SUPPORT OUR HOME TOWN

SWEET N' SOUR

By A. Dill

Oray - it's here. The very first spring month has peeped its welcome head over the calendar edge and somewhere down that middle of days and weeks there will be buttercups 'n daisies, leaves for the trees 'n all that sort of thing. Right now the effect of that "first spring month" is purely psychological, but it does help to know its here.

Very special visitors were in town this past week end - D. S. and Geneva Jo McGee, Mrs. James Gibson and beautiful little Lynda JoEl McGee. Lynda JoEl is a perfectly lovely little blonde angel who has come to make her home with the McGees and to be their very own little girl. Miss McGee should feel like a most important person (which she is) for the town temple, where the McGee family lives, spared no effort in giving the tiny tyke a royal welcome. First, she was honored with a party given for the McGees by members of the newspaper staff where Geneva Jo works, and the following Sunday the Methodist Church, where the McGees attend, made special mention of her arrival.

Our very prettiest birthday card, all ribbons 'n lace and filled with best wishes, goes to a very lovely person, Mrs. B. L. Russell Sr., who celebrated an 89th birthday last week. Mrs. Russell has served her town and community well and it is with the greatest of pleasure that we take this opportunity to wish her the best of everything and to tell her once again how much her friends love her.

The past week was an exceptionally happy one for Mae and Brice Jones, who had special guests in their home - Wendell and LaVerne Jones were here with their daughters, Mary Jane and Wendy, and also a friend, Vivian Lucas, all of Fort Worth. To make the occasion a real family holiday, Payne and Sheila Hollingshead, their son Neil, and friend, Linda West, of Abilene, came down for a visit.

Another extra special birthday party took place in Baird this week - the one given by Jim and Glendell Asbury to honor Jim's mother, Mrs. Annie Asbury. Friends and family gathered to make the day a happy one for this beloved pioneer citizen. Mrs. Annie, by the way, is the most active of ladies and her handiwork in the form of delicately cross stitched items is so perfectly executed as to resemble woven material. Best wishes to you, Annie Asbury, your unflinching interest in your world, your friends and neighbors is an inspiration to all of us.

Co. youngsters left last week for the Houston and the Junior Livestock Show. Norman McCoy, Baird VA teacher, and Glen Green, County Agent, are also attending the exposition. From the Baird FFA, Mike Odum and Fred Foy will be standard bearers. Under the 4-H banner will be Tally and Dyer Windham and V. Finley - these all from the town. The Odum boys from Cross Plains will be on deck and those fellas, remember, racked up a fine score at the county show.

This news from Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie Thompson - son Cecil is now in Austin at the University of Texas, where he is working on his PhD in physics. Young Thompson proved himself a spectacular student in this field of work at North Texas, and his parents and friends are justly proud of his record.

Mrs. Hamrick and her Future Homemakers, first, second and third year girls, were visited this week by Mrs. Catherine Cawley, Home Economist for the Lone Star Natural Gas Co. Mrs. Cawley gave a cooking demonstration to each of the classes. Using the record of achievement by the modern gas ranges, Mrs. Cawley prepared a "Golden Record Party" for the students which consisted of a golden cheese dip, corn wafers baked in the gas oven, and kabobs from the broiler. Leaflets containing recipes of all the food served were distributed to the students. In addition to the food demonstration, Mrs. Cawley gave tips on how to get the most service from a range and short cuts in care and cleaning. The economist complimented the department on the perfect condition of the stoves and other equipment in the homemaking rooms.

PUBLIC SCHOOL WEEK

March 6 Through 10

You Are Cordially Invited To Visit School Next Week

The need for the public school never changes, but times and conditions may change or require to be changed methods and practices of public education. This is inherent with anything that grows, for growth is the result of change.

Our Texas public schools were created 107 years ago. In 1854 the first law was passed establishing the public school.

It is a healthy thing in our democratic way of life to have intelligent understanding of the important functions of our basic institutions. This is especially true of the schools. The initiative and resourcefulness and the wisdom and leadership that our schools are inculcating in the youth of today are the answer to the problems of citizenship in the years ahead.

Yes, "bring me men to match my mountains." That is the need of our times and must come from the public schools - schools that are strong in virtues required for building strong men and women.

We can be assured of this and do our part in understanding and helping the public schools to fulfill their great obligation to our times by being a participant in the annual Public Schools Week March 6 through March 10. Schools will hold open house; accept their hospitality, and you will enjoy the experience of going back to school - if but for a day.

Open House Sunday at New Clyde Church

The Church of Christ in Clyde will hold open house all day Sunday, March 5th. The event will inaugurate the new church building completed last week.

Ground breaking was held Thursday, Sept. 22, 1960, and the work was started immediately on the building. Contractor for the edifice was Paden Construction Co., of Cleburne, with D. D. Smith of Plainview as general supervisor.

The new building contains 10,000 square feet of floor space, and approximate cost was $80,000.00. It was financed in part by the sale of bonds. It features a tan and white brick exterior with white roof, finished inside with harmonizing tan and beige colors. Wainscoting and other wall paneling match the new oak furniture of the sanctuary. The structure utilizes laminated wood arches, set off by an acoustical tile ceiling. The lighting is indirect. Temperature control is maintained by central heating and refrigerated air cooling.

The sanctuary has a seating capacity of 600. The building also has 20 classrooms, an office suite, a large nursery, as well as rest rooms and closets. The classrooms, which open directly into the auditorium, feature built-in chalkboards and tack boards. The floor is covered with tan tile and beige carpeting.

A complete system of walks and paving have been made on the grounds, which will allow parking around the building. The old building is to be removed to allow additional parking space across the street. An attractive neon sign has been installed, and the grounds are to be completely landscaped.

The church has over 350 active members, having gained 51 new members in the last seven months. They are served by six elders and six deacons. The late R. M. Pyeatt, one of the leaders of the building program, died December 6, 1960.

Serving on the church's building committee were Bob Sutherland, H. G. Broadfoot, Earl Slater and the late Mr. Pyeatt.

The finance committee was composed of Clifford Rhoden, Jess Pyeatt and Merwin Eager. Owen Cosgrove is the minister. He conducted the Church of Christ Bible Chair at Sul Ross College at Alpine, before coming to Clyde. He is a 1954 graduate of ACC, where he received his Master of Science degree in 1958.

With the coming of the early settlers to Clyde, a group organized a Church of Christ here, and in 1900 a small one room building was erected. Prior to the erection of the building, members met in the homes of members.

In 1913, the building which has been occupied since that date, was completed and the first service held in it late in the summer of that year. Additions were made to this building at different times, as the church grew and the need required.

The first Elders and Deacons of the Clyde Church of Christ were: J. H. Baxter, W. K. Kuykendall, M. L. Hays, J. F. Collins and F. S. Bouchette.

355 People Gained Monthly Income

Over 355 persons, an undetermined number of them readers of this newspaper, are now glad they have been reading their hometown papers. In 1957, 1958, 1959, or early 1960, they had applied for social security retirement benefits, only to be turned down because they didn't have enough credits to be insured under that system.

But, according to R. R. Tuley Jr., manager of the Abilene district office of the Social Security Administration, many of them told him that they read in their hometown papers at some time in the past ten weeks that the law was changed in 1960. Others heard of the change from radio announcements. The change reduced the number of social security credits needed to be insured and eligible for retirement checks each month. So, they took themselves to the social security office, or met a representative of that office when he was in their community, and filed new claims.

Now, at least 355 of them have already received notice that their new claims have been approved, and are receiving regular monthly checks, dating back to October of 1960, when the first checks under this amendment were payable.

Tuley explained that the new law reduced by about 1/3 the amount of work people need to qualify for social security benefits. Under the old law, some of those 355 needed almost five years of credits to qualify. Now, however, anyone reaching retirement age in 1960 needs only 3 years of such credits. Some qualified as little as 1/2 years of credits, the minimum requirement for those reaching retirement age before 1956.

So, if you have ever had an application for social security retirement or survivor benefits denied because of insufficient work credits, follow in the footsteps of the 355 who have already profited by the change in the 16 county Abilene district. Write the Abilene office of the Social Security Administration today. They will be glad to check the records and see if you are now eligible for monthly checks under the 1960 changes.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Morton and children, Terry and Melody of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Morton and Newton Morton, of Abilene, visited their mother, Mrs. Lilly Morton and sisters, Mrs. Billy Griffin and Mrs. Raymond Kniffen, Sunday.

John Estes, whose term on the commission is expiring, seeks re-election. He as a real estate man and farmer, Lyndon White, manager of Black's Food Store, has announced for councilman.

cellent house pet, and Benny should know, he's by way of being an expert about puppies.

March birthdays are beginning to roll in, but first, here's a belated birthday wish for Joyce Howard, who celebrated on Feb. 20th - best wishes, gal. George Blakley had a birthday the very first day of March and on the 6th of this month, Bob Blakley will celebrate. Evelyn Blakley had a March 26th special day and March seems a big month with these folks. Gary Smith, baby son of Nancy and Norman Smith, will have one big important candle on his cake when his mom bakes it March 16th. On March 4th, Yvonne Shelutt has a big day planned and when the 17th rolls around Brenda Hughes has her celebration. March 17th is also the birthday of Mike Maloney (and you'll never guess who that gentleman is). March 25th is one of our favorite days because it's the birthday of some very special people - Ruth Strickland claims that day - Janis Walker has that day too - and Sue Howard is still another with that day as her own.

March 22nd is the birthday of a very dear person - Mrs. Edna Yonge. Mrs. Yonge is now residing at Park View Nursing Home, 2120 N. 4th, (Room 206) Waco. Friends in Baird will always think of Edna as a lovely lady and a splendid neighbor, and now would be a wonderful time to show the warmth of that friendship with a carload of cards. OK?

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Jaggars and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Bales have had a most welcome guest this week - Mrs. Clarence Hodges of Henrietta. Mrs. Hodges is Mrs. Jaggars sister and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bales.

And that ties a nice green ribbon around this week's chat for the first of March - and by the way - any of you weather prophets know any signs that might indicate an EARLY Spring? If you do, please let us know. (If your deduction lead you to think otherwise, for Pete's sake, keep those findings under your earmuffs).

Progressive and Civic-Minded Business People of ABILENE

This Department has been worked up largely as a reflection of public opinion. No person has written of themselves or their business. All articles have been compiled by a representative of The Baird Star as he saw conditions. These people are leaders in their various lines of endeavor and the cooperation of these people in Abilene who helped make this department possible is sincerely appreciated.

Wilbur E. Dubov

Recognized as one of the most progressive business men of Abilene, Wilbur E. Dubov of the Abilene Bookstore, who offers the largest selection of children's religious and educational material of any other throughout this area, performs a real service for the people of this city, and his contributions to civic betterment are too well known to require repetition in these columns. His personal success has been achieved, in a large measure, because he never misses an opportunity to further the service he renders to the public. A policy which has and continues to build up good will for the Abilene Bookstore throughout this entire district.

Mr. Dubov is deserving of praise, and this small tribute is but a recognition for the many services which he has performed in the way of both business and civic activities. Also his reputation for the successful conduct of his business affairs is no greater than his reputation for the honest practices which characterize his every transaction.

We congratulate Wilbur Dubov on his splendid record, and trust he shall continue to serve the people of Abilene and vicinity.

Jake Moody

Jake Moody, who just a short time ago assumed the management of the Pecan Grove Lumber & Supply Company in Abilene, quite readily demonstrated his executive ability by his quickness to appreciate the obligations and responsibilities of his new position, and to conduct his affair accordingly.

Although he has been managing the business for a comparatively short time, he has already made many new friends and satisfied customers for the Pecan Grove Lumber & Supply Company.

Mr. Moody is an active, energetic man whose sincere and friendly personality and desire to be of service is rapidly earning a place for him in this district. He has always taken an interest in community affairs, and in due course of time will assume his full share of civic responsibilities.

Jake Moody deserves a word of praise for having so quickly established himself in his new position, and we are glad to extend to him, this brief, but most sincere mention.

Mr. & Mrs. M. T. Broyles

Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Broyles of Broyles Floor Covering & Draperies, are two of those progressive type of citizens upon whom the community depend a great deal for leadership in business or other matters. They are also civic-minded and have, in the past, and no doubt will continue in the future to give more of their time and energy for the welfare of others than themselves.

They are the kind of people who make friends, and friendships once formed by them are never broken by an unfriendly act on their part, and they spare no efforts in order that their services to the surrounding area shall be more dependable.

The Broyles' have never been known to inject themselves into a situation for the mere purpose of gaining publicity. However, they proceed in a calm and unostentatious manner, and accomplish their objectives with a quiet dignity. We do not hesitate to recommend Mr. and Mrs. Broyles to our readers as good examples of the more progressive type of business people who have aided in the growth and development of Abilene and the surrounding country.

Jack and Bill Doty

In every community there are a number of business men who can be pointed out as having taken a three-fold part in the inward progress of their city. Two well known business men of Abilene who belong in this category are Jack and Bill Doty of Doty Brothers Farm Equipment Company, authorized dealers for Allis-Chalmers and Minneapolis-Moline.

Their leadership in this line of business is recognized throughout this entire district. And their furtherance of civic activities and support of those organizations whose main objectives are directed along lines of civic betterment and community progress is well known to their immediate associates. The Doty brothers are men who are equally well-liked and respected by their intimate friends and their associates. They are loyal to the community, thankful for their success in business, and have shown their appreciation by their contributions to various civic movements of benefit to the city.

We congratulate Bill and Jack Doty for being good citizens, progressive business men, and boosters of Abilene.

'Rud' Swan and Virgil Wolfe

Due to the efforts of a group of wide-awake business men, the city of Abilene has attained a dominant position in the commercial life of this section of Texas. And two of the men who have justly earned credit for being progressive members of that group are Rud Swan, a resident of Clyde, and Virgil Wolfe of Swan & Wolfe, whose offices are located at 1626 Sycamore.

These two authorities on all hearing aid problems offer supplies and repairs on all types of hearing aid devices, and inquiries may be directed to Mr. Wolfe at OR 2-6380 in Abilene or by contacting Mr. Swan at Clyde.

Mr. Swan and Mr. Wolfe have been conspicuously successful in spite of the fact that they have repeatedly neglected their own private affairs to devote a part of their time and efforts to the successful promotion of civic projects.

It is considered a privilege to include Virgil Wolfe and Rud Swan in this Abilene review and to publicly give them credit for their success in business, and for their many contributions to the general welfare of those hard of hearing in this area.

There are many men in their chosen fields who have gained recognition for the progressive manner in which they have conducted their business and accepted their civic responsibilities but who will not permit much to be said of their achievements.

But in reviewing a group of such citizens we should include J. L. Dellis of the J. L. Dellis Engineering Company, for he is a man who has always done his work effectively, even though it has been accomplished in an unobtrusive manner.

Mr. Dellis, busy as he is, always manages somehow or other, to do his bit in any movement calculated to benefit the community as a whole. His modesty however, will not permit him to say the things about himself which are said by his friends, who do so because of a personal knowledge of his activities.

We do not hesitate to recommend J. L. Dellis to our readers as a citizen who continues at all times to work to the advantage of the people of this entire district.

Walter Gee

To be a consistent and persistent booster of any community often takes courage and plenty of optimism.

It is because of his unflinching faith in the future of Abilene and the surrounding country, and his unflagging efforts to promote its development, that Walter Gee is selected now for this brief tribute.

Mr. Gee has proved very ably that he is a restaurant operator of unusual ability, for it is largely due to his ideals of service, coupled with a determination to serve only the very best of food that the Ding How Cafe holds its high position in the public's favor.

And his personality and energy in directing the operations of the business are important factors in his outstanding success.

We are glad to pay tribute to Walter Gee, and to point out to our readers that his is the guiding influence responsible for the splendid service and delicious foods, served in a delightful atmosphere, to be had at the Ding How Cafe, at 2810 North First, in Abilene.

Harry and Esther Hayes

We wish in this edition to pay tribute to Harry and Esther Hayes of the Ambler Drive In Bait House, for their many services to the city of Abilene, and their splendid record of achievements in the business and recreational life of this area.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayes probably have as wide a circle of friends as any other two we could name, because they are just naturally the kind of folks who make friends with almost everyone, and always conduct themselves in such a manner as to deserve the respect and good will of all who know them. Abilene is fortunate in being able to number among its more progressive business people, citizens of this type.

They are always ready and willing to lend their support to the promotion of any project which promises to benefit this entire district.

They may be depended upon, and their services to the people are too many in number to be described here. It may be sufficient to say that we consider Esther and Harry Hayes as assets to the community, and progressive business people of whom their city may be proud.

Leon and Marilyn Wimberley

To serve the public honestly, efficiently, and cheerfully is the basic foundation many progressive men and women of Abilene have found to be the shortest route to success. In making this statement, the two we have in mind are Leon and Marilyn Wimberley of Courtesy Cleaners. The popularity and patronage enjoyed by their many services accentuates the ideals of courtesy and efficiency which they have consistently applied in the management of the business, and in the servicing of its patrons.

The conduct of such businesses, and the people who operate them have done much to make Abilene the business center for many miles around, and it is fitting that we give credit where credit is due to such citizens as the Wimberley's for their part in the onward progress of the city. In so doing, we are merely putting into words the opinions of those who know them.

Marilyn and Leon Wimberley have earned their success by the method in which they have served the public, and accepted both civic and business responsibilities, and we wish them every success in the future.

Wayne Durham

Performing an outstanding service for the people of Abilene and the surrounding territory, Wayne Durham of Wayne Durham & Company, has achieved an enviable reputation for his progressive policies of business administration. His constant study of insurance problems in relation to the protection the people both need and can afford, have been important factors in his well-earned success.

Mr. Durham is a man of ideas and he is as practical as he is progressive in putting those ideas to beneficial use in furthering the service he renders to the people. His sound business judgment and unwavering honesty are characteristics which place him in the front rank of the business leaders of his city. Yet he is unassuming and modest in his personal contact with the people; always ready to listen to their ideas and desires.

We are glad to pay tribute to progressive citizens of this type, for it is such men as Wayne Durham who have caused Abilene to become recognized as the leading trading center for this section of Texas.

Ira B. Duck, Jr.

It is appropriate that we include in this review of progressive Abilene business men, Ira B. Duck Jr., of the agency bearing his name, a well known real estate counselor of the city who is recognized as an authority on all city, farm and ranch real estate values.

Moreover, he not only has the reputation of being progressive, but also the added one of being a willing supporter of many community affairs.

Aside from his business activities, Mr. Duck has always shown an interest in the civic betterment and progress of the city, and has backed up his interest by his contributions to many projects which have benefited the city and surrounding area.

His help along these lines has made of Ira Duck Jr., a fine example of the kind of man we all appreciate. We congratulate and extend to him, on behalf of all citizens interested in better business and civic progress, sincere appreciation for his contributions to the general welfare of Abilene and vicinity.

O. L. Sutton

It is a well-known fact that a man's true character must come through in his work; whether in business or professional activities or in public life. So when a man conducts himself in such a manner as to cause the public to recognize in him certain qualities, over and above the average, he is deserving of a few words of praise. Such a personality is O. L. Sutton of the O. L. Sutton Cess Pool & Septic Tank Cleaning, a leader in the business and commercial life in Abilene.

In addition to being one of the city's more dependable business men, Mr. Sutton was never a man to shirk his civic duties. More than that, he enters cheerfully and with enthusiasm and optimism into those civic affairs in which he has time to take a part. And seldom does he fail to find time to do his share.

O. L. Sutton deserves his share of credit for being one of those progressive citizens of Abilene, who has contributed so substantially to the onward progress of the city. It is a pleasure to include him in this group.

Marlin Battles

Marlin Battles, of the Home Improvement Company, has a well earned reputation for progressiveness because he has consistently forged ahead in his business, never letting up in his efforts to make the service he render to the people more valuable. This invariable policy has made the Home Improvement Company outstanding in its field, a fact that is well known to the public throughout this entire area.

But Mr. Battles has accomplished much more than just making a success of his business and private affairs, and we take this opportunity to pay tribute to him for devoting what time he could spare to the general welfare, not only to his own city, but this entire district as well.

It is such men as he who are both successful in business and appreciative of their civic obligations that are deserving of recognition. We take pleasure in publicly giving Marlin Battles the credit for his accomplishments, which his friends and associates have so long accorded him.

Lester L. Higgs and C. B. Loe

Two of the more dependable real estate men of Abilene, whose success can partly be attributed to a deep insight as to the direction in which the city will develop are Lester L. Higgs and C. B. Loe of Lester L. Higgs Realty. They have a sound basic knowledge of real estate values, and have turned that knowledge to the advantage of the people with whom they do business. And their aggressive methods, coupled with their sound and practical ideas have made the services they have rendered to the people more valuable and materially contributed to their well-earned success.

Mr. Higgs and Mr. Loe are also civic-minded and have always shown a cheerful willingness to contribute their share of time and energy to the promotion of community projects.

It is because of the activities of such progressive business men that, year after year, Abilene continues to show such a healthy growth and expansion, both as a residential and industrial city. We are glad to pay tribute to Lester Higgs and C. B. Loe for the part they are playing in the onward progress of the city.

Melvin E. Wade

Melvin E. Wade of the Superior Automotive Service, is one of those progressive business men who has always done his bit to maintain the prestige of the city of Abilene as the leading trading center for this section of Texas. He has always worked for the development of the city, and his many services are worthy of sincere appreciation.

His well earned success as a business man is easily understood, knowing as the people do of his widespread reputation for the honesty which characterizes all of his business dealings. And it is a combination of technical knowledge, mechanical skill and business ability which has elevated Mr. Wade to a position of leadership in the automotive repair and maintenance business.

He is completely aware of his civic responsibilities, and is wide awake to the many opportunities for service, and is always ready and willing to lend his support to any project which promises to benefit the community as a whole.

We compliment Melvin Wade on his accomplishments, and wish for him continued success.

Johnny Clinton

Johnny Clinton has proved his progressiveness by constantly adding to and increasing the service which the Johnny Clinton Texaco Service Station, located at 3033 South First, has extended to the people. The large volume of business handled by his Texaco station proves that "service," to him, is not "just a word," but something to be rendered to the motoring public to the fullest extent of his ability.

In addition to his close attention to his business affairs, Mr. Clinton was never a man to dodge his civic responsibilities, and help in those matters has always been cheerfully given.

He fully appreciates the value of good will, and has more than his share of that intangible commodity because of the manner in which he meets both business and civic obligations. He is a credit to the community, and is thoroughly established in the forefront of the business life of the city.

Johnny Clinton has many friends in and around the city, and it is a pleasure to bring him before our readers in this review of progressive Abilene business men.

R. L. Howard

In all business and professional pursuits there are men who have met with success because they have honestly deserved it, and such a man in his field is R. L. Howard of the Howard Television & Radio Service, who well deserves the reputation he has earned for being one of Abilene's more dependable business men. His thorough knowledge of everything pertaining to the television and radio service and repair business is exemplified by the manner in which he fulfills each and every demand made upon him in line with his business.

Furthermore, such experience as Mr. Howard has gained in the successful management of his business has been turned to the advantage of his fellow citizens by applying the same principles to the promotion of those civic projects to which he has been called upon to lend his able assistance.

Thus his success in business has further enhanced his value to the city.

We appreciate the opportunity of including R. L. Howard in this group of progressive and civic-minded men who are actively taking part in the evolution of the business and commercial life of Abilene.

Luke Wetsel

Luke Wetsel, of the Bel Air Auto Sales, is one of those dependable new and used automobile dealers of Abilene who has consistently forged ahead in his business. He has also put his shoulder to the wheel of civic progress whenever concerted help was needed in furthering enterprises promoted for the general welfare of the community.

Mr. Wetsel was never a man given to wishful thinking. Because his methods are those of direct action, and whether the problem at hand is one concerning his own business or that of a civic nature, he attacks it with optimism and vigorous enthusiasm. Add to this his acknowledged business ability, and his keen sense of values, and it is easily understood why he is almost invariably successful in business or other matters.

We feel that it is our duty to call the attention of our readers to these worthwhile characteristics of Luke Wetsel, and to pay him a well-deserved tribute for his straight-forward business methods and for the unselfish interest he has shown in public welfare.

Because this is a period of growth and expansion for Abilene, those progressive business men who had the foresight and ability to lay their plans so as to be able to take advantage of those conditions are entitled to more than ordinary acclaim. We are therefore, glad to pay tribute to L. A. Arnold of the Abilene Communications Service Company, for he has become a well-known figure in the business and commercial life in this entire district.

Mr. Arnold's persistent optimism and steadfast belief in the continued future prosperity of the people of the Key City and vicinity are characteristics which are deserving of our highest praise.

L. A. Arnold has also shown a willingness to do his part in civic advancement, and has contributed his bit, in one way or another, to projects promoted for the welfare of the city. We believe that a business man of this kind is entitled to our sincere praise, both because he has achieved success in his private affairs, and because he is willing to contribute to the public good.

Billy B. Henry

In mentioning some of those men who are taking a progressive part in the evolution of the business and commercial life of Abilene, we would be censored if we failed to include Billy B. Henry, who just recently assumed the management and operation of the E. V. Burt Truck & Trailer Rental, a firm that has long been recognized as a leader in the truck and trailer rental business.

Mr. Henry is that solid type of citizen whose fairness and friendliness and sincere desire to be of service, are accountable for a large measure of his success. And as time goes on, his personal interests have become more closely interwoven with the business and civic affairs of the city. As a result he has, quite naturally, become accepted as a man who can be called upon and who will cheerfully do his part to further the development of those community activities to which he is best fitted to lend assistance.

Billy Henry has, by the conduct of his business, and by his attention to civic affairs, earned the friendship and good will of his fellow citizens. He is to be complimented for his activities, and we only express the desire of his many friends and associates in wishing him continued success.

William M. Lewis

There are a number of business men in Abilene who have gained recognition for their progressiveness, and a well-known insurance counselor who belongs in this category is William M. Lewis, for the past 17 years representing the Aetna Life Insurance Company, and who led the Fort Worth Agency in 1960 in total production and paid business. His fair dealings with many of our readers has earned for him a host of friends and policyholders throughout this area.

He is well established in the forefront of the business life of his city. And the ethical manner in which he has conducted his business affairs is but one of the reasons for his outstanding success.

In addition to his insurance activities, Mr. Lewis has also accepted his share of responsibility in aiding civic projects. As a result of the combined efforts of men like him, Abilene is firmly established in the minds of the people as the logical business center for this section of the state.

We congratulate William Lewis for his success in business and civic affairs, and trust he will continue for many years to enjoy that success which he has so justly earned.

Bill Sanders

In bestowing credit upon some of those progressive business men of Abilene, who in one way or another, have contributed their bit to improve both business and civic conditions, we wish to publish a few words about Bill Sanders of the Bill Sanders Humble Products Service Station, located at 3501 North 6th.

Mr. Sanders has set a standard for himself and the operation of his business that, under present existing conditions, has been very difficult to maintain. However, that he has done so is proved by the large volume of business which his Humble station continues to handle, much of which is due to his unceasing attention to detail and his ability to cope with new and unexpected problems.

Bill Sanders is also civic-minded and has, when asked, cheerfully cooperated on those civic activities to which he has been able to lend assistance. He more than deserves the respect and good will which he has earned, and we and his friends are confident that he will continue to maintain his usual integrity and high standards.

Frank W. Austin

Every progressive and successful business man in Abilene contributes in some manner to the growth and progress of the city. And a man who is always willing to do his part in both civic and business activities is Frank W. Austin, manager of the West Texas Veterinary Supply Company, located at 509 N. Treadaway; the company recently assumed the management and operation of the West Texas Ranch Supply.

The prominent part that the West Texas Veterinary Supply Co. is playing in the business and commercial life of Abilene and vicinity mirrors the progressiveness and ability of such men as he. Moreover, Mr. Austin has also, at all times, been steadfast in his devotion to the Key City, and the surrounding country, and on many occasions, has lent his support to the successful promotion of meritorious civic projects.

Abilene and this district are fortunate to have such a man as Frank Austin in a position of responsibility and service, and this newspaper feels that it merely reflects public opinion in paying this brief tribute to one of the city's more progressive business men.

Cleveland I. Cobb, Jr.

The progress of any community hinges to a great extent upon the activities of the more progressive men in the world of business. This is as true in this locality as in any other sector, and local leaders are to be congratulated for their part in the general advancement of this section of West Texas. And one of the more dependable lumbermen of Abilene who should thus be congratulated is Cleveland I. Cobb Jr., of the Cobb Lumber Company, who is widely known and universally liked.

Few men have such a thorough knowledge of every phase of the lumber game, and to say that Mr. Cobb knows the business from A to Z, is in no way an overstatement. The honesty which has always characterized his every transaction has gained for him the respect and confidence of the many men and firms with whom he does business.

The successful career of Cleveland Cobb Jr., illustrates the merits of integrity, ability grounded in experience, and coupled with the added asset of a pleasing and sincere personality. We wish him many more years of continued success.

Mary Kate Whittekin

Progressiveness, coupled with ability, always a praise-worthy feature in the passing scene of any community's daily life, is to be duly appreciated. In full realization of this, and in recognition of the splendid personality which gives impetus to the personal success in her case, many residents and business people of Abilene and our own community revere Mary Kate Whittekin of the Abilene Beauty College, now located in a new and completely modern building at 2809 North Second, as a true asset to her city and this district.

Mrs. Whittekin is keeping her beauty college at the forefront at all times, and by using the most modern equipment and teaching the newer and more popular methods of beauty culture, she has maintained a position of leadership in her field of endeavor. Capable and energetic in the management of the business she has come to be recognized as one of the city's more progressive business women.

What Mary Kate Whittekin has accomplished in the past is the best indication of what may be expected of her in the future. She has our admiration and best wishes for continued success.

Johnny M. Price

We desire in this Abilene review to call the attention of our readers to the well-earned position which Johnny M. Price has reached in the business life of this section. During the comparatively short time he has been operating the Key City Auction, open from 8 A. M. to 5 P. M., six days a week, with public auction every Saturday at 7:30 P. M., he has made many personal friends as well as having earned the good will of his associates for the straight-forward manner in which he has conducted his business affairs.

Mr. Price has worked hard to deserve the confidence which the people of the community have in him, and he continues to work hard to maintain it every way, that high standard which he has set, not only for himself, but for the management and operation of the Key City Auction as well.

He has always shown a willingness to assist in every manner at his disposal in the growth and development of Abilene, and is always ready to lend his support to civic projects. Johnny Price deserves our heartiest congratulations on the splendid record he has already established, and we sincerely hope for his continued success.

Royce Brooks

In paying tribute to some of the more dependable business men of Abilene, we would be remiss in our duty should we fail to include Royce Brooks of the Royce Brooks Garage, whose business ability is no greater than the "know how" and mechanical skill which has contributed to his well-earned success in the automotive repair and maintenance business, with special emphasis on automatic transmissions.

He has also contributed generously to the welfare of the city and the community for many miles around. And his civic spirit is evidenced by the many services which he has performed, and will continue to perform in the interest of the peoples as a whole.

Mr. Brooks is a man of wide acquaintance, whose many friends admire and respect in him those virtues which inspire confidence and promote good feeling. And his upright business methods are a credit to his inherent sense of fair play.

We congratulate Royce Brooks on his splendid record of service, and trust he shall continue to assist us for many years to come.

Troy H. Campbell

Troy H. Campbell is one of the more successful restaurant operators of Abilene who, by maintaining a constant standard of service and high quality foods, has made Campbell's Cafe, located at 289 Chestnut, and Campbell's No. 2, at 2158 Pine, two of the more popular eating places in the community. We are glad to give him credit for his well-earned success in a field which is so highly competitive.

It is also a pleasure to give him credit for taking part in community affairs, and lending his assistance to various activities and public projects. When to take part in such matters he always does so without ostentation, but in a quiet manner which lends dignity to his cheerful acceptance of his share of the civic load. It is a pleasure to be associated in the promotion of community activities with such a man as Mr. Campbell.

This review of progressive and civic-minded men of Abilene would not be complete were we to fail to include Troy Campbell. His is the kind of success which deserves recognition, and we wish him many more years of the same.

It is fitting in this review of progressive Abilene business men that we acquaint our readers with the man to be credited with having maintained the Allied Chain Link Fence Company, Incorporated, in the enviable position it holds in the business and industrial life of this area. That personality is D. L. Day, the general manager, whose genius for organization and for converting new ideas into actual deeds has played a vital part in the distinctive reputation which the company now enjoys throughout this entire district.

Mr. Day has found time, in addition to his business interests, to give thought and energy to community projects. He is a citizen whose talents have been steadfastly devoted to the best interests of the city. He has been successful in his own business, and in the promotion of the general welfare of the community.

We are glad to pay this brief tribute to him, and to say that this district owes much to the many benefits which D. L. Day and the Allied Chain Link Fence Company have rendered to the people.

Thomas Wayne Bever

In compiling this review of Abilene business people, we have endeavored to select those citizens who, by the manner in which they have conducted themselves and their businesses, have earned for them positions of leadership in their various fields of activities. Such a man is Thomas Wayne Bever of the Abilene Carpet & Furniture Cleaning, who is well known and has many friends and satisfied customers throughout this entire area.

Mr. Bever's main interests have not been solely confined to his own business and private affairs, but have also included his contributions, in one way or another to those projects of a civic nature which come within the scope of his activities.

Thomas Bever is a man of wide experience whose exploits in the business and commercial life of Abilene and vicinity merit more than a passing attention, and the writer is privileged to pay this brief tribute to a man who well deserves more credit than is accorded him here.

Lowell McIntyre

It isn't the size or volume of a man's business which determines its value to the community in which he lives. But rather by the manner in which it is conducted. Which, to a greater or lesser degree, reflects the personality and character of the individual. The value of Lowell McIntyre's business to his city is a reflection of his progressiveness and a determination to render the utmost in service, a policy which has caused the Blossom & Gift Shop to be so well thought of and so widely patronized by the people of Abilene and the surrounding area.

That same progressiveness and ability which has made him so successful in his own business has also fitted Mr. McIntyre to be of assistance on community projects and public drives. Moreover, he does so cheerfully and with a friendly spirit of cooperation that is always more than welcome.

It is a pleasure to include Lowell McIntyre in this Abilene review, and to wish him further success in his field of endeavor.

Rex L. Carlile

Abilene owes much to those progressive citizens who have taken an active part in the growth and progress of the city, and who have helped to make it the business center for this section of the state. In mentioning some of these men, it is only fair to include Rex L. Carlile, whose outstanding knowledge of the dirt and grading contracting business, backed up by his many years of experience, has brought him to the forefront in his particular field.

Mr. Carlile is wholly deserving of our sincere praise, and these few words of commendation are but a just recognition for the many activities he has conducted on behalf of the general welfare of the community.

The honest and successful conduct of his business affairs is not only a reflection of his character, but has also been a strong factor in maintaining him in a position of leadership in his field of endeavor.

We trust that Rex Carlile will continue to serve the people of Abilene and the surrounding area for many years to come.

Lila Carter

A city grows and prospers by reason of the public-spirited men and women who take an active interest in its development. The Key City has its share of these progressive and civic-minded people, and one who is deserving of recognition is friendly, likeable Lila Carter, representing Slenderette Of Abilene, whose office is located at 1425 Barrow.

Her business ability, coupled with a sense of obligation to the public, have been major factors in maintaining Slenderette Of Abilene in a position of leadership throughout this entire area. She not only, in her business activities but also in her attention to civic duty, assumed an active part in community affairs.

Mrs. Carter has always been ready and willing to contribute her time and energy to the promotion of any project promising to benefit the community as a whole. She has often sacrificed personal interests to be of assistance to the city, and her efforts are deserving of commendation and support.

We congratulate Lila Carter on her past achievements which, in our opinion, indicate a similar successful career in the years ahead.

Roy L. Peters

In singling out some of the more dependable business men of Abilene, we would be censured should we fail to include Roy L. Peters of the Royal Electric Company, Inc. He is a man who has never spared himself in his participation in both the business and industrial activities of the city.

Mr. Peters has always been conscious of his civic responsibilities, and is ever ready and willing to meet, in every detail, those opportunities which come to his attention to further civic enterprise. He may well be proud of his achievements along these lines.

Roy Peters deserves a great deal of credit for the honest and

It is mighty good to have Mr. and Mrs. Bill Steakley back home again after Bill had a bout with pneumonia, on top of having a chronic bronchial ailment that is tough going most of the time.
After being dismissed from the hospital, Mr. and Mrs. Steakley spent a few weeks in the home of their daughter and husband,
Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilson of Abilene. So now that Bill is doing much better, we'll just throw our hats up in the air and holler
"welcome home."

Mrs. Leonard Johnson and daughter, Pam, of Noice, visited last Sunday afternoon with her family, the Swors.

Ray Floyd had one of these farm accidents, due to carelessness, that you read about. Sunday, he was grinding feed and forced some feed into the mill, which grabbed hold of the feed and his hand at the same time.
The accident wasn't as bad as it sounds, for by the time the blades hit a finger nail and jerked it off, something told him to get his hand out of the way.

dered by some of the men up at desire to be of service has gained for him a host of friends and acquaintances in and around the Key City who would, if given the opportunity, join us in wishing him many more years of continued success.

By Lillian Crawford

I must say it was nice to have fair weather for the past week end, permitting us and many other families a chance to visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Crawford and Lynda shopped in Abilene Satuday, and visited our sons, Dale and Hulon and families; also my dad, M. A. Reynolds in the Nursing Home. He was feeling better, but had some trouble during the week. As a beginning, had a chill, which means some special medicine is needed.

We found in Dale Crawford's home Mr. and Mrs. Otto Rogers, Nancy and Virgie Neil, taking advantage of the fair weather.
It was good to see Mrs. Rogers, as she was looking so much better, after having a long spell of sickness. She seemed more like herself, and was planning to attend church Sunday.

Visiting the L. V. Harris home
Sunday was the Mullins family, Sherrods, Joe Charles Crawford and a friend, Elbert, Hazel and Stanley Crawford, all out seeing the country for a change.

Stanley had had luck skating a few weeks back when his girl let him fall, and pulled the muscles in his foot that has given him a lot of trouble. At least he doesn't get around very fast on crutches.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Coughran and girls visited in the Ira Crawford home Sunday, as did some of the ones already mentioned above.

A good way to break the mon-

the gang got together at the
