Deadline Near For Applications For Classing, Market News Service

Cotton producers who have formed groups to improve the quality of cotton or who are members of a variety cotton communities should make application at once if they want to receive the free classing and market news services provided under the Smith-Doxey Act, according to announcement by J. R. Kennedy, in charge of the Agricultural Marketing Service in Dallas.

Mr. Kennedy states that a large number of applications are now being received from Texas and Oklahoma, and it is expected that the number of groups making application will exceed that of last season. Reports and comments from the 287 cotton improvement groups in Texas and the 106 groups in Oklahoma who received the free classing and market news services last year indicate that the more than 25,000 members benefited substantially from the free classing and market news service.

There are, no doubt, many growers who could qualify for these services, but have neglected to make application. These growers should form groups and request application forms from the Agricultural Marketing Service and submit their applications prior to August 1, the deadline in all of Texas except the High Plains; and by August 15 for the High Plains and Oklahoma.

Instructions and forms for making applications may be obtained from the county agent, or by writing directly to the Agricultural Marketing Service, Box 1369, Dallas; Box 1140, Austin; or Room 509 U.S. Courthouse, El Paso, Texas.

Red Raiders In Win Column; Down Benjamin

The Rhineland Red Raiders resumed winning ways Sunday, after their upset loss to Goree, by easily downing Benjamin at Rhineland, 13 to 7. This was expected to be a fairly close game, but little improvement in Benjamin's play was noted.

Decker, the Raider hurler, pitched no hit, no run ball until the seventh when slightly overcome by the intense heat, he weakened to allow all of Benjamin's tallies. Bivins tossed far better ball for Benjamin that the score would indicate, but his support faltered at crucial moments.

Benefiting by regular play, "Check" Smith, the Rhineland second-sacker, led both teams in hitting with three two-base smackers down the third base line.

Next Sunday Rhineland visits Munday, which team is now proudly perched on top of the ladder with perfect percentage. The Raiders are determined to knock them down from their lofty pedestal, a position they are entirely unaccustomed to.

Goree Resident Observes His 83rd Birthday July 4th

Edwin W. Norris, prominent resident of Goree, connects his birthday with important national events. He was born July 4, 1857, at Springfield, Kentucky, the year that saw Buchanan inaugurated as president of the United States, and the year in which the U. S. Supreme Court rendered the famous Dred Scott decision.

Last week Norris celebrated his 83rd birthday. His wife, his two children, Mrs. Floyd Coffman of Littlefield, and E. P. Norris of Goree, and several grandchildren were present for the birthday celebration.

Mr. Norris is in good health and is an ardent fisherman. On the walls of his cabin at Lake Kemp may be seen rough sketches of the "big ones" he has caught, with the penciled notation, "Caught by Daddy Norris, May 1, 1938," etc. Norris has been a life-long Democrat, is a member of the First Christian church of Goree, and has been a member of the Masonic lodge for more than 50 years. He has been awarded a 50-year button by the Grand Lodge of Texas. He moved to Texas from Kentucky in 1905, and has lived at Goree for the past 33 years.

Cemetery Work Is Under Way

Boy Scouts Cleaning Cemetery Grounds

The Cemetery Association is pleased to announce that the Boy Scouts of Munday are working to clean the weeds from the cemetery. Parents are assisting the boys, but we need more men and women to work with them to take water and keep the hoses sharpened; in fact, to lend a helping hand in every way possible.

Those who can't help just now are asked to please help in some way to keep the cemetery decently clean of weeds. If you can't go on business days, go any time you are free to give an hour or two for this work.

When the weeds are cut, we will need a truck or two, or pickups, and one or two men with hay-forks to load the weeds for hauling them out.

We have the money to pay three men to work one full day. The cemetery association, of which you are a member as well as a few who are active at all times, will give a donation to the Scouts, who deserve much credit for their attitude toward this work. Any amount of money will help this needed work.

Signed:
Maud Labell, Pres.
Mrs. W. V. Tiner, Secy.

SUPT. COLLEY AND HIS FAMILY MOVES HERE TO BEGIN SCHOOL WORK

Supt. and Mrs. S. Vidal Colley, formerly of Strawn, Texas, came in last Thursday to make their home in Munday, and Mr. Colley began his duties as superintendent of the Munday schools. Mr. Colley stated Saturday their two boys would join them here within a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Colley are at home in the C. A. Elland residence in Munday.

What Modernization Can Do

The possibilities that lie in modernization of old homes could hardly be illustrated more graphically than in these pictures of a Home Owners' Loan Corporation home. The cracked and discolored stucco was removed, and fresh new clapboard siding was substituted. The old-fashioned porch was trimmed down to 1940 proportions and a garage was attached to the house. A simple hip roof served to give new symmetry to the remodeled home. Private lending institutions make loans for this type of work, and these alterations are eligible for financing under the Modernization Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration. Even construction of the garage could be financed under the FHA plan, as it became a permanent part of the house.

Knox County To Get More Money For School Purposes

Austin, July 5.—Knox county will receive $1436 more from the state this year to operate its schools than it did last year, State Supt. L. A. Woods estimated today. This is based on the assumption that the county will have the same number of students next year as it had last year.

Supt. Woods said the action of the state board of education in raising the per capita from $22 to $22.50 was another step toward bettering the educational facilities of Texas.

Supt. Woods has led the fight for increased per capita appropriations to schools since he came into office. The per capita when Supt. Woods was first elected was $16, and it has been raised year by year until the $22.50 mark was established. Supt. Woods pointed out that increased state assistance to schools, plus more efficient management and improved teaching methods have been largely responsible for Texas being raised to 18th educational rank in the union from the low rank of 36th which it held in 1932.

It is not expected that the additional per capita appropriation will increase state expenditures as a whole, Woods pointed out, since the scholastic population has decreased in some localities.

Legion Men And Wives Enjoy Picnic Tuesday

Members of Lowry Post No. 44 of American Legion, ex-service men and their families and guests enjoyed the American Legion ladies' night and picnic last Tuesday night.

Due to a change in plans, the picnic was held back of the elementary school building instead of the roadside park. Each family brought a basket of food, and all the food was spread on a huge table and was served with lemonade to all present. A bountiful supply was on hand, with plenty left over after all had eaten heartily.

Members of the Legion carried baskets of food to some of their buddies who, because of illness, were unable to attend.

About 60 people enjoyed the picnic. Commander Don Ferris announced that officers of the post would be elected at the next regular meeting, which will be the second Tuesday night in August.

NYA Training Project To Be In East Texas

Youths of This Section May Be Enrolled

This area of Texas again has the opportunity of sending several boys to a work experience training project in South Texas.

This project, operated by the National Youth Administration, is located at Burnet, Texas. This work experience training project offers courses in woodwork, metal work, and foundry work, and especially on courses in machine shops. After one has attended this project for nine months, he should have received sufficient training to secure some sort of private employment.

The National Youth Administration has functioning at this time a placement bureau to assist in such matters. Since industry is increasing their number of workers, and these is a slight shortage of workers, it is evident that this would be a marvelous opportunity for boys to receive training in the field where there is demand for more labor.

The youths that attend this project are furnished food, lodging, work clothes, and the opportunity of learning some sort of trade. Besides this, they are paid $12.00 per month. Transportation is furnished to this project by the National Youth Administration. This project is located in the heart of Central Texas, surrounded by beautiful hills covered with cedars. Near the project is one of the largest and most beautiful lakes in the State of Texas, which generates electricity that supplies the city of Austin.

Enrollments may be sent to this project about the last of the month.

Gold Star awards, goal of all club members, are given annually to the 100 boys and 100 girls of Texas who have proved, by their farming and home demonstrations, that they are most proficient young Texans on the farms for the past calendar year. They were selected, after a study of reports, by L. L. Johnson, state boys' club agent, and Miss Ona Jacks, state girls' club agent, both of the college's extension service.

H. H. Williamson, director of the extension service, announced the awards and made a short address pointing out the importance of the training their demonstrations have given them for their future life.

Cardinals Take 5-3 Win Sunday Over Knox City

The Munday Cardinals won their third straight league game last Sunday afternoon by defeating the Knox City team by a score of 5 to 3. The Cards collected 11 hits from Pitcher Allison, while Strickland, southpaw ace of the Cards, held the Knox City bats to seven hits.

A four-run rally in the third on safe hits by Rayburn, O. Taylor, and the King brothers, put the Cards in the lead. Strickland doubled in the ninth, and this scored O. Taylor's single to finish the Cards' tallies.

The Cards came out of a tough spot in the ninth, after Knox City loaded the bases with only one out, by superb pitching by Strickland and great backing by his teammates. B. King, Strickland and O. Taylor led the hitting attack for the Munday boys with two safe hits each.

The locals played Green River at Wichita Falls last week and lost the game on a tough break in the ninth. The final score was 3 to 4. Safe hitting by B. King, Strickland and Reid enabled the Cards to cross the plate three times and step in the lead until the ninth inning, when the Green River boys ran in two to take the game.

The Cardinals are entering a tournament at Wichita Falls, and they will meet the Mother's Bread club on Friday night.

Next Sunday afternoon the Red Raiders of Rhineland will invade the Cardinals' home ground with victory as their goal, but the Cards are going dogmatically into the game to try to win their fourth straight league victory.

FSA Land Loans Still Available To Good Tenants

The period during which tenant farmers may apply for loans to buy their own farms has been extended in Knox County to July 20, it was announced today by FSA Supervisor Joe B. Spears.

"This application period has been extended," Mr. Spears said, "in order that every worthy tenant farmer in the county may apply for one of these loans. A number of farmers who are eligible for these loans did not know that they could apply for them until the period had closed."

Tenant farmers to whom these loans are made do not have to make any down payment, but those who have an adequate supply of livestock and equipment free of debt are given preference. The money is repayable over a 40-year period at three per cent interest.

Application blanks for these loans may be obtained at the FSA office located in the courthouse at Seymour, Texas, also, at the courthouse in the County Clerk's office at Benjamin, Texas.

What He Does For His Community Lives On and On"—

NOW IS THE TIME TO ACT

Congress now has a real chance to make the industrial job of providing for our national defense a whole lot easier.

Here's the situation: The Smith Bill, amending the Wagner Labor Relations Act, was recently passed by a whopping big majority in the House of Representatives. The bill in question is the outcome of careful study of the imperfections of the Wagner Act and of the attitude of the board which administers it. For a long time the public, the press, and a major labor organization, the American Federation of Labor, have all urged that the Act be changed to make it a fairer instrument for settling industrial disputes. But now a small group of inside schemers are seeking to thwart popular will by bottling up the amendments in a Senatorial committee tangle.

The proposed amendments won't transform the Wagner Act overnight from a trouble-fomenting piece of legislation into a model of fairness, but they are an important step in the right direction, a move that need not interfere with giving consideration later to other substantial and sound changes.

But the time to act on the Smith measure is NOW, and the need for immediate action is obvious. No other legislation now pending is more vital to national defense. Efficient and uninterrupted production is necessary to national defense, and the Wagner Act in its present form has definitely slowed down our country's manufacturing machinery.

It is to the interest of all Americans for Congress to amend the Wagner Act as promptly as possible—and upon such action a large measure of our national well-being and security depends!

FLAG OF OUR COUNTRY

A few weeks ago Americans observed Flag Day. It is an occasion that has been duly observed ever since 1895, but we doubt whether, in the 45 years of its existence, the day has taken on a deeper meaning than it did this time. Events in Europe have brought about a new awakening of our national consciousness. Inevitably, therefore, the flag has again attained its true proportions as a symbol of America—America, something more than a mere name of the face of the globe; America, a single word that embraces the concepts of material welfare, spiritual dignity, and human freedom, ideals nearly extinct in so many lands and so many other human souls.

It is only natural in these troubled times that the average citizen of this country should pay particular reverence to the nation's flag. But it would be wise, too, if we remembered during all the other days of the year that this emblem of our security and our welfare is just as important. Flag Day, 1940, will have attained its fullest meaning if we retain the spirit we display at that time in our every waking moment, every day of the year.

GIVING FIRE THE GATE

The birth of a new industry is attended with many problems. And one of these problems is to provide it, at the lowest possible cost, with essential protection against the menace of fire and related hazards.

From the fire insurance expert's point of view, no two industries are exactly alike. Each has its own special risks. Each must be studied and analyzed with immense care. Each is a separate job. And unless that job is done with maximum success, any new industry's development will be retarded.

The fire insurance industry has done a fine work in meeting that obligation to American industry. As Colonel Layton of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, recently pointed out, fire insurance has never failed, when called upon, to swiftly meet the needs of new industries for vital protection against the ever-present danger of fire. And fire insurance doesn't work on the theory of getting the largest possible premium for each dollar of insurance written. It works on the opposite principle—to provide the lowest possible rate consistent with the safe and sound operation of its business.

And the labors of fire insurance don't stop when the policy goes into force. Each new industry—and the old industries as well—are constantly studied with a view of reducing hazards. Experts make surveys to show managements better ways to control and prevent fire. Every resource of the great fire prevention organization of insurance companies is at the service of American industry—day and night, in every state and in every community.

This means that fewer jobs will be lost because of fire. It means that less wealth will be destroyed by fire. It means that there will be fewer setbacks in America's industrial progress because of fire. And that is a great and lasting service to us all.

It seems to be a settled fact that our famous "debt limit" will be raised 4 billion dollars as the first step of Congress to get more war money. The present "possible" one billion dollars yearly increase for national defense taxes is likely to be "probable" in a few days, and "certain" before this month is over.

We still hesitate at the thought of sending our young men to Europe to fight. Yet, if it comes then let there be no stopping until they have put dictators where they will be unable to dictate.

ENOUGH TO MAKE YOU SEE RED

A Justice of the New York Supreme Court ruled that it is not libelous to call an American a Communist. He points out that, while the Communist party "actually has its roots in foreign lands" and while its members "have potentially obligated themselves even to overthrow our government by force and violence," the party still, "under the existing law, may function as a political party."

The decision in question shows how extremely careful Americans are to preserve the democratic rights which individuals and minority groups in this country enjoy. In the case of the Communists, indeed, we lean over backwards to insure protection for an organization that has no respect for and no understanding of the very principles which make its continued existence here possible.

It may not be libelous at the present time to call a person in the United States a Communist—but it strikes us as being about the most insult "non-libelous" remark that could possibly be addressed to an American citizen.

TIMES CHANGE

Times do change. Witness the truly magnificent spectacle of thousands of merchants in virtually every county of the nation striving to dispose of the South's surplus cotton! This is the kind of Union that Abraham Lincoln visualized over half a century ago amidst the bitterness of the bloodiest civil war in history.

Cotton is the life of the South. Cotton is bread and butter to millions of people, both in the South and other sections of the country. A glutted cotton market imperils the welfare of these millions. Cotton exports are at dismal lows. The solution of the cotton problem must be found, in part at least, at home. This in a nutshell, is the impelling motive behind the cotton "campaign."

Every resource of modern distribution is being called into action. The promotional campaign in behalf of "King Cotton" is far more than merely another sales promotion stunt. It is indicative of a new era, an era in which organized cooperation between producers and retailers promises to reign supreme, the kind of cooperation that benefits consumers. Efficiency, and service, at minimum cost, are its bywords.

Yes, there is far more than appears to the eye in the promotion of cotton week. It is a powerful example of Lincoln's "more perfect union."

THE FIFTH COLUMN

What is meant by the term "Fifth Column"? Apparently it represents the activities of individuals and organizations such as Communists that are trying to weaken the power of our National Government.

This Fifth Column "takes in nuts" but applies more especially to traitors, and other classes of conspirators.

Martin Dies, a Congressman from Texas, has been telling the people of our country for more than two years that there are groups within our borders seeking the destruction of their government. Even President Roosevelt scoffed at the Dies Committee and suggested to Congress that it refuse appropriations to continue the Congressional investigation. But the President has recently received evidence from the Dies Committee that has convinced him that Fifth Column activities exist in the United States.

The Department of Justice is preparing to take over the Immigration Service and the Hoover G-Men will be assigned to the job of watching and checking up on aliens, all of whom are to be fingerprinted.

In Spain, Norway, Holland, Belgium, and other countries their "Fifth Column" civilians showed up to help the German invaders. The name of "Fifth Column" rose out of an incident in the Spanish Civil War, when traitors turned the tides of battles.

Our own so-called "Fifth Column" consists mostly of groups who sympathize with forms of government that are not democracies—such, for instance as the pro-Nazi found here and there in most communities, or in groups of persons fomenting Jewish hatreds and other racial disturbances among the Negroes.

The Federal authorities look upon our Fifth Column as filled with persons anxious for opportunities that may turn up to "create confusion of counsel, public indecision, political paralysis and, eventually, a state of panic," which is the way the President recently described the movement.

LOOK BEHIND YOU, SAMI

THEY SAY!

"The arming of America must in itself be the first practical test of our ability to act as a united people. For many years we have been anything but a united people. We have been a very expensively divided people. The arming of America must be our first great act of national unity."—Henry R. Luce, editor of Life.

"To the liberal, the purpose of government is unchangeable. It is to leave men free."—William Allen White, editor.

"Let us have the proper number of oilers rather than fellows throwing sand into the gears of industrial machines, and let us agree that whoever wants to redesign this great instrument of good spends a reasonable time of apprenticeship before we listen to the new scheme."—William S. Knudsen, president General Motors Corp.

IT'S A TRICK

There's a trick in controlling weeds in pastures by mowing. The trick, according to R. R. Lancaster, pasture specialist of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, is to mow the weeds when they reach their maximum growth at about the time the flowers form.

Mowing earlier than that does not weaken the weeds to any great extent, and later mowing allows seeds to ripen. If the mowing happens to fall in a dry period of the year, so much the better.

Mowing of pastures to control weeds and to keep grasses in a growing, vegetative state is proving the easiest and most profitable form of pasture improvement.

Reports from county agricultural agents in East Texas, the Gulf Coast, and the central part of the state indicate that reguar mowing often doubles the carrying capacity of pastures. Results from tests at the Angleton substation of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station were even more profitable.

Texas farmers who are growing flax are watching with interest a recently developed farm-sized flax seed chaffer now being demonstrated in California. The machine has a capacity of a ton an hour.

TRANQUILITY

What a sweet delight a quiet life affords.—Drummond.

I have often said that all the misfortunes of men spring from their not knowing how to live quietly at home, in their own rooms.—Pascal.

To preserve a long course of years still and uniform, amid the uniform darkness of storm and cloud and tempest, requires strength from above, deep draughts from the fount of divine love.—Mary Baker Eddy.

And the work of righteousness shall be peace; and the effect of righteousness quietness and assurance for ever.—Old Testament; Isaiah 32:17.

Serene will be our days and bright, And happy will our nature be, When love is an unerring light, And joy its own security.—William Wordsworth

WORDS OF LOVE

I really hate—I don't mean maybe, The chap who calls his girlfriend "baby." But under epithets should lie All those who murmur "sweetie-pie." And cannibals should make a lunch Of sissies who say "honey-bunch." It almost seems a sacred duty To sock the guy who speaks of "cutie."

DECEPTION

Importance of Farm, Range Programs In National Defense Is Pointed Out

Developed as a peacetime movement, the AAA farm program is an important part of the national defense program.

For by carrying out these peacetime programs for conservation, the farmers and ranchmen of the nation have made and are making an immeasurable contribution to the national defense.

That's what R. M. Evans, national AAA administrator, told the delegates to the National Range Conference in San Angelo last week, pointing to what the farmers and ranchmen are doing to strengthen the nation as proof of his statement.

"First, they are building up the productive power of the farm land and of the range through wide-spread use of conservation practices," the administrator said, "and second, they are cooperating in a program designed to make agriculture a healthy industry that provides abundance now and will continue to provide that abundance in the future."

The speaker pointed out that sound agriculture is essential to national strength and that the AAA stands more clearly than ever before as a "vital bulwark to our national defense program, by helping farmers and ranchmen to conserve and build up the agricultural resources of the United States—resources as important to our future as in our past development."

Tracing briefly the exhaustion of the nation's rangeland through over-use and the subsequent movement to re-build the grasslands, the administrator declared it was only natural that the people of the United States, through their government, should take an interest in conservation of the range.

"Tariffs and other aids were extended to industries. We have added to the value of the national wealth by assisting railroad expansion, building highways, constructing irrigation dams and similar projects," he continued. "So the range program merely continues that policy into a new field by helping the ranchmen build up the range to its highest productivity. It is another way of adding to the nation's wealth."

Ranchmen, consumers, and businessmen all have a stake in the range conservation program, Evans said. It helps to ranchmen to conserve their lands; it has a stabilizing effect upon the range livestock production and assures the ranchmen and consumer of fair and stable prices; and it protects the livestock industry upon which the Western stockkeeper and businessman to a great extent depends for his livelihood.

Earlier Grover B. Hill, assistant secretary of agriculture and the driving force behind the organization of the range program, had told the delegates at the opening session in Midland that "beef was more important than bullets."

The assistant secretary praised the ranchmen for their cooperation with the program, pointing out that the program was devised and instituted by the ranchmen themselves and that their cooperation proved its worth.

Breakfast Honors Mrs. M. Strickland Last Thursday

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church entertained with a breakfast in the home of Fannie and Maud Isbell on Thursday, July 4, at 8:30 a.m., honoring Mrs. Melvin Strickland, who is leaving shortly for Los Angeles, Calif., to make her home.

Reception rooms were decorated with zinnias and ferns, and favors were candy boats in shape of swans. Place cards were plain, bearing the first name of each guest.

After breakfast, names were changed and each guest wrote biographical names beginning with the first letters in the name. This contest caused quite a bit of merriment, and even though an "F" and "S" and "Y" were there, names were found.

Vassar College Marks 75th Year As Monument To Founder's Vision

VASSAR COLLEGE, first private endowed women's college in the world, is celebrating its 75th anniversary this year.

Educators throughout the country are honoring the memory of its founder, Matthew Vassar, self-educated Poughkeepsie, N. Y., brewer who first made available to women educational opportunities equal to those afforded men.

Vassar had come to the United States from England as a boy, and had educated himself while clerking in a store. By the middle of the nineteenth century he was the owner of his own brewery and a leader in the community.

Charitable and industrious, he was highly regarded by his neighbors, although commonly considered a bit eccentric on the subject of higher education for women.

At the time, women's educational institutions were limited to a few seminaries and secondary schools.

Matthew Vassar, however, forced the issue. Seventy-nine years ago this Summer his neighbors gathered in little groups on the streets of Poughkeepsie, solemnly shaking their heads. Vassar had donated the money and land to put his theories to the test.

The Civil War interfered with his plans, and it was not until four years later, in 1863, that "Vassar's Folly," as the townfolk called the experiment, opened its doors. The official name of the institution at that time was Vassar Female College. This was shortened two years later to Vassar College.

Today Vassar College has 61 buildings, 950 acres of campus, a distinguished alumnae, and worldwide recognition as an institution of learning. The success of Matthew Vassar's experiment soon led to the establishment of other women's colleges. There are now more than 129 in the United States.

But Vassar never knew how widely his views were to be accepted. He died suddenly in 1883, at the age of 76, while attending a meeting of the college board of trustees. In his will, he left a second endowment to carry on the work he had started.

Mrs. W. M. Huskinson returned home last Saturday after several weeks visit with relatives in Corsicana, Wichita Falls and other points.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Bowen and family, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Heaster of Rochester, Mrs. Lois Reagan and son, Bobbie Gene; Mrs. R. H. Lain and daughter, Barbara Rose, and Leroy Henderson spent the week end on a fishing and outing trip to Lake Kemp.

Mrs. J. L. Stodghill and daughter, Sue, and Mrs. Erin McGraw and daughter, Evelyn, were visitors in Wichita Falls last Tuesday.

Mrs. Arthur A. Kitchens returned home Wednesday from Rising Star, where she had been visiting her mother, Mrs. A. B. Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Martin of Seymour visited Mrs. Martin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Reeves, over the week end.

J. D. Blacklock, father of B. L. Blacklock, is visiting his son and family here this month. Another visitor in the Blacklock home is Joe Tom Poe of Cisco.

Kamal Waheed is on his vacation. His brother, Sied Waheed, received a letter from him Tuesday and he was in Shreveport, Louisiana.

VOSS WEDDINGS ARE READ ON THURSDAY

Franklin Pierce Voss and Mrs. Etta Cunningham Voss were united in marriage on Thursday, July 4th, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham. G. M. Bryan, justice of the peace, performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Voss will make their home in Goree.

"A man's as old as he looks when he needs a shave; a woman is as old as she looks just after washing her face."

In Ohio, where a large volume of cucumbers are grown under glass, greenhouse owners have found that four colonies of bees per acre are needed to pollinate enough blossoms to produce a profitable crop. Bees do not thrive under indoor conditions and the colonies lose about a pound of bees per week. Some apiarists rent bees and agree to keep the colonies at full strength during the pollinating season.

Perhaps you like the convenience and ease of making a "quick" baking powder bread—but yet you really prefer the flavor and eating quality of the more slowly-made yeast loaf. If that is your problem—then here is the solution in this delicious whole wheat prune loaf. Baking powder and soda are used to make it "rise"—but the finished product looks and tastes like a yeast-raised bread. And you can serve it just as you would a yeast bread.

WHOLE WHEAT PRUNE LOAF

1 egg
1 cup sugar
1 tsp. soda
1 cup buttermilk
1/2 cup prune juice
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 tsp. baking powder

1 tsp. salt
1 1/2 cups whole wheat flour
1 cup cut-up pitted, well drained cooked prunes
4/4 cup chopped nuts
2 tsp. shortening, melted

Beat the egg with a rotary beater until light and fluffy. Beat in the sugar gradually. Beat in the soda, buttermilk and prune juice.

Immediately stir in the flour which has been sifted with the baking powder and salt. Blend in the whole wheat flour, prunes and nuts. Then blend in the melted shortening.

Pour into well-greased bread pan (8 1/2 by 4 1/2 inches across the bottom and 2 3/4 inches deep). Bake about 1 hour and 20 minutes in a moderate oven, 350° F.

Like all quick breads, this prune loaf will rise slightly in the center and "crack."

IMPROVES WITH AGE

Unlike most "quick" breads, however, this particular prune loaf improves in flavor and becomes easier to slice thinly as it stands. So after it has cooled thoroughly, store it in a perfectly clean and well-aired covered box of tin or aluminum that is ventilated with a few tiny air holes.

Because of this "keeping" quality, this is a particularly good bread to "have on hand" for impromptu picnics or to serve as thin sandwiches with iced tea to afternoon guests. It's delicious with a variety of other breads at a buffet supper—or a family dinner.

Rollie Fancher Makes Statement

Rollie Fancher of Baylor county was a business visitor to the city Wednesday in the interest of his campaign for District Attorney of the 50th Judicial District, composed of Baylor, Knox, King and Cottle counties, while here Rollie made the following statement:

"My policy if elected, will be to endeavor to take care of the district affairs in the same faithful way that I have in the past, and to handle every feature of the office in the best way I know how. It will be my purpose to be fair and square; with everyone, regardless of how high or how low the individual may be.

"There is one thing I prefer to be, that is a prosecutor and not a persecutor. Every man has his rights and his dues, and these will be respected. One place where I acknowledge my leniency, is in the case of a young man, with a good record, who has committed his first offense. The suspended sentence law is acknowledged to be a good one, provided it is not abused. The hardened criminal needs to be prosecuted with vigor, but even in his case I am in favor of no under-handed methods."

At The Churches

METHODIST CHURCH

Many are deploring world situations today and are looking to the church for some kind of a solution to our national and international problems, but fail to realize that the church is powerless without the whole-hearted backing of the people. After all the church is but the voice and convictions of the people expressed through Christian principles in cooperation with Divine power. The church has a message, and real aid, for people in this confused age, if they will but avail themselves of its benefits and secure the returns through a life made strong by the powers of God.

It is not a question as to whether or not Christianity, as we know it, will survive through this new age of dictators, but it is a question as to the outcome of civilization, according to our terminology, being prolonged to coming generations in the leading nations of the world. God has a way of taking care of the future existence of Christian principles. Least humanity is to be pitied and not some organization, nor do we need to worry about God being able to meet the present needs and holding intact his offer of salvation to mankind.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Again we call your attention to the fact that our meeting begins the 21st of this month. Much heart-preparation needs to be done. With so much of the world in distress our freedom should bring to us a deepened sense of humility and a more pungent desire to serve God. No one can read his Bible today without realizing that we are in perilous times. Wars, rumors of wars are upon us is what the Bible says we may look for just before the end.

We give you a cordial invitation to any or all of our services next Sunday.

W. H. Albertson

The church needs people but our people are in more serious need of the church than we are willing to admit. Wouldn't it be a nice tribute to this generation for the future to remember us as the generation that failed God and the church? According to statistics, the trend of thinking is: "Let THEM carry on and WE will just stand by."

Your church needs the best there is in you each Sunday in the year—"And I do mean YOU."

H. A. Longino, Pastor

Why America Has A Farm Problem

Another reason why the nation has a farm problem is the change from horse to mechanical power that has come since the World War.

Gasoline has reduced the market for corn, oats and hay. This change has destroyed the market for feed products from about 36 million acres which were formerly used for workstock and has released this acreage for the production of other crops.

Texas to Double Number Turkeys, Deer Distributed

New or improved methods of trapping enabled the Texas Commission to double the number of wild turkey and deer distributed this year as compared with last year, it is announced by the executive secretary of the Game Department. A total of 458 turkeys were trapped and 268 deer were planted in areas where they were needed for restocking purposes.

The report of the director of game distribution of the Game Department chief reveals that the deer either trapped in devices used by the Game Department for the first time this year or small deer which were collected by the Department were in far better condition than usual and an increase in the deer population is expected. Deer were distributed in 21 counties which still have sufficient food and proper habitat for the big game animals, but which were depleted of deer by overshooting.

Fewer than 200 wild turkeys were trapped in 1939, but the total this year was 458. Areas in 16 counties were stocked. Part of the deer and turkey were placed on the six large tracts of land leased for five years by the Game Department. These tracts are located in various sections of the state. Game will be protected from hunters on these areas, which range in size from 15,000 to 40,000 acres, for five years.

Range Conservation Work in Texas Brings $5,822,824 to Ranch Owners

Range conservation in Texas hit a new high under the 1939 AAA program when 22,236 ranches earned $5,822,824 of the $6,347,244 available for the work.

More work was done on nearly all of the approved range-building practices under the 1939 program than under the 1938 program, a summary released by the state AAA headquarters revealed.

Receding by deferred grazing was practiced on 5,397,340 acres in 1939 as compared with 4,811,614 acres the previous year.

On 154,824 acres grass was reseeded artificially, nearly three times as much as in 1938. 2,870 acres were sodded with grass.

Contour listing, furrowing or subsoiling was put into effect on 108,666 acres, and 27,089,557 acres were ridged on the contour to hold water on the range.

With 6,567,290 feet of spreader terraces constructed, the total for 1939 surpassed by more than half a million feet the work done in 1938. Spreader dam construction made a comparable gain of 200,000 cubic yards of dirt moved for a total of 1,538,484 cubic yards during the year. Concrete and rubble masonry dam construction totaled 32,568 cubic yards.

More than 16,000,000 cubic yards of dirt were moved in the construction of 17,762 stock water tanks, an increase of 4,372 over the previous year's 13,390.

Drilling of water wells to supply stock water jumped 100,000 linear feet for a total of 574,486 feet in the state. In the development of seeps and springs for watering purposes 43,971 cubic feet of soil, gravel and rock were excavated.

Prickly pear and cactus was eradicated on 1,721,762 acres of rangeland, mesquite on 120,342 acres, cedar on 668,736 acres, and lechuguilla on 157,750 acres.

Establishment of fire guards amounted to 7,967,303 linear feet and trees were planted on 289 acres.

Total rangeland in the program in 1939 amounted to 78,241,807 acres.

Under the AAA's range conservation program each ranch is allowed a maximum range-building allowance which can be earned by putting into effect approved conservation practices. The allowance is calculated according to the amount of rangeland on the ranch and the grazing capacity of the unit.

Weekly Health

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, M.D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin, Tex.—"The responsiveness of the American public to sound health suggestions from friends, acquaintances, and other less impersonal sources is very general. Fads and fancies, lacking basic worth as well as common sense, thus are literally rampant throughout the land. While many of the so-called friendly suggestions that are ardently applied by the too-trusting or gullible are not responsible for more than temporary harm or inconvenience, others are likely to result in serious complications and may even terminate in death," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"As a case in point, some time ago a man, while at an evening gathering, suddenly experienced abdominal pain, and was advised by no less than three of the party to take a dose of oil. This suggestion he immediately adopted. He actually was suffering from appendicitis, and taking the oil aggravated an extensive peritonitis which caused the loss of his life. His fate, however, may influence others who experience pain of this type, or in fact an ailment of any kind, to seek professional counsel rather than to rely upon the usually spontaneous suggestions of well-meaning but ill-informed friends.

"While health and illness are high up in the conversational scale, the fact remains that only those skilled in the practice of medicine should be relied upon for advice of any kind relating to bodily health and to the curing of an ailment.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

WIFE SAVES EVERY CENT SHE CAN

Wife decides she will buy a bedroom suite, so she powders her nose and goes down to figure with our local furniture man. She walks in, pops her heels pretty hard on the floor, and a young man who is a son of the furniture dealer comes gentlemanly up and offers a wait on her.

The young man had seen my wife at a neighbor's house a few nights before when he and his brother firemen jumped out of bed, put their clothes on as best they could on the run and had gone to put out a fire. Wife didn't recognize the young fellow, but he knew who she was. You see, my wife wasn't in such a hurry; she dressed and powdered her nose the night of the fire. But the only thought that this boy had was to save the house and its contents from destruction by fire, so he was a very bedraggled young man that night; wet, muddy and his clothes just hanging on. But he and his brother firemen got the job and saved most everything.

Wife says: "I'm in the market for a bedroom suite and if you will sell it to me as cheap as I can buy elsewhere, I'll buy from you. But I want you to know you are going to get right if you trade with me, for I am a wise buyer. The truth is I am a pretty smart business woman."

She found the suite, just what she wanted, and asked the price, which was $65. This gave the dealer a fair margin of profit, which was right; but my wife, being a sure-enough good business woman, had torn a page from her favorite wishbook at home and had it in her purse. So she brings the page into play to show the young firefighter he was too high. She says: "Now here is one that looks just as good for only $59. I am not going to let you cheat me out of $6, but if you will sell it to me at the same price I'll buy it."

The young firefighter told her he had made as close a price as he could and stay in business, but would be glad to take it to her home and put it up. She was such a good business woman she walked out. Well, she would show that outfit they were up against a wise buyer. So she makes out her order and mails it.

In about two weeks the bedroom suite comes, with transportation charges, and costing her all told $64.91. She said she didn't like the quality as well as the one she saw at the local store, but she wanted to show them she was a wise business woman.

Some nights later the fire alarm sounded, and firemen rushed out half-dressed and bareheaded. My house was on fire, so while I held my wife to keep her from going into the burning home, the same furniture man's son carried the $64.91 bedroom suite out to a safe distance. After he had done all he could, this same clerk came over and said to my wife, "Let me take you to our home to stay with mother until we get everything cleaned up and repaired."

I am asking you, does the wise buyer leave home and help build a town in some other county by spending his money there, or does he give his home town business concerns fair consideration? Think this over, then do as you dog-gone want to.

I live in Munday and am glad of it!

Bernadine Stodghill has returned to her home in Lovington, New Mexico, after a visit here in the home of Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Rogers and with other relatives.

Clifford Bolander of Graham spent the first of this week here with friends and relatives. While here he was a caller at The Times office and renewed his subscription to the home town paper.

TEXAS OUT-OF-DOORS

New Turkey Raising Plan

Austin, Texas.—Another experiment in game restoration attempted by biologists of the Texas Game Department has apparently succeeded. It is that of raising wild turkeys in semi-captivity, but in pens large enough to prevent turkeys from assuming the characteristics of tame turkeys.

Located in Robertson county on one of six large areas the Game Department has under lease in various parts of the state is a 20-acre pen. Twelve hens and three gobblers were placed in its last winter and nearly 50 turkeys were released outside the pen on the 30,000 acre tract. It was believed that not only would the turkeys inside the vermin-proof fence raise young, but their presence would decoy the hens and gobblers outside the area and thus keep them from leaving the preserve. To date the projects have been successful on both counts. A state game manager recently counted 36 young turkeys inside the 20-acre pen and there are probably more. Too, the turkeys outside have not roamed to any noticeable extent. The turkeys outside the pen have also hatched a good many poults. Thus the turkey population of the area has been doubled and may have been tripled. An accurate count is impossible due to the adeptness of turkey hens at hiding their nests.

Turkeys placed inside the fence had their wings clipped last winter. However, the wings are growing out and the birds will be allowed to leave the pen soon.

This method of raising turkeys was attempted in one other state, but with not as much success as attained in Texas, it is understood. The experiment is a Pittman-Robertson project, the federal government paying three-fourths of the cost and the Game Department the remaining fourth.

Snake Brought Angler Fish

A sportsman whose veracity is above reproach but who is publicity shy, recently related an odd experience to the Game Department.

Snake Brought Angler Fish

A sportsman whose veracity is above reproach but who is publicity shy, recently related an odd experience to the Game Department.

While fishing in the Colorado river he saw a water snake swimming toward a sandbar upon which the angler was standing. The snake had a 12-inch catfish in its mouth. Upon reaching the sandbar, the snake when only three feet away from the fisherman, apparently became alarmed, dropped the fish at the sportsman's feet and darted back into the water. The angler dropped the catfish into his creel.

How Many Texans Fish?

The question of how many people fish in Texas lakes and streams has never been known due to the unusual fishing license law in effect. Only persons using artificial bait are required to have a license. However, the Game Department is now taking a census which will probably determine the approximate number of anglers in the Lone Star State.

In addition to that information, the Department hopes to determine the kind of fish favored by Texans. At this time bass, crappie, and catfish, in the order named, are well out in front.

Fox, Quail Hunters Merge

Texas fox and quail hunters have almost always been at odds so the announcement to the State Game Department that an organization has been formed in Henderson county which includes sportsmen from both groups is really headline news. The new group, the Henderson County Hunters Association, with Bryan Wofford of Athens its president, has as its aim the uniting of the interests of quail and fox hunters in that section.

Reasons Are Lacking

Pup Boone in the Fort Worth Press: Agitation for a longer and complete closed season on fish in Texas seems to be growing constantly. I have been campaigning for that three years. I can put up a million arguments for a closed season on fishing and as yet no opponent has arisen to offer me one argument against a longer closed season on all fishing.

There is one easy way to cook well . . .

it's the MODERN GAS WAY

Haven't you found that there are some days you like to cook and some days when you just hate to think of food? And nothing seems to go just right?

But perhaps it is not just you! Perhaps your range is not helping you make cooking faster, easier or more certain.

You see, there have been big improvements in gas cooking in the past few years. Outstanding among these improvements are ovens that hold temperatures as low as 250 degrees for canning; broilers that grill food in half the time; simmer burners that prevent boil-overs or food burning which can be controlled accurately for waterless cooking or fast frying. Find out about all these cooking improvements. They'll save you time, money and effort.

Last year approximately a million and a quarter American homes joined the nationwide swing to modern gas ranges. Over sixteen million American homes now cook with gas.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

Rain is the biggest news in West Texas, any time.

The San Angelo Standard, for many years, had the practice of printing a rooster on the front page after a rain. It so happens that the rooster is also the old-time emblem of the Democratic party, and, back in the days when the G. O. P. was in the saddle, there was a postmaster's convention in San Angelo and when—because of a rain—the rooster was printed, the delegates thought it was an insult and were about to adjourn the convention before it got started, and go to another city, but somebody explained.

Once, a Chinese newspaper (printed in English) wrote this columnist and asked for an article on "Rain-Making." The answer was in the form of a joke: A man, who was in poor physical and financial condition, went to a doctor who said, "I'll examine you for $5." The man said, "Good; I want you and, if you find it, I want half." The Chinese editor was informed that West Texas would be glad to help look for a way to make it rain.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram always "plays up" a general downpour in West Texas. So ingrained is the idea that rain is news that a Star-Telegram reporter, in San Antonio on his vacation, was making a round of beverage emporiums and, emerging from one, saw a shower. So he hurried to the telegraph office and wired to the managing editor: "It's raining in San Antonio"—which of course is not a novelty; besides San Antonio isn't West Texas and is, therefore, outside the Star-Telegram circulation zone.

The standard "lead" on a West Texas rain story used to be "Farmers and stockmen of West Texas are jubilant after rains which fell last night . . ." until the editor ironically suggested that a photograph of a "jubilant stockman" be obtained.

"Beneficial Rains Fall in West Texas" is the customary headline. Once, according to tradition, floods cost a number of lives, but, true to custom, the headline ran: "Beneficial Rains Drown Seven in West Texas."

At that, it could be true—if you would let me pick out the seven.

The Santa Rita well was named for the "Saint of the Impossible." So says Martin W. Schwettman, teacher at Texon, who has made a study of the history of the oil well which marked the discovery of the West Texas field and enriched the University of Texas to the extent of many millions of dollars.

Few stories in the realm of petroleum are more dramatic than that of Frank Pickrell who found himself faced with the necessity of starting a hole before midnight in order to hold his leases and the water-well equipment to be used was a hundred miles or so away. To get it aboard, an Orient train was held for hours in San Angelo that final day. The equipment was transported, unloaded, moved onto the location and drilling was actually begun.

But still one condition had not been complied with—two disinterested witnesses were needed to the fact that the well had started. Only Pickrell and the crew were in that wilderness, many miles from even a ranch-house, if one had known where to look for a ranch-house in that lonely and silent region.

It was near midnight—and midnight was the deadline. For down the road there was a gleam—the headlights of a car. Pickrell flagged the auto down and, fortunately, it contained two men. Quickly he explained the situation, they viewed the drilling, then took him into San Angelo and there a lawyer drew up the necessary statement which these two signed—and Pickrell had saved his leases and thereby led to the wealth that enabled the University to build its stately tower and other fine buildings.

The recent death of J. S. Baywell, publisher of the Sulphur Springs News-Echo, removed from the stage of life one of the best known newspaper men of the State. "The Echo man" picturesquely described himself as an "old-line, bone-dry, deep-water Baptist." He will be greatly missed.

Our friend, Bob Blake, has assumed the duties of editor of the Live Oak County Herald at George West.

A thought-provoking question: "Whoever is elected to the Legislature, more than 90 per cent of the members are going to me opposed to a sales tax. The present Governor is committed to its proposition of a transaction tax, which is the biggest sales tax of all. How in the world will you ever get any co-operation between two horses going in the opposite directions? This is exactly what the owners of immense wealth want," so declares Jerry Sadler, candidate for Governor, who urges payment of pensions and other social security through an oil-gas-sulphur tax.

Chemurgic Show To Feature State Fair at Dallas

State Fair of Texas planning second chemurgic show, which is expected to surpass one of last year, acclaimed by national chemurgic leaders to be most complete and diversified ever to be presented. State Fair was first in United States to announce show and plan same last year.

Will be presented in cooperation with East Texas Chamber of Commerce and South Texas State Fair of Beaumont.

Elmore R. Torn, agricultural director of East Texas Chamber of Commerce, will again plan and arrange the chemurgic show as he did last year. Loaned on a part time basis to the Fair, he will serve both organizations as chemurgic director during the time. As chemurgic director of the State Fair of Texas Torn is planning to have the chemurgic theme carried throughout all of the exhibit attractions of the great southwest exposition held at Dallas. There will be something of chemurgic interest to greet the Fair visitor at almost every turn.

Colleges and universities of Texas and the nation will be invited to participate, as will high schools, research organizations, and experiment stations. Every effort will be made to have every corporation interested in chemurgy represented and particularly those who are manufacturing, utilizing or distributing chemurgic products.

To present it in the most understandable light Torn will counsel with chemurgic leaders and laymen alike. He is anxious to have all suggestions and clues for chemurgic materials or crops that can be incorporated into the show. The show last year covered close to 50,000 square feet, being housed in the Hall of Chemurgy, in General Exhibits Building.

Co-chairmen of the steering committee supervising the planning and execution of the chemurgic exhibits show will be Victor H. Schof-felmayer, of Dallas and P. B. Doty of Beaumont.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE 50th JUDICIAL DISTRICT:

I make this appeal to you realizing that with the serious threats of war and everyone's financial condition, that the voters are involved in one of the most serious times that they have ever witnessed, and at a time when they should exercise their best judgment in selecting the men for the different offices.

My friends from various parts of the district have insisted that I get out and make a personal campaign. With conditions as they are it is impractical. The men are all concerned with their daily labor, as well as the ladies. They would not have the time to consider that kind of a campaign and in fact every person that doesn't know my qualifications can easily get this information from their neighbors and to be successful it would be necessary for me to contact all of the ladies in this district. I have never been a ladies man; as a young man all the girls in the neighborhood were not in love with me. While I have always respected every man's wife, mother, daughter and sister as I would want them to respect mine, and while I think that Mary and Martha were ideal Christians "they were last to the cross and first to the tomb" and that Ruth and Naomi were ideal mother-in-law and daughter-in-law, but with my personality it would be absolutely impossible for me to successfully get all of the ladies of the district to work for me in this campaign. The truth is I have always been a one woman's man.

Others think that I should make speeches over the district. In the first place I am not an orator, and if I were—"If I could Rome with Romeo and skip with Skippio"; if I would take a week and use it more or less, memorizing portions of famous orations, Shakespeare, life of Napoleon, etc., I could perhaps make a speech that would be interesting but would not shed any light upon my qualifications for District Judge. I would suggest that the voters use their plain common judgment in selecting the District Judge, just like they would if they were employing anyone else, as if you were employing someone to work for you, on your farm, you wouldn't care how much poetry he could quote. You would be interested in knowing what he knew about running tractors, and other farm work and this applies to any other line of business.

Oratory has no place in the duties of the District Judge and the only speech that would shed any

Haskell's High School Burns On Sunday Morning

The $55,000 Haskell high school building and auditorium was destroyed by fire at four o'clock Sunday morning, making the second time in the past three years that Haskell's school has been destroyed by fire. Haskell firemen, aided by Stamford fire department, were able to confine the blaze to the high school building, but some damage was done to the nearby north ward building.

Loss to the building and contents was estimated at $65,000 by members of the school board. The structure, which was completed in 1937 to replace the one which burned in March of 1936, contained 10 classrooms, a study hall, home economics department, laboratory, faculty offices and a basement.

Superintendent A. W. Supt. C. B. Breedlove was in New Mexico on vacation, but trustees expressed the belief that all records were destroyed with the building. Football equipment and band uniforms stored in the basement were destroyed.

The fire started in the east wing and spread to the south and west wings, it was reported. Firemen managed to prevent the auditorium from being a total loss.

Fire Chief E. A. Lane said he would press an investigation of the source of the fire, at the request of citizens. It was believed that the fire had smoldered for hours, as several nearby residents reported that long before the alarm sounded they had smelled smoke. There was no sign of flames when firemen arrived but shortly afterward the interior burst into vivid sheets of fire.

Four hundred students were scheduled to attend the school when enrollment time came next September. It was announced that churches will be used for temporary classrooms.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Loflin are the parents of a boy, born last Saturday night at the Knox County hospital. Both mother and little son are reported to be doing nicely.

light upon anyone's qualifications for the office of District Judge would be to discuss what he knew about Blackstone, Kent, Greenleaf on Evidence, Bishop on Contracts, Story on Equity and kindred subjects, but speeches on this line to the average voter would be as dry and uninteresting as it would be to listen to a doctrinal sermon from a minister of the other person's church.

If elected, my promises to the people are that I will run the Courts with economy, and courtesy to everyone, and try the cases according to law so that they will all be affirmed.

I want to thank the voters of this District for their consideration of my qualifications for the office and I would suggest that if they are in doubt to ask any judge or lawyer in Texas. I also want to thank them for the large vote they gave me two years ago for one of the highest judgeships in this State, and while that office pays a much larger salary than the District Judge's office, the District Judge office would appeal to me much more for the reason that I could spend by time and live among my friends in West Texas. I realize that my ambition should not be considered as any part of my qualifications. When you select a judge you elect him for four years, and qualifications should be the sole test.

I am, sincerely,
James A. Stephens

TEXAS NYA TO TRAIN 40 PER CENT MORE YOUTH IN MECHANICS

Austin.—Texas young people receiving training in mechanical fields on National Youth Administration shop projects and resident centers will be increased in number by about 40 per cent during the new fiscal year, J. C. Kellam, state NYA administrator, announced today. The number of youth learning the fundamentals of metal working, radio and electrical work, aviation mechanics and airport operation, woodworking and auto mechanics in our local shops and resident centers will be boosted to the full capacity of these facilities.

"Training of the sort given NYA youth during the past few years not only prepares them to aid in our national defense by giving them on-the-job experience in the fields that form our 'second line of defense,'" Kellam said, "but it prepares them to take their places in industry in time of peace as well. Young men between the ages of 18 and 24 who are unemployed and in need of work experience and training should write us at the State Office in Austin or go to see the NYA representative nearest them."

SLIGHT INCREASE IN DEFICIT

We especially thank the Munday firemen for their quick and efficient work.
