VOLUME XXIII MUNDAY, KNOX COUNTY, TEXAS, NOVEMBER 17, 1927. Number 33

Rev. R. B. Freeman Is Returned; Rev. Gilbreath to Jayton

The Rev. R. B. Freeman has been returned to Munday as pastor of the First Methodist church for another year by Bishop Moore, presiding over the Northwest Texas conference, which was held last week at Big Spring, while the Rev. R. R. Gilbreath, pastor of the Munday circuit churches, was transferred to the Jayton church, and the Rev. A. G. Hulme was transferred from the Central Texas conference to Munday as pastor of the Munday circuit churches.

Other assignments made by the conference in the Stamford District are as follows:

Presiding elder, J. H. Hamilton, Asperment, George W. Montgomery; Asperment circuit E. B. Thompson; Goree, J. E. Short; Haskell, W. B. Vaughan; Jayton, R. R. Gilbreath; Knox City, J. A. Scoggins; McAdoo, J. S. Johnson; Munday circuit, A. G. Hulme; Rochester-O'Brien, J. E. Harrell; Rule, L. B. Smallwood; Seymour, J. M. Fuller; Seymour circuit, J. H. Morris, supply; Spur, A. B. Davidson; Stamford St. John's R. A. Stewart; Stamford circuit, W. J. Knoy; Throckmorton, C. B. Thompson; Vera-Benjamin, Sun A. Billingsley; Weinert, Cecil Fox; Westover circuit, B. H. Terrell; Woodson, O. B. Herring.

Other assignments made by the conference that are of interest to local people are as follows: The Rev. Joe Haymes was advanced and made presiding elder of the Vernon district; the Rev. B. J. Osborn, a former pastor here, was transferred from Wellington to Ralls and the Rev. J. R. Bateman, a former pastor of the Munday circuit, was transferred from Westover to the Quanah circuit, and the Rev. F. R. Picken, for the past three years pastor at Weinert, was transferred to the West Oklahoma conference.

The return of the Rev. R. B. Freeman as pastor of the Methodist church in Munday was pleasing to the members of this congregation, for indeed he is a most capable minister and he and his estimable family have made a large host of friends during the past year, and it will be pleasing to them to have the privilege of working with him for another year.

The congregations composing the Munday circuit will give up the Rev. R. B. Gilbreath and his estimable family with some reluctance, for indeed they have endeared themselves to the people of this community during the two years they have been here, and they will carry with them the best wishes of a large host of friends when they make their departure for Jayton.

Mrs. Lucy B. Garber of 8th Oklahoma district lives in Washington with her Congressman husband—but her heart is back home with her chickens—ranch—on a farm where she sells 100,000 fowls each year. Her shipments of eggs go to N. Y. City.

Army Winner In Golf Tournament On Armistice Day

The army came out victorious in the golf tournament held on the links of the Munday Golf Club on Armistice Day, when D. T. Mauldin, representing the army, defeated Bud Bowden, representing the navy, 4 up and one to go.

In the preliminaries J. M. Macon, as navy entry, was eliminated by Dr. E. M. Ammons; while Bud Bowden eliminated "Sleepy" Easley of the army. L. E. Loveless, representing the navy, was eliminated by D. T. Mauldin, while Dick Atkinson, representing the navy, eliminated Tom Haney of the army representation.

In the semi-finals Bowden eliminated Ammons, while Mauldin eliminated Atkinson, and in the finals Mauldin was the victor over Bowden.

Jake Morris Gets Promotion; Seifert Goes to Quanah Dist.

F. F. Seifert, for the past two years district commercial agent for the West Texas Utilities Company with headquarters in Munday, has been transferred to the Quanah district offices in the same capacity, and has been succeeded in this district by Jake Morris, who recently was transferred to the district offices here from the Haskell office.

This is a recognition of Mr. Morris' ability, coming so shortly after he has become affiliated with the company, and Jake's many friends here are confident that he will make things hum in the commercial division over the district, for indeed he has the "pep" to put over the big things that the company will expect of him.

We are indeed regretful of the fact that the Seiferts are leaving Munday, for they have made many friends during their residence in Munday, and are one source of satisfaction to come to us in losing them is the fact that the change represents a promotion for Mr. Seifert from the company, and we're pleased to know that his services has been such as to result in his promotion in the circles of the company.

Mmes. Ammons and Haney Entertain Members A. D. Sunday School Class

The A. D. Sunday School class of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. E. M. Ammons with Mesdames Ammons and Tom Haney as hostesses. After the business hour we were given fifteen problems to solve by smelling of that many fluids, some of which were rather untrite to the smell. Mrs. Leland Hannah was the best smeller. Then we were given a bright piece of construction paper and a pair of scissors and told to cut out a turkey that we would like to have for Thanksgiving. When they were placed side by side one would think they were more like all the fowls of the barnyard than turkeys.

We were then guided to the spacious dining room, where a delicious salad, nut bread and tea were served to Mmes. Leland Hannah, Elbert Hughes, Chester Bowden, R. T. Land, E. J. Burns, H. A. Oliver, Frank Coxie, Steve Smith, Jim Reeves, R. L. Lair, Jack Cartwright, M. H. Reeves, Tom Haney and E. M. Ammons.

Judge W. S. Bailey had as guests first of the week his uncle, Capt. J. M. Bailey of Austin, Texas. Capt. Bailey, who is 87 years of age, served throughout the Civil war under Generals Price and Taylor, and stopped here enroute to his home at Austin from New York City, where he has been visiting his son. He was accompanied here from Altus, Oklahoma by two nephews, John and Wallace Bailey, who are cousins of Judge W. S. Bailey. Mr. Bailey accompanied his uncle to Abilene on Tuesday morning, where he took the train for his home at Austin.

The Home Demonstration Club will sell dressed hens and cakes on Wednesday, November 23rd at the club room at the city hall. For special orders phone Mrs. Elmer Dickerson, 934 N. 9th. Phone No. 93.

BANKERS ATTEND TRI-COUNTY MEETING

Representatives of the two banks went to Haskell on Armistice Day to attend a meeting of the Haskell-Knox-Baylor Bankers Association, and enjoyed a most enthusiastic meeting, and were tendered a banquet by their hosts. Those who attended the meeting from Munday were E. W. McGlothlin, C. A. Elland, Jack Mayes, P. G. Duval, Harry Williams, P. G. Duval, Fred Warren, Harvey Lee. It is stated that every bank in the three counties but one exception was represented at the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin West came in recently from Rising Star, Texas, and will make their home here. Mr. West is a brother to Mrs. S. A. Bowden, and we are glad to welcome them to Munday.

Miss Eula Crawford of Olney was the guest of Miss Mary Langford the latter part of last week.

Contract Is Awarded For Building Walks At School Building

On Wednesday morning a committee composed of E. Duval, G. R. Elland, Supt. J. E. Rhodes, Mesdames H. F. Barnes, F. N. Warren, J. A. Kennedy and M. Carrol, appointed by the Parent-Teacher association to award the contract for the building of side-walks on the premises of the school grounds, met at the high school building, and after considering all of the bids awarded the contract to Mr. J. M. White of this city.

This work was undertaken some months ago, or at least the task of raising funds for this purpose, by the Parent-Teacher association, and the citizenship responded liberally to the cause, and a committee will call on those who subscribed to this fund within the next few days and request payment—just smile and pay off—for you've never contributed to a more worthy undertaking.

LAKE CREEK SCHOOL TO BEGIN NOVEMBER 21ST

Lake Creek school will begin Monday, November 21. We have been urged by our county superintendent to insist on regular attendance, and our local board requests us to announce that the compulsory law will begin November 21 also.

We are very proud of the new school building and also the teachers. We hope that every patron in the district will be present Monday morning and that we may have their hearty co-operation throughout the school year.

BUD GRAFTING FOUND SUCCESS IN RUBBER

C. B. Seger, president of the United States Rubber Company, authorizes the following statement: Apropos of reports in the newspapers that bud grafting applied to rubber cultivation will greatly increase the yield, we estimate that the ultimate yield on the latest planted areas (planted with budded stock) in our plantations in Sumatra and Malaya, will be 1,000 pounds per acre, which is the average yield of rubber plantations the world over. Our own plantations yielded 441 pounds per acre in 1926.

The large yield on our plantations is due to the application of fertilizers, seed selection, and other scientific methods we have followed since we started operations in the Far East in 1910. It is to these that we look to increase the yield of our acreage to the 1,000 pound mark.

It may come as a surprise to those who have but lately heard of Bud Grafting as a means of increasing the productivity of the rubber tree, and who thought the method startlingly new, to learn that of the 83,000 acres planted by the United States Rubber Plantations more than 70,000 acres are planted with either budded stock or highly selected seed. This area is greater than all the rest of the world together has planted in budded stock, and when it comes into full bearing, will greatly increase the already large yield per acre that the company is obtaining from its 52,000 acres of earlier plantings, now in tanning.

The real problem in budding is to find a strain that will not only run true to its type through succeeding generations of trees, but in other desirable characteristics as well. It takes several generations of trees to be sure that a strain has all the desirable characteristics, including high yield.

Parent-Teacher Ass'n Will Sponsor Drive For Red Cross Funds

Mr. Luther Barnard of St. Louis, Mo., field representative of the American Red Cross, was in Munday this week soliciting co-operation on the annual roll call movement of the Red Cross, and the matter of raising funds for the organization was taken over by the local Parent-Teacher Association, and at a meeting of the association Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Fred S. Broach was selected as chairman of the committee in charge of the drive, and an appeal will be made to local citizens to help in the great work that goes on each year under the direction of the Red Cross.

Mr. Barnard stated that in many rural communities the interest in Red Cross work had become dormant since the war, but pointed out that the Red Cross was constantly reaching out the hand of mercy to stricken communities, and should therefore have the support of the people in times of peace as well as in times of war, and the many disasters in which the Red Cross extended the hand of mercy has taxed the financial capacities of the organization to such an extent they are asking that the American people to renew their allegiance to the Red Cross and assist them in carrying on, and we are sure that the citizenship of this community will respond liberally to the call.

Work Will Start Soon On Building of Highway No. 39

Definite assurance that work would begin in the immediate future on Highway No. 39 was given by the State Highway Commission this week when Judge Oliver W. Lee, representing the Commissioner's Court, E. L. Covey, representing the Goree Chamber of Commerce and C. A. Elland, representing the Munday Chamber of Commerce, went to Austin to appear before the commission seeking appropriations for the preliminary work of building the highway from the Baylor county line to the Haskell county line, and succeeded in procuring $16,000 state aid and $16,000 federal aid, which will be supplemented by $16,000 from this precinct out of the $135,000 bond issue voted some months ago.

In addition to securing the appropriations, as had previously been agreed to by a member of the commission, they were assured that engineers of the Highway Department would begin within the next few weeks on making the survey and other preliminary work.

The $48,000 made available by the action of the Highway Commission in Austin on Monday will be used in grading and drainage structures.

Abilene Christian College Orchestra Here Tuesday Night

J. Sullivan Gibson with his Abilene Christian College orchestra and entertainers, numbering twenty-five people, will appear at the community auditorium here on Tuesday evening next week under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher association, and the program that will be rendered will be well worth the small admission charge that will be made, and the patronage of the citizens of this community is respectfully solicited, and all are assured that the funds will be used in a good cause. There entertainers are real artists, and among them will be Miss Yetta Mitchell, who is head of the expression and public-speaking department of the college.

The P. T. A. feels very fortunate in obtaining these splendid people for an evening's performance, and assure you that if you miss this you will regret it.

DUDLEY U. BAKER GOES TO QUANAH

Dudley U. Baker, for two years manager of the West Texas Utilities Company at this place, goes to Quanah this week to take the management of the company's business at that place. The move means promotion for Mr. Baker, as he goes to a larger field.

Mr. Baker has become so completely one of the business assets to our town that we feel we can hardly give him up. He is progressive and business-like in all his dealings and is well liked by all the people here. His leaving is a matter of regret both to him and to the people. He says Crowell is one of the best towns he has ever lived in.

A. L. Bradley, who has been with the West Texas Utilities Company at Stamford, takes Mr. Baker's place here. He has a family and will move here to become one of our citizens.—Vernon News.

Term Marriages

Judge C. B. Burnett, Los Angeles, says the divorce rate is so great it is time to try five-year term marriages—which could be renewed at the end of that period if both parties were satisfied.

Madge and Mauryse Smith visited in Abilene this past week-end and no doubt they had a good time! Francis Atkinson was also a visitor in Abilene.

Sebern Jones and Earl Pruitt are going in to the boxing business. They have purchased a pair of boxing gloves and are demonstrating the Tunney-Dempsey fight as they saw it on the screen last week.

Everett Pruitt missed the football game Friday and we are sure sorry that he missed such a rare treat. He said he remembered when he ate corn bread and syrup during the war and he was afraid he might not get to eat any more if he attended the game at Knox City on Armistice Day.

Freshmen

We do not believe that we need the Sophomores' advice on how to be a good sport when anyone loses for we are not intending to lose our debate. The time and subject will be stated later. Those to debate out of the Freshmen class are Rex Holder and Hazel Deane Eiland. We handed the following acceptance to the Sophomore class:

"We, the Freshmen class of 1927, do hereby accept the challenge to debate the Sophomore class of said year."

Signed: Elmo Wilson.
Pres. of Freshmen Class.

We believe that the Freshmen took in as much if not more money at the carnival than any other class in school did. The drinks, ice cream and cake booths operated by the freshmen girls cleared approximately twenty dollars.

Freshmen were well represented at Knox City last Friday.

We were all proud of our holiday except Margaret Burns, who had to walk about a mile with the cold wind and sand blowing in her face to take an expression lesson.

The algebra class is having to stay until each one can hand in an excellent paper. We get so nervous we have to chew catches us, we get more nervous than ever.

NOTE—This theme was written by Mavrouen Reeves of the 7 B grade and was selected as the best representative theme written in the grades during the observance of FIRE PREVENTION WEEK, Oct. 9 to 15:

Prevention of Fires
Fire is one of the most destructive things there is. Fires are very dangerous and are often caused by carelessness and not thinking.

Matches should be kept in safe places. If matches are left where a rat or a mouse can get to them they will gnaw on them probably striking some of them. The burning of a house is often caused by this.

Kerosene, gasoline, engine and other things that might cause explosions should be kept from a fire. If clothes are ever cleaned with any kind of gas they should be cleaned in the open.

All rubbish and paper should be burned in a wire incinerator and not be burned in a wooden barrel or box.

Men should be very careful about the smoking and the disposing of cigarettes. Some people let the matches fall carelessly in a pile of paper or rubbish and they sometimes catch fire, causing a house to be burned.

Campers should be very careful about building fires. They should not build a large fire in or near a woods. They should pour water on the fire that is still burning, or put it out some other way.

Children sometimes burn leaves and leave them burning. This has caused many fatal fires. There were some children burning leaves on the edge of a sidewalk in a large city one evening. They had a very delightful time trying to see whose pile would make a largest flame. When they went in the house for the night some of the leaves were still burning. A few dry blades of grass caught fire by a fence. Soon the fence was burning, and the next thing the children knew, one of the houses was on fire. The fire alarm was sounded but the wagon got there too late. The house and all the furniture were burned. Only a few rags and the people were saved. This was caused by someone's carelessness.

There are many fatal accidents on the Fourth of July. The celebration of July this year cost the lives of 195 persons and injuries to ing gum and if Miss Compton 3,179 others. Among those who lost their lives were 31 children under six years of age, and 122 between the age of six and twenty. Forty-eight were burned to death when their clothing caught fire from "harmless" fire works and sparklers. Forty-six deaths were caused by blank cartridges. Sixteen small children died from poison after eating fire works. If the people think and be more careful, many of these cases would not have been fatal. People should be very careful on Christmas and not put lighted candles on an evergreen tree. They should not shoot dangerous fire works.

RICHARD DIX "MAN POWER" HAS AUTO TRACTOR AS HERO

Automobiles, aeroplanes, motorboats and even bicycles have furnished the background for motion picture drama, but until Richard Dix began "Man Power," for Paramount the lumbering caterpillar tractor had never been "glorified" in films. Only an imaginative scenario writer who had been through the war could see possibilities in them. The results will be on view at the Peoples Theatre next Monday and Tuesday.

"Man Power" is not a war picture, although there is a flash of the battlefield to indicate that Richard Dix had been an officer before reaching the lowly state of a box car wanderer or hopefully looking for a job. Glances of Mary Brian, beautiful daughter of the president of the Stoddard Manufacturing Company, starts him on a career as a mechanic.

What he does with a tractor after that is startling. To save the inhabitants of a valley from the menace of a broken dam, Dix pulls supplies through a rain storm over a slippery road, ditches, up mountain sides, across a plateau and into a gulch. Ordinarily, cameramen are not excitable, but Ed Cronjager and the others engaged on "Man Power" admit they would rather photograph rampage. A lion, for instance, can be shot when he gets out of control, but a tractor will shed bullets as well as rain, and anything that gets in its way is doomed.

Dix admits he was glad when it was finished. It was directed by Clarence Badger.

FALL TON-LITTER CONTEST FOR TEXAS FARMERS

Bumper crops are usually disposed of at depressed prices, but Texas farmers have the opportunity of disposing of the largest corn crop that they have raised in the past five years at a comfortable margin of profit. Not only does the corn raise a comfortable margin of profit, but the producers of a grain sorghum crop bearing similar proportions have the same opportunity of substantial profits from this grain crop. The Progressive Farmer considers the opportunity for winter findings of hogs excellent this year, and this publication, through the cooperation of the A. & M. Extension Service, is sponsoring the first ton-litter contest for fall farrowed litters to be held in the United States. "The pet-ter hog feeder of Texas have learned that gains produced quickly from properly balanced rations are the cheapest that can be obtained," states Paul Huey, Field Editor of The Progressive Farmer. Mr. Huey reports that an average of all ports that an average of all completed records on the spring contest show that the cost of production per pound of pork is slightly above 6 cents. When compared with the average cost of pork production on Texas farms, this shows a cost reduction of approximately 50 per cent due to better feeding and management along with improved breeding stock. The present feed crop on hand, if consumed in part by hogs under these ton-litter methods will net the farmer vastly more than if sold as grain or fed to swine in a careless manner," says E. R. Eudaly, Swine Specialist of the A. & M. Extension Service.

This contest is open to all hog owners in Texas and liberal cash premiums are being awarded for highest total weight and highest average weight in the various sized litters by: The Texas Cottonseed Products Manufacturers, The Progressive Farmer, Swift & Company, Armour & Company, Purina Mills, Universal Mills and The Fort Worth Stock Yards Company. This contest, which is conducted in view of stimulating a more widespread adoption of improved methods, has demonstrated during the past few months through contests in fifty-seven Texas counties that by observing the fundamental principles of hog feeding, the average farmer of our state can greatly increase his income from this source.

Indian Teepee To White House

So Will Read History If Curtis of Kansas Wins 1928 G. O. P. Nomination and Election To Presidency

By Albert T. Reid
Washington, D. C.—Senator Charles Curtis, of Kansas, and leader of the United States Senate, is the first of the dark horse regulars to announce his candidacy for the Republican Presidential nomination in 1928.

In the Senator is combined the blood of old New England—the Hubbard and Curtis families of Massachusetts and New Hampshire; the early French settlers and traders—Convilles and Pappans, and an inheritance of Indian royalty, for Senator Curtis is one-eighth Indian—hereditary descendant of two well known Indian Chiefs.

He seems destined by birth for leadership. His great grandmother was princess of the Kaw tribe of Indians, a daughter of White Plume, their Chief. Her grandfather was Chief Pawhuskie of the Osage tribe, which are now perhaps the richest people per capita in the world.

The Senator's mother died when he was three years old, and he was taken back to the Kaw reservation by his grandmother, who directed, as far as possible, his early years and instilled in him an ambition for greater things than riding races at the fairs and gatherings.

Spirit from Reservation.
It was his grandmother who, when the government started the transfer of the Kaw Indians from Kansas to a reservation in the old Indian Territory, persuaded young Curtis of the wisdom of embracing the world of his white people, and after the exodus had begun, helped to spirit him out late at night.

He walked to Topeka—some sixty-five or seventy miles, and from that time his ambition,

Original American In Presidential Race

Senator Charles Curtis, of Kansas, Republican Whip in the Senate, and in whose veins flows the blood of Osage and Kaw Indians, has announced his entry into the race for the Republican Presidential nomination next year. Senator Curtis, as a young boy, was a winning race-course jockey.

his study and his genius for hard work have carried him steadily on and to the place he now occupies as leader of the Senate of the United States—second only to the President in importance.

Young Curtin studied law while driving a hack in Topeka. He was admitted to the bar at 21. After three years of practice he was made county attorney where he served two most successful terms. He then engaged in private practice. His clients came and so did money.

Then in 1892 "Charley" Curtis was nominated for Congress from the fourth district in Kansas.

Out to Ride to Win
Since that time he has spent fifteen years in the House of Representatives at Washington and almost twenty years in the Senate.

He has been a conspicuous figure in both branches and has had a hand in the shaping or passing of every important piece of our legislation in the past quarter of a century.

The Senator is not spectacular. One of the most able parliamentarians in the country, he has labored in a knowing and effective way to accomplish those things he has undertaken. He cares not for the pride of authorship. Results count with him.

That same dogged determination and perseverance made him the successful little jockey whose fame was known as far as civilization then extended in Kansas. They say he rode like "all hell had broke loose."

From an Indian topee on the Western plains to the White House in Washington is about the widest possible stretch in this country. He has already come to within a step of it.

In his acceptance of the offer of the Kansas delegation he says he will not be a stalking horse for any other candidate.

That's Curtis. He means he is out to ride to win.

About Your Health

By John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

It May Be You

Mr. W. W. from far-away Carolina writes, asking what I would suggest for attacks of gas which distress him at times, enough to affect his heart-beat; causes it to "miss" occasionally, and to beat fast or slow, and makes him dizzy—doubtless interferes with breathing, and with his strength as well. He did not give his age, or bodily weight, but he mentioned symptoms that I have met many times, in the course of my thirty-five year's practice.

I do not practice medicine by mail; it's not the dependable way. I have all I ought to do at my office. Therefore I advised this good man, with one thought in mind—safety first.

I told him to take a good-sized dose of "Milk of Magnesia" at bedtime—from a tablespoonful to half a teacupful; I advised him to get the old-fashioned pills of asafoetida, three to five grains each, and take one after meals. Now smile, you! They should be coated well. I told him to have his physician tell him what to eat, and what to avoid.

I have known sweet milk to aggravate these cases. He may be eating too much starch—too much sugar. He may have a lurking kidney disease, with high blood-pressure, or, the latter may be too low. He may have a chronic throat. He may chew too much tobacco—or none at all—I don't know.

But I do know that, spitting out most of his saliva is the surest of ways to get hyperacidity. He may have a peptic ulcer; it is not likely to be an organic heart disease, but the heart will stand just so much of punishment from the digestive tract, and no more.

The best possible friend this man can have at this time is his good, capable family physician, who can get into immediate touch with the enemy. He should let neither politics nor religion deter him from getting help—for these symptoms are good and sufficient warnings of more trouble if neglected.

These are symptoms by no

Velveteen for the jacket, checked wool tweed for the skirt—we can't imagine anything more swagger than this combination for school, business or semi-sports wear. Black velveteen with a black and white check is smart, so is golden-brown velveteen combined with a brown-and-tan check. What we like about it is that you don't always have to wear the jacket and skirt together. For instance, if you have a pleated silk or crepe skirt, a velveteen jacket to match would go very well.

May be obtained in sizes 14 to 40. Size 18 requires 1 1/2 yards of 54 inch material for jacket and 1 yard of 54 inch material for skirt. Patterns will be delivered to any address upon receipt of 25c in cash or U. S. postage. Always mention size wanted. Address Pattern Dept., this newspaper.

WHEN THEY STEAL ENOUGH, WOMEN NOT EXTRAVAGANT. A PROBLEM FOR JUSTICE. TWO ATE SEVEN OR EIGHT.

The theory that you are safe in America if you steal ENOUGH may be shaken by the trial at Washington of gentlemen accused of stealing the Government's oil supply, by bribing the Secretary of the Interior.

After all the talk about "extravagant women" you will be interested in this fact, provided by the United States Department of Labor: Men, on the average, spend more for their clothes than women. The average for husbands is $71.38, for wives, $63.55.

A killing that will puzzle the jury comes from McHenry County in Illinois. The police announce that William Schmaecher, twenty-eight, was innocent of the charge that he had killed his father. Schmaecher told them "You are wrong. I waited for him to come into the barn, pulled the trigger, and the shot almost blew his head off."

His father made him work before and after school when he was nine years old, took him out of school for good when he was twelve, and made him do a man's work. He beat the boy's mother, repeatedly, knocked her onto a hot stove and left her there, drove a pitchfork into the leg of a younger brother so far that the boy could not pull it out without help.

The city of Syracuse spends on footnotes seventeen cents out of every dollar of income—and old-fashioned finance, wagging its head, says "extravagance." Buying new automobiles takes ten and quarter cents, gasoline three and half cents, accessories three cents. And that's the best investment of seventeen cents on the dollar that Syracuse could make.

The Vancouver Sun tells you that one hundred ships are chartered to carry 20,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat from Vancouver to Britain. We, too, should build fast cruisers, for we may some day wake up and have a commercial navy.

A fishing boat had drifted four thousand miles when it was picked up off our northwest coast. White bones on the deck showed that cannibals had feasted on the crew. Two that died, but of all, were saved. The others, seven or eight, had been eaten to prolong the lives of the two. No man can say what he would do under certain circumstances, unless he has been tested under those circumstances.

Friends

A life without friends would be a terrible existence. Money is not essential to happiness. Friends are. Not merely an acquaintance, but a person we like, and to like a person we must trust him. Someone has said that he was glad people did not have to love everyone that they liked. A mother or father might love a wayward son, but they would not like him to the extent of trusting their money or property to him while they lived.

Some want friends, but they are not willing to be friends. To have friends we must be a friend to others. To be a friend calls for sacrificial service. A selfish friend is never a true one, for sometimes that selfish one will sacrifice a friend's rights for his or her own selfish interests. While life is moving along evenly for us, friends do not seem essential. But when we are in distress then we need the comfort of someone we trust. Were you ever ill for a long period of time, or did you ever lose in death someone very dear to you? Then you know the value of true friendship.

During our youth is the time for us to practice the principles of friendship. Unselfish devotion should be first taught in the home, then in the school. After we are out in life "padding our own canoes," it is much more difficult to learn them. Practice them now.

To thine own self be true, and it must follow, as the night the day, then can'st not then be false to any man?"

The High School Carnival

Shakespeare said in his Comedy of Errors, "Small cheer, and great welcome, makes a merry feast," and it was the small cheer and the great welcome among the classes that made the High School Carnival a great success. Although much class rivalry had been "in the air" the week before, little if any was exhibited the night of the carnival. Each class welcomed the other classes and tried to make the evening a very pleasant one.

The "evening" was gay with dinners, dressers, signs and merry voices. There were many different side shows, a boxing match, a stand for hot chocolate and cakes and one for ice cream, candy and popcorn, were peddled out in one corner, amid a bank of lacy pillows, sat a lovely gypsy telling fortunes. The climax of the carnival came with the crowning of the queen. The announcer and two pages were first to enter. Next came the queen's attendants and their escorts. As each lady entered she was announced. The tiny crown bearer came next and she was followed by the queen. The queen wore a beautiful white gown that made her blonde beauty very outstanding. She carried a white and silver staff. Her slippers were silver. Joe Aycock placed the crown on her head and assisted her to the throne.

Immediately following the coronation of the queen a very humorous scene was produced when the boys of the high school took part in a negro womanless wedding.

I wish to thank Mildred Guinn for acting as editor-in-chief for the past few weeks while I was recovering from an operation for appendicitis. Although away from home, I read each issue of the "Roundhouse," and I think that she performed her duties well.

—Oneita Blanton.

The magazine campaign closed last Thursday afternoon. The Junior and Freshmen classes together sold forty-one subscriptions, while the Senior and Sophomore classes sold thirty-two. This gave the school nearly forty dollars for the library and athletic funds.

All of high school was very glad when Mr. Rhodes announced a full holiday for Friday, November 11.

Last Thursday at one o'clock Mr. Stanley made a very interesting talk on "War". He was better prepared to give a talk on the World War than anyone else in the high school for he served in the Navy. In this talk he gave the cause of the war and the general estimate of the lives lost. He told a very exciting and thrilling experience of his, when a German submarine attacked a passenger ship on which he and a number of sailors were going from New York to Rio de Janeiro.

Although it was interesting, that everyone enjoyed it and was sorry that he spoke only thirty or forty minutes instead of an hour or two.

Grayhounds Luck Dat 6-0 Win Over Moguls

There was no Armistice for the valiant Moguls last Friday.

They stepped out and fought one of the hardest fights of the year. Although their loss was a bitter and heart-breaking one, they need no apologies made for their performances on this day. Indeed they have written their names deeply on the honor roll of Mogul gridiron activity. They tackled, they blocked, they plunged and ran with all the fierceness of the true Mogul warriors of old. Theirs was truly a day of glory in spite of defeat and what a lucky victory it was. Even the most rabid Knox City fans will admit that it should have been a scoreless tie. But such breaks will happen even to the best of teams, and we all know that Joe would have almost lost an ear, eye or leg rather than fumbled the ball in that fatal moment, so we are not blaming him, it might have happened to anyone else.

The game began with the Moguls defending the north goal with the wind behind them. Aycock kicked off, Knox City fumbled the ball, and the Moguls recovered it in mid-field. Aycock circled right end for 5 yards, but the first down was not completed and the ball went to the Greyhounds on their own 45-yard line. After failing to gain first down, Knox City punted to the Moguls 30-yard line. An incomplete pass was made from Aycock to White. Aycock failed to make first down around right end and punted to Knox City's 30-yard line. Time out for Knox City. Vasser took Kyle's place. Knox City was penalized 5 yards and punted to their own 35-yard line. An incomplete pass was made from Aycock to White, and after two more plays, Aycock punted to Knox City's 10-yard line. Acker skirted left end for 8 yards and Parks finished the first down on their 20-yard line. Acker punted to Knox City's 45-yard line.

2nd Quarter
The ball was fumbled and the Moguls lost 10 yards. Aycock punted to the 50-yard line. Stocker picked up 3 yards around right end. An incomplete pass was made from Parks to Lee, and Lee punted to the Mogul's 10-yard line. Aycock lost the ball on an end run and Stephens made a touchdown for Knox City, but Knox City failed to kick goal. Knox City kicked off to the Mogul's 40-yard line. After failing to gain first down Aycock punted to Knox City's 45-yard line. A complete pass was made by Knox City which gained to the Mogul's 15-yard line. Knox City failed first down and was penalized 5 yards. Paul Pruitt raced across broken field for a 25-yard gain for the Moguls, putting the ball on their 45-yard line.

Half
Knox City kicked off to the Mogul's 10-yard line. The Moguls failed to make first down and Aycock punted to the Mogul's 35-yard line. A complete pass was made from Lee to Acker which put the ball on the Mogul's 10-yard line. Knox City failed to make first down and punted beyond the goal line. The Moguls got the ball on their own 20-yard line. White lost 10 yards and P. Pruitt gained 1 yard around right end. Aycock punted and Acker ran the ball back to the Mogul's 30-yard line. Knox City attempted a pass but failed. Stocker circled right end for 6 yards and Acker finished first down on the Mogul's 5-yard line. Acker bucked center for 5 yards. Time out for Moguls. A complete pass was made by Knox City but failed to make 1st down, and the Moguls got the ball 7 yards from the touch-down line.

Fourth Quarter
Aycock punted to the Mogul's 30-yard line. Time was called for Elmo Wilson. Lee circled right end for a first down on the Mogul's 20-yard line. Ledbetter and P. Pruitt tackled Knox City for a 10 yard loss. The Mogul's regained the ball on their 30-yard line. Time out for Knox City. Aycock punted to mid-field. White tackled Stocker for a 3 yard loss. An incomplete pass was made from Parker to Lee, and Acker punted. The punter was blocked and the Moguls recovered the ball on Knox City's 20-yard line. The Moguls failed to make first down and the ball went to Knox City on their 20-yard line. The ball was fumbled and Knox City failed to gain. Acker punted to Knox City's 35-yard line. Time out for Knox City. An incomplete pass was made from Aycock to White as the game ended.

Athletic Notes

There was one redeeming feature in last Friday's defeat. That was that the game went off in a clean well ordered way. It was entirely void of the usual squabbling and fussing that attends a Knox City-Munday contest. This is indeed refreshing and we trust that we will continue to get along in this manner. Not that we would take away one bit of the traditional rivalry of the two schools. It is a wholesome custom and tends to make our contests with Knox City more interesting and hard fought than with any other school. But last Friday's contest proves that we can keep it curbed in the proper channels, so let's do it.

Probably the biggest reason that game went off peaceably was that a disinterested referee was working the game. He was fair and impartial and made only one serious mistake and we believe that he was honest in it. This was that he allowed the Greyhounds first string Quarterback to come back in the game after having been taken out of the last half. This offense draws a "half the distance to the goal" penalty and would have placed the ball deep in Knox City territory in Munday's possession early in the fourth period. Of course, it might not have affected the outcome of the game but again it might have. Who knows? The referee admitted his mistake after the game but it was too late then.

A large crowd attended the game from Munday and we believe that they have no regrets for making the trip. Certainly the Moguls played with a style that is becoming to any man's football team. Especially were they effective on the defense. Not one first down could the Greyhounds make through the Mogul line. It was only a few trick forward passes that netted them their gains.

To mention the Mogul stars of the day would be but to call the roll of the whole squad. The line play was visibly strengthened by the presence of two new men, Arch Vassar and Everett McGraw.

Just before the game some Knox City boys pulled an old broken down trailer across the field. Judging from the various signs it was supposed to depict an ambulance containing a Mogul corpse. We imagine that the Greyhound players decided before the game was over that they were playing about the LIVEST corpse in Texas.

Seniors

Say, Juniors, what made you get so patriotic? Listen, folks, the Juniors celebrated Armistice on November 9, by hanging a flag. But to save the Juniors from embarrassment, some one came along and removed the flag. Remember, Junior friends, flags are only hung to celebrate some heroic event.

The Seniors received the biggest thrill of their life last week when we got our class rings. Our rings are very attractive, and if you have not seen them just let us know, for we will be glad to show you our new jewelry.

On last Thursday the Seniors had a mock trial. Mildred Guinn was tried for killing her husband on the night of September the twentieth. Sorry to say, but Mildred Guinn was convicted and sentenced to the electric chair. The date of execution has not been set.

JUNIORS

"Less Quantity but More Quality."

The Juniors were at the game Friday yelling for the Moguls for all they were worth and that was a whole lot too! Their only regret was that the Greyhounds got the big end of the score. This game was one of the cleanest played games of the year and the Knox City Greyhounds showed sportsmanship throughout the game.

HIGH POWERED EDUCATION

By Phebe K. Warner

Is college education so high-powered and so high-priced in this day that it is out of the reach of the common people? By what standards of living are our institutions of higher learning built? The financially poor, the medium or the rich?

Dr. A. P. Rucker, dean of the department of business education and banking at Colorado College, believes that the nation's best brain power lies dormant in the minds of the poor who are unable to attend college. Dr. Rucker has such faith in his conviction that he has obtained leave of absence for one year from his duties in Colorado and will give this year of his life and work free to the Commonwealth College at Mena, Arkansas.

There are not many colleges in the United States like the college at Mena, where the students are required to work 20 hours a week on the college farm and in the laboratories and 20 hours in the class room. In return for their work the students receive their board and room free.

There is something in Dr. Rucker's action that should cause the most of us to stop and THINK a minute. A really high-powered man educationally is giving up his position and his salary in one of the largest state colleges of one of our greatest states to give his service to the education of the poor boys of this country who have no rich dads to force an education on them. He is doing this, he says, because we need students from the poorer class as well as the rich in order to have trained men with different points of view on education.

He believes it is the poor man who can not go to college that actually wishes to progress and develop himself.

Now, somebody (if anybody happens to read this) is going to try to knock this theory into a cocked hat by affirming that our colleges and universities are so democratic that anybody who wants an education can get it.

And right here and now we are going to flatly deny that. Now, let's choose up, take sides, and go on with the argument.

Granting that the affirmative on this question is right and that every young man or young woman who does enter college may find a way to work his way through school, we would like to know why it is that less than ten per cent of all the school children of this nation ever find a way to even get enrolled in a college?

There are at this very hour 25,000,000 school children in this nation everyone of whom is entitled to 11 years of free public school. Everyone is entitled by birth to a free high school education. My, My! What would it mean to the future of our country if every normal child in this group could go through high school? But unless we change our school ways and our school records within the next ten years we will still be a nation of SIXTH grade children going about in adult forms instead of a nation of even high school graduates which our government promises every child born in America.

The very day our fields and factories have hundreds of thousands of children in them who ought to be in some good school. How can these children ever get a university education if they are never given a chance to enter a high school? True, the average man and woman who get far enough along to get into a college stands some chance of getting through some time if they hang on and keep trying and don't take on too many other obligations, and if their home people do not need their support and they keep well, and if their public school work prepared them to do anything by which they may climb the university ladder. But just what per cent of our children are within the reach of a high school? And how many of those who do go through high school know how to read and wri te and spell and figure and work at anything enough to make their way through a college?

All over this land of ours there are boys and girls as bright as new dollars, capable of going to the top in some line of education whose mental resources will never be tapped. Many of them will never be fortunate enough to have one teacher who will see the possibilities of those children and try to open the door of their minds to the possibilities within their mental grasp. Those boys and girls by the thousands and thousands will go through this life limping along wondering why they are dissatisfied and unhappy. And all the time it will be because there is a hungry mind and a hungry, crippled spirit within them.

Nobody ever told them they could do something worth while. Not even their parents because their parents never saw the light of this new day either. They never had any educational hope, therefore they hold out on hope to their children.

Nobody will ever know what this old world has lost and suffered because less than ten per cent of its people have ever been half way educated. Our bodies have all grown up but our minds have remained in the child stage.

We call our country a democracy. And then choose all our educators, all our law makers, all our ministers, all our teachers in every line of school work, and all our scientists and most of our country's leaders from less than ten per cent of all the people because the other nine-tenths of our American men and women have never passed the sixth grade in school. How could they go through the universities when all their mental development was cut off in their early childhood? And children that age are not responsible for their limited educational advantages. The weak place in our educational system not at the TOP. It is at the BOTTOM. Our high-powered education is all right for a few who may reach it. We need them. But what we need most of all in America is a free public school course that will meet the needs of the masses, and prepare our 25,000,000 boys and girls to face the world and climb the ladder of life to any career within their reach. And when this is done we won't have so many unhappy, homeless, hopeless people. But as things are today neither our public schools or our universities are designed to fit the conditions of the masses. As a result the rich man's child can go through the university if he will, while much of our educational taxation goes to waste on empty heads, and idle hands. But the bulk of our American brains has lain dormant throughout the ages because our educational system has yet been made either practical or democratic.

Another picture with quite an appropriate title is scheduled for Miss La Plante soon after, for Universal is planning to make a story entitled "Brides Will Be Brides," with herself in the feminine lead. Mr. Seiter, incidentally, will direct the picture.

"The Love Thrill" is a hilarious farce comedy, with an excellent supporting cast including Tom Moore, Bryant Washburn, Jocelyn Lee, Nat Carr, Arthur Hoyt and others. Millarde Webb directed the picture from an original story by himself and Joseph Mit-
