TO BE ACTED ON AT ONCE EY THE SENATE.

Imposing Ceremonies Preparatory to the Funeral of Senator Vance of North Carolina-A New Quorum Rule Agreed Upon by the Committee.

WASHINGTON, April 17 .- The tariff bill will be laid aside to-day and the senate will go into executive session at 1 o'clock for the consideration of the Chinese treaty. The managers of the tariff bill have only agreed to give one day for the treaty and its friends will make a strong effort to have it disposed of before adjournment. In this they will be antagonized by many of the western senators and by some Republicans from other sections of the country. The opponents of the treaty will attempt first to defeat it straight out, and failing in that will try to have it amended. Senator Morgan said yesterday that the treaty will be ratified as it now stands. The first question to be disposed of in connection with the treaty to-day will be Senator M.tchell's motion to consider it in open session.

The House Deadlock.

Washington, April 12.-Mr. Reed held the house at bay for an hour and a half yesterday on a motion to discharge the warrant issued to the sergeant at arms during the fight over the contested election cases to arrest absentees. The Republicans under his leadership refused to vote, and the Democrats being unable to muster a quorum, yielding to an adjournment. The Democrats fear that this move on the part of Mr. Reed is in pursuance of a carefully formulated plan to the constant attendance of a Democratic quorum hereafter. The Republicans deny that any such plan has been agreed upon. The business of the house is well adand if such a scheme were carried into effect the Democrats say they will have ample time to transact r routine business before the senthei ate disposes of the tariff bill. Immediately after the reading of the journal yesterday the house got into a deadlock over a technical parlia-mentary question, the Republicans not voting and the Democrats lacking thirty-three of a quorum. It soon became evident that nothing could be transacted and at 1:40 the house

Senator Vance's Funeral.

WASHINGTON, April 17 .- The senate yesterday paid respect to the memory of the late Senator Vance of North Carolina. In his opening prayer the chaplain alluded to the deceased in words of touching sympathy and honor. Appropriate resolutions were adopted and the following honorary pall-bearers on the part of the senate were appointed by the vice president: Senators Morrill, Sherman, Harris and McPherson. The senate then recessed until the house adjourned when the tuneral services were conducted in the senate chamber. At the conclusion of the ceremonies the senate adjourned. The speaker of the house appointed the following committee to accompany the remains of the late sentor to North Carolina: Messrs. Henderson of North Carolina, Black of Illinois, Alexander of North Carolina, Brookshire of Indiana, Crawford of North Carolina, Daniels of New York, Strong of Ohio, Blair of New Hampshire and Houk of Tennessee. Appropriate resolutions were also adopted.

Senate Committees.

WASHINGTON, April 12 .- The Democratic members of the senate have agreed upon the rearrangement of the committee membership made necessary by Senator Colquitt's death. Senator Vilas, who stood next to Senator Colquitt on the committee on postoflices and post roads, will be-come chairman of the committee and enator Walsh will be placed upon the committee to fill the vacancy. Senator Walsh will succeed Senator Vilas as chairman of the quadrocentennial committee.

To Offer a Substitute.

Washington, April 13 .- Yesterday in the senate Mr. Peffer was recognized and delivered the third instalment of his speech on the tariff bill. He announced his purpose of offering at the proper time a substitute for th pending bill based upon the principle of taxing the articles used by the rich, while exempting those articles of prime necessity used by the poor, whether manufactured abroad or not.

Washington, / p il 16. - The senate committee on rules met Saturday for the purpose of organizing some new regulations for the control of crowds in the galleries and corridors of the wing of that building. The object of the committee is to prevent the blockade of passage ways and the overcrowding of the galleries.

$100,000 for Dredging:

Washington, April 13.—Senator Coke, from the committee on com-merce, reported an amendment to the sundry civil bill increasing from $500,000 to $600,000 the appropriation for continuing harbor improvements at Galveston, and directing that $100,000 of the amount be expended for dredging.

brief and fruitless session of the house | FOR THE FULL BLOODS Saturday the plans of the committee on rules were changed so as to have a meeting Saturday for the formameeting Saturday for the forma-tion of the quorum counting rule. It had been intended not to take up the subject until next week, but the enforced recess of Saturday afternoon gave plenty of time to go over the many plans submitted. Mr. Outhwaite of the committee said the first step would be to examine into these various plans with a view to extracting the best possible methods. was evidence of reaction on the Democratic side Saturday. An undercurrent of intense hostility to quorum counting exists. The forty-four who voted against the proposed rule are a nucleus of this feeling, and with other members who are arriving, it is estimated that fully one-third of the Democratic membership of the house is opposed to the rule. Up to the hour of adjournment the committee on rules had not completed its labors.

House Did Nothing.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Yesterday as soon as the journal had been read Mr. Boutelle jumped to his feet and objected, and when Mr. Dockery moved its approval the Republicans sat silent in their seats. Upon the announcement of the vote, 105 to nothing, Mr. Boutelle made the point of no quorum and the roll was called. The Republicans refrained from voting, and the result, 155 to 1, showed that the Democrats were 23 short of a quorum. Mr. Dockery moved a call of the house, instructing his side to vote on the motion, in the hope of developing a Democratic quorum. But again the Democrats failed to get a quorum. The motion for a call was defeated, 140 to 14. The Democrats were still 25 short. The propects for a quorum were hopeless, and as it had been decided to call a Democratic caucus to consider the rules. Mr. Dockery moved an adjournment, and at 1 o'clock the house adjurned.

Amendment of Kyle.

WASHINGTON, April 13. - During the transaction of the routine morning business yesterday Senator Kyle o. South Dakota, introduced a joint resolution proposing a constitutional amendment relative to marriage and divorce, which was referred to the committee on judiciary. The urgent deficiency bill was taken up, and the last paragraph, to provide for uniformity in the letting of government contracts for supplies at Washington gave rise to considerable dis-cussion, as did also the paragraph for the printing of an abstract of the eleventh census. Mr. Manderson moved to strike out the clause, as he argued that the abstract would be but a duplication of the digest already ordered. The motion was agreed to, and the bill, as amended, was about to be put on its final passage, when the hour of 1 o'clock arrived, and the question went over, while the tariff bill was laid before the senate.

Another Caucus.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—After a heated session of two hours and a half the Democratic caucus yesterday afternoon decided by a vote of 80 to 44 to instruct the committee on rules to report a new rule to ascertain and record the presence of a quorum whether voting or not. Practically all the Democratic members of the house attended the chucus. Mr. Bland presented a resolution directing the sergeant-at-arms to carry out the provision of section 40, chapter 21, of the revised statutes by which deductions from the salaries of members should be made for every day's absence except on account of sickness. This was in accordance with the action of the judiciary committee ear-lier in the day. It was unanimously Carlisle on Coinage.

WASHINGTON, April 16 .- Secretary Carlisle appeared before the subcommittee of the house committee on appropriations which is considering the legislative, executive and judiciary appropriation bills. He was interrogated by the committee as to the work at the mints in order to get the proper estimates for appropriations to carry them on. He said that the mints at Philadelphia, San Francisco and New Orleans were to be continued in the work of coining gold and subsidiary coin, while that at Carson, Nev., was discontinued as a mint and remained only as an assay office. When asked if he intended to discontinue the coinage of silver dollars, though authorized to do so by the act of 1890, he stated that he would coin no more silver dollars unless congress passed a law instructing him to do so.

The Deficiency Bill. WASHINGTON, April 14.--There were but thirteen Democratic senators present when the senate met yesterday and half as many more Republicans. Mr. George gave notice that on Tuesday Mr. McLaurin would adlress the senate on the tariff bill. The urgency deficiency bill was taken up, and Mr. Cockrell offered an amendment, which was agreed to, appro-priating $456,000 for the mint at Philadelphia, made necessary by the undprecedented coinage of gold at that mint. The hour for the debate on the tariff having arrived, the bill went over.

Washington, April 17.—After a session of two hours yesterday the Democratic members of the house committee on rules agreed on the new quorum-counting rule and thereupon sent for Messrs. Reed and Burrows, the Republican members of the comthe Republican members of the committee. It is understood that the rule provides for ascertaining a quorum by counting members present but not voting, and also for fining members who absent themselves from the house. The rule will probably be presented to the house to-day.

TAHLEQUAH, I. T., April 17 .- Every member of the Cherokee council was present at the convening of the council yesterday morning. The chief sent the senate a message stating why he had called them in special session. It was to notify them that there was $6,000,000 deposited in the sub-treasury at New York, subject to the order of the national council. A receipt from the treasurer of the United States for the amount was also sent to the sen-ate. The chief in his message recommended the immediate payment of the money to the people per capita. He also suggested that they have no class legislation; that this money should be paid all citizens of the Cherkee nation. This recommendation includes the adopted element, which consists of negroes, whites, Delawares and Shawnees. The message did not receive favor among the full-bloods, as they are disposed to pay the money to citizens by blood only.

Waite Wins:

DENVER, Col. April 17 .- The supreme court has just granted the writ of ouster in the fire and police board controversy and ordered the old board to turn over the offices at noon to-day. This is a complete vic-tory for Gov. Waite. Since the supreme court has rendered its decision the members of the old board have decided to keep their agreement to abide by the decision of the supreme court and are already mak-ing preparations to leave and turn over the offices as required.

She Gets $15,000.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The jury in the Pollard-Breckinridge breach of promise case awarded Miss Pollard damages in the sum of $15,000 late Saturday evening. Col. Breckinridge, it is said, will move for a new trial and if he fails in that he will appeal. Miss Pollard is now in a hospital, suffering from a severe attack of nervous prostration. She has re-ceived numerous telegrams offering her astonishing sums if she will go on the stage, but it is believed she Baltimore and Ohio Wreck.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., April 14.-The eastbound express on the Baltimore and Ohio, which left Pittsburg at 6:20 Thursday evening, ran into a freight train at Tyrone, three miles west of here. The baggags car and one day coach were demolished. No one was killed. Several passengers were quite seriously hurt, and all were badly shaken up. A dozen coke cars were wrecked. The accident was caused by an open switch. The names of the injured cannot be learned. All traffic on the road was delayed six hours.

Whipped by Whitecaps.

RICHMOND, Ky., April 17.—Sunday night a band of whitecaps went to the home of Alexander Johnson, colored, and called him out. They took him to a point near the fair grounds and tied him to a tree. His clothes were removed and he was whipped with blacksnake whips until he was raw and almost lifeless. He grossly insulted a white lady Saturday night. There is some excitement among negroes over the affair.

PITTSFILD, Ill., April 17.-Mrs. Liu Plaisanier shot and killed her stepson yesterday. She ordered him to go and help her husband do some work This angered him and he advanced toward his stepmother with a knife, whereupon she secured a revolver and shot him. Deputy Sheriff O'Neill has gone to the place of the murder. Young Plaisanier was about 30 years old and his stepmother is 68.

Newlin, a negro with a bad reputa-tion, committed criminal assault Saturday night upon an aged woman named Mrs. Knowles, living at Rushylvania, Logan county, Ohio. was captured yesterday morning, but when the sheriff arrived to take charge of the prisoner a mob which had collected refused to give him up. The sheriff summoned a posse, but still the mob would not yield. A call was then made upon the militia, and a company left yesterday afternoon fo the scene of the trouble. It is said that 1500 determined men have charge of Newlin and the situation is very grave. The specials received here say nothing about attempts to lynch the negro, but it is believed the mob intends to do something of the kind. Later—He was lynched at OKLAHOMA CITY, O. T., April 13 .-A sentence of six months in jail and a $500 fine was imposed on Frank Mc-Master, an Oklahoma journalist, by Judge Scott on April 2 for contempt of court. McMaster was sent to jail, but on April 7 Judge Burford heard argument on a writ of habeas corpus and not having time to complete it. adjourned the case for two weeks and ordered McMaster released on bail during that time. The supreme court was convened in extraordinary session and that body on April 10 reversed Judge Burford's order and ordered McMaster back to jail. The punishment had already told on both mind and body and Wednesday his family noticed that his mind was giving away. He sent for his friends and told them he expected to beg mercy of the court, as a six months' sentence would kill him. He had his desire conveyed to Judgo Scott, and yesterday at 2 o'clock an alology was demanded. The paper containing the apology stated in sub-stance that all that he, McMaster, had ever said derogatory of Judge Scott was false and was prompted by Scott's enemies, and that Scott was a man of honor. McMaster read the paper over and asked to be excused for a few moments. He left the room for a minute and upon his return signed the paper, stating that it was his death warrant. He then told those present that he had taken poison and would soon be beyond the torture of the Physicians were summoned, and through the use of the stomach pump his life has been prolonged, but Judge Scott left at once for Kansas City.

A Terrible Accident.

POMEROY, O., April 12 .- A hydraulic plunger on a converter at the Middleport steel works broke yesterday, precipitating 3600 pounds of white hot metal among sixty workmen from a distance of fifteen feet. Ten were burned, four fatally. Those who will surely die are: Orlando Grady William Cozens, colored, and Steven Weeks. Those who are expected to recover are; Geo. Phillips, Arthur Winegar, Edward Burney, Frank Barnett, George Steele and Jesse Wilson. The hot metal scattered for fifty feet in all directions. The clothes were burned from all within reach. All the burned are single except Cozens, who has a large family.

Ohio Farmer Shot.

CINCINNATI, O., April 14. - A special from Chillicothe says: Wednesday evening Thomas Waldron, a farmer, was sitting at his home with his wife and children. A report of a gun was heard. Mrs. Waldron rushed out to see what the shooting was about, but discovered no one. When she came back she noticed her husband's head dropping forward and blood streaming from his head and neck. Her screams called the children to the scene. Over forty shot had entered his head and neck. He survived until Thursday. One of the neighbors with whom Waldron had a quarrel is suspected.

Shot Her Betrayer.

CHATTANOGA, Tenn., April 16.— For a year John Mullendore, son of Lafayette Mullendore, has been devoting himself to Mary Montgomery, daughter of Capt. Robert Mont-gomery. The girl's parents demand-ed an explanation. She named Mullendore as her betrayer. The father took his shotgun and went after the man. He met him with his father. "Marry my daughter or I will kill you," he said. Young Mullendore said he would not. The boy's father put his hand to the muzzle of the gun to save his son. The discharge blew the father's hand and killed the son.

MEMPHIS Tenn., April 12.—The body of Julia Hall, a native of Lexington, Ky., was taken out of the wrech of the building that fell Sunday. Yesterday morning the bodies of Laura and Charles Harris were recovered. It is thought no more bodies are in the wreck. The total number of persons killed by the falling of the building was seven. Ten were wounded. All colored.

HOW SHE WAS RESCUED FROM A LIFE OF TORTURE.

Almost Beyond the Hope of Recovery. A Loving Father's Gratitude

(From the Kansas City, Mo., Journal.) Perhaps no disease with which a young person can be afflicted is so terrible and blighting in its nature as a nervous disorder, which gradually saps the strength of its victim and haunts him or her day and night. This was the melancholy prospect which confronted Mr. L. L. Barbor's young daughter, of Edgerton, Kan., and the gratitude of her parents when a complete and lasting cure was brought about may be imagined. Learning of the case, for it is one which has created a great deal of interest throughout the country, a Journal re-porter sought Mr. Barbor to get the full particulars in the belief that much good could be done other sufferers by the publication of the facts of the case. The reporter found Mr. Barbor in his shop busily engaged on a piece of work. He at once narrated briefly the particulars of the cure which had been effected in the case of his daughter. The facts are set forth in the following affidavit which Mr. Barber volun-

oath deposes and says:
During the spring of the current year, 1893, my daughter Bertie, aged 13 years, became afflicted with a nervous disease which grew upon her to such an extent that it seriously interfered with her studies, and aroused the gravest fears that it would develop into St. Vitus' dance. My daughter became so nervous that she would drop her knife and fork while eating. and would at times be seized with nervous twichings which excited the alarm of myself and wife. About this time my wife read in a newspaper of a wonderful cure of the same disease effected by Dr. William's Pink Pills for Pale People. So strongly was I impressed with the facts set forth in the testimonial that I wrote to ascertain the authenticity of the case. Receiving a reply which completely satisfied me, I sent for a box of the pills.

From the very first dose a marked improvement in my daughter's condi-tion was noticed. She had become tion was noticed. it is not thought that he will recover. thin and excessively pale, as is common to sufferers from nervous diseases, and her weight had decreased to an alarming extent. After a careful and thorough trial of the pills, she not only began to grow less nervous but also began to gain flesh.

It is needless to say that I was both surprised and delighted with the wonderful change brought about by the first box of the pills. She is a new girl, and all the symptoms of her disease have disappeared. Dr. William's Pink Pills have certainly wrought a wonderful and complete cure, and I can say nothing two good in their favor. But now she is away on a visit, something she would not have thought of being able to do werd three months ago. From being il the shrinking, morbid and timid she has become a strong, healthy girl with no appearance of ever having been afficted with any nervous troubles. OMAHA, Neb., April 14.— Judge take great pleasure in recommending the pills to all who are afflicted with a similar disease.

Jack Crews Wilfully Murders Thomas Murrell and Wife, Rifles His Pockets, Takes His Best Horse and then Assassinates Morgan Murrell.

GAINESVILLE, Tex., April 13.— Thomas Murrell, one of the most the most prominent and wealthy farmers of Cooke county, was assassinated yesterday morning at 5:30 o'clock Jack Crews, one of his tenants. Murrell went to the barn to feed his stock. When he entered the barn door two bullets pierced his body in the region of the heart. Mrs. Murrell upon hearing the shots went to the rescue of her husband. she reached his side a bullet from a Winchester pierced her neck, killing instantly. Crews then came down from the hay loft where he had been secreted all night and rifled Murrell's pocket of $100. Then tak-ing one of the best horses in the barn, rode to another farm, six miles distant, where a son, Morgan Murrell, aged 23, was plowing corn. Without a word of warning he, too, was shot, the bullet taking effect in the heart, causing instant death. Crews then started on to the farmhouse to kill Leonard, another son, but he could not be found. Crews then crossed Red river and is now hiding in heavy thickets. Thomas Murrell lived one hour after he was shot. He made a statement in which he said he recognized Jack Crews as his murderer and detailed the shooting of himself and wife. Immediately after the tragedy an armed posse of fifty farmers organized and started in pursuit. By noon the posse had greatly increased until now fully 500 men are on his trail. Sheriff Ware and five on his trail. Sheriff Ware and five deputies are but five hours behind Crews. If apprehended he will undoubtedly be lynched. Never in the history of Cooke county has excite-ment run so high. The trouble is said to have been the result of a quarrel between Crews and Morgan Murreli last Saturday, which resulted in Thos. Murrell rescinding the crop contract between Crews and himself. The latter came to this city Wednesday and purchased a Winchester. Thomas Murrell is a brother to Hon. J. C. Murrell of this city, who was a member of the last legislature, and who offers a reward of $300 Crews' arrest. At 8 o'clock last night Sheriff Ware returned from the pursuit of Crews and telegraphed to all sheriffs and constables in the Indian Territory and Texas to be on the lookout. He offers a reward of $500 for Crews' arrest. This makes a total of $800. Crews is about 40 years of age, weighs 150 pounds, sandy whiskers and mustache, whiskers worn high up on face and very short, his complexion is swarthy, height about 5 feet 6 or 7 inches. He is slightly stoop-shouldered. He wore a white slouch hat when last seen and was riding a dark bay or light brown horse with a shoe on the left forefoot. He was armed with a 44-caliber Winchester and a 41-Colt's pistol. He is a dangerous man and a fine shot.

OYSTERSHELL BARK LOUSE IN APPLE ORCHARDS.

Dangerous Pest and How to Fight It -About Garden Tools-A New Method of Ripening Cream-Dairy Notes and Household Helps.

An Enemy of the Apple.

From an orchard in Crawford county, Kansas, there has been sent to Professor Popenoe, of the state agricultural college, an insect which he declares to be the oystershell bark louse, which he says is a very dangerous pest to apple orchards. In order to aid the orchardists of the state in avarding off the ravages of the pest he gives the following information in regard to it: The oystershell bark louse of the apple is known to entomologists as mytllaspis pomorum, and belongs to the same family as the terrible scale lice that so seriously affect the olive, orange and lemon in California and Florida. Originally introduced from Europe, it has spread throughout Northeastern United States, and in orchards where its increase has not been prevented by extraordinary care it becomes a scourge to the

It appears upon the specimes before me, taken within two weeks from the tree, is closely set, abundant reddish or grayish brown scales irregularly arranged, often overlapping each other, encrusting the bark and even hiding it in parts on the trunk from view. These scales measure about an eighth of an inch in length, narrow anteriorly, and are about four times as long as wide. They lie mostly with the narrow end upward, though many speci-mens may be found lying in other directions. Late in the winter the insects are in the egg state, numerous eggs lying under the mother scale, the insect itself being dead and shriveled up completely. In the spring these eggs hatch and the young lice being very active, crawl out and find themselves a place upon the bark, when they settle and begin tects them from ordinary danger. When well grown they can only be destroyed by the most thorough fort. At the season of the year when the insects are yet unhatched, it is likewise difficult to destroy them. However, a thorough scraping of the layer infested branches and the trunks and, afterward, the application of a kerosene wash in soapsudy will assist to free the trees these pests. But the insects are at one time at the mercy of the operator. This is at the time of hatching, in May, probably, or even earlier, when they leave the parent scale and scatter themselves to new situations. properly sprayed with kerosene emulsion, care being taken to reach all parts with the liquid, there can be little doubt that the work will prove a success. Watch for the hatching and work accordingly.

The female louse is never winged and cannot go unaided from tree to tree. She may be carried on the feet of birds, or when young and crawling may be blown from one tree upon his own person and smashing to another or find a way along inter-things generally. Judge Woods came over from Sherman yesterday and adjudged him insane. In his lucid in the care ess introduction of infested Garden Tools.

It is important in making a garden necessary. If the garden is in the proper shape a good part of the preparatory work can be done with the plow and harrow, but the finishing. the seeding and cultivating m st b largely done with tools that can be worked by hand. One of the most important of these is a good seed drill, one that will sow all kinds of garden seed and that can be changed to sow different kinds of seed, and as one row is sown and covered marks out another. By using a good drill the seed is distributed evenly in the rows and is covered at a uni form depth, better than is possible With care in seeding the rows can be made straight and the plants to stand straight in the rows, so that in using the cultivator it can be run close to the plants, and in this way reduce the work of giving elean, thorough cultivation. The saving of seed, time and labor, with the more even stand it is possible to secure, makes the seed drill a profitable tool to have.

Keeping the soil loose, mellow and weeds is essential to obtaining a quick growth in order to be tender and crisp. By using the garden cultivator the soil can be kept stirred frequently at small cost of time and labor. A combination im-plement is best with a small turning plow and set of rake teeth that, it needed, can be used in preparing the soil before planting the seed, also a weeder and set of small cultivator shovels that can be used as a cultivator as needed.

By taking care in using the various attachments, working as closely as possible to the plants, the hand hosing and weeding can be made very small. Frequent stirring of the soil not only insures a much better growth, but makes the task of killing out the weeds much casien. A prong hoe is a great help in preparing the soil, and in giving the fresh cultivation, especially with onions. A sharp steel rake may also be used to good advantage in the same way. A trowel for transplanting will be found quite a help as is also a good real and line. Hose, to do good By taking care is using the various

A New Method of Ripening Cream The following new method of ripering cream appears in the New Era

The day before you wish to ripez your cream fill a quart white earth-enware jam-pot or jar with sweet separated or skim milk, the former for choice, as it is nearly free from cream and quite sweet; stand the pot of milk in hot water up to 190 deg. Fahr., not over, till the milk is up to 95 deg. Fahr.; take it out, wipe the jar quite dry, and stand it in the kitchen or other warm room, and cover it immediately with an ordinary tea-cosy, pressing down the cosy close around the edges to keep it air-tight. Don't touch it or remove the cosy for twenty-four hours; by that time the milk will be just of the right sourness or ripeness for It is best to remove about half an inch of the top, as any cream that may have risen will be bitter and not fit to use. Rub the remainder, which should be in a thick or clabbered state, like a junket. through a clean tammy sieve into a basin. For every eight quarts of cream to be ripened you must add one gill (quarter pint) of the soured milk.

The bucket or crock containing the cream should be stood in hot water of 100 degrees, Fahrenheit, till the cream registers 65 to 70 degrees, Fahrenheit. While it is warming well stir in the soured milk, which must be thoroughly well mixed. Remove the bucket or crock, well wipe, and stand it in the kitchen or warm room, and cover it well up with a clean blanket (one should be kept on purpose); leave undisturbed for twenty-four hours, when it wil be just fit to churn. Pour carefully into the churn, taking care to leave the curdled milk at the bottom of the bucket or crock.

The above process is thereby an improvement of the Danish system, where a "starter" of this sort is always used. Something very similar, but with elaborate machinery, has, I believe, been patented by an

Clarence Boiles has left Mr. Flynn's mammoth saddle and harness establishment-which really fills a long felt want of Baird-and is now riding, under the paternal care and supervision of Uncle Chris, after horses, mules, cows, steers and anything of that kind; not in the most improved style, but in a style to be improved.

Col. Larkin Hearn returned from Kansas City Friday and the boys are in the saddle. Luther F. Hall started Saturday with W. Wyatt for Brown county after a bunch of cattle and Mode and Luke Hearn, with an outfit, went down to the Bayou for another herd. The big herd, numbering 2000 head or more, will start this Friday or Saturday for the Panhandle.

E. C. Hill and family were visiting Saturday and Sunday at the residence of Maj. Sam Cutbirth.

There was a called meeting of the Populists at the school house last Saturday. Although they had been promised by the wagon load there were just two members present and after two hours of waiting they were reinforced to the amount of four. Of course they elected chairman and secretary, and maybe they will count the Democrats who dropped in just for curiosity sake. There is no show that is a little educated and is not schemes; there is no room for these would-be reformers in a community where the citizens are industrious and hard working and know that only by their own individual exertion, by their own skill and industry they can and will improve their condition. the circus is kept up. Whenever I write against this so-called third class movement it is not from any personal spite or for any personal purpose-it would be, perhaps, of more advantage for my business if I would not touch that question at all-but I wish to speak out openly as a man who has studied history, who has watched this and similar movements in this, and in the old country, in behalf of these poor and hard working fellows who are easily deluded and soft-soaped by imaginary and nebulous projects, because they do not think and reason for themselves. If you see that reforms are needed, just begin these reforms

Jake brought me daily the food, fuel, and drink that I needed, but we exchanged bare syllables, and I saw that he feared me, believing with the rest of the village, that I was mad.

Shadows would steal about my door after dark, half-seen faces peered curiously in on me as the fire-light illumined the corners of the illomened room, but Steve was not one of those furtive visitors, he had not attempted to see me since I parted with him at the prison gates.

"How came he to your country?" asked curiously.

"He was wrecked with some others on our shore," said the Styrian, "starving and in rags, and I took pity on him and employed him as a shepherd. He was quick at picking up our tongue, and the life suited him, he became industrious and avaricious and one day I saw by accident in his hut a picture of a woman so beautiful that it set my heart on fire, and he told me that she was his sister, and as good as she was beau-

So here was the secret of the mon-ey found in Seth's belt, truly the rascal had been clever, for, failing Judith's highly improbable return with him to Styria, he possessed the means of keeping himself in comfort

"Where is that money now?" said the Styrian sharply.

"I don't know," I said.
The Styrian looked at me searchingly as if to read my very thoughts, and I gave him back gaze or fgaze. "You are not deceiving me?" he said: "she is not married?

"No," I said truly enough, "she is not married." For her prayer and Steves that they might be married before her child was born, had been refused on the ground that the church could not sanctify a union that she had committed a crime to bring

Apparently half asleep in my chair. watched him closely, but found nothing to gratify my curiosity, until the meal was done, when he drew from his pocket a small horn box shook some of its contents (which I could not see) into the palm of his hand and rapidly swallowed it.

Whatever it may have been, it brought to his face much the same satisfied expression as that worn by the dram-drinker whose craving is for the moment appeased, and when he sat down opposite me, I felt half inclined to ask him what his secret refresher was.

But as self-constituted host I had ome duties to perform, and when I had improvised a rude bed for him, and removed the plates and dishes, I found the Styrian, accustomed to his early hours and early rising. half asleep by the fire, and considera bly to my disapointment, he shortly after disrobed and turned in.

Sitting over my solitary pipe and the coffee I presently prepared, I had ample leisure to consider the strangeness of the man's unexpected arrival, but in no way could I perceive that he would influence Judith's fate one jot.

Why, then, had I pressed hospitality upon him, and after committing myself to a lie that he would, in all probability. he would, in all probability, speedily discover, saddle myself day and night with a man who could at best be but an irksome companion to me? I cannot tell, save that I clung to straws and if Judith's wild assertion, that Seth Treloar killed himself, were true, then this man, who had lived in his company for years, and must intimately know his habits, might be able to throw some light upon what seemed a wholly incredible thing. "This Styrian," thought I, "must be a man of no common tenacity and strength of will, to start off, knowing no word of English except Seth Treloar, Trevenick, Cornwall, England, in search of a woman whom he has never seen, and | £2,437,000,000.

I may keep him quiet for a day or two, no longer; but during that time he can learn nothing from the villagers as they cannot speak his tongue, and he cannot speak theirs. Meanwhile I shall have leisure to study him, and extract from him all that he knows about Seth Treloar.

After-but the morrow should take care of itself.

It was with a distinct feeling of happiness and almost of hope that at last I knocked the ashes out of my pipe, paused awhile to look down on the calm, healthy face of the Styrian. strong even in the abandonment of sleep, and mounted the narrow stairs that led to the only chamber the hut

CHAPTER VII.

The room was empty when I descended early next morning, and the house door stood open showing the moving sparkle of the sea, fretting itself against the translucent green and yellow of the sky.

Early as it was, Jake had already been here, for a pitcher of milk (only partly full as if some one had drunk from it), some bread, and other articles of food were placed, as usual, outside the door, and when I had taken these in, I proceeded to make my preparations for breakfast, and then strolled out in search of my visitor.

I knew pretty well who would be his companion, for Jake was as inquisitive as a squirrel or a monkey, and as they had but one word upon which to ring the changes of conversation, instinct guided me to churchyard, where, sure enough, I found both men standing before a plain tombstone, upon which was inscribed.

SETH TRELOAR. DIED APRIL, 188-

I approached them unobserved, and saw that the Styrian desired to ask some questions of Jake, and that his powerlessness to do so moved him to a deep inward rage.

He clenched his sinewy hand with a gesture that spoke volumes, and turned a look upon Jake before here for three or four days, or as many which the man drew back, but the Styrian's passion was quickly controlled, and he moved slowly away in the direction of the hut.

He gave no heed to the beauty of the surroundings through which he passed, he never once come into our morning and evening lifted his head to draw in a services. I am conscious that I stand breath of the pure, sweet air, nor cliff, nor sky, nor sea had power to I desire more especially to speak win a glance from him, as he moved to them. Now I am not usually either a spy or an eavesdropper, but on this occasion I decided to be both, and, turning in my tracks. I made a circuit and so got to the back of the hut, and quietly into the small place dignified by the name of the secret room, where was the small grating that gave directly on the kitchen. I looked in. Jake was in the act of lifting the iron ring of the trap-door. and the Styrian, with indifference in his expression, was looking on. My first impulse was to smile, for Jake had literally one eye on the door, fearing my return, and the other on his companion, who only frowned and looked puzzled as Jake pointed to the black void below, repeating "Seth Treloar, Seth Treloar,"

Making Stamps Rare.

A Brussels stamp collector's paper asserts that a certain Don Juan Cardillas, in Montevideo, who had been collecting the blue postage stamps of 5 centimes with the figure of General Santos, issued in Uruguay in 1883, for a long time and had pur chased about 100,000 of these stamps for the sum of $15,000 francs, lately called together all the members of the society of postage stamp col-lectors and asked them whether they knew of a means of making postage tamps rare. On their replying that knew of none, he struck a match and set on fire all the stamps he had collected, which he kept in a wire basket.

"STRANGERS IN TOWN" SUBJECT OF SERMON.

"I Was a Stranger and Ye Took Me In" -Matt. xxv. : 35-Dangers and Pitfalls Which Beset the Christian on His Visit to the Metropolis-An Instructive Talk.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., April 8 .- Before so audience in the world could such a sermon as Rev. Dr. Talmage preached to-day be so appropriate as in the Brooklyn tabernacle, where it is estimated that 150,000 strangers attend every year. It was a sermon that had for them a special interest. The text selected was Matthew xxv: 35. "I was a stranger and ye took me in."

It is a moral disaster that jocosity has despoiled so many passages of scripture, and my text is one that has suffered from irreverent and misapplied quotation. It shows great poverty of wit and humor when people take the sword of divine truth for a game at fencing, or chip off from the Kohinoor diamond of inspiration a sparkle to decorate a fool's cap. My text is the salutation in the last judge ment to be given to those who have shown hospitality, and kindness, and Christian helpfulness to strangers. Home! Home! Home! A Chinese Marriage Holds. Judge Bellinger, of the United States district court of Oregon, has decided, in the case of a Chinese woman who desired to land to join her husband whom she had never seen, that a betrothal at the age of 2 years and a marriage six months ago sewing together two cards on which the particulars of the engagement had been written was a valid mar-riage according to the laws of China and must be recognized by the United States. In rendering this decision Judge Bellinger said he was aware of the danger of imposition in such cases, but added that such danger exists in all cases where Chinese are landed and must continue to exist until exclusion is made absolute.

An Eight-Year-Old Forger

Mr. Merkel, a stamp vendor of St. Louis, has been worried recently by receiving from Misueapolis, in payment for stamps, checks, which were returned to him as worthless. He put the treasury detective on track of the forger and they have hunted him down. Walter Johnson was the name signed to the checks and were properly drawn and accompanied letters, which were business-like, ordering stamps. The culprit was found to be an 8-year-old boy by the name of Walter Johnson, who is an enthusiastic stamp collector. It appears that he had often seen his father draw checks in payment of bills, and knowing nothing of the little matter of making deposits before the checks were drawn, he thought it an admirable way to purchase things, and getting hold of the father's check book, proceeded to draw some on his own account. Unfortunately, he had no account.

It will, perhaps, require a little stretch of the imagination on the part of the reader to recognize the fact that the two portraits at the head of this article are of the same individual; and yet they are truthful sketches made from photographs, taken only a few months apart, of a very much esteemed citizen of Illinois—Mr. C. H. Harris, whose address is No. 1,623 Second Avenue, Rock Island, Ill. The following extract from a letter written by Mr. Harris explains the marvelous change in his personal appearance. He writes: "Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery saved my life and has made me a man. My home physician says I am good for forty years yet. You will remember that I was just between life and death, and all of my friends were sure it was a case of death, until I commenced taking a second bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' when I became able to sit up and the cough was very much better, and the bleeding from my lungs stopped, and before I had taken six bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' my cough coased and I was a new man and ready for business.

Mr. Harris's experience in the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" is not an exceptional one. From the Buckeye State comes the following: "I was pronounced to have consumption by two of our best doctors. I spent nearly $300, and was no better. I concluded to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I bought and used eight bottles and I can now say with truth that I feel just as well to-day as I did at twenty-five, and can do just as good a day's work on the farm, although I had not done any work for several years."

Truly, your friend, loned. Orders were given to fetch a block and tackle. The matter was desperate, and a desperate remedy was resorted to.

The doctors were sent for, and the man who seemed doomed prayed. But his thoughts were not of himself, but for his family. And tears came into ten pairs of eyes, who were William Dulancy looking without flinehing at the great rocks happing by slender threads above their heads, and there

This is inserted under the imprisoned leg. Cautiously, slowly, the debris, or slack, is scraped from under—and the place closes in. Fifteen minutes of scraping and the leg is free.
