County Near Total Of Bond Quotas

Congressman Ed Gossett announced this week several speaking dates over this section of his district. He will speak at Knox City next Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock, discussing present-day issues. Other speaking dates are as follows: Crowell—Wednesday. Quanah—Thursday. Vernon—Friday.

Bond Purchases Still Count On Quota

Total figures, though incomplete, the first of this week shows that Knox county went over the top in her Series E Bond purchases during the Fifth War Loan Drive, although she is 4 per cent short of the overall quota.

W. E. Braly wired C. R. Hendrix of Fort Worth, regional committee man, that our Series E sales totaled $203,065.25, and that the total for the county was $447,592.25.

Figures coming from the Fort Worth regional office showed the county 101 per cent over in Series E sales and 94 per cent of the overall quota reached.

Purchases of Series E, F, G, and C bonds between now and August 1 will count on the Fifth War Loan quota, and local committees are urging the county's citizens to reach this quota.

Mr. Hendrix wired the following reply to Mr. Braly's telegram: "By going over the top in your Series E quota in the Fifth War Loan Drive, you and your committee have done a grand job. The Fort Worth region and the state are proud of your accomplishment. I know the good citizens of your county will keep up the good work and also go over the top on your overall quota. Convey to all your committee our best wishes and deep appreciation, calling to their attention the importance of the overall quota."

Mr. Braly also expressed his deep appreciation to all committee members and to every citizen of the county for their efforts in reaching the quota. He expressed confidence that bond purchases during the remainder of this month will bring our total above the overall quota.

Special thanks were extended to S.-Sgt. George Michael and Cpl. James B. Capps, patients in the McCloskey General Hospital at Temple, who worked with county committees in the drive. These men, each of whom had seen foreign service and had been wounded in action, visited every community of the county and told of their experiences, as well as of the importance of our bond purchases. They did an excellent work, and are very members of the committee is appreciative of their efforts.

P. C. A. Office Is Moving Into New Quarters

The local Production Credit Association has completed a deal with the Broach Estate for a long-time lease on the building joining the Tiner Drug Store on the west. Work is expected to be completed this week. The building has been entirely remodeled to suit the needs of the association. The association has been occupying the office just south of the Times office for several years, but due to the growth of the organization new quarters have become necessary. Mr. C. R. Elliott, local manager, announce that new office furniture will be installed in the building throughout, and that when completed the office will be modern and up-to-date in every way.

History of Association Has Been One of Steady Growth

The association was organized in Haskell in 1934 with nine directors, of which two were Knox county men, W. E. McNeill, Munday and C. C. Browning of Truscott. It was set up as a farmers co-operative to insure that farmers and ranchmen would get the kind of credit service most suited to their needs.

It was soon found that the territory served by the Haskell Association would not justify an economical operation, so the association was merged with the Spur association and in August 1934 both organizations were moved to Stamford because of the mail facilities and named the "Stamford Production Credit Association."

Since that date the association has enjoyed a steady and substantial growth, having built up a capital structure of over $255,000.00 all owned by nearly 1,400 farmers and ranchers in the eight counties comprising the association's district. Loans outstanding at this time are over $1,300,000. The association has lent over $13,000,000 during its time and total losses have been less than $50.00.

Farmers and ranchmen served by the Munday office now own capital stock totaling over $28,000 and loans outstanding total over $181,000.

The Munday office was established in October 1940 and the management was placed in the hands of C. R. Elliott. Two former clerks are now serving with Uncle Sam's forces, they are Clint Helms and Glendon Matthews. Miss Evelyn McGraw is now assistant to Mr. Elliott. Local membership consists of over 250 farmers and ranchmen living in Knox county and the surrounding trade territory.

Officers of the association are J. B. Pumphrey, Old Glory, president; J. F. McCulloch, Stamford, vice president; J. L. Hill, Jr., secretary-treasurer; Paul L. Summers, assistant secretary-treasurer. The directors are C. G. Burson, Haskell; Clark Forbis, Afton; Lasater Hensley, Guthrie, and Pumphrey and McCulloch.

He is survived by his mother; two brothers, Wesley Sanderson, Fort Worth, and Pvt. Eugene Sanderson of Camp Hood, Texas.

Jesse was a former resident of the Hefner community, attending school there for a number of years.

MEDICINE LOOKS AHEAD

The high type of thinking that dominates the ranks of the medical profession is glowingly illustrated in the remarks of Dr. Thompson Cobern, president of the Oregon State Medical Society, inaugurating the new publication, The Oregon Physician. He warned that "public discussion of medical practice has risen to torrential force."

"Woven through every editorial, lay or medical, every statement by congressmen, every newspaper account, every letter home from a doctor in service, is the question as to whether or not there is to be socialization of medicine. It is limited to no one area, or class, or interested group; it is talked of everywhere, by everyone."

"This puts behind us forever the time when we can even think about how pleasant it might be to keep things as they were. There are going to be tremendous changes. And if we as physicians have love for the greatness of our profession and pride in its dignity, we shall take the leadership in those changes...."

"It is easy to forget that the public knows nothing of us except as it encounters us in illness. It never sees the years of grinding research, the fatigue of conscientious physicians, the struggles of medical societies with economic problems. It knows only that we can now provide technical aids beyond the quick command of the modest purse. It is conscious only that it needs a way to participate in all these benefits and a way to spread the cost over time and population...."

Oregon Physicians' Service, initially financed by the Oregon State Medical Association, is working to expand prepaid medical and hospital programs. It is setting a practical example of how to extend the benefits of medical service.

THE END OF THE ROAD

The U. S. News, after analyzing the effect of current tax laws on business, concludes that "neither individuals nor corporations can be expected to risk money, increase production and provide jobs until tax rates are lowered. The rewards, in general, are too small for the chances to be taken." It adds, however, that "any plan to reduce taxes bumps up against the hard fact that the Treasury must have revenue—and vast amounts of it—to pay interest on the national debt, to care for veterans, to maintain an army and navy, and, finally, to operate the regular government departments."

For years the trend has been toward higher and higher taxes against productive enterprise. The war has hastened the trend until at last the end of the road has been reached. It is useless to cry for higher taxes against industry. The money isn't there.

From now on the bills of the Federal government will be paid by a majority of the people instead of a minority. And that goes for the debt too. Whenever a politician announces that the government is going to do this or that for the people, he really means that government is going to tax the people to do it. The government is not Santa Claus, it is merely the tax collector, and the people are beginning to realize it.

WHAT IS AMERICAN INDUSTRY?

Following the first bomb attack on Japan by the huge new Superfortresses, General Arnold declared: "The use of the B-29 Superfortress in combat brings actuality to an air forces' plan made years in advance for truly global warfare. It proves that our planners and engineers, coupled with the capacity of American industry, are an unbeatable combination."

What is "American Industry?" Do Superfortresses pour out of super factories at the direction of a few officials in Washington with super brains? No! The Superfortresses are momentary manifestations of the imagination and productive genius of free men—momentary because where men are free their work is an endless series of miracles. Thus the Model T was yesterday's miracle, just as the Superfortress is today's miracle, while tomorrow's miracles are but dreams locked in the minds of unknown individuals.

This is American industry, free industry. If industry in this country ever ceases to be free, it will no longer be truly American. And it will no longer produce miracles from the dreams of individuals. People should be wary of elaborate plans to strengthen the grip of government ownership and control of basic industries such as electric power, oil, mining, and other resources which are the foundation of all American industry.

If government ownership is accepted as the solution of postwar problems, free industry—American industry—will go out, and individual freedom will eventually go with it.

THE PINCH HITTER

The war is making millions of people aware of relative values. Products and services, more than money, gain in importance.

Recently a man with a pocketful of money wanted to go from Portland, Oregon, to Salt Lake City to see his son in the Army, who was being shipped overseas. All means of transportation were swamped. But, as usual, the railroad squeezed on one more passenger.

In addition to handling its regular business, the railroad is always supposed to, and always does absorb excess traffic which turns to it like a drowning man grasps at a lifeboat. The people take it for granted that the railroads can absorb whatever burdens are thrown on them, including war, and their record in not disappointing the public has been outstanding.

People are prone to forget the most essential things in life until their relative importance is dramatically brought to their attention. The old locomotive whistle is something we all take for granted. When other means of transportation are blocked, we expect to be able to "take a train" to any desired point, just as we expect to take our next breath.

The man who wanted to see his son in Salt Lake found that being able to take a train meant more to him than money, for the money alone could not get him there.

Our daily lives depend on products and services which are the least obvious and sensational. And among these, the American railroad system is outstanding. Never has this been demonstrated so graphically to millions of travelers and shippers as during this war. Without the railroads, we would all have been sunk—figuratively and literally. For without our railroads, our ships would be idle.

LABOR'S TURN NOW

A few years ago when industrial empires were crumbling in the depression, the ears of management rang with the accusations of extremists who charged in effect that every corporation was out to mulct the public. The sensible retort that the misdeeds of a few promoters did not warrant general condemnation of industry, fell on deaf ears. Punitive laws and tax measures were enacted that still handicap many businesses.

The stupidity of a generalized attack on any segment of American life is again emphasized in the recent complaint of a labor spokesman who cried: "We have seen American newspapers, as a class, build prejudice against labor unions, not by seeking out and dealing with the real sins in some of them, but by treating the one-quarter of one per cent of time lost through wildcat strikes as if these microscopic work stoppages represented general sabotage of the war effort."

Generalized attacks on labor are wrong—but then so are generalized attacks against industry, to say nothing of attacking the press as a prejudiced class. Labor is now getting a dose of the same bitter medicine that it helped dish out.

OIL FACTS AND THEORIES

An American writer and authority on the Middle East recently remarked that: "Whether one likes or dislikes free enterprise and private capital, one must honestly admit that the American oil industry was efficient enough and alive enough to discover, produce, and develop oil reserves in America and throughout the world, to provide an oil arsenal for two world wars."

American oil men know more about oil than any other group in the world. The record proves that. Government restrictions which discourage or prohibit the normal operation and growth of the oil industry as an independent, free enterprise, will threaten the future of the United States far more seriously than theoretical shortages of oil reserves.

Gems Of Thought

FALSE PRIDE

I have been more and more convinced, the more I think of it, that, in general, pride is at the bottom of all great mistakes.—Ruskin.

A man should never be ashamed to own he has been in the wrong, which is but saying in other words that he is wiser today than he was yesterday.—Pope.

Vanity is the mother, and affectation is the darling daughter; vanity is the sin, and affectation is the punishment; the first may be called the root of self-love, the other the fruit.—Lord Halifax.

What doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?—Micah 6:8.

Pride either finds a desert or makes one; submission cannot tame its ferocity, nor satiety fill its voracity, and it requires very costly food—its keeper's happiness.—Cotton.

The pride of circumstance or power is the prince of this world that has nothing in Christ. All power and happiness are spiritual, and proceed from goodness.—Mary Baker Eddy.

PLANT SUMMER GRAIN FOR LATE FORAGE CROP

College Station — Planting of summer grain crops to provide late forage is very necessary this year, says E. A. Miller, agronomist for the A. and M. College Extension Service. Seeding may be done at once on any available land, including areas where spring crops were retarded or damaged by excess moisture. There is a good chance, too, to plant forage crops after harvesting of others which matured. Grain sorghums, for example mature in about three months.

Miller says that this type of forage may be planted up to August 15, or even as late as September 1 in the central and southern parts of Texas, with an excellent prospect of reaping a satisfactory yield. It requires very costly machinery, however, the deadline for planting is about August 1, but in emergency, seeding up to Aug. 15 would have an excellent chance of making a crop.

Although natural conditions were favorable to record production of most grain crops this year, Miller says there will be a pressing need next winter for all of the forage and roughages which Texas farmers can produce. Animal numbers still are abnormally high and demand for feed both roughages and concentrates, likely will keep pace with that of last year. Unfortunately, he explains, all of the feed grains grown in the state cannot be channeled to the feed lots. There is a brisk commercial demand for grain sorghums and the largest production possible is the only means of relieving the bottleneck.

Cutting the productivity of grain sorghums, Miller says that private reports indicate that about 10,000,000 bushels of the early crop will be produced in several counties in the Corpus Christi area, the largest on record. Yields at harvesting ranged from one to two tons an acre.

The overall outlook for production of feed grains in Texas this year is phenomenal. Miller quotes the U. S. Department of Agriculture June crop report as estimating the oats yield at 45,400,000 bushels, or more than 100 per cent in excess of last year, and barley at 7,293,000 bushels, also more than 100 per cent larger than the 1943 crop. The 1944 yields of both grains are substantially more than the 1933-1942 10-year average.

Nearly 2,000 University of Texas students took applied mathematics during the past year, Prof. C. M. Cleveland reports. While enrollment in the whole University was only about half the size of pre-war student bodies, the applied mathematics department has continued to train students at the rate of about 90 per cent of pre-war numbers.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

POP HANEY FINDS TOO MANY ALPHABETICAL NAMES

My Dear Editor, or should I say Editors?

Your 39th birthday came last week and found me deeply interested in your cause. I have often thought you should have a more up-to-date name than editors, as I have heard that all my life. So I got to thinking of a name that the abbreviation would not encroach on the government. I found the name International Brains of America, I. N. B. O. A.

Then I got to investigating to see if I was infringing on anyone. I found this:

- F. W. A. — Federal Works Agency.
- N. R. A. — National Recovery Act.
- N. I. R. A. — National Industrial Recovery Act.
- U. S. M. C. — United States Maritime Commission.
- H. O. L. C. — Home Owners Loan Corporation.
- C. C. C. — Civilian Conservation Corps.
- N. Y. A. — National Youth Administration.
- S. S. B. — Social Security Board.
- H. W. C. — Board of War Communication.
- F. D. I. C. — Federal Depositors' Insurance Corp.
- F. S. A. — Federal Security Administration.
- N. A. C. — National Archives Council.
- N. L. R. B. — National Labor Relations Board.
- N. M. B. — National Mediations Board.
- U. S. H. A. — United Housing Authority.
- F. I. C. — Federal Insurance Corporation.
- C. W. A. — Civil War Administration.
- F. S. A. — Farm Security Administration.
- A. M. A. — American Marketing Association.
- S. C. S. — Soil Conservation Service.
- F. R. E. B. — Federal Real Estate Board.
- W. P. A. — Works Progress Administration, which died at midnight this June 30 with no ceremony, after spending $10,136,743,293.00 to provide employment for 8,500,000 persons.

I quit, seeing I would be infringing on the government. Thought if you were 39 years old and could not look after yourself, I'd not be bothering my pumpkin head with you.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN — Few conquests of science have been as spectacular and complete as those relating to diphtheria. Science has firmly established the value of serum treatment in both its preventive and curative phases. However, toxin-antitoxin, or its successor toxoid for immunization and antitoxin for cure, are sera of which the general public is even yet not fully aware.

According to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, toxoid is the immunizing or preventive agent now usually employed. However, three or four months are required for the body to develop immunity. At that time the Schick test can be applied to determine the results of the preventive treatment.

Dr. Cox urges that children receive diphtheria immunization as early as possible, preferably as soon as they are six months old. The necessity for this immunization is apparent when it is realized that two-thirds of all deaths from diphtheria occur in the age group under six years.

"It cannot be too strongly emphasized that to deprive children of this protection which science has made possible is to subject them to unwarranted and unnecessary hazards that can easily turn into a tragedy," Dr. Cox said. "Parental interest in immunization must be more widespread if the Texas death rate from this disease is to be eliminated as a cause of death."

"When a child has been stricken with diphtheria, antitoxin is the only treatment that will save his life. Also, to be effective, it must be given early in the illness and in large doses. Delay is usually caused by parents failing to realize that any sore throat may actually be diphtheria. It is always safer to immunize against the disease than to risk curing it."

Milburn S. Long Seeks Support Of Knox Voters

To the People of the Eleventh Supreme Judicial District of Texas:

In these times when there is so much sorrow and sadness in your hearts I hesitate to ask for your consideration as a candidate for Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals but under our system of government you have the right to select your officers.

This office which I seek is an important one. It has to do with the proper administration of the laws of the land.

I was born on Paluzy Creek in Hood County, Texas, October 23, 1893. While teaching school and working on the farms and ranches in Shackelford County, I studied law at night and in the law offices and passed the Bar examination in 1916. The people of Shackelford County elected me, without opposition, as their County Attorney, and I was thereafter elected three times District Attorney, of the 42nd Judicial District, composed of Callahan, Shackelford and Taylor counties, going from that office, by appointment, to District Judge of that District, which position I now hold and have held continuously for the past seventeen years.

In my law practice and during the time I have been District Judge I have tried many important law suits and I feel that my long experience as a lawyer and trial judge qualifies me for a place on the Court of Civil Appeals.

To you who do not know me, I refer you to any practicing lawyer in the 42nd Judicial District and in the neighboring counties where I have held Court and to the people who know me for my standing as a citizen.

If you feel that my services merit a promotion I sincerely solicit your vote and influence in the coming Democratic primary and regardless of the outcome of the election I will be forever grateful for the many fine friends that I have throughout the District.

Sincerely yours,
MILBURN S. LONG,
Candidate for Associate Justice
Court of Civil Appeals, Eleventh
Supreme Judicial District of Texas.

Mrs. Sybil Straw And Morgan Allen Marry July 2nd

Announcement was made this week of the marriage of Mrs. Sybil Straw and Morgan Allen, the wedding ceremony being performed on Sunday, July 2.

Mrs. Allen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Proffitt of Monday.

Mr. Allen is in the armed forces and is stationed at Camp Polk, La., and the couple will make their home in Leesville, La., for the time being.

County Kitchens Become Tin Mines For Wartime Items

Women of Knox county can "mine" tin sufficient for 326 1-2 ton Army trucks this year.

These figures were compiled by J. A. Stewart, vice-president of the American Can Company, on the basis of canned foods consumed by civilians in the county during 1943. On the basis of last year's consumption, civilians will open approximately 817,294 cans of food this year, he said. According to a table recently issued by Washington, 2,500 cans provide tin sufficient for one 1-2 ton Army truck.

Meanwhile, the armed forces consumed approximately three billion cans of food during 1943 and needs for the current year are expected to rise to three and a quarter billion cans, Mr. Stewart said. He pointed out that with a greatly increased number of the armed forces in overseas duty, more canned foods will be needed because the can has proved the most practical container for the shipment of foods abroad.

HOWARD A. LAYNE IN ACTIVE SEA DUTY

Howard A. Layne, petty officer first class, is now seeing active sea duty, after being stationed at the Corpus Christi naval base for almost three years. He was transferred last fall to San Diego, Calif., where he attended a chief commissary steward's school, graduating there on January 28 and being classed as fourth man in a class of 185 men.

From there he went to Norfolk, Va., for further training and assignment to a ship's crew. He is now acting as chief commissary steward on a landing ship's force somewhere off the east coast.

Save Your Seed For Next Season's Victory Garden

Saving seed for planting next year is a definite part of a gardening program. But as many 1944 Victory gardeners have had no experience, Lucile King, county home demonstration agent for the A. and M. College Extension Service, suggests practical ways for salvaging a supply of seed for use next spring.

Plants classed as annuals are the most desirable for seed. These include corn, okra, green beans, squash, pumpkin, cushaw, cucumber, tomato, pepper, lettuce, mustard, spinach, eggplant, cantaloupe, watermelon, English peas, field peas, and radishes. Specimens chosen should be selected well in advance of maturity and marked for identity. For the highest qual-

A salesman may tell you a "quality story" about the merchandise he's selling but if you're like most Americans you'll think to yourself "who says so?" and look for a label or trademark in which you have confidence. For example, the Stetson name inside a hat is your "bill of rights" as a customer. It guarantees to you:

THE RIGHT of freedom of choice... the right to buy a known quality... a line with the reputation and traditions of a house you have learned over the years to trust. No pig-in-a-poke merchandise can ever mean the same to American men as an old and reliable trademark.

CURLEE CLOTHES

For That Well Groomed Appearance, Wear A Curlee Suit!

MEN who wear Curlee Suits, you will notice, never get that wilted soggy look which is so often seen on summer days when the mercury soars. The man in the Curlee Suit, in fact, always seems to have that neat and well groomed appearance which is so greatly to be desired.

There is a reason for this. First of all, Curlee summer weight worsteds are just about the lightest of all hot weather fabrics. They have an open, porous weave which lets the air circulate through to your body. But, because the pure wool fibers of these materials are tough and resilient enough to tailor well, Curlee Summer Suits have the stamina and backbone to stand up under hard hot weather wear.

Curlee Summer Suits represent the last word in smart masculine styling, too, so that it is no wonder more and more men wear them to solve the summer wardrobe problem. We are featuring Curlee Suits in a complete selection of models, styles and sizes. Come in and see them.

Munday Boy In Battle; Asks Prayers Of Local People

Following is a portion of a letter from Pvt. Eulice E. Booe, who is taking part in the invasion, written to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Booe on June 30. It reveals the spirit of our boys on the battle fronts:

Dear Folks:
How does this leave you all? Fine I hope. I am o. k. As you probably already know, I have been in combat. I have been in Cherbourg. The Germans are cowards when you get in close on them. My company took a lot of prisoners. There is something in this old war besides guns and bullets. Almighty God is with us boys over here. I know because some of us wouldn't have been here today if

Former Munday Boy Is Prisoner Of Japanese

The following article, taken from the Rising Star Record, concerns Wesley T. Henderson, a former Knox county boy, who is now a prisoner of the Japanese:

In town Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Henderson of the Amity community, a few miles southeast of town, were quite happy over a cablegram received from Washington in which they were informed by their son, Wesley T. Henderson, a Jap prisoner since the fall of Corregidor, that he is well and able to work and that he hoped to be with them again soon.

It is known that a plan is on foot for another exchange of prisoners with the Japanese and Mr. and Mrs. Henderson hope that their son will be among the number sent home.

The cablegram is as follows:

"Washington, June 21, 1944.
"Mrs. Walter Henderson:
"The following unofficial short-wave broadcast from Japan has been intercepted:
"Dear Mother:
"Much water has flown under the bridge since I last attempted to send some sort of communication to you, but it is my hope that there will not be so much more until we will be on our way home. I received the package you sent me last August, along with three letters that were also mailed in August. As far as my health is concerned I am still well and able to work and hope to be able to continue to do so.

Charlie Blount Asks Return As Dist. Attorney

At the time of his announcement for re-election, Charlie Blount of Paducah, district attorney, said he would make a formal statement to the voters later. Mr. Blount submits the following as his statement:

TO THE VOTERS OF KNOX COUNTY:

I wish that I could come and see each of you personally, thank you for the overwhelming vote you gave me when elected, a majority of more than two to one, and again ask you for your vote and support. However, since gasoline and tires are needed in a campaign so much more important than mine I am not going to try to do that. Even though gasoline is available to candidates, the little amount used in a campaign might mean that some bomber, with its precious crew, might not quite get back.

When elected your district attorney I promised you and the people of this district that I would do all within my power to justify your confidence, and to show my appreciation by making you the best district attorney that I could. I have tried to do that and am very proud of my record in Knox county, thirty-five convictions, one hung jury and no acquittals. Friends, I fully realize that without your help, as the kind of citizens you are, as witnesses and jurors such a record would not have been possible. I have administered the duties of the office without fear or favor to any person, without undue expense, and without unnecessary delay or continuances of trials.

Before first asking you for the office of district attorney, in addition to private practice, I had served five years as county attorney of my home county. With the additional experience I have had as your district attorney I feel that I am qualified to render you even better service.

I know that most of you have some of those nearest and dearest to you now on foreign lands, that your first thought is to have them back with you again. Also, I know that you are interested in whom you elect as officials and the kind of representation you have when they return. I have no apologies to offer for not being in the service today. I wish I could be there and were it not for my physical condition I would be there. Your county attorney, Joe Reeder, is now somewhere in England or on the beaches of Normandy. I have known Joe several years, know that he is a brilliant young man, qualified and deserving in every respect, and that he hopes sometime to serve you as district attorney. I wish to assure you that when he does return and asks his friends and my friends to elect him to the office I will not be a candidate against him.

Friends, if you think I've kept the pledge made you when elected, made the kind of district attorney you want, then I ask your support in this race and will appreciate it from the bottom of my heart.

Gratefully yours,

CHARLIE BLOUNT,
Candidate for re-election, District Attorney.

"Uncle Happy" Hathaway Honored By Crowd At Lueders Encampment

BY JOE W. BURTON

LUEDERS, July 1.—Baptists of central west Texas Thursday honored their oldest member attending Lueders Encampment—A. U. Hathaway, of Munday, known to children and older people all over this section as Uncle Happy.

Introduced as "the best Sunbeam leader in Texas," the 88-year-old church worker told encampment visitors that the secret of his Christian life was his belief in the Bible.

"I believe that Bible so strong," the white haired veteran said as he leaned on the pulpit stand, "that I know that every word and promise is so."

A familiar figure in Baptist gatherings in West Texas for a generation, Uncle Hap, as thousands call him, said that he was definitely called as a young man to work with children. He has been a Sunday School teacher for 79 years, a deacon for 56, a Christian for 79 years, and a Sunbeam leader for 54.

In introducing him to the audience, the Rev. P. D. O'Brien said, "Give Uncle Hap two jelly beans and fifteen minutes and he can take any baby away from his own mother."

"A few weeks ago when passing through a West Texas town, Uncle Happy related that he stopped at a public school where he was a perfect stranger. In a few minutes eight children made profession of faith in Christ in the school room and six of the eight later united with the church.

The fishing exploits of Uncle Happy are almost as well known as his Bible stories for children. Fishing has been his hobby all of his life, he says. Clear Fork has been one of his favorite spots for 26 years, but fishing this year, he says, is very poor.

Asked how often he goes fishing during encampment week he replied, "Twice a day. In the morning and in the afternoon."

The 88-year-old fisherman climbs up and down the creek banks like one many years younger.

Uncle Happy does not eat the fish he catches. "I don't care much for fish," he said. "I clean them good and give them away."

He was present when the site for Lueders encampment was selected. He admits that one reason he favored the location was the good fishing it afforded.

At 16 Uncle Happy was given his first Sunday School class. Two years later he organized a Sunday school in a community where there were "no preachers, no Bibles, no schools."

"When I was a boy in Arkansas living on rabbits," he related, "there was a period of four years when I didn't hear a sermon. We had no churches and no schools, but I had a mother who believed in that old Book. Every night she brought us around her knees to talk to God."

"When she was on her deathbed and had no more than an hour to live, she called me to her bed. She prayed that I would give my heart to God. I did so as she prayed, and I felt then the evidence that the devil and all his angels have never caused me to doubt."

On the camp grounds Uncle Happy calls the youngsters around him to tell them his own arrangement of Bible stories which he has been using for 70 years. "I never copied a story from anyone," he said. "I worked them out myself from the Bible characters."

Frequently he calls a child aside, perhaps to his cabin on the grounds to give him a "Guide to Bible Beauties" or a New Testament. He has given away in recent weeks some six dozen New Testaments.

The name which has stuck with him for more than half a century was first given to the genial story teller by one of his first Sunbeamers. A five-year-old, meeting him on the street, called out, "Hello, Uncle Hap!" The name has been with him ever since.

To fulfill his mission with children, Uncle Happy a half century ago had to join the Ladies Aid Society. "I was the only man in the state in a Ladies Aid Society," he said with a twinkle in his eyes, "but I had to have a Sunbeam Band where I could tell boys and girls Bible stories."

Two years ago at Munday Uncle Happy thought that his time had come. He was sick of pneumonia for weeks. But his time had not come. When he got up from his bed, he resigned his Sunbeam Band, but the church has not yet found a successor. He still fills the position which he has filled for over 50 years.

Baptists at Lueders agreed with Dick O'Brien that Uncle Hap is one of the distinctive Baptist institutions of West Texas.—Abilene Reporter News.

HAVE YOU A TRUE PICTURE OF YOUR ELECTRIC BILL?

MANY folks don't. They're as far from the real facts as this photo in an amusement park mirror!

Proof? In a nation-wide survey, 42% of the people sharply overestimated the amount of their last electric bill. 59% didn't realize that rates had been reduced in the last fifteen years—and 95% didn't realize how much!

Actually, the average American family gets about twice as much electricity today as it did fifteen years ago for the same money.

"For the same money." That's the clue. You don't realize that rates are down, because your bill may be as much as it was fifteen years ago—or perhaps even more. But you have more electric appliances now. You're using more electricity—and you get about twice as much for what you pay.

An Open Letter To Our Customers

There sometimes comes times when we should get our heads together and talk our problems over. Problems that has to do with our mutual aims and objectives.

TRACTORS and tractor-operated machines may be scarcer than for the last year. While we have not received our quota yet, indications are that this will be true.

Mechanics we know are fewer than they were a year ago. The ones who are left may be able to do the job, if everyone will try to cooperate. Here's how you can do it. Don't let them have an idle summer and early fall and everyone hit them at the same time, late in the Fall. Lets get those old tractors ready to do another year's work. Help us to help you, by giving us your parts requirements early.

OUR STOCK ORDER OF ROW BINDER PARTS ARE HERE NOW. That is we have a small quantity of a variety of parts. The first come will get everything they need, while the late comers will find that variety depleted and may have to wait.

NEW MACHINES OUT OF NATIONAL RESERVE. We were able to get the following machines out of the National Reserve. One Power Hay Press, Two Seeding attachments for 4ft. One-Way Plow, Two Seeding Attachments for 6 ft. One-Way Plow. One Two Bottom and One Three Bottom Plow.

BINDER TWINE. We still have a small quantity of genuine International Sisal Twine. This is last year's twine and is the last that we will get of this quality. Anything else that we get will be War Twine and considerably higher. First come First Served.

Come in and let us know your problems. We might be able to help you solve some of them.

Black Marketeers Sent to Jail

In the first five months of 1944, the Office of Price Administration Enforcement Program against the gasoline black market sent 28 car owners to jail, convicted 159 car owners of buying gasoline with counterfeit or stolen coupons or without coupons, took away rations from 775 car owners, suspended gasoline selling rights of 1,538 filling stations, put 156 filling stations out of business and gave jail sentences to 236 counterfeiters, peddlers and gasoline dealers.

Former Farmer Saves The Day

A former Illinois farmer, a Sergeant, solved a transportation problem for his Marine buddies on Saipan, the Navy Department reports. It was impossible to haul much-needed ammunition up the rugged, steep hills by trucks and carry the wounded back. As the Sergeant suggested, a detail of Marines, who as civilians had handled live stock, were sent out to catch stray oxen. Within two hours they had a regular service into the hills using hand-made native two-wheel carts drawn by the oxen. "The only trouble so far has been the oxen don't understand our language," the Sergeant said. "I'll bet they only understand those pesky Nips."

Free Maternity And Infant Care

Service men's wives eligible for emergency maternity care are urged to apply at the beginning of pregnancy so that their health and that of the child can be better safeguarded, Katherine E. Lenroot, Chief of the Children's Bureau, Department of Labor, says. Medical, nursing and hospital care for the service man's wife are provided during pregnancy, childbirth and for six months after child-birth, and for the infant throughout its first year, all without cost to the service man or his family. Application blanks for this care may be obtained from a physician, the local Red Cross or local Health Department.

Some Prices Up, Some Down

Cabbage, dry onions and sweet cherries for table use will be up slightly in retail price while pickles and all melons except watermelons will be somewhat lower at retail as a result of recent Office of Price Administration actions.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Judge, I've had a lot of calls for that book you took out last week... 'Tell the Boys Back Home'. How did you like it?"

"Fine, Sarah, fine... it's just the kind of book I like to get hold of... I enjoyed every word of it. Wish I could have been along with the author myself... actually living with the men right on the fighting fronts. He got mighty close to them and they certainly opened up their minds and their hearts to him."

"There were lots of new things in the book I hadn't seen in any other reports from front-line writers. But there was one question the men asked the author that I have seen time and time again in these stories. That was 'Are you going to put prohibition over on us soldiers again... and without getting our vote?'"

"I noticed that, too, Judge, and I think the least we can do for those fighting men who are doing so much for us is to respect their wishes on that subject."

Auction Sale Boosts Total of Series E Bonds

A highlight of the Fifth War Loan Drive in Munday was the auction sale held on the city hall lawn last Saturday afternoon at five o'clock.

Sgt. George Michael of Pennsylvania and Cpl. James B. Capps of Alabama, who have been working with committeemen in the county drive; appeared again and told of how they were wounded in action—Sgt. Michael in a bombing mission over Germany, and Cpl. Capps in the Aleutian Islands. Sgt. Michael also assisted in auctioning the merchandise.

Various articles were contributed, articles of merchandise which were given free to the highest bidder in war bonds. An alarm clock brought $1,000 in bonds, a rifle with 15 shells sold to Omer Reid for $1,350 in bonds. Other articles included shot gun shells, a Stetson hat, a blanket, motor oil, garden hose, and many other articles.

More than usual interest, from the very first service, is being shown in the revival meeting now in progress at the First Methodist church.

Crowds for Tuesday's services almost doubled that of preceding services, and interest in the meeting continues to grow as the revival progresses. Local people are enthusiastic about the good gospel messages brought by the evangelist, Rev. H. H. Hollowell of Spar. Having been here two years ago, Munday citizens needed no introduction to this young pastor, and they knew in advance that his messages would be uplifting and filled with earnestness and enthusiasm.

Rev. Alby Cockrell of Weibert is creating much interest in the song service. He is an able leader, and he brings special messages in song at almost every service.

Both morning and evening services are being held, the evening hour being an open-air service. Prayer groups are meeting each evening some 15 minutes prior to the regular service, and these prayer meetings are also increasing in attendance.

A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend the services. The meeting will continue through Sunday, July 23.

James A. Hill, Jr., P. H. M. 3-C in the navy, has returned to Santa Ana, Calif., after spending a 15-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hill.

Mrs. Ralph Scott of Throckmorton visited with friends here last Sunday. She reported that "Scotty" is in the Marshall Islands.

Charles H. Sharp, seaman cook third class in the navy, has gone to Cleveland, Ohio, after spending a week here with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hill and family.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Northcutt and daughter, Mrs. Salter and daughter and Mrs. Mary Lawson, all of Dallas, came in last week for several days visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lawson.

TO THE VOTERS OF KNOX COUNTY:

Owing to war conditions I have been unable to see many of the voters of the county. To those whom I have not seen, I will appreciate your support. If you elect me to this office I will be happy. If I am defeated at your hands, I shall not complain.

Sincerely yours,
N. S. KILGORE.

Pvt. and Mrs. Hugh Beaty of Sheppard Field visited with relatives and friends here last Sunday.

To the Voters of the 50th Judicial District

In my campaign for the office of District Attorney, I have endeavored to see as many of you as I could with the least amount of driving. Our Government tells us not to waste a drop of gasoline and I have therefore limited the driving of my car to those trips that seemed necessary. There is a large number of you that I have not seen and perhaps will not be able to see before the election, and I want you to consider this as a personal message and a solicitation of your support, as though I had talked with you personally.

I have conducted my campaign on a high plane, free from individualities, and in the belief that my long years of experience in the Courts of this District has fully qualified me for the office of District Attorney. And if I am elected, I assure you that I will administer the duties of that office efficiently, fearlessly and impartially, and in fairness and justice to all.

Thos. F. Glover

Candidate for District Attorney, 50th Judicial District

As stated elsewhere in this issue, we have purchased the Palace Market from Mr. Elliott. By combining the two we will have one of the best, most up-to-date markets in this part of the county, and we will be in position to give the trade good service at all times as Mr. Mabry, Joseph Borden and myself are experienced operators. We will feature Home Killed meats whenever possible. Quality is our motto.

We invite all of the customers of the Palace Market to give us a trial. We are going to try awfully hard to please everyone.
