J. B. Jones, 76, County Pioneer, Dies Saturday

J. B. Jones, pioneer educator and county official of Knox county, died last Saturday evening. Mr. Jones, resident of Benjamin for many years, had been in poor health for some time.

Jesse B. Jones was born at Bonham, Texas, on August 27, 1866, and died at the age of 76 years, 10 months and 27 days.

He was married January 27, 1889, to Miss Lillian K. Pollard, at Bowie, Texas. Mrs. Jones passed away September 26, 1907. He was married January 1, 1912, to Mrs. Marion Bonnell, who preceded him in death by only three days.

Surviving him are the following children: Jesse Clyde Jones of Houston, William Clarence Jones, Los Angeles, Calif., Mrs. Jess Burnison of Munday, Mrs. Catherine McLennon, Stamford, and John Paul Jones, Knox City. Other survivors include two step-children, Mrs. Mildred Tracey of Akron, Ohio; and Mrs. J. O. Myers of Dallas; 13 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Mr. Jones obtained his education at the old Ad-Ran College at Thorp Springs. He taught school in Montague county; then followed 16 years of teaching in this section—at Haskell, Benjamin, Knox City and Gillespie, making a total of 35 years in the teaching profession. He then returned to Benjamin, where he served for six years as Knox county's first county superintendent.

He was converted early in life and united with the Baptist church. He was ordained as a deacon by the Gillespie church. He taught Sunday school classes for many years and was a consistent tither.

Mr. Jones was one of the best known Masons in this section, being a charter member of Knox Lodge No. 851, A. F. and A. M. at Munday, and helped organize the Gorce lodge. He went as high as he could go in Masonry, and he taught the work for many years.

A short funeral service was held at the home in Benjamin last Monday afternoon, after which funeral services were held at the Gillespie Baptist church at six o'clock, conducted by Rev. W. H. Albertson. Interment was in the Gillespie cemetery, with members of Orient Lodge No. 905, A. F. and A. M., in charge at the graveside where Masonic services were held.

Revival To Open At Gorce Church

A revival meeting will begin Sunday, August 1, at the First Methodist church in Gorce. J. Waid Griffin, pastor, announced Tuesday.

Rev. Luther Kirk, pastor of the Munday Methodist church, will be in charge of the services. The meeting will continue through August 8th.

Both morning and evening services will be held. Morning services will be at 10:30 a. m., and evening services at 9 p. m.

Rev. Griffin and members of the church extend a cordial invitation to everyone to attend each and every service of the revival.

School Transfer Deadline Nears

The county school board will meet immediately after August 1 to approve all transfers and send them in to the State Department of Education.

Electric Motors To Supply Power For Ice Plant

Installation of electric motors at the Banner Ice Co. this week has again placed this plant up to its full capacity, thus relieving the ice shortage in this area.

For several weeks one of the large engines which furnished power at the plant has been out of commission. The switch to electric power was completed this week, placing the plant back to its full freezing capacity.

The plant is now running 24 hours a day, making plenty of ice for heat suffering people. G. B. Hammett, local manager, appreciates the patience of customers who called at the plant during the past week and could not get ice. With this additional machinery, he believes the problem is solved locally and that all needs of customers in this area can be supplied in the future.

The ice shortage became acute over the week end, due to failure in the machinery, and Mr. Hammett called ice plants over a wide area in a futile attempt to purchase ice to replenish his rapidly diminishing supply.

Nationwide Molly Pitcher Tag Day

Washington, D. C.—On August 4th, Molly Pitcher is stepping out of the pages of American history to sell War Bonds and Stamps. The gal who carried water to thirsty soldiers during the blistering Revolutionary Battle of Monmouth and took over her husband's cannon when he was wounded, has long been a symbol of the heroism of American women.

In her honor, brigades of modern Molly Pitchers will take their stands on nationwide Molly Pitcher Day at street corners, building entrances, and in public places to sell the bonds and stamps that back up our modern fighting men.

A red-white-and-blue Molly Pitcher Tag will be given to everyone who purchases a bond or stamp on that day. Members of the American Legion Auxiliary, and of the Independent Food Distributors Council unit of Molly Pitchers, will aid and augment local Women's War Savings Staffs to make up the volunteer sales force. They will use water pitchers to hold their supplies of tags and War Stamps. The slogan on the tags will read "Fill the Pitcher with Bonds and Stamps on Molly Pitcher Day," and the goal of the sales force will be to "tag" the total population.

Miss Betty Simpson, who is employed in Fort Worth, spent the week end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Simpson.

To Hold Revival

Rev. H. R. Whatley, pastor of the First Baptist church of Haskell, will be here next Sunday to open the revival meeting at the Munday Baptist church. Rev. Whatley is a very able pastor and evangelist, and the public is cordially invited to hear him during the two weeks revival.

Local Bank Is Depository For Income Taxes

W. E. Braly, president of the First National Bank in Munday, announced Wednesday that this bank has qualified as a depository for receiving with-holding income tax funds, offering another special service to its customers.

It is the duty of the employer who withholds more than $100 during the month to pay the amount withheld to a depository authorized by the Secretary of the Treasury. These payments are to be made within ten days after the close of each calendar month.

The bank, acting as the official depository, will issue its customers proper receipts. Employers are further required to make quarterly returns, on a form to be provided, to the Collector of Internal Revenue, showing the aggregate amount of taxes withheld during the quarter. Each return must be accompanied by evidence of full payment of the taxes. The receipt of the local authorized depository will be accepted as such evidence.

Employers who withhold less than $100 during the month are not required to pay such amounts to a depository, but may do so if they wish. They will make quarterly returns to the collector, and need make only quarterly payments of the amounts withheld.

Mr. Braly stated that the local bank has arranged a procedure to be followed in serving its customers in an expedient and efficient manner.

Mr. Nelson was truly one of the county's pioneers, having located here the year this county was organized. He was born May 4, 1865, in Lincoln county, Tenn., and was 78 years, 2 months and 21 days of age.

He and his two brothers, Walter and John, broke out about 225 acres of land three miles southwest of Munday, using a three-gang plow and six yolk of oxen. He hauled the wire to fence the farm and lumber to build a half-dugout from Abilene, and hauled his first cotton to market in Abilene.

On July 2, 1892, Mr. Nelson married Miss Vernie Houston, a member of one of the county's pioneer families. They were the parents of eight children, seven of whom survive. They are as follows:

Clyde and Bud Nelson of Munday, Jim Nelson of Pasadena, Texas; J. C. Nelson of Dallas, Mrs. Hugh Burnison and Mrs. Lee Burnison, both of Munday and Mrs. Carl Tyree of Amarillo. He is also survived by 13 grandchildren.

Revival At Baptist Church Begins Sunday

Morning services will be at ten o'clock, and open air services will be held on the church lawn each evening at 8:45 p. m.

Rev. H. R. Whatley, pastor of the First Baptist church in Haskell, will do the preaching during this revival. In announcing the evangelist, Rev. Albertson said: "Most of you have heard Rev. Whatley before. He is one of the best interpreters of the Bible that I know of anywhere, and you will enjoy his splendid gospel messages. Hear him throughout these days."

Farmers Ahead Of Schedule In Paying Loans

Long-term credit at low interest to low-income farmers who cannot get adequate credit anywhere else is not only paying dividends in food but is also a safe risk if repayments on loans made by the Farm Security Administration in Knox county are an indication.

Mr. Carlton A. Williams, county FSA supervisor, disclosed today that from the beginning of the FSA program to last April 30, $69,401.67 had been loaned in the form of rehabilitation loans to farm families in Knox county.

Of that amount, $50,439.65 has matured, or come due, and $52,890.99, including 5 percent interest has been repaid to the government by these families who were unable to obtain adequate credit from any other source.

Of a total of $180,527.00 lent in this county under the FSA's tenant-purchase program enabling tenant farmers and sharecroppers to become home owners, $40,408.80 has matured, and $41,944.46 has been repaid, including three percent interest, up to March 31. Many borrowers of both types of loans are ahead of schedule with their payments.

More than a third of the nation's increase in milk production last year came from the cows fed and milked by FSA borrowers, who number less than half a million, and are less than eight percent of the nation's farmers. In terms of their own production the year before, increases in war crops produced by FSA families ranged from 20 to 106 percent, Mr. Williams recalled.

Miss Florene Pippin visited with friends in San Antonio the first of this week.

"What a Man Does For Himself Dies With Him—
What He Does For His Community Lives On and On"

PLEASURE LAST

Strictly non-essential travel on trains and buses must be eliminated and vacation travel must be rigidly limited. The Office of Defense Transportation directs this earnest warning to everyone, and adds that it is impractical to apply a system of travel priorities. Therefore, it is up to the individual. He can either assert his "privileges" to visit Aunt Hattie and possibly deprive a man of a trip home on furlough—after months of service—or forego the visit in favor of the service man, or the civilian on war business. The same seat cannot render double service. The public must see that the war comes first.

Organized troop movements by rail are proceeding at the rate of over 2,000,000 men a month. They require the constant service of over one-half of all Pullman sleeping cars and of nearly one-fourth (over 3,000) of all day coaches.

Soldiers make an average of eight moves by railroad between induction and embarkation for service overseas. It takes 356 passenger cars, as well as 82 baggage cars and over 900 freight cars, made up in 65 trains, to move an infantry division of 15,000 men and their equipment. Movement of an armored division and its vehicles requires 75 trains of from 28 to 45 cars each. Furlough travel on regularly scheduled passenger trains equals approximately the volume of organized troop travel. Both are to increase substantially during the months immediately ahead. No new railroad passenger cars or locomotives, and no new inter-city buses, are being constructed.

These are a few of the reasons why civilians are being asked to limit their traveling activities. It is no sacrifice to limit your traveling to necessity if it helps your boy get home on furlough or speeds freight on which his very life may depend.

ALLIED NATIONS 4: AXIS 1

The recent statements of WPB Chairman, Donald M. Nelson, before the Canadian Club at Toronto serve to confirm the public's faith in the ability of industry to meet any emergency. Mr. Nelson told the Canadians that Allied arms output in 1944 may be almost four times as great as that of the Axis; that the Allies out-produced the enemy two to one in 1942, and may "reliably" be expected to out-produce the Axis 3 to 1 in 1943.

By the end of this year, Mr. Nelson said, the United States and Canada will be completing a plane every four and two-thirds minutes around the clock and that the two countries have now produced enough small arms ammunition to permit Allied soldiers to fire more than 1,500 bullets at every soldier in the Axis armies.

At the half year mark, 44 per cent of the merchant ship goal had been reached, the report said; Army ordnance and Naval vessels each 40 per cent, and aircraft 35 per cent. Munitions are now being produced at the rate of more than $60,000,000,000 a year.

While these production figures should bring small comfort to the Axis powers, Mr. Nelson emphasized that this trend toward victory can be sustained only through the unremitting effort of the people.

The war has not been won. Many of our toughest battles are yet to be fought. Yet we can take great satisfaction from this production record which proves that industry is delivering the goods, and that the Allied forces are getting what it takes to win wars.

NO CHECK ON INFLATION

From no less respected authority than Bernard Baruch we have the following interesting commentary on the prevention of inflation:

"I hope I shall not be understood as being opposed to the excess profits tax. The war policy advocated by me could not be effectuated without it. Excess profits taxes—standing alone—have no effect whatever to check inflation. Their only effect is to increase it."

The people of this country should realize that the insidious threat of inflation cannot be passed off merely by increasing excess profits taxes. Industry agrees to the payment of an excess profits tax and has said so many times. But it is a serious error to consider that the whole complex problem can be solved in that way.

"Who are these capitalists? Why, almost every one of us. A capitalist is any person who saves a dollar and puts it to work; who has the right and uses that right to invest in any property or in any legitimate business, which he or she believes will be profitable."—Robert P. Barbour, president, National Board of Fire Underwriters.

A LESSON IN FIRE PREVENTION

Fire prevention experts have long claimed that the great majority of fires which destroy hundreds of millions of dollars worth of property and thousands of lives every year, are preventable. To substantiate their claim they have only to point to the almost complete absence of destructive fire in our military establishments. In the first World War and in the present one, too, government construction projects were pursued in accordance with sound fire prevention principles.

As the National Board of Fire Underwriters observes: "That a building program of such magnitude and comprising camps and cantonments, air fields, magazine fields, shell and bag loading plants, warehousing establishments and a host of others, could be completed and the establishments placed in service and operated as they have been up to the present without any fires of more than moderate extent, seems incredible. But that is the record to date.

"Fire prevention engineers have always contended that if cities could be planned and made to include the fundamental features of fire prevention and protection, much greater security against fire would result."

Some might minimize the work of the prevention experts in government construction on the theory that the government can afford safety "luxuries" where others couldn't. But that is the least valid of criticisms. Most emergency construction has been of wood. Potential fire hazards have been great. Anyone who has ever visited an army camp can testify to that. Fire losses have been kept low in these projects because safety measures that were scientific rather than costly, were followed.

What has been done in the way of fire prevention for the government could be done for our cities. Such agencies as the National Board of Fire Underwriters work ceaselessly to achieve that goal, and cooperate with all interested towns or individuals.

CORRECTION IN SIGHT

A few powerful labor leaders have made monkeys out of the people of this country and our Congress. Their technique is to cause untold damage to the nation and the war effort, and when Congress is ready to crack down with legislation controlling their irresponsible acts, the labor bosses will ease up the pressure to block Congressional action.

The Administration has been largely responsible for this condition. It has failed to supply leadership or national labor legislation, and its blanket opposition to correctives has invited hastily drawn remedies. How much longer labor leaders can defy government and intimidate Congress remains to be seen.

With any faults that the recently passed House anti-strike bill may have, it has some good provisions. These include the requirements for financial statements by unions, control of political contributions and the granting of statutory authority to the National War Labor Board. It has been the lack of such authority which enabled John L. Lewis to thumb his nose at the Board and treat it with contempt.

Commenting on the situation, the New York Times says: "If a measure similar to the House bill should now become a law, it would at least break the long-standing taboo against corrective labor legislation. Once this was done, the Administration and Congress should proceed to work out a more comprehensive and better balanced program."

If labor leaders are wise they will not provide another exhibition of defiance of government as witnessed in the last coal strike.

For a time after its founding the New York Stock Exchange had only an outdoor meeting place under a tree.

Loneliest Job in Royal Canadian Air Force

FROM all appearances he might be a trapper or hunter just out of the backwoods, but he's really Flight Sergeant Harry J. Hickson of London, Ont., communications maintenance man of the Royal Canadian Air Force in bush country on the Pacific coast.

Because of the roughness of the territory over which his job takes him, Hickson has had to put aside his Air Force uniform and boots and substitute for them a pair of canvas pants, buck-skin jacket, rubber boots and peaked felt cap. "No, I'm hardly Air Force in appearance, but the job calls for this get-up," laughed Hickson.

On second glance, it might be noticed that an Air Force badge is fastened to his cap and that the revolver strapped to his side is Air Force issue. The revolver, by the way, is used to scare off inquisitive bear or for signalling purposes.

Hickson, a quiet spoken chap, enjoys the isolated life he is living in this wild, west coast forest area. "It's a new one on me," he said, "but you couldn't find a more interesting country and job."

For 16 years, prior to enlisting in the R.C.A.F. as a telephone cable man, Flight Sergeant Hickson worked for the Bell Telephone Company at London. His job as cable splicer took him to various parts of Ontario but never through such country as his Air Force job takes him.

Through giant Douglas fir forests, over rocky and, in winter, snow-capped mountain ranges, around picturesque lakes and through thickly-wooded valleys he hikes in every kind of weather, tending the communication lines which connect bush stations in the territory. Sometimes he works alone, other times he has a crew of men, depending on the type of job which has to be done.

Flight Sergeant Hickson joined the R.C.A.F. in June of last year at London, where his wife and four children are living at present.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, M.D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN — "Be sure that your preschool child will be ready to go to school in September," Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, urges the parents of all children who will respond to the school bells for the first time next fall. "If you have not already done so, start now to prepare your child for the added strain of school life.

"First and foremost is the need for vaccination against smallpox. Parents and physicians should see that children are vaccinated before they are one year of age; the matter is entirely in the hands of parents and their doctors during the earliest years of life. At school age, however, vaccination becomes absolutely necessary. If your child has not been vaccinated, have it done immediately so that the scar will be completely healed before school opens."

Immunization against diphtheria is also highly desirable, Dr. Cox believes. This disease, which causes serious illness and deaths among young children, can be prevented with toxoid. The child who has never been protected should be given this safeguard against a dreaded disease. Even though he may have been immunized as a baby, doctors and health officers usually recommend an additional dose of toxoid to strengthen immunity before entrance into school.

"In addition, before you send your child to school you are urged to take him to your physician or to the nearest clinic for a complete physical examination," Dr. Cox adds. "You will want to know that he is in good physical condition and can compete with the other children on equal terms. If the check-up reveals any weakness or defect there will be time to build up his general health and correct defects before September. Don't let your child start his school life with any avoidable handicap."

Cochran county, Texas, located on the High Plains bordering New Mexico has no running streams and is known as the "county without a bridge or culvert."

Do you know a fellow like Joe?

JOE'S MY KID BROTHER. We've always stuck together and I've sort of watched out for him these last few years. Well, Joe's in Africa now. His wife gets her allotment from him, and I guess when that's taken out of his check he doesn't have much left. Privates don't get paid much you know.

I figure this way. Here I am, making more money than I ever did before. You bet I work for it! But Joe's working hard too . . . and not just from 7 to 5, either. We've been taking 10 percent out of my check every week for War Bonds . . . they're going to come in mighty handy when the War's over, we figure. But I got to thinking about Joe. What's he going to have after the War?

So we talked it over, my wife and I. We think Joe should get a cut of the bigger money, too. So now I'm buying an extra bond every month—in Joe's name.

Maybe you've got somebody in the War, too. If you have, couldn't you squeeze out an extra bond now and then, for your "Joe"?

Gas Coupons To Be Endorsed Upon Receipt

Motorists and all other gasoline users were reminded today by J. W. Melton, chairman of the Knox county War Price and Rationing Board that all the coupons in their gasoline ration books must be endorsed immediately.

Coupons in new books issued after July 22 should be endorsed as soon as they are received from the War Price and Rationing Board, Chairman Melton said. In addition, users should write endorsements immediately on any coupons now in their possession or received before July 22.

In the past it has not been necessary to write notations on coupons until they were actually used to buy gas.

Immediate endorsements are required under a new OPA amendment both as a convenience to the public and as a help to OPA investigators in checking misuse of ration coupons falling into the hands of persons not entitled to them, the board chairman pointed out.

"Under the new plan the motorist by spending a few minutes endorsing his coupons all at once will save delay and trouble when he goes to a filling station to buy gasoline," the board chairman said. "The new requirement also means greater protection to the motorist whose book is lost or stolen, since the finder or thief will not be able to pass off the coupons as his own by writing in his own license number," the chairman added. "By cooperating in making these endorsements promptly the rightful holders of a gasoline ration will be rendering invaluable assistance to OPA in its job of detecting and preventing a black market in gasoline and gasoline coupons. Endorsements make it possible to distinguish the coupons that have been properly used from those that have been obtained by theft, counterfeiting, and illegal purchase, and put into unlawful use by black market operators. Individuals who endorse these coupons will thus help OPA see that gasoline is distributed and used in a fair and equitable manner."

Attention was called to the fact that whenever a motor vehicle registration number is changed, this change shall be noted by the War Price and Rationing Board or State registration official, on the front cover of the book. The coupons bearing the old number may then be used without change. With the exception of "E" and "R" coupons, the information to be noted on gasoline coupons will remain the same as previously: 1. In the case of "A," "B," "C," "D," "T-1" or "T-2" books, the license number and the State of registration of the vehicle are to be written in the space provided, except that in the case of interchangeable coupon books issued for official or fleet vehicle, the information shall be the official or fleet designation (or the Certificate of War Necessity number in the case of commercial vehicles not operating under fleet designation), and the State or city or town in which the principal office of the fleet operator is located. 2. In the case of "E" and "R"

Enough to Go Around

Now, for the first time in years, both farmers and manufacturers can work for the biggest possible yield without thinking about the market. This year they can sell all they can produce.

As things look now, this condition is due to keep up for some time, but we can't count on its lasting forever. Certainly nobody wants a prosperity built on war! So it's high time that everybody concerned—and that is everybody—gave some thought to keeping things running after the war.

You're busy, we know. So are we. The important thing right now is seeing that there's enough of everything to go around. But we've been devoting a little attention to the problems of the future, too. We feel that the people who have the producing job to do can contribute a lot to the solution of those problems.

And we hope that you, too, busy as you are with growing more food than this country's ever produced, will be turning these problems over in your mind. For if America's farmers and manufacturers, working together, can't find a way to keep the richest country on earth producing enough for everybody, and let the producers make a living in the process—if they can't, why then, who can? Club Girls Of Knox City Hold Recent Meeting

Floral cretonne was used to cover the outside. The cretonne was pasted to the outside of the trunk by means of a paste made from starch. This made a very attractive treasure chest when completed.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Retailers Urged To Post Tables Of Point Values

Local meat dealers and grocers were urged today by Chairman J. W. Melton of the Knox County local rationing board to post in a conspicuous place the current OPA official consumer table of point values for meats, fats, canned fish and dairy products.

"Surveys have shown that there is no more effective method of speeding up service and generally reducing the delays and inconveniences of rationing than to display the point table in a prominent place," the chairman said. "Customers then may tell at a glance the point value of the various meats and other rationed items and determine beforehand just what items they desire. If the table is not available, housewives are obliged to obtain point values from clerks, with subsequent delays in service."

The local board chairman also suggested that food retailers keep the table of trade point values in a handy spot. Some meats sold at retail are listed only on the trade table, and customers should be able to refer to it. In addition, the retailer needs the trade table to check the point value of purchases from his supplier.

The consumer table is available at both the local post offices and the local rationing board, while the trade table may be obtained at the local rationing board. The meat-fat rationing regulation (Ration Order 16) requires retailers to post the consumer table for each ration period.

First Lady of Georgia

Mrs. Ellis Arnall, wife of the Governor of Georgia, poses with her son, Alvan, in the Mansion at Atlanta. The portrait, showing both Mrs. Arnall and her son dressed in cottons, will be the sixth presentation in the cotton industry's "First Lady" series and will appear in the August issue of Vogue. For the portrait, Mrs. Arnall selected a charming summer suit and hat of brown and white striped seersucker. She dressed her young son in a checked jacket and gray trousers of smart sturdy hopsacking.

County Falls Short Of War Bond Quotas

Knox county fell far short of her quota in U. S. War Bonds during the month of June. W. E. Braly, county chairman, announced Wednesday, and as the month of July is closing, it appears that Knox county will again fail to meet its monthly quota.

A quota of $39,600 per month has been set for Knox county during the past several months. "With our nation on the offensive in every war theatre, it is our duty as citizens to back our allies with War Bonds," Mr. Braly said. "Any person who does less than his best is falling short of his patriotic duty."

The greater the offensive, the greater are the demands for war materials. We can help furnish these materials through regular purchases of War Bonds. Mr. Braly stated that local citizens should bear in mind that the Third War Loan Drive will open September 9, and in this drive our government is asking a loan of 15 billion dollars to finance our gigantic war effort.

ASKS FOR AID IN SALVAGE CAMPAIGN

COLLEGE STATION — County workers of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service in nearly 250 Texas counties have been asked to give assistance to U. S. Army in its current salvage program. County agricultural Victory Councils, boys' and girls' 4-H Club organizations, county home demonstration councils, and other groups will be asked to bring the campaign to the attention of rural people, it was announced here after a conference of Extension workers with officers of the 8th Corps Command of Dallas.

In this drive the scrap will not be sold but will be given to the Army. Soldiers will collect it at rural mail boxes or other points convenient to farm people.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Burns are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hendrix, and with Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Yancy.

Club Boys And Girls Interested In Club Work

One hundred twenty eight 4-H Club boys and girls attended the monthly 4-H Club meetings held during the month of July by R. O. Dunkle, county agent, and Lucile King, county home demonstration agent.

R. O. Dunkle gave a very interesting demonstration on the Cotton Flea Hopper. He showed the boys and girls how to use a net to catch the flea hopper and how to make the count to see if it was necessary to dust their cotton. They learned to identify the cotton flea hopper also. They made five one hundred sweeps and if there was an average of 15 flea hoppers per 100 sweeps it was advisable to dust the cotton and if less it was not. A boy from each club was elected as "War Emergency Cotton Insect Pest Reporter."

Lucile King, county home demonstration agent gave a very impressive demonstration on dehydration of fruits and vegetables.

Ideal Security Pays Its 200th Death Claim

Tuesday of this week, Ideal Security Life Insurance Co. of Anson, Texas, paid its 200th death claim, since organization, Oct. 17, 1935.

This claim was paid to Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Clyburn, of Knott, Texas, formerly of Hawley, as a result of the death of their son, who lost his life in military service. This is the third military claim paid.

In approximately eight years of operation, and in consideration of the large number of policyholders, which is now near eight thousand, 200 claims is an extremely low death rate. Also as many of these policies were small, it has not kept the Mortuary Fund, from which death claims are paid, from growing continuously, which is the result of the careful way they handle their business.

Most of these claims have been paid the same day the Company was notified of the death, which has made this company very popular with the people of this territory. (Adv.)

Corn, black-eyed peas, carrots, okra, and apples were dried. The electric dehydrator, sun drier and oven method was demonstrated at these meetings.

Plans were made for the annual 4-H Club encampment. This encampment is to be held at Seymour on August 9 and 10 at Seymour Park in Baylor county.

Teacher Changes In County Schools

Several changes in teaching positions in the common schools of Knox county will be in evidence this year, County Supt. Merick McCaughey said Wednesday.

The position of superintendent of Vera school is again open. X. R. Banks, who recently accepted the position, has resigned, leaving the place open again.

Trustees at Vera expect to fill this position within the next few days.

To Equalize Gasoline Rations

Equalizing of gasoline rationing throughout the United States east of the Rocky Mountains will be recommended by the Petroleum Administration for War within sixty days. The action, aimed to spread the burden of war equally among all people, will probably result in some increase in gasoline rations in the East and some decrease in the Middle West and Southwest, according to Petroleum Administrator Ickes. It is not anticipated that there will be enough gasoline for driving which is not necessary.

Corn Needed for War Industries

Farmers who sell their corn to a country elevator buying for the Commodity Credit Corporation before August 10 are guaranteed extra payments to cover any increase in corn prices between the date they sell and October 31. Marvin Jensen, War Food Administrator, has commended farmers who sell corn to relieve shortages in war industries and for feed, and has announced that more than 6 million bushels have been purchased since July 1.

Home Canning Jars

More home canning jars and covers were made in the first five months of this year than in the entire year of 1942, in anticipation of an unprecedented volume of home canning. Housewives will profit from a study of directions that come with each box of jars and covers, for the new three-piece canning top—glass lid, metal screw band, and rubber ring—must be used differently from other types of covers. Quality of jars and covers produced this year, says WPB, is high.

Soldiers Get Jobs

Men discharged from the armed services because of disabilities have a direct contact with the Veterans Employment representatives in their own home town through a division of the United States Employment Service. Every attempt is made to inform the veteran of his reemployment rights under the Selective Service Act, help him get special training through the Veterans Administration and to help him get a job in actual war production work.

Return Empty Bottles

Empty beverage bottles should be returned as soon as possible, says WPB's Conservation Division, to relieve the unnecessary drain on essential war production that results when new bottles must be made. All old beverage bottles can be put back into use, because they are completely cleaned and sterilized at the bottling plants.

No New Tires For Spares

New tires will not be rationed as spares in the next few months except to such persons as firemen and doctors, OPA announced recently. Drivers that do not have a spare tire usable for a spare occasionally, may get a certificate for a used or recapped tire for that purpose.

Need Turkeys For Soldiers

Because turkeys will be the main course of Thanksgiving, Christmas, and New Year's Day dinners on every battlefield, American turkey raisers have been asked by the WFA to supply about

Count The Cotton

This isn't a $64 quiz picture but it shows almost that many uses of all-purpose cotton in everyday life. Even the novice will recognize the tablecloth, dress, hat, bag, gloves and napkin as being made of cotton; but don't overlook the cotton hose, cotton rug, cotton-leatherette chair, shoe laces, shoe lining, candle wick, and even the ash tray made of cotton plastic. And if it's more you want, the steak and the milk come from beef and dairy herds fattened and raised on cottonseed cake, and the salad dressing has a base of cottonseed oil. The vegetables could have been cultured with a new cotton mulch, and the slices of bread could be enriched with a high protein flour made from cottonseed.

10 million pounds of turkey meat during August and September for shipping to armed forces overseas. The public is asked to refrain from eating turkey for a few weeks until this urgent demand for the armed forces has been met. Later in the fall civilians will have a supply of turkey approaching an all-time record production.

Home Repairs Are Essential

Wartime restrictions on building new homes make it important that houses should be kept in good repair, according to Federal Housing officials. New home building is largely restricted to war industry areas and the majority of American families must depend on their present housing for the duration of the war.

Price Ceiling For Hogs

A ceiling price of $14.75 per hundredweight, Chicago's basis, will be set on live hogs early in August, according to the OPA. This action was concurred in by the War Food Administration. The ceiling is below the 22-year high, but is above prices which live hogs brought before 1942.

Hose Grading Not Required

Women's rayon hosiery does not have to be labeled as Grade A or Grade B, the OPA said recently, although ceiling price and gauge or needle count regulations are still in force. The choice as to whether the Grade A or B mark will be placed on rayon hose is now left to the dealer.

Cotton Prices May Be Higher, But Read This

AUSTIN — Texas farmers—are you in a quandary about whether to sell your new cotton, or to hold it for better prices? If so, Dr. A. B. Cox, University of Texas cotton marketing authority, has drawn up a list of "pros" and "cons" which may help you decide.

He won't recommend which you should do, but lists the arguments for and against as follows:

For holding:
1. Acreage this year is the lowest for nearly 5 years—21,995,000 acres, as compared with the peak of 444,608,000 acres in 1926.
2. Parity prices have gone up an average of 10 points per month during the last five months. In June the parity price was 20.34 cents, with a guaranteed loan of 90 per cent of parity, or 18.31 cents in June.
3. Production this year will be 1,800,000 pounds less than last year's harvest if the average yield per acre is as much as the average for the past five years, or 246.1 pounds.

4. Civilian consumption, now curtailed by the war, should be boosted by accumulated buying power when the war is over. Exports through lend-lease and other channels will likely be increased substantially for the duration as Allies recapture territory in Europe and reduce the Atlantic submarine menace.
5. The present seemingly large carryover in this country is of low grade short staple cotton—which in normal times goes to export and will be in demand when the war closes. Consequently this should not push down prices of the current crop.

For immediate sale:
1. Mill consumption is trending downward since January, due to labor shortage, unsatisfactory results from three-shift operations, and the narrowing mill margins resulting from advancing cotton prices and "roll back" of finished products in some cases.
2. Mills are reducing stocks, and delaying purchases, due to uncertainty as to the duration of the war, to "very optimistic" reports about the yield of the new crop, and to narrowing margins of profit.

3. Prices listed in futures contracts are progressively lower from October to July of next year, with July, 1944, being quoted at $3 a bale under quotations for October, 1943.

4. Price ceilings on raw cotton may be established if prices threaten to rise above the 21.28 cents per pound for middling 15-16-inch on April 7.

5. The average weight of cotton goods purchased for civilian consumption is much lighter than the average weight for war purposes—which would mean fewer bales would be required to keep mills at their present rate of activity when they return to civilian orders.
6. There is a substantial accumulation of Indian cotton in India which will be a depressing influence on the price of our low-grade short staple cotton when the war is over.

"Crime doesn't pay" has been the theme of many speeches and editorials—but it does. Crime pays the writers for the true detective magazines.

Your columnist made more out of the Santa Claus bank robbery than the bandits did. They had possession of $12,000 for about 10 minutes—you figure the interest on that! whereas one of the detective magazines paid me $300 for an article on the crime.

The most harrowing experience this writer ever had in doing an article for the murder mystery magazines was in connection with the Snow case at Stephenville. Congressman Sam Russell was district attorney in the case and took the lead in solving the riddle which sent a three-time killer to the electric chair.

Congressman Russell spent a quiet Sunday afternoon in outlining the case of the triple murders to me several years after it ended and then, late that afternoon, I went down to the newspaper office and worked well up into the night putting the story on paper in the dark and deserted building—that is, dark except of course for the one light over the typewriter.

The chain of events began with two men who set forth to put out traps. They came to a cellar, partly caved in, beside the ashes of an old farmhouse. They decided the cellar would be a good place to put a trap and one of them clam-

Control of Dust One of Industry's Important War Production Problems

(IPS)—If you consider dust in your living room a problem, think of the many industrial plants which have always had to fight against dust in a big way. And now with war production at its highest speed the problem is more widespread and aggravated than ever before.

Another of the many problems confronting industry that most of the public doesn't know about, the control of dust is being met with the customary supply of new ideas.

Such dust-producing operations as those found in grinding rooms, foundries, etc., produce enough dust to ruin gunights and other important precision instruments. Vital machinery may be stopped because of dust accumulated in bearings. And with the trend toward making in-the-plant conditions as desirable as possible for employees, dust becomes one of the most essential things to be removed from the factory.

Suction Method
One excellent method of eliminating dust on grinding jobs is the down draft system which sucks off dust and small particles through an open grille into collectors.

Another is the floor-type grille which, handling 75,000 cubic feet of air per minute, pulls in dust particles as fast as they are ground off. Top exhausts around a swing grinder provide air-take velocity of 100 cubic feet per minute.

For cleaning aluminum castings, one company has separate booths. Tanks in each booth under waist-high grilles are filled with water up to six inches from the top. Air, drawn through the grilles, is taken off at a dampered slot in the rear—approximately one-half inch above the water level. The tanks drain into a cleanable sump on the floor below.

Dust collection is also important in metal plants. One Cleveland firm, for example, engaged in making clutch plates for heavy-duty trucks, tanks, etc., saves about $12,000 a year in this way. Tin, lead, graphite, and copper are used here in powder form, giving off particles of these materials during grinding and pressing operations. Reclamation from pressing operations in this department of the plant averages about 1,000 pounds of tin (worth 20¢ a pound) and another 500 pounds of graphite dust (5¢ a pound) is picked up from the grinding mills.

Used in Dehydrating
Conservation through dust-collection is not confined to the heavy industries, however. It extends to —it takes that long to complete the seal. Screw bands may then be removed and re-used.

Don't Fill Jars Too Full
How much headroom to leave at the top of each jar depends on what you're canning. Westinghouse home economists explain that fruits and such leafy vegetables as spinach and chard expand very little and require only one-half inch of head space; starchy vegetables such as string beans, limas, peas, corn and soybeans expand more when canned and need a full inch of head space. Regardless of whether the liquid used for filling jars is boiling water or syrup, it must only just cover the food. The only exception to this rule is when canning by the open kettle method, and then jars should be filled to overflowing with boiling hot fruit.

Dress For Dancing

SHIMMERING rayon taffeta which has passed rigorous dry cleaning tests is used for this dinner-dancing dress in pale blue with black lace-over-taffeta bodice. Its delicate color will remain fresh and bright after seasons of wear and many trips to the cleaner—an important consideration, these days, when party-going as well as everyday clothes must be able to stand up to long service. It contained a man's head.

Well, that was the start.
By the time I had written the full story of the three murders and the solution, my nerves were so jumpy that the scurrying of a rat across the floor in the rear nearly caused me to kick over the chair in which I was sitting.

A darkey, asked by the draft board how many dependents he had, replied, "I has foah dependents but I can't depend on none ob dem."

Canning Hints Are Worth While To Remember

Blanching in Steam
Recent tests definitely prove that blanching vegetables in steam saves more essential vitamins than blanching in boiling water. Mrs. Julie Kiene, director of Westinghouse home economics institute reports. Blanching in steam is a comparatively simple process: Put about one inch of water in the bottom of a deep utensil and bring to a brisk boil. Place vegetable to be blanched in a wire basket or colander. Place that in the utensil containing the rapidly boiling water, cover tightly and steam. Steam for five minutes when canning or preparing vegetables for a quick freeze locker; when dehydrating or brining, steam until vegetable feels soft but isn't completely cooked.

Don't Forget to Salt Vegetables
Salt should be added to all canned vegetables—one teaspoon each pint. Make a habit of putting salt in the jar first where you can see it. Otherwise, as Westinghouse home economists say, you may either forget it or salt the vegetables twice.

No Chemicals in Canning Chemical preservatives should never be used in canning, warns Mrs. Julia Kiene, director of Westinghouse home economics institute. None of them is wholesome or necessary and some might be harmful.

Safety First
All home-preserved vegetables, except tomatoes, must be cooked at boiling temperature in a covered container for at least ten minutes just before serving, says Mrs. Julia Kiene, director of Westinghouse home economics institute. Even if vegetables are to be used for a salad, they must be cooked first, chilled quickly and used immediately.

After Processing
Don't ever invert jars after processing—it's an outdated practice, say Westinghouse home economists. Set hot jars upright on several thicknesses of cloth or newspaper. Avoid drafts. Don't move or handle jars for at least 24 hours

Third War Loan Drive Date Set By President

President Roosevelt has proclaimed September 9 for the start of a third war loan campaign, and has asked every American to "back the attack" with war bond purchases "according to his conscience."

Mr. Morgenthau, secretary of the treasury, has set a goal of 15 billion dollars for the drive, and Mr. Roosevelt asserted that in carrying the war into enemy territory, we shall need greater amounts of money than any nation has ever asked from its citizens in all history.

"As commander-in-chief," he said in his proclamation, "I hereby invoke every citizen to give all possible aid and support to this third war loan drive, not only so that our financial goal may be reached, but to encourage and inspire those of our husbands' and fathers and sons who are under fire on a dozen fronts all over the world."

"It is my earnest hope that every American will realize that in buying war bonds in this third war loan he has an opportunity to express voluntarily and under the guidance of his conscience, the extent to which he will 'back the attack.'"

POINTS REDUCED ON COUNTRY BUTTER

COLLEGE STATION — Preventing spoilage or waste and protection of producers are objectives of a recent OPA order reducing the point value of country butter from eight to five points per pound in certain localities. Authority for this reduction in point value recently was granted district OPA directors in Texas and Louisiana.

Permission to reduce the point value is granted only where country butter is in danger of spoilage, and the privilege is given only to producers who do not manufacture the product on a large scale.

Where farm families who make small amounts of butter for sale are in danger of losing some because of the high point value, they should consult their local war price and rationing board, the OPA has advised the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.
