Funeral services for Sam A. Hart, former resident of Munday, were held last Tuesday afternoon from the Church of Christ in Jacksboro, with Rev. Guy E. Perdue conducting the service. Burial was in Oakwood cemetery at Jacksboro.

Born June 15, 1915, Mr. Hart was 28 years, 4 months and 3 days of age. He died at his Jacksboro home last Monday, following an illness of short duration.

Mr. Hart came to Munday at the time his father, W. H. Hart, opened the Western Auto Store and was associated with his father here for a while, later opening one of these stores in Jacksboro, which he operated until his death.

Surviving him are his wife and small daughter, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hart of Munday, and two brothers.

"We Are Buying War Bonds—Are You?"

Sgt. Carl Funk, 26, Cincinnati, lost his right eye and sustained a fractured left knee in Sicily. He has been buying War Bonds regularly. He will return to civil life as soon as he is discharged from Halioran Hospital, N. Y.

Pvt. Irwin Levinson, Baltimore, was struck by shrapnel in the left shoulder at Palermo. The fingers of his left hand are paralyzed. When his father asked if he needed anything, his son replied: "Buy War Bonds." His father bought $1,500 worth.

Pvt. Thomas Dellarossa, Trenton, N. J., 18th Infantry Patrol, was wounded by shrapnel at El Guitlar, Africa, and now must wear a special brace for his left knee. He won the Purple Heart. He buys War Bonds regularly and urges you to.

Pvt. Donald Cartier, Derry, N. H., suffered a fracture of the leg above the knee in Sicily when struck by an 88 mm. shell. He was held prisoner for two days by the Germans, traveling in a tank. He is a regular purchaser of War Bonds.

Pvt. William E. Morris, Long Beach, Cal., is above draft age but has seen three years of service. He lost his left leg below the knee in Tunisia. He wears the Purple Heart and Good Conduct Ribbon and continues his V-Bond purchases.

Draft Dodgers Warned About Delinquency

Moving to close in on "draft dodgers," Selective Service regulations have been amended to provide for the immediate induction or prosecution of men 18 through 44 who become or remain delinquent on or after November 1st, it was announced today by State Director General J. Watt Page.

The following registrants have been reported delinquent by the Knox county board:

Leonard Guyden, Negro, order No. 140, age 33, Class 1-A, Plainview, Texas.

Ellis J. Graham, white, order No. 956, age 27, class 1-A, Denver, Colo.

Noble Stevenson, Negro, order No. 10275, age 40, unclassified, Greenville, Texas.

"The continuing manpower demands of the armed forces and the manpower needs of war production and agriculture, plus fairness to men already serving in the armed forces and to men, including fathers, who will soon be inducted, make it imperative that every man acceptable to the armed forces, who knowingly becomes delinquent should be promptly made available for service in the armed forces or prosecuted under the terms of the law," General Page said.

Jones Commands Flight Squadron In Sicily Action

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jones received a letter from their son, Maj. Paul A. Jones, this week informing them that he has been made commander of his flight squadron. In his letter, Paul said in part:

"I have just been made squadron commander of the same squadron I have been with all the time. They are really a wonderful bunch of fellows, and I really was touched with the way they congratulated me and talked to me the night I was made C. O."

"Surely would like to see you, and home. Maybe it won't be too long."

Paul wrote that his pal, Capt. John E. Lyons, with whom he has trained and served all this time, had returned to the states. Mr. and Mrs. Jones received a letter from Lyons this week, telling them of Paul's activities. He said Paul was fine and would be able to take care of himself.

Lyons, who will be stationed near Austin when his leave is up, said Paul was due to come home ahead of him and he felt sure it wouldn't be long until Mr. and Mrs. Jones would see their son.

Service Flag To Be Dedicated At Goree Church

A special service honoring boys and girls of Goree who are serving in the armed forces will be held at the Methodist church in Goree next Sunday evening at eight o'clock. At this time the service flag will be dedicated.

This flag has more than 30 stars on it, representing those who have gone into their country's service from this community, and a name is on each star.

Rev. J. W. Griffin, pastor, extends a cordial invitation to everyone to attend this service.

G. E. Employs 72,000 Women

SCHENECTADY—General Electric and its affiliated companies at present have approximately 72,000 or 38 percent women in its employ, four times the number before the war, a statement issued by the company today revealed.

This number is equivalent to the total number of all employes of the company in 1939. Two of its apparatus plants have passed the 50 percent mark in female employes, one which is engaged in the manufacture of electric meters and aircraft instruments now employing 56 percent women.

Employes now total approximately 192,000, which is two and one-half times the total in 1939. At present approximately 36,000 employes are in the armed forces.

Rev. Wm. Caughran Preaches At Local Church Sunday

Rev. William I. Caughran, pastor of one of the large congregational churches in Chicago, Ill., was guest preacher at the First Methodist church here last Sunday, delivering an inspirational sermon to a large audience at the morning services.

Rev. Caughran and his wife are here for a visit with Rev. Caughran's mother, Mrs. O. C. Caughran, 83-year-old pioneer of this county; his brother, J. A. Caughran; with other relatives and with friends of boyhood days. Caughran was reared in this county, and has served as pastor of his Chicago church for the past 13 years.

Improvement Of Cotton Seed To Be Continued

The cottonseed improvement program, adopted first for the 1943 season, will be continued in Texas through the 1944 cotton year, according to R. O. Dunkle, county agent. Its objective is to encourage production of single variety cotton, sought especially for military textiles.

The program, which will be administered by the Food Distribution Administration, will assist growers in one variety communities to obtain pure planting seed through which the quality of cotton would be further improved, acreage yield increased and production standardized through elimination of several inferior varieties now being planted.

The directing body of the program is a state board composed of representatives of the Extension Service, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, FDA, and Bureau of Plant Industry, soils and agricultural engineering. The job immediately ahead for the state board is the appointment of a technical committee to work with grower-member committees in designating varieties for the seven zones into which Texas is divided.

Under the 1944 program, which will be very similar to that of 1943, payments on seed deliveries will be made to grower members of designated one-variety cotton improvement associations who agree to plant seed of the variety approved for their respective zones. These payments range from $45 a ton for foundation breeder seed to $23 a ton for first-year increased seed, and will be made through state crop improvement associations. Texas' 110 local cotton improvement associations have received $85,000 under the plan this year.

According to War Food Administration officials the $23 for first-year increase seed would enable growers to obtain it at only a small amount above oil mill prices.

Joe W. Stevens Writes His Wife

Mr. and Mrs. Cal Stevens of Munday have received the first direct word from their son, Sgt. Joe W. Stevens, in 23 months.

This was a postcard sent to Joe's wife, who is now visiting her parents in California, which came to her Munday address. This card was typewritten, but it bore Joe's signature, and his parents know that Joe wrote the communication. The card, which came from a Japanese prison camp, is as follows:

"I am alive and well and healthy. I am allowed to receive parcels and mail, but first check with the Red Cross for regulations. Send pictures of you and baby. I have suffered no serious mishaps. Will see you after the war."

"Joe W. Stevens, (349)"

The Mukden Prisoner of War Camp Mukden, Manchukuo."

When showing the card to friends in Munday last Saturday, Joe's father remarked: "It's just like reaching down in the grave and getting one of my boys!"

Moguls To Play Archer City On Friday Night

Filling an open date on the schedule, Coach H. H. Bledsoe's Munday Moguls will play the Archer City team here next Friday night.

This promises to be an interesting game, although a non-conference one. The Archer City team is reported to be a good one, and local fans will see much gridiron action when they witness the Wildcats and Moguls in action.

Coach Bledsoe is giving his Moguls strenuous workouts this week in preparation for the game. This will be one of the three games to be played on the local field, and many fans are expected to be in attendance.

The Moguls were clearly outclassed last Friday night when they suffered a 40 to 0 defeat at the hands of the Anson eleven at Anson. However, those who witnessed the game said fumbles were very costly for the Moguls, they having the ball within scoring distance several times only to lose possession by a fumble.

Cotton Ginnings

The census report from the Department of Commerce, bureau of the census at Washington, shows that 6,862 bales of cotton were ginned in Knox county from the crop of 1943 prior to October 1.

Ginnings have dropped below those of 1942, the report shows, with 9,092 bales being ginned over the same period last year.

HEFNER TO ISSUE RATION BOOKS FRIDAY

Those who register at this school are urged to come during these hours and to have their No. 3 books with them.

Mrs. Floyd Conwell of Fort Worth visited with relatives and friends here the first of this week.

“What a Man Does For Himself Dies With Him—
What He Does For His Community Lives On and On”

TURN LOOSE THE WILDCATS

The people of the United States are being constantly told by Washington officials that they must get along with less and less gasoline, fuel oil, etc. For months experts in the oil industry have shown official Washington that our known oil reserves are being used much more rapidly than new reserves are being discovered, because official Washington, in the face of rising costs of production, refuses to grant crude oil price increases sufficient to encourage wildcatting for new oil supplies to replace dwindling reserves.

Commenting on the seriousness of the situation, the National Petroleum News says: “The need for oil is so critical that there should be a crusading campaign to discover and produce fresh supplies. The administration is calling upon the people to crusade for rubber, to save their fats, to bring in scrap iron, to provide blood for transfusions. All these are futile if there isn't enough oil to carry on the war. A supply barely sufficient for military needs is of no value if essential civilian needs are not taken care of, and there is a serious question whether we are not already cutting too far into essential civilian needs. It isn't a question of how much it costs to produce oil, it is a question of how to get a maximum number of wildcaters to risk the greatest amount of money in even the most fool places in the country to find oil.”

And that is horse sense for the regulators to consider. What good are regulators and price-fixers if their policies leave us with nothing to regulate or nothing to buy?

WHY ADD TO CONFUSION?

The problems of eating become daily more complicated. The Office of Price Administration plans to issue ration tokens before the first of the year.

William H. Albers, President of the Supermarket Institute, says that organization is definitely opposed to the scheme and that while “the idea has some advantages... its disadvantages far outweigh the desirable features. Because of wartime conditions, we are already overburdened with a multitude of problems. So far as I can determine, nobody in the industry favors this plan, but because somebody in Washington is taken by the idea, we and the consumers must prepare to adjust ourselves to a whole new ration procedure.”

In states where sales tax tokens are now in use, consumers would carry such tokens, plus food tokens, point stamps and money, to buy a can of beans.

Many trade groups are expected to join in opposition to the token plan and consumer organizations will be enlisted to oppose this further complication in daily marketing.

LABOR SEES THE DANGER

The Yakima, Washington, Herald, in an editorial which is a classic in clear thinking, discusses a principle which affects the citizens of every state. It says:

“The United States has the best form of government yet devised by man, and every loyal citizen is moved by its guarantees of freedom and equality of opportunity to support and revere it; but when the government's power is used by designing men to influence the lives of its citizens in activities other than those appropriately connected with national defense, it is the duty of the individual to protest, even to resist by every lawful means.”

“This is the thought behind the decision of the Central Labor Council of Bellingham, which has been endorsed by nine local unions, to oppose the attempt within this state to clothe public utility districts with the power to acquire and administer private power companies. The unions frankly assert that the proposed law, which will be on the ballot in the general election of 1944 under the title of Referendum 25, tends to place control of the power industry in the hands of Federal bureaucrats and thereby endangers the rights of labor as well as those of industry.”

“The future of all Americans, regardless of their economic or political status, will be happy only as the people themselves control the acts of their government. When the people for any reason whatever permit government to govern the economic processes of the nation, they subject themselves to governmental control; then government becomes the master and not the servant of the people.”

“The present trend within our government is one that discloses to intelligent and observing citizens the encroachment of a government system that is different in no important respect from the one now holding large segments of European peoples in economic and political bondage. A nation in economic thralldom cannot be politically free.”

FROM THE BOTTOM UP

Along with the acceleration of the action of our troops on the battlefronts, is the increasing volume of postwar ideas which are coming from our nation's leaders. Now is the time for all Americans to study carefully the views of these men and women, for it may not be too long before we shall be leaning on them as we make important decisions.

Governor Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, in an article in the Washington News Digest, has this to say of the postwar picture:

“The average citizen will look to the postwar world to provide him with a job. Jobs are the basis for all home and family life. They are symbols of the best type of democracy.”

“While the retelling from war to peace is in progress, the citizen will expect his government to take up the slack of unemployment. But the citizen will look to private industry as the main source of jobs. This means a challenge to all individuals and groups to exercise the same initiative and imagination in creating tools and new machines in times of peace as we do in war.”

“This country has been built from the bottom up and not from the top down. Let us keep it so! The individual citizen wants to feel that he is the most important consideration in his government's mind.”

With regard to centralization of power in the federal government, Governor Saltonstall continues: “Local and state government are close to the people. They always have been and always will be. The very best kind of government is the old town meeting where a man could blow off steam once a year. When peace is declared, Washington must again become the bridge of our Ship of State—not all the gun turrets, engine room, and galley combined. The most effective help which Americans have known from 1620 to 1943 is help to themselves. People inevitably become fed up with the mistakes of a tremendous, administrative bureaucracy, constantly interfering with individual actions.”

POSTWAR PLANS FOR GOVERNMENT PLANTS

To be added to important ideas and plans now under way is the testimony of Jesse Jones, Federal Loan Administrator and Secretary of Commerce, before the House Small Business Committee.

He told the Committee, which is considering the postwar disposal of surplus government property, that the 7 billion dollars' worth of government-owned plants should not be permitted to compete with private enterprise after the war.

Mr. Jones said definitely that he favors legislation that would give local industry the first chance to buy these plants and convert them to the manufacture of peacetime goods. Further, he asserted, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation would be ready to help local business purchase plants after the government had no further use for them. “These plants should not be sacrificed or junked,” he said, “by and large they can be used for manufacturing things necessary for our peacetime economy.”

Plans made now for postwar disposal of these plants are by no means premature. They are necessary from the point of view both of the business man and the taxpayer. The businessman must know if he will have to face government competition. And more important, the taxpayer should know now so that he will not later find these public plants dumped on the market to be sold wholesale to designing persons who hope to make fortunes at government expense.

Sane planning now for orderly disposal later will prevent either disastrous aftermath.

Women and Children Fill In Manpower Gap

WHEN Johnny went marching off to war, mother, dad, sister and little brother were left to carry on the work of production on the home front—in the farms, in the factories, shipyards, and all the ramifications of business. Throughout the United States and Canada the folks back home are happy to take over jobs which were foreign to them before the war began.

In Canada, for example, we find that 5,100,000 men and women out of a total of 8,720,000—almost 60%—aged 14 years and over, are in the armed forces or working.

Just recently a government order was issued whereby all men who are not fit for fighting service will be called for vital civilian jobs to fill in gaps in the production program. This has been necessary because Canada has 722,000 men in the armed services. To meet the labor shortage caused by enlistment, men and women have been diverted from low to high priority industries, according to their skills and physical strength.

Controls were tightened recently to the extent, where subject to certain conditions, no employer can take any person into employment without first consulting local National Selective Service officials. A further order gives the government authority for the compulsory transfer of persons to more essential jobs, covering single men 19 to 40 years of age and married men 19 to 25 years of age—the classes designated under the call-up regulations.

Indicative of how conditions have changed on the home front, is the group of illustrations above showing a typical Canadian farm family with dad explaining to junior some of the intricacies of farm machinery; his first experience in operating a tractor, while mother helps with the milking in addition to her regular household duties.

other diseases,” Dr. Cox said. The State Health Officer urged persons suffering from a cold to use every precaution to prevent passing the diseases on to others. The patient should avoid being with others, preferably remaining in his own room in bed. He should cover his mouth and nose with a paper handkerchief when coughing or sneezing and the paper should be destroyed. All drinking glasses and dishes should be sterilized after he has used them.

“The quickest and safest way to recover from a cold is to rest quietly in bed in a well ventilated room and drink plenty of water and fruit juices,” Dr. Cox stated. “It is dangerous procedure to try to ‘wear a cold out.’ In going about his usual routine a patient not only harms himself, but needlessly exposes all others with whom he comes in contact.”

HOGS NEED SALT

Many farmers in Knox county are describing a condition which has caused some death loss. This condition is a loss of appetite of ordinary foods, loss of weight, and a rough coat.

According to R. O. Dankle, county agent, this trouble is probably a lack of salt and other minerals. Salt is one of the essential mineral compounds most likely to be lacking in the diet of farm animals, but fortunately it is one of the easiest and cheapest to provide.

Animals deprived of salt develop a ravenous appetite for it, and if suddenly given free access to salt may consume too much, with symptoms of poisoning and even death as a result. It is important, however, to hand-feed small amounts to salt hungry animals for several days before allowing them access to unlimited quantities.

The following mixture for hogs is highly recommended: Two pounds of limestone flour, two pounds bone meal and two pounds of salt. This mineral can be mixed with feed or fed in a separate mineral box where the hogs have access to it at all times.

Help Farmers Collect Ration Points

To assist farmers in sending OPA the ration points they collect from the sale of rationed foods, local rationing boards are mailing farmers the necessary reporting form, addressed envelopes, and complete instructions. Farmers who either sell or transfer rationed foods, such as fresh or smoked meat, all types of sausage, lard, butter and cheese, are required to collect ration points from purchasers. The full cooperation of farmers is essential for the success of the food rationing programs, OPA said.

Warns Against Harmful Anti-Freeze

Operators of all kinds of motor vehicles have been warned by ODT against the use of harmful salt or oil preparations as radiator anti-freeze. Salt anti-freeze solutions may cause corrosion or shorting of electrical circuits.

Dairy Payment Rates

Rates of payment which will be made to farmers delivering whole milk and butterfat to offset increases in dairy feed costs since September, 1942, have been announced by WFA. The rates range from 30 to 50 cents a hundred-weight on whole milk deliveries and 4 to 6 cents a pound on butterfat. They are applicable for October, November and December, 1943.

Draft Delinquents To Be Inducted
Beginning November 1, all men 18 to 38 years of age who are subject to selective service but who are delinquent will be put into class 1-A immediately and ordered to report for induction, the Selective Service Bureau of the War Manpower Commission has stated.

Use Book Four November 1
Housewives will start using green stamps "A," "B" and "C" from new War Ration Book Four Monday, Nov. 1. These stamps will be valid through December 20 and will be used for buying processed foods in the same way as the blue stamps in Book Two. The last blue stamps in Book Two ("X," "Y") remain good through November 20. Book Four is being distributed the latter part of October—the exact time and place being announced locally. One individual may apply for Book Four for all members of his family residing at the same address. The applicant must have a War Ration Book Three with him for each person for whom he wishes to obtain a Book Four.

Civilian Rice Supply Normal
Rice will be available this year to consumers in average quantities of the past several years, but may not be adequate to meet the large demand resulting from increased buying power, the War Food Administration said recently. Under controlled distribution, however, states whose populations normally eat the most rice will get the most proportionately.

Alfalfa Hay Products Regulation
Prices of all alfalfa hay products are now set by Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 456. Under the revised regulation, these products will cost somewhat more in Texas, Arkansas, Okla-

OUTLOOK FOR HOLIDAY TURKEYS

COLLEGE STATION — News from the turkey front is good. Plans for Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners may include the normal quota of drumsticks and white meat because Texas growers are expected to produce 3,750,000 birds this year. This, says George P. McCarthy who made the forecast, "means plenty of turkey meat for our soldiers and plenty for civilians."

All turkeys being marketed now are taken by the army, but approximately 65 per cent of this demand has been met and the remainder will be liquidated by November 1. Meanwhile, many producers believe that current market quotations on top grade justify putting "a real finish on their turkeys." The present market for grade A young turkeys is 30 to 32 cents, and 24 to 25 cents for grade C.

It is a good investment, says McCarthy who is poultryman for the A. and M. College Extension Service to feed to produce Grade A turkeys and take advantage both of the higher price per pound and the additional weight gained. There is no field of livestock production, he adds, which will pay a greater return at present than feeding turkeys for market. A turkey-developing mash plus grain will do a good job of fattening, or a commercial fattening ration may be used.

Best results will be obtained if the turkeys are confined to a small area to prevent walking off extra gain. A trap of one to five acres, depending upon size of flock, would be suitable. McCarthy recommends giving a flock wormer in the mash for several days to reduce parasite infestation and get better gains. But once the feeding program starts feed should remain before the birds for free choice feeding until they are marketed. Five pounds of feed should produce one pound of gain.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

One Job Well Done Begets Another

THERE'S no satisfaction in all the world like the feeling of having done a job well—and of being able to see the results of your work. This is one thing that all producers of useful things have in common.

And those of us whose job is production—whether of goods on farms and in factories, or of services in stores and banks and utilities—can best see the results of our work in the high standard of living which we have helped to create in America. For this standard is built on our ability to produce more per person than any other nation on earth. And the people of every country, who are looking hopefully to us for food and weapons, can count on America because it has this great productive might.

After the war is over? Many people are talking about a richer life for all of us then. And they're right! For that richer life will be brought about, not by promises, but by hard work on the part of America's producers. And they—those who grow and make and do things—can do this post-war job better if they work together and understand each other. General Electric Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Higher Ceilings On Corn Products

Ceiling prices on wet corn milling by-products sold as animal and poultry feeds—but chiefly as protein supplements for dairy cattle—were set recently by OPA at levels around $7 a ton above those set by the price "freeze" as of March, 1942.

Announce Vegetable Price Ceilings

Ceiling prices that will prevail for 13 fresh vegetables at country shipping points have been announced by OPA and WFA. The vegetables are lima beans, snap beans, carrots, cabbage, cauliflower, celery, cucumbers, eggplant, lettuce, green peas, peppers, spinach, and tomatoes. Maximum prices for beets, asparagus, watermelons, cantaloupes and the 1944 crop of onions are to be announced soon. Prices were announced to assist vegetable growers in completing their production plans.

May Up Frozen Fish Prices

Winter prices on many species of frozen fish have been set at the processor level by OPA. This action may mean an increase of about 10 to 15 percent in retail frozen fish prices, but it is expected to result in greater supplies of this product.

Herring Catch Increases

Preliminary figures show an increase in this year's catch of Alaska herring over the catch of 1942—one of the most impressive increases registered this year by any major American fishery—the Coordinator of Fisheries said recently. Most of the Alaska herring catch is reduced into fish meal and oil. The meal goes into poultry and other animal feeds, of which it is an important part.

Army Cuts Butter Allowance

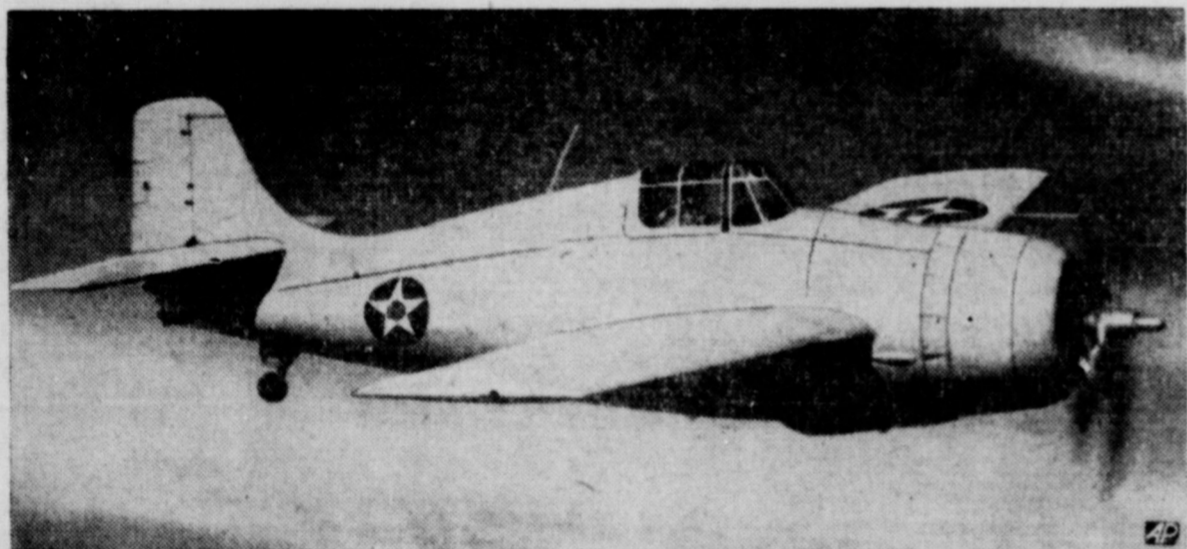

The peacetime daily butter allowance of two ounces per soldier has been reduced to approximately 1.12 ounces per man, the War Department has reported. This includes butter used as a spread and in cooking.

Points Needed to Buy Tongue

Ration points are required to buy all varieties of tongue, and no types of this meat may be sold point-free, the OPA said recently. Some consumers apparently believe tongue can be purchased without points, because "long-cut" tongue was removed from the current table of consumer point values for rationed meats. "Long-cut" beef tongue, OPA explained, is an untrimmed type which is not sold at retail.

KNOX CITY COUPLE ARE MARRIED HERE

Clifford Holly Cornett and Miss Jo Nell Carver, both of whom reside west of Knox City, were united in marriage at Munday on Saturday, October 9, at the Methodist parsonage. Rev. Luther Kirk, pastor, read the marriage vows which united this couple.

G. W. Hammons, who resides on route one, Knox City, was a business visitor here Tuesday. While here, Mr. Hammons was a caller at The Times office and had the paper sent to his address for a year.

Mrs. J. C. Greenway and daughter of Hamlin visited with Mrs. J. D. McClaran and children recently.

Miss Linnie West was a business visitor in Wichita Falls over the week end.

Club Woman Has Excellent Record For Attendance

A Knox county woman who has been a home demonstration club member for 16 years reveals she has missed only 13 meetings in all that time, and for 13 of those years her attendance record has been perfect.

This remarkable evidence of interest has been reported by Mrs. R. M. Almanrode of Knox City, a member of the Sunset Home Demonstration Club, formerly the Gillespie Club. She missed three meetings in 1942 because of a case of measles, while trips to the Texas Centennial and Tennessee were responsible for her absence in 1936. Mrs. Almanrode's daughter was born in 1929, and she missed six meetings that year.

In an account of her work to Lucile King, Knox county home demonstration agent, Mrs. Almanrode recalls that she attended her first home demonstration club meeting on July 8, 1925, when she was a bride of two weeks. After a delayed honeymoon in Tennessee, Mrs. Almanrode began her club career in earnest. During the 18 years she has held every office in her club and in the county home demonstration council. She has attended four state meetings of the Texas Home Demonstration Association and has enjoyed the Farmers' Short Course at A. and M. College on several occasions.

"My wardrobe work, all the home improvements, the records, the pantry work and better foods—all have gone into the making of a better, a richer, and a fuller life for me," Mrs. Almanrode says.

Early this year Mrs. Almanrode was supervisor of a food preservation center in her community, and 2,715 containers of fruits, vegetables, and meats were canned in 15 days. She recalls with pride also that she canned "the first calf canned in Stonewall county, long before that county had Extension work."

Women Have Opportunity To Serve In WAVES

DALLAS — Women with practical experience in the fields of baking, insurance, retailing, manufacturing, as well as executives, accountants, buyers, personnel directors, are needed as officers in the WAVES, it was announced today by Lieut.-Comdr. G. W. Cook, Jr., officer in charge of the Dallas office of Naval-officer procurement.

Applicants for officer training must have at least two years of college, but women with college degrees are preferred. Age limits are 20 to 50, although applicants over 37 must have special qualifications before they can be accepted, it was explained.

Experienced newspaper women also are needed as public relations officers. Applicants are urged to apply at once to their nearest Navy recruiting station.

The special call for more officer candidates should not overshadow the current need for enlisted WAVES, Commander Cook said. The Navy still urgently needs thousands of women to fill the many jobs at shore stations throughout the United States, thus releasing men for other vital duties.

KNOW YOURSELF!

Frequent physical check-ups are necessary as a matter of health routine, but such precautions take on added significance during the strain and stress of war.

By having your physician look you over periodically, you will gain the assurance either that you are in good health, or some latent illness may be discovered before it becomes aggravated and advanced.

Cancer and tuberculosis are among the more serious diseases which are curable when treated in their early or incipient stages. "See your physician every six months" is more than a well turned slogan. It is a vitally important health rule, a rule which is of super importance in days like these.

Freshman News

The Freshman class had six weeks tests this week. The tests were not so hard and we hope everyone passes them.
We all enjoyed the Chapel program that the Speech Class had last Tuesday.
We wonder:
Whose ring Jo Ima is wearing?
Where Bonnie Lou was Saturday night?
Why Jimmy Ray was not at school Monday?
Why Pearl has so many boy-friends? Any special technique?
Why Ruth likes to go to Munday? A certain boy?

Sophomore News

Everyone is slowly but surely recovering from Saturday night experiences (how about it gals?)
This is six weeks exam week and everyone is thinking of dear Alex the Great and the plant and animal phylum.
We want someone to ask:
Naomi Jean what "Charles" last name is.
Trudy why she likes Seymour.
Naomi who came in a bread truck.
Martha Ann who it is in Abilene who receives letters each week.
Joline how to meet new friends.
Ed what is so interesting in Perry's.
Margie if she has seen G. W. H. lately.

Junior News

Six weeks tests are here for the first time this semester! We will surely be glad when they are over for we haven't studied much since cotton picking. It seems as if we can't get back into the drift of things.
Our class enjoyed the theatre party we had Wednesday night, even though some of us had to wait until the second show. We especially were thankful to Miss Rice for going with us since our own sponsor was unable to go with us.
Since Mr. Griffin has given us the definition of a moron, we begun to wonder if some of us don't fit the description exactly.

Senior Report

Our first six weeks of school have really rolled by in a hurry, and what's more this is exam week! This will also probably mean many "flunking" grades will be rolling by on our report cards next week too.
One can tell just how industrious the Seniors are by looking how busy they are this week. Every one is so busy cramming in book reports, and the whole six weeks work into one short week. All the teachers stand around gapping at us, as if this is the first time they have seen us really working. (I'll let you in on a secret, folks. I believe this is the very first time these students have really studied during this six weeks.) Oh, well, what can one expect from a Senior? A very intelligent student digging for more knowledge to use, so he may be capable of succeeding in the future? Of course. Now, don't you think we are setting good examples for our fellow classmates????
This business of rationing articles is really getting important. (As if every one didn't already know it.) The whole school is going to have a holiday on Friday, and that surely does sound good, doesn't it, kids? This means another ration book too, and I've heard it is going to be used to get sugar. Oh, well Gaylon, that doesn't make any difference to you, does it? Because I've heard you prefer this non-rationed sugar any way!!!
We wonder:
Why our theatre party was such a great success last Wednesday night? (At least we had plenty of cars this time.)
What Emogene and Neoma did last Wednesday night? Did they go to the show like the rest of us? (If so, why did Emogene go again Thursday night?)
If we could blow up the school building with our Chemistry experiments? (Could we, Mr. Arnold?)
Why Mary Jean likes bread so well? (Just any kind or "Mead's")
Why Bobbie is so happy when a certain student from Texas Tech. comes home?
If a certain soldier has anything to do with Frances' absence this past week? (Or could it be a certain civilian?)
Why Harold Jones likes "Woodbury" lipstick so well? (Kiss-proof???)
Where Jonell was Sunday night? (We heard she had a pretty good time.)

Senior Life

Gaylon is very bashful at times, but his favorite pastime seems to be teasing and pestering the girls, especially a certain little brunette in the freshman class. How about that, Crabbie??
Other favorites are:
Teacher—Bro. J. W. Griffin.
Colors—Black and Gold.
Sport—Basketball.
Flower—Bluebonnet.
Girls—Brunettes.
Gaylon is a very good basketball player, having been on the Junior team four years and with hopes of making the Senior team this year.
When asked what his future ambition was Gaylon first said to get married but all of a sudden he decided to join the Navy. Good luck, Gaylon, and the Senior class send their best wishes.

Sports Report

The boys in the High School athletic department have been having a lot of fun playing baseball. With the help of our coach, Bro. Griffin, the boys have made great progress. We hope to win every game we play. However, most of the boys will not be satisfied until Thanksgiving. Why? Because basketball will start, of course. The boys are ordering their shoes now and looking forward to the time when they can use them.

Sadie the Snooper

Gaylon, you seem to be more interested in the Freshman class than anything else now. Does Bonnie Lou have any say so?

Rhodes, what's this I hear about you getting run off from the gin? Be more careful!

Clydeen, why are you so interested in football? Or is it a certain football player?

From all I hear, Peggy is taking out a half interest in the Magnolia Filling Station. Watch your step, Peg!

You must have taken a few Sheppard Field soldiers for a round, Mary Jo, since you got to school so late Monday.

Don't be so heart broken, Dalton, there's more pretty girls than Jo Ima.

Watch out, Joy, you'll have Naomi after you if you don't leave Pork alone.

Jonell, why do you always like to go to the show at Munday? Couldn't be a certain usher???

Gene seems to be getting a rush from the Sophomore girls. How about that, Naomi Jean and Martha Ann?

Trudy Jane seems to be simmering in the attentions of a certain Seymour boy. Shame! Shame! Frank Reeves is always keeping his eyes up near the front of the study hall. Could it be Betty Jean?

C. A. seems so interested in a certain blonde across the aisles! You surely have stiff competition from Munday.

We wonder why a certain blue 41 Ford that a certain Senior boy drives was parked near the county line last Sunday afternoon. Any ideas???

Harold Payne, why do you like football games so well? Could a certain girl from Munday have anything to do with it?

George Salem spent the first of this week in Dallas, attending market and purchasing merchandise for the Fair Store and the Economy Store here.

Mrs. Gene Harrell and little daughter, Natalie, returned to their home in Oklahoma City last Sunday after spending about ten days here with Mr. Harrell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Harrell, and with friends.

Miss Betty Weaver of Spar, Texas, is visiting Miss Jo Ann Rummel this week.

Mrs. W. M. Mayo of Amarillo visited with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wade T. Mahan, and with other relatives and friends here over the week end.

War Declared On Cattle Grubs

Cattle grubs take a tremendous toll from Texas livestock and dairy men yearly. But the heavy money loss to producers is incidental to the waste in meat, hides and milk caused by grub infestation.

To conserve this waste, a state-wide cattle grub control campaign is on and every one who owns an infected cow is urged to take part. According to E. O. Dunkle, county agent, for the A. and M. College Extension Service, about forty-two per cent, or $40 thousand of the two million cattle slaughtered in Texas yearly, are grubby. An average of two pounds of meat is trimmed from the loins and ribs of each carcass. This waste, which cannot be replaced, equals 1,680,000 pounds of the choicest meat and would feed 4,600 soldiers for one year. And after trimming, the loins and ribs are devalued two cents a pound.

Moreover, the grubs destroy enough Texas hides yearly to provide leather to equip one million soldiers with shoes one year. The pests do this by cutting holes through the thickest and best part of the hide. Grubby hides are devalued one cent a pound. The total of these packing plant money losses average $3.86 per animal and is taken off the purchase price.

Feed flies, the adult of the grub, and the grubs themselves cause as much as a twenty-five per cent reduction in milk flow in dairy cows along with other indefinite losses which are difficult to estimate.

R. O. Dunkle says these losses can be greatly reduced by treating infected animals with wettable sulphur and derris, or cube, containing five per cent rotenone. Treat infected animals three times, once in November, December and January. The treatment may be applied either as a dust wash, or spray.

Senior Report

The week started off with two new students in the class. The new Seniors are Gladys Cumba, a former classmate, and Gene Hunter from Sunset.

Last week during a meeting the Seniors elected their representative, Maxine Harrison, to the queen's race. Buddy Gafford was selected as her business manager. When you have extra change, be sure to put it in a Senior box. These boxes will be conveniently placed downtown. Any contributions you make will be sincerely appreciated by the Senior Class.

The Seniors plan to have a party Friday at Jerry Chamberlain's after the football game. This will be the first class social for the year.

One of our class members, Martha Hanning, deserves recognition for the fine work she has done as a part time substitute teacher for the third grade.

Since this is the beginning of a new six-weeks everyone will be able to get a fresh start on school work. Although the Seniors did very well as a whole the last six-weeks, they need to work harder and harder. The last year of school should mean as much as possible for everyone so he may go on in life wisely and successfully.

THE EXPIRATION DATE ON YOUR PAPER!

Due to restrictions on production of newsprint, we are forced to cut down on the numbers of papers being printed whenever possible.

It is not our desire to stop the Munday Times now going to our regular subscribers, so you are urged to renew your paper ahead of the expiration date in order to keep it coming to you. Should your name be removed from our mailing list, it might not be possible to place it back on in the future.

If the date 11-1-43 appears opposite your name, your paper will expire on November 1, 1943. Your cooperation in renewing before that date will be appreciated.

Senior Life

By Martha Hanning

It happened on the day of April 23, 1921, that a "beautiful baby" was added to the Cerveny family, who was known as Lillian. Born at Haskell, she moved to the Hood community at the age of four where she spent her first two years of school. Since then she has been a member of the "Senior Family."

Lillian is a very quiet but intelligent person and for the past three years she has been our class reporter. She has an excellent record in her school work.

Although Lillian has not planned her future fully, she expects to enter Texas University after graduation.

Some of her special favorites are:

Color: "Blonde."
Pastime: Reading and listening to good music.
Song: Any good waltz, especially "Blue Danube."

Vote For Helen Haymes For School Queen

The Junior candidate for queen has been elected and it is no other than Helen Haymes. Helen is just about the tiniest little thing in our class, and she will make a good queen. Herbert Stodghill was selected as Helen's business manager and Wallace Pippin, Dick Owens, Rosemary Claus, and Latreace Johnson are his committee members. The committee will place boxes at different places in town and the girls will ask for donations. Whenever you see a Junior box and you have some extra change, drop it in and our appreciation will be doubled.

Thursday night the Juniors are having a party at the gym. Everyone is looking forward to the party because it will be our first this year.

Grades on the tests of the majority of the students were excellent. For a first six weeks period they were far above average. True, some of the students still haven't caught hold, but it won't be long before they can take it as fast as it comes.

The geometry class is happy to have Gene Hunter with them. We hope he will catch up with his work soon so he can swing along

Eighth Grade News

Well, our six weeks exams are over, (thank goodness) and are we proud. I believe we all made fairly well on our tests. We will receive our report cards tomorrow and we hope we will all make good.

We will turn out Friday for rationing and we will not have our chapel program until next week, so be sure to come next week.

Well, we fell down on our bonds and stamps. This week we bought $5.60. We hope we can bring it up next week.

Halloween is rolling around and that means our Halloween Carnival is coming soon. I cannot tell you what we are putting on at the carnival but you be sure and be at the Munday Elementary School, Thursday, October 28.

HOW TO STUDY

When a person starts to study, he should have his mind on what he is doing. If he is thinking of how he is going to play football tomorrow or something else of the sort, chances for study are few and far between.

One should make out a schedule and have a certain period each day to study a certain thing such as:
5:30—English.
6:30—Algebra, etc.

Another important factor for studying is that of a place to study. One cannot concentrate on studies while slumped over in an easy chair. Nor, can he, unless he is a genius, study while lying on the floor.

Then, there is the obstacle of listening to the radio or listening to someone else talk. However, this depends on the person. If he can listen to the radio and at the same time get his lessons, he is one out of many that can.

Also, a person shouldn't ever be asked to get up and do something else during his study period. It is hard to get one's mind back on studies after he has been interrupted.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Pvt. S. J. Wallace Writes From Army Post

To The Munday Times,
Dear Sirs:

When we left Camp Barkeley, Texas, on the 28th of August, we boarded the train and came west to Sunny California. We saw lots of country; some of it was pretty, and we rode the train until we got to Yuma, Ariz. It was really sandy where we unloaded, and we are in the heart of the desert where the sun is hot and the sand blows.

Sometimes we get lonesome, but we know that we have a job to do before we can come home. I want all my friends at Munday to know that they can help win this war by buying war bonds while we boys in uniform are doing our job. You can do your job by buying war bonds. That will help bring all of we boys back home.

I want to send my best wishes to my many friends at Munday—and help keep the Munday Times going.

Pvt. S. J. Wallace.

Industry Comes to Rescue of Cities In Throes of Paralysis Epidemics

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (IPS)—American industry's war production record is only a part of its wartime achievements, and research for peacetime use is not entirely a matter of the future, as two cities discovered when they were faced with infantile paralysis epidemics last August.

For during the epidemic engineers of a large company here went to work immediately and developed a special electric washing machine which made possible a speedier application of the Sister Kenny treatment.

The machines, which have an electrical heating unit in the tub in place of the agitator used for cleaning clothes, speed up the heating and wringing of the heavy woolen cloths, known as "packs," are wrapped about the patient to relieve the pain and reduce the muscular spasms.

The only machines of their kind in the East, they are now being used in New England hospitals, where, according to one doctor, they have helped to relieve the critical shortage of nurses. Where twelve nurses were required to apply packs to four patients, nine are now needed. At another hospital it was reported that use of the machine now permits a daily average of six applications of packs to the sixteen children under treatment compared with two or possibly three administered under the old method.

The old method of heating and wringing packs was a tedious manual job in which the cloths were heated in a tub of water on a stove, then carried through hospital corridors to a home-style wringer where they were squeezed as much as possible.

The electric wringer, in addition to bringing water to a boiling point in quick time, has been speeded up and its pressure increased to 700 pounds, wringing the woolen packs so dry that even though heated to 180 degrees, they may be applied without danger of skin burns to the child.

Mrs. Bisbee and daughter, Grace of Benjamin were business visitors here last Monday.

William P. Brooks, 22-year-old local youth, has arrived at Norwich University, Northfield, Vt., for a course of instruction lasting approximately five months prior to his appointment as an aviation cadet in the Army Air Forces Flying Training Command.

Farmers Union Makes Fight For Farmer Rights

AMARILLO—Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham recently attracted national attention by denouncing the Triple A "gag rule" and resigning from the U. S. Department of Agriculture to return to her farm at New Waverly, Texas to fight for a decent farm program for farmers.

Now, Mrs. Cunningham has come out with an endorsement of the fight National Farmers Union is making for the rights of working farmers, Frank Overturf, secretary of the Texas Farmers Union said here today. She thereby broke the silence she had maintained since making her now famous statement to Director M. I. Wilson of the Federal Extension Service; "This thing (gagging AAA committeemen) is wrong and we will not stand for it."

Mrs. Cunningham today said, "It is time to recognize that a branch of National Farmers Union of great power is in process of development in Texas."

"This movement deserves the support of all farmers on the land whether they be owners, renters, share croppers or wage earners," she continued in typically determined words reflecting her "organize and win" policy. She added: "This will mean not only that farmers must organize but it will also mean that liberal leadership in religious, educational and professional groups will have to unite their influence with farmers if the American farm family as well as our democracy is preserved."

Commenting on this endorsement of the Texas Farmers Union, Mr. Overturf said: "Mrs. Cunningham is an independent thinker and will be found carrying the same brand of battle in each hand and saying the same thing in Texas as she has said and will continue to say in Washington. The Texas Farmers Union welcomes the strength that she is bringing to the organization." Mr. Overturf makes it plain that the Texas Farmers Union is following the leadership of the National Farmers Union under Jim Patton of Colorado, the National President.

"It is here in Texas that the Farmers Union was born, and again is swinging into the national fight for the rights of the people who work the land," he said. "It is only through united national action that working farmers have a chance to succeed, he concluded.

The National Farmers Union is the national farm organization waging the major fight for preservation of the family-type farm as the backbone of American agriculture.

The Farmers Union was founded at Point, Texas in 1902 and is the second oldest national farm organization.

Its fundamental policy is to protect and promote the security of the working farm family on the land in an economy of abundance brought about by a free exchange of goods and services.

Its principal membership is in the middle west and high plains states, extending down into the cotton country of Oklahoma, Arkansas, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas.

Originally, from 1902 to 1910, its membership was predominantly in the cotton states. Its present
