Rites For Mrs. A. F. Huskinson Held On Monday

Body Taken Overland To Corsicana For Burial

Funeral services for Mrs. A. F. "Granny" Huskinson, well known and dearly beloved Munday resident, were held last Monday afternoon at five o'clock from the First Methodist church in Munday. Services were conducted by Rev. Don R. Davison, pastor, who was assisted by Rev. Luther Kirk of Slaton, a former pastor.

Mrs. Huskinson passed away at her home here at ten o'clock last Sunday night, following a long period of illness. She had been confined to her home most of the time for a number of years.

"Granny" Huskinson, the former Nancy McCuiston, was born April 26, 1862, in Missouri, and was 82 years, 9 months and 8 days of age. She came to Texas while a young girl, when her family moved to Corsicana. There she was married to A. F. Huskinson on March 31, 1890.

They came to Munday in 1906, where Mrs. Huskinson had made her home continuously. She had been a member of the Methodist church for about 60 years, and although she was unable to attend church services for many years, her church remained an important part of her life. Granny's Christian life, her cheerfulness and her devotion have blessed many lives in this area.

Pallbearers were Homer Lee and Orville Bullington, both of Wichita Falls, C. R. Elliott, C. L. Mayes, George Spann of Dallas, J. J. Keel, J. C. Borden and J. C. Campbell.

The body was carried overland to Corsicana by the Mahan Funeral Home and was buried at four o'clock Tuesday afternoon beside her husband who died in 1921.

Mrs. Huskinson is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Erna Mae Lee, Wichita Falls; two sons, A. F. Huskinson of Bomarton and W. M. Huskinson of Wichita Falls. Seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild, Nancy Lee, also survive.

The grandchildren are L. B. Lee and Billy Arthur Lee, both serving in France; Miss Zell Spann, Dallas; Miss Maryon Huskinson and Joe Johnnie Spann, all of Munday.

Goree Announces Basketball Tourney

Another basketball tournament will be played at the Goree school gymnasium on February 15, 16 and 17, it was announced this week. This will be strictly a high school tournament.

Teams that have entered the competition are Munday, Knox City, Benjamin, O'Brien, Weinert, Bomarton, Gilliland and Goree. This will probably be the only high school tourney to be held in the county this year, officials said, and everyone is invited to see these interesting games.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Warren of Lubbock were guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hobert and J. A. Warren over the week end.

Nurse Rescued In Philippines Well Known Here

Mrs. Maud V. Williams, 37, one of the 11 Texas nurses from Bataan and Corregidor who were liberated from the Japanese in the Philippines, is well known in Knox county.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Denson of Guthrie, received the news Monday in a news broadcast. Denson, King county treasurer, said they were "very happy."

Mrs. Williams is a namesake of Miss Maud Isbell of Munday, who is highly elated over the good news. Last word the family had received from Mrs. Williams was a telegram about six months ago. Other messages included a letter which they received in November, 1943—the first time they had heard from her since her capture on Corregidor—and a card in May, 1944.

The nurse's husband, Lt. W. R. Williams, is also a prisoner of the Japanese. He was taken prisoner on Bataan.

Mrs. Williams was reared in Rule, but graduated from Sagerton high school. She received her training as a nurse at the Stamford sanitarium. She then joined the Army nursing corps, and was stationed at Fort Sam Houston before being sent to Manila in 1935.

While in Manila she met W. R. Williams of Virginia, a Texas oil company representative, and they were married in 1939. During the same year, Mrs. Williams was home for a four-months leave; then returned to Manila. At the outbreak of the war, Williams, a West Point graduate, went back into the army.

Funeral Services For Bruce Infant Are Held Monday

Julia Ann Bruce, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Bruce of Munday, passed away at the Stamford hospital last Sunday morning. She had been taken there for treatment for diphtheria, according to reports.

Born at Knox City on August 31, 1943, the child was 18 months of age.

Surviving are her parents, who recently moved here from Rule, a sister, Ivalene and a brother, Lee; her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bruce and Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Morrow of Munday. Numerous other relatives also survive.

Funeral services were held from the Methodist church in Munday at three o'clock last Monday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Don Davidson. Interment was in Johnson cemetery by the Mahan Funeral Home.

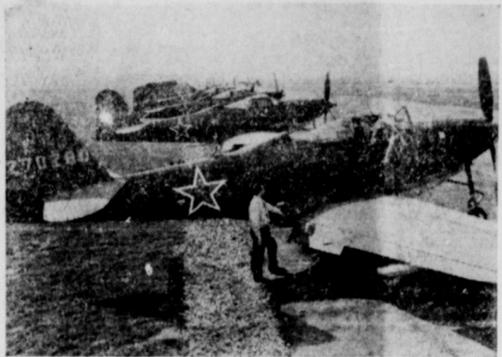

Great uncles served as pallbearers. They are R. T. Morrow, Fay Killian, Elmo Morrow and Joel Morrow.

MOVES TO ARIZONA

A. E. (Tuck) Whitworth, who is serving with the border patrol at Nogales, Ariz., spent several days last week with relatives and friends here. He moved his family to Nogales to make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Lee of Fort Worth spent last Thursday night and Friday here with Sidney's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Lee.

HEADING FOR SOVIET RUSSIA OVER NEW NORTHERN ROUTE

Cannon-carrying P-63 Kingcobras, bearing the insignia of the Red Air Force, are lined up at Bell Aircraft Corporation, Buffalo, N. Y., waiting to be ferried to Russia. These planes will be flown over the Northern Route to Fairbanks, Alaska, where they are turned over to Russian pilots who fly them across Siberia to air bases on the Eastern Front.

For two years, the United States has been feeding military aircraft in a ceaseless chain to its fighting ally, Soviet Russia. And more than half of those fighting and bombing planes have been flown over the famed Northern Route, which leads up through Canada and Alaska, across Siberia to Russia.

Although the temperature in the Klondike and Yukon territory has been known to drop as low as 67 degrees below zero (Fahrenheit) Army Air Forces engineers and the aviation industry have made tremendous strides in equipping planes to combat the severe cold.

Since early 1942, aircraft in excess of 10,000 units have been ferried from various sections in the United States to Great Falls, Montana, jumping off spot for Canada and points north. Edmonton, Alberta, is the next important section on the Northern Route and between there and Fairbanks, Alaska, emergency fields are situated at convenient intervals.

The Army Air Forces Air Transport Command handles the assignment of getting the planes to Fairbanks. Russian pilots carry on from there, making the 500-mile flight to Nome before cutting across the narrow Bering Strait into Siberia.

Fighter planes built by Bell Aircraft Corporation have constituted 50 percent of those flown over the route. Thousands of P-39 Airacobras, each bearing the red star of the Soviet Air Force, were ferried from Buffalo to Moscow over this route and when P-39 production was halted, Bell's higher and faster P-63 Kingcobra followed in the slipstream of the Airacobras.

Car Licenses To Be On Gas Coupons In Two Places

The new automobile license number will need to be shown in only two places, Chief Clerk of Knox County War Price and Ration Board announced today. "The OPA District office has informed us that it will not be necessary to write it on every gasoline ration coupon." It will suffice, she said to cross out the old license number and write in the new license number on the face of the ration cover or holder, and on the Mileage Rationing Record (Form R-534, stub).

A deluge of inquiries about how to show the new automobile license numbers on gasoline coupons already bearing the old license number have been reaching the Knox County War Price and Rationing Board, according to the chief clerk. A great many people seem to have the idea that it is necessary to scratch out the old license number and write in the new number on each individual gasoline ration coupon, the chief clerk said.

BARNARDS RETURN TO MUNDAY THIS WEEK

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Barnard, who moved to Lubbock several months ago, have returned to Munday to make their home.

Mr. Barnard, pharmacist at Eiland's Drug Store for some 10 years before leaving, has returned to his old post at the local store. At present Mrs. Barnard is attending the bedside of her mother, Mrs. J. H. Bilbey of Goree. They expect to re-establish residence in Munday in the near future.

Plans Are Virtually Completed For Annual 4-H Calf Show

Club Meetings For February Are Well Attended

Two hundred forty-one 4-H Club girls and nine sponsors and one hundred and ninety-three 4-H Club boys and four sponsors attended the 4-H Club meetings held during the month of January by the agents. There was a total of 434 4-H Club boys and girls and 13 sponsors that attended these meetings.

Joint meetings were held during the business session and then separate meetings were held for the demonstrations.

The girls were in charge of the meeting. The roll was called by both secretaries, the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. All business was taken care of then the meeting was turned over to R. O. Dunkle, county agent. We distributed 56 honor awards to boys that had completed their last year's work and made reports. We then took the boys on the outside, and set up a home made lamp brooder and showed them how it operated. Blue prints were distributed among the group who wished to make a brooder.

Lucile King, home demonstration agent, took charge of the meeting and gave a demonstration to the girls on making "Hand Lotions." She also gave a talk to the girls on grooming along with the demonstration on hand lotions. The girls were asked to bring empty hand lotion bottles for storing the lotion. Each girl that brought a bottle received some of the lotion. In some of the meetings the girls assisted the agent in making the hand lotions. Bulletins on Grooming were given each 4-H Club girl.

Honor awards were distributed to 47 4-H Club girls who completed their projects and made reports. As a result of this demonstration thirty five new members were added to the girls 4-H Club roll, and six new members were added to the boys 4-H Club roll.

Rhineland Boy Is Back From Overseas

Mrs. A. F. Homer of Rhineland received a telegram Tuesday from her son, Pvt. Joe Birkenfield, stating that he had landed back in the United States after serving overseas for several months.

Birkenfield, who landed in New York, had been serving with the Second Armored Division in Germany, but had been evacuated to England for medical treatment because of a foot ailment. He said he would be home soon.

The Rhineland boy had been in the service since December 11, 1943.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Haymes spent the first of this week in Orange, Texas, visiting with their son, Bobby, who is serving in the navy. Bobby is expecting to be called for sea duty this week.

AMERICAN HEROES

In the crushing advance of American Armies in France, T/Sgt. Frank M. Burford led a small group against a bristling machine-gun strong point, knocking out two emplacements and killing four Nazis. Later another position was routed and two killed. The group pushed on until halted by a Battalion Commander. Sgt. Burford, cited by the Army for gallantry in action, deserves the support that only War Bonds can furnish. Buy War Bonds.

$220.00 In Prizes To Be Awarded Boys

The 4-H Club boys Baby Beef Show, which is to be held at Knox City, on Saturday, February 17th, is being sponsored by the Knox City Lion's Club, and reports by the different committees wish to assure the boys that every detail for the show has been worked out and to a very satisfactory manner.

The outstanding feature of the calf show this year, is the full-hearted cooperation and contribution of practically every member of the Lion's Club and all business firms within Knox City. The result is that premiums will be increased to a degree greater than any premium rate that has been previously awarded the boys in Knox county.

The sixteen calves that will be shown will be divided in equal number according to the calf's weight so that there will be eight calves in the senior class and eight calves in the junior class, and $22.50 in premium money will be paid on each class, and the premiums will be as follows for each class:

- $20.00 1st place.
- $15.00 second place.
- $10.00 third place.
- $7.50 fourth place.
- $7.50 fifth place.
- $7.50 sixth place.
- $7.50 seventh place.
- $7.50 eighth place.

The grand champion calf will be paid an additional premium of $30.00, and the reserve champion calf will be paid an additional $25, making a grand total of $220.00.

Arrangements have been made to have each boy and his parents as guests of the Lion's Club for lunch, which will be served at the high school lunch room during the noon hour.

Frank Wendt, county agent of Wilbarger county, and O. K. Hoyle, county agent of Baylor county, will judge the show and after each of the different classes are shown the judges will select the ten best calves for the Wichita show, which will be held at Wichita Falls, on February 28th and March 1st and 2nd.

Very attractive ribbons will be awarded to each boy who shows his calf in either of the two classes.

Boy Scouts To Continue Drive For Wastepaper

Supt. W. C. Cunningham, local scoutmaster, announced Tuesday that the drive for collection of wastepaper will be continued in Munday. The town and surrounding area are urged to cooperate in this drive.

Another collection date has been set for Saturday, February 17, at which time it is hoped to collect at least 4,000 pounds of paper.

Citizens living outside the city limits are asked to bring their old newspapers to the elementary school building. They will be picked up there by the scouts and hauled to the storage point.

Mr. Cunningham said around 4,000 pounds of paper was collected last Saturday, and this will be sent to the war effort immediately following the drive on February 17.

The local troop extends their thanks to William Roy Baker, Boy Scout of Knox City, who assisted them in the collection last Saturday.

WE ARE WINNING THE WAR—BUT

Are the people of the United States being adroitly educated into the belief that they are no longer competent as individuals to manage their own affairs? Are there influences at work in our country, taking advantage of the war to sow the seeds of state socialism? There is a persistent effort being made to convince the people that wartime controls and restrictions must follow into the postwar era.

War brings not only the threat of an attacking enemy, but the danger of entrenched officialism which never willingly relaxes its grip.

The United States is the world's greatest example of the accomplishments of a free people, as contrasted with nations where governments have been in the drivers' seats.

When this war started, free enterprise in the United States was prepared to produce the railroads were ready to transport; the electric power companies were ready to furnish power; the coal mines, the oil wells, the retail distributing system, agriculture, our automobile industry, all business was ready to go at the drop of a hat. American industry long had been producing on an efficient, competitive basis, as contrasted with the lethargy of government monopolies in foreign nations.

Modernization and distribution of a nation's resources in wartime, including her sons and daughters, is one thing—but bureaucratic control of the industries and businesses of a free nation, and the substitution of political management and judgment for individual energy, intelligence and responsibility in peacetime, is another thing. The latter leads to the death of liberty as surely as the first prevents the encroachment of tyranny.

A JOB WELL DONE

We have supplied gasoline, fuel oil, lubricants, and hundreds of other petroleum products to our fighting men and our allies throughout the world in quantities beyond comprehension. The Office of War Information estimated recently that it requires 6,480,800 gallons of petroleum products for an initial invasion of 250,000 men in a given area, and 32,424,000 gallons to maintain this force for 30 days. This gives an idea of the tremendous job the American petroleum industry is doing in seeing that our armed forces never lack oil.

How it has supplied our military demands and kept the wheels turning at home, is a story of accomplishment almost without parallel. While meeting the demands of war, the industry is not failing to think in terms of peace, and its obligation to maintain unending reserves for the greatest oil using nation in the world.

We are just discovering, as it were, the vast potentials of our great natural resource, oil, that has transformed our way of living—discoveries brought about by individual initiative and spurred on by free competition.

NEBRASKA SWALLOWS THE BAIT

Starting with the new year, Nebraska became the first state in the union to favor total socialization of one of its greatest industries—electric power development.

The ironical part of the plan to "liquidate" the privately-owned Nebraska Power Company, is the fact that its sale was forced by Federal laws and a Federal agency, but promoters of the deal got a fat "profit" for destroying a profitable, taxpaying industry.

If the people of Nebraska want socialized industries, they have made a good start. The public electric plant will pay no Federal taxes, and will probably be exempted from much of the tax it previously paid to state and local governments. The company that laid the golden tax eggs is killed, and the people hold the sack.

Thus does state socialism extend its field in the United States.

FARM PRODUCTION BIG PROBLEM

The government expects farmers to again break crop records in 1945. Fred H. Sexauer, President of the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association, says the average age of farm operators is 59 years. They work 12 to 16 hours a day, 7 days a week, against industrial workers' 7 1/2 hours per day. Drafting most of the 18-to-25-year-old farm help will put a big question mark on new crop records. With worn-out machinery, and principally older men to do the job, we will be lucky if there is not a drop in farm production.

WAR TEACHES FIRE PREVENTION

"Fire protection in the war effort has not been restricted to the work at established posts, camps, and stations," says W. E. Mallahan, of the National Board of Fire Underwriters. "Fire fighting has, and is continuing to play an important role in the theatre of operations. The urgent need for trained fire fighters overseas was recognized early. In response, for example, the Army engineers established a school in this country to train men in fire fighting and in the use of the latest fire-fighting equipment. Since the invasion of Africa, more than 6,000 men have undergone this specialized training.

"Few persons in our sheltered home life in the United States realize all that has been accomplished in this connection. The record of low fire loss in the theatre of operations is one which has already proved the value of such schooling. This training will have an effect on fire prevention and fire protection in civilian life. The very fact that thousands of men will return to their homes with pictures of the tragedy brought about by fire impressed upon their minds, while other thousands will have basic knowledge of how to combat fire, should reflect favorably on the cause of fire prevention."

We should make "fire prevention" a motto in our daily life. All communities can pull together toward the control of the common enemy, fire—which is never licked. Let us all apply common sense in avoiding unnecessary hazards.

OUTDOING ALADDIN

The most common things in life are often the most essential, although few people realize it. The war has brought this fact out in bold relief and proved that our everyday necessities are more valuable than gold.

For instance, a sack of flour, a ham, a quarter of beef or a ton of coal, have a value far beyond gold—they will sustain life, gold will not.

Bituminous coal, for example, means power and heat—primary necessities in sustaining life. Coal has become such a dramatic part of our nation's welfare that a motion picture has been cast around it, titled, "Power Unlimited."

The wizards of modern chemistry have created more magic from a lump of coal than Aladdin ever dreamed of. Coal dust has been turned into diaphanous gowns. Soot has been transformed into a major ingredient of the most delicate perfume. Drugs, cosmetics, dyes and countless daily necessities now stem from the lowly lump of bituminous coal.

No greater testimonial can be offered as to the genius and initiative of American enterprise, than the metamorphosis it has worked in the production and use of coal.

LOAFERS AND HOARDERS

The Mead Committee has made public glaring examples of loafing on the job and labor hoarding.

Stories of a similar nature from unofficial sources have long been common knowledge. Private citizens can recount from their own experience, disgraceful examples of deliberate loafing on war jobs. Many conscientious workers have quit war jobs because they could not stand the waste of time they were required to endure.

The answer to criticism of labor loafing and labor hoarding is always, "We have produced the goods." That may be true, but at what a price! How much more could have been produced otherwise! We have now reached the point where both money and man-hours are growing scarcer. Let us hope that if the Mead Committee is not able to penalize or punish labor loafers or labor hoarders, that revelations which it can make will arouse the nation and shame the offenders into a correction of their ways.

Of the 272 words in Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, 203 are words of one syllable.

AIRFIELDS OF THE NORTH

Goose Bay Air Base, Labrador, is one of the largest and most important air bases linking this continent with Britain. Above is shown a giant Liberator coming in at dusk, after submarine patrol duty. This plane is painted white on the under side so that it is less visible against the clouds.

Before the Watson Lake Airfield, in western Canada on the route to Alaska, was finished, huge transport planes shared the field with graders putting finishing touches to the runways.

IN CONCEPT and in execution the defence plans for the vital areas of northwestern and north-eastern Canada represent one of the most effective examples of co-operation among the United Nations. While the primary purpose of the defence installations was to close those North American approaches against attack by Germany and Japan, they now have become links in the offensive plans of the allies. Air craft fly across the northwest to the Pacific theatre of war and across the northeast of Europe.

The need for a northeast staging route was originally suggested to Canada by the United Kingdom in August 1940, with the suggestion that the matter be discussed with the United States. Long-range bombers were already being ferried across the Atlantic through the Newfoundland airport at Gander, but this airport was congested, and there were no facilities for ferrying short-range bombers or fighters which were beginning to come off United States assembly line in considerable volume.

The United States investigated the possibilities of establishing airfields in Greenland while Canada proceeded to reconnoitre Labrador. In June 1941, a site was discovered at Goose Bay, and a preliminary survey was made. A United States Army Air Force party subsequently recommended the site.

In the meantime, the United States, in agreement with the Danish minister at Washington, had in April, 1941, assumed responsibility for the defence of Greenland and had begun constructing airfields there which were to be available to other "American nations," which included Canada. Shortly afterwards the United States also made an agreement with Iceland for the defence of that island, and airfields were rapidly constructed there. With the completion of Goose Bay airfield and the Greenland and Iceland fields, a staging route was available for relatively short-range aircraft.

Thus from north to south, east to west, continent to continent, ocean to ocean—whichever way planes fly—safe stepping-stones have been provided.

Although the United States has been responsible for much of the wartime construction in Canada's northwest and northeast, expenditures on permanent works are to be reimbursed by Canada. All the works, whether of a permanent or non-permanent nature, are being relinquished to Canada.

FISH BAIT

College Station — As fishermen must have bait, several northern Grayson county farmers are preparing to raise flocks of minnows for baiting the hooks of the army of Isaac Walton expected to toss lines in big Texhoma Lake this year, says County Agricultural Agent V. O. Teddlie. The lake, created by the Denison dam, extends along the greater part of the north end of the county and farmers nearby believe that the demand will justify setting up the new industry of growing minnows commercially.

A supply of minnows convenient to the lake will save fishermen the job of carrying them long distances which is difficult in warm weather, Mr. Teddlie says. He adds that Texhoma Lake promises to be the best fishing spot in the south.

We all miss grand old Will Rogers in these days of crisis. May we keep in mind his declaration that the United States has never lost a war or won a peace—and try to make the next settlement a different and a lasting one.

Probably the cowboy humorist's best known saying was based on his pride in the fact that he was partly of Indian ancestry: "My folks didn't come over on the Mayflower but they met the boat."

Or maybe it was his experience when he was going abroad and, in order to get a passport, he was explained to the young lady clerk, that where he came from, being born was a sort of private affair and that if a man is here, that ought to be proof enough that he was born!

If the State is going to demand $1.75 for the right to vote, can you think of any reason why the deadline for paying the poll tax should not be April 15 or May 1, rather than the present limit of January 31?

from under the Christmas rush, the start of a new business year, filling of an estimate on his income tax and paying his various city, county, state, school, road and water district taxes at that time.

But if the effective date of the poll tax were postponed until the sap began to rise and the dogwood began to bloom and the candidates began to announce; then the citizens would say, "I sure want to vote against that bird," and then would hurry down and pay his poll tax.

That way, more people would be qualified to vote and more poll taxes would be collected.

I remember when I was a little fellow and would wake up in the morning and my hair was all tangled and it hurt to comb it out—'rats in your hair,' the older folks would say. It's odd but I ain't never troubled that way no more—one reason may be that I'm bald-headed, now."

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Lieutenant Hoblit had just received the report that his brother, Staff Sergeant Roy D. Hoblit, was among the prisoners of the Japanese who were rescued from Cebu by the heroic action of American Rangers. All are hoping and praying that others will soon receive similar glad tidings.

Lieutenant General Sir William G. S. Dobbie was in Washington this week. He is noted for his study of the Bible and Christian devotion. He defended the Mediterranean Isle of Malta for two years against the heaviest bombing on earth. In a speech at Constitution Hall he gave credit for his success to Divine Providence. We would be better off if more of our leaders followed his illustrious example.

Figures placed in the Congressional Record this week on our national debt are revealing. In 1920 we owed over 23 billion dollars, on which we paid in excess of 4 per cent interest. In 1932 we owed in excess of 20 billion dollars on which we paid more than 3 per cent interest. In 1940 we owed 45 billion dollars on which we paid 2 1/2 per cent interest. In 1944 our national debt was over 230 billion dollars, on which we pay less than 2 per cent interest.

Those who fear national bankruptcy have been encouraged by figures on our national wealth. Our country has 31 per cent of the world's radio sets, 59 per cent of the world's telephones, and 71 per cent of the world's automobiles. We normally consume 63 per cent of the world's petroleum, 64.4 per cent of the world's rubber, 55 per cent of the world's coffee, and 21 per cent of the world's sugar.

Since the war began, except for private automobiles, we have increased all forms of home front transportation facilities. We have built 963 locomotives, 43,000 freight cars, 938 troop sleepers with kitchen cars, and have put 90,000 additional trucks on our highways. Figures released recently show we now have operating under certificates of war necessity 4,744,000 trucks and 216,000 trailers.

A famous economist (they are often wrong) this week predicted that we will have full employment and a number of boom years follow.

Woman Helps Dairy Farmers Solve Milk Production Program

Meet the "Milk Woman." That is the descriptive title given Mrs. Rosella Cook, field woman for the Kraft Cheese Company, by dairy farm families of East Texas.

Throughout the country, Kraft maintains a staff of field men to help dairy farmers raise and maintain the quality of their milk. Mrs. Cook is the only woman with an active part in this program. With headquarters in Sulphur Springs, Tex., she calls on more than 800 families in her territory.

Rose Cook, because she has lived on a Texas farm herself, has a firsthand knowledge of rural problems. If the man of the house is absent when Mrs. Cook calls—which he is about half of the time—she talks to his wife as an interested friend, and without interruption of whatever chore the housewife may be doing. In fact, in the course of her day's work, Mrs. Cook has found herself shelling peas, grinding coffee, helping in food canning, wiping dishes, or watching over two-year-old Junior, as well as demonstrating good dairying practices.

The trunk of her car is filled with assorted equipment, inexpensive and much of it homemade. In the above photograph, she is demonstrating the construction of a simple barrel milk cooler. The cooler is specially designed for the farmer with a small herd, to help him cool the milk rapidly to 50 degrees F. A barrel is sawed in half, filled with cool water, and the can of milk wrapped in burlap and placed in the barrel. Evaporation brings the milk temperature down quickly.

In addition, Rose Cook discusses such matters as proper milk strainers, most effective cleaning agents for dairy equipment, building up dairy herds, pasturage, and other points involved in milk production. She finds the majority of farm families eager to learn the most approved methods of dairying, willing to follow her suggestions. A graduate of Texas Technological College, majoring in vocational home economics, Mrs. Cook was a home demonstration agent for the Texas Extension Service for seven years before joining Kraft.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington, D. C., Feb. 3.—Thursday of this week the House of Representatives completed four days of heated debate on the so-called national service law or the "work or fight" bill. It was finally passed by a vote of 246 yeas and 165 nays. All Texas members voted for the bill. The measure has now gone to the Senate for action, and if passed, as doubtless it will be, it will go to the President for his signature.

This bill is perhaps the outstanding example in many years of legislative compromise. Very few members of Congress are pleased with it, but most of them felt some legislation of this sort to be necessary. Furthermore, it was the consensus of opinion that defeat of the proposal would at this time be a great psychological blow to the war effort, and would adversely affect morale on both the home and foreign fronts.

No one knows how the bill will be administered. It will doubtless freeze all war workers in their present jobs, and may prevent further slowdowns or strikes in critical war production.

Among service men who have visited my office recently are Elroy Schoppa of Vernon, who is in the Navy's amphibious force, Ensign W. H. Wilson of Nocona, Sergeant Jack D. Winters and Navy Lieutenant Charley Hawn of Dallas, Pri-

Sgt. Clyde Zellers, Miss Lorene Hord Wed January 20

S/Sgt. Clyde E. Zellers Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Zellers of Arlington, and Miss Lorene Hord, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hord of Goree, were united in marriage on Saturday evening, January 20, in a double ring ceremony performed at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. S. M. Bennett of Arlington. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Tidwell of Hanley were attendants.

This was the happy culmination of a romance that began several years ago.

Sgt. Zellers enlisted in the Army Air Forces while in his senior year at the University of Texas, in June 1941. He was placed with the troop carrier command. Twenty eight months ago, he was sent overseas and has since seen action in Africa, Sicily, India and Italy.

In April, 1944, his squadron was sent to India to evacuate the wounded and carry supplies to the encircled British army during the attempted Japanese invasion of India. They did their job so well that the entire squadron was decorated with the Presidential Citation. They later returned to their original position in Italy.

S/Sgt. Zellers was sent back to the United States recently. He landed in Boston, and after going through San Antonio, arrived in Arlington on Wednesday, January 17, for his furlough.

The young couple will live in Arlington until Sgt. Zellers returns to duty.

At the next council meeting three representatives will be chosen to represent Knox county at the district meeting to be held in Seymour during April.

A drill in parliamentary procedure was led by Mrs. J. C. Patterson, parliamentarian. This was similar to an old-time spelling match, the difference being instead of spelling words questions were answered on parliamentary procedure, and scores made.

At an early date the council will receive the first shipment of books with which to start the memorial library. Members are looking forward to having access to all the latest and best books.

UNION CHAPEL CHURCH

Miss Janie Spann, pianist; Maureen Thompson, Janie Haynie and Martha Reynolds of Munday sang to the delight of everyone present at Union Chapel Sunday school last Sunday morning. Their quartet was a request number; "Lead Me Gently Home, Father." Then they joined in with the class, Mrs. Merrell assisting in directing, and sang several other numbers before our final dismissal.
 Again we say thank you, girls! Let's not forget, Sunday is our regular preaching day. Rev. J. K. Bateman will preach at 11:30 o'clock.

METHODIST CHURCH OPEN FEBRUARY 15 FOR WORLD DAY OF PRAYER

Next Friday, February 16, is the World Day of Prayer observed by a large number of Protestant churches around the world. On this day the local Methodists will be open and warm from five o'clock in the morning until ten o'clock that night so that any who want to do so may step in on the way to or from work and sit a moment in silent meditation or kneel at the chancel in prayer. From 12 noon until one there will be continuous music from the piano and each of the four fifteen minute periods in that hour will be closed by a group prayer directed by the pastor.

Those who want to come to the church at that time will have a seat at any time they arrive and wait for the pastor to call the group to the closing prayer. Then they will leave as they care to and others coming in the next fifteen minutes will pray at the close of that period. This affords all an opportunity to engage in special prayer for the things that are so much in our minds and hearts today. Anyone and everyone is welcome to this privilege.

New Sallman Painting Depicts Theme of Crusade for Christ

CHICAGO, (UPI)—Warner Sallman's new painting, "The Crusading Christ," depicts the support of millions of Christians to the determination of their Leader that there be no more war. Methodists are among those who are working for liberty and justice for all men through their four-year five-fold Crusade for Christ.

"The Crusading Christ"

An Interpretation of the Methodist Crusade for Christ Painting By Clarence W. Hall

Before attempting to put onto canvas the painting that has been adopted as the official Methodist Crusade for Christ painting, Warner Sallman, the artist whose "Head of Christ" has become the best known and most widely distributed religious picture of our times, conferred at great length with Crusade leaders.

"I want to know all about the Crusade," said Mr. Sallman, "its aims and purposes, its inner genius and its scope."

He listened attentively as "Methodism's boldest and most comprehensive program for world redemption" was outlined to him. A man of deep spiritual instincts and insight, the distinguished artist's eyes flashed as his heart began to burn with the imagination that has characterized all his work.

"I shall count it a great honor," he said quietly, "to try to capture on canvas some of the mighty challenge of this Crusade."

And he hurried off to his brushes and paints.

How well Warner Sallman caught the vision of what the Crusade aims to accomplish is revealed in this painting—a painting which should stir all of Methodism to meet the opportunities it offers.

It will be noted that the central figure of this poster—as He is the "Crusading Christ." Garbed in the robes denoting His kingship, but with the scars of the nail-prints in His hands, the Christ strides through the scenes of war devastation.

In this conception, the artist has daringly "brought Christ down to earth." Whereas most artists, from the old masters to contemporary painters, seem to persist in paintings of this sort in depicting Jesus floating above and somehow detached from the world, Mr. Sallman has placed Him—where Jesus placed Himself—upon the earth itself, amid the sorrows and sufferings of the world, actively leading His people in the amelioration of distress and the healing of sin's wounds, whether those sins be individual or corporate.

Thus we have a striding Christ, as purposeful as He is compassionate, in the van of His peoples march to "trample out the vineyards where the grapes of wrath are stored." His every expression and attitude reflect the imperativeness of the task. His left hand clenched, His right hand extended in appeal to the onlooker to join the march of Methodists on behalf of the bereft. His sleeves tossed back—every gesture portrays the compassion He feels. No remote Christ, this!

Behind Him, marching in a V-shaped formation denoting the victory that will surely attend their way, come the hosts of Christ-inspired Methodists. It will be noted that the artist has included men and women, boys and girls, from every walk of life, and representing many

LOCAL METHODIST CHURCH WELL ALONG IN CAMPAIGN

Rev. Don R. Davidson, pastor of the local Methodist church, reported this morning that his congregation officially launched their part in this twenty five million dollar campaign called The Crusade for Christ on Feb. 6. The first fifteen subscriptions amounted to $835 for an average of $55. The quota for the local church is $1620 but as most of the churches in this conference are oversubscribing their quotas and as local interest is high Rev. Davidson says he believes this church will subscribe over two thousand dollars.

Since many people in the community who are not members of the Methodist church would like to make some contribution to such an unusual and worthy emergency campaign they will be afforded an opportunity to do so voluntarily in the morning worship service on March 4 because that service will be a dedication of the morning offering to this cause. Subscriptions may be handed to the pastor at any time before then.

races. In and through the scenes of devastation they come, this marching host, to minister with Christ and for Christ to such needs as this dire day has presented.

And above them, symbolic of the hope they bring—the new dawn the Crusade stands for—is a colorful rainbow.

In this forceful work Sallman has not only made a great contribution to the Crusade for Christ, but he has also set the pace for religious artists to come. Well may we hope that this painting—like the Crusade it glorifies—will encourage all men to place Christ where for centuries He has sought to be, in the center of every effort for man's good.

They Die For Lack of Shells

The following article from the London Daily Mail was sent home by a Munday soldier, who requested that it be reproduced in The Times:

U. S. Ninth Army, Monday
 American soldiers are paying with their lives for the Western Front shell shortage.

I wish those American munitions workers who, thinking the war won, have quit their jobs to take up "peace-time" occupations could have been beside me in a forward regimental command post today.

The final assault on a town had begun and American infantry on the outskirts of the town were counter-attacked by the last German tanks remaining in this sector.

Heavy fire from the tanks caught the Americans as they came up an incline leading into the town. They had no tank support owing to mines.

"Fired Our Quota"
 A call was made immediately for artillery support while the Americans dug themselves in.

I was back in the command post when the colonel passed on the call for artillery support. I could hear the reply coming through the phone and, embarrassed, I moved into a corner of the cellar.

The voice was saying: "Too bad, but we fired our quota in the opening stages of the attack." Without saying a word, the young colonel replaced the phone and slumped into a chair. I noticed his hands were shaking with the emotion running through him as he lit a cigarette.

"Fired their quota," he said. "No use telling them that the German tanks haven't fired their quota and that my men are being cut up for want of a few more American shells."

Senior News

The Seniors are going their last lap of the school year or at least they hope it is their last lap. Most of the Seniors dropped bookkeeping and are taking Business Arithmetic the last half.

We are sorry to lose one of our classmates, Eva Dean, who has moved to Littlefield, Texas. She has been with our class ever since we started to school.

We have selected our play and ordered our play books, and now we are anxiously awaiting their arrival. This is one play that you simply cannot afford to miss as it is going to be portrayed to perfection. The name of this play is "It's A Deal," so suppose that you make it a deal to be out to Sunset Auditorium on that eventful night when the Seniors will show their excellent acting ability.

The members of this class that made the honor roll this last six weeks are: Mart, Christine, Juanita, Mildred, and Loyce.

Library News

We wish to express our thanks to Mr. A. J. Bunts for donating seven books to the Sunset library. Most of these books are History and will be used as reference books.

Sport News

The Eagles won their 27th and 28th games last week. Both of these were conference games. On Tuesday night they played the Knox City Greyhounds, winning 71-13. The Junior boys won their game with a score of 33-9.

Friday night Bomarton came over and was defeated 41-15. The Junior boys and the volleyball girls also won their games.

The Eagles journey to Benjamin next Friday night to play their last conference game of this season.

Junior News

This week finds us well on our last semester of this class year. If the last half passes as fast as the first half, school will soon be out and it will be time for most of us to work on the farm and help make this year's crop. Spring is not far off for the grass is beginning to grow green in the pastures and the buds on the fruit trees are beginning to swell. They will burst forth and welcome spring with their fragrance and beautiful blossoms. The wild flowers will spring forth in the pastures and fill the air with their beauty and fragrance. The farmer will soon be planning and planting his victory garden. He will till the soil and raise vegetables for the use of his family and for the coming year. He is looking into the future for everyone is urged to plant a victory garden and raise his own vegetables. This is one way that each and everyone can help win the war and also help himself. So plan a victory garden for yourself and plant it in some vacant lot that can be put to use for a good purpose.

We are glad to say that the students of this class made fairly good grades this half. The following made the honor roll: Barbara Jane, J. B., F. A., John, and Leo.

Curtail spending. Put your savings into war bonds every payday.

anizations and public employees, none of whom are covered at present," Surles said.

Action on the Board's recommendation to protect the insurance rights of men and women in the armed forces would remove a cause of distress among the families of service people, Surles said.

"The hardest thing we have to do," he said, "is to tell the widow of a soldier or sailor that she and her child can't get benefits because her husband's protection lapsed while he was fighting for his country."

"Of course, not all the insurance rights of all the men and women in the service have lapsed, but their benefit rights dwindle steadily and disappear entirely if the period in the armed service exceeds the time worked in private industry or commerce. In several previous reports, the Board has made a similar recommendation."

The recommendation to extend coverage to other types of employment would also have the effect of raising benefit levels generally, since presently excluded wages could be counted to the worker's credit.

Other Board recommendations that would affect the old-age and survivors insurance program, Surles said, are these:

Lower from 65 to 60 the age at which women who have no young children would be eligible for benefits. This would not change the present system of paying benefits to widows, regardless of age, while they have children in their care.

Add disability to the hazards covered, on the principle that a worker's family is just as badly off when he is disabled as when he is too old to work or when he dies.

In explaining its recommendation for disability insurance, the Board, according to Surles, pointed out that an average of seven million persons in the United States are sick or disabled on an average day, that the annual wage loss from these causes is from three to four billion dollars, and the annual loss of time from work runs between 1 1/2 and 3 1/3 million man years.

The Board also recommended improvement of the unemployment compensation and public assistance programs and renewed its recommendation that a system of insurance to prepay the costs of medical care be set up.

W. W. McCarty was taken to the Knox county hospital for medical treatment last Sunday.

Annual Report of Security Board Is Sent To Congress

E. L. Surles, manager of the Social Security Board's Wichita Falls field office, today said that insurance protection for 20,000,000 additional workers, not now insured, and other changes as recommended by the Board in its Annual Report made public in Washington on January 22, would help meet many needs in the Wichita Falls area.

The proposals were among the high lights of Social Security Board's report which is made annually to Congress, under terms of the Social Security Act.

"People of this area who do not have social security insurance protection would get it if the Board's proposals should become law," Surles said. "Businessmen often express their desire for coverage similar to what their employees already have. The fact that the self-employed are not under social insurance hits the professional man, the small businessman and the farmer, because corporation executives, as employees, already have this protection."

"This desire for insurance that will provide a retirement income, or a family income in case the worker dies, extends also to farm people, domestic workers in private homes, employees of nonprofit org-

Prepared by OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION

Civilians At War

Your government needs and asks its citizens in this 166th week of the war to:

1. Employ special nurses only when you are critically ill.
2. Keep on saving your waste-paper. Collections are lagging, but the need remains critical.
3. Conserve all possible fuel as bad weather and hard-packed railroads seriously tax coal distribution. Coal and oil help fire the guns.
4. Write overseas by V-Mail—fast, sure, private. V-Mail saves precious cargo space. Frequent V-Mail letters are profoundly welcomed.

ODT Urges No Spring School Recess

As another step in transportation conservation, Col. J. Monroe Johnson, director of the Office of Defense Transportation, urges that schools and colleges cancel their spring vacations this year. Col. Johnson pointed out that this year's spring vacations will come during the existing extremely critical period in wartime transportation, when every effort must be made to avoid non-essential travel. The omission of these vacations will be especially desirable as it affects students who must travel to reach their homes, for it "will save for each student a trip home and return," he wrote in a letter to John W. Studebaker, United States Commissioner of Education. As many as 300,000 students would normally be taking such vacation trips, Mr. Studebaker said in endorsing Col. Johnson's recommendation.

Tire Quotas Again Reduced

Passenger car tire quotas for the month of February have been cut by the Office of Price Administration to 1,600,000, the lowest since last October, and are 200,000 fewer than last month and 400,000 tires below December. Quotas of tires for tractor-implement use, on the other hand, remain unchanged at 50,000. The February reduction, states Brig. Gen. Royal Lord, deputy chief of staff to General Eisenhower, "can be summed up in two words—Military Necessity." He pointed out that tires on war equipment wear out at an "enormous rate" and that the military "simply doesn't have enough tires." And in the words of Max McCullough, deputy OPA administrator for rationing, "the reduced passenger car tire quotas again point up the vital importance of prompt reaping and tire repairs."

Car Owners Face "Hardest Period"

Owners of passenger cars, trucks and busses in 1945 will face the hardest period since the war began—with 1,500,000 more passenger cars breaking down during the year; with gasoline and tire supplies remaining critically short; and with the serious shortage of lead necessitating greater public conservation of batteries. OWI states in a report reviewing the supply situation for civilians. Key facts of the passenger car situation: No production of new cars in 1944; a 4,000 car a day disappearance from highways, the dwindling stock of new cars remaining in the ration pool (12,000 on February 1); estimates that it will take from two to three years to fill the pentup post-war demand for 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 new motor cars.

Conservation Is Watchword

Proper care of radios, refrigerators, washing machines, stoves and electrical and mechanical appliances is more important today than ever before, says the Office of Civilian Requirements of the War Production Board. The increased need for war production means a delay in resuming production of household appliances and equipment. This factor, combined with the acute shortage of repair shop facilities, makes it imperative that every effort be made to prolong the life of equipment now in use, OCR emphasized. Householders are urged to save and care for their equipment by keeping moving parts properly oiled, taking care not to overload motors, washers and wringers, keeping all types of equipment clean and avoid careless handling.

Russia: To Raise More of Own Food

Russia will produce still more of her own vitally needed food this year as a result of 20,000 tons of seeds that have been furnished by the United States for Soviet spring plantings, according to War Food Administration. The tonnage is the first half of a delivery agreed upon

ARMY "BRAIN TRUST"

This jack-in-the-box bogey (at left) grew out of a suggestion by a Canadian soldier. It is a replica of the deadly German "S" mine. Obviously, it is much less dangerous than the real thing—but is an effective training gadget. The ingenious device at the right assists in laying field telephone and telegraph lines. It is capable of throwing cable a considerable distance from the vehicle on which it is mounted.

Straight from the Suggestion Box came this idea for a buoyant hand cart. At left it is shown in duty as an auxiliary landing craft. The body is moulded plywood with two detachable wheels. The wheels are removed, in the water, after the craft is loaded. The cart is transformed into handies when used on land. At right the cart is shown as a conveyance for wounded personnel. It is capable of carrying a load up to 250 pounds.

HAVE you any good ideas on new weapons and equipment? Can you think of anything that will save time or labor or material for the Canadian Army? We want your ideas in the Army "Suggestion Box."

This is the standing invitation that has been offered to every Canadian soldier in over a year now. It is a good time to look back and see what 15 months' accumulation of mail has brought forth. Just how has the Canadian soldier reacted to his role as a member of a national "Brain Trust"? What has made the Army "Suggestion Box" something more than a receptacle for waste paper? People know that the Canadian Army is not a robot machine in battle with a regimented mind, but a team of carefully disciplined men who value their individuality, and can use it to advantage, both off duty and on. Its personnel is drawn from a large reservoir skilled in every type of trade. It is a vast storehouse of unborn ideas. Through the "Suggestion Box" there have come nearly 3,000 ideas for Ottawa's technical experts to appraise. Some are good. Some are impractical. Many would take years to develop. Others are first-rate suggestions that can be instituted almost immediately. Regardless of their merit, all are weighed carefully and the most exhaustive study made before judgment is passed. The pictures in the layout show a few of the accepted ideas.

to credit them with any sudden feeling of human compensation... for the change is obviously brought about only by realization that if they treat prisoners well they themselves will receive better treatment upon defeat... but, whatever the reason, the news is good for the thousands of Texans whose husbands, sons and friends are in Nipponese hands.

Reports to the National War Fund from neutral representatives also indicate that Americans help

Many Texas fighting men were included among the 613 veterans of Bataan and Corregidor who were freed from a Jap prison camp on Luzon by last week's daring Ranger raid. Most are now in army hospitals, recovering from illness and other results of their treatment while in the hands of the enemy. Soon they will be back in Texas, enjoying a well-earned rest and reunion with their loved ones.

Their rescue is dramatic proof that Uncle Sam never forgets his nephews in enemy hands. While they are behind Jap or Nazi barbed wire, they receive relief supplies from the National War Fund's War Prisoners Aid and from the Red Cross... and at the first opportunity, they are restored to freedom.

The Japanese have a long record of barbarism against American prisoners of war... a record that began with the infamous "death march" after the surrender of the tiny island fortress in Manila bay. But most recent reports indicate, that as the war goes against them, even the Japs are wise enough to change their tactics. Apparently realizing that they will soon be held accountable for their treatment of prisoners, the Japanese army has begun to permit more relief supplies to reach concentration camps, and at the same time inaugurated a more humane attitude toward our men.

No one would be foolish enough in German prison camps east of Berlin are being moved to the interior, where the prisoners will not be endangered by the fighting as the Russians continue their advance. This may mean that some will wait a few months longer for liberation, but it also means that many will live who otherwise might be killed by shells or even by Nazi hordes fleeing the onrushing Russian troops. Prisoners are never safe during periods of confusion, so relatives should be encouraged by reports that German prison camps are being moved to the interior.

Sgt. J. P. Groves In Hospital In France

Mrs. J. P. Groves of Kerrville received a letter on January 30, telling of her husband, T/Sgt. J. P. Groves, being in an army hospital somewhere in France. The message did not reveal the cause of the accident, nor how badly her husband was injured. He was admitted to the hospital on January 6.

J. P. is in the Army Air Forces technical service squadron. He has been overseas 18 months, the last four months being in France. He has sent home some interesting kodak pictures of Paris and of demolished German planes. It seems his base is an air base the Germans used before the allies arrived.

J. P. is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Groves of Munday.

Such work on behalf of our men in enemy hands is made possible through funds raised in the recent nationwide National War Fund campaign. County War Chest leaders who worked so hard to make the drive a success and the tens of thousands who contributed so generously now have the pleasure of knowing that their work and their gifts are helping to save American lives, and to make life easier for

Wardlaw Now At Hot Springs, Ark., For Assignment

Reporting to the Army Ground and Service Forces Redistribution Station in Hot Springs, Arkansas, S/Sgt. George W. Wardlaw, Munday, is now living in one of the four major Hot Springs hotels acquired by the Army to house the new installation.

Veterans of six months overseas combat in the European war theatre, S/Sgt. Wardlaw returned to the United States last October. Prior to reporting in at Hot Springs he spent a 23 day furlough with his mother, Mrs. J. S. Wardlaw, in Munday, and with his wife.

He will be in Hot Springs for less than two weeks, waiting reassignment to active duty. The primary function of the Redistribution Station, to assign the returned soldier to the Army job for which he is best fitted, will be accomplished in surroundings designed for rest and relaxation. Under these conditions, expert interviews and classification personnel secure the maximum cooperation from the returnees.

In addition to reassigning the returned veterans, the Redistribution Station is equipped to give the soldiers complete medical examinations and administer whatever medical and dental treatment is necessary to fit him for active duty. Military records will be checked and back pay brought up to date.

Aside from his necessary appointments, the veteran will be free to enjoy the resort facilities available at Hot Springs. An extensive program of entertainment and recreation has been planned for the returnees.

Under the direction of the Eighth Service Command, the Redistribution Station in Hot Springs is one of the five recently set up by the Army Service Forces.

ENTERTAIN NEPHEW HOME FROM SERVICE

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Burns gave a dinner last Saturday, honoring their nephew of Abilene, S/Sgt. Mac Rodgers, who has just returned from overseas. He has been awarded several medals for completing thirty combat missions over Germany.

Those present for the day were Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Rodgers and children, Glen Dale, Doriseve and the honoree, of Abilene; Mrs. Edward Burns and son, Bobbie Gene, Mrs. Bettie Rodgers and Mr. and Mrs. Austin Floyd and son, Tommie.

amounting to $1,350,000 which was given by Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Perkins of Wichita Falls for endowment and buildings for the school of theology.

Approximately $550,000 will be used to construct dormitories for married and single theological students, a chapel and an additional class room building. The remaining $800,000 will be used for endowment.

"The gift of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Perkins is the largest single gift ever made to theological education in the South and one of the largest ever made to a school of theology in this country. It should open the way for the development of one of the truly great schools of theology in this country," Dr. Umphrey Lee, president of Southern Methodist University said in expressing the University's appreciation of the gift.

Mr. and Mrs. Perkins have long been benefactors of S. M. U. as well as other Methodist institutions. Their total gifts to S. M. U. now approach $1,700,000 and include a $50,000 endowment of a professional chair, the completion of the Perkins Hall of Administration at a cost of $77,000, the erection of the Perkins gymnasium which cost totaled $188,000 as well as various smaller gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Perkins have also been generous donors to Southern University and the Methodist Home at Waco. One of Mr. Perkins' early contributions to S. M. U. was made in 1920 when he helped to make a pool of $150,000 to buy lots from S. M. U. to save real estate commissions. In 1938 he was voted the outstanding citizen of Wichita Falls.

M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin — According to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, pneumonia caused over 2,800 deaths last year in Texas, a reduction over the previous year but still too high. It is more prevalent during the winter and spring months.

Pneumonia is usually caused by a germ called the pneumococcus, which many of us have lurking in our throats ready to start trouble when our resistance to it is lowered. We can keep up our resistance by avoiding undue fatigue and avoiding unnecessary exposure to extreme weather conditions. When we go out into the cold, additional wraps should be sufficient to protect us. Keeping the temperature of our homes as low as is consistent with comfort will greatly lessen the difficulties encountered in adjusting ourselves to the cold when we go out.

Another method of prevention in pneumonia is not to neglect a cold, for the common cold often results in pneumonia when neglected. A person with a severe cold should stay at home and call his physician as a precautionary measure. Then he should follow his physician's advice until the cold has disappeared.

The successful treatment of a pneumonia case often depends upon beginning treatment very early. That is why a physician should be called at once in such cases. A patient may really have beginning pneumonia when he thinks it is only a cold. If the physician's advice is sought for the cold he will have an opportunity to start treatment early if pneumonia occurs in such cases.
