Malcolm Ford Received Award Of Purple Heart

Medal Is Sent Home To His Parents

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ford of Munday this week received the Purple Heart, an award of merit which was given their son, S. Sgt. Malcolm Ford, who is serving with the U. S. forces in Italy.

Ford was wounded in the Italian campaign on February 3, 1943, and spent some time in an army hospital. A recent letter to his parents stated that he had recovered from his wounds and is now back in action. He was a first class private when wounded, but was promoted to staff sergeant when he returned to duty. He is serving with the 36th division.

The Order of Purple Heart, originated by George Washington, is awarded only to those men who have shed their blood in defense of their country.

S. Sgt. Ford directed that the medal be forwarded to his parents.

Boys Proving Successful With Early Bonita

The following story entitled Enterprise and Publicizing was broadcast over the early morning radio program at A. and M. College May 9th:

Sixty-four Knox county 4-H boys are planning another new variety of grain sorghum this year named, Early Hegari.

Enterprise under difficulty and some modest publicizing has transformed the demonstration of a group of Knox county 4-H Club boys to a success story.

Last June, 58 club boys planted six pounds each of the seed of a new variety of grain sorghum called Bonita. County Agricultural Agent R. O. Dunkle obtained it at the Chillicothe sub-station when it was developed. The venture comprised the boys' principal demonstration for 1943. Six pounds planted two acres.

But the boys encountered difficulty from the beginning. No rain fell between planting and harvest. Yet Bonita showed it could take plenty of punishment from drought and flourish like the bay tree. "Get it through it to ground," says County Agent Dunkle, "and you're over the hill." From the 348 pounds planted the demonstrators harvested about 18,000 pounds of seed.

After threshing, a magazine with a nation wide circulation printed a story with pictures on the demonstration, referring especially to the success of Jo Ed Swett. Joe Ed, 15, member of the Sunset boys' 4-H Club, grew about 4,000 pounds. Through April he had filled 87 orders from 19 states and Canada from his own and the seed produced by other club members.

As a result of the success last year, it is indicated that more than 10,000 acres in Knox county will be seeded to Bonita this year.

Bonita originated as a selection from a cross of hegari and Chiltex. The objective was to determine whether a hegari could be produced which would be less erratic in production than the common variety. It was!

Local Cattle Are Classified At Dairy Show

Munday Future Farmers and Austin Caughran sent a truck load of eight dairy cattle to the Baylor county dairy show in Seymour last Saturday. G. S. Dowell, Mr. Caughran, Keith Cartwright, Hulien Montgomery and Joe Yarbrough accompanied the cattle and did the showing, while Dee Mullican did the loading and drove the truck.

The bull shown by Mr. Caughran won second place in a class of 12 bulls, and his animal was classified as very good by the American Jersey Cattle Club. This is the second highest rating given an animal, and the judge stated that when the bull from Munday had more time to grow and develop he would show to better advantage.

Mr. Caughran also showed a cow that was classified as good-plus.

Four F. F. A. cows belonging to Lyndol Smith, Joseph Borden, Joe Spann and John Spann were classified as good-plus, which was as high a rating as that given any young cow in the show.

Mr. Dowell has made arrangements to qualify for an official to test all dairy cattle in the Munday area that people want tested.

The two pigs were exhibited at the hog show held recently in Seymour. They were adjudged first and second place winners in the fat barrow class, and the first place winner was then judged grand champion of the show.

This makes a total of $23.00 of the $25.00 due from the state on each scholastic. The money has been apportioned to the common schools of the county.

Swain Given 5-Year Term For Murder

Texas Quota Is 464 Million In 5th War Loan

A state quota of $464 million dollars for the Fifth War Loan, June 12-July 8, has been announced by State Chairman Nathan Adams of the War Finance Committee of Texas. This is the largest sum yet and the drive will be "a big, and vital effort," Adams said.

Of the total, $236 million has been set for individual Texans alone, $125 million of this to be in Series E bonds.

Counties throughout the state are announcing their quotas now. "It is going to be big and tough—the biggest and the toughest drive," Adams said in warning that all of the nearly seven million people of Texas must do the facts. But "it can be done," Adams insisted. "It has been proved."

He pointed out that during the Fourth War Loan quota was raised than the total quota for the Fifth. The over-all goal for the Fourth was $395 million and Texans subscribed $480 million.

"No one is exempt," Adams said. "Our boys are dying for you and for me. Think of the invasion and you cannot think of not buying war bonds."

"Our victory volunteers must, of course, do a large part in cutting out the great Texas market," he said in praising the past efforts of the victory volunteers.

"It will be a severe home-front test for every person in the state," he said.

County Quota In 4th War Loan Is $465,000.00

Knox county's quota in the Fifth War Loan was announced this week in a letter to W. E. Braly, chairman of the Knox County War Finance Committee, from Nathan Adams, of Dallas, state chairman.

The county's over all quota is $465,000.00 and of this amount a quota of $200,000 in Series E bonds has been set.

"As in the case in the Fourth War Loan Drive," Mr. Adams said, "the Fifth will be directed primarily to the individual purchasers. The success of the drive will depend, therefore, on maximum personal solicitation. Each individual citizen should be made to realize his full responsibility in this greatest financial operation in history."

Mr. Adams has recommended organization of committees, as in other drives, the members of which will contact every citizen of the county in an effort to reach the county quota.

Rhineland Boy Home On Visit

Sgt. Herman Herring came in last Sunday for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Herring of the Rhineland community.

Sgt. Herring entered the army in January, 1941, and took his training at Fort Bliss, Texas. He was then sent to the Philippine Islands where he spent several months. He was returned to Seattle, Wash., for a short stay before being sent to the Aleutian Islands, where he has been stationed for 22 months.

He will report back to duty at Fort Bliss at the end of his furlough. This is Herman's first furlough since entering the service.

RELATIVES VISIT IN HOME OF MRS. WEBB

Mrs. Etta Webb had as her guests on Mother's Day five of her children. They are Tom Webb and family, Knox City; J. C. Webb and family, Seymour; Mrs. Claude Wright, McCamey; Mrs. Leon Reagan and daughters, Spur; Mrs. Bill Bouldin and sons, Billy and Roy, Munday.

One son and one daughter were unable to be here: Cecil Webb of Guyton, Okla., and Mrs. C. E. James, Ventura, Calif.

W. J. (Bill) Swain, Knox county farmer, was assessed a 5-year sentence in the state penitentiary Wednesday morning upon conviction of the murder of J. C. (Jake) Forrest of Munday.

The trial attracted many Knox county people, and the 50th District courtroom was filled with spectators while witnesses were testifying. A special venire of 150 jurors was summoned for service Monday, and all of that day was spent in selecting the jury. The panel was almost exhausted when the last juror was chosen.

Upon opening of court, defense attorneys asked time to prepare a motion, which was for change of venue on the belief that the defendant could not get a fair trial in this county. This motion was overruled by District Judge L. M. Williams, with the reservation that the motion would be granted if, after examining the jurors, he believed a fair trial could not be had.

Testimony of witnesses began at nine o'clock Tuesday morning. Witnesses included seven for the state and seven for the defense. Several of the defense witnesses testified of the defendant's efforts to establish self defense as the motive.

Swain took the stand in his own behalf and testified that Forrest had pulled a pocket knife on him after he had accused the latter of telling lies about him. Swain said he knocked Forrest down, and then when he started after him again with a knife, Swain pulled his own knife and stabbed twice. One of the blows struck Forrest over the head, and he died a short time later in the office of a Munday physician.

Some of the eye-witnesses testified, however, that they at no time saw Forrest with a knife.

Swain was charged with killing Forrest in Munday on February 16, 1944, in a street altercation that started with harsh words and ended with the stabbing.

The prosecution was represented by District Attorney Charlie Blount of Paducah and M. F. Billingsley of Munday. C. C. McDonald of Wichita Falls and Judge Isaac O. Newton of Seymour represented the defense.

Judge Williams passed sentence on Swain Wednesday morning. The jury deliberated approximately four hours in arriving at a verdict.

Cecil Burton Named Manager Of Co-op Gin

Cecil (Cotton) Burton was recently elected manager of the Farmers Union Cooperative Gin at Munday, succeeding Wallace Reid, who resigned preparatory to entering the service. Mr. Burton took over his duties last week.

Mr. Burton has been employed at the local gin for the past seven years. During a part of this time he has been in the gin office, and his experience fully qualifies him to serve in the capacity to which he has been elected by the board of directors. He expects to operate the gin in the same satisfactory manner as in the past, giving the best in ginning service at all times.

Mr. Reid was employed at the local gin for 14 years, and served as manager during the past five years. He expects to enter the service within the next two months.

Dist. Conference Held At Rochester

What He Does For His Community Lives On and On"

FACE TO FACE WITH HITLER

The public won't hear much about it, but sometimes in the near future an event will occur here in this country that will be one of the great victories of World War II. Both the Office of Defense Transportation and the railroads expect the peak of rail freight and passenger traffic to come in 1944. Once the peak is mastered, the railroad men will know they have met the challenge of the "war of movement"—and won.

As the final test approaches, the railroads' prime worry is manpower. Locomotives can be oiled, repaired and kept on the move night and day, almost without stop, but human beings must rest. Shipment of war materials is being slowed because of insufficient help to keep the trains moving. To combat the manpower shortage, the rails are calling for more people.

Over seventy per cent of all inter-city freight is moved by rail. This alone gives a pretty good idea of the importance of the railroads. Major General C. P. Gross, Chief of Transportation, United States Army, has said: "Our railroads are essential to our nation's capacity to make war. That was proved in World War I and has become again overwhelmingly evident in this war. They must be sustained by the American people with full appreciation that they are vital to us and must always be prepared to go into action to make effective the might of the United States."

There is no more concrete way to sustain the railroads today than by getting a job on them. Hitler, in putting war on wheels, came face to face with the American railroads. Before they are through with him he will be sorry he ever saw a wheel.

SHORTAGE THREAT BECOMES TIRE SOME

If American industry had fallen down on the job and failed to meet its quotas of airplanes, ships, tanks, guns, farm output, transportation, electricity, etc., every time the draft cut in on its labor supply, where would our country be today?

And yet, when the draft threatens to interfere with the younger labor supply in the coal mines, the Federal Fuel Administrator immediately threatens to curb the use of coal next winter. The government took over the coal mines as an excuse for settling a labor controversy. If the coal mines were again free and in the hands of their private owners, they would be expected to get out coal in spite of the draft.

If the public officials can only threaten the people with shortages every time they meet a little production problem, the people should begin to realize pretty soon that the more the government keeps out of business, the better off the country will be.

It's pretty poor record for government in business if its Federal Fuel Administrator can't figure ways to keep up production in the face of the same labor problems under which private enterprise not hampered by Federal administrators and government control, must meet its quotas and often exceed them.

The people will know where to lay the blame for a fuel shortage if it occurs next winter—namely, right square at the door of the Federal Fuel Administrator and the Federal government that took over the mines.

ARE WE DOING OUR BEST?

Two more states have joined in the movement to put a ceiling on the peacetime taxing power of the Federal government. In addition, proposals are before Congress to simplify the tax laws. Both are constructive and necessary steps.

In the meantime, the Federal debt is rising so rapidly that other than a few fiscal experts, no one knows the debt total unless they read a Treasury report each morning. Moreover, no one expects the rise in debt to halt for years to come. These are the facts.

It is also a fact that the country is enjoying a peak of prosperity without precedent in the history of the nation. A visitor from Mars could not be blamed for concluding that as far as most Americans are concerned, "total war" is still a catch phrase.

Statistics, compiled by peacetime standards showing why the Federal debt cannot be brought under closer control, are an insufficient answer now to the question of whether the people are doing their tax best and the government its thrift best to save the nation from bankruptcy and preserve a framework upon which individual opportunity and enterprise can flourish after the war.

FIRE DEPARTMENT EDUCATION

In an address before the International Association of Fire Chiefs, in Chicago, Sherwood Brockwell, Fire Marshal of the State of North Carolina, brought out the importance of fire department personnel training systems.

Mr. Brockwell said: "The fundamental principles of fire fighting remain the same, and whether a fire, having left the incipient stage and reached the conflagration, was started by a demolition bomb, an incendiary bomb, or a cow kicking a lamp over, the condition confronting the fire service in that community will depend on preparations made in advance."

He likened the fundamentals of fire fighting to the alphabet, or the notes in the music scale, about which are built all literature and music. He advised fire departments to "start with a set of standard drills and evolutions which fit your department and your apparatus and your buildings, and from then on let the higher education bracket do just like you do with the English language, consist of various combinations of those basic evolutions which form your alphabet."

"The fire service . . . contacts all the established professions—no one man has yet lived long enough to master it all—it all starts with knowing the alphabet."

At a time when the control of fire means so much to the safety of the nation, the ABC's of fire fighting and the proper training of local departments should be of the greatest interest to every community.

WHY PRICE CONTROL WORKS

Anyone who wonders what retail distributors think of the basic purpose of the war price and rationing program, will find the answer in Chain Store Age on the attitude of the food industry: "When price control and rationing first came into the picture, many of the regulations and requirements were so complicated, impractical and burdensome and brought so much grumbling from almost every branch of the industry, that it looked as if this nation's effort to control prices and escape inflation could not possibly succeed."

"It did succeed only because all elements of the food industry sincerely wanted to make it work. Everyone was willing to do his part provided impractical feature could be eliminated so that the trade could comply and still stay in business."

"To make price control work, leaders of the industry spent months in Washington seeking necessary changes in the regulations. . . ."

"The result is that today, two years after the general Maximum Price Regulations was first issued, both price control and rationing are working more or less smoothly. . . ."

"Perhaps the best proof that the food industry really believes in price control and rationing and wants to make them effective is found in the fact that all branches have now gone on record, through their trade associations, in favor of the reenactment of the Emergency Price Control Act, under which OPA functions, when it expires June 30."

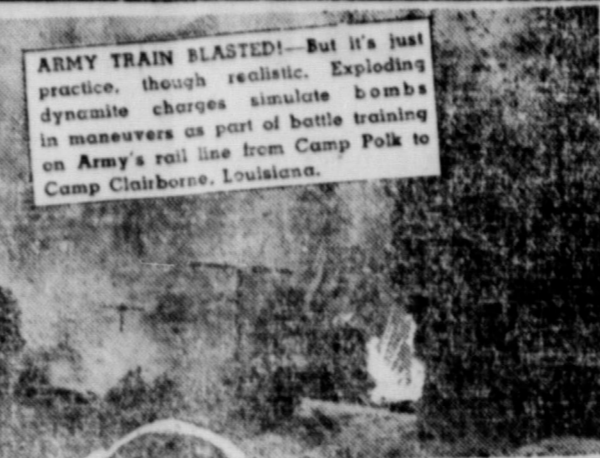

This does not mean, however, that regulatory faults should not be corrected.

LET'S SHOW APPRECIATION

Is America appreciative of its servicemen? When a man comes home from the fighting front, for a brief furlough, under existing regulations he is allowed a paltry five gallons of gasoline. He can't go fishing, he can't go hunting, can't visit friends, can't renew himself by trips to the country.

He may well doubt our interest in him when he sees countless civilians and public officials allowed ample gas rations because of their "essential" activity. What is more "essential" than relaxation for a weary serviceman when he is on leave, and freedom from petty official annoyance?

Gems Of Thought

PERFORMANCE

Our worth is determined by the good deeds we do rather than by the fine emotions we feel.—E. L. Mageon.

I have never heard anything about the resolutions of the apostles, but a great deal about their acts.—Horace Mann.

No one can save himself without God's help, and God will help each man who performs his own part.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Honorable industry always travels the same road with enjoyment and duty, and progress is altogether impossible without it.—S. Smiles.

It is not so much matter what is done, as how it is done, that God minds. It is the well-doing that meets with the well-done.—Venning.

The talent of success is nothing more than doing what you can do well; and doing well whatever you do, without a thought of fame.—Longfellow.

A graduate of the University of Texas School of Dentistry, Houston, is continuing her dental career, despite the loss of both arms in a boating accident. Miss Margaret Jones of Houston is now continuing her studies to go into the field of dental education.

There is probably more love in cottages than in palaces only because there are more cottages than palaces.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

by BOYCE HOUSE

Whatever has become of the "human fly"? You know—a man who made his living by climbing up the side of the town's tallest building with his bare hands while the crowd gaped, got stiffness in the neck and had near heart attack when he purposely "almost" lost his hold on the ledge near the top?

I never missed any free attraction that came to town during my boyhood—the expert marksman who put on an exhibition to advertise Peter's cartridges; the cyclist who rode a single wheel standing up by way of directing public attention to the superior qualities of one particular brand of bicycle; and the medicine show, with the gasoline torches luridly lighting up the platform, the "professor" with his long hair, high top hat, long-tailed coat and marvellous flow of language; and Sambo, who entertained with numbers on his banjo.

And did Buster Brown ever visit your town? He was a midget who looked like the once-popular comic supplement boy with the odd suit and the bobbed-hair. (He was publicizing a product.)

Sometimes, the merchants would bring in a special event for trades' day—a slack-wire walker or a dare-devil, who leaped from the top of a high ladder into little more than a tub of water.

Whenever a minstrel show came to town, there was always a free concert in front of the tent or the opera house.

But of course the biggest event of all was the circus parade. Feliz lined the streets for an hour ahead of time—why, I never know, because no parade ever started on time. But it was a real thrill from the beginning—the proprietor in a rubber-tired buggy who (the proprietor, not the buggy) towed smilingly to right and left; then the many wagons, a few of which were open to show the lions and monkeys; the sea-pangled ladies on the elephants; the clowns,—on to the very end, the calico (we boys called it "caly-ep-ep"), tooting out noises amid which could occasionally be detected a couple of notes that suggested "In the Good Old Summer Time." Them was the days!

POISON FOR GARDEN INSECTS

COLLEGE STATION—A good yield from a Victory garden depends largely upon the gardener's success in controlling the insects which prey upon the young, tender plants. A full growth of foliage, especially with potatoes, is necessary because the leaves are the means of conveying food and energy to the roots. Insects damage leaves by chewing or sucking the juices and control should be applied as soon as they appear.

Lead arsenate, used either as a dust or spray, is the most effective poison for potato insects. According to Paul Gregg, assistant entomologist for the A. and M. College Extension Service, it gives a good kill, sticks to the leaves well, and gives protection for two or three weeks unless washed off by rain. Three tablespoonfuls of poison to one gallon of water makes a satisfactory spray and requires less of the poison than dusting. But Gregg suggests that if the latter method is used the plants should be dusted liberally.

Cryolite may be used with safety for controlling cabbage worms until heads begin to form. The poison then should be changed to rotenone, which is harmless to humans. Cryolite may be dusted on the plants or used as a spray by mixing three tablespoonfuls with one gallon of water. Applications should be repeated at weekly intervals.

The first generation of the squash bug is appearing on cucumber and squash vines. As a simple means of control, Gregg suggests picking the adult bugs off the plants before they can hatch another brood. There won't be many and they are easy to catch in the early morning or late afternoon. Then apply Black Leaf 40 according to directions on the bottle to dispose of the young. This should be done without delay the bugs multiply as the plants grow.

County Extension agents who are familiar with methods of control are prepared to assist gardeners with their insect problems.

Lowly "Hot Dog" Now a Main Dish

Baked Beans with Wiener Crown

Sociable pot-luck meals are the highlight of many neighborhood gatherings these days, and their popularity during wartime is easily understood since the expense and effort is divided among the group. Wieners split lengthwise stand at attention around the casserole. Golden brown baked beans, placed in layers with thin slices of onion between, are topped off with a spicy tomato sauce to complete this satisfying dish that has both taste and eye appeal.

Up-to-date housewives let the oven do the watching while they take care of other things; for modern gas service is available anywhere and everywhere with "bottled" or "tank" gas which gives the controlled and constant flame heat so necessary to good cooking.

Baked Beans with Wiener Crown

- 6 wieners
- 6 cups baked beans
- 2 tbsip. vinegar
- 3 tbsip. brown sugar
- 4 tbsip. chili sauce
- 1 teasp. salt
- 1 large onion, thinly sliced

Mix vinegar, brown sugar, chili sauce and salt with baked beans. Stand split wieners around a 2 quart casserole. Fill casserole with alternate layers of bean mixture and onion slices. Bake in 350 degree oven until wieners are brown and beans and onions are thoroughly cooked. This will serve six and you can double or multiply the recipe for larger gatherings.

Ceiling Prices On Heavy Hogs To Be Reduced

The present ceiling prices on hogs scaling more than two hundred and forty pounds liveweight each will be reduced seventy five cents a hundredweight on and after May fifteenth, next. No change will be made in ceiling prices of hogs weighing 240 pounds or less.

According to information to the county agent, R. O. Dunkle, from the office of price administration the reduction is designed to discourage the use of corn and other essential grains in bringing hogs to heavy, uneconomical weights. Chicago ceiling prices on hogs weighing more than 240 pounds is $14.75 per hundredweight at present. This action will reduce the price to $14.

The extraordinary expansion in livestock during the past three years has largely been in hogs, the county agent says. Total production in Texas in 1943 was slightly more than four million head, or nearly 900,000 more than in 1942. The U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates that the hog population in the nation increased from about 90-million in 1941 to 122-million in 1943.

The consumption of feed, especially corn, which created the heavy expansion of livestock production, has resulted in an acute shortage of corn. This was due to the combination of increase in hog numbers and a noticeable tendency of producers to feed to heavier than usual weights. R. O. Dunkle points out that the average live weight of hogs slaughtered in the United States from 1940 to 1943 has increased from about 232 pounds to 254.

Feeding of hogs to heavy weights must be arrested if the country is to achieve a rational distribution of supplies of corn, the OPA says.

Mrs. Sebern Jones and children, Robert Allen and Mike, left Wednesday for San Antonio to visit for some time, accompanying Mrs. Jones' mother, Mrs. T. A. McCarty, home.

Mrs. C. B. Jones of Mineral Wells visited with relatives here several days this week. She was accompanied home by her granddaughter, Carolyn Jones, who will visit there for some time.

"Guess we're pretty lucky in our town, Judge, that we don't have the youth problem you read about in other places."

"Don't know as you can call it lucky, Harold... we saw it coming with the war and we did something about it before it hit us. We gave our 'teen age youngsters the recreational facilities they needed and really wanted. Those familiar with this wartime problem know that young folks go to places they shouldn't only when the proper places are not provided for them. Young people always want to be with others of their own age... want their own type of entertainment. Town after town has found out that once these simple wants are met, the problem is well on its way to being licked."

"Guess I didn't really know how far-sighted our town really is, Judge. If we hadn't looked ahead we wouldn't have had anybody or anything to blame but ourselves, would we?"

At The Churches

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Next Sunday morning service will be in the interest of our boys in the service. Come and represent your son, daughter, brother, sister, or any loved one in this service. We talk about backing them with our money, let's back them with our prayers and our faith. They need our spiritual cooperation.

Much is being said, and written about Juvenile Delinquency. It is a serious problem confronting the world today—and threatens to become more serious.

The Nashville Banner carried the following statement on its editorial page (Aug. 1943): "We have never had an active church boy in real trouble in the juvenile court," says Juvenile Court Judge Philip Gillian of Denver.

And his advice to parents is: "Take—don't send—your children to church services."

Juvenile Judge Sam Davis Tatum, of Nashville, Tenn., had tried 4,000 cases of youths under 17 years of age, from June 1st 1939 to August, 1943. The facts deduced from these trials are three:

(1) Of the approximately 4,000 cases, only 17 were those of regular Sunday School or church service attenders. And of those 17, nine were not guilty.

(2) Only about six of the families of these 4,000 were regular attenders at Sunday School or Church.

(3) Over 75 per cent of the youngsters appearing before Judge Tatum were from broken homes. Either the parents were separated, divorced, or one or both were dead.

These figures tell a sad story that should be mended.

W. H. Albertson.

Red Cross News Of Knox County

The American Red Cross, like the American army it serves, is ready for the invasion, according to word received by local chapter officials.

"After months of preparation, backed by the help of volunteers in local Red Cross chapters like ours, Red Cross workers are ready to swing into service along with combat units," the officials said, basing their statements on information from Red Cross national headquarters. "Through its field service, the American Red Cross is the first noncombatant organization ever to operate at the very front. In this service the Red Cross is keeping faith with the millions of Americans who have contributed to this cause for the benefit of their sons at arms."

An American Red Cross field director goes into action with the troops. It is his job to keep in touch with the men in the front lines. He carries no rifle or pistol, more often a notebook and pencil, but he faces the dangers and hardships. He fights back by helping to keep the soldiers in fighting trim.

There are four field directors to a division. On them falls the burden of looking after thousands of men, keeping them in touch with home, solving their personal problems in the field, giving them a helping hand whenever needed. They are not youngsters, but are mature in years and judgment, many of them veterans of the last war. But all are toughened by training to stand the rigors of campaigning, strong in spirit to meet the unforeseen. They are highly trained for this combat work.

During the past months of intensive training in Britain the Red Cross field men have roughed it with the GI's in almost every phase

Poultry Price Allowance Decreased

The 2.2 cents-per-pound increase in the price of live and dressed poultry allowed for the month of May by the Office of Price Administration and Office of Economic Stabilization will be reduced to one cent for the month of June, it was reported today by F. C. Tomlinson, district price specialist of the Fort Worth OPA district office.

The new price schedule, designed to provide better distribution of poultry throughout the year and to permit the surplus crop to be carried into distribution into the period of short supply, went into effect April 21. They will continue through June of this year and from January through June of next year, according to Tomlinson.

The schedule of premiums, which may be added to base prices but which are not cumulative, is: January, one-half cent a pound; February, one cent; March, 1.4 cents; April, 1.8 cents; May 2.2 cents and June, one cent.

Tire Applications Swamp Local Board

Unfiled applications for Grade I tires are piling up in every War Price and Ration Board in the 40 county Fort Worth OPA district, Director J. H. Kultgen made known today.

According to reports received in Fort Worth, B and C gasoline coupon holders throughout the district have been deluging the boards with requests for Grade I tires, as a result of announcements from Washington that synthetic tires would be available for all. "While the tire situation is improving daily," the district director said, "our quota for this district has been increased only about 20 per cent for May. From the information we have now, the improvement will be gradual; however, we cannot forecast the date when tires will be available for every B and C coupon holder," he said.

Kultgen said that while false hopes for Grade I tires had been raised by "over-optimistic" news stories from Washington, another contributing factor has been the increased stocks of new tires which people see in the hands of tire dealers. "We have been trying hard to build up tire dealers' inventories so they can meet the increased demand for tires during the hot summer months," the District Director pointed out. He urged that car owners continue to drive under 35, in order to get the most possible mileage out of their present tires.

Red Cross Men Accompany Forces In Dutch Guinea

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA—More than a score American Red Cross field men accompanied occupation forces in the recent Dutch New Guinea operations, Edwin Holmes, of Williamstown, Mass., Red Cross task force supervisor here, reported.

"American Red Cross workers accompanied each task force in this invasion operation," Holmes said. "Each man went ashore with a gasoline stove, two large containers of coffee and army rations and immediately set up beachhead canteens. There were three Red Cross men on the initial landing in the Hollandia sector. Others landed with the fifth wave at a second point and with the eighth wave at a third point. Four additional men landed in Hollandia with three truckloads of American Red Cross supplies for respective army units which were advancing deeper into enemy territory. Ten additional men were either en route with units to other beachheads or awaiting shipping space for supplies.

"Military plans called for transportation of these 10 men on the ninth day of occupation but, with operations ahead of schedule, they will keep pace. More than 125 tons of American Red Cross supplies were shipped to combat areas for this operation. To assure adequate experienced personnel, four men now in New Britain were transferred. As long as U. S. forces and supplies continue landing, Red Cross workers will accompany them. They were assigned to units long before D-Day but couldn't have done the job if it had not been for the army's assistance. To date 15 enlisted men, detached from regular duties, were assigned to assist American Red Cross activities."

The three Red Cross men making the initial Hollandia landing were George A. Leech, South Euclid, O.; John Taylor, New York City; and Elwood M. Miller, Cedar Rapids, Ia. The four reinforcements at Hollandia are Thomas S. Montgomery, Berkeley, Calif.; William R. Stowe, Rochester, N. Y.; William Richardson, Vermillion, S. D., and Raymond McAllister, Council Grove, Kans.

Calling ALL-CROP HARVESTERS

Harvest More SEED This Year!

Allis-Chalmers All-Crop Harvester Owners! There is an emergency need of SEED for grass and legume crops. Every All-Crop Harvester owner can be a one-man army in this campaign. Here is the plan:

1. Harvest more high protein seed crops, especially legumes and grasses.
2. Rotate pasturing. Don't pasture too short or too late. Grow an emergency crop of some kind for feed if necessary—but give your hay crop a chance to set seed.
3. Cut hay early, when it's fine-stemmed and high in protein; then harvest the second crop for seed.
4. Have us reconduct your All-Crop end attachments under the 24 point Farm-Commando plan, insuring maximum yield of bright, clean seed.

If you are not an All-Crop owner, we may be able to direct you to an owner who does custom work.

 Besides going to so many parties and receptions, the Seniors have been very busy ironing out those last few details such as practicing commencement exercises, trying to talk their teachers into stretching their average to B, finding lost books, and trying for the right typing grade. Of course, for those with averages less than B, they have been studying and taking those terrible semi-annual headaches. (Of course everyone knows what they are!)

Congratulations to our valedictorians—yes, there are two of them, Misses Bette Morris and Lillian Cerveney. They both have an average of 93.5. Miss Jo Ann Rummel is second with an average of 92 plus, which makes her salutatorian. And congratulations to everyone else—just for graduating!

There are so many pretty watches, bracelets, dresses, (new slip ruffles can be seen too), and everything showing up. The Seniors all agree that it is a Super-De-Luxe Christmas in May.

The Seniors have enjoyed being in high school with you swell fish, sophs, and juniors, and to you juniors, thanks for a grand banquet and everything and we hope you will enjoy sitting in the back of the study hall as much as we have. Make the best of your high school days.

Freshman News

This is the last week of school. Hallelujah!!! This is the week that lets our Seniors graduate and the students of good old Munday High progress or pass from one grade to the other.

On behalf of the Freshman class I wish to tell the Seniors that we wish them lots of good luck in life. We are sorry to see you go, but to go out into life has been one of your dreams. So we bid you farewell and wish you God speed.

Sophomore News

Well, goodbye!!! Boo-hoo, this is the last day of school. Really it's ha, ha. There "ain't" no tears being shed around here. For just think of those future three months when we can live in sheer bliss. Ah???

Everyone has had his tests and are just hoping he passed 'em. But that can't worry us any longer for we already have thoughts of swimming in the ole' hole or fishing under the elm tree. Let's hope it can be as much fun as that.

First 'Chute Jump Simple Even At Night Over India-But That Jungle Below!

WEST LYNN, Mass.—After meeting up with a parachute for the first time when he jumped in total darkness 7,000 feet above India, C. W. Bettecher, Jr., General Electric technical representative serving turbosuperchargers with the D. S. Army Air Forces, has decided that what you don't know about geography won't hurt you. In a recent letter to the G-E service engineering division here Bettecher, 25, a native of New Haven, Conn. and a 1941 graduate of Worcester (Mass.) Polytechnic Institute, described his experiences aboard a transport plane flying entirely by compass on a "black, moonless night" over India. The estimated time of arrival at a landing field came and went and passengers and crew, totalling six, waited tensely as the radio operator called for field lights but was unable to receive a signal. Needles on the gasoline gages mumped zero. "Transport planes don't always carry parachutes, but we were mightily thankful they were part of our cargo," he wrote. "The co-pilot jumped first, and the sound as he hit the slipstream pretty much unnerved us. The crew chief was next. The first time he jumped, the wind hurled him right back into the plane, but he made it on the second attempt. I had made up my mind to pretend I were jumping into a pool of water, and when my turn came that helped a lot."

Although he landed in a dense jungle and injured his ankle, Bettecher managed to follow a faint trail. Failing to make headway he used his chute as a sleeping bag, but the rustling of the tall grass and the howling of jackals kept him awake. Next morning he spotted a native farmer's ox cart moving along a wide trail. At sight of the chute draped over Bettecher's shoulder, however, the oxen picked up what speed they could muster and he cart disappeared.

Presently an Indian in a British lorry appeared. Bettecher got in, and, at intervals of several miles, they pecked up three other occupants of the plane. After 70 miles of "crazy" driving over the rough dirt trail they reached a railroad station and British rest camp, and rescue parties eventually brought in the remaining two passengers. No one had been seriously injured, but the plane was a complete wreck.

"That 70-mile truck ride behind that Indian was far more hair-raising than the actual jump," the letter concluded. "But perhaps we would have been more nervous if we had realized we had bailed out over some of the best tiger country in India."

TOWN and FARM in WARTIME

Prepared by OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION

Draft Prospects Under New Rules

Draft prospects of men in various age groups have been outlined by National Selective Service Headquarters in a recent statement of policy, subject to adjustment as needs of the armed forces change—men 18 through 25—likely to see service unless irreplaceable in essential activity; men 26 through 29—likely to remain in civil life for the time being if found to be "necessary to and regularly engaged in" war production or in support of national health, safety and interest; men 30 through 37—likely to remain in civil life for an indefinite period, if "regularly engaged in" war production or in support of national health, safety and interest; men 38 through 44—not currently acceptable for induction by the armed forces.

To Help Get Farm Supplies

Dealers are required to give farmers preference in the purchase of about 300 listed items of farm supplies, under a recently revised War Production Board regulation. A farmer may buy these supplies upon his written certification that the supplies "are needed and will be used for other than household purposes in the operation of a farm." New items added to the list include hay stacker cables, fire extinguishers, flashlights, funnels, tool sharpening grinders, harness repair tools, concrete mixers, metal fence posts, Portland cement and insulating materials.

Aid For Farm Communities

Agriculturally-based communities wishing assistance in planning postwar jobs may get assistance from the Department of Agriculture. Engineer, industrial chemists, statisticians, marketing experts and other consultants will be available to aid communities where farm income and farm purchases make up the backbone of local business. The communities make their own plans and put programs into action at their own expense, while the consultants provide them with specialized aid and suggestions.

More Children's Garments

More than two million dozen essential items of infants' and children's wearing apparel will be produced during June, July and August, WPB said. All garments are to be manufactured from woven cotton fabrics and will include infant creepers, gowns and dresses; children's pajamas, sunsuits and coveralls, shirts and blouses.

Reduce Heavy Hog Ceiling

The ceiling price of live hogs weighing over 240 pounds has been reduced by 75¢ per hundredweight, effective May 15, Office of Price Administration announces. The action was taken to discourage feeding of grain, especially corn, to heavyweight hogs and to encourage marketing of hogs before they reach 240 pounds.

MEAT POINTS WASTED BY SHRINKING ROAST WITH TOO HOT OVEN

Conventional high temperature oven cooking wastes meat. This has always been known but its importance has been recognized generally since the scarcity and rationing of meat.

Following is a chart which indicates the cooking time for various meats when roasting, uncovered, at 325 degrees.

	Minutes to Lb.
Beef (rare)	20-25
Beef (medium)	25-30
Beef (well)	30-35
Poultry	25-35
Veal	30-45
Lamb	30-40
Pork	35-50
Ham (fresh or smoked)
4 to 7 lbs.	40-50
8 lbs. or over	30-40
Stuffed fish	20

Cooking with low steady temperature will give you plump juicy roasts without charred bones or fat. Even though the cooking period may be slightly longer, less gas fuel is used because the oven is not turned on quite as high. This fuel saving is both economical and patriotic, particularly if you are using "bottled" or "tank" gas which serves those in suburban, small city and farm areas. This gas is now doing war work and you can help by conserving it.

Cotton Protection

Basically cotton, the new cold weather uniform developed by the Quartermaster Corps, Army Service force, is modeled by a soldier in the above Signal Corps picture. Embodying the "layering" principle, under which successive layers of clothing may be donned to suit the climate, the new uniform has as its basic fabric a nine-ounce cotton material known as "5-bar-ness" sateen. The design offers maximum protection against low temperatures and yet permits freedom of movement.

I Am An American Day, the day on which the United States will honor the 2,470,000 men and women who reached voting age and the 400,000 citizens of foreign origin who were naturalized in 1943, it was reported by the Office of War Information. Of the 400,000 newly naturalized citizens, 65,000 are in the armed forces and approximately 114,000 came from enemy or former enemy nations—75,000 Italians, 37,000 Germans and 2,000 Rumanians, Hungarians and Bulgarians. In 1943 and up to April 15, this year, 4,635 foreign-born members of the armed forces on overseas duty were naturalized.

Maritime Day, Next Monday

The major event of National Maritime Day, May 22, this year, will be the award of the first few hundred Mariner's Medals to the next of kin of merchant officers and seamen killed in action, the War Shipping Administration announces. Special services will be held in churches on Sunday, May 21, for the more than 5,000 merchant officers and seamen who have given their lives delivering war materials. Ceremonies stressing the purposes and accomplishments of the U. S. Merchant Marine will be held at shipyards and American Legion Posts.

Restrictions On Containers

Fruits and vegetables whose packing and shipping in new wooden containers are restricted after June 30 include cantaloupes and melons, carrots, cauliflower, celery, cucumbers, grapes (juice and table), lettuce and radishes, the War Food Administration reminds growers. When planning acreage, growers doing their own packing should make sure that their quota of new containers and supply of used containers are sufficient to take care of their expected production. Growers employing commercial packers should check to see that the packers have sufficient quotas of new or old containers to meet requirement.

Round-Up

OWI says that after two years of war, the buying power of individuals in the United States has reached the all-time high of $33,000,000,000 in the form of cash and checking accounts. Four thousand used track-laying tractors are needed for work on farms and in mines, forests and oil fields, WPB says. If sufficient supplies are not bought through Defense Supplies Corporation, WPB may have to use its requisitioning power. Release of an additional 12 million pound of dried prunes from the 1943 production to civilians has been authorized by WFA. Prices on cotton, jersey, and leather-palm work gloves have been increased, on the average, from one to six cents per pair above former ceiling prices, OPA announces.

Texas Cowboy Reunion To Be Large Event

STAMFORD—Indications at this early date are that the Texas Cowboy Reunion, to be held here July 3 and 4, will surpass any of the 13 annual affairs held in the past. Many inquiries from rodeo contestants, entrants in the Quarter Horse show, and other events are being received, according to W. G. Swenson, president.

The two-day celebration will open with a big down-town parade. Horseback riders, chuck wagons, and relics of the days of the wide-open range will unite with the effects of a nation at war to make this parade one of the highlights of the Reunion.

New officers of the Texas Cowboy Reunion Association will be elected at the annual meeting of this organization in the Will Rogers Memorial Bankhouse on Monday morning, July 3.

Old fiddlers and "fiddlin'" fans will gather in the Bankhouse on Tuesday morning, July 4, for their annual contest. The only requirement to enter this contest is that the contestant be not less than 50 years old.

Two full arena rodeo performances will be given each day. Each performance will open with a colorful Grand Entry Parade. Cowboy sponsors from West Texas towns and cities will add still more color to the rodeo shows when they compete for the prizes to be given the sponsors having the best mount, the most attractive riding outfit, and showing the best horsemanship.

Square dances in the Coombs Roundup hall will attract hundreds of folk dance fanciers, while the sponsor dances, held in the pavilion, will furnish entertainment for modern dancers.

The American Quarter Horse Show, which has grown in popularity each year, will again be one of the feature attractions. The cutting horse contest, a unique feature of the Texas Cowboy Reunion, is scheduled for a spotlight place in the show. This event is judged on the performance and ability of the horse and the performance and ability of the rider.

Skill In WACS Essential To Big Jobs In Service

The job of building and equipping a modern army, and of keeping it in running order and fighting trim, is not only a task of staggering proportions, but it is one that calls for the accurate performance of hundreds of specialized duties. They're things you might never think of, and that might seem small in comparison to the enormity of the entire war machine but they're vital cogs in that machine, nonetheless. They're jobs that have got to be done.

Women of the Women's Army Corps are now performing 239 of these special jobs, jobs for which their civilian training and experience fitted them, or for which the Army itself gave them the necessary training. The jobs are there, each one waiting for a woman who's willing to put country first, and to make this war her war.

A new WAC enlistment policy now makes it possible for a woman to enlist for a specific job, to choose the Army post within the limits of the Service Command where she enlists. Such assignments are, of course subject to the needs of the service.

Women who care about victory, and when we achieve it, now have a chance not only to show it, but to do something about it. "Women's place in war—the Women's Army Corps!"

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN — Scarlet fever, now nearly five times higher than the seven-year median in Texas, is one of the more disabling and dangerous diseases usually associated with childhood, although actually it is confined to no age limit, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

The Doctor described scarlet fever as an acute infectious disease, the onset of which is sudden. The first symptoms including sore throat, vomiting, fever, and headaches, may appear in three to five days after exposure. There are followed by the red rash which gives this disease its name, Dr. Cox explained.

Complications may cause prolonged disability or death. Children suffering with scarlet fever may develop sinusitis and middle-ear infections which can lead to mastoiditis. As the germs spread through the child's system, the joints, kidneys, and heart may become involved, causing lifelong invalidism or crippling.

"A child with any kind of a sore throat should be seen by the family physician promptly," Dr. Cox asserted. "If scarlet fever is present, the treatment recommended will do much to alleviate discomfort and reduce the possibility of serious complications."

Dr. Cox stated that children under ten years of age are most susceptible, and that those persons who fail to contact scarlet fever until grown, stand an excellent chance of never having the disease.

Mrs. Jim Grammar left last Tuesday after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Eiland, for several days. She joined her husband in Wichita Falls and they went on to Fort Benning, Ga., where he is in training.

Chas. Moorhouse of Benjamin was here Monday, visiting with friends and attending to business matters.

NEW UNIFORM FOR ARMY NURSES

Wearing one of the new cotton uniforms designed for nurses by the Quartermaster Corps, the nurse shown in this U. S. Army Signal Corps photograph gives first aid to a soldier in the field. Made of brown and white seersucker, the new uniform is a tailored slack suit featuring a shirt with long sleeves, a convertible collar that can be worn either buttoned or open, and a pleated yoke; and slacks with one side pocket and a slide fastener. The uniform is durable, easily laundered, requires no ironing. It permits greater freedom of movement, gives more protection against insects.

Army Nurses Give Aid To Our Wounded Men

An Army nurse must minister to the mind as well as to the body of a wounded soldier; she must help the handicapped regain their self-confidence and aid them in breaking the news of their injuries to loved ones at home.

Often, soldiers who have incurred crippling wounds fear most of all the task of writing of their injuries to their families. They dread being regarded as a handicap to mothers, wives or sweethearts.

Sometimes the Army nurse is the first woman they have talked to for months. The fact that the nurse—a woman—can joke and laugh with him restores the invalid soldier's faith in himself. He finds himself reasoning that if this woman accepts him as a normal human being, his family will show similar understanding.

Frequently, an Army nurse will help the wounded fighting man write that difficult letter to his folks; write it by lantern light on a packing case in a hospital tent, in the nurse's off-duty time.

In the field, an Army nurse must know how to pitch a tent, dig a trench, set up and tear down a canvas hospital in a matter of minutes. When a field hospital must be moved, the nurses swiftly pack medicines and surgical instruments in their proper cases so they can be transported conveniently and found again without the loss of a precious moment.

But there are not enough Army nurses. The Surgeon General has issued an appeal to registered nurses to apply for commissions in the Army Nurse Corps, with the relative rank of second lieutenant.

Club Meetings Held In May; 117 In Attendance

Two hundred and seventeen boys and girls attended the 4-H Club meetings held during May. Only five clubs were visited due to schools closing and the students were taking tests.

The girls were in charge of the meetings. R. O. Dunkle, county agent, gave a useful and instructive demonstration on Repairing Fences. The wire stretcher used was made from a forked mesquite tree with a notch cut in the end. This forked mesquite wire stretcher resembles a calf yoke. By using this type of wire stretcher one man can stretch the wire and drive the staples. Mr. Dunkle also showed the boys how to splice a broken wire.

Lucile King, county home demonstration agent, gave a demonstration on "Saving Victory Gardens From Insect Pests."

Miss King classified the bugs and insects into three classes. They are as follows: Biting Insects, Sucking Bugs and Sucking Insects. For the biting insects she stressed using Kryocide, for vines using rotenone for sucking bugs, using nicotine sulphate dust. These are all to be applied on the plants by means of a homemade duster. To make nicotine sulphate dust, take two quarts of hydrated lime and place in a gallon bucket to this add 4 teaspoon "Black Leaf 40" and put 4 or 5 small rocks in bucket. Place lid on bucket and shake well for five minutes.

For sucking insects use a nicotine sulphate spray. Nicotine sulphate spray is made by taking a gallon bucket and filling with luke warm water; dissolve a one inch cube of ivory soap in water. Add three tsp. of "Black Leaf 40" to the soap solution. Apply with a hand pump spray. You must hit the plant lice in order to kill them, therefore, it is necessary to spray the underside as well as the top side of the plants.

Miss Sue Parker of Midland visited her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Parker, over the week end.

Dist. Attorney Charlie Blount of Paducah was a business visitor here one day last week.
