Munday Boy In Celebration At Italy Air Base

15TH AAF IN ITALY—This veteran B-24 Liberator group staged a double-barreled anniversary celebration on August 1.

More than 500 enlisted men and officers, with the outfit since it left the states over two years ago, joined with "newcomers" in celebrating the second anniversary of their group's first mission and first anniversary of their participation in the low-level bombing attack upon the Ploesti oil fields a year ago.

The original men, who have been with this veteran B-24 Liberator group since its inception, have followed its progress through the Egyptian-Libyan, North African, Sicilian and Italian campaigns. Each member of this "Lib" outfit wears the distinguished unit badge, awarded for their organization's participation in the tree-top-high Ploesti mission and the Middle East campaign.

These veterans of overseas service vividly recall gruelling combat missions that lasted from 11 to 14 hours, when flown from bases in Palestine and Egypt to targets in Greece and Italy.

Crew chiefs, mechanics, ordnance men, cooks, clerks, telephone and teletype operators, parachute riggers, truck drivers, supply men—and all along down the line—are among these overseas veterans.

The Texas men are: Master Sgt. Edwin J. Albus of Munday, Sgt. Paul J. Barker, Sulphur Bluff; Sgt. Stephen L. Hourigan, Balmorhea; Sgt. Melvin Osier, Jr., Fort Worth; Cpl. William J. Barnes, Victoria, and Cpl. William Laffler, El Paso.

Club Boys Show Big Increase In Bonita Yields

Thirty-eight 4-H Club members of Knox county who introduced the new variety of grain sorghum "Bonita" into Knox county in 1943 have been given the credit of having increased the grain sorghum yields in the county by over one million pounds in 1944 in spite of extreme drought.

Outstanding instances of comparative yields on the O. L. Patterson farm showed an increase of 500 pounds per acre, and on the Earl Watson farm an increase of 490 pounds per acre. The comparison in yield was made with other standard varieties of combine sorghums such as Plainsman and Caprock.

Joe Ed Sweatt and Charles Hardin, 4-H Club members, of the Sunset community, have developed a demonstration in which they tell and illustrate the important facts of grain sorghum production by the selection of proper planting dates according to the thirty year average rainfall chart for Knox county. The data used in constructing the rainfall chart was secured from Mr. H. P. Hill, of Munday, who has been keeping the rainfall record since before 1914.

The most important fact as determined by the rainfall chart is that the peak rainfall period for the year occurs during the month of May and during the month of September. The planting date is selected so that the extreme dry period of year, July and August, will not occur when the grain sorghums are in the booting or critical stage of development.

The most satisfactory dates of planting in Knox county are April 15th and June 15th. May planting dates are usually very unsatisfactory on account of the critical stage of development occurring in July during the low rainfall period of the growing season and when temperatures are high.

The rate of planting has also been found to be a very important factor by the 4-H Club boys. The rate of planting on the suckering or tillering types can be at a much lower rate per acre than the sparsely suckering types.

Demonstrations by Joe Ed Sweatt and Charles Hardin have been given at the District 4-H Club camp at Quannah; to the Lions Club at Knox City and to the annual 4-H Camp at Seymour, or a total of 320 individuals.

Melvin Strickland returned home last Monday from Amarillo, where he has been undergoing treatment in the veterans' hospital for several weeks.

They Cracked Hitler's Citadel

An important news event in Texas was the visit to the state recently of Maj. Gen. Fred L. Walker, who commanded Texas' fighting 36th division when it cracked Hitler's citadel of Europe at Salerno beach in Italy last September and became the first Allied force to invade Europe in World War II. On Gen. Walker's itinerary was a visit to Austin to call on Gov. Coke Stevenson. Above, Gen. Walker, right, and Lt. Col. H. Miller Ainsworth, left, of Luling, Texas, are pictured with the shell-torn Texas flag that the 36th carried into battle in Italy. The flag now hangs in the governor's office at the state capitol. Col. Ainsworth, well-known Texas officer who has served both in World Wars I and II, fought both in North Africa and in Italy. He now is assigned to the Southern Personnel Reassignment Center at Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio and Gen. Walker has been made head of the infantry school at Fort Benning, Ga. Gen. Walker was high in his praise of the 36th in his visit to Texas. He attributed its success to the division's spirit. "That spirit," he said "was there before we went across due to such men as Col. Ainsworth and it's still there."

At this Air Service Command station Cpl. Jones attended a series of lectures given by battle-wise veterans which included instructions on chemical warfare defense and pertinent tips on staying healthy in a combat theatre.

His next station will be one from which America's fighting planes cover our liberation of Occupied Europe.

Before entering the Army Air Forces, he was employed as a farmer in the Goree section.

Judging Tour Of 4-H Projects Made Saturday

The 4-H Club Livestock Judging Tour of Knox county, which took place on Saturday, August 26th, was very successful and educational, to all 4-H Club boys who are feeding Hereford steer calves, which will be exhibited at the Knox County Calf Show at Knox City in February 1945. The tour was for the purpose of acquainting each boy with each other boys activities in calf feeding, as to which one was doing the best job. At each stop boys were given score cards on which they scored each other boy as to his ability in handling, conditioning and the equipment used in his calf feeding demonstration. Parents of the boys were very cooperative in making the trip, and assisted in furnishing transportation for the boys. The results of the score as tabulated are as follows:

Olen and Anson Ray, Benjamin, first place, 98 points. Leroy Davis, Vera, second place, 94 points.

J. G. Pults, Benjamin, third place, 89 points.

Carroll and Stanley Glover, Benjamin, fourth place, 87 points. Jerrel Trainham, Vera, fifth place, 81 points.

Fred L. and Buddie Crenshaw, Benjamin, sixth, 77 points. Pat Hill, Munday, seventh, 74 points.

John C. McFerrin, Benjamin, eighth, 72 points.

Jeanette and Jerry Beck, Vera, ninth, 65 points.

Phillip Escobar, Benjamin, tenth, 56 points.

The Dads of each boy who made the trip were Wesley Trainham, Vera; Jim Pults, Benjamin; Clyde Davis, Vera; Freddie Crenshaw, Benjamin; Harry Beck, Vera; Pete Ray of Benjamin; and others making the tour who were interested in the calf feeding demonstration were Jack Idol, Benjamin; Tom West, Benjamin; R. O. Dunkle, county agent, Benjamin; and G. S. Dowell, vocational teacher, Munday.

Needed Rains Visit County During Week

People who have scanned the skies for many weeks, hoping for a rain to moisten the parched, dry earth and to break the heat wave, walked the streets of Munday light-heartedly this week.

The rains came, and plants took on added life, as the old dry earth of West Texas soaked in the welcomed moisture. First to reach Knox county was last Friday night, when nearly an inch fell in Munday. An inch was also reported at Benjamin, 63 at Knox City, and heavier precipitation in other parts of the county.

Wednesday morning, more rain came, and by Wednesday night even the frogs were heralding the moisture.

The rains are especially welcomed by farmers, who now see greater cotton yields, a good crop of late feeds, and their soil in excellent condition for sowing of fall pastures and small grain crops.

A total of 1.93 inches fell in Munday during the week, according to H. P. Hill, local U. S. weather observer. Munday had received 14.64 inches this year, as compared with 9.90 inches received during the same period last year.

Jimmy Lee Haney Home From Pacific

Haney, who has served 13 months overseas, is on a 12-day furlough. He visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Haney of Wichita Falls, prior to coming to Munday. Haney is well known here, having lived here many years before moving to Wichita Falls with his parents.

"What a Man Does For Himself Dies With Him—
What He Does For His Community Lives On and On"

A NEW INDUSTRY IS BORN

New industries are the inevitable aftermath of the tremendous human effort involved in modern war. After the last war it was the automobile. After this war, which has hinged on air power, it will be the airplane. The aviation industry, including commercial air transportation, has a future that literally staggers the imagination. The Administrator of Civil Aeronautics, Charles I. Stanton, predicts 300,000 civil aircraft three years after the war, and 500,000 by the end of the first postwar decade. He believes that there will be a need for double the existing 3,000 airports.

Even during the present war, the commercial air carriers have turned in a performance little short of miraculous. By nearly doubling the number of hours aloft for each aircraft, they were able with half the equipment to fly 15 percent more revenue passenger-miles in 1943 than in 1942, 31 percent more express pound-miles, and 70 percent more mail pound-miles. Yet stepped up service was not attained at the sacrifice of safety. Number of miles flown per fatal accident in domestic air carriers operations reached an all-time high of 46,560,835 in 1943, against 22,020,572 in 1942.

Coincident with the growth of the air carriers to the stature of a full fledged service industry, has risen the problem of regulation. As the close of war draws nearer and as further expansion of aviation impends, this problem becomes increasingly serious. There is danger that conflict between the states and the Federal government will hamper efficient airline service. An example of such conflict threatens in Colorado, which has under consideration a set of airline regulations which, if put in force, would contradict and overlap existing Federal laws, making airline operation through Colorado virtually impossible.

Unquestionably, regulation of the airlines must be unified. How it is to be done is the immediate concern of Congress. The fate of a vast new industry hangs in the balance.

DOCTOR SHORTAGE PAYS OFF

In the past, when great battles were fought, loss of life was multiplied tenfold because of lack of prompt and adequate medical care for the wounded. But in the present war the story has been different. Even yet the full account of the achievements of medicine on "D-Day" has not been impressed upon the country.

One correspondent reports that within forty-five minutes after the first troops landed on the shores of France, a medical unit was on the beachhead picking up casualties, while in the background a landing craft was being converted into an operating theatre. During the first day, twenty-two major operations were performed by this single unit. From dawn on "D-Day" until four o'clock in the afternoon, the unit remained on the beach. Blood plasma had been landed and transfusions made from mobile equipment.

Fifty thousand American doctors are in the armed forces. Everyone of them is a trained expert at the business of saving lives. At last those civilians who have had to linger in crowded waiting rooms to secure the attention of the overworked doctors on the home front, can see the reason for the inconvenience thrust upon them.

ALL IN DAY'S WORK

Small fires, no less than big fires, receive the prompt attention of the National Board of Fire Underwriters. Recent example was a number of fires in bowling alleys, which were not spectacular or noteworthy except for frequent repetitions all over the country. Thorough investigation showed that bowling alleys embodied certain common fire hazards. The National Board published a pamphlet discussing these hazards. Its findings indicated that smoking in the pin rooms is the most frequent cause of fires in bowling alleys, and suggested steps to remove the danger.

Such an incident is all in the day's work of fire prevention. Hereafter, people who visit bowling alleys will pursue their fun with greater safety and the property of such places of recreation will be a little less likely to go up in smoke. Similar efforts to reduce the menace of fire occur day after day. Through the years, hundreds of millions of dollars and countless thousands of lives have been saved. These efforts are rewarded with no medals. The fire prevention authorities would feel rewarded enough if the public was less careless where fire is concerned.

PEACE IN HANDS OF AMERICAN PEOPLE

With the end of the war in sight, people are beginning to think of the day when re-adjustment to peace can be made. Part of that readjustment must include a new conception of the United States in relation to the rest of the world. Hereafter, the problems of the world are our problems. If there is another war, we will be in it.

It is our responsibility to help lay the foundation of enduring peace by seeking to reestablish equal trading opportunity and free markets. Admittedly, this may take time, but failure means another world depression and another world war, in the opinion of J. B. Condliffe, Professor of Economics in the University of California, who declares that: "The whole case for expanding international trade is that there is gain, not loss, to the national economies participating in such trade. In the circumstances of the immediate postwar period it does not require much reflection to realize that not less but disaster, is threatened if the channels of trade cannot be reopened promptly. There is little chance of a relatively smooth conversion from war to peace economy unless this conversion can be carried out in an expanding system of international collaboration."

"In the successive emergencies of recent years so much stress has necessarily been laid upon the regulation of all sorts of prices... that the more important necessity of maintaining active and healthy markets has come to be forgotten. The foundation of prosperity is abundant production and free interchange, not nicely regulated equity."

"It is as unrealistic to consider national economic activity apart from its international repercussions as it is to draw a distinction today between the home front and the battle lines. The connection between domestic and international economic policy is so intimate that for many practical purposes they constitute a single entity."

The future is in the hands of the American people. If they will but inform themselves and act wisely upon the strength of their information, lasting peace is within reach. No other people have ever been blessed with such an opportunity—or obligation.

WILL IT RUN?

Every automobile owner in the country has had impressed upon him the importance of caring for his car as a valued asset. The cars keep the country going.

There are all kinds of cars in the nation's automobile population. One of the most important is the fire engine. Fire department officials should be mindful of the added responsibility placed upon them to do everything possible toward maintaining equipment in A-1 shape. This is especially true of pumps. There are few things more important than the maintenance of pumping equipment. The first consideration of every fire department should be a periodic checking up of every part of a pump. In normal times this might be a once or twice a year job, depending upon the amount of service, but today, with the delays in obtaining even small repair parts, it should be carried out more frequently. At least every three months connection should be made to a hydrant, and city water pressure applied to the pump and connections. Leaks should be repaired immediately.

Fire fighting equipment is like a life boat on a ship. If it is not ready for instant service, it is worse than useless. A burning building or a drowning man need help but once. If it is not at hand they'll never need it again.

The fire engine is the lifeboat of the community. It must be ready.

Speaking of postwar reserves and what they'll mean to our country's well-being when peace comes, a Chicago mail-order house had to return 55 million dollars to customers in the first six months of 1943, because the merchandise they ordered was no longer in stock or available.

SINCERITY

Sincerity and truth are the basis of every virtue.—Confucius.

Sincerity is the indispensable ground of all conscientiousness, and by consequence of all heartfelt religion.—Kant.

Sincerity is impossible unless it pervade the whole being, and the pretense of it saps the very foundation of character.—James Russell Lowell.

THRIFT IS A DUTY OF EVERY AMERICAN . . .

In this time of stress, each of us owes it to his country to be thrifty. We must conserve materials on the one hand so they will be available for defense purposes. We must conserve money, on the other hand, to help our country and to help ourselves in the post-war period.

By being thrifty, and by accumulating money in your bank account, you are contributing to your country's welfare, while at the same time helping yourself.

FARM HOMES IN THE POST WAR ERA

College Station—Half of all farm homes in the country are over 21 years of age, County Agricultural Agent Bill Coulson of Jones county told a civic club audience recently, describing some post war dreams he shares with rural people of the county. He added that 67 per cent of the farm homes have four rooms or less, and more than 50 per cent are valued at less than $1,000.

As well as being hopeful for great improvement in farm homes and farm home conveniences in the post war period, Mr. Coulson gave a description of them at present. Of farm homes with electricity, 90 per cent have radios, 82 per cent have irons, 55 per cent have refrigerators and 39 per cent have washing machines, he said.

A Want Ad in the Times Pays

Fixing Up the Farm
by BURTON WILLIAMS

Wire Straightener
SOME of the "scarce" items needed on farms are more plentiful now, but farmers still can't buy fencing, baling wire, and several other items just any day despite the increased production. The re-use of baling wire is still necessary in order to save metal needed for war production. To save and straighten bale wire ties, a simple device has been developed by the experts at Purdue

University. It consists of a small vise and a lever with a barn door hook screwed into it. These are mounted on opposite ends of a work bench or a 2x6 plank, 10 feet long. As shown in the illustration, the lever is hinged and is placed with the side holding the hook toward the vise. In order to straighten a piece of wire, simply hook the loop of wire over the hook on the lever and fasten the straight end of the wire in the vise. A slight pull on the lever then will straighten the wire so it can be used again. To prevent waste, when bales of hay or straw are opened, the wire should be untied instead of being cut.

Millions Trained For War Jobs

During the past four years, more than 13,300,000 men and women enrolled in organized training programs for war jobs, Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the War Manpower Commission reports. The training was provided by agencies cooperating with the WMC Bureau of Training. Of this vast group, the food production war training program, conducted through vocational agriculture schools had 3,035,566 enrollments. The engineering, science and management war training program, given in selected colleges, had 1,558,123 enrollments. The training within industry program enrolled 1,375,767 supervisors who, in turn, provided instruction for millions of war plant workers. The National Youth Administration, which is no longer in existence, provided training for 772,756 persons, during 1942 and 1943 fiscal years.

Veterans Learn of Rights, Benefits
Every veteran, upon being discharged, will receive a booklet entitled "Your Rights and Benefits, A Handy Guide For Veterans of The Armed Forces and Their Dependents." The booklet was prepared ed by the retraining and reemployment administration of the Office of War Mobilization. Nearly 2,500,000 copies of the booklet are now available. Veterans who have already been discharged will be able to obtain copies from Draft Boards, Office of Veterans Administration, USES or Community Veterans-Information Centers.

Now You Can Draw A Bead On 'Em
If you have a few moments to spare, you may begin to oil up the family flintlock. WPB has taken cognizance of the fact that animals and birds are causing widespread destruction to crops and livestock all over the country. The ban on the sale of ammunition to hunters will be removed temporarily in the near future. Available for nimrods will be 240 million rim fire cartridges, 8 million center fire cartridges and 130 million shotgun shells. Wolves, coyotes, foxes, weasels, wild ducks, crows and pheasants should not be told of this regulation. Happy hunting.

Lend-Lease Food Deliveries Drop
Meat, dairy and poultry products head the list of foods for the Allies, in the War Food Administration's report of July deliveries for shipment under Lend-Lease. These deliveries totaled 522,851,964 pounds compared with 658,116,418 pounds in June and 1,231,844,656 pounds in July of last year. Exactly 187,494,485 pounds of the July deliveries consisted of meat products, principally cured and frozen pork, canned meat and lard. More than 100,000,000 pounds consisted of dairy and poultry products, principally evaporated milk, cheese and dried eggs. Grain products totaled 80,984,580 pounds; fruits and vegetables, 38,537,436 pounds; fats and oils, 38,200,249 pounds; sugar, 34,319,947 pounds; cotton fiber, 10,967,056 pounds; tobacco, 938,429 pounds.

Cost of Living Remains Stable
The cost of living has risen six tenths of one per cent in retail prices of essential commodities, Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins reports. The figure is for the month ended July 15, most recent for which data are available. During the last year, Secretary Perkins added, average prices of family living essentials have risen 1.8 per cent, as compared with advances of

DETAILED to attack a French railway target and make trouble for the Nazi anti-invasion transport rush, this Goose Squadron Lancaster of Royal Canadian Air Force Bomber Group Overseas performed its mission successfully, though it sustained three night-fighter attacks. The first was by an Me-109 which broke off after firing a burst, disappeared. Next came an Me-109. It riddled the bomber stem to stern, blasted a hole four by six feet in a wing, ripped the flaps off. The Lancaster's gunners drilled bullets into the Nazi till it blew up in midair. Another 109 charged, spoiling for fight, withdrew after one exchange of fire. Above, three of the crew

6 per cent and 11 per cent in the years ended July 1943 and July 1942. Higher prices for fresh fruits and vegetables were noted. Prices for potatoes, sweet potatoes, spinach and onions were up in July, but there were large decreases for cabbage, lettuce, and green beans.

Go-To-School Campaign Progresses
More than 40 national organizations—educational, economic, social and civic—are supporting the campaign to get employed high school pupils back to the classrooms next month. In 30 states especially organized campaigns are under way.

Greatest stress is being placed on the importance of having a well-educated citizenry in the post-war era and the hundreds of thousands of high school boys and girls who have gone to work are being advised by veterans and others of the importance of preparing for the new era. In a joint statement, Katherine F. Lenrot, chief of Children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor, and John W. Studebaker, U. S. Commissioner of Education, said, "Throughout the campaign we are stressing the importance of developing well supervised school-and-work programs in those communities where the labor supply is tight and where the work of young people is both needed and desirable."

Hog Bristles Flown Over "Hump"
Most dangerous air route in the world, by General Admission, is the flight from India to China over the Himalayan mountains. This run, known as flying "The Hump," is used for hauling vital war cargoes to China. On the equally dangerous return flight, Chinese hog bristles make up part of the cargoes, the Foreign Economic Administration reports. American pigs are killed too young to have time to grow the long, strong bristles characteristic of Chinese pigs—in reality boars. These hog bristles from China are very important in the making of paint brushes for the Navy and U. S. Maritime Commission, as well as for brushes used in wool combing machines.

Anazacs Meet U. S. Men's Food Needs
Australia and New Zealand have supplied American forces in the Pacific Battle zone with 250,000,000 pounds of meat, 31,000,000 dozen eggs, 175,000,000 pounds of fresh fruit and vegetables, 27,000,000 pounds of butter and 55,000,000 pounds of sugar up to the beginning of this year, the Commonwealth Food Control announces.

New Ceiling Prices On Brides (QM)
New life has no more surprises—in Durban, South Africa, a man was able to get himself a wife by paying her dad $88 in hard cash plus seven cows. So what (QM.) So, into the Office of the Price Controller there appeared a man who protested that his prospective father-in-law had jacked up the price of $128 in hard cash. The F-I-L explained that increased cost of living made it necessary for him to boost his price. The controller allowed as how the problem was beyond his province. But, says Canada's War-time Information Board which reported the incident, it proves that even this primitive man could see the solid common sense and usefulness of price control.

Norwegian Laborers Under-nourished
The food ration for Norwegians working in Nazi Slave Labor camps is so small the workers must have food sent to them from their homes, the Swedish Newspaper Stockholms-Tidningen says in an article reported to OWI. Attempts to get Norwegians to sign up for "Harvest work" failed because all knew that meant working on military fortifications. Not one person signed up. Army Can Field 50,000 Ball Teams

The Army purchases annually enough baseball equipment to outfit 50,000 baseball teams and 100,000 softball teams; the Navy enough for more than 11,000 and 22,000 respectively. OWI reports. The Army and Navy buy up about 90 per cent of all sports and game equipment produced in the United States and, as a consequence, civilians can expect little or no increase for the present in the amount left over for their use. Last year the services bought sports and game paraphernalia, devoted to the use of enlisted men, costing $38,000,000. Even so, total new supplies represent approximately one baseball glove for every 17 men in the Army and for every 28 in the Navy.

Round-Up
WPB announces—the total value of farm machinery produced during July 1944 was $78,595,553, a figure which is 51.2 per cent higher than the monthly average during the 12 preceding months. Manufacturers of corn pickers and binders were urged to speed up their production during August and September so that corn growers will have this machinery for the fall harvesting season. American coal mining machinery sent to Britain is helping to raise the rate of production of "strip" coal from the current 10,000,000 tons a year to 18,000,000 or 20,000,000 tons. Lumber stocks at sawmills and concentration yards totalled 4,118,083,000 board feet at the end of the second quarter, 1944, the lowest figure since December 1941. Exactly 15,000 electric hair clippers will soon be made and the finished snippers will go to the Armed Services.

OPA summarizes—Chester Bowles, administrator, says, "each of us, each government agency, each industry, each labor union, each group of farmers—and each individual community—will have a share in this enormous (reconversion) task. Since April, 1943, when the hold-the-line program was issued, rents and retail prices for cost of living items have been generally stabilized—showing a rise of less than 2 per cent. I believe that full credit for cost-of-living stabilization must be shared with our farmers, workers and our industrial managers."

In three and one-half years, the University of Texas trained 1,400 fliers for Uncle Sam—with only one casualty: a cadet who cracked up his ship and lost four front teeth! During early stages of the pilot-training program at the University, it was for civilians; later it was a joint Army-Navy undertaking, and finally, for the past year and a half, it has been all-Navy.

Retail Stores Show Summer Gain

Austin—Retail stores showed the usual mid-summer slump from June to July, but the Texas concerns still sold 8.2 per cent more goods last month than in July of last year, a University of Texas Bureau of Business Research report shows.

Sales for the first seven months of 1944 were 12 per cent above those for the same period in 1943.

Two-thirds of the July sales were spot cash as Texans continued to say "cash" instead of "charge" in a steadily mounting number. Even collection of outstanding accounts was slightly better a year ago, amounting to 62.2 per cent compared to 61.3 per cent in July last year.

Gains over July a year ago in retail sales were shown in Austin 8.6 per cent, El Paso 12.5 per cent, Galveston 11.5 per cent, Houston 20.4 per cent, San Antonio 11.2 per cent, and Waco 8.1 per cent.

Slumps were chalked up in Dallas where sales fell 3.1 per cent, and Bryan where they dropped 12.9 per cent.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Yes, I'm afraid there's no denyin' it, Judge...jeeps and trucks and other kinds of motorized equipment have taken the place of the good old horse in modern warfare."
"It's true of lots of things in this war, Eben. Every day we hear of new tactics and requirements and new uses of products. For instance, take the alcohol that is used for war purposes. In World War I, this vitally needed product was used mostly in making smokeless powder, chemical warfare materials and medical supplies. Today it must do far more...it must provide the base for such indispensable products as synthetic rubber, shatterproof glass, lacquers, plastics and many other of our requirements so essential to victory."
"As a result hundreds of millions of gallons are required every year...half of which is being produced by the beverage distilling industry. Bet you didn't know that, Eben."
"As a matter of fact, I didn't, Judge. That's a mighty important war contribution that had escaped me completely."

Home-made Brooder

ELECTRIC brooders rapidly are proving their worth and gaining converts. They have been labor-savers on thousands of farms where every possible short-cut has had to be used.

With commercial equipment often difficult to obtain, many farmers are building their own. The drawing below shows one type of home-made brooder that is efficient, yet easy to build. It can be heated by reflector-type flood lamps, heat lamps or drying lamps. Even ordinary light bulbs give good service.

This flat brooder is insulated by three or four inches of litter piled on the top, which holds the heat under the hover, removes the problem of keeping the top clean, and adds floor space to the brooding unit. Asbestos cement board is a good material to use in building this type of brooder, because it comes in panels of a convenient size which are easy to handle, and it is extremely durable.

Rev. Sam Young, district superintendent of Stamford district, will preach at the Benjamin Methodist church at the eleven o'clock hour and hold the Fourth Quarterly Conference. A cordial invitation is extended to all to be present.

Our revival services will begin on Sunday, Sept. 17. Brother Hollowell of Spur will be with us. Earnestly pray to our Father that these special services may be of great good to our community. All people of all the churches and those of no church are invited to be in the services and take part in the effort to save souls.

J. P. Patterson, pastor.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Dr. William N. Sholl of Haskell preaches here each Sunday morning at 9:30 a. m.

Our church is located on the Main street of Munday and has an attractive auditorium with added Sunday school facilities. The Auxiliary meets on Mondays and is accomplishing a good work.

The crowd has no fear of an unarmed man, but let the same individual carry a gun, and the crowd avoids him like the plague.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The Haskell Missionary Baptist Association holds its annual session with our church next Tuesday, September the fifth. The program begins at ten o'clock and will continue through until five. There will be no night session. This church is supposed to furnish lunch, and each woman is asked to bring a well filled basket. There should be a good crowd for this meeting. You will enjoy the program. Rev. Walter Copeland is to preach the annual sermon at 11:30; Rev. C. A. Powell is to bring the closing message at 4:25 on Missions. All are cordially invited to attend.

We urge you to come to the services next Sunday. Don't ask someone else to take your place. The only substitution that we can find in the Bible is when Jesus took our place and died on the cross for our salvation. We can't serve the Lord by proxy. Come Sunday. Let's let the spirit of love and loyalty have the right of way in our lives.

W. H. Albertson.

LAKE CREEK CHURCH

The revival which started Monday night, August 21, closed on Sunday night with the following visitors from Haskell: John Anderson, P. D. Body, J. A. Bartley, and John McGuire.

The evangelist, Rev. W. T. Priddy, pastor of the East Side Baptist church of Haskell, brought to us a message of hope and encouragement each evening, closing with a fervent admonition to a greater loyalty to Christ.

Rev. J. R. Bateman of Munday, pastor of the Methodist churches of the Bomarton circuit, was one of the several out-of-community visitors during our revival. To our young friend, son of Rev. Priddy, who conducted the song services the last evenings of the revival, and Mrs. Vaughn, who played for us, may we say again: "Thank you, and may God bless you."

Chas. Sargent.

WORKING in metal boxes, computing devices aim guns with superhuman accuracy and make the fire power of the big bombers something that enemy fighter pilots do not particularly relish. The bullets feed into 50 caliber guns through the system shown in cutaway part of the drawing.

Labor Supply Thought Ample to Harvest Crops

College Station — The cotton fields were monopolizing the fluid labor of Texas in the third week of August. From August 14 to 19, inclusive, Extension migratory field assistants placed 4,235 pickers, with a grand total of 21,607 placements since harvesting began.

Picking is progressing all of the way from the Corpus Christi area to the Blackland region, with small beginnings in some northern counties. Despite shortages in scattered sections, C. Hahn, Extension farm labor supervisor, believed there was a sufficient supply of labor to get the job done. The primary problem visible was distribution, that is, getting pickers promptly to the areas where they were needed.

Cotton was opening in Collin, Dallas, Grayson, Hill, Kaufman and Red River counties. Hahn said that if the dry, hot weather continued in west Texas for the next two or three weeks the cotton in that area also would start opening. Meanwhile, limited picking had begun in the six north Texas counties.

Late reports to the state labor office showed that Kleberg county was more than half way through the cotton and peanut harvest, and Lavaca county would complete picking in another three weeks if the weather remained favorable. There was some demand for pickers in San Patricio county and in the river bottom region of Washington county.

There was a spotty demand for different types of labor elsewhere over the state. Plow hands and general farm workers were needed in Castro, Hansford, Hutchinson, Oldham, Parmer and Swisher counties. Bailey county had places for general farm workers and helpers in the sudan grass seed harvest, and Lynn county was seeking combine and truck hands.

While cotton picking forged ahead, the rice harvest in the upper coastal region was drawing closer. Cutting of early planted rice has been in progress for two weeks, but the big end of the job would not start until the first week in September. Hahn said, however, that through advanced planning assembling labor for harvesting the crop would be less difficult than last year.

NOVEL BAND MUSIC

College Station — A "kitchen band" entertaining at the recent Bell county rally of home demonstration club women and 4-H Club girls is reported to have brought down the house. Instruments include two combs, and egg beater, a wash board, a couple of pot lids, and a preserving kettle. The drummer, Mrs. Frank Smith, wielded two spoons on an inverted saucepan.

Stevens, Gene Lockhart or James Brown. The shining characters portrayed by all the players, in fact, are all such warm and human figures as to make the entire cast grateful for the opportunity to play them on the screen.

The story is the simple saga of a young priest dispatched to a small parish to take charge of activities and establish it on a sound financial basis. Bing, as Father "Chuck" O'Malley, finds it difficult at first to put any of his measures into practice. Rather, he poses as assistant to Fitzgerald and unobtrusively injects his methods without drawing the suspicion of the lovable Father. Self-effacing, Bing takes orders, cajoles Fitzgerald, bows to the older man's whims but still manages to organize such an unheard-of thing as a boys' choir, settle a lover's quarrel, placate the bank president who holds the parish mortgage and sell a song to raise money for a new building.

Compassionate scenes lend a warmth and tenderness to the production which is only possible because the experiences related therein are born of realism. The incidents might have happened in one's own community. And for the enactment of these scenes, the Robert Mitchell boys' choir is on hand to join their voices with Bing's and

Rise Stevens' rendering the immortal "Ave Maria," "Adeste Fideles," "Too-ra-loo-ra-loo-ral," the famous Chauncey Alcott melody, "Going My Way," hit title tune from the film written by Johnny Burke and Jimmy van Heusen, who also composed two other song sensations for the picture, "The Day After Tomorrow" and "Swinging on a Star."

There's plenty, plenty of fun in "Going My Way," too. The effervescent McHugh is in evidence much of the time with a fancy greeting to Bing every time he sees him. The two priests went to St. Louis high school together and they continually break out in their school chant. Bing, dapper in a straw hat, gets sprinkled by a city water truck in one sequence and that little incident brings on some heavy chuckles, also, according to grapevine reports. But some are saying that the golf scene tops them all. We'll have to wait and see which gets the cake.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

The following article was submitted to The Times for publication:

IN SYMPATHY TO THE WAR PARENTS

To all parents who have given all, even to the last son, to help save and keep what men have fought and died for—freedom of loving and worshiping God in the good old U. S. A.:

Think of George Washington. Could we but have the magic power to raise him from the grave, he'd whip the Japs and Germans, too, and keep our nation saved. He was a mighty man. He was from a family brave; at the head of army, our country he did save.

He suffered at Valley Forge, glorified at Yorktown. He made America free for you and me, where rich and poor can be free; the land for which our soldiers fight for our freedom and rights.

Yes, there are those who sleep on distant soil, who shall never know the good old U. S. A.; still some men and boys love to stay at home and have and eat their cake, too, while our boys are fighting to save what they died for.

Yes, there are rooms in homes all over the U. S. A., just waiting to welcome them home some day. But, alas, what heartaches and sadness we have when their beds shall never be slept in by our babies of a few years back. Yes, he's gone from home, yet we mothers know it's not in vain. He gave his all, as men have done through all the ages, yesterday and tomorrow.

Remember the unknown grave at Arlington. When the graves open at the sound of God's voice, his God and mother shall know him. Sleep on, dear boy, we are dying, too, to save and to keep what you died for, the good old U. S. A. Yes, there are some who don't like to walk and shoulder the pack, but watch what they say when you boys get back. You may be in the foxholes now, but it's a long lane that never turns. So cheer up, come on down with all you've got. Hitler's eggs or Japs dirty tricks can't stop a true blue U. S. A. boy.

So hoist our flag on every inch of ground you take. Let them know they started it and now you can end it by waving Old Glory high in honor of our dead and gone comrades of all ages. Remember the Alamo and freedom of speech, not black bread to eat.

Runnels County Shows Bonita To Be Drought Resistant

Seed sales of "Bonita" by Joe Ed Sweat, 4-H Club member of Sunset, to other counties in Texas is making something of a record in Runnels county this year as a drought-resisting feed, according to County Agent J. A. Barton.

Sixty adults and thirty 4-H Club boys planted a demonstration of an acre or two up to fifteen acres each. Early reports indicate that the crop is standing up well under extreme dry weather.

Cecil Patton, the first to report, obtained a yield of 1200 pounds an acre combined, compared with 600 from his regular combine Martin maize. Louis Loika of the Bethel community states that his Bonita planted almost simultaneously alongside a field of hegari, will yield more than double the number of bundles expected from the hegari and a corresponding excess in grain production.

GOOD NEIGHBOR PROGRAM

College Station — Planning to reach every home in the community with assistance of some kind, Mrs. R. A. Smith, good neighbor chairman, recently displayed a map of the Clark Orchard neighborhood at a home demonstration club meeting. The location of every home in the neighborhood was indicated on the map.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam A. Roberts of Haskell visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Roberts over the week end.

Mrs. Aaron Edgar returned home Sunday from a week's visit with relatives and friends in Quannah and Memphis.

Service Flag Has Star In Honor Of Ralph Tidwell

Stephenville—At John Tarleton Agricultural College there is a service flag containing 67 gold stars, symbolic of the known fatal casualties among the more than 3,000 former Tarleton students now in the armed forces. One of these stars was placed there in memory of Pvt. Ralph Tidwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Buck Tidwell of Munday, who was killed in action.

Since a majority of all boys who have attended John Tarleton since the last world war had maintained their Reserve Commissions, they were numbered among the earliest to be called to active duty. Outstanding heroes among these boys are many. Perhaps the most illustrious and widely known was late Lt. Col. Edwin Dyess of Albany, hero of Bataan and who later escaped from a Japanese prison camp to give the world its first authentic news of Japanese prison camp conditions.

Pvt. Tom Browning of Camp Wolters visited relatives here over the week end. His wife and children accompanied him back to Mineral Wells.

Miss Quintna Wiggins left last week for Sundown to complete her year's home economics work in the Sundown schools before entering college at Denton for the school year.

Sgt. Howard Collins, who is stationed at La Janta, Colo., came in the latter part of last week to spend a few days with his wife and with his mother, Mrs. Ora Collins.

Louis A. Parker Expresses Thanks

To The Voters Of Precinct Two:

I deeply appreciate your splendid vote and support in both the democratic primaries, and I am truly grateful for you having elected me as your commissioner.

My purpose is to serve you in every way possible and to work for the betterment of our county and precinct. To this end I ask your cooperation during the time I serve as your commissioner.

Sincerely,
LOUIS A. PARKER.

POST WAR ON THE FARM COMES LATER And It Calls For Action Now

You hear a great deal these days about post-war planning. That's a fine thing, and mighty important, too. It will mean a speedy change-over from making things for war to making things for peace. But for us farmers and ranchers "post-war" comes later than for anyone else.

Our job will be to help feed the whole world for several years after victory. The demand for American foodstuff will remain great. This means we must keep busy now and plan for immediate action. Our farm buildings must be kept in tip-top condition and additional ones added, now.

BUILD NOW

The government is permitting new construction of barns, bins, silos, poultry houses, and all other kinds of essential structures for ranches and farms.

You can't find a better place to get materials and good, practical suggestions for farm construction work than at Wm. Cameron & Company. Besides supplying all the materials you need, they also give you complete, easy-to-use plans absolutely free.

IMPROVE NOW

The best place to invest ranch and farm profits, next to U. S. War Bonds, is right back in the business. Improve buildings, repair fences, strengthen foundations and put on good roofs.

Present increased production calls for a number of new structures such as brooders, poultry houses, utility buildings, feeders, etc. At Cameron's you will find these items already made, waiting to be loaded on your truck. Every time you're in town, visit Cameron's.

PRESERVE NOW

The value of paint on farm buildings can't be reckoned in the nice appearance, and air of prosperity it gives the place. Good paint, such as Minnesota brand, penetrates the surface, seals the pores and adds years of life to the buildings. Minnesota Standard Red Barn Paint has been a favorite on American farms for over 70 years. On your implements, tractor, and equipment use Minnesota Implement Paint. A gallon or two will paint every implement on the average farm.

Hundreds of Lone Star fighting men are coming home to Texas. By plane and train, on stretchers or crutches, they arrive daily at the army's great McCloskey General Hospital at Temple. They are the heroic wounded, the boys who know the true meaning of sacrifice in this war.

With Capt. F. J. Moss, McCloskey's affable and capable public relations officer, the writer of this column visited the hospital and spent hours chatting with the boys about their parts in the fighting. And don't get the idea that these returned, wounded veterans are spending their time in the hospital griping or feeling sorry for themselves. There's not a cry in a car-load!

As a matter of fact, there probably is no more cheerful group of men in Uncle Sam's army. With fingers off, feet and hands off, and other terrible wounds, the lads in McCloskey face the future with a smile and a wise-crack and the painful present with a type of courage that is an inspiration to everyone who visits them.

There are two miraculous facts that you will discover if you visit this great army establishment, where wounded men are given new health and new hope. The first is the cheerful courage of the men, themselves. The second is the consideration and skill of the officers and men who administer to them.

As we walked through the long wards, Captain Moss waved and quipped at the boys, calling almost every lad by name. And the patients quipped back, their smiles showing plainly the friendship and confidence that exists between the wounded veterans and the officers and men of the hospital staff.

We talked with many of the patients. Corporal Leland Grohman of San Antonio told of heavy fighting in Italy, but forgot his own troubles to praise the home-folks who sent USO-Camp Shows across to entertain the boys.

We met Sgt. Charlie Rummell of Waco, who spent months in a Nazi prison camp after losing his legs from machine gun wounds. Charlie talked about the National War Fund, too, telling how sports equipment, books and other anti-boredom materials sent over by War Prisoners Aid helped the captured men fight off "barbed wire sickness."

And Lt. Marjorie Gray of Killeen, who served through 77 days under constant shell fire at Anzio, before being sent home to recuperate at McCloskey. The petite nurse told of the black day when the Germans bombed the hospital, killing scores of patients, doctors and nurses and wounding many more. She was close by when Lt. Helen McCullough, who wears the Purple Heart, was released from McCloskey Hospital last week, well again.

Here's a note to mothers, wives and sweethearts of the wounded lads at McCloskey—a note that many ease their worries about the boys:

Don't worry about them! They are being cared for better than any soldiers ever were cared for before. They are cheerful, happy and confident of the future.

They are getting the best medical and surgical attention that can be had. And, best of all, they are loved and lovingly cared for by the officers, nurses and men who staff this great army healing unit. There is nothing impersonal about the way McCloskey Hospital takes care of its boys. Every patient is a personal responsibility of those who staff the great institution, and nothing is left undone to return them to health, happiness and usefulness.

It's hard to tell which to admire most, when one visits McCloskey—the heroic wounded veterans or the human, capable and kind men and women who care for them so well. But one thing is certain: thanks to the skill and patience of the McCloskey medics, thousands of men who might have died or been helpless cripples for life will return to their homes happy, healthy and useful citizens of the Lone Star State.

THE FEED SITUATION

From all indications the feed situation will be about the same as last year according to Emmett Partridge, chairman of the Knox county U. S. D. A. War Board. Although the hog crop this year is considerably smaller than last year, it is still the third largest in history, he stated.

The cattle on farms and ranches are at an all time high and it is not expected that there will be a reduction in these. It is also expected that there will be an all time high record of chickens by the first of 1945.

Mr. Partridge stated that the protein feed situation over the nation looks to be about the same as last year. It is believed though that a decrease will occur on protein feed in Knox county due to the short cotton crop and the smaller amount of acres.

With the above in mind livestock men should sow as much small grain as possible in order to offset the protein feed shortage.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin—Mental disorders today represent a real problem, declares Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, and it is estimated that more than fifty per cent of all hospital beds are filled by persons suffering from mental or nervous diseases.

It thus appears that modern civilization is exacting a terrific toll. High speed living, with its cruel exactions upon nature, is responsible for a large part of the trouble. But improper personal conduct must also shoulder much of the blame. The fact is that nearly fifty per cent of the patients entering hospitals for mental disorders are there because of organic or toxic causes.

For example, general paralysis is the direct cause of one-fifth of the mental troubles in males entering hospitals and one-tenth of the disorders for all groups. This condition is an organic disease of the brain and in fact is one of the late stages of syphilis. It is a preventable disease. Early and effective treatment of acquired syphilis will block the end results of general paralysis in the insane.

Dr. Cox said that excesses and syphilis combined are responsible for approximately one-fifth of the hospitalized insanities. Nevertheless, improper living habits continue to impair many brains. Insufficient sleep, neglect of bodily care, and a consistent over forcing of nervous energy are the pitfalls to avoid in this connection.

"Nature demands that her fundamental laws be at least reasonably observed. A constant outraging of the physiological economy takes its toll not only in bodies but in minds also. Insanities and lesser nervous disorders could be spectacularly reduced if this fact were more generally respected. Training for mental health must be started in childhood as that is the time when corrections can be made to the best advantage."

Mrs. Elmo Anderson is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Busison of Munday, for a few days prior to returning to North Texas State Teachers College at Denton for the fall term.
