Auto Accident Near Benjamin Claims Life of Wichita Falls Insurance Man

George H. Watson, well known Wichita Falls insurance man, was fatally injured last Saturday morning when his automobile overturned about 20 miles west of Benjamin.

The accident happened at 7:30 o'clock, apparently as Watson was returning to Wichita Falls after a business tour of the Panhandle. He died in the Knox City Hospital at nine o'clock Saturday, an hour and a half after the accident.

Deputy Sheriff Orvel Capehart of Benjamin said Watson was brought to Benjamin by two telephone employees who found the overturned car near the highway in a pasture. Apparently Watson was alone and the car turned over several times.

Although badly hurt, Watson was not unconscious when brought to Benjamin. At the Melton Drug Store, where first aid was administered, he was able to give his name and state that he was in the insurance business in Wichita Falls.

An ambulance from Knox City took the injured man from Benjamin to the Knox City Hospital.

Identification was further established through papers carried by the Wichita Falls business man.

Watson was born in Rusk county Jan. 23, 1875, and engaged in the mercantile business in Henderson prior to moving to Petrolia in 1909.

He remained in Petrolia until 1915, when he moved to Wichita Falls. He established the branch agency of the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance company in 1922, and became one of the best known insurance men in North Texas.

As manager of the branch agency, he traveled widely over his territory, covering Northwest Texas, including the Panhandle.

Watson is survived by the widow; a daughter, Mrs. Floyd Horry of Nocona; and three sons, Earl Watson of Wichita Falls, Mack and Jack Watson of Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Funeral services were held at Wichita Falls last Monday.

Bible Schools In Progress At Two Churches

Daily vacation Bible schools are under way at two churches in Munday, the First Methodist church and the First Baptist church.

The school opened Wednesday morning at the Methodist church. It was scheduled to begin Monday, but was postponed due to the high water.

Rev. Luther Kirk, pastor, stated that good attendance and interest is being shown in the school which is being held from 9 to 11:30 a.m. each day. The school will continue through next week. Classes are held for all children and youth between the ages of 4 to 16.

The school opened at the Baptist church Monday morning in spite of mud and high water, and Rev. W. H. Albertson, pastor, reports splendid attendance and interest.

Eighty-six were present for the day school Wednesday. The hours are from 8 to 11 a.m. daily and the ages are from 4 to 16 years.

Parents are cordially invited to send their children to one of these vacation Bible schools. Good instructors are in charge of the classes and your child will be helped by having been in the classes.

Typhoid Fever Cases Reported In Knox County

Three cases of typhoid fever were reported in Knox county last Monday by Dr. D. C. Eiland, health officer of Munday, who stated that present indications are that the county is likely to have an epidemic of this dreaded disease.

Two cases of the fever were reported at Benjamin and one at Vera.

"Indications are that we will have an epidemic," Dr. Eiland said, "and everyone is urged to take precautions to prevent this disease."

Immunization by vaccination is urged. Dr. Eiland said the serums are given in three doses at intervals of five days apart.

All subsurface water being used for domestic purposes should be boiled, it was stated. All the water has become polluted due to heavy rains recently, and health authorities said it would not become sterilized by running through sand and gravel. Authorities urged boiling of all drinking water, regardless of where it is secured.

U.S.O. Drive To Be Concluded Here This Week

E. L. Covey of Benjamin, chairman of the county United Service Organization drive to secure funds for building clubs, chapels, etc. for men in the U.S. service, stated Wednesday that the drive is coming along nicely in Knox county.

Six communities of the county have reported a total of $238.87 contributed to the drive, which is only about $12 short of the $250 set as Knox county's quota.

It is expected that the drive will be closed here this week, and those who have not contributed to this worthy cause are asked to do so at once. The citizens of Knox county have been highly complimented by the county chairman for their splendid rally to this cause.

In this issue of The Munday Times appears individual contributions made by Knox City, Munday and Rhineland.

Youth Caravan Coming To Munday

Pictured above are members of the Youth Caravan which will be at the Methodist church next week. The caravan is from McMurry College, Abilene, and is led by Miss Jewel Posey, center, English instructor in McMurry College.

The caravan will arrive in Munday Saturday and will be here through next week, to conduct special work among the adults and young people.

A class for adults will be held, teaching the subject of "Work With Young People."

Classes for young people will take up the following subjects: "Worship and Evangelism," "Community Service for Youth," "World Friendship."

All young people are invited to come and participate in this program and service. Further announcements will be made Sunday morning regarding this work, Rev. Luther Kirk, pastor, stated.

Incubator To Be Bought For Knox Hospital

Members of the American Legion posts at Munday and Knox City announced this week that a baby incubator will be purchased for the Knox county hospital, as a result of their recent drive for an iron lung.

The post members stated that $72 remained in the fund recently raised after the iron lung was purchased, and this money will be applied on the incubator. Those who contributed to the iron lung fund also have a part in this purchase, they said.

An incubator is very much needed at the hospital, it was pointed out. Although not trying to minimize the efforts of the Legionnaires in securing the iron lung—which is proclaimed by everyone as a worthy movement—Knox county physicians pointed out the fact that an incubator will probably save 25 lives to one saved by the iron lung.

This new equipment is expected to be purchased within the near future. The money left in the Legion fund has been turned over to hospital authorities for this purpose.

New Blacksmith Is Now Employed At Milstead's Shop

Milstead's General Repair Shop announces this week that D. D. Gray, formerly of Breckenridge, has been employed as head blacksmith and welder in his shop in Munday.

Mr. Gray formerly lived at Swenson, where he was in business for 13 years. For the past four years he has been employed at Breckenridge. He has plenty of experience in all lines of blacksmithing and welding and is capable in every respect.

His son, Jack Gray, is also employed at the shop as assistant.

Mr. Milstead feels fortunate in securing a man of Mr. Gray's ability, and he invites the public to come in and get acquainted with him.

A. B. (Doc) Russell left Thursday for Farmersville, Texas, where he is visiting his mother, Mrs. A. F. Russell. He was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Russell of Vernon. They will return home Sunday.

Benjamin Boy Hurt Wednesday In Collision

Bud Kendrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Kendrick of Benjamin, was seriously hurt in a car accident early Wednesday at Benjamin. He was taken to the Knox county hospital immediately after the accident, and little hope was held for his life.

Young Kendrick was driving south, and a heavy truck collided with his car at the stop light in Benjamin where the two highways intersect. The truck was going east, and it is believed the sun prevented the driver from seeing the stop light.

Kendrick is one of Benjamin's most popular young men and is a 1941 graduate of Benjamin high school.

E. W. Harrells Buy C. A. Eiland Home

A deal was completed this week where Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Harrell purchased the C. A. Eiland residence in Munday. The residence is occupied by Supt. and Mrs. S. Vidal Colley at the present time.

Some repair work will be done to the home, it was stated, and Mr. and Mrs. Harrell expect to occupy their new home around July first.

Knox Farmers Are Urged To Prepare For Fight Against Cotton Insects

Knox county farmers should make preparations now to protect their cotton crop from insects. County Agent Walter Rice warned Wednesday, as indications are that there will be a heavy infestation of flea hoppers and cotton leaf worms.

Flea hoppers are very difficult to see, and their damage to cotton can be seen before finding the insects. They are a very small, green-colored insect that stay in the very small squares of cotton. They feed on the juice of the square until it dies and falls off. If the cotton fails to put on squares, then the farmer should examine his cotton very carefully for flea hoppers. They can be controlled by dusting with sulphur. It will require at least two treatments of about 10 pounds per acre to control flea

A payment of 5.75 per cent of the approval grants in rural aid for Knox county was received from the state department last week, it was announced by Merick Mc-Gaughey, county superintendent. This makes a total of 95.75 per cent of the approval grants, it was stated.

Accompanying the payment was a letter from State Supt. L. A. Woods advising the county superintendent that this was the final payment for the year 1940-41. The payment was for teachers salaries and was in the amount of $632. It has been apportioned to the common schools of the county as follows:

City Water Is Made Available Again Tuesday

"Use It Sparingly" Is Admonition to All

After incessant work and constant worry from early Monday morning until late Tuesday, citizens of Munday were again furnished with city water. The water was turned into the mains at about six o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

A motor and pumping equipment was borrowed from Haskell, which enabled the city to make a temporary set-up at the city well. This set-up will be used until new equipment is placed into operation.

Water is pumped through a fire plug into the storage tank, and city officials explained that under this set-up they can furnish citizens with only "raw" water, since it cannot be treated under this arrangement. Consumers are advised to boil all their drinking water.

As a contrast to two weeks ago when the city council urged everyone to use an abundance of water, they now ask that consumers use it as sparingly as possible until new equipment can be installed. "We have plenty of water," they explained, "but no way to get it to you in an adequate amount. We ask that you use it for domestic purposes only, and do not water your lawns until our permanent set-up is made."

The city plans to install two new turbine pumps which will be placed in top of the ground where they will not be affected by high water. Levees will also be constructed around the property so no high water can get into the wells.

The city council expresses appreciation to all citizens who volunteered their services, equipment and wells for use during this short emergency.

"Lost" Acreage May Be Planted In Feed Crops

A good many farmers have lost their cotton and want to plant some of this cotton acreage in feed crops.

This practice is permissible under the AAA program and will not affect their payments or cotton allotments in the future, Walter Rice, county agent, said Wednesday. This reduction of cotton acreage has been brought about by uncontrollable causes, he explained.

Wheat stubble land can also be planted to feed without causing any change under the AAA payments.

COTTON BAGGING IS ORDERED FOR COUNTY

Peter Loran, representative for the San Antonio Cotton Mills, reported Thursday that 15,000 patterns of cotton bagging have been ordered for Munday and Rhineland, to be used in wrapping the 1941 cotton crop. In addition Red Springs has ordered 1,500 patterns.

Mr. Loran stated that farmer all over this area are to use cotton bagging as a means of consuming the farmers' own products.

Knox City Girl Is Injured in Car Accident Saturday

Juneve Malouf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Malouf of Knox City, was painfully injured in an automobile accident near Rule last Saturday evening and is in the Knox City Hospital for treatment. She received cuts and bruises about the face and body.

Miss Malouf was returning home from Abilene, where she had been attending a school of band music at A. C. C., Abilene. She was riding with Mr. and Mrs. Orbin Melton, instructors in ACC, who were also cut and bruised in the accident, but were released from the hospital Sunday. The accident occurred between Haskell and Rule. Reports from the hospital are that Miss Malouf is doing nicely.

Water Reaches Highest Stage Here Monday

Rainfall Over Week
End Totals About
5.50 Inches

For the fourth consecutive time in the past two months water from excessive rains in the territory swirled into Munday over the week end and again flooded homes and business houses of the town. Water reached its highest stage here Monday morning, and it was quite a bit higher than during either of the three other floods.

Following a light rain early Saturday morning, a 2.90-inch down-pour Saturday night completely soaked all of the territory. Heavier rain was reported in other nearby communities, with Sunset receiving more than five inches.

Water from Saturday night's rain flooded all streets, and some business houses were flooded before owners got down Sunday morning to erect their dikes in an effort to keep the inside of their business places dry. Streets of the town were flooded all during the day.

Before the high water had time to run off, J. Pluvius dished us out another portion—this time on Sunday night in the amount of 1.29, and another onrush of water started its course through the town.

Those who didn't rise quite early enough found no water in their faucets for washing faces, preparing breakfast, etc. A cave-in at the city well stopped all activities there. Mains leading to the storage tank were broken and all water in the tank was lost before workmen could shut off the valves.

Although Munday had too much water on the streets and in stores and homes, there was none for domestic use, and the water situation was serious from several angles:

First, the town was flooded. Second, drinking water was even going at a premium, and stores ordered water from Wichita Falls by truck, which was sold at 45 cents for 7 gallons, and thirdly, health authorities believed all sources of Munday's water to be polluted and advise boiling all water used for domestic purposes, regardless of where it is secured. Citizens used water from neighbors' wells and cisterns.

The high water and heavy rains have caused untold damage to the town and county. Hundreds of acres of freshly planted crops have been ruined, and a number of farms have been almost completely washed away. Wheat farmers who had been making desperate efforts to save their grain again met with discouragement and much of Knox county's best wheat crop in years will never be gathered.

It is believed that many acres of Knox county's farming land will not be planted this year, since much of it is now under water, and farmers believe it will be too late to raise a crop on the land after the water has dried up.

City officials had workmen employed day and night in an effort to get water to consumers in Munday. A tie-in was made at a private well late Monday, but this source proved inadequate to take care of the needs, and pumps were moved back to the city well.

Repairs are being made at the city well in an effort to get water to consumers for all purposes other than for drinking and cooking purposes.

With three cases of typhoid fever reported in the county, health authorities are advising citizens to use every precaution to prevent an epidemic which now appears probable.

Knox Singers To Meet At Knox City

The general public is cordially invited to attend and enjoy this program of songs.

ATTACKING OUR INCENTIVES

Various poisoners of public opinion have for many years directed their attack on the word "profits," and now, in the present defense emergency, they would like to reap the results of their poisoning if they could possibly get away with it. The only way in which they can be thwarted in this aim is for the public to look at the real facts of the case, and refuse to listen to baseless allegations.

Our system is called a profit system, but the definition is incomplete. Actually, it is a profit-loss system, in which individuals start enterprises because they know there is a fair chance of success. But these enterprises, which mean new jobs and new payrolls for others, aren't guaranteed success; as a matter of fact, there hasn't been a year since 1929 in which more than two out of five corporations made money!

Now, in connection with defense, thoughtless folk are pointing to stories of "hundred per cent increases" in profits over previous years. They forget that a jump from a 1 per cent return on an investment to a 2 per cent return fits that "hundred per cent increase" definition, but still doesn't take profits up to prosperity levels.

The attack on the profit motive is part of a far broader attempt to undermine the system of life we have in this country. Certainly profits should not be allowed to reach unreasonable levels—and present and future taxes will undoubtedly prevent that from happening! But the citizens of the United States should be chary of letting a few shooters voicing plain inaccuracies destroy their faith in the incentive that has led to our present jobs, payrolls, wealth of new products, and our vast new industries that today are building the equipment for the nation's defense.

TODAY'S BUSINESS LEADERS

What has brought America's present leaders of industry to the top of the business ladder?

B. C. Forbes, well-known business writer, sought the answer to this question from 67 of this country's present crop of industrial heads. The answers varied in individual cases, of course, but there were certain very well-defined threads running through most of them.

Most of all, it is observable from Mr. Forbes' findings, which were published recently in Forbes Magazine, that the average business leader of today wasn't merely content to wait until opportunity came knocking at his door. He went looking for opportunity, and proved himself able to recognize it when it did arrive.

The author found that education played a tremendous role in helping most of these men towards success. The majority supplemented their formal education and their "school of hard knocks" training by taking special courses. They were united in believing that the opportunities in this country were great if you worked to take advantage of them.

Mr. Forbes lists some of the other distinctive characteristics and beliefs of these men: eagerness to learn as much as possible about the work they were doing, readiness to accept financial sacrifice if it was necessary to gain a potentially greater opportunity, a keen interest in human nature and an aptitude for getting along with co-workers, and the recognition of the fact that less important aims must be subordinated to mastery of all phases of the job in hand.

The composite picture of these men is an encouraging one for those interested in continued national progress. All our national history has showed America moving forward as its industries move ahead—and here is leadership that has trained itself well in order to guide industry on its way!

THE FOUNDATION IS THERE

One point concerning our economic history is worth making before the issue becomes confused by the rush of present events. We refer to the fact that American industry had staged a remarkable "come-back" from depression low levels even before national defense took the center of the stage.

Comparing 1940 with pre-depression 1929, the following points come to light: Consumers got more industrial goods in 1940 than in 1929, and paid less for them. Meanwhile, labor worked fewer hours and got more "real" pay. And this was achieved hand-in-hand with greater production efficiency—through increased output for each man-hour of work.

At the same time, industry was faced with the problem of paying far higher taxes than in 1929. Yet the only place in which it failed to do better in 1940 than it had done 11 years before was in the matter of earnings—from which come stockholder dividends.

All these statements are backed up by some graphic charts in the magazine, Modern Industry, which show the 12-year record of industry.

"Here," the publication comments, "is the foundation on which industry will build the greatest production record in all history."

It is encouraging to know that the industrial foundation for defense is sound. And it is worthwhile, too, to remember the lesson that on greater production efficiency are based the gains—gains for consumers, gains for workmen, gains for America in general—upon which all our progress must rest.

HOME CLEANING AND FIRE

Mrs. America is now turning her expert hand to the job of spring house cleaning, and woe betide all interference! There she stands—a towel guarding her coiffure, with a broom and a scrubbing brush—mistress of all she surveys.

There is panic amid the cobwebs, the dust particles shudder despairingly. Wise husbands stay downtown for dinner. Smart children absent themselves.

But the National Board of Fire Underwriters dares to raise a voice. "Mrs. America," it says, "there were 1,500 fires a day in this country in 1940. Most of them were in homes. They cost the lives of thousands of loved ones, the loss of cherished possessions, of hundreds of millions of dollars. Can't we do better than that from now on?"

And so the National Board, which observed its 75th anniversary this year, tries to show Mrs. America the best way to fight fire is before it starts. House-clean the fire hazards, it advises. Beware of rubbish in the attic and basement. Never clean with gasoline—it's liquid dynamite. Discard non-metal waste baskets and ash containers. Use only approved electrical devices and equipment. Put all oil or paint-soaked rags and clothing in the furnace, lest spontaneous combustion break out.

"Fireproof the American home" is a good slogan for house-cleaning time. And Mr. America, along with his Mrs., has a dividend-paying job laid out for him here.

HANDWRITING ON THE WALL

Certain labor leaders in the United States today set themselves and their demands above the welfare and safety of the nation.

To enforce their demands, whatever they happen to be, they do not hesitate to imperil the lives, not only of the workers themselves, but of every man, woman and child in our country.

Standing behind the cloak of freedom which they enjoy in this land, they are deliberately pursuing a course which may well destroy that freedom, and destroy with it the labor movement they prostitute for financial gain and power.

They dictate to government as well as to industry and the worker. There is only one force that can control them—public opinion, which eventually controls government.

The welfare of the public is today threatened on all sides by rule or ruin labor leadership.

First, our national defense is at stake.

Second, the nation's supply of coal is depleted to the danger point by strikes and threatened strikes.

Third, farm production is discouraged through increased costs the farmer cannot meet.

Fourth, the railroad workers now go the defense workers and the coal miners one better and demand a 30 per cent increase in basic wages, which, if granted, would so boost living costs that the vicious circle of strikes would start all over again.

The development of little dictatorships was practiced in foreign lands until helpless people accepted a political dictatorship which finally destroyed personal liberty and labor liberty as well.

Labor must realize that when the safety of the nation is in jeopardy, anything can happen. If the people are driven too far, they will be forced to demand a government dictatorship that will end labor dictatorship. And if that happens, the eventual result will be the destruction of the kind of freedom we have all enjoyed.

ELEMENTS OF HAPPINESS
Happiness is the legitimate fruitage of love and service.—Arthur S. Hardy.

Seek happiness for its own sake, and you will not find it; seek for duty, and happiness will flow as the shadow comes with the sunshine.—Tyron Edwards.

If the principles of contentment are not within us, the height of station and worldly grandeur will as soon add a cubit to a man's stature as to his happiness.—Stern

Pure humanity, friendship, home interchange of love, bring to earth a foretaste of heaven. They unite terrestrial and celestial joys and crown them with infinite blessings.—Mary Baker Eddy.

There is little pleasure in the world that is sincere and true beside that of doing our duty and doing good. No lot is comparable to this.—Tillotson.

Connally's "Stop Strikes Measure" Brings Results

Washington, D.C.—With word from the War Department that more men were on strike than at any other time since the beginning of the emergency the bill to stop strikes by Senator Tom Connally of Texas effected a crystallization of sentiment among both executive and legislative authorities expected to end this irritating interference with national defense efforts.

The measure, known as Senate 1600, authorizes the government to take over and operate in the national interest any plant or factory engaged in the production of defense articles in which the production of such articles is hampered, delayed or impeded by the existence of a strike or other labor disturbance.

Senator Connally emphasized that strikers, who are stopping work in plants that ought to be running twenty-four hours a day in behalf of our defense, are attacking our national welfare and the national safety by a form of creeping paralysis.

"My bill," pointed out Connally, "denies no man his fundamental rights. It does demand that there shall be no stoppage of work in national defense plants. The processes of mediation and conciliation will be preserved. In the meantime, however, the plants must continue to operate under government direction and government protection. Men who do not desire to work may quit their jobs. Those who desire may continue to work with the government's protection. No right is denied any citizen.

"America faces a great crisis. The national security is involved. The nation does not propose to have its safety imperiled and its program for national defense delayed or bogged down by selfish or wilful groups who seek to take advantage of the nation's necessities to improve their own condition at the expense of the safety of one hundred and thirty millions of people. Strikes in defense plants must stop. My bill will stop them."

THEY SAY!

"These are critical and dangerous times. It is to be hoped that they will bring us to a fuller realization of the fact that liberty is more than a privilege. Two thousand years ago the doctrine of man's dignity and responsibility as an individual renewed his faith in himself and his fellow men. Today I am firmly convinced, much of the world's trouble can be traced to the fact that we fail to remember that the advantages we now enjoy do not diminish our responsibility to society."—C. Donald Dallas, President, Revere Copper and Brass, Incorporated.

"There are some principles and practices that are distinctly American and that are believed in by most Americans; especially a fundamental conception of freedom which is a part of our heritage. . . . We have built up our civilization here, and drawn our social pattern, on a basis of individual freedom. It includes freedom of worship, of speech and press and assembly, choice of occupation, right to acquire and own property and the right to participate in government through representatives whose arbitrary power is restricted by basic and statutory law, who are periodically accountable to the people. We are a stronger nation with superior industrial facilities and a higher standard of living because we have had these liberties."—J. Howard Pew, President, Sun Oil Company.

Delayed crop work, inundated farms, inaccessible wheat fields—these things occasion more concern than the political fortunes of any aspirant for public office. Some busy farmers may not even come to the election.—The Vernon Times.

SURPLUS FOOD FOR JUNE

College Station—Fresh cabbage and snap beans have been added to the list of surplus foods which will be obtainable in exchange for food stamps at local stores in the stamp plan areas during June. In the same announcement the Department of Agriculture added that butter and fresh carrots, available nationally during May in all areas, are not included on the June list.

With these revisions, the complete list of blue stamp foods for June in all stamp plan areas is: fresh grapefruit, oranges, apples, cabbage, snap beans, Irish potatoes, raisins, pork lard, all pork, (except that cooked or packed in metal or glass containers), corn meal, shell eggs, dried prunes, hominy (corn) grits, dry edible beans, wheat flour, and whole wheat, Graham flour.

Sweet potato feed for livestock is to be produced on a commercial scale this season at an Alabama prison farm.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

When praised for his generosity in accepting an invitation to speak, District Judge Bascom Gist of Tyler replied: "There are two classes of people—those that make speeches and those that listen to them. I would rather make a speech than have to listen to one."

One of the most faithful readers of this column each week is former District Judge Ralph Yarbrough of Austin. Recently, he told me, "Your column two weeks ago was the best you've ever written." To which the columnist replied, "Thanks very much; by the way, all the things in that particular column were clipped from other papers and credited to them; I didn't write a line of it." And then you should have seen the judge turn a delicate shade of pink and try to explain away his remark.

A young man (according to a story I hear) stepped out of a taxicab in front of a hotel in Lubbock and remarked to the driver, "I'll have to get a check cashed; I'll be right back, my name is Marvin Brown and I'm district attorney from Fort Worth." The taxicab driver drawled, "Yeah, and my name is Thomas E. Dewey and I'm the district attorney from New York and I'll just go along with you." The "fare" grinned and they went in together and the hotel cashier cashed the check because the chap really was District Attorney Marvin Brown!

Few years back, your columnist wrote a book, "Were You in Ranger?" and because Amon Carter made it possible for me to eat regularly during the depression by providing me with a job on the news staff, the first copy off the press was presented to him. Recently when my newest book, "Oil Boom," came out, the publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram received a book with this inscription, "The No. 1 copy off the press is presented to the No. 1 Texan."

An Oklahoma editor published two pictures, one of a dilapidated house and the other of an eroded field, and invited his readers to take part in a "You Write the Story" contest. Here is the prize-winning letter, written by an Indian:

Both pictures show white man crazy. Make big tepee. Plow hill. Water wash; wind blow soil. Grass gone, land gone, door gone, window gone; whole place gone to . . . Buck gone, squaw, too. Papoose gone. No pig, no corn, no cow, no hay, no pony.

Indian no plow land. Keep grass. Buffalo eat. Indian eat . . . uffalo. Hide make tepee, make moccasins. Indian no make terrace, no build dam, no give d . . . All time eat. No hunt job, no hitchhike, no ask relief. No shoot pig. Great Spirit make grass. Indian no waste anything. Indian no work. White man heap loco.

Ain't civilization wonderful?
(Quoted from L. F. Wade's Jay-ton Chronicle.)

Over the State:

Three of the most celebrated names in athletics—all of them Texans, in fact all of them residents of the same town, Sweetwater—recently bought thoroughbred horses, perhaps in the hope that some of these days soon horse racing will again be permitted in the state. Lew Jenkins, world's lightweight boxing champion, got two thoroughbred mares from Sheriff Tom Wade of Nolan county. Sam Baugh, greatest star of pro football, also got a mare from Sheriff Wade as did Bulldog Turner great pro football center.

of glass. Amazing has been the rapid rise in sentiment for Lyndon Johnson in the United States Senate race as shown by straw vote and poll. The trend is strongly toward Johnson, observers declare, and they account for it as due to his familiarity with national problems from actual experience and service in Washington; a wide feeling that the Governor and the Attorney General can not be spared from the State (duties which they agreed to fill for the next 18 months) to take up new and unfamiliar duties, whereas if Johnson is elected, it would constitute simply a promotion and—biggest factor of all, perhaps—the close political and personal friendship between Johnson and President Roosevelt at a time of national and world crisis when teamwork and co-operation with our leader are necessary if America is to survive.

Wheat Quotas Now in Effect In Knox County

Wheat quotas are now in effect and will apply on the 1941 wheat crop, August Schumacher, chairman of the Knox county AAA committee, announced this week.

Tabulations compiled in the local AAA office at Benjamin, indicate that wheat farmers of the county approved wheat marketing quotas by a vote of 161 to 34, a majority of 82.6 per cent, when they voted in the nation-wide wheat referendum Saturday, May 31.

Mr. Schumacher also announced that preliminary but unofficial figures from the State AAA office indicate that Texas farmers approved quotas by a vote of 13,974 to 938, or 93.7 per cent, while the United States voted 80.3 per cent for quotas.

"All farmers who have planted within their wheat allotments for this year," Mr. Schumacher said, "may continue to sell or feed all they produce. They may also dispose of old wheat carried over from previous years."

Since quotas are approved, wheat farmers who have planted within their allotments are eligible for a wheat loan which will be 94 cents per bushel net in Knox county for No. 1 wheat. This is the rate that has been announced officially. The amount of excess wheat will be the smaller of actual production, or normal yield on the overplanted acres on the farm, the committee-man explained.

Overplanted wheat farmers, Mr. Schumacher continued, who have a marketing excess may dispose of it in one of three ways, (1) they may market it and pay the penalty, which will be 50 per cent of the national average loan rate of 98 cents per bushel.

(2) they may deliver it to the Secretary of Agriculture through the local AAA committee for relief purposes or other purposes that will divert it from the normal channels of trade, or (3) they may store it under bond, in which case the wheat is sealed in storage approved for government loans and the farmer will be eligible for a loan on it at 60 per cent of the regular loan rate.

Kitchen Shower Given Here For Mrs. Jerry Kane

Mmes. Deaton Green and L. M. Palmer and Miss Maxine Lane were hostesses on the evening of the marriage announcement for Mrs. Jerry Kane at the home of Mrs. Green in one of the loveliest and cleverest showers of the season.

The kitchen came into its own in this gala affair. The rooms were gay in bright seasonal flowers; the dining table covered with a gay checked cloth and centered with a bowl of red and white flowers, was piled high with gifts, while on a clothesline across the room hung towels and aprons.

The game tables held baskets containing the menu for service. The menu: the cocktail, a can of tomato juice, sandwiches, cookies and fruit. Tea was served with this last course. Each can of tomato juice was opened by the bride with one of her gift can openers.

After an evening of fun and games, the bride carried away all the decorations and gifts and proved this was a real shower followed by a happy clearing.

Guests were Mrs. P. V. Williams, the honoree, and her sister, Miss Jean Williams, and Mmes. Paul Pendleton, Gene Harrell, D. E. Holder, Jr., Vincent Lane, Rupert Williams, Travis Lee, John R. Rayburn, J. B. King and Violet Beville; Misses Elizabeth Mounce, Dorothy Campbell, Ruth Baker, Florene Allen of Goree, Jeanette Campbell, Lorene Newsom and the hostesses.

He added that at a time and place to be announced later, a mass meeting of all store operators and their clerks, handling cotton products, would be held. In stressing the importance of attending this meeting, Mr. Phillips pointed out that merchants cannot accept Cotton Stamps for redemption by the Government until they have completed a "Retailer's Statement" form entitling them to participate. These forms may be obtained from the County Agricultural Agent, and the rules and regulations governing the plan's operation will be fully explained at the meeting.

"I feel sure," said Mr. Phillips, "that every retailer of American grown and manufactured cotton products in Knox County will want to cooperate wholeheartedly with the Government's effort to aid our cotton farmers and the cotton industry as a whole. It's certainly

Student Plane Builders Pledge Loyalty

"No strikes for us," say these 106 students, shown with their six instructors, of the Wichita Engineering Company Aviation School, as they prepare to go to work in defense industries. Wednesday the group sent the president the following message, pledging support in preserving the government:

"We the students of the Wichita Engineering Company Aviation School, who will be working in the aviation industry in a few weeks, take this opportunity to pledge to you our full and loyal support. When we are engaged in work in the aviation industry, we will see that work is not stopped and that the United States will emerge from the crisis now befalling us without losing any of the liberties given us under the bill of rights and the constitution of the United States of America."

Covey Expresses Thanks to People For Contributions

On behalf of all officials of the USO, I wish to thank each and every citizen of Knox county who has made a contribution for this great work. Every cent contributed will be sent to aid in the work that will be done for the benefit of our boys in the training camps. And too, I want to thank all the community chairmen and the members of their committees who have willingly given their time for the purpose of raising Knox county's quota. All time and expense was contributed in order that all funds raised would be available for the USO work. Our district, state and national officials of the USO join me in thanking each of you. If you were missed by the committee and you wish to make a contribution for the benefit of those who have left their work and home to render service for the nation, please see your local chairman or leave your contribution at your bank. Again thanking you, I am,

Sincerely,
E. L. COVEY, Chairman
Knox County USO.

Press Officers Named at Meet In Galveston

Dave Warren, president of the Borger Herald, was elected president of the Texas Press Association at the closing session of the 62nd annual convention in Galveston last Saturday.

Warren, well known Panhandle publisher, succeeds Charles K. Devall of Kilgore as head of the association.

Deskins Wells, publisher of the Wellington Leader and former president of the association, was elected secretary-treasurer, succeeding Sam P. Harben of Richardson, who has served in this capacity for over twenty years. Other new officers included James Donahue of Tyler, vice president.

The convention adopted a resolution presented by Lowry Martin of Corsicana, pledging vigorous and military support of the nation's program of national defense in all its phases.

Douglas Doshier of Benjamin was a business visitor in the city Wednesday.

Miss Mary Couch of Haskell visited with friends in Munday the first of this week.

which he travels are smooth, but if they're rough, he will get even less miles per gallon.

"That is a good reason for watching tire inflation—seeing that they are up to recommended figures, so that the owner will get the ultimate safe mile possible from each tire," he continued.

"There are other things that the car owner will want to check more carefully, in addition to pressures. First, alignment of wheels so that slow, even wear of casings will result; frequent inspection of tires to be sure that nails and glass embedded there are removed, and finally, that his driving generally be improved. By that I mean the car owner should avoid quick get-aways from stoplights, should not slam on the brakes, should keep his speeds down to a reasonable minimum. Thus he will not only get more mileage from his gasoline, but will really add miles to his tires' service."

"And one more point," concluded Mr. Reeves, "right now is an especially good time to replace worn tires. We are conducting a tire sale from now to July 5, offering real savings on Goodyear tires to the car owners of Knox county."

Weekly Health

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, M.D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin, Tex.—National defense training courses in water and sewage plant operation are now being offered as part of the curricula in the University of Texas, A. & M. College, and Texas Technological College, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Department as a national defense measure and as a tuition-free.

The courses provide three months of full-time training for water treatment and sewage plant treatment operators. The courses were designed to meet the need of additional trained water workers and sewage operators to serve in municipal plants and in the plants of military and naval establishments.

The courses include instruction in general principles of sanitation, principles of water treatment, sanitary water analysis, water treatment, plant operation, principles of sewage treatment, sewage analysis, and sewage treatment plant operation. Practical operation of sanitary problems is being stressed, and much of the course has been designated as laboratory work in the water and sewage plants of nearby municipalities.

That each student may obtain the maximum benefits from the defense course, enrollment has been limited to fifteen students per school.

"The State Department of Health wishes to commend the University of Texas, Texas A. & M. College, and Texas Technological College for their cooperation in making these courses possible, thus supplying trained professional water and sewage plant operators at a time of national emergency when the need for such personnel in Texas is particularly great," Dr. Cox concluded.

Mrs. H. B. Leathers and little daughter, Brenda Kay, of Haskell visited friends here last Tuesday.

Correct Tire Inflation Will Save Gasoline

Local Dealer Urges Care And Inspection of Tires Plus Moderate Speeds

What has "tire inflation to do with increased gasoline consumption?" This is an important consideration today, with thought turning nationally to ways and means of making the gasoline supply go farthest as an aid in defense planning.

Tire engineers, according to Reeves Motor Co., local Goodyear dealer, have over a period of years made extensive tests and comparisons, finding that a slight reduction in air content of tires increases gasoline consumption.

"On the 6.00-16 size, popular on a large group of cars in current use," said Mr. Reeves, "28 pounds of air is a normal pressure, but, reduced to 24 pounds, or say roughly, reduced 14 per cent, will increase the car owner's gasoline consumption two and one half per cent. That is, if the highways over

AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

Luther Kirk
With the highest water of the year flowing past the church Sunday morning we had good attendance. I have found that people nearly always do about what they want to do. If the water is over the highway and bridges are out we do not let it interfere with our going places. We just detour. If we want to go to church on Sunday morning and there are some interferences we can detour. But if we do not want to attend church on Sunday it isn't hard to find interference and when once we find it we only see the sign, "Road Closed." We fail to see the sign, "Detour."

Speaking of high water reminds us that dignity can be lain on the shelf. We will be doing nothing new if we wear boots and go bare-footed to church. We like to see your smiling face rain or shine, cold or hot or in the midst of a sandstorm.

We will be looking for you Sunday.

LITTLE PEOPLE CAN PUT BRAKE ON PRODIGAL SPENDING

Must Demand Slash in Nondefense Expenditures to Avoid Inflation, Disney Claims

NEW YORK — Representative Wesley E. Disney, Democrat, of Oklahoma called upon America's "millions of little people" to lick the scourge of possible inflation by slashing all non-defense expenditures.

"Defense is mandatory. Its expenses must be met," he said, speaking at a dinner before the Tax Foundation in New York. "But many non-defense items can wait." Pointing out that as long as people have tolerated extravagance in government it has constantly grown in volume, Representative Disney asserted that the responsibility for action rests ultimately upon the whole people of the nation.

Declaring that most people do not yet realize the full share of their own burdens with respect to future payments to their government, Representative Disney asserted that it is the little people who must put real pressure on their Congressmen to make economies in non-defense appropriations, which is the only sane and moral course for a people facing such a critical period as the United States faces today.

He warned against being fooled by mere titles and labels because a curious phenomenon is arising in which every bureau and department of the government, whose existence is threatened, has gotten up some scheme to prove its worthiness as a defense project.

"The magnitude of the defense program staggers the imagination. In the near future, we may expect a national debt of $90 billion and maybe $100 billion which is in addition to an existing state and local debt of $20 billion. This represents an average debt load of between $3000 and $4000 for every single family in the whole country." In regard to this burden Mr. Disney said the old slogan, Soak the Rich, has ceased to be realistic. For if the government took every dime of all individual net incomes in the United States over $5,000, it would yield less than enough money even to pay current, normal annual expenses.

Quoting Marshal Petain following the French debacle, "After our victory in 1918 we became a comfortable, pleasure seeking nation. We asked for more than we were willing to give. We refused to accept responsibility. Now we are in distress," Representative Disney called upon the "little people" of America, who in their own lives are responsible and prudent and who must eventually bear all the ballooned costs of their government, not to follow in the prodigal, fatal steps of the people of France.

More than 84,000 rural families in Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana are learning how to be "all dressed up in cottons" this summer as agents of the Farm Security Administration go into the homes of their clients to demonstrate new cotton wardrobes prepared with the cooperation of the National Cotton Council.

Shortage Of Farm Laborers Is Forecast

College Station.—A shortage of farm labor in Texas may be experienced in the summer and fall months.

Summarizing the prospects, however, T. R. Timm, extension economist in farm management, says the probable shortage will be more in the form of the wage farm operators will be able, or required, to pay than a physical shortage.

The latter condition is forecast by the delayed season, which was due to excessive rain. This caused farmers in south, central and north Texas to plant their cotton at about the same time.

Cotton itself presents a peculiar problem, Timm says. Mechanization of cotton farms has been increasing rapidly for several years.

Conscription of men into the army most likely will further reduce the labor ranks. Nevertheless, it seems that most of the increase in labor charges is and will continue to be a result of alternative possibilities that laborers have in jobs relating to or induced by the defense program.

Timm suggests that farmers keep in touch with their county agricultural agents, who are working closely with the Farm Placement Service of the Texas Employment Service, migratory labor camps of the Farm Security Administration, W.P.A. offices, and office of the agricultural statistician, Agricultural Marketing Service, in trying to assist farmers in solving their acute problem.

The new additions are those of Gen. Robert E. Lee; Gov. James Stephen Hogg; Gov. Joseph D. Sayers, both good friends of the University; Judge Pleasant W. Kittrell, who introduced the first bill in the Texas Legislature authorizing establishment of the University; Judge R. S. Gould, former law professor; and A. P. Woodridge, longtime secretary of the University Board of Regents and prominent in the selection of the school's site.

The new pictures bring to a total of 21 the number of gold-framed oil portraits hanging in the gallery.

Necessary funds for completing its system of rural power lines have been allotted by the Rural Electrification Administration to the Panola-Harrison rural electric cooperative in Elysian Fields.

The co-op's 312 miles of line will serve 915 members. REA officials say that this addition to rural electric service in Texas will soon bring to more than 93,200 the total of farm families served by the 66 REA-financed systems now operating in the state.

Record-breaking automobile sales are in progress throughout Texas, judging by reports from 19 representative counties to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Passenger car registration in May jumped 28.4 per cent ahead of the preceding month to 12,505 cars, the bureau reported. The figure compares with sales in May, 1940, totaling 6,736 cars.

Thus far this year, passenger car sales total 47,986, up 44.6 per cent over the same period in 1940.

Though lagging somewhat behind April's sales, commercial cars are also selling ahead of last year, 42.9 per cent above last June, 28.7 ahead for the year through May.

TEXAS OUT-OF-DOORS

Austin, Texas—Many years ago it was believed that just any old body of water would support fish life. No one gave the matter much thought, but things are different today. Now it is known that fish, like human beings must have proper food and cover if they are to thrive and provide sport for anglers.

The Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission is giving increasing attention to lake and stream management within the limited funds of the Department. The latest development is the planting of several species of plants by the thousands in six miles of one of the parts of the Guadalupe River near Kerrville, which is open to public fishing. Incidentally, the Guadalupe is an excellent example of how overgrazing can affect the fishing.

A few years ago the wildlife school of A. and M. College made a study of the Guadalupe River in co-operation with the Kerrville Chamber of Commerce and the Kerr County Wildlife Association. It was found that floods, caused by overgrazing of the watershed, was partially responsible for the decrease in the fish population of the Guadalupe. Later tests made by the aquatic biologists of the Game Department disclosed the fact that there was much more food around the plant life in the river than was in the barren portions of the large stream.

Last year a heavier than usual rainfall made the grass and other vegetation grow more abundantly on the range along the river and thus decreased the problem of overgrazing. This year's rains were equally as hard, or harder than those of last year, but there was no big flooding of the Guadalupe. The vegetation on the range held back the water to an appreciable extent.

The result of the lack of floods was more vegetation in the river to provide suitable forage pastures for aquatic insects, microscopic food and forage fish for the more desirable game fishes. The vegetation grew rapidly. Fishing has been better in the Guadalupe this spring than it has been since 1932 when a big flood destroyed much of the vegetation in this clear cool stream of the hill country.

Kerr County is a member of the small group of counties which have a universal fishing license law in effect. Consequently part of the Game Department funds are earmarked by law to be spent in that county. A portion of that fund is being used to plant tens of thousands of plants in the river. Barring more floods, the plant life already in the river would spread and aid in the rebuilding of the fish population. However, the Game Department's biologists hope to bring about as much increase in the plant life in a year as would be produced normally in five or six years. They have high hopes that fishing will be much better in the Guadalupe next year.

QUAIL GO UNDERGROUND
Game Department biologists are forming the opinion that holes

made by opossum and other animals are being used by quail more often than it had been thought. In a number of instances quail have been noticed to use shallow underground holes as a means of protection. During census work in Southwest Texas, a covey of three birds were located in an opossum den. They flushed into a huisache bush, but upon the arrival of the bird dogs they again took refuge in the den. Woody cover in this isolated huisache mott was lacking and herbaceous cover was practically non-existent. Injured birds were located in holes, or if flushed, from their protective cover, went directly to a den. Often bobwhites that had remained in quail traps for as much as eight or ten hours flew to the edge of a possum den and took refuge inside. Birds that retreat into such shallow holes, however, fall easy prey to dogs and cats, it has been observed.

CRAYFISH DESTROY STRAWBERRIES

Rabbits got the blame for destroying the strawberry beds owned by Mr. A. Monjot, who resides near Angleton, Texas, but to his amazement, he discovered crayfish, or crawdads, were the villains in the play.

Mr. Monjot reported to Game Department biologists that he suspected rabbits, but when he went to his berry patches recently armed with a shotgun, there were no rabbits in sight. However the ground appeared to be literally crawling with strawberries. Closer investigation revealed crayfish were taking the luscious berries into their holes before devouring them.

Numerous truck gardeners in the vicinity of Angleton pour kerosene into crayfish holes to prevent depredations by the crawdads.

U.S. is Losing Power in World Cotton Markets

Austin, Texas—With American cotton pegged at about $20 per bale higher than competitive staples in foreign markets, this country is definitely out of the world market—at least for the time being—declares A. B. Cox, University of Texas cotton expert.

Predicting a 10,000,000-bale foreign carryover from the 1941-42 season, the University Bureau of Business Research director cited that Congress has boosted the loan price of cotton to 85 per cent of 1909-14 parity and that foreign production this year exceeds foreign consumption by 2,000,000 bales.

"The United States has thus at last lost its power to greatly influence world cotton prices by its policies of crop restrictions and above-market price loans," Cox declared.

"The South has not yet come to realize the full significance to it of the changed cotton situation, and has, therefore, made relatively little progress in making the far-reaching adjustments to its economy made necessary by the loss of markets for its major farm products.

New 'Life Saver' for Premature Babies

FORD ENGINEERS HELPED DEVELOP THIS PORTABLE INCUBATOR.

Through the combined efforts of Ford Motor Company engineers and Henry Ford Hospital officials at Detroit, a new-low-cost portable baby incubator has been developed after 12 years.

Small and easy to handle, this "pigmy" life-saving outfit is expected to bring about a sharp reduction in the high infant mortality rate in rural areas. The portable incubator can be moved easily into isolated homes to help save the lives of premature babies.

Physicians all over the nation are looking with interest on the new unit because—compared to bulky incubators usually available only in large hospitals—it is small enough to be transported quickly in any emergency to isolated rural districts.

The outfit (shown above) is hardly larger than a clothes basket and fits easily on an automobile seat. It works when plugged into an ordinary light socket and can be set upon a kitchen table.

As a life saver for premature babies, this compact unit has been remarkably successful in Michigan. Twenty of the tiny incubators are strategically located in communities not able to purchase the larger ones and in sections not served by hospitals. Results are attracting wide attention.

As soon as arrangements can be made with a hospital supply company, the units will be manufactured and marketed on a larger scale, a Ford official said. The price will be held as closely as possible to actual cost—approximately $100.

TWO KINDS OF QUOTAS FOR WHEAT

College Station—Two kinds of quotas designed to protect the wheat grower's income will be in effect in 1941.

With the approval by 80 per cent of the growers voting in the nation-wide referendum on May 31, wheat marketing quotas will be in effect on the 1941 crop. A two-thirds majority was necessary.

At the same time Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard announced that President Roosevelt had established import quotas on wheat to protect United States farm income from the world wheat situation.

Import quotas, as provided in the Agricultural Act, restrict shipments from foreign countries if they threaten to reduce the effectiveness of the National Farm Program's supply and price-support measures, Fred Reynolds, assistant state administrator in charge of the AAA in Texas pointed out.

"The wheat program is holding the price of our wheat above the world level so that even a slight rise might completely offset the effect of the 42-cent tariff," Reynolds explained.

Import quotas and marketing quotas, combined with already existing portions of the farm program including acreage allotments, conservation and parity payments, loans, and crop insurance, will provide adequate protection for the U. S. Wheat grower's income in 1941, the AAA official said, with the result that for the first time in many years, the wheat farmer cooperating with the AAA program will receive parity prices for his product.

Features Of Cowboy Reunion To Attract Many

Stamford, Texas.—Two main features of the Texas Cowboy Reunion, which annually attract thousands of visitors to Stamford are the old fiddlers contest and the chuck wagon meals which are served from wagons brought in from well-known West Texas ranches for the occasion. This year's Reunion, the twelfth annual showing, will be held on July 3, 4 and 5.

The old fiddlers contest, the biggest free attraction of the Reunion, will be held in the Coombes Roundup Hall on the morning of July 4, the second day. No entrance fee is required of the contestants and spectators are admitted free. Prizes totaling $32.50 go to the four top winners, as follows: First, $15; second, $10; third, $5 and fourth $2.50.

More than twenty-five contestants from throughout the state are expected to enter this year's contest, according to J. T. Stell, Stamford, chairman. A number of registrations already have been received. Contestants must be not less than 50 years of age, and professional musicians are barred. Each contestant is allowed to select the two tunes he plays, but they must be "breakdowns." The fiddler may play alone or select his own second.

Among the ranches expected to send chuck wagons this year are the 6666 ranch of Guthrie, the Matador ranch of Matador, the DDD ranch, Reynolds Land and Cattle Co., Kent county; SMS flat-top ranch, Stamford; SMS Spur ranch, Spur, the SMS Throckmorton ranch, Throckmorton and the Bar-Cross ranch of Colorado City.

These wagons and their cook crews come in from the ranches immediately after the spring roundup and branding operations are over, set up and feed the visitors the regular chuck wagon grub—and plenty of it at a very reasonable price. All the wagons also participate in the big parade which this year will be staged on the first day of the Reunion, July 3.

Other principal features of the Reunion this year, besides the three daily rodeo performances, will be the quarter horse show, the annual official show of the American Quarter Horse Association, the cowgirl sponsor contests, which this year will be staged in the arena as a part of the afternoon and night performances, the annual convention of old-time cowboys, two big dances each night, and a demonstration in the arena at each night performance by the famous Stamford Square Dance Team, which recently returned from the National Folk Dance Festival at Washington.

Mrs. J. W. Fowler of Goree was a business visitor here last Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Dorsey Rogers was in Wichita Falls on Monday and Tuesday to visit her sister, who is under medical treatment at a Wichita Falls hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Sebera Jones were visitors in Mineral Wells last Sunday and were accompanied home by their son, Bobbie, who spent some two weeks in Mineral Wells with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Jones.

"Here's What I Expect An Advertisement To Tell Me"

"Where Can I Buy It? Naturally, one of the first things I want to know about something I see in an ad is—where can I buy it? It isn't simply a matter of convenience and of saving time in planning my shopping, either! No, the name of the merchant, itself, often decides whether I buy or not. Invariably, you see, I give preference to stores whose ads I see regularly and often—I know these stores must have good value or they couldn't go on advertising year after year!

"What Will It Do For Me? I find it so much easier to make up my mind when the ad tells me facts about the merchandise! What is it? What will it do? How will it help me? Why do I need it? I want to know about color, weight, texture, material, style—I enjoy reading those things and I usually buy from the merchant who tells them to me.

"How Much Is The Price? Of course nearly every ad mentions the price, but if an item has been marked down I want to know from how much. So many sale ads say 'Was Higher'... how much higher? I want to know how much I am saving and I want the chance of deciding for myself if the item is a real value or not. I have more confidence in the store that is consistently truthful and buy from such a store regularly—and my husband says an old customer is worth three new ones because new ones cost money to get!"

READ THE ADS IN THE MUNDAY TIMES—ALL OF THEM HELP YOU TO WISE SPENDING—MOST OF THEM HELP YOU TO MAKE WISE SAVINGS, TOO!

Army's Newest Bomber Comes Out of the Clouds

DEARBORN, Mich.—This big aerial dreadnaught coming out of the clouds for a landing at Ford Airport is the new Consolidated B-24. It is regarded by the U. S. Army as the world's most formidable bomber. The Ford Motor Company, under government contract to produce sub-assemblies and the parts for five complete B-24 bombers a day, is erecting an $18,000,000 plant for the job, 25 miles from here.

Henry Ford examined this huge bomber when it visited Dearborn recently. It weighs 56,000 pounds loaded and carries four tons of bombs at a speed of 300 miles an hour. The ship has a cruising range of 3,000 miles.

NBC President To Honor Texas With Broadcast

Dallas—Niles Trammell, president of the National Broadcasting Company, has accepted an invitation to take part in the dedicatory ceremonies of the new WFAA and KGKO penthouse studios in Dallas on June 20 and 21, preliminary to their formal opening to the public on Monday, June 23. Trammell has followed closely the construction of the unique new broadcasting quarters for NBC's Red and Blue Network affiliates in Dallas, and engineers from Radio City in New York are especially interested in the mysterious dispersive treatment used by acoustical experts in the WFAA-KGKO studios.

Committee Of Land Use Meets At Benjamin

Vernon.—General and specific problems—national defense and soil and water wastes—concerning farmers and farm families included in the 43 counties comprising the North Texas soil type area will be discussed Monday, June 23, when Harper H. Nixon, State Land Use Planning Committee member from Vernon, has called a meeting of the district land use groups at Benjamin, Knox county.

"Land use planning is a national set-up of, for, and by the farmers and farm women in every county in Texas and throughout the nation for the purpose of determining our own farm and rural life policies," Mr. Nixon stated today.

As state committeeman, Mr. Nixon has called the district-wide meeting for the purpose of electing a district state committeeman for the new term, but, Mr. Nixon emphasized, a united attention must be given to the area problem of water and soil wastes incurred during the past sixty days, to the national problem of malnutrition which is in large part responsible for 32 per cent of our young men being rejected for service in the army and navy.

"We propose," Mr. Nixon said, "to do something about these problems. As producers of food these figures of deficient man-power stagger us. We are undertaking to solve this problem by a better study of foods and nutrition and a better balance of production. Land Use Planning is not a government agency; it is a volunteer effort born of necessity throughout the nation among farm people to cooperate intelligently with all agencies for the better things of life."

The all-day meeting at Benjamin, convening at the Knox County court house, 10 a.m., Monday, will draw from 150 to 200 delegates and 40 to 50 county and home demonstration agents.

Counties included in the area are Clay, Jones, Crosby, Dickens, Knox, Howard, King, Mitchell, Baylor, Nolan, Donley, Hardeman, Foard, Wheeler, Gray, Cottle, Armstrong, Hemphill, Motley, Hall, Fisher, Floyd, Scurry, Wichita,

Sale of Defense Bonds Continue

Austin.—The county and local organizations of the Defense Savings staff in Texas continue their work with many innovations that are getting excellent results. State Administrator, Frank Scofield, stated: "It is the initiative being displayed by the local committees over the state that is so encouraging to our office. Certainly no one man or small group could advance all the fine ideas that are proving so effective in this work in our state."

Chairman Lowell Laferthy of the Tarrant County Committee reports that Craig Wood, winner of the American Open Golf Tournament recently held at Fort Worth's Colonial Club, displayed the fine American spirit of today by investing a substantial portion of his prize money in Defense Bonds. Appropriate radio, newsreel and newspaper publicity was given in the ceremony when Mr. Wood made his purchase.

In Mineola, Superintendent of Schools, Ben A. Copass, reported that Defense Bond and Stamp Day was held recently in that city's schools. The children there purchased more than $2,000 worth of Defense securities on that day alone.

Jefferson County Chairman, A. E. Weaver, reported that a full hours radio program was put on one Sunday afternoon by that county's three radio stations under the direction of Beaumont Chairman R. F. DuBois. This program featured a patriotic address, a negro quartet, orchestra music and a cowboy band. Listeners were requested to phone in subscriptions and about $30,000 was subscribed.

The Fort Worth National Bank is featuring Defense Bonds and Savings Stamps exclusively in the plugs that accompany their giving the correct time over their audience to some 15,000 daily inquirers.
