240 Boys, Girls Attend 4-H Club Encampment

Two hundred and forty 4-H Club boys and girls of Baylor and Knox counties attended the 4-H Club encampment held at Seymour Park on Friday and Saturday, July 21 and 22.

Registration began at 4 o'clock and continued on through eight o'clock.

Swimming was the greatest diversion of the evening. Each boy and girl had to have a partner before they were allowed to swim. When the whistle blew each person was to find his or her partner. In this way one could check to see if all were safe. The boys swam for an hour then the girls swam for an hour. Pictures were made of the groups swimming.

A picnic lunch was served at 7:30 that was enjoyed by all. After supper everyone went up to the tennis courts. The group entered in a sing song led by Helen Willard, home demonstration agent of Baylor county, and R. O. Dunkle, county agent of Knox county. After the group singing a number of games were played. The games were directed by Lucile King, home demonstration agent of Knox county, R. O. Dunkle, county agent of Knox county, and O. K. Hyle, county agent of Baylor county. After the games a picture show was shown. It was entitled "A Target for Tonight."

Soon everyone was off to bed to be driven out by a shower at 1:30 A. M.

The program on Saturday was opened by the boys swimming and then the girls swimming. Breakfast was served from 7:00 through 9:30 A. M.

At ten o'clock Jo Edd Sweatt and Charles Hardin of Sunset Club, Knox county, gave a demonstration to the group on Grain Sorghums. The group enjoyed another swim and then the grounds were policed. Lunch was served at 1:00 P. M. and camp broke at two.

Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves despite the shower that drove them from their beds at 1:30 A. M.

Revival At Baptist Church Begins Sunday

Rev. W. H. Albertson, pastor, announced Tuesday that the annual revival meeting will begin next Sunday at the First Baptist church in Munday.

The first week, Monday through Friday, the morning hours will be devoted to the vacation bible school, the pastor said. Meetings will be each morning from 8 to 10:30, and all children from 4 to 17 years of age are invited to attend.

During the first week of the meeting, Rev. Albertson will do the preaching at the evening hour.

During the second week, Rev. Fred Porter, pastor of the Lamar Street Baptist church of Sweetwater, will preach. Hours of services are 10 a. m. and 8:45 p. m. Rev. Porter comes highly recommended as a pastor and evangelist, and Munday people will want to hear him.

Rev. Jess Swindell, pastor at Benjamin and Bomarton, will be here throughout the two weeks to lead the singing and work with young people.

A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend each and every service of this revival.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Barrington of Throckmorton visited with friends here last Saturday.

Ralph Tidwell Killed In D-Day Battle, France

Memorial Service To Be Held Sunday

A telegram from the War Department last Sunday informed Mr. and Mrs. Everett (Buck) Tidwell of Munday of the death of their son, Pvt. Ralph L. Tidwell, 19, who was killed in the D-Day invasion of Western Europe. He was serving in the infantry.

Pvt. Tidwell was born January 27, 1925, northeast of Munday, at the home where the family still resides. He was reared in this county, completed Munday high school with the class of 1942, and was one of the star players on the Munday football team for two seasons.

This beloved youth was converted in 1942, in the revival meeting conducted here by Rev. B. B. Crimm, and united with the Baptist church. He had been a faithful member since that time.

After attending John Tarleton College at Stephenville for a year, Ralph was inducted into the service on July 13, 1943, a few months after his 18th birthday. He had been overseas since December 1943.

Memorial services for young Tidwell will be held from the First Baptist church in Munday at three o'clock next Sunday afternoon. His pastor, Rev. W. H. Albertson, will be in charge, and a large gathering of friends and loved ones are expected to be present to pay tribute to this Knox county youth who has given his life in the service of his country.

Besides his parents, he is survived by two brothers, Kelton and Gerald Tidwell and a sister, Patsy Jo Tidwell, all of whom reside with their parents; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tidwell of Munday and Mr. and Mrs. Lem Colthorp of Ruidosa, New Mexico.

Ernest Patton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Patton of route one, Weinert, is now serving as an engine mechanic in the maintenance section of the largest Air Service Command depot in Britain, according to word reaching here from England last Tuesday.

Ernest Patton Now In England

Patton is one of thousands at this depot where America's fighters and bombers are assembled, modified and repaired to support our allied armies battling in France.

Young Patton is a graduate of Goree high school, and was "self employed" in Munday, Texas, prior to entering the air forces in 1942.

Three directors and all state officers will be elected for another year.

Frank Overturf, state secretary of the Texas Farmers Union, announced this week that the state convention will be held in Amarillo on August 9 and 10.

The first session will open at 10 a. m. on the 9th, and officers are urging a large attendance of all Farmers Union members.

Capt. John Reneau, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Reneau of Munday came in last week to spend a 30-day sick leave with his family and his parents.

Capt. Reneau, who served this area as a veterinarian and made his home in Paducah, entered the U. S. Cavalry at the outbreak of the war and was stationed at Fort Bliss for some time.

He has seen a little over a year of foreign service, spending a major portion of his time on New Britain. He became ill while on New Britain and was granted a sick leave.

HAS APPENDECTOMY

Inetta Nell White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. White, submitted to an appendectomy at a Wichita Falls hospital last Thursday. She was dangerously ill for several days, but is reported to be improving now.

Returned To Office By Texas Voters

Governor Coke R. Stevenson and

Lieut. Gov. John Lee Smith of Throckmorton were given an overwhelming vote of confidence last Saturday when they were returned to office, receiving a majority over all their opponents. Their nomination in the July primary is tantamount to election in Texas.

Stevenson had eight opponents in Saturday's election, while three others were seeking the post held by Smith.

Knox county gave the present incumbents a wide majority over all their opponents.

MEMORIAL FUND FOR JUDSON GIDDINGS

The ladies of the Methodist church of Munday have started a memorial fund, honoring Sgt. Judson R. Giddings, who was killed in a plane accident in England on July 1.

Contributions are coming in rapidly, and it is expected that a substantial fund will be raised as a lasting memorial to this beloved Munday youth. Further contributions will be gladly accepted by the Methodist ladies.

One-half of the amount in this fund will go to missions, and the other half to hospitals, it was stated.

Knox County Is $36,000 Over In War Bond Drive

A wire from Nathan Adams, Dallas, chairman of the War Finance Committee confirmed the fact that Knox county went $36,000 over in her over-all quota during the Fifth War Loan Drive. Series E sales were almost $25,790 over the quota of $200,000.

The telegram, received here Monday, read as follows: "Official sales your county tabulated by Federal Reserve through July 21, including special army-navy credit, were $224,631 Series E and $601,282 over all.

"To obtain maximum credit for driving, suggest you contact all issuing agents, including post offices, to send special cut off reports in time to be in hands of Federal Reserve Bank July 31.

"Appreciate good work you have done." The county raised 108 per cent of its over-all quota of $465,000, and 112 per cent of its Series E quota of $200,000.

Stevenson had eight opponents in Saturday's election, while three others were seeking the post held by Smith.

Knox county gave the present incumbents a wide majority over all their opponents.

MEMORIAL SERVICE IS HELD TUESDAY AT LOCAL CHURCH

The first tragic message to reach Munday of the death of a "favorite son" came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Giddings Sr., last Saturday afternoon, informing them of the death of their son, Sgt. Judson R. Giddings.

According to the information received, Sgt. Giddings died on July 1 as a result of injuries received in an airplane accident in Easton, England.

Judson Rippey Giddings was born on July 24, 1919, at Colorado Springs, Colo. He came to Munday with his parents in the fall of 1937 and graduated from Munday high school in 1938. He was a member of the Methodist church.

Sgt. Giddings volunteered for the air corps, entering the service in November, 1942. His first training was at Santa Ana, Calif., and he graduated as an aerial gunner at Los Vegas, Nevada on October 11, 1943. He left the United States during the first week in May, 1944, and at the time of his death was carrying out missions against the enemy as a gunner on a Flying Fortress, having received the air medal for meritorious achievement and the completion of five missions.

Among Sgt. Giddings' first missions was that of supporting landing forces in the D-Day invasion of France.

Memorial services for this beloved Munday youth were held from the First Methodist church at three o'clock last Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Luther Kirk, pastor, who was assisted by Rev. W. H. Albertson, Baptist pastor, who read scripture and led the prayer. A quartet composed of Aaron Edgar, Rev. Alby Cockrell of Weinert, Mrs. Oscar Spann and Jimmy Harpham, sang two numbers: "In The Garden" and "The Home Over There." Rev. Cockrell sang "Sunrise" as a solo, and Mrs. M. F. Billingsley played the accompaniment.

Mrs. Fred Broach, Jr., recited a very touching poem, entitled "My Son."

Rev. Kirk told several instances of his visits with Sgt. Giddings, of his faith in God and his eagerness to serve his country in this time of crisis.

Sgt. Giddings is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Giddings of Munday, and a brother, Major Chas. H. Giddings, who is stationed at Sioux City, Iowa.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Mrs. Earl Brewer and baby son have been resting well the past week in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Moore, being brought from the Knox county hospital in the Mahan ambulance on Monday of this week, and taken to their home northwest of Munday.

Production Credit Office Is Moving

Work of moving the local office of Stamford Production Credit Association into its new location, the building formerly occupied by Coates Cafe, was started this week and is almost completed.

Work of redecorating the building has been completed, and the installation of furniture and fixtures was under way this week. C. R. Elliott, manager, expressed the hope that the move would be completed Thursday.

The public is cordially invited to come in and inspect this spacious and attractive office.

Wheat Harvest Is Ending In County

Harvesting of Texas' most extraordinary wheat crop is coming to a dramatic end. The yield is estimated at more than 70,000,000 bushels, compared to the estimate of 61,000,000 in the June 1 report of the USDA Crop Reporting Board and the record crop of 68,000,000 bushels in 1931.

"We are over the hump," said R. O. Dunkle, county agent. "Labor, combines, trucks and machine operators have reached saturation and the crisis is passed. The biggest wheat crop of all time was harvested in record time, with less congestion and less waste time in routing of machinery and labor than ever before."

M. R. Humphreys Is War Casualty

Killed In Action In France June 12

"The Secretary of War desires me to express his deep regret that your son, Private Marlin R. Humphreys, was killed in action on twelve June in France. Letter follows.

Ulio The Adjutant General Battle."

This brief message brought tragic news to Pvt. Humphreys' mother, Mrs. Cordie Horan, and his stepfather, R. F. Horan, last Monday morning. They had not heard from their son since the invasion, and had expressed anxiety over his welfare.

Pvt. Humphreys was born on February 28, 1925, at Clarksville, Texas, and was 19 years, 4 months and 24 days of age. He attended the Sunset and Munday schools and had resided in Munday for a number of years.

He entered the armed forces July 13, 1943, soon after his 18th birthday. He was stationed in England and took part in the D-Day invasion, being killed six days later while serving his country in France.

Memorial services honoring this beloved Munday boy were held from the First Baptist church at three o'clock Thursday afternoon, conducted by Rev. W. H. Albertson and Rev. Luther Kirk.

A large crowd of friends and loved ones gathered to pay tribute to this life that has been sacrificed for the principles of democracy and freedom we enjoy.

Humphreys is survived by his mother, step-father, and several brothers and sisters. One brother is now serving in the South Pacific, having been engaged in the recent invasion of Saipan.

Knox-Haskell H. D. Camp To Be Held In August

The annual home demonstration club encampment for Haskell and Knox county club women will be held in Munday, at the city park on August 8 and 9, it was announced this week.

Registration will begin at 4 p. m. Tuesday. The Haskell county home demonstration club members will be guests of the Knox county club members, it was stated.

A large number of club members from Haskell county are planning to attend, and Knox county will likely have 100 per cent representation at the encampment.

Officers Of Goree Lodge Installed

At a recent called meeting, newly elected officers of Goree Lodge No. 1029, A. F. & A. M. were installed. They are as follows:

Samuel Cannon Roberts, worshipful master; Orb Coffman, senior warden; H. L. Moore, junior warden; C. T. West, junior deacon; W. M. Taylor, treasurer; H. D. Arnold, secretary, and S. G. Hampton, tiler.

Mrs. James N. Walker and children, Barbara Lee and David Neal, of Dallas are visiting Mrs. Walker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Eiland this week.

Mrs. R. D. Atkinson left on Wednesday for Fort Worth for several days visit with her mother, Mrs. O. S. Ferguson. She will also visit her daughter, Miss Dixie Atkinson, in Dallas while away.

Bombs and Blossoms in Italy

THE birds are singing, the grass is green and in the quiet beauty of an Italian almond grove are stored some of the bombs the Royal Canadian Air Force lads will drop on installations of the retreating Germans.

The RCAF has increased more than 50-fold from its pre-war nucleus of 4,000 until today it occupies fourth place in the air strengths of the United Nations and fifth in the world. Through the giant machinery of the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan, Canada has been enabled to produce more than 206,000 air force personnel and in April, 1944, graduated its 100,000th air crew member. With this culmination in training, the RCAF stands beside the aerial forces of the Allies poised for its most important work, that of helping to defeat the German air force over Europe.

THE FOUNDATION FOR PEACE

Emphasizing that international trade is not an end in itself, but is a means to the primary goal of "steady employment at remunerative work yielding high living standards," the Advisory Committee of the Committee on International Economic Policy, composed of leaders in American business, industry, education, religion and other groups, lays down some principles designed to constitute a framework for the United Nations, within which international trade can thrive. It says:

"The great expansion of world trade in the latter half of the 19th century was made possible by the extension of a network of treaties of commerce and navigation which may be said to have constituted an accepted code of international commercial law. They specifically defined the rights of aliens engaged in peaceful commerce and assured to foreign traders parity of status with the nationals of each contracting party.

"In the period of aggressive economic nationalism which preceded the outbreak of this war, many long-standing treaties of commerce and navigation had been replaced by short-term agreements. The result was that national governments obtained discretionary powers over the status of alien traders, and dictatorial governments made the administration of law a matter of arbitrary interpretation. The alien trader in practice found that he had lost whatever rights he may have thought remained to him under international as well as national law. What is needed now is a single international Convention which shall incorporate the general principle that alien traders shall be entitled to receive the same treatment as is secured to citizens by their own country."

Every American must take an interest in these matters from now on.

READY FOR EMERGENCIES

The people of the United States are fortunate in the fact that private enterprise whose life depends on tireless initiative and constant progress, was the foundation of our war production effort. On a moment's notice our basic industries were ready to take up the war load without a quiver. Nowhere was this better illustrated than in aviation.

The Air Transport Command, only three years old, last year flew more than 2,100,000 hours. It moved the equivalent of 1,000,000 men from Los Angeles to Seattle. On one day it transported 680,000 pounds of material, munitions and supplies by air to one theater of operations. In addition, the men and women of the Command last year delivered safely 99.7 per cent of all the planes they accepted for service in all parts of the world. The Naval Air Transport Service conducted parallel operations.

While such a record by the armed services is deserving of the highest credit, it would have been impossible of accomplishment without the contributions of the Commercial Air lines of the country. They were ready to meet the emergency by giving freely of their aircraft, their operational skills, their trained men, their ground facilities and their overall knowledge. They made possible an outstanding air transport record which was an indispensable contribution to the war effort.

It is well for our people to remember these things in order to appreciate the superiority of our private enterprise system when compared with the government-dominated peoples and industries of the Axis countries.

SHORTAGE OR PLENTY

Government agencies have conducted consumer surveys which bear out the general belief that at the end of the war American consumers will be in the market for every luxury and necessity in the book. Alarm clocks and garbage cans, carpet sweepers and teakettles, lawn mowers and frying pans are but a few of the common articles needed. And it is predicted that demand for refrigerators, automobiles, new homes and even yachts will be insatiable.

If these surveys prove correct, the next job will be to fill the demand. Whether that can be done will depend upon the ability of American manufacturers and retailers to produce the goods and distribute them at prices the people can pay. War wages and material costs must be met and overcome, if possible, by unprecedented operating efficiency.

Before the war free competitive markets pushed efficiency up and prices down—and industry and labor prospered on a sound basis. The simple truth is that after the war the country must return to that system or suffer chronic shortages and a regulated existence.

WORLD TRADE AND EMPLOYMENT

That leaders of business in the United States are fully awake to the part American industry must play in postwar employment, is made evident by the formation of the Committee on Industrial Economic Policy, 18 Pine Street, New York 5, N. Y.

Fifty-four outstanding men in industrial, educational and religious groups at present compose the Committee which will seek "to further the serious and competent consideration of the issues which confront all the free peoples of the world and which imply their useful cooperation in reconstructing their economy after the victory of the United Nations."

To that end the Committee will welcome the cooperation of organizations and individuals, and will be happy to receive the comments and suggestions which it hopes that the publication of a series of papers from its Advisory Committee on Economics may call forth.

The Committee seeks an exchange of views with other committees engaged in postwar studies, and states: "Employment is more than a national problem. It is an international question, the solution of which can be found only in the expansion of world trade and economic cooperation. . . . The traffic must be two-way. Trade is a two-way street. . . . A fair adjustment of trade barriers is essential to promote balanced trade development."

This is the kind of program in which we must interest ourselves if we hope to do our part in building a sound postwar foundation for industrial progress and employment.

COAL PRODUCTION SURVIVES POLITICAL BUNGLING

An authority on coal production says: "I don't believe we are going to have a coal shortage this year. I don't think failure to have it will be due to the Federal government's handling of the situation."

"The country produced about 320 million tons of coal up to the first of July, which is ahead of estimated production sought for the year. Stocks of coal are building up."

"John L. Lewis still has it in his power to bring about strikes by defying the government as he did before, and may do so, but the coal industry, without government money and in spite of government and labor interference, has produced the coal the country needs and will undoubtedly go through this war year still doing so."

In spite of all the ballyhoo from political sources, our nation depends on private initiative to implement the war and at the same time supply our civilian needs.

Coal mining is a good example of how industry carries on in spite of confusion and bureaucratic dictation with which it is forced to contend.

HELP SAVE A LIFE

The circus fire tragedy at Hartford, Conn., is unusual in only one respect—it caused the death of an unusual number of people in one fire. And yet death was no more definite for each of those victims than it is for the individual who perishes in a farmhouse, or for one or two or three children who meet death in home fires almost every day.

Because some 150 people meet death from a single fire in Hartford, the tragedy is given page headlines across the nation. But when 10,000 people burn up annually by fires and twos, you never see the fact blazoned to the world in large type.

Circus or night club tragedies, and most other fires, could be prevented if each individual appointed himself a committee of one to see that every time he lit a match, smoked a cigarette or had anything to do with any appliance that caused heat, it was out or properly safeguarded, when he left it.

Our 10,000-a-year fire death toll could be largely eliminated if we would all learn a lesson from the Hartford disaster and be individually careful.

STATE'S YOUTH ENROLL IN VEGETABLE CONTEST

Young vegetable growers from 21 communities in Texas have enrolled in the fourth annual National Junior Vegetable Growers' Appreciation production and marketing contest. Prof. Grant B. Snyder, of Massachusetts State College, advisory chairman of the organization, announces.

The state's contestants are competing for a $500 national championship, a $200 regional award, ten $100 sectional scholarships and two $25 war bonds provided the association by the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company. Prof. Snyder said. The winners will be decided on the basis of the efforts made by contestants on studies of vegetable production and marketing methods, on their vegetable projects and in community activities.

"The importance of more efficient vegetable production and marketing is gaining substantial interest among our coming generation of farmers," Prof. Snyder said. "This is clearly indicated by the increased enrollment in our contest which this year includes boys and girls from 44 states."

Among those enrolled in the contest are boys and girls from Lockney, Floydada, Anderson, Houston, Rule, Lakeview, Boerne, Shiner, Liberty, Lubbock, Moore, Big Foot, Fort Worth, Oldham, Jean, New Castle, Olney, Eliasville, Graham and South Bend.

Fixing Up the Farm by BURTON WILLIAMS

Safety Suggestion

THE farm driveway is a serious traffic menace because it is often flanked with trees, bushes or tall crops, making it impossible for drivers traveling on the highway to see farm vehicles about to enter the road.

To avoid accidents at the entrance to your drive, make this visibility test: First, park your car in driveway with the bumper ten feet from the nearest edge of the main road, as illustrated. Next, pace off a distance of about 700 feet (290 paces) along the highway to the left and place a marker at the edge of the pavement, on the same side as the driveway entrance. Then set another marker 700 feet down the road from the drive in the opposite direction. In this case set a marker on the opposite side of the road.

After the markers are in place, go back to your car and sit in the driver's seat. If the markers can be seen, the visibility is adequate for highway speeds up to 60 miles an hour. If the view is obstructed, all obstructions should be removed in the triangular area shown in the illustration.

If a heavy, slow-starting truck is to use the driveway, it will be necessary to place markers at least 830 feet from the edge of 700 feet.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

BILLY MITCHELL MEETS UP WITH MUNDAY BOYS ON SAIPAN

The following is a letter received by Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Mitchell from their son, Billy, who wrote from Saipan on July 10:

Dearest Mother and Dad: I am on Saipan now, as you can see by the heading of this letter, and have been since June 15. I have already written one letter home since I have been here, but couldn't tell you where I was at the time.

I saw Joe Burton July 5th, and he is all right. I have one little scratch on my right leg, where a small piece of shrapnel tore my pants and just barely broke the skin, and that is all, so don't worry about me.

I also ran into Harmon Sessions out here July 4th while I was stringing a telephone line, and I didn't even know that he was out of the states, and he is also all right. You can tell his mother that I saw him in case he hasn't written home yet.

Joe said to tell everyone hello, and he thinks that he might get to go home in a few months.

There isn't really much to say except anyone will never know what combat is like until they have been in it, because there is no way of making a person understand it unless he is there.

I guess you are pretty busy with the elevator and trucks, now during harvest time, and I wish I could be there to help. I imagine you miss Buddy quite a bit, too, but maybe we can all be together again sometime after the war.

Well, this isn't much of a letter, but I just wanted to let you know that I wasn't hurt, and not to worry about me. Tell everyone hello, and write soon.

Love,
BILLY.

THRIFT IS A DUTY OF EVERY AMERICAN . . .

In this time of stress, each of us owes it to his country to be thrifty. We must conserve materials on the one hand so they will be available for defense purposes. We must conserve money, on the other hand, to help our country and to help ourselves in the post-war period.

By being thrifty, and by accumulating money in your bank account, you are contributing to your country's welfare, while at the same time helping yourself.

The proudest title in the Army

IT CONSISTS of two simple words.

Yet every soldier who's worth his salt covets it. This title is simply: "Good Soldier."

It isn't just happenstance that so many women in the WAC have earned this title—the proudest in the Army.

For wherever Wacs are working, both here and overseas, there you find a job well done. And done with a spirit so gallant and fine that high Army officers everywhere say of the WAC...

"They're soldiers. Good soldiers!"

The flyers celebrated that night by sitting calmly through a USO camp show, apparently getting a bigger kick out of the comedy than they had out of the day's fighting.

S-Sgt. John Wilhelm, a Kerrville boy, is back in Texas, one of several hundred Texans recovering from wounds at McCloskey General Hospital. He was wounded by a mortar shell in Italy.

The Texas veterans of the Fighting 36th, by the way, are being royally treated at the hospital. Among other things, they are regularly entertained by show troupes sent out over the "hospital circuit" by USO, an agency of the National War Fund. Thus the Texas lads are drawing big dividends on the $5,000,000 given the National War Fund last year by home-front Texans.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

We are taking this means of telling you of our revival meeting which begins July the 30th to continue through two weeks.

The first week, from Monday through Friday, we will have our Vacation Bible school. Meeting each morning from 8:00 to 10:30. Children from four to 17. We expect a good attendance.

Each night through the first week the pastor will preach.

Each morning at ten and each evening at 8:45 through the second week Bro. Fred Porter, pastor of the Lamar Street Baptist church, Sweetwater, Texas, will preach. He comes highly recommended. We urge you to hear him prayerfully.

Rev. Jess Swindell, pastor at Benjamin and Bomarton will be with us throughout the two weeks to lead the singing and work with the young people. Many of you know him. He is an excellent fellow, and you will enjoy working with him.

Surely we will give our best in this tragic time! A young man wrote from Normandy the other day that he had been in a fox hole for thirty days without shave or bath and living on K rations. Are we worthy of the sacrifice they are making?

We extend to all a cordial invitation to come to the services. Whatever your church affiliation may be we want you to come.

Experience Builds New Boat.

After several years of actual experience with life boats for use of army pilots, the army has developed a new type boat for use of fliers forced down at sea. New features are ballast bags, shown at left center, to prevent the craft from capsizing. The girl at the right is holding a boarding ladder, making it easier for the men to get aboard. The new boat, being turned out by The General Tire & Rubber company at Akron, Ohio, also is equipped with handles on the bottom and on the inside so that fliers may quickly right the life boat if it lands from the plane upside down. To give more room one of the cross tubes used for seats has been eliminated in order to assure more comfort for men compelled to spend days at sea while awaiting rescue.

Low-Cost Utility Shed

AS FOOD daily becomes an ever more important weapon of war, we must be on the alert for ways to expand the productive capacity of our farms. We probably can't enlarge the farm itself, but we can increase the output by reducing livestock mortality, enlarging herds and flocks, preventing waste of crops due to improper storage, and keeping all equipment in tip-top shape.

To help in these important jobs, illustrated below is a low-cost utility shed built largely of non-critical materials. It is widely adaptable to many different uses. Heifers can be sheltered, space provided for keeping calves, beef cattle housed, sheep added as a new profitable enterprise, or machinery protected against deterioration in such a shed. In any type of farming, it will reduce the use of the barn and save labor.

The simple design, using heavy poles, rigidly braced, makes a solid framework for a long-life building. It can be roofed and sided with non-critical asbestos cement board, which is now generally obtainable. Used lumber, if available can be used for the necessary framework.

George Moffett Makes Statement

The Munday Times has received the following statement from State Senator George Moffett:

"The unofficial returns indicate that the present race for Congress is the closest this district has ever had. The official tabulation conceivably could change the result; therefore, I will withhold a final statement until the official returns are made. I want to say now, however, that I have never had any connection with the CIO.

"I most earnestly desire to thank those who voted for and helped me in the contest just closed, and am glad the campaign was free from personalities.

"Meanwhile, we should get on with winning the war so that the boys can come home."

Pvt. Walter Jungman has returned to his station at St. Petersburg, Fla., after spending a two-weeks furlough here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jungman.

Chas. Moorhouse of Benjamin was here Tuesday, visiting with friends and attending to business matters.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

by BOYCE HOUSE

If never occurred to us boys along in the early 1900's that life was lacking in things to see and do. A bill poster was sure to have an audience of barefooted lads as he played guitar and brush; and so would a painter as he painted a Bull Durham sign on the side of a barn in the edge of our town.

There was a checker game to be played in the back of the drug store, provided a boy would keep quiet. Or we would watch the horse-shoe pitching on a vacant lot at another game in which the players tossed silver dollars into holes.

The presence of a stranger in town was cause for speculation among us. One such, in a derby and with a black mustache, we excitedly conjectured was a detective. (He turned out to be an agent, selling a world history in 18 volumes.)

Getting a new hat or a new suit or new shoes was an adventure. A boy wanted a pair of shoes that would squeak so that everyone would hear and then look, and they would see that he was wearing new ones.

One of my most prized, and envied, possessions was a dollar watch. Those watches were guaranteed for a year—and they were certainly remarkably constituted. One would keep accurate time month after month for a full year and then, about three days later, you'd look at it and it was two hours fast or three hours slow, and thereafter its only value was for wearing purposes.

Some people, who are making salaries that were never dreamed of a few years ago in the days of WPA, are flinging their money around and then when the war is over and the nation gets back to normal production, such people are going to be mighty sad. Better start putting the surplus into War Bonds, if you aren't—and not be like the grasshopper that gave no thought, during the summer, to the days of winter ahead.

As several editors and numerous correspondents have pointed out, there was a blue-back speller. All that your columnist meant, in a recent comment was, that a red-back speller was in use when I was a boy and that was 40 years ago and yet we never hear any mention of a red-back speller and I thought it was time we might get a bit sentimental about it, too.

Mrs. J. K. Jackson, who has been with her husband at Camp Berkeley, visited her grandfather, R. B. Davy, several days last week. Her husband is expecting to leave for overseas service soon, and Mrs. Jackson plans to make her home with Mr. Davy for the time being.

U. W. Wilson, C. C. M. in the navy and stationed at Camp Parks, Shoemaker, Calif., is here to spend a furlough with his mother, Mrs. Bertie Wilson, and with other relatives.

Sgt. Howard Collins, who is stationed at La Junta, Colo., spent from Saturday until Wednesday here with his wife and mother, Mrs. Ora Collins, and other relatives and friends.

JUST A DAY'S WORK FOR ARMY NURSE

The following poem was sent to relatives here by Second Lieut. May Bell Yeast, who is with the 35th General Hospital in New Guinea:

There is not much to say,
But I will try to describe just one day.
It is 6:30 AM, we are all sleeping away,
When the sound of a bugle announces 'tis day.

We rise from our cots and put on our clothes—
Comb our hair and powder our nose.
We make up our cots, put the blankets just so,
Then we pick up our mess kits and to chow we go.

We stand in a line with a hundred people in it,
We reach the door in about twenty minutes.
The K. P.'s fill our mess kits with food,
French toast, syrup and coffee, very good.

We go into the mess hall and sit on the benches,
Each girl is allowed about twelve inches.

We finish our meal and form another line
To go to the hot water barrel out behind,
To wash our mess kits nice and clean.
When the soap is washed off, in them our faces may be seen.

Then back to our tents, we play double sol,
Until 8:30, then it's time for roll call.
The 1st. Lieutenant calls the roll.
Then takes on an expression stern and cold.

"Now girls, you know I hate to scold,
But there is a thing or two you should be told.
When you come in at night you make too much noise,
And you must stop this for the chief it annoys.

Then we have calisthenics, ten minutes each day,
So that our forms nice and slender will stay.
Backward and forward and sideways we bend,
Then to our toes our fingers we extend.

We feel as if our backs will surely break.
We explore the P. T. mercy on us to take.
Then back to our tents for a nice short rest,
Before inspection when everything must look its best.

So we pick up our things and sweep the boards clean,
And empty the garbage and scrub the latrine.
We must polish up the area all over,
Throw our junk away, or put it under cover.

At 10:30 AM or shortly thereafter, the C. O.
Will come thru our tents to see how things go.
The C. O. stands out in front on her toes
And salutes the captain as in he goes.

We stand at attention by the side of our cot,
While the C. O. comes in, looking this way and that.
His eyes fall on a canteen cup,
"This thing is rusty, can't you scrub it up?"

When he finishes the inspection brief,
All the nurses heave a sigh of relief.
"I knew that he would find something wrong,
But maybe we'll reach perfection, ere long.

At twelve o'clock noon we go back for chow.
The procedure of the morning is repeated now.
After chow we go by the chief nurse's tent
To take our atobrine, malaria to prevent.

Back in our tent, perhaps a letter we'll write,
Then at one thirty we must all get quiet.
We must take a nap, for in this heat,
If we don't take it easy, our doom we'll meet.

"Oh dear, this place is too hot for any nurse."
Our neighbor pipes up, "A cold place would be worse."
"My brother in Iceland got his ears frost bitten,
And I'd hate to stand in chow line in heavy coat and mittens."

"Shut up," says another, "I'm trying to sleep,
And from you lets not have another peep."
But try as we might, sleep just doesn't come,
So we give it up and start a letter home.

Or we play double sol—we might as well,
Or, would you prefer a nice game of "Hell."
Then suddenly outside there is a terrible brawl,
For someone out there has just yelled "Mail Call."

And then everyone is happy and hale,
Except the ones who didn't get any mail.

At three o'clock we go for a shower.
When we have finished our bath, our clothes we'll scour.
Come five o'clock, it's chow time again,
Corned beef and cabbage, our appetites wain.

At five thirty we put on our leggings and rub on some "skaf,"
So the skeeters won't bit us, we can't have that.
Outside the gate there is a terrible howling,
"Hooray, girls the wolves are howling."

A runner comes up to the fence and hollers,
"Miss Smith, Miss Jones, you both have callers."
In a steady stream the girls go out to the street,
To take a ride with the latest heart beat.

In the O. D.'s tent they write in a book—
You must say who you are with and where you will be took.
Then off with a roar they go in a jeep.
It's Saturday night and late hours they may keep.

To the Officer's Club they go for a lark.
They are diving and dancing, when suddenly, Hark:
"It's 11:00 P. M., let's start riding again,
For by 11:45 we must be in."

There is a long ride back thru the dust and mud.
The bridge is washed out, for we recently had a flood.
But to the stream they pay no mind,
For the jeeps can wade the water just fine.

Outside the fence there is again a noise
Upon the return of the girls and boys.
"O. D., where's the pencil? Quick let me take it, Eleven forty-four, we just did make it."

Then they stroll down the road and linger by the gate.
"All right, break it up, come on in, you'll be late."
And then the wolves go back to their lair.
The girls come in and start rolling their hair.

There is gossip and laughter from one tent to the next.
"Pipe down," says a neighbor, "or the Chief will be vexed."
And to our area we will all be restricted.
Fine thing, for you we should all be convicted."

Twelve o'clock, lights are out, we are finally quiet,
And we fall asleep in the dead of the night.
Thus ends the tale I have tried to tell
So, I will close, write soon, love

May Bell.

Action Taken To Secure Farms For Service Men

Inquiries from veterans, servicemen and industrial workers who want farms now or after the war are being received quite frequently by the County Agent and members of the Post War Advisory Council of Knox county. These inquiries come from many who want to return to farming. Judging from interest displayed it is likely that the demand for farms after the war will exceed the available farms for sale.

People interested in taking up farming are doing more than just writing letters, many inexperienced with farming and who know little about farming are buying land, some of it poor land for farming. A recent Associated Press article tells a story that can be duplicated in several areas: "Scores of war workers are purchasing sight unseen, worthless northern Michigan land which will never be suitable for agriculture. War workers pay three and four hundred dollars on a piece of land they have never seen. When they finally see the land they find 40 acres of blow sand worth considerably less than the down payment. The public has a responsibility in holding to a minimum, such land sale activity, since it will be called upon to furnish relief to settlers on such land when they get into difficulty.

In order to avoid this difficulty from happening to the boys returning from the armed forces in Knox county an Advisory Council has been selected to advise and to assist war veterans and others who desire to farm. This advisory council is composed of the following members: Jack Idol, Benjamin; C. C. Browning, Truscott; Clay Grove, Munday; August Schumacher, Rhineland; H. B. Boswell, Seymour and R. O. Dangle, county agent, Benjamin.

This council will assist in such matters as (1) The types of farming suitable to different areas within the county, (2) Capital required, (3) Safe margins of indebtedness, (4) Desirable sizes of farms, (5) Sound operating practice, and (6) Productivity index of farms.

NEW PARATROOPERS' BAZOOKA HAS BEEN BORN

Bridgeport, Conn.—A new bazooka has been born. This was disclosed today by the War Department and officials of General Electric.

The new gun has the same general appearance as its older rocket-launching brother, except that it is of knockdown construction and the barrel may be carried in two pieces. The use of dry-cell batteries for firing also has been eliminated and a new sight greatly improves accuracy. It was designed to be used by paratroopers and saw its first action during the invasion of France.

General Electric has manufactured the bazooka from its inception, since the first crude model was submitted by Army Ordnance experts.

YOU GET SO MUCH FOR SO LITTLE!

War causes costs to go up. Your dollar buys less of almost everything... it takes plenty more of them to run your business and your home. Taxes have soared, but one thing that remains the same is your electricity. Your dollar buys twice as much electricity for your home as it did in 1939. Today your electricity is carrying two jobs... a war job and its regular job of peace. You are asked not to be wasteful in its use, but in spite of this double task your electricity has been there when and where you wanted it... there is never any "standing in line."

TOWN and FARM in WARTIME

Prepared by OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION

FSA Loans Assist Veterans

Farm operating loans have been made to several hundred honorably discharged service men who had no other source of credit to finance food production, the Department of Agriculture announces. These Federal Security Administration loans are enabling veterans of the present war to lease or buy farm land and to obtain all the necessary equipment and facilities needed to start their farm operations.

Food Allotments For Farm Help

Farms, ranches and other non-institutional employers of seasonal workers may now apply for allotments of rationed foods to feed workers hired for 60 days or less, the Office of Price Administration announces. Previously, allotments were granted for 30 days or less. Farm workers employed for more than 60 days must continue to turn in their ration points to their employer for food served that required points.

United States War Expenditures

For the fiscal year, 1944, United States War Expenditures were $89,900,000,000, as compared with $75,100,000,000 for 1943—an increase of almost 20 per cent—the War Production Board announces. U. S. War Expenditures amounted to $199,900,000,000 from July 1, 1943, through June 30, 1944.

Many State Roads Need Repairs

Many state highways will be in need of repairs and rebuilding by the end of the war, according to an office of War Information report, based on data from the public roads administration and state and private agencies. At present, the most impressive immediate program calls for improving 34,000 miles of rural and urban highways as recommended by the National Inter-regional highway committee. Final action by congress is pending.

Electric Irons Coming In Fall

Of the 2,637,838 electric irons already authorized for civilian production, about 99 per cent will be household models, mostly automatic, and the remainder, commercial models, WPB says. The irons will not be rationed and some of them are expected to be available in the fall.

Handlers Are Burning Used Boxes

Large numbers of used containers are being destroyed because there have been no requests for them, the War Food Administration warns. Handlers of used orange boxes, for example, are burning them up by the thousands because many farmers have not as yet accepted these useable boxes as substitutes to pack their particular crops. Orange boxes are adequate and suitable to send many different kinds of crops to market, and farmers are being urged to ask their suppliers for as many of these used containers as they may need. Farmers should get their orders in immediately since handlers of used buckets and boxes are saving only those they are asked to save, WFA says.

OPA Reduces Oats Ceilings

An average reduction of five cents a bushel in the ceiling prices of oats has been announced by

RAILROADS TEST RADIO TELEPHONE—This high frequency radio telephone, now being tested by several American railroads in day-by-day operations, is a compact device consisting of a transmitter, receiver and power unit. It has been used successfully in yard operations and also in transmitting instructions between locomotive and caboose during freight train runs, in experiments carried out by the Radio Division of Bendix Aviation Corporation.

OPA. New base prices at terminal base points range from 71 cents at Seattle, Wash., and Portland, Ore., to 83 1-2 cents at Philadelphia, Pa. OPA says the new prices will reflect parity to producing farmers during the current crop year.

New Non-Highway Gas Coupons

New, non-highway, serially numbered gasoline coupons, E-2 and R-2, are now being issued in soripes to farmers and other non-highway users, OPA has announced. The new coupons will be good concurrently with the E-1 and R-1 coupons now in circulation. The five-gallon R-2 coupons are printed in blue ink, and the one-gallon E-2 coupons, in black ink. While neither of the new coupons is good for highway use, the E-2 specifically carries the legend—"Not good for obtaining gasoline to propel registered vehicle."

Round-Up

Under the "Corn-For-War" Program, war food administrator Marvin Jones said, "Farmers have fought the war as truly as though on the battle-front," by providing almost 68 million bushels of corn for the manufacture of essential war materials. The 63,637 Mexicans now working on farms in 17 Western States represent the large-est number employed at any time since the program to use Mexican workers was started in September, 1942, WFA reports.

The first counterfeit among the serially numbered gasoline coupons, A B-3 has been picked up by an OPA investigator in western Pennsylvania, and OPA has warned the trade to check coupon endorsements against license numbers. Persons who lose their war ration books no longer are required to advertise the loss before replacements are made, OPA says.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN — "Vacation time is likely to be typhoid fever time," according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer. "The summer months, when swimming, camping, and picnics are at their height, are usually accompanied by the year's highest incidence of this disease."

Dr. Cox strongly recommended immunization against typhoid fever for persons of all ages who want to enjoy warm weather activities secure from the threat of this disease. Protection is achieved by three inoculations, usually given one week apart. The treatment should be repeated every third year, because the immunity conferred does not ordinarily last longer than three years. If you have not been vaccinated against this disease since 1941, inoculation are, therefore, in order.

"Improved sanitation, it is true, has gone far to lower the incidence of typhoid fever in recent years," Dr. Cox said. "It is known that every case develops as a result of consuming milk, food, or water contaminated with human excreta containing the disease-producing germs. Sometimes such discharges come from a patient ill with typhoid fever and sometimes from a carrier, an apparently healthy person who has had the disease and, after recovery, continues to discharge its germs."

"In spite of these community safeguards, personal immunization should not be neglected," Dr. Cox warned. "However careful you and the health authorities may try to be, there is the possibility of infection from some unsuspected source, particularly during the summer when people are often lured into remote places, away from approved water supplies, pasteurized milk, and safe raw foods. By all means, go to your doctor for vaccination against typhoid fever."

Miss Maxie Dingus of Fort Worth visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Dingus over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Yarbrough and Mr. and Mrs. Worth Gafford left the first of this week for the San Saba river near Menard where they are spending several days on a fishing and outing trip.

approximately 11,355 workers on farms in the United States, July 1, those who received wages were paid at the highest rates on record, USDA says.

WFB announces—Wide, new uses of aluminum for essential products are now permitted. . . Unlimited use of glass containers for the packing of most foods, drugs and health supplies is now permitted.

BRINGS HOME EVIDENCE OF SKILL AS FISHERMAN

Mr. and Mrs. John Bates and Mrs. Weldon Leflar, all of Goree, and Mrs. Derryl C. McElreath of Dallas, returned home Thursday from Elvasville, where they spent the first of last week fishing on the Clear Fork of the Brazos, and vacationing.

Instead of allowing the big one to get away, as is the usual hard luck story of most fishermen, John brought back his prize catch, a 22-pound cat, as evidence of his fishing skill.

Mr. and Mrs. Rusty Doran and Mrs. Walter Beavers visited with relatives in Wichita Falls several days last week.

Mrs. J. R. Nelson went to San Antonio the first of this week for a visit with her son, Lieut. J. C. Nelson, who is stationed there.

McKelvey Jones, who is attending Schreiner's Institute in Kerrville, spent the week end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ed Jones.

Miss Patsy Ruth Mitchell of Spar came in last week to spend several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mitchell.

Mrs. Travis Martin and children of Seymour visited with Mrs. Martin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Reeves, over the week end.

Tech. Sgt. Bill Cerveny of Fort Sil, Okla., spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cerveny, and with other relatives.

ATTENDING MARKET

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Baker and son, Kenneth, left last Saturday for Kansas City, Mo., where they are attending market this week and purchasing merchandise for the Baker-McCarty store.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Pendleton returned home last Friday from Pueblo, Colo., where they visited their son, Lieut. Hal Pendleton, and his family for about a week.

J. O. McMahon, who is in naval training at Camp Wallace, Galveston, is here to spend a furlough with his parents and other relatives. He has just completed his boot training.

Lyndal Smith, who is attending Schreiner's Institute in Kerrville, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey L. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Morgan and Mrs. George Duvall of Lubbock visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Bowden over the week end.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Mary and I were just saying, Judge, how lucky we are here in America that we have so many natural resources to help win the war."

"That's right, Jim. When war broke out we had oil, we had steel, we had food, lumber, aluminum...practically everything we needed. There's one thing we didn't have...rubber. The enemy had that."

"But that didn't bother us for long. Soon American brains and industry had synthetic rubber by the tons rolling out of plants. That filled a critical need...you can't win a war without rubber."

"I was very much interested the other day in reading a statement made by a high government official on synthetic rubber. In it he said 'It is fair to regard the rubber manufactured to date as being almost solely the product of the beverage distilling industry.'"

"He also said that, in his estimation, the tremendous contribution of distillers' industrial alcohol to the synthetic rubber program had not received the recognition which it deserves."

"We certainly learned something today, didn't we Mary?"

Edwin J. Albus Serving With A. A. F. In Italy

Master Sgt. Edwin J. Albus, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Albus of Rhineland, veteran ground crew chief, has spent two years overseas serving Liberators with the 15th A. A. F. heavy bombardment group.

The Texas man is in charge of airplane mechanics and maintenance for one of the big B-24's currently bombing Nazi installations in Southern Germany, the Balkans, Northern Italy and Southern France.

Sgt. Albus is a member of one of the first U. S. Heavy Bombardment groups to be based in the Middle East, supporting the British 33rd army's drive against Rommel in the early days of the North African campaign. Later, from a base in the North African desert where he and his outfit operated for a year, one of the Liberators and his crew serviced participated in the publicized low-level attack on the Ploesti oil field. All members of this organization received a presidential citation for this mission.

Sgt. Albus, recalling the low-level bombing, says: "My top experience so far was the return of these planes—seeing the ships and hearing the stories of the combat crews coming back were things you remember."

Before enlisting in the air force at Sheppard Field in January, 1942, he attended Texas Aeronautical School, Fort Worth, and was employed by Consolidated Aircraft Corp., San Diego, Calif.

While attending Rhineland high school, graduating in 1937, he played on the softball, volley ball, track and baseball teams; he also studied at the Texas Aeronautical school.

Two P-T Boats To Be Launched Soon At New Orleans

New Orleans, La.—The two Motor Torpedo boats recently purchased by members of the Women's Reserve, U. S. Naval Reserve, through the allocation of their War Bond investment during the Fifth War Loan Drive, will be launched at New Orleans on the afternoon of July 30, 1944. The date of the second anniversary of the Women's Reserve has been chosen for the presentation of this $1,800,000 to the fighting fleet from the women of the shore establishments.

The double launching will take place in the shipyards of the Higgins Industries Incorporated. The sponsors will be two enlisted women who are on duty in the Eighth Naval District. They are Imogene Elliott, Yeoman First Class, USNR of 4939 Dryades Street, New Orleans, and Barbara Marie Gibson, Yeoman Second Class of Oakland, California. The two Maids of Honor, also stationed in the Eighth Naval District, will be Ruth N. Jeffrey, Storekeeper Second Class of Evansville, Indiana and Kathryn L. Dykes, Yeoman Second Class of Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

The selection of Yeoman Gibson of Oakland, California was made because the Twelfth Naval District made the leading contribution among all the Naval Districts with a total of $400,000.

The two PT Boats are Numbers 484 and 485. Each will be given a plaque bearing the following inscription: "This fighting ship is sponsored and made possible by the War Bond purchases of the members of the Women's Reserve of the U. S. Naval Reserve."

The anniversary presentation ceremony will be broadcast by a national network.

Maj. Paul Jones Is Seeing Italy

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jones have received recent letters from their son, Major Paul A. Jones, who is serving with the air forces in Italy, stating that he is well and getting along fine. In his last letter, Paul said he was now acting group executive officer, and having a time.

"I've visited Rome," he wrote, "and it is one of the most beautiful cities I have ever seen."

"The news is fine, huh? I surely would like to eat some of my mom's famous cooking. The food is good here, though, getting plenty to eat."

"Keep your chins up, and God will give us victory."

In another letter, dated June 27, Paul wrote: "Surely is beautiful here. Nice and cool and lots of sun... Wish you could see our trees—palms, fir, pine, magnolia. Flowers are really beautiful."

"Rode horseback the other day—really fun. It's been a long time since I was on a horse."

Major and Mrs. Chas. H. Giddings of Sioux City, Iowa, came in last Monday to visit Major Giddings' parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Giddings and to attend the memorial service for Sgt. Judson R. Giddings.
