Bulldogs And Eagles to Play Friday Night

One of the outstanding games in Class A football for the season will be played Friday night at Stamford, when the Chillicothe Eagles, champions of district 9-A, and the Stamford Bulldogs, 10-A champs, fight it out for bi-district honors.

Both schools will have good teams on the field, and the battle is expected to draw a large crowd from this section.

The Eagles have lost two games this season, to Wellington and Phillips, and Stamford has an equally impressive record in her district.

If Stamford should win over Chillicothe, it will be the second time in ten years that an opponent for a 9-A team has won the bi-district title.

Governor Proclaims Cotton Christmas

Gov. Coke Stevenson issued a proclamation Saturday asking Texas people to give Christmas presents made of cotton.

His proclamation noted that Texas is the greatest cotton-producing state with "thousands upon thousands of people dependent upon cotton for a living," and suggested that hundreds of attractive quality gifts made of cotton are available this year.

Plans for a general observance of "Cotton Christmas" were being made this week by Postmaster Burris C. Jackson of Hillsboro, chairman of a state committee, and Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe, author of a state appropriation to promote uses of cotton.

Firemen Issue Warning

A warning to those who follow after the fire truck when an alarm is sounded was issued this week by members of the Munday Fire Department.

"When an alarm is turned in," the firemen said, "it is necessary that all fireboys get to the scene of the fire as quickly as possible in order to save the property, and possibly the life of someone trapped in the fire. Congested traffic caused by those who take after the fire truck hinders firemen in reaching the scene quickly.

"This is especially true when a fire breaks out at night and firemen must reach the fire by going from their homes in their own automobiles.

"If citizens will cooperate by clearing the streets for a period of ten minutes after an alarm is turned in, you'll see a more efficient fire department operating in your town."

Knox Farmers To Help Decide Cotton Future

Knox county cotton farmers will help decide the course of cotton again this year when they vote in a national cotton marketing quota referendum, according to August Schumacher, chairman of the Knox county AAA committee.

The decision will be made Saturday, December 13, and 9 polling places will be set up within the county, the chairman explained.

While increased production is needed in many commodities in the Food-Freedom program, any increase in cotton will cripple the defense effort because of the enormous supply on hand, Mr. Schumacher said.

Due to naval and war blockades, export trade has dropped from 6.2 million bales during the 1939-40 season to 1.1 million bales during the 1940-41 season. Export trade for the present season is expected to hover near the 1.1 million bale mark.

As a result of demands being made for cotton in the national defense program, domestic consumption of cotton for the 1940-41 season just ended was the highest on record. Consumption was about 9.6 million bales, which was about 2 million bales above the preceding year.

"Although our domestic consumption has gone up, the increase will not offset the loss of our former export market," the chairman said.

At the same time Knox county farmers are voting to determine whether they want to continue marketing quotas, they will also be deciding the fate of the loan program. Loans are not in effect during the years when marketing quotas are rejected.

Last year the referendum carried in Knox county when 92 per cent of cotton farmers voting approved quotas.

Legion Will Be Goodfellows For Needy Families

American Legion members in Munday will again be "goodfellows" to needy families this Christmas, it was announced Tuesday morning.

Plans are being completed for placing Christmas barrels at all grocery stores and variety stores in Munday. In these barrels are to be placed gifts from local citizens who wish them distributed on Christmas eve to families who otherwise would have no Christmas.

Anyone having toys and other articles which they can repair and give to this cause are urged to get them ready. Toys, fruits, groceries, etc., will be accepted.

The barrels will be gathered up on Christmas eve, the contributions arranged into Christmas goodfellow baskets and distributed to worthy families.

Although this year is better than usual, it was pointed out that there are still families in this territory who will not be able to enjoy Christmas without the goodfellow movement. Last year the Legion distributed 37 baskets to families in the county.

A MESSAGE TO TAXPAYERS FROM THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY

The folder, "Know Your Taxes," which is being distributed by the Treasury, shows at a glance what you will have to pay in the coming year and how much of your monthly income you should set aside regularly for tax payments.

The purchase of Tax Savings Notes, now on sale by the Treasury, is one way to save systematically and conveniently for this purpose—but the important thing is to save.

I suggest you consult your local bank, savings and loan association, or employer. They will, I am sure, assist you in arranging now a savings plan to provide the money for income tax payments next year.

Financial institutions are now making, and I know will continue to make a real contribution to the defense program by educating the public to save. By saving and thrift we can combat the threat of inflation which endangers us all.

Very truly yours
H. Morgenthau, Jr.
Secretary of the Treasury.

Stores Replete With Gift Goods

Advantages of Early Buying Cited To Customers

Citing advantages of shopping early for Christmas gifts and merchandise, merchants of Munday are this week urging people of Knox county to avoid the last-minute rush in doing their shopping.

The "Buy It In Munday" campaign which has been under way since the inauguration of trades days here, is also emphasized at the Christmas season. Munday firms have stores that are well loaded with Christmas merchandise, and much of this merchandise can be purchased at home cheaper than in other towns, since the merchants made their purchases earlier than usual this year.

In a page ad this week, a number of local business firms carrying gift goods are pointing out the several advantages given the early Christmas shopper. Space permitted only a limited number of advertisements, but other Munday business firms are also joining merchants whose ads appear on the page in urging early Christmas shopping.

Some of the advantages are: A complete stock to select from, stock which has not been picked over; more time for the shopper in making selections and giving clerks more time to help them; avoiding being jostled about by the rush of last-minute shoppers, and a saving in the price of merchandise which was purchased before prices advanced.

Store windows are being unveiled tonight (Thursday), and the town is taking on its Christmas appearance. Much Christmas shopping has already been done, and merchants are anticipating a steady volume of business between now and Christmas.

"What a Man Does For Himself Dies With Him—
What He Does For His Community Lives On and On"—

WHEN TOMORROW COMES

"How are we going to find jobs when this emergency is over?"

That's a thought in the minds of men and women who are now working in defense factories all over the country. What will happen to them when America beats its swords into plowshares?

Industry is tackling this problem right now, along with the dozens of other problems created by defense production itself. It's laying plans for a speedy changeover to increased civilian manufacturing when this emergency is ended.

Even while they're busy turning out more and better armaments, many companies are studying defense inventions, trying to figure out peace-time applications for them. At the same time they're continuing their customary research on civilian articles. They're developing new products of every description—developing them right up to the point where they can be put on the market. Only, instead of putting them on the market, they're storing them away on the shelf. When this emergency ends, those new products will be taken down and put into production immediately.

Facts like these indicate that industry, as usual, is doing its job today and planning ahead for its job tomorrow. And when tomorrow comes, it will have many new articles to manufacture. In manufacturing them it will be able to create new jobs and give us all more of the comforts and conveniences of life that we Americans want.

DEFENSE WAGES

Many of the pay increases that American employees have recently received have been based on the rising cost of living. It's true that the cost of living has gone up—5.6 per cent since the first of the year. But labor's hourly earnings have advanced just about twice that (11.3 per cent.)

A fact like that suggests that employees and labor unions, when they seek unusual wage increases during America's defense program, are in danger of establishing unfairly high wage rates. Such a policy is filled with many complications, for labor and for everyone else in America.

There are times, of course, when increased earnings for employees is both necessary and desirable. When that is true, however, they should be made in almost every case in the form of temporary wage bonuses rather than increases in basic wage rates.

We Americans must realize that a continuous rise in hourly rates is dangerous. It adds to the cost of goods, forcing prices up and helping create an inflationary trend. But it does more than that. Unless it's checked, it may lead to serious post-war complications.

After this emergency orders will drop sharply; industrial income will decrease. If America is faced then with wage rates fixed at high, uneconomic levels at a time when other costs, prices and profits are falling, a wave of unemployment will be the inevitable result—and widespread unemployment after the war is one of the things that we must try to avoid at all costs.

POOLING THEIR BRAINS

We've heard a lot about shortages in the defense program. Silk, copper, aluminum—the list is growing. But we haven't heard much about the greatest shortage of all—the shortage of facts. Facts about taxes, strikes, priorities, price control and other vital problems affecting business in the midst of the greatest upheaval in the history of private enterprise. America must have facts. That's the only way we can solve the complex problems ahead.

The Congress of American Industry being held in New York next week by the National Association of Manufacturers will be a big step toward the passing facts on to the nation's industrialists, large and small. Men in the know about current business problems are going to get together and thrash them out. They have a big job ahead of them, but the fact that they're pooling their knowledge and experience in this congress indicates their determination to solve their difficulties with speed and accuracy.

Approximately half the people in America have a direct, personal interest in securities markets, either as owners of securities or as holders of life insurance policies or savings accounts.

WAGES AND PRICES

There is a growing feeling in Congress that some form of wage control must accompany price control.

Two wage control proposals have so far been made. One would impose a definite ceiling on wages, as of a given date, and would impose the same kind of ceiling on prices at the same time. The other proposal is more elastic, and would give the Price Administration authority to control wages when it believed that further increases would be of an inflationary character.

There is obviously room for disagreement as to the details of wage control legislation. There is, however, no ground for believing that anything resembling workable price control can be effected if wages are permitted to soar without restraint. The price trend today is to a large extent the result of the many wage increases. The cost of both farm and industrial labor is reaching near-record peaks—and this is directly reflected in the wholesale price index. Retail distribution, led by the chains, has been doing a splendid work in absorbing as much of the price increase as possible, and in holding retail price boosts to the minimum. But the merchandisers can't do the impossible, and today retail prices are necessarily going up.

Secretary Morgenthau has warned the country of the imminent danger of real inflation. The country's industries, both in the producing and the distributing fields, are doing all they can to hold down prices. But so long as wages and all other costs move uncontrolled to higher levels, these efforts cannot be achieved. If industry is forced to accept rigorous price control which will greatly limit freedom of action, labor must expect the same thing.

A new broom with bristles made of plastic collects particles of dust instead of blowing them around. Friction of the bristles against floors, clothing and other materials creates static electricity, which holds the dust particles in the broom.

GET OUT OF DEBT

One resolution adopted by the American Bankers Association at its recent annual convention, is of wide interest to the public.

"Bankers are aiding the defense program by loans for the erection of defense plants, and for the purchase of raw materials and the payment of wages in the defense industries," it said. "Such loans have reached huge sums and continue to mount.

"This is a time for liberal lending for defense and for conservative lending for all other purposes. This is a time when in their own interest, people generally should be paying their debts instead of borrowing more."

In other words, part of the banker's job is to help people get out of debt, rather than into it, whenever possible. The tremendously increased burden of taxation, coupled with the rapid jump in the cost of living, makes it necessary for the average family to hold its debts to the minimum. The banks are following the policy of wisdom when they loan for all necessary purposes, but discourage borrowing when it can be avoided.

Another proof that the American standard of living is the highest in the world—the average U.S. family spends about $20 a year going to the movies.

Shelterbelts Aid Local Farmers In Controlling Soil

West Texas has shelterbelts planted on over 2,200 farms.

Sand and hot winds are two of the problems West Texas farmers have to combat along with other problems.

The sand, itself, would not present a problem if the wind that blows across the unprotected soil could be held in check.

For several years, the Prairie States Forestry Project has been aiding the West Texas farmer in combating this problem by planting shelterbelts of trees and shrubs to deflect the wind upwards from the fields, to stop blowing away of the soil, to preserve humidity of the air over growing crops, to provide shelter from the wind for the people and livestock, to provide cover and food for insect-eating birds and to provide wood for fences and fuel for homes.

All these make for better crops and more comfortable living. The trees for these shelterbelts have been furnished and planted by the Government and the farmer has contributed the preparation of the land for planting, cultivation of the trees, fencing to protect from livestock and eliminating or other means.

Many farmers receive some direct benefit from their shelterbelts the second year. The older the trees the more benefit derived from them.

Farmers in Knox county wishing to find out more about shelterbelts should get in touch with their County Agent, or the District Forester, Marvin G. Angle, in the city hall at Munday.

Urge School Tax Payments Benefits Shown Taxpayer

School Tax Collections Urged As Benefits Shown to Taxpayer

The usual drive for the collection of delinquent taxes for the Munday Public Schools continues as in years past during the fall with delinquent notices and appeals personally from the Assessor-Collector R. B. Harrell the next few weeks.

Looking over the rolls for the past several weeks it will be noticed that more taxes have been collected than have been assessed with delinquent taxes being cut from around thirteen thousand dollars to about eight thousand dollars the past few years. This is due to the attitude of most people and their interest in the school; also the desire of the board of education and the collector to keep the collections up to date.

School finances the past several years have shown the schools here to be in good condition, both for local maintenance and for bond purposes. The ward school, one of the finest in equipment and teaching facilities in this section, is looked upon as a notable achievement by the community. The high school, although not new, is in fair shape although a new roof will likely be put on this year. The old school building is now being used to house some school work such as the lunchroom and Vocational Agriculture; it was repaired a little the past summer.

In order that the people may know what they are getting for the tax money paid to the school a few things might be listed here: teachers salaries have been raised from an average of $70.00 per month for 12 months to around $80.00 per month without increasing local tax or evaluations; Vocational Agriculture, with a full-time man has been added and a National Defense Shop has been added without costing the local school as the state and Federal governments made this possible; a band-man has been added to the school with a smaller cost to students taking band but adding little to the local budget; a lunchroom for the school which feeds around 250 students daily, a balanced diet, a warm meal for seven and one-half cents without additional cost to the school budget or any cost to the school district itself.

Several additions to the high school and ward school curriculum have also been made in order for education to be made more practical for students and their physical and educational makeup will be better prepared to meet the changing times.

The above are just a few of the recent changes and additions to the people who pay the bill for local education. It can readily be seen that the improvements and aid, even to those working and benefiting from the program in addition to school employees, such as the workers in the lunchroom, about ten in number, and those who teach the courses and take the courses in the National Defense Shop are greatly benefiting from the program.

With a school plant, then, valued at well over $100,000, the taxpayers of this district can well be pleased with the investments they have and are making in the education of their children.

So, payment now of school taxes, whether delinquent or current, will be appreciated by school authorities.

Freshman Report

The first business item we took up when President Lowry called the Junior Business Thrift Club to order was the election of a new secretary. Jeanne Davis, our former secretary has moved to California. Patsy Ruth Mitchell was elected. We talked of having a Christmas party, but decided to wait until we knew whether we would have a regular Freshman party or not.

It has been rumored the Freshmen would have a real bang-up Christmas party this year. If we do have one here's hoping it will be as good as our last one.

For our part in the annual we intend to take snapshots of class members. We're working out a plan now as to how we'll manage this, but I, for one, imagine we can do it and get excellent results.

We'd Like to Know Why—

Berniece looked so mad Monday morning?

Why Patsy said she had to go to go to Abilene Wednesday?

Where Patsy and Jerry went Thursday night? (Two Seniors can tell you, I'll bet.)

Why Berniece always wants Patsy to ask her what time it is in the show.

Speech Class to Give Short Speeches and Debate

The speech class will consume the remainder of the six weeks period with study of short speeches, debate and probably a one-act play.

The short speeches include the toast, introduction of speakers, presentation, speeches of response, short announcements and campaign speeches.

The large order for the class will be a five-minute speech given the fourth week in the remaining period before mid-term. The class will study clear thinking, through debate and will engage in a number of short debates.

After this, a short study of drama and the one-act play with actual production on the stage will be given if time allows.

Homemakers Get Food For Cheaper Budget

Homemaking III class under the direction of Miss O'Donnell this week is preparing meals for the entire day that appeals to the "moderate" or cheaper pocketbook.

To do this, prices from local stores are fully discussed with an object of retail buying that will, at the same time take into consideration the vitamin content of each item served.

Tuesday the class worked on a sample menu for fifty cents during the day; later further study will be given to the cheaper meals and some will be prepared in the laboratory.

This is especially applicable to family budgets of four in the family and to the time in which we live, when living expenses, notably food prices, are soaring.

Junior Report

The Juniors seem to have had a swell Thanksgiving during the holidays.

This week we get our report cards. Most of us are scared of our grades in history.

We hope to get our pictures this week that we had taken about a week ago.

Senior Report

Since the Thanksgiving holidays are over and everyone had a grand time, they are ready to go back to work. We will now pause a moment to let you know what a few of our Seniors did during the holidays.

Ralph Tidwell went to Ruidosa, New Mexico, to see his grandmother.

Dixie Atkinson visited her grandparents in Fort Worth. While there she attended the T.C.U.-S.M.U. football game.

Corra Jean Martin visited relatives in Paducah, Texas.

Frances Smith went to Seymour for the holidays.

Our sponsor, Miss DeLoach, spent Thanksgiving with Dr. and Mrs. Moore in Abilene and while there she attended the H.S.U.-Howard Payne football game.

Seniors on Review

Ben Bowden was born in Munday on July 7, 1925. He started to school with this class in the first grade.

He takes active part in band and PFA. He is president of the band and secretary of the PFA. He says his hobby is just PFAing and that the organization is wonderful.

Ben is president of the Senior class and has proved himself to be an efficient president. He believes the worst thing that has happened to the Senior class is that they lost the race for high school Queen, but hopes that future activities will make up for it.

He says he will enter H.S.U. next fall. The Cowboy Band is his main attraction there. The class wishes him success in college as a member of the world-famous Cowboy band.

Sophomore Report

The Thanksgiving holidays are over and the Sophomore class is ready to go back to work. After the big celebration and large Thanksgiving dinners and relaxation we feel a little more capable of getting our work done.

Last week we had our six weeks tests and they were pretty hard, especially if we didn't know our lessons. Most of the Sophomores were not satisfied with their work, and are determined to do better the next six weeks. Our report cards are due this week and many of us will be surprised.

The pictures we had taken recently will come in the earlier part of this week. A few of the class who did not have their pictures made may have them made yet.

The first year algebra class has improved since the first six weeks. They are on factors and products in Part II of the textbook. Algebra has proved itself to be a very interesting subject for most of us.

Odds and Ends Around M.H.S.

The Mogul basketball teams are working out daily in order to get in shape for the season that begins in the early part of December. Coach Perryman is working with the senior boys and Coach Kennamer is working the junior boys.

Coach Perryman and L. S. Hardegree attended a meeting at Benjamin on Monday night to work out plans and make a schedule for this year's Interscholastic League play in basketball.

All high school instructors report a very good Thanksgiving and are refreshed and ready to work hard the next few weeks until Christmas.

Several new books have been added to the library lately. That the students appreciate new books is evidenced in the fact that not one of the books was left in the Second Year

The second year children have decided they will enjoy Christmas more than year if they spend a little less on themselves, and give what they can for the people who need their help, as there is so much want and suffering in the world.

December will be one of the happiest and busiest months of the school year for the second year class. They are working on a Christmas program to be given before the holidays.

A unit of the postoffice is to be worked out, learning how the post-office serves the needs of the members of a city and rural community.

Fifth Year News

All of the fifth year students and the teachers enjoyed seeing some motion pictures pertaining to their social studies. These pictures were: Alaska's "Silver Million"—the salmon; "Life Along the Equator" and "Swiss Alps Climbers."

The students in 5A and 5B are beginning work on a Christmas sand table project.

7B students are happy that examinations are over and are now anxiously awaiting for their report cards. They are pledging themselves to work a little harder this next six weeks.

7B wishes to give recognition to the boys who have represented them so ably on the Midget team: Lloyd Haynie, Kelton Tidwell, R. L. Trammell, Gene Brown, Clarence Scarcey, Tommie Yates, and Jimmie Massey. M. B. Norville has been one of the managers.

Third Year News

Christmas is all of the talk down in the third year room. Room decorations are being discussed. Some of the talking, however, is carried on in very low tones, for you know at this time secrets and whispering are all right.

Several members of the class will celebrate their birthdays this month along with Christmas. Peggy Harrison and Perry Reeves have birthdays this week.

Everyone did something different during our past holidays. The thing everyone liked best was playing at home.

Group 7A—The Munday Muse

Group 7A last Monday selected

"The Holly Goblins' Christmas Eve" for its play to present in chapel. The play is to be presented on Friday, December 19, at the chapel period. The cast of characters will be completed by Friday of this week. The play, under the direction of Mr. Clyde Kennamer, is very entertaining and unusual. The group expects to be called upon to present this program more than once during the Christmas holidays.

Help!

More than 400 companies, all over America, are helping General Electric speed defense work by supplying parts that G. E. would make itself in normal times.

1. Two of these subcontracting firms ordinarily manufacture fishing tackle. Another normally makes watches, and still another makes carpets.
2. For making searchlights alone, subcontractors from five states prepare parts. About 75 companies contribute to building a steam turbine.

3. More than 150 different firms supply parts in a steady, scheduled stream for radio transmitting and receiving equipment for the armed forces.
4. Thus dozens of cities and small towns throughout America are becoming partners with G. E. in helping speed the national defense program.

Senior Report

Well, the fall term has begun and we are glad to see that all the Seniors have returned to finish their Senior year.

We are proud of our class rings that we received during vacation.

The senior reporter has been scouting around to see who was the champion boll-puller in each class and found that these students won the honors.

Senior class: Rose Fetsch, 628 pounds.

Freshman class: Johnny Fetsch, 620 pounds.

Seventh grade: Margarita Jacobec, 541 pounds.

Sixth grade: John Ed Wilde, 540 pounds.

Junior News

School has opened for the fall term and here are the Juniors all ready to go.

We don't seem to have very good luck in our attendance. The day is yet to come when all the Juniors are present. Various forms of illness are preventing them from attending.

However, we are getting along nicely in our subjects. We are beginning to remember what we had before.

Most of the Juniors seem to have made the Harvest Festival in good shape.

We Wonder Why . . . Calvin enjoyed himself Thursday, standing around the muffin pans.

Weldon didn't dance Thursday? (How come?)

Kenneth was absent Friday? Too much picnic?

Freshman Report

Thanksgiving is over and Christmas is drawing near. We think everyone enjoyed him self Thursday, by eating plenty of turkey and trimmings.

The pupils in Room I were all surprised Friday when they came to school and found that their teacher couldn't talk. (Too much picnic?)

We aren't in full swing with our volleyball yet, but will soon begin. Miss McGraw has ordered two plays. We are going to select the one which we think is best.

News of Room III

We have started off with our school work very well now that school has taken up again.

Our class has elected its officers. They are: President, Clarence Stengel; secretary-treasurer, Robert Redder. Miss Himels wants these officers to help her decorate the room and work with her.

Our class has joined the Junior Red Cross. We are all proudly wearing our pins.

Report from Room IV

We are glad to have everyone back at school. With Christmas not far off we are very busy learning songs and our parts in the play.

All of the boys and girls in Room IV had a wonderful time at the Harvest Festival.

The seventh graders have been writing poems about Thanksgiving. We think these two are the best:

I ran to the pen
 With a hatchet in my hand,
 And before I could count ten
 The turkey was in the pan.

Thanksgiving day is here
 And there is so much to thank
 For this year.

We thank the Lord for friends so true,
 For birds that sing, and skies of blue.

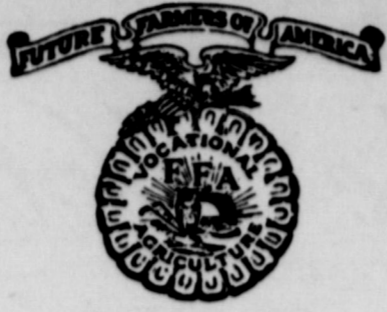

Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Payne Wood of Littlefield were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Jones last Thursday.

F.F.A. BOYS MAKE ANIMAL STUDY

The Munday chapter of Future Farmers of America has been studying about different kinds of animals lately, mostly about hogs and dairy heifers.

Different boys of the chapter have been practicing on a play named "The Tater Project," which is very comical. This play will be presented Friday, December 5, in the school auditorium at 1 p.m.

Some of the vocational boys will go to Dallas Saturday morning, December 6, to get some dairy heifers for their project.

The next regular meeting of the chapter will be Monday night, December 8.

There is an epidemic of measles in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Felton Jones and daughter of San Angelo were here last week to attend the funeral of Grandma Jones of Crowell, a former Hefner citizen. Other children and grandchildren from out of town were: B. Jones, Willie Jones, and Mrs. Davis of Crowell; Leola Jones of Sterling City, Mrs. Gray of Ralls and son of Littlefield, Mrs. Malcolm Coltharp and daughters Faye and Lucille of Slaton, and Christine Jones of Lubbock.

MOVES TO MORTON

Festival Held At Rhineland Is Huge Success

The people of Rhineland are very elated over the success of their Harvest Festival held there on Thanksgiving day.

Everyone entered into the spirit of the occasion to make this the most successful financial community affair in Rhineland's history. Even the weatherman contributed his share to the success of the festivities by donating an ideal, sunshiny autumn day.

The day's celebration began in the morning with a high mass of thanksgiving at eight o'clock, in St. Joseph's church, and ended with a big dance at night in the community hall.

An outstanding attraction which produced much favorable comment was the beautifully and artistically decorated hall. Many actual farm products were skillfully intermingled with streamers, banners and pictures to vividly execute the harvest motif.

The entire community is grateful to those friends and patrons who helped in any way to make this picnic a success, and takes this opportunity of expressing its appreciation for their loyalty and patronage.

Defense Course Is Started Here

The truck, tractor and auto mechanics course, sponsored by the federal government and being taught at Moore Chevrolet by C. R. Vaughn, got under way Monday night of this week. Ten boys have enrolled and at least five more are expected to enroll soon.

The class period for the mechanics course will be from 6 p.m. to 11 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week.

The main objectives of the course will be to train rural youth in the elementary repair jobs on farm machinery which can and should be done on the farm, and to train them to properly care for and operate farm machinery in order to obtain maximum service in the most economical manner.

The national emergency has caused, or may cause, the following developments:

1. The manufacture of farm machinery has been curtailed, which means that equipment now in service must be repaired rather than replaced.

2. The purchase of replacement parts is becoming more difficult, hence it will be necessary to construct or repair broken parts wherever possible.

3. It is possible that a shortage of skilled repairmen may develop, making it necessary that farm youth be able to do all minor re-air jobs on farm machinery. Until this quota is taken, this course will be open to young men in the community between the ages of 17 and 25. No charge is made the students.

AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

by Luther Kirk

The old conference year is gone and in the new that we have just begun there are twelve months of opportunity for making this an even greater year. Let us not lose even one of these opportunities but grasp them all and render to our God the service that He expects and asks of all of us.

We hope to see an increased attendance at all services of the church. This can be made possible only through your co-operation. Your co-operation in prayer, the giving of your time and talents, and the bringing of your tithes into the storehouse will mean a great year in the church.

We long for a deepening of spiritual life in every member of the church and this will come only as we cultivate our spiritual life. Attend church Sunday.

Senior News

The Seniors have been working hard this past week on over-due work books and other things that are only handled on the six weeks. It is a good thing they have, too, because six weeks exams are here once more. The seniors were well satisfied with the way the boys and girls played basketball last Tuesday night. They were both good ball games even if our boys did have a little hard luck.

Several strange things have happened this week, but the most noticeable was "Smitty." No one can figure out (and we've all been trying) what she was feeling so happy about Monday morning. Another is Jeanette. How she can keep a secret from the rest of the Seniors and the sponsor too, no one knows, but she seems to be doing it. (Maybe it isn't worth telling!)

One of our Senior boys has moved to California. We wish him all the luck possible in his new work.

The Seniors were very sorry to hear of the death of Mr. Jim Crouch, the father of one of our former classmates, Wanda Lynn Crouch.

Tenth Grade News

Here are the favorite songs of some of the Sophomores.

Rosemary: "I'm Walking the Floor Over You."
Virginia: "I Told You So."
Houston: "Daddy."
Thaxton: "Sweethearts Forever."
Glenn: "Blue Eyes."
Wynell: "Chattanooga Choo Choo."
Billy Bob: "Shepherd Serenade."
Sue: "Jim."
Junior: "Stardust."
Madolyn: "Yours."
Dwayne: "Old Gray Mare."
Kenneth: "I'm In the Army, Now."
Buster: "Chattanooga Choo

Choo." The Sophs are really dreading their exams but they hope to pass them.

One of our girls, Virginia Tankersley, is on the main team this year. We are very proud of her.

First and Second Grade

Group I in the first grade has a new book which they are reading very rapidly.

Some of Group II finished their reader Monday morning. Most of the children can spell Santa and December and some can spell Christmas. We will write letters to Santa in the next few days.

We have set up our "candy box" village and made our sponge Christmas tree for the village. Santa will arrive in the candy box village this week.

Weldon and Wayne Hutchinson have been absent because of illness. Wayne was present Monday morning, accompanied by an earache. We will be glad when Weldon comes back to school.

Elaine Nix was absent Monday because of the death of her grandfather Crouch.

Barbara Jo Johnston visited her aunt and uncle in Vernon on Saturday.

Wayne Hutchinson went to Fort Hancock to see his grandmother on Sunday.

We are working hard on our parts in the operetta, The Lost Doll.

Third Grade

Our operetta is well under way and we plan to give it Thursday night, December 11.

Marilyn Smith went fishing on the river and caught ten fish.

We have two new pupils, Ellen and Helen Colvin. You guessed it, they are twins. We hope they are as happy to be with us as we are to have them.

Fifth Grade

In English we have started our club meetings and we are enjoying them very much.

In geography we are studying the Sahara Desert.

We have been having a great deal of trouble with long division.

We are enjoying school very much.

Sixth Grade

Last Friday we elected a president, vice president, secretary and treasurer and the committees for the reports for our English club each Friday.

Officers are: President, Charles Hardin; vice president, Doris Wayne Phillips; secretary, Core Jayne Tidwell; treasurer, Juliette Cheek.

Our committeemen report on our room.

We do not like to go to the detention hall and work to make up for what we did. If we talk without permission, get out of our desk without permission, talk while coming in from recess and maybe a number of other things. At the next recess we go to a room called the detention hall, where we work a whole period. We are learning to be a little more quiet.

Seventh Grade

This week the seventh grade elected officers for their English club. They are: Dorman Followill, president; Leroy Ressel, vice president; Jo Ann Whittemore, treasurer; Patay Nell Campsey, secretary.

We are going to have a Christmas operetta about Christmas. It is called The Lost Doll.

 Why do all the boys think they are taking the mumps?

Why is Mr. Cunningham's chest so far out in front?

Pete, what's so interesting to you in Stamford that makes you give up a girl in K.C.?

Lee, what were you and Pete talking about on the Gulf driveway the other day? Was it about something or someone in Rule?

Joe Ben, do you like soda pops with barbecue?

Lee, what's at Rochester. Let the rest of us in on it.

We wonder what has happened to Mat and Louise's romance?

Mr. Wyatt, how many hot dogs can you eat at one party? Do you suppose a dozen will catch it?

Sports Report

The football boys closed their 1941 football campaign with a picnic given them by the pep squad at Moorhouse Park Wednesday afternoon. Everyone had a good time and enjoyed the fine food which the pep squad presented. The football team had a rather successful season this year, and they finished in third place in the conference. Coach Pat Wyatt, who took a very small squad of inexperienced boys, had one of the best coached teams in the conference. Congratulations to him and the boys who worked so hard this season to develop a good team.

Eight boys are now working out for basketball. They are going to attend the O'Brien tournament this week end. Those reporting for practice are: Alonzo Cartwright, Lester Duke, Lee Bivins, Perry Stark, Walter Matt Hertel, Bill Spikes, Bill Snailum, and Pete Rutledge.

Senior Report

The Seniors this year decided that instead of sponsoring an annual they would buy a set of basketball goals for the gymnasium. We plan to dedicate them the first game that we have here.

We still have chances to sell for the class quilt. If anyone wants to buy chances, hurry and buy them from some Senior, the class sponsor, or room mothers.

Senior Personality

E. C. Brown was born November 29, 1925, at Stamford, Texas. He started to school at Weimert in 1930. He moved to Goree in 1937 and attended school there until 1941, when he moved to Benjamin. He is now a Senior and plans to graduate this year.

Favorites:
 Subject: Chemistry.
 Teacher: Mr. Cunningham.
 Song: "Jim."
 Color: Royal Blue.
 Sport: Basketball.

Junior Report

The Juniors aren't having many activities lately, but we sure plan to have plenty of fun in the future. Everyone had a big Thanksgiving and really enjoyed it. All the Juniors take their hats off to the Mustang football team, and congratulate them for the fine playing they did this year. Congratulations, boys!

I'm No Bargain

Dear Public:

Many wonder who I am? Still many are guilty of my plight and final destruction. Year after year I fail to fulfill by intended mission, often being the cause of broken friendships and misunderstandings. Perhaps, you are now curious as to my being. Well, I hold no secrets for my intended wishes were to fulfill a happy mission. I am, and indeed I am sorry to say, the Christmas Card that is never delivered but doomed for destruction.

Why should I, the card of Christmas joy, the reminder of past friendships and the messenger of good cheer, be destroyed? Here is the reason:

I am given a 1 1/2-cent stamp to carry my message. That, immediately puts me in the third class passenger boat and I am classified with common circulars. Often my address is uncertain, many times my intended receivers have moved and then I die a death of natural destruction like all other circular matter.

How can this be avoided, you may ask.

First, place a three-cent stamp in my upper right-hand corner. That really brightens me up and now I am ready for first-class service. Second, write the address of my intended destination clearly and put your return in the upper left-hand corner, and, brother, that is all. Just drop me in any of Uncle Sam's mail boxes and I'll do the rest. If I can't locate your intended friend and give him your Christmas wishes in first class order, I'll come back free of charge and let you know the reason. Yes, perhaps I'll really save a valued friendship.

Well, so long, for they are getting ready to destroy me. Don't forget what I said next year, please don't.

Yours truly,
 Your 1 1/2-Cent Christmas Card

Lussie Thompson Buried Nov. 25th

Lussie Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Thompson, who reside northeast of Munday, died at the family home on Monday, November 24.

Lussie was 35 years and six months of age. He was born near Alvord, Texas on November 18, 1906. At the age of 13, he was injured while playing basketball at school, and this resulted in paralysis and confinement to his home. He was a sophomore when he had to quit school on account of a nervous condition.

During his confinement he was not sickly, and he enjoyed life. He was ill only a short time.

He was converted and joined the Baptist church at Goree at the age of 15. During the 17 years of confinement, Lussie's friends from various communities would come and sing and entertain him. Singings, musicals, speeches and school plays were brought to his home. He always enjoyed friends visit and the entertainment.

By use of the radio he kept well informed of the present-day happenings and in music.

Lussie is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Thompson, and two brothers, Melvin and Woodrow, and a host of relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held at the Baptist church in Munday on Tuesday, November 25, at 3 p.m. Burial was in the Johnson cemetery.

A precious one from us has gone,
 A voice that lingers still
 A place is vacant in our home
 Which never can be filled.

God in His wisdom has called
 This precious one on high,
 And some day we shall meet him
 In that sweet by and by.

Fate of Cotton's Loan Program to Be Decided Dec. 13th

Collective causes of improved price of cotton are acreage allotments, marketing quotas and the loan program, Marvin Allen, secretary of the Knox county AAA committee, announced this week.

"American prices are about twice that of foreign countries, none of which have a farm program approaching ours," the chairman said in pointing out that cotton prices are nearer parity than in many years.

In receiving better prices for cotton, farmers are enjoying a measure of prosperity more comparable to other classes, he said.

Farmers of Knox county should learn all the facts about cotton before voting in the national referendum, Saturday, December 13, the AAA official pointed out.

At the same time farmers are voting in the referendum, the fate of the loan program will be decided. According to the AAA Act, loans cannot be offered during any year in which quotas are voted down in a grower referendum. By planting within acreage allotments, over 90 per cent of the farmers of the United States are eligible for loans at the full rate, the chairman said.

"Cotton marketing quotas are not new to Knox county farmers and it is essential that a large proportion of them vote in the referendum," Mr. Allen said.

Uses Tractor To Deliver His Mail

With over 40 inches of rainfall in Knox county this year, rural mail carriers have found it difficult to get the mail to their patrons on many occasions.

But W. O. Lewis, carrier on route 2 out of Goree, has solved the transportation problem. When the mud became so deep that ordinary transportation means were futile in getting the mail delivered, Lewis bought a tractor, placed a cab and fenders on it, and when car travel becomes impossible he gets into, or onto, the tractor and makes his route with little difficulty.

Lewis believes in carrying out the established policy: "The mail must go through."

Austin, Texas.—The quail season (December 1st through January 16th.) is on, and the Game Department goes once again to the assistance of the housewife. How do you cook quail?

Well, broiled quail, according to game officials, is one of the tastiest of dishes, and here's how you do it.

Split the birds down the back and season well in the body cavity. Dot the bottom of a hot pan with butter and place quail in braest up. Cover pan tightly. After steaming ten minutes in moderate oven, turn breast down for ten minutes. Turn the birds once more, put a teaspoon of butter on each, and then in ten minutes the birds will be brown and tender if they are young. Older quail will require more cooking. When done add one half cup of hot water to gravy and pour over the birds.

Folklore of the Chase

An old East Texas boy went out deer hunting opening day. He had a pretty good rifle. He took his dog along, for he lived in a county where you can legally chase wounded deer with one dog. He was hunting in his home county, so he did not have to have a hunting license. But somehow he believed that he had to have a special license to kill a deer. He didn't have one, and his conscience was hurting him, whether he knew it or not.

Just as he got set, with his dog between his knees and his rifle held at ready, a Game Warden walked up. He meant no harm.

"Hell, there," the Warden said. "Had any luck?"

The old East Texas boy was scared stiff.

"Nope," he said. "I don't hunt. And anyway, I ain't got no deer license."

The Game Warden patiently explained that it wasn't necessary to have a 'deer license' to kill deer, as many people in East Texas believe. He told the hunter to go on and kill a deer if he could. The East Texan's face lighted up with a broad grin.

Then the Game Warden walked on, chucking at the old boy's reply that "I don't hunt" while at the same time he was squatting down in good deer territory, with a good deer dog near him, and a deer rifle in his hands.

Another Chance Gone

Paul Wendler of Boerne almost saw a sight in Nature that many a man would give many dollars to see.

He came across two deer that had been fighting, whose horns became locked, and that had died as a result of this fierce combat of the wild.

According to the Boerne Star, Wendler arrived on the scene just after the deer died of exhaustion. If he had been just a little earlier arriving at the scene, he might
