CALF SHOW TO BE HELD HERE ON SATURDAY

Golden Gloves Bouts Thriller to Fans

Eight Champs Are Presented Robes

Successful Fights Are Thrill to Crowds on Three Nights

The Munday district Golden Gloves tournament got under way last Monday night, opening before a crowd of approximately 350 fight fans. With thirteen bouts being staged in the preliminaries Monday night, only three of these required decisions from the judges, the others being either by the knockout or technical knockout routes.

Billy McDavid, Olney flyweight who holds the T.A.A.F. championship, stopped his opponent, R. T. Lewis by getting a technical knockout in the first round. Raymond Carden of Munday was also awarded a technical knockout over Roscoe McLemore of Seymour to enter the fighting on Tuesday night with McDavid.

A total of 52 fighters entered the tournament, with the heavyweights entering the ring Tuesday night for their first appearance.

Wednesday night closed Munday's first Golden Gloves boxing tournament, which was declared a most successful event that thrilled crowds for three nights, with the awarding of boxing robes to the winner in each of the eight weight classes.

The final rounds were cheered by the largest crowd to attend during the tourney. An estimated 1000 people saw the championship bouts and roared their approval of a well-managed boxing tournament which brought the fastest boxing bouts ever held in Munday.

Robes were presented the winners at the end of their fights by Grady Roberts, publisher of The Munday Times.

Olney boxers won four of the eight championships, two Munday youths came out as champs and Haskell and Seymour placed one fighter in the top ranks. These fighters will represent the district in the state tourney in Fort Worth on February 15 to 17.

W. H. Sheedy, widely known Knox county farmer, died at his home 2 miles north of Munday at 1:15 o'clock last Wednesday afternoon, following an illness of several weeks. Mr. Sheedy was a familiar character in Munday, one of the old timers who was seen almost daily when in good health, coming to town in his buggy.

William Henry Sheedy was born in Quincy, Illinois, on September 21, 1857, and died at the age of 82 years, 4 months and 16 days.

Mr. Sheedy began work with the railroads at the age of 15, and that was his occupation until he was 52 years of age. When he retired from railroad work he called it, he lived on a farm, first in Fannin county, and later moving to Knox county. In 1893 he was married to Sophia Shultz, his first wife having died in Illinois, leaving him with two children. He was a member of the Catholic church of Chandlerville, Ill.

Mr. Sheedy was a man of firm convictions, and he admired people who met him in like manner.

J. C. Patterson Announces For County Judge

Asks Advancement In County Office

The Munday Times is authorized to place the name of J. C. Patterson in its columns as a candidate for the office of County Judge of Knox county, Texas, subject to the action of the Democratic Primaries.

"Carl," as he is usually called, needs no introduction to most of the voters of Knox county, as he has served the last two terms as County Attorney, which has given him an opportunity to further learn the duties of the office of County Judge.

In making his announcement, Mr. Patterson stated that during the time he has held public office, that he had co-operated with all other officers in the county, not only with the county officers, but city officials as well, and asks that the voters contact such officials for verification of such fact, if need be, and if elected to this responsible position, his future actions would be that of co-operation with local government agencies, as well as State and Federal agencies in securing such things as work relief and assistance which is being handled at this time, and will be found on the job as in the past.

During the time that Mr. Patterson has held public office, he has always kept in mind that the public official is a public servant, and that he would, and should be, held accountable for his actions, and in connection with his work as a public official, has passed the Bar examination of Texas, and held a license to practice law since March 1931, and has taken part in, and assisted the District Attorney in the important cases of Knox county during this time.

"It is my desire," stated Mr. Patterson, "that my friends keep the coming campaign on a level in keeping with the high office which I seek," and especially calls on his friends to help him run a clean race, as he is a trite believer in clean politics.

"It is my aim," stated Mr. Patterson, "to see as many voters as possible, and solicit your vote for advancement in office."

Mr. Tolson believes that his knowledge of the county and of its tax valuations, etc., fully qualify him for the office he is seeking.

"If elected to this office," Tolson said, "I will devote my entire efforts toward making you a good assessor and collector of taxes. It is my purpose to see each and every voter of Knox county and personally solicit your vote. I earnestly ask that you consider my candidacy. I believe that I am qualified to make you a good tax official, and if placed in the office I will work diligently on the job and for the best interests of the voters. School children of Knox county filled the Roxy Theatre to its entire seating capacity last Monday afternoon as P. V. Williams, owner, showed the Technicolor picture "Gulliver's Travels" to them at a special price of five cents each. Williams said that was the first time the theatre had been filled to overflowing in a long time.

A majority of the kiddies came from the Benjamin, Goree, Sunset and Vera schools. School buses brought them in for the picture. Showing with the famous story of the giant Gulliver among the Lilliputians was a special showing of football games in the Cotton Bowl, Rose Bowl, Orange Bowl and Sugar Bowl, and another animated cartoon, "Officer Duck."

It was estimated that approximately 500 school children of Knox county enjoyed this picture.

Smallpox Serums Given Students In Vera School

Some 135 students of the Vera school came to Munday last Monday morning, where they were given vaccinations for smallpox. This move was made due to the development of two cases of smallpox in the Vera community, both of which are reported recovered and out of quarantine at this time.

CYCLONE DAVIS

J. H. (Cyclone) Davis attained an age at which most men elect to sit by the hearth and recall the past. But the reason that this veteran Texas political stormy petrel carried on to 85 with unimpaired mental vigor may well have been that he preferred to remain a lively fighter so long as a spark of life remained. He was no general willing to die in bed. He liked the battlefield.

Populist leader in a long-ago era when populism split great political parties, prohibition advocate when in politics and out prohibition debate was likely to bring on a physical riot as a poll boot upturn, more lately a stout protagonist of old-age pensions, Cyclone Davis believed in what he fought for and gave all that was in him to the numberless skirmishes in every campaign in which he participated. You could not say that he ever saw both sides of a question. He saw only Cyclone Davis' side. He was always right and the other side always wrong. And once his mind was made up, he believed in fighting tooth and nail for his convictions.

That was Cyclone Davis. Perhaps he was wrong. The News, which often disagreed with his contentions, has often, of course thought him wrong. But stout conviction breeds a wholesome respect for the man who holds it, who will surrender no jot or tittle of it, regardless of the strength of the opposition. That, too, was Cyclone Davis. He could be outvoted but not convinced.

Cyclone Davis holds an undoubted place as a part of Texas history, a picturesque, hard-fighting political evangelist who never conceded defeat.—The Dallas Morning News.

BWARE OF SMOKE

The demand for changes in the Wagner Labor Relations Act has been going on for a long time now. Meanwhile, the public has been increasingly insistent that a revision of the law be made. But so far, the voice of the public hasn't been heeded.

In May, 1938, a Gallup poll disclosed that 62 per cent of the American people wanted the National Labor Relations Act either revised or repealed outright. Today, that percentage has risen to 71 per cent. Meanwhile, investigation by the Smith committee, appointed by the House of Representatives, has disclosed numerous "bugs" in the Act and in its administration.

While public sentiment is solidly against the Act in its present form, the long delay in doing anything about it has created a condition that is extremely dangerous. The danger lies in the possibility that the whole situation will become so confused that the public will be thwarted.

This might be done in two manners, both of which have been suggested in some sources:

1. Amendments might be put through which are really "dummy changes" and would not accomplish the desired end or promoting industrial peace. Some amendments that have been suggested, notably those of the C.I.O., would make the law ever more militantly anti-employer that it is at present, and would therefore do all harm and no good.

2. Changes in the personnel of the Board itself might be made with the pretense that these were all that was needed. This would run counter to most of the testimony produced by the current Congressional hearings, which have shown that much of the Board bias has been the result of loose construction permitted by the wording of the Act itself. But the defenders-to-the-death of the Act in its present form might think that they could fool the public anyway.

The public has demonstrated for a long stretch now that it wants the Wagner Act amended. Now, as the time draws nearer when some change in the Act or Board seems inevitable, is the moment when individual citizens must watch most closely to see that the public desire is respected. "Eternal vigilance" is a prime necessity—eternal vigilance to guard against smokescreens under cover of which the public will be crossed.

In other words, now is the time to beware of smoke at the nation's capital city

COTTON BAGGING

Cotton bagging came to the front in Texas during 1939 as 235,976 bales were covered with this material. F. E. Lichte, cotton gin specialist of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, has announced. Less than 17,500 bales were put up cotton bagging in 1938.

Advocates of cotton bagging have pointed out that a normal crop of cotton in the United States would require the use of about 135,000 bales of cotton annually. Spinners generally favor cotton as a bagging material, as the lute now widely used mixes with the cotton fiber and makes an extra cleaning process necessary. Improvements are necessary which will make cotton bagging more satisfactory than the present type, Lichte said.

Senior Report

Measurements have been taken of the Seniors for their caps and gowns—which reminds us that our high school career is nearly over. We hope that when they are over, that we can all say that these were the happiest and most important days of our lives.

Zell: "And if I refuse you, dear one, will you kill yourself?"
That certain one: "That has been my usual custom."

"Listen to me, now, or you'll never learn how to handle a plane. Just do as I tell you, and you'll be all right. Keep 'er straight now. Don't let 'er go sideways. Push 'er a little harder and keep your front end up a little—now level 'er off. That's the way. Say, I'll make a carpenter out of you yet."

Junior Report

It seems that I cannot find time to report the news that the juniors see and hear because there are too many bruised faces and black eyes that attract my attention. The Golden Gloves Tournament is being held in the gymnasium at the Elementary school building. These fights serve as excellent entertainment and provide for a fighting standard among high school boys.

Our one-act plays which Dr. Bass ordered have come. Several have already been assigned to the different students in testing their dramatic ability. These plays will be presented in the auditorium at convenient times during the year.
We are still studying American Literature in English III. We are learning to appreciate the writing of the early American writers.

Some of them are Henry David Thoreau, Edgar Allan Poe, and William Cullen Bryant.

We still have that old business spirit while in typing, because Mr. Cobb insists on our learning how to type mailable business letters.

The Junior class is selling candy at the fights. You will help us out of a financial embarrassment by buying from us. The candy will be good, and it will cost only 5 cents a bag.

The annual Football Banquet will be held Thursday night of this week. The public is invited. It will be served by Mr. Curtis Coates. The plates are on sale for fifty cents. The football boys played hard for you during the football season, and we hope that you will come and help them enjoy their banquet.

The 'We Wonder Why' Column

Flora Bell has such a large bank account now-a-days.

Evelyn's affairs are known all over town. (Could it have been on account of a party line?)

We wonder where Jerry was Sunday night. (Be careful Sue, or she will beat your time!)

We wonder if Maurice has the Goree habit, too.

Billie was able to fight the whole U.S. army and win.

William blushed when Mr. Cooper walked into the office and listened to his telephone call to Sunset. Sue takes to these bookkeepers in Studebaker sedans. (Boys' you had better watch these Vernon fans.)
Allene stayed at Bonnie's house so late Sunday night.
Maurice is always in the study

hall the last period now-a-days.
Glady's talks about a certain Guy.
Jane won't trifle on her Wichita friend.
Elizah Frances is sporting a new class ring since she is only a junior.
D.P. insists on these ex-seniors instead of being loyal to these cute high school girls.
Dixie was so worried about the banquet place cards, Monday morning.

Want Ads

Wanted: A nice girl friend. Must be entertaining and well-liked. I have a new car, a Sunday suit, a pleasant smile with dimples, and like to spend money. All desirable applicants please see David Eiland.

Wanted: A car with a red-headed boy in it. Walking is getting tiresome now. Please see Florine Pippin.

Wanted: Something new to write about. This report is getting too trite.

Lost: A brown-eyed boy with light brown hair. I didn't miss him at first, but now somebody please return him to Jean.

And now for that well-known Senior, and lady, Geraldine Bookout.

Jerry was born in Poteau, Okla., on May 25, 1923. As a mere youngster, she, like some of our other seniors, liked to move about—so her first stop was Seymour, Texas.

After spending her first five years of school there, Iowa Park seemed her destiny. It was Seymour called her back. It was during her junior year that she moved to Munday.

Jerry represents the junior class this year as its candidate for queen. A few of her favorites are:
Subject—Bookkeeping.
Teacher—Mr. Cobb.
Color—Green.
Song—"Shoot the Sherbet to Me Herbert."

Flower—(she must have got the wrong impression, for her first reply was "Light Crust," but—a minute later—she told me Illacs.
Hobby—driving Ford's.
Town—Munday.

Sunset Eagles Win Tournament

The Sunset Eagles won their Invitation Tournament in a 17-13 tilt against the Goree Wildcats in the final game Saturday night, February 3.

The tournament was a success in every way, a success that was made possible only through the cooperation and good will of the nine guest teams. Sunset was host to the teams of Truseott, Munday, Goree, Benjamin, Paint Creek, Knox City, Vera, O'Brien, and Bomarton.

Consolation trophy went to the Bomarton team who exhibited remarkable skill in every game they played. They were defeated 26-24 by O'Brien and won the consolation finals by a score of 42-28 over Vera after having defeated the Knox City team by a score of 31-20.

The Sunset team wishes to express its appreciation to the guest teams for their cooperation in the tournament, and also to the good behavior of the crowds.

The Eagles' next scheduled game is with the Benjamin Mustangs on Friday night, February 9.

First comes those noted for their knowledge.

The ones that be our future geniuses of tomorrow. In this group are: Virginia Parkhill, Joe Nelson, Glendon Matthews and Margaret Hardin.

Next comes the ones who will write the books of tomorrow and who will make everyone happy with their music: Robert Travis, A. J. Gilbert, Louis Herring, and Claude Harrison.

The next group is to us what Davy O'Brien, John Kimbrough and "Dizzy" Dean are to their respective teams or associates. In this group are: Juanita Hunter, Nell Prather, La Verne Bumpas, Cecil Joe Burton, Howard Myers, and Howard Payne Shannon.

In the last group comes the ones that make all the farmers, housewives and ordinary run of business people. They are: Thelma Burnison, Katie Bell Sweet, Cleta Jones, Annie Burns, Jo Smith, Rachel Walling, Ausa Cluck and J. R. Hill.

Those are the Sunset seniors of '40. Who knows—some day their names may be in the headlines as much as Hitler's is today. Just watch and you'll see.

SENIORS ON PARADE

John Louis Herring
 Louis Herring, the son of Will Herring, was born north of Knox City on November 17, 1921.

Louis entered League school and went there for two years. Then he went to Knox City for a year. "Bill" as he is commonly known, then entered Sunset and has gone here ever since.

Bill is five feet eight inches tall and weighs 125 pounds. He has black hair and brown eyes.

Some of his favorites are: color, blue; subject, science; song, "You Must Have Been A Beautiful Baby"; sport, swimming, (kinda cold now, isn't it?); hobby, working on model radios; movie stars, Mickey Rooney and Myrna Loy; and his dislike is "hard-boiled teachers."

Bill says he has not the slightest idea what he will do after he finishes school.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Brown of Vera visited Mr. Brown's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Brown, Sunday. We are glad to have Odell and Loyd Harper from O'Brien start to school at Sunset.

Mary Helen Partridge from Denton is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Partridge.

Doris Jane Burton spent Saturday night with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Burton of Benjamin.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Mansfield spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Jennings of Benjamin.

Bill Hardin of Vernon visited Guy and Margaret Hardin over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Russell of Carlsbad, New Mexico, visited Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Walling over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Burfield of Guthrie, Texas, spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Swamer and son, Jerry, of Wichita Falls visited friends and relatives here over the week end.

Did You Know . . . Did Ya?

That Ausa seems to be interested in someone called "Slim." Edith has lost all interest in the city of O'Brien.

Frances Walling is tired of being "An In-Between."

That Louise Mansfield is a walking encyclopedia.

Paynie must be a wise man; he changes his mind often.

Margaret was seen wearing her class ring recently.

Wallace Jungman keeps late hours. (He and who else?)

The Sunset girls seem to be taking advantage of leap year—that's the spirit, girls.

Howard is so forgetful these days.

LaVerne has such "dreams." (Or is it dreams?) I wonder!

Rachel goes around singing, "I Didn't Know What Time It Was."

Jo wishes certain gossip were true. (Or does she—we often wonder, but we will never know.)

Why Thelma is so quiet about getting letters from Luaders.

That Edna Earle wonders if something couldn't come true; even though it isn't the truth.

Nellie seems to be sitting on top of the world these days.

LOCALS

Mr. Rob Couch returned to her home in Pampa last Sunday after a visit with friends and relatives in Munday.

Mr. and Mrs. Truman White of Paducah visited relatives and friends here the first of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Raphael Scott visited relatives in Throckmorton last Sunday.

Dr. T. P. Frizzell of Knox City was a visitor in town last Sunday.

Miss Drucilla Jones left the first of this week for Abilene, where she entered Hardin-Simmons university for the spring semester.

Scouting Beckons All Boys

When the Boy Scouts of America celebrates its 30th birthday on Thursday, February 8, all of the 1,330,000 Scouts, Cubs and Scout leaders will re-dedicate themselves to the service motive which has characterized the Movement for three decades. Scouting offers adventure, fun and achievement—attractive to all boys—through the democratic life of the Scout Troop and Patrol, as essential ingredients in its character-influencing program for the boys of America. Drawing on the rich experience of the Movement, local and national Scout leaders anticipate the opportunity to serve more boys annually.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

Hundreds of books have been written about the cattle ranches, the cowboys and the cow kings—but has anybody ever seen a book about sheep-ranching? Yet sheep-raising is one of Texas' biggest industries. Surely, there is some "color" in it. The sheep roam over hills and valley, amid cactus and mesquite—pretty much the same kind of regions the cattle do. Drouths, sandstorms, blue northers—they would be in the saga of the sheep-country, too. Wolves, cruel and cunning, would be the "villains."

The sheep industry extends into the purple past. Jacob owned great flocks. A line of rulers of old Egypt were known as "the shepherd kings." It was to the shepherds watching their flocks by night that the angels sang the song that told of the birth of the Redeemer. And throughout His ministry, Jesus spoke of Himself as the Shepherd and of His followers as "sheep." The poet-apostle John called Him "the Lamb of God."

The late Sam Ashburn, "top o' the windmill" man for the San Angelo Standard, could have done a great book about sheep because he talked the language of the sheep-country; he knew the legends and the history; he was familiar with the sayings of the Mexican herders. Maybe we've overlooked some book but we'd like to know what a sheep ranch is like—the problems and the dangers.

And, Mr. Writing Man, don't forget to tell us about the Angora goat with his Kentucky colored beard, either.

A reader sends in the following sage saying, credited to Prof. L. L. Click of the University of Texas: "The way to live to a ripe old age is to get some incurable malady and take good care of it."

Here's news: A public official who not only isn't asking for an increase in salary but actually turns back part of his present pay. Big, jovial Tom Field, Dallas county commissioner, voluntarily cut his own salary 15 per cent for 1939 and so paid $825 back into the treasury.

And in these days when many court dockets are overcrowded (one big case has been pending eight years and still isn't settled; Here's a judge who worked so hard that the lawyers asked him to take a vacation. He is District Judge A. J. Power of Fort Worth and he has held sunrise court, night court and court in the daytime. Even if no case is being tried, you will more than likely find the kind-faced jurist sitting at his desk in the courtroom, looking over lawbooks and court papers. He is a man who thoroughly loves his work. So Judge Power took his first vacation in four years.

the thought of the days when I was editor in Eastland and J. S. McBeath (now Brownwood publisher) resigned as our advertising manager when he picked up a newspaper from a table and found a pistol underneath. "To h--- with a job when they use sixshooters for paper-weights," McBeath exclaimed.

Did you ever see a boxball alley?

"So-and-so can't be beaten" is what you hear about this or that public official. There is nobody who can't be beaten. Little Finland is proving that. The Chinese, under-nourished for centuries, and with few plans or other modern equipment, have held off the Japanese war machine for nearly three years.

In politics the utterance quoted is made usually by someone whose job depends on the official in question remaining in office and so an assiduous effort is made to build up a myth of invulnerability.

Any man who ought to be beaten—with the right kind of candidate and the right kind of campaign. "The bigger they are, the harder they fall." Just take the record to the people.

More lawyer jokes for our content:

A variation of last week's graveyard story is one about an attorney named Strange who said he didn't want any name on his tombstone but just the lettering, "Here lies a lawyer and an honest man" and he was sure everybody would say, "That's Strange."

A Connecticut Yankee was asked on cross examination how far he was standing from the spot where the defendant was alleged to have held up a man. "One hundred and forty three-feet and two inches," the witness answered. "How can you be so exact?" the lawyer wanted to know. To which the citizen replied, "I thought some darn fool would ask me the distance, so I took a tape-line and measured it."

And there's the one about a Swede who was testifying as to seeing a man hit another with a rock. "How big was the rock?" the defendant's attorney asked and, without giving time for an answer, "Was it the size of my head?" The witness said, "It bane about as long but not as thick."

"What a Man Does For Himself Dies With Him—

CYCLONE DAVIS

J. H. (Cyclone) Davis attained an age at which most men elect to sit by the hearth and recall the past. But the reason that this veteran Texas political stormy petrel carried on to 85 with unimpaired mental vigor may well have been that he preferred to remain a lively fighter so long as a spark of life remained. He was no general willing to die in bed. He liked the battlefield.

Populist leader in a long-ago era when populism split great political parties, prohibition advocate when in politics and out prohibition debate was likely to bring on a physical riot as a poll boot upturn, more lately a stout protagonist of old-age pensions, Cyclone Davis believed in what he fought for and gave all that was in him to the numberless skirmishes in every campaign in which he participated. You could not say that he ever saw both sides of a question. He saw only Cyclone Davis' side. He was always right and the other side always wrong. And once his mind was made up, he believed in fighting tooth and nail for his convictions.

That was Cyclone Davis. Perhaps he was wrong. The News, which often disagreed with his contentions, has often, of course thought him wrong. But stout conviction breeds a wholesome respect for the man who holds it, who will surrender no jot or tittle of it, regardless of the strength of the opposition. That, too, was Cyclone Davis. He could be outvoted but not convinced.

Cyclone Davis holds an undoubted place as a part of Texas history, a picturesque, hard-fighting political evangelist who never conceded defeat.—The Dallas Morning News.

BWARE OF SMOKE

The demand for changes in the Wagner Labor Relations Act has been going on for a long time now. Meanwhile, the public has been increasingly insistent that a revision of the law be made. But so far, the voice of the public hasn't been heard.

In May, 1938, a Gallup poll disclosed that 62 per cent of the American people wanted the National Labor Relations Act either revised or repealed outright. Today, that percentage has risen to 71 per cent. Meanwhile, investigation by the Smith committee, appointed by the House of Representatives, has disclosed numerous "bugs" in the Act and in its administration.

While public sentiment is solidly against the Act in its present form, the long delay in doing anything about it has created a condition that is extremely dangerous. The danger lies in the possibility that the whole situation will become so confused that the public will be thwarted.

This might be done in two manners, both of which have been suggested in some sources:

1. Amendments might be put through which are really "dummy changes" and would not accomplish the desired end or promoting industrial peace. Some amendments that have been suggested, notably those of the C.I.O., would make the law ever more militantly anti-employer that it is at present, and would therefore do all harm and no good.

2. Changes in the personnel of the Board itself might be made with the pretense that these were all that was needed. This would run counter to most of the testimony produced by the current Congressional hearings, which have shown that much of the Board bias has been the result of loose construction permitted by the wording of the Act itself. But the defenders-to-the-death of the Act in its present form might think that they could fool the public anyway.

The public has demonstrated for a long stretch now that it wants the Wagner Act amended. Now, as the time draws nearer when some change in the Act or Board seems inevitable, is the moment when individual citizens must watch most closely to see that the public desire is respected. "Eternal vigilance" is a prime necessity—eternal vigilance to guard against smokescreens under cover of which the public will be crossed.

In other words, now is the time to beware of smoke at the nation's capital city

THEY SAY!

"The friends of Russia who have shelter here, and who persistently seek to undermine the American System, while secure in their refuge of our liberal laws, should have that security jolted in some way. They are dupes or they are scoundrels and an almost imperative necessity suggests that hereafter they should be treated as such."—The Oregonian.

"I have yet to see an unemployed man receiving a government benefit, dignified as it may be, who did not prefer private employment. . . . I have yet to see a business man who did not prefer to give these men work, if he could, rather than pay them wages in the form of taxes to be expended by the government."—Harry L. Hopkins, secretary of commerce.

"There is no such thing as perfection in government. There are always faults to be corrected, evils to be avoided, and new remedies to be worked out."—U. S. Senator Pat Harrison.

How To Relieve Bronchitis

Bronchitis, acute or chronic, is an inflammatory condition of the mucous membranes lining the bronchial tubes. Creomulsion goes right to the seat of the trouble to loosen germ laden phlegm, increase secretion and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. COTTON BAGGING

Cotton bagging came to the front in Texas during 1939 as 233,976 bales were covered with this material, F. E. Lichte, cotton gin specialist of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, has announced. Less than 17,500 bales were put up cotton bagging in 1938.

Advocates of cotton bagging have pointed out that a normal crop of cotton in the United States would require the use of about 135,000 bales of cotton annually. Spinners generally favor cotton as a bagging material, as the lute now widely used mixes with the cotton fiber and makes an extra cleaning process necessary. Improvements are necessary which will make cotton bagging more satisfactory than the present type, Lichte said.

Senior Report

Measurements have been taken of the Seniors for their caps and gowns—which reminds us that our high school career is nearly over. We hope that when they are over, that we can all say that those were the happiest and most important days of our lives.

Zell: "And if I refuse you, dear one, will you kill yourself?"
That certain one: "That has been my usual custom."

"Listen to me, now, or you'll never learn how to handle a plane. Just do as I tell you, and you'll be all right. Keep 'er straight now. Don't let 'er go sideways. Push 'er a little harder and keep your front end up a little—now level 'er off. That's the way. Say, I'll make a carpenter out of you yet."

Junior Report

It seems that I cannot find time to report the news that the juniors see and hear because there are too many bruised faces and black eyes that attract my attention. The Golden Gloves Tournament is being held in the gymnasium at the Elementary school building. These fights serve as excellent entertainment and provide for a fighting standard among high school boys. Our one-act plays which Dr. Bass ordered have come. Several have already been assigned to the different students in testing their dramatic ability. These plays will be presented in the auditorium at convenient times during the year. We are still studying American Literature in English III. We are learning to appreciate the writing of the early American writers.

Some of them are Henry David Thoreau, Edgar Allan Poe, and William Cullen Bryant.

We still have that old business spirit while in typing, because Mr. Cobb insists on our learning how to type mailable business letters.

The Junior class is selling candy at the fights. You will help us out of a financial embarrassment by buying from us. The candy will be good, and it will cost only 5 cents a bag.

The annual Football Banquet will be held Thursday night of this week. The public is invited. It will be served by Mr. Curtis Coates. The plates are on sale for fifty cents. The football boys played hard for you during the football season, and we hope that you will come and help them enjoy their banquet.

The 'We Wonder Why' Column

We Wonder Why . . .
Flora Bell has such a large bank account now-a-days.

Evelyn's affairs are known all over town. (Could it have been on account of a party line?)

We wonder where Jerry was Sunday night. (Be careful Sue, or she will beat your time!)

We wonder if Maurice has the Goree habit, too.

Billie was able to fight the whole U.S. army and win.

William blushed when Mr. Cooper walked into the office and listened to his telephone call to Sunsat.

Sue takes to these bookkeepers in Studebaker sedans. (Boys' you had better watch these Vernon fans.)

Allene stayed at Bonnie's house so late Sunday night.

Maurice is always in the study

hall the last period now-a-days.

Gladye talks about a certain Guy.

Jane won't trifle on her Wichita friend.

Elizah Frances is sporting a new class ring since she is only a junior.

D.P. insists on these ex-seniors instead of being loyal to these cute high school girls.
Dixie was so worried about the banquet place cards, Monday morning.

Want Ads

Wanted: A nice girl friend. Must be entertaining and well-liked. I have a new car, a Sunday suit, and a pleasant smile with dimples, and like to spend money. All desirable applicants please see David Eiland.

Wanted: A car with a red-headed boy in it. Walking is getting tiresome now. Please see Florine Pippin.

Wanted: Something new to write about. This report is getting too trite.

Lost: A brown-eyed boy with light brown hair. I didn't miss him at first, but now somebody please return him to Jean.

... And now for that well-known Senior, and lady, Geraldine Bookout.

Jerry was born in Poteau, Okla., on May 25, 1923. As a mere youngster, she, like some of our other seniors, liked to move about—so her first stop was Seymour, Texas.

After spending her first five years of school there, Iowa Park seemed her destiny. Soon Seymour called her back. It was during her junior year that she moved to Munday.

Jerry represents the junior class this year as its candidate for queen. A few of her favorites are:
Subject—Bookkeeping.
Teacher—Mr. Cobb.
Color—Green.
Song—"Shoot the Sherbet to Me Herbert."

Flower—(she must have got the wrong impression, for her first reply was "Light Crust," but a minute later—she told me lilacs.
Hobby—driving Fords.
Town—Munday.

Sunset Eagles Win Tournament

The Sunset Eagles won their Invitation Tournament in a 17-13 tilt against the Goree Wildcats in the final game Saturday night, February 3.

The tournament was a success in every way, a success that was made possible only through the cooperation and good will of the nine guest teams. Sunset was host to the teams of Truscott, Munday, Goree, Benjamin, Paint Creek, Knox City, Vera, O'Brien, and Bomarton.

Consolation trophy went to the Bomarton team who exhibited remarkable skill in every game they played. They were defeated 26-24 by O'Brien and won the consolation finals by a score of 42-28 over Vera after having defeated the Knox City team by a score of 31-20.

The Sunset team wishes to express its appreciation to the guest teams for their cooperation in the tournament, and also to the good behavior of the crowds.

The Eagles' next scheduled game is with the Benjamin Mustangs on Friday night, February 9.

Volleyball

January 30th, the Munday volleyball girls visited Sunset and played five practice games with our volleyball girls. Four out of the five games were won by Sunset. This gave the girls good practice.

We enjoyed having the Munday volleyball girls here at Sunset, and last Tuesday night, and we would like for them to come again, real soon.

The volleyball girls of Sunset are to play in the volleyball tournament which is to be held in Knox City, this week end. We wish the girls lots of good luck.

First comes those noted for their knowledge. The ones that be our future geniuses of tomorrow. In this group are: Virginia Parkhill, Joe Nelson, Glendon Matthews and Margaret Hardin.

Next comes the ones who will write the books of tomorrow and who will make everyone happy with their music: Robert Travis, A. J. Gilbert, Louis Herring, and Claude Harrison.

The next group is to us what Davy O'Brien, John Kimbrough and "Dizzy" Dean are to their respective teams or associates. In this group are: Juanita Hunter, Nell Prather, La Verne Bumpas, Cecil Joe Burton, Howard Myers, and Howard Payne Shannon.

In the last group comes the ones that make all the farmers, housewives and ordinary run of business people. They are: Thelma Burnison, Katie Bell Sweet, Cleta Jones, Annie Burns, Jo Smith, Rachel Walling, AUSA Cluck and J. R. Hill. Those are the Sunset seniors of '40. Who knows—some day their names may be in the headlines as much as Hitler's is today. Just watch and you'll see.

SENIORS ON PARADE

John Louis Herring
 Louis Herring, the son of Will Herring, was born north of Knox City on November 17, 1921.

Louis entered League school and went there for two years. Then he went to Knox City for a year. "Bill" as he is commonly known, then entered Sunset and has gone here ever since.

Bill is five feet eight inches tall and weighs 125 pounds. He has black hair and brown eyes.

Some of his favorites are: color, blue; subject, science; song, "You Must Have Been A Beautiful Baby"; sport, swimming, (kinda cold now, isn't it?); hobby, working on model radios; movie stars, Mickey Rooney and Myrna Loy; and his dislike is "hard-boiled teachers."

Bill says he has not the slightest idea what he will do after he finishes school.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Brown of Vera visited Mr. Brown's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Brown, Sunday.

We are glad to have Odell and Loyd Harper from O'Brien start to school at Sunset.

Mary Helen Partridge from Denton is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Partridge.

Doris Jane Burton spent Saturday night with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Burton of Benjamin.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Mansfield spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Jennings of Benjamin.

Bill Hardin of Vernon visited Guy and Margaret Hardin over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Russell of Carlsbad, New Mexico, visited Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Walling over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Burfield of Guthrie, Texas, spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Swamer and son, Jerry, of Wichita Falls visited friends and relatives here over the week end.

Did You Know . . . Did Ya?

That AUSA seems to be interested in someone called "Slim."

Edith has lost all interest in the city of O'Brien.

Frances Walling is tired of being "An In-Between."

"That Louise Mansfield is a waiking encyclopedia."

Paynie must be a wise man; he changes his mind often.

Margaret was seen wearing her class ring recently.

Wallace Jungman keeps late hours. (He and who else?)

The Sunset girls seem to be taking advantage of leap year—that's the spirit, girls.

Howard is so forgetful these days.

LaVerne has such "dreams." (Or is it dreams?) I wonder!

Rachel goes around singing, "I Didn't Know What Time It Was."

Jo wishes certain gossip were true. (Or does she—we often wonder, but we will never know.)

Why Thelma is so quiet about getting letters from Lueders.

That Edna Earle wonders if something couldn't come true; even though it isn't the truth.

Nellie seems to be sitting on top of the world these days.

LOCALS

Mr. Bob Couch returned to her home in Pampa last Sunday after a visit with friends and relatives in Munday.

Mr. and Mrs. Truman White of Paducah visited relatives and friends here the first of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Raphael Scott visited relatives in Throckmorton last Sunday.

Dr. T. P. Frizzell of Knox City was a visitor in town last Sunday.

Miss Druella Jones left the first of this week for Abilene, where she entered Hardin-Simmons university for the spring semester.

Scouting Beckons All Boys

SCOUTING

When the Boy Scouts of America celebrates its 30th birthday on Thursday, February 8, all of the 1,330,000 Scouts, Cubs and Scout leaders will re-dedicate themselves to the service motive which has characterized the Movement for three decades. Scouting offers adventure, fun and achievement—attractive to all boys—through the democratic life of the Scout Troop and Patrol, as essential ingredients in its character-influencing program for the boys of America. Drawing on the rich experience of the Movement, local and national Scout leaders anticipate the opportunity to serve more boys annually.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

Everytime this overver hears some newspaperman say that the exciting adventures of editors and reporters in the movies are overdrawn, there comes to mind B. A. Butler (now Cisco publisher) getting out the Eastland Daily Oil Belt News on election night with a rifleman on guard on the roof. Then arises the recollection of Tom Whitehead (now Brenham publisher) dodging bullets at the mouth of an alley in Cisco as he "covered" the bank holdup in which three lives were lost. And there's

Hundreds of books have been written about the cattle ranches, the cowboys and the cow kings—but has anybody ever seen a book about sheep-ranching? Yet sheep-raising is one of Texas' biggest industries. Surely, there is some "color" in it. The sheep roam over hills and valley, amid cactus and mesquite—pretty much the same kind of regions the cattle do. Drouth, sandstorms, blue northers—they would be in the saga of the sheep-country, too. Wolves, cruel and cunning, would be the "villains."

The sheep industry extends into the purple past. Jacob owned great flocks. A line of rulers of old Egypt were known as "the shepherd kings." It was to the shepherds watching their flocks by night that the angels sang the song that told of the birth of the Redeemer. And throughout His ministry, Jesus spoke of Himself as the Shepherd and of His followers as "sheep." The post-apostle John called Him "the Lamb of God."

Maybe we've overlooked some book but we'd like to know what a sheep ranch is like—the problems and the dangers.

And, Mr. Writing Man, don't forget to tell us about the Angora goat with his Kentucky colonel beard, either.

A reader sends in the following sage saying, credited to Prof. L. L. Click of the University of Texas: "The way to live to a ripe old age is to get some incurable malady and take good care of it."

Here's news: A public official who not only isn't asking for an increase in salary but actually turns back part of his present pay. Big, jovial Tom Field, Dallas county commissioner, voluntarily cut his own salary 15 per cent for 1939 and so paid $825 back into the treasury.

And in these days when many court dockets are overcrowded (one big case has been pending eight years and still isn't settled: Here's a judge who worked so hard that the lawyers asked him to take a vacation. He is District Judge A. J. Power of Fort Worth and he has held sunrise court, night court and court in the daytime. Even if no case is being tried, you will more than likely find the kind-faced jurist sitting at his desk in the courtroom, looking over lawbooks and court papers. He is a man who thoroughly loves his work. So Judge Power took his first vacation in four years.

the thought of the days when I was editor in Eastland and J. S. McBeath (now Brownwood publisher) resigned as our advertising manager when he picked up a newspaper from a table and found a pistol underneath. "To h--- with a job when they use sixshooters for paper-weights," McBeath exclaimed.

Did you ever see a boxball alley?

"So-and-so can't be beaten" is what you hear about this or that public official. There is nobody who can't be beaten. Little Finland is proving that. The Chinese, under-nourished for centuries, and with few plans or other modern equipment, have held off the Japanese war machine for nearly three years.

In politics the utterance quoted is made usually by someone whose job depends on the official in question remaining in office and so an assiduous effort is made to build up a myth of invulnerability.

Any man who ought to be beaten—with the right kind of candidate and the right kind of campaign. "The bigger they are, the harder they fall." Just take the record to the people.

More lawyer jokes for our content:

A variation of last week's graveyard story is one about an attorney named Strange who said he didn't want any name on his tombstone but just the lettering, "Here lies a lawyer and an honest man" and he was sure everybody would say, "That's Strange."

A Connecticut Yankee was asked on cross examination how far he was standing from the spot where the defendant was alleged to have held up a man. "One hundred and forty three-feet and two inches," the witness answered. "How can you be so exact?" the lawyer wanted to know. To which the citizen replied, "I thought some darn fool would ask me the distance, so I took a tapeline and measured it."

And there's the one about a Swede who was testifying as to seeing a man hit another with a rock. "How big was the rock?" the defendant's attorney asked and, without giving time for an answer, "Was it the size of my head?" The witness said, "It bane about as long but not as thick."

This is the first of a series of "THUMBNAILED SKETCHES" featuring the work performed by our Linemen in bringing ELECTRIC SERVICE to your home

"WE RIDE HERD ON KILOWATTS"

THE LINEMAN is similar to the old-time cowboy in many ways. He wears spurs. His work is highly exciting—and, at times, extremely hazardous. Like the cowboy who must guard his charges against unruly elements, this modern linerider's work is increased tenfold in bad weather.

The main difference is that the cowboy tended livestock.

The lineman tends live wires and rides herd on kilowatts.

You've seen him many times, high up on 50-foot poles wherever new lines are being built or old lines repaired. His is one of the most hazardous jobs in the world.

Although his work is unusual, he lives a normal life. He is a good citizen... maybe he is your neighbor. He is one of the hundreds of men and women, working "behind the scenes," who make Electric Service efficient, dependable, and economical here. He is one of Your Electric Servants whose praise goes unsung. On him we bestow a title of honor in this Southwestern country—"A Modern Linerider."

METHODIST CHURCH MUNDAY

Since the uniting of the three Methodist churches there has been constant effort to make the union more than just physical union. For some weeks the Bishops of the new "Methodist Church" have been holding meetings in the cities throughout the United States in an effort to reach all preachers and the leading laymen and they in turn to reach the local congregation. The Advance meeting of this nature for this Northwest Texas Conference will be held at Amarillo Monday the 12. Those privileged to go will be well paid for their efforts in the inspiration from the messages and council meetings.

"A Youth's Advance" meeting is held at Stamford on February 12. There will be five or six hundred young people from the Stamford district and adjacent territory.

The speakers are Rev. Franklin Ivey of Abilene, assistant pastor, First Church, and Rev. Edwin W. Parker, conference executive secretary, Oklahoma City. Special music during the program, followed by a fellowship hour. Get the team-work spirit and let's have a crowd to go down. There will be no admission charge and it is open to both Youth and Adults.

Again you will be surprised when you enter the church next Sunday for there has been further improvement since last Sunday. We want you to come and see the wonderful improvement and then enjoy it so well that you will keep coming. See us at church next Sunday, won't you?

Famous Heavy In Enemy Role As Santa Ana

C. Henry Gordon, who portrays General Santa Ana, the Mexican general, in Republic's "Man of Conquest," coming Friday to the Roxy Theatre, owes his theatrical start to a Mexican silver mining expedition.

Desperately in need of money, Gordon attempted to get a part in a Broadway show after leaving college, but his efforts failed. Later, when offered a chance to go to Mexico with a silver mining expedition, Gordon accepted. The venture was successful and Gordon returned to New York with his purse well stocked. This time, Gordon made only mild efforts to get into a stage play and, as luck would have it, he was immediately snapped up.

Richard Dix plays the title role of Sam Houston in "Man of Conquest." Gail Patrick and Joan Fontaine share the feminine leads, while Edward Ellis is seen as Andrew Jackson.

Gordon retains his famous screen mustache in his portrayal of Santa Ana, although in real life the Mexican general had no facial adornment. In addition, Santa Ana was thin-looking, with a long sadistic face. Under the influence of opium, he believed he was, and called himself, "Napoleon of the West." Richard Dix is seen as Sam Houston in this Republic film.

Mrs. Earl McPherson and Mrs. Land Wall of Quanah were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Roberts first of this week.

Senior Class News
We have taken our final examinations in civics and now, for the last semester, we will take up the study of economics. We hope that we will find this subject very interesting. One Senior said that Franklin D. Roosevelt was the last president of Texas. Is that a fact, Jean?

We have been playing hard at volleyball this week. Alma seems to think that she has to be crooked right to hit a ball. We were glad to have our classmate, Rosa Lee, back with us after an absence of several days. We were also glad to have Rose Ann Kreitz visit with us last Friday afternoon.

Junior Report
In English we are summarizing short stories. All the Juniors must have the same thoughts, because the other day we went in to class and every one had the same composition. Miss McGraw seems to understand it sometimes.

One day during history class our teacher told us that the girls get the answers and the boys get the same ones. We have come to the conclusion that the boys will want the girls to work for them some day.

We had a grand time in school last Monday. Not because Geneva was absent, but it just seemed to be our silly day. We think that Geneva had an excellent day anyway, especially with a certain freshman boy. (Didn't she, Vic?) Jean and Bernice must be good at playing certain games. Just read the following:

Jean: "Say, who was that good looking boy I saw you with last night?"
Bobby: "Oh! Did you see me? We were playing a new game."
Jean: "What did the game have to do with the good-looking boy?"
Bobby: "Well, you see we were playing bankruptcy and I was the receiver."

Sophomore Report
In biology last Monday each of us carried out an experiment about plants. The study of dairy farming in the New England states is proving very interesting.

We Wonder Why Columbia—
We wonder why Braxton likes to show off during the tenth grade history class. It is because of . . . ? Why does Philip like to look at funnypapers during study periods? We wonder why Albert sharpens his pencil so often. Is it to aggravate a certain school marm?

We wonder if Nadine made a medal out of the tin can she won at the club meeting last Wednesday?

The high school is going to have a Valentine party next Tuesday. Most of the Soph girls are glad, because they are on various committees.

Freshman Report
In mathematics we are at the more difficult subjects. We are studying how to measure lumber. In science we are making reports on the history of wheels.

Bernard broke his record Monday by missing his first day of school.

Here are some of the reasons why you always hear the Freshmen:

Theresia: "I'm so disgusted with that history! When I get home I'll light the stove, shut the windows, and poison myself with monoxide."
Joe: "Be sure to turn off the stove when you get through."

Lucille: "Mildred, why are you looking so sad today?"
Mildred: "Oh, it's lonesome."
Lucille: "I wonder why."

Club News
Again the Sunshine Club was called to order by our president, Theresia Andrae. When our secretary, Nadine Kreitz, called the roll, as usual we answered with facts we have learned in English, i.e., a simile is a comparison between unlike objects that have one point in common. As or like are used.

Those appointed to be on the program committee next week were Rosella Loran, Rose Fetsch, and T. J. Hoffman.

As we had no other new business—the period was given over to the program committee. They had arranged games. The first game, directed by Albert Brown, was one in which we guessed names of objects or titles beginning with "can." He told us that the one that guessed the most Manks correctly would get a prize. Nadine won and we were surprised and did we laugh when he handed her a shiny tin can and said, "Here, you can whittle you a medal out of this." The next game was sponsored by your club reporter. It was called "An Automobile Party." No prizes were given in this game, but we had fun playing it anyway.

Our twenty minutes were up—we were forced to adjourn and take our English and pretend we know something of the subject, other than Parliamentary Law.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Caughran visited Mrs. Ethie Lee P'Pool in a Wichita Falls hospital last Sunday. Mrs. P'Pool is reported getting along nicely following her recent operation.

TEXAS OUT-OF-DOORS

Many Arrests Made

Despite the fact the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission is carrying on an extensive educational campaign in an effort to familiarize hunters and fishermen with the numerous laws governing field and stream activities and with the necessity of saving the Lone Star State's game and fish, wardens were forced to make 201 arrests during December, it was announced by the executive secretary of the Game Department.

Convictions were obtained in 179 cases, 19 being dismissed and one being appealed. One is still pending.

Hunters and fishermen were apprehended while violating 36 different laws, a perusal of the report discloses. Their violations ran from shooting javelinas in a closed county, to headlighting for deer. Most of the persons arrested were charged with violating sections of the hunting code, but a good many fishermen were also on the list. Three men each paid fines of $100.

Catches Albino Possum

A pure albino o'possum, one of the rarities of Nature, was caught recently near Bridgeport, Texas, by Oscar Price, who resides northeast of there. The pelt was taken to the office of the Bridgeport Index by I. F. Bogy, who said the animal had pink eyes. Several nearly completely white o'possums have been found in Texas, but this is the first report of a pure albino to reach the office of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission.

Dredge Continues Work

The Game Department's dredge, AE, probably will begin dredging a channel from Laguna Madre to the Gulf of Mexico near Mardock's Landing early in June. The dredge, which recently opened a pass at Cedar Bayo, will re-clean Corpus Christi pass and then proceed down the coast to Murdock's Landing. It is necessary to open passes into the Laguna Madre in order to help prevent extreme salinity of the water in the lagoon, which is one of the greatest salt water fish breeding spots along the Gulf Coast.

"Old Three Toes" Caught

"Old Three Toes," a coyote so sly he had evaded the efforts of trappers and ranchmen alike to capture him over a period of years, finally met his Waterloo. "Old Three Toes" left a distinctive 3-toe print whenever he raided the goat and sheep flocks of Mason county and a trio of trappers failed to lure the canny old coyote into a trap. However, C. L. Parker, a federal trapper, finally outwitted "Old Three Toes" and added his pelt to a large collection. "Old Three Toes" had evidently been caught in a trap years ago and had, in loosening himself, cut off two toes from his right front foot.

Quail Drifted 15 Miles

While quail generally remain in the vicinity of the place where they are born or are planted, a report of a quail having traveled 15 miles from where it was liberated last March was received recently by the State Game Department.

The female bobwhite was banded and released on the Parks ranch in Goliad county. During the closing days of the quail season the quail was shot two miles southeast of Schroeder, Texas, almost exactly 15 miles from the spot where it had been released. Lack of sufficient food or cover was given by the Game Department biologists as the reason for the lengthy trip made by the quail.

Cobb Praises Texas Hunting

Irvin S. Cobb, noted author and humorist who has not failed to come to Texas for hunting for a good many years, was high in his praise for deer and duck hunting following his tour of the Lone Star State recently.

Mr. Cobb, who got his two bucks while hunting in Southwest Texas, also took advantage of the open season on ducks to get in several days' shooting at Eagle Lake in Colorado county. "Eagle Lake has just about the finest duck hunting I ever saw," Mr. Cobb remarked. Returning the compliment, observers noted that the author "can really shoot," according to the Galveston News.

LOCALS

Earl Pruitt, who resides seven miles north of Bomarton, was a business visitor in town Monday. While here he was a visitor at the Times office and had the paper sent to his home for another year. He is also a customer in our "classified ad" column this week.

County Clerk M. T. Chamberlain of Benajmin was a business visitor in town Saturday afternoon.

Wayne Tidwell, who is attending the University of Texas, Bennie Foytik and Elton Tidwell of Olney were visitors here last Saturday.

Miss Virginia Smith returned to her studies at the University of Texas, Austin, last Sunday after a few days' visit with her mother, Mrs. Maggie V. Smith.

Most prolonged cold spell in 41 years places greatest test on gas company facilities in its entire history . . . dependable, unfaltering supply during emergency due to modern, interconnected pipeline system bringing natural gas from 46 separate gas fields . . .

Snow Still Seen As Freeze Goes Into 13th Day
Texas' Coldest Spell For 41 Years Shows No Sign of Letup; Thursday Top Is 24

Dallas headed into its thirteenth day of freezing weather Thursday night as the Weather Bureau hoisted snow signals for this section for Friday and Saturday, with rain in the south portion of East Texas. It was the ninth consecutive day of Dallas' coldest weather in a decade, and despite moderate weather in West Texas the state still was gripped in freezing weather which extended near the coast.

The cold wave is the most tenacious in Texas in forty-one years and in Dallas is comparable with the cold January, 1918, when the mercury dropped below freezing for four days out of the forty-three days from Dec. 27, 1917, to Feb. 4, 1918. Since Dec. 27, 1939, all but five days have had sub-freezing weather, and some of the lowest temperatures were recorded since the all-time low of 3 below zero was set in January, 1930.

One of lowest Januarys already Notorious January already branded the bitterest month of the year by Dallas' twenty-seven-year weather records and by pointers of the freezing history of 99 years will be recorded this year as one of the worst.

The average daily minimum temperature for the month for a twenty-five year period is 36.8 degrees, and is nearly two degrees below December's average, next coldest month, and nearly four degrees less than the February average. For the current year, however, the average to date is 24.8, twelve degrees below normal.

This was the first frigid January since 1916, when a cold wave of several days' duration marked up a 14-degree mercury preceding year the mercury had fallen to 8 degrees. The cold wave of 1930 was the next chronologically, and was preceded by January, 1929, during which the mercury had fallen to 9. This year the mercury is expected to fall to 6 twice and is expected to go lower.

—From The Dallas Morning News, Friday, Jan. 26, 1940.

Gas dispatchers in headquarters of Lone Star Gas System, Dallas, at work on one of the coldest days of the year. With heavy snow falling and the greatest demand for gas in 28 years, men were at their posts constantly. They are connected with far flung gas fields and compressor stations giving orders to step up pressures and cut in more wells. One man is receiving weather reports over short wave radio. They are alert for any emergency. Left to right: Tom B. Long, chief dispatcher; Luther Talbert, assistant pipe line superintendent standing back of M. S. Ball, receiving weather reports; H. D. Hewitt, studying pipe line map.

An "Interconnected" System ~ the vital key to unfaltering service!

January, 1940, is recorded as one of the most bitter cold months in our experience. Snow, sleet, ice and bone-chilling winds swept down across this section with a health-threatening viciousness unequalled in 41 years. Customer requirements for gas jumped to a new high . . . and the demand was great . . . so great that our customers used more gas in fighting the prolonged cold wave than at any similar period in our history.

During this prolonged cold spell, when unfaltering natural gas service was of vital importance for the health and comfort of our customers—NOT A SINGLE TOWN ON LONE STAR GAS SYSTEM WAS WITHOUT ITS GAS SUPPLY.

From 46 separate gas fields natural gas was moved through our 4,700 miles of INTERCONNECTED pipe line system to meet the emergency of the bitter cold weather. From north, east, south and west—from more than 1,000 gas wells in widely separated gas fields—we brought the supply through.

Modern facilities, including our many powerful compressor stations located at strategic points on the system and an abundant supply developed through many years played an important part in meeting this emergency. But of all the facilities maintained 365 days of the year for just such an unusual period as January, 1940, the greatest single factor for your unfaltering gas service is Lone Star Gas Company's INTERCONNECTED PIPE LINE SYSTEM CAPABLE OF BRINGING GAS TO OUR CUSTOMERS FROM 46 SEPARATE GAS FIELDS ACCORDING TO THE EMERGENCY.

Group Hospital Service Is Now Available In Knox County Area

The plan of Group Hospital Service was originated by a distinguished Texas hospital executive and educator. He might have copyrighted his great idea for personal profit, but instead, as a true humanitarian, he gave it to the hospitals of Texas for the unanimous action they have taken.

Under the state law, for the first time in history, a non-commercial and non-profit hospital service is given to the people of Texas at a cost permitting men and women earning the smallest salaries to easily provide for the emergencies of health in the future with the surety that they are under the protection of a stringent state law.

Group Hospital Service is the only plan sponsored by the Texas Hospital Association in cooperation with the doctors. This plan is wholeheartedly by the County Medical Association. Approved by the State Department of Insurance and State Health Department.

The State has been divided into areas. Each area maintaining an office with area manager. This area is in the Wichita area with

M. E. Reichert manager, with office in Brown Building, Wichita Falls, Texas. Group Hospital Service has several representatives in the Wichita area and Tom Walker is representative for this section. For information on this plan ask your doctor, your hospital, and Mr. Walker will explain in detail.

GARY WAS A LADY!

Gary, the expected son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim McDonald, arrived last Monday night at 8:30 o'clock—but Gary was a lady!

Jim called friends in Munday and informed them of the young lady's arrival. Jim said she weighed either 7 pounds and 13 ounces or 8 pounds and 13 ounces, he'd forgotten which! And instead of Gary, the young lady is being called Kay.

The child was born at a Wichita Falls hospital and both mother and baby are reported doing nicely.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Last Sunday the attendance was very good even though the streets were a little muddy from the gracious rain that came Friday night. We discussed the subject, Living in the Lives of Others, or Influence. Text, Rom. 14:7, "For none of us liveth to himself, and none dieth to himself." Other scriptures read were Mat. 5:13-16; 2 Cor. 5:14-21; Luke 10:3; 2 Cor. 6:14-18; Heb. 10:23-25; Rev. 14-13.

Everyone has an influence. It makes no difference what one's position in life is, he wields an influence over someone else with whom he comes in contact.

Every man's influence is either good or bad. We are either lifting people up or we are pulling them down. There are two militant forces in the world, each one of us are investing our lives in one or the other—not in both. One is directed by Christ and the Bible; and the other is directed by the Devil and the forces of evil. One leads to joy, peace and happiness; the other to darkness and despair. The old song we used to sing, "Say Brother, how are you living?"

Each one of us is responsible to make his influence good and beautiful. God expects it. We are capable of it. Influence is the most popular book that has ever been written. Our influence is all that we leave behind when this life is over. Our influence is inevitable and it is eternal. Paul's influence has touched the lives of millions through nineteen centuries. We will be happy to welcome you in the services next Sunday.
