Casual Charmer

THAT American designers make the smartest casual clothes on the face of the globe is illustrated by this spun rayon flannel blouse with its bright piping and pearl buttons. The dirndl skirt is spun rayon and wool flannel in a distinctive plaid. Smartness is not confined to the styling of a garment—a really smart shopper looks for informative labels on the clothes she buys. Labels on many rayon fabrics today tell about tests the fabric has passed for color, strength, shrinkage and other wear factors.

TOWN and FARM in WARTIME

Prepared by OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION

Civilians At War

Your government needs and asks its citizens in this 167th week of the war to:

1. Keep your car in good repair. Make it last.
2. Start work now on your income tax return. File it as soon as possible.
3. Be one of those donating 100,000 pints of blood to meet the week's quota for wounded servicemen.

Farm Firewood Sales Under Ceilings

All firewood sold by farmers from this week on will be subject to price ceilings, the Office of Price Administration states. Ceilings will be set at the highest prices charged by the farmer for the same type of wood in March 1942, or as otherwise determined by the general maximum price regulation. These specific area ceiling orders have been issued by OPA field offices, these will apply.

Heretofore farm sales of firewood when valued at less than $75 in any one month have exempt from price control. OPA states that this exemption has led to exorbitant prices in some areas.

Housing Held Major Prosperity Key

The nation's housing goals—a decent home in a good neighborhood for every American family—should be achieved in the post-war era by maximum reliance upon private enterprise and local communities, and a full housing program can make a large contribution to an expanded peacetime economy, are thoughts publicly expressed by John B. Blandford, Jr., Administrator of the National Housing Agency. He said that probably the biggest challenge to a broad housing market after the war is the fact that millions of self-supporting families who want new homes cannot afford them at present prices or under existing financial arrangements. He declared that this called for the closest co-operation between labor, private business and government.

Research Finds Uses For Farm By-Products

Use of farm and sawmill by-products and commercially unused fibers such as low-cost cement bonded lightweight building materials, will be possible as a result of research carried on by the Department of Engineering Research of the University of Michigan under contract with the Office of Production Research and Development of the War Production Board. A report has been filed with WPB on the development and tests of 225 different types of lightweight materials, including farm, forest, industrial and home wastes, which, when combined with cement or concrete to produce hard setting aggregates or compositions. Some of these developments cover a wide variety of construction uses. Interested persons can inquire about how to obtain the information by writing to the Office of Production Research and Development, War Production Board, Washington, D. C.

Canned Poultry Set Aside For Military Needs

The War Food Administration announces that effective this week (February 14) an order has been issued to set aside 100 percent of the canned poultry (chickens and turkeys) in a move to supply United States military demands for approximately 70,000,000 pounds of these products in 1945. The poultry meat is needed for hospitals, army field rations and for shipment overseas. Preparation of the total quantity will require the processing of between 200 and 250 million pounds of New York style dressed chicken and turkey and practically the full use of all available poultry eviscerating and canning facilities in the United States.

Material Aid For Farm Equipment Plants

To help compensate for production lags in many items of farm machinery, plants that are not running at full capacity and have necessary labor available may apply to the War Production Board for authorization to make more than their approved quotas of farm equipment, WPB announces.

3 Ways To File Your Tax Return Outlined

Joseph D. Nunan, Jr., Commissioner of Internal Revenue, explained today that taxpayers whose 1944 income was less than $5,000 have a choice of three different ways of filing their 1944 income tax returns. Taxpayers whose income was $5,000 or more must all make "long-form" returns on Form 1040.

The three methods open to persons whose income was under $5,000 are as follows:

1. Fill out the withholding receipt, (Form W-2 Rev.), received from their employers.
2. Make a "Short-form" return on Form 1040.
3. Make a "Long-form" return on Form 1040.

The easiest way to file is to fill out and mail in a withholding receipt, but this method is permitted only if the taxpayer's income was virtually all from wages from which tax was withheld. If, in addition to his wages subject to withholding, a taxpayer had more than $100 of dividends, interest and wages not subject to withholding, or he had an income from any other source, he would have to use Form 1040. If the withholding receipt is used, the collector will figure the tax and give the taxpayer credit for the tax he has already paid, and send either a bill or a refund for the difference. If Form 1040 is used, the taxpayer must figure his own tax.

In choosing which Form to use (for incomes under $5,000), Nunan said taxpayers should ask themselves this question:

Did I spend more than 10 percent of my income last year for deductible charitable contribution, interest, taxes, casualty losses, medical and dental expenses and other deductible items (QM).

If the answer to this question is "yes," the taxpayer should make a "long-form" return on Form 1040, so that he can itemize and claim the actual amount of his deductions.

If the answer is "no," the taxpayer should consider filing on his withholding receipt or on a "short-form" Form 1040. Both these methods of filing give the taxpayer a standard allowance of about 10 percent of his income for the type of deductions mentioned in question 2. The 10 per cent allowance is made through a tax table. This tax table is arranged according to brackets of income: For instance, one line in the table is for incomes from $2,300 to $2,325, another line is for incomes from $2,325 to $2,350 and so on. Nunan explained that the 10 per cent standard allowance is figured at the middle of each

SOCIAL SECURITY CARDS SHOULD NOT BE USED FOR IDENTIFICATION

Occasional complaints that social security account number cards are improperly used as identification for check-cashing purposes, today led R. L. Surles, manager of the Wichita Falls field office of the social security board, to issue the following cautionary statement: "The social security account number card is not intended to serve as identification for check-cashing purposes and should not be accepted as such."

"A social security card is issued to any person who applies for it. It is issued for one purpose, and only one. That is to identify a social security account on which the wage record of the possessor may be posted as credit toward old-age and survivors insurance benefits. The account number is used with the person's name to identify his social security account, because many people have the same name but no two can have the same number. The Social Security Board, in paying benefits, requires that the beneficiary identify himself fully."

bracket, and therefore the allowance is somewhat less than 10 per cent below the middle of the bracket and somewhat higher than 10 per cent above the middle of the bracket.

In most cases, Nunan commented, taxpayers spend far less than 10 per cent of their income for deductible items, and therefore such taxpayers will benefit by filing either a withholding receipt or a short-form return on Form 1040.

Nunan added that persons who had more than one job during 1944 and wish to file on a withholding receipt need to fill out only the last receipt received, but should be sure to attach all their other withholding receipts.

Also, the Collector explained that if wage earners file Form 1040, they need not fill out their withholding receipts but must attach their receipts to their Form 1040 returns.

Mr. and Mrs. Barton Carl and Mrs. A. V. Kemletz spent last Sunday at Paducah, visiting with friends.

That's right—and there are good reasons why. But is it any less wonderful that you CAN still get electric service at the flick of a switch—without shortage or rationing—at low pre-war prices—when vast amounts of electricity have gone to war plants?

Our folks have done their war job so quietly and well it's easy to take 'em for granted. We hope you won't—that you'll remember their hard work as you use radio, range refrigerator, washer, cleaner and other electric servants that make wartime living so much easier.

PROVIDE A FLUE for Venting Gas Heating

Modern Gas Heating requires a flue so it can be vented. Only when heating is vented are wall sweating and stuffy air eliminated. So in your modernizing or new home building plans be sure to include enough flues for venting the heating. Sketch below shows how flue can be built in chimney for venting modern floor furnace. Such a flue or "thimble" should be a part of every fireplace and chimney.

Clip out and file with your new home building ideas

 6 INCH DIAMETER (IF MADE 3 INCHES IT IS TOO SMALL—CANT BE USED)

The fireplace thimble, as illustrated above, is of especial importance in a two-story home. If it is omitted or blocked up, it is almost impossible to install a floor furnace later because no flue can be provided to vent the furnace. When building a new home make sure all brick chimneys are built with this extra vent pipe extending below floor joists and equipped with a thimble of not less than six inches in diameter. This extra vent should be lined to the top with building tile.
 Gas heating should be planned as part of the house.

Many Attend Lecture Here On P.O.W. Camps

Mrs. Lester Morrell of Chicago, Ill., gave an interesting talk here on the location and other details of prisoner of war camps. This interesting program was held at the Munday school auditorium last Thursday night.

Mrs. Morrell, who has traveled extensively in Europe, British West Indies and Canada, gave many details pertaining to camps where many of our American boys are held prisoners. She also exhibited maps of these camps and explained just where many of them are located.

She was heard by around 150 persons from Knox and Taylor counties who were vitally interested in such camps. These were not all next of kin of war prisoners, but many were those whose loved ones were prisoners of war.

Mrs. Morrell concluded her talk with a round-table discussion, and many questions about the camps were answered. She left Friday morning for Kansas, and from there will report back to her Chicago Red Cross.

The program was opened by the group singing "America." Rev. Don Davidson gave the invocation, and the high school chorus also entertained. Mrs. Morrell was introduced by County Supt. Merick McGaughey of Benjamin.

Commending their battle-backing efforts, Brigadier General Morris Berman of San Antonio declared: "Working for months without days off before D-Day; stepping up their output to meet the demands of airborne operations in Holland; sweating the night and day to get planes into the air for every raid over Germany, these men have outdone themselves in the thankless job of backing the 1944 aerial offensive against Germany."

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin — Many false ideas and misconceptions regarding the cause of cancer are responsible for an unjustified fear of this disease according to a statement released by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"We receive many inquiries as to what is the cause of cancer," Dr. Cox said. "In order to reduce the total of 160,000 cancer deaths in the United States each year it would be well for the general public to be more fully informed about the established cancer facts."

"The more common cause of cancer," Dr. Cox asserted, "is some form of chronic or prolonged irritation such as friction. Constant friction of a mole or wart or of an old burn scar may produce cancer. 'Cancer is seldom caused from a single bruise. A type of bone cancer known as sarcoma may possibly result from a single severe injury, but it is believed that a single bruise to a soft tissue such as the breast will not cause cancer to develop."

There is no scientific evidence that cancer is caused by a germ; therefore it is not contagious or infectious. There is no record in medical literature of physicians or nurses getting cancer from their patients.

In commenting on some of the old-fashioned ideas about the causes of cancer, Dr. Cox said it is time for the average person to realize that aluminum cooking utensils, electric refrigeration, or certain food groups cannot be the cause of cancer.

"Certainly aluminum vessels and electric refrigeration has nothing to do with it, and there is no known food or combination of foods that have any influence on the cause or cure of cancer," Dr. Cox said.

Cancer can often be cured if diagnosed in time. If the earliest symptoms such as enlargement or change of color in any mole or wart, bleeding from any body cavity or chronic indigestion with an aversion to meat are heeded as warnings, and early diagnosis is secured, x-ray, radium, or surgery may save the life of the patient.
