KEEP ON... Backing the Attack! WITH WAR BONDS

VOLUME 40

MUNDAY, KNOX COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JANUARY 12, 1945

NUMBER 28

Knox Teachers In Meeting Here Last Friday

A very interesting meeting of Knox county teachers was held at the Munday school auditorium on Friday, January 5, with County Supt. Merick McGaughey presiding. The program opened at 10 o'clock with invocation by Rev. D. A. Ross of Gilliland. Mrs. Beatrice Talbott of Vera led the group in singing, with Mrs. Lloyd Hamilton of Knox City as accompanist.

A period of band music under the direction of Hubert Owens, and songs by the Munday Glee Club, arranged by Miss Gail Reynolds, were followed by introduction of teachers. A talk on "The Teaching of Reading," was given by Supt. H. D. Fillers of Wichita Falls, and a talk on the equalization bill that is sponsored by the Texas State Teachers Association was made by L. R. Burkett, deputy state superintendent. H. D. Arnold of Goree presided over a business meeting in which the following officers and delegates were elected: T. E. Holcomb, Knox City, president of the teachers association; W. C. Cunningham, Munday, first vice president; H. D. Arnold, Goree, second vice president; Merick McGaughey, Benjamin, secretary-treasurer. Delegates elected to the district convention next spring are: Mrs. Beatrice Talbott, Vera; Mrs. E. F. Branton, Union Grove, and Mrs. T. E. Holcomb, Knox City. These officers will serve the Knox county unit of the State Teachers Association for the remainder of the 1944-45 school year, which ends August 31st.

Hybrid Corn Is Adapted To Knox County

Hybrid corn is fairly well adapted to Knox county conditions and produced consistently better yields than did the open-pollinated varieties. The season of 1944 was quite unfavorable for corn production in many parts of the county and some yields were below average. Results of the 1944 tests show to be in considerable favor of most hybrid varieties and the results show conclusively, in most cases, that hybrid varieties are better able to withstand adverse weather conditions than are open-pollinated varieties and may be expected to give better yields in unfavorable years. The growing of hybrid corn should reduce the hazards of corn production under severe weather conditions and tend to make corn a more certain crop each year for the farmer. From results of the past year as well as those of a three year summary, it can be seen that most of the hybrids have definite adaptation ranges. Hybrid No. 8 and No. 12 have given the best results. These two hybrid varieties seem to be the most drought resistant of the various hybrids and is better adapted to west, central, and west Texas. Sources of all Texas hybrid seed may be obtained by writing the Field Seed Certification, State Department of Agriculture, Austin, department, or by writing the county agent, R. O. Dunkle, Benjamin, Texas.

Mr. Hammack invites the public to come out and inspect the dairy at any time. New barns have been built and other improvements made so the new ownership can operate an up-to-date dairy for his customers.

County Goes Way Over In The Sixth War Loan

A letter from Judson S. James, Jr., executive manager of the War Finance Committee of Texas, dated January 8th, informed W. E. Braly, county chairman, that Knox county far exceeded her quota during the Sixth War Loan drive which closed in December.

With a quota of $170,000 in Series E bonds, the county sold a total of $198,078.75. The overall quota was $415,000, and the county sold $464,987.75, according to latest compilations. This, of course, was due to the splendid cooperation given by the various committees and by all citizens of the county. "Texas made a great record in this drive," Mr. James said. "Total state Series E sales were $126,000,000, or 120.5 per cent of our quota, and over-all sales were 143 per cent of the quota."

Texas Legislature Begins 49th Session

The Texas Legislature convened Tuesday at noon for its 49th Regular Session. Texas became a State almost one hundred years ago. Its admission brought on the war with Mexico. The Munday Times is in receipt of a letter from Senator George Moffett of this district in which he indicates that the session will be a busy one. The Inaugural ceremony on January 16 will be short and simple and the customary Inaugural Ball honoring the Governor and Lieutenant Governor will be omitted altogether in keeping with the spirit of the times. However, Senator Moffett says that if any citizens of this part of Texas happen to be in Austin that he will try to get them a ringside seat at the Inaugural ceremony.

ATTENDS MARKET

Sale of Lockers In Locker Plant Now Under Way

An enthusiastic meeting of Knox county people who are interested in a frozen food locker plant in Munday was held last Monday night at the school auditorium. The meeting was preceded by a program of music by the Munday school band, conducted by H. A. Owens.

C. R. Elliott introduced T. E. Kuykendall of Abilene, who gave interesting details of operations of a locker plant. He discussed the plant from a standpoint of convenience and economy and told of various methods of processing and preparing foods to be stored in a locker. At the close of the meeting applications were received for locker boxes, and around 195 boxes had been sold by Tuesday morning.

Sixty per cent of the boxes must be sold before application is made to the War Production Board for approval of the plant so materials can be secured. Sales are going strong this week, and it is expected the required number will be sold by the end of the week. Anyone desiring a locker box should see some member of the committee at once. Should the plant get approval, it will be completed just as rapidly as possible.

Census Takers Ready To Begin Farm Census

The Census taker will be around to see you this month. You and your family can serve yourselves, your county and country by being ready for him. It will be the 14th National Census of Agriculture. The first was conducted in 1840, more than 100 years ago. Nine census takers for Knox county will visit 1174 farm families to collect facts about American agriculture. Resources and production of the United States at war will be measured by this coming census.

The census taker will be instructed to see every family that farmed three or more acres in 1944 or that produced farm products worth $250.00 or more. This will cover everything from cotton, grain, sorghums, beef cattle, dairy cattle, hogs, poultry and of course acreage in different crops in 1944, food and feed on hand. Value of farm machinery, total cash paid out for labor in 1944, number of days farm operator worked on the farm in 1944 and work performed by operator and the family.

The prospective enumerators of three counties, Foard, Knox and Baylor, will meet at Benjamin for a three day training school. The applicants as enumerators for Knox county are as follows: J. C. Sanders, Knox City. Claude W. Hill, Munday, Rt. 1. J. C. Rice, Munday. George Steinback, Munday. J. H. McGee, Knox City. Buel Claburn, Goree. Joe Decker, Munday. W. W. Hyde, Knox City.

Former Munday Man Is Missing In The Pacific

Relatives here received word last Tuesday morning that Otis Burnett, chief pharmacist in the navy, was reported missing in the Pacific area. The date from which he was missing was not learned here. Burnett is well known in Munday, having been connected with the Rexall Drug Store as pharmacist for several years. He was serving as chief pharmacist on a destroyer. His wife and four children reside in Fort Worth. His mother, Mrs. Ben Guinn, and sister, Mrs. A. L. Smith, reside in Munday.

Medical Society Names Officers

The Baylor-Knox-Haskell counties medical society met in a business meeting in the office of Dr. D. C. Eiland of Munday last Tuesday night. Officers for 1945 were elected as follows: Dr. R. K. Lowry, Seymour, president; Dr. L. F. Taylor, Haskell, vice president; Dr. R. L. Newsom, Munday, secretary; Dr. T. S. Edwards, Knox City, delegate. Dr. E. H. Balch, who has opened practice in Seymour, was among those present. Dr. John F. Bunkley of Seymour was elected honorary member.

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Sullivan and baby son of Vera were business visitors here last Monday.

Your Tin Cans

City officials are urging all citizens of Munday to place all tin cans and other items to be hauled away by the city truck in places where they are accessible. Cans should also be placed in containers that can be picked up and emptied into the truck. This will make it more convenient for everyone and will prevent your discarded cans being scattered around the place. Another important thing is to have these containers where they can be driven to in the truck without inconvenience.

Mrs. Melton To Be Chairman Of "March of Dimes"

Mrs. Ruby Melton of Benjamin, Texas, has been appointed director for Knox county of the President's birthday celebrations and March of Dimes to fight the spread of infantile paralysis. The appointment was announced today by George Waverly Briggs, Dallas, vice-chairman of the Texas State Committee for the fund-raising celebrations January 14 to 31.

The local campaign will tie in with activities in all Texas counties, now being intensively organized. The American Legion, the American Farm Bureau Federation, 4-H Clubs, Future Farmers of America and other organizations have volunteered full cooperation. Balls, bazars, benefit concerts, sports contests, the March of Dimes and other events are being planned to raise funds for combating the dread disease which cripples thousands of America's children each year.

Mrs. Melton declared that the 1944 epidemic of infantile paralysis was the second worst outbreak of the disease in the history of the U. S., adding, "Fortunately, though funds from last year's celebrations, we were prepared to meet that attack in all parts of the nation. More than a million dollars—or ten million dimes—contributed by the American people were spent by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to provide the best modern treatment for all victims of the epidemic. Since no one knows where or how hard, polio may strike in 1945, we must again be ready to meet the attack wherever it may come, as well as continue the prolonged treatment still necessary for 1944's victims. Participation in the annual March of Dimes and birthday celebrations is our assurance that no victim of infantile paralysis will go uncared for, regardless of age, race or creed." Funds from the 1945 celebrations will provide treatment for local children crippled by the disease and will also help finance national research to discover the cause of the disease and preventive measures against it.

OLD HANDS AT KEEPING AHEAD

Keeping a jump ahead of a competitor has always been the cardinal objective of the successful American enterprise. With this background, United States business men, when war came, turned from trying to outdo each other, to keeping ahead of the enemy in scientific development and production, like a duck takes to water. They have not only been a jump ahead of the enemy but also, in most instances, have managed to keep a step ahead of the demands of our own military leaders.

Up to now, 100-octane gasoline has been considered the last word in aviation fuel. And yet representatives of the oil industry have announced that "whenever the military authorities say the word, most of the up-to-date petroleum refining war plants in the country can turn out 'super fuel.' With it, carrier-based planes, and gigantic B-29 Superfortresses particularly, will have greater cruising range. It will make possible the use of more powerful engines, will heighten maneuverability and will permit bombers to carry heavier loads by delivering more horsepower per pound of engine."

Research in this higher performance gasoline has been going on for two years. Laboratory analyses and field tests were made until the scientists knew they had the answer.

Here is another brief glimpse of why the United States, a land where the flames of individual ambition, imagination and resourcefulness still burn brightly, has become the greatest military power on earth in a space of months.

MESSAGE TO REMEMBER

Not many weeks ago Americans were preparing to celebrate the defeat of Germany. The celebration threatened to become a disruptive orgy. Concern over the situation caused employees of the Boston and Maine Railroad to pledge support of the war effort after V-Day in a message that should not be forgotten, although at present victory in Europe seems farther away than it did last summer. The message says:

"We don't know when V-Day over Germany will be... but when it does come, we... know how we are going to celebrate."

"On V-Day we'll be working—full time, full speed. There aren't going to be any parties. Our men aren't going to spike the switches and get together for any whoopee! There won't be any empty desks in our office, or freight trains standing idle in our yards. We ask you not to ride our trains that day to go celebrating."

"Most of us will go to church. We shall thank God, and pray for speedy victory over Japan. We urge you to do the same."

"Probably it isn't any of our business what you do on V-Day. But complete victory is everybody's business. The time you might be tempted to take off from your job puts every one of us that many hours farther away from the victorious end. The uproarious spirits you might bring to partying would fall pretty flat when you bumped into Bob Jones, or Mrs. Smith, or any one of a million other Americans with boys in the Pacific."

"We... make this plea now, so you'll have plenty of time to think it over. And we make it in the sober conviction that only on the day of total victory, and not before, can any of us afford to let down."

FOR THE RECORD

The professional guessers now estimate that the war in Europe may drag on for a year or more. Reconversion plans have been postponed and munitions output is being spurred to new heights. This means that government war spending will continue indefinitely at the rate of around $7,000,000,000 a month. It means the public debt may soar beyond the $300,000,000,000 mark.

Sometime ago a belated effort was made to raise taxes in an all-out effort to stem the rise in the public debt, thus maintaining a sound financial foundation under the coming peace. The effort was smothered in optimistic predictions that the war would soon be over and that we could therefore escape the immediate impact of its cost. We have tried to overlook the obvious fact that the greater the discrepancy between income and outgo during the war, the greater will be the problem of lowering taxes after the war.

A CONSTRUCTIVE PROGRAM

John H. Fitzgibbon, M. D., Portland, Oregon, chairman, Council on Medical Service and Public Relations of the American Medical Association, in a recent statement to physicians and secretaries of medical organizations in Chicago, said: "The health of the people of America is our direct concern and a responsibility that cannot be ignored... As medical men and women, we possess information needed by lawmakers and other public servants..."

"The objective of the American medical profession is 'availability of medical care of a high quality to every person in the United States.'"

"Since 1875... the American Medical Association has advocated 'the establishment of an agency of Federal government under which shall be coordinated and administered all medical and health functions of the Federal government, exclusive of those of the Army and Navy.'"

Other points emphasized by the Association and stressed by Dr. Fitzgibbon are:

(1) Extension of medical services to all the people and the utmost utilization of qualified medical and hospital facilities already established.

(2) Continued development of the private practice of medicine, subject to changes necessary to maintain quality of medical services and increase their availability, including extension of voluntary hospital and medical insurance.

(3) Expansion of public health and medical services consistent with the American system of democracy.

(4) Allotment of public funds, on proof of need, to states when needed for prevention of disease, promotion of health and care of sick.

(5) That public health and medical service is primarily a local responsibility.

(6) The development of a mechanism for expansion of preventative medical services for the indigent, with local determination of needs and local control of administration.

Medical care can be made available to all through the cooperation of medical and allied professions, government, industry, labor and other interested groups, whereas continued attempts at compulsion will aggravate confusion and delay the earliest availability of a high quality of medical service to every person.

UNFORGIVABLE NEGLIGENCE

Shortly before the Christmas holiday, the people of a Western city heard the wail of fire sirens. At first they thought nothing of it. The sirens whine every day in large cities. But this was different. Rig after rig wheeled out of station houses and went shrieking through the streets. First aid cars and police sirens screaming in the wake of the fire engines. The news spread that a school was burning—a grade school housing four hundred students. Foreboding and horror clutched at thousands of hearts. Disaster and tragedy were written on thousands of faces. But fortunately, cool thinking and rigid fire drills paid off. Four hundred children returned home safely. An entire city breathed a sigh of thankfulness.

In that narrowly averted tragedy there is a lesson. The school was a firetrap, yet lethargy and unwillingness to add a few dollars to local tax bills kept the school in use. Throughout the nation similar schools are being used every day.

If we are so careless as to permit a single child to attend school in a building that by all standards of modern construction is unsafe, what can we expect in other aspects of fire prevention?

Thousands of persons die in the flames of burning buildings each year. Each year responsible authorities strive harder to drive home the simple lesson of caution. The people of at least one city which nearly lost hundreds of its youth through unforgivable negligence, may now realize how much remains to be done.

Josh Billings said, "Remember the poor—it costs nothing."

And he also remarked, "There is two things in this world for which we are never fully prepared and them is—twins."

Recently, we told some Cotulla legends about O. Henry, as gathered by Deputy Sheriff John Wilnethal. To him, we are indebted for an interesting little incident about Will Rogers. He met the cowboy humorist up North somewhere and mentioned what his home town was.

"Cotulla!" exclaimed Will. "That's where I'd like to settle down—a place where you don't need a lawyer." And he then related an occurrence when he was in Cotulla about 1906 with a small Wild West show. Two ranch owners, who had been having a controversy about some land, met in the town and a fight resulted. They were big fellows and the scrap was a dandy. When it was over, they shook hands and that was the end of the argument about the land.

"That was probably the cheapest settlement of a case there ever was," Will chuckled.

Grabbin' the apple—When a bronc rider grabs the saddle horn to keep from being thrown.

Hazer—Bulldogger's assistant, who picks up the bulldogger's horse after he has leaped to the steer.

High-roller—Horse that leaps high when bucking.

Hoolihanging—Leaping on the horns of a steer in bulldogging in a manner to knock him down, without twisting him down.

A tramp when asked his philosophy replied: "I turn my back to the wind." That's probably why he was a tramp. Following the line of least resistance is what makes rivers, and many men crooked. A man cannot drift to success. And we cannot drift to victory during this school year.

In contrast I like the words that Captain MacWhit spoke to his mate in Joseph Conrad's immortal tale of the sea, "Typhoon." In the midst of a great storm, MacWhit said: "Keep facing it! They may say that they like, the heaviest seas run with the wind. Always facing it. That's the way to get through."

The trees that face the winds on the coasts become the straightest and tallest. From them are made the masts and spars of sailing ships. The scrubs grow in the protected valleys. Strength and power is built up through facing resistance.

"Keep facing it" is a good motto for today. Even if your grades for the first semester haven't been up to par, you must keep facing it and try to bring them up. Whether the going is rough or smooth, you can't turn back now. You must keep plowing ahead.

Fresh vegetables should be the housewife's answer to rationing, Dr. Jet C. Winters, University of Texas chairman of the State Nutrition Council says. For instance, she points out that a half-cup of cooked greens will supply enough calcium for one day for an adult. Cabbage is a plentiful source for Vitamin C—that valuable vitamin which keeps the body functioning normally and builds cells.

Forty-one men freshmen students at the University of Texas qualified for Phi Sigma, honorary scholastic fraternity, during the summer and fall session. The minimum requirement is an A or B plus average.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin—In order to enjoy the best possible health at an age beyond forty, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, advises that persons of this age be regularly examined by their family physicians to discover in time those ailments which are likely to contribute to the ill health of older people.

The principal foes of health confronting the middle years are heart disease, cancer, kidney disease, high blood-pressure, hardened arteries, apoplexy, diabetes, and arthritis. Arthritis is conspicuous among these diseases because it is seldom fatal but is probably the most common cause of suffering and disability.

Dr. Cox advises periodic physical check-ups, the avoidance of overweight during the middle years of life and the observance of the natural restrictions imposed by increasing age. Persons with damaged hearts should learn their limitations and never exceed them. In general, they should avoid excessive fatigue, hard or prolonged exertion, exposure to cold wet weather; they should eat moderately, use tobacco sparingly, if at all, and stop all activity before breathlessness occurs.

Medical care in middle age has two aims. The first is prompt diagnosis or attention to illness which may mean the difference between continued good health and prolonged invalidism. The second aim is as important as the first, and that is prompt attention to any known illness in order that it may not progress and to allow an opportunity for a complete cure.

Despite limitations and complications, Dr. Cox declared that the second half of life can become the better half if close attention is paid to general health, and periodic examinations disclose any incipient illness in time for early treatment.

Mrs. O. O. Putnam is able to be up after receiving a bad cut on her foot. Her foot is in a cast, but is getting along nicely.

Senior News
The Seniors are anxiously awaiting the arrival of those dear old semester exams. I isn't that we like to take exams, but we want them to be something of the past. Then we have only one term and we'll be out of this educational pen.

Government class seems to be the favorite class of the Seniors, especially Charles. Charles, just why do you like that class the best? (Kinfolks, eh?)

Thank heavens! The boys have decided to make use of some of the outdoor athletic equipment. Now the girls of Room I will not have to be dodging erasers during free periods.

Junior News
This week and the next two weeks will find the Juniors scanning their textbooks in a faint effort to cram some knowledge into their brain cavities before mid-term. Clarence thinks it would be a superb idea if all teachers eliminated examinations to help the paper shortage. Confidentially, we all feel the same way. No exams, no paper wasted. See?

The Juniors Literature class will probably be a tiny bit happier now that we've finished the essays and biographies. Since the Juniors are all poetry lovers, we look forward to our coming poetry sessions.

We really hate to say this, but the Juniors are well on the way to becoming successful typists. It seems that even the Junior girls look forward to typing period.

Freshmen Report
This last week the Freshmen have been studying like mad. With mid-term examinations only a few weeks off, everyone is really studying because this is one of the really important examinations. Everyone has been reading his book this week because we must give reports on them next week. As yet we do not know if it will be a written or oral report.

We were sorry to find one of our classmates absent again this week. We all have pity on Dennis out there snapping those bolts, while we sit in school. Some of us would rather pull cotton than go to school, judging from the talk around here.

In history we are beginning the modern chapter, the chapter about the eighteenth century.

In English we are learning the different types of clauses and phrases.

In Science we are studying the weather and climate, and in math we are studying about the sphere.

Eighth Grade News
We have all settled back to our daily school routine. Everyone is studying and cramming as much as possible, because mid-term examinations are slowly creeping up. We are given little tests by our teachers to see if there are any hopes for us to pass our examinations.

New Service On Recapping Made By Local Firm

A new shipping service which greatly speeds tire recapping was inaugurated here recently by Blacklock Home and Auto Supply, Firestone dealer.

The new service—the first of its kind—sets up a regular schedule for trucking tires from the local Firestone store to the Firestone retreading shop and returning them. A Firestone truck, especially assigned to this work, will be used, making it possible for Winston Blacklock to assure his customers that smooth tires received before Monday will be recapped by the Firestone factory method and delivered by the following Friday.

This service sharply reduces the time car owners of Munday must wait for the return of tires being recapped.

An additional service offered by the Firestone Store is supplying car owners with "loaner" tires while their tires are being recapped, making it possible for Mr. Blacklock's customers to continue making business and other essential trips.

Firestone factory-method recapping assures car owners the highest quality workmanship with Grade A camelback for long mileage. Each tire is examined thoroughly for breaks and cuts before it is recapped.

The tire then is precision buffed for perfect balance, accurately retreaded and scientifically cured. Every Firestone recap has the famous Champion gear grip tread design which provides the greatest non-skid protection, and every Firestone recapped tire is guaranteed.

Mr. Blacklock said recapping now is more important than ever before because with the major portion of tires going to the armed services recapping is the best way to help conserve the supply of vital rubber and the manpower needed to build tires.

CHECKS SCHOOLS
L. R. Burkett of Wichita Falls, deputy state superintendent, checked the state aid schools of Knox county on Thursday, January 4, to figure the school budgets for the rural aid program.

January 15th Is Deadline For Farm Income Tax

This is a reminder to farmers that the deadline for making their 1944 income tax declaration is in sight. January 15, 1945, is the latest date on which they can file a declaration or estimated tax for this year.

Tyrus R. Timm of the A. and M. College Extension Service has gotten together some information from the income tax law which should be helpful. For instance, a single or married farmer who has made an adjusted gross income of five hundred dollars or more must file a return. The adjusted gross income, Timm explains, is the total income less the amount allowed for business expenses. Looking at it another way, the adjusted gross income of a farmer who has no outside income would be the same as his net farm profit calculated on form 1040-F.

In making a declaration as a farmer, remember that Uncle Sam is very particular as to the identity of a farmer. A farmer, he says, is one who obtains at least two thirds of his gross income from farming or ranching. Farmers who are working part time in war plants or on highways and at other jobs off the farm should consider this in preparing a declaration.

Timm, who is Extension economist in farm management, points out that a farmer must pay all of the tax due when he makes his declaration or final return on or before January 15. Of course, if he has made an earlier declaration all previous payments will be subtracted and he merely pays the difference.

Here are some other pointers. The Victory tax as such is eliminated this year, but the normal and surtaxes remain. The taxpayer and his wife are allowed $500 exemption each under the normal tax, but no allowance for dependents. For the surtax, however, the personal exemption is $500 each for the taxpayer and his wife, and a like amount for each dependent.

98-YEAR-OLD DOCTOR WANTS TO FIGHT POLIO

Dr. Mattie Caldwell Nelson
One of The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis' greatest admirers in its fight against the Crippler is Dr. Mattie Caldwell Nelson, probably the oldest woman doctor living.

From her home at McCrory, Arkansas, Dr. Nelson, now retired, stated recently that if she were twenty or thirty years younger, nothing would keep her from active participation in the fight against infantile paralysis (poliomyelitis). Having used hydrotherapy and physiotherapy extensively in her long and successful career, Dr. Nelson expressed particular interest in the Kenny method of polio treatment.

Now at the age of 98, her activities are limited. Even so, Dr. Nelson has joined the healthfront battle and adds her "ammunition" to the stream of dollars and dimes that go in birthday cards to President Roosevelt in the March of Dimes appeal, January 14-31.

electricity takes the basso part

So many members of the cost-of-living chorus are hitting high notes these days that you may easily miss one performer still rumbling along in the lower registers.

The basso is electricity. Its price was low when war began—and has stayed there. In fact, it directly reversed the rising trend of other costs. Government figures show that the average price of electric service has actually declined during the war period!

That's news, these days. It's the product of sound business management, plus the hard work of your friends and neighbors in this self-supporting, tax-paying company. And it's the promise of plentiful, low-priced electricity to run the modern marvels you'll have in your home after the war.

Junior News

It seems that this week will be a very busy one for the students in the Junior class. We are studying for several tests this week and everyone seems to dread them.

We wish to thank everyone that attended the play we put on last Wednesday night. The money we made on the play was put into the library fund to buy new books. Everyone should stay on the lookout for a play by the title of "Good Gracious Grandma!" This play will be presented in the near future.

Sophomore News

Since mid-term is only two weeks away everyone seems to be busy getting in book reports, saying poetry, and getting up notebooks.

We have a new pupil in our class, Nettie Mae Langley; we are glad to have her.

The Home Ec. II girls have at last finished their projects. Next half we take cooking. The boys are dropping Home Ec. at mid-term, so maybe the girls will have more time to work.

Fixing Up the Farm by BURTON WILLIAMS

Dairy Cutter Guard

I HAVE known farmers who would spend a lot of money to put their barn in shape to meet the necessary sanitation requirements, then neglect the simple, inexpensive things which are essential for clean dairy products. One of the most important items, of course, is to keep the cows as clean as possible. They should be clean when they enter the barn, and care should be taken to see that they remain clean during milking.

Illustrated below is a simple device to break cows of stepping back into the gutter. The rack is made of 2x2's, spaced about five inches apart so that the cow's dewclaws will catch if she steps back through it.

Slanted from the bottom of the gutter immediately behind the cow and running to the top of the opposite side, the rack will help eliminate one of the big problems in keeping milk sanitary.

POST WAR COTTON

"Cotton yields in recent years have averaged 100 pounds above what we considered normal in the early 30's," War Food Administrator Marvin Jones commented in discussing the cotton problem before the Congressional committee considering post war farm legislation.

"Cotton yields per acre have increased more than any other crop. The average yield for the 10-year pre-drought period, 1923 to 1932, was not quite 170 pounds of lint per acre. For the last three years it has been a little over 270 pounds. While weather has played an important part, much of this increase has come from planting of better varieties, better use of fertilizer, better use of our land and water resources through soil conservation practices, better handling of the cotton itself—and, in short, just simply better farming.

"While we can not count on the weather to continue favorable at all times, we can always count on the genius of American agriculture to continue to progress. The yield per acre and the production of better

Still Goodly Number of Unrationed Foods

While the over-all food rationing program has been tightened by restoration of point values to five vegetables and application of points to 85 per cent of the total meat supply, there remain a substantial number of foods for which rationing points are not needed, states OPA. All frozen and dried fruits and vegetables, fruit spreads, lard, soups, baked beans and baby foods... with fresh fruits and vegetables, cereals, eggs, poultry and fish... are unrationed. In the meat list no point value is attached to beef hearts, sweet-breads and beef tongue; lamb is unrationed on such cuts as breast and flank, shanks of all grades, patties, steaks, chops and roasts in utility grade, hearts, liver, sweetbreads and tongue; all grades of mutton are point-free; veal is unrationed in such classes of cuts as breast, flank meat, neck, shank and heel meat of all grades in utility grade and lower for steaks, chops and roasts, and also hearts, sweetbreads and tongue. No points are needed to buy pork fat backs, clear hocks, jowls, knuckles, regular plates and bacon ends, hearts, liver and tongue. A number of sausage types are also on the no point list.

Fuel Oil Warning Issued
Cold homes later on this winter, with no extra rations available, will be the inevitable result of present overconsumption of fuel oil, OPA warns. The request to conserve supplies came from the rationing agency following widespread indications that many householders have dipped too heavily into their fuel oil rations as are burning oil at a rate considerably in excess of what they should have used up to the present point of the 1944-1945 heating season.

Background For Farm Draft
Background of the selective service action requesting draft boards to reclassify and induct, to the full extent permitted by law, men in the age group 18 through 25 years who hold agricultural deferments is contained in a letter written to Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, by the director of War Mobilization and Reconversion, James F. Byrnes. Pointing out that the Tydings Amendment to the Selective Service Act does not give the agricultural worker absolute exemption, and was not intended to, Director Byrnes states:—"The Secretaries of War and Navy have advised me jointly that the calls from the army and navy to be met in the coming year will exhaust the eligibles in the 18 and 25 year age group at an early date. The army and navy believe it essential to the effective prosecution of the war to induct more men in this age group... than the men becoming 18 years of age the only remaining substantial source in this age group is in the 354,000 men now deferred because of agricultural occupation. You have further advised me that if this group is not available, you must call into service occupationally deferred men in the next age group, 26 years and older, most of whom are fathers. (Exclusive in Town and Farm) Expert Explains Farm Values By E. C. Johnson, in Charge, Interdepartmental Land Use Coordination Department of Agriculture

The farm land boom during and immediately following World War I was the cause of great distress among farmers. Thousands of them lost heavily mortgaged farms which they had purchased at boom prices. Remembering this disastrous experience, persons interested in the welfare of American Agriculture wish to see every effort possible made to prevent a land boom during the present war period.

Farm land prices have risen sharply since 1940. In many regions they are already at levels which cannot be supported by profitable long-time earnings from the land. Fortunately, remembering the distress which followed the last boom, many farmers are cautious in buying farms. They are paying debts and buying War Bonds.

By maintaining a cautious attitude on land values and using savings to pay debts and War Bonds, farmers can contribute much toward stability in farm real estate. City buyers of farms should remember that return from capital in farms over a period of years usually is low, and they will not be helping themselves and will only be contributing to distress among farmers by paying inflated prices for farm land.

Speculative buying of farms should by all means be discouraged. Buyers of farms will find it desirable to bear in mind that present prices of farm products are wartime prices and, therefore, they should use normal prices in estimating probable returns from the farm in future years. The only safe method for protecting an equity when buying a farm is to make a down payment of sufficient size to hold the mortgage to an amount which can be carried from earnings in average peacetime years.

THE TEXAN'S SHARE in the WAR

Another Christmas has come and gone—and by this time, dad has probably grown weary of playing with the toys and turned them back to the kids. Most Texan's enjoyed a prosperous and reasonably happy holiday, despite the absence of the boys overseas. But I wonder how many have stopped to give thanks for our really finest Christmas gifts?

Our best gifts were not the ones so prettily wrapped and placed under the tree. These are the Christmas gifts that deserve our most profound thanks:

France, given back to a free world by fighting men... Belgium, where thousands of Americans died in the true spirit that Christmas commemorates... a few thousand feet of ground gained in Italy, or Burma or China... a few more islands occupied by American fighting men in the Pacific...

A battle fought and won thousands of feet in the sky over Germany, where Christ is forgotten... a Jap ship sent to the bottom, at a cost of American lives... a deed of heroism performed silently and unseen in the dead of night... a life given gladly, so that others may live in freedom and decency...

These were our real Christmas presents... gifts bought with the blood and the lives of our sons and brothers and husbands. The price that was paid for them was so great that every Texan, and every American wherever he is, should bow his head in solemn reverence at the thought that mere men can make such sacrifices in the name of Humanity.

We should be thankful that our men abroad have given us so much, and that we are a year closer to final victory.

We should be grateful that we are citizens of a nation that believes that freedom, and honesty and decency are worth fighting for... and dying for.

We should be glad that, as Americans, we still believe in helping others... that we still possess the idealism that makes us take the side of the weak and the persecuted and the down-trodden. We should be forever grateful that it is our privilege to do more than merely fight and win a war. We should be happy in the knowledge that during 1944 we have made life a little better, a little easier, and a little finer for those who are not so fortunate.

We should be grateful for the National War Fund, which gives us the opportunity of helping so many millions of suffering war victims, which made it possible for us to send aid direct to our fighting men on every front and even behind the barricades of enemy prison camps. We should give solemn thanks that in America there still lives the spirit that could conceive and put into being such an organization, dedicated unselfishly to Humanity. And we should be forever grateful for our national, state and local leaders who gave so generously of their time and energy toward success of the great War Chest program. Yes, it was a swell Christmas, if we truly evaluate our great gifts. And next Christmas can be even greater, if we all strive throughout the coming year to do everything in our power to support the fighting men whose sacrifices will bring final victory and peace.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hord during the holidays were Mrs. Henryette Waggoner and daughter, Anita, and Miss Lorene Hord, all of Fort Worth; Gaylon Hord, who is in school at John Tarleton, Stephenville; Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hord and son, Mr. and Mrs. Devotie Hord and family, Mr. and Mrs. Derrell Hord and family, all of Truscott; Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Hord and family, Crowell; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Hord and son, Foard City, and Raymond Hord, who is in school at Brownwood.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"When this war is all over, Judge, there will be some mighty interesting books written about it. Expect we'll learn a lot of things we didn't know before."

"Yes, Fred, when the record is finally written we'll realize what a gigantic operation this war really was and how important to final victory many factors really were."

"Take, for example, just one industry. Few people realize the importance of the great work done by the beverage distillers during the war. A high government official called it 'an almost unparalleled example of the overnight conversion of an entire industry from peace to war.' He also said not so many months ago, while speaking about synthetic rubber, 'It is fair to regard the rubber manufactured to date as being almost solely the product of the beverage distilling industry.' That's the type of thing I have in mind... the way great American industries at home cooperated to help our brave fighting men abroad."

"I see what you mean, Judge... a complete history of American teamwork."

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

This week saw the beginning of the 19th Congress. Under the Constitution a new Congress is sworn in each two years. Each new Congress starts with a clean slate, as all bills and resolutions die with the expiration of the old Congress. The Congress is made up of 96 Senators, elected for 6-year terms, and 435 Representatives, elected for 2-year terms.

The new House which convened this January 3 has 243 Democrats, 190 Republicans, and 2 of other parties. The 79th Congress had 215 Democrats, 210 Republicans, 4 of other parties, and six vacancies at the close of the session.

Texas Representatives and the years they came to Congress are: Sam Rayburn, Bonham, 1913; Hatton W. Summers, Dallas, 1913; J. J. Mansfield, Columbus, 1917; Fritz G. Lanham, Fort Worth, 1919; Luther A. Johnson, Corsicana, 1923; Wright Patman, Texarkana, 1929; R. Ewing Thomason, El Paso, 1931; Milton West, Brownsville, 1933; George Mahan, Colorado City, 1935; W. R. Poage, Waco, 1937; Albert Thomas, Houston, 1937; Lyndon B. Johnson, Johnson City, 1937; Ed Gossett, Wichita Falls, 1939; Paul J. Kilday, San Antonio, 1939; Lindley Beckworth, Glade-water, 1939; Sam Russell, Stephenville, 1941; Eugene Worley, Shamrock, 1941; O. C. Fisher, San Angelo, 1943. There are three new members in this Congress, J. M. Combs, Beaumont, Tom Pickett, Palestine, and John E. Lyle, from Corpus Christi.

The most controversial thing done by the Congress this week was the creation of the Committee on Un-American Activities as a permanent committee. This committee, usually referred to as the Dies Committee, has been a storm center for years. It has been praised by the American Legion and condemned by the CIO. Most of the so-called radicals and left-wingers have predicted the committee would pass out forever with the old Congress.

Its enemies have charged the committee with creating disunity, with using third degree methods, with ruthlessly smearing many good citizens. Its friends say it has served well by exposing radical societies that have masqueraded under pious names, has brought about the conviction of many public enemies, and has run others to cover; that as a result of its work Fritz Kuhn, head of the German Bund, and Earl Browder, president of the Communist Party, were sent to the pen, that its continuance is like keeping the Grand Jury in session on disloyal and subversive activities. Some praise the committee for the enemies it has made.

Texas divided evenly in voting for the re-creation and extension of this committee as follows: For the committee: Beckworth, Fisher, Gossett, Kilday, Lanham, Mahon, Russell, West, and Worley. Against the committee: Combs, Luther Johnson, Lyle, Mansfield, Patman, Pickett, Poage, Thomas and Thomason. Texans not voting were Lyndon Johnson and Hatton Summers. Speaker Rayburn votes in the

Many Attend Funeral For W. H. Atkeison

A large number of relatives and close friends attended funeral services here Friday afternoon for W. H. Atkeison, pioneer resident. The Methodist church, where services were held, was practically filled by those who came to pay final tribute to a life of usefulness.

The large floral offering bore mute testimony of the love and esteem in which Mr. Atkeison was held in this section.

Services were conducted by Rev. Don R. Davidson, who was assisted by Rev. Luther Kirk of Slaton and Rev. W. H. Albertson. Pallbearers were J. L. Stodghill, H. A. Pendleton, Leland Hannah, W. R. Moore, J. C. Borden, P. V. Williams, C. L. Mayes and Homer Lee of Wichita Falls.

Among out-of-town relatives and friends here for the services were Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Cook of Scranton, Mr. and Mrs. John Cook of Putnam, Valentine Cook of Texarkana, Orville Bullington and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Lee of Wichita Falls, Mrs. H. G. Johnson and Mrs. Agnes Mayes of Amarillo, E. S. Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Briggs, John Briggs and Lee Briggs, all of Terrell; Mrs. Morrison Boyd and C. M. Atkeison, Somerville, Tenn.; John Robinson and Walter Barnard, Vernon; John Bennett, Stamford; Mrs. Henry Alexander and Raul English, both of Spur.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means of thanking our many dear friends for their many kindnesses and expressions of sympathy during our recent bereavement.

We pray God's blessings on each and every one of you.
The Atkeison Children.

CARD OF THANKS

We sincerely appreciate all help and dedications that were received. Also the beautiful flowers and the food that was prepared and brought into this home ready to serve.

We wish to express our gratefulness to the pallbearers who were as follows: Freddie Glover, Freddie Crenshaw, Byron Howse, William Ryder Jr., Frank William Driver, Mrs. Anell Harrison and Girls, The Harrison Relatives, Tommie Joe Williams.

House only in case of a tie vote.

Many bills were introduced on the first day of the new Congress. Among those introduced by me was a bill to compel the removal of freight rate inequalities, and a bill to reduce all immigration into this country by 50 per cent for a period of ten years.

Among actions taken by the Senate this week was the confirmation of former Senator Gillette of Iowa to be Chairman of the Surplus War Properties Board. Other members of the board are Robert A. Hurley, former governor of Connecticut and Edward Heller of California. Congress is determined that the more than 100 billion dollars of surplus war property will be disposed of without fraud or profiteering, and in a way to serve the public interest and protect the taxpayers.

At this time Washington is suffering a local gasoline shortage and many motorists have been compelled to put their cars in garages because no gasoline is available. My own car has been sitting gasless for more than ten days, a fact about which I am not complaining.

Vital and interesting figures on the national economy were released this week. Figures for the last two years are approximately as follows: personal savings 1943, 37 billion dollars, 1944 38 billions; war products, 1943 59 billions, 1944 62 billions; national income, 1943 150 billions, 1944 160 billions; gross national production, 1943 184 billions, 1944 198 billions.

Canada Supplies Vital Paper

Machine lumbering in the Powell River section of Canada. The use of modern, fast machine methods in lumbering for wood pulp has not offset the manpower shortage. The war demands for paper and paper products are tremendous.

BEFORE the war the pulp and paper industry occupied first place among all manufacturing industries in Canada in respect to amount of capital employed and amount of salaries and wages paid. In 1941, both volume and value of production exceeded all previous levels. The exceptional demand for pulps made necessary the installation of additional manufacturing facilities, and exports were twice as large in 1941 as in 1939. Labour shortages made it very difficult to maintain this spectacular increase, but as a result of the exceptional measures taken and strict limitation of domestic consumption, Canada's total export of wood, wood products and paper have steadily increased.

When, toward the end of 1941, United States demand for Canadian pulpwood, pulp, and papers, rose to abnormal heights, and at the same time Canada was facing an increasingly serious manpower shortage, pulpwood operations were brought under Timber Control.

The first step was to place exports of pulpwood to non-empire countries on a permit basis, but it was provided at that time that mills in the United States, which customarily relied on Canadian raw material, would continue to receive supplies based on average purchases during the previous seven years.

The deficit between supply and demand continued to grow bigger, and about a year ago the U. S. War Production Board called for a reduction in newsprint consumption of about ten per cent. The effective reduction is estimated at much less than this, although supplies from Canada have been reduced to 210,000 tons a month as compared with an average of 232,682 tons in 1942.

WPB recently said Canada will maintain exports at the current 200,000 ton a month rate during the first 6 months of 1945.

been a constant sufferer for 10 or a dozen years, but bore his suffering with patience and christian fortitude; a man of few words, but a noble character to those who knew him best.

Sweet is the memory, sweet the contemplation of those whose faces we behold no more; they would not have us grieve in lamentation because their pilgrim journey's o'er.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks and appreciation for every act of kindness and for the beautiful floral offering during the recent illness and death of our beloved father and grandfather, W. M. Byrd.

In Memory Of Charlie Johnston

Charlie Johnston, son of William Joseph and Sarah Elizabeth Johnston, was born in Lafayette county, Miss., in 1871, and departed this life January 1, 1945.

He moved with his parents to Texas in 1876 and settled in Parker county, where he grew to manhood. He obtained most of his education in rural schools, and through his own efforts by burning the midnight oil.

He received his certificate and joined the ranks of Texas teachers at the age of 26, and followed this profession for several years. He then became postmaster at Advance, Texas, and later operated a dry goods and grocery store. He moved to Knox county in 1905 and became the first rural mail carrier out of Goree, later receiving appointment as postmaster, in which capacity he served for 10 years.

In 1925 he was married to Miss Elzora Cunningham of Comanche county. At that time he was engaged in the grocery business in Goree, where he continued until his retirement because of ill health. Charlie was always interested in the upbuilding of community affairs, ever ready to lend a helping hand to those less fortunate. He had

Enlarging Buildings

CAUGHT between demands for increased production and war-time building difficulties, many farmers are wondering how they can enlarge their service buildings to take care of bigger herds and flocks and larger crops.

Building additions to existing structures is not difficult and can be done with the materials now available. For added structural members, used lumber will do if new lumber is not available. For the exterior, asbestos cement sidings can be obtained in most localities. They can be applied easily and quickly, and will provide a fireproof, weather-proof surface that will last for years.

Also available for roofing needs are asbestos cement shingles. Made of two minerals, they are extremely durable and excellent for farm construction and repair work. Asbestos sidings and asbestos shingles require no painting for preservation.
