County School Lunch Room Children Are Helping To Win The War; Balanced Meals Being Served

Jessie M. Smith, school lunch supervisor for Knox county, has submitted the following report on progress being made by the county school lunch rooms:

The school lunch program is a nutrition defense feeding program of war-time America. Feeding to properly nourish our future American leaders is of utmost importance to a far-seeing nation like ours and a most vital part of our reconstruction plans for the future, which necessarily must begin now.

Knox county is outstanding in this program of proper nourishing its school children at the lowest costs recorded, and this on war-time prices, too. The cost of lunches for Knox county has run at the minimum. Of course, as winter comes it is necessary to go to the Maximum for food but we feel safe that our average for the year will not exceed the average of 7 cents to sponsors.

The number of children served in the lunch rooms is increasing, which testified to the usefulness of the Texas community school lunch program.

In cooperation with WPA, the Agricultural Marketing Assn., and the county officials, headed by Judge J. C. Patterson, the program is officially sponsored by the Knox county school board, headed by County Supt. Merick McGaughey and the following school superintendents: A. N. Boyd, Benjamin; H. D. Arnold, Goree; T. E. Halcomb, Knox City; W. C. Cunningham, Munday; W. C. Kimbrough, Sunset; Miss Lelah Jones, Truscott, and Mrs. E. F. Branton, Union Grove.

Cotton farmers have a big question to decide on Saturday, December 12. They will vote on whether they want to keep cotton marketing quotas another year. If two-thirds of those voting say "yes," cotton loans will again be available. But if quotas are rejected, there can be no loans, according to the law. The loan rate has been raised from 85 to 90 percent of parity. Although there is almost a two-year supply of cotton on hand, cotton prices have been relatively high this year, mainly because of the loan.

THINGS TO REMEMBER

Readers of The Munday Times, here are some things to remember:

That, if the date opposite your name on this week's Times reads 12-10-42 or before, your subscription has expired.

That, if you live in Knox county or within 50 miles of Munday, you can renew your subscription for only $1.50.

That, most papers have advanced their subscription prices, but your home town paper has made no advance in rates—we just didn't have any "bargain days" this year.

That, your subscription, either new or renewal, will be greatly appreciated. Come in at your earliest convenience.

That, you shouldn't wait until you fail to receive your paper to renew. Do it now!

That, due to loss of valuable advertising accounts many newspapers over the state have suspended publication for the duration, but The Munday Times plans to continue as usual. You'll want your home town paper more than ever in these critical times.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The biggest field gun in the Army. That's the 240-mm. howitzer. It's twenty-feet of barrel and must be pulled into position by tractors. After it is rolled into place, its own wheels are removed and the Big Bertha is set upon its emplacement ready to fire at its target some twenty miles away.

The cost of these huge guns runs into thousands of dollars but we can assure the Army of obtaining them by our purchases of War Bonds. Ten percent or more of your income is necessary. The easiest way is to join the Payroll Savings Plan at your office or factory. Let's "Top that ten percent."

U. S. Treasury Department

Reports for November have also been sent to the state office but have not been returned. The supervisor reports that 16,000 lunches were served during November at a cost of only 3 cents per serving to the sponsors.

2. Saves food for starving natives (Garbage can't be sent abroad). Second helping are available to all children.

3. Makes it possible for the sponsors to provide more variety in the menu.

Last Rites For G. M. Bryan Held Here Sunday

Former Justice of the Peace Dies

G. M. Bryan, well known Munday resident and former justice of the peace, passed away at his Munday residence at 12:05 Saturday morning.

George M. Bryan was born July 9, 1866, in Alabama and was 76 years, 4 months and 26 days of age when death came. He had resided in Knox county for 24 years, and during his earlier years here he was engaged in farming. Mr. Bryan served as justice of the peace for this precinct for a number of years, but his health forced him to retire before he completed his last tenure of office.

Mr. Bryan had been in ill health for approximately two years, and during the latter months of his illness he was confined to his home. He was well known to many Knox county residents.

Surviving him are two daughters, a brother, a sister and 17 nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held from the Mahan Funeral Home at three o'clock last Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Luther Kirk, Methodist pastor. Interment was in the Johnson cemetery, with the Mahan Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Voting Places Given For All Farmers

Wherever you live in Knox County, there will be a polling place nearby in the cotton marketing quota referendum Saturday, December 12.

War-time restrictions and the importance of all farmers voting made it necessary to increase the number of polling places for the referendum, Mr. Schumacher, chairman of the county AAA committee, has announced.

"Since every cotton grower in the county should participate in the referendum, we are doing what we can to make it as easy as possible for them to vote by increasing the number of ballot boxes," the AAA chairman said.

This year there will be nine ballot boxes in the county.

"Gasoline rationing, tire shortages, and other wartime problems required that the number of boxes be increased," Mr. Schumacher said.

Polling places in Knox County will be open from 8 A. M. until 7 P. M. at the following places: Benjamin — Court House Vera — School House Gilliland — School House Sunset — School House Rhineland — Henry Claus Store Truscott — Browning Service Siamunday — City Hall Goree — W. W. Coffman Office Knox City — City Hall.

Supplies of cotton for both military and civilian use are sufficient to last two years but there is not nearly that much food.

That's why August Schumacher, chairman, Knox county AAA committee, is asking all cotton farmers again to vote in a cotton marketing quota referendum, Saturday, December 12.

Production of food and other scarce war crops should be of primary concern to all farmers this year for the same reason that making war materials has become the chief concern of manufacturers, the chairman said in explaining that the companies which used to make automobiles and typewriters now are making airplanes and machine guns.

By holding cotton production within the limits of the nation's needs, dwindling supplies of labor, machinery, chemicals, transportation and storage facilities can be used to the best advantage in producing such crops as peanuts, soybeans, pork, beef, and poultry and dairy products.

"When the boys come back home, it would be pretty hard to explain to them why we kept on growing more cotton when they needed food and other things so badly. It's bad enough to be hungry, but it's worse when you have to fight while you're hungry," Mr. Schumacher said.

Also at stake in December referendum are government loans at 90 per cent of parity. Under existing law, price support loans are effective only when quotas are approved.

CAUSE FOR PRIDE

One of the most fantastic stories of the war has not been told and will not be told until the guns are still. That is the story of air transport. Much of the fighting now taking place in far-away corners of the globe, in steaming jungles and on minute islands, primarily is to determine who shall control the strategic air routes of the future. Fortunately for this country, the commercial airlines had progressed far ahead of any other nation, and with the arrival of hostilities were in a position to render invaluable service.

It is largely airline pilots who, in close cooperation with the Air Transport Command of the Army under the leadership of Major Harold Lee George, are blazing trails over the seven seas and all the continents. These pilots and the managements back of them who built the airlines, can rest assured that the dangers and tribulations they suffered in pioneering air operations were not in vain. As the U. S. News observes: "The number of planes leaving each day for Alaska, for England, for South America, for Africa, for India, for China and for Australia is a military secret. But it is no secret that the schedule calls for hundreds of flights every day, and that number is growing swiftly. It is no secret that the fleet of hundreds of cargo planes in service this year is expected to grow into thousands by the end of another year."

Those who feel that the airlines should be militarized for the duration, are losing their American perspective. If the airlines had failed to measure up to the tasks imposed on them, such a position might be justified. But they have not failed. We are fighting this war to save private enterprise, not to destroy it. Every pilot who wears the uniform of a commercial airline can be doubly proud. He is carrying on a military mission against the enemy, and as a civilian he is helping mightily to preserve a nucleus from which the airlines can expand in the peace to come, over the entire world, bringing to all peoples a good example of what the free institutions of America can do.

Roy Baker of Knox City and C. P. Baker went to Dallas last Friday night to attend the bedside of C. B. Goodwin, who underwent a major operation there last week. Mr. Goodwin was reported improved the first of this week, and a complete recovery is expected unless other complications set in.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur Smith and little daughter were here over the week end from their farm near

TEEN AGE RESTRICTION OPPOSED

Referring to the opposed amendment to the Selective Service Act which would restrict the service of 18-19 year old selectees to continental United States for a year after induction, the National Association of Manufacturers is obliged to point out that this measure would hamper both the Army and war production.

The amendment "would immobilize for production purposes two potential workers for every new worker needed and give the Army a force it was prevented from using." Further, the Association statement calls attention to the fact that "it would force the draft of presently-employed help which industry must have and at the same time it would remove a large group from the field of potential war production."

If the Army cannot have the teen-age youths which it needs desperately, it will be forced to call up older men and many of these must come from the ranks of manufacturing labor where they are performing highly essential work. This would curtail war production and render more acute and already serious manpower shortage.

HOG PRODUCTION GOAL INCREASED

College Station—The 1943 hog call is for more and fatter hogs—15 per cent more each one 10 pounds heavier.

Recent war developments have made it necessary for Secretary of Agriculture Wickard to up the 1943 hog goal to a 15 per cent increase in farrowings over 1942's record crop. Previously the Secretary had asked for an increase of 10 per cent.

At the same time, he reiterated his requests that growers market their hogs with at least 10 pounds more weight on them and that they plan farrowings so as to result in orderly marketing.

Although the Texas production goal has not yet been announced, B. F. Vance, Texas USDA War Board chairman, said that Texas growers would be asked to produce their share of the increase being asked.

According to Secretary Wickard's announcement, the Agricultural Marketing Administration will support prices of hogs so as to insure growers a price level of $13.25 average, Chicago basis, for good and choice grade butcher hogs weighing 240 to 270 pounds, until the fall of 1944.

We seniors are planning to have our annual play next Friday night, December 18. The title of our play is "No Bride For The Groom." The play is funny through-out. Everyone who comes will never regret it.

Sophomore
We gave assembly program last Thursday. The name of the play was, "When Elmer Played John Alden." The class sang "White Christmas" and "When the Lights Go On Again." Claudia gave a reading.

The sophomore personality this week is Joy Nunley. Some of her favorites are as follows:
Sport — Football.
Color — Blue.
Teacher — Miss Browder.
Subject — Typing.
Song — "Praise The Lord and Pass the Ammunition."

She wants to become a flyer. Nolan Parker and Frances Smith had a birthday last week. James Wallace has been absent from school, but he is back now. Joe Ben made an A report card this six weeks.

Here's a patriotic duty everyone of us can participate in — buy U. S. War Bonds and Stamps. War costs run into millions — $220,000 for a big bomber; $70,000 for a fast fighter; $20,000 for a light tank. And it takes millions of dollars more to keep on producing these tanks and ships and guns for Victory. But we can and we will, if you lend your support.

Munday School News

In spite of the excitement of the snow fights and other miscellaneous things that happen around the campus the Seniors have been tracking their brains over those old and distinguished men of literature. Meaning Wordsworth, Byron, Shelly and Keats. These great writers may have been famous once but when the Seniors got through with them Monday morning they were "ruined." Or is it the Seniors who are "ruined," Miss DeLoch? After that examination, I don't blame those poets for wanting to turn over in their graves.

At last the Seniors have decided to publish an annual. Not all of the staff have been elected yet so that information will not be given out until later. With the cooperation of the other classes, the Seniors promise to publish a very interesting and worthwhile annual.

Senior on Review

Retta Jo White was born in Wichita Falls, Texas, on December 14th, 1924. She started her first year of school in Munday, then moved to Seymour, then to Tyler where she lived for three years. Since she had nothing else to do she moved on to Sherman, and from Sherman to Clovis, N. M., from Clovis to Galveston. After all this running around she finally arrived back in Munday where she went to school in the sixth grade a few months. But the urge to travel struck again and Retta Jo was off for Nacogdoches, then to Midland where she stayed until she approached the tenth grade. Back to Munday again, where she has been ever since and where she will receive her honors when she gets kicked out of school.

Retta Jo is a member of the pep squad, chorus, Home Ec. Club and Volleyball. She plans to take a beauty course when she gets out of school. Good luck and happiness, Retta.

Junior News

Now, aren't the juniors really enjoying this snow. Even if we do get rolled a little too much, of course we like to roll the other person, too. Here's hoping they live over it.

Last week, one member from each class was selected to make up a committee for socials, appearance, athletics, scholarship, reporter and defense work. From the junior class they are: social, Jerry Chamberlain; appearance, Lillian Cerveney; activities, Maxine Harrison, athletics, Helen Montgomery; scholarship, Bette Morris; reporter, Jack Strickland, and defense work, Harold Payne.

Sophomore News

The sophomores had one more grand and glorious time in the snow Monday. If anyone carried a grudge into the game we hope it was not a sophomore.

These merits and demerits can slip up on us mighty easy, especially the demerits. The sophomores are striving hard to be the winner of the citizenship cup at the end of the year.

Most of the report cards were terrible this time. Practically everyone came down, but that's always the trouble. One six weeks you pass two subjects and flunk two, the next six weeks you bring low ones up and flunk the other two.

All the students are interested in doing all they can for keeping the student council an A-one organization. The sophomore class is one class that will be for it 100 per cent.

Council Committees

One of the committees of the Student council is appearance. We are seeking the cooperation of all students in helping us to keep our building and campus clear of all rubbish. Already the appearance is improving.

The defense committee was organized to encourage the buying of stamps and bonds. Posters will be put up in the different rooms of the school. The classes will have a contest on which buys the most stamps and bonds each week. There is a committeeman in each class to take the pupils' names and how many stamps they buy. We hope to sell many stamps and bonds during the year.

Second Grade News

My, but we have been having fun playing in the snow! There were only 15 students present in our class Monday, and we really missed those who were absent.

We are now working on a Christmas project for our room. Today we worked in two groups, planning what each child is to do.

We were sorry to lose Jean Tuggle. She is now going to school at Weinert.

Third Grade News

The "White Christmas" that we had been dreaming of every day in music really came true

It has been fun to have the snow this week. The only bad thing about it is we can't play out as much as we like.

Oma Jean Brazell left Tuesday for Oklahoma where she will attend school. Jimmie Martin who studied in the Sunset School in Montague County last year has moved in our community and is in the third grade. Jackie Gray left Monday for Houston where she will make her home with her sister. We hope Jackie enjoys her new school as much as we enjoyed having her.

We have been having fun cutting and pasting construction paper together this week but after we finished we had some nice posters. A border "Seeking the Christ Child" across the front board. We, also, made snow pictures, basket of poinsettias, and candles.

Fifth Grade News

The fifth grade is very busy this week getting ready for their assembly program. We are beginning to feel that Christmas is near, as our program is about Christmas.

Last week our room bought $9.75 in defense stamps. We hope to be able to do as well this week.

With all the snow this week, our attendance has been low, but we hope everyone will be back soon.

Sixth Grade News

The sixth grade has gotten the new science note books. We were to bring a leaf each to school today, and we are going to study them. We are also taking up a new kind of arithmetic. We like it very much.

In our class we are trying to keep our rooms as neat as we can. In the afternoon the teacher is making an "X" on the desk of those who leave anything on it except ink, and if you leave your seat down. If you find an "X" on your desk, you pay a penny which goes to the treasury.

Our teacher is weighing each of us. Betty Joe Cumba weighs 49 pounds. Jesse George Smith weighs 123 pounds.

Seventh Grade News

The seventh graders surely did enjoy the big snow the first of the week. Nearly everyone had fun snowballing the teachers as well as rolling them in the snow.

The seventh grade room hated to see Gene Lowry move to Ft. Worth. They wish him good luck in his new school. They welcome Raymond Martin and Robert Horan to their group.

Several pupils in the Seventh grade were interested in the collection of foreign stamps brought to school by the teacher.

Several people in our group plan to build bird feeding stations as an elementary science project.

8-A News

The 8-A students were certainly pleased to see the nice snow. We had plenty of snowball fights also plenty of teachers to roll.

We elected new officers as follows: president, Grayford Campbell; vice president, Kenneth Baker; secretary, Jean Ratliff; treasurer, Wayne Rodgers.

In our science class we are doing research work. It is very interesting.

We are happy to have Jackie Moore in our class.

8-B News

The eighth grade students, have really enjoyed playing in the snow. They have enjoyed, for the most part, rolling teachers in the snow. Most of the teachers have come right back at them with a wallop, though.

In math, the class has been reviewing fractions, decimals, etc. Friday they took a test over geometrical figures. Their grades were really low. The pupils wonder how Mrs. Swindall found out about them!

This Army Life!

The Munday Times is in receipt of a letter from Doris Dickerson, who was recently transferred to Chanute Field, Ill., requesting that the Munday Times be sent to his new address. A portion of his letter follows:

"I made one of the highest grades in my class at the air mechanics school at Sheppard Field, and was sent here at Chanute Field to attend a specialist school of this nature.

"It happened to be 9 degrees below zero when we landed here December 2 at 9:30 p. m., with a 15-inch blanket of snow on the ground. This is something a Knox county boy does not witness too often.

"We have the Buckingham Palace mess hall, which is the army's finest, and really the best food I have tasted since I have been in the army."

SHARING MEAT AT BUTCHERING TIME

College Station — Butchering time has arrived and farmers are asking how to comply with the Share-the-Meat program when they have excess quantities of fresh meat.

Roy W. Snyder, animal industries specialist for the A and M. College Extension Service, suggests an answer to this question.

First, he says, stagger butchering of hogs. Instead of butchering two or three at one time, butcher one, then wait a few weeks to butcher another.

Second, share fresh meat with neighbors at butchering time. Families can "take turn about" in butchering, trading meat between them.

Third, cure hams, shoulders, bacon, and loins. Can the sausage. This leaves the spareribs, head and feet the only meat to be consumed at the time of butchering. The other parts of the animal such as the heart, liver and tongue are not included in the weekly sharing allowance. Mr. Snyder says similar management should be followed when a family butchers beef, veal, and mutton.

Finally, the specialist says: If these suggestions cannot be followed, farmers may find it necessary to consume larger quantities of meat in any one week, but the average of two and one-half pounds per adult should be maintained throughout the year. The important thing is: Don't waste meat and don't eat more than your share."

Free publications on killing, cutting, and storing are available from county Extension Service agents or from Extension headquarters at College Station.

The 'lectric train that wasn't there

SOME things are hard to understand—even when you're grown up. But Jimmy will understand why there may not be a 'lectric train under the Christmas tree this year.

And grownups will understand why there isn't the usual supply of electric appliances which in the past have made such swell Christmas gifts.

It dates back to a Sunday morning—December 7, 1941.

Since then the wonderful electric train, with its light and whistle and all the bright shiny cars, has gone into guns, planes, tanks and ships.

And the factories that used to make electric refrigerators, stoves, sweepers, radios, irons and the like all are doing war work.

In our showrooms are a few small appliances that may be given as Christmas gifts. But, before buying, be reasonably sure they are needed.

• The electric power which drives tiny trains for boys like Jimmy also is helping to drive the massive machines that make tanks, guns, bombers and ships.

But we planned ahead, and made certain that West Texas had plenty of power. Today every war plant—and every home—in West Texas has ample electric light and power, whenever and wherever needed.

This great abundance of electric power, under the American system of free enterprise, means production—and production in this modern-day war means Victory. Then the real Christmas will come again . . . and Jimmy will get his 'lectric train!

FARMERS AWAIT PRODUCTION GOALS

College Station—Texas farmers, who broke production records on many fronts this year, will learn what they are expected to produce in 1943 as their share in America's Food for Freedom program.

Members of the Texas USDA War Board are meeting with boards from other Southern states in Memphis, Tenn., December 7-9, to lay plans for the 1943 food program. Secretary of Agriculture Claude Wickard will announce production goals for the several states at that meeting.

Texas goals are expected to call for an increase in the production of peanuts, the acreage of which crop was nearly tripled this year. More hogs, more eggs, and more milk, B. F. Vance, Texas USDA War Board chairman, said.

Following the announcement of state goals, county goals will be established, and AAA committees will contact every farmer in the state in a production goals and farm plan sign-up campaign.

Mrs. W. H. Stephens visited with her brother, Raymond Davis, wife and little daughter, Carolyn, at Wichita Falls Sunday. She was met there by another brother, Corp'l. Sam Davis who is stationed at Camp Edwards, Mass.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The tradition of American cavalry threads back to Indian warfare days and although modern armies are largely motorized today, the cavalry still plays an important role. Sturdy, well trained horses and excellent equipment and trappings are necessary.

When men are in the saddle for hours, their saddles, saddle rolls and other equipment must be made to stand the wear. Complete with carbine and helmets, the equipment for the cavalryman runs into hundreds of dollars. You can help provide this with your War Bond purchases. If you have not done so, join the Payroll Savings Plan and put ten percent of your income into War Bonds. U. S. Treasury Department

COTTON FLOOR PRICE TO BE DECIDED

Cotton farmers will decide the floor price of cotton when they vote on cotton marketing quotas Saturday, December 12. Marvin Allen, Secretary of the Knox County AAA committee, said this week.

He explained that OPA's ceiling price on finished cotton goods automatically places ceilings on raw cotton but that they did not establish a floor.

"The bottom price is left up to cotton farmers because loans at 90 per cent of parity are effective only when quotas are voted favorably," he continued.

Despite a present 24-million bale supply, cotton prices, which are supported by loans, are higher for the current crop year than they have been for several years.

Mr. Allen said that farmers have a choice between planned marketing and loan-supported prices under a "Yes" vote and unlimited marketing and no price support under a "No" vote.

Nine polling places are being set up in the county where eligible producers may vote in the referendum.

PROMOTED TO SERGEANT

D. A. Melton received a card recently from his brother, Vernon Melton, stating that he had been promoted to sergeant. Vernon is stationed at Robbins Field, Georgia, and has been in training since September 4th.

DEAR SANTA

I was so happy when I woke up Sunday and saw all the snow for then I knew you could get to Munday with your reindeers. This really gave me the Christmas Spirit so My Mother took me to town shopping. We went the prettiest towel set for my Mother. It was a Cannon set and you know how nice they are and I know she would like it very much. But if you think that she would prefer something else I would like for you to look at their pretty Velvet Hats for Christmas. They shine and sparkle just like Christmas Sparklers. Then I also saw a real pretty bed jacket that I know she would like very much. I would like for you to take any of these to my mother for she has been such a nice mother.

My Dad would like very much to have one of the pretty California Leather Jackets. They are so warm and plenty smart. They have several pretty styles. Dad usually dreads Christmas, he says about all he ever gets are the bills that mother makes. But he would be plenty glad if you decided to bring him a new shirt or a robe either that I saw in there.

Now I have a grown sister, at least she thinks she is grown, and she is simply crazy for a new dress. I saw the prettiest one at Baker-McCartys that you can give her. They are new floral Jerseys and are plenty keen looking. I wish If I were a little older I would want one for myself. They aren't expensive but they really look expensive.

Now Santa, I want you above everything else to remember my brother in service. He won't get to be home for Xmas and I'm afraid he is going to be real lonesome. I saw several things he would like in Baker-McCartys—they had regulation Sweaters, Ties, Sox and many other useful things. Please, Santa give him the best gift you have. Now Santa, I'm not hard to please. I'm just a little girl and I don't want many things. Just a perky Bow. I'm not old enough to have a real Bow yet, or I would like a cute Compact — just bring me several little things.

One of the nice things about this is that you can get something for every member of the family right in Baker-McCartys, Santa, and all the clerks are glad to show you what they have and will wrap them for you in real Christmas packages.

There are only 13 more shopping days, Santa, so be sure and don't wait much longer.

Your friend,
Jane Jones.

AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

Luther Kirk

Old man winter made his appearance in a big way Sunday, but it takes more than wintery weather to keep some people away from church. We were happy to see the good number present even though they were faced in coming with the wintery blast that made travel hazardous.

On the other hand it doesn't even take wintery weather to keep some people from the services; anything will do. Did you ever notice that the excuses for not attending church are made largely from week to week by the same persons. Strange isn't it that some people have all the hinderances?

Whether you have or have not been hindered in attending the religious services conducted in your church, we hope that you will resolve now to be present in the future in so far as God will help to make it possible.

Worship with us Sunday at 10 and 11 A. M. and 7:15 P. M.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pitchford of Carlsbad, New Mexico, spent the first of this week here, visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wiggins. Mrs. Pitchford is Mrs. Wiggins' sister.

Eastman Restricts Sale Of Bowl Game Tickets
 ODT Director Joseph B. Eastman has telegraphed managers of the annual New Year's Day Bowl games and schools expected to participate, appealing for restricted sale of tickets in view of the critical shortage of passenger transportation facilities. Citing the example of the recent Army-Navy game played at Annapolis, Md., where travel was cut to a minimum by restriction of ticket sales to Annapolis, Mr. Eastman asked that tickets to the New Year's games be sold only in the immediate areas of the bowls where games will be played.

Scrap Sellers Can Add Scrap
 OPA has authorized sellers of iron and steel scrap to pass on to consumers the 3 per cent property transportation tax imposed under the 1942 Revenue Act, which became effective December 1. The action was taken in amendment 9 to revised price schedule 4 (iron and steel scrap).

Stricter Rationing Set For Typewriters
 To take care of the demand of the armed services for typewriters, Price Administrator Leon Henderson put into effect an amendment to OPA typewriter rationing regulations which forbids the sale of all standard typewriters except obsolete models and "stripped" portables, and restricts rentals of non-portable typewriters to those made before January 1, 1935. Persons holding typewriter purchase certificates issued by local war price and rationing boards may buy typewriters provided they do so by January 1.

On Every Front

General Electric equipment is fighting with America's land army. From the rolling kitchen to the front line, electricity works for victory.

1. In the factory electricity stitches the seams of tank armor, and on the battlefield it controls the operation of these spearheads of modern combat.

2. In induction center and field hospital, the X ray helps safeguard the health of our fighting men, aiding in the diagnosis and treatment of disease.

3. Far from the usual power sources, mobile power plants supply electricity for 800,000,000 candlepower searchlights by which a newspaper can be read 12 miles away.

4. Blitz war requires swift communications! On the soldier's back, in field and sky, radio co-ordinates the striking force of American army planes, guns, and tanks.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.

Emergency Gas Available To Passenger Cars
 To prevent public hardship in emergencies such as sickness or other emergency errands, Texas OPA Director Mark McGee directed local war price and rationing boards to permit sales of gasoline to passenger car owners on OPA certificates, Form R-555. Thousands of the forms are being printed and will be made available by local boards to filling stations in their jurisdiction.

OPA Enforcement Program Grows
 With the announcement that 21 complaints alleging price and rent control and rationing violations have been filed by OPA within the past two weeks, OPA Regional Administrator Max McCollough stated that enforcement now is getting into full swing throughout the Southwest region, including Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri and Kansas. Suits filed include charges in the Federal District Court for the Southern District of Louisiana against five leading New Orleans hotels, the New Orleans, Roosevelt, St. Charles, Desoto and Jung, alleging violation of maximum rent regulations.

Consumers Asked to Store Propane, Butane Gas
 Farmers, business places and household consumers who use butane and propane gas are urged by WPB officials to put their empty storage capacity to use, if they have not already done so, as they will not be able to rely on regularity of deliveries during the winter. The public is asked to cooperate with the armed forces by filling all storage capacities, to avoid unnecessary interruptions of deliveries for military and industrial purposes.

Krum Named Region OPA Information Executive
 Regional OPA Administrator Max McCollough announced appointment of Tyrrell Krum, of New Orleans, as regional executive of the OPA, with headquarters at Dallas. Mr. Krum formerly was a Lieutenant Commander in the U. S. Naval Reserve and was on active duty as public relations officer with the Eighth Naval District at New Orleans. Upon his release from active duty with the Navy he took over his new duties in charge of all public relations activities for the OPA program in Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Kansas.

GASOLINE RATIONING AND RAIL TRAVEL

UNDER ordinary circumstances, Burlington Lines would view the curtailment of intercity motoring necessitated by gasoline rationing as an opportunity to demonstrate to many confirmed motorists the speed, comfort and convenience of railroad travel.

Unfortunately, we may be prevented from doing this in full measure because:

- 1 - A large part of our power and passenger equipment is assigned to the all-important job of transporting the armed forces.
- 2 - It is not possible at this time to build or buy new passenger equipment.
- 3 - Largely due to the foregoing, the Office of Defense Transportation has "frozen" the number of passenger trains which may be operated.

Nevertheless, Burlington Lines will devote every effort and resource toward providing the best possible passenger service "for the duration" for all patrons—both old and new—residing along its 11,000 miles of railroad in thirteen states.

Most effective use can be made of available trains and schedules if passengers will—

- ★ Travel during mid-week, whenever possible.
- ★ Purchase tickets and make Pullman reservations reasonably in advance.
- ★ Travel with no more baggage than necessary.
- ★ Consult local agent wise planning trips.

Burlington Lines are grateful for past patronage, appreciate present patronage, and strive to warrant future patronage.

Keep Your Family Comfortable...but

DON'T WASTE GAS

THE NATURAL GAS you save can help to build many implements of war. Ships, guns, tanks, planes, bombs, torpedoes, shells—there's hardly one whose parts do not call for some application of heat. For instance, whole battleship turrets are "baked" in gas ovens as big as a five-room house.

And in the Southwest, heat means natural gas.

Industry—including over a thousand plants engaged in war work—on Lone Star lines is using more gas than all our 300,000 residential customers, and the demand is mounting. So... we ask you: Don't waste gas. Use it wisely and there will be plenty for all winter needs.

1. Repair leaky hot water faucets and save water and gas.
2. Don't overheat your house. Keep it between 70 and 72 degrees. Close bedroom doors at night if windows are open.
3. Stop heat leaks by weather-stripping doors and windows; install insulation to save fuel.
4. Learn to cook with low flame in small amounts of water, saving vitamins and gas.

For 33 years we have worked in developing Texas and Oklahoma gas reserves, and in building an interconnected pipeline system to create a capacity capable of meeting extreme emergency demands. Today, we're working harder than ever expanding facilities to keep pace with the Southwest's mounting wartime needs for fuel.

As far as Lone Star engineers and production men can see, Lone Star System will be able to meet the wartime demands of all residential, commercial and war customers this winter. A 4,800-mile interconnected pipeline makes gas available from over 1,000 wells in more than 75 different fields.

IT KEEPS THEM FLYING

NEW sections of aircraft demonstrate elaborate construction so graphically as this motor and fuselage assembly of the Canadian-built Harvard, swift single-motor training craft of the Royal Canadian Air Force. An advanced trainer, the Harvard is used as the pursuit plane prototype in the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan, and is one of the most popular craft of the many used during training. Harvards are built in a brand new plant, under contract from the Department of Munitions and Supply, where hundreds of workers, many of whom are women, are employed. This factory also produces the rugged, dependable all-purpose "Norseman" of Canadian design and manufacture.

At the present time, Canada is looking after a substantial part of the requirements of the Air Training Plan. It is building operational planes for the Royal Canadian Air Force, and it has accepted substantial orders for training and service planes from England and the United States. With a current production of more than 400 planes a month, which would compare with a production of some 5,000 a month in the United States, Canada is therefore now looking after a substantial part of the requirements of the Joint Air Training Plan. To simplify and speed up the output, the manufacture of aircraft in Canada is now confined to nine types as compared with the 15 types which, at one time or another, have been in production. These are: an elementary trainer, the Fairchild Cornell; a single-engine advanced trainer, the North American Harvard; a twin-engine advanced trainer, the Canadian Anson; a twin-engine reconnaissance bomber and bombing and gunnery trainer, the Bristol Bolingbroke; a coastal reconnaissance amphibian, the FBV5 Catalina; a single-engine fighter, the Hurricane; a twin-engine fighter; a four-engine long-range bomber; and a navy dive bomber.

Doris Dickerson Now Prepared To Blast The Axis

Sheppard Field, Texas — Pvt. Doris Dickerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Dickerson of Munday, Texas, has graduated from an intensive course in aviation mechanics and now is prepared to blast the Axis.

Sheppard Field, near Wichita Falls, Texas, is one of the many schools in the Army Air Forces Technical Training Command which trains the specialist technicians who maintain our bombers and fighter planes in perfect combat condition. He is now eligible to become crew chief on a bomber and to win a rating as corporal or sergeant.

Before entering the school, he was trained at one of the basic training centers of the Air Forces Technical Training Command and learned to fight Axis with other things besides the tools of his trade. Men trained by the Command are versed in the art of protection and offense as well as repair.

8-Point Check Of Fire Causes Being Advised

Austin—Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner, says winter-time brings a seasonal increase in fire hazards. The added dangers of destructive fire creates a need for closer inspections at home.

er precautions during winter has caused unnecessary fire losses." Commissioner Hall listed the following as several of the common causes of fire at this season of the year:

1. A danger spot is often found in a chimney at the point where it passes through a roof. The construction of a chimney is important. Frequently the lack of sufficient brick or stone allows surrounding woodwork to become ignited.

2. Where fireplaces are used care must be taken to see that sparks do not ignite the floor or room furnishings. The safest protection is a metal screen in front of the fire.

3. Steam pipes, unless properly installed, can cause fires. Steam heat dries the wood which is then in condition to absorb oxygen and ignite. A steam pipe may in time char the wood and dangerously lower the ignition point. Steam pipes should be at least one inch away from any woodwork.

4. A common report on the cause of fires during cold weather is the "defective flue." This type of fire can be prevented by frequent inspection of all flues, or smoke pipe connections.

5. Overloaded electric circuits must be regarded as year 'round hazards. It is of particular importance that all electric circuits be protected against overload by the use of proper size fuses.

6. A leading cause of winter time fire fatalities is the use of kerosene or gasoline to kindle or "quicken" a fire. Gasoline is a dangerous explosive — too dangerous to keep in the house under any condition. Also, the improper use of Kerosene can cause serious fire losses.

7. A few simple practices in the use of portable oil heating appliances will prevent many home fires. Wicks in such heaters should be kept clean and adjusted to the proper level. Sufficient ventilation is needed to assure proper combustion. Heaters should be kept a safe distance from combustible furnishings and placed where they will not be easily overturned.

8. Personal carelessness in cold weather frequently results in death. Clothing ignited when a person stands too near an open flame heater or fireplace is one of the common causes of fire fatalities during winter months.
