Tribute to the memory of veterans of two wars was paid by members of Lowry Post of American Legion on Thursday of last week—Memorial Day.

Members of the post met on Thursday morning and organized for the purpose of decorating the graves of deceased veterans. The graves of both World War and Civil War veterans were decorated with a wreath of flowers and an American flag for each grave.

Graves at Munday, Gillespie, Hefner, Rhineland, Goree and Weichert were decorated under the auspices of the local post. Post officers are grateful to all people of Munday who furnished flowers for this occasion. Some 18 or 20 graves were decorated with the memorial wreath and flag.

Enraged Bull Crashes Fences, Charges Townspeople on Angry Trip Thru Town

Activities and surroundings at the Munday Livestock Sales Co. didn't seem to suit a certain bull, an animal estimated by excited citizens to weigh around 2,000 pounds, last Tuesday.

Tired of the narrow confines of the "cow pen," the bull proceeded to smash through some two or three fences and gain his freedom.

And the bull came to town! Through the main street he traveled, and then on to the Methodist church where employees of the sales barn roped him and attempted to control his vicious temper and habits.

Seeing R. G. Campbell peacefully watering flowers on the lawn, the bull became more enraged, snorted several snorts of disapproval and charged Campbell with a violent onrush! Campbell quickly got a tree between himself and Mr. Bull and played hide-and-seek with the 2,000 pounds of beef until he got a chance to make a dash for the house.

"Bully" Ratliff roped the bull, but he dragged Bully and his mount and gained freedom again when he broke the rope with a mighty lunge. Men, women and children gave the animal plenty of room as the treked on northward through the T. G. Benge yard.

Jim Bell was industriously working his garden. He heard a snort resembling that of some huge prehistoric beast, and look around to see Mr. Bull charging him in all fury. Jim threw his hoe at the animal, and took to shelter!

On northward the bull traveled, was finally roped again and with an hour of hard labor workmen succeeded in getting him into a trailer and back to the pens at the sales barn. Citizens saw the bull loaded in a truck Wednesday morning and hoped he was headed for the slaughter pens of "cow town." He left without an invitation to return to Munday.

A NEW COTTON PRODUCT

What may prove to be an important new use for cotton is seen in a ply-board recently developed by a Seattle building materials manufacturer, according to a recent statement by the National Cotton Council.

The new board, used in interior construction, is manufactured in panels long enough to cover the entire wall of a room, requiring only four panels to completely cover the room.

The manufacturer states that laboratory tests have proved the new board to be four to thirty times as strong as other boards now being manufactured. Impact resistance is much greater than that of fibre and plaster boards, the laboratory report states.

Advantageous characteristics given the product by its cotton fabric covering as listed by the manufacturer include fire resistance, low heat conductivity, rodent and vermin resistance and water resistance.

The cotton covering allows immediate painting or papering of the walls as quickly as they are put in place without the customary delay caused by plastering. In addition the covering assures the absence of wall cracks and checking.

The Seattle product is said by the Council to be in line with experiments conducted by the Department of Agriculture in the use of cotton fabric covered wall board. The houses built by the department thus far have proved satisfactory, he said.

COSTLY FUN?

It's fun to follow the fire engines. It's always a thrill to see the great red trucks hurtling past, with their sirens screaming. And it's fun to watch a fire. There is a primitive excitement in the sight of flame and smoke, and the sound of crackling wood.

But, if we go beyond the superficial sensory pleasures, and start to think about what fire means, the fun is spoiled immediately. For fire is the grimest of disasters.

Fire kills some 10,000 Americans each year. These people meet the most horrible of deaths—and every one of them die in vain.

Directly and indirectly, America's fire bills runs close to $2,000,000,000 each year. That money would build 400,000 excellent homes. It would buy three million good new automobiles. It would supply 2,000,000 people with jobs at over $80 per month. It would provide 4,000,000 families with subsistence relief.

To the individual, fire may be the most ghastly of experiences. It may mean death and injury. It may mean the loss of a job. It may mean the burning of irreplaceable possessions. It may mean ruin and despair and privation. For fire has no mitigating circumstances—it has no silver lining. It represents destruction, pure and simple.

Consider this the next time the fire engines scream by. Consider this next time you see smoke and flame and feel the angry heat of a burning building. And then it will seem more fun to help prevent a fire than to watch one!

A LONGER LIFE SPAN

Man's span of life is growing longer. About a hundred years ago the average length of human life in America was 41 years. Today it is 60 or better, according to a survey by the research division of the Battle Creek Sanitarium.

Taking for granted that one must inevitably grow old and die within a definite span is no longer the modern conception of living, the survey indicated. This battle against human decline has made remarkable progress in recent years through important corrective and educational work.

"The so-called 'wearing-out' types of diseases are not diseases at all," Dr. Charles E. Stewart, official of the Sanitarium says in discussing the survey. "Back of a large percentage of heart trouble, stomach disorders, or an inefficient liver is a deliberate or unconscious carelessness on the part of the individual in forming of life along well-ordered physical and mental living habits.

"One favorable point in progress of longevity of Americans is the realization that vacations need not and must not be overenergetic if tired nervous systems are to be properly revitalized. Mountain climbing for example, or portaging a heavy canoe is of no benefit to one who has not gradually become accustomed to the strain in advance.

A rest-vacation as advocated by the medical authorities includes outdoor sports for guests and patients who desire them. Under direction of a year-round well known physical director, these sports include golf, horse-back riding, swimming and fishing.

Someone has suggested a "Think More" week. A fine idea if it would encourage folks to think more intelligently.

The Russian novelist Feodor Sologub didn't help matters much when he chose as his pen name "Kamich Teternikov."

When a fellow gets the idea that the world owes him a living it's a pretty good sign that it doesn't.

As Piling of Columbus, O., told a policeman he wanted to be kicked for being drunk and the policeman obliged him.

CONCERNING NATIONAL DEFENSE

Security for this country is a national MUST. On that subject all real Americans are agreed, and only a small group of determined columnists will be found standing in the way and trying to throw sand in the gears.

With general acceptance of the need for sound national defense, attention can well be concentrated on the best methods by which this can be achieved. It is only natural then, that all eyes should be turned expectantly towards industry.

We have the greatest industrial nation in the world, and all other countries have paid us the sincere flattery of copying our methods and our processes. That should give us confidence for the job ahead.

But there is one point, a very important one. Quietly around Washington, many of those in key places are saying now that industry has the heavy job ahead of forging national security, some of the barriers and hindrances put in its way by government must be removed or modified. And any observer naturally inquires: "If that is the case, why wasn't it also important in peacetime to see that this situation was cleared up? Didn't it get in the way of national recovery, just as it now is getting in the way of national defense?"

It would be hard to find an answer to this question. But industry, for one, isn't likely to waste its breath on useless recriminations at a time like this. America can well feel proud that it has an industrial machine, the greatest in the world, to which it can turn, confident that, when there is a real job to do and a fair opportunity to do it, it will turn out to be a JOB WELL DONE!

THE OLD PHILOSOPHER SPEAKS UP

Americans have the opportunity of picking up good ideas, sound arguments, or useful information from a great many sources. We read more books than the people of other lands. We see more newspapers, and they provide us with more and better information. With over 40 million radios in our homes and cars, a turn of the dial brings us thought-provoking ideas from still another source.

These thoughts are occasioned after listening to the "Old Philosopher" on a nationally known program recently. The old fellow advanced a point concerning the much-bruited subject of machines, industry, and unemployment that is worth recording. Here's what he has to say:

"Maybe I'm all wrong. But it seems to me that all this talk about business being to blame for unemployment might be barking up the wrong tree. There's a gas station on almost every corner of the old home town today, and I can only remember one blacksmith shop when I was a boy. Business has done pretty well!"

It's only an example, of course, brought up out of one man's experience. But it's pretty typical of the whole course of machine progress, wherein there is sometimes temporary displacement but where in the end many more jobs are created that those that are rendered obsolete.

The Old Philosopher really said something that will bear plenty of repeating!

An expert diver says a blow on a shark's dorsal fin will put it to flight. Which may be true as far as we'll ever know.

A real executive is one who can handle people who know more than he does.

We read that a certain popular song writer never had but six weeks of schooling; and we can readily believe it.

Herman A. Petty, 71, of Washington, N.J., has not missed attending Sunday School since he was ten years old.

The Chinese word for telephone is "Lightning Language."

The United States has 1 telephone to every 7 persons. The next ranking country has 1 for every 10. There are nearly 300,000 jobs in the industry.

THANK GOD, WE'RE AMERICANS!

THEY SAY!

Phillip A. Benson, president, Dime Savings Bank, Brooklyn, New York: "None of us is entirely free of blame for the mistakes of the past, but each is responsible to see that they are corrected. The time has come to resolve to be a free people, free of all internal strife, endeavoring to obtain real co-operation among business, labor and government, thus consolidating our strength and standing together prepared to meet whatever comes."

William A. Knudsen, president, General Motors Corp.: "Let us have the proper number of oilers rather than fellows throwing sand into the gears of the industrial machine and let us agree that whoever wants to redesign this great instrument of good spends a reasonable time of apprenticeship... before we listen to the new scheme."

College Station.—Texas is ready to cooperate in the program to promote building of low-cost homes in rural communities and for farm buildings and repairs, H. H. Williamson, director of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, has announced.

Plans for the program have been drawn up by M. L. Wilson, director of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, and chairman of the Central Housing Committee.

The building industry has set up the National Homes Foundation to cooperate with various federal agencies, including the Farm Credit Administration, Federal Home Loan Bank Board, Federal Housing Administration, Federal National Mortgage Association, and the RFC Mortgage Company.

This foundation is recommending ways to improve building design and construction at lower costs than usually thought possible. Service to the rural and farm home building field will be through existing facilities in the rural communities and will be centered in the local financial and service institutions.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

STRANGERS SEE THIS WHEN THEY VISIT MUNDAY

What is it that greets the eye of strangers in our town? What is it? It is a pit with junk piled all around. No, it isn't our new park nor new signs all red and blue. It's junk in a heap that reaches the street—the billboards can't hide it from view!

City dump pit, with its heaps and heaps of trash. City dump pit, with old cars, tin cans and glass. What a sight to have around, to greet folks when they come to town—a city dump pit, with its heaps and heaps of trash!

What's the most disgraceful place this city ever had? A place most unhealthy for either lass or lad. No, it isn't on the streets or vacant lots around, but it's the dump where we pile our junk within our little town.

City dump pit—within our town it lies! City dump pit—a breeding place for mosquitoes and flies! A very unsightly place, you bet, and a very great menace to our health, and yet the city dump pit within our city lies!

NO CHARGE FOR AAA HELP

College Station.—Reports have reached the state headquarters of the AAA that persons in some areas have set themselves up as "AAA experts" and are charging farmers fees for assistance in getting applications filled out and certified. These so-called experts are "setting up offices and handling all AAA business for groups of farmers for a share of their payments," the report stated.

All information and assistance necessary for participation in the AAA program can be obtained free of charge at the county AAA office.

"No farmer should pay any kind of fee for information or assistance in doing the 'paper work' connected with the AAA program," George Slaughter, chairman of the state committee, declared. "All such services are furnished without cost by the county AAA office, and farmers are invited to take advantage of it."

Persons who are charging fees for such services have no official status and cannot be depended upon to furnish accurate and complete information, the chairman continued, pointing out that any farmer using such assistance would have only himself to blame if errors in forms or applications result in loss of payments. When farmers pay a fee in order to receive AAA payments, their payments are reduced to that extent, while farmers who handle all AAA office can be assured of receiving full payments earned for participation in the program, Slaughter said.

Predicts Drop In Consumption Of Cotton in '40

Austin, Tex.—Predicting world cotton consumption for 1939-40 would be slashed five million bales under last year, Dr. A. B. Cox, University of Texas cotton marketing expert, points out that World War II involves countries which operate at least half of the cotton spindles of the world.

He estimated 1939-40 production at 28,000,000.

Increasing fierceness of competition for world cotton markets makes it imperative that the United States—already suffering together with China 90 per cent of the total reduction in world production—adopt an effective cotton program, Dr. A. B. Cox, declared.

Depreciation of currencies in other cotton-growing nations adds another obstacle to U. S. cotton sales—raising the price paid to farmers in those countries yet keeping the price paid in the consuming countries at a relatively lower price than U. S. cotton, he said.

South American countries like Brazil which have been selling large amounts of cotton to Germany and countries dominated by Germany will have to seek markets elsewhere in England continues to control the sea, the Bureau of Business Research director explained.

"All important cotton-importing countries are hard put to it to get the desired amount of foreign exchange," he pointed out. "As a result they are seeking to import cotton from those countries which are willing to accept manufactured goods in payment for raw cotton—which has the added prospect of building up a base of permanent trade after the war."

"The United States, on the other hand, is the only neutral country in position to supply large volume vital war materials such as airplanes, munitions, and other implements used in combat—and warring nations see little prospect to develop a market in the United States for their manufactures after the war."

These facts, Dr. Cox warned, points to the probable ineffectiveness of an export subsidy for U. S. farmers for the coming year.

Instead, he said, a successful cotton program must find a way to (1) increase farm profits by lowering production costs; (2) increase price by improving quality rather than by artificial price controls; (3) increase demand by finding new uses and lowering manufacturing and distribution costs; (4) provide conditions to enable the U. S. to hold its foreign markets, at least until adequate substitute enterprises are found—revise our foreign trade policy to create a balance of trade; and (5) find a substitute for above-market price loans.

WILLKIE RIDES BOOM

Wendell L. Willkie

WITH Willkie for President Clubs mushrooming from coast to coast, it begins to look as though Wendell Willkie may be the next Republican candidate for president. Here are statistics about him:

Height: 6 feet, 2 inches. Born: Elwood, Indiana, February 18, 1892.

Graduated Indiana University, 1917; Law School 1916. Taught history at Coffeyville High School, Coffeyville, Kansas.

Enlisted in the army the day the U. S. declared war; served in the 525th Field Artillery; in France for 10 months. Married Edith Willk of Rushville, Indiana, January 14, 1918.

Was offered a chance to run for Congress, but instead he moved to Akron, Ohio, in 1919; became a member of a law firm; fought Ku Klux Klan; twice Commander of Summit Post No. 19, American Legion.

Invited to New York as counsel of Commonwealth and Southern; became its president in 1933. Converted Commonwealth's loss to a profit; now has lowest cost and highest average use of electricity of any private utility operator.

Mr. Willkie is a dynamo. He writes fluently, is a student of American history; a book-reviewer of distinction. His ambition has been to achieve independence. He talks back to Wall Street as well as to the New Deal. When the TVA invaded Commonwealth's Tennessee property he carried his case to the people, forced the New Deal to buy it at a fair price. In spite of pressure from his friends, from all parts of the country, he has refused to become a candidate for President of the United States. He has raised no funds and will not permit a campaign. But he has publicly stated that if the nomination were offered to him he would accept it.

U. S. Marine Corps To Enlist 9,000 Recruits

According to word received today by Postmaster Lee Haymes an authorized increase of 9,000 men for the U. S. Marine Corps has been approved by Congress, bringing the strength of the Corps up to 34,000. These 9,000 men will be used, in addition to bringing up the present regiments up to peace time allowance, for the following: one Infantry Regiment, two Defense Battalions, and 1,500 men to increase the guards at Navy Yards.

The Defense Battalions are a new type of unit intended for the temporary defense of a small base, an island base for example. They provide an anti-aircraft defense, having 12 3-inch guns; 48 .50 caliber anti-aircraft machine guns; 48 .30 caliber machine guns, and 6 5-inch guns for use against surface vessels. Only 750 men are used in such a battalion. It is a most powerful unit.

The opportunity offered by this increase will be grasped by many young men physically and mentally qualified for military service. Young men between 18 and 30 years of age, white, single and without dependents, not less than 64 nor more than 74 inches tall, having had one year high school, and of good moral character are eligible for enlistment. ## Honestly, He Was This Big!

With the opening of fishing seasons throughout the country, disciples of 'Lack' Well-a are brushing up their acquaintance with lake and stream. Although the motor car and ever-expanding highways have made hardly a stream safe from the ardent fishing fan, the wary trout is still a match for all but the expert angler. Here Ralph Harris, who has driven his 1930 Chevrolet to the water's edge, is returning from a joint upstream to tell Evelyn Clark about the personal "big one that got away."

All-Stars From Munday Wallop Knox City 9-3

Sunday afternoon the Munday Stars, managed by Grady Thornton, took the measure of the Knox City softball team to the best of 9 to 3.

Things were not as easy as the score indicates. In the first of the second inning Knox City scored two runs and it began to look bad for the locals. In the fourth inning Hungry Taylor punched out his second successive hit to score a run and then a little later crossed the plate to tie the score. In the fifth the Knox City boys got a homer to gain a one run lead. They loaded the bases with none out by Lefty Strickland, ace pitcher for the Stars got the next three batters out without permitting a run.

In the sixth inning Taylor took a toe hold and on his third straight hit got a home run to tie the score. The score remained three to three going into the last half the fatal seventh. Then the heavy hitting Munday Stars laid down a barrage of base knocks that the Knox City boys could do nothing about. The Munday boys led the game away by scoring six runs and slamming the offerings of the Knox City pitcher all over the lot. Strickland had things his own way all the rest of the way and was never in trouble.

Stumpy Owens, diminutive outfielder for the Munday Stars was the defensive hero of the game, covering a world of territory. Strickland turned in an excellent pitching performance, Denham did well behind the bat, and Hungry Taylor turned in a great hitting performance.

The Munday team evidently was celebrating the purchase of their beautiful new uniforms made possible through the efforts of Grady Thornton and the business men of Munday.

The uniforms are baseball style, light gold with royal blue trim, blue and gold socks and blue caps. The Munday Stars are the best dressed team in the league and will probably turn in the best performances on the diamond every Sunday afternoon.

Next Sunday the Munday Stars take on their ancient rivals, the Rhineland Red Raiders. A good game with plenty of excitement is assured everyone who attends. The game will be played at Rhineland.

4 Indictments Are Returned By The Grand Jury

The following is a report of the grand jury of the June term of District Court, in which the jurors reported four felony indictments after their investigations last Monday:

Hon. Isaac O. Newton, District Judge, Dear Judge:

We, the Grand Jury duly organized and empaneled as such for the June term of the District Court of Knox County, beg to report as follows: We have diligently inquired into and a true investigation made of all law violations coming to our attention and here now report into open court 4 true bills of indictments, all felonies.

There being no further business to come before us at this time with the further statement that it has been a pleasure to us to have served our county and state as grand jurors;

We respectfully petition your Honor that we be discharged for the term.
Respectfully submitted,

Farm Leaders To Attend Convention

Many farm leaders of Texas are expected here for the state Farmers Union convention on July 16 and 17.

Regional directors of the Farm Security Administration plan to be here, and word was received this week that the president of the Bank for Co-operatives at Houston will appear on the program.

"There is a good chance that we can have the editor of the Producer-Consumer paper here for the meeting, Frank Overturf of Vernon, acting secretary, said. "We want all Farmers Union people to know that we are sparing no effort to make these two days extremely worthwhile."

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Garner left Sunday for Spur, where they will make their home this summer. Mr. Garner will serve as agent in that territory for the Southwestern Life Ins. Co.

County Clerk M. T. Chamberlain of Benjamin was a business visitor here last Tuesday.

Maize Is Dying From Root Rot

Farmers are reporting to County Agent Walter Rice that their maize is dying, and after visiting several fields, Rice found the maize to be dying from root rot. Some early fields have been completely destroyed, while other fields are badly infested.

"There is no cure or treatment, once a field of maize takes root rot, the type of disease which first appeared in Knox county in 1935," Rice said. "The disease does not appear in dry years, but spreads very fast after rains, especially in early maize that has not grown off well."

The experiment station has developed a resistant variety of maize and farmers, if their maize is a total loss, may safely replant with resistant maize and make a crop. W. E. McNeill, south of Munday, did this in 1936 and made a good crop. His early maize continued to die until it was in the boot stage, and then he plowed it up, planting back with a resistant variety and made a good crop.

The root rot in maize is found most often in the tighter type of soil, and is rarely found in deep sandy soils.

Farmers should watch for this trouble, as they often think insects are damaging their crops when it is mild root rot. When an infested stalk of maize is pulled up and examined, the roots will be found to be decayed and the outer covering of the roots will slip off.

Sadler Plan For Social Security Cash is Definite

Austin.—The most clear-cut and tangible tax program of any candidate for Governor is that offered by Jerry Sadler when he announced his candidacy, say a number of political observers. He tells where he proposes to raise the money for old age assistance and other social security, what the tax rate will be and how much it will raise. Sadler proposes:

An additional tax of 2 1/4 cents per barrel on oil, to yield $12,000,000 of new revenue; a tax of 1 cent per thousand cubic feet on natural gas, to produce $10,000,000 of new revenue, and an increase of 22 cents a ton on sulphur, to provide $35,000,000 of new revenue—a total of $57,000,000.

Of this, one fourth (or more than $5,000,000) would go to the schools, leaving $17,516,000 of new money for pensions and other social security. To this would be added the $9,000,000 already being raised and if matched by Federal funds, the total would be $53,000,000 for social security in Texas—old age assistance, aid to dependent mothers and children, the needy blind and crippled.

To provide the State's share of the teacher retirement fund, Sadler proposes a tightening of the State franchise tax—a tax on corporations for the privilege of doing business in Texas.

Critics object that Sadler would place the entire load of paying social security on three industries—oil, gas and sulphur, but his supporters assert that the tax rate proposed is not heavy that that industries are not now paying anything for old age pensions and other social security.

Sadler is strongly against a sales tax and he declares that a transaction tax or a gross receipts tax is just a sales tax under another name—that the consumer will have to pay it finally.

That is what critics of Sadler's own tax plan say—that it doesn't matter what kind of tax you have, the public usually is the one who pays it. However, Sadler counters with the declaration that 80 per cent of the oil, gas and sulphur produced in Texas is consumed outside of Texas and, so if the tax is passed on, it still will not be paid by the people of this State.

FREE TRAINING FOR YOUTH

More than 40,000 students from all parts of the world have received tuition-free training at the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, founded 34 years ago by D. L. Moody, noted evangelist. In these years thousands of graduates have entered special Christian service as pastors, evangelists, Bible teachers, directors of Christian education, gospel song leaders, Sunday School superintendents and teachers in churches of nearly all denominations. More than 2,200 have gone out as missionaries to 70 foreign countries under various church boards. Twelve of these have met death as martyrs, while 1,500 are still on the field.

Last year nearly 3,000 attended the Day and Evening Schools, and 14,000 were enrolled in the Correspondence School. The Bible is the principal textbook, but courses are offered also in Sunday School Administration, Gospel Music, Public Speaking, Home Economics, Manual Training, Homiletics, Apologetics, Greek, Hebrew, and medical subjects for missionary work.

There are three terms a year—fall, winter and summer. An illustrated catalogue will be mailed on request. Address: 153 Institute Place, Chicago.

56 Candidates File For Texas State Offices

Voters of Knox county and all of Texas will have the privilege of office this year, since this is the number reported filed with the state executive committee before midnight Monday, the deadline.

Two filings received through the mails that were postmarked Monday brought the candidates for railroad commissioner to 19, to lead the list. Latest entries were C. A. Everts, Dallas independent oil man and Bailey Sheppard of Longview.

Nine entries were listed in the governor's race, including former governor Dan Moody, whose name was filed by friends. Moody has not indicated whether he will accept a place on the ticket. There were 13 candidates for governor two years ago.

The next most popular office sought by candidates is chief justice of the supreme court, with 7 entries. Three applications were received in the mail Tuesday.

Runoffs will be possible in only five of the 13 state races, it was announced. In the contests for the eight other offices, there are two entries in seven races and an unopposed candidate—Attorney General Gerald C. Mann.

The state committee will meet in Austin next Monday to certify names of candidates for the first primary, July 27.

Wade Porpoise Food Habits

Indications are scientific research will dispel a contention which has long been made up and down the Texas coast—the porpoise should be killed out because they eat millions of desirable fish such as trout, rockfish and salt water shrimp. Investigation of porpoises by the Texas Game, Fish and Uyster Commissioner's marine biologists have been carried on for some weeks at Freeport. They will be continued for a year. The biologists have found no evidence of porpoises eating game fish. They have examined the stomach contents of 18 of these mammals which were killed by means of Mills wharf. Examinations to date show that the porpoises eat mostly mullet and grasshead shad. A puffer and needle gear were also discovered, but no trout, robs, drums or other game fish.

Very little is known of the porpoise and the Game Department will carry on a comprehensive study. The size of the baby porpoises may be surprising to many people. One newly-born porpoise was five feet, seven inches long. This large size for babies is common with members of the whale group. The porpoise is a small toothed whale.

Woman Outfishes Men

It took a woman to carry off the best prize in a fishing contest held at Lake Kemp recently. Crispie Scherman has been struggling through an annual Wichita Valley Fishing Derby with a three-pound crappie as their goal. Mrs. Elwood Hackney of Knox City, Texas, shattered the male ego of that section when she came in with a three-pound, 12-ounce crappie.

Having Wonderful Time at Folksy Fair

WEST TEXAS's typical American family are having fun at the folksy World's Fair in New York and here they are returning the official greeting, 'Hello Folks!' at the popular Ford Exposition.

Left to right we have: Johnny, 19; Margaret-Jean, 15; Mrs. D. E. Leathers and (in driver's seat) Mr. Leathers looking over his shoulder is C. R. Carroll, their escort. They're trying out the new lightweight Ford tractor. This powerful, inexpensive machine will, in the opinion of Henry Ford, stimulate farm drudgery and bring young people back to the land.

The Leathers were chosen as the typical American family of West Texas. Thus they saw their hunt, with everything free. As you can see by this photo, they're having a mighty good time of it—as everybody does at this year's big nation-journeef-home fair.

The high hats and high prices of last year are gone. Many of the best shows are free—among them "A Thousand Times Nigh," the hilarious horse-opera in the magnificent new Ford Playhouse. There's a motion picture, too, and the show takes place every hour. Dinner at the fair costs as little as 30 cents. The Mayor of New York's committee gives out lists showing where to rent a previously-inspected room for $1 a night.

As special guests of the Ford Exposition, the Leathers were entertained royally. They dined in a beautiful room in which such notable as Mary Pickford, William K. Vanderbilt, Kate Smith and Burton K. Wheeler enjoyed Ford hospitality. The typical Americans travel in a typical car, a deluxe Ford V-8. All their traveling and transportation expenses are paid by the Ford Motor Company.

Visits Here

Tom L. Beauchamp of Tyler, judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals, was a visitor in the city last Friday, working in the interest of his candidacy for his first full term. Beauchamp was appointed to this bench on October 10, 1939.

Judge Beauchamp delivered the commencement address to the class of 1940 at Texas Christian University last Monday night, and received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from the university.

a top speed of 121 miles per hour with a cruising speed of 105 miles per hour. It will have a 225-horsepower, seven-cylinder, air-cooled engine, the make of which has not yet been determined.

"In lots of 100 these planes will cost, complete, $10,000 each. Singly they will sell for around $47,000," Mr. Brown said. "Instruments measuring down to one ten-thousandth of an inch are being used in the construction of the plane."

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dodson and Wanda Beth of Weinert were in town Saturday, visiting friends and shopping.

Miss Mayme Crouch, teacher in the local schools, left last Tuesday for Denton where she will attend N.T.S.T.C. this summer.

Dr. A. A. Smith returned home last Saturday from a Temple hospital where he spent several days for medical checkup. Arthur Smith, Jr., went after him Friday and they returned home late Saturday afternoon.

Army To Get First Airplane Of Texas Plant

The Southern Aircraft Corporation, located on the outskirts of Houston near the Beaumont Highway, the only aircraft manufacturing plant in Texas, will soon turn its first plane over to the United States army for testing, according to Willis C. Brown, president of the corporation. Mr. Brown is a member of the Chamber of Commerce aviation committee.

The plane, a two-place open cockpit, highly staggered biplane with tandem seating arrangement and dual stick controls, is designed specifically for the primary training of military pilots.

Designed structurally with such load factors as to insure safety under all conditions of flight encountered in primary training and acrobatic maneuvers, the engineers have given particular consideration to low cost of maintenance in service and to accessibility for replacement of parts, as well as to maximum visibility for instructor and student.

Mr. Brown, who built his first airplane when he was only 14 years of age and still in high school in Tulsa, Okla., will fly the plane on its preliminary tests at the Houston Municipal Airport about June 1. After a final checkup he will fly the plane to Wright Field at Dayton, Ohio, for the official government tests, he said.

The plane is built so that with modifications it can be furnished with apparatus for photographic work; and, when equipped with higher horsepower engines, can be used for water flying. The ship has a wing spread of 34 feet and is 22 feet long. Its empty weight is 1847 pounds and when loaded with 45 gallons of gasoline and five gallons of oil weighs 2700 pounds.

The plane is designed to attain

U.S. Forests Are Valuable To Many Sections

Austin.—More than a million people depend upon the national forests of the United States for a livelihood, P. F. W. Prater, supervisor of Texas National Forests, said today in a statewide radio broadcast of the "U. S. Government Reports" series.

Important as this is, however, he added other values of the national forests to the American people are impossible to define in dollars and cents. Watershed, wildlife and recreation values, he said, are of incalculable worth.

Interviewed by B. Frank White, Acting State Director for the Office of Government Reports, Mr. Prater placed the number of national forests in the United States at 161, which cover more than 175 million acres of land in 40 states and Alaska and Puerto Rico.

Describing the work of the Forest Service in administering these vast public domains, Prater declared that those entrusted with their management have dedicated themselves to one ideal—to provide the greatest good to the greatest number of people for all time.

"They thought they had me on the spot!"

"I WORK for the electric company, and when I tell the boys rates have gone down, they say, 'Why don't our bills go down?'"

"Now all those fellows pay money to bowl, yet they don't give it a second thought. I suppose because they see what they get. It would be the same if they bought an extra pack of cigarettes. But electric service, that's different. When they want to do something nice for their wives they buy some electric appliance to make the housework lighter. Or they buy an electric razor for themselves. They get lots of comfort and pleasure out of those gadgets. But when the bills come in they forget how much they got for that money."

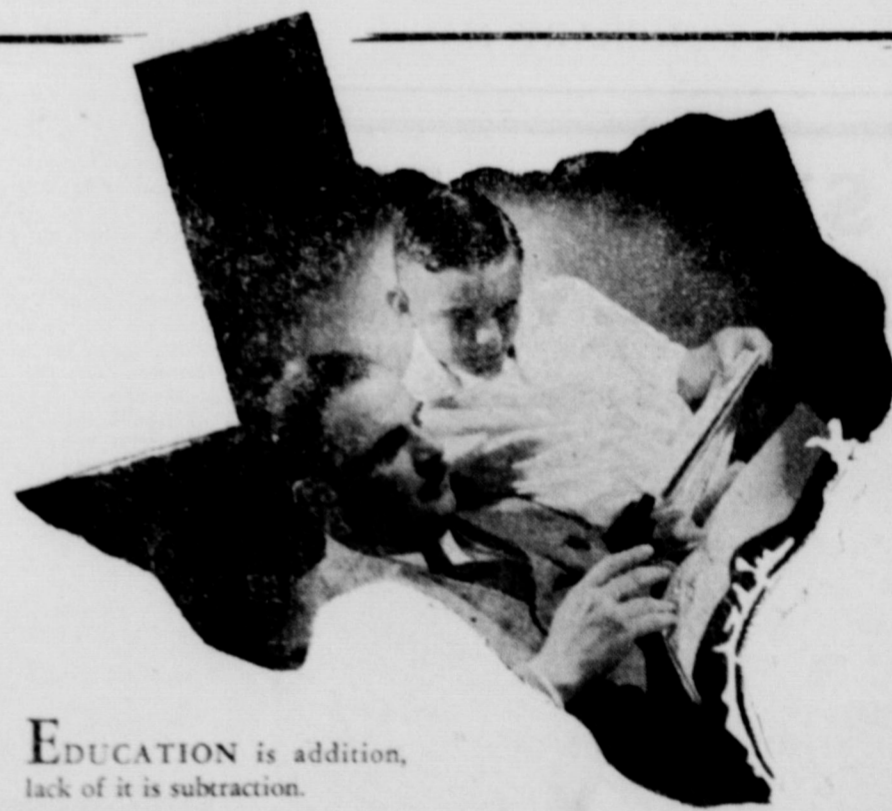

"The reason some bills don't go down is that most people use a lot more electricity than they used to. All the boys have electric light, a radio, a washing machine and a toaster in their homes, and most of 'em have electric ice-boxes and vacuum cleaners too. Yet it doesn't cost 'em much more, if any, to operate all those things than it used to cost for light alone, because rates have been cut just about in half during the last twelve or fifteen years."

"If we could sell electric service by the pound, people could see what they get. They'd realize how much they use and how many jobs it does. And they'd appreciate how much less it costs now."

"I'm glad to be in a job where I help people get more of the good things of life. All of us at the plant feel that way. We know people depend on us to give them better service for less money, and that's just what we aim to do."

Cites Rules for Protection of Anglers

Observance Of Rules Tends For Happier Fishing Trips

Austin.—With tens of thousands of fishermen on lakes and streams in Texas, the executive secretary of the State Game Department today outlined a few simple rules for the protection of the angler from accidents, and at the same time outlined practices in the handling and treatment of fish and minnows that should be followed in Texas waters are to be as productive of these species as every angler expects them to be.

For your own safety and for the producing of better fishing, check these rules and see if you're living up to them:

At a glance one can usually tell whether or not he has caught a fish that must be returned to the water. Catch the fish in the lower lip with your thumb and forefinger, remove the hook and release him easily to the water. If it is not easily to the water. If it is necessary to catch the fish with your hands, wet your hand first to prevent the disturbance of the protective slime that covers the fish. Be sure you have a legal fish before it goes on the string. This oversight might make a fishing trip an unhappy one. Check your tackle box for a ruler before you leave home or mark off the lengths on your boat or tackle box. Remember bass must be eleven inches long and crappie seven inches. Do not waste fish. Take only those that can be used, and use those that you take.

Seining bait may prove to be more expensive than buying it from a bait dealer, if care is not taken. Be sure than you do not seine minnows over three inches long, small bass, crappie and perch are not minnows. All species other than minnows must be released to the water immediately. Minnows that are too small for bait should likewise be returned to the water. They may be large enough for bait next time you go fishing. They are also valuable fish food. It is illegal to injure small fish or leave them on the bank to die.

Never use a boat that is unsafe and always have life preservers for every member of the crew. Boats with rotten boards should never be used. In case your boat does turn over, never get excited. Most wooden boats will support three or four people even if turned over or filled with water. Wait for help and never try to swim a great distance to shore. Many a good swimmer has lost his life trying this stunt. If it is necessary to swim, never try to swim with your clothes on. Remove your shoes first and then other clothes. It is better to lose your clothes than your life. Never wade unknown waters with hip boots, because if you go into water over your head with hip boots on, it is nearly impossible to remove them. Every fisherman should have some first-aid equipment in his fishing outfit. Scratches and bruises should be treated immediately to prevent infection. Never try to get a complete sun tan on a single fishing trip. The pain from sun burns is a poor trade for a sun tan. Every fisherman should have a kit to treat poison snake bites.

Practice safety first and maybe you will not have to use first-aid.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

"Our watermelons have a heart," reads a roadside sign.

Writers, seeking material for biographies, usually select a captain of finance, a canal-builder, or a soldier of fortune as a subject. Yet there are people all around us whose lives would make a wonderful book.

Recently, J. C. Wilkerson, of the Comanche Chief told about a fellow-townsman—O. O. Brightman, born at Old St. Mary's in Refugio county, a town no longer existing. Reared in the Coast country where there was an abundance of fish, oysters, wild turkeys and wild hogs. Mr. Brightman has had a varied and successful business career—farming, running a gin, meat market, general store, cotton, grain and oil and automobile business.

When Comanche county was a great cotton area, sometimes producing 50,000 bales, he was one of the State's biggest cotton merchants, buying and selling all over Texas and making or losing a thousand dollars or more on lots of days.

There was an interlude when he engaged in mining in Central America but came a revolution and holdings were confiscated. To show for this adventure, Mr. Brightman has a few rare eggs and monkey skins.

His father, a noted hunter who died at the age of 90, was fond of telling about having crawled into a hole unarmed and bringing out a wildcat.

Mr. Brightman couldn't pass the physical examination for service in the Spanish-American War. His ambition for military duty was realized through a son, Dwight, who in his teens saw service overseas in the World War; was one of the youngest sheriffs in the county's history and is now a G-man.

Why don't you write the book, Mr. Wilkerson?

"The Golden Gate International Exposition opened on Treasure Island in a blaze of color and glory," writes Don B. Burger, formerly of Abilene, Cisco and El Paso, whom this columnist had the pleasure of seeing last winter out in San Francisco where he manages the Sir Francis Drake, outstanding hotel of the Pacific Coast. His letter, after mentioning that the San Francisco World's Fair entertained one of the largest single gatherings in the history of the West on opening day, continues:

"Comments are even more glowing than in '39. An entirely new 'Pageant of the Pacific' glows on Treasure Island. Every exhibit, every building, every corner of the fabulous island on San Francisco Bay breathes magic and excitement. Man, the unknown, becomes your neighbor at the World's Fair. The arts, sciences and industries are unfolded in a fascinating fashion. The world's greatest art collection now includes the contemporary gems of Europe and the Americas.

"Day and night there is a procession of grand shows: The mammoth 'America! Cavalcade of a Nation,' a dynamic pageant of United States history; 1940 'Follies Bergere'; Billy Rose's famous Aquadance! four-star radio programs with nationally known personalities; the great San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, directed by Pierre Monteux, featuring renowned guest artists; famous swing bands; international folk festivals; gigantic fireworks displays—these are but a few of the specially planned attractions.

"The Hotel Sir Francis Drake is Texas headquarters in San Francisco and a Texas handshake and welcome await all from the Lone Star State."

"Dogwood," a beautiful bit of writing by E. C. Lowe found and reproduced in his Lovely Reporter:

At the time of the crucifixion, the Dogwood had the size of the oak and other forest trees. So firm and strong was the tree that it was chosen as the timber for the Cross. To be used for such a cruel purpose greatly distressed the tree, and Jesus, nailed upon it, sensed this, and in His gentle pity for all sorrow and suffering said of it:

"Because of your regret and pity for suffering never again shall the Dogwood tree grow large enough to be used as a Cross: Henceforth it shall be slender and bent, and twisted, and its blossoms shall be in the form of a Cross—two long and two short petals, and in the center of the outer edge of each petal there will be nail prints. Brown with rust and stained with blood and in the center of the flower will be a crown of thorns, and all who see it will remember."

Sincere sympathy is extended to Max Bentley, noted newspaperman of Abilene, at the loss of his mother, the daughter of General Tom Green.

South Austin Advocate refers to this commentator as "the Advocate columnist" and the Fort Davis Dispatch calls me "the Dispatch Columnist." It is a compliment to be regarded as part of the staff of newspapers in which this column appears.

Clark Coursey, for the past several years manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce publicity department, has returned to Brownwood to become right hand man to Editor White of the Banner.

Cure Resigns As Weinert Coach

To Coach In McMurtry College, Abilene

Elmo Cure, Weinert high school coach for the past two years, resigned his post last Friday to accept a job as assistant coach at McMurtry college, Abilene. Cure will assume his duties there on September 1.

He plans to attend a two weeks coaching school in San Antonio this summer, and his duties at McMurtry will be to assist in all sports activities.

Cure has received wide recognition through the teams he has coached at Weinert the past two years. His 1939 football team won the championship of 11-B, and his basketball team lost only three games out of the 28 played. Weinert's track team won the Haskell county championship this spring and was fourth in the district.

Two all-district gridsters of Weinert will enroll at McMurtry next fall and try out for the football team, Cure said. They are W. T. Johnson and R. S. Sanders. A new coach at Weinert will be named within a few weeks, officials of the school said.

SANTA FE CARLOADINGS
The Santa Fe System carloadings for the week ending June 1, 1940, were 17,646, as compared with 17,939 for the same week in 1939. Received from connections were 1,912, as compared with 4,581 for the same week in 1939. The total cars moved were 22,589, as compared with 22,808 for the same week in 1939. The Santa Fe handled a total of 23,377 cars during the preceding week of this year.

Bruce Deval of Abilene visited friends and relatives here last Sunday.

Miss Gayle Preston of Burkhardt visited friends here the first of this week.

New Way to Prevent Undue "Influence"

Jay Jostyn, who plays "Mr. District Attorney" on the radio Thursday nights, has a suggestion for district attorneys. It is shown here. Because pretty feminine defendants are likely to use their charms on juries and judges, his idea is to have the jurymen, the judge and even the court stenographer wear black glasses whenever a lovely lassie testifies. Here they are shown in court, with "Mr. District Attorney" quizzing a fair defendant, played by Gwen Williams, and Vicki Vola, who plays the district attorney's secretary, watching the proceedings without interest.

Rhineland Wins 19 to 9 Victory Over Benjamin

Rhineland was forced to come from behind last Sunday to overwhelm Benjamin by a score of 19 to 9 and move to within one victory of first half honors in the Knox county softball league.

With the score 9 to 6 against them as late as the sixth inning, as the result of Decker's initial experience of being kicked from the mound, the Raiders suddenly found the range and amassed a total of 21 knocks, with ever man in the lineup collecting at least one safety. Montgomery came to the aid of Decker and came through with a splendid bit of relief pitching, permitting only one run.

C. Wilde drove our four safeties for the second time this season. This game also marked the termination of a protracted hitting slump for Dutch Kuehler, veteran backstop, whose clever, brainy handling of pitchers hasn't been fully recognized. Lennie Kuehler continued to astound the fans with his phenomenal play at short.

There will be two determined teams on the field next Sunday; Munday to avenge a previous loss, and Rhineland out to cinch the first half. It goes without saying that this will be a hard-fought battle.

Shelterbelt In Cottle County Is Acclaimed Best

Wichita Falls, Tex.—The Dunlap area in Cottle County, Texas, has one of the most effective shelterbelt concentrations in the county," declared Paul H. Roberts, director of the Prairie States Forestry Project, during the course of his inspection of Texas shelterbelts.

The Dunlap area attracted his attention because after two years of growth, some 55 miles of shelterbelt located from Paduach north have shown that the farm operators really appreciate the value of the trees. Growing conditions have been ideal and they have been admirably assisted by the excellent care and cultivation given the trees over the past two years.

Many shelterbelts are already exerting their influence over adjacent fields. Much of the topsoil which was constantly being blown away in past years is now being protected by the mile after mile of living barriers formed by the green trees. Crops are weathering the spring blow periods in excellent shape. The number of sowings necessary to establish a crop has been reduced considerably.

The realization of these much-talked-of benefits has led to requests for additional plantings to improve the value of the basic shelterbelts. Marving Angle, local forester, reported a few intermediate shelterbelts planted in 1940 with several requests for 1941

Gets Degree

DR. FRED C. EASTHAM

The degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred on Rev. Fred C. Eastham, Wichita Falls pastor, above, in the exercises at Hardin Simmons University recently. Honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters was conferred on Dr. John L. Hill, Nashville, Tenn., editor, author and lecturer, who delivered the commencement address.

The university conferred 149 bachelor of arts, science and music, and master of arts degrees at this, its 48th annual commencement, graduating one of the largest senior classes in its history.

Applications for 1941 shelterbelts will be accepted throughout the summer.

Mr. Roberts is from Lincoln, Nebraska, and head of the shelterbelt work in the six states of North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Green visited relative in Wichita Falls over the weekend. Mrs. Green remained for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mosby.

Ranch Hands To Vacation At The Cowboy Reunion

Stamford, Texas.—It's getting to be an old ranch custom! After the spring round-up and branding are finished, bosses and cowboys load up the old chuck wagon and head for Stamford and the Texas Cowboy Reunion as a sort of vacation. There the ranch hands set up camp on a special reservation provided for that purpose. They eat at the chuck wagon, compete in the cowboy rodeo and take in the other attractions of the annual celebration.

W. G. Swenson, president of the Texas Cowboy Reunion, announced this week that all ranchers are invited to bring their chuck wagons for the eleventh annual Reunion on July 2, 3 and 4. All provisions, including groceries and meats, after the wagons reach the Reunion grounds, are furnished without charge by the Reunion management. Employees and owners of the ranches bringing the wagons will be given chuck wagon passes. Visitors may have the novelty of eating at a chuck wagon but are required to pay for the meal.

Among the famous West Texas ranches which brought their chuck wagons last year were the 6666 ranch of Guthrie, Matador ranch of Matador, Waggoner DDD ranch, Reynolds Land and Cattle Company, Kent county; SMS Flattop ranch, Stamford; SMS Spar ranch, Spur, and the SMS Throckmorton ranch. Some of these have been coming every year since the Reunion was started. The Wichita Falls Chuck Wagon "gang" also brought their wagon, which is a typical ranch layout.

The chuck wagon camp is one of the interesting sights for Reunion visitors.

Cecil Smith spent the week end in Weinert, visiting his cousins, R. C. Gordy and Monroe Belknap.

Little Jo Ann Fore of Happy, Texas, is here this week visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Braly.
