"What a Man Does For Himself Dies With Him—
What He Does For His Community Lives On and On"—

PATRIOTS BOTH

The story of the two-man company that recently received a large flag poster from the War Production Board, "in recognition of the example the entire working force of your plant is setting for the rest of the nation," should be an inspiration to every man and woman engaged in war production.

Before the war Jake Spurling, aged 60 years, made pulleys and repaired machinery in a small shop in Bay City, Michigan. Now, he and his "staff" are making steel flanges for wooden pipes in large war plants.

These two men, Jake and Percy Fogelsonger, now 79 years old, have been working fifteen hours a day, seven days a week, since war was declared—and in that time have made more than eighteen thousand flanges.

Jake and the "old gent" are typical of the true spirit of American industry today—the "do or die" spirit evident in all patriotic Americans that says, "it shall be done." They are doing a job that they know has to be done and are putting everything they have into it. The nation salutes Jake Spurling and Percy Fogelsonger—patriots both.

THE PATENT MYTH

Widespread suppression of useful inventions has been described as "one of the most persistent myths in the folklore of technology," by the National Association of Manufacturers in "Patents and Inventions," a booklet of questions and answers on patents, the war, and industrial progress.

Edison's electric lamp had to await the development of economical methods of generating current before being put on the market—but that could not be described as suppression of the invention.

According to the booklet, Thomas Edison, when asked about this subject once at a Congressional hearing on patents said:

"I have heard and read numerous statements that many corporations buy valuable inventions to suppress them, but no one cites specific cases. I myself do not know of a single case."

At the recent convention of the American Bar Association, Roy C. Hackley, Jr., chairman of the patent, trade mark, and copyright section, presented a program to the house of delegates which he contended would "end the civil war on patents and help the country to remain on the industrial alert."

"The Senate Patents Committee hearing conducted by Senator Bone has shown no evidence of anything wrong with invention or patent laws," Mr. Hackley said. "If there have been abusive uses of patents, it has been more because of failure of the antitrust division of the Department of Justice to enforce the laws on the books than because of lack of legislation."

THOSE WHO DON'T PAY

Several facts remain unchanged throughout all the income and sales tax debates. The present program is inadequate for the job it is intended to do. Present sources have been taxed to the limit. Millions of people who are making more money than they had ever made in their lives are not reached at all by the present tax program.

"In 1940," says the New York Times, "fewer than 4,000,000 persons paid Federal income taxes. In 1941 the figure was lifted to 7,400,000; and this year, according to Treasury estimates, about 13,000,000 were expected to make taxable returns. The new tax bill still further raises the number making taxable returns, possibly to as many as 20,000,000, but of this large number the vast majority will pay only very small amounts."

Major opposition to a Federal sales tax comes not from those who are already heavily taxed but from those who are not paying any income tax at all.

MOTHER OF INVENTION

The old saying, "necessity is the mother of invention," is proving itself over and over in American industry during these wartimes.

In the laboratories of large companies important strides have been made in chemical, mechanical and other fields by constant research. Many of these new things and new methods cannot be revealed at present, but in nearly all instances they will be available to the public after the war.

An electrical manufacturing company, determined not to let shortages slow down its war production, reports that twenty thousand pounds of nickel—enough to make armor-plate for 55 medium tanks—will be conserved this year by the company through substitution of a newly developed steel for a nickel alloy in war-needed electronic equipment.

"In former years we made one part of the ignition equipment—a doughnut-shaped device known as a reactor—out of an alloy containing about 50 per cent nickel," an official of the company explains. "But when it became apparent that more and more nickel would be needed to make steel alloy used in armor-plating, tanks and battleships, we started searching for a substitute material." They found it and as a result valuable materials are being saved for arms.

And then there is another type of research going on within the framework of the great industrial plants now turned wholly to war. It is the application of the "know how" developed in shop and at bench and at lathe for better, more efficient and more economical methods of manufacture. Thus, one corporation discloses that more than 15,000 "produce more for victory" suggestions have been submitted in the first two months the plan was in operation.

Far from putting a check on the ingenuity of American industries, scientists, and workmen, the pressure of war has supplied a new edge and keenness.

SERVICE TO THE WHOLE NATION

In July, War Bond sales—not counting the sale of War Stamps—reached the record figure of $900,900,000. June sales, by way of comparison, totaled $634,000,000. Much of the credit for that great increase must be laid squarely at the door of American retailers, whose nation-wide "Retailers for Victory" drive started with a bang in July.

The participating retailers include both chains and independents. They include stores dealing in food, hardware, furniture, drygoods, drugs, shoes, clothing and everything else that merchants sell. They include stores in great cities, and stores in little villages. They represent, in short American merchants of all kinds—and American merchandising in all its many branches.

The scope of the campaign is indicated by a release from the Institute of Distribution, an organization serving a large number of the nation's non-grocery chain systems. Here, in part, is what the release said: "With approximately 185 miles of windows dressed to popularize Bonds and Stamps; with nearly 600,000 employees stimulated to push and sell Stamps; with radio programs reaching nearly 45,000,000 listeners and newspaper advertisements that are part of approximately 430,000,000 lines used by them, yearly, this group attempted, earnestly, wholeheartedly—like other groups of retailers—to do its share. . . . It harnessed its entire resources to the assignment by the Treasury of selling a minimum of 4 per cent of its entire July sales volume in War Bonds and Stamps."

The figures show how successful this great drive has been. And it will continue day after day, month after month, until the war is won. These retailers are doing it without a cent of profit—and they are paying out of their own pockets the heavy promotional costs involved. That is real "service to the whole nation."

A California company has barricaded the entrance of its plant with sandbags and other trappings of front-line war, until it looks like a trench. The idea is to remind workers that they are soldiers of production.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

Did you know that they don't hang men with wooden legs in China? No, sir, they use rope.

And did you hear about the Indian chief who ordered a ham sandwich at a soda fountain? He lifted the slices of bread and then said to the attendant, "Ugh! You slice ham?" The other replied, "Yes, I sliced the ham." The chief grunted, "Ugh! You darn near miss 'em."

You might think that editing a newspaper in a small town would be devoid of excitement. But back in the days when this writer was a small town editor, it was a favorite pastime in many communities to "give the editor a licking."

I recall one very tense occasion when two men walked into the newspaper office. What made the occasion tense was that one of the men, just the day before, had been acquitted of murder. He was a big fellow, with a temper so fiery that once or twice during the trial he started from his seat with the intention of taking a swing at the special prosecutor but was dissuaded by his own attorney. Of course I had written a full account of these, and other, events in connection with the trial for our little paper each day.

And now here he was, one killing out of the way, entering my office. Bringing along a friend, too—(always a bad sign as that means the trouble-seeker wants a witness so there will be fair play). He asked if I was the editor, which I acknowledged. He then called for a copy of the day before's paper. (Another bad sign—because the preliminary to giving the editor a whipping is to confront him with the offending writup).

The visitors read the account through—it was the main article in the paper—and then the recent defendant said:

"That was a mighty fine speech my lawyer made to the jury and you've got a real good writup of it too. Let me have six copies, please—and how much are they?"
"Not a cent, not a cent," said a very relieved newspaperman. "Take them with our compliments."

Gems Of Thought

Pleasure is very seldom found where it is sought. Our brightest blazes of gladness are commonly kindled by unexpected sparks.—Samuel Johnson.

A life merely of pleasure, or chiefly of pleasure, is always a poor and worthless life, not worth the living; always unsatisfactory in its course, always miserable in its end.—Theodore Parker.

False pleasure will be, is chastened; it has no right to be at peace.—Mary Baker Eddy.

The pursuit in which we cannot ask God's protection must be criminal: the pleasure for which we dare not thank Him cannot be innocent.—Richard Fuller.

He who can at all times sacrifice pleasure to duty approaches sublimity.—Lavater.

Goodness consists not in the outward things we do, but in the inward thing we are.—Chapin.

The reality and individuality of man are good and God-made, and they are here to be seen and demonstrated; it is only the evil belief that renders them obscure.
—Mary Baker Eddy.

Man's capacities have never been measured; nor are we to judge what he can do by any precedents, so little has been tried.
—Henry David Thoreau.

MAKE MEAT GO FARTHER

COLLEGE STATION.—Secretary Wickard's announcement that this country will experience meat rationing within a few months will mean fair sharing of the nation's supply and should not bring hardships to anyone.

"We'll be on shorter meat rations than we have been recently, but we have enough meat and other protein foods to keep American families well nourished," says Louise Bryant, specialist in home management for the A. & M. College Extension Service.

To make meat go farther, she suggests that homemakers use more of foods which are plentiful and less beef and pork. Fortunately, there's an abundant supply of protein foods. Supplies of cheese are at an all time high, and there are more chickens than ever before. Although beans are not an exact substitute for meat, they make a good nourishing dish, the specialist says. Beans, too, are plentiful.

"If every American family has a dish instead of pork chops more often than usual, or chicken instead of steak, the pressure on beef and pork supplies will not be so great," Miss Bryant suggests.

Other ways of making meat go farther include serving more stews and hashes. It is a good idea, too, to save all trimmings both of fat and well-flavored lean tidbits. Meat bones may be saved for making soup. Here are other helps: Always keep meat clean and cold so none will go to waste from spoilage or poor flavor. Cook meat according to cut and fatness, and with moderate heat. And, finally, use different seasonings in meat dishes for variety.

War industry has boosted employment 120 percent and payrolls 227.7 per cent in Beaumont in the last year, according to a report of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research for July.

Nimitz Birthplace Typical Residence

AUSTIN, Tex.—The house at Fredericksburg in which Admiral Chester Nimitz, Pacific hero of World War II, was born is one of the early Texas residences that typifies the best in pioneer architecture, it is pointed out in a new University of Texas publication.

A summer class in architectural history, taught by Prof. Samuel E. Gideon, collected material on the culture and architecture of early Texas, publishing a mimeographed booklet containing both discussion and illustration.

Special attention is paid to the study, simple stone houses—and the handmade furniture that was in them—in Fredericksburg, built nearly a hundred years ago by the original German settlers there.

One article in the booklet deals with the art of the Indians, expressed in their pottery, basket-weaving, and pictographs drawn on cave walls or painted on the sides of tepees.

HE EATS A TON A YEAR

COLLEGE STATION.—Johnny Doughboy is a husky young fellow and he does a stiff day's work. That's why he eats a lot more than Mr. Average Citizen.

That's another good reason why the nation's farmers are producing vastly-increased amounts of food in the Food for Freedom program.

The Texas USDA War Board points out that records of the U. S. Army Quartermaster Corps and the Department of Agriculture indicate that:

Every day a soldier drinks more than a quart of milk in some form or other. A civilian drinks less than a quart in two days.

Every day a soldier eats almost seven pounds of food. That's three pounds more than a civilian eats.

Every week a soldier eats 9 eggs. A civilian eats fewer than 6 eggs a week.

Every week a soldier puts away 5 and 1-2 pounds of meat, poultry and fish. A civilian eats less than 3 pounds.

Every year a soldier eats 1 and 1-4 tons of food. A civilian eats less than 3-4 of a ton.

Every year a soldier eats 2485 pounds of food. A civilian eats 1406 pounds.

It takes half a ton more to keep the soldier fit.

Texas annually produces enough eggs to give one to almost every person in the entire world.

Generally accepted as the largest ranch in Texas, the historic King Ranch includes more than a million acres which lie in eight counties—Nueces, Kleberg, Jim Wells, Brooks, Kennedy, Hidalgo, Willacy and Camreón.

There are not nearly so many complaints about the weather as there would be if the government regulated it.

GET POULTRY HOUSES READY FOR WINTER

COLLEGE STATION.—A large part of the chickens hatched last spring will come into production during September. The eggs these young layers produce during the fall and winter will count heavily in maintaining Texas' quota of the 1942 food goals. Accordingly, says H. H. Weatherby, assistant poultryman of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, the hens should be provided with the most favorable surroundings in order to assure as nearly maximum output as is possible.

To provide comfortable housing and safeguard the health of the poultry, Weatherby suggests that poultrymen do the following things during September:

Clean and disinfect laying houses before pullets are moved in.

Repair roofs, walls, windows, ventilators and floors before cold weather.

Check all lighting equipment. Lay in a supply of good litter. Provide at least one foot of feeding space for each five hens.

If pullets haven't been vaccinated for pox, do it now.

Provide plenty of ventilation in the house until cold weather.

Cull old hens and pullets closely. September is a good time to start fall chicks.

It takes plenty of good, clean feed to make eggs. Weatherby points out. A hen laying 110 to 120 eggs requires 69.3 pounds of feed and uses 7.06 pounds to make a dozen

The Suit That Bought A Bond

Jack in his suit, Jill in her suit. Designed and made by students of the Traphagen School of Fashion, New York.

When Jack left for the service, Jill saw her opportunity to help Uncle Sam's conservation program, by converting Jack's all wool suit, which his uniform has replaced, into one for herself. Having been trained in the Clothing Construction Department of the Traphagen School, she was fully prepared to design and make the smart suit she is wearing. The cutting was well planned for every piece, even to the cuffs of the trousers, which were used in an appropriate way. His silk pajamas served as jacket lining and matching blouse, and so a very chic ensemble was created for only 50 cents for findings.

It's patriotic to be thrifty and when you can utilize a man's perfectly good suit for your own and buy a bond or two because of your thriftiness, you're doing your most bit effectively on the home front to win the war.

Silas Redwine, Miss Martha Henson Wed September 8th

Announcement was made here this week of the marriage of Silas Redwine, formerly of Munday, to Miss Martha K. Henson of Ft. Worth. The couple were married in Fort Worth on Tuesday, September 8th.

Mrs. Redwine is a well-known Fort Worth girl and had resided in that city for some time.

Mr. Redwine, who was reared in Munday, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Redwine of this city and is a grandson of the late R. P. Munday, founder of the town of Munday and first postmaster here. He has been serving in the merchant marines for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Redwine visited here a few days this week on their honeymoon trip to Carlsbad, New Mexico.

Ex-Seniors of Munday High School Honored at Party

A party at the home of Mrs. Lola Jones last Friday night honored the 1942 graduates of Munday high school, when Ben Bowden and Miss Juarey Jones entertained the group.

A number of games were enjoyed, after which refreshments of ice cream and devil's food cake were served. It was learned at the party that some 14 of the 21 graduates plan to enter college this fall.

Present for the affair were Dick Harrell, Ben Bowden, Juarey Jones, Dixie Atkinson, Charles Baker, Doyle Jones, Ralph Tidwell, Willard Reeves, Mary Loui Beath, Jimmie Henslee, Elnor Beth Hendrix, Flora Alice Haymes, Lola Jones and Misses De Loach and King.

Pioneer Circle Meets Thursday With Mrs. Robertson

Members of the Pioneer Circle met last Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Robertson.

All members had an enjoyable time telling about old times and visiting with other members.

The circle will meet on Thursday, September 24, in the home of Mrs. Beecher. All members are urged to be present for this enjoyable meeting.

Mann McCarty, who has been employed in Carlsbad, New Mexico, came in Monday for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McCarty.

Wesleyan Service Guild Meets at Church Monday

Members of the Wesleyan Service Guild met last Monday evening at the Methodist church with Mrs. O. H. Spann as leader of the Bible lesson taken from St. John. Mrs. R. O. Kirk gave the devotional, followed by prayer by Miss Merle Dingus and a song, "Living For Jesus" by the guild members.

Present were Meses. O. H. Spann, R. L. Kirk, M. F. Billingsley, Bill Billingsley, Joe Bailey King, Misses Ruth Baker and Merle Dingus and a visitor, Mrs. Mack Bogard.

The guild will meet at the church at 8 p. m. next Monday, with Mrs. Billingsley leading the book study. All members are urged to be present.

Mitchell Hosts To Bridge Club Tuesday Night

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Mitchell entertained the Monday Night Bridge Club at their home last Tuesday night with three tables of bridge.

High honors at the games went to Mrs. Jimmie Harpham and Grady Roberts. The hostess served a delicious refreshment course to the following members and guests:

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Harpham, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brouch, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jungman, Mrs. H. A. Pinedeton, H. A. Pinedeton for late tea, and the host and hostess.

Firemen Name New President Of Association

John Robinson, Archer City, Is Elected

Munday was represented by two firemen when the Seymour Volunteer Fire Department was host to the West Texas Firemen's Association on Tuesday of last week.

One hundred delegates and their wives attended from other towns in the district which includes: Electra, Burkburnett, Wichita Falls, Archer City, Olney, Throckmorton, Munday, Crowell and firemen from Sheppard Field and Camp Walters.

The Electra team brought their ancient Ford jalopy, painted red and fire bell clanging.

AAA OFFICIALS INSPECT CASTOR BEANS

Castor beans, vital to America's war effort, might well prove a profitable crop in some sections of Texas, in the opinion of Adolph Veselka, Nueces County farmer, who planted 30 acres of castor beans as his part in the AAA's program to produce ample supplies of seed for the coming year. Above, left to right, Howard T. Kingsbery, State AAA Committeeman, Veselka, William C. Newell, Chairman of County AAA Committee, and Curtis S. Pegues, County AAA Administrative Officer, take a look at Veselka's crop which may make more than a thousand pounds of seed per acre.

Addresses were given by "Sinkiller" Sims of Itasca, Henry Smith of Wichita Falls and Bain Satterfield of Austin. At the business session officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows:

John E. Robinson of Archer City, president; L. E. Robinson of Olney, vice president; and Ernest Pruitt, secretary. Pruitt was secretary for eight years previously, stepping out the past year to serve as president.

The first pension check was presented by Satterfield to T. A. Bledsoe, president of the Seymour firemen, who has been with the department since 1919.

In the hose connecting contest Electra won first place with the time 20 1-2 seconds. Archer City came in second with a time of 21 seconds. Archer City won the water polo contest with Burkburnett second. A Sheppard Field team won from everybody, but was not eligible for the prizes.

A big chicken barbecue was served at the city park in Seymour at 7:30 p. m. At nine o'clock a dance was given at the lodge hall, with firemen and their wives as guests.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Akins and son, Jerry, have returned to the Hefner community from McCauley, Texas. Mr. Akins is teacher in the Hefner school.

J. C. McGee of Knox City was a business visitor here Wednesday.

This Army Life!

Note: The following is a letter sent by Tom Cluck's son to his parents, who reside in the Sunset community:

I am one of the fellows who made the world safe for democracy. What a crazy thing it was! I fought and fought but had to go anyway. I was called in Class A.

I remember when I registered. I went up to the desk, and my milkman was in charge. He said, "What's your name?" I said, "Young man, you know my name." "What's your name?" he barked, so I told him, "August Childs." He said, "are you an alien?" "No," I replied, I feel fine." Then he said, "When did you first see the light of day?" and I said when I moved to Philadelphia from Pittsburg. He asked how old I was, so I told him 23 the first of September, and he said, "The first of September you'll be in Australia, and that will be the last of August."

A veterinarian started to examine me. He asked me if I ever had measles, smallpox, St. Vitus dance, and if I took fits. I said, "No, only when I stay in a saloon too long." Then he said, "Can you see all right?" I said, "Sure, but I'll be cockeyed tonight if I pass." Then he listened around my chest and said, "I think you have a wart somewhere." I said, "Wart, my neck, that's a button in your ear." The doctor said "he had examined 140,000 men and that I was the most perfect physical wreck he had examined. Then he handed me a card—Class A.

Then I went to camp, and I guess they didn't think I'd live long. The first fellow wrote on my card "Flying Corps." I went a little farther and some guy said, "Look what the wind's blowin' in," and I said, "Wind nothing—the draft's doing it."

On the second morning they put these clothes on me. What an outfit! As soon as you are in them you think you can lick anybody. They have two sizes — too large and too small. The pants are too tight, I can't sit down. The shoes are so big I turned around three times and they didn't move. And what a raincoat! It strained the rain.

I passed an officer all dressed with a fancy belt and all that stuff. He said, calling after me, "Didn't you notice what I had on?" I said, "Yes, what are you kicking about? Look what they gave me."

I landed in camp with $75. In ten minutes I was broke. I never saw so many 12's and 3's on a pair of dice. No matter what I did I went broke. Something went wrong even in cards. One time I got five aces and was afraid to bet. A good thing I didn't for a fellow next to me had six kings. Finally I said, "This is a crooked poker game." The fellow next to me said, "We're playing pinocle."

Everything is crazy! If you were a livery hand you get put in the medical department. If you were a night watchman you were made officer of the day.

I saw a guy with a wooden leg and asked him what he was doing in the army. He said, "I'm going to mash potatoes."

It was five below zero one morning, and they had us out in our underwear for inspection. You talk about scenery—red flannels, B.V.D.'s, and all kinds. The union suit I had on would fit Tony Galento. The lieutenant lined us up and told me to stand up. I said, "I'm standing up. This underwear makes you think I'm setting down." He got mad and put me to digging ditches. A little while later he passed and said, "Don't throw dirt up here." I said, "where am I to throw it . . . Dig another hole and throw it in there?"

By that time I was pretty mad, and so was another soldier, and I got us a pint, and finally Jones acted so funny I ran to the doctor and told him Jones was going blind. He asked me what we were doing and I told him. So he asked if Jones saw pink elephants, and I said "No, that's the trouble. They're there alright, but he doesn't see them."

Three days later we sailed for Australia. Marching down the pier, I had some more bad luck. I had a sergeant who stuttered, and it took him so long to say "Halt" that 27 of us marched overboard. They pulled us out and the captain came along and said, "Fall in."

I was on the water 12 days and was seasick all of time. Nothing going down, everything coming up. I leaned over the railing all of the time. In the middle of one of my best leans, the captain said "what company are you in?" I said, "I'm all by myself." He asked if the brigadier was up yet, and I said "If I swallowed it, it's up."

Talk about your dumb people. I said to one of the fellows that I guessed we dropped anchor. He said, "I knew we'd lose it. It's been hanging out ever since we left New York."

We had a lifeboat drill, and when the boat was being lowered over the side of the ship it spilled some of the men into the water. Only the second lieutenant and I were left in the boat. The lieutenant gave me orders to pull them in by the hair of the head. I was struggling with one when I fellow with a bald head yelled, "Pull me out!" I said, "Go down and come back up right."

Well, we landed in Australia and were immediately sent to the trenches. All the cannons started to roar, the shells falling, started shaking with patriotism. I tried to hide behind a tree but SOLDIER LETTER—GAL 2 — there weren't enough trees for the officers.

The captain came around and said, "at five o'clock we go over the top." I said, "I want a furlough." He said, "Haven't you got any red blood in you?" and I said, "Yes, but I don't want to see any of it." He asked where I would like to go, and I said anywhere where it was warm and he told me where to go!

Five o'clock, and we went over the trenches. Ten thousand Japs came at us, but they all looked at me as though I had started the war. Our captain yelled "Fire at will!" I guess the guy behind me thought I was Will. He fired and hit me in the excitement.

On the way to the hospital I asked a fellow where they were taking me. He said, "You're going to a morgue."

Dance Frock

For campus or sorority tea dances, this evening dress of seersucker looks delightfully cool and fresh. Worn by Lynn Merrick, Republic film player, the evening gown is designed on a white background with the conventional pattern of roses in bands increasing in size down the skirt.

"There's some mistake," I said, "I'm not dead." He yelled, "Lie back down, do you want to make a fool of a doctor?" Finally a pretty nurse came in and said, "Move over" . . . Oh, that's another story!

An angler said to a friend: "Yes, the fish I caught was too small to fool with, so I got a couple of men to help me throw it back into the water."

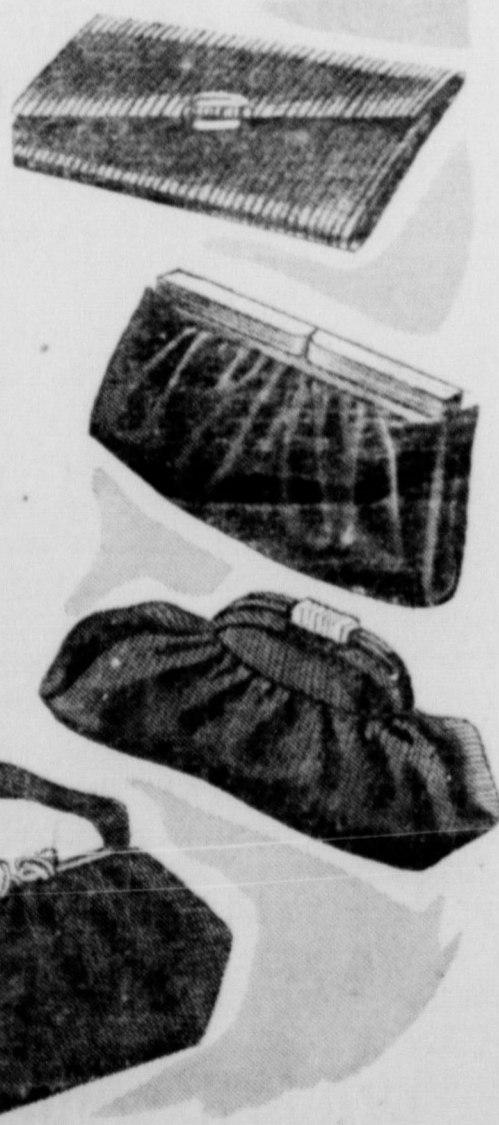

In 1940, Texas had 85 per cent of the Angora goats in the United States and produced 86 per cent of the nation's mohair.

Minister Collins will speak at the morning service but he is conducting a revival each night at Benjamin and therefore will not speak at the evening service. However, there will be a service Sunday night and there will be a preacher for the occasion. The church is enjoying a very large attendance and you are invited to further enlarge the congregation by your attendance.

THE METHODIST CHURCH

Luther Kirk

America is proud of her young men; they fight for a high cause. But what is that cause? The cause that so many neglect. What do you care about the freedom of worship anyhow? Some people would be as well off without it as they are with it. Many never exercise their privilege of worship. Do you? It is the very thing our boys are dying for, the very thing we are buying bonds to preserve. Then let's avail ourselves with our God given privileges.

What would you think of a soldier who pledged allegiance to his country and then assisted the enemy with his influence? I have seen the individual who pledged himself to God and the Church and lends his influence to the enemies of the church. He is in a sense what the untrue soldier would be.

Let's hold high the ideals for which our young men are dying, by accepting the privileges of worship by being present in our churches each and every Lord's day.

Let's make Sunday, September 20th the best day of the year in every church in town. If you are not attending church elsewhere, come and worship with us.
Sunday School—10:00 a. m.
Morning Worship—11:00 a. m.
Youth's Service—6:30 p. m.
Evening Service—7:15 p. m.
Rev. S. H. Young, District Superintendent of Stamford District, will preach at the evening hour.

Rev. and Mrs. Luther Kirk were visitors in Knox City and Rochester last Monday.

Mrs. Ike Huskinson and son, Bill, visited with Mr. Huskinson in Wichita Falls over the week end. Ike accompanied them home Sunday and visited relatives and friends here until Monday afternoon.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

We give you a cordial invitation to all the services next Sunday.

You will find an excellent spirit of worship and good fellowship. There were 192 in Sunday school last Sunday. The special programs that Mr. Harrell, our Supt., is putting on in the closing of the Sunday School hour are proving very instructive and inspirational.

The call to worship and response to the leadership of God should be uppermost and paramount. May we not let the cares of this world and the deceitfulness of riches choke out the good impressions and impulses that we have. Great Christian characters are not grown from spasmodic and intermittent service.

W. H. ALBERTSON.

Top Prices Paid for Stock In Auction Sale

The Munday Livestock Commission Co. reports another big run of cattle and hogs for last Tuesday's sale. Top hogs sold from $19.50 to $13.75; sows, $12.25 to $12.75.

VOLLEYBALL TEAM ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The volleyball team met last week end, selected officers for this year. Miss Brock is going to coach us, and we all think we shall have a very good team.

The officers are: Mildred Screws, captain; Marjorie Howeth, co-captain; Retta Jo White, reporter, and Bernice Douglas, reporter.

Senior News

The seniors were "tickled all over" last Friday when we ordered our class rings. Most of us ordered the light weight rings with the heavy price.

The seniors have been studying Chaucer's "Canterbury Tales" in English, and even though it is written in old English it sounds like Greek to them. But Miss DeLoach expects us to read and understand it, so—so—so we do it! Because we might get a "fippin" if we don't!

Freshman News

The usual excitement of being a freshman in Munday high school has not worn off for the freshman class. They like all their new teachers, and they are very glad to have Mrs. Bowden again this year. She is our class sponsor, too.

The class officers are as follows: John Lee Spann, president; Betty Jane Spann, vice president; Patsy Ruth Massey, secretary, and Oleta Norman, reporter.

They elected as their class mothers, Mrs. Beck, Mrs. Borden, Mrs. Boggs and Mrs. Chamberlain. The class feels very fortunate that they all accepted.

The girls are making aprons in home economics. It's a lot of fun.

The entire school is anticipating with pleasure the opening football game to be held at Haskell on Friday night. Come and yell for us, won't you?

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NEWS

The problem of an over crowded first grade was solved with the addition of a new first grade teacher, Mrs. Dean.

About 112 elementary pupils are eating lunch in the lunchroom this week.

Pending the arrival of a new teacher for the 6th, 7th and 8th grades classes have been taken by the principal with the other teachers helping by carrying a heavier load.

Seventh Grade News

Seventh grade arithmetic classes are finding out just how important a little dot can be. They are studying about the decimal point. More attention will be given to spelling in the seventh grade this year, and in all the other grades.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

The eighth grade pupils of Munday School have been spending most of their time trying to become acquainted with their lessons. Naturally, they seem more difficult than previous classes.

Several of the members of the class attended the first meeting of the band Monday at four fifteen, in the band room. They seemed to enjoy the session very much.

Football—six-man—and softball seems to be the favorite sport of the boys and volleyball seems to be the "tops" with the girls.

The Health and Safety class has been working on posters for fire-prevention. They have been

THE "SALS" ARE ON THE JOB

DOING her share in producing the tools of war is this attractive girl employee of Small Arms Limited, the government-owned company at Long Branch, near Toronto. The "SAL" on her smart overalls is the insignia of the company (not her name), worn proudly by hundreds of young women who are turning out rifles and machine guns for their fathers, brothers and sweethearts in the armed forces. This girl is operating a milling machine on a Lee-Enfield rifle. The management of this plant's appeal for more "SALS" to meet augmented production schedules has resulted in many more Canadian women joining the ranks of these women working for victory.

Sixth Grade News

The sixth grade has two new pupils, making an enrollment of 42. This class has chosen officers for their room. They are also having a very interesting study in social science by following the early Spanish and French explorers in America on an outline map.

They are very grateful for the good lunch they have been having at the lunch room.

Mrs. Chester Bowden visited the seventh grade history class Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. D. C. Green returned home the first of last week from Lamesa, where she has been visiting with relatives for about two months.

Mrs. John Cooper of Haskell was a business visitor here last Monday. Mrs. Cooper stated that her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Sollock, visited her last week. Doyle leaves Friday for air corps training, and Mrs. Sollock will return to work for the Armour Packing Co.

Second Grade

We are enjoying school very much. We are very glad that Julie Massey has recovered from a tonsillotomy and has entered school. Now there are 27 of us.

Third Grade News

The third grade has a new pupil this week, Virgil Ely of Canyon, Texas.

Today, our enrollment has reached 27. Glendon Wallace and Kenneth Hendricks are absent this week. Patricia Clowis was absent Monday due to illness.

Thornton Ried's grandmother, Mrs. Erin Betterton, sent the third grade a bouquet of lovely roses Tuesday morning. Doyle Purifoy and Loys Gray brought bouquets Monday.

The boys and girls seem very happy over the first few days of school. We are studying about "Our Friends and Neighbors." We hope to really get acquainted with friends of whom we are studying.

First Grade

We are now working on a home unit. It has been very enjoyable getting acquainted with each other and the members of their families.

We regretted very much that our family had to be divided into two groups. There are 22 pupils in one group and 23 in the other.

CASTOR BEANS—NEW CASH CROP

ROBSTOWN, Texas. — Give them time to learn more about production methods and castor beans might well become an important cash crop to some Texas farmers.

So believes Adolph Veselka, Nueces county farmer, who planted 30 acres of castor beans this year to help provide seed for possible big plantings of the important oil-bearing bean next year.

Veselka's acreage is part of the 3,300 acres planted by Texas farmers this year in the AAA's program to insure ample supplies of castor bean seed for planting next year—if it becomes necessary to practice self-sufficiency in castor

The Rhineland school has concluded six weeks of summer school, and will continue on the 1942-43 term after closing for a few weeks to allow the students to help gather the cotton crop.

Senior Report

The seniors seem very happy. We wonder if they would rather pull bolls than go to school. We studied very hard this week because we had to take our six weeks exams on Wednesday and Thursday.

This is the last report for a while, for we are having a few weeks out to pull bolls. I hope all of you will enjoy your vacation. I know the seniors will.

Here are some rules for Hitler's house guests:

1. Smoking is forbidden except in your bedroom.

2. No one may remain seated in a room when the Fuehrer enters.

3. Women guests are forbidden to use heavy make-up on face and neck.

4. The guests cannot talk to servants, or carry any parcel or message from the premises for any servant.

In case you think you'd like to pay Hitler a visit don't forget these rules.

We'll be seeing you soon; that is, after cotton picking.

Junior Report

This week was a busy one, as it was examination week. Each of us tried to make good grades.

We think this is our last week of summer school. A little advice (unnecessary to many people) to you fellow students: Don't work too hard. We do want to see all of you back in school after it starts in the fall.

Questions on Aircraft . . .

To whom was issued the first aviator's license?

Glenn H. Curtiss. The first license as an air pilot in America was issued to him June 8, 1917.

What causes the highest percentage of accidents to airplanes carrying passengers? Weather conditions, the greatest of which is fog.

How many Americans made emergency parachute jumps from balloons during World War I? There were 117 made in the zone of operations, 59 of which were made from balloons which had been attacked and set fire by enemy air-craft and 58 had been attacked but did not catch fire.

Sophomore Report

News is getting so scarce that it is hard to make a report. We are studying for our six weeks tests.

Clarion is wondering why there are so many ink spots on the floor. Know anything about it, Walker. Bad business, my friend.

The class is wondering why Alvin M. is always on the sophomore's side of the room. Cleo, do you know anything about it? It'll get him in trouble!

Walker is wondering where Harold will get some new bike tires. Harold, you shouldn't burn them up trying to get to tell Cleo what you have heard about her.

Raymond is wondering why Rose Mary was holding her neck Monday during Algebra class. "Big Shot," do you know anything about it?

Freshman News

We are glad that this is the last week of school, but, nevertheless, some would rather go to school than pull bolls.

We Wonder Why . . .

Vernon likes to pull bolls at Montgomery's. Is there a boy there, or what?

Margaret was absent Monday and Tuesday.

Mary Ann is going to spend the night with Jewel Marie. Anyone going to be there???

Louise has hair oil in school.

Some made low grades in their science notebooks. LaVerne and Ariene, know anything about it?

Room III News

The eighth grade students are all glad for school to turn out for a while. Everyone is anxious to start pulling cotton to get some money so they can buy war bonds and stamps to help defend America. Below are a few jokes that your reporter thought you might enjoy:

"Here, you two boys, you can't get in on one ticket."

"I'd like to know why not. We're half brothers."

Farmer: I get 45 miles to a gallon.

Stranger: Gosh! What kind of gas do you use.

Farmer: I don't use any kind of gas. I just give my old mule a gallon of water and she's good for 45 miles.

Employer: And you can write shorthand?

Prospective Employee: Yes, but it takes me longer.

Report of Room IV

Yip, yip, yippee! Here comes the sixth week of school. Soon we will be out of school. Some of us surely are anxious to get out of school. We are studying the land of the midnight sun in geography. We Wonder Why . . .

So many flunk in English tests. Larry is always noisy.

Velma is always turning around backwards in her desk.

Chester is smarter than Marion.

Naney always borrows a certain gun eraser.

Velma wants school to turn out.

STENOGRAPHERS NEEDED IN WASHINGTON

Several changes designed to speed up recruiting of vitally needed stenographers in Washington, D. C., were announced today by the Tenth Civil Service region.

Under new requirements for the junior stenographer position, entrance salary $1440 a year, the age limit is lowered to 17 1-2 years, and applicants must be able to take dictation at the rate of 80 words per minute instead of 96 words.

A promotion examination to junior stenographer positions in Washington for all clerks and typists already employed in federal agencies throughout Louisiana and Texas was also announced.

Applicants now employed as clerks will be required to take a typing and stenography test. Typists will only be required to take the stenography test. No general test will be required under the promotion examination.

Applications may be secured from any first or second class post office in Louisiana or Texas, or from the regional director, Tenth Civil Service region, Customhouse, New Orleans.

Vacancies Listed On Highway Patrol

AUSTIN. — More than 500 young Texans already have filed applications for the 70 vacancies to be filled soon in the Texas Highway Patrol, State Police Director Homer Garrison said today.

September 30 was set as the last day on which applications will be accepted. Highway Patrol Chief Hill Foreman hopes to begin a seven-week training school for the recruits on or about November 1.

Applicants must be between 23 and 35 years old, not less than 5 feet 8 inches in height, and in perfect physical condition. They must weigh not less than two nor more than three pounds per inch of height and have a high school education or its equivalent.

Application forms are available by mail from Colonel Garrison at Austin.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, M.D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN. — Strengthening a campaign for the control of Typhus in Texas, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, announced today that the State Department of Health in collaboration with the League of Texas Municipalities has prepared a pattern ordinance for the disposal of garbage which it is hoped will be widely adopted by cities and communities throughout the State.

"Rats, like any other animals, seek those fields which offer the most food and best shelter," Dr. Cox said. "Any Typhus control program must necessarily hinge on making food inaccessible to rats. It has been found that the rat population in Texas is much greater in those towns where no regular garbage collection is maintained."

Dr. Cox said that this pattern ordinance conforming with war restrictions eliminates the use of critical materials substituting wooden garbage pails for the cast iron type formerly used. In order to eliminate the use of war materials for building incinerators the ordinance provides for the use of the land-fill method.

Some of the cities now considering the adoption of this ordinance are Brownwood, Mineral Wells, Killeen, Velasco, Ft. Stockton, and other defense areas. Dr. Cox stated that full information concerning this ordinance can be had through the State Health Department and suggested that all cities and communities, which might be benefited by such protection consult the State Department of Health for full particulars.

Federal allotment of funds for garbage disposal have been made in some instances in defense areas where local funds were inadequate.

Retrieve Those Birds!

One more reminder — Retrieve every white-wing you kill! No matter how dense the brush is! Every year thousands of white-wings are crippled and left to die in the thick brush. You can do your part by retrieving every bird brought down.

A railroad locomotive, quickly parked outside a war plant's fence and connected to the factory's steam lines, supplied power and saved precious time recently when split boiler tubes threatened to stop production.

Texas has 239 plants engaged in clothing manufacture, employing 13,364 wage earners, according to Dr. A. B. Cox, director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

In five of eleven items of men's and boys' work clothing manufacturers, Texas outranks New York, a University of Texas survey of clothing industry reveals.

At Two-bits A Dozen

Our 1942 Taxes Would Blast Adolf, et al., With 55,200,000 Bullets Like These!

Bullets, not politics or words, will win this war. Bullets, guns, tanks, planes, and ships. These are all items that can't be just talked into existence—they must be MADE. And it takes MONEY and unselfish work.

Money, real man power—and ample electric power.

To make and use these weapons, men must be trained.

In all the categories vital to the war effort, this company is taking an important part. As for MONEY—our payment in 1942 taxes will total not less than $1,150,000 . . . enough to buy 55,200,000 bullets at the Army's specified price of 25 cents a dozen. The company has bought $50,000 in war bonds. Its employees are buying bonds in a united, organized program.

As for MAN POWER, a total of 122 men from this company are already in the armed forces where their experience and training in business, electrical engineering and distribution service has been of inestimable value to Uncle Sam. Twenty-one of them already commissioned officers . . . one lieutenant colonel, six majors, four captains, nine lieutenants, and one ensign.

Both, money and man power, are things which are being given . . . must be given . . . by every West Texan, every American. These are contributions which each man, woman and child can make to the Victory cause.

As for ELECTRIC POWER—it's a job for specialists. Today we can be thankful that America has men in non-political enterprises who can deliver the goods—with surpluses!

America's electric companies, now under business management and FREE of Hitlerian political control and threats of the concentration camp, are providing more POWER than Hitler can command in ALL the Nazified countries combined!

This is one factor on which hinges the final outcome of the war. With the wealth of this nation, its resources and man power, a victory for the United Nations is inevitable.

We can all look forward to a future made even brighter by electric service in a land where people are free to plan and create enterprises that build and serve!

Steady Increase in Strikes Since Pearl Harbor Shown By WLB Figures

Less Time Lost But Stoppages Based on Trivial Issues Grew in Number

Of serious concern to the public are strikes in industry which, according to War Labor Board figures, have shown a steady increase since Pearl Harbor. The following strikes during the first six months of 1942 or since the Hawaiian Islands were bombed by the Japanese:

The number of strikes in war industries has increased from 27 in January to 192 in June, an increase of 611 per cent. The men involved in these strikes numbered 11,605 in January and 84,775 in June. The number of man hours lost in war production industries, because of strikes, has increased from 369,576 in January to 2,037,221 in June, an increase of 451 per cent. During the first six months of 1942, 7,176,344 man-hours have been lost in war industries because of strikes. This figure does not include the time lost by other workers because of the interruption of productive processes in plants dependent upon strike-bound suppliers. While strikes are less frequent and involve less loss of time than in 1941, there has been an alarming increase in strikes since January. Many of the strikes in 1942 have been jurisdictional disputes and unauthorized strikes.

Strikes on Trivial Issues
Many of the strikes are due to trivial issues, often having nothing whatever to do with hours or wages. Nevertheless, these strikes over petty issues are holding up important production in many places.

Emphasis is no longer on protracted, nationally publicized strikes involving thousands of men which characterized the year 1941.

Rather, today, the "hit-and-run" type of strike, the slow-down, and the trivial local issues feature strike news. Even these are obscured in many instances as no official recognition is given to strikes of shorter duration than 24 hours.

It has been found that organized labor, and not the unaffiliated worker, is responsible for strikes as is evident in the record: 99 percent of the strikes have occurred in unionized plants, and only 20 percent of American labor is unionized.

"Work Stoppages Cannot Be Permitted"

On July 21st Wayne L. Morse, member of the War Labor Board, issued the following warning:

"As we go further and further into this war it becomes clearer and clearer that we cannot permit any stoppages of work. I don't care whether they are over jurisdictional disputes or what they are over; they simply have to stop."

"And if our pleas to Mr. Green and Mr. Murray are not sufficient to get them to settle the disputes, I haven't any doubt that the public will not only look to the board to settle them but will back us up in whatever settlements we decree."

"If we ever do get into a situation where either one of the great labor organizations, or both of them, fail to abide by the settlement of a jurisdictional dispute decreed by this board, you are going to find that drastic action will be taken against any one in any labor organization that tries to bring about a stoppage of work over jurisdictional disputes, even to the application of the laws of treason, if necessary."

Having a good aim in life is all right, but you must know when to pull the trigger to get the best results.

Two-Tone Shoes Out

Without placing any limit on the production of permitted styles of civilian shoes, WPB has banned manufacture of two-color shoes and reduced the variety of styles and colors for footwear to be made for 1943 spring and summer wearing. The supply of shoe leather has become the limiting factor in shoe production, and reduction of the styles and colors will prevent sole leather from being tied up in little-used footwear. No limitations are applied to shoes made with soles other than leather or composition.

Salmon Pack Frozen

Tightening up on its previous order, WPB has refrozen all salmon in the hands of canners until government requirements are satisfied. Revised estimates indicate that the 1942 salmon pack will be about 5 1/2 to 6 million cases, as compared with a pack of nearly seven million cases in 1941. After government requirements of about 3,500,000 cases are met some salmon may be released for civilian consumption.

Bus Lines Coordinated

ODT moved forward with its program to coordinate inter-city bus service for conservation of vital rubber and equipment by issuance of special order ODT No. B-20, directed to Pacific Greyhound Lines and Parrish Stage Lines. These two lines, which run on common route between El Paso and Deming, New Mexico, began Sept. 15 to interchange tickets and use joint stations to relieve overloads.

Scrap Dealers Rewarded

Fourteen Texas scrap dealers have received the first WPB merit awards for cooperation in the national salvage campaign. Thomas L. Mullican, WPB auto graveyard section chief for the state, announced. Figures just released by WPB's Conservation Division for July scrap shipments from the Southwest region show that Texas shipped 12.8 per cent of its six-month quota of 685,000 tons; Louisiana shipped 12.4 per cent of its 110,000-ton quota, and Oklahoma shipped 7.2 per cent of its 190,000-ton quota.

Hog Bristle Supply Dwindles

At least 45 per cent of material other than pig and hog bristles must go into all brushes made in the United States, except for war contracts and local health regulations, under an amendment to WPB's order M-51. This tightening up reflects the growing shortage of pig bristles, due to difficulties of shipping from China and the Far East.

Lumber Substitutes Urged

Use of gypsum board and brick and other clay products in war construction is being recommended by the War Production Board to relieve the critical temporary shortage of lumber. Such substitution in both temporary and permanent structures would save an estimated 2,100,000,000 board feet of lumber.

Refrigerators "Defrosted"

WPB has released approximately 50,000 domestic mechanical refrigerators, frozen in the hands of dealers and distributors since February 14, for purchase by consumers who certify that they have no other refrigeration equipment at their disposal. The released units are chiefly of the deluxe type, which have been found unsuitable for military use. Production of domestic mechanical refrigerators ended for the duration on April 30 of this year.

Taxis May Get Tires

Following ODT's action in curtailing the less essential uses of taxicabs, OPA has announced that superior quality recaps and in some cases even new tires may be made available for these vehicles under rationing. Now forbidden to cruise, to operate more than certain distances beyond city limits, engage in delivery service or take passengers on sightseeing trips, cab operators must certify to OPA in applying for tires that they are complying with ODT regulations and also agree to try to carry as many passengers at a time as possible.

Fan Restrictions Clarified

Stocks of portable electric fans now held by dealers and wholesalers may be purchased by consumers without restriction, although such fans are under allocation control at the manufacturer's level. WPB officials have pointed out in a clarification of various restricting orders on fans. Attic fans, industrial fans and blowers are controlled by WPB order L-123 and can be obtained on high priority ratings. This rating is granted on application only to hospitals, canteens and permanent industrial installations. WPB is not allowing production or delivery of fans of this type for either cooling or heating plants for home use.

Bottlers Aid Scrap Drive

Increased collections of tin can scrap, especially in the 100-mile areas around Dallas and Houston, where organized can salvage campaigns are under way, are expected to result from a War Production Board order (M-72-A) which enlists the aid of bottling concerns in picking up the scrap, in addition to other collections now underway. In return for the use of their trucks to pick up collected cans, bottling concerns are permitted by the order to use sheets of metal from gallon-size and larger cans for stamping out of bottle caps. Interested bottlers will be encouraged to start collection campaigns of their own where organized drives now are in progress.

Men's Styles to Be Tightened

An amendment now in preparation by WPB would apply many of the simplified provisions now effective on manufacture of men's wool clothing to all men's clothing, regardless of the material used. The amendment is expected to bring to an end production of "zaat suits" now being made of rayon and cotton, and end the waste of fabrics in such garments.

News Reporters Find Women Taking Over Many New Jobs Successfully

Cleveland, Ohio, Visiting plants in Chicago, Detroit, Akron, Cleveland, and Toledo, 15 newspaperwomen, on the National Association of Manufacturers' war plant tour, heard manufacturers discuss their new women workers with relief after recounting such troubles as material shortages and jurisdictional labor disputes.

Converting manpower to womanpower in 20 to 50 percent of war jobs is the least of industrialists' worries these days the women reporters discovered.

The only war industries that have not begun to take women to replace men called to the military services are heavy operations such as tank-building and steel-making. Officials of Republic Steel Company's Cleveland plant said there was no reason why women should not be put on in the strip mill where most of the steel sheet rolling is done by "button-pressing."

Women would get more jobs in war plants immediately if it were not for material shortages, the newspaperwomen discovered. Employment is not a necessity yet because of shortages of steel, aluminum, and other strategic metals.

At a press conference following an automobile tour through Henry Ford's expansive new bomber plant at Willow Run, the reporters learned that Mr. Ford is doing well by his first women employees. Mr. Ford never hired women before, except a few employed to wire electric breaker switches for automobiles. Ten percent of the production workers at Willow Run today are women. When bombers begin to roll off the production line, probably in the next few weeks, the percentage is expected to go up.

One new field for women in war plants is plant protection, the newspaperwomen found, at the Hudson Naval Arsenal in Detroit. Twenty-four girls, some of the tallest in Detroit, have been sworn in as civil auxiliaries to the military police at the ordnance plant. The girls' job will be to escort persons entering the arsenal on business. They will thus relieve male guards for tougher assignment.

In Chicago, the women reporters sampled lend-lease dehydrated meat at Swift & Co. They rode in tanks at Pullman-Standard in Hammond, Ind., and visited the Government's first completed synthetic rubber plant in Akron.

A new blackout paper is claimed to be resistant to water, as well as to fire. This means that color won't run when the paper is exposed to moisture. The paper is applied (on any surface) with a water-proof adhesive.

The United States steel industry thus far in 1942 has turned out 49,719,971 net tons of ingots and steel for castings, which is within 2 per cent of production in the whole of 1917, the peak year in World War I.

Drive Slowly at School Crossings

AUSTIN.—Watch out for those school kids!

You'd forgotten about that school crossing during the summer, hadn't you? The kids are coming back now, and you'll have to watch out for them.

"Let's be thankful," State Police Director Homer Garrison said today, "that we still have schools to send our children to. Even with the benefit of education, which now is denied many people of the world, our kids are growing up into a world that's going to be pretty tough on them. Let's give them a break by not breaking their arms and legs and heads with our automobiles."

A tire manufacturer has developed a "tire girdle," which fits snugly around the inner tube, affording enough protection to allow the use of an old tire. The "girdle" is made of cotton cord.

Ernest Ingram of Benjamin was a business visitor here last Monday.

Local Officers of Texas Defense Guard Return from Camp Bullis

Captain E. H. Bauman and Lieutenants Gene Harrell, Jimmy Harpham and Robert Horan, all officers in the 17th Battalion of the Texas Defense Guard of which Co. C is located in Munday have returned from the week of Officers Training School held at Camp Bullis, Texas.

All of them carry a healthy coat of tan and some sore muscles due to the intensive training of the week, but all admit they had a wonderful time receiving the training and meeting the many fine men of other organizations of the Guard.

On arriving at the camp at four o'clock Sunday afternoon, they plunged right into the training schedule which lasted till ten o'clock that night. Up at 6 o'clock in the morning and a continuous program lasted till 10:30 each night every day, 16 hours a day. It rained and it was hot. There was mud and sore feet but the interest in the work was so high, that no one fell out.

The British Army furnished Col. Pollock who instructed intermittently on the tactics used by the Home Guard of England which is a double duty organization, working at civilian tasks and at the same time carrying on the internal protection of England, which is a similar duty of the civilian population of our country. They have over 2,000,000 thusly engaged. From the defense used and passed on to us the enemy will have very difficult going even if a few should get into the country.

Then there was the defense and offense of gas warfare, patrolling at night, controlling and dispersing mobs, riots, and unruly crowds. Map reading, terrain appreciation, use and practice of hand grenades, gas grenades, and improvised grenades, road barriers, "fougasse" and hedge hoppers to destroy and delay tanks and trucks. Study of machine guns and target practice on the range with machine guns.

Many U. S. Army and Air Corps officers were the instructors and the talent was of the best, and subjects too numerous to mention were given in class room.

Yes, the mess was wonderful and great quantities were consumed.

When they returned at eleven no one had trouble sleeping.

One of the common thoughts gained from the school was that the individual soldier must know considerably more in addition to training received in the past wars. More depends on the individual soldier.

Also that all civilians, if at all possible, should join the Texas Defense Guard to become acquainted with methods of internal protection. Ours is a defense in depth. There is no front line. The Texas Defense Guard is everywhere.

COAST GUARD AIDS IN SOLOMON ISLANDS OFFENSIVE

Officers and men of the United States Coast Guard were included in the American forces which attacked and seized Japanese strongholds in the Solomon Islands, it has been announced by Coast Guard headquarters for the Eighth Naval District in New Orleans.

The Coast Guardsmen saw action as crews of transports and as members of gun crews on these transports when our invasion fleet moved on its objectives early on the morning of August 7.

Observers present in this engagement were impressed by the expert manner in which the Coast Guardsmen handled their ships and manned their guns. The accuracy of their fire was described as exceptional.

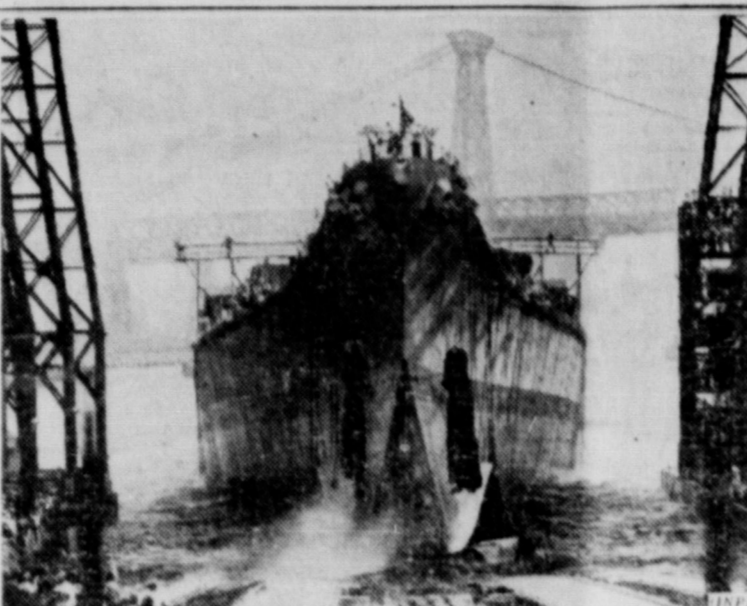

It is believed that this was the first time in the long and distinguished history of the Coast Guard that members of that service have engaged in combat operations of an offensive nature so far from their home bases.

Doris Dickerson, who is stationed at Sheppard Field, Wichita Falls, spent last week end with relatives and friends here.

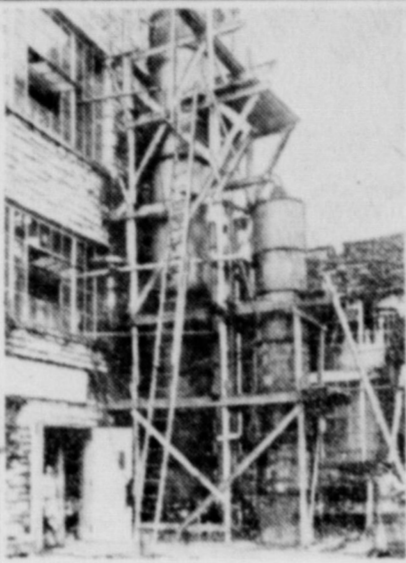

Miss Maurine Johnson left Wednesday for Fort Worth, where she enrolled in Texas Christian University. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Johnson, took her to Ft. Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. Jot Tynes of Big Spring visited in the home of Mr. Tynes' sister, Mrs. A. E. Bowley, last Sunday and Monday. Mr. Tynes' mother returned home with them for a visit.

Two County Men Join U. S. Navy

Previous naval enlistment records in the North Texas district are expected to topple in September, judging from mid-month figures which show that slightly less than 120 men a day have joined the Navy during the first fifteen days of the month, Lieut. L. H.

Fall Program For Bond Sales Now Under Way

Co. Chairman Urges Full Participation In Purchases

In an interview today Mr. W. E. Braly, chairman of the Knox County War Savings Committee, requested increased participation in the Fall program for the sale of War Bonds and Stamps. Farmers in the county are particularly urged to invest ten per cent or more in bonds as crop and livestock sales are made.

Few people yet realize there is a war as far as we personally are concerned, said Mr. Braly. We are sad when our loved ones and friends are called upon to go to war, but we are proud that they can go and defend us. We glory in their victories and heroism, but what of our own fears of heroism, our defense of them, what victories are we contributing to in this country? Our part and our defense of our boys will be the furnishing of their every need in war material, health and morale, and these require a combination of cookies, letters, and lead. Your dollar and dime can help furnish health and war material and at the same time build and strengthen the stability of our own nation. The government needs your help, and urgently appeals to you to buy War Bonds and Stamps. This way, said Mr. Braly, we get it back—the other alternative is a tax receipt. One method or the other must be followed — which shall we choose? Ten per cent may seem large, but consider the price that has been paid by the people in the European countries that have been over-run, by England, by our own boys on the fighting fronts all over the world. Ten percent of their income would have seemed pitifully small compared to the sacrifices they have made. Think it over and make ten per cent of your sales a minimum.

Mr. Braly explained that farmers making regularly weekly or monthly sales could arrange with the buyer of such products to make regular deductions from each sale, and this amount would be turned over to a banker or some other trustee designated by the farmer. When sufficient funds have been accumulated, a bond will be purchased in the name of the farmer and delivered to him personally. Forms for this type of regular deduction can be obtained from your local chairman or by writing the War Savings Staff, Austin Texas.

The War Bond goal for Texas this Fall is roughly One Million Dollars a day according to information from Mr. Frank Scofield's office in Austin. Let us get on the right side, the ten per cent side, and show Texas and the nation that Knox county is one hundred per cent behind the war effort and one hundred per cent in front with the War Bond and Stamp Program.

Chas. Giddings Is Promoted to Captain

Charles H. Giddings, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Giddings of Munday, was recently promoted from first lieutenant to the rank of captain, his parents learned a few days ago.

Charles, who was stationed in Hawaii for some time, has been on duty off the coast of Australia for several months. Relatives believe he is now stationed at or near Port Moresby.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Atkinson and daughter, Dixie, went to Austin on Wednesday, where Dixie enrolled in Texas University. They were accompanied by Donnie Partridge, who also entered the university for the school year year. Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson will return home Saturday.

Tom Loper of Knox City was a business visitor in the city last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Howell carried their daughter, Miss Doris Howell, and Miss Floy Nelson to Denton last Sunday where the girls enrolled in N.T.S.T.C. for the Fall term of school.
