County Tops Quota In War Bond Drive

With practically every community in the county meeting, or exceeding their quotas Knox county placed the Fourth War Loan Drive over in a big way, and the message "Mission Accomplished" can be sent to our boys on every fighting front of the world.

W. E. Braly, county chairman, announced Thursday that according to figures available at this time, the county exceeded her quota by almost $20,000. According to these figures, still incomplete, the series E bond sales in the county amounted to $270,739.75, as compared against a quota of $209,000. Sales of all other bonds, including allocations to the county quota, were $180,523.00, bringing the grand total for Knox county to $451,262.75. The county's overall quota was $432,000.00.

Munday, with a quota of $152,000 exceeded this amount between five and ten thousand dollars, according to present figures, and almost every community reported the drive a big success. "I want to publicly express my appreciation to all community committees for their loyal work in this drive, as well as to the citizens for the splendid way in which they rallied to the cause," Mr. Braly said Thursday. "This was the most important drive of them all, and this quota could not have been raised without the untiring efforts of those loyal citizens who are backing the attack in every way possible. We have kept the faith of our boys who are fighting our battles, and I'm sure every man who did his full duty in this drive is proud of the splendid way Knox county citizens have responded to the call of their country to place their dollars on the fighting front. I deeply appreciate the efforts of everyone who helped to put the drive over."

Cemetery Gets Spring Cleanup

W. V. Tiner, who is in charge of the Munday Cemetery Association's work of keeping the local cemetery clean, said Wednesday that the cemetery has just been given a thorough going over. "It is now in better shape than ever before," members of the association said upon inspection. Every foot of the ground has been gone over with hoe and rake. Local citizens are asked to inspect the cemetery and see the work that has been accomplished. This work can not be done without funds, and any contributions toward keeping the cemetery in good condition will be appreciated by officers of the cemetery association.

Word was received here that Lieut. Forrest Jackson, who is stationed at Reno, Nev., was recently promoted to first lieutenant. Mrs. Jackson is the former Mary Ellen Bateman of Munday.

Funeral Home Adds New Car To Its Equipment

The addition of a modern and up-to-date ambulance and funeral coach to his present equipment is announced this week by Wade T. Mahan, owner of the Mahan Funeral Home.

Termed as one of the most stylish and complete models of pre-war production, this flexible Buick Roadmaster combination is equipped with the following features: Upholstered in red leather in front compartment and burgundy mohair in the ambulance compartment, with velvet drapes and in-laid linoleum floor; Washington ambulance cot with 2-inch sponge rubber mattress; chrome and leather attendant's chair; heaters, defrosters and fresh air intake; built-in electrical record player and sound system to provide appropriate music for cemetery services.

The car weighs 6,200 pounds, has a 160 h. p. motor, and a maximum speed of 110 miles per hour—which is faster than any of us want to ride, even on a rush trip to a hospital.

The addition of this equipment is in keeping with Mahan's policy of rendering the best service possible to the people of this territory.

Littlefield To Leave For Navy Service
Announcement was made this week that Ed Lane, a resident of this county for many years, will serve as manager of the Munday Lumber Co. in the absence of E. B. Littlefield, who is entering his country's service.

Mr. Littlefield leaves Saturday to report for training in the U. S. Navy. One-half owner of the firm since the yard was purchased from J. M. Musser last November, Mr. Littlefield will retain his interests in the business, along with his partner, Carl Mahan. He expects to return to Munday and to again be actively engaged in operating the yard upon his discharge from the navy.

Mr. Lane will move his family to Munday within the next few days.

$800 Collected For Polio Fund

Knox county rallied to the support of infantile paralysis funds with one of the highest per capita contributions in the history of the March of Dimes in this section. Mrs. Leroy Melton of Benjamin, head of the county committee in charge of collections, reports a total of over $800.00 collected during the short but responsive campaign. Benjamin led the roll of honor with a total of $154.70.

One-half of this sum shall be retained by the county for local work in combating the disease and the balance goes to the national foundation for the good work they are doing. It is planned to use the county's share in securing especially trained nurses and equipment in case the epidemic should break out again in this locality.

While the above funds were collected in the annual March of Dimes drive, contributions to this worthy cause are always welcome. There is no closed season for the local committee to have a good bank balance in reserve for an emergency.

Contributions were listed as follows from over the county: Knox City, $119.24; Munday, 130.35; Benjamin, $154.70; Goree, $56.20; Gilliland, $56.67; Hefner, $7.60; Union Grove, $61.57; Brock, $40.15; Truscott, $104.00; Rhineland, $39.90; Vera, $29.84.

The above list represents a total of $800.22, against which only one expense item of $5.00 is charged. One outstanding feature of the local campaign has been the low expense and administrative cost of collecting.

HELPING HOLD THE LINE

Fire losses are soaring. The total for December, 1943, was 31 per cent higher than for December, 1942. December climaxed twelve months of rising fire destruction. The total fire bill for 1943 was $380,253,000—an eleven-year record.

Bad as this is, it would have been infinitely worse because of emergency war activities, had not the fire insurance industry fought an unremitting battle against fire. Since the war, it has redoubled its efforts. Billions upon billions of dollars worth of vital war plants have incorporated in their structures and operations the advice of experienced fire prevention engineers. These engineers, trained through years of work with the fire insurance companies, are now applying their training in every far-flung branch of the war effort. They are with the armed forces, safeguarding camps, arsenals, hospitals, and ordnance plants. Their watchful eyes are on shipyards, airplane factories, office buildings, and housing projects. In short, their activities reach from the research laboratory to wherever fire may strike. No one will ever know how much their labors have saved and contributed to shortening the war.

Some may wonder why, if the fire prevention experts are really on the job, should the country suffer hundreds of millions of dollars in fire losses annually? Actually the fire prevention authorities can never wholly bring fire under control until public cooperation becomes permanent and effective. So far we have been prodigally careless where fire is concerned. As long as we remain that way, the best the authorities can do is to try to hold the results of our carelessness to the absolute minimum.

THE ROAD TO DESTRUCTION

One of the most pernicious beliefs that has come out of this war is the idea that since we have been able to achieve full employment and high wages producing armaments, there is no excuse for not achieving the same goals in peacetime by producing a flood of automobiles, refrigerators and luxury gadgets ad infinitum.

When asked the question, Why does it always seem easy to find money to prosecute a war, and so hard to find it to win the peace? Dr. Harley L. Lutz, Professor of Public Finance, Princeton University, replied: "The peace economy must remain solvent. A war economy doesn't have to remain solvent, and usually is not solvent. When we get into a war, we give the government complete dictatorial powers over everybody. It can conscript labor; it can force men to work; it can set wages; it can confiscate income and property; it can suspend all rights. The so-called war prosperity rests on this foundation of actual, although perhaps not nominal slavery."

We have consented to these things because the war must be won at any price. But tax spending for the mere sake of spending, as was done during pump-priming days, must end. Normal expenses of government must be cut to the bone and people must be taught to save. Either that, or we are on the road to destruction though we win the war.

SABE THE CHICKS

The loss of a baby chick a few hours old wouldn't seem to have any great bearing on our war effort, but the War Food Administration is concerned over the loss of baby chicks in shipping, as a result of suffocation, chilling, overheating, or mishandling. It is asking the cooperation of railroad, express and postal employees in more careful treatment of little chicks. Aside from the importance of giving all living things humane treatment, the practical necessity for doing so now is urgent.

If saving a baby chick is important in conserving the nation's resources, it is equally important to save all useful products and materials. Let others besides those handling baby chicks, take this lesson to heart and save time and material wherever possible—it all goes into the grand total of production which is necessary to assure victory.

Cooperatives are making great progress in service to farmers. More sound national economic policies for agriculture will result from the experience and knowledge of all branches of marketing and purchasing which farmers have through their cooperatives.

"...The time has come when all economic pressure groups within the country should recognize that they have no right to expect to be paid for winning this war, but that the country and American posterity has the right to expect them to start paying for winning this war by much greater financial sacrifices than any group has made to date..."
—Wayne L. More, member National War Labor Board.

WHO'S ASLEEP?

Many critics, when approaching the question of medical care, immediately assume that the doctors are their "opponents." The truth is that doctors are as anxious as anyone else to alleviate human suffering. They have worked for years to develop sound health plans whereby more people could secure high quality medical service at minimum expense. Thousands of doctors contribute a large proportion of their time absolutely gratis to persons who either cannot or will not pay even moderate charges. Therefore, it is a rank disservice to hold them up as indifferent to medical progress.

By its title, Paul de Kruif's book, "Kaiser Wakes the Doctors," raises a false impression which is maintained from the first page to the last. It paints the prepaid medical plan, developed in the Kaiser shipyards, as a revolutionary discovery that can be easily applied to other industries and finally to every urban and rural community in the nation. The plan is not new and, unfortunately, has handicaps—not the least of which is its compulsory aspect. The Journal of the California Medical Association describes it as follows: "...Fifty cents per week is deducted from wages of each employee (there being practically no acquisition costs in securing members to the plan, certainly a great administrative saving!) the wage deductions being taken from a group of about 100,000 workers (the families, however, are not included); the plan being in operation in enterprises where all the workers reside within a small and limited geographical area. In essence, the discovery... is nothing more than an application of the age-old principle of repayments on an insurance basis, designed to give protective coverage to a limited group of poor risks through acquisition of a large number of paying good risks."

The doctors have always welcomed practical plans to broaden medical service. Critics who accuse them of being asleep should first catch up with them.

AMERICAN RAILROADS OVERSEAS

One of the toughest problems of modern war is to keep open supply lines and move the men and equipment over them in sufficient quantity to maintain offensive action. In the Mediterranean theater, this problem was made easier by the untiring efforts of experienced American railroad men. Major General Charles P. Gross, Chief, Army Transportation Corps, recently gave an interesting account of the work of these men during the past year. "Railway Operating Battalions of the Transportation Corps, Army Service Forces, made up largely of men recruited from American railroads, were among the first troops to land in North Africa, Sicily, and Italy," said the General.

"Their story is one of courage and ingenuity, the story of how they delivered the goods to the men at the front—and got the goods there on time—despite enemy gunfire and bombs and wreckage left by wholesale demolition.

"They were at Casablanca and Oran while the fighting still raged. They were in the thick of the battle of Tunisia. They stepped ashore in Sicily as soon as the first beach-head was established. And they were on the bloody beaches at Salerno."

An American railroad man was put in charge of the French Moroccan Railway. By March of 1943 he had succeeded in moving more than 16,000 carloads of vital supplies eastward over a rail system previously considered barely adequate for civilian needs. This feat of supplying the Allied forces from the North Atlantic base over the rapidly shifting battlefronts played no small part in the defeat of the Axis armies in North Africa.

When the Germans characterized the American railroads as the Achilles Heel of the United States, they were not familiar with the ability of our railroad men. That blunder will hasten their defeat.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN — Declaring that there seems to be a widespread belief that 'sleeping pills' are harmless and therefore can be used at will by those suffering from insomnia, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said today that despite the fact that hypnotic drugs cannot be sold without a physician's prescription, there are many persons who manage to get a supply of them and who use them upon the slightest excuse, or in some cases for no reason at all. Those who take one of the barbiturates in this loose fashion are doing themselves a physical injustice, the Doctor stated and added, "What they need is not a self-prescribed 'harmless sleeping tablet,' but a physician's advice.

"There are many people who harm their health by employing an un-prescribed hypnotic to induce sleep," Dr. Cox said. "More often than not by various means they will over-stimulate themselves, relying upon the sleeping tablet to soothe their jaded nerves. Thus, a vicious circle is developed, and the habit-forming practice stealthily grows, with loss of vitality and maximum health being among the least of the penalties involved.

"Under certain conditions, the physician will prescribe one of the barbiturates for wakefulness or insomnia. However," he warned, "the prescribed use of such drugs for a special and temporary condition is one thing, and the indiscriminate use of such medication upon the slightest pretext is quite another."

Those persons who of their own accord are taking one of the hypnotics to induce sleep should realize that they are tampering criminally with one of nature's basic blessings and necessities, natural sleep, the Doctor stated. If addicted to these drugs, the family physician may be needed to lead the victim out of the need for them, but whether in need of professional aid or not, those indulging in this harmful habit for their health's sake terminate it immediately.

Letter-writing and Christmas package mailing zoomed to phenomenal heights during December, as receipts at 45 Texas post offices jumped to $8,231,875, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports. Receipts in December, 1942, totaled only $2,938,873.

Junior News

Our English teacher, Mrs. Henson, was absent today; but Emogene Brogden, a member of the Senior class, did a good job pinching for her. For some queer reason we were all as quiet as lambs. Anyway we hope that Mrs. Henson is feeling better when she gets back and can come to school.

In plane geometry, we are studying about the locus of points and the meaning of this new word is still quite hazy to some of us. Oh well—we're prepared for anything when it comes to Plane Geometry.

Senior News

The Seniors are going through the usual old grind of school—just study, act silly, and study some more. Gee, why can't something exciting happen around here?

Most of the Bookkeeping class is finishing chapter 21, and some are even getting under way in chapter 22—smart kids, no?

We are beginning the study of William Shakespeare (better known to us as Shakespeare) in our English literature. We are starting on his drama called "Macbeth," and since it is one of his important tragedies we hope to find it very interesting.

The Seniors are studying common compounds of uncommon metals in Chemistry. We are learning about the properties, definitions, and separations of metals. Last Thursday we had a test and it seems most of us made some pretty good grades. It is true that we are really learning something?

Senior Life

Coming to the close of the Seniors, we take up the life of a little girl who arrived on April 30, 1927 in Floydada, Texas. Outgrowing infancy, at six, she started to school at Baker near Floydada where she went two years. Then she moved with her family to Brushy where she entered school, going there three and three fourths years. She entered Goree in the seventh grade when she graduated with honors of salutatorian. She was valedictorian of our class both in the freshman and sophomore years.

She is a well known girl of the community and liked by everyone. Her intelligence is her most outstanding characteristic, this of which we all envy her. She is a very sweet girl, with blonde hair and hazel eyes, which greatly attracts a certain sailor in the Navy. The duration is a long time isn't it?

Some of her favorites are:
 Color: Blue.
 Teacher: All.
 Hobby: Photography.
 Pastime: Reading, listening to the radio and of course going places.

Song: "One Alone."
 Boys: Not interested except for a certain sailor.

After graduation she plans to attend Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene to secure training to become a foreign missionary to Africa. This is none other than our own Senior classmate, Ellen, daughter of Jerry Williams. We, the Seniors of '44 wish her all the luck and happiness possible.

PIN-UP VALENTINE—Cheering mementos of St. Valentine's Day for service men overseas is this autographed picture-valentine which Sara Ann McCabe, stage singing star, is personally mailing out to hundreds of lucky fighting men.

MR. AMERICA—Louis Earl Joy, 2d, is probably the youngest person ever to take the oath of citizenship in Chicago. Orphaned in South Africa when his mother died and his soldier-father was killed in action, Louis was adopted by The Perry E. Joy of Chicago and brought to his new home in America.

Walker Appointed Director Southern Division Of AAA

When C. D. Walker was appointed director of the Southern Division of Triple-A, a friend said, "You must be proud of that new title, C. D. It's a long climb from the plow handles of Oklahoma to one of the biggest jobs in the Department of Agriculture."

Walker replied, "Well, I suppose I should be proud but I've been a farmer practically all my life and no title will ever sound better to me than that of just plain farmer."

Walker's ties with the soil are real and earnest. He walks, talks and looks like a farmer; but what is more important, he thinks like a farmer.

He was born in 1892 on a small farm in Jackson county, Oklahoma—he farm on which his parents settled when they came from Mississippi in 1886.

He started farming as a tenant for his father in 1921. He now owns 1190 acres, producing cotton, wheat, oats, barley, grain sorghums, alfalfa, corn, and hogs.

The crash of 1929 nearly bankrupted Walker, like many other farmers. He had purchased a farm in 1924 and in 1928 bought more land, mortgaging the entire farm to pay for it. Then came the period of low prices and crop failures.

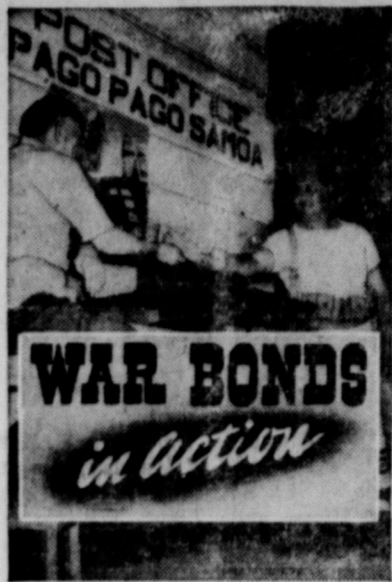

In 1933, with the first check he received under the cotton plow-up program, he paid three years back taxes and interest, and decided to hang on awhile. He recalls happily, "From then on, conditions grew steadily better. Markets and prices were stabilized. Farmers were offered refinancing loans at low interest. Soil conservation programs began to increase production and stop erosion. Through these and other programs farmers began to get on par with other groups, and the enormous farm production of the last decade is the result. This nation and her Allies are now winning a war which they might easily have lost, had it not been for America's strong farm front."

Walker and his wife who is also a native Oklahoman, expect to go back to the farm some day, "but not as long as I am able to serve the program that helped me when I needed help the most. The debt I owe Triple-A means a lot more than my personal desires," he says, and he makes you feel that he means it.

Walker was elected a Triple-A community committeeman in 1933. In 1936 he was named chairman of the Oklahoma State Triple-A committee; in 1940 he served as Oklahoma state administrative officer and in November of that year came to Washington as assistant director of the Southern Division, succeeding Walter L. Randolph. On January 17, 1944, he was appointed director by N. E. Dodd, Triple-A chief, when I. W. Duggan resigned to become deputy governor of the Farm Credit Administration.

As Southern Division director, Walker is head of the Triple-A program in Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Oklahoma, South Carolina and Texas—the region that produces 85 per cent of the nation's cotton. Walker knows cotton. He has grown, ginned, graded, bought and sold it. He says, "Cotton farmers, to hold their share of post-war cotton markets, must continue to improve both grade and staple."

THE GIRLS KNOW WHAT THEY WANT
 Home will never be like what it was before Rosie the Riveter left it—because one thing she will bring back with her is a healthy respect for machines.
 Already the American housewife knows which electrical household appliances she wants when the war is over and industry, busy as it is with war work, is going to see that she gets it. Extensive surveys by appliance companies show that leading the list of hoped-for gadgets to take even more of the "work" out of housework are individual room temperature-control devices, automatic garbage disposal units, year-round air conditioning equipment and washing machines that automatically wash, rinse, and dry clothes, empty and shut themselves off.
 They also want alarm clocks with musical notes instead of screeching bells, medium-sized U-shaped

Goree Study Club Meets In Coffman Home February 2

The Women's Study Club of Goree held its regular meeting on Thursday, February 2, in the home of Mrs. Orb Coffman.

"China" was the subject of study for the day, and the program leader, Mrs. J. W. Baughman, gave a vivid picture of China and its background. "The Changes of China" by E. T. Clark was reviewed by Mrs. E. F. Heard as the second feature of the program, and this was enjoyed very much by the group.

The president, Mrs. F. G. Daniell, was in charge of the business meeting. Attending were the following members and guests:

Mmes. Georgia Maples, J. W. Fowler, H. D. Arnold, H. L. Stewart, J. W. Baughman, W. M. Taylor, W. C. Ratliff, F. G. Daniell, E. F. Heard, W. E. Robinson, H. S. Heard, Parks Norris, Ernest Moore, Elizabeth Cowser, Miss Burniece Goode and the hostess.

Never before was science so full of new and wonderful ideas. Another year of scarcities, and it will be able to make anything from anything.

Florene Pippin Becomes Bride of Lt. Wm. E. Robinson

On Tuesday, February 8, Miss Florene Pippin of Munday, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Pippin of Miles, and Lieut. William E. Robinson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Robinson of Goree, were united in marriage at the chapel at Majors Field, Greenville. Chaplain Ralph S. Hogan read the ceremony.

Sgt. Irving Caretz, chapel organist, played the bridal wedding march, "Lohengrin," and during the wedding played "Impressions."

The bride, accompanied by Mrs. Robinson of Goree, met the groom and best man, Lieut. R. L. Whitehead of Majors Field, at the candle lighted altar, where the ceremony was performed. The bride wore an eggshell wool jersey suit with black accessories, and for something borrowed she carried an heirloom handkerchief which had been used in the wedding of the groom's mother and sister. For something old she wore a gold pin that had belonged to Miss Elizabeth Mounce's mother. Her corsage was a blue Spanish orchid.

Mrs. Robinson has resided in Munday for a number of years, completing high school here with the class of 1942. She had been employed at Elizabeth's Beauty Shop here for over a year.

Lieut. Robinson was reared in Goree, where he completed his high school studies with the class of 1938. He entered the service in 1941, having been stationed at a number of Texas training and flying schools. Upon receiving his wings and commission, he was returned to Majors Field as a senior instructor.

The couple are at home at 904 Mineral Heights, Greenville.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS Powder Monkey

On board ship and in the artillery their buddies call them "powder monkeys." Not disrespectful, just a personal, intimate term between friends. Civilians call them gun crews. During a battle the crews of "powder monkeys" must work like trojans bringing the ammunition to the guns.

The gun may fire an anti aircraft .50 calibre shell or a broadside from the 16 inch guns of a great battleship, but in either event the "powder monkey" must pass millions of dollars' worth of ammunition to make the gun effective, and your savings in War Bonds are necessary to supply the financial ammunition that provides the shells.

Paul said that it is high time that we redeem the time. Are we living to the tune of "after a while," or "now?" The Bible says "To-day is the day of salvation." To-day's longings and ambitions may be tomorrow's disappointments unless we screw up our courage, sand the track, and use that will-power. Put it into force and begin to climb upward and onward.

Senior Report

Valentine day passed just like any ordinary day for the seniors. Nothing exciting ever happens to us.

Mr. Mac surprised us in Bookkeeping Tuesday by saying that we were going to have tests Wednesday and Thursday.

In English we have been very busy in our notebooks. Those parables and gerunds are really getting in our hair!

In Economics we have been threatened with a test almost every day now. It seems that a bunch of Eco. students had better start studying.

Six weeks exams are just around the corner but you couldn't tell it by looking at us seniors. We have not even woken up yet.

Senior On Parade

Winona Check, perhaps the quietest member of our class, was born on March 25, 1927, at Weinert, Texas. She enrolled at Sunset in her fifth year of school and has remained with us since.

We Sophs don't like this cold weather very much, but we are trying to make the best of it.

Next week is exam week and we do dread them!

One of our classmates, Wanda Reeves, went to Oklahoma this past week end.

Another student, Barbara Almonrode, went to Wichita Falls.

Canada's Production Since War Began

"With the resources and the manpower available, Canadian production can well be compared with the efforts of any of her allies. Knowing from experience the difficulties which have been faced and surmounted, I can say with authority that the achievement has been contrived within a period of time which is almost unbelievable."

Sir Henry Self, United Kingdom Deputy Member of the Combined Production and Resources Board in Washington.

Among the United Nations Canada's production of war materials has been exceeded only by the United Kingdom, the United States and Russia. In timeliness, variety and quality, its production has been a major factor in the United Nations' swing from desperate defense to victorious attack.

Canada's production program is now at its peak. Its labor resources have been fully overstrained, and some corrective readjustment of program is necessary on that account alone. The munitions program may diminish slightly, but until the war ends there will be no considerable slackening off in that program. Readjustments in employment may be necessary from time to time, but no fear of unemployment is foreseen at present.

The needs of the United Nations for ground army equipment and for defense equipment have been met in full, and the supply problem is now reduced to replacing wastage and developing new and more potent weapons. Large stocks of shells and ammunition have been accumulated, and production is easing. The need of combat planes and naval vessels is as great as ever. While transport ships still are needed, the end of the deficiency

20 Owners of F. S. A. Farms In Meeting Here

Twenty families in Knox county who are purchasing their farms through the farm ownership division of the Farm Security Administration held their annual meeting at Munday, recently, to review their 1943 accomplishments and lay plans for even greater food production in 1944. According to FSA Supervisor, Thomas E. Ballow, these families are part of the 4500 such former tenants who are becoming landowners in Texas and Oklahoma through FSA loans.

Leo F. Fetach, Weldon E. Floyd, Marshall J. Gass, James C. Gollehon, Murval H. Jackson, William F. Lain, Lonnie D. Offutt, Alvie L. Russell and Andrew C. Tackitt of this county are eligible for the "1000 Club," open to those paying as much as $1000 on their loans during 1943. For being at least three years ahead of schedule on repayments, other borrowers will be given Certificates of Merit.

Eighty percent of these borrowers operate on the variable payment plan which provides for large repayments in good years and lower repayments in poorer years.

War food production is the principle theme of the county meetings, according to Preston C. Phillips, chairman of the FSA Committee here. This committee of four prominent Knox county farmers passes upon all applicants for FSA loans and reviews their progress annually.

Money provided each year under the Bankhead-Jones Tenant Purchase Act is loaned to farmers for purchase of their places. Before such a loan can be made, an appraisal must show the prospective unit to have an earning capacity which will guarantee the repayment of the loan in forty years at three percent interest and provide a reasonable living standard for the family.

Continue Farm Pork Sales

Farmers may continue the sale of pork from home-slaughtered hogs without a license or permit and may deliver any quantity of pork to persons not living on the farm, until March 17, the War Food Administration has ruled. However, farmers are required to collect ration stamps for pork so delivered.

Trucks Move 98 Percent Farm Crop

Largely as a result of the co-operation of farmers and truck operators with the Transportation Conservation Plan, about 1,600,000 motor trucks, mostly farmer-owned moved 98 per cent of last year's huge farm crop at some stage of the journey from farm to market, the Office of Defense Transportation says. Other farm transportation programs now operating include the movement of livestock, cotton, fresh fruits and vegetables, citrus fruits, and poultry.

No Metal Ice Box in Near Future

Production of pre-war models of all-metal domestic ice refrigerators will not be resumed in the near future, the War Production Board said, mainly because reversion would involve a long change-over period. The hardboard and wood war-model is now being produced at almost four times the pre-war rate.

Food For U. S. Civilians

Civilians in the United States will have more frozen vegetables during the next five months as a result of an expected all-time record high production, WFA has announced. Usually available in frozen form are snap beans, corn kernels, peas, spinach, asparagus, broccoli, Brussels sprouts, cauliflower, and corn on the cob. U. S. civilians will have slightly less rice in 1944 than during recent years and less canned milk than during 1943, although the amount of canned milk available will be in approximate proportion to civilian purchases under rationing, which began in June, 1943.

Agricultural Conservation Program

The 1944 program for U. S. agricultural conservation practices, designed to guide six million farm families in getting maximum production from their land, has been announced by WFA. Among the most important practices are those dealing with application of lime and phosphate, which give the soil greater "fire power," immediately boosting production at low cost. If present acreage of cultivated land is managed well, said N. E. Dodd, Chief of the Agricultural Adjustment Agency, which manages the conservation program, U. S. farmers will not have to plow up grasslands as they did in the last war. "The dust storms and erosion that followed that first plow-up became a national catastrophe," he declared.

There will be enough bags for assorted groceries, WPB said, if housewives save these bags and take them back to stores for their own re-use. WPB also advised that the shopping bag with handles must be used many times to substitute for individual package wrappings.

Life-Saving Training Pays Off

Intensive training in life-saving enabled American merchant seamen of the U. S. Monterey to rescue 1,675 survivors of a torpedoed troop transport in the Mediterranean, according to the War Shipping Administration. Some of the 1,977 persons aboard the transport were saved by other craft, and only four persons were lost.

German U-Boats Lose Their Punch

The amount of merchant ship tonnage sunk by German U-boats during January was among the lowest monthly figures for the whole war, according to a joint Anglo-American statement issued last week by the Office of War Information.

Because of an increased demand for electric fence controllers, a substantially greater amount of these devices will be produced in the year ending June 30, 1944, than in any previous year, WPB said. . . . ... This year civilians in the United States will get about 53 out of every 100 pounds of evaporated milk, 158 million pounds of dried skim milk, and 19 million pounds of dried whole milk, WFA said. Rubber Plant In Full Stride Soon At Neches

Opening of Nearby Butadiene Plant Speed Flow at 'Rancho Grande,' B. F. Goodrich Man Reports

PORT NUECES, Texas.—"Rubber Rancho Grande," the world's biggest "plantation" for producing man-made rubber, will soon be ready to operate at full speed, it was announced here today by W. J. Piggott, plant manager for the B. F. Goodrich company, which built the 120,000-ton polymerization plant and operates two of its four units. All essential construction on the final 30,000-ton unit of the rubber-making plant will be completed within the next 30 days.

The other "world's largest" plant here—built by the Neches Butane Products company for producing synthetic rubber's main raw material, butadiene—is shortly scheduled to start full production. This, Piggott said, will make possible the type of "straight-line" operation originally conceived for the whole Port Neches establishment, with the butadiene being piped directly from its source, right "next door," into the plant where it is co-polymerized, with styrene and other ingredients, to form man-made rubber.

The first unit of the rubber-making plant was opened last August 23 by B. F. Goodrich, with additional facilities, operated by Firestone, coming into service on November 27. During this period butadiene for these operations has been shipped in.

The new butadiene-producing establishment will have a capacity of 100,000 short tons a year—enough for the butadiene content of 110,000 long tons of "GR-S," the government general-purpose synthetic rubber. The constituent companies of Neches Butane Products are Atlantic, Gulf, Pure Oil, Soco-Vacuum, and the Texas company.

The rated capacity of the polymerization plant units here—120,000 tons—is nearly half the total for the state of Texas, 255,000 tons, which in turn is more than one-third the scheduled national capacity under the federal synthetic rubber program.

The Texas total, Piggott said, also is "probably as much synthetic rubber as all of Germany has ever turned out in a single year, although making synthetic rubber has been a leading national enterprise of that country since even before World War I." The other rubber-making plants in Texas are at Houston, Baytown and Borger, and butadiene plants are located nearby in each case.

Texas Zephyrs Aids Railroads In War Travel

Every month during the 41 months since the "Texas Zephyrs" were inaugurated by the Burlington Lines in August, 1940, each of these streamline, diesel-powered trains has averaged over 25,000 miles—more than a trip around the Earth at the equator each month—and the pair has traveled a total of more than 2,000,000 miles, it was announced today by Robt. L. Hoyt, general passenger agent of the Fort Worth and Denver City Railway Company.

S. war casualties as reported by OWI February 9 were 150,478, including 34,179 dead, 51,292 wounded, 34,746 missing, 30,261 prisoners of war. . . . A shortage of large size tires may delay putting into use some of the newly completed farm tractors, according to the tractor industry advisory committee of WPB. . . . Hosiery dealers cannot force a customer who wants to buy gauge women's rayon hosiery to also buy a coarser or heavier gauge women's hosiery, OPA says. . . .

"When the 'Texas Zephyrs' were inaugurated on August 22, 1940, offering the fastest rail schedule in history between Texas and Colorado, we expected they would do a good business," Mr. Hoyt said, "However, we little dreamed they would be called upon to accommodate the tremendous travel resulting from the war. Travel skyrocketed immediately following Pearl Harbor, because these trains operate on the most direct route between Texas and the South on one hand, and Colorado and the Pacific Northwest on the other.

"The remarkable record of availability of these Zephyrs for their daily stint of 835 miles between Dallas and Denver has played an important part in the ability of the Fort Worth & Denver City Railway to handle the 539 percent increase in passenger travel which has occurred since the Texas Zephyrs were first placed in service. Total passenger miles increased from 39 millions in 1940 to more than 261 millions in 1943 on the Fort Worth and Denver line."

Since the Burlington Lines introduced America's first diesel-powered streamline train in 1934, their Zephyrs have amassed a total of nearly 22,000,000 miles, Mr. Hoyt said.

4-H Club Boys And Girls To Help With Victory Gardens This Year

If Texas meets its goal of a million Victory gardens this year, it's going to require the help of everybody, especially boys and girls. Most 4-H Club members, of course, have had some experience with gardening, and they have proved that boys and girls can be highly successful gardeners.

Getting the Soil Ready
Select a sunny location away from trees and shrubs where roots will not deprive the growing vegetables of soil moisture and plant food.

Remove sod or grass and all weeds. Spade up or plow, leaving it well pulverized.

Make sure of good drainage. Vegetables will not grow where water stands. In areas of heavy rainfall, prepare ditches at the sides of the garden to carry off excess water, and plant on ridges 6-10 inches high. In dry sections, plant at surrounding ground level.

Fertilize for increased yields. For the small garden 10x20 use 10 lbs. commercial fertilizer or 200 lbs. rotted stable manure. For the medium size garden 20x40, use 20 lbs. commercial fertilizer or 400 lbs. manure. For the large garden, 100x100, use 100 lbs. commercial fertilizer or a wagon load of rotted manure. The small garden is fertilized at a heavier rate than the large garden, in order to get maximum production from the limited space. Where manure is used, it should be scattered over the garden and spaded or plowed in at the time it is first prepared. If commercial fertilizer is used, it is applied after the ground has been spaded up and the rows prepared. It should be applied 5 to 10 days before planting seed or setting plants. Open a furrow 3 to 4 inches deep and put down about a cup full of fertilizer for each 10 feet of row space. Mix with the soil, then cover until ready to plant. An additional application of fertilizer may be given (side dressing) to tomatoes and beans when the first blooms appear.

Cultivation
Destroy all weeds while small. Don't let them get a start. Cultivate between rows once a week with a hoe.

Never cultivate deeply around the roots of vegetables; it will check their growth.

Vegetable Pointers
Eggnish Peas: Inoculate seed (see "Green Beans") and plant 2 inches deep in heavily manured soil. For Wets Texas plant little Marvel or Thomas Laxton. Moisture is essential. Unless there is ample moisture from rainfall or irrigation, do not plant English peas.

Cabbage: Plenty of manure makes a good cabbage crop. Grow from seed in hotbed 4-6 weeks before setting in garden, or get plants from seed stores. Set plants 12 in. apart, using Wakefield or Copenhagen Market Variety.

Beets: When 2-3 inches high, thin to a spacing of 3 inches apart. Fill in skips in rows by transplanting from thinned plants. Use Detroit Dark Red or Crosby's Egyptian varieties.

Carrots: If first planting does not make a good stand, don't dig up the whole row, but replant the skips with more seed. Use Chantenay or Denver's Half Long.

Lettuce: To make lettuce head, use the New York or Los Angeles heading varieties; plant early and thin plants to 6 inches apart when 2 inches high. Plant Black Seeded Simpson leaf lettuce in April for summer use.

Mustard: Plant several times in the spring; not too much at one time; it is tenderest and best at 3 to 4 weeks after planting. Use Tenzengreen or Southern Curled variety.

Spinach: Frost hardy. Plant early in January, soaking seed overnight in warm water to hasten germination. Bloomsdale Savoy is a good variety to use.

Onions: Set plants 4 inches apart in January or February. Plants bought at seed stores are usually the Bermuda or Grano varieties. Sweet Spanish is a better keeper, but hotter than Bermuda.

Irish Potatoes: Bliss Triumph is best for early "new" potatoes; Katahdin is the best baking potato and the best for storage. Plant when danger of frost is about over. Cut potatoes into seed pieces half as large as a hen egg; plant 14 inches apart in 3 to 4 ft. rows. In areas where commercial fertilizer can be used effectively, apply 5 to 8 pounds per 100 feet of row.

Green Beans: Plant twice—first planting when all danger of frost is over and second planting three or four weeks later. Inoculate seed with nitrogen bacteria (available at seed stores) to stimulate early growth. Place seed in fruit jar or glass with the dust, shake well until seed are coated, then plant. Stringless Green Pod or Refugee are good varieties.

Lima Beans: Should not be planted until soil is thoroughly warm. Florida Speckled (pole) is a good variety to plant near a fence to climb on. Plants should be 4 in. apart in the row. Henderson's Bush lima is a good bush variety to use.

Okra: Do not plant until ground is warm and danger of frost is over. Thin the plants to 2 in. apart in row. Harvest before pods get large and tough.

Tomatoes, Pepper, Eggplant: Set plants 2 to 3 ft. apart. Tomatoes should be pruned and staked to save space and for earlier production. Eggplant will not stand light frost nor long periods of cloudy weather.

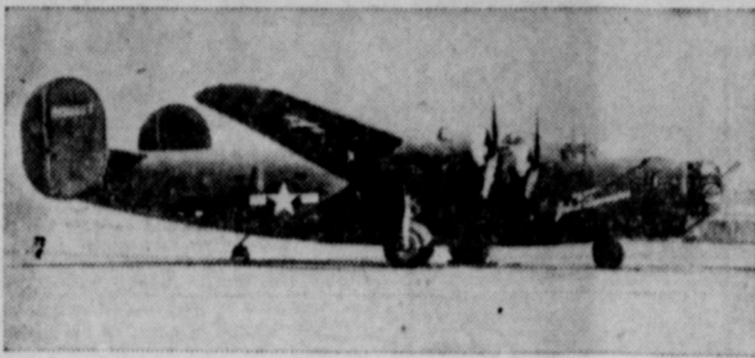

Sweet Corn: Iona, a yellow deep variety is outstanding in quality and hardness. Honey June, a white grained variety is also good. Plant as soon as frost danger is over, using 1-4 lb. seed for 100 feet of row. Thin plants to 16 inches apart when about a foot high.

Squash: Yellow Crookneck is preferable to the white variety, because of higher vitamin content. Plant seed 2 feet apart. Harvest regularly for continued production. Fordhook squash will mature later than the yellow Crookneck and can be kept in storage throughout late summer and fall.

Mrs. J. C. Harpham returned home last week after spending several days with relatives in Brownwood. She was accompanied home by her sister, Miss Dorothy Clement, who will visit in the Harpham home for some time.

Mrs. J. R. Nelson left this week for Houston and San Antonio for an extended visit. She will visit her son, Jim, at Houston and another son, J. C., who is in officer's training at San Antonio.

Jack & Heintz Workers Buy Four-Motor Bomber With Bonds

Pictured above is the Liberator four-motor bomber "Spirit of Jahco Associates" purchased with money raised in the form of extra War Bonds bought in addition to regular 15% payroll deduction by the 7500 Associates employed at Jack & Heintz, Inc. of Bedford, Ohio. Picture of the bomber has just been released.

Jahco Associates (every worker is called an Associate) set out several months ago to buy a bomber, under a plan of the War Finance Committee of the U. S. Treasury Dept., by purchasing $450,000 worth in 30 days for cash. In 15 days they exceeded the quota, actually purchasing $525,508.75 worth of War Bonds.

Jack & Heintz, Inc. is that manufacturer of essential aircraft units which has been in the headlines a good deal, but this paper can reveal some facts that have had little attention. It is possible the only plant in the country to operate 12-hour shifts and 7-day weeks, thereby conserving skilled labor by avoiding the need for thousands more men.

The hourly pay is the same as is paid for the same skills in other shops in the Cleveland-Detroit area. The greater take-home pay is because the men work longer hours at production. The publicized benefits enable the men to continue efficient production the year around. Strikes and absenteeism are unknown and production is so efficient that when parts must be bought outside they cost up to ten times as much as when produced by Jahco Associates.

The Associates contribute regularly every month to send boxes to men in the Armed Forces, and their wives have a club which packs and mails them every month. Soldiers all over the world, some complete strangers, have written favorable letters to the company.

Wounded soldiers are not forgotten either. Recently Associates donated $25,000 to buy radios for Crile General Hospital, just completed by the Government for returning wounded soldiers.

The products of the company cannot be talked about freely in war time, but it can be said that no American fighter plane can start its motor without a Jahco starter, and other products are almost as important.

The company operates on flat price contracts, undersells other manufacturers, and has voluntarily reduced prices and made refunds to the Government.

Recently the Renegotiators have called their profits excessive and have ordered the return of a sum which will result in Jack & Heintz, Inc. sustaining a net loss on its 1942 operations.

Now well past the three score-and-ten mark, Officer Bradford uses a cane which was given to him by a man whom he once "sent up"—which shows that everyone, even a former lawbreaker, respects the sincerity of the great old peace officer, who shot down all three of the Santa Claus bank bandits in a running fight some 16 years ago.

Texas Brothers Swap Invasion Tales In Italy

The following Associated Press article concerning two Munday boys who met in Italy, appeared in the daily papers last week:

Washington, Feb. 10 (AP).—Two brothers, who had met only once since leaving the West Texas town of Munday three years ago, swapped invasion experiences when they were reunited recently on battle fields of Italy, the war department said today.

The brothers, First Lieut. Paul Stanley, a veteran of three invasions and a behind-the-lines landing on Sicily, and Corp. Virgil Stanley, who was with the 36th Infantry Division when it stormed into Italy, met briefly in Africa last spring.

Lieutenant Stanley had just returned to Italy from a hospital in North Africa when he saw his younger brother. He had recovered from leg wounds inflicted by a German mortar shell Sept. 23, 1943, as he directed machine-gun fire against German forces dug in on a hill. He had been in the thick of American invasions of North Africa, Sicily and Italy.

Corporal Stanley told of landing with the 36th Division on D-Day, with "the shore still plenty hot with German artillery shells."

"It was two days later that I had my closest call," he told his brother. "We were hauling ammunition from the beach when we heard planes overhead. The Jerries were dropping eggs all over the beach, trying to smash our supply trucks. We jumped out of our trucks and headed for an open field, where we were lucky enough to find foxholes. But something told me that wasn't the place to be, and I jumped out and dived into a ditch near by. When I started back to the truck after the attack, I saw what was left of the foxhole where I'd been. Brother, it was just a bomb crater!"
