

New Wastepaper Collection Date To Be Announced

Save your wastepaper! An army truck from Camp Barkeley is making another trip to Munday to receive all old newspapers and other wastepaper from the Munday area. This move, sponsored by the American Legion and the Boy Scouts of America, met with splendid response last month, but there are some who forgot the dates and did not bring their old papers. A new collection date will be announced sometime in November, and all citizens are urged to begin now to save their papers for this drive. It is the plan to continue the drive locally as long as there is a need for wastepaper to carry on the war effort.

Army Rehabilitates E. T. O. Wounded; Munday Boy Among Those In England

A U. S. Army Reconditioning Center, England.—In what condition does a hospitalized soldier return to duty? Is he in good physical shape? Is his state of mind healthy? The Army says yes. Men released from hospitals, after battle wounds have healed, are now sent directly to United States Army Reconditioning Centers. These centers, modeled after British types, have the job of rebuilding the soldier into the fine fighting man he was—the man that cracked into France, and is going back to finish the job. But to finish the job, he must be in shape mentally and physically. This is accomplished through close co-ordination between the Medical Department and line officers who, too, have suffered combat injuries. Here is what is happening daily at the reconditioning center in England. The soldier arrives after a stay at a general hospital. He is immediately assigned to a company commanded by a line officer who is responsible for his observance of military discipline. The next day, he is given a complete medical examination and is graded according to his physical condition. He is then ready to start on the road back. Each day his time is fully occupied. His physical training is under the direct supervision of graduates of the Army Physical Training School. Calisthenics, games and remedial exercises are given with regard to his ability to perform them. Training films, lectures and demonstrations help to recall his military training. At the end of the

Sunset School To Open On Monday

Classes will be resumed at the Sunset Rural Consolidated high school next Monday morning, R. I. McLeroy, superintendent, announced Wednesday. School was dismissed five weeks ago so the students could assist farmers in the cotton gathering. Although quite a lot of cotton remains in the fields, it was thought best to resume school so the regular time would be put in without running too late next spring. Mrs. W. M. Huskinson and son, Billie, of Wichita Falls spent the week end with relatives and friends here.

Memorial To Dr. George W. Truett

A memorial to the late Dr. George W. Truett, world-famous Baptist preacher of Texas, will be this $1,650,000 building to be erected as an addition to Baylor University Hospital, in Dallas. It is being made possible by contributions from Dallas people and Texas Baptists. The fund will also provide new buildings for the Baylor College of Dentistry and School of Nursing. The Truett Memorial Building, with 400 beds, will double the present capacity of the hospital. Each floor will have two solariums, facing morning and afternoon sun. A roof garden atop the fifteenth floor will be used for convalescent patients. The building will have thirteen operating suites, 400 private patients' rooms and will house the William Buchanan Blood Bank, the X-ray department, research and general laboratories, library, chapel and other technical and service departments.

Rationing Comes To Weekly Papers

Newspaper rationing, heretofore effecting the daily papers, has come to the weekly newspaper field. It is not clearly understood just how badly rationing will effect The Munday Times, but our mailing list will likely be frozen at its present level. Beginning November 1, 1944, no new subscriptions to The Munday Times will be accepted outside the first mailing zone—Knox and adjoining counties—until further notice. If you live in Knox and adjoining counties, we can continue to accept subscriptions, both new and renewal, for the time being. If you live beyond 50 miles of Munday, we cannot place you on the list as a new subscriber, at least for the present. If your subscription expires, and your name is removed from the list, we cannot place you back on until someone else is dropped from the list. You must be placed on the "waiting" list. If your subscription has expired, or is about to expire, see about it at once. We want to continue sending the paper to as many subscribers as possible, yet remain within our quota of newspaper consumption.

Details of Cotton Purchase Program Available Soon

Full parity price to farmers for their 1944 crop of upland cotton is assured under the new Commodity Credit Corporation purchase program regardless of whether or not it is under a government loan, Emmett Partridge, chairman of the Knox County AAA committee, said today. The CCC will purchase all upland cotton for which a loan rate schedule has been announced, offered to it up to June 30, 1945. The cotton will be purchased at the following prices: (1944 crop Middling 15/16 inch, basis gross weight flat cotton at Memphis, Tenn.) October, 21.90; November, 21.95; December, 22.00; January, 22.05; February, 22.10; March, 22.15; April, 22.20; May, 22.25; and June, 22.25. The five-point increase per month has been added to the price as allowance to the farmer for storage and carrying charges. Other highlights of the purchase program are: 1. Premiums and discounts are the same as those of 1944 loan program, based on Middling 15/16 purchase rates, gross weight. 2. Location differential for warehouse points will be based on freight rates to the Group B mill area of the Carolinas except eastern Mississippi, eastern Tennessee, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, and Alabama where a zone system will be in effect as under the loan program. 3. Purchasing agents, mostly local banks and warehousemen, will be approved by CCC. 4. Purchasing agents will buy at CCC prices if warehouse receipts and sales agreement are turned over to them within 10 days after issuance. Agents fee of 50 cents per bale will be paid by CCC. 5. Purchases will be made only from farmers who produced cotton in 1944. Cotton must be stored in CCC-approved warehouses. 6. Farmers with cotton in loan may sell it to CCC by repaying their loan. The CCC is making these purchases to carry out provisions of legislation enacted by Congress directing the president to take "all lawful action" to assure producers parity prices for their cotton.

Leaders in the drive report that contributions to the fund are already coming in, before organization for the drive is entirely completed. It is believed this move will meet with the approval of almost every one in Knox county, and that a memorial will be erected that will be of a lasting nature—a tribute to everyone who has left Knox county to enter the service. Contributions are being received by Jack Mayes at the First National Bank and by Lee Haymes at the post office. These men report the fund growing daily. It is the plan of the Legion post to publish the names of all contributors, beginning next week.

What a Man Does For Himself Dies With Him—at He Does For His Community Lives On and On

AFTER FIVE YEARS OF DARKNESS

A news item from Manchester, England, dated September 12, stated: "The lights came on in this industrial center of 800,000 population Tuesday night after five years of darkness—the first big city in Britain to have its blackout lifted."

"The switch was turned at 9 p. m. Some people just stood and gazed down the main thoroughfare, smiling. Others strolled along waving to passersby. Some even ran from lamp post to lamp post, kissing them."

The behavior of the Britishers may seem a little theatrical to modern Americans who have never known what it is to be without plenty of electricity. Our lights have blazed throughout the three million square miles of the United States during practically the whole five years that most of the rest of the world has lived in darkness. Neither enemy action nor demands of war industry have caused any noticeable sacrifice in our "electrical" standard of living.

This fact alone is remarkable. The load was tremendous and electric generating facilities kept ahead of demand. When it is considered that this was accomplished in the face of a studied political drive to have government power production usurp the field of investor-owned, business-managed electric enterprises, it becomes more than remarkable. It is a miracle.

The English, after five years of darkness, really appreciate electric light. Can we say as much? Hardly, or we would not countenance the attempts of professional politicians, promoters of PUDs, power authorities and czars to wreck a highly taxed industry that has turned in over half a century of uninterrupted progress in the service of the public.

ARMAGEDDON IN HIGH GEAR

The remark that Hitler, in inventing mechanized warfare, "came right down our alley," is a rank understatement. The Yankee genius for mechanization has amazed the most imaginative production experts. Even yet, wonderment is expressed as to how it has been possible to maintain supply lines to the far-flung allied armies on the European continent.

Warren G. Platt, editor of the National Petroleum News, after a visit to the combat areas of France, gives at least a partial answer: "I have just returned from a two-day trip... For most of the 500 miles covered in those two days we had to fight our way alongside of truck convoys moving at speeds of 40 and 45 miles per hour and sometimes even 50 miles per hour. These were not just the lighter trucks, but the regular 2 1/2-ton and heavier trailer type trucks and even trucks with extra full trailers hooked on behind... All handled just three classes of freight, ammunition, gasoline and food... These convoys filled the highways for miles on end."

"The trains, with the aid of additional cars and engines from England, are being used to their maximum. Engineers are rebuilding bridges on railroads and highways as fast as the railroads and trucks can bring the pipe and pumps."

"To this mighty drive of the greatest fighting power in all history, the oil industry is contributing more than 2,000,000 gallons of aviation and motor fuel every day."

How that fuel is produced is another story. Yankee ingenuity has truly put Armageddon in high gear.

HEALTH IS A PERSONAL MATTER

Before the war, medical authorities predicted that in a comparatively few years tuberculosis would be virtually eradicated. A major tragedy of the present conflict has been the defeat of this prediction. The incidence of tuberculosis has gone up sharply. It has always been so in time of great stress, and in spite of the best efforts of enlightened medical men, the present emergency has been no exception. However, worse than the increase of tuberculosis is the reluctance of the infected individuals to take proper action.

James G. Stone, of the National Tuberculosis Association, declares that: "More cases of tuberculosis are being found today than ever before and fewer patients are in tuberculosis hospitals. The temptation of high wages in war industries is causing many to stay out of hospitals and accept jobs."

He emphasized that the proper program for control of tuberculosis consists of three parts: finding the cases, hospitalization, and education of the patient and public to the seriousness of the disease.

It may surprise some to learn that persuading the public to use readily available facilities, even where the question of financial ability is not involved, is one of the most difficult problems of the medical profession.

A BETTER AMERICA—NOT A NEW ONE

Fire insurance is an old and necessary industry. No enterprise of any size could afford to operate unprotected by insurance. The fact that the country has developed industrially, and at an unbelievable rate, is due in no small part to the capacity of fire insurance to keep pace, at declining cost, with demands for coverage made upon it.

For 15 years the various states have regulated and supervised the insurance industry. Now, by a court ruling declaring it interstate commerce, insurance is to be subjected to Federal regulation. Thirty-eight states, as well as insurance companies, joined in a petition asking reconsideration of this decision, but their request was denied. Unless special legislation is passed by Congress reserving to the states the regulation of insurance, a new Federal body will soon be superimposed on state authority, thus restricting state control over local affairs.

The experience of recent years does not encourage one to believe that insurance would be more efficiently regulated by a Federal bureau, than it is today by the various states.

The average American is working for a "better America—not a new one." As our boys fight on foreign soil to overcome centralized bureaucracy at its worst, we at home should do everything in our power to prevent the spread of that menace within our own borders.

WHAT NEXT?

Mechanized manure removal is the latest wrinkle now being developed for dairy farms. Agricultural engineers are experimenting with a slow moving, endless belt conveyor placed in the droppings trough. It is designed to deliver its load direct to the manure spreader outside the barn. This is not all that has come to light of late in the line of farm invention. A New York farmer, tired of pitching in hay by hand, cut off the blower end of his threshing machine, put the discharge shoot in the loft, and did as much work with two men as five would normally do.

People wonder how the American farmer has managed to get along during the war, in the face of labor shortage. He has done it through determination and ingenuity. If it had not been for these assets plus the effective help of his marketing organizations, the farmer would have been out of business long ago.

FARMING ISN'T FUN

If a farmer wishes to buy materials to enlarge his barn, construct a silo, or for any one of a hundred measures to step up production, he must go through all the rigamarole of getting priorities, permits, and the okay of various "authorities," from the county agent to the ration board. The same is true of machinery parts, tractor fuel, even wire for fences. He is treated as if he were operating a non-essential toy instead of a highly scientific factory, on a man-killing schedule, to turn out the most essential product in the nation—food.

This is one of the reasons why millions of good Americans are praying for the day when they will be released from the domination of bureaucratic rule-makers in Washington.

When she can't get her pound of butter at the store, we don't want to hear the city housewife blame the farmer. As a matter of fact, farmers have maintained their milk output at a rate of 118 billion pounds, which about equals the production of last year and is only a little below the all-time record of 1942. And what is still more important, farmers have done this in spite of a labor shortage and a very severe drought.—Dairyman's League News.

Fixing Up the Farm

by BURTON WILLIAMS

Repairing Old Buildings
 THE demand for maximum food production has put new importance on many old structures that otherwise might be abandoned. How to do a practical salvage job on them is the question on many farms.

Unless the lumber has been seriously damaged by abuse or insects, there is no reason why old structures should not be rebuilt. One of the easiest things that can be done to keep these buildings in service for years to come is to protect them against the weather and strengthen them with new siding and roofing.

Among the materials favored for this kind of work are asbestos cement shingles and sidings. Both of these materials can be applied right over the old surface with little trouble. Being of mineral composition, they are weatherproof and fireproof and do not need to be painted. Fortunately, there are no restrictions on the use of asbestos products for necessary maintenance and repairs.

appeared in so many newspapers. One of his best ones was written after Harding was elected President and the country was having a depression. Abe wrote, "Farmer Jones was in town Saturday and bought a pair of pants with $3 that he had left over from the Woodrow Wilson administration."

Which calls to mind an incident during Hoover's administration when there was a depression, too, as you perhaps recall. At that time, I was editor of a paper in West Texas and one day this letter was received from a farmer:

"Dear Editor:

"I read in your paper about a year ago that Andrew Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, was going to call in all the big paper money and substitute small paper money for it.

"Did he ever do it?"

And that reminds me of the story about President Hoover who, it seems, was walking down the street with Secretary Mellon and said, "Andy, let me have a nickel; I want to call up one of my friends." Mellon replied, "Here's two nickles; call up both of them."

WATERMELON CHAMPION

College Station—Last year Mike Coleman, Negro farmer of the Hardin community, planted a watermelon crop on depleted, sandy soil and demonstrated that melons are an adaptable cash crop for Liberty county. This year he planted 35 acres and reported to Dr. E. B. Evans of Prairie View College, state leader of Negro Extension work, that his income from the crop on 25 acres was more than $125 an acre. The remaining 10 acres were planted late. Chester Thompkins of the same community reported a net profit of $576 from 10 acres.

Dr. Evans said that reports indicate that Liberty county Negro farmers will be about $4,000 richer for having followed Coleman's lead. Two years ago, he added, farmers did not grow enough watermelons for their own family needs.

THRIFT IS A DUTY OF EVERY AMERICAN . . .

In this time of stress, each of us owes it to his country to be thrifty. We must conserve materials on the one hand so they will be available for defense purposes. We must conserve money, on the other hand, to help our country and to help ourselves in the post-war period.

By being thrifty, and by accumulating money in your bank account, you are contributing to your country's welfare, while at the same time helping yourself.

TOO MANY SEED?

College Station—Most farmers plant too much seed per acre in the opinion of J. S. Allen of Dawson county, who admits he has learned his lesson. Fewer seed and soil conservation practices usually will spell success, he believes.

Earlier this year he threatened several times to plow up his crops because the stand seemed to thin, but now he believes he will make 1,500 pounds of combine-type grain per acre and a third of a bale of cotton, he recently told County Agricultural Agent Lee R. Pool. Water held by terraces, diversion ditches, and contour furrows in the pasture land assured his good crop.

This column is dedicated to Texas fighting men abroad.

Today's column is dedicated to a home-front campaign that is supporting their fight for democracy and freedom—the National War Fund.

I know of no better way to show our appreciation for our men abroad than by all-out support of the state-wide campaign for the fund that provides aid for our own men in service, for their allies, and for suffering war victims throughout the world.

In every Texas county this week, local leaders are in the final stages of their campaigns for the war fund. Some have already surpassed their goals; others are working hard in an effort to go "over the top" before the drive ends.

Each county has its war fund quota and its campaign goal. The campaign goal, however, is merely "something to shoot at"... a point toward which to strive. The real goal is all-out support of the war... a healthy contribution by every man, woman and child.

The campaign goal is the "floor," not the "ceiling" of giving. Humanity knows no limit. Every county should contribute to the limit of its ability to the fund that backs up the efforts of our fighting men on every front.

Let's look for a moment at the record and see where the money goes.

More than 43 per cent of every war fund contribution goes to our own fighting men, through USO-Camp Shows. This service goes to our men both at home and abroad, following them even to battle areas.

Seven and a half per cent of your contribution goes to our men in enemy prison camps, in the form of books, games, sporting and athletic equipment, study courses and other morale-building supplies.

Thus your gift helps combat the dread "barbed wire sickness," through aid to our own men who have been captured in battle by the enemy.

Four per cent of your gift goes to merchant seamen, who have so bravely stuck to their dangerous posts, carrying men and supplies to invasion points. Eighteen per cent is spent on behalf of war refugees in combat zones, easing the suffering of millions of helpless men, women and children. Five per cent goes for relief in occupied zones, and another five per cent for service to United Nations armed forces, other than our own.

Other small amounts are expended through National War Fund agencies to alleviate suffering brought on by the war, and a very small percentage is set aside as a contingency fund for use of all agencies in case of emergency.

Less than three and a half per cent of the money you give is expended in campaign costs. That is important, for it means that there is no wastage, that your contribution actually does the job for which you gave it.

The National War Fund—represented locally by your own county war fund—is the nation's great agency for support of the war. It represents the conscience of America, and America's answer to the call of Humanity.

Our boys are fighting on a dozen fronts for all the things we hold dear. We can't let them down now!

Help make your county campaign a success by giving, and giving generously. Answer the call in the words of the campaign slogan: "Sure, I'll Give a Texan's Share!"

Wayne Blacklock, who is in naval training at Marysville, Mo., came in the first of this week to spend a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Blacklock, and with other relatives and friends.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"That's really a great editorial you just read to us, Judge. Where did you say it appeared?"

"In 'The Stars and Stripes'... the newspaper of the U.S. Armed Forces in Europe. Kind of gives us folks back home something to think about, doesn't it, Bill?"

"It certainly does, Judge. Particularly the last paragraph. Would you mind reading that again?"

"Glad to, Bill. It says, 'We can remember the days of prohibition, when moonshine whiskey made quick fortunes for bootleggers, crooked politicians and dishonest police officials. As a result, we claim we know what we want in the way of liquor legislation and feel those at home should wait until we return before initiating further legislation on liquor control.'"

"Out of fairness to our boys over there fighting, Judge, how could we disobey such a wish?"

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

One more Sunday in October. Soon this year will be over. The S. S. attendance for October has been 183-, 186-, 158-, and 161. Let's make it better next Sunday.

Last Sunday Brother Littleton brought us a fine message on Missions. The offering was excellent, and the spirit super. You can't surpass the Munday people when it comes to putting over the things they set themselves to do.

Sunday morning the sermon subject will be: Building for God. A day evening Brother Swindell, the man who was here in the meeting last summer, will preach for us.

Let's be in all the services next Sunday. We are always happy to have you come our way.

To any woman who has ever wanted to help a wounded soldier:

U. S. Army Hospitals need 22,000 Wacs to serve as medical technicians!

High school graduates — trained and untrained — go to your nearest U. S. Army Recruiting Station. Get full information about this important service today!

Serve as a MEDICAL TECHNICIAN in the WAC

Women of Munday who have a personal interest in the success of our Armed Forces and have been seriously wondering what they can do to help our soldiers in the fight toward victory can learn how they may find their place in the war scene by contacting Mrs. C. P. Baker of Munday. Mrs. Baker, Civilian Recruiting Aide for the Women's Army Corps, has new information on women's service with the Medical Department, as well as with other branches of the Army.

Right now there is a vital and urgent need for Medical and Surgical Technicians who can care for wounded soldiers returning home from the battlefield. For those women who are already trained in such a necessary field, there are many vacancies awaiting them so that, immediately upon completion of their basic training, they will step into a job where they can know they are working for the fighting men who have been in the thick of the struggle; on the other hand, women who have had no training in hospital work can receive valuable education that will enable them to take their place in the war effort right now, as well as training them for post-war jobs and future opportunities.

Munday women can now serve as a Wac with the Medical Department, working in an Army hospital. They will wear the uniform of their country; and their insignia will be the caduceus, emblem of the Medical Department, Army of the United States. Here is the chance for women of this community to help mend the war-torn bodies and restore the minds of soldiers who have been on the firing lines. The need for women in the Army is greater than ever, especially the need for Medical and Hospital Technicians in Army hospitals.

We are going to try our best to make this one our third year for winning the race. Already we have won it twice in our freshman and junior years.

It seems funny that all the girls are more active this week than the boys. That goes for all the high school. I don't suppose that football game could be the cause of it? Nick-names are surely getting popular around this school. Such words as "Butter-scotch, Salty, Taffy, Ape, Skipper, Snout, Perch Eye, Weasel, Froggy," and others are heard every day.

Senior Life

On May 1, 1928, a great event happened in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Benson in Benjamin, Texas. It happened that the stork left a baby girl that now is better known as Wanda Benson. She has lived and gone to school here all her life except a few years in Knox City.

In her high school career, she has been a very smart pupil and active in all the school activities. She was president of the Junior class last year and is president of the Senior class this year. She plans to enter the Cadet Nurses' Corps after graduation.

A few of her favorites are:
Subject: Civics.
Song: "The Day After Tomorrow."
Color: Red.
Likes: Nearly everything (especially a boy from Truscott).
Dislikes: Conceited people and falling grades.
Hobby: Writing letters.
Actor: Don Ameche.
Actress: Gloria Jean.
Wanda, all of us wish you the best of luck and happiness and with your sweet disposition, and those smiles, we know you will succeed!

Sopomore News

We are starting out a new six weeks and everyone is rather busy now. Jane Rutledge is our Halloween Queen and we are working hard to see that she will be crowned.
All of us have tried to keep our report cards as far from our parents as we can because of the grades, but have all made a resolution to do better next time.
There are only a few girls in the Sopomore class so it seems like we will have to invite the Freshmen to our parties because they have more boys.
We were all afraid we were going

Prompt Surgical Treatment Saves Lives of Soldiers

The lives of American soldiers who suffer wounds that might have proven fatal in the last war are being saved today through advances in the surgical techniques employed in Army field hospitals.

The overall death rate in U. S. Army field hospitals has decreased 10.5 per cent since 1918, Colonel Edward D. Churchill, theater surgical consultant, recently told an Allied Medical Congress in Algiers.

Two improvements in "surgical management" in the field hospitals are responsible for the decreased death rate, according to Colonel Churchill, who is on war leave from the Harvard School of Medicine.

"First," Colonel Churchill said, "is the more effective measures employed in resuscitation and preparation for operations. Here we include the use of blood plasma and the administration of whole blood. The second factor is the many technical advances in equipment; choice of surgeons to bring as competent men to the front areas as are in the base; nurses that have increased surgical efficiency."

Army surgeons who are specialists in chest surgery, brain surgery, and the handling of fractures often are able to attend wounded men in hospital trucks and field hospitals set up just behind the front lines. The wounded are quickly carried back to such surgeries in ambulances, jeeps, and other conveyances.

Many more doctors are needed. A doctor who wants to serve with the Army should communicate with the Surgeon General, Washington, 25, D. C.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin—Pellegra, even though not a communicable disease, is of concern to public health officials in Texas since many people die of pellegra in this state every year. The disease is caused by the lack of certain essential foods and since it comes on slowly may not be recognized until the victim begins to have the more serious symptoms such as sore mouth, stomach trouble, and reddening and scaling of the skin.

"When these symptoms appear, the disease has been present for some time," says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer. "The longer a person has pellegra the harder it is to cure. Consequently it is well to watch for the symptoms such as nervousness, indigestion, and burning of the hands and feet. In its advanced stages pellegra may become so severe as to seriously affect the mind."

Pellegra is not contagious, Dr. Cox pointed out, and he emphasized that it can be prevented entirely by including the right kinds of foods in the daily diet. These essential foods include milk, fresh meat, whole wheat products, brewer's yeast, salmon, tomatoes, and other fresh fruits and vegetables. By including these foods in the daily diet, any individual can rest assured that pellegra will not constitute a menace to his health.

Mrs. J. B. Bowden and granddaughter, Bobbie, and Mrs. J. J. Keel were business visitors in Haskell last Tuesday afternoon.

to lose our sponsor, Mr. Loren Reynolds, to the Army but a miracle happened and we will get to keep him until April.

Freshman Report
After a week of test we are now reviewing. We all hope to make better the next time though.
Last week we elected our King and Queen. Since Imagean Nunley is our King and Homer Stephens is our Queen and Homer Stephens is our King, we think we have a good chance of winning the race. We will appreciate all of the votes that you give.

Sports
Last Friday the 20th, the Mustangs went to Knox City to see whose team was better, the Mustangs or the Greyhounds. It seems that the Greyhounds got just as bad a beating as they had ever received before. The score for the game was 13 to 6. We had worked out but two days when the great event came. They would have been hard to defeat if we had been working out longer. It seems that all the Mustangs wanted was to beat the Greyhounds. Football is slowly leaving the boys minds again. I think the boys want to start basketball now. Gilliland is to be our first victim. Our lineup for that will be: Nolan Parker (center), Joe Ben Qualls (guard), Carl Taylor (guard), Glen Dunkle (forward), Charles Snailum (forward). The basketball team is to be more ferocious than the football team.

TO BROTHER'S BEDSIDE

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Mayes left early Sunday morning for Lubbock to attend the bedside of Mr. Mayes' brother, Howard Mayes, who is seriously ill in a Lubbock hospital.

Dwaine H. Russell, seaman second class, who is serving in the navy and at present is stationed at San Diego, Calif., came in Saturday to spend a 10-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Russell, and with other relatives and friends.

Mrs. R. L. Edwards visited with relatives in Oklahoma City several days this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Yates left last Friday for Amarillo to make their home. Mr. Yates, employee of the West Texas Utilities Co. while in Munday, will follow a similar line of work in Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Burnett of Benjamin were business visitors here last Friday.

TOWN and FARM in WARTIME

Prepared by OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION

Housewives Can Aid Ceiling Drive

Housewives everywhere are urged to cooperate with their grocer in a campaign to more prominently display ceiling prices in stores and to stimulate the use of price lists by consumers. The Office of Price Administration in cooperation with leading grocer associations and consumer organizations is seeking to have shoppers talk more fully and frankly about ceiling prices as a major means of strengthening community efforts to hold down living costs.

Fresh Cranberries Ceilings Set

The highest retail price for fresh cranberries for that holiday dinner will be about 41 cents a pound, according to OPA, which has established cents-per-pound retail mark-ups on this product effective October 26. Group 1 and 2 stores, doing an annual business of less than $250,000 are given a mark-up of 10 1-2 cents a pound, and group 3 and 4 stores, doing a yearly business of more than $250,000, are given a mark-up of 10 cents a pound.

Lake Herring Prices Suspended

Retail ceiling prices on fresh lake herring have been suspended, effective October 26, OPA announces. The action follows indications that the price of this fish will be generally below the 1942 price levels, which was the minimum level required by the stabilization extension act for fishermen's ceiling prices. However, OPA said that if fresh lake herring prices should rise above 1942 levels ceilings will be promptly reset.

Shoe Rationing Still Needed

Present inventories and the present rate of production of shoes show the necessity for continued shoe rationing, the OPA and the War Production Board report. The statement pointed out that over-all production of civilian shoes of rationed types in the first half of this year was 134,065,000 pairs contrasted with 154,125,000 pairs in the like 1943 period, which was also short of needs.

OPA Guards Gasoline Quality

Gasoline sold at service stations and other retail establishments at ceiling prices set for premium grades must meet a minimum octane specification of 75, OPA announces. This action has been taken to protect buyers from any attempts to sell lower grade gasolines at the higher ceiling prices established for premium grades. OPA said most sellers are offering premium grade gasoline having an octane rating not lower than 75. The announcement pointed out that at present the Petroleum Administration for war does not permit manufacture of gasoline for civilian commercial channels as premium grade to exceed 76 octane—a step necessary to maintain military supplies of higher octane fuels.

Court Hits Black Market "Gas"

Efforts of the OPA to wipe out the Black Market in counterfeit gasoline coupons were greatly strengthened by decisions in three injunction cases recently handed down by the United States District Courts in Greenville and Greenwood, S. C., Thomas I. Emerson, deputy OPA administrator for enforcement, said. The decision makes clear the obligation of gasoline distributors to refuse to supply gasoline to dealers who have failed to surrender valid coupons to replace counterfeits for which they previously obtained gasoline. This obligation to cut off supplies of a dealer who has not made good any invalid coupons is binding on the supplier, regardless of any contract with the dealer, the court ruled.

December 1 Gift Mail Deadline

December 1 is the deadline requested by the Post Office Department for mailing Christmas gifts inside the United States. Every citizen who is playing Santa Claus for loved ones and friends in other towns is urged to get that present in the mails by that date to assure proper delivery. The reason, say postal officials, is that Americans are expected to mail domestically 25 percent more gifts than a year ago—and at a time when the Post Office has fewer employees and less well-trained holiday help than

COOPERATIVE SAVES FEED

College Station—Cooperation in the use of manpower and equipment has saved corn from 850 acres and 2000 tons of silage for Lamar county farmers.

Local labor has never seemed quite so scarce, according to A. L. Edmiston, county agricultural agent for the A. and M. College Extension Service, and although farmers have been transporting 400 loads daily from Paris, these alone could not begin to meet the need. Use of prisoners of war offered a problem, since camp regulations prevent details of less than 15 prisoners with a single guard.

To meet this situation, Edmiston persuaded 11 farmers to pool their wagons and trucks, using five in each corn field with three prisoners gathering corn for each truck or wagon. In short order this plan enabled the 11 farmers to harvest their aggregate acreage.

A similar deal was worked out with seven dairymen. They used one group of prisoners in the field and another at the silo, pooling their trucks to move the feed. Eleven silos were filled through this cooperation.

Christmas Street Lighting Ban

The Office of War Utilities of WPB is asking city officials, civic clubs, chambers of commerce, merchants and citizens to dispense with outdoor lighting this Christmas, as was done in 1942 and 1943. Object of the request is to reduce electricity consumption and coal requirements. The fuel situation in most areas of the country is critical and strict conservation is required to keep war plants going full blast and homes properly heated, officials point out.

Reconversion Job Given Industry

"The job of reconversion, when it comes, will be put squarely up to industry with an absolute minimum of interference from Washington," declared Edward R. Gay, assistant vice chairman for Civilian Requirements in WPB, at a Boston meeting of the National Retail Furniture Association. Pointing out that Government had to step in two years ago when war conversion was the prime essential, Mr. Gay said that "Some day Government is going to be able to say to many manufacturers, you've done your war job. Get back to making your peacetime products. We'll help you where we can, but this job is yours. And I am confident that industry will accept this challenge gladly and will do the job better than any of us in Washington could plan it."

Parent Teachers Sponsor Halloween Carnival

The Munday Parent Teachers Association is sponsoring the school Halloween Carnival on Tuesday night, October 31 at 7:30 o'clock at the gymnasium. Plans are being made for a bigger and better carnival this year. The money raised this year will be used for buying library books for the grade and high school.

The Parent Teachers have set the goal of $750 for the receipts of the carnival. Let's all get behind this carnival and help them raise this money.

Senior News

Miss Edna Travis of Knox City was a visitor in our class last Friday. We enjoyed having her and hope she enjoyed being here.

Six weeks exams are over but all the students are not as pleased as they thought they would be. From all accounts the grades are all pretty bad. But the first six weeks are always hard to make the best of grades.

We had our first Senior party last Friday night and everyone that attended reported a super time. Our room-mothers were our honor guests and got to sit in with the games and hold their hands. They furnished a most delicious lunch for us and we enjoyed it very much. Thank you, room-mothers. Several new games, and one, especially, was really a thrilling episode. We are only sorry that all the class could not attend but maybe they can make it next time. We can truthfully say that the party was a success.

The race for queen of high school opened this morning and it certainly started off with a bang. Everyone is sincerely working for his candidate so this race is going to be plenty fast and furious. Posters and boxes are out in town for anyone who wishes to make a contribution to the Senior candidate.

At the carnival the Senior class is to have charge of a shooting gallery and a hot-dog stand. We extend a most cordial invitation to everyone to come and have your fun with the Seniors.

Senior Life

Evelyn Moore was born July 19, 1927 at Dawson, Texas. She attended school there for four years then moved to Mexia for part of a year. She moved to Sunset where she went from the fifth grade to mid-term of her Sophomore year when she came over to Munday. She was secretary of her Freshman class and queen candidate of the Sophomore class. She has been class treasurer for the past three years, one at Sunset, and the other two here at M. H. S. She has been in the pep-squad for two years and was elected a pep-leader this year.

Evelyn is seventeen years old and simply packed full of the old spot of youth. She is never still for any length of time and is always full of the giggles. That just goes to show you that Evelyn manages to get out of life. Her theory seems to be "Reap what you sow," so she puts all the joy and happiness into the lives of those around as she possibly can. Evelyn is very well liked around campus and is popular with all the students and teachers alike.

Evelyn manages to squeeze all the joy out of everything she goes about and enjoys doing practically everything. But jittersbugging tops them all. She is simply super at kicking to the swing and had rather dance any old time than eat (which is also a favorite pastime.)

Evelyn is a leader in the young people's activities in the church. She takes part in many of the socials and helps solve any problem that confronts our youth in this category.

Some of Evelyn's favorites are:

Hobby: Collecting love letters from Marines.
Song: "Always."
Teacher: All.
Sport: Football.
Color: Blue.
Fast-time: Jittersbugging.
Remark: Oh, golly!

Junior News

Three cheers for the swell sponsors and room mothers for such a wonderful picnic!!

Although we had a few interruptions such as a huge wasp nest, we had a "swelled" time. Martha Ann got the prize for getting the most bites. She got ten. When the wasps attacked, it was very funny the way some of the people reacted. There were sights such as, a room mother jumping up and down screaming; a sponsor going around and around with her hands in the air and a coke bottle in her mouth; and a certain twin practically jittersbugging. These were very amusing sights to see but I imagine it was not so amusing for them!

Then came the eats! Oh man! We had everything!! There were plenty of hot dogs, pickles, potato chips, cokes, apples, and some home made cookies. Room mothers, they were delicious!!!

After everyone had eaten about as much as they could we played many games.

When everyone was tired of playing games, we went back to Munday and had a class meeting on the city hall lawn. There everyone either went home or to the show. Everyone seemed to have had a most wonderful time and we want to say "Thanks to you" Room Mothers and Sponsors.

As everyone knows, Halloween is just around the corner and all the Juniors are very excited about the Queen's Race. We have elected June Rose Salem alias "Penny," for our nominee. Everyone is proud of Penny and is working hard to make her queen of M. H. S.

Sophomore News

The Sophomore class seems to be thrilled at the thought of having an annual this year. We think it is a very nice way to remember our fellow students. Several of the students are already making plans for buying an annual. The Sophomore class was asked to elect two photographers. We've voted on the matter and Ronald Foshee and Louise Gresham were elected.

We've also elected a duchess who we hope will become queen of the carnival. Everyone either knows her or knows of her. She is the "biggest little girl in Munday Hi, Miss Helen Jean Ratliff. We'll appreciate all the votes you give her to help put her on top. So dig down deep; give what you feel you can give.

The Sophomores will have charge of the ice cream department at the Halloween Carnival which will be October 31 at the Grade School building. Drop around and enjoy something good in home made ice cream while you're at the carnival.

We've taken our six-weeks exams and some of us got hit pretty hard by the low grades. Others did better than they expected. We've all resolved to do more studying for the next six weeks. By the time you read this paper we will have received our report cards and will have heard the worst from our parents. Poor us,...

For something different in English we've decided to have a trial of the school vs. Joe Spann. Joe is accused of stealing an English paper. Keiton Tidwell, Joe's lawyer, has a reputation of talking his way out of anything, we hope.

Aubrey Boden was the ex-senior who visited us last week. We hope it won't be long until our boys come home for good. Willard Reeves, a V-12 student studying engineering at Georgia Tech, visited us some this week. Incidentally, I'll tell you each of our ex-seniors who visits with us.

We have a new student in the sophomore class, Billie Jo Green. We want to welcome her into the class by hoping she'll enjoy herself and be satisfied with our school.

Freshmen News

The six weeks examinations are over. Some are happy, some are sad. All we can do now is start anew, determined to raise those F's to B's and A's.

The Queen's race is on. It started last Monday and will continue until Tuesday at noon. Every Freshman is working. The thing that counts now is the money, so if you do not want to part with some of your dollars, better hide from us this week and next. We know, though, you would be glad to help us win. The Seniors seem determined to win, but they do not know what we have up our sleeves.

The skating party was a grand success and everyone had a good time. The entire class wish to say, "Thank you," to our sponsors and

Sports News

This Friday the Moguls will journey to Stamford for their roughest game of the season. The Moguls say that it's going to be rough and that means that they are going to have to really be in there playing hard until the last whistle blows.

The Moguls have worked two weeks for this game and they should be ready for it. And I believe by Friday they will be ready to go... and be giving all they've got to deal the Bulldogs misery.

Society News

At last everyone is beginning to breathe freely again. With six-weeks exams over, we're starting back to the same routine of school.

We're all looking forward to the "Halloween Carnival." The race for queen is beginning to involve broken friendships, but some classes have even gone to the extent of pulling bolts. (Cotton bolts.)

If you're a bit surprised at seeing some of these classes in the cotton patch you'll understand.

Everyone seemed to have enjoyed themselves immensely Friday night, from the Seniors to the Freshmen, but we're all wondering why so many Juniors refuse seats when they are offered one. (Smoke and wasps just don't seem to mix, eh Juniors?)

The band and pep squad are looking forward to Friday night. Again they will accompany the football boys. They haven't all decided just how they're going yet but, their determination to go, has gone to the extent of "hitch hiking."

Eighth Grade News

doing some real studying, too. We are specializing on phonics and how to learn a few new words alone.

What we enjoy most is that every pupil in our class is making a real effort and noticeable advancement in his work.

We collected leaves during September and made Halloween drawings during October. We are planning to enjoy our Halloween booth at the carnival and we hope you will, too.

In art most of our time has been spent in making scenes, however, we have taken time to mold a snowman out of season—the little red hen, and "Mr. Bones."

First Grade—1A

All the boys and girls in our room are wishing Robert Lynn would have another birthday soon. His mother gave him a surprise birthday party Wednesday afternoon at school. It was so exciting to the children to watch Robert Lynn blow out the candles on his cake. The refreshments were very nice and everyone had a grand time.

Glenda, Margaret and Robert Lynn brought us flowers last week. Mike has been absent some. We are glad he is back in school.

Some of the boys and girls got their first book today. They are having so much fun reading them.

Apple Recipes May Be Helpful To Housewives

Although preserved apples may not offer as much food value as fresh raw apples, small amounts of calcium and iron are retained. The acid and pectin content and the bulk of cellulose present in raw or preserved apples promotes desirable functions of the digestive tract. The bulk aids in normal elimination. Apples yield an alkaline ash which helps to neutralize the acid effects of other foods such as meats and cereals. Fall is the last chance to fill the fruit part of the food preservation budget. When apples are plentiful, preserve them in many different ways to add variety as well as make possible a better balanced diet.

Apple Sauce
1 gallon sliced apples
1 cup boiling water
1 cup sugar (more may be used)
1-4 cup lemon juice if desired
Good cooking apples with slightly tart flavor make the best sauce or butter. Wash apples thoroughly. Cut into small pieces without removing peelings and cores, provided a good sieve is available; otherwise, remove peelings and core. Cut into small pieces and in this way it is not necessary to press through a sieve. Add boiling water. Cover utensil. Cook until tender, (about 20 minutes). Press apples with peelings and cores through the sieve. Add sugar. Pack while hot in hot, clean jars and process in a water bath 10 minutes.

Apple Juice or Jelly Stock
Use tart or sour apples. Wash and remove blossom end and decayed spots, but do not peel or core. Cut in small pieces. Barely cover with hot water. Cook slowly in covered vessel from 20 to 30 minutes, or until fruit is quite tender, but not mushy. Squeeze through a cheese cloth, or flour sack or use a sieve for this purpose. Then let the juice drip through flannel jelly bag that has been wrung from hot water. If juice is to be used immediately follow directions below for making jelly. If it is to be kept for later use or to be used as a drink, pour into sterilized jars. Seal, process 15 minutes in a water bath.

Apple Jelly
If apples are very tart and slightly under-ripe use:
2 cups juice
1 1/2 cups sugar
1-2 teaspoon lemon juice
If apples are slightly tart and very ripe use:
3 cups juice
2 cups sugar
1-2 teaspoon lemon juice
Prepare juice as described under apple juice or jelly stock above. Measure apple and lemon juice into a large vessel which would hold about 6 times as much as the amount of juice to be cooked. Never make over 3 or 4 cups at a time for best results. Bring the juice to a boil quickly. Add sugar gradually and keep the mixture boiling rapidly. Stir only until sugar is dissolved and no longer.
Boil rapidly until the jelly stage is reached. To test whether or not this moment has arrived, dip a large spoon into the boiling sirup and lift the spoon so that the sirup runs off the side. When the sirup no longer runs off the spoon in a steady stream, but separates into two distinct lines of drops, which "sheet" together, stop the cooking. Allow the hot sirup to stand in the kettle while the jelly glasses are lifted from the boiling water, drained, and placed on a tray. Remove any scum from the hot sirup. Pour into sterile glasses to within 1-3 inch of top.

Apple Butter
1 gallon apples
1 pint water or apple cider
1 pound sugar (brown sugar is best)
1 teaspoon salt
1-4 cup lemon juice if desired
The following spices may or may not be used according to taste:
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1-2 teaspoon ground cloves
1-2 teaspoon ground allspice
Follow directions for apple sauce above. When the sugar and spices are added, return to the fire and cook slowly for about 1 hour. Stir continuously. The butter should be very thick and give a sputtering or thick bubbling sound at it cooks. Add lemon juice and salt. Cook five minutes longer. Pour while hot into clean hot jars. Seal and process in water bath five minutes.

Apple-Carrot Conserve
(excellent)
2 cups chopped peeled and cored apples
2 cups grated or ground carrots
1 lemon sliced thin or ground
1-2 cup water
2-3 cup sugar
1-2 teaspoon salt
(1 orange may be substituted for lemon for variety).
Cook all together until the fruit is transparent and has a transparent sirup. It takes about 45 minutes to an hour. Pour into hot clean jars. Seal and process in water bath 10 minutes.

Apple Chutney
1 quart tart apples
1 cup raisins
2 medium-sized white onions, minced
2 red peppers, minced
1-2 cup vinegar
1 cup water
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon white mustard seed
1 teaspoon celery seed
1-4 teaspoon paprika
1-4 teaspoon salt
Combine the ingredients and cook rapidly until the apples are tender and the mixture is thick and clear (about 30 minutes.) It may be necessary to add more water if the apples are not juicy. Pour into hot clean jars, seal and process in water bath five minutes.
