of independent merchants from all sections of the state. Through the organization, and the Dallas office, these merchants are able to buy direct from the manufacturers, making a saving on these purchases which they are able to pass on to their customers at home.

Selected For Who's Who

Mozelle Trammell, (left) and Jack Pippin are Munday high school's 1939-40 contributions to Who's Who in Texas High Schools. They were chosen for their citizenship, scholarship, personality, and all-round usefulness to school and community.

Mozelle is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Trammell. She is a near A student. This year, she is serving as editor of the Tom-Ton, the school paper, and was reporter during the sophomore and junior years. Mozelle is the secretary of her class. Jack, the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Pippin, is a valuable Munday high school athlete. His athletic ability includes star performances in football, basketball, and track. Jack is one of the characters in the interscholastic league one-act play. He is outstanding in scholastic ability.

Presbyterian Church to Hold Spring Revival

A revival meeting, opening next Sunday, March 17, will be held at the First Presbyterian church in Munday, with services each night at 7:30 except Saturday night. The meeting will close on Easter Sunday at the night service.

Rev. J. Stuart Pearce, D.D., an ex-cowboy and soldier, who is now home mission secretary and evangelist for the Presbyterian church U.S. in Fort Worth, will hold the services. Dr. Pearce is well known through South and West Texas and is an outstanding evangelist. There is a blessing in store for all the people of Munday and surrounding territory who will attend these services.

"The First Presbyterian church takes pleasure in bringing this man to our town," Rev. W. R. Bryant, pastor, said, "and we invite everyone, regardless of denomination, to attend these services. We hope this meeting will be a community affair and not just a Presbyterian meeting. Make your plans now to be there as much as possible."

Rev. W. R. Bryant Is Scoutmaster Of Troop 76

Cecil Cooper Taking Assistant's Job

It was announced at the Court of Honor last Tuesday night that Rev. W. R. Bryant, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, has accepted his appointment as scoutmaster of the Munday troop No. 76, succeeding Billy Benson, who recently moved away.

Advancement made by the troop during the past two years is due largely to the untiring work of Cecil Cooper, who resigned as scoutmaster several months ago, but who is still active as assistant scoutmaster. Cooper has devoted much time to the boys in the past two years, but resigned because he was unable to give them this time in the future. The scouts have made many advances under Cooper's guidance, and they're all happy that Cecil will still be associated with them as assistant scoutmaster.

Rev. Bryant plans to devote much time to the boys during the summer, in order to carry out an active program of hiking, camping and other outdoor activities, as well as the regular scout activities.

Mrs. Houghton and Miss Pauline McCarty of Floydada spent last week end here in the home of Miss McCarty's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McCarty.

12 Scouts Get Badges of Rank

Merit Badges Issued To Eight Boys

The first Court of Honor for the Munday Boy Scout troop No. 76 was held last Tuesday night, when badges of rank and merit badges were issued to various local scouts for their work in the troop.

R. K. Ayers, field scout executive of this area, was present and gave very impressive ceremonies. L. M. Palmer acted as chairman of the court of honor.

Following the invocation by Rev. H. A. Longino, Hugh Longino directed the scouts in their pledge of allegiance to the flag. Ayers led in a sing song.

The investiture of candidates for Tenderfoot ceremonies was conducted by Mr. Ayers. This was a very impressive candle-lighting ceremony, three candles being lighted to carry out the three points of the scout oath, then 12 candles were lighted to represent the 12 points of the scout law. Parents of the tenderfoot scouts stood up with the boys, and as Cecil Cooper presented them with their badges, they were pinned on the boys by the parents.

O. P. Caldwell of Seymour, district chairman, presented badges to scouts of second class rank, and O. C. Harrison, also of Seymour, district court of honor chairman, presented badges of first class rank.

Merit badge certificates were presented by member of the troop committee, who are: Riley B. Harrell, E. W. Harrell, A. H. Mitchell, Lee Haymes and L. M. Palmer.

Mr. Ayres was in charge of ceremonies for scouts of star rank. Boys who were presented badges in the court of honor are as follows:

Tenderfoot: O. H. Spann, Herbert Stodghill, Lloyd Gray and McCelvey Jones.

Second class: Bobby Haymes, Buddy Gafford, David Lee Martin.

First class: Ben Bowden. Star scouts: Charles Baker, Hugh Longino, David Eiland, Dick Harrell and Sargent Lowe.

Merit Badges: Charles Baker, Ben Bowden, Hugh Longino, David Eiland, Dick Harrell, Wayne Blacklock, Jimmie Silman and Sargent Lowe.

Blind Boys Band To Have Audition

The Knox Prairie Ramblers, blind boy musicians, who have recently been re-organized under the direction of D. E. Whitworth, have received an invitation for an audition over KXOX, Sweetwater, on Friday night.

Whitworth said the band will go to Sweetwater and will be heard some time between 6 and 7 o'clock. They will appreciate those enjoying the program sending cards or letters to the station.

Miss Wynell Wallace, popular young singer, will be vocalist for the band. The boys band will play the following instruments: Bass fiddle, clarinet, saxophone, banjo and Hawaiian guitar.

Munday Boxers To Fight Tonight In Seymour Bouts

At 7:45 Thursday night, four of Munday's boxers will box with Seymour, when Wichita Falls boxers vie for honors at Seymour. Good bouts are scheduled for this boxing card.

Troy Denham will take on Eddie Russey; Forest Yancy fights Charles Bradford; Raymond Carden boxes James Russey, and A. B. Kitchens will fight Harold Walker.

Geo. Salem Goes To Dallas Market

George Salem, owner of the Fair Store in Munday, left this week for Dallas and Fort Worth, where he is attending market and buying new merchandise for his Munday store.

Mr. Salem expects the new purchases of spring merchandise to begin arriving at his store within the next few days.

4-H CLUB EDUCATION

The annual report of the A. and M. Extension Service presents an impressive record of achievement by 4-H Club boys and girls of Texas in 1939. Beef fed by Texas boys won grand championship honors at the Fort Worth, Chicago and San Francisco livestock shows.

During last year, the report continues, Texas 4-H Club boys exhibited 17,007 head of livestock at 178 shows, which constituted invaluable advertising for Texas as a cattle-raising State. The youthful exhibitors collected premiums totaling $31,254.33 and made sales that brought in $254,762.25. Prizes have been won by the 4-H club boys in cattle, sheep, swine, dairy animal and poultry classes.

Those statistics show that work on the farm and ranch can be profitable for rural youths. But the primary function of the 4-H Clubs is educational, to train boys and girls to become better farmers and ranchers. The overhead of this tax-supported vocational training is ridiculously low in comparison with the benefits. The 4-H Club members gain a practical education to equip them for life, and at the same time derive an income in producing food for the country. Some day, the same ideas may be extended further into the educational system, where the majority of students are principally consumers and spenders, rather than producers like 4-H Club youths.

The vocational training given to 4-H Club boys and girls actually is the start of lifetime pursuits. There is no dividing line between the two periods, in the former of which a youth is a 4-H Club student and in the latter a farmer. Education is most effective when it is practical training closely identified with a lifetime pursuit. The results should be compared with the collegiate method of loading youths down with academic theory, which is mere abstraction until it is applied. Even the additional service of laboratory and field work by collegians lacks the element of reality which is found in 4-H Club training.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

SUICIDE AND MANSLAUGHTER

Just why seemingly intelligent drivers of automobiles are continually attempting suicide and manslaughter, is beyond understanding. Their actions any place but in an automobile would in most cases place them under mental observation or in jail.

W. M. Jeffers, president of the Union Pacific Railroad, announced on January 19, that from January 1 to that date, there had been 13 cases where drivers had carelessly run into the sides of trains at crossings, or stalled their cars on railroad tracks of the Union Pacific, at widely separated locations in seven states. A stalled automobile on a public highway crossing derailed a fast mail and express train, killing the engineer and fireman.

"Carelessness on the part of automobile drivers is to blame in every instance of this sort," Mr. Jeffers said. "In all the cases since the first of the year, not a single one was trying to beat a train to a crossing. Every one was a case of utter failure to look both ways in approaching the crossing, and stopping to make sure."

"The public usually tries to blame the railroad for causing accidents, but the cases where the blame can be attached to the railroad are rare indeed. There is little excuse for a driver . . . who drives into the side of trains."

Because of more dangerous conditions in winter, drivers should be extra cautious. Sanity says stop, look and listen at railroad crossings.

The figures given by Mr. Jeffers are startling and a timely warning to police and highway patrol officers to be on the look-out for potential killers at railroad crossings.

JOHNNY, GET YOUR GUN!

You don't start a crop without a cultivator to kill weeds. You know they will come some time during the season, and you are armed to meet them. You don't count the weeds before you begin cultivating; you know if they get the jump on you the crop will suffer.

Texas farmers have been paying toll to insects at the rate of one bale of cotton for each seven bales picked for a period of years—sometimes as much as one bale for each four and one-half bales. (1929), sometimes one bale for each five bales saved (1932, 1935 and 1938) and only twice in ten years as little as one bale of toll for each 15 gathered—and that's too much.

General Forrest's formula for winning battles was "get there fastest with the mostest men"—and of course with the proper weapons. The same formula fits the war against insect pests—if you get there first with the right guns and ammunition, the battle more than half won.

Johnny, get your gun—or let the bugs have their way, and don't blame Providence!—Farm and Ranch.

In 1890 Government spending absorbed 7 per cent of the national income; in 1929 it absorbed 14.5 per cent, while today it is 25 per cent.

Because of the advantages which the American patent system offers to inventors the number of alien inventors taking out patents in the United States is much greater than that in any other country.

A REPORT TO THE PRESIDENT

Twenty cents of every dollar spent by the American people for "current consumption" represents taxes. This is revealed in a report just made to President Roosevelt by the National Resources Planning Board. The report is the result of a comprehensive and detailed survey of the expenditures of the people during the 12 months ending June 30, 1936.

The letter transmitting it to the president describes the report as a "more accurate and comprehensive picture of national consumption than was ever before possible."

The experts who made the survey for the board, let it be understood, were not investigating taxes. They were seeking rather to get a true picture of the spending of the people for consumption.

Their survey includes such items as the total expenditures for food, for housing, for household furnishing and operation, for clothing, for automobile operation and upkeep, for amusements and for everything else of this kind.

But in order to be absolutely accurate they had to include taxes in the cost of all these things. They found the people paid $10,500,000,000 in local, state and federal taxes that year. But they listed only $900,000,000 or less than one per cent of the total, separately as "taxes." The remainder, of $9,600,000,000 was "included in the general consumption outlays."

In other words, more than 91 per cent of all the taxes paid by the American people that year was part of the expenditures for something else.

This illustrates strikingly the undeniably fact that all taxes come from the pockets of the people.—The Taxpayers Digest, Dallas.

THE FACTS ABOUT THE MACHINE

The evidence in the case would be thrown out of any court in the land, but an idea persists in some quarters that machines destroy more jobs than they make. As a result, even those in a position to know better are found declaring that something should be done to curb the machine—that perhaps a moratorium on invention should be declared.

Short-sightedness is responsible for this stand. It neglects the fact that it is in the periods of greatest machine development that the great increases in jobs and payrolls have been built up in this country, and that when this process has been slowed down stagnation has been the result. In other words, it is through placing greater confidence in the machine rather than in curtailing progress that prosperity is to be found.

Some extremely revealing facts in this connection are brought out in a recent "New England Letter," published by the First National Bank of Boston, which points to the automobile industry as an outstanding example of machine progress.

"The machine," this publication declares, "creates many more jobs than it destroys. The number of persons employed directly and indirectly in the automobile industry today is about six times as many as the peak employment in the horse and buggy business, including the related lines of activity. It is estimated that over four-fifths of the inventions do not displace labor, but are used to lower costs and by thus broadening the markets provide increased employment . . ."

"If the contention were true that new mechanical devices cause chronic unemployment, then in each succeeding decade a smaller percentage of the population would be gainfully employed. The facts are that during the period of greatest technological advance, from 1870 to 1930, the population of this country trebled but the number of workers nearly quadrupled and the volume of production increased about elevenfold.

"At present, employment is more nearly normal in those industries that are highly mechanized, and unemployment is greatest in lines where machinery plays a relatively small part."

The countless evidences of machine progress are apparent to anyone who looks at the record over a period of years. But as long as there is misunderstanding, and as long as this misunderstanding is publicly uttered, it remains important for those interested in America's future welfare to emphasize the facts of the case.

The first oil well completed in Texas was in 1866 near Oil Spring, Nacogdoches county.

BOOTS, BOOTS, BOOTS!

THEY SAY!

"The frontiers of progress may seem to be closed. Yet as history and the march of time both prove, and as science and social evolution clearly indicate, never was there a time when frontiers were more open or real pioneering effort more certain of reward than now."—Thomas J. Watson, editor "Think."

"Today, in weird and wonderful workshops were electrons are tossed around as casually as if they were beans or bolts or boots, young tech-school graduates are at work on creations, whose import if we could grasp it, would knock our hats off. There are miraculous commonplace of tomorrow. In fact, today's dreams realized in the future should be able to provide work for all the hands that the future's populace will muster."—Clarence Francis, president General Foods Corporation.

"Confident in American ability, reliant upon scientific guidance, grounded upon a bedrock of facts, industry will push on to new levels of achievement and progress—by means of research to new horizons."—Alfred P. Sloan, Jr.

WHY THE BOY LEFT THE FARM

Why did you leave the farm my lad?
Why did you bolt and leave your dad?
Why did you beat it off to town
And turn your poor old father down?

Speakers of Platform, Pulpit and Press
Are wallowing in deep distress,
They seek to know the hidden cause,
Why farmers' boys leave their pa's.

Well, stranger, since you've been so frank,
I'll roll aside that hazy bank,
I left my dad, his farm, his plow—
Because my calf became his cow.
I left my dad, to sow and reap,
Because my lamb became his sheep.
I laid the hoe and stuck the fork—
Because my pig became his pork.

The garden truck that I made grow
Was his to sell and mine to hoe.
It's not the smoke in the atmosphere,
Nor the tastes of life that brought me here.

Please tell the Platform, Pulpit and Press,
No fear of toil, nor love of dress
Is driving off the farmer lad
It's just a method of their dads.

So buy a herd of Herefords for your home,
And the boys will not want to

Conservation Program Includes Three Million Acres of Land for Year 1939

Almost 3 million acres of Texas farm and ranch land went under the soil and water conservation banner for the first time in 1939.

That brings the figures for the 24-year-old campaign to 16 million acres of crop land protected against loss of soil and rainfall which some 14 1-2 million acres are still in need of protective measures.

Thus Texas is off to a good start in 1940, a year slated to see record breaking advances in conservation at all agencies of the U.S. Department of Agriculture unite with state and local organizations in a joint drive to protect soil and hold the rain where it falls.

Detailed 1939 figures, as announced by M. R. Bentley, agricultural engineer, and C. (Dutch) Hohn, soil and water conservation specialist, both of the Texas A and M Extension Service, include 766,211 acres of crop land terraced, 426,625 acres protected by furrow damming, and 1,254,699 acres pit cultivated. Around 1,500,000 acres of crop land were farmed on the contour for the first time.

County-owned tractor-grader outfits in 172 counties accounted for 410,991 acres of the terracing total. On range and pasture land, 56,689 acres were terraced, 97,800 ridged, 195,736 contour-furrowed, and 20,904 subsoiled or chiseled. Spreaded dams constructed during 1939 will divert run-off water and spread it over 108,855 acres of grass land. Much of the work on range land was done in cooperation with the AAA's range conservation program.

County agricultural agents held 1,094 meetings to explain details of the Texas Soil Conservation law. The meetings drew an attendance of 66,362.

The future democracy of Munday rests, largely, with its organizations and the Munday Chamber of Commerce heads the list. Its influence extends beyond the business world of yesterday, and the men who comprise its membership are endeavoring to create a unity of purpose in a significant program of building, both in Munday and Knox county.

At The Churches

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The greatest period of the history of mankind is to be commemorated throughout next week. Glancing back 1900 centuries we see Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem. If we follow the events of that week we see the same people who were ready to crown him king bring him to trial before Pilate and then nail him to the cross. On the first day of the next week Christ conquered death and arose to live forever that you and I might have salvation.
It is fitting and proper that all Christian people think soberly all during that week. We should pray earnestly and make a great effort to lead others to Christ.
The Presbyterian church is holding a meeting all during that week with Dr. J. Stuart Pearce, evangelist, preaching. We invite you to come and bring your friends that all of us might be blessed during this week of weeks.
Sunday services at 11:00 A.M. and 7:30 P.M.
Week day services every night except Saturday, 7:30 P.M.
Everyone is cordially invited to attend all services.
Winston R. Bryant, Pastor

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

All services at the regular hours next Sunday.
We were happy to have the good increase in attendance last Sunday night. The Fifth Sunday is a special Mission day. At the evening service on that Sunday the Junior Department of the Sunday School will render a special program. We are asking every individual in the church to make some kind of offering to Missions.
Spring seems to be in the air. What about shaking off that winter inactivity and making a church resolution? Did you know that there is a three-way interest in every Christian's life? God is making every reasonable urge upon us in the direction of His church and righteousness; our Christian friends are anxious that we go in the right direction; and the devil is doing all he can to get us to go in the other direction. It was the "still small voice" that spoke to Elijah in the cave, but he heard it and walked in the way of Divine leading.
W. H. Albertson

JOHN GARNER LEADS PRESIDENTIAL RACE

Texas' distinguished favorite son—John N. Garner, the only Democrat to have announced unqualifiedly that he is a presidential candidate—is today the leading choice of his Party to succeed to the Presidency.

JOHN N. GARNER

Uniformly popular in all sections of the country and among all classes of people, Vice President Garner is esteemed for his sound common sense, practical liberalism, and long experience in governmental affairs. Political observers in Washington agree that these attributes, together with the fact that his sturdy log-cabin Americanism is the nation's best safeguard against involvement in war, are responsible for his popularity among the rank and file of the people.

His name has been submitted directly to voters in a number of state primaries, in accordance with his democratic philosophy that "the people should decide." In announcing his candidacy last December, Mr. Garner said: "I will accept the nomination for President. I will make no effort to control any delegates. The people should decide. The candidate should be selected at primaries and conventions as provided by law and I sincerely trust that all Democrats will participate in their own precinct conventions May 4 to record their support of their noted fellow Texan."

Patriotic Texans will attend their own precinct conventions May 4 to record their support of their noted fellow Texan.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

AAA Program to Net 89 Million To 1940 Texans

Full participation in the AAA program in 1940 would bring Texas farmers and ranchers $89,362,705, E. N. Holmgreen, state AAA administrator, reported to the state Agricultural Conservation Association committee meeting in College Station.

To earn that amount, Holmgreen explained, all farmers in the state would have to comply in every respect with the program, with each doing enough soil-building work to earn the maximum allowable and with each ranchman putting enough range-improvement practices into effect to earn the maximum available. The estimated figure does not include any of the money which farmers can earn by planting forest trees for which purpose $30 is available on each farm.

Holmgreen listed the maximum amounts which could be earned by Texas producers as follows:

Cotton parity payments, $23,852,440.
Agricultural conservation payments for cotton, $2,640,950.
Wheat parity payments, $2,932,626.

Agricultural conservation payments for wheat, $2,651,415.
Rice parity payments, $78,451.
Agricultural Conservation Payments for rice, $302,079.

Peanut payments, $134,133.
Commercial vegetable payments, $591,576.
General crop payments, $14,275,730.

Maximum range-building allowance, $6,415,935.
Maximum soil-building allowance, $7,838,616.

Balance available for increasing small payments.

Probably 90 per cent of the money available for all types of payments will be earned by participating farmers, Holmgreen estimated.

HOT CROSS BUNS ARE IN SEASON

One a penny, two a penny—Hot Cross Buns! If your daughters don't like them give them to your sons!

Did you realize that these familiar lines are not just a nursery jingle? They are the actual words hot cross bun vendors used to call through the streets of Chelsea on Good Friday morning two hundred years ago! This tradition of hot cross buns for breakfast on Good Friday soon spread through London to all parts of England. Finally it even came across the sea to America.

AMERICAN INNOVATIONS

We Americans, however, have made a few innovations. In the first place we couldn't see why anything so thoroughly delicious as these warm, fragrant, fruitily delicately-spiced buns should be served but once a year. That's why we've come to serving hot cross buns all through Lent—from Ash Wednesday to Easter Sunday.

Sometimes we see our American buns wearing broad white crosses made of confectioners' sugar icing instead of a cross cut deep into the sugary top of each bun. There are a variety of opinions about what fruit should go into them, too. One woman tells me her mother always put citron in hot cross buns, thus to her mind any authentic hot cross bun must be flecked with tiny chunks of citron. Others say their mothers made these buns with just raisins and currants, so that's the kind they prefer. I've even found some who favored candied cherries in them. But I think the cherries are going a little too far. Don't you?

The old-time hot cross bun recipe I have for you is made with the raisins and currants. But you can easily substitute citron—or even cherries—for the currants if you prefer. And you can make white confectioners' sugar crosses too, although I'm going to tell you how to make the deep-cut, old-fashioned kind.

HOT CROSS BUNS

- 2 cakes compressed yeast
- 1 cup milk
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- 4 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. nutmeg
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1/4 cup butter
- 1/4 cup raisins
- 1/4 cup currants

Crumble yeast into a bowl, slowly add milk which has been scalded and cooled to 80° F., and stir to dissolve yeast. Add sugar, salt and beaten eggs. Sift flour once before measuring. Add spices and flour and mix. Add the softened shortening and mix very thoroughly with the hands. Add fruit which has been washed in hot water. Knead until smooth, working in the fruit carefully. Place in a well greased bowl, cover and let rise at 85° F., until double in bulk—about 1 1/2 hours. Punch down and let rise until almost double in bulk—about 30 minutes. Round up small balls of dough, 1 1/2 inches in diameter, and place 2 inches apart on a greased baking sheet. Let rise until double in bulk.

CUT CROSSES 1/2 INCH DEEP

Cut a cross about 1/2 inch deep and 2 inches long in the top of each bun, using a sharp scissors dipped in flour, or a very sharp knife, and bake 20 to 25 minutes at 375° F., 5 minutes in a hot oven, 400° F., and then reduce to 375° F., to finish baking.

When buns are nearly done, brush them with milk or egg white, sprinkle with sugar and return to oven to glaze. Or ice with confectioners' sugar icing. This will make 20 buns.

Business Leader Says Business, Now at '29 Level, Can Go Ahead if Unhindered

Boston, (I P S)—Manufacturing industry has already reached the 1929 level of employment and it will continue to go ahead "if given a fair opportunity, with its own experienced drivers, without more stop signs and red lights than are necessary for traffic safety, without a policeman whose hand is on the steering wheel constantly or who sits articulate in the back seat of every car, and without an overload of tax burdens," Howard Coonley, chairman of the National Association of Manufacturers, asserted here.

"I would emphasize that there is on the horizon today more progress, with more opportunities, more jobs and a higher standard of living, than at any other time in the past. There are more new products, more new services, in the minds of men, to be made realities in our economic life than ever before. Industry has created research laboratories in which there are 48,000 trained experts delving into the future. There are over 2,000 such laboratories. I know myself of hundreds of new things yet in the laboratories which in the next few years will create a multitude of new jobs. Industrial expansion is not finished, it has only begun. I feel safe in predicting that the decade now closing will be looked on, in spite of its depression and discouragement as ten years in which the seeds of great prosperity were sown by industrial research.

"American industry is of the people. It is carried on by individuals and groups of individuals in hundreds of thousands of varied enterprises, with hundreds of thousands of individual proprietors, hundreds of thousands of employed managers and executives, millions and millions of other workers with hand and brain. Industry must be successful if these millions are to have employment and a livelihood—if the American people are to live by the exchange of goods and services. To be successful, industry must have the confidence and support of the people who live by it. They are all of us.

"We owe our main attention to industrial management, to labor unions, government—to the business of speeding and strengthening economic recovery; of making more jobs, normal jobs in which hard work and intelligent cooperation will yield satisfaction and opportunity, jobs that will open doors too long closed to many of our people. This is our common problem, our common duty. On the horizon is everything to satisfy the reasonable aspirations of the American people. We have the resources, the intelligence, the organization, the mutual goodwill to achieve a higher standard of living for us all. In our American freedom of private enterprise, if we preserve it, we have the incentives to effort and adventure. Let us be on our way."

"American industrial management has given much time and effort in the past few years to self-analysis, as well as research—not to justification of all its past policies and practices, but to development of policies and practices that will make for sound progress. The fact that in its effort for recovery the manufacturing industry has already reached the 1929 level of employment is encouraging. We believe that it will continue to go ahead if given a fair opportunity—with its own experienced drivers, without more stop signs and red lights than are necessary for traffic safety, without a policeman whose hand is constantly on the steering wheel or who sits articulate in the back seat of every car, and without an overload of tax burdens.

RIGHT OUT OF THE AIR

By EARLE FERRIS

GENEVIEVE ROWE, pictured here, is now the featured soloist on the Tuesday and Friday "Johnny Presents" programs. Miss Rowe is a national audition winner, a soprano, and she hails from Wooster, Ohio. She made her radio debut over a Cleveland radio station before coming to New York.

Dave Elman has presented his 500th hobbyist on "Hobby Lobby," but he isn't afraid of running out of program material in a hurry. He has the names of some 500,000 more in his office files.

Already the singing sensation of the Wednesday night Star Theatre, Kenny Baker, shown here, currently is making between-broadcast concert appearances in western cities. Baker's decision to complement his radio work with the concert stage marks one of the few times a personality has progressed to that medium directly from the airwaves.

Allen Prescott, noted comic who served as guest master of ceremonies on the Sunday night "Hour of Charm" when it was heard from Miami and Birmingham, Ala., laid claim to the title of "radio's busiest man," training and planning to the two cities from New York and rushing back to make his own programs and a series of recordings.

Gary Crosby, five-year-old son of Bing Crosby, saw his father's Thursday night Music Hall broadcast for the first time recently. Needless to point out, the Music Hall is one of Gary's favorite programs. He confessed to his dad he liked it as well as the Lone Ranger.

Kate Smith likes to joke on the air about being the best ski-tumbler in the country. However, in reality the singer-commentator is one of the nation's most adept ladies on skis.

Basil Rathbone, star of the "Sherlock Holmes" programs heard over the NBC-Blue network and WOR on Wednesdays, has really landed as the famed Baker Street sleuth. Rathbone, shown here, has just been sent a first edition of the famous A. Conan Doyle stories from a listener who feels he completely portrays Sherlock.

The CBS page boy assigned to shooing autograph seekers away from "Silver Theatre" guest stars has Hollywood's most difficult job. He is an avid autograph hunter himself.

The remarkable work of Bette Davis, shown here, and Spencer Tracy in the Radio Theatre's presentation of "Dark Victory" led Director Cecil B. DeMille to proclaim them worthy of an "Academy Award" in radio. Each had won the last Motion Picture Academy Award for their super film emoting.

Ill And Alone In Burning House, Woman Follows Light To Safety

Luminous Spot in Smoke Guides Her Down Flaming Stairway

Awakened by thick smoke and the light of flames in the upper story of a country house where she had gone to recover from an illness, Mrs. Lillian Pokedoff, of 40 Miller Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., escaped through a hallway and down a staircase already afire, by following the beam of a flashlight.

Mrs. Pokedoff, who had just arrived in the country, awoke with the feeling that she was strangling. She at once heard cries and the roar of flames. She struggled out of bed and searched for the electric light. When, after some delay, she located it, she found that the current was out off.

Instead of going to the window and calling for help, Mrs. Pokedoff tried to escape by way of the hall. She found the door and pulled it open, only to walk into a dense wall of smoke which almost strangled her. Struggling for her breath, she began feeling her way along the hallway to find the stairs.

"I was very weak and nervous," said Mrs. Pokedoff, "and, of course, the excitement helped confuse me. As I groped about, with the smoke getting thicker and the noise of the flames louder, I began to give way to hysteria. I felt that I was lost, and I was about to drop down and make no more effort. Just then I saw a steady beam of bright light in the smoke."

"One of the occupants of the house had armed himself with a flashlight and had come back into the burning building to see if everybody was out. He got as far as the foot of the stairs and stopped. He knew that the supports were burning away and that the steps might not bear his weight.

"As he stood looking upward, I emerged from the smoke and almost fell against him. The flashlight, equipped with fresh batteries, had made such a strong path of illumination that I had gone toward it along the hall and followed it down the stairs. The steps were just about to give way, with the rails already afire. In another instant, I was seized and carried out."

Mrs. Pokedoff was scarcely out of the house when a kerosene tank in the kitchen exploded. At once flames filled the entire building, which burned rapidly to the ground.

Mrs. Lillian Pokedoff

had because now I was in a school room. Figures, triangles, angles, why, Plane Geometry—oh, and the bug-eyed teacher with a mustache was gingerly beating a dumber scholar over the head—oh my goodness—was boundless. Now again I entered the life on a farm. It was dusk and indeed a beautiful sight to behold. There were the cows wandering up from the pasture; there came the tractor up the winding turnrow. Oh yes, that was J. R. Hill. A mighty fine farm and a better farmer.

Special County Fish Laws

Austin, Texas.—While the season on bass and croppie has been closed since March 1 and will remain so until May, anglers desiring to fish for other species should consult the same laws or a game warden, the executive secretary of the State Game Department warns. Many counties have special laws which close the season on all species of the finny family.

Briefly, the special laws are as follows: Kimble, Uvalde, Zavalla counties, closed to all species of fish from Jan. 1 to May 1. Hays, San Patricio, Jim Wells, Live Oak, Gonzales, McLennan, Bosque and Hamilton counties closed to bass, crappie, calico perch and bream from Feb. 1 to May 1. March, April and May are the closed seasons for all species of fresh water fish in Bandera, Kerr, Edwards, Real, Sutton, Mason, Menard, Blanco, Kendall and Gillespie counties. Bass, crappie, perch and catfish cannot be taken from Feb. 1 to May 1 in Comal, Guadalupe, Bexar, Medina and Wilson counties. Harrison and Marion counties close the season on black and white bass and crappie from Feb. 1 to May 1. Young county does not allow fishing in water stocked by the state from Feb. 1 to May 1.

Majority Allow Hunting

The false impression that all the areas set up in Texas by the A. and game preservation demonstration M. College are closed to hunting still persists, but should be dispelled by the annual report of the College, which shows that of the 23,280 farmers and ranchers who are cooperating only 7,017 do not allow hunting at the present time. That leaves the land owned by 16,163 co-operators open to sportsmen for controlled hunting and fishing. Hunting should be better on the areas in the demonstration program because landowners are pledged to improve their cover for game birds and animals and to provide proper food. Many of the demonstrators are making a charge for hunting and fishing rights.

Got His Fish, Anyway

Just a little thing like a shack stealing his twenty-five pound redfish didn't keep G. P. Hardy, Jr., of Bay City, Texas, from feasting on redfish recently.

On a recent expedition to Brown Cedar Cut, Mr. Hardy caught a big red. He staked the fish and resumed his angling. A few minutes later he pulled in his stringer for a prideful look at his neat catch, but nothing remained of the red except its head. Disgruntled, Mr. Hardy went on fishing and in a few minutes tied onto a whopper. After a battle, he landed an eight-foot shark. Upon cutting the shark open the fisherman was amazed to find his huge redfish in its stomach. Mr. Hardy announced later that the fish's unusual adventure in no way affected its flavor.

When more than 11,000,000 Americans get behind the movement which is non-profit and non-political that's news! The National Wildlife Federation, formed for the purpose of unifying effort toward restoring the depleted natural resources of the United States, is certain that many persons will co-operate in the staging of the National Wildlife Week March 17 through the 23rd. This will be the third annual observance and wildlife stamps, the proceeds from which are used to finance the nationwide restoration program, will be on sale.

New Coastal Boat

More efficient patrolling of the Laguna Madre and Buffalo Bayo will be possible since the state Game Department recently put into operation a new 25-foot sedan type patrol boat. The boat has an eight-foot beam and a 15-inch draft and will exceed 25 miles per hour. It is the fastest boat the Game Department has in operation in coastal waters.

"A program of industrial development centers around the manufacture of raw materials into finished products"

LOCATED in all sections of Texas, 141 refineries manufacture into finished petroleum products 80 per cent of the State's crude oil production.

In contrast, Texas processes only 3 per cent of its cotton production and none of its wool or mohair.

Petroleum refining now constitutes 41 per cent of the value of all Texas manufactures.

Of the 225,000 Texans regularly employed by the oil business of the State, 25,000 skilled workmen and 5,000 office employees (a $50,000,000 annual payroll) are employed in this one division of our oil industry.

All of the Texas oil refined in our State, whether used in Texas or shipped to other states, paid last year in taxes an average of 9.8 cents per barrel.

James Whitcomb Riley
 All the best remembered poems of the "Hoosier Poet," James Whitcomb Riley, were based on his unforgettable memories of his own youth.

Riley was born of a pioneer family at Greenfield, Indiana, and his birthday is now a holiday in his native state. The poet was himself the boy who in the poem confessed he likes to "dive into that old swimmin' hole," or is so happy to spend his holidays at Aunt Mary's. Riley never wanted to grow up and he hated the study of law in his father's office. He became an itinerant sign painter; he joined a patent medicine show for which he wrote songs and sketches. He was only 20 when his first poems were accepted by a daily newspaper. It is very interesting to note that one of his poems, "Leonainie," attributed by him, as a hoax, to Edgar Allan Poe, attracted much attention, and gained considerable reputation for Riley when the hoax was discovered. He was nearly thirty years old before his verses were gathered and published in a book, under the general title of "The Old Swamin' Hole." Riley caught the pithy dialect and the spirit of pioneer boyhood of the Middle West. All of his sketches and poems can be found in the memorial edition of his works, published the year of his death. They include the books of verse "Neighborly Poems," "Rhymes of Childhood," "An Old Sweetheart of Mine," "Out to Old Aunt Mary's," and others.

High Spots on Record-Breaking Run

Signs of the times in a motor age—these highway markers tell the story of a two-year, 100,000-mile truck test run recently completed by Chevrolet. In Canada, Mexico and every state of the Union, the truck operated on all types of highways and under every conceivable weather hazard, setting a new world mark for sustained and certified automotive operation, under the sanction and official observation of the American Automobile Association. The unit carried a 4,590-pound "payload." An average of 15.1 miles per gallon of fuel was maintained throughout the 100,000 miles, at an average operating speed of 33.07 miles per hour. Oil mileage was correspondingly high—1,072 miles per quart.

Sophomore Report
 Due to illness of your reporter the Sophomore column is brief this week. The Sophs are wondering who thought that ball can be played without some spring training. We are thankful that a 14-inch ball was chosen. With a whole week of practice we might be able to hit it if the circumference of the bat had also been increased. Sophs, remember obstacles in your path sharpen your watchfulness and makes you cherish victory more.

FRESHMAN REPORT
 The freshmen are bringing you the news this week written by Bernardino. It seems like the Freshman girls have been writing good reports. We think so, anyway. Exams are here. We all studied hard, especially mathematics. Did you know it was going to be hard? We have finished "Lady of the Lake" and are taking up more stories. Some are glad and some are not. We have appointed a committee for making our posters. On the committee are: Bernard, Kenneth and Weldon.

THE ART OF CARVING PORK LOIN

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

Wherever fine pecans are known, the Burkett pecan is known. J. H. Burkett is the man who discovered and perfected the variety which bears his name. This observer recalls—after the lapse of a good many years—the privilege of a visit to the parent tree, under the personal guidance of Representative Omar Burkett of Eastland, son of the man who developed the pecan.

And now, J. H. Burkett at an age when 80 is not far away, has begun a new study—the study of grass. Grass is commonplace—it is taken for granted. But Walt Whitman called it, "The handkerchief of the Lord." Carl Sandberg wrote: "Pile the bodies high at Austerlitz and Waterloo. Shovel them under and let me work—I am the grass; I cover all."

John J. Ingalls said it this way: "Grass is the forgiveness of nature—her constant benediction. Fields trampled with battle, saturated with blood, torn with the ruts of the cannon grow green again with grass, and carnage is forgotten."

"Forest decay, harvests perish, flowers vanish but grass is immortal. It bears no blazonry or bloom to charm the senses with fragrance or splendor but its homely hue is more enchanting than the lily or the rose. It yields no fruit in earth or air, and yet—should its harvest fail for a single year—famine would depopulate the world."

As Mr. Burkett says, "Our civilization depends on grass." Herds and flocks marked the beginning of civilization. Not only does it still provide sustenance for unnumbered sheep and countless cattle grazing under a thousand hills, but grass provides a background of beauty, a soft restfulness for the eye. Imagine what a bleak, brown bare world this would be without grass. Further, grass prevents floods and stores up the bountiful water of spring against a later need and it holds the good earth, with its rich fertility, in place.

Perhaps Mr. Burkett will be able to develop grasses adapted to our Western ranges—hardy, drought-resisting. Grass too may be the answer to the challenge of the winds seeping in blinding clouds through a "dust bowl." And think of the spirit of a man, well past the three score years and ten mark, taking up a new study. The lines of Browning on "Rabbi Ben Ezra" come to mind:

More lawyer jests for our "old joke" competition:
 A man, just acquitted of cow-stealing because of his lawyer's eloquent speech to the jury, asked the attorney as they were leaving: "Does that mean I get to keep the cow?"

That defendant probably was the same man who, before his trial, was asked by a friend, "Are you guilty?" and he replied, "How do I know until I hear the evidence?"

Then there was the man who went to a lawyer's office and inquired, "Suppose my cow was to get into your garden and eat up $8 worth of vegetables, would I be responsible?" To which the attorney replied, "Yes sir." The citizen laughed and said, "Well, pay me, then; because it was your cow that got into my garden." The lawyer handed over $8 and then said, "Now, my friend, you owe me $10 for legal advice."

It's the squeakin' axle that gits the grease—as my grandpa ust to say.

Some years ago, when this observer was on the staff of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, Harold Banks—then state editor—heard there had been a fire, the night before, in a small town, so he called the local correspondent. The latter had been out of town and promised to investigate and report back—which he did in a few minutes.

"The fire wasn't in town," he said, "and it wasn't much of a fire—just a farm house."

"I see," Banks replied and was just about to express his thanks and hang up the receiver but the correspondent remarked casually "By the way, one of the children burned to death."

"What?" gasped Banks.
 "And another one isn't expected to live," the correspondent continued. "The farmer and his wife were burned also in trying to rescue the children. He threw the year-old baby out of the window and the little fellow didn't get a scratch. Also he had just sold his crop the day before and all the money was burned up."

By this time Banks had gotten his breath:
 "I see—not much of a fire; one dead; one dying, two others burned, baby miraculously saved and the earnings of an entire year destroyed."
 The other said "Yeah, that's right . . . and say, Blankville is playing football here next Friday and you tell Boyce House we want a darn good writeup."

"GROUP HOSPITAL SERVICE SPREADING"

This hospital business is so important, and it is so big a part of our community life that we all should know a little more about it. I think we all should know more, especially about "Group Hospital Service." Whenever I think of hospitals I always recall the remark made by the bereaved cowboy to a group of his ranchers. They were asking him ever questions about roping, branding, and all that sort of thing and finally one of them asked him why he carried a gun all the time. To which the rather weary cowboy drawled out, "Wa-al, Mister, feller may never need a gun still hereabouts, but when he does need one he needs it mighty bad."

And that, it seems to me, is the way with hospitals. Everybody hopes he will never need one. But none of us ever know when we'll need one, and need one mighty, mighty badly.

Accidents, motor car smashups, a slip on any icy street, a fall down stairs, a sudden burn in the home, an emergency operation—and all of a sudden we find ourselves confronted by the need of a hospital. And there the hospitals are, all ready for us, open day and night.

Now, there are also cases by the hundred where no emergency exists, but where the need for hospital care comes upon a family with almost the same suddenness. I venture to say that not one out of a thousand families that have been forced to take somebody to a hospital during the past 12 months has made any provision ahead of the time for paying the hospital bill.

So that my point is, whether the need is an emergency or not, the need for hospital care strikes into family after family each year and hardly one among us is ever prepared to stand the expense. And, sadly enough, so many of us that should receive hospital care, just simply cannot do it because they can never pay hospital bills. And others are forced into debt which often is very hard on entire families.

That is where "Group Hospital Service, Inc." is coming into the picture of our community life in an ever-increasing importance. The hospitals now have entered into contracts to furnish five weeks hospitalization in private rooms, with unlimited operating room service and other benefits. Group hospital service is spreading over the nation like fire, bringing people the spark of life that they so richly deserve. Enrollment is carried on in groups to facilitate collection of dues, because they are only 75c for men, 50c for women, 50c for children per month—lowest cost possible to give the masses of people hospitalization at cost. The people here in Munday should be very proud of this service, as it will enable them to have hospital care when and as often as needed. For information call Mrs. Bess C. Neff, Munday, and she will be glad to give you all the details.

HIGH SCHOOL BOY TO GET $4000 RADIO SCHOLARSHIP

RCA engineers televising a studio show. (Insert) David Sarnoff, RCA President, encourages talent.

THE outstanding radio scientist of the future will be given a flying start toward his goal through the award of a $4000 college scholarship next Fall, according to a plan announced today by David Sarnoff, President of the Radio Corporation of America. Realizing that tomorrow's radio engineering talent is to be found among the boys who are now in the senior classes of high schools, Mr. Sarnoff intends to find the student who is best fitted by brains and natural ability to succeed in a scientific career. To this end, a competition is being offered this week through the Principals of 17,000 high schools throughout the United States to students who are qualified by high scholastic standings. Ten preliminary winners will be selected on the basis of their ratings in this examination. All of them will be brought to New York next August at the expense of the company, and will spend a month in thorough inspections of RCA and NBC engineering facilities. The Judges will select one of the ten boys as the final winner of the $4000 tuition and maintenance scholarship. The others will receive cash awards of $100 each in addition to full expenses of the trips, which will include visits to many scientific exhibits at the New York World's Fair. Mr. Sarnoff, who himself rose unaided from messenger boy to the head of the mammoth RCA organization, believes that the competition will bring to the fore a boy of outstanding ability and that the scholarship will enable him to lay a solid foundation for a successful career. It is expected that several local high school seniors will be able to qualify for the examination, which will be given on April 23rd.

You Must Answer Census Queries

It's All for Uncle Sam, All Information Is Confidential

Statement from William L. Austin, Director of the Census

Considerable circulation has been given recently to an erroneous statement to the effect that there is no legal compulsion to respond to the inquiries of census enumerators.

The taking of the census of population is provided for in the constitution. Since its results provide the basis for Congressional representation, all persons are required by law to give correct answers to the inquiries of census enumerators. From time to time, the Congress has, by special enactment, provided penalties for failure to comply and for the giving of intentionally incorrect information.
