Many Counties In Area Needing Harvest Labor

With grain sorghum harvest, plowing and wheat drilling all under way in the Panhandle, there is an acute need for help in several counties. Rains of the past week have retarded this work. Tractor drivers, feed shockers, and year around hands are needed in Dallam, Hansford, Hartley, Armstrong, Carson, Deaf Smith, Randall, Hemphill, Hutchinson, Oldham, Castro, Farmer, Swisher, and Potter counties.

In the High Plains Cotton Area all counties except Bailey report sufficient labor at this time. Cotton pullers will be needed in parts of the area around September 25.

Wilbarger county in the low rolling plains needs 400 cotton pullers. Other counties needing this type of labor are: Kent, Knox, Stonewall, Clay, Fisher, and Jones. Rains have retarded farm work in parts of the area.

Kaufman county is in acute need of cotton pickers. Picking was retarded in Denton, Tarrant, Ellis, Hill, Navarro, McLennan, and Williamson counties by rains. When the weather permits cotton pickers will be needed in several of the larger counties of this area.

Cotton picking has started in the Pecos Valley. Pickers are needed in Pecos, Reeves, Loving and Ward counties. Howard county expects to start picking September 15.

A shortage of cotton pickers now exists in Callahan county. Pickers are leaving Refugio and Nueces counties.

Trucks and drivers are needed for rice hauling in Galveston county. Cotton picking has started in Red River county but rains stopped this after the first of last week. Bowie county needs cotton pickers and Cass county needs labor for sweet potato digging.

To September 10th the migratory field assistants had made 30,454 placements of cotton pickers. From July 10 to September 7, 14,065 migratory farm laborers had passed through Riviera and Falls.

Funeral For Frank Kuhler Is Held Wednesday

Pioneer Of County Passes To Reward On Sunday

On last Sunday morning, the grim angel of death took as his toll one of Knox county's most beloved citizens, Mr. Frank Kuhler, who died at the Knox county hospital after a lingering illness lasting more than eight months.

Mr. Kuhler was born in St. Charles, Mo., on Sept. 4, 1875, and was 69 years and 13 days of age. At the age of 17, his family moved to Kansas, and in the fall of 1898 the Kuhler family came to Knox county, settling on a farm near Rhineland. He was the oldest child of the family and had lived here continually since 1898.

Besides operating his farm, Mr. Kuhler was engaged in various other activities. He was gin manager for the Rhineland Union Gin Co. since its organization in 1919. Before the advent of the truck and automobile, he did an extensive freighting business for the Rhineland stores, as well as for farmers, with wagon and team. He was a member of the Rhineland school board from 1904 until his death. He was a buyer of cotton, grain and livestock, and was also a pioneer thrasher.

Mr. Kuhler was a loyal and devoted citizen, a genuine christian and a faithful member of St. Joseph's Parish. At various intervals he was a member of the board of church wardens. During the process of the construction of the new church at Rhineland, he gave liberally of his means, time and service. His community spirit was unexcelled, and in any enterprise which had for its purpose the general welfare, he would take a leading part.

He was kind and considerate and at all times was ready to make the lot of those about him happier. He was thrifty and progressive, and ever the soul of honesty and fairness.

Surviving him are his wife, Mrs. Anna Kuhler of Rhineland, and eight children, who are: Mrs. Theresa Albus, Leo, Martin and Alois Kuhler, Mrs. Bertha Moore and Mrs. Loretta Albus, all of Rhineland; Conrad Kuhler of Fep, Texas, and Leonard Kuhler, who is serving with the armed forces in India. Twenty-six grandchildren also survive.

Eight brothers and four sisters also survive: Tony and J. C. Kuhler, Rhineland; Henry, Will and Mat Kuhler, Groom; Pete Kuhler, Claude; Fred Kuhler, Decatur; John Kuhler, Dublin; Mrs. Ann Pevsen, Wichita Falls; Mrs. Elizabeth Britten, Mrs. Katherine Britten and Mrs. Josephine Britten, all of Groom.

Funeral services were held from St. Joseph's church at Rhineland at ten o'clock Wednesday morning, and interment was in St. Joseph's cemetery by the Mahan Funeral Home. Rev. Herman Laus, O. S. B., read the Requiem Mass, assisted by Father Mosler, O. M. I., and Father Ed Lafarriere, O. M. I. Father Herman Redder was also present in the sanctuary.

Pallbearers were August Schamacher, Antonio Brown, K. G. Homer, H. N. Claus, Henry Decker and August Loran.

Grandaughters served as flower bearers. They were LaVerne Albus, Wynell Albus, Norma Jean Albus, Valera Albus, Janet Kuhler, Connie Jo Kuhler, Arleta Moore, Marilyn Kuhler, Gwendolyn Kuhler, Virgie Mae Kuhler, Lorene Kuhler, Lewellyn Kuhler and Marlene Kuhler.

Collection Of Waste Paper To Begin Monday

Everyone Urged To Bring Papers In Next Week

The army truck will be here to pick up our paper on Friday morning, September 29. We will start our accumulation drive on Monday morning, September 25.

Bring your papers to the building just east of the Bauman garage building. Stack them on the sidewalk in front of the building. If it is raining, someone will be there to handle them.

Be sure not to bring any loose paper, but have it bundled and well tied in neat square bundles, not over 50 pounds to the bundle. Our Boy Scouts will handle the stacking of these bundles in the building, so let's not make the bundles heavier than they can easily handle.

If you fold a newspaper one time, you will find that you have a bundle started approximately 12x18 inches. This makes a nice sized, uniform bundle—one that is easily tied and easily handled.

Any kind of paper is good. This includes card board.

For the benefit of those who have no way of bringing their bundles to the accumulation depot, the city truck will make the city on Thursday, September 28. Have your bundles on the front porch, in plain sight, so none will be missed.

Let's get a good load together, and make it worth while for the army to send a truck up here.

If anyone lacks cord to tie their bundles, if they will call by the Broach Machinery Co., they will be furnished ample cord for this need.

Let's everyone have a hand in this great effort to furnish a badly needed war commodity!

Lowry Post of American Legion, Dick Atkinson, Jim Reeves, J. L. Brasher, committee.

YOU EAT LABOR COSTS

In the campaign to hold down the cost of living as the labor cost in production has gone up, the farmers of the country have been put in an unfavorable position.

Hundreds of thousands of farmers who produce a great portion of the nation's food, used to have a "hired hand" who received $40 or $50 or $60 a month and room and board—and this meant more net income for the worker than two or three times that amount in a city.

Today the farmer pays double and treble these pre-war wages, and $1.00 an hour for inferior "extra help."

All the price ceilings, rationing and restrictions in the world won't produce food, and the cost of food must be based on the cost of production or there won't be any food. So if food prices have increased higher proportionately than other prices, it is simply because farm labor has increased more proportionately than in other industries.

ARE WE MICE OR MEN?

The determination of the Department of Justice to fasten the claws of Federal regulation on fire insurance by having it declared "interstate commerce," thereby dragging it under Federal jurisdiction instead of leaving it under the control of the various states as it long has been, is just part and parcel of the program to make states' rights secondary to a super-centralized government. If insurance is interstate commerce, so is most anything the bureaucrats wish to so designate. Certainly a newspaper would be if one subscription crossed a state line. If that is the case, Federal control and domination of the press is but a matter of time and desire on the part of those in power.

The insurance industry and the various state insurance commissioners, in seeking to preserve state regulation of insurance from domination by Federal officeholders, are fighting a menace which, if carried out, will ultimately engulf the independence of every state, industry and individual in the nation. They are opposing the hated totalitarian form of government which sought to rule the world, and which tens of thousands of our boys are dying on battlefields to prevent.

It wasn't so long ago that we scoffed at the idea that we faced such a menace from abroad. Are we going to scoff at the idea that we now face the same danger at home? It is high time we opened our eyes and began to fight every move that seeks to subjugate the state and the individual, by making them subservient to a Federal bureaucracy.

FAIR COMPETITION PRESERVES PRIVATE ENTERPRISE

Important, indeed, is the declaration of the Automobile Manufacturers Association for a continuance of our present competitive system of transportation in America.

Representing one of the largest industries in our country, the opposition voiced by the A. M. A. to a transportation integration program is worthy of close scrutiny.

"It is very doubtful," says the A. M. A., "that the public interest or that of transportation would be served by giving up a seasoned system of competition which is virtually free from public complaint by substituting an untried plan. Instead of being a stop-gap to government ownership and a means of preserving the competitive enterprise system, revolutionary integration of transportation might be the opening wedge to bring it about."

For the past thirty years in this country, the National Legislature has consistently maintained a policy of preserving competition between all forms of transport.

The strides made by aviation during World War II assure a great air transport fleet of commercial and private airplanes in the postwar years ahead. But that doesn't mean the end of railroads, steamships, buses, trolleys, motor trucks and automobiles. In fact, air transportation will increase the other forms of transportation, as it will open vast new fields of trade.

In order that the United States may have the greatest transportation system in the world and maintain air supremacy, Congress must see that each branch has the fullest encouragement in its field, and that all are properly coordinated for public service without domination of one by another for the purpose of controlling or limiting competition.

When Connecticut adopted its constitution in 1639 it was the first time in history when a government was organized and defined by a written constitution.

IS IT PLANNED OR ACCIDENTAL?

If there were agencies at work in Washington to devise ways and means to injure or destroy tax-paying enterprise in this country, they could not do a better job than is being done in many instances. It is hard to believe, however, that this results from deliberate planning. It is also inconceivable that our lawmakers will fail to see the inequitable characteristics of some of the proposals before them.

There are now up for Senate and House consideration bills for the disposal of surplus war materials, which are said to favor cities, states and public utility districts with special prices or outright gifts of such materials, although similar towns would be denied tax-paying private industry which must compete with the tax-exempt public enterprises.

It is unthinkable that the United States Congress would pass such unfair legislation. If it does, there is no use talking about equal rights and justice in our country. The passage of such special privilege legislation would promote all forms of government tax-subsidized business, that would cripple or destroy private enterprise.

Certainly tax-paying industry has a better right to purchase surplus war materials, which taxes levied against it have helped pay for, than has public enterprise which never paid a thin dime of taxes to help produce such materials.

WHERE THANKS ARE DUE

A country grocer recently said to a somewhat irate customer: "If you had to keep track of all the rules and regulations that I get from those pencil pushers in Washington, you would be more lenient in your attitude toward the merchant. Men who apparently know nothing about meat cutting, tell us how to cut meat, what cuts we can keep in our show case, and how we can prepare it. We are all glad to help ration supplies and control prices but the rationers and price fixers ought to be required to have some practical experience before they are allowed to make their fancy rules and regulations."

We can all allow for many mistakes under the price control act, but we never want to accept the idea that after the war it will be necessary to continue indefinitely the restrictions which the buying public and the producers and merchants have had to endure.

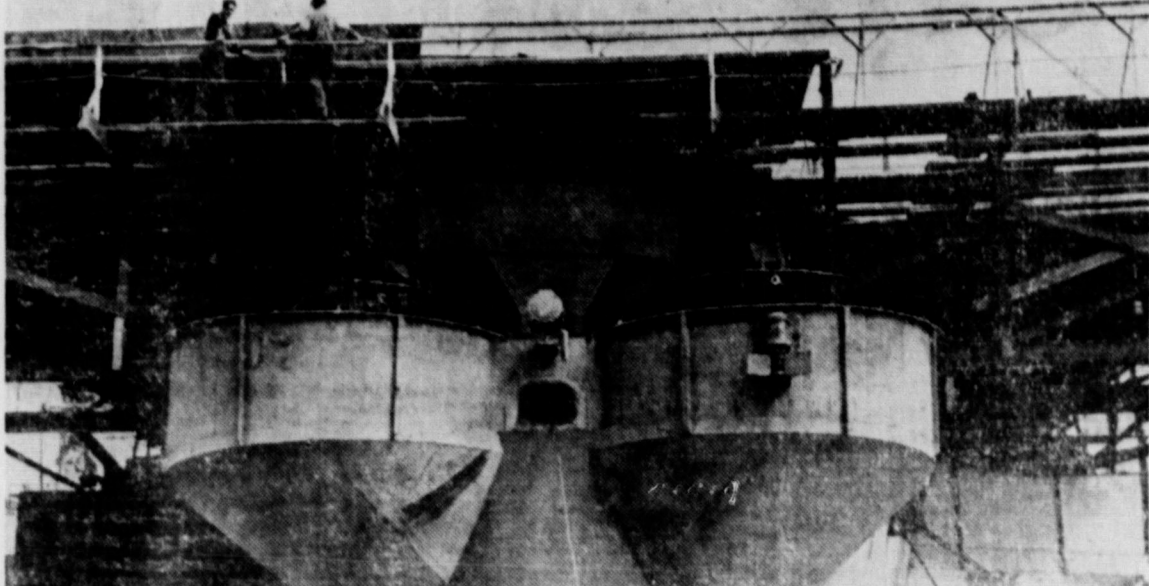

Rationing and price control have been a success because of an efficient retail merchandising system which was able to carry out a rationing and price control program which, without the cooperation of the merchants, would have been impossible of accomplishment. The nation has its merchants to thank for the unprecedented distribution of necessities and luxuries which it has enjoyed during the war emergency.

PLANNERS SPEND YOUR MONEY

The Oklahoma State Medical Journal says: "We hear much about inevitable social trends... the ultimate absorption of medical practices into the social security program through government compulsory health taxation. The amounts of money of geometrical proportions necessary for such social medicine are considered the simplest arithmetic by social planners..."

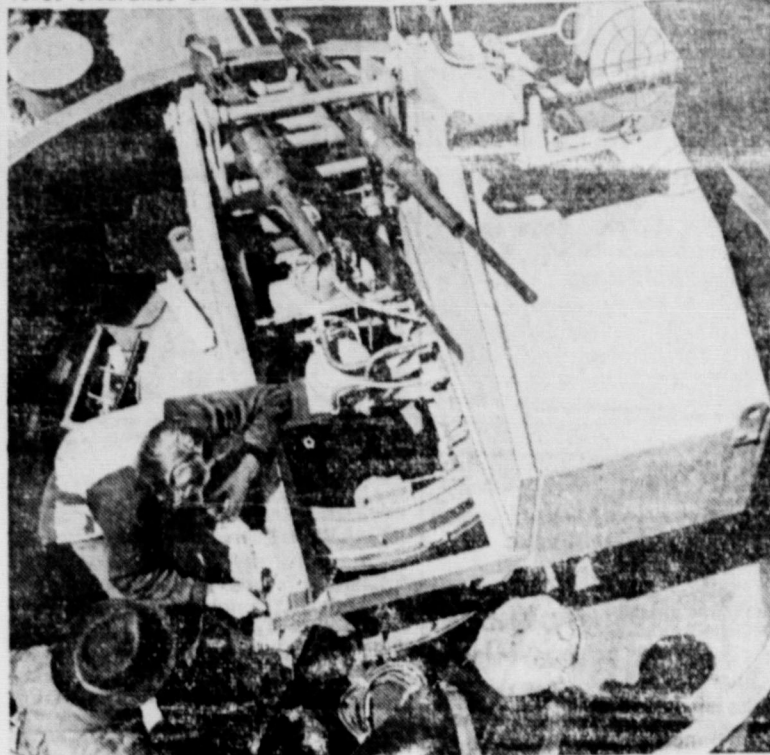

The people are always led to think that government will give them something for nothing—then they are bled white through taxation to pay for the "gift." The present planned tax cost of socialized medicine would be more than the total cost of our Federal government a few short years ago, and that is only a start.

Aircraft Carriers Figure in U.S.-Canadian Double Play

CARRIER-ESCORT vessels, baby flat tops to the men who sail them—are being modified to meet new U. S. and British specifications at one of Canada's biggest dry docks in Vancouver, on the Pacific Coast. The ships come into the pier direct from U. S. yards or frequently from active service for the changes which Canadian shipbuilders are making on them.

An important change in modifying these vessels to meet newest specifications is a 15-foot addition to the flight deck, which workers at Burrard Dry Dock fit on, making new deck length 465 feet. This picture above shows two new sections in place. Another change is installation of twin Oerlikon guns in place of the single Oerlikons previously used. The gun nest is steam heated to permit combat service in Atlantic waters. The gun track is cut to force clearance of 15 feet over the flight deck.

Two thousand men and 150 women achieve the changes at a record pace and the yard is proud never to have delivered a single ship behind schedule.

One of the main modifications made on the ships is weatherizing, steam-heating all guns so that the crew can man them in any weather. The flat tops are adapted mainly to action in the North Atlantic.

Gems Of Thought

MORAL STRENGTH

From lack of moral strength empires fall. Right alone is irresistible, permanent, eternal.—Mary Baker Eddy.

All the strength and force of man comes from his faith in things unseen. He who believes is strong; he who doubts is weak.—James Freeman Cuarke.

The men who succeed best in public life are those who take the risk of standing by their own convictions.—J. A. Garfield.

Once to every man and nation comes the moment to decide, In the strife of Truth with Falsehood, for the good or evil side.—James Russell Lowell.

Today's greatest danger may be a blessing in disguise if we meet it with intelligence and conviction.—Roy L. Smith.

I must stand with anybody that stands right, stand with him while he is right, and part with him when he goes wrong.—Abraham Lincoln.

Early Indians called the Potomac the "River of Swans."

TEXAN'S SHARE in the WAR

Those who believe that the war is almost over would do well to remember that Texans still are fighting... and being wounded and killed... on all fronts. The fact that they aren't quitting should be a reminder that now is not the time to quit on the home front.

Here are some of the boys wounded on the European front during the past few days: Sgt. Arthur Appel of Taylor, Sgt. Victor Cmerok of Granger, and Pfc. Ike Mogford and Pfc. Baker Vermillion of Fredericksburg.

Latest casualty reports from the Mediterranean report S/Sgt. Bill Lord of Georgetown as among the wounded, while Pfc. Emilian Mensik of LaGrange was recently reported as wounded in the Southwest Pacific.

S/Sgt. Ray Saunders of Wichita Falls, a spotter for a machine-gun company in France, was wounded in the left leg and chest, and lay for many hours under the fire of both Americans and Germans before he could crawl to safety. But he didn't quit! He is now in a hospital in England.

The example of the Texas lads who don't quit should prove an inspiration to all of those on the home front. No one should quit until the war is finally won... and that means when the last shot has been fired and every Texas boy is back home! Meanwhile, every man, woman and child in Texas should pitch in to put the National War Fund campaign over the top!

The National War Fund drive will be conducted during the next few weeks in all Texas counties, under leadership of local men and women. Funds raised in the campaign support USO, send relief to American and Allied prisoners-of-war in enemy hands, and help alleviate suffering among war-victims everywhere.

Fighting Texans continue to make news by their brave and gallant exploits in battle. Sgt. Dwight "Bud" Gryder, Flying Fortress gunner who hails from Tahoka, has just won the Air Medal for his bravery under fire while bombing Germany.

The Tahoka American Legion Post, incidentally, last week honored returned war veterans at a special meeting. At the same time, Legionnaires endorsed the War Chest drive in Lynn county, and agreed to help put the drive over the top. The Legion boys know what "over the top" means, and there is little likelihood that they will stop before the full job is done.

Here are more Texans who have been decorated with the Air Medal for their part in the war: Carl Alford, Lufkin; Alfred Colwell Jr., Herwood; Bill Adair, Galena Park; Capt. O. L. Counselman, Hereford; Lt. Bill Simmons, Lorraine; Lilburn Ogde, Dickens; Lt. Ola Hollowell, Abilene; Bert Drummond, Holland, and Eugene Donohoe, San Angelo.

Sgt. Olan Delaney of Sour Lake will soon be home from the wars. One of several dozen American airmen shot down and captured several months ago, he has just been freed from a Roumanian prison camp. He is scheduled for a long leave—in Texas!

The men spent long, weary months in the enemy prisoner-of-war camp, but they were not for a moment forgotten by their folks back home. Thanks to War Prisoners Aid, an agency of the National War Fund, they received books, study courses, athletic equipment and even musical instruments with which to pass the dread prison hours.

War Prisoners Aid serves our prisoners in all enemy lands, in an effort to stamp out "prison sickness" among the heroic members of the "barbed wire legion."

Misses Jeanelle and Wanda Sue Partridge, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Partridge, left last week for Abilene, where they are attending Hardin-Simmons University. This is Jeanelle's junior year, while Wanda Sue enrolled as a freshman.

THRIFT IS A DUTY OF EVERY AMERICAN...
In this time of stress, each of us owes it to his country to be thrifty. We must conserve materials on the one hand so they will be available for defense purposes. We must conserve money, on the other hand, to help our country and to help ourselves in the post-war period.

Victory Fleet Day, Sept. 27

Americans will do honor on Victory Fleet Day, next Wednesday, September 27, to the ship operators who have helped to give the United States one of the highest and most interesting standards of living in the world. The food that brightens the Americans' dining tables illustrates the world-wide activities of American ship operators. Merchant ships bring in coffee from Central and South America and Arabia; cocoa from South America and West Africa; spices from Ceylon, India, Netherlands East Indies, Java, Burma and Latin America; bananas from the "Banana Republics," Cuba and Mexico; ginger from the Ivory Coast, India and Jamaica; pineapples from Hawaii, Mexico and Cuba.

Gasoline Situation Is Tight

The average civilian motorist should expect no increase in his gasoline ration for the next several months, at least not before the end of the war with Germany the Office of Price Administration says. Civilian stocks of gasoline built up last winter have been greatly reduced despite increased imports and record domestic production. Civilian grade gasoline stocks have decreased approximately two million barrels in 30 days.

To Hold Down Football Travel

To restrict football travel, football teams managers have been requested by the Office of Defense Transportation to confine sale and distribution of tickets to residents of local areas of cities or towns in which games are to be played. The ODT also has asked football teams in travelling by train to use coach accommodations wherever possible and to make pullman reservations no earlier than the day before departure.

Onions Galore, This Year

Your hamburger sandwich may have gone without its onion last year but now there's no excuse for such a deficiency, because the War Food Administration estimates that this year's onion crop will be 45 per cent above the 10-year average, 1933-42. For satisfactory home storage select good fully dried onions, keep in a well-ventilated, dry place in temperatures as near to freezing as possible without freezing. Onions store satisfactorily at temperatures from 32 to 55 degrees. Pantry or attic usually is superior to cellar. Never pack onions closely in a closed container. Spreading on a screen placed overhead in a garage or back porch is good if temperatures remain above freezing. Good quality onions will keep several weeks under ordinary room temperatures at this time of the year.

Go On To School, GI's Advise

The GI's overseas who are using their spare time to "crack their school books" in the hope of improving their possibilities when they return to civilian life, advise the boys and girls back home to keep on with their schooling. As Cpl. Kermit Greason of Atwood, Kans., put it: "Any boy who's in high school now had better finish right away. Because if he doesn't finish before he's drafted, or before he takes a full-time job, chances are he never will. That goes for girls too."

Scotch Fishermen Would Do This

Trust a Scotchman to make three fish grow where one grew before and thus help in the wartime food program. By putting sodium nitrate and phosphates in fresh water lakes in Scotland to increase supplies of marine vegetation on which fish feed, it has been possible to increase production of some fish by 300 percent, the Department of Commerce reports. Use of fertilizer has been carried out on an experimental basis.

Home Accidents Cut Manpower

The Federal Security Administration is seeking public cooperation in a campaign to reduce accidents that reduce needed manpower for war work. Home accidents last year killed 6,000 workers and injured 900,000 seriously enough to cause loss of one or more days of work; much of it vital to the war effort. Home accidents in 1943 killed 32,500 Americans, including the 6,000 workers. Falls accounted for two-thirds of the fatal home accidents. One-fourth occurred on stairways. Burns and poisonings were next to falls in order of severity. The yard and the kitchen each was the scene of one-fifth of the home

Tough On Black Market "Gas"

The new "A" basic gasoline ration books to be issued soon outside the 17 East Coast States are going to be hard on the black market in two ways, the OPA says. They are printed on a new type of government safety paper almost impossible for counterfeiters to duplicate and each book and all coupons it contains will carry a serial number. With the combination of the serial number and the motorist's endorsement of his own state and automobile license number it will be much easier for OPA to trace stolen coupons. The serial number enables a coupon to be traced from the plant that printed it to the person to whom it was issued. The endorsement makes it possible to trace an illegal coupon to the person who put it in circulation. Authorities recently arrested four alleged counterfeiters in New York and seized equipment ready to print five million counterfeit gasoline coupons.

Army Needs Nurses Immediately

The Army needs 4,000 nurses immediately, Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the War Manpower Commission, reported last week. Men wounded in battle must have adequate care no matter how quickly the war ends, he pointed out in deploring the fact that nurse recruitment had slowed up along with a growing belief that the European war is about over. The WMC chairman urged inactive nurses, especially in outlying communities, to return to nursing duty.

Protect Against Grasshoppers

Farmers can protect fall-planted grain crops against serious grasshopper damage by baiting edges of stubble fields, pastures, fence rows and other grasshopper feeding and breeding grounds, the Department of Agriculture says. Fall baiting will reduce the numbers of grasshoppers and damage to crops next spring. Western and midwestern farmers can get enough grasshopper bait for their farms from their county agricultural agents. Bait is supplied free by USDA.

Hog Ceiling To Stay Up

Ceiling prices on live hogs will not be reduced from present levels before June 30, 1945, OPA and WFA have announced. Present ceilings are $14.75 a hundred pounds, Chicago basis, for hogs weighing 240 pounds or less and $14 a hundred, Chicago basis, for hogs weighing more than 240 pounds. WFA also said the support price of $12.50 a hundred, Chicago basis, for "good to choice" butcher hogs weighing 200 to 240 pounds, effective Oct. 1, will be continued until June 30, 1945.

Round-Up

The Department of Agriculture says: Butter supplies for civilians for the last half of this year are estimated to be 4 percent smaller than in the same period last year and the smallest for this period in more than 50 years. Civilian supplies of fresh fruit, frozen fruit and canned fruit juice are substantially larger this season than last, but supplies of canned and dried fruits are smaller. A few weeks more of favorable weather will give this country the largest volume of crops it has ever produced.

The War Production Board says:

Social Security Inquiries Given Prompt Attention

While we welcome the opportunity to appear before group meetings of all kinds, both employer and employee organizations, to explain the old-age and survivors insurance program and answer all questions pertaining to it, we find that it is often to the advantage of the individual desiring information to call at the office or write specifically regarding the type of information desired, said R. L. Surles, manager of the Wichita Falls field office of the Social Security Board.

In emphasizing his point, the Social Security Board representative stated that when a wage earner reaches the age of 65 he should contact the field office promptly for facts concerning his rights to benefits. The same is true, Surles said, in case of the death of a worker before age 65, when it is necessary for the widow or other survivors to contact the Social Security Board office. The reason for this, it was pointed out, is that it is not good policy for any individual who feels that he is entitled to file a claim for old-age and survivors insurance to accept the word of the most intimate friend, owing to technicalities of the law. Such information given in all sincerity by a friend might apply in one instance and would not apply in another.

The Wichita Falls field office is located at 412 Federal Building and is open each week day from 8:15 A. M. to 5:00 P. M., and there is always some one in charge to give out authentic information regarding claims, benefits, etc. This service is free.

Time For Planting Of Bluebonnet Seed

This may surprise you... but now is the time to plant bluebonnet seed.

Earlier planting is desirable, but don't delay this little task for more than a few days at the most. This advice comes from Lucile King, county home demonstration agent.

She says that to grow and flower successfully, bluebonnets need to be planted in a sunny place which is well drained. They don't like to be shaded or to be disturbed by cultivation. Oddly enough, bluebonnets do well on poor soil, and sometimes they are destroyed by being fertilized. The young plants come up in the fall and grow all winter in most of Texas. They can be transplanted but it is better to plant them where they are to grow undisturbed.

In portions of the state where it is too cold to grow bluebonnets outside during the winter, Miss King suggests that you start them in small pots. They should be set in the open as soon as the ground has thawed. Bluebonnets are cold resistant and will thrive despite spring freezes.

Miss Joan Rummell left last Saturday afor Denton to enter T. S. C. S. for the coming school year.

Rev. Luther Kirk, Rev. Lloyd Hamilton of Knox City, Lee Haymes and J. A. Caughran attended a Masonic meeting in Haskell last Thursday night.

Lt. Frank Goode Lands Troops On French Coast

The following story, taken from the Kim, Colo., Country Record, tells of Lt. Frank M. Goode's part in the invasion of France. Frank's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben H. Goode are former residents of Goree:

"One of the greatest hours in history, and I was in on it." That is what 1st Lieut. Frank M. Goode of Kim, Colo., said when he returned to his base after participating in the initial mission which dropped paratroops in the invasion of France. Lt. Goode is the pilot of a C-47 aircraft which flew through anti-aircraft fire over the Normandy peninsula with paratroops, preceding the initial amphibious landing by several hours.

"We carried troops and supplies into France," he added, "and up until the time we dropped them everything went well. There was some small arms fire but nothing much more than that. But when we turned for home it seemed as if all hell broke loose up there. On looking back I still don't see how we got out of it with so little damage. Searchlights played on us in the vicinity of the drop zone, and we could see paratroopers jumping out of some of the planes. We could also see fires below us and at us came more machine gun fire and flak than I have ever seen. It was a monstrous exhibition, except that I kept realizing that this was the real thing."

Flying through flak is considered all part of the day's work for this Troop Carrier pilot, however. He participated in the invasions of Sicily and Italy and has been active since the early phases of the war in paratroop and glider operations. The IX Troop Carrier Command, of which Lieut. Goode is a member, is part of the Ninth Air Force, U. S. component of the Allied Expeditionary Air Force.

Lt. Goode is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben H. Goode of Kim, Colo., a graduate of Trinidad Junior College in Trinidad, Colo., he was employed by the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation, before entering the service 27 November 1941. He has been awarded the second bronze cluster to the Air Medal for performance of duties in the invasion of France in such a manner as to produce exceptional results in the greatest airborne operation in the history of world aviation.

Huge Peaches Are Grown This Year By Roy Norville

Two huge peaches were brought in last week by Roy Norville to show his skill in growing the watery fruit. Each peach weighed better than 1-2 pound.

Roy stated they were grown one-half mile west of town, from seedlings. Last year's crop was good, he said, when the trees were only four years old.

Production this year was lighter than last year's yield, due to various unfavorable circumstances.

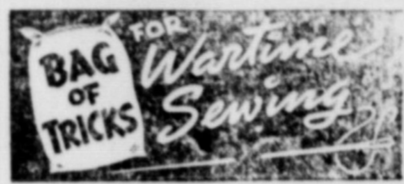

Mrs. Olive Keene spent the week end in Plainview, visiting with her sister, Mrs. Nancy Ross.

Miss Myrtle Munday of Fort Worth visited relatives and friends here the first of this week.

Rev. Lloyd Hamilton, pastor of the Methodist church in Knox City, visited friends here last Thursday and was a visitor at the Rotary Club meeting Thursday evening.

Keith Cartwright, who is attending Tarleton College at Stephenville, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cartwright.

Now, more than ever, it is necessary to protect your bedding. Protectors can be made inexpensively, easily, by using the material from laundered cotton bags—bags such as those coming into your home daily as containers for flour, sugar, feed, and other products.

The sturdy cloth from cotton bags can be used in making springs covers to protect the mattress from rust stains and to keep dust from accumulating in the springs themselves; mattress covers to keep the mattress from soiling or fading; quilted pads to shield the mattress from wear, help keep it clean, and make it a softer, smoother bed. The cleaning problem for such items is simply one of soap and water.

Many money-saving sewing ideas are illustrated and explained in the new booklet, "Bag of Tricks for Home Sewing," which you may obtain without cost by writing to National Cotton Council, Box 18, Memphis 1, Tennessee.

CAMERA TOPICS

by T. T. Holden

CLUTTERED PICTURES SPELL FAILURE

The confusion of the circus is fun, but you wouldn't want to go every day. Too many good things at once always take the edge off the pleasure of the unusual. In the same way, you can destroy an otherwise wonderful picture opportunity by trying to crowd too much into your photograph. Too many camera owners have this irresistible urge to crowd a half-dozen points of focus into one picture—and the result is chaos.

Carelessly chosen backgrounds are the primary source of trouble. We've already discussed this point in terms of portraits, but it applies equally well to all kinds of pictures. Backgrounds, like the chaos supporting a singer, are meant to point up the featured point of interest. When they call attention from the main subject they overstep their bounds and become annoying. Yet too many camera users see their picture only in terms of the main subject, without being able to visualize the combined effect of the inclusion in the photograph of anything else that happens to get in the way of the camera.

Some folks have solved this problem on outdoor pictures by shooting from a very high or low angle so that their background is composed mainly of grass or sky. When this is not practical, and no satisfactory background is in sight, they focus sharply on their object and open their lens wide to gently blur out the background.

These measures are all right in extreme cases, but usually a little care will result in finding a satisfactory background for almost any type of picture: one that is plain and not distracting.

Crowding also results from having more than one center of interest in the main subject of the picture. Don't try to take one picture of two separate groups of picnickers. If both groups are really interesting, they are worth two negatives. A beautifully exposed shot of Junior flying his kite and his sister playing with the dog is no more interesting than trying to watch two movies at the same time. A picture that causes the viewer to devote all his attention to one forceful subject is a successful one—a picture with scattered attention is a failure. This is a subject which defies any hard and fast rules. But it does require that the photographer try to see and think in terms of his completed photograph and realize that while his interest is on only one point, the camera's all-inclusive eye is taking in all of the surrounding details.

A ground glass viewer is a great help in developing this feeling for composition but is not a necessity for anyone who seriously tries to train himself to see as his camera does.

and prayed for you. Try and be with us Sunday.

There are seven mere Sundays in this conference year. With attendance equaling last Sunday we will show a substantial increase in Sunday School for the year, and that is what we hope to do. It all goes to show that with many of our people gone we can do better so far as numbers are concerned. And I am still persuaded that the more faithful we are in attendance, the better persons we are going to be morally and spiritually.

We will be looking for you Sunday. Church School 10:00 a. m. Morning Worship 11:00 a. m. Youth Fellowship 7:15 p. m. Evening Service 8:00 p. m.

Urges More Pork To The Bushel

U. S. Department of Agriculture scientists are working to develop for swine a test method that compares with "cow testing" under the Dairy Herd Improvement Program. They hope to find a way to breed hogs producing "more pork to the bushel."

Testing has proved to dairy farmers that it pays to get rid of "boarders" and to keep the cows that give most milk for each dollar's worth of feed. Ability to produce much milk from a unit of feed "runs in the family." It is inherited. Weighing the feed in and weighing the milk out gives facts to guide dairy breeding plans.

With swine the output is pork. The product is sold all at one time, instead of in daily lots. But scientists are finding evidence to prove that pork producing efficiency also runs in families, is inherited, and that tests can disclose the swine families that have ability to grow to standard market size on the least feed.

Since 1936 the Bureau of Animal Industry has been experimenting at Miles City, Mont., with the development of an improved strain of black hogs resulting from crossing the Danish Landrace and American-bred belted Hampshire. The test is simple. From each litter of pigs four are chosen for feeding under standardized conditions. Each pig has a chance to eat his fill of a good standard ration. The feed is weighed to each family and the hogs are slaughtered at a weight of 225 pounds. It is simple to calculate cash cost of the feed and the

Senior News

The Seniors are studying more than usual this week because it is six weeks exam week.

The boys in home economics cooked cakes last Thursday and Friday, and boy! what cakes!!!

We Senior boys can hardly wait until basketball starts. We expect to have a real team this year.

Our class expects to have a theater party next Tuesday night. We hope this proves successful because it will be the class' first social this year.

There was a rumor running around Monday that some boy was harboring a dangerous weapon on his person because he was afraid of an ambush.

Ex-Seniors On Parade

The Seniors of last year are very widely scattered over this small world of ours. Glynn Myers and Bill Burton have gone to Texas Tech. Keith and Kenneth have gone to the Abilene Christian College. Wanda Sue has gone to Hardin-Simmons University.

Duane, who is very patriotic, joined the navy and is in San Diego, Calif. Rosemary and Wynell have joined "The Lonely Heart Club".

Buster is farming. Nelda Matthews is employed in Fort Worth.

Junior Reddell, the Romeo of the class, has diverted his attention to a business administration at Draughon's Business College.

Bonnie Ely has gone to Lubbock where she is employed with Civil Service.

One has married since school was out last year and he is none other than Houston Sweat.

We wish all the success in the world to these friends.

Junior Class News

We are happy to report for this week that the home ec. class for boys has kept their interests high. Last week the boys made several beautiful cakes. The girls are beginning to wonder who are the better cooks. The news also comes from some source that the boys are putting their knowledge to test at home. I think practically everyone in high school got a slice of cake and we gathered quite a few compliments.

Other things of interest, especially to the girls, that during the noon hour, under the direction of Mrs. Wagon, the girls have done their shorts and are doing all sorts of gymnastic exercises. From the reports that are coming in, the girls seem to have suffered a few back aches from too much exercise.

This week finds us on our last week of this six weeks. Everyone is getting in a few extra hours of cramming for our test which will be given the latter part of the week. Our first six weeks has passed by fairly fast. I think everyone will be glad to help all that they can, to help the farmers gather their cotton crops. We will be out of school for six weeks then we plan to resume our work.

Most of the high school students had a very enjoyable time at a wiener roast given by Earleen and Wanda last Wednesday night. Several games were played by the light of a huge bon fire. I think we should have wiener roasts more often. The ones that did not get to attend missed a very full night of games and laughter.

Our notebooks which we are preparing in Civics are progressing rapidly. The notebooks contain many items of interest. We spend all of our spare time studying for tests and working on notebooks. The notebook which is proving to have more material to pick from is the one based on National Cartoons. That certain notebook contains more than two hundred cartoons based upon National problems. The material needed for the other five notebooks is not quite so plentiful.

We are studying hard in plane geometry trying to catch onto the principle of proving propositions. Plane geometry is like most other subjects you must study and study hard to be able to keep your averages high. Most of the students are beginning to catch on to the methods used in proving of propositions. I believe this subject will be a very interesting one the rest of the year.

Sophomore News

This is the last week of school before we turn out to have a little fun in the cotton patch.

Two of our class members, Dorman and Evelyn reported a good time at a wiener roast and watermelon party given by Wanda Reeves Wednesday night.

Evelyn's brother Ray, who is stationed at Gainesville, visited his folks over the week end.

Fatsy enjoyed seeing some of her relatives over the week end.

The boys in the shop II are enjoying their class this year because they get to use the electric saw and plane, where as last year they had to use hand tools. The Sophomore boys who are taking shop II are Dorman, Randall, and Bobby.

The Home Ec. II girls are getting along pretty fast now that we have a few days left to finish our dresses.

Freshman News

The Freshman class is finding their first year in high school very interesting, although it does seem a little bit difficult.

Exams come this week and everyone seems to have to study for a change. Our exams will come Thursday and Friday.

Robert Cheek's sister, Winona Cheek, who is attending business college at Wichita Falls is visiting at her home this week.

Juliette received word this morning that her grandmother, who is very ill, will not be expected to live longer than today.

The shop I boys are working with tin and an iron project and all seem to enjoy it.

Eighth Grade News

Gloria Michel's family shopped in Abilene Saturday.

Lois' aunt and cousin from Rotan visited her from Friday until Monday.

Best citizens for this week were Lois Reddell and Betty Matthews. Lois has a play for this week and we know we will enjoy it.

We had some very nice stories Monday morning. We voted on them and Helen Sue Parker's was the best.

We miss Dicker Walker very much. He is absent pulling bolls.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"The war sure has made a lot of changes in this old world of ours, hasn't it, Judge?"
 "Plenty of them, John. One that few people realize is that the rubber producing center of the world is now right here in the United States."

"When the Japs conquered the big natural rubber producing centers of the world they thought they had us licked. But in two short years, thanks to American industry, we are now producing synthetic rubber enough to supply all our military and essential civilian needs."

"Our rubber experts knew how to make it but the problem was to get the huge amounts of industrial alcohol needed. Almost overnight the country's beverage distillers stopped making whiskey and converted 100% to the production of this vital ingredient. A high government official said recently this was '...an almost unparalleled example of the overnight conversion of an entire industry from peace to war.'"

"Come to think of it, Judge, it was a mighty fortunate thing the beverage distilling industry was in existence, wasn't it?"

A Prediction

AN ALL ELECTRIC HOME

That life partner fighting in some remote spot on the globe will return one day to again share a home with you... and what a home it will be... all-electric from doorbell to nightlight! Can't you see his eyes shine at the thought of having so many electrical conveniences in his home? It takes a man who'd almost forgotten the meaning of the words comfort and convenience, to really appreciate the electric wonders in store for the home of future. Amazingly efficient air-conditioning or attic ventilation... improved electric refrigeration and deep-freeze units... soft, non-glare lighting... crystal radio reception... these are only a few of the wonders that await the winners of the peace—and the loyal homemakers whose productive waiting and purposeful bond buying make them possible. The home of your dreams for you and your family is just around the corner, in an America set free from the horror of war.

Zelan Is New Fabric For Use After The War

A new water-repellant fabric which will be on the market after the war likely will be of great interest to farm homemakers. It is called zelan. . . Right now this new fabric is being used for army jackets and other military garments. But after the war you can expect to see it in slip covers, shower curtains, and yardage.

Lucile King, county home demonstration agent, says this fabric and others similar have real promise for farm homes. A farmer might really relax in a comfortable chair waiting for his noon-day meal without wondering whether his work clothes would soil the cushions.

Even after laundering this new fabric retains its soil and water-repellancy. And the manufacturers say it will mean less washing and longer wear.

You might be interested in knowing how much such fabrics prove themselves. Well, a New England family, including a small boy and a black dog, gave zelan a good test. After six months of constant use, the white-background sofa cover needed washing, but the draperies were as fresh as ever. And still the test goes on.

Of course, you can't expect to be able to buy these excellent new materials just yet. So, Miss King suggests two courses of procedure. . . First, take the best possible care of slip covers, drapes and your other household fabrics. Keep them fresh and keep them mended. And second, buy all the war bonds you can. That way you'll have more to spend on household furnishings after the war is over and peace-time production is begun.

Notice To All Discharged Vets

If you have served with the armed forces for 90 days, or more, or if you served less than 90 days and were discharged for service connected injury and your release or discharge was under conditions other than dishonorable, you may secure necessary expense and subsistence allowance to enable you to continue your education or to take courses of training to prepare for employment or profession.

Veterans without dependents may receive $50, while veterans with dependents may receive $75 monthly. Expenses of tuition, laboratory, library, health, infirmary and other such fees for books, supplies, etc., not to exceed $500 for each ordinary school year are paid by the Veterans' Administration.

Transportation is not provided, but the veteran may choose any recognized educational or training institution which will accept him. With the approval of the administrator, he may change his course or institution. The administrator may terminate the course if the progress or conduct of the veteran is unsatisfactory. A person who was not over the age of 25 when he entered the service is presumed to have had his education or training interrupted or interfered with. The entire period of training may not exceed four years.

Treat Grain Seed For Smut

Treating seed with disease-killing chemicals will safeguard winter grain crops against damage from fungus diseases called smut, says R. O. Dunkle, county agent. Wheat, oats and barley are the grains most susceptible to attack.

Wheat is subject to two types of the disease. One, called "stinking" smut, is difficult to identify in the field because the diseased heads do not differ outwardly from the healthy ones. But during threshing the spores are scattered over the undiseased grain. If such seed is planted without being treated the smut spores may germinate with the wheat, especially if weather and soil are rather cool at time of planting.

The other type, known as "loose" smut, is readily visible because it destroys the heads and leaves only black, smutty stems. Spores are distributed about the time the wheat is in bloom and those which lodge in the flowers will germinate and grow into the young kernels. Unfortunately, Dunkle says, "loose" smut cannot be controlled by chemical seed treatment because the fungus is carried inside the seed. The hot water treatment is effective but difficult. It is simpler to plant seed from an uninfected field.

For "stinking" smut the chemical treatment consists of cleaning the wheat by fanning or otherwise to remove the smut balls, and applying either two ounces per bushel of 50 percent copper carbonate, or one half ounce per bushel of ethyl mercury phosphate called improved cersan. The treating operation may be done with a commercial seed treating machine or a home-made container, such as an oil drum with a tight fitting lid revolving on an axis. It is important that the chemical be well distributed over each kernel.

Smut in barley and oats can be controlled by treating the seed with one half ounce per bushel of improved cersan or a mixture of one pint of commercial formaldehyde and 10 gallons of water at 60 to 70 degrees temperature. The formaldehyde solution should be sprinkled uniformly over 40 to 50 bushels of seed while it is being shoveled from one pile to another on a clean floor in a tight wagon box. Afterward the seed should be piled and covered with a wagon sheet for at least four hours or over night. It then should be sown at once or spread out to dry.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin — Explaining the need for all Texas births to be registered through the Bureau of Vital Statistics, Texas State Department of Health, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said in Austin today, "There are many reasons why every person needs a birth certificate. It is necessary for entrance into school, for the right to vote, for work in Federal Defense projects, to prove American citizenship, for entering military service, to prove legal age for inheritance of property, for proving claims of widows and orphans, for settlement of insurance, for right of admission to certain professions, for collecting compensation from the government, and for many other important activities.

In Texas whenever a birth is attended by a physician, it becomes the physician's responsibility according to law to file a certificate of birth. There are, however, children born in the state without medical attendance, and it is the parents' responsibility to have this birth registered through the regular channel.

The tremendous load of work done in the past two and one-half years by the Bureau of Vital Statistics in effecting delayed registration and furnishing copies of birth certificates needed because of the war and its resultant changes in occupation and way of living has demonstrated conclusively that the registration of births at the time they occur is of great personal benefit to every individual.

Much of the delay and embarrassment to people in search of a delayed birth certificate could be entirely avoided by general recognition of the value attached to each individual having his own certificate of birth.
