Pig Demonstration Is Started At Benjamin

4-H Club Boys Start Demonstration For Second Year

Eighteen 4-H Club Members of Benjamin school are starting a pig feeding demonstration this year, according to R. O. Dunkle County Agent, of the A. & M. College Extension Service.

The object of the experiment is to determine the value of threshed ground, and soaked combine milo grain in the production of pork. The pigs selected for the demonstration were Poland China barrows, litter mates, the pigs weighed 137, 131, 127 pounds respectively. It is expected that the results of this experiment will settle a much discussed problem for the farmers of Knox county as to relative fattening value combined milo and the different methods of preparation before feeding.

Each pig is in a dry lot twelve feet long and eight feet wide and is being fed from a self feeder and has free choice of protein supplement and grain. Many farmers of Knox county will remember that the Benjamin 4-H Club Members conducted an experiment last year to determine the value of protein supplement, yellow corn and threshed milo. The results were so conclusive in that they are feeding all the pigs favor of the protein supplement protein this year.

Mrs. J. B. Bowden and daughter, Carolyn, spent the week end in Lubbock visiting with Mrs. Bowden's daughter, Mrs. G. W. Hawkins, and her husband who is serving in the air corps.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Hammett were business visitors in Abilene last Monday.

Maj. Arthur Mills, Cousin of Mrs. C. H. Giddings, Found Dead On Raft

The following is a clipping sent to Mrs. C. H. Giddings and is in regard to the death of Maj. Arthur Mills, a cousin of Mrs. Giddings. Maj. Mills visited in the Giddings home in Munday several times before entering the army air corps ferry command. Natal, Brazil, Feb. 13—Maj. Arthur Mills, army ferry command never made a more perfect landing in all his years of flying than when his small rubber liferaft rode the south Atlantic surf onto a Natal beach a few days ago. But the Major was dead. In the liferaft with his body were identification tags indicating that six others had died and been "buried" at sea during the raft's voyage after their plane, westbound from Africa, was forced down at sea. The other names were not revealed.

In addition to Mills' body the raft contained:

A colonel's eagle insignia which had been bent into a crude fish hook.

Fish skeletons.

A notebook belonging to the plane's navigator—but there was no entry after the fatal flight began.

On Jan. 15—a few days before Mills left Africa—the navigator had drawn a prophetic skull and crossbones and a crude sketch of

Value Chart On Point Rationing Is Published

In this weeks issue of The Munday Times, housewives will find a point value chart which is a duplicate of the chart supplied to each food store.

Housewives of Knox county will find this chart of value for reference when they are making up the weekly food budget and shopping list for the family under the rationing system.

It has been suggested by the Regional OPA Information Office at Dallas, that housewives hang this chart up in their kitchens for reference.

GENE HARRELL GOES TO OKLAHOMA CITY

Gene Harrell left last Sunday for Oklahoma City, where he has accepted employment in defense work with the Douglas Aircraft Corp. He has been associated with his father, E. W. Harrell, in the Munday Hardware and Furniture Co. here for the past several years. Mrs. Harrell and little daughter, Natalie, expect to leave this week for Oklahoma City to join Mr. Harrell.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barrington of Throckmorton were business visitors here last Saturday.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Nurse that heating plant along for it must do you for the duration. Metal... every bit we can rake and scrape up is going into War Production to provide the tools for our Boys on the fighting fronts.

But start saving now for that heating plant by your purchase of War Bonds every payday through a Payroll Savings plan. War spending goes on month after month. So War Savings must keep pace, month after month. Put at least ten percent of your income in War Savings through War Bonds. U. S. Treasury Department a grave in the notebook. Not One Written Line On Disaster

The circumstances surrounding Mills' battle for survival and the slow tortuous death of his companions never will be known. One of the most baffling angles is the fact that there were no notes, no entries in the notebook, or anything in the raft to tell why the plane was forced down or where, or when, where and how the other six occupants died. When the raft skidded to a stop on the beach, there was no food and no water in it. Mills apparently had died of exposure, thirst and hunger two or three days before. Mills was a Braniff Airway pilot form June, 1934, until he left in the fall of 1941 for army service. He was born in Kansas City on Nov. 24, 1903, and lived there most of his life. He had been interested in aviation for years. During his freshman year in high school shortly after World War I he and friends bought several wrecked training planes and pieced them together in their manual training classes. Mills piloted Braniff planes on the Dallas-Chicago run and was considered one of the line's top-notch pilots.

CHICKEN ORDINANCE TO BE ENFORCED

City officials of Munday plan rigid enforcement of the city's ordinance requiring those who have chickens in the city limits to keep them penned up. Riley B. Harrell, city secretary, announced Monday.

In view of the fact that more people than ever will raise gardens this year, due to the rationing program, it is absolutely necessary that all chickens be kept in substantial pens, the official said.

Chickens are also vital in the war production, but officials warned that chickens in city limits will not be allowed to range in neighbors' gardens.

Tax Collector Gives Schedule For Auto Tags

For the convenience of those who find it impossible, or difficult, to make a trip to Benjamin to secure the new 1943 car license tags, E. B. Sams, tax collector, has announced the following schedule for registering cars over the county:

Vera, Wednesday morning, March 10th.

Ray Moore Now Is Somewhere In The Pacific

Mrs. John Moore of Munday, mother of Ray Moore, former Munday Mogul football star, received a letter from him one day this week stating that he was somewhere in the Pacific.

Ray, who is serving in the U. S. Marines, wrote that he could not tell his exact location, but they were having engagement with the Japs. He said he was well, that there was no use worrying about him as he was going to be O. K. "Keep Your Chin Up," he said to his mother, "and keep wishing me well and maybe it won't be long before I will be home."

In another portion of Ray's letter he said: "We have really been giving the Japs the works lately. The Marine pilots are too good for them. They got 14 Jap Zero planes yesterday, and we never lost a plane. The Japs have been bombing us each night. They are not doing us a big lot of damage, but are keeping us up all night. Maybe it won't be long before we have them whipped."

LUNCH IS CHEAPER NOW

At the rate he was spending in the first six months of 1942, the average workingman will spend $387 this year for food that would have cost him $415 in 1929, according to figures released by the U. S. Department of Labor. Thus the worker's family "saved" $14 during the first half of the year because food costs were 7 percent less than in 1929.

Point Rationing Is Being Studied

The educational advisors of the nutrition committee met Friday, February 19, in the county home demonstration office for the purpose of setting up some means by which the people of Knox county might become better acquainted and have a better knowledge of the point rationing system.

Suggestions have been made by the nutrition advisors in each community as follows:

- 1. Set up exhibits on canned fruits and vegetables and places where rationing is being held.
- 2. Set up exhibits in grocery stores.
- 3. Put up posters.
- 4. Hand out leaflets sent out by the Extension Service.

The cooperation of all merchants is asked in this program.

Farmers Union Gin To Issue Dividends

Soil Meeting Held Last Week At Knox City

The purpose of the meeting was to familiarize the different committees with their tasks of assembling information necessary for the plan and program of work within the district.

Mr. H. H. Gass of the State Soil Conservation Board of Temple attended the meeting and made a very interesting talk as to the physical, economic and social value of soil conservation.

Mr. Jack Idol, chairman of the conservation district, reports that all committees are at work and that a very satisfactory plan of work is bound to result when so many of the landowners are working together for the common cause.

Red Cross War Fund Ranks Second Only to Victory Drive In Importance

The Red Cross war fund drive ranks second in importance on the road to victory, leaders of the drive for Knox county stated recently.

"There are many in the Far East and others in North Africa and naturally there will be more as the war progresses. When you think of what our men are going through, then realize that they can be served by the Red Cross alone, that is enough incentive for anyone to give, and give abundantly to the war fund drive. Everyone should give something—everyone should give something. This is everyone's fight."

Mrs. W. R. Moore, Mrs. J. C. Harpham, Mrs. Fred Broach, Mrs. Raymond Ratliff, Miss Elizabeth Mounce, and Aaron Edgar as publicity member, are co-workers with Mrs. Pendleton; also Aline Johnson for the colored people.

Annual Meeting To Be On Saturday At Union Hall

Dividends amounting to around $19,500 will be issued to customers and stockholders of the Farmers Union Cooperative Gin of Munday at the annual meeting which will be held next Saturday, beginning at two o'clock. The meeting will be in the Farmers Union hall.

Wallace Reid, manager of the gin stated that this is a part of the proceeds of last years operations of the gin and will be paid on a basis of 9,700 bales of cotton ginned.

All customers of the gin are urged to attend this meeting, receive their dividend checks and study the statement of operations of this gin. This statement will be furnished those who are present.

"The same practice which was followed last year of giving farmers an opportunity of investing their dividends in U. S. War Bonds will be followed again this year," Mr. Reid stated. "Two girls will be on hand to give those who desire an opportunity to buy bonds as an investment in Victory."

Approximately $1,000 in War Bonds was sold at the meeting last year, and it is expected that farmers will go over that figure this year.

Employees of the gin have been using the salary deduction plan in purchasing War Bonds, and Mr. Reid stated they bought over $2,500 in bonds through this method.

Fire Destroys Barn At Warren Home On Tuesday

Firemen were called on Tuesday afternoon to extinguish a fire which destroyed the barn at the Weldon Warren home. The barn was a mass of flames before the fire was discovered, and it was practically burned down by the time firemen arrived. It caught from a pile of burrs which had been set afire earlier in the day, according to reports.

A calf which was valued at about $35, perished in the flames.

Firemen made another call on Monday to put out a grass fire which was threatening property in the southwest part of town.

Reports are due within five days after the last day of the month covered, Mr. Wood said. They should be made on ODT Form CWN-3, a simple, single-sheet form of only eight questions, which require no exhaustible sets of records. The form may be obtained at the district office and should be returned there.

DESIGN OF EMPTY CUPBOARDS

If an army moves on its stomach, what does a nation that keeps an army supplied, move on? Its stomach also.

Calling "empty grocery store shelves and meatless markets" the tragic consequence of a national policy of holding down farm prices, Fred H. Saxner, of Auburn, New York, predicts "the American people may find themselves really hungry unless Washington is made to realize farmers' organizations and utilize the service they can perform in drafting effective food production programs."

Food scarcity has suddenly become news, he said. Farm organizations warned of these conditions developing as early as November, 1941. The government of holding down farm prices was accompanied "by propaganda claiming that increases in farm prices meant inflation and disaster. No propaganda was unloosed to indicate that rising wages combined with scarcity of goods and services opens the way for inflation.

"The philosophy of low farm prices leads inevitably to rationing with rationing started, there is grave danger of government officials assuming that we can't get higher production, so what there is must be doled in smaller and smaller quantities." To enable farmers to produce more, "the first requisite is prices for farm products that will enable farmers to meet their costs and have enough to support their families, rather than prices that force them to quit farming and go off to urban jobs."

Food just doesn't happen—it has to be produced the same as an airplane or a battleship. It is subject to all production costs—high priced labor cannot expect low-priced food.

INDUSTRY'S CAPACITY UNDERESTIMATED

Major factors in the shortage of steel, rubber, and copper, according to an exhaustive study of "War Production and Shortages of Basic Materials" made by the Research Division of the National Association of Manufacturers, were the failure of the government to realize the scope of the war program in its planning, the conflict among government agencies to obtain materials, and the unpredictable nature of Lend-Lease requirements.

This 56-page study which was cleared by the Office of Censorship and placed in the hands of War Production Board officials before release of the announcement of the Controlled Materials Plan which may clear up some of the conditions enumerated in the NAM report.

According to the survey, "shortages of basic raw materials, actual or threatened, are due to the following factors: (1) faulty planning by government agencies before Pearl Harbor; (2) lack of balance in the war production program due partly to the lack of coordination between the Army, Navy Maritime Commission and the War Production Board; (3) failure to realize in time the inadequacies of the system of priorities, and (4) the fact that production has exceeded early estimates." Both government and private industry underestimated the capacity of American industry to produce munitions. Productive facilities have been increased until they are now out of step with raw material supplies.

GOVERNMENT'S FUNCTION

"The accomplishments of science and industry expressed through the American system of competitive enterprise," declared David Sarnoff, President of the Radio Corporation of America, at a recent meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York, "can be used to create employment for labor, and capital, and to stimulate national prosperity.

"Where private enterprise is able and willing to meet the needs of society, it should not be the function of the government to create industrial enterprises, or to finance them, or to run them, or to employ labor, or to operate our vast agricultural system.

"The government's function should be that of an umpire, to see that each segment of society plays its part in accordance with the rules, and fulfill its obligation to the community as a whole. In performing this task, government would do a great deal to assure the stability of our economic life." Mr. Sarnoff said.

Congress is struggling with the problem of how to make collection of tremendous taxes easy on the taxpayer. The answer is simple, it can't be done any more than a major operation can be made a minor affair.

TRIBUTE TO BRITISH INDUSTRY

A great tribute was paid to British industry for its part in the defense of the British Isles and the war against the Axis by Malcolm Muir, Chairman of the War Committee of the National Association of Manufacturers, in a recent broadcast to the American people.

Mr. Muir, speaking from a London British Broadcasting Company studio, said that almost every observer in England was agreed that the three factors responsible for the survival of England following the defeat at Dunkerque were the Royal Air Force, the plain people of England, and British industries.

Much has been said about the Royal Air Force and the people of England but little has been told about the extraordinary job that was done and is still being done by British manufacturers.

The 15-minute broadcast, heard in this country over the facilities of the Columbia Broadcasting System, included a description of some of the plants that Mr. Muir had visited. Women, he said was performing all kinds of work in British factories and many of them were doing so-called hard "heavy" jobs.

"Britain did not achieve its high level of production without sacrifice," Mr. Muir said. "Both labor and management have had to make sacrifices that both might survive. Labor has given up its right to strike and its limitation in hours of work. Management has abandoned profitable peacetime production and has accepted one hundred per cent government control for the duration. The excellent relationship of men, of management, labor leaders, and government heads is one found under the hard realities of war. They consider the common enemy is the Axis.

"Outlaw strikes are frequent and public opinion sees that they are short-lived when they do occur."

REAL NATIONAL DEFENSE

The year 1942 closed with fire losses totaling $314,849,000, which was two and one-third per cent under the total of $322,357,000 for 1941, according to figures just released by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

At a first glance this would not seem like a startling item—but when considered in connection with our war effort and the hundreds of millions of dollars in war products and war building that were involved over and above any preceding year, the fact that fire losses actually dropped in 1942, is a most remarkable record.

This record was not just an accident. It was due to combination of efforts—continuous fire prevention education as carried on by the fire insurance companies, increasingly better fire departments, and excellent work by crime prevention agencies and those charged with control of sabotage of war efforts. The result was a reduction in fire losses in a year which was most critical in this nation's all-out war effort.

There was probably no greater contributing factor to lowered fire losses than the fire consciousness that is being instilled in the school children, housewives and employes in all industries and factories. They are becoming aware of the fact that a fire prevented is the surest way to save property. This is bearing fruit in every community. The war has but emphasized the need for cooperation by every individual in the land. Every effort should be made to make 1943 an even better year than 1942, because the need for fire prevention increases as supplies of all manner of materials become more scarce.

A unique "traveling refrigerator" for shipping quick frozen foods on railways, now is used successfully by the Red Cross to transport blood at the necessary uniform 40-degree temperature.

GROWERS URGED TO SAVE COVER CROP

College Station, —Growers of winter cover crops in Texas are urged to harvest sufficient seeds for fall planting.

Citing recent freezes in the Pacific Northwest which destroyed a large per cent of the vetch crop, Fred Rennels, assistant administrative officer of AAA, pointed out that Texas farmers would have to provide their own seed this year to offset probable shortages.

He urged farmers to harvest enough of their crops to provide seed for their own use this fall, as well as for other producers, and to sell the remainder to the AAA through the Commodity Credit Corporation.

Varieties of seed under the new purchase order program which also was announced this week, are Australian winter peas, and varieties of vetch, as well as clover and ryegrass.

Basic price for top grades of seed include hairy vetch and crimson clover at $10. per hundredweight, and Willamette vetch at $6.50 per hundredweight while the price on Australian winter peas, common vetch and ryegrass has been set at $5. each on a per hundredweight basis.

Primary motive of the purchase program is to reduce seed shortages to a minimum in Texas, the AAA official said.

All seeds purchased on the program will be on the basis of bagged, cleaned, re-cleaned and fumigated seed packed in cotton bags or approved quality, except that the cotton bag requirement will not apply to ryegrass.

Operating under principles similar to the 1942 purchase program, the Commodity Credit Corporation will purchase winter clover crop seeds through the AAA and sell them to cooperating farmers. Costs of the seed later will be deducted from the AAA payments.

placing some of this equipment on farms where it was seriously needed.

Employment of this plan uncovered an interesting fact, Bentley observes. Many farmers acquiring certain equipment badly discovered through the list that nearby neighbors had the particular part they were seeking.

WORK FOR IDLE FARM MACHINERY

College Station, —There's a job waiting for every idle piece of farm machinery still capable of service. The only problem is to bring the job and the machine together.

According to M. R. Bentley of A. & M. College Extension Service, C. W. Jackson, Harris County agricultural agent, has found a way to do this. He listed all the available idle farm equipment in the county and made the information accessible to any one seeking it.

The list was sent to the farm machinery rationing committee, which has assisted a member of farmers in obtaining pieces of idle equipment which they needed in their 1943 farm production program. Vocational agricultural teachers, farm implement dealers and leading feed retailers in the county also were given copies. All of these have given assistance in

SINCE 1882, the Fort Worth and Denver City Railway has provided Texans with the fastest, most direct Freight and Passenger transportation service to and from Colorado and the great Northwest.

Troop movements to and from training camps... raw supplies for war production centers... gasoline and oil for mechanized equipment... food to sustain our fighting forces and lay the foundations for a just peace — these are today's objectives of Texas Railroads at WAR.

But wars have come and gone... so have boom days... so have depressions — and making the best of each situation is a great American tradition. By saying little and doing much to overcome the transportation problems of today, we of the Burlington Lines hope to merit your approval and confidence as an organization whose sincere wish is to give friendlier service.

On The Home Front

O.E.M. Division of Information

Fifty-million dollars is a great deal of money—almost half as large as OPA's original appropriation of $120,000,000 for 1942-1943, but that much money has been saved the United States government by one price reduction ordered by the Price Administration.

A saving estimated conservatively at $50,000,000—has been affected by an order cutting back by 10 per cent to 25 per cent the maximum prices for most of the steel castings used in ships, tanks, guns, and planes. This saving to the country's war bill was decided earnings of steel castings manufacturers revealed that profits on an after examination of the 1942 sales were running from three to five times as large as in the four years 1936 through 1939.

This is one of the examples wherein price control is more than paying its way. Hidden savings effected by the Office of Price Administration run into billions of dollars, but often this is difficult to comprehend because of its intangibility. "What might have been," is the best way to weigh the advantages of price control.

Everybody has a stake in the continuing battle against inflation. In simple words, inflation means that demand—the spending power in the hands of the people—is greater than the supply of things that can be bought. That's the situation we're in now. And the results of inflation are also inevitable that even the dictionary says:

"Inflation always produces a rise in the price level."

Uncontrolled inflation goes a lot further than that, however. Uncontrolled inflation spins us into mysterious and terrifying "inflationary spiral." Prices go up; prices push up income; income pushes up prices; until prices are so high and money worth so little that a basketful won't buy a loaf of bread. It happened just that way in Germany after the last war. To a lesser extent,

Canadian Paratroopers Train in United States

Maybe the jump master is telling them the old one about sending their chutes back if they don't work or maybe he's got a new one. Anyway, he seems to be pepping the boys up as they tensely await order to jump. Picture was made by Photographer Harry Rowed while in flight high above the Fort Benning School.

Another excellent example of the high degree of co-operation which now exists between the United States and Canada in the fighting of this greatest of all wars is the training of Canadian paratroopers at the big U. S. Army school at Fort Benning, Ga. It was originally planned that after the first batch of paratroops were trained for Canada at Fort Benning that a Canadian school would be set up at Camp Shilo, Manitoba. Unexpected delays in the obtaining of certain equipment made it impossible to carry on the parachute training at Camp Shilo this winter so an arrangement was made with United States authorities to train additional Canadian paratroopers at Fort Benning. The U. S. Army was anxious to test equipment under special winter conditions, so facilities were provided for the doughboys at Camp Shilo. Thus a simple swap was made that was characteristic of the manner in which the United States and Canada have been working almost as one unit in a joint war effort.

The Canadians are tickled with it happened here. When we were this far along with the war of 1914-18, the cost of living had gone up a third.

the opportunity of visiting the southern United States and their letters home have been full of praise for the hospitality and good fellowship shown them by the people of the South.

The formation of a parachute unit in the Canadian Army is in line with the policy that has made it one of the most highly-mechanized and hard hitting forces for its size in the world. Although the country's small population has made it impossible to ever place a large army in the field, Canada has determined that lack of volume in manpower will be made up by quality.

Next spring the United States troops at Camp Shilo will return to their country and the Canadian troops at Fort Benning will return to Camp Shilo. Like American paratroopers, the Canadians receive extra pay for their hazardous duties. Very stiff standards have been set up for the Canadian paratroopers. Already there have been far more volunteers for the special unit than there are vacancies. A significant indication of their future duties is the fact that thirty per cent of the paratroop unit will be made up of French Canadians who are bilingual. The paratroop soldiers are required to be not more than 185 pounds in weight with no recent fractures and almost perfect eyesight. They must also have specially good feet and ankles.

Next stop terra firma. Captain H. A. Fauquier, Ottawa, brother of famed R.C.A.F. ace Johnny Fauquier, steps out into space from the big transport plane as the jump master signals him with pat on the leg. Notice the special release cord strapped across parachute and fixed to plane.

Of Course not everybody's income goes up at the same rate. School teachers, firemen, policemen, widows supported annuities, old people living on pensions, wives and mothers of soldiers suffer most under inflationary conditions. When prices spiral up, they must stretch and stretch their money until it may be spread too thin for subsistence.

That's not all. Farmers and small businessmen have to look sharply. To them, the greatest peril may come after the war when the spiral—if there has been one—collapses. Prices of their products drop and drop. If we want to preserve what gains we have made, prevent suffering for people with fixed incomes, and avert bankruptcies later, the United States must cling to the line already laid down—keeping profits at a reasonable level through excess profits taxes; taxing incomes heavily to absorb part of the surplus; holding down prices and rents by ceilings; controlling wage increases and halting farm prices at a given level; limiting consumer credit in such things as buying on installments; paying debts now when money is easy to get buying war bonds that will make for an "even-normal pocketbook" by putting aside excess money and saving it for the time when money will be scarce and more valuable. Some of these steps are smart for their direct effect on the individual who practice them; in other words the mart citizen will cooperate wholeheartedly so that he, along with the rest of us, may escape the common disasters of uncontrolled inflation.

Rationing is another weapon in the battle against the effects of inflation. Fair distribution of what we have prevents people with the most money from bidding up the price by fighting each other for the limited supply and from buying it all up at the expense of people with less money. Point rationing of canned fruits and vegetables and related foods begins March 1. Sales of the commodities to be rationed have been halted this week while registration of consumers is under way. The week-long freeze will enable grocers to build up inventories, mark stocks and get familiar with the program. Housewives will begin shopping Monday with a new ration book—War Ration Book No. Two. Everyone—no matter how rich or poor—will get an equal share of the goods available under the point ration program.

Household fat salvage, by which the War Production Boards hopes to make up the deficit in glycerine production for explosives, is not intended to cut down the use of fats in cooking. The butcher is more familiar with the principles of the fat salvage campaign than most people and can explain them to his customers. The government wants only such fats as are left over after the housewife has used all she can. Consequently, there is no point to a housewife's turning in fats for salvage if this necessitates her buying others, for that would only result in cutting down our national supply of this vital food source.

Do Your Duty . . . Buy War Bonds!

Here's a patriotic duty everyone of us can participate in — buy U. S. War Bonds and Stamps. War costs run into millions — $220,000 for a big bomber; $70,000 for a fast fighter; $20,000 for a light tank. And it takes millions of dollars more to keep on producing these tanks and ships and guns for Victory. But we can and we will, if you lend your support.

Remember! In ten years, Uncle Sam repays you $25.00 for the $18.75 you lend him today.

Around the wedding cake, topped by a soldier and his bride, were white sweet peas, and daffodils set in fern surrounding the reflector on which the cake was placed. At each end of the table were candelabra with seven white tapers on each. A vase of white jonquils carried out the yellow and white color scheme.

YOUR JOB AT HOME

HOME accidents are sabotage! They affect the war effort by keeping men and women from work, demanding "at-priority" medical attention, wasting money. Do away with hazards in your home—avoid carelessness that leads to accidents!

Carelessness causes fires, cuts and bruises. Never keep matches where they can be reached by small hands. That goes for sharp knives and scissors, too. Be careful in your methods of using household tools. Wrong handling of kitchen utensils can result in serious injury.

Neglecting to invest a small sum in a stepladder for the home is a dangerous economy. But if you must use chairs for climbing, be sure they form a solid base of operations!

Inadequately-lighted stairways and cluttered steps lead to many a broken leg—and head! And are indications of poor housekeeping. That, coupled with haste, can lead to critical injuries to members of the family.

Just as carelessness is the big cause of costly home accidents, so too can carelessness in cooking rob you of precious and priceless food values! Remember that, when preparing your daily ration of coffee! Measure water and coffee accurately, and don't waste a precious bean by trying homemade experiments with fillers and substitutes. You can't reuse coffee grounds and still get good coffee. You only ruin what new coffee you add! And if you pour coffee through the grounds twice you actually get less coffee than if you only do it once. Some of the good brew stays in the beans the second time through.

Don't be careless when shopping for coffee, either! Read the label! Be sure you get all coffee, not part adulterant!

Party Is Given In Goree On February 12th

On February 12 at 7 p. m., a party was given in the home of Eunice Thornton of Goree. Guests met at the Goree high school gym, where they attended the invitation tournaments until 9 p. m., after which the party began.

Games which were played included progressive 42, cards, chin-ker checks, dominoes, and a few piano solos were given by Imogene Morton. A patriotic theme was carried out, and the plate favors were small flags. Refreshments of jello salad, cookies and hot chocolate were served.

Thirty-four guests were present, including two sailors, Carl Yates and W. V. Blankenship, who had just returned from the Great Lakes for a few days. Others were as follows: Oweda Tucker, Dickie Owens, Berniece Douglas, Buddy Gafford, Betty Jean Coffman, Welton Loving, Imogene Morton, Wayne Couch, Roberta Ratliff, Cooper Haskins, Faye Duncan, Harold Jones, Helen Homer, Johnny Moore, Norma Jean Roberts, Jack Coffman, Frances Yates, Heard Crouch, Jonell Fitzgerald, Rhoades Allan, Louise Shakelford, George Jones Jr., Wayne Harris, Florene Pippin, Cieta Jordan, Mozelle Vandiver, Harold Payne, Mary Jean Stevenson, Wayne Payne, Peggy Norris and Mark Koenig.

The Knox County Home Demonstration Council met in regular session last Friday, February 19, in the assembly room at the court house in Benjamin. Five clubs were represented: Vera, Gilliland, Union Grove, Truscott, and Benjamin. Reports of standing committee chairmen were received and adopted. As a conservation measure, it was agreed that hereafter the regular monthly meetings would be superseded by called meetings as deemed necessary by the chairman.

County Council Of H. D. Clubs In Meeting Friday

You will want to hear Hon. Pat M. Neff over WFAA Sunday morning at 7:30. His long experience as a public servant-Governor of Texas, President of Baylor University, etc. makes him highly capable of bringing a great message on "The Patriot in This Chaotic World."

The Woman's Missionary Society will observe the Annie Armstrong Week of Prayer for the Home Missions with an all day service at the church next Wednesday. The programs are being planned by Miss Myrtle Munday. They will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning and continue through the evening hour. There should be a good attendance at these meetings.

We extend to you an urgent invitation to come to the services next Sunday. We are asking for a meeting of the deacons for just a few minutes immediately after the close of the morning service. Our boys somewhere need our prayers, but especially are we thinking of those American boys in Tunisia.

W. H. Albertson.

THE METHODIST CHURCH Luther Kirk

"Week of Dedication"

Calling all Methodist to rally to the call of the church! Yes the church realizes the great need of the hour. After much thought and meditation by the leaders of the church a plan to revive the spiritual fires has been decided on. All Methodist congregations are asked to participate in the "Week of Dedication" beginning February 28th and continuing through March 7th. This program will consist of preaching each evening at 8:00 p. m. We shall endeavor to establish family alters, increase our daily Bible reading and spend more time daily in prayer. Friends, what do we need to-day more than a deeper consecration? As a member of the church will you not heed her call?

We cordially invite each and every one who lives within the bounds of the Munday community to be with us in these services. Perhaps a deeper consecration in these days would do us all good.

Come and be with us from the very start. Let's work together for the Glory of God and the building of His Kingdom.

WE WILL—Pay you cash for your tractor, mold board plow, one-way plow. Let us know what you have that you don't need. Broach Implement Co.

Modern dehydration can reduce 80 pounds of peas to 15 pounds in less than ten hours.

While there is no nourishment in water, it is vital for at least five reasons: lubricating human joints, dilating blood and lymph to promote circulation, regulation of body temperature through evaporation, and assisting in digestion and exertion.

The 42 straggle materials which we had to import for the last war have now been reduced to 15.

Wooden fence posts treated with chromated zinc chloride last three to ten times longer than if untreated.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS by BOYCE HOUSE

At Matamoras (across the river of course from Brownsville) you can dine or could years back, in a setting that was truly glamorous, out in the open with an unbelievably big moon made of a new silver so low that it was barely above the tops of the twin palm trees and a marimba band played soft melodies. At one time, more strident than the Mexican songs, memories stirred of Texas grid-irons for it was:

"We'll old Blankville in the sod, in the sod, Rah, rah, rah!"

At a near by table, A Mexican aviator was talking in English to two Americans. He was describing a flight at right over Louisiana swamps.

"I could see lights glimmering in the waters. No it was not the reflection of the stars; it was the moonlight hitting the eyes of the alligators!"

They have tellers of tall tales in all countries.

There has been considerable talk from Austin in criticism of "the short work week" over the nation.

Well, the shortest work week that I know anything about is right down in Austin under the dome of the Capitol.

Just sit down and take a stab pencil and the back of an old envelope and figure it out for yourself. State department employees come to work at 8 and get off at 5, with an hour for lunch. That figures out eight hours per day. But they're given fifteen minutes in the morning and another fifteen minutes in the afternoon for coffee, so that cuts down the time on the job to seven hours and a half.

But we're not through figuring yet. That seven and a half hours a day is for Monday through Friday. On Saturday they get off at noon and, of course, don't have to come back till Monday morning.

Assuming that a department employee works what time he is actually at his desk—and that's a pretty violent assumption in some instances—then he works 41 1-2 hours a week.

But wait! We haven't allowed for two weeks' paid vacation, sick leave and all the numerous holidays that State departments take off. Figure all this in and, Mr. Taxpayer, you will do well to get 36 hours of service per week from hundreds of State department employees.

If our State bureaus would suspend most of the holidays for the duration and if they would work on Saturday afternoons and give the public the same type of service that the public gets from private business and private industry, then those departments could get along with one fourth less employees than they now have. This would release a great number of people for work in airplane factories and it would save the taxpayers over a million dollars per year.

The average business man, in these days of war taxes and labor shortage and stress and strain, is working from 60 to 70 hours a week. The farmers always have worked 72 hours a week on the average and they're working harder than ever now. Would it be asking too much for our State government to go on at least a 48-hour basis? Really, somebody ought to break it gently to the bureaucrats at Austin that there is a war going on.

Wayne Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Thompson, left for the service February 3, and is now stationed at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Mrs. Agnes Mayes of Amarillo spent the week end here with her mother, Mrs. W. M. Mayo; her son, Jackie Mayes, and with other relatives and friends.

Rationing At A Glance

Ration Books

War Ration Book No. 1—Used for sugar, coffee and shoes, will be required to obtain Book No. 2.

War Ration Book No. 2—To be issued between February 22 and February 28, will provide for rationing on a "point system" beginning March 1.

Mileage Ration Books—Books A, B and C used for passenger car gasoline; E and R books for non-highway uses; D for motorcycles; T for trucks and commercial vehicles.

Rationed Food Commodities

SUGAR—Stamp No. 11 in Book No. 1 good for 3 pounds until midnight March 15, 1943.

COFFEE—Stamp No. 25 in Book No. 1 (for those 15 or older on the day the book was issued) is good for one pound until midnight March 21.

SHOES—Stamp No. 17 in Book No. 1 good for one pair of shoes through June 15.

MEAT—Voluntary share-the-meat program sets limit at 2 1-2 pounds per person per week. Meat will be rationed under the "point system" sometime after Book No. 2 is distributed.

... and how's YOUR sense of balance?

This is a balancing chair—used to test the equilibrium of Army Air Corps candidates.

- Relatively few West Texans will ever try the balancing chair—but every last one of us is having our sense of balance tested under the mad whirl of wartime bureaucracy.
- It's a test of our ability to do our daily job, buy bonds, pay taxes, donate blood, serve in Civilian Defense and Texas Defense Guards—and still keep an even keel under the barrage of bureaucratic rulings and threats.
- It's a test of individuals, and institutions, and industries.
- And it raises this question: Why are bureaucrats and crack-pot socialists, who never raised a chicken, a hog, a cow, who never produced an article by manual labor or generated a kilowatt of energy, and who never maintained a payroll or sold a pound of beefsteak... why are they holding vital posts when the Nation is fighting for survival?
- Why, in time of national emergency, haven't they been replaced by well-balanced men... practical men with training and experience in production and distribution problems?

Due to a noticeable dullness in the Glow of Sunset, we are inserting this week some new columns. Hope you approve.

Strictly Gossip—Inspired by—
 We wonder how Jimmy Doolittle would like it if he knew what a namesake he has!

Could anyone tell us who are curious, if George goes to the theater to talk or be carried away by the romance of the emoting? We'd be willing to swear that the "colored people" in the gallery heard her lifting contralto last Tuesday night.

There's one boy in high school whom almost every girl around considers just too cute for words—especially if he is at least ten miles away.

Listen, Rosemary and Wynelle, it is alright to accuse Coy of making eyes, but we think you might hunt up a decent Romeo.

Wynelle's typewriter seems to have a wobbly constitution. There is no reasoning it out.

Was Charlie born amusing, or does he read gag books week-ends?

If the writers of our Texas constitution had known that more high school "kids" were going to study it, we think they'd have been considerate enough to leave out such words as consanguinity and affinity.

EDITORIALS

(By Glyndalin Frost)

We hope to have many contributions to this column in the future. Got anything on your mind? Shoot it to us, and we will see that your side is presented.

RATIONING

Any scarce commodity should be rationed by our national government and every person living within the boundaries of this nation should entirely refrain from kicking.

About the commodities—why are they scarce? They are scarce because of transportation difficulties, because some countries from which we obtained things are now occupied by our enemies, because we are feeding starving countries, and because we have an army which marches on its stomach as well as the leather which went into that new pair of shoes that you or I didn't get.

Why ration? Because it's the only fair way. Under rationing, there is even distribution, except when hoarders are confronted, and I have a word for them, too. Hoarders are Hitler's Little American stooges, just as surely as are Bob Best and Fred Kaltenbach. And about kickers—grouching at the government does no good, and may do a lot of harm. It must be very comforting to the fellows in North Africa, Guadalcanal, etc. to hear how we poor folks back home are suffering. We even have to slice our own bread.

And another thing—maybe it doesn't mean anything to you Ration Objectors that more Americans have already been killed than were killed in the first World War. Sacrifice. They sacrificed their own lives, and many more are going to do the same. To speak of the inconveniences we are enduring as sacrifices is to be silly.

So why not give yourself, your community, and your country a break by accepting rationing as a fair and just procedure—and taking sacrifices (when they do come) on the chin instead of the tongue?

Sports News Real

A La Bill Stern
 Reel 1. The Sunset Senior Basketball boys played Bomarton, February 12, defeating them 31 to 13. The few present did not appear too enthusiastic. We who have long enough memories yearn for the good old days when the gym was packed and excitement was at a peak.

Reel 2. Volleyball drags. No games, no news. In fact, our season is over for the year. The rubber situation is too precarious.

Reel 3. There may be some class tournaments in both basketball and volleyball shortly.

Reel 4. After volleyball and basketball are over, we who are interested will take up baseball, badminton, horseback, etc.

Questions Of The Week

What do you think of demerits? Sue Partridge: Are you kidding? Rosemary: Wynelle, I think that we had better quit plane geometry while we still have something left, if we can.

Glyndalin: Why ask me? I don't know what one of the things look like.

Coy: Gee whiz. As though I'd get a demerit.

Mildred Yost: Anyone who gives them well.

Wynelle: I don't like them.

Miss Albertson: I'm not talking.

Bonnie: A few demerits can make a good student look like a "Dub."

Eva Dean: A silly practice.

Mildred Screws: What a question?

Frances: Just a way of showing one's authority, for instance a sort of a habit.

Sue Nelson: There's one thing to say about them—no body likes them.

 Nelda: Phooey, whoever started that anyway?

The Senior News

You never saw any less inspiring material for a newspaper column. Every little Senior is a saga within himself, of course but we can't just pin this down to personalities. People want to read things that are exciting and romantic (Did I hear a horse laugh from some of fellow reporters who are having as tough a time as I, judging from their reports).

Meet The Faculty; Miss Helen Albertson, English Teacher
 Born: Harrison, Ark. Moved to Texas shortly afterwards.
 Educated: Munday grade, high school—afterwards attended Howard Payne College.

Pet Peeves: Mochers—especially among students for grades. Likes to do: Nothing. Childhood Ambition: Didn't have one. Life's Big Moment: Haven't had one. Sport: Football. Actress: Mae West. Actor: Gene Autry. Orchestra: Bob Wills and his Dixie Playboys.

Senior News

Friday morning the grammar school gym was the meeting place of the most gorgeous females Monday has seen in a long time. They wore their new spring "outfits" and what figures! All of this goes to show you what impossible things the senior boys can accomplish. Yes, underneath all that paint and powder and feminine clothing, the Senior boys presented to the school that funny and enjoyable play "The Woman's Tea." The loudest laughs came when Judy, the glamor girl, played by Jimmie Silman, went out into the audience and caught herself a man. The poor distressed man was Hulen Montgomery, who was given a great big kiss by Judy.

The octette, under the direction of Miss De Loach, sang three numbers for us. They were "We Must Be Vigilant," "Moonlight Becomes You" and "For Me and My Gal." The girls were dressed in evening gown and made a very lovely picture standing in a V around the piano.

Speaking of plays, the Seniors are getting ready to give their annual play. Miss De Loach, who is the director, and the committee appointed by the class president, are selecting the play. So be on the watch for further information pertaining to this subject in the future.

On George Washington's birthday, February 22, the Seniors planted two trees on the campus of M. H. S. to replace that one tree that naughty George chopped with his little hatchet. We only hope that another George doesn't come along a chop ours down.

Senior On Review

Milton Thompson was dropped by the stork at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Thompson, Nov. 1, 1925. At this time the Thompsons were living at Knox City. Milton spent his first four years of life in K. C. then he moved to Munday and at the age of seven started school in Munday Grammar School.

Milton was a healthy and ambitious child. He got through grammar school without a scratch and when he arrived in high school he joined the band.

This year he was manager of the football team, captain of the basketball team and, besides all of this rough business, he still plays in the band.

Milton plans to attend Texas University in the fall and will major in chemistry. Good luck, Killer!

Junior News

A week ago the Juniors had a Valentine party in the gym. Everyone that went said it was one of the best socials that the class has ever had. Schuffle-board, relay, table tennis, and badminton were included in with the games.

In American History the class is studying about big business and labor unions. Each day current events are discussed and the class really knows about the late world events.

The Junior class has become quite musical minded recently so some of the pupils gave his favorite.

Freshman News

The freshman class, along with the rest of the student body planted trees Monday in honor of George Washington's birthday. The ceremony took place at the flagpole after which the different classes planted their trees.

Examinations are preparing their unwanted heads at the corner again. But "We did it before and we can do it again." We hope!

Some of the Freshmen are finding it hard to understand just exactly what Poe, Shik spoo, and Robert Burns mean in some of their famous poems. But give them time—they will learn.

Weekly Health Letter

Edited by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, commenting on the seriousness of rheumatic fever, today declared that this disease is recognized as one of the greatest killers among young people. Between the ages of 10 and 15, rheumatic fever causes more deaths than any other disease, the state health officer said, and persons between the ages of 15 and 21, it is outranked only by tuberculosis.

Dr. Cox stressed the fact that deaths in childhood from rheumatic fever have not decreased in a satisfactory manner during the past decade, and warned the parents of children to pay particular attention to the care and treatment of such predisposing diseases as tonsillitis and other upper respiratory infections.

"The diagnosis in this disease is not always easy," Dr. Cox said. "Any child with suspicious symptoms should be under prolonged supervision of a physician since along with a general involvement of the body, the heart is practically always involved. The symptoms may consist only of pallor, loss of weight, easy fatigue, unusual sweating, loss of appetite, and sometimes fleeting muscular pain, and a little joint stiffness and a rapid beating of the heart. The more severe cases may show repeated nose bleeds, extreme nervousness, stiffness and pain in the joints, swelling of the joints, fever and pain over the heart."

According to Dr. Cox, the majority of children who experience rheumatic fever suffer more than one attack and each may last months or even at times one to three years. The final result depends on the amount of heart damage incurred. Closely supervised bed rest throughout the entire period of infection is essential in order to minimize the danger.

Accident Brings Death to Former Priest at Rhineland

The following clipping from the "Abbey Message" of Subiaco, Ark., on the death of Father Boniface Spanke, O. S. B., former priest at Rhineland, was sent The Times by M. A. Verhalen.

In the center of the main building five floors up is housed the science laboratory. The fifth and topmost staircase makes a sharp turn and next to the banister the steps narrow to a few inches. Here on Thursday evening, December 10, about 7 p. m. Father Boniface Spanke slipped and fell in the semi-darkness. Bruised and dazed, he crawled to the fourth floor landing and called for assistance.

Fathers Lambert and Anthony were near. A bit shaken, but nevertheless able to stand by himself, he told them of the fall. Then suddenly he began to pray and a few minutes later lapsed into semi-consciousness. A doctor examined the wounds and said he expected quick recovery. However, Father Boniface, who for months had been afflicted by high blood pressure, was unable to recover from the shock and never regained consciousness.

After Conventual High Mass the next day the community knelt around the bedside as Father Bede administered Extreme Unction. Shortly after 11 a. m. sixteen hours after the accident, as Fathers and Fratres prayed the prayers for the dying, Father Boniface breathed his last.

Monastic Vocation A Surprise
Born in Germany, May 12, 1873, the deceased came to America with his parents as a child. He was the first alumnus of Subiaco College. In his history of the first 25 years of New Subiaco Abbey, Father Lusk records an interesting sidelight of Father Boniface's entry into the vocation: "There is one event that deserves special notice. At the end of the school year of 1891-92, the first American youth who attended our school entered the novitiate and subsequently joined the order as P. Boniface, O. S. B. His 'conversion' was a surprise to many who did not know that a cheerful and gay character is one of the first requisites for community life."

Laborer in Texas, Arkansas and Missouri

Into the 49 years of his life as a monk, Father Boniface crowded a colorful and many-sided career. As an educator he rose to the position of rector of Subiaco College within ten years after ordination. As a pastor he served the parishes at Rattliff, Charleston and Fort Smith, Arkansas; Wichita Falls, Texas; and Nevada in Missouri. As a builder he erected the present church at Charleston, designed and began the construction of a new church at Rhineland, and conceived and carried out the plan of the beautiful and unusual Catholic cemetery at Wichita Falls. As a writer he contributed a number of articles to Catholic magazines, particularly the Fortnightly Review of the late Arthur Preuss.

While manager of the farms at Abbey, Father Boniface made far-reaching changes and improvements. He built the modern dairy farm and procured the registered Holstein herd that provides milk for the Abbey and school. He also started the present chicken ranch.

Colorful Experience
In 1915, when a man who posed as an "ex-priest" sought to stir up anti-Catholic feeling in nearby towns and counties, Father Boniface inaugurated his famous "Gospel Wagon" tour. Wherever the enemy of the church stopped to pour forth his lies and bigoted ignorance, the young priest followed and countered the charges. Possessed of a limitless imagination and fearless confidence in himself, Father Boniface was ever occupied with some new plan or idea, and always held definite views on the outstanding questions of the day. His interests included the biggest problems in almost every field of thought and endeavor. A capable linguist, he succeeded in later life to acquire reading and speaking knowledge of all the great languages of the Western World.

Burial

Surviving Father Boniface are two brothers and four sisters, among whom is Sister Ambrose, O. S. B., of St. Scholastica Convent, Ft. Smith. Pontifical Requiem Mass and burial took place on December 14.
