FSA Loans Are Beneficial to Low Income Families

Austin.—A recent survey of 28,565 low-income farm families in Texas shows these families have increased their average income from $266.54 to $469.46 since receiving Farm Security Administration loans. This report was made Tuesday by John H. Caulfield, FSA Regional Information Adviser, in a state wide radio broadcast.

Loans to families covered in this survey totaled $23,872,913 of which $10,385,276 has been repaid although much of it is not yet due, said Mr. Caulfield, whose discussion made up this week's "U. S. Government Reports" broadcast. He added that except in the worst drought areas the FSA is expected to collect at least 80 per cent of all outstanding loans.

Interviewed by B. Frank White, acting state director for the Office of Government Reports, Mr. Caulfield expressed satisfaction over the showing FSA has made thus far in rehabilitating farmers of the low-income group. He declared, however, that more than 50,000 Texas families are eligible for loans for which funds are not available, and predicted that more of these farmers are headed for city relief rolls and migrant camps unless something is done to keep them on the land.

Weinert Future Farmers Are High In Dairy Contest

Two Weinert Future Farmers ranked among the high ten per cent in individual score in two events each in the Dairy contest at the State Judging Contest held at College Station last week. The two boys were Harlan Weinert and Bernard Cooley.

In the Dairy contest as a whole Harlan and Bernard both placed. Then Harlan placed in the Holstein division and Bernard placed in the Jersey division. Each boy receives a certificate of merit for each event in which he places.

The team as a whole placed 18th with 125 teams competing. The other team member was Philip Cadenhead who had a high score, but was a little below the high ten per cent mark on each of the events.

The Weinert chapter also entered a team in the Soils contest. The members of this team were Pete Young, Graner Jenkins and Leland Drinnon.

Mrs. Eugene Tonn of Haskell visited in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Lee, Wednesday.

The chemistry class of Munday high school visited the Banner ice plant last Friday. The class has been studying the making of ice, but not until Friday did they have a chance to see how it was made.

Mr. Hammett guided them into the storage room, where many 300-pound blocks of clear ice were seen. Some of the students said they had never seen so much ice. They next visited the room where ice is made. There they saw the large cans filled with water. A small pipe was in each can. Air is run through the pipe into the water as it freezes, which causes the ice to freeze clear and pure. If the air fails to keep the water circulating, the ice is milky. Mr. Hammett said the milky ice was just as hard and good as the clear ice.

Next the class was guided into the power room. There they saw a large 85-h.p. engine which furnishes power for all the other smaller motors. There was also a model-A Ford engine which furnished the power to generate electricity for the lights in the plant. The class saw the air and ammonia condensers, the brine circulator, and the cooler.

After seeing "what made the whole thing tick" they visited the meat curing room. This was a large room which was very cold. It was furnished with large shelves on which the meat was placed. After looking around at the meat and listening to Mr. Hammett's explanations, the class was ready to move on. This time they were very surprised, for they were taken to the storage room for the ice cream. This room was smaller than the others had been, and much colder. It was completely filled with an assortment of cream. Mr. Hammett pleased each member by giving him a pint of that good Banner ice cream.

The chemistry class of 1940 enjoyed the visit to the ice plant very much, and each member expressed thanks to Mr. Hammett for his valuable time which was spent showing them about the plant and telling them of the details of its operation.

Moguls Down Exes in Game on Friday Night

In a game which reflected the relative strength of the future Munday Moguls, of 1940, this team defeated the ex-Moguls last Friday night 19-0.

Both teams fought hard during the entire four quarters, with the Moguls seemingly outplaying their opponents who had fought their last gridiron battle for Munday high school. It was not until the first quarter ended that the Moguls were able to push over their first touchdown. The last counter came just seconds before the game ended.

Both teams played a rather ragged game at first, but the Moguls seemed to gain strength and confidence as the play progressed. Red Stevens turned in a whale of a game at end, while Yancy was outstanding in the backfield for the Moguls.

Though showing up ragged for this game Coach Cooper's charges will be a strong bid for highest honors in the district next season. The game Friday night ended their 30 days of spring training.

"What a Man Does For Himself Dies With Him— What He Does For His Community Lives On and On"—

GUARD AGAINST FIRES LIKE THIS

By Captain Chas. F. Lindsay
Texas Safety Council

It didn't happen in Texas—but it could have. A few days ago in Natchez, Miss., a firetrap caught on fire and cremated some 200 negroes, gathered there for a good time. There was but one exit to the plank building, which had a corrugated roof. That exit was a narrow doorway, through which not more than two or three could pass at a time. The fire started near the doorway and the poor negroes were trapped and died a horrible death. Who knows how many such flimsy buildings, with improper exits, are in Texas? There are many. They are frequented in some places by whites and in other places by blacks. In every case human life is seriously endangered.

Most cities in Texas have ordinances regulating these things. The State has a fire escape law. Would it not be well for all our towns and cities immediately to check the situation as concerns such buildings as these? We do not want 200 Texans, regardless of color, to become a human pyre, when it can so easily be prevented.

Places where masses of people congregate for amusement, lodge meetings, or whatever it may be, should be in a special way and if they are fire hazards they ought to be closed to the public, until such time as the ordinary rules of safety are respected. Not all the accidents, not all the fatalities occur in the streets and highways as the result of automobile accidents. These are the ones brought to public notice—but accidents in the home, accidents such as that in Natchez, and many others, require more careful education as a matter of prevention. Let's not allow such a holocaust as that in Natchez to visit Texas.

THE GREAT POO BAH

The great men who sat down together and conceived the Constitution of the United States had a considerable distrust for foreign methods of doing things. They distrusted despotism, tyranny, and arbitrary authority. They showed their attitude again and again in the simple forthright phrasing of the Constitution itself. There is no passage that shows their attitude better than the simple phrase which reads: "No title of nobility shall be granted in the United States."

Americans, as a result, are accustomed to living under a system of representative democracy, wherein individual rights are respected and freedoms are zealously guarded. Sometimes lately, however, there have been those in Washington who appeared contemptuous of these beliefs.

Take the National Labor Relations Board, for example. The evidence continues to pile up that this board considers itself an exception to most traditional American rules; that it fancies itself in the role usually assigned to foreign despots. Like the official of the well-known Gilbert and Sullivan musical comedy, "The Mikado," it plays many roles, Judge, jury, Attorney, and even Executioner. And that same official, Poo Bah by name, even came to invent the final title for himself—"Lord High Everything Else"—and the more one watches the actions of the board the more it seems to be reaching out for that job, too.

Americans are not accustomed to an attitude like this on the part of government officials. And if the Wagner Board ever pauses to ask itself why public opinion is so strongly against its arbitrary actions, it is sure to find its answer in the fact that it has chosen to govern by caprice and with a sense of its own dictatorial power, rather than heeding the ideals formulated by a great French philosopher in the following stirring words:

"A free people obeys, but does not serve; it has leaders, but not masters; it obeys the laws but only so laws . . . in brief, liberty always follows the fate of laws, she rules and perishes with them."

TO REGULATE THE REGULATORS

(From the New York World-Telegram) Coming soon for Congressional showdown is a measure as fundamental as any in our time. Fundamental, because it deals with the basic proposition of whether ours shall be a government by law or by men.

The problem, though settled in the earlier and simpler days of our democracy, has grown as the complexities of modern life have grown. It is the problem of bureaucracy—of power delegated by law-making to boards and commissions—of the trend inherent in bureaucracy toward seizure of more and more power—toward combining within the bureaucratic function the authority of prosecutor, jury and judge—and thereby toward breaking down the vital concept of checks and balances upon which our system was founded.

The measure would set up a method of review that would slow down the racing engine that is bureaucracy. It is the Logan-Walter bill . . .

The pressure for expansion of bureaucratic power is nothing new and nothing unusual. It reflects a perfectly human impulse. The tendency will never restrain itself. It must be checked by that body which the original responsibility for law-making is reposed. That body is Congress. And that is why the Logan-Walter bill, with an airing of the whole great subject, is so important.

BE THANKFUL

While the rest of the world is depressed by wars and the misery they entail, it is interesting to know that two great fairs for education and amusement will again open shortly in New York and San Francisco.

What a contrast to the death, destruction, and debt that face warring nations. At the fairs in California and New York will be presented a record of industrial and intellectual achievement for the betterment of humanity.

This nation should feel most thankful that it can devote itself to such constructive undertakings. Our record of progress as shown in these two great fairs should be an object lesson to our citizens to stand firmly for policies which recognize the superiority of intelligence over brute force in securing lasting settlements of disputed questions.

Let us hope that as our people visit these interesting expositions on the two sides of our continent, they will think of the important principles they represent beyond the mere giving of pleasure. Be thankful you can travel in America as a free citizen and enjoy the privileges it has to offer.

TIMES CHANGE

Times do change. Witness the truly magnificent spectacle of thousands of merchants in virtually every county of the nation striving to dispose of the South's surplus cotton! This is the kind of Union that Abraham Lincoln visualized over half a century ago amidst the bitterness of the bloodiest civil war in history.

Cotton is the life of the South. Cotton is bread and butter to millions of people, both in the South and other sections of the country. A glutted cotton market imperils the welfare of these millions. Cotton exports are at dismal lows. The solution of the cotton problem must be found, in part at least, at home. This in a nutshell, is the impelling motive behind the cotton "campaign."

Every resource of modern distribution is being called into action. During the week from May 17th through May 25th, shoppers will see store fronts and showcases banked with cotton products and appealing posters mutually reminding them that by purchasing cotton goods articles they will be helping their neighbors "down South." The promotional campaign in behalf of "King Cotton" is far more than merely another sales promotion stunt. It is indicative of a new era, an era in which organized cooperation between producers and retailers promises to reign supreme, the kind of cooperation that benefits consumers. Efficiency, and service, at minimum cost, are its bywords.

Yes, there is far more than appears to the eye in the promotion of cotton week. It is a powerful example of Lincoln's "more perfect union."

MOTORISTS' DECALOGUE

An exchange prints the following Ten Commandments for motorists, which we think worth passing along to our readers:

Thou shalt have one driver, and that one a good one, at the wheel.

Thou shalt not make false traffic signals, false laws nor serve them, but shalt obey all traffic signals and the law. Stop, look and listen.

Thou shalt not study the law in vain, for thou shalt not be held guiltyless of thou art ignorant of the law.

Remember every day to drive carefully. Be courteous to all sons, daughters, servants, animals and strangers, that every day may be free from accidents.

Honor thy fellow motorist that thy days may be long upon the highways which the state giveth thee.

Thou shalt not injure, kill, be unjust or inconsiderate.

Thou shalt not muddle thy brain with intoxicants, sleep, carelessness or any other enemy that hinders thy alertness.

Thou shalt not steal thy fellow motorists' part of the road.

Thou shalt not bear down upon thy fellow motorist or pedestrian unawares, nor blind him with glaring lights.

Thou shalt not covet thy fellow motorists' place or anything that belongs to him. Safety first takes no chances on sorrow. Mind your own business for conscience's sake, and above all, be courteous.

BUT LOOK BEHIND YOU!

THEY SAY!

Edgar M. Queeny, president Monsanto Chemical Company: "In the chemical industry over $10,000 has been invested in land, buildings, machinery, raw materials and other assets for every person employed. Without that investment there would be no jobs in the chemical industry as we know it today. Without a similar average investment of $7,000 per employee in all industry there would be no industry at all, and we would be back at our spinning wheels and axes."

Lammot du Pont, president, E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co.: "Can it be that the repeated attacks by educators and others on so-called 'classical' or 'orthodox' economics is chiefly to cover up looseness of thinking and ignorance of the subject, or to disguise radical and revolutionary teachings which have no relation whatever to sound economic?"

Charles F. Kettering, vice-president General Motors Corporation: "Our problem now is to supply more low labor-creating industries through industrial research."

ONE-VARIETY 'GOES TO TOWN'

Farmers are 'going to town' with the one-variety cotton movement as the acreage in the cotton-producing states increased from 291,000 acres in 1931 to nearly 3,000,000 in 1939.

In 1931 about 90 per cent of the cotton planted in one-variety communities was located in the irrigated valleys of California, Arizona, and New Mexico.

Texas led the parade in 1939 with 415 of the 1,486 one-variety communities and almost a third of the total acreage.

In 1938 USDA marketing specialists selected 3,854 bales of cotton from one-variety communities in an expert demonstration program to show foreign spinners that America was re-entering the quality cotton field.

Last year, 12,562 bales were selected from five one-variety areas of which more than 5,000 came from the Victoria section.

The big development in Texas during 1940, according to M. C. Jaynes, specialist in cotton work with the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, will be the establishment of a number of central marketing points where even-running lots of cotton from one-variety communities will be offered to buyers.

Gems Of Thought

Correcting Mistakes
I shall try to correct errors when shown to be errors, and I shall adopt new views so fast as they shall appear to be true views.—Abraham Lincoln.

None are too wise to be mistaken, but few are so wisely just as to acknowledge and correct their mistakes, and especially the mistakes of prejudice.—Borrow.

One should watch to know what his errors are; and if this watching destroys his peace in error, should one watch against such a result? He should not.—Mary Baker Eddy.

You will find it less easy to uproot faults than to choke them by gaining virtues.—Anon.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

The State of Texas
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Knox county—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Fannie R. Noble and Charles Noble by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Knox County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Benjamin, Texas, on the First Monday in June A.D. 1940, the same being the 3rd day of June A.D. 1940, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 13th day of October A.D. 1939, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 4049, wherein E. A. Hutchens is Plaintiff, and Mrs. Fannie R. Noble, Charles Noble, O. M. Harper, K. A. Harper and Fannie Mae Jordan, a feme sole, are Defendants, and a brief statement of plaintiffs cause of action, being as follows:

Plaintiff alleges that on the 24th day of September, A.D. 1934, the defendant, Fannie R. Noble, whose name was at said time Fannie R. Harper, executed and delivered to the defendant, O. M. Harper, her certain Vendor Lien note for the principal sum of Two Hundred Fifty ($250.00) Dollars, due November 1, 1935, bearing interest from date at the rate of 8 per cent per annum and that said note was given to said O. M. Harper as a part of the purchase money for all of his interest in the following described land situated in Knox County, to wit:

Being all of the undivided interest of O. M. Harper in and to 160 acres of land and being what is known as Subdivision No. 10 of the original Survey No. 5, Certificate No. 11, Abstract No. 25, David G. Burnett lands in said county:

That on the 30th day of April, 1935, the defendant, Fannie R. Noble, whose name was at said time Fannie R. Harper, executed and delivered to the defendant, K. A. Harper, her two certain Vendor Lien notes, each for the principal sum of Two Hundred Fifty ($250) Dollars, one being due on November 1, 1936, and one November 1, 1937, bearing interest from date at the rate of 10 per cent per annum and that said notes were given to said K. A. Harper as part of the purchase price of all of his interest in and to the tract of land above described. Plaintiff alleges that he is now the legal and equitable owner of said notes; that said O. M. Harper and K. A. Harper have guaranteed the payment of same and that he by virtue of said notes has a valid Vendors Lien against the interests of said O. M. Harper and K. A. Harper in the above described land. That the defendant, Charles Noble, is the husband of Fannie R. Noble, and the defendant, Fannie Mae Jordan, a feme sole, is claiming some kind of interest in said land which is inferior to the interest of the plaintiff and the plaintiff seeks a judgment for the amount of his debt and a foreclosure of the Vendor Lien as against all of the defendants against the interest of O. M. Harper and K. A. Harper in said land.

Herein fail not but have before said Court, at its next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Benjamin, Texas, on this 23rd day of April A.D. 1940.

LEE COFFMAN, Clerk,
District Court Knox County, Texas. 44-4tc

License Tags For 1940 Have Been Ordered

Austin, Texas—The State Highway Commission announced today that the order for 1941 license plates has been placed with the State Prison System which manufactures the plates according to specifications prepared by the Highway Department.

Passenger car plates will be black with numerals of gold. Truck and other series of plates will be the reverse, gold with numerals of black. These color combinations were selected because of high visibility and proven durability.

The manufacture and distribution of three and a half million plates is a job of considerable magnitude, requiring careful preparation and constant inspection.

Local Anglers Go To Favorite Spot on San Saba

As various Munday fishermen began making plans for the opening of the fishing season, a local group left for their favorite fishing spot on the San Saba river, near Fort McKavett.

Leland Hannah and Dick Atkeison, who have been making an annual pilgrimage to this spot for many seasons, left Tuesday with their fishing and camping supplies. Included in the supplies was Jess Gardley, their negro cook. They were joined in Haskell by Henry Atkeison.

Others who were unable to leave Tuesday are to join these boys on the banks of the San Saba some time Saturday night. They are John C. Spann, J. L. Stodghill and W. H. Atkeison. These week end fishermen plan to return home Monday night, leaving the others there for a day or two of "teasing" the finny tribe.

Ideal for Southern wear is this dinner dress of white birdseye pique worn by Gretchen Thomson, a favorite in New Orleans social circles. Weekly Health Letter!

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, M.D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin, Texas.—America's public health forces in the campaign against syphilis and gonorrhea are at present concerned with the legion of opportunists who see in the campaign against these diseases a chance to cash in on the misfortune of others.

Stressing the importance of correct information about the venereal diseases and how they spread, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said that "not until every thinking man and woman knows the simple facts about syphilis and gonorrhea, how to avoid them, and what to do if infected, can permanent gains be realized against them."

Doctor Cox stated that some health profiteers were taking advantage of public interest in venereal disease control, and that exploitation of the unwary by patent nostrum manufacturers and other unscrupulous opportunists was unfortunately too common.

"These individuals are seriously hampering efforts of physicians,

Gene Harrell and Mary Purkhiser Marry Wednesday in Oklahoma City

health officers, and educators in their attempts to conquer venereal disease," he said. "Until they are eliminated through not-patronage by victims of these maladies plus adequate law enforcement, they will continue to exact their heavy toll of human life and happiness. Such unscrupulous individuals remain one of the barriers to control of the venereal diseases through recognized channels of medical care."

Doctor Cox stressed the fact that if persons infected with the venereal diseases would go to doctors, clinics or hospitals, they could be cured with a very high percentage of cases and in all cases could be rendered non-infectious to others. The best protection against spread of unscrupulous fly-by-night opportunists in the field of venereal disease treatment is widespread education of the people, who through ignorance and gullibility, make up their customers.

Calling attention to the state-wide observance of Social Hygiene Day in Texas on February 1, Doctor Cox said that the object of the event, sponsored by the American Social Hygiene Association in collaboration with state and local health departments and other organizations throughout America, was to increase "our common fund of knowledge" about syphilis and gonorrhea and the program directed toward their extermination.

Many cities and towns in Texas are scheduling observances of Social Hygiene Day, at lectures, exhibits, meetings, and displays, for as wide dissemination as possible of information on the control of the venereal diseases, and long-range planning for the future.

Munday's Band Wins Third Place In Band Contest

The Munday high school band was given a signal honor last week when this organization was awarded third place in its class in the band contest held in Abilene. Munday was classed as a "Class C" band, and won this place in both playing and marching.

Possibly the youngest band in this section, the Munday high school organization is rapidly growing into a very capable and colorful band. New uniforms recently purchased for band members have added much to the appearance of the band.

Of course, a whole book could be filled with jokes about darkies. Here are some of the time-honored jests:

A negro, facing a court martial for fleeing in the face of the foe, was asked, "Were you running?" He replied, "Naw, suh, but I passed several what wus."

There was a darkey who got scared and galloped down a path until he started a rabbit that dashed along ahead of him and the negro said, "Git outta de way, Mr. Rabbit, an' let somebody run what kin."

An old colored man, who had ridden into town, left his mule in front of the store and a mischievous white man squirted some 'high-life' on the animal, which dashed down the road. The negro came out and said, "White folks, how much ob dat medicine did you put on dat critter?" The man answered, "Oh, about five cents worth." The old fellow said, "Well, squirt a dime's worth on me 'case I've got to ketch dat mule."

A new parson had just announced the text for his first sermon when a ripe tomato hit him in the face. He wiped the pulp and juice away and announced, "Bred'ren an' sistern, fer de next thirty minutes, I've gwine to preach a powerful sermon an' den youse gwine to see de blankety-blankest fight youse ever seed."

Several members of the congregation were hurt in a stampede that resulted when, in the midst of a funeral sermon, the "corpse" rose up in the casket. At an investigation, the justice of peace insisted that one of the "sisters" tell exactly what the parson had said. "Well," she replied, "as he ran by me, he say, 'D - - an archytect that would build a church

Facts about folks: V. D. Ringwald, Alice publisher, while a telegraph operator in Eastland, bought a book, "How to Be a Newspaperman," sat up half the night reading it and the next day there was a mob surging around the jail looking for a prisoner, so Ringwald sent "queries" to the big papers and sold the story for 50 times what he had paid for the book. Frank Grimes, editor of the Abilene Reporter, writes poetry—and it's good enough that it has been included in several anthologies. Moran Dunlap, Meridian Tribune editor, one of the first to start publishing "I Give You Texas," has been nominated for postmaster. Miss Eliza Gilliland, publisher of the Baird Star, which also publishes "I Give You Texas," has been reappointed postmistress. Her father founded the Star, edited it for more than 50 years, and the "imposing" stone on which the paper was made up for half a century marks his grave. Ralph Yarbrough, now rounding out his second term as district judge at Austin, will not be a candidate for re-election but will return to the private practice of law. Yarbrough two years ago made a strong race for Attorney General. Adventure Magazine for May had a Texas flavor, with articles by C. L. Douglas of the Fort Worth Press, and Mody C. Boatright of the State University. A. S. Shoaf of the Wood County Democrat reminds me that the North and East Texas Press Association meets in LaFkin, May

Jack Hawkins in the Greenback Journal remarks:

"The Journal does not claim to be a truthful newspaper about everything. We will say Mrs. So and So's baby is beautiful even if it's ugly. We will say the deceased was a good man even though we might not think he was so good. But with all our little white lies, this paper can tell the truth, too. If you want the truth about the awful political situation in Texas today, read this column. One hundred dollars to anyone who proves what we say is not the truth. One dollar to anyone who proves that we don't have one hundred dollars."

A colored "santy" when asked how she raised all 12 of her children replied, "I raised 'em wid a shingle, and I raised 'em often."

A negro, after an airplane ride, stepped on to the ground and said, "Mr. Aviator, thank you for both dem rides—my fast and and my last one."

When asked if he preferred white or black chickens, Rastus answered, "Both has dere advantages; de white ones is easier to see on de roost but de black ones is easier to hide."

A darkey was trying to find out from his son whether he had gotten married. The son was using a lot of big words in an effort to evade but the older man broke in with "I ain't askin' you is you aint; I've askin' you aint you no?"

FIREBOYS PRACTICE WATER POLO GAMES

Members of the Munday Volunteer Fire Department have been practicing on games of water polo during the late afternoons of the past two weeks. The games have been on the street north of the city hall, and in front of Goins hardware.

Water polo games will be played here during the firemen's convention next Tuesday, and the public is invited to see the contests.

Weinert Boys Feeding Calves For Show Ring

With eight calves on feed and two more bought, indications are that the Weinert Future Farmers are going to have some nice calves to lead into the show rings of West Texas this fall and next spring.

As evidence that these boys have a keen insight as to the part the breeder plays in a winning animal, they have looked over many herds of cattle throughout this section in "picking" their calves. When it comes to feeding calves for the show ring they are firm believers in the old adage, "You can't make a race horse out of a jackass."

Their feeding program this year is not restricted to one breed, but instead they have calves belonging to all three of the major beef breeds: Hereford, Aberdeen-Angus, and Shorthorn.

The following is a list of the boys and the number of calves they have: R. C. Gordy, 3; Philip Cadenhead 2 on feed and another bought; Bernard Cooley 1, Jim Perrin 1, and Billy Joe Cooley 1. Boyd Yandell has bought one and has not brought it home yet.

There will probably be other boys who will buy calves later. In fact, Granger Jenkins, Jimmy Anderson and Phillip Cadenhead are now looking for calves to buy.

Mrs. Grady Roberts visited relatives in Haskell on Tuesday night and Wednesday.

REUNION HELD SUNDAY IN J. F. COOPER HOME

A sort of family reunion was held last Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Cooper of Weinert.

Children present were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cooper of Munday, Thurman Cooper of Sunray, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Sollock of Rule. Mr. Cooper's mother, Mrs. G. W. Cooper of Wichita Falls, was also present.

Even in relatively prosperous times the less productive half of the farms in the United States produces only about a tenth of the marketed crops," said M. L. Wilson, director of the Federal Extension Service, in a speech before the American Farm Economic Association.

Father Flanagan's 'Boys Town' in Nebraska is making extensive plans for increasing its 4-H program during the year. In 1939 the boys had a successful baby beef calf club, and now plans include the extension of crafts, garden, forestry, and swine clubs.

Willard Bauman and Paul Stengel, who are attending Texas Tech at Lubbock, spent last Tuesday night and Wednesday here with home folks. They returned Wednesday night in order to be there for Thursday's classes.

Mother: "What makes you think our boy is going to be a successful politician?"

Father: "He says more things that sound well and mean nothing than any person I ever heard."

Mothers Day May 12th

Our Tribute To Your Mother

We can think of no holiday more in keeping with the American Tradition than Mother's Day. It has ever been "American" to honor the great heroes of our land—is it not fitting, then, that we should set aside a day in honor of our greatest heroine, the American mother? But Mother's Day takes on added importance when we stop to think how personal this holiday is. All American mothers of course we honor, to our own Mother we pay special tribute. And what can we compare with that inner joy that comes with giving good gifts to those we love. Remember your Mother!

Senior Report

We are very sorry that the Tom Tom has been missing from the paper for the last two weeks. Because of holidays, accidents, and what-have-yous, we find that we are going to have to work fast to make up for lost time.

The seniors are trying to get more money to enable them to go on their trip. We are thinking of going to Craterville Park, located in Oklahoma.

We are very happy to announce that the valedictorian of the senior class of 1940 is Mozelle Trammell and the salutatorian is Jane Stodghill. These two girls have worked hard and are very deserving of these honors.

In order to get biographies of all the seniors in the paper, we will have to publish three or four a week.

ON WITH THE SENIORS

Emogene Nelson, one of the faintest and liveliest members of the senior class, was born in Crosbyton, Texas, April 23, 1923. After living there six years, she moved to Munday in the fall of 1929. She has lived here since that time.

Emogene started her school career at Munday when she was six years old. Never failing in her grades, she has been with this senior class through all of the school years.

Since she has been in high school Emogene has been a member of the Home Economics Club three years. Her favorites are:

Subject: Secretarial training. Teacher: Mr. Cobb and Miss Couch. Song: When You Wish Upon A Star. Color: Blue. Flower: Gardenias. Hobby: Kodaking. Sport: Football.

Emogene tells me that she would like to enter Hardin-Simmons University this fall and is undecided just what she is to major in.

ON WITH THE SENIORS

Colleen McCarty was born at Knox City on February 29, 1924. We feel honored on having Colleen in our class as it isn't very often in our class as it isn't very often days on leap year. By the way, she had a birthday this year. Colleen lived at Knox City for about a year and a half, then moved to Munday and has lived here since. She started to school at the age of 5 years and has never failed in her grades.

While in the sixth grade Colleen's Texas History Workbook was entered into a statewide contest, and she won first place, receiving a prize of $25.00.

Colleen has been a member of high school chorus while in high school. She is now a member of the band.

Her favorites are as follows: Subject: Secretarial training. Teacher: All. Color: Blue. Song: What's the Matter With Sport: Tennis. Hobby: Collecting snapshots. Flower: Rose. Colleen plans to attend college next year, and would like to major in Homemaking.

ON WITH THE SENIORS

Another of our seniors—one who has spent most of his life moving—is D. P. Morgan.

D. P. was born on July 1, 1925, at Seymour, Texas. After spending the first three years of his life there, he moved to Afton. There he started to school. When he was in the third grade, he moved to Dickens. He lived there for five years. The next place found him in Cottonwood. After one year there he moved to Red Springs. D. P. has lived in several other places, but it was during his seventh year of school that he moved to Munday from Seymour. He has been a member of our class since that time.

D. P. has played tennis, basketball, football, and is now a member of the band. He was also a character in the senior play. His favorites are: Subject: Business law. Teacher: All. Song: Tuxedo Junction. Colors: Green and White. Sport: Football. Weakness: Blondes. D. P. plans to attend Commerce at East Texas State Teachers College and would like to major in Business Administration.

Junior Class Report

The Junior class is eagerly awaiting the coming of Friday night. At this time our annual Junior-Senior banquet will take place. We are following the old Southern style in putting it on.

In English III we are studying grammar. Most of us find this to be easier than American Literature. The chemistry class visited the Banner ice plant Friday, April 26. Everyone enjoyed this trip and found it to be very interesting.

In history we are studying the presidential elections from 1896 to 1932.

Most of us are studying harder at the present because we want to make these last three weeks of study count.

"Good books are to the young mind what the warming sun and refreshing rains of Spring are to the seeds that have lain dormant during the frost of Winter."

Dr. Bass was admonishing some children who had hieroglyphed his fresh cement pavement. "But," Mrs. Bass reminded, "you have always said you loved children."

"Yes, I do like children in the abstract, but not in the concrete."

Sophomore Report

Spring fever has taken its toll in the sophomore class, so we decided the best cure would be a picnic.

The city park was the distinguished place, and our time was well occupied by games. We played "Two Deep" and "Flying Dutchman," the rest of the evening being spent in eating and snipe hunting. Jimmie and Ben haven't quite got it clear in their heads just what it is all about.

The most startling events of the evening were:

Bobbie and Raymond, playing "Thunder."

William and the food, the uninvited guests, and their fate.

Our new crooner—Jiggs.

Our new game of golf.

The skating rink has not taken any lives this past week but don't be surprised to see Juracy and Mary Lou in bandages any time. It's getting pretty terrible when had 24, which was the highest number previously recorded, but this year is going to be around 40, which is quite an increase. Perfect attendance awards will be made on the night of the 7th grade exercises.

Picnics and various kinds of parties will be the style for the next few days because this weather is calling for outdoor entertainment. The 7th grade will have their annual picnic soon and 6b will too, since they won the P-T.A. membership drive last fall and chose a picnic this spring as a prize.

All politics must be removed from the Railroad Commission to insure efficient administration of the utility and common carrier trucking regulations as the basic step for the proper conservation of this states vast natural resources, Senator Olan R. Van Zandt, candidate for Railroad Commission, charged in opening his campaign recently. The Senator's statement reads in part as follows: "Should the great powers vested in the commissioners be diverted from commercial channels into political channels, then the danger must be fully realized by the people. By all means, in so far as possible, the commission should be eliminated from politics. As a business institution, its beneficial work must be keenly felt by every material interest in the state. As a political machine, every revolution of it would menace the happiness of the people."

Malouf Tells Lions of Recent Trip to Syria

A. J. Malouf, well known merchant of Knox City, was a guest of the Munday Lions Club last Wednesday, and made the club an interesting talk on his recent trip to Syria.

Malouf said his first visit was to the Cedars of Lebanon, where most of the cedar was secured for construction of King Solomon's temple. He told of the huge stones which were used in the temple and how it was supposed these stones were set in place and adjusted.

Most interesting was his detailed account of his visit to Nazareth and Jerusalem, where he visited the birthplace of Christ, the place of His crucifixion, His tomb, Jacob's Well and other interesting places of Bible history. He held the attention of each club member with these interesting descriptions, and of the silk industry in Syria.

During his talk, Malouf stated that Americans are living in the greatest country in the world and that Americans did not justly appreciate this country with its democratic form of government, liberties, etc. He concluded his talk by stating that European powers were extremely jealous of America and were looking forward to her downfall, and stated every American citizen should guard against the spread of Communism and other "isms" that are being spread in our country in an effort to bring about the destruction of our form of government.

Mrs. E. M. Roberts, Jr. and son, Edwin, left Thursday for Amarillo, where they joined Dr. Roberts, and will make their home there.

H. T. Sullivan, of the Weinert school faculty, was a business visitor in the city Wednesday afternoon.

RIGHT OUT OF THE AIR

By EARLE FERRIS

AUDREY MARSH, contralto, one of the vocal stars on the Wednesday night "Johnny Presents" program heard over the NBC-Blue network is 1940's "Cinderella Girl." She was singing in Ray Block's chorus on the program when producers gave her a chance as soloist.

Chicago network circles have been found by movie talent scouts to be rich in prospective film talent. Latest to win Hollywood attention is Sunda Love, star of "Stepmother," who soon flies to the west coast for a brief visit and screen test.

Rumor has it that Ted Straeter's new contract to make Columbia phonograph records came as the direct result of the president of the company's dancing to his music. The Kate Smith choral director leads a band at one of New York's smart supper clubs patronized by Columbia's William Paley. Ted's shown here.

Kay Kyser will feel right at home when he starts his second movie as a follow-up to "That's Right, You're Wrong." He'll have the same director, David Butler, and many of the supporting players seen with him in the first picture.

Although he's now heard from Chicago with his "Scrap Book" program, Tony Wons will probably alternate between the Windy City and New York when he starts his coast-to-coast assignment in the fall.

Fred Howard, the songsmith, says our taxes have a sheer the wealth program!

If Mary Livingstone hadn't got tired of doing nothing when traveling with Jack Benny soon after their marriage, she might never have turned professional. She began memorizing the lines of his stogie to kill time and, one day when the young lady hired for the role was sick, Mary, shown here, took over the job with such success that she became a permanent part of the act.

Peter Van Steeden, the maestro, has an unusually large listening audience on the radio. His music is heard both by Fred Allen and George Jessel. Add the two audiences' ratings and Pete will be "way up there."

Ezra Stone, star of radio's "Aldrich Family," and the youngest stage director on Broadway, has been named "the typical American boy" by the Boy Scouts of America in Baltimore. On a recent trip there, Stone, shown here, was presented with a bronze statuette commemorating the occasion.

Benjamin Loses To Rhineland in Game Sunday

In a game limited to seven innings by agreement, the Rhineland Red Raiders maintained a perfect standing with an easy 9 to 0 win over Benjamin last Sunday at Rhineland.

Accorded brilliant support by his mates, Lefty Decker yielded only two safeties, while Rhineland, hitting almost at will, gathered 11 hits of the offerings of Bivins, Benjamin's pitcher. Lou Kuehler, Montgomery and Decker led the attack with two hits each.

The raiders are confident of easy prey as victim number four of their potent attack will be Monday, whom they meet next Sunday at Munday.

Bass Jumped to its Doom

Dr. B. B. Harris, of Denton, Texas, is still relating, in some what a disgruntled manner, a fishing experience of last season. He couldn't get a strike on any bait he attempted to tempt the bass with, but came home carrying a 5 1/2 pound member of the finny tribe.

Dr. Harris was casting late one afternoon on an East Texas lake. His fishing partner was rowing him around the lake and both the anglers got more disgusted as the afternoon progressed with the bass refusing all lures. Suddenly Dr. Harris heard a yell in the back of the boat and looked back to see his fishing mate battling to subdue a huge bass. The big 'un was finally brought under control. It measured 23 inches.

A mighty poor way to catch bass—Dr. Harris concludes.

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS

Make Mountain Sheep Survey

Austin, Texas.—Preparatory to setting up a refuge for the big-horn mountain sheep, generally considered a vanishing species, but one which the Texas Game Department hopes to bring back, the Department will inaugurate a survey of the mountainous areas of West Texas immediately, it is announced by the executive secretary of the Department. It will be a Pittman-Roberston fund project.

Before it will be possible for the Game Department to obtain the area best suited to the raising of big-horn sheep, it will be necessary to know which sections of land in the Trans-Pecos are most desirable, to gather additional information on the breeding habits of the wary animals; to study the effects of predators such as eagles, bobcats, mountain lions, and coyotes; to observe the movements of the sheep by day in an effort to obtain information on the types of habitats used by sheep; to study the ecology of the region to determine what habitat improvements may be necessary and to study the diseases which afflict the big-horn.

Most of the work will be carried on in the Beach, Sierra and Diablo Mountains in Culberson and Hudspeth counties.

It is estimated that there are now approximately 300 big-horn sheep in the mountains of the Trans-Pecos. The Texas Game Department believes with proper control of predators and protection for the sure-footed animals their numbers can be increased appreciably.

Plover Apparently Increasing

Plover, a bird which has been protected by law for many years, may be making a comeback. Reports to the Game Department from wardens in Southwest Texas, especially Chambers county, indicate more plovers have been sighted this spring than in several years. Hunters are warned it is illegal to shoot plover at any time. The birds are protected by both state and federal law.

Ferrets Helping Landowner

Rats got so bad on the plantation of O. H. Vaughn near Queen City, Texas, that he imported two ferrets several months ago and they have done a magnificent job of clearing up the rodents, it is reported to the State Game Department.

Several big barns on Mr. Vaughn's place were so infested with rats that after he had trained the ferrets to catch rodents, as many as five at a time were seen scampering up walls of the barns when the pair of ferrets were turned loose. A rat has not been seen on the Vaughn place in weeks.

Planning Boards Active

The wildlife planning boards of Tom Green and Coke counties are carrying on the planting of food patches in efforts to provide game with better habitat and more food. These organizations are obtaining the assistance of ranchers in their respective counties. They are also
