Munday Boy Is In Italy Fight, 351st Regiment

With the Fifth Army, Italy.—Pvt. Leon P. Colvin of Munday, a scout, is serving with the 351st Regiment in Italy, one of General Mark Clark's Fifth Army units that helped to drive the Germans from the Garigliano River to the Arno. Except for a brief rest period, the regiment marched and fought almost continuously for more than five months.

Part of the 88th Infantry Division, the first selective service infantry division to come overseas in World War II, the 351st was the first element of that division to enter combat. After two months of aggressive patrolling in the Minturno sector, the regiment participated in the smashing Fifth Army drive beginning May 11th. Three days later the regiment stormed into Santa Maria Infante, a key enemy bastion. Over rugged mountains and across broad valleys, the 351st pushed forward and helped to liberate Rome.

Soon after the city's fall, the regiment was given a well-earned rest. Three weeks later, however, the driving 351st was again slashing enemy lines and backing the defeated Germans to the north. At times the infantryman had to move rapidly to keep up with the fleeing enemy. In other instances important points were captured only after bitter house-to-house fighting.

In addition to being the division's first regiment to enter combat, the 351st was its first regiment to arrive overseas, first to arrive in Italy, first to earn a Distinguished Service Cross, and first to receive a battlefield promotion.

Benjamin Boy Cited For "Job" That's Well Done

A recent citation for Sgt. William F. Headrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Headrick of Benjamin and former Munday resident, was received recently by his parents.

Headrick is serving in the Pacific area, and his mother recently received his service records, including the combat badge and service stripes.

"Fred," as he is known to his friends, is a very quiet, unassuming lad, and was just recently promoted to the rank of sergeant. His parents are very proud of his promotion and the part he is taking in the fight for America.

His entire company was cited for their part in action, in the following message received by Headrick's mother:

"Please express to the officers and men of the task force my admiration for the splendid conduct of the campaign east of Aitape. The operations were planned with great skill, were executed with great determination and courage and were crowned with great success. It gives me great pleasure to transmit this message and wish to add my own congratulations for a difficult job well done. Signed, Krueger."

Colored School Begins October 16

Much credit is due the pastor for the splendid work of remodeling the church, making it a suitable place for both church and school work. Meadows invites the cooperation of all white and colored people in helping to have a successful school year.

The colored school will be taught by Mrs. Mable Wellington again this year.

CHILDREN OF FRANCE

These two little tots of Caen, too young to know what it is all about, wave a welcome to the liberating forces as Canadians move into this important key city on the road to Paris.

THE invasion marked another step in Canada's nationhood. For the first time Canadian men in the three services were assigned definite objectives and treated as separate units within the invasion forces, and Canadians took part in every phase of the operations: Units of the Canadian Third Division under the command of Major-General R. P. L. Keller landed in the first assault wave on the Normandy beach; Canadian airborne troops were among the first dropped on French soil; Royal Canadian Air Force squadrons bombed key points and gave protection to land and sea forces throughout the invasion; ships of the Royal Canadian Navy joined in the bombardment of coastal fortifications and the ferrying of allied troops to France. Canada's pride that its troops were in the vanguard of the allied forces in Normandy was deepened by two particular factors—the sense of kinship which more than 3,000,000 French-speaking Canadians still feel with France and the feeling that Dieppe was being avenged.

170,850 Persons On Rolls For Old Age Pensions

Austin—Old Age Assistance totaling $3,688,278.50 is being paid in September to 170,850 aged persons in an average grant of $21.59. This compares with an average grant of $21.62 and rolls of 171,991 in August. Payments are $1.25 below the authorized grant.

Blind aid is being paid to 4,611 persons in an average grant of $24.09, totaling $111,057. This is a net loss of six persons from the August rolls and a decrease of 5c in the average grant.

Aid to Dependent Children totaling $223,170 is being paid to 10,677 families with 23,255 children in an average grant of $20.90.

Louis Cartwright Is Chief of Police

Members of the City Council of Munday announced Thursday morning that Louis Cartwright, former sheriff of Knox county, has been appointed chief of police at Munday and will begin his duties next Saturday.

Of chief concern to local officials is the disregard for traffic and parking regulations in Munday, and citizens are warned that these regulations will be enforced in the future.

"It is not our aim to get 'rough' with the people and work hardships on them in the way of fines," C. R. Elliott, mayor, said, "but steps must be taken to correct continued violations of traffic regulations and other city ordinances."

Mr. Cartwright asks the full cooperation of all citizens in his new duties.

Interest Shown In Salvage Of All Wastepaper

The American Legion committee in charge of the waste paper salvage drive for Munday and trade area reports good interest being shown upon the part of local citizens.

Waste paper is needed for the war effort, since it can be used in making many materials of war, and the paper shortage is very acute at this time. All citizens are urged to begin saving their waste papers, tie them up in convenient bundles and hold them until "Waste Paper Salvage Week."

Those in charge say they do not want the waste paper until the designated date, because of the fire hazard created by storing it in various places. A suitable storage place has not yet been obtained.

The week of September 25 to 29 has been designated as "Waste Paper Salvage Week," and you will be notified when to bring in your papers. Do not bring them in before Monday, September 25. An army truck from Camp Barkeley will be here on Friday, September 29, to pick up all waste papers salvaged here.

The Legion committee composed of R. D. Atkinson, Jim Reeves and J. L. Brasher.

NOTICE TO CAR OWNERS!

The Knox County War Price and Rationing Board wishes to urge every automobile owner in the county to mail in applications for the new "A" books immediately and be sure they keep the "Mileage Rationing Record" which are received with the "A" coupons. These must be presented each time application is made for gasoline.

Truck and pick-up owners for the fourth quarter gasoline allotments, are also urged to make applications by mail. This lightens the work load in the office and gives you better service.

New Market Fixtures Added At Atkeison's

Ample Meat Storage At Local Store

R. D. Atkeison, owner of Atkeison's Food Store, this week completed the job of moving fixtures of the Palace Market into his building, adding more space and storage to Atkeison's market.

Mr. Atkeison purchased the fixtures and equipment of Palace Market some time ago, but has just completed adding this to his market.

Both meat display cases have been conveniently placed in the market, so customers can make their selections easily. The addition of the extra display gives the Atkeison market a total of 26 feet of display space.

Mr. Atkeison has also constructed a meat chilling and storage vault in the Bauman building, occupied by the Atkeison's Produce. There all freshly butchered meats are hung and quickly chilled, and meats can be stored there until needed in the market. This vault is 12x14 feet, affording ample space to store enough meats to meet the needs of the store's customers at any time.

Home killed meats are featured, being placed in the vault for chilling, and Mr. Atkeison stated he can now store enough beef and pork to care for all size orders, and at any time. This addition makes Atkeison's one of the most complete markets in this section.

Blue Tokens To Become Invalid On Sept. 30th

Housewives were reminded today by J. W. Melton, chairman of Knox County War Price and Rationing Board, that if they do not want to lose the point value of their blue tokens they should use them before September 17, because after that date through September 30, blue tokens will be accepted by the grocer only in groups of ten.

He pointed out that the use of 1-point blue tokens in the processed food rationing program will be discontinued on that date, because of the removal of practically all canned and bottled vegetables from rationing effective on September 17. After September 16, points will still be required for canned fruits, canned juices, canned tomatoes and chili sauce, he said.

Mr. Melton said the following points should be kept in mind by consumers in making use of the blue tokens they have on hand:

1. Consumers may use their blue tokens just as they have always used them, until September 17.
2. Beginning September 17, retailers will not give blue tokens to consumers for ration change.
3. From September 17 through September 30, shoppers will be able to spend their blue tokens only in groups of ten. If necessary, during this period, they may pool tokens to make up units of ten. Fewer than ten tokens cannot be used.
4. Housewives should be sure to use all their blue tokens by September 30, because after that date they cannot use them.

The chairman explained that the tokens grocers receive from consumers may be deposited in ration bank accounts during the period of October 1 to October 9. Where less than 250 are deposited they should be in sealed envelopes with the number marked on the outside. The retailer without a ration bank account may exchange less than 250 tokens at his War Price and Rationing Board for other forms of ration currency.

WHERE JOBS COME FROM

The job producing possibilities of foreign trade and a larger merchant marine are not as yet fully understood by the people of the United States. For example, many of our most important employing industries export from 10 to 50 per cent of their production.

Robert H. Patchin, vice-president, W. R. Grace & Company, gives figures which are of interest to workers everywhere. They show that automobile exports accounted for 1 2-3 months of the total annual employment in that industry; for two months employment in agricultural implements and machinery; 3 1-3 months in the tractor industry; 4 1-3 months in the power-driven machinery industry; 1 1-2 months in the printing and bookbinding industry. These examples are typical of many others.

"The United States cannot produce all the things it needs. Nor can it consume all the things it must grow and make in order to provide a high level of employment. Exports and imports are bound to assume a larger importance to the national welfare in terms of employment—jobs," said Mr. Patchin.

"But the jobs are not merely those in field or factory. Every item of export and import trade requires an infinite variety of labor and service before, during and after the article takes form. For this reason, no satisfactory enumeration is possible of the amount of employment in manhours or the number of jobs for which our foreign trade is responsible. Many agricultural products enter into manufactured exports, but are not credited to agriculture in export statistics. Vastly more corn is exported in the form of lard and pork than in grain.

"American exports create employment from the time a hoe is struck in the ground, or a ton of iron ore is taken from the earth, until loaded aboard ship and delivered in a foreign market. And this is true of imports as well as exports. For an imported article, from the time it is landed on the dock, creates labor. Those planning jobs for returning soldiers and sailors, and workers released from war industries, should realize that foreign trade is vital to domestic prosperity."

It is well for our citizens who may live and work and produce a thousand or more miles from our seaports, and who have never seen the ocean, to realize that their jobs or their businesses may well depend on our future foreign trade. It therefore behooves all of us to take an interest in the development of sound foreign trade relations.

AMERICAN ENTERPRISE SCORES AGAIN

After two years of research, the announcement is now made that the oil industry is ready to produce at the command of the military forces, a new super-fuel for aviation so much more powerful than 100-octane gasoline that it will permit maximum bombing of the Japanese mainland on a "suburban service schedule." While the chemical details of the new product are withheld, the Petroleum War Council has disclosed that fuel, called "100-octane plus," is expected to surpass all other gasolines in the world in volatility and consequent performance.

William R. Boyd, Jr., chairman of the Council, said that the product was designed to "draw from the lethal B-29 Superfortresses and the futuristic B-32 bombers and the most modern fighter escort planes, their originally intended maximums in sustained speed, short take-offs, combat radius and load-carrying capabilities."

It should be stated that this is just another accomplishment of private enterprise in the United States which again surpasses anything the dictators and their totalitarian governments have ever accomplished.

UNLIMITED ENERGY

Many advances have been made in coal mining, America's No. 1 source of energy and power, just as in other industries. The work in the mines has been constantly lightened, as the wages of miners have increased until they are now reported better than the average wage of industry as a whole.

Ninety per cent of all bituminous coal production from underground workings is electrically cut and transported, and over half of all coal is loaded by mechanical tools.

Despite manpower shortages, America's bituminous coal industry is supplying an all-time record volume of coal, and that is another record the nation can be proud of.

CONGRESS THE GUARDIAN NOW

The centralization of government in Washington has grown to such an extent that Federal agencies now brazenly reach out to limit more and more the rights of the various states to regulate business within their boundaries.

Following an attack by the Department of Justice, fire insurance has now been held to be interstate commerce and subject to Federal regulation under the anti-trust laws. It has heretofore been regulated by each of the 48 states, in accordance with the laws and conditions applicable to each state.

Justice Jackson, in criticizing this new interpretation, said: "I have little doubt that if the present trend continues, Federal regulation will eventually supersede that of the states."

The insurance industry is in utter confusion. State regulatory agencies do not know where they stand. To remedy the situation, the House of Representatives in Congress, by a vote of almost 5 1-2 to 1, approved a bill that not only renders inapplicable the Federal anti-trust laws to insurance, but clearly indicates that as a policy, the House favors preservation of state regulation wholly free of Federal interference. The bill will now have to go before the Senate.

That Justice Jackson's fears are well justified, is shown by the latest move of the anti-trust division of the Department of Justice which plans to attack the railroads under the anti-trust laws. The procedures which the department claims are violations of the Sherman anti-trust act, for the most part have been in effect for many years. Some of them are necessary in order to comply with the provisions of the Interstate Commerce Act.

Virtually every important act of a railroad is already subject to the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission and regulatory commissions of the various states. But centralized government is reaching out for more authority which at every turn limits or destroys state and individual rights. Never before did the preservation of individual and states' rights depend so completely on the protection of Congress.

VOLUNTARY HEALTH PROGRAMS INCREASING

It is probably safe to say that no country in the world is developing group health insurance plans as rapidly as the United States. This form of security for individuals and families is being aggressively promoted by the principal underwriters.

Studies indicate, according to the Nation's Business, that employers may obtain complete health coverage for all workers and families (without medical examinations) at from 1 1-2 to 2 cents per payroll-hour—the cost being generally shared half by the employer and half by the employee.

Group health insurance, including doctors, hospitals, operations, accidents and maternity, present potential new business of $500,000,000 in annual premiums. With this amount of business involved, it is safe to say that American ingenuity and enterprise will work out the finest and most economical health insurance measures the world has ever seen.

Polls show that workers prefer employer-sponsored plans to compulsory Federal programs under social security. And why shouldn't they? When plans remain voluntary, the worker retains his independence and his choice of systems. When they become compulsory under government domination, the worker loses his independence and takes what he is told to.

The story is told that an Italian prisoner of war working on a peanut farm in the South recently told the owner that Mussolini had told the Italians that they would soon be marching across the plains of the United States. "What he didn't tell us," the prisoner said, "was that we'd have to pick up peanuts on the way."—Tyler (Texas) Journal.

A Want Ad in the Times Pays

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

by BOYCE HOUSE

A Texas soldier in North Africa, addressing his fellow Texans, said: "Our job here is to promote good neighborliness. We've got to be friendly with the natives. If they say Africa is bigger than Texas, agree with them."

Late in 1943, a Texas commentator predicted that it would take five more years to finish the war: "One year to whip the Germans; one year to whip the Japs, and three years to get the danyankees out of Texas."

The recruit from the North was sweating at his first experience with the heat of a Texas summer. He remarked to an old Texan who was standing nearby: "I'll sure be glad to get back to Michigan." The other replied: "I reckon a man has to be born and raised here to stand the weather." The Michigander exclaimed: "What! You mean to tell me that folks live here when there ain't no war!"

The above are stories from the newest book about our State, entitled "I Give You Texas," published by the Naylor Company, San Antonio, and it weighs under 8 ounces, so it can be mailed to men in the service overseas without a request. The author? Your columnist.

Folks have been mighty kind to my other book, "I Give You Texas," 500 jokes of the Lone Star State. 10 editions, over 60,000 copies in less than a year. And I kept on thinking of more Texas jokes that weren't in it, and the war, politics, oil and folks just kept producing new ones. The result: "I Give You Texas."

The new book has a lot of the old-time jokes, the ones we've heard since childhood but never get tired of:

Recipe for making coffee in West Texas: After it boils, throw in an iron wedge and if the wedge sinks, add more coffee.

The one about the man who, seeing that he was about to be overtaken by a blue northern, put spurs to the thoroughbred he was riding and tried to outrace it. When he reached the barn and dismounted, he found the horse's forequarters in a heavy lather and its hindquarters frozen. Of course, pneumonia developed and proved fatal to the animal.

And if you don't know what an Amarillo kite is, "I Give You Texas" tells you. An Amarillo kite is an iron shutter with a log chain for a tail.

Women to help design the radio equipment for Uncle Sam's Army Air Forces are being trained in classes at the University of Texas. The first class of 65 aircraft radio technicians will leave the University in mid-September to work at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, while a new class of 65 will start their 26-week pay-while-studying course about the same time. Trainees earn $145 a month while in training, and more when "on the job" at Wright Field.

THRIFT IS A DUTY OF EVERY AMERICAN . . .

In this time of stress, each of us owes it to his country to be thrifty. We must conserve materials on the one hand so they will be available for defense purposes. We must conserve money, on the other hand, to help our country and to help ourselves in the post-war period.

By being thrifty, and by accumulating money in your bank account, you are contributing to your country's welfare, while at the same time helping yourself.

TOWN and FARM in WARTIME

Prepared by OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION

Blue Tokens, Farewell

If you've got some blue tokens in your purse, better use them now, because after September 30 they will be good only for the kids to play with. Until next Sunday, the Office of Price Administration says, you can use them just as you always have used them. Beginning Sunday, September 17, retailers will cease giving blue tokens to consumers as ration change, and shoppers will be able to spend them only in groups of 10. If necessary, shoppers may pool tokens to make up groups of 10. Removal of practically all canned and bottled vegetables and fruit spreads and specialties from rationing September 17 makes use of blue tokens unnecessary. Beginning September 17 point values on canned fruits, canned juices, canned tomatoes, catsup and chili sauce will be designated in multiples of 10.

Those Tire Inspection Records

Keep those tire inspection records until you get your new mileage rationing record from along with your new "A" book, OPA says. Since discontinuance of periodic tire inspection last April, tire inspection records have been kept primarily as a record of gasoline rations issued each automobile, and will no longer be necessary when the new form is issued. Outside the East Coast States, the new "A" book will go into use September 22, and in the 17 East Coast States, February 9.

Loosen Lid On Stove Rationing

The rationing of coal and wood stoves to consumers will end Oct. 15, the War Production Board and OPA have announced, although rationing of oil and gas stoves will continue. Supplies of coal and wood stoves have grown sufficiently since nation-wide rationing started in August 1943, to make continued rationing unnecessary.

Shoe Rationing Still With Us

Civilians cannot hope for an early end of shoe rationing, WPB says, unless imports of hides increase or unless there is a large cutback in military orders. Hide shortages continue in spite of a large domestic kill of cows and calves. Heavy civilian and military consumption and decreased imports account for the shortages.

Please Don't Buy Our Shoes

The Australian Commonwealth Footwear Controller has asked American Army Authorities to limit purchases of civilian shoes by American Troops, the Australian News and Information Bureau says. Sales of footwear to Americans on leave have been seriously reducing supplies for Australian civilians, inasmuch as half of Australia's total output of boots and shoes already is going to Australian and Allied forces.

Returned "G. I. Joes" Get Jobs

More than 50,000 returned veterans of the present war were placed in jobs during July by the Veterans Employment Service of the War Manpower Commission, thus making a total of more than a half million who have been placed. Employers are offering veterans the cream of the jobs that come within their capacities, WMC says.

More Education, Mr. Vet

If you think you are eligible for education under the "G. I. Bill of Rights," file Veterans Administration Rehabilitation Form 1950 with one of these three: 1, The Regional Office of the Veterans Administration where your discharge papers (C-Folder) are filed; 2, A regional office of the Veterans Administration in the State in which the school or college you wish to attend is situated; 3, The school or college you wish to attend.

You are eligible if you were on active service for at least 90 days between September 16, 1940, and the end of the present war or were discharged after less than 90 days because of disability incurred in line of duty, if you were discharged "under conditions other than dishonorable" and if you were over 25 years of age when you entered service or if you were over 25 and can show that your education was interrupted. Between 800,000 and one million of your fellows may eventually get more education under provisions of the "G. I. Bill of Rights."

to keep their automobiles running, the Foreign Commerce Weekly, official publication of the Department of Commerce, says. Cuba is reported to be using fuel that is 75 per cent gasoline and 25 per cent rum, while on the island of Martinique a mixture of 92 per cent rum and eight per cent gasoline is recommended. Alligator-Tail oil is reported successfully used as a diesel fuel in the State of Para, Brazil, and free China has made motor fuel out of Tung oil.

Into Business For Themselves

As many as three million returned veterans may choose to go into business for themselves after the war, according to estimates cited in an article in Domestic Commerce, monthly publication of the Department of Commerce. To help the veterans learn something about Small Business before he embarks on an enterprise, the Department of Commerce is preparing a series of text books covering Small Business in many fields. These books will be used for voluntary study in the Army Education program and in other branches of the Armed services.

Movies Help Teach Farm Skills

Great-Grandfather would probably turn twice in his grave to learn that movies are now being used to help teach such fundamental farm skills as horse-shoeing, sheep-shearing and repairing of farm machinery—all to speed up the training of wartime farm workers. To help farmers keep old equipment in working order, the U. S. Office of Education, Federal Security Agency, has produced films on mowers, grain drills, cultivators, tractors and two-bottom tractor plows. In addition there are films on horse-shoeing, sheep-shearing, community canning and repairing frame buildings. The films are used in vocational agriculture classes, 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America meetings, extension groups and community gatherings. Purpose of the films is to teach the beginners and to show old-timers new and better ways of doing these things.

They're Paying Off Mortgages

Farm Credit Administration borrowers with Land Bank and Commissioner Loans repaid four times more than they borrowed during the year ended June 30, thus making farmers' equities in their farms highest in 25 years, the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration reported. Farmers also have used their good farm income to buy War Bonds and add to their future payment funds in Federal Land Banks. They can use money in these funds to make payments on their farm loans in less favorable times. If farmers maintain these savings and don't waste them in farm land speculation such as prevailed after the first World War, they will be in better position to face reconversion from war to peace than at any time in history of the country, the governor declared.

Round-Up

A prospective spread in the shortage of smaller size truck tires will affect principally small trucks as farm trucks and those used in delivering milk, bakery products and laundry, the Office of Defense Transportation says. France has been the most important source of manpower, raw materials and industrial products among all the occupied countries, the Foreign Economic Administration reports. American troops in Australia have taught the Australians to like sweet corn, and the 1945 Australian crop will yield 35 million cans, the Department of Commerce reports. Housewives can help the national food situation and their own family meals by using more onions in late September and early October when storage space will be scarce, WFA says. While foods properly canned will last longer, in normal times of food plenty home economics recommend eating them within the year, the Department of Agriculture says.

Cpl. Dorse Collins, who is stationed at the Amarillo Army Air Field, spent the week end here with his mother, Mrs. Ora Collins, and with friends.

News From The A.A.A. Office

Revision of Cotton Price Stabilization Agreement

The War Food Administration and the Office of Price Administration have announced, jointly, a revision of the cotton price stabilization agreement, which was announced on April 24, 1943.

Under the original agreement, in lieu of a price ceiling on cotton, the War Food Administration agreed to offer for sale Government-owned or controlled cotton through the Commodity Credit Corporation in the open market when market prices reached parity.

Under this revision, which is effective until May 1, 1945, the Commodity Credit Corporation will not offer for sale any of the cotton owned or controlled by it except at prices which will not prevent cotton from averaging parity. For the present, this will mean that no Government owned or controlled cotton will be sold in the open market except at 50 points (1-2 cent a pound) above the parity price, this margin having been determined to be necessary, in view of the fluctuations of the market, to net a parity average. The margin of 50 points will not be reduced prior to May 1, 1945, unless the price of cotton should average above parity in an amount and for a period of time sufficient to raise a question as to the adequacy of manufacturing margins under ceiling prices that are being computed for major cotton textiles on the basis of parity prices for cotton. In that event, the sale price of cotton of the Commodity Credit Corporation will be reduced only in an amount sufficient to prevent the price of cotton from averaging above parity.

The two agencies have further agreed that no ceiling price is to be placed on raw cotton prior to May 1, 1945, below the price at which, under the terms of the agreement, the Commodity Credit Corporation will offer cotton for sale. This action is taken in furtherance of the purposes of the law recently enacted by Congress that directs the President, acting through any department, agency, or officer of the Government, to take all lawful action to assure that the farm producers of cotton, and other basic and proclaimed agricultural commodities, receive parity prices.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"It sounds almost like a miracle, Judge... how did we ever do it?"

"American industry did it, Sally. When the Japs conquered the chief natural rubber producing centers of the world they thought they had dealt a death blow to our war effort. But, in less than two years, we are producing enough synthetic rubber in this country to supply all our military and essential civilian requirements.

"Our rubber experts knew how to make it but the most practical process at the time required huge amounts of industrial alcohol... far beyond the already overtaxed capacity of our industrial alcohol plants. So, overnight, our country's beverage distillers stopped making whiskey and produced hundreds of millions of gallons of the vitally needed alcohol.

"As a matter of fact, Sally, a high government official said recently '... synthetic rubber is from 6 to 9 months ahead of where it could have been if alcohol had not been available for butadiene production.'"

"We were really fortunate, weren't we Judge, to have a beverage distilling industry in existence... able to help perform this great wartime miracle!"

Back to school is the thought that is foremost in the mind of both young and old. We are getting started in all of our fall activities. Among them is this or that, that to us is of great importance; however it is the hope of our church leaders that we will not be so busy that we forget to give ample time to the church and its program. With vacations over and every one settling down to work there should be an increase in all of our Sunday Schools. Some of you have been missed quite a bit this summer and now we are looking forward to seeing you in the service from Sunday to Sunday.

We especially urge new-comers to our town to seek out the church of their choice and become a regular attendant. Let's build for God, won't you help? Attend religious services somewhere Sunday.

Hope to see you in our services Sunday if you are not attending services elsewhere.

Advisory Council Is Formed To Help Men Returning From Service

Knox county intends to look after the welfare of its own returning service men, according to County Agent, R. O. Dunkle. This is evidenced by the formation of an advisory council whose members are familiar with practically every farm in Knox county as to soil type, productivity, water supply, drainage, weed infestation, roads, electric power, telephone, school bus and such other things as to whether or not it is in a hail belt or other natural hazards.

Members of the Advisory Council meet once each month at Knox City, the regular meeting date is the second Friday afternoon in each month at 2:00 p. m. The council will also assist returning service men in obtaining their full benefits under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

The first case of a returning service man came before the council on Friday, September 8th, and it was thought that the council members could be of considerable help in getting the man located on a farm.

A portion of the G. I. Bill of Rights which apply to agriculture are as follows:

Digest of "G. I. Bill of Rights" Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944

NOTE: This digest includes only those provisions of the Bill of Rights regarding education and loans to ex-service men.

Upon satisfactory completion of the one year course such persons shall be entitled to an additional training not to exceed a length of time equal to the time in active service exclusive of the time during which the veteran was assigned to A. S. T. P. but in no case shall the total period exceed four years. The work must be satisfactory throughout the period according to regular standards and practices of the institution.

The veteran may take the education or training of his choice anywhere he chooses to enroll provided it is an approved institution and is not restricted to his home state and provided he is acceptable to such institution.

Any course may be discontinued if it is found that the conduct or progress of the student is unsatisfactory. Payment will be made to the institution for each veteran, the customary cost of tuition, laboratory, library, health, infirmary and other similar fees and may pay for books, supplies, equipment and other expenses except board, lodging and travel. The total payment shall not exceed $50.00 per month if without dependents, or $75 per month with dependents.

Any veteran may apply within two years after discharge to the Administrator of Veteran Affairs for the guarantee of not to exceed fifty percent of loan or loans, providing that the amount guaranteed shall not exceed $2,000.

1. Proceeds of loans must be used for payment for the property upon which the loan is made.

2. Terms of payment shall bear a proper relation to the veteran's present and anticipated income and expenses and the condition of the property shall be suitable for dwelling purposes.

3. The purchase price shall not exceed the reasonable, normal value as determined by proper appraisal.

4. There shall be a reasonable likelihood that such operations will be successful after considering the ability and experience of the veteran.

Such agencies will be designated as are found equipped to determine whether the guaranty of a loan should be approved. In the event a private loan is approved and the veteran is in need of a second loan to cover remainder of purchase price or cost or part thereof subject to the $2,000.00 limit, may guarantee the full amount of the second loan, providing the second loan does not exceed twenty percent of the price or cost and that the rate of interest does not exceed that on the principal loan by more than one percent.

Any veteran who by reason of his ability and experience including training as a vocational trainee is found to be likely to carry out successfully requirements under the Bankhead-Jones Farm Act, shall be eligible for the benefits of such act just as though he were a farm tenant.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer

Austin—With the opening of the school term an increase in the incidence of mumps is to be expected. This is due in part to the fact that mumps is essentially a childhood disease and the contagion factor exists before the symptoms appear.

Mumps is transmitted by direct contact with an infected person and with articles freshly soiled by the secretions or discharges from the mouth or nose of persons having the disease. It takes from 12 to 26 days for mumps to manifest itself after the infection takes place. The disease can be easily transmitted, but one attack usually establishes immunity although second attacks sometimes occur.

A virus is responsible for this infection, the characteristic symptom of which is a painful swelling of the salivary glands. Sometimes there is an involvement of other portions of the body causing disturbances in the digestive, nervous, circulatory, and genito-urinary systems.

Any course may be discontinued if it is found that the conduct or

People, Spots In The News

FRENCH START LIFE ANEW AND FREE—A family of Montebourg, France, begins the job of reconstruction after the tide of war rolled on.

"SUPERMEN" WAVE WHITE FLAG—German snipers surrender. American guards stand by as Nazi prisoners march on a street in a small French town east of Toulon.

Not all of the Texans who are helping to win the war are in uniform.

While fighting men this week were drawing the noose tighter around the Nazi throat, and others were blasting their war steadily ahead in the Pacific, hundreds of men and women on the Texas home front were backing them up with activities designed to guarantee to "our own and our allies" all the services that they have a right to expect from a grateful nation.

This column usually concerns itself with the men in the front-line fight. This week, however, it is going to tell the story of the army of community and county leaders that is fighting here in Texas. It is the story of busy business and professional men—patriotic farmers and ranchers—war-conscious men and women in every walk of life—who are taking time off from their own tasks to devote a period of several weeks to support of our fighting forces.

Typical Texans like R. D. Sanders of Sulphur Springs, W. J. Meyers of Pecos, Roscoe Pryor of Harlingen, W. B. Hargis of Pine-land, E. L. Norman, Floydada, Eck Brown of Dalhart... Patriotic county leaders such as Claude Calloway of Crowell, John Harris of Coleman, W. T. Minor, Sr., of Montague, J. Sherrill Kendrick of Gatesville, Joseph B. Cowas of San Saba... Veterans of former war fund campaigns, such as Dr. James Bauer of Refugio, K. M. McFarland of Center, W. H. Morehead of Richmond, James C. Cantrell of McKinney and J. P. Merritt of Colorado City... Civic leaders like H. Frank Goss of Ingleside... Outstanding women, of whom Miss Patti Reagan of Tilden and Mrs. W. W. Wolfe of Leakey are typical.

These are some of the local leaders who have accepted the task of raising Texas' share in the National War Fund. Together, hundreds strong and backed up by the full support and cooperation of their neighbors, they will raise almost $5,000,000 during the next six weeks—Texas portion of the $115,000,000 which is required for service to our armed forces and our allies, and to relieve suffering among war victims throughout the world.

Their work is unselfish and done without pay. It is an integral part of the nation's war program—a part that will send to our men the services of USO and USO-Camp Shows—a part that will send books, athletic equipment and supplies of a dozen kinds to our men in enemy prisoner-of-war camps—a part that will save the lives of millions of tiny children and helpless old people in lands blasted by battle. They do not fight with guns, but they fight, just the same. And the dollars they raise will be bullets that will help win the war.

Now, more than ever before, the work of the war-related agencies of the National War Fund is vital to our fighting men, vital to our allies, and vital to the people of France, Belgium, Holland, Norway, Greece and all the other war-torn nations.

Through their county war funds, they will call upon every Texan to help with the great cause. And under their leadership, every man and woman in the Lone Star state will certainly "Give a Texan's Share."

COTTON PICKING MOVES NORTHWARD

College Station—As the end of August neared cotton pickers had begun to fan out from the far south and Coastal Bend countries in their annual trek northward. Meanwhile, the prevailing hot, dry weather had forced cotton into maturity in portions of the blacklands and eastward, and in north Texas, before outside labor became available to reinforce local pickers.

As a sequence, calls had come from a number of countries for pickers. C. Hohn, Extension state farm labor supervisor, believed, however, that the widespread month-end rains would slow up further opening of cotton in the affected areas and to that extent aid the movement of surplus labor to points where the need becomes most pressing. Among the counties reporting needed for pickers were Brazos, Robertson, Burleson, Austin, Williamson, Collin, Delta, Hunt, Lamar, Rockwall, Coryell, Johnson and Lampasas.

Hohn estimated that three-quarters of the picking in the Corpus Christi area had been completed, with considerable of the acreage picked twice. Many of the pickers released there were moving into the Brazos bottoms. Regardless of the sporadic requests for pickers, Hohn said that the labor map nowhere showed an acute shortage, and he believed that advanced planning by the state labor staff and county agricultural agents would take care of the situation as it developed. To date the migratory field assistants of the Texas Extension Service had placed 24,489 cotton pickers, 2,628 of whom were placed in the period August 20 to 26, inclusive, he explained. Since July 10, 11,600 migratory workers had passed through Riviera and Falfurrias.

Reports to the state labor office indicate need for workers of a more routine type elsewhere in the state. Although preparation of land in the Panhandle for next year's wheat crop appears to be making satisfactory progress, tractor operators and year-round farm hands were needed in several counties in that area. Year-round farm workers also were needed in Lamb and Lynn counties on the south plains.

Harvesting of grain sorghums was starting in Lubbock and Coleman counties at the end of August. Although preparation of land in the Panhandle for next year's wheat crop appears to be making satisfactory progress, tractor operators and year-round farm hands were needed in several counties in that area. Year-round farm workers also were needed in Lamb and Lynn counties on the south plains.

Senior Report

The Seniors are studying very hard for the six weeks exams that come up this next week. Our boys home economics class is gradually increasing. Four more Senior boys started Monday morning. They hope to make some woman a "good wife." Boll pulling is just around the corner and there's where the fun begins!!!

The Seniors that attended Wendell Partridge's party Friday night surely had a swell time. We also enjoyed the visitors from Monday and the ex-Seniors from Sunset. We played many different games and Mrs. Partridge had swell refreshments.

Junior Class News

Another week of classes has already gotten off to a good start. Two tests on Monday morning isn't too funny especially when the test are in plane geometry and home economics. I guess the teachers wanted to find out if we had gotten our book knowledge mixed up with our week end activities.

The boys made doughnuts in home economics Thursday. Everyone's doughnuts were a "big" success. When I say "big" success, I mean just that because some boys got too much baking powder in their doughnuts and "big" doughnuts were the results. We served each teacher some doughnuts and we gathered quite a few compliments on our doughnuts. The biggest job was cleaning up the Home Economics department after the doughnuts were fried, eaten, and forgotten. Cooking utensils and more cooking utensils were all we could see. Each one was in need of some elbow grease, soap and water. We spent a very pleasant hour cleaning up the lab, when we should have been studying for an English test. I can say for all the boys in the Home Economics class that each one of us enjoys taking Home Ec., immensely. Boys taking a course in preparing foods and studying foods is something new in these parts, so for those who are interested in our progress we will keep you posted the rest of the school year.

We are studying the parts of speech in English and have received our new grammar workbooks. We have worked the first five exercises on the use of parts of speech correctly.

In Civics the class is divided into six different groups. Each group is to prepare a notebook together on the following subjects that are found in newspapers and magazines: National problems, state problems, national cartoons, state cartoons, congressional problems, state problems and the predictions that are in the United States News. These notebooks are to be kept complete. The articles concerning these headings are to be cut out of every paper and posted neatly in the notebook designated for that topic.

This just about brings to a close this week's activities and headaches but perhaps we will have something of more interest next week.

Well, we're here again, just as happy as any little moron.

Next week will end our first six weeks, then we will close for a few weeks during the harvest season.

The girls in Home Economics II are really having a time getting the dresses they are making to fit.

In English we are reading poetry, drama and short stories which we enjoy quite a bit. We are studying about the Roman Empire in World History.

We learn something new in algebra class every day.

Freshman News

The Freshmen are coming along fairly well in their studies although everyone will be proud when school is out for the cotton season.

The shop boys have been drawing and working in wood this past five weeks.

The Home Ec. girls have been embroidering on scarfs and after we take up we will start making dresses on the machines.

Science has become one of our favorite studies since we experiment more than anything else.

In English we have been studying the parts of speech and have been taking spelling once a week.

We took a test Friday in algebra and the majority made good. We hope we make good on our final six weeks which comes next week.

Eighth Grade News

The Eighth grade have been studying complex and compound sentences in English. In arithmetic we are studying percentages, we have received our geography work books. We find that our history is very interesting. In English we had jokes and here is one we think you will like:

"There's something odd about you this morning," said Hitler to Goering. "Yes, I know what it is. For the first time, since I've known you, you've left off your medals." Goering looked down at his chest. "Great Heavens," he cried, "I forgot to take them off my pajamas."

We've been having themes in our History and we think it's very interesting.

Royce Harber visited us last week. We were very glad to have him.

Edward Decker is absent today. Mary Frances Booe gave a slumber party last week. We all had a very enjoyable time.

We are glad that school is turning out for cotton gathering.

Seventh Grade

Patricia Johnson visited her grandmother in Faxen, Oklahoma, Saturday.

Everyone enjoyed a Sunday School party at Leo Hill's last Sunday. Leo and his mother are swell hosts.

We enjoyed the roses, snapdragons, and zenias brought by Tommy Yost, Lois Reddell, and Patricia Johnson last week.

Lois and Betty Sue were voted best citizens Monday.

We enjoyed very much having Miss Margaret Shannon as a visitor last Wednesday.

Try This "Egg Shortcake" Recipe

American hens have set new records in production and eggs are cheap and plentiful now. They're nutritious, too, rich in iron, vitamins A, B, and D, and also contain calcium, phosphorus and thiamine. They can be used in breakfast, lunch or supper dishes.

The flexible, easily controlled gas range is practical for cooking eggs, because they must be cooked slowly to prevent the protein from becoming tough. No longer are the advantages of modern gas cookery limited to city housewives, for home-makers everywhere, in cities, semi-rural or rural communities, are using liquefied petroleum gases as cooking fuel. This fuel, known as "bottled" or "tank" gas, is being delivered to nearly 2,000,000 homes away from the city gas mains.

Protein-rich eggs are point-free and make satisfying main dishes. Try them creamed, in between layers of shortcake, as in this recipe:

Egg Shortcake.

(Serves 6)

- 6 hard-cooked eggs
- 3 tablespoons butter or substitute
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1½ cups milk
- Rich Shortcake Dough.

Poem by the Third Grade:

I have a little flower
 I water it every day.
 It looks so sweet
 When I go out to play.
 By Patsy Ann Walker.

Once I saw a little mouse
 Running across the floor of my house
 I slipped a trap under my door
 Now, I see that mouse no more.

I have a little orange tree
 It grows in our yard
 Its yellow fruit will be Good for little boys and girls like me.

I have a little dog
 He has a little tail
 He got into a little ship
 And thought he, "I take a sail."

I had a little cat
 That caught a little rat.
 The rat had a cousin bat
 He, too, was eaten by the cat.

I had a little dog
 And he jumped a log.
 I found him dead
 With a knot on his head.

We're Fixed for Winter, too—Our Gas Air Conditioner Heats as well as Cools

Those who were fortunate enough to secure pre-war installation of the All-Year Air Conditioner are headed for another winter of perfect comfort. For this magic-like piece of gas equipment heats as well as cools. But it does more. The gas-operated air conditioning unit assures a uniform warmth in every room of the house with live, fresh air, and without drafts. It removes dust, dirt and pollen from the air stream to give relief to nose and throat irritations and to keep furnishings clean longer. It balances the air with the right amount of moisture for more healthful living conditions. When the war is over and the peace is won these magic-like units will again be available. Save for one. Buy Bonds.

SUMMER COOLING...WINTER HEATING
 for entire house with one simple unit

Plan WITH YOUR ARCHITECT

Before the postwar building rush, why not select your architect, sit down with him and work out the plans for that new home built around all-year gas air conditioning. He can give you unhurried attention right now. And having your plans ready when materials and equipment are made available you will be in a good position to secure some of the first deliveries.

IN WINTER, the gas air conditioner assures you dependable warmth and correct humidity throughout your home on coldest days.

IN SUMMER, the gas air conditioner brings relief from hot, sticky weather... providing refreshing, invigorating cooled air.

IN EVERY SEASON of the year, the gas air conditioner gives you live, clean air without drafts... filtering out dust, dirt and pollen.

County To Aid In Recording Of Cases of Polio

The Knox County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has been asked to compile a comprehensive record of all infantile paralysis victims now residing in this area.

Intended mainly to serve as a guide to expanding the services of your Chapter, this county compilation will also form an integral part of the nation-wide survey undertaken by the National Foundation to further its pledge of assuring aid to all polio victims regardless of age, race, creed or color.

Mrs. Leroy Melton, chairman of the Knox County Chapter, also announced that members of its Women's Division, headed by Mrs. J. B. Moorhouse, will assist in compiling this data. Records will be made in duplicate so that a copy may be sent to headquarters of the National Foundation to complete the statistical data for the entire nation.

From information already furnished by a number of Chapters of the National Foundation, it has been determined that many unsuspected needs exist. In some instances, handicapped polios hitherto unknown to the local chapter, were found to be in need of wheelchairs, crutches or other orthopedic appliances, as well as medical and surgical care. Others needed help in arranging for transportation to and from hospitals and clinics, or schools and places of employment.

The local chapter stands ready to assist in all these ways, backed by the funds contributed each year through the March of Dimes for just such purpose. The chapter retains fifty per cent of all monies collected to carry on this service. The other fifty per cent, which goes to national headquarters, helps support the nationwide medical and research program and, in epidemic emergencies, is used to provide all assistance to any stricken area.

It is suggested that anyone now residing in Knox county who has had infantile paralysis, or whose children have been stricken, can greatly assist in this survey by notifying their chapter chairman, Mrs. Leroy Melton, or the head of the Women's Division, Mrs. J. B. Moorhouse, at Benjamin.

In announcing this nationwide survey, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis emphasized the purpose of the project. It is designed to broaden the program of services available to all infantile paralysis victims, wherever needed, regardless of whether the individual

Tax Refund Due Home Owners Under Proposed Amendment

Washington, D. C. (Special)—More than 15,000,000 home owners who dwell in the homes they own would receive over $37,000,000 in income tax allowances each year under the terms of a bill which has been introduced by representative Fred A. Hartley of New Jersey.

Because of a hitherto overlooked inequity in the Federal tax laws, a home owner who rents his dwelling may deduct from his gross income on his Federal income tax return a sum equal to three per cent of the value of his house for depreciation, while the resident home owner is allowed no such deduction.

Thus the home owner whose family occupies the premises, and who plans on giving his family roots in a neighborhood is unfairly penalized. Representative Hartley points out in the August issue of House Beautiful magazine.

Expressing confidence his measure will be enacted into law, Hartley declared that every Congressman with whom he has discussed the matter has agreed the discrimination against the resident home owner is unfair.

"Most students of real estate taxation believe the regulation is an oversight, pure and simple, in the original law," he said. "It just never has been corrected because nobody thought enough about it."

Chinese Receive Aid From Canada

TO the grimy Chinese soldier creeping up on the Japanese sentry, the weapon he has cocked ready for action, is just a means to an end: the end of that Nip! But to thousands of workers in a Canadian small arms plant, the weapon is a Sten carbine, produced by them to assist an ally in his fight against a common enemy. To them that Sten carbine is a symbol, a symbol of cooperation and mutual assistance between allies.

In assisting allied countries in her mutual aid scheme, a Canadian version of U. S. lend-lease, Canada has not forgotten the needs of China. In the period from May, 1943 to March 1944, already 7,000 tons of material had been shipped to China, valued at an estimated $10,045,253.

With air routes providing the only means of transportation into China, the weight, quantity and character of supplies conform with the exigencies of air transport. Largest item of supplies shipped, in terms of dollars, was made up of ammunition, with guns, anti-tank and anti-aircraft weapons, and many types of small arms, a close second on the list.

To help push these shipments through and advise on technical matters a Chinese military mission has been active in Canada since 1943 and has proven of great assistance.

(At top) Bren guns by the thousands for China! This picture, taken in a Canadian plant, shows Kay Grovd and Pat Kling, both of Toronto, checking tags on a mass of 5,000 Bren guns being readied for shipment to our ally in the war against the Nipponese empire.

Agnes Wong (at right), a Chinese Canadian who journeyed from Whittcourt, Alberta, to take a war job in the east, assembles a Sten gun for China. These Stens are extraordinarily simple in construction and are one of the deadliest small arms in use.

al was stricken before this organization came into existence or since. It will enable the local chapter to work in full cooperation with State and county organizations charged with the responsibility of handicapped persons. And, added to the scientific data already collected, it will form the first complete register of infantile paralysis throughout the United States, a record of incalculable value to medical science.

Dr. Whyburn Now President Of Tech College, Lubbock

Lubbock.—Dr. William M. Whyburn today became the fourth president of Texas Technological college, succeeding Dr. Clifford B. Jones, resigned because of ill health. The new executive was introduced to the faculty by the retiring president.

"I see unlimited possibilities for the future development at Texas Technological College," Dr. Whyburn said in his first address to the faculty. The new president said his first task would be to become thoroughly familiar with the work of the institution and that no new policies would be announced at this time.

With reference to post-war plans being considered generally by colleges and universities, Dr. Whyburn pledged himself to work with the faculty in adapting the work of the institution to meet the needs of developments following conclusion of the war.

President Whyburn came to Texas from the University of Southern California where he was chairman of the department of mathematics.

Hog Barriers
THERE'S an old saying that "a hog doesn't know much about Sunday." He evidently doesn't know much about the wartime restrictions on travelling either. Sunday, Monday, or any day, he's on the lookout for a chance to roam.

are on each side of the opening to a height of about eighteen inches. Then set two short posts inside the hog pasture about eighteen inches from this barrier, and nail boards to these to form a second barrier. The size of your hogs may make it necessary to build the barrier a little higher, so it's a good idea to set posts long enough to hold an additional strip. However, the eighteen inch height usually is sufficient.
