Formula For Control of Leaf Worm is Given

County Agent R. O. Dunkle this week announced a formula for poison for the control of cotton leaf worms, stating they are likely to spread over larger areas of the county during this month. His statement is as follows:

"Within this month cotton leaf worms may be expected to spread over a considerable area of Knox county. The standard treatment for poisoning the leaf worm is an application of five to seven pounds per acre of calcium arsenate. Best results are obtained by applying the poison with suitable dusting machinery, but where spraying is preferred, three pounds of calcium arsenate, or two pounds of lead arsenate, may be used with 50 gallons of water. If Paris green is applied as a spray, one-half pound should be mixed with two pounds of hydrated lime in every 50 gallons of water and thoroughly agitated before using. All spray mixtures should be freshly made up when applied."

New Features Added to School

Lunch Room to Open On Second Week

The Munday Public Schools will begin school next Monday at nine o'clock in the ward school auditorium with about 575 students and teachers in attendance.

Several new teachers will be among those meeting at the building and the following faculty is announced by Supt. Colley.

High School—L. S. Hardegree, principal of the high school.

Jack Perryman, head coach and social science teacher.

Miss Jessie DeLoach, English and choral work in high school.

Miss Edna Lou Brock, commercial work.

Miss Irene Stewart, science.

Miss Dorothy O'Donnell, home-making.

Mr. Manuel W. Ayers, vocational agriculture.

Ward School—Mr. L. M. Palmer, principal.

Mrs. Clyde Kennamer, first grade.

Mrs. L. S. Hardegree, second grade.

Miss Charlie Francis Williams, third grade.

Mrs. L. M. Palmer, fourth grade.

Miss Mayme Holcomb, fifth grade, choral work.

Miss Addie Been, fifth grade.

Mr. Clyde Kennamer, ward coach and intermediate teacher.

Miss Kathleen Burnett, intermediate teacher.

Mr. Cecil Hood, intermediate teacher and school band director.

Mr. R. V. Wood, ass't high school coach and intermediate teacher.

Several new and important features have been added to the school the coming year. Foremost, probably for the high school students, is the addition of Vocational Agriculture for all the boys in high school. Added to this in the very near future likely will be a defense shop for the entire community.

Also a full time band man, Mr. Cecil Hood, has been employed so that students can take band every day with no fee charge. Also a fuller Homemaking program will be undertaken for all girls in the high school. A physical education and playground program will be stressed.

The school lunchroom will not be open until the second week of school, it is thought now, but it will be in full swing then. Last year the lunchroom, under WPA supervision, fed an average of 250 students each day for a charge of seven and one-half cents. Several were fed free who were unable to pay the necessary fee, perhaps seventy-five. Likely more than this will be fed this year.

All patrons and friends of the school are urged to attend the opening exercises of the school in the ward school auditorium where a short program will be given.

Knox City Team, Minus Lettermen, Begins Practice

Prospects for a fair football team began to shape up this week at Knox City, as the boys reported for the first practice session. The strength of the team will depend a lot on the development of some new material, it was stated.

Knox City lost all of her lettermen with one exception from last year. The remaining lettermen, two reserves and several newcomers will battle for starting berths on the 6-man team.

Coach Cook called a meeting of all football boys last Monday afternoon at four o'clock and started shaping the boys up for the season.

W. R. Moore, Jr., of San Antonio spent the week end here visiting with Mr. Moore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Moore, Sr., and with Mrs. Moore's parents in Knox City. W. R. is serving in the armory at Fort Sam Houston, and stated while here that he has received notice of his transfer to Augusta, Georgia, where he will be detailed to serving of tanks and other war machinery. Mr. and Mrs. Moore expect to leave for Augusta in the near future, although he had not received his moving orders while here.

THE LINDER PLAN

The great strength of the Linder Plan is that it incorporates all the farmers who grow basic agricultural crops in one group.

Heretofore there has been a cotton group seeking aid for cotton, another group seeking aid for wheat, another group seeking aid for hogs, etc. This division of strength was the great weakness that has made it impossible to get adequate consideration in Congress for agriculture as a whole.

The Linder Plan asks equal consideration and opportunities for all farmers of all sections on all crops.

The Linder Plan also provides for fixing the relative prices between farm products and the many things that the farmer must buy.

It provides for taking an average of prices existing over a ten-year period from 1920 to 1929 inclusive, and then fixing and maintaining the relative proportion between farm products and manufactured commodities that did exist over that ten year period.

ELI WHITNEY AND HIS CRITICS

Critics who wail unjustly about imagined slowness in America's defense production would do well to remember the story of Eli Whitney, the inventor of the cotton gin and father of the mass production technique. If they don't, they'll find themselves in the same embarrassing position that his critics did.

In 1798 the War Department granted Whitney a contract to make 10,000 muskets within two years. At the end of that time he was criticized because he had produced only a few hundred guns. But he had done something far more important—something the critics didn't know about. He had invented machinery that could make interchangeable parts for those guns, and make them in quantity.

Up until that time gunsmiths had made each part of each musket individually. Whitney's method of making identical parts that could be used in one gun or another was revolutionary. It took longer to begin doing, but once the tools for making the parts were finished, they produced muskets in greater quantities than anything that had been known before. Whitney's critics were confounded by the facts of his case. Criticism sprang from ignorance of what was going on.

Today those who know the scope of industry's job know that these preliminaries are necessary and they hail the speed with which they are being completed. Mr. Knudsen has just announced that our gigantic task of tooling up is almost over. Such is the genius of industry, however, that even while it has been going on, arms have been rolling from factories in quantities that were thought impossible a year ago. When in the near future it is finally ended, Mr. Knudsen's authority that "America can write its own ticket on war material, and that ticket can, as far as I am concerned, be twice what anybody else's ticket is."

In the light of such a statement, what more can the critics say?

BRAKES ON BUYING HABITS

President Roosevelt's Executive Order setting up a system of control to restrict installment buying has brought the "do without" phase of the national defense program close home to the average man.

Essentially, there is nothing wrong with installment buying during normal times. More than half of our cars, refrigerators and vacuum cleaners, to say nothing of other goods and services, are sold that way, and the practice has played an important role in increasing consumption and providing jobs—in raising our standard of living.

As the national income has been swelled by defense production, however, installment buying has increased rapidly—too rapidly. One of the reasons behind the Executive Order was a desire to discourage consumers from going too far in debt and thus to check credit inflation of the disastrous 1929 type.

There are other reasons, however. The airplanes, tanks and guns that America needs to defend its freedom are made from the same raw materials as washing machines, automobiles and similar articles. By making it more difficult for people to purchase such consumer goods, less of them will be sold. As a result the materials and labor that would be used to produce them could be used for urgent defense production.

In addition, the fact that people will be doing without those articles will create a demand for them when the defense program is over. In that way factories will be given something to manufacture when they stop making armaments, and the jobs of the countless thousands of employees will be protected.

Final effect of the curb is expected to be an increase on the amount of funds available for investment in defense bonds and other forms of savings, thus building up a reserve fund that can be drawn upon for purchases when jobs in defense industries end.

Though the new restrictions are bound to cause many inconveniences, they will be welcomed by every American anxious to do his bit for the defense of his country and to help it through the difficult emergency period ahead.

PITIFUL PLIGHT OF PUPPET FRANCE

The predicament of France under its Vichy puppet government is pitiful to say the least. The Frenchmen, who once fought for their right to liberty with pitchforks and clubs, now find themselves bound to the totalitarian system of government control by the mere expedient of a pronouncement made by a puppet dictator subject to the orders of Adolf Hitler.

It's hard to conceive of France in the ranks of the axis. Yet the Vichy government, set up by Hitler in conquered France, has decreed that Frenchmen shall subdue their emotions and ideals of freedom that have persisted for ages, even before the establishment of our American democracy, and shall hereafter be aligned with the forces that are diametrically opposed to freedom and the right of men to worship as they choose, and to govern themselves as they decide by majority.

The world knows that France does not join the axis by her own free choice. It is a decision made at the point of a gun. It is subjection of a freedom-loving people and nation to the will of a conqueror. The heart of France is not in this decision of Petain to desert the principles of democracy for the twentieth century rule of force that Hitler is trying to cram down the throats of all people. French liberty might be crushed; but French ideals of liberty are not dead.

Once the world is rid of Nazism, Fascism and Communism—as it will be in the not too far distant future—France will again rise up to take her place beside the great democracies.—The Coleman Democrat Voice.

FIRE-PREVENTION WEEK

Each year in October, Fire Prevention Week is observed by proclamation of the President of the United States. It is a call on the citizens of this country to reduce loss of life and property by fire.

That Week is always important. This year, with the country engaged in the greatest defense drive in all history—a drive which means that a large part of the human and material resources of this country must be turned to the gigantic task of making us militarily impregnable—the Week is a hundred times more important still. It has been said many times, and it should be said many times again, that fire is the enemy of defense. Fire is the waster, the implacable destroyer of human effort, of life, of resources. Fire fights against the swift production of airplanes and battleships and tanks. Fire fights against the nation's safety.

In the past years, it has often happened that fire losses have gone down in the Week and the period immediately following, only to rise sharply thereafter. In other words, we Americans have had very short memories. The lessons learned during the week were quickly forgotten, and we elapsed into our old careless, thoughtless habits.

That must not happen now. We must regard every week as fire-prevention week. We must regard every day as a day in which to keep in mind the hazards that breed fire, and the means of eliminating them. Only if that is done, can fire, our ever-present foe, be beaten. The war against fire is a war for American safety in which every one of us can play an aggressive part.

Because it will be used for the assembly and adjustment of magnetic compasses and precision instruments for aircraft, a non-magnetic building recently completed is without a trace of iron or steel. Brass, aluminum, copper and wood are used for conduits, pipes, nails, bolts and girders.

Rifles and submachine guns are now being produced at the rate of more than 1,500 a day, according to the Office of Production Management. This compares with daily average production in August, 1940, of 289, and in January, 1941, of 931.

Time reports that David Bowes-Lyon, brother of Queen Elizabeth of England, is expected to come to the United States shortly on a mission connected with the British ministry of information. He is described as "handsome, intelligent and good-humored, strongly resembling the queen."

STICK TO YOUR JOB!

Gems Of Thought

CONSCIENCE

Conscience is merely our own judgment of the right or wrong of our actions, and so can never be a safe guide unless enlightened by the word of God.—Tryon Edwards.

Labor to keep alive in your own breast that little spark of celestial fire, called conscience.—George Washington.

This period is not essentially one of conscience; few feel and live now as when this nation began, and our forefathers' prayers blended with the murmuring winds of their forest homes.—Mary Baker Eddy.

The men who succeed best in public life are those who take the risk of standing by their convictions.—James A. Garfield.

Cowardice asks, Is it safe? Expediency asks, Is it politic? Vanity asks, Is it popular? but conscience asks, Is it right?—Punshon

There is no class of men so difficult to be managed in a state as those whose intentions are honest, but whose consciences are bewitched.—Napoleon.

REDUCE KITCHEN CASUALTIES

College Station—Life insurance companies have figures showing that many thousands of deaths and disabling accidents each year result from accidents in home kitchens. To cut down on kitchen casualties, Louise Bryant, Extension Service specialist in home management, suggests a check-up to make this important room in the house safe.

A third of the deaths of children under five from home accidents come from scalds and burns. To avoid such tragedies, cook with the handles of pots and pans turned to the back of the stove so they will be out of reach of the children.

Safety catches can be put on the petcocks to prevent children from turning knobs on the gas stove; matches should be kept in non-flammable containers out of their reach. Canning in a pressure cooker and deep-fat frying are two of the more dangerous cooking jobs. Children should be kept out of the kitchen during these processes.

"Be sure to cover your hand with a cloth before you lift the cover from a steaming kettle or a roaster," Miss Bryant advises, "and lift the far side of the lid first." Here are other warnings:

Fat accumulating under a broiler is a fire hazard.

Long, loose, flowing sleeves are dangerous. Cook in short sleeves and plain smooth aprons and dresses.

Keep your curtains safe by fastening them so they can't blow in a fire or by fire-proofing them.

Don't touch anything electrical with a wet cloth or wet hands or when you're standing on a wet floor.

A fire extinguisher for the kitchen is a good safety investment, especially for the homemakers who live in the country.

Mr. and Mrs. Howell Burton and family of Hamlin visited Mr. Burton's father, W. T. Burton, and other relatives here last Sunday.

Mrs. Helen von Baumann of Dallas spent the week end here with her mother, Mrs. J. R. Smith, and with other relatives and friends.

There is a threat to halt installment buying. Many who resort to installment buying would be better off in many ways if they went on a cash basis. Munday Defeats Rhineland to Win The Second Half

The Munday softball team downed the Rhineland lads last Sunday to the tune of 8 to 3 to win the last half of the county softball schedule.

It was a real good game from start to finish, but the Munday lads were just too much for the Rhineland team. With the good pitching of Don L. Ratliff and his teammates' backing, Munday held the hard-hitting Rhineland club to three runs and five hits. Munday touched the Rhineland ace pitcher for ten hits.

Rayburn, Ratliff and Joe Burton led the hitting attack for two hits and batting in most of the runs. Everyone on the Munday ball club hit the ball except three, and they made Rhineland hustle to keep them from hitting.

This game makes Munday the winner of the last half of the 1941 schedule. Rhineland and Munday will go into the playoff on Sunday, September 7th.

Munday won the toss for the game, but due to no place to play here, the game will be at Rhineland. This is a good site, with lots of room for parking, and so everyone can see the game without getting out of their cars.

Munday's lads are out to win, and they ask a big crowd out to root for them. Don't let them down and they promise not to let you down. Fans are assured this will be a good game, as Rhineland and Munday play a good brand of ball all the time.

How to become A SKILLED DRIVER

By RAY W. SHERMAN
Courtesy of the FORD GOOD DRIVERS LEAGUE

Your left hand should be above the center and your right hand just below the center, or in other words, like the position of the hands on a clock at 10:20. This position gives you the best control—it enables you to put your arms, shoulders and all your strength into steering if you have to.

A hand at the bottom of the wheel has no power. Try it and see! With today's good roads, many drivers forget the importance of gripping the wheel correctly and let their hands sort of lie in their laps while the cars roll. But it's a dangerous habit. A tire can blow. In that case you've got to fight the wheel, whereas if you were in the right position, all you'd need to do would be to tighten your grip and ride it out.

As finalists in the annual contest in which scores of community-minded high school boys and girls compete, the seven winners were rewarded with $25 value bonds by C. M. Caldwell, Abilene, long time director of the contest, and Amon G. Carter of Fort Worth, publisher of the Star-Telegram, for his newspaper.

Letters of transmittal accompanying the bonds said: "This valuable gift is presented to you in the hope you will think of it as a nucleus and will do everything possible to increase your holdings in support of your country, and as something substantial for yourself."

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

The changes that El Paso has undergone and the picture is true in general of Texas cities and towns—is graphically set forth by William Moran, able editor of the El Paso Labor Advocate, who wrote this during prohibition days.

"When I first came to El Paso, it had ten banks and sixty-four saloons. Eggs were twenty cents a dozen. Texas Street was an unpaved country road. Home buyers insisted on close-in locations. The valley struggled with Johnson grass, and dust storms made miserable the lives of the people. The road-houses were infamous.

The bungalow craze was just beginning. Beauty parlors, tourist camps, auto laundries, chain stores bungalow courts, closed cars, home brew and bare-legged women were all unknown. Golf was at a minimum and bridge only understood in limited circles. Petting was done in the parlor and drinking was left to the men. Ash trays had achieved no gift popularity. The luncheon clubs were yet unborn. Self-expression was found in the kitchen and in the workshop. Daylight hours were filled with labor by the moon of the saxophone.

Horses were still to be seen on downtown streets and people carried packages unashamed. Installation buying was but faintly developed. Homes were furnished in beautiful tropes and mournful mauves; jazz decoration, rich colorings and rococo styles were evidences of crudeness and barbarity. The bathroom was unholly unless in white.

Gin had not yet become a household word. The cocktail shaker never appeared except at stag suppers, and people quit dancing after forty. Divorcees were spoken of in whispers. The speed limit was fifteen miles an hour.

Today, where the horse-wrangler lately plied his trade, we have the city planning and zoning, the stop streets, through streets, one-way streets and loading zones, with the electric traffic control. Movies, talkies, co-operative apartments, tabulated public endeavors and card indexed charities are the rule of the day. Rayon has displaced cotton, and ice comes by wire. Few are too poor to ride and all are too proud to walk. Potatoes are peeled by electricity and furnaces are fired by a robot. Business men are whisked fifteen floors upward for a four-hour day in a five-day week. Surely civilization, on the border, has delighted, if not enriched the lives of the people.

"Cattle" will be the central theme of the 1941 State Fair of Texas, which isn't very far away—Oct. 4 to 19. Two national beef cattle shows will be the feature of the $150,000 livestock division. In the National Hereford Show (the third consecutive year it has been held at the State Fair) $30,000 in prizes are offered and awards in the National Aberdeen-Angus Show total $10,000. The Hereford prizes represent the biggest amount ever offered by any fair in a single classification of livestock, it is declared by this columnist's old friend, E. Paul Jones, publicity director.

At least 400 head of Aberdeen-Angus are expected in Dallas for what will be the first national show ever held for the breed of black cattle.

But of course, cattle are by no means all, when closely questioned the officials will admit that the 1941 State Fair of Texas will be the biggest and best yet—and they point to $17,500 in prize money for "the largest farm show ever housed under a single roof;" $7,500 for poultry besides the hobby show, culinary, textiles, flowers, pigeons and others—the grand total of prizes reaching the breath-taking figure of $150,000.

An Independent Midway, made up of the cream of the attractions of many exhibitors and not of just one, including the popular Harry Sadler with two shows; Press Day when the editors of the State will be guests of honor; the Queen's Pageant; University of Oklahoma against University of Texas on the Gridiron, so President Harry Seay and Secretary Roy Rupard have good grounds for hoping to see a new attendance record set for the third straight year, the 1940 mark being 1,116,487, with 215,000 children on hand for children's day.

Sign in a cross-roads store. "If you spit on the floor at home, spit on the floor here, we want you to feel at home."

Indian Fakir Fondles Crocodile

Madame Tanit-Ikano, internationally famous Indian Fakir, is shown handling one of her pet crocodiles. The Madame handles this most ferocious of all reptiles as the average person handles a baby. She comes to the 1941 State Fair heralded as the greatest illusionist since Houdini.

Wright's Cow Adds to Troubles Of Many Texans

Austin—Now there are two famous cows—O'Leary's and Mister Wright's.

Everybody knows about Mrs. O'Leary's cow, and the lawyers and police officers of Texas are learning about Mr. Wright's. It was four years ago that Wright began to sell his cow, and he's been selling it, along with a song and dance, ever since.

Wright—his initials are C. R., but his friends call him Charley—always sells this cow to one C. A. Fox for $42. Mr. Fox pays by check, typing everything but his scrawled signature, and usually he notes on its face that the check is "for 1 cow."

Usually, upon selling the cow again, Wright calls upon a lawyer in a medium-sized city, retains the lawyer to handle a suit against a railroad whose train allegedly has run into his truck, and gets the lawyer to endorse Fox's check so he can cash it. On two occasions Wright sought the professional services of a dentist. A Cleburne dentist gave him a $30 set of false teeth and $12 change for Fox's check. A Seguin dentist endorsed one of the checks after agreeing to work on Wright's teeth.

"Fox's checks always come back marked 'no account' and Wright is nowhere to be found. Wright's first known offense was in Mineral Wells in September 1937. Subsequently he has cashed worthless checks in Cleburne, Laredo, Waco, Marlin, Cameron, Conroe, Kerrville, and Seguin.

Chief Joe S. Fletcher of the State Police Identification Bureau believes many swindles perpetrated by Wright have never been reported. Wright is described as 55 years old, 150 to 160 pounds and about 5 feet 10 or 11 inches tall.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Johnson of Chickasha, Okla., spent the week end here visiting in the home of Mrs. J. R. Smith, and with other relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Winston Blacklock of Clarendon and Lamoine Blacklock of Vernon visited with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Blacklock, over the week end.

Cotton Important In Natl. Defense

"The importance of the role cotton is playing in America's national defense program cannot be over-estimated," Mr. Walter Phillips, Chairman of the Knox County Cotton Industry Committee, said here today.

Stating that approximately 12 per cent of current cotton textile production is going into defense materials, Mr. Phillips said that literally hundreds of cotton articles are being used in large quantities by the armed forces of the United States. In addition, he added that the Cotton Producing Industry and Cotton Trades Industry are cooperating with the Surplus Marketing Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in an effort to increase the consumption of 100 per cent American cotton products by everyone.

Listing as typical examples of Army purchases of cotton articles, Mr. Phillips said that as far back as March the Army had bought 7,300,000 pairs of cotton khaki trousers, 1,000,000 canvas coats, 2,400,000 mosquito nets, 1,700,000 raincoats, 300,000 tents, 200,000 cook's caps, 10,000 cotton parachutes, 5,000,000 towels, 1,300,000 gas masks, 1,800,000 sand bags and 450,000 rolls of surgical gauze.

"Increased cotton purchases by the government for the Army and Navy have not been the sole effect of the world war on American cotton, however," says Mr. Phillips. "On the other side of the picture, cotton has lost virtually all its foreign markets for the duration of the war."

"Formerly the United States exported almost 7,000,000 bales of cotton a year to foreign markets. This year cotton exports will be less than a million bales," he continued. "Naturally this loss of markets has greatly affected the cotton industry. The only free markets remaining open to the eleven million Americans directly dependent on cotton for a livelihood are those afforded by this country. It is essential that we redouble our efforts to increase the domestic cotton consumption."

"By purchasing more cottons now, American consumers can assist the cotton industry in spanning this period of temporary emergency when the cooperation of all is so greatly needed."

Revised Drunken Driving Law Gets Many Convictions

Austin—Convictions for drunken driving in Texas have increased 340 per cent under the new law making this offense a misdemeanor, State Police Director Homer Garrison, Jr., reported today.

Two hundred and thirty driver's licenses were suspended or revoked upon conviction for driving while intoxicated between June 19, when the law became effective, and Aug. 22. This compares with 50 suspensions in the same period last year.

Law enforcement officers and safety officials contend that the old law, under which a first offense was a felony, was so strict that enforcement fell down through reluctance of juries and courts to send a defendant to the penitentiary. The recent Legislature enacted the new law which makes the first offense a misdemeanor punishable by automatic suspension of the driver's license for six months and a fine or jail sentence or both. The second offense becomes a felony punishable by a one-year suspension of the driver's license and penitentiary sentence.

Eight convictions under the new law were for second offenses and one was for a third offense.

"These figures do not give an absolutely clear analysis of results obtained under the new law," Colonel Garrison pointed out, "because many city officers now are filing first offense cases in state courts, whereas they were previously filed in municipal courts. Nevertheless, the increase in convictions has been so overwhelmingly large that the new law apparently has already proven its effectiveness."

Texas Tech Will Start 17th Year

Lubbock—The seventeenth college year begins at Texas Technological College Sept. 19 and officials point out that many advantages accrue to the student who enters on time, with consequent disadvantages to the student who registers late.

Items that have to be attended to prior to registration include submission of transcript of all of applicant's credentials to the Registrar, taking required physical examination, establishing local residence, furnishing record of employment, securing permit to register, and paying tuition and fees.

Students will be given a direction sheet which, if followed closely in the sequence indicated, will eliminate difficulties and delay in registration. Two days, Thursday and Friday, Sept. 11 and 12, are occupied with registration and classes begin Saturday, Sept. 13.

Hubert Homer of Dallas visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. G. Homer of Rhineland and friends in Munday over the week end. He was enroute to Wichita, Kansas.

Henry Ford Says:

Times that are "out of joint" are times of more opportunity.

A nation is as strong as its industries. Government is its frame—industry is its heart, its life blood and its sinew. Our country rises or falls with the position of the wage earner.

Business is never so healthy as when, like a chicken, it must scratch for what it gets.

Success is finding the work we do best and doing it the best we can.

You know, business is only an exchange of goods. If we want the farmer to be OUR customer, we must find a way to be HIS customer.

When America has one foot on the land and one in industry her safety and prosperity will be a great deal more secure. The farther we get away from the land, the greater our insecurity.

Every honest effort brings a result.

My greatest ambition is to create employment for more and more men, at higher and higher wages.

By RAY W. SHERMAN

LET THE ENGINE HELP YOU BRAKE

At any speed—other than very, very low—let the engine help you brake. It doesn't hurt the engine and it doesn't require any gas. In using the engine for a brake, leave the clutch in until you are nearly to the stopping point. Then kick the clutch out and make the stop. In the illustration, the left foot is getting ready to depress the clutch pedal when the brake and engine have slowed the car down to the proper speed.

If you can see far ahead that you must make a stop, the engine can do much of the braking for you and thus save the brakes from excessive wear.

TEXAS OUT-OF-DOORS

Austin, Texas—The ten-day open season on white-wings proclaimed by Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes came as a distinct surprise to officials who had been led to believe that there would be no open season on white-wings doves this year.

The federal open season of ten days, however, conflicts rather sharply with the state law which permits the shooting of white-wings in Webb, Zapata, Starr, Hidalgo, Cameron and Willacy counties only between 12 noon and sunset on Sept. 16, 18, 21, 23 and 25. Hence under federal regulations white-wings doves may be shot at any time between September 16 and Sept. 25, but under the state law they may be shot in the above-named counties only between 12 noon and sunset on the five afternoons specified by law. And, of course, the state law takes precedence in this instance.

The season on white-wings doves is from Sept. 16 to Sept. 25.

Proper Care Of Minnows
Many minnows are lost each season by improper methods of taking, handling and holding. If minnows are taken in seines or traps, the ones to be kept should be placed in water of the same temperature from which they are taken, and the ones to be returned should be handled with great care and placed in water of sufficient depth and not in the shallow waters or in dense vegetation.

If ice is used in transporting the minnows to the holding tank, the temperature of the water should be equalized.
When minnows are dipped from a tank, a small net should be used, handling only a few at a time. A great deal of harm is done when too many minnows are caught at once in the large dip nets. Fungus develops readily during the warm summer months when the slime is removed due to handling and results in a great loss.

The water in holding tanks should be free from chlorine or other chemicals that might be used in treating drinking water, and also well aerated. The water can be aerated by running it over a rough surface or over a fine wired screen, and also by spraying it through the air. If city water that is treated is used, it should be filtered through a regulation filter or a container for this particular purpose.

A good filter can be made by using a container about the size of a thirty-gallon barrel filled with one-third gravel in the bottom and one-third sand and one-third fine charcoal on top. A screen should be placed over the inside of the outlet at the bottom. It is better if the water is sprayed into the top of the barrel.

Squirrel Shortage
A possibility that fox may be responsible for the shortage of squirrels in Medina and Bandera counties was contained in a report received by the game fish and oyster commission from one of its field men. The warden said he saw a fox catch a squirrel on the Seco Creek south of D'Hanis. He said the squirrel, in a frantic effort to escape the fox, ran part way up a fence post, but was then caught by the fox before he could scamper to the top of the post. A few days later this same warden said he was parked in a secluded spot near Medina Lake when a fox came near to his car with a squirrel in his mouth.

Albinos continue to appear in Texas, according to reports received by the game department. A few days ago a pure white hummingbird was found near Brownwood. It was the first of the albino hummingbirds that the state game warden in that area has seen.

Did you know that the age of a rattlesnake cannot always be determined by the number of rattles on its tail. The age can be determined from the rattles only when the snake still has its first rattle, or the true button, according to game department experts. The true button is often knocked off when the snake strikes its tail against some hard object.

HELP STOP ACCIDENTS
President Roosevelt has called upon every citizen of the United States to join in a campaign led by the National Safety Council to stop the accidents that are crippling our national defense program.

This war on accidents in Texas is now being organized by the Texas Safety Association. It will reach your state and your city. You will be asked to do everything in your power to help.
Cooperate with your police department, your local safety council and civic leaders. Accidents can be stopped if we want to stop them!

SENIOR REPORT

Summer school is now more than half over, and going by what has happened during that length of time, the Seniors prophecy that their last year will be a happy one.

The second meeting of the Senior club was called to order last Wednesday by the president, Albert Brown. We decided to call our club the "Triple S" Club of the "Seven Superior Seniors Club" Miss McGraw and the Senior girls are still wondering what reason the boys had for wanting it to be called the "Seven Come Eleven" club.

Calvin, we are sure Mr. Hoffman is surprised at the way you work geometry problems. Does Teresa F. help you much?

Joe J. talks so little that we will soon forget what his voice sounds like, but of course Roselia will remember it and describe it to us.

JUNIOR REPORT

The juniors are still progressing rapidly. We hope to progress more as time goes on. In geometry we are doing fine, at least we seem to have caught on. We are no longer in the dark as far as this subject is concerned, but we have trouble with our history, as it is rather difficult. We may like it better now since we are studying the lives of different famous men.

Juniors watch your English. We are studying correct tenses now. If we learn only a part of it, we should be able to speak correctly.

We Wonder Why Mildred keeps her eyes on Room 3. Somebody in there Mildred? Elsie tends to her own business. Urban liked our visitor last Friday. Who was it?

SOPHOMORE REPORT

The name of the Sophomore club is the Story Telling Club. The officers are as follows:
President, Everett Kuehler; the vice president, Albert Andrae, the secretary, Alvin Jungman; and reporter Anna Fetsch.

Our next meeting will take place next Monday morning, September 8, from 8:45 to 9:30 in Room 2.

We Wonder Why Alvin had to stay in Munday. (Alvin, what's the matter with that story?)
Everett knows his geography. Albert got his algebra so easy. Anna's feet hurt Monday.

FRESHMAN REPORT

The freshmen are making progress with their studies. They all seem to like English the best. History seems a bit puzzling but we will catch on by and by.

The class enjoyed the picnic at the Seymour Park last Saturday. It was noon when they reached the park. They ate their dinner and played until they went swimming, which they really enjoyed. They ate their supper at about six-thirty. After packing our things we played a little while and then came home. In spite of the sunburns, they all had a good time.

NEWS OF ROOM III

The eighth grade has been very busy this week. We had an agriculture match last Friday. The match consisted of twenty-six definitions. Most of us knew them.
We hope we all made a good grade in our Arithmetic tests last Monday.
We are progressing in our geography. We have covered nearly seventy pages.
Leroy wasn't in school Monday morning.
We all liked the watermelon that Mary Ann brought.
Louis brought two baby lizards to school Monday.
Fidelis likes the cotton patch better than the school room.
Robert can carve so good. Plenty good, Robert.
We formed a club last Tuesday. We named it the Sunshine club. Clarence Stengel is president. La Verne Albus is vice president and Jewel Marie is Secretary and Treasurer.

NEWS OF ROOM IV

This has been a busy week for the seventh grade. In English we have been writing short book reports and paragraphs. Some of them were very interesting.
Our Texas history is as much fun as a good story book. At present we are studying about the era of pirates and filibusters.
Herman's favorite subject is his spelling.
Miss Claus, did you have a good time Saturday?
Why is Eddie counting flies?
Betty Lou had to walk to school. Maxine was here very early Monday morning.
Adelaide brought a flower to the school.
Sue, we missed you the other afternoon.
John Ed is so loud.
Donald likes to have his picture taken.
Herbert has changed his mind about Texas history. It isn't so bad, is it Herbert?
Marion likes arithmetic.
John Nesbitt of Sherman and Joe Nesbitt of Dallas visited with Andy Fland over the week end.
Mrs. Guy Rutherford and children of San Angelo, visited Misses Fannie and Maud Isbell and other relatives and friends here the first of this week.
DeTroy Trammell, who is employed in Lubbock, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Trammell, and other relatives and friends here over the week end.
Miss Florene Allen returned to Sterling City the latter part of last week, where she has resumed her duties as teacher in the Sterling City schools.

Do You Know Texas?

OPINION: "I sincerely believe that every school child in Texas should be given an opportunity to see 'Cavalcade of Texas.' It has entertainment value, but it is primarily educational. The commentary recites the history and tradition of our State, and emphasizes the opportunities offered by the Texas of today. I know of no other medium through which the student could get the composite picture of Texas which is presented in this film." Karl Hoblitzelle, chairman of Executive Committee, Texas Centennial of Statehood Commission. To secure the picture for your community write to the State superintendent, or to the Centennial Commission.

"Here's What I Expect An Advertisement To Tell Me"

"Where Can I Buy It? Naturally, one of the first things I want to know about something I see in an ad is—where can I buy it? It isn't simply a matter of convenience and of saving time in planning my shopping, either! No, the name of the merchant, itself, often decides whether I buy or not. Invariably, you see, I give preference to stores whose ads I see regularly and often—I know these stores must have good value or they couldn't go on advertising year after year!

"What Will It Do For Me? I find it so much easier to make up my mind when the ad tells me facts about the merchandise! What is it? What will it do? How will it help me? Why do I need it? I want to know about color, weight, texture, material, style—I enjoy reading those things and I usually buy from the merchant who tells them to me.

"How Much Is The Price? Of course nearly every ad mentions the price, but if an item has been marked down I want to know from how much. So many sale ads say 'Was Higher' . . . how much higher? I want to know how much I am saving and I want the chance of deciding for myself if the item is a real value or not. I have more confidence in the store that is consistently truthful and buy from such a store regularly—and my husband says an old customer is worth three new ones because new ones cost money to get!"

Counties Work For Dam Project Near Rochester

A meeting of representatives from Seymour, Munday, Haskell, Knox City, O'Brien, Rochester, Rule and Aspermont was held in Haskell last Tuesday night for the purpose of forming an organization to work for a government dam and water conservation project near Rochester.

This project would serve, if secured, as a feeder project to the Possum Kingdom Dam. Representatives will meet in Rule next Thursday night with the view of forming a permanent organization.

The first work will be to get the project approved by the government so that appropriations may be made later to carry on the work. It was pointed out this would be a boon to this territory in furnishing electric power to the area, as well as serving as a water conservation project.

The meeting in Haskell was held at the home of W. R. Moore, J. A. C. R. Elliott and W. E. Mr. Caughran and Mr. were named to represent the county in forming the permanent organization.

Chamber of Commerce representatives from Breckenridge and Graham were present at the meeting and promised all aid possible on the project.

Farmers Show Good Progress In Worm War

Observation in all parts of the county show that Knox county farmers are making splendid progress in methods of controlling the cotton leaf worm. County Agent R. D. Dunkle stated when in town Wednesday.

Control of the leaf worm, he said, is very important now as most of the cotton in Knox county would be termed late cotton. Loss of the leaf of this cotton would result in immature bolls which would open in an early stage and affect the quality of staple and grade of the cotton.

Sunset 4-H Club Studies Cotton

Fifteen 4-H Club members of the Sunset community made a field trip with County Agent R. O. Dunkle last Wednesday into the cotton fields near the school. The purpose of the trip was to study the cotton leaf worm and boll worm conditions as well as plant diseases such as root rot and boll rot as affecting cotton.

The boys were taught to distinguish the difference in damage shown by the leaf worm as compared with the boll worm, and proper methods for their control. 4-H Club boys having cotton acreage demonstrations in their work were given instructions in the proper use of the "Gunter's Chain" in measuring the land. Each boy will use this method in determining the correct number of acres in his cotton demonstration.

Money Savers

Seeking to save department store losses running into thousands of dollars annually, a Memphis woman called on King Cotton for aid. Result is a simple cotton try-on jacket which the customer slips into before trying on dresses. The jacket absorbs perspiration and prevents stains on dresses. Low cost of the try-on enables stores to provide a freshly laundered jacket for each customer.

California, has returned to his home after a visit with relatives here. Ernest Ingram and wife and baby are visiting on the coast this week.

Mrs. W. A. Harris has returned from California, where she spent a month visiting relatives.

Local Residence Destroyed by Fire

Firemen were called out of bed at about three o'clock last Saturday morning to answer Munday's first fire alarm in several weeks.

The residence house belonging to Mrs. Irene Meers, located between the P. V. Williams home and that of Mrs. W. P. Farrington, was almost completely destroyed by fire. The flames had gained considerable headway before being discovered, and by the time firemen were aroused by the alarm and had gotten fire fighting equipment on the scene the house was completely enveloped by flames.

The house, formerly occupied by Boone Hamilton, had been vacant for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. A. U. Hathaway and Mrs. Addie Layne returned last Friday from Amarillo, where they visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Layne and family, son of Mrs. Addie Layne. While there Uncle Happy demonstrated his fishing prowess for the Pan-handlers, bringing in nice strings of fish from a lake near Amarillo.

Natl. Defense Shop Approved For Munday

Training Center To Be Established In Local School

The agriculture division of the State Board of Vocational Education at Austin notified local school authorities this week they had approved the Munday public schools for a national defense shop training center.

The federal government has appropriated funds to finance the purchase of shop equipment, consumable supplies necessary in teaching the courses, and salary of pre-employment courses for the instructor. Four ten weeks, pre-employment courses will be offered free to out-of-school young men between the ages of 17 and 25. The courses will be offered one at a time, and a student may take any one or all of the courses as he desires. Each student will be registered with the Texas Employment Agency and upon completion of each course he will be issued a certificate that will be useful in securing employment.

The four courses that will be offered are: 1. Operation, care and repair of tractors, trucks and automobiles; 2. Metal work, including welding, tempering, drilling, shaping and machinery repair; 3. Woodworking, general carpentry, constructing poultry houses, feeders, sheds, etc.; 4. Elementary electricity, including operation, care and repair of electrical equipment and wiring for light and power.

The shop program will be set up in the basement of the old high school building in connection with the vocational agriculture department. Manuel W. Ayers will be local supervisor of the program and an instructor (preferably a local man) will be hired by the school board to teach the courses. The instructor may teach one or more of the courses, according to his qualifications.

Accommodations for 12 to 15 students will be available for each course. Young men in the Munday and adjoining school districts between the ages of 17 and 25 who think they would be interested in taking advantage of this opportunity are urged to contact Mr. Ayers in the near future. It is expected that the program will be under way within the next week or ten days.

During the harvest rush most of the instruction will be offered at night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Herring of Knox City visited with Mr. Herring's mother, Mrs. Ida Herring, here last Sunday.
