Aluminum Drive Is Made Here

"Keep 'em flying" has come to be the watchword of victory for the United States armed forces. Military experts decided several months ago that this phrase sums up the chief "must" for the United States armed forces. The most vital material in our air production program is the light metal alloys which permit bombers to carry a larger load of bombs and slices weight from the sleek pursuit ships and gives them a precious few miles per hour in speed and maneuverability.

Texas is gathering her used aluminum pots and pans and other items this week at the request of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, chairman of the National Defense Committee for Texas. Governor O'Daniel appointed county judges of the state of Texas as heads of the aluminum drives in their respective counties and suggested that they organize committees in their counties and districts to take up the work. Boy Scouts and Future Farmers of America Clubs as well as 4-H Clubs are taking part in the actual gathering of this metal for defense purposes.

Mayor J. M. Terry and City Secretary Riley B. Harrell are in conducting the campaign in this city and the surrounding territory. Friday and Saturday of this week have been designated as the days when Munday goes "all out" in the gathering of discarded pots and pans or utensils that can be spared or replaced with other kinds of metal utensils. Plans at present are to start the two city trucks over the city at 9:30 Friday morning with Boy Scouts making the door to door calls and handling the donations. Citizens and housewives are requested to have their metal handy at this time so that there need be no delay. If some are overlooked in the drive, they are requested to bring the utensils to the city hall, where plans are to construct a bin on the lawn so citizens may be reminded of the campaign and keep themselves informed as to its progress.

Those residing in rural districts adjacent to the city are requested to bring their metal to the city hall on Friday or Saturday of this week.

Local officials point out that all of the metal collected will be used for defense purposes and that no individual or organization will profit in any manner from these donations.

Mattress Program

The county agents were advised at College Station that the shipment of materials for mattress programs had been unduly delayed because of the national defense program. Texas has already used far more bales of cotton than had been anticipated when the program was first started.

No assurance was given to County Agent Walter Rice and Mrs. Neva Van Zandt as to when the remaining cotton orders for Knox county could be filled.

Applicants will be notified when additional cotton is received.

Miss Anna Lee Thomason of Quanah visited friends in the city this week.

F. F. A. Chapter To Be Formed

To further acquaint the people of the Munday community and all the patrons of the Munday school system with our new Vocational Agriculture department, I take this means of presenting some of the chief aims and objectives of a Vocational Agriculture program in a community.

All high school boys who have facilities for a supervised practice program at home will be eligible to take Vocational Agriculture. Home projects may consist of most any type of livestock or crop enterprise, such as beef calves, dairy cattle, hogs, cotton, grain, truck crops, etc.

The course content will include: Improving, feeding and caring for livestock and poultry, controlling insects and disease of plants, controlling pests and diseases of livestock and poultry, soil and moisture conservation, farm shop skills and producing a living at home.

Objectives of the supervised farm practice programs include: (1) To adapt the work to the needs of the boy and his farm, (2) To give the boy an opportunity to have something of his own and encourage him to actually get a start in farming, (3) To put scientific facts and modern up-to-date principles and approved practices as studied

Draft Board To Make 21st Call

State Selective Service Headquarters today announced the Army's twenty-first call on Texas for 446 Negro selectees for induction August 4th and 28th.

Texas' readjustment gross quota, fixed on May 15 and projected into the future as a sort of "bank account" upon which the armed forces may draw from time to time, is 136,488 men, according to General J. Watt Page, State Director for Selective Service.

As of May 15th, Texas had 27,050 men actually in training under Selective Service, and National Headquarters had given Texas a credit of 80,140 men, representing members of the armed forces from this State, exclusive of those inducted through Selective Service. The total of these two figures, when deducted from the gross quota, left Texas' net quota for future calls 29,298.

By June 30, General Page added, Texas had received credit for 1,897 men inducted under Selective Service since May 15.

Raymond Rushing and Leonard Rushing, brothers, were seriously injured in the accident, both receiving head and body injuries. Raymond had not regained consciousness late Sunday night. Both reside in Seymour.

The car, headed toward Seymour, overturned several times, according to witnesses. A blowout is believed to have caused the accident. Sheriff Lon Blackburn assisted in the investigation.

Funeral services for Thomas were conducted Monday afternoon at 3:30 at the Baptist church, with burial in the Henson Cemetery in west Baylor county.

BIG BEND AND MILLIONS

Threat of injunction to prevent Texas from paying $1,500,000 appropriated by the Legislature for some 700,000 acres of land in the Big Bend country is shortsighted in the extreme.

The land is to be turned over to the national park system to become another Mecca of American tourists. Six years ago, congress passed and the President signed a measure authorizing creation of the park, as soon as Texas provided the land.

The Big Bend country affords some of the finest scenery to be found in the country and opportunities for outdoor vacations surpassing those of many famous spots in this country.

Already thousands of tourists are visiting the area annually. When the federal park system has made the necessary improvements and established additional accommodations, this number will be increased annually. Eventually millions of dollars will be spent every year by visitors from outside Texas. Millions more will be kept at home when Texans spend their vacations in the Big Bend country rather than go to other states.

And every part of the state will benefit from this tourist travel. The visitors will spend their money as they pass through Texas in all directions and once in the state, many of the tourists will avail themselves of the opportunity to become acquainted with other parts of our vast domain.

When the national park is created it will adjoin an even larger tract south of the Rio Grande set aside by Mexico as her contribution to the greatest international playground on the continent. More than 1,500,000 acres of land, including mountains, streams and forests lying in two countries will be dedicated to vacationists, the greatest spenders in the world.

Yes, any effort to prevent successful conclusion of the plan would be shortsighted—to put it mildly.—Quannah Tribune-Chief.

GAS-LESS SUNDAYS

It looks as though gas-less Sundays are coming.

To the people in our town who like to go motoring on Sunday, or who use Sunday as a day to drive out to see relatives and friends, it would be a definite sacrifice at first to leave the car in the garage all day.

But many of us would welcome the opportunity to make such a sacrifice if it was evident that by so doing we were strengthening our nation's defense.

As far as the people of the town go, gasless Sundays would be taken in stride and there would not be any complaining. But the small group in our town who happen to be in the gasoline business, running local stations, would suffer real hardship if their most profitable business day were taken away from them.

The purpose of gas-less Sundays would be to reduce our consumption of gasoline and oil and that means taking dollars out of the pockets of the gasoline dealers. They, too, will be willing to make this sacrifice if the government finds that it is vital to do so, but we hope, if there are any other practical solutions to the oil problem, such as pipelines to the eastern coast, they will be adopted.

Any action which penalizes one group without affecting others is always distasteful to Americans. We know that one group after another, during the present emergency, will be called up to sacrifice, but we hope that none will be asked to do so unnecessarily.—Exchange.

OIL AND THE FARMER

The oil industry, strange as it may seem, is one of the farmers' best and most reliable customers.

You probably don't know it—but much of the grease that lubricates America's cars and other machines contains tallow oil, which, in turn, comes from sheep. About 107,000,000 pounds of tallow oil in one form or another are consumed annually by the petroleum industry. That requires 35,000,000 sheep.

This is just one item in the long list of supplies the oil industry buys each year directly from agriculture. To it must be added lard oil from pigs, stearine from cattle and horses, castor oil from the castor plant, neat's-foot oil made from horns and hooves, milk, fibreboard, hair felt, leather, cotton fabrics, wood products—and dozens of others.

The petroleum industry's consumption of farm products grows steadily, as production of oil and lubricants increases, and as new techniques and processes are developed. And millions of dollars thus find their way into the farmers' pockets.

So, in a very real sense, the corner service station is a distributor of farm crops! And the oil industry is one of agriculture's biggest cash customers. This is an example of how American industry spreads its economic benefits throughout the whole country.

In eleven months since the present national defense program began, the output of American industry increased 24 per cent—the largest increase in physical output during any similar period in history.

NO CONTRIBUTION TO DEFENSE

The United States is in an unlimited emergency, the serious nature of which no one questions.

Thoughtful Americans cannot but be puzzled and disturbed that so grave a situation, calling for the maximum in united effort, has not brought about a cessation of the backbiting and recrimination that have marred the domestic scene in recent years.

A short time ago, for instance, a high government official declared flatly that the "recalcitrance" of one American company engaged in defense production might result in loss of the present war for the nations we are aiding, and hence imperilled greatly the security of the United States. Naturally so grave an accusation was examined carefully by the House Military Affairs committee.

Now the majority report of that committee has been released. Signed by Democrats and Republicans alike, it declares that all testimony heard was to the effect that the company in question "had given 100 per cent co-operation, had used its own money for expansion, had lowered its price and on its own initiative took steps to treble its production." And the Committee adds pointedly that some of the blame for present difficulty might better be laid at the doorstep of "some Government officials," because of their failure to provide hydroelectric energy from "public power" dams to aid in the enlargement of production facilities.

The moral is plain: Problems of defense are too complex to yield to hasty generalization. Any inadequacies of the defense program should certainly be investigated, so that their causes may be found and cured. But name-calling is no solution, and no service to the nation, either.

SOME CITIZENS SPEAK UP

The president of a leading university has just announced the formation of a "citizens' committee," nation-wide in representation, to work for the reduction of non-essential spending of the Federal, state and local governments in the non-defense field. According to reports it will represent all elements in American life—consumers, business, agriculture, labor, women's groups, church organizations. A number of distinguished citizens, including economists and tax experts have already joined the new organization.

At a time when Congress, in spite of the urging of Secretary Morgenthau to save a billion dollars in non-defense spending, has hiked appropriations in that category still higher for the coming fiscal year, the forming of a national citizens' group is good news. In fact, it might almost be said that something of the sort is necessary news. For only a greatly increased public awareness of the meaning of wasteful spending to the individual can bring about a more realistic attitude on the part of the people's representatives in Washington.

It is too early yet to determine whether the new committee can achieve these aims. But its creation is important because it affords the proof that there are citizens in the country who realize that the spending situation is serious, and that the time for action is now.

We should give as we would receive, cheerfully, quickly and without hesitation; for there is no grace in a benefit that sticks to the fingers.—Seneca.

TIME TO PRUNE SHRUBS

College Station—If started at once, now is a good time to do summer pruning of shrubs. According to Sadie Hatfield, Extension Service specialist in landscape gardening, all dead or diseased limbs should be cut off. Limbs which are in the way of other plants, pathways or windows, should be cut back, but avoid heavy pruning.

Light summer pruning tends to check vegetative growth and helps the plant to form a crop of fruit and flowers for the next spring. Root pruning, which has the same effect if not done too heavily, also may be done now by sinking a sharp spade into the ground and cutting a small portion of the roots.

This time of year is suitable for making cuttings of many plants and shrubs. If they are given plenty of water and partly shaded, they will root and develop. Cutting of choice petunias should be made now because petunia seed has a tendency to divert to the original single white flower. Pinks and carnations and most shrubs may also be rooted from cuttings.

Lawns, Miss Hatfield cautions, should not be mowed as closely at this time as during cold weather. She also suggests letting grass clippings remain where they fall for the benefit of the grass. To build up the lawn, a shallow top dressing of good soil may be used. But in doing so, avoid covering the grass entirely.

Shrubs and trees set out during the past two years may need some help during dry weather, and those showing signs of suffering may be helped by using a temporary shade during the hottest part of the summer.

421,816 MATTRESSES MADE

College Station—Although the cotton mattress demonstration program in Texas has been slowed down considerably because of difficulty in getting ticking, 421,816 have been made since the program was inaugurated, according to reports compiled by Mildred Horton, Vice Director of the Extension Service, and R. T. Price, Field Man at large, of the Triple-A. Delivery of cotton ticking has practically stopped because of its need in defense preparations.

Nearly 30,000 mattresses and about 5,000 cotton comforts were made in June, the report shows. Altogether, 348,260 Texas families have received mattress-making materials.

The average vacation is a week or so of furious driving, sandwiched in with footsore hiking and bouncing about on mountain mules. You punish your stomach with abominable food and lose sleep in outlandish, lousy quarters. You're scratched by thorns, bruised by falls, bitten by bugs, burned by blazing sun and searing sands until your anatomy has the texture of a half-done beefsteak.—The Stamford American.

Representative Ennis Favors paid me a pleasant visit Saturday. He does not think that Coke Stevenson will call a special session of the Legislature. Although he had always been a loyal supporter of W. Lee O'Daniel, he thinks that Senator O'Daniel will have a tremendously hard fight in 1942. And furthermore, he does not know whether or not O'Daniel will run for the U. S. Senate or seek the governor's chair. I don't know it either, but I can guess. My guess is that he will run for the six year term instead of the two.—Deck Wells in the Wellington Leader.

The worst enemy the United States has to contend with is the isolationist who, for years has ridiculed the idea of Germany invading this country, and prevented the proper measures were taken to avoid such disaster. At that time when the U. S. Army was smaller than that of Holland, with few airplanes and no mechanized divisions, Germany was making herself ready to attack a Russian Army of ten million men. Such criminal carelessness and ignorance on the part of our isolationists can not be excused.—The Quannah Tribune-Chief.

A. P. Morris, local secondhand furniture dealer and repair man for many years, has adopted a bicycle as a means of transportation for short calls and beats some automobiles in getting to the place he's needed. The local furniture dealer is 72 years old and gets about on his "Messenger" bicycle with the greatest of ease, as a popular song would have it. For trips of extended length, Morris relies on a Ford pickup, but finds the bicycle excellent for "across the block" purposes.—The Scurry County Times.

Whatever it takes to bring peace, based on Christian justice, it must be found. Whatever is now in the way must be moved. The price is too great to measure, and the sacrifice might be far more than we are preparing to pay.—The Hamlin Herald.

Senator Burton K. He tipped the Nazis off about American occupation of Iceland and that might have meant that a battle could have occurred in which many American boys would have been killed. SAVE GARDEN SEED

College Station—Garden seed may be scarce next year, so J. E. Rosborough, Extension Service horticulturist, advises the Texas farm families to pick out some of their best fruits and vegetables and save the seed. He particularly recommends saving the seed of beans, okra, cucumbers, tomatoes, cantaloupes, watermelons, pumpkins, cushaws and sweet corn.

Here is the specialists' advice: After the seed have been extracted from the pod or rind, wash thoroughly and spread out to dry. Store in cotton cloth sacks or in containers that allow air to penetrate. Keep the seed in a cool, dark place.

Texas Baptists Have Religious Centers in Fifteen Army Camps

Texas Baptists have established religious centers for fifteen army camps in Texas. In many places chapels have been built, where the soldiers come to meet sweethearts, loved ones and friends, also to write letters and to have a good time socially. The chapels are likewise used for religious purposes. They do not serve as churches, however, but more as mission stations and recreation and religious centers.

Dr. A. C. Miller is the superintendent of Baptist work among the soldiers in Texas. He says, "There are twenty-two military posts, camps and stations, with approximately 200,000 soldiers in Texas. There are also three more major camp sites now being surveyed. It is safe to estimate that more than a million young men will pass through the training camps of Texas during the five year defense period."

Dr. D. W. Melton, Secretary of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, says, "Texas Baptists will make an effort to raise $35,000.00 on Sunday, July 27. We are doing this in cooperation with Southern Baptists with an effort to raise the $300,000.00 that one day. All of this money will be used in behalf of our boys who are in government service."

"The pastors of the 3,250 Baptist churches in Texas have been asked to take a cash offering Sunday, July 27th. There are 750,000 Baptists in Texas, and each one should have a part in supporting the soldiers' program."

The Baptist Executive Board has employed seven ministers to devote their full time to the Baptist soldiers' program. These men are working under the direction of Dr. A. C. Miller and are making an effort to carry out the following five-point program.

1. To conserve the religious life of our Baptist men in government service.
2. To provide Baptist soldiers certificates of affiliation in lieu of church letters.
3. To win to Christ all whom we can through personal testimony.
4. To cooperate with the local religious force in providing wholesome recreation and social contacts in the community for the many in the camps.
5. To cooperate with the army officers and government officials in creating such conditions that the young men who enter government service may return to their homes better physically, better mentally, better socially and better religiously.

Dr. Melton said, "Texas Baptists can easily raise the $35,000 on July 27th. It ought to be done; it can be done, and we believe it will be done."

Riley B. Harrell and R. B. Davy were visitors in Haskell Sunday afternoon.

BUMPER TEXAS PEACH CROP

College Station—The 1941 Texas peach crop is expected to be the biggest in 30 years. J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, estimates a yield of 2,500,000 bushels, or 1,000,000 bushels more than the average. "Prices," he says, "will be reasonable." Up to the present, very few Texas peaches have been shipped to Eastern markets. The old peach deal depended entirely upon transportation by rail of several thousand carloads to large cities on the eastern seaboard.

Peaches are available in Texas from early June to late summer, with the bulk of the harvest season occurring in late July and early August. Such varieties as Elberta, J. H. Hale and Frank, ripening at this time are excellent shipping species and have a large consumer demand. Rosborough says that the public taste is trending toward the yellow varieties, adding that dietitians credit yellow peaches with having more vitamins than white ones.

Peaches have become of such commercial importance in Texas that the Nacogdoches and Stephenville sub-stations of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station are engaged in insect and disease control work and variety testing experiments, which are expected to be of value to growers in these areas.

The peach industry in east Texas has gradually disappeared after a memorable history of production prior to 1915. But since 1930, the planting of commercial orchards has increased not only in the eastern part of the state, but also in the central West Texas cross timbered area, which has adopted peach growing as a major source of income.

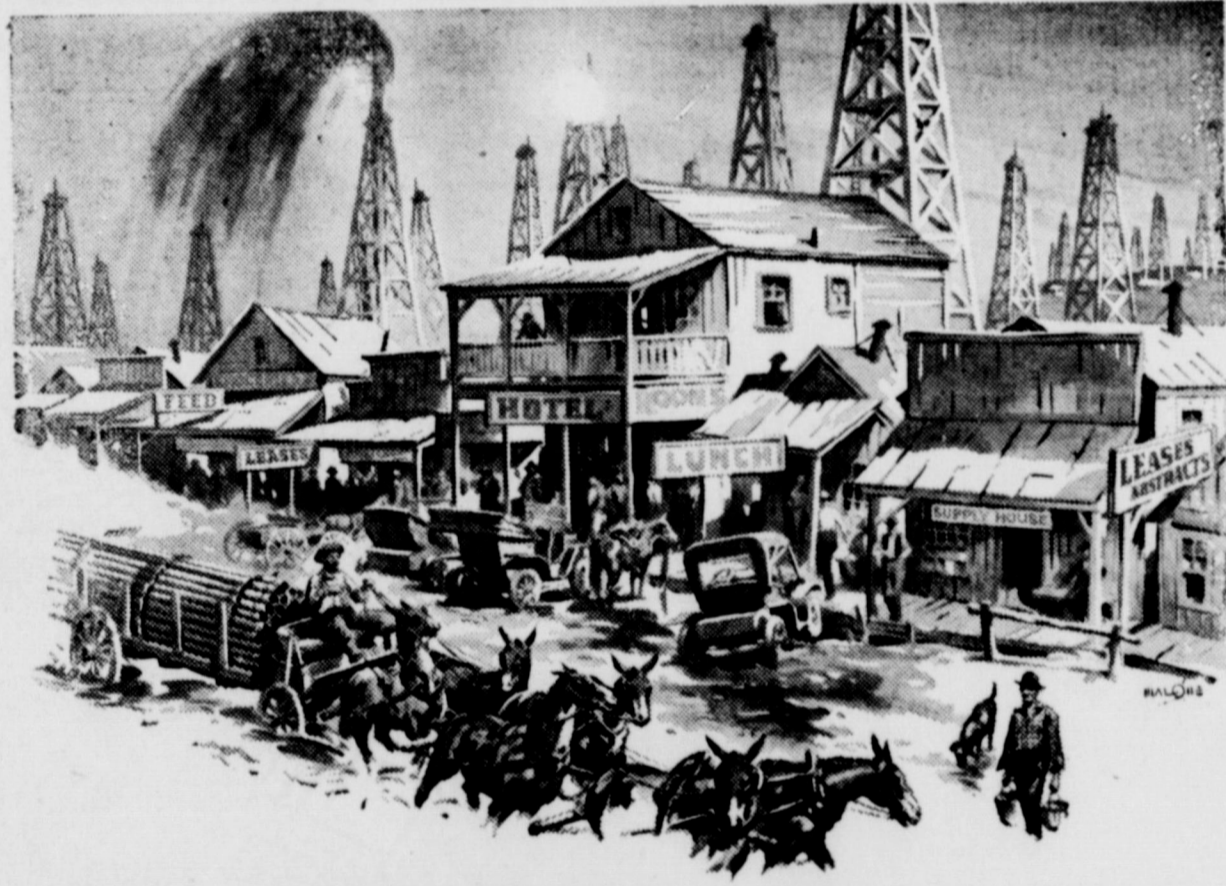

Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Eiland and Mrs. Sebern Jones left Tuesday afternoon for points in southeastern New Mexico. They will visit Carlsbad Cavern and Rudisill while away.

THE PASSING OF THE Boomtown

Oil boomtowns exist today only in the movies. The old-time "gusher" wells are gone forever.

In the early days, as long as oil flowed, the boomtowns flourished. But soon the wells failed and the booms collapsed, carrying with them the income and security of those who had depended on them.

Today, through a sound program of conserving oil and gas, hundreds of Texas communities are enjoying a permanent type of petroleum development. Furthermore, because of conservation, we have the largest oil reserves in the world, one of our greatest assets for National Defense.

Oil now builds stable communities. It provides assured tax revenues and greater ultimate tax returns than were ever possible in boomtown days. And every citizen benefits from the income oil creates.

Conservation not only protects Texas oil resources. It also assures for many years the prosperity which oil brings to every community where it is found.

Texans Give Oil To Great Britain

JOHN F. CAMP, San Antonio oil operator, heads the "Oil for Britain" movement by Texas producers to lift the shutdown to permit an extra day's allowable from their wells to be given to the President of the United States with the request that it be released to the people of Great Britain. The plan sponsored by Camp, when perfected and given final approval by the Texas Railroad Commission, should make available to Great Britain a million barrels or more of Texas crude. The Texas gift is to be made direct to the President who, in turn, will pass it on under the terms of the Lend-Lease Act.

The San Antonio man has already donated 5,000 barrels of regular production from his wells. In acknowledging the gift, President Roosevelt said: "This gift demonstrates that democracy in action is not a bare and meaningless phrase; it symbolizes the spirit of patriotism and unselfishness which exists throughout the country today."

Housewives To Cooperate During Peach Program

The public-spirited cooperative drive launched July 24 to increase the consumption of peaches is already proving effective, according to announcement by Mrs. Louise Ingram, secretary of the Munday Chamber of Commerce.

She said that housewives over the nation have become acquainted with many new uses of this delicious fruit, and many for the first time have discovered that tasty peaches, long relished as a dessert for their flavor, are one of nature's most important health-building and health-protecting foods.

"Because of the abundant quantity on hand as a result of the largest and finest crop in 10 years, the Peach Producing Industry and Food Trades Industry are cooperating with the Surplus Marketing Administration in an educational campaign stressing the value of peaches has a health and nutrition aid, as well as a thrifty 'buy' for the table."

Mrs. Ingram added that peaches may be eaten fresh, when peeled, but they may also be used for cooking, stewing, baking, pickling, canning and preserving. Many new recipes for delicious peach dishes have been made available and are being distributed by grocers and fruit dealers during the campaign.

"The increased interest evidenced in peaches, as well as the numerous inquiries as to the proper way of preparing various peach dishes, indicate that more and more housewives are becoming aware of the health protecting value of peaches in the diet. More and more housewives are increasing home-canning and laying in adequate food supplies for the time when fresh peaches will not be available."

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Roberts visited with relatives in Vernon the latter part of last week.

The wheat acreage allotment for Knox county has been reduced by approximately 11 per cent by the state AAA office, located at College Station. This reduction is effective for 1942, stated County Agent Walter Rice.

The state AAA office gave the following information regarding the cut:

"The Texas wheat acreage allotment for 1942 has been set at 3,748,141 acres, B. F. Vance, state administrative officer in charge of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, has announced.

"The allotment, which is 505,194 acres smaller than the 4,253,335 acres allotted the state for 1941, was sent to the state office by the U.S. Department of Agriculture in Washington," Vance said.

Proportionate cuts in acreage were given other states, he said, since the national acreage allotment was cut from 62,000,000 to 55,000,000 acres.

With enough wheat in sight to supply the nation for two full years, it is necessary that the acreage be reduced, the AAA officer pointed out. The wheat farmer, along with producers of other commodities, is faced with the job of protecting his soil from needless waste through overproduction. As the nation's wheat farmers can supply the demand with less acreage, then they will do so.

The acreage allotment for 1942 is about the same as Texas had in 1939, Vance declared. For 1940 the allotment was increased, but good crops and the war blockades, which deprived the United States of its export markets, resulted in piling up higher surplus which makes the acreage reduction necessary for next year.

It seems that the above explanation should be satisfactory to all Knox county wheat growers, since everyone took the same percentage cut, Mr. Rice stated.

New Taste Thrills In Peach Dishes

Millions of families throughout the country are being treated to new taste thrills as a result of the cooperative educational campaign being conducted by the Peach Producing Industry and Food Trades Industry in cooperation with the Surplus Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, in the interest of greater peach consumption by everyone.

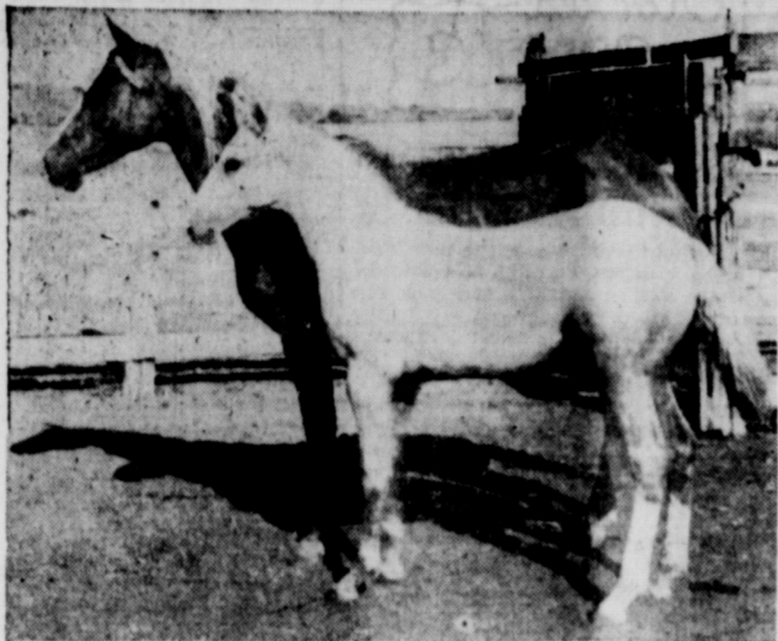

This was brought out today in a statement made by Mrs. Louise Ingram, secretary of the Munday Chamber of Commerce. She said: "Peaches have long been noted as food delicacy. United States Government reports show that peaches are America's favorite fruit, in season. As a food peaches now take on new importance.

"As a result of this cooperative educational campaign, millions of Americans are learning for the first time the important health-giving qualities in peaches, and the dozens of new ways of serving the appetizing fruit, fresh or cooked. Many families have received new peach recipes for delicious peach shortcake, pies, cobblers, fresh home-made peach ice cream, peach and cantaloupe salad and dozens of other tasty dishes.

"Peaches have been found to be excellent sources of Vitamin A, Vitamin B, Vitamin C, and Vitamin G (b2), are vital to good health, growth and vitality, maintenance of body vigor, protection of teeth and improving complexion.

"It has been found too," she added, "that their low caloric content makes peaches an excellent food for reducing diets and the No. 1 aid for women desiring a 'girlish' figure. Scientists say this is also due to the high fat-burning qualities of the natural sugars found in peaches."

Marketing Quotas Intended To Take Wheat Off Market

The primary objective of wheat marketing quotas is to keep excessive supplies of wheat off the open market and not for the purpose of raising revenue, August Schumacher, chairman of the Knox county AAA committee points out.

There are several methods by which a wheat producer may dispose of or postpone the payment of the penalty on his excess wheat. Before a marketing card may be issued to any producer on a farm, the amount of the penalty on the farm marketing excess must have been paid, or the amount of the farm marketing excess on the farm, or elsewhere, in accordance with the regulations, or the amount of the farm marketing excess must have been delivered to the Secretary of Agriculture to be used for relief purposes.

If the wheat is stored on the farm a bond of indemnity or funds in escrow must be deposited with the treasurer of the AAA county committee. If the wheat is stored in a warehouse or elevator, either the warehouse receipt, funds in escrow, or a bond of indemnity must be deposited with the treasurer of the AAA county committee. If a Commodity Credit Corporation loan is to be obtained on the farm marketing excess, then the penalty must be placed, or a bond of indemnity must be filed with the treasurer of the AAA county committee.

It is left entirely to the discretion of the wheat producer as to what disposition he shall make of his excess wheat so long as the total bushels disposed of is not less than the amount of the farm marketing excess.

Mr. Schumacher points out that, in determining the amount of wheat required to be stored, the value of the wheat would have no bearing whatever, but that merely an amount equivalent in bushels to the farm marketing excess would be required to be stored.

Rural Carriers Agents of Defense Bond, Stamp Sales

Thirty-two thousand rural mail carriers are now acting as agents in the sale of Defense Savings Stamps, postal officials have informed the Treasury Department. Demand for the stamps in the sparsely settled districts caused the Post Office Department to authorize the carriers to act as salesmen.

The stamps range in value from ten cents to five dollars. Purchasers are given albums in which they can be mounted. When filled, the albums may be exchanged for Defense Savings Bonds.

Post Office officials recalled that rural mail carriers acted in similar capacities in 1917 and 1918, selling War Savings Stamps.

"Why the Editor Left Town," a bit of humorous writing which M. L. Kimsey of the Candall Star found somewhere:

There is only one occasion when the editor of a small town paper dares to cut loose and tell the truth in his paper and that is when he is ready to depart suddenly and permanently for some unknown destination. At such a delicious juncture he would perhaps write up a local wedding in this manner:

"Mr. Jim Zilch and Miss Georgianna Thistle were married Monday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Thistle, the Rev. Jones officiating.

"The groom is a popular young bum who hasn't done a lick of work since he got expelled in his junior year at college. He manages to dress well and keeps a supply of spending money because his dad is a soft-hearted old fool who takes up his son's cold checks instead of letting go to jail where he belongs.

"The bride is a skinny little idiot who paints like a Sioux Indian, smokes cigarettes and drinks mean corn liquor.

"The house was newly plastered for the wedding and the exterior newly painted, thus appropriately carrying out the decorative scheme for the groom was newly plastered and the bride was freshly painted.

"The groom wore a rented dinner suit and his pants were held up by pale green suspenders. His number nine patent leather shoes matched his state of tightness and harmonized nicely with the axle grease polish of his hair.

"This is probably the last issue of this paper, but my life's ambition has been to write up one wedding and tell the truth. Now that is done, death can have no sting."

Haven't made up your mind where you'll spend your vacation? You might include a stay in New Braunfels, the quaint town with its old rock buildings and tin roofs, picturesque hills (almost mountains) surrounding it. Ranches are numerous and you can glimpse the abundant deer. There is a modern hotel, the Faust, managed by R. J. Grimsley; many new homes; a museum; two newspapers, the 50-year-old Herald and the Zeitung, edited for 42 years by G. F. Oheim; a charming drive along the Guadalupe River, the State's shortest—but biggest in volume—river, the Comal, which rises and ends in the city limits, and there are many attractive camps.

Walter Duffey, Fort Worth oil man, went through the famous Hogtown boom. His room was on the second story of the town's leading hotel and it juttied out over the sidewalk. "It's a wonder that some wild Westerner out for a celebration didn't blaze through the floor with a six-shooter," Duffey said. "I used to be awakened by the shouts of the service-car drivers at 6 a.m. Most of them yelled, 'Take you to Mingus and bring you back?' But one of them varied this with, 'Take you to Mingus or break your back'—no idle boast considering the condition of the roads.

Duffey also tells of the oil man who couldn't read or write but who was very wealthy. Whenever this man received a telegram, he would say to a friend, "There! What do you think about that? Just look at that!" and the friend, knowing the operator couldn't read, would read it out loud.

There may be a place that could beat one county for colorful politics, but I'm going to have to be shown—by-gone campaigns, because the county has tamed down now. But back in the days when the biggest oil boom in history had "fallen down and gone boom," the folks had a "morning after" feeling.

For instance, a prosecuting attorney running for reelection, was opposed by a lawyer who represented the defendants in almost all the criminal cases—so the county attorney referred to his opponent as a "legal scavenger."

A peace officer with a malodorous record handed a campaign card to a voter who said, "Sure, I'll be glad to help you out." And it was two blocks and ten minutes later that the officer figured out what the man meant.

An unpopular officer had a big shooting scrape but wasn't hit and indignant citizens started a subscription to prosecute the other fellow for "shooting at him—and missing."

And perhaps the most unusual charge ever leveled in any race was that a candidate had "stolen a church." The fact was that a big well had been drilled on the church grounds and disension had sprung up. This candidate, as an attorney, had represented one faction in a lawsuit and his side won.

Yes, sir, they used to take their politics straight in the good old days in that county.

College Station—Texas families who burn coal had better lay in a supply this summer. That's the advice directed to consumers from the Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply and given in a letter to Director H. H. Williamson of the A. and M. College Extension Service.

Buying coal this summer will not only save consumers money but it will contribute to national defense, the OPACS says. State and local defense councils have been asked to cooperate in this effort.

SO MANY NICE THINGS WITH PEACHES!

I never know where to begin when I start talking about the wonderful desserts that can be made with fresh peaches. I might add that I never know where to stop, either. There are so many grand peachy desserts that it's impossible to single out any one of them and say "this cobbler" or "that dumpling" is the very best peach dessert you can make.

Filled With Raspberry Jam

However, I'm sure that peach dumplings belong right up in the front ranks of these peach desserts, particularly when the dumplings are filled with luscious red raspberry jam. Doesn't that sound like a super-delicious combination—crisp, flaky pastry still warm from the oven covering a mellow golden peach that's filled with rich red jam—and thick cream poured over it all?

PEACH DUMPLINGS

1 cup prepared biscuit mix
1/4 cup shortening (part butter for flavor)
Ice water (1 to 2 tsp.)
4 fresh peaches
Rub the softened shortening into the biscuit mix with the back of a spoon until it is well blended through the mix.
Add ice water—a little at a time—until the dough stays together. Round up on lightly floured cloth-covered board (flour rubbed into the cloth keeps dough from sticking). Roll out thin—into a square 8 by 8 inches. Cut into 4-inch squares.

Cut Segments From Peaches

Peel the peaches, and cut a segment out of each one in order to remove the pit. Fill the hollow of each peach with jam. Replace the segment, and secure with a wooden pick. For additional sweetness, if the peaches are very tart, sprinkle a tsp. of sugar over each one. Place these jam-filled peaches on each square of pastry. Fold the diagonal corners up over the peach, and seal well. Bake 20 to 25 minutes in a hot oven, 450° F.
Serve warm with cream.

From 'Ol' Virginia'

This recipe for peach cobbler—or "Peach Skillet Pie" comes from a daughter of old Virginia who says it's absolutely authentic.

PEACH SKILLET PIE

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 tsp. salt
2 tsp. sugar
3 tsp. baking powder
6 tsp. shortening
Milk to make a soft dough (about 3/4 cup)
Sift flour, salt, sugar and baking powder together. Cut in the shortening with a pastry blender until finely blended. Stir in just enough milk to make a soft dough. Round up on lightly floured cloth-covered board. Knead very lightly . . . just to smooth up. Roll or pat out about 3/8 inch thick . . . then, with fingertips, pat into 10-inch heavy skillet . . . allowing extra dough to hang over edge of pan. Fill with sliced peaches. Sprinkle with sugar, salt and cinnamon mixed together. Dot with butter. Fold extra dough back over top toward center . . . leaving center of pie uncovered. Sprinkle with water and bake 35 to 45 minutes . . . using a very hot oven, 475° F. for the first 10 minutes . . . reducing to a quick moderate oven, 375° F. to finish baking.
Serve warm with cream.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

AN OPEN LETTER TO LOWRY POST AMERICAN LEGION, AND ALL VETERANS

Since God, in the beginning, created man and sent him in his mysterious journey through life, and gave him dominion over the earth and the fullness thereof, he has conquered and mastered many of the elements: he can harness electricity and make it work for him; he can float iron on the sea and be at home under the waters; he can talk around the world and listen to a conversation in any part of it; he has contrived many things for his own comfort and convenience. The one great thing he has forgotten to do, or could not do, is to learn the art of self-government, which is, in its real essence, the relation of man to man.

I have enjoyed being your commander and have done my best to serve you and the principles for which the Legion stands. In turning over the leadership to the new commander I wish to give this parting comment to the membership of Lowry Post of the American Legion of Munday, Texas.

It is well for each member of this organization to bear in mind that goodwill, based upon years of conscientious effort on your part, may be entirely destroyed by a moment's carelessness or indifference. Always keep in mind the fact that sometimes a high hat may cover a low brow. Nothing will contribute more to the success of the organization than its ability to get along with people. Let's tear down the fences of prejudice, and do away with any obstacle that may hinder our relations with our neighbors. America's Maginot Line or first line of defense or security, is our Loyalty to God, the Flag, and the Government of the United States. A united people and not one with petty differences, caused mostly by jealousies, separating us from one another and unity, shall be our aim. Keep this thought in mind at all times; we are interdependent and inter-related and many of the current dislocations in society are caused by persons who willfully ignore the transition into a state of inter-dependence. Clashes between labor and management, government and industry, and among other interests are largely due to a failure on all sides to recognize this fact.

Right is not a law, but all laws exist for the purpose of maintaining it. It is the underlying principle of the universe. Remember that the organization that is traveling in the right way is entitled to the right of way. The mistake is often made of assuming certain privileges one may have acquired to be rights, but a privilege is something allowed by the consent of those who have the right to allow it. In other words, a right is something you already have, it is yours to begin with and was not gained by purchase, or by persuasion or inheritance. Let us always stand for Freedom, Democracy, Loyalty, Justice with the finger of Justice pointing perpetually in the direction of Right.

It is my sincere desire that all veterans will endeavor to attend the meetings of the post and take an active part in developing it into one of the outstanding units of the community, cooperating fully with other organizations of the community, and having the confidence of the people. May God bless you and guide you in the years to come.

Respectfully,

Your Past Commander,
JIM HARPAM.

Johnson Eyes Next Election

Washington—In good sportsman manner, Congressman Lyndon B. Johnson this week cheerfully accepted the official vote canvass that showed Governor W. Lee O'Daniel barely defeated him for U. S. Senator.

Johnson's sentiments were contained in a statement issued here shortly after he telegraphed congratulations to the senator-elect. It said:

"I wish to repeat a statement made shortly after the official canvass of the votes cast in the senatorial race, by Texas. It is 'A public servant worthy of his hire would not preach Roosevelt and Unity all over Texas and then spend the remainder of his term fighting and contesting before an overburdened senate for the 18-months' job."

"A year from now there is another decision to be made.

"I accept cheerfully the official results certified Monday at Austin that Governor O'Daniel was elected United States Senator. I shall cooperate with the new Texas Senator behind the Commander-in-Chief in meeting the defense problems ahead.

"My personal gratitude to all those who voted for me is based on the knowledge that I was an instrument for expression of their great love of country as well as their appreciation of their Commander-in-Chief and the wisdom of his course in defending their liberties and their homes."

Practically unknown outside his own district at the start of the campaign, Johnson polled 174,279 votes in a breath-taking campaign under a "Roosevelt and Unity" slogan. In unofficial returns over the post-election week-end, he led the governor by more than 5,000 votes, the only candidate whom O'Daniel has ever trailed, however fleetingly, in an election count.

Texas Farmers Get Insurance Rate Reduction

College Station—Insurance rates on farm-stored government loan wheat in Texas have been reduced to place them in line with the rates in other states.

This year, for the first time, Texas grain producers in the 55 counties eligible for farm-storage Commodity Credit Corporation loans will pay the same rate—40 cents per $100 valuation—for fire and extended insurance coverage—that producers in all other states pay, according to P. C. Colgin, state wheat loan supervisor for the AAA. A previous maximum rate reduction authorized by the State Board of Insurance Commissioners had brought the rate down from $2.53, which had been in effect for years, down to $1.33.

Only Texas, of all the states in which the Commodity Credit Corporation makes farm-storage loans, had been operating under a rate higher than 40 cents, Coolgin said. No losses had been experienced on farm-stored loan wheat in Texas, according to AAA records.

The rate reduction was the result of joint efforts by the Texas A A A committee and the State Land Use Planning Committee. The two committees had made a thorough investigation of the rate schedules in Texas as compared with those of other states and had reached the conclusion that Texas was being charged rates in excess of those charged in other states.

"The fault lay with the farmers, who had raised no complaint, and with the insurance companies who had not asked for a reduction in the rate," the AAA official said. "When the situation was called to the attention of the State Board of Insurance Commissioners, the reduction was forthcoming."

TEXAS OUT-OF-DOORS

Austin, Texas—Not only did the 47th Texas legislature set a record for longevity by being in session 171 days, it established a record of introducing almost one wild-life bill per day. In all 141 bills dealing directly or indirectly with wildlife in Texas were introduced. 118 in the House and 23 in the Senate. Of those 141 bills, 105 were enacted into law, the largest number ever passed by any Texas legislature.

In comparison, the 46th legislature in 1939 considered 134 wild-life bills and enacted only 94 into law. Going a little further back into history, the three sessions of the legislature in 1937 sent to final passage only 74 wild-life bills.

Only eight of the 105 new wild-life measures are general in nature, applying to the entire state. All the rest are local laws, some applying to one county and some to several, some to only portions of one county. Many of the local laws extended the life of old laws about to expire. All in all, most of them were protective as to purpose.

One of the outstanding local laws passed was one which could foreshadow legislative policy in the matter of game regulation. The law in question grants the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission the power to fix open and closed seasons, determine bag limits and in other ways husband the fish resources of the huge Possum Kingdom Lake in Palo Pinto, Stephens and Young Counties. The Commission, working in cooperation with the approval of the Brazos River Conservation and Reclamation District directors, will have an opportunity to demonstrate the feasibility of sound fish management, under the new statute on a large lake that will be closely supervised, so far as fish life is concerned, by the Commission's aquatic biologist and his assistants.

Another general law forbids the taking of muskrats on the land of another without the permission of the landowner or lessee, whether or not the land is enclosed or posted. The old law applied only to enclosed or posted land. Prairie chickens, so scarce a closed season was placed on them several years ago, were given added protection—until September 1, 1946,—under terms of another law. Under another law, all deer, with the exceptions of cut up meat must be removed from storage by June 5 of each year. A state-wide dove bill was passed, but final announcement of the when's and how's persons may shoot doves awaits word from the Washington office of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, which has jurisdiction over migratory birds and waterfowl.

Another law forbids the killing or molesting of carrier pigeons. The author said this was necessary legislation in the present national emergency.

Sports fishermen on the coast will not be required to buy any sort of licenses, under terms of a new law. Commercial fishing licenses, however, are still required, as are licenses for sport fishermen using artificial lures in fresh water.

Another general statute provides certain closed seasons for taking shrimp in the inland salt waters of Texas, but it does not prohibit taking shrimp for bait at any time. The law also removes the five and one-half inch size limit on shrimp. The final general law permits the killing of golden eagles or the Mexican brown eagles at any time. Full texts of these laws and all other laws passed by the legislature this year may be had for the asking by writing the Game Fish and Oyster Commission, Austin.

Weekly Health

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, M.D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin, Tex.—"The implication of the word 'rest' in 'restore' is of great importance to Texans in our present defense program," declares Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Hot summer weather added to extra-heavy production schedules and strenuous labor places a debilitating load on our population.

At this time adequate rest is of greater importance to all of us than in recent years. Rest is the opportunity the body takes to rebuild and repair the tissues impaired in their efficiency by fatigue. In other words, the sum total of our individual physical fitness is measured by the resiliency of our faculties to return to normal after a depleting day's work.

The means by which we rekindle the ravages of fatigue through rest are several. Complete rest is most easily obtainable by sleep—at least eight hours or more nightly, according to individual needs.

Physical relaxation (rest) is of value to us also. The change from every day labor and worry through participation in sports, games, hobbies, and the like is a recognized principle of good mental hygiene. All of us should get in some sort of physical exercise daily—a brisk walk, if we lack the opportunity for more active sports.

Medical and public health authorities also recognize the need for mental relaxation, apart from physical sports or games which keep the mind keyed to a high pitch. Even when a person's physical apparatus is completely relaxed (resting the mind may still be plagued with problems and be unrelaxed.

So mental relaxation, valuable as it is, is more evasive than physical relaxation. The simplest form of mental relaxation is "wakeful rest" whereby the individual gets his mind completely away from himself and lets his mind "idle" by following something not of his personal creation of thought. It is thus possible to rest mentally and physically if the mind is entertained rather than exercised. Numerous diversions are available to us which offer inexpensive opportunities for "wakeful rest."

If we give thought to budgeting time each day so that our work quota is supplemented by physical and mental relaxation and adequate sleep, we will keep our health at par and increase our daily efficiency now when it is needed most for all-out defense effort.

Excess Cotton Will Have 7-Cent Penalty Under 1941 AAA Program

Cotton marketed in excess of 1941 farm marketing quotas will be subject to a penalty of approximately 7 cents per pound, Marvin Allen, county AAA secretary, has announced.

In 1939 and 1940, Mr. Allen continued, the penalty for excess cotton was 3 cents per pound, and in 1938 the rate was 2 cents per pound. There will not be an increase, however, in the total of the amount of penalties due on carry-over penalty cotton marketed in excess of the 1941 quota.

The higher penalty will be applied on only that portion of the carry-over penalty cotton which would yield the same amount of penalties as all of the carryover cotton would have yielded under the former rates. The remainder of the carryover would then become penalty free.

"To make my point clear," Mr. Allen said, "Suppose a farmer has 700 pounds of carry-over penalty cotton from 1940. Had he marketed the cotton last year, he would have paid a penalty of $21 which is the equivalent of 3 cents per pound. If he elects to sell the cotton this year, however, the 7 cents per pound penalty would be in effect, and he would pay 7 cents per lb. penalty on only 300 pounds for the $21 total pounds since this is the amount of the total penalty for 1940. The remaining 400 pounds of cotton would then become penalty free."

Recently enacted legislation that makes 85 per cent of parity loans available on the major commodities also provides that penalties on excess marketings will be 50 per cent of the basic loan rate. The basic loan rate for cotton for 1941 will be set at 85 per cent of the parity price as of the beginning of the marketing year, which will be about August 1.

If, for example, Mr. Allen continued, the parity price of cotton on August 1 is the same as it is at the present time, or 16.12 cents per pound, the basic loan rate will be 13.70 cents per pound which is 85 per cent of parity. The penalty on excess cotton in this case, would be 6.8 cents per pound.

The loan rate for cotton marketed in excess of the farm marketing quota is 60 per cent of that offered to producers who plant within their cotton acreage allotments. Non-cooperators would be entitled to a 60 per cent loan on only that portion of the crop which is in excess of the farm quota and when this cotton is placed under loan it remains subject to the penalty when marketed in excess of the farm quota.

EVERYBODY INVITED TO ATTEND MOLLY'S WEDDING JULY 31

Austin, Texas—Everybody in Texas has an invitation to attend the July 31 wedding at the Governor's mansion of Molly O'Daniel and Jack Wrather Jr., of Tyler.

A verbal invitation came from Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel who recently told his Sabbath radio audience:

"We would like to hear from all of you folks who will come so we can arrange to have enough of the wedding cake to go around."

The governor, recently elected junior United States Senator from Texas, said his family regarded the marriage of his 19-year-old Molly as the "climax of about two years and seven months of the happiest years of our lives."

what a whale of a difference a few months make

W-H-E-W-W but it's hot! And each week-end seems hotter than the last one. It's hard to realize now that only a few short months ago cold winter winds were sweeping this section. Soon they will be back again and the heat of summer will be forgotten.

Heating your home is important, especially so since many winter illnesses are directly traceable to catching cold due to inadequate heating facilities in the home during the winter season. It is not too early to be doing something about winter comfort now. Already thousands in this section are heading for an easy, healthful winter by bringing their heating facilities up to date ahead of the fall rush. Besides giving a widespread, healthful warmth, modern gas heating appliances look better and serve you more efficiently.

Standing by to Serve You When Gas Service Is Vital to Your Welfare

★ Modern facilities, including many powerful compressor stations located at strategic points on Lone Star's 4,800-mile interconnected pipe line system and an abundant gas supply developed through more than three decades, are standing by ready to deliver a dependable gas supply to you during the coming winter when unflinching, uninterrupted gas service is most vital to your welfare.

Snow Still Seen As Freeze Goes Into 13th Day

Texas' Coldest Spell For 41 Years Shows No Sign of Letup; Thursday Top Is 24

Dallas headed into its thirteenth day of freezing weather Thursday night as the Weather Bureau hoisted snow signals for this section for Friday and Saturday, with rain in the south portion of East Texas. It was the ninth consecutive day of Dallas' coldest wave in a decade, and despite moderating weather in West Texas the state still was gripped in freezing cold.

The cold wave is the most tenacious in Texas in forty-one years and in Dallas was comparable with the cold January, 1918, when the mercury dropped below freezing thirty-four days out of the forty. Since Dec. 27, 1917, to Feb. 4, 1918, Dallas have had sub-freezing weather, and some of the lowest temperatures were recorded since the all-time low of 3 below zero was set in January, 1930.

One of Lowest Januaries.

Notorious January, already branded the bitterest month of the weather records and by pioneers' tales of the roaring blizzard of '99, will be recorded this year as one of the worst.

The average daily minimum temperature for the month for a twenty-five year period is 36.8 degrees, and is nearly two degrees less than December's average, next coldest month, and nearly four degrees less than the February average. For the current year, however, the average to date is 24.8, twelve degrees below normal.

annual life on the farm.

3. To further our training in the fundamental skills required of the farmer, with provision for specialization in the line of farming we wish to follow.

4. To acquire training in the business principles of farming by the application of business practices and farm management principles to a farm business.

5. To acquire training through actual participation in producing a living at home and learn to appreciate the economic outlook for agriculture and the relation of local, state, national and world consumption and production to successful farming.

6. To acquire values in experience, knowledge and skills which are common to all of us regardless of our possible life work, and to further become acquainted with the opportunities for agriculturally trained men in fields other than actual farming.

7. To acquire information which is in pace with practices that scientific experimentations shows to be the most fruitful in bringing about desired outcomes in "How to make a living and how to live more abundantly."

8. To assist us in the realization that regulation of agriculture for the benefit of insiders creates responsibilities toward outsiders; that it involves great costs, not the least of which is a national obligation to protect all the groups affected.

9. To develop and maintain our interests and abilities through working with growing plants and animals and assist us in better choice and use of product and service.

10. To try out our individual interests and abilities for various pursuits through typical experience and make reliable studies of conditions, demands and opportunities in related occupations. "To make better farmers than our dads."

In connection with and as a part of our Vocational Agriculture program we will organize a local chapter of the Future Farmers of America, a national organization of farm boys taking Vocational Agriculture and comprised of members in 47 states and Hawaii and Puerto Rico. Peach Week

July 24 to 31 has been designated as state peach week, according to information received in the county extension agent's office. Peaches will be plentiful in quantity and reasonable in price, and fine in quality. A bushel of peaches will yield 150 servings of fresh fruit, and 15 to 20 quarts of canned fruit, stated Neva Van Zandt, Knox county home demonstration agent.

The leading peach growing counties in Texas are: Anderson, Cherokee, Henderson, Rusk, Morris, Red River, Smith, Van Zandt, Wood, Dallas, Johnson, Parker, Palo Pinto, Hood, Erath, Eastland, Comanche, Wise, Wheeler, and Collingsworth.

Knox county is producing a good supply of peaches for the first time in several years. A. K. McCaughey of the Vera community has an exceptionally fine orchard, according to County Agent Walter Rice. Mr. McCaughey has apricots, plums and peaches in his home orchard.

Knox county farmers should, if possible, can enough fruit for their own home needs, inasmuch as food prices are advancing due to the defense program and general war conditions.

Farm People Asked to Help In Aluminum Drive

College Station, Texas—Several thousand farm people visiting on the A. and M. College campus last week were urged to go home and dig up scrap aluminum for the recently announced collection beginning the week of July 21. All aluminum collected will be used for defense purposes, they were told.

Items suggested for donations include pots and pans, refrigerator trays, electrical appliances, kettles and double boilers, radio parts, toys, old washing machine parts, and bottle and jar caps. Visitors were told that the government needs all discarded aluminum that can be spared without replacements.

Upon the request of Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, director, Office of Civilian Defense, and William S. Knudsen, director general, Office of Production Management, Governor W. Lee O'Daniel recently asked county judges in Texas to assume leadership of the campaign in their counties. Voluntary machinery for the pick-up of used aluminum articles is being organized in each community of the state with 4-H club boys and girls, Boy Scouts, vocational agriculture and homemaking students, and other youth groups assisting in house-to-house and farm-to-farm canvases. County land use planning committees and various civic and fraternal organizations are also helping with the drive.

Approximately 500 county extension agents, in College Station for their annual conference at headquarters, were urged by Director H. H. Williamson and other leaders in the Extension Service to assist in the aluminum campaign throughout rural areas in every way possible.

Munday Trims Benjamin 12-6 Last Sunday

Nicking Bivins, Benjamin hurler, for 17 hits, Munday trimmed Benjamin 12 to 6 last Sunday in a league game at the county seat. Starting off like a hitting game for both sides, the Benjamin lads slowed down while the Munday boys pushed their total to 17 hits. Strickland, Ratliff, Carver, Reid and Bill King paced the hitting for the locals. Ratliff, Munday pitcher, struck a couple of wild streaks and gave up 13 free passes but put the pressure on when it was needed.

Particularly gratifying was the presence of a larger than usual number of Munday fans at the game, and the boys hope to have a larger number out Sunday at Munday when they take on the Rhineland Bombers, winners of the first half and tied with Munday for top place in the last half. This should be a top-notch game and the Munday boys promise not to let you down.

Auto-Suggestions

Charley the Chain is a good, reliable fellow. He's a good man to have around in an emergency. You'd be surprised at the number of holes he'll pull you out of and the number of skids he'll prevent. But even Charley warns against over-confidence. He makes it clear that drivers should exercise as much care while he's with them as when he's at home in the garage. Charley says that according to The Travelers latest highway safety booklet "Here Today—" there were almost 1,500 accidents in 1940 which wouldn't have happened if drivers had used chains when road conditions clearly indicated their need.
