WILLARD BAUMAN NAMED PRESIDENT OF ENGINEER SOCIETY AT TEXAS TECH

Willard Bauman, son of E. H. Bauman of Munday, was recently elected president of the Texas Tech branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, it was learned in Munday this week.

Willard is a graduate of Munday high school, and has been attending Tech for several years. He could get his degree by attending school this summer, but he recently decided not to continue his studies until the fall semester.

A number of parents and school patrons attended the ninth annual graduation exercises of the Sunset rural high school which were held last Friday night at the school auditorium.

As Mrs. Underwood played the recessional, members of the class marched from the auditorium, thus ending their high school days.

Diplomas were issued to Annie Barnes, Cecil Joe Burton, Thlema Burnison, Ausa Cluck, A. J. Gilbert, Margaret Hardin, Juanita Hunter, Bill Herring, Howard Matthews, Jo Smith, Howard Payne Shannon, Nellie Prather, Katie Bell Sweatt, Joe Tom Nelson, Gleta Jones, Virginia Parkhill and Lavene Bumpas.

Utilities Co. Sponsors School

IS ALL ELECTRIC

Home Economist from Chicago to Give Demonstrations

Both ladies and their husbands have been invited to attend the all-electric cooking school here next Tuesday and Wednesday, June 4 and 5, it was announced by Arthur Mitchell, local manager of the West Texas Utilities which will sponsor the school to be held in the grammar school gymnasium.

The school will be under the direction of Miss Eudora Hawkins, WTU home service supervisor. Cooking instructor will be Mrs. Stella Floyd, noted Hotpoint electric range home economist of Chicago.

"The school will be free and will feature new recipes, menus, and various household hints developed by constant scientific research. The public is invited to attend both sessions, which will begin at 2:30 each afternoon.

Mrs. Floyd, the cooking instructor, is widely known in West Texas as where she formerly was engaged as a home service advisor before joining the Hotpoint home economics department.

"I am happy to return to Munday," she said. "The great improvements in electric cookery give me an opportunity to present many new ideas whereby women can save both time and labor. I have concentrated in recent years on collecting new recipes that are easily prepared and enable the homemaker to surprise her family with new dishes without extra work. I believe every woman in town, whether she uses an electric range or some other type of cookery, will enjoy the school and profit by learning about modern methods of cooking used in other parts of the country."

She urged that men attend the school—"if they have the spare time." "More and more men," she said, "are interested in every-day problems faced by their wives. Cooking, of course, is the biggest job in the average home. Women, usually, are glad to have husbands attend these schools. And, too, men nowadays like to try their hand at cooking."

Mrs. Floyd will demonstrate complete preparation of hot meals made without the use of fire, illustrating new safety angles and the cooler kitchen that results from flameless cookery.

Mrs. Whittemore Fatally Injured In Accident

Is Killed When Auto Hits Her Tractor On Highway

A tragic accident which claimed the life of Mrs. A. E. Whittemore, well known resident of this section, occurred last Sunday night at about 8:30 o'clock when a passenger car struck the tractor driven by Mrs. Whittemore.

Mrs. Whittemore had been working her farm, which was across the road from her residence, three and one-half miles south of Munday. She was driving the tractor home from work when it was struck by an automobile driven by S. C. Ball, Seymour mechanic.

According to reports of the accident, the lights of an approaching car blinded her and she ran into the tractor, which was without lights. Mrs. Whittemore was thrown from the machine. She was dead when brought to a local physician's office, and it is believed she was killed instantly. Her chest was crushed.

Mrs. Minnie Frances Whittemore was born in Kentucky on May 17, 1872, and was 68 years and 9 days of age at the time of her death. She had resided in this section for many years.

Surviving her are her husband, A. E. Whittemore; a son, Ed Whittemore of this county, a daughter, Mrs. Mabel Cornelius of Dallas, and five grandchildren.

Funeral services were held from the Church of Christ in Munday at four o'clock last Monday afternoon, and interment was in the Johnson cemetery by the Mahan Funeral Home.

Mrs. Whittemore joined the Church of Christ in 1905, and Austin Varner, minister at Knox City was in charge of the services. She came to Munday in 1908 and had resided in this section since that time.

Pallbearers were Chester Borden, H. A. Pendleton, Floyd Warren, Press Phillips, Sam Bevers and Ben Yarbrough.

MR. AND MRS. SEBERN JONES ARE INJURED IN ACCIDENT SATURDAY

He was thrown from the car, but Mrs. Jones remained inside as the car somersaulted into the ditch. Both received treatment for their injuries, which were not of a serious nature. The car was badly damaged.

Mrs. Edwin Lee Jetton of route one, Goree, was shopping in town Saturday.

OBSERVE RULES OF THE ROAD

By Capt. Chas. Lindsay, Texas Safety Council

Vacation time is about on us. Let's be sure that what starts out to be a happy trip with the family in the car and trailer will not wind up as a tragedy in the morgue. Our highways are much more heavily travelled during the summer months. The cars contain many more women and children than during other months. This situation calls for added caution upon the part of every motorist. It becomes of the utmost importance that every rule of the road be observed. All intersections should be closely watched. You never know when a vacation tourist will dart from a side road.

Texas in recent months has erected many historical monuments throughout the State. What more natural than that vacationists and tourists will stop at these to read the inscriptions and ascertain their historical significance.

Therefore it is of great importance that we keep an eye open at all times for cars that have halted along the highway.

And while we are talking about vacationists, let us not forget the tourists. Texas has been bidding for tourists for a long time. The drive is bringing results. Every year more and more tourists come into our State to view our wonderful scenery and our many historical attractions.

These tourists, in the absence of uniform traffic codes throughout the nation, are likely ignorant of our traffic laws. What is legal in their home state may, if done in Texas, result in a serious accident.

It then becomes the double duty of us Texans to watch closely for these tourists cars from other States and give them the benefit of the doubt in traffic. When they ask us for information let's be courteous. When we are driving on the highways let's be courteous to them. Let's live up to the Texas record for genuine hospitality and at the same time save numerous lives.

FORMULA FOR EDUCATION

There are six "skills" which the educated person should possess, according to H. W. Crowley, president of Hamilton college, in a recent address. They are:

- (1) Ability to speak one's own language correctly and effectively in conversation and on one's feet before an audience.
- (2) Ability to read one's own language with reasonable speed and comprehension.
- (3) Ability to write a clear and well organized exposition in one's own language.
- (4) Ability to read a foreign language with facility.
- (5) Ability to think clearly from a given set of facts.
- (6) Ability to work and live with other people.

At a time when thousands of young men and women are looking forward to receiving the diplomas which attest completion of the educational process, the test embodied in these six requirements is a challenging one. Many of the graduates will find, as their predecessors have found, that they lack these "skills." Many will find that they have the first five, but lack the all-important sixth. Many who have special "skills" due to intensive studying in some profession or calling, will find that they are lacking in the basic ones enumerated here.

The test is one that many educational institutions cannot meet in the products they turn out. Which perhaps is a partial explanation, at least, of the fact that many who possess diplomas are unable to turn them to good and profitable account in today's world—Wichita Daily Times.

AIMLESS PROPHECIES?

Millions of men put out of work by the machine! In the steel industry alone, 30,000 workmen already displaced, with 40,000 more scheduled to lose their jobs in the next few years!

It was an appalling picture that Philip Murray of the C.I.O. painted recently before the Temporary National Economic Committee. It raised again the old bugaboo about technological unemployment. But how about the facts in the case?

Let's take a look at them without comment—simply making a comparison with Mr. Murray's claims:

In 1926 a total of 1,264 hand mills were in existence. The greatest number of men that could have been employed in these mills, even with three-shift operations, would have been approximately 43,000. (Compare this with the above total of 79,000 given by the C.I.O. leader. Then remember that in addition there are, actually, about three-fifths of these hand mills still in existence and operating.)

There has undoubtedly been a decrease in employment in these hand mills, but the steel industry as a whole saw an increase of working force of 117,000 men between 1927 and 1937, the last year for which figures are available. Thus while the country's population was increasing only 11.2 per cent, employment in steel increased 27.4 per cent.

Mr. Murray's figures for the past don't seem to take all the facts into consideration. We wonder why his prophecies concerning the future should be considered any more plausible.

The annual cost of all government in the United States is equal to the total income received by all individuals in every state West of the Mississippi.

SMALL FRY

Government in the United States is today applying more regulatory measures, heavier taxation, and an intense degree of competition to what is commonly called "big business."

The excuse is usually given that "they can take it."

But even skipping that part of the argument for the moment, the fact remains that very nearly the same process is being applied to small business in this country. The same laws, same taxes, and same governmental competition exists in relation to the little company as in the case of the big one.

When we remember that about 98 per cent of the manufacturing establishments in this country employ 500 wage-earners or less, and that 90 per cent employ less than 100 persons, it is easy to see why it is difficult for small American industry to move ahead at the present time in the face of the major obstacles just listed.

This country became great because little businesses were given a fair chance to progress. Some of them grew into large companies by offering popular products at lower prices to large groups of consumers. Some remained small. Some failed. But the over-all picture was one of progress.

Is there any sane reason for exchanging that progress for untried and unworkable experiments today?

THE "BIG TOP" IN TAXES!!

Government these days works pretty generally on the theory that big business should be heavily taxed. Some theorists appear to feel, in fact, that it should be hounded smack out of existence.

The latest news is that this attitude has spread even to circuses. One Southern state now is applying license taxes to the Big Top on the basis of size. The more flatcars a circus uses in moving to town, the higher the license rate becomes. In the case of a show using over fifty cars, the cost is $250 a day.

Is an elephant like a monopoly? Should there be a tax on the amount of fun that Americans have? Don't answer! But ask yourself a serious question concerning the growing eagerness of government to tax, and tax still harder every source of revenue in the country to the limit—or a little beyond the limit—that the traffic will bear!

Life's no circus for business, big or little, or for the taxpayer in any walk of life!

FARMER ON RAIL BOARD

Election of a cotton farmer to the board of directors of a great railroad would seem to be a most unusual procedure but it happened a few days ago, and in the light of the facts it appears to have been a logical and wise action.

The farmer in question is Oscar Johnston of Mississippi, whose choice as director of the Illinois Central is in keeping with a policy adopted two years ago, whereby directors of the railroad are selected from men of exceptional ability who are engaged in business along the lines of its system.

Mr. Johnston is president of a company which operates 50,000 acres of farming land, devoted mostly to cotton, in the Mississippi delta. But he is also a lawyer, a banker, a legislator, and in recent years has held several important government posts.

Among the Federal positions held by him since 1933 are those of director of finance of the AAA, vice-president of the Commodity Credit Corporation, manager of the government cotton pool and assistant to the Secretary of the Treasury. He recently severed his government connections, but still serves two departments in an advisory capacity. He is now deputy chairman of the board of directors of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis.

One of Mr. Johnston's chief interests at present is the National Cotton Council, of which he is the founder and president. The object of this organization is to increase the consumption of American cotton at home and abroad. His wide experience and proved ability will make him a valuable addition to the Illinois Central's board.—Haskell Free Press.

The story is going around in Rome to the effect that after his recent interview with the Pope, Germany's Goering sent the following telegram to Hitler: "Have placed the Holy Sea under German protection. All prelates in concentration camp. Pope has fled. Cardinal's robes suit me beautifully."

"To cope with present dangers, we must be strong in heart and hand; strong in faith—strong in faith in our way of living."—President Roosevelt.

"The war keeps knocking into things around here, including the price of wheat. But now, after we have done a lot of hoping and some praying, and worried the crop on to a pretty fair yield, then the price comes along and drops about 35 cents a bushel."—Passing Day in Baylor County Banner.

A MAN'S JOB

A man's job is his best friend. It clothes and feeds his wife and children, pays the rent, and supplies the wherewithal to develop and become cultivated. The least a man can do in return is love his job. A man's job is grateful. It is like a little garden that thrives on love. It will one day flower into fruit worth while for him and his to enjoy. If you ask any successful man the reason for his making good, he will tell you that first and foremost it is because he likes his work; indeed, he is wrapped up in it. His whole physical and mental energies are focused upon it. He walks his work; he talks his work; he is entirely inseparable from his work, and that is the way every man worth his salt ought to be if he wants to make his work what it should be, and make of self what he wants to be.—Arthur Capper.

What to Expect

There are friends for those who are friendly.
And beauty for those who see.
There is knowledge for those who seek it.
And that means you and me.

There is gentleness for the gentle,
And joy for those who cheer.
There are chances for those who seize them.
And music for those who hear.

There is love for those who are loving,
And kindness for those who are kind;
For we get what we give to others,
And whatever we seek—we find.

Texas Voters Take Straw Vote On Candidates

Fort Worth.—Texas voters want Franklin D. Roosevelt for a third term as President; W. Lee O'Daniel for a second term as Governor and Pierce Brooks to succeed Lon A. Smith as Railroad Commissioner, it is indicated from an incomplete poll being taken throughout the State by the Texas State Network radio stations. The stations are polling every tenth voter on the poll tax lists in the state. This is done without reference to occupation, or whether or not the poll tax holder is a man or woman. Latest announced returns gave President Roosevelt 64.3 per cent of the total on a basis of 27,728 votes cast, with Vice President Garner second with 19.4 per cent. For Governor, the poll gave Governor O'Daniel 51.2 per cent of the total with Col. Ernest O. Thompson second with 21 per cent. The poll gave Pierce Brooks 34.9 per cent of the vote for the Railroad Commission. It was announced this was approximately two to one over his nearest opponents.

Cotton Casual

Just a bit dotty is this new cotton frock which Maureen O'Hara, popular RKO-Radio star, chooses for casual vacation wear. The dress is gingham; the skirt is bi-gie with ivory dots. The bi-gie bodice is piped with the dotted fabric which is also used to cover the buttons. The belt is bright red patent leather. Froek is part of the wardrobe which Maureen took with her on a brief holiday in Palm Springs. Cotton casuals are destined to play an important role in vacation wardrobes all over the country this year, the National Cotton Council reports.

Annual Fair At Haskell To Be Enlarged

Haskell, Texas.—Definite plans for staging the 1940 Central West Texas Fair on a broader scale than in any previous year since the exposition was inaugurated were set in motion this week, when a general committee mapped and set in motion plans for the annual exposition to be held during the first week of October. Homer Neal, secretary of the association, said. Plans for the 1940 fair contemplate an enlargement of the agriculture and livestock divisions to embrace all phases of diversified farming, including livestock feeding, dairying and all other approved farm practices, fair officials announced. To accommodate the additional exhibits embraced in the program for this year, present plans anticipate several new buildings on the fairgrounds. Improvements and repairs for the present exposition plant have been definitely assured.

Lewis Williams of Benjamin was here last Saturday, working in the interest of his candidacy for district judge of the 50th Judicial District. Donald Hobert, a student in John Tarleton at Stephenville, is here to spend the summer vacation months with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hobert.

SHELTERBELTS HEAL SOIL BLOWOUTS

"Shelterbelts are slowly but surely making blowouts a thing of the past," stated H. E. Webb, State Director of the Prairie States Forestry Project, in a report from the field. The crisscross patterns made by concentrations of protective tree belts are exerting a remarkably definite influence on adjacent fields.

Numerous fields in Wheeler, Wilbarger, Cottle, Collingsworth and numerous other counties were known to blow out year after year. Now with three and four years of good, healthy growth on the shelterbelts—many of these blowouts are rapidly healing up.

One of the most striking examples of this occurred in the Dunlap area in Cottle county. Almost any farm operator with well cared for trees can show you what shelterbelt protection means. The Pagan and Kelton communities in Wheeler county, the Quail area in Collingsworth county, various areas in Childress, Haredman, Wilbarger and a number of other counties are also showing this influence.

At The Churches

MUNDAY METHODIST CHURCH

In our present situation the church should mean much to individuals and society in providing that needed stimulus that keeps faith and hope alive for the future generations. It has a message of hope that is steadfast and sure for the individual as well as the masses. This can be imparted only where people are loyal to the church and devoted to the principles of Christianity. We urge each person to give his or her support to the institution that has been at the very heart of our Civilization since the Colonies were established in our land.

Next Sunday is to be observed as a day of prayer and fasting by the Methodist Church. The immediate object, of course, is "World Conditions." An offering will be taken for the suffering in Europe. This fund goes through the church and into the hands of the Red Cross on the various fields. Every offering is safeguarded and sent direct to actual needs on the front and in refugee camps. Give through your church and let it have its proper place in alleviating human suffering. Please bring your offering Sunday.

Our Sunday evening services will be held at six o'clock. Sunday evenings this summer, beginning on June 2nd, 6:00-7:00 p.m. H. A. Longino

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Next Sunday we are giving the Sunday school teachers and officers special recognition. We are urging every officer and teacher to be present for the service. The sermon will be in keeping with the work of the teacher. You teachers have a great and responsible task and we wish to show to you our appreciation for what you are doing, and in some measure help and encourage you to better work and nobler achievements in teaching the word of God.

We plan to call the roll of the officers and teachers and we earnestly hope that you will be there to answer to your name.

In these hectic days, days of stress and anxiety, may we turn with renewed faith to God, who is able to meet our every need and to gird us with power for whatever task and responsibility is ours.

"The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms" (Deut. 33:27).

"What time I am afraid, I will trust in Thee" (Ps. 56:3).

Farm Engineering Course Offered to Youths Here

National Foundation Announces Free Scholarships Are Now Available

At least ten free scholarships for the study of farm management and engineering will be awarded to farm youths in this vicinity, according to word received here today by (name of dealer).

The scholarships, available to young men between the ages of 18 and 25 who are actually engaged in farm work, will consist of home study course, together with practical training and experience under local farm conditions. They are provided by the National Farm Youth Foundation, which has been created by the Ferguson-Sherman Manufacturing Corporation of Dearborn, Michigan, with the active co-operation of Henry Ford and Edsel Ford.

"Young men of the farm have not realized their opportunities on the home soil," said Henry Ford in announcing his participation in the Foundation. "As a result, many of them have left the farm.

"The family system of farming has suffered and we want to see it rebuilt. As a matter of fact, the Foundation seeks to help the young man of the farm to realize his aspirations for happiness and prosperity." "I am told that eighty per cent of the graduates of agricultural colleges have been going to the towns and cities for their careers instead of returning to the farm. The remaining 20 per cent are not enough to give the farm the needed leadership in agricultural progress.

"Better farming methods today will mean better farms tomorrow and rural youth will be more inclined to stay close to the soil." "Young men enrolled under these scholarships also will compete for salaried jobs with the sponsoring company and its distributors. One student will be selected from this area to work at the factory for a year at a salary of $150 a month. He will be given specialized training in the use, application and the maintenance of the tractor in this general area is a job with the distributor at $125 a month. Additional students will be placed in jobs as quickly as possible, with the eventual aim of giving them training and experience which they may bring to bear on future problems in their own community.

Success for local young men in the home field is the goal of the Foundation," says (name of dealer). Farm youths in the past have looked for opportunity elsewhere. Many could not finance a college education. Others found funds lacking to set up in farming for themselves. "Even those who have gone to college have not found in local fields the opportunity they sought," he added. "Most of these boys wind up in towns and cities. If this movement can be halted the community will benefit by the training and education its own young men are receiving and will receive in the future."

Announcement of the scholarships was accompanied by the explanation that the Foundation does not conflict with the 4-H Clubs and the Smith-Hughes vocational agriculture high schools. Through its higher age limit it affords opportunity for study and advancement to farm youths who have already passed the age at which the activities of the organizations mentioned are available.

Young men to be eligible for scholarships, must be between the ages already given, and must be American citizens, of good character, and actually work on a farm. Young men wishing to apply for enrollment or to secure more detailed information about the scholarships may do so by getting in touch with (name of dealer).

Amendment To Army Bill Goes Through House

Bill Is Sponsored By Ed Gossett

Washington, D.C., May 24.—The House of Representatives today passed H.R. 9850, entitled "a Bill to expedite the strengthening of the national defense," by a vote of 392 to 1. The bill authorized a substantial increase in the size of the army, removed all restriction upon airplane construction by the army, provided for employment of additional civilians in the War Department, and appropriated $132,000,000 as an emergency fund for the President in the promotion of the purposes of the bill.

During the consideration of this bill, the House adopted an amendment by Representative Ed Gossett of Texas providing that no part of the money spent under the authority of the bill should be paid to any Communist, Fascist and Nazi.

In discussing his amendment before the House of Representatives, Congressman Ed Gossett stated: "We have been told on reasonable good authority that through the civil service and other agencies Communists, and others not in sympathy with our Government, are working into important positions in this country. In this time of peril, when we are concerned with our national defense, it occurs to me that our Military Establishments certainly ought to be purged of those not devoted and loyal to democratic institutions."

Hefner 4-H Club Girl Plans for Her Bedroom Improvement Program

Now that most of the schools in Knox county have closed, 4-H club girls are busy improving their bedrooms.

Plans for an excellent program of work have been made by Miss Gloria Murdock, bedroom demonstrator of the Hefner 4-H club.

Gloria's room has not been used at all for the past few years, and she finds that a great deal will have to be done to make it attractive and comfortable. First, the floors and woodwork will have to be refinished and the room papered. Other improvements planned are:

1. Remodeling and refinishing a bed.
2. Refinishing a small desk.
3. Making a draped dressing table and stool.
4. Making window curtains and a bedspread.
5. Refinishing a small rocker and making a cushion for it.
6. Making a mattress and mattress and spring slip covers.

Criplever Is Named Governor Of 2-E Lions

The candidacy of Frank Crippliver of Wichita Falls for district 2-E governor of Lions International was successful last Monday at Sweetwater. He was elected without opposition.

Crippliver is an active Lion, having missed only six meetings since he became a member 18 years ago. Besides serving in various offices of the club at Wichita Falls, he has been district deputy governor and chairman of two district conventions.

Brownwood was selected as the next convention city by the Lions. Leon E. W. Hatroll and Lion Lee Higgins, who attended the convention, gave brief reports of activities in Sweetwater at the regular meeting of Munday Lions on Wednesday.

$215,000,000 Spent For Research in '39

New York.—Just to find ways of making old things better and cheaper, and to find ways of making new things to add to the everyday comforts of life, 2,000 industrial concerns spent a total of $215,000,000 last year in research. This is revealed in a survey recently completed by Dr. William A. Hamor, associated director of the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research, for the American Chemical Society.

For example, Dr. Hamor found that research during 1939 in industrial laboratories had resulted in such discoveries as: how to make silk-like hosiery out of coal and air; how to take the static out of radio; how to make automobile tires wear longer; how to make safety glass safer than it is known today; how to get more miles out of a gallon of gasoline; how to make exquisite perfumes and colorful dyes from substances never before used in such materials; and how to cut the cost of thousands of other every-day articles which everyone purchases at the hardware, grocery or department store.

D. Hamor said he found about 3,000 scientists, aided by many other thousand of assistants and industrial engineers, engaged in the task of developing new products and improving old ones. Many industrial concerns are increasing their research facilities for 1940 and 1941, he reported.

No estimate was made of the number of persons that will find employment in the production of the new products discovered during the year, or on the estimated savings to consumers because of lowered prices of products.

Mr. Braly made an interesting report of events at the convention, which was reported one of the best meetings in recent years. Ben Bowden also gave his "My Home Town" speech which he gave at the Big Spring meeting.

Some discussion was held on proposed NYA projects in the county, which includes preliminary plans for securing a rock fence at the cemetery, a boy scout lodge and a street marking project. It is likely that these proposed activities will be worked into one project and get NYA approval.

An Invitation to Young Men from 18 to 25 from the NATIONAL FARM YOUTH FOUNDATION

The men who are responsible for the Ford tractor have established this Foundation to make a new kind of opportunity available to young men living or working on the farm.

Those who are selected as Members of the Foundation will receive, without obligation, a specially prepared course in Farm Engineering and Management conducted by La Salle Extension University. This course is complete and authoritative, and if regularly sold, would be priced at $136.

But in addition, members will receive regular class training under our personal guidance, and will also be given the opportunity to gain practical experience in sales and demonstration work.

This education and training is invaluable. But in addition, the Foundation will award two salaried jobs to young men in this general area, as well as other desirable awards.

The whole story of this unusual opportunity is told in the book, A New Career. We have a copy for you. Come in and get it, tomorrow, and let us tell you more about the Foundation. Do not delay, because our training class starts soon.

Unique Church Is Being Built by Rhineland People

By MAUD ISBELL
Publicity Chairman, Munday Chamber of Commerce

Rhineland is a small rural community located in the famous Knox county prairie bordering the renowned Brazos del Rio on the north and extending almost six miles to the southeast and west. It was founded February 21, 1895, by the Rev. Joseph Reisdorff as resident priest and Hugo Herchenbach as agent, and ably assisted in this colonization by Peter Loran, still an active member of the community.

The Brazos valley in Knox county ranks as one of the best farming regions in the state. Cotton, corn, and small grain are its chief products. The settlers are of German extraction and practice the Catholic religion. The citizenry is intelligent, progressive, and law-abiding.

Their standard of living is on a high plane. Illiteracy is unknown here. The people combine ideally the three great institutions of society, the home, the church, and the school. All in all, we find here a really good people in a good territory.

An outstanding achievement of Rhineland is its band, the Lone Star Band. This band was organized in 1897 and its membership includes two of its charter members, Peter Loran, cornetist, and A. F. Homer, bass.

The present sheriff of Knox county, Louis Cartwright, was the first child to be baptized in Rhineland.

The first couple to be married was Peter Loran and Miss Clara Schumacher, February 21, 1898, by the Rev. Father Joseph Reisdorff. Peter Loran, state president of the Farmers Union of Texas, has been at all times enthusiastic over the "Good Neighbor" policy. At the Union's San Antonio convention a few months ago, Mr. Loran advocated a work relief program based on turning over land patches to needy families, to be turned into gardens and truck patches, as a means of helping them earn a livelihood. The suggestion won the enthusiastic endorsement of the Farmers Union, and is being examined by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Going still further into practicing the good neighbor policy, Mr. Loran has offered eight rows on his farm which may be planted in either sudan, sorghum, or feterita, which are soil-conserving crops.

"Since the needy family will not have teams," Loran said, "I will go in there and work his eight rows along with my crop, planting and plowing it but the neighbor will have to hoe it if needed. In, in turn, will give him everything these eight rows produce."

Loran pointed out that he and other farmers could afford to do this, because they would get their soil conservation payments on the land so long as the requirements were met by not planting soil-depleting crops. In this way, he said, farmers would be helping "their neighbors" and at the same time it wouldn't be costing them anything except the time it takes to plow these rows along with their crops.

This is in line with the Farmers Union slogan for their good neighbor policy, which is: "Move over, neighbor, and give some room for your fellow man."—West Texas Today.

responsible for a gem of song which has the same tune as a well-known ditty. See if you can guess the tune:

"Oh, it's dusty out here in West Texas,
In the land where the strong breezes blow,
And the ranches go by in handfulls;
Where they come from you never know.
You can go to the cellar or attic—
Or even get under the bed—
But still will get dust in your gizzards,
In your ears and on top of your head.
Chorus
"Oh, it's dusty out here in West Texas—
We wonder how long it will blow.
We surely must like this country—
We have to eat it, you know.
There's gray sand and black dirt in handfulls
Sailing around in the sky.
So, here's a toast to West Texas
And a slogan—"Here's Mud in Your Eye!"

So anxious was this observer a while back to return to Texas from California, that, as soon as the boundary was crossed—at El Paso, of course—I stopped. It's one of the most interesting cities in the state and doubly attractive after an absence of many weeks from Texas.

As L. A. Wilke (former Fort Worth newspaperman who directs the tourist campaign for the Gateway Club) was in New Mexico fishing, this traveler was taken in charge by Lloyd P. Bloodworth, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, in whose office hangs picture of William Howard Taft and Porfirio Diaz, for it was in that very room that the Presidents met. Bloodworth pointed proudly out the chair that the ponderous Taft broke down.

A night drive to the top of lofty Mount Franklin commands a fine view; and Juarez, a city of 40,000, just across the Rio Grande, is picturesque, with curio shops and cafes with native songs and dances.

H. S. Hunter, editor of the El Paso Times, (the biggest paper that prints "I Give You Texas"), extended a cordial greeting, as did E. M. Pooley, editor of the Herald-Post. It was a privilege to shake hands with Captain John Hughes, famous old-time Texas Ranger, whose picture (showing his flowing beard and his steady gaze) hangs on the wall of the Stephen F. Austin Hotel in Austin. Then there was a visit with William Moran, lion-maned, genial Irish editor of the Labor Advocate, who ought to write his reminiscences of Governor Sayers, with whom Moran was associated in state service during Sayers' final years.

Who started this old joke contest, anyway?

There's the saying, "You can get the boy out of the country but you can't get the country out of the boy" and the one about the backwoods lad who was run down so shoes could be put on him for the first time at the age of 18 and they didn't feel natural till he sprinkled gravel in them.

The reverse of that one of the story of the little boy from the city who discovered a pile of condensed milk cans and ran to tell his mother, "I've found a cow's nest."

A man said to another, "Loan me $5." The other man was hard of hearing and he asked, "What did you say?" The first man shouted, "Loan me $10" to which his friend replied, "I heard you the first time."

Mr. Anonymous, who has written so many fine things, is the author of this:

"All this talk about an editor not being appreciated is nonsense. We read an account where an editor in a nearby county was presented a handsome bouquet by a number of fellow citizens. On the same occasion a quartet from a local church sang a few songs and the minister made a brief talk. After the minister's talk, six husky citizens carried the popular editor from the house and placed him in a 1940 model plumed sedan, and the whole town stood at attention.

"Later the appreciative crowd returned to their homes, serene in the thought of having provided one bright day in the life of their local news purveyor—even if they had to wait until he was dead to do so.

America Builds FOR BETTER, EASIER LIVING

THE ALL-GAS HOME IS PREFERRED!

A survey of 76,900 new homes built in natural gas territory last year in America reveals that 92 per cent reported the use of natural gas for cooking; 95 per cent used natural gas for water heating; 88 per cent used natural gas for house heating, and 11 per cent reported the installation of new gas refrigerators.

This is magnificent evidence that today's gas household appliances are far superior in performance, smarter in appearance and more economical to operate.

Hunters and Fishermen Spend Billion Dollars Annually

(The following story is from the Dallas Morning News. Detailing of the figures in the story amazed even veteran game conservationists and was the sensation of the annual conference.)

Washington, D.C.—Hunting and fishing produces a billion dollar industry annually!

That startling fact was brought out during the third day of the annual North American Wild Life Conference here recently. In pointing out hunting and fishing addicts of the United States put more money in circulation than but a dozen other industries, John Mock, all-outdoors editor of the Pittsburgh Press and retiring president of the Outdoor Writers Association of America, urged sportsmen not to be backward when seeking legislation which will benefit hunting and fishing.

"Tell your representatives in state and national legislation your group is just as important, if not a lot more so, than the industries which, for example, are polluting your streams," the speaker urged.

Vast Sums for Commerce
"Vast sums of money are put into industry and commerce by anglers and nimrods annually," Mock said. "To begin with, there are approximately 8,000,000 persons who acquire fishing licenses each year and there are 7,000,000 individuals who make use of hunting licenses. Many of the states exclude women, the aged and children under certain ages from hunting and fishing license requirements. Most states permit the farmer to hunt and fish upon his own land free of license obligation. Taking other matters into consideration it is estimated by many bureaus that the nimrods and followers of Izaak Walton number around 20,000,000.

"To reach the rural, isolated and remote regions for hunting and fishing, also the vast expanse of the sea on either side of the country, requires transportation. Rail and air play but a small part in this, the principal method being the automobile.

Based on the national registration, the number of automobiles involved is 3,608,807. A nominal mileage of a season of hunting and fishing is 500 miles, he said, which means that 1,804,403,500 (billion) miles are traveled to reach hunting and fishing.

Car Needs Mount
"Placing of the average life of a new car in the hands of the original owner at 40,000 miles," he said, "there is an annual buying demand of 45,110 cars used solely for hunting and fishing purposes. At an average price of $600, the sportsman contributes annually, $27,066,000 toward the automobile industry for cars alone." Money expended for tires and accessories also reach tremendous figures.

"When the cars used solely for short purposes come rolling off the assembly line they will be equipped with 225,500 tires," he added.

"Gas is what makes the wheels turn," he continued. "On the average of fifteen miles per gallon, the sportsman burns up approximately 120,298,550 gallons of the fluid, or, at 15c per gallon, a total of $18,044,550. Changing oil every 1,500 miles, replacing the old with

Ripley's Diction "Doctored"

Bob Ripley, the "Believe It Or Not" genius heard on CBS at 10:30 p.m. Fridays (New York Time), has diction of a very high degree—here you see him being made a Doctor of Oratory at the 40th celebration of the Staley College of Oratory, in Boston, while President Delbert M. Staley looks on. It is the third honorary degree bestowed on Ripley within 12 months. BELIEVE IT OR NOT!

five quarts of new at 15c brings the total contribution to the oil and gas concerns at $18,816,235.

Cost of Tackle
"Suppose each of the licensed sportsmen spends only $25 during the year on fishing tackle and firearms and ammunition, which at the most is a conservative estimate since in many instances it represents the price of but one rod or a cheap gun.

Those industries are benefited to the extent of $375,000,000. During a recent year some 80,000,000 shotgun shells were fired in the United States. At 4c each, this item alone runs over $3,000,000."

The speaker pointed out that the same conservative estimate of $25 per year, applied to accommodations at hotels, boarding houses, camps and other places when afield and stream, including the cost of camping supplies, adds another $375,000,000 to the totals.

Additional millions were cited for hunting and fishing licenses, sports wear, such as hunting pants, coats, sweaters, and the like, boots, waders, also motorboats, canoes, tents, trailers, cameras, films, dog maintenance, hunting and fishing lodges, magazines and allied needs.

Many See Work Of Sewing Room Here Last Week

L. Hannah, Covey and Mrs. Ingram Speak

Professional and Service Week of the Works Projects Administration was observed here, opening on Monday night May 20, with a sponsors' party. At this party, Judge E. L. Covey of Benjamin, Mrs. Louise Ingram and Leland Hannah were speakers, giving interesting and detailed facts concerning work of the WPA since its inauguration.

Present were Mrs. Mae Shuey, social worker, and Miss Virginia Turner, interviewer, well known personalities in WPA work. Entertainment for the sponsors' party was furnished by the Knox Prairie Ramblers, blind orchestra.

Open house was observed during the remainder of the week, and local citizens were given an opportunity to see work accomplished by the Munday sewing room project.

A number of out-of-county people visited the project during open house, and one visitor from Eagle Pass praised the local project very highly. Mrs. Berna D. Webb, project supervisor, is anxious for all citizens to know of the work accomplished by this project and welcomed all who came to the sewing room during this week.

Several hundred visitors called during the week, representing a majority of the business firms of the county.

Dr. and Mrs. Henry Schwartz of Knox City were business visitors here last Saturday.

Farm cash income in the United States for the first two months of 1940 was $218,000,000 higher than for the same period in 1939. Most of the increase came from sales of wheat and corn.

Tech to Hold Cotton Schools

Lubbock, Texas.—Safety work for ginners will be an added feature of Texas Tech's two-week cotton schools this summer. The first, dated July 1 to 12 inclusive, will take the place of those offered last summer at Abilene and Quanah, stated M. E. Heard, professor of textile engineering, and the second, July 15 to 26, will serve ginners, buyers, ginners, and others in the Lubbock territory. Persons from either section may, however, attend either short course.

H. S. Wilson of Amarillo, safety engineer for a Texas employers insurance association, will lecture at each school on relation of production to accidents, effect of safety on morale, need for and ways of preventing accident, plant hazards, first aid, and other phases of safety engineering.

A government supervisor will also lecture at each short course, Heard said.

"A new set of government standards are on hand, and an excellent set of samples for demonstration purposes has been collected. The courses will also cover grading, stapling of cotton, a discussion of spinning values, and a visit to college textile laboratories. An attempt will be made to discuss the cotton industry from several slants—that of the grower, the buyer, the ginner, the seller, and the spinner.

Cotton men and ginners who wish to attend either short course may secure room and board at one of the mens residence halls on the campus at $1 a day.

Sponsors Bill

An amendment to H.R. 9850, entitled "a bill to expedite the strengthening of national defense," was sponsored in the House of Representatives by Congressman Ed Gossett of Vernon.

Gossett's amendment provided that no part of the money spent under the authority of the bill should be paid to any Communist, Fascist or Nazi. Story appears elsewhere in this issue.

Rhineland Is Victor Sunday Over Goree

Goree had the misfortune Sunday of meeting a team, considered by many as the best in the loop, on one of its better days and came out the loser 11 to 2.

The Red Raiders, who could do nothing wrong, quickly sent the starting pitcher, B. Ratliff, to the showers and continued their heavy bombardment of his successor, D. Ratliff. Having met a far superior foe, Goree came out of the melee a thoroughly beaten, weary aggregation.

Lefty Decker, stellar moundman of the Raiders, for the second consecutive Sunday limited the opposition to 5 safeties and 2 runs. He was complete master at all times.

In the spotlight this time were the hustling, crafty little manager of the Rhineland team with 2 hits, one of which was a home run, and the ever reliable third sacker, L. Wilde, with 11 assists and also a circuit smash to his credit.

It is a bit unusual for the umpires to receive praise; nevertheless, the work of the arbiters, Stengel and Peek, merit it for this game. Their performance left little to be desired.

Next Sunday, Rhineland meets the cellar occupants from Benjamin at Benjamin. The boys from the "capitol city" no doubt would like nothing better than a bit of fresh air at Raider expense, but their chances of escaping their dark domain are considered as being very slim.

Heavy Rains Visit Portions Of Knox County

While Munday received .82 of an inch rain last Monday night, the precipitation varied in different parts of the county.

A heavy rain was reported in the Hefner community, northeast of Goree, where farmers were damaged by washouts. Farmers in that section reported about 4 inches Monday night, and it will be necessary for most of them to replant their crops.

About three-quarters of an inch was received at Benjamin, but was lighter at Knox City and other portions of the county.

Experts have never been able to agree as to whether or not a panther screams.
