Details of the accident were not learned here. Mrs. Wilson and little son were killed instantly and it was thought for several hours that Mr. Wilson was critically injured.

Mrs. Bertie Wilson, mother of the injured man, and another son, Epp Wilson of Big Spring, left last week for Ura's bedside and arrived in California Monday morning. In a letter this week, Mrs. Wilson stated her son was not dangerously injured, although he received many cuts and bruises. Recently a large order of materials was brought from money left over from the lunchroom last year after all expenses including utilities, had been paid. Cooperation In Fire Prevention Week is Urged

Fifty-two well observed Fire Prevention weeks a year is the ideal combination for Munday and Knox county according to H. C. Hawes, chief of the Munday Fire Department. "But the idea of stressing this week as Fire Prevention week is to make citizens conscious of the need of a genuine effort at locating and eliminating fire hazards in the home and in their places of business."

Rubbish in attics, improper storage of materials that may cause spontaneous combustion, electrical hazards, carelessness in dosing of cigarette stubs and matches should be watched closely with the definite thought in mind of cutting down the immense loss of lives, material and time suffered yearly in America due to fires listed as preventable.

"It may seem like old stuff to harp on common everyday causes of fires, but the simple facts are that pure carelessness in regard to the handling of these common everyday hazards is still the greatest cause of fire losses over the entire country," Chief Hawes said. "Few new hazards face people in these rural areas," he continued. "It's the carelessly thrown away cigarette stub, use of inflammable liquids for home cleaning, overloaded and amateur electrical hookups that take the toll of property and lives this year as they have in the past."

Munday firemen plan house to house inspections in the business district some time this week, and Munday business men are urged to cooperate with them in this matter. Hazards will be pointed out and reports made to the fire department and to the fire marshal of the city, the latter having authority to cause corrections to be made, if need arises.

Mr. O'Banion was well impressed with the qualifications of the various faculty members, as well as with the physical equipment of the school. He stated that Gilliland has an ideal rural school setup and complimented the patrons, teachers and students on their school pride and on keeping the school building and grounds in good shape.

The state man made a special visit to the county to inspect this school, and Gilliland patrons feel that the school will become fully accredited in the near future.

Crowning of the queen of the harvest festival will be a feature of the events. Candidates for harvest queen have not yet been selected, but a number of young ladies are expected to enter this contest.

2186 Bales Of Cotton Ginned

As farmers are again permitted to get into their fields for part-time work, gins of Munday assumed their usual activities following the wet weather.

Cotton has been coming in rather rapidly during the past few days, and the Munday gins are running steadily.

A check of the local gins at 9:30 Thursday morning revealed that there had been 2,186 bales of 1941 cotton ginned at this time.

With one of the best cotton crops in years, the gins of the entire county expect to be over-run with cotton when weather permits full-time work in the fields.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Lee and little daughter, Melissa Ann, visited relatives and friends in Wichita Falls over the week end.

Roxy Installs Theatre Seats

P. V. Williams, owner of the Roxy Theatre, this week announced installation of new seats at the theatre, and the Roxy now boasts of every seat on the lower floor being a cushioned seat.

New "Bodiform" chairs, designed to offer maximum comfort through scientific contours and resiliency, were installed. Their "Feather Foam Front" takes the pressure of the popliteal—yes, we had to consult the dictionary, too—which enables patrons to sit through the longest program in comfort, with no hard edge seats to cause legs to go to sleep.

Williams is always striving to add to the comfort and pleasure of his theatre patrons, which is evidenced by this new installation.

All Legionnaires and other ex-service men will be urged to attend the church of their choice on Sunday, October 26, Don Ferris, commander of the local post of the American Legion, said today.

Missionary To Speak Sunday at Local Church

Dr. Joseph Dobes, native-born Czech and naturalized American citizen who was educated in Germany and London, will speak at the Methodist church next Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced Wednesday by Rev. Luther Kirk, pastor.

Dr. Dobes went to Czechoslovakia in 1920 as the first American missionary to that country. There were no Methodists in there at that time, and in two years there were 2,000 members who joined the church on professions of faith as a result of this missionary's work.

His work was in Prague, where he served as pastor of the church for nine years, later becoming district superintendent and editor of "The Christian Awakening." He was in Prague when Germany over-ran Czechoslovakia and lived there under German domination for 15 months. Had he not been a naturalized American citizen, he would have been in a concentration camp today. He retired recently because of failing health.

Dr. Dobes will have a message of interest to all of the community, and a large crowd is expected to hear him.

New Ford Car On Display Here

The beautiful new Ford car for 1942 is now on display at the showroom of Bauman Motors, local Ford dealer. The car went on display the latter part of last week.

The Ford is termed an "unusual new car" this year—now in its beauty, its comfort, its choice of two fine 90 horsepower engines, 6 cylinders or 8. Bauman Motors have only the 8 on display at this time, and the beauty of this new Ford will more than hold its own in any company.

The inside of the car is big—wide across the seats, generous in knee-room, leg-room and elbow room, and is still further advanced in its softness, quietness, steadiness and all-around comfort.

E. H. Bauman, dealer, invites the public to come in and see this new model.

Crowell Team And Moguls To Fight It Out

Conference Game Be Played at Crowell

Munday's Moguls enter conference play next Friday night in what is hoped to be the toughest game of their entire season. Munday meets the highly rated Crowell Wildcats at Crowell to open the conference play for both teams.

Munday and Crowell are the only two teams in district 9-A that have been undefeated this season, and a tie game is the only thing that will make this statement true after Friday night.

The winner of this game will definitely be one of the strongest contenders for the 9-A crown. Munday suffered a 12-0 defeat last year at the hands of the Wildcats. Members of the local team are not underrating the power of the Wildcat tribe this year, and they are preparing for the fiercest battle of the season.

McGraw, nimble-hipped back for the Moguls who is showing good form again this year, will be relied on heavily by his teammates. The hope for victory is in McGraw's ability, coupled with that of Carden and Moore, and in a line that will be able to break up Crowell's attacks.

Crowell makes most of her yardage via Bird and Halencak, both on the ground and in the air, according to dopsters who have seen this team in action. These boys are threats any time the ball goes into play.

Both teams have a 3-game victory slate this far this season. Last Friday night Crowell downed Floydada by a 12-7 score, while the Moguls took a 6-0 victory from Snyder.

The Moguls are working out in earnest this week, and all members of the team are expected to be in good condition for their first conference game. A large number of fans is expected to accompany the Moguls to Crowell for this important game.

"What a Man Does For Himself Dies With Him—
What He Does For His Community Lives On and On"—

DEPRESSION OR PLENTY?

"What lies ahead after we have solved present day problems? A land of milk and honey or another black pit of depression? Where do we go from here?"

In those words NAM President Walter D. Fuller recently stated one of the great issues that America faces today. True, we are in the midst of an enormous defense program, and defense is still our main job. But after defense what? The transition from armament to peace-time manufacture presents a huge and difficult problem. How well we can solve it will depend to a considerable extent on how well we prepare ourselves now to solve it.

According to Mr. Fuller, already "the government planners are establishing a shelf for public works projects after the war. But that is not a solution, any more than it was the way out of the depression in the 1930s.

"What is needed even more than a pantry shelf of pills and panaceas is a clearing of the air as to what business and industry can expect in the future. Will the war-time controls be revoked? Will the power to kill off any business or industry through invoking priorities and prices controls be relinquished? Will free enterprise be made freer, with more encouragement instead of more discouragement? Or will there be a tendency to spread the TVA idea which the TNEC called 'a Communistic germ'? Will the methods of the bituminous coal act which was labeled a Fascist infection of our democracy be retained and extended to other industries?"

These are words that America must consider soberly. In the past our free industry has given us the highest standard of living in the world. In the future it can continue to do so if we keep it free—save it from the fate of the goose that laid the golden egg. We hold tomorrow in our hands. Depression or plenty? America must decide.

AGRICULTURE IN THE DEFENSE PROGRAM

If agriculture is as important in our defense program as Secretary Wickard and others tell the farmers; if it is necessary to produce abundantly in order that our soldiers and citizens, and the soldiers and citizens of Britain can be well fed, why are manufacturers of labor-saving machinery used in food production placed so far down the materials priority list?

The scarcity of farm labor is not a myth; it is an actual reality. Not only have the young men been taken into the army, but hundreds of thousands of men who formerly worked on farms have gone into industries engaged in war materials production. Farm labor is scarce and high priced. In many areas it is not obtainable at any price. This will result in delayed preparation for next years crops and in the loss of many of the crops already produced.

Manufacturers of labor-saving machines and implements report a demand exceeding the supply. Under the priority list is revised, they say that production will be radically handicapped, which means a further handicap imposed on farmers who are asked by the Government to increase their yields of all food products. Farmers and their families can do just so much in their efforts to meet the demand made upon them. If they fail it will not be their fault.

The situation in some areas is growing serious. Farmers are protesting to their local organizations and, perhaps, if more of them urge a revision of the materials priority list, by next spring they will be able to secure such implements and machines as are needed to take the place of the labor which has left the farm for munitions factories. Guns and ships are necessary in the defense of any nation, but no more so than food. Food builds up the courage and morale of the citizens and makes possible the effective operation of its armed forces.—Farm and Ranch.

OIL FOR JAPAN

From time to time the oil industry has been criticized for exporting oil to Japan. That criticism is unfair and unjustified.

The oil companies shipped to Japan because that was in accord with our government's policy. And you don't have to take an oil man's word for that. Some time ago, the President himself said this: "There was a method in letting this oil go to Japan, with the hope—and it has worked for two years—of keeping war out of the South Pacific for our own good, for the good of the defense of Great Britain, and for the freedom of the seas."

Now our governmental policy in regard to Japan has undergone a change, and the oil companies, as in the past, are cooperating completely. Today, as yesterday, they are following the lead of the State Department and the Executive Branch. To say that the oil companies should have refused to sell oil to Japan a long time ago, is to say, in effect, that this industry should have refused to abide by the official policy of the government under which it exists.

Industrial output in the United States is just double that in the middle of 1938 when it had reached about the point which prevailed throughout the period of the first World War according to the Department of Commerce.

PLOW UNDER THE PORK BARREL

The record breaking tax bill that Americans will have to pay this year emphasizes once again the immediate need for economy in government expenditures. Substantial cuts can be made in non-defense items, providing pork barrel politics can be forgotten long enough to permit them to be made.

Many Americans fail to realize that non-defense spending has doubled within the past ten years. Every year since 1931 Washington has spent more money than it has collected. Today's rate of tax collection is double that of the peak of the World War period. Untold billions of defense spending are being piled on a tremendous level of civil spending. These non-military expenditures have only been reduced by a comparatively few millions since the emergency began—and this in spite of the fact that millions of people recently unemployed are now working.

The government debt has reached gigantic proportions and is steadily going up. This debt has a tremendous effect upon the standard of living of every one of us. Today the average person pays about 25 per cent of his income in direct and indirect taxes. Every wasted dollar—every unnecessary expenditure—means that he has to pay more money to the government. It means that he has that much less to spend for the necessities and luxuries that every American family needs and wants.

Today, when the rest of us are pulling in our belts to help pay for the defense program that we must have, it's time to insist that Washington pull in its belt, too. In the past it has had considerable experience in plowing under pork. Why not plow under the pork barrel now?

MEN OF FINANCE

In these days of strife and confusion it would do us all good to scrutinize a little closer the history of the United States. Most of us have a general idea that it was hardly though simple business to create a new nation. It was hardy, but far from simple. Written between the lines of history in which political and military battles predominate, is the intricate story of the growth of an economic system. Each new development in this system took place to meet a definite need. When the great trek westward began a hundred years ago, countless thousands of people invaded millions of square miles of wilderness. When they reached their destination a great majority of them had nothing with which to begin life. In Oklahoma when the famous Cherokee Strip was opened the mad rush of land-hungry settlers, many found themselves stranded and penniless with little more than the clothes upon their backs. They were unable to buy the plows, teams, harness seed, lumber, food, and other necessities that enterprising merchants shipped across the prairies, until other enterprising individuals came with funds to loan the settlers.

The latter were "bankers." They were as essential as the sheriff with his long-barreled Colt. And in a sense they were equally as daring. Few communities or farming centers could have been developed without the local banker who, with dreams of a future for his district, backed worthy citizens in need of financial assistance.

There is far too strong a tendency to deprecate the men of finance. This country could not have been built without them, and it most assuredly will have no free and independent future without the continued operation of private financial institutions. The sooner we all understand that fact, the more rapidly we will forge ahead as a nation.

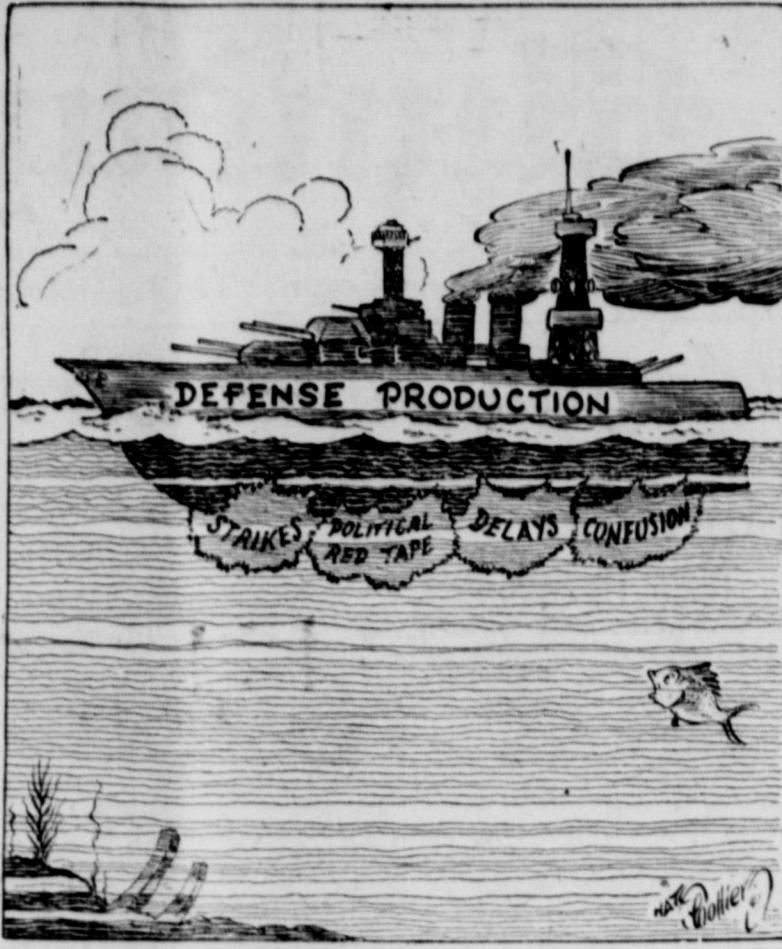

In the first six months of this year reserves set aside for federal income tax by a group of 275 industrial companies, represented, in the aggregate, 51.6 per cent of their earnings.

A light army tank is made up of 17,000 separate parts, excluding parts for the engine and for special equipment such as guns and radio.

Industry produces about 163,600,000 miles of wire a year for 160,000 different uses—ranging from paper clips to piano wire!

Industrial research has developed a new type of glass, with edges through which nails can be driven.

He does not want his neighbor to advertise—yet every week that neighbors advertisement brings folks to town to trade. It doesn't make sense—kinda like the Chinaman—he won't oil his wheelbarrow because it costs money. So he lets it wear out and is stuck for the price of a new one.—Roy Hahn in Briscoe County News.

As long as Adam and Eve behaved themselves and walked with God, they occupied the Garden of Eden and had a good time. When they listened to the devil, they were cast out of the garden planted by God and bearing all kinds of free fruits, and were landed in a patch of thorns and briars to make a living by the sweat of their faces. Adam was given a grubbing hoe to dig away thorns, briars and noxious weeds from the food producing plants, and Eve was given a rolling pin and cooking vessels to prepare the food earned by the sweat of their faces. The two, and the millions of their descendants, have had a devil of a hard time sweating, digging and cooking for a living ever since. The trouble began with two. Today millions are sweating and digging in briar patches for food and existence, and will continue to do so until the end of time.—Rochester Reporter.

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS

Austin.—Sportsmen looking back over the brief white-wing dove season in South Texas are much concerned over the future of this bird despite the fact that the kill of white-wings this year was relatively good.

Frankly, the Executive Secretary of the Game Department had not expected such a good kill, and weeks before the season opened on September 16th it was feared the Federal government, which regulates shooting of migratory birds, would permit no open season at all in Texas.

But the Game Warden Captain of the Southeast regions reported to the Executive Secretary today that 7,545 white-wing hunters, driving into the Valley in 2,658 automobiles, had legally killed and retrieved 72,815 white-wings, or an average of 9.65 birds per hunter, during the recent open season.

Notice that word "retrieved."

It's important to the future of the white-wings. For the Game Warden Captain also reported that at least half as many birds as had been killed and retrieved, were only wounded and left to die in the dense brush country that is the favored habitat of the white-wing.

In other words, if 72,815 white-wings were retrieved, then another 38,407 birds were killed but not retrieved, or merely wounded and left to die. That would mean a total kill of about 109,222 white-wings this season.

All of the above figures are necessarily estimates, for it was a physical impossibility for Game Wardens to check accurately on the number of hunters in the Valley, and other data.

But even a kill of something like 109,222 white-wings on five afternoons this season does not impress Department officials, or older residents of the Valley. They can remember the day when great concentrations of hundreds of thousands of white-wings virtually obscured the sun as they rose in beautiful flights along the Rio Grande.

Valley residents, it was reported, are almost in complete sympathy with the law enacted by the recent regular session of the Legislature which set aside a large area of brush country near the Rio Grande as a white-wing and chachalaca sanctuary. No hunting of these birds is allowed in the sanctuary. The Valley residents, it was reported, are glad that something is being done to keep the white-wing off the list of vanishing species.

Hunters too were cooperative, in general obeyed all the laws governing the taking of white-wings, and with the exception of allowing too many birds to perish in the brush were practically ideal sportsmen. The Executive Secretary repeated that every bird killed should be retrieved. He said this plea would be renewed next year and given wide publicity, just as it was this year. Many sportsmen responded to the plea this year, and it is hoped that a movement will spread among the Valley folk to emphasize this retrieving business as one of the best ways of helping the white-wing back to a semblance of its former numbers.

Cat Prefers Squirrel Diet

The stray housecat that kills so many birds when its gets into the wild, and which has been a big hair in the conservationist's bicuit, now has another indictment returned against him. The Game Warden stationed at Angleton reports that Mr. W. R. Pruitt of that city has an old tomcat that feeds on squirrels. He spots the squirrels when they come to a nearby cornfield to do some feeding of their own. Old Tom creeps through the weeds until he is ready to leap, and to date he's been having plenty of luck.

Mrs. Chas. Haynie, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Johnson of Weibert, went to Abilene last Saturday night where they attended the H.S.U.-N.T.S.T.C. football game.

Mrs. Earl Sams and Mrs. Homer T. Melton and little daughter of Benjamin were business visitors here last Monday morning.

Mrs. W. M. Huskinson, Mrs. Dorise Rogers, Mrs. H. A. Pendleton and Mrs. Carl Jungman were business visitors in Wichita Falls last Thursday.

Barton Carl of Goree and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith, Jr., spent last Sunday in Vernon, visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hal Fairman.

Foreman Nix, who travels for the Bull-Stewart Equipment Co. out of Dallas, spent the week end here with his father, M. G. Nix, and with other relatives and friends.

Carlton Mooney, who resides east of Goree, was taken to the Knox City hospital one day last week for medical treatment. He is reported to be improving.

Local School Band Leads Parade At Haskell's Fair

The Munday Public School band, 42 strong, was selected to lead the parade at the opening of the Haskell Fair this year.

Bandmaster Hood says the band has been working exceptionally hard to get in shape for the parade. A number of new students have been added to the band this year and many more are eager to join.

Mr. Hood stated that he expects the band roster to reach a total of fifty to 60 members in the next few months. Every musically inclined boy or girl has an opportunity now to join a rapidly growing band. Most parents realize that band work represents a medium of training the mind that is almost unsurpassed and educators have recently accorded it a place in the development of mental alertness and acuteness. So famous an educator as Dr. Charles Eliot, former president of Harvard University, said: "The sight reading of music is the best mind trainer of them all."

Mr. Hood has asked that any parent desiring that their boy or girl receive the benefit of band ensemble work should get in touch with him at once.

The High School Chorus

Under the direction of Miss DeLoach, the chorus has learned three new songs, recently, which are: "Mighty Lak A Rose," "Lullaby," and "My Sister and I." They are arranging a trio and ensemble that will sing in public later.

Grooming and First Aid Taught in Home Economics

The first year class of Home-making is taking a course in grooming that shows the care of clothes and personality. They are now ready for a test this week. They then will take up sewing, under the direction of Miss O'Donnell.

The second year homemaking class is studying First Aid and how to treat wounds. As there is a shortage of nurses and doctors in situations of national emergency, they are very interested as they may some day be called for First Aid and treatment.

The third year class is studying Family and Community Life. This takes up the laws of marriage and divorces and the welfare of the school, churches and other organizations.

Volleyball Girls Practice

Under the supervision of Miss Stewart and Miss O'Donnell, girls who are interested in volleyball started practice last week.

There were 13 girls to come out and all of them plan to work hard through the year.

Many of the girls are in the pep squad, so they practice on the days they do not march. The girls who have been coming to practice are: Syble Wallace, Juanita Rogers, Angeline Yates, Maxine West, Jimmie Henslee, Mary Stevens, Louise Mullican, Alta Prince, Lois Wardlow, Lillian Cerveny, Marjorie Howeth, Alene Cadwell and Benton Snelson.

Grade School Band Organized Tuesday

Band work is now being offered to all students desiring, in the Munday elementary school as a part of their regular course of study at 2:30 o'clock daily.

Bandmaster Hood states this is a very progressive step as elementary band work is usually offered only in large school, and is a move forward in building a fine band and music system in Munday public schools. Mr. Hood stated that he expects and enrollment of 25 members for the present.

Eighth Year Students Behind Ward Team

Never before has any class been as proud of a football team, apparently, as the local eighth year students.

The fans of the Munday Midget team will be yelling for them through all their games. They are proud of the team, especially because most of the players come from the eighth year. They can point with pride to the twins John and Joe Spann, since they are the only twins on the team. After the Midgets play their first game there will be more enthusiasm.

The eighth year language arts class is almost a speech clinic lately. They are now talking about what makes up the voice, why people have nasal sounds and why some people just can't talk. "Voice is the medium through which we can make use of the rich heritage of words given us by our ancestors and to which we may add by our own efforts," says David Ross. The class has found that one may paper? We'd like some first-hand information on that!

Last week the Freshmen selected three committees for our class. Social, Berniece, Patsy, Charles; and on the Financial, Bobbie, McCulvey, and Brice. Carnival, Bill, Truman and Herbert.

We'd Like to Know—

Why Berniece likes a green pick-up from Weibert?

Why Dick and Patsy talk of marriage (of all things) and get mad. (Explain, Patsy!)

Why Dick likes to talk with Elma about the Weibert Band? (I've heard they have a pretty drum major.)

Why Charles Baker was so eager to borrow reinforcements from the Freshman girls?

Why Elma won't tell whose bracelet she is wearing?

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Ameen and family of Lubbock spent the week end here with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Sied Waheed, and family.

JOBS FOR TOMORROW

The chemical laboratories of the petroleum industry are now laying the foundation for industries of the future.

Out of their research are being created new products and more efficient ways of making old ones. Synthetic rubber, plastics, explosives, basic chemicals - and scores of other essentials developed in petroleum laboratories are already being made on a commercial scale.

These scientific discoveries of materials vital to peace-time needs, as well as National defense, are opening up new fields of industrial activity.

Texas as the leading oil State is playing an important part in the creation of these new American enterprises. As a result, many young Texans now preparing themselves in our schools and colleges will find places in the industries resulting from this research.

The test tubes of today make the jobs of tomorrow.

One bad book doesn't make it a bad library. You wouldn't destroy the library to get rid of a few bad books.

A similar situation holds in the beer industry. The vast majority of beer retailers operate clean, decent law-abiding establishments. Now and then an occasional "black sheep" retailer turns up who violates the law or permits anti-social conditions.

The Beer Industry is now actively working to eliminate such retailers. We want to protect your right to drink good beer and our right to make it.

We also want to protect the economic benefits of beer. Right here in Texas, beer provides employment for 31,165 persons, supports an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and contributed $2,273,968.64 last year in state taxes.

This state, too, has an important stake in Beer's purchases from more than 100 industries supplying the brewing industry with materials, equipment and services.

You, too, can help the cause of moderation by (1) patronizing only the reputable places where beer is sold, and (2) reporting any law violation you may observe to the duly constituted authorities.

AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

Luther Kirk

Isn't this a funny world? Perhaps I should say that it is pretty well filled with funny people. Funny in that they never get things fixed to suit their liking. It is usually too wet or it is too dry. It is too hot or it is too cold. There is always some member of the family that is ailing, it is the colic, headache, rheumatism or what have you. "Now preacher, we are for you . . ." and a lot of other insincere chatter, etc., etc. And so our world goes in your community. Good intentions do very little good if you never put them into practice. They do the church and your hopeful pastor no good. They help no one else. Faithfulness is not demonstrated in good intentions that are never put into use.

Another funny thing about some of these funny people is that they get things in line, to where they seldom miss their favorite sport or attraction. I once knew a dear sister who was too nervous to attend both Sunday School and the morning worship service, but she could spend the whole afternoon at the table playing her favorite game with her favorite club.

Yes, it is a funny world made up of funny people. It is no wonder that some peoples ailments keep them away from church and permit them to go elsewhere. It was no wonder to me that the good lady referred to became nervous when attending two religious services in a single morning. I have a faint idea of why you are a dependable or non-dependable laborer for Christ. Attend church Sunday.

Sunday School, 10 a.m.
Morning worship, 11 a.m.
Epworth League, 7 p.m.
Evening worship, 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Joseph Dokes, a native of Czechoslovakia, educated in Germany and London and a naturalized American citizen, will speak at the evening service. Dr. Dokes spent 15 months in Czechoslovakia after Germany had taken possession of the country. Had it not been for the fact that he was a naturalized American citizen, he would have been in a concentration camp somewhere today. Come and hear him Sunday evening at 7:30.

A meeting of room mothers was held following the business meeting, and plans were made for the booths each room shall have at the carnival.

Junior News

Well, the Juniors are still here and doing nicely except for studying. It is rather hard sometimes to concentrate when we're wondering whether the Moguls will win the next game or not, but we know that Good Ole Mogul Team will win!

The Juniors are still selling candy and gum on week days at school and at the skating rink on Tuesday and Saturday nights. We would like for you to drop a nickel in Johnnie's pocket and tell him to get some of that good Junior candy. This money goes in on the banquet for that good class of Seniors we have this year.

Our rummage sale will come off the 18th of this month and we

SENIOR SPONSOR SKATING PLAN NEW PLAY

The Seniors are trying to decide on their play for this semester. We haven't yet decided the exact date which it is to be put on. But don't think we won't let you know! We are going to make this play even better than our Junior play last year.

We are also sponsoring the skating this month. So—come one and all, folks—you don't know what it will mean to us. We will appreciate all patronage 100 per cent. Oh, yes, and if you don't know how to skate already—there's no time like the present to get out on the gym floor and LEARN.

The words "BEAT CROWELL" are on every Senior's tongue this week and that's just what the boys are planning to do.

Zoo Is Being Built By Third Year Students

In keeping with their studies of animals and their habits, the third year students are gradually building a miniature zoo.

A few days ago a parade was held with elephants, bears and camels and other wild beasts wearing pretty-colored blankets and robes. While making the zoo we have found many interesting and funny things about different animals.

Mass Production Comes to Aircraft Industry

The above drawing of Vultee Aircraft's mechanized final assembly line shows the revolutionary production developments at the California plant in the last few months. It is the graphic story of how modern airplanes are made compared to the methods of but a year or two ago, and shows the first mechanized assembly line in the aircraft industry.

Instead of the old system of adding one part at a time to a framework and gradually building up a complete plane, Vultee breaks the ship down into five major units—fuselage, tail section, engine assembly, center wing section and outer wings. Each is completely put together in sub-assembly departments. Conveyor lines reach out finger-like to bring all five together at the nerve center of production shown above where they are joined to make the plane ready for flight.

At the right of the picture, tail sections are assembled, complete with monopoles, stabilizers, rudders, elevators and control cables, and move around on tracks to the center. Meanwhile, at the left, skeleton fuselages travel through assembly stages on a long U-shaped conveyor rail, winding up close to their starting point, complete with instruments, controls, canopies, wiring, etc. A short rail section then moves them across to the finishing line where they join the completed tail sections.

Connally Seeks More Pension Money For Aged Texans

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Senator Tom Connally today introduced in the Senate a bill which would double the federal contribution toward Texas old age pension payments. This bill is in line with President Roosevelt's recent proposal to vary federal pension grants according to the per capita income of the States rather than on a fifty-fifty basis. This will enable the poorer states to receive proportionately a larger share of federal funds than that received by the richer states.

Under the present act the Federal government matches the Texas contribution dollar for dollar, but under the proposed Connally bill the Federal government would contribute a little more than two dollars for every dollar contributed by the Texas Legislature. In other words, a $45 Texas pension payment would be possible by the State contributing about $15 and the Federal government contributing the remainder. Heretofore the combined contributions of the Federal and Texas governments have totaled a little less than $14, but with the same State contribution the total would be $22.50 under the Connally bill. Under recent enactments of the Texas Legislature, if funds are available, the monthly payments from federal and state funds would amount to $18.50, but under the Connally bill with the same state contribution, the monthly payments would amount to $27.75.

Senator Connally's bill was approved in substance in a recent Senate hearing by Dr. J. A. Altmeier, the Chairman of the Social Security Board. The present bill

Wheat Allotments To Be Considered In Planning Acres

Since wheat farmers will vote in a national referendum next spring to decide on marketing quotas, Knox county wheat farmers should consider their acreage allotments when seeding their 1942 crop, Marvin Allen, secretary of the Knox county AAA committee, said this week.

If quotas are approved by a two-thirds vote, farmers planting wheat in 1942 wheat allotments will be able to sell the entire crop without penalty, but farmers exceeding allotments will be required to pay a penalty of 50 per cent of the national loan rate on all wheat defined as "excess" wheat under marketing quotas, Mr. Allen explained.

In the event quotas are voted down next spring a government loan will not be made since marketing quotas protect local collateral, the AAA official explained. Loans at 85 per cent of parity are in effect on this year's crop since quotas were given a favorable vote in a national referendum earlier in the year.

Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard issued the wheat proclamation several weeks ago, since, according to the AAA Act, announcement must be made prior to May 15 of any marketing year when it appears the wheat supply will exceed a normal year's domestic consumption and exports by more than 25 per cent. The national referendum will be held before June 10, 1942.

The purpose of wheat marketing quotas is to divide a limited wheat market equally among wheat producers, so that each will get his fair share, the committee said.

What You Should Know About Vitamin A

Vitamin A1 is the natural form of the vitamin occurring in the liver of salt water fish, Vitamin A2 occurs in fresh water fish. Vitamin A is nearly a colorless crystal and can now be purchased at a cost of about $25.00 for 60 grains. The crystals melt at about 58 or 60 degrees, therefore should never be exposed to a heat above 60 degrees. Vitamin A is insoluble in water but soluble in oil or fats. It is always dispensed in oil or a dry tablet. I think best results are obtained in the oil.

The dosage of Vitamin A is about 2,000 of 10,000 units, one to three times daily. It is best not to give mineral oil at the same time you give the vitamin, for the mineral oil will absorb the vitamin instead of being taken up by the body.

Night-blindness, retarded growth and general weakness, impaired resistance to infection and appearance of certain types of skin eruption are symptoms that you need Vitamin A.

Treat Small Grain For Smut Before You Plant

Because of the unusual amount of rain recently, which is accompanied by cool nights and the weather is of rather low temperature, smut spores of wheat and other small grain such as oats and barley have a good chance of being infected with smut.

The smut spores germinate at the same time that wheat does and the parasitic threads of the fungus enter the young wheat seedlings before they emerge from the soil. Once inside the young wheat seedling, the fungus keeps pace with the wheat plant and at heading time forms masses of foul-smelling spores in the heads where normal wheat kernels should be. The disease is spread by wind and during threshing.

Control is easily effected by dusting the planting seed with New Improved Ceresan (one half ounce per bushel) or with the formaldehyde treatment. The formaldehyde is applied by mixing one pint of commercial formaldehyde with three gallons of water and spraying this amount on 40 bushels of grain, accompanied by thorough stirring. The grain should then be covered for a few hours and planted immediately.

BUILD A BRIDGE

At first there was no bridge. On either side of the wide river people lived. But those on the far side and those on the near side didn't know each other. They had no way to trade happiness or help of friendship. Each was the poorer because no highway law between them.

But a bridge builder came. And across the river, reaching to the far shore, he made a bridge—a thing of substance, solid and lasting. And at once the people on the far side and those on the near became one people. Across the bridge flowed an exchange of all the good things that each possessed. Over the bridge moved friendship, understanding, affection and mutual regard.

You can build a bridge, too. Send across the bridge a smile of happiness, a word of cheer, a bit of homey chat. Remember that the bridge runs two ways. Back across it will come multiplied all that you send.—Beeville Boe-Picayune.

Braly is Named Local Chairman Of Relief for China

Dallas, Oct. 3.—Nathan Adams, Texas chairman for United China Relief, announced today that Mr. W. E. Braly had consented to serve as United China Relief Chairman for Munday.

United China Relief is a nationwide drive to raise funds for the 60 millions of civilian war sufferers in China who are homeless, starving and destitute as the result of Japan's invasion and bombing of their country. The national goal is $5,000,000 of which $1,750,000 has already been raised. The Texas quota is $200,000.

Funds will be raised in hundreds of Texas communities by local committees by direct solicitation and through the staging of entertainments and benefits. The campaign for China will close October 15th. All contributions should be sent to the local chairman who will forward them to Nathan Adams, president of the First National Bank in Dallas.

"The suffering in China after four years of fighting to maintain her independence as a Democracy is beyond description," Mr. Adams says. "Chinese cities have been bombed without mercy and thousands of wounded lack surgical supplies, especially anaesthetics. China's resistance to Axis aggression lessens the likelihood that America will have to fight Japan. This Democratic nation is fighting for the same ideals as our own. American help to China will keep up the morale of this brave nation and encourage it to continue to resist Hitler's ally. An American dollar will buy ten times as much in China as it will at home. United China relief is a great humane and patriotic cause which should appeal to every Texan."

Medical School To Be Expanded

Galveston, Texas.—The greatest opportunity for development of a medical center since the establishment of the famous John Hopkins University lies in Texas today, with the prospective expansion of the University of Texas Medical Branch here, University President Homer P. Rainey told medical students and faculty at the branch's opening convocation last week.

Dr. Rainey predicted that "something phenomenal" is in store for the medical branch when people of Texas "really understand and appreciate the contributions of a great medical center can make to their welfare."

people of Texas really want a first class medical center and are willing to provide it reasonable and adequate support. Furthermore, there are foundations and wealthy individual Texas citizens who I am sure will come forward with substantial financial assistance for research and special developments that would not come from the funds."

Recent enlarged appropriations by the Texas Legislature for the Medical Branch have permitted University authorities to plan for expansion of every branch of the present teaching staff, doubling the faculty in some cases, and adding new branches of study. Part of the funds of each department will go for research into the causes, cure and prevention of particular ailments, he said.

Although the special session to pass the county bond assumption law has just been over a short time, already agitation has started for another special session. While the legislature is in session, uncertainty as to new taxes and new laws keeps business men, industry and the public in general disturbed and worried, and—as one observer expressed it—Texas is entitled to a recess from politics so its people can settle down to doing the things that will enable them to pay the new taxes—state and federal—and to turning out the things needed for national defense.

Del Rio has always suggested excitement to me. It all goes back to the days of my boyhood when my father had his boxball tent on the principal street of the border town. Just across the street was a saloon and, from time to time, the crash of overturned tables and the smash of glasses could be heard. Once the door flew open and three husky fellows came out, bearing the marks of battle, and last of all came the victor, the smallest man of the lot, his chest puffed out like a banty rooster.

While we were living in Del Rio, there was a "revolution" in Mexico and so a troop of American cavalry came to town. Some of them camped for a few days on the vacant lot next to us . . . Bar-becue pits were on several of the corners (like filling stations are now) and the goat barbecue was very good . . . The stream that divided the town was singularly blue and you could stand on the bridge and gaze at the big, silver fish in the clear depth. On the other side of the bridge was the Mexican portion of Del Rio with such formidable names as "Boston Barber Shop" and "The New York Store" . . . Bread from the little Mexican bakeries with their adobe ovens in the back yard was delicious. I wonder if it would taste as good now.

It is needless to name him, says the Milwaukee Post.

Can such a man win a permanent place in the world? He arose by appealing to hate. He attacks what he gives out—hated. He will go down in a storm of hatred.

"Why he had to pull in his horns—the way some of you have to do sometimes."

Fort Worth Doctor Becomes Author To Tell Life's History

(Written by C. L. Douglas)

Dr. Charles H. McCollum, prominent Fort Worth surgeon and one of the best known men of medicine of the southwest, has turned author.

He has written a book entitled "Fills and Proverbs" (announced by the Meador Publishing Co., of Boston) and it is filled with humorous, tragic and unusual anecdotes gleaned from half a century's rich experience as farmer boy, drug store clerk, country practitioner, army medic, surgeon, professor and world traveler.

"Fills and Proverbs," as the title might imply, is not just a story of what a doctor sees, and hears, and does; it is also a story of self-reliance and courage—the account of how a lad of few ordinary privileges, son of a poor farmer, overcame all handicaps to become a noted surgeon. One of Alger's own heroes couldn't have done a better job.

It is the doctor's first adventure in writing, but there's nothing dull about his product. He shows from the very first pages that he is an expert at turning clever phrases, and even in some of the more serious discourses he seems unable to prevent a sense of puckish humor from slipping in here and there.

Especially humorous and filled with human interest are accounts of his experiences in the army during the Spanish-American war and anecdotes concerning some of the patients he encountered as a country doctor. Don't imagine that this book's appeal is directed solely toward the medical profession. There's nothing scientific or technical about it in the least. It's just the story of a man's life written in a language that the layman can understand and thoroughly enjoy.

But, although Dr. McCollum has from time to time practiced in various branches of the specialists, he leaves no doubt that he has clung faithfully to the medical kit of the general practitioner and that he still believes the good diagnostician is the most important of doctors.

The book which already has won enthusiastic approval from various teachers, lawyers, surgeons and theologians, runs to 225 pages and includes 11 illustrations. It sells for $2.00.

Early Counter Gives Moguls A Third Victory

Snyder Tigers Held Scoreless Friday

Coasting through on a margin which was much too close to suit many Mogul fans, Coach Jack Perryman's Moguls won their third game of the season last Friday night by defeating the Snyder Tigers, 6 to 0.

After receiving the kickoff, the Tigers soon lost the ball on downs. It was then that McGraw turned in a game that brought back memories of the Anson battle last year. With McGraw leading the attack, Munday launched a sustained drive from midfield, piling up yardage on each successive down. Carden shared honors with McGraw in this drive, but it was the slippery hip-hipped McGraw who carried the ball over the last five yards for a touchdown after a brilliant 30-yard run to place it in scoring position.

This counter came so easy that the Moguls seemed to let up slightly in their play, while Snyder tightened up her defense. The leather see-sawed back and forth in midfield, and the Moguls seemed to lack the punch for another touchdown after realizing their 6-point margin was too close.

Attendance was lighter at this game, as low hanging clouds threatened a downpour, but the game was not lacking in thrills. Munday's defense was too much for the Tigers, who took to the air-planes frequently in an effort to even up the score.
