Texans To Vote On Amendments August 25th

Below is a brief resume of the proposed amendments of the Texas Constitution to be voted on August 25, 1945 and is given herein as each amendment will appear on your ballot:

Amendment No. 1.
This amendment provides that during the time the United States is engaged in fighting a war, or within one year after the close of the calendar year in which said war is terminated, no person, who at the time of holding any election in this state authorized by law, or who, within eighteen months immediately prior to the time of holding any such election was, a member of the Armed Forces of the United States or of the Armed Force Reserve or the United States Maritime Service or the United States Merchant Marine, is required to pay a poll tax, or to hold a receipt for the payment of any poll tax assessed against him, in order to vote at any election. The foregoing amendment, if adopted, does not give any person the right to vote who is a member of the regular establishment of the United States Army, Navy, or Marine Corps.

Amendment No. 2.
This amendment provides that members of the Legislature shall receive $10.00 per day during their tenure of office, and in addition each member shall receive not to exceed $2.50 for each twenty five miles as mileage in going to and returning from the seat of government for sessions of the Legislature.

Amendment No. 3.
This amendment provides that the Supreme Court shall consist of a Chief Justice and eight Associate Justices, any five of whom shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of five shall be necessary to a decision of a case. Our present Court consists of three Justices and a Commission of Appeals composed of six Judges who now assist the Supreme Court without the power to vote and this amendment, if adopted, will make the six Commissioners full members of the Court with voting power on decisions.

Amendment No. 4.
This amendment, if adopted, will empower the Legislature to increase the amount for old age assistance from $15.00 per month, (as now provided by the Constitution) to $20.00 per month of State funds to be matched by the Federal Government with a like amount, which in effect would be, with both State and Federal money, the pensioner could be paid an amount up to $40.00 per month.
This amendment further provides that maximum of thirty-five million dollars can be raised by the state for its part in expenditures for the needy aged, the needy blind, and needy children under 16 years of age.

Roxy Theatre Shuts Down For A Victory Holiday

There's an old saying that "The Show Must Go On" that's been carried out by show people and troopers for many years. This slogan has been carried out by the Roxy Theatre since its establishment in 1913—about 32 years now.

But the end of the war was made an exception. The Roxy's force continued "business as usual" when all of Munday's business firms closed in celebration of victory over Japan, on Wednesday of last week. The show went on, because it was felt that many of those celebrating would want to see the picture.

But the Roxy force needed to celebrate, too, so P. V. Williams, owner of the theatre, declared last Monday as celebration day. And the Roxy closed for the first time Monday. War, nor pestilence, nor sickness, nor death had caused the local show house to close before, but when world peace came again, Mr. Williams believed his employees should be given a chance to celebrate just as did every other American.

The entire theatre personnel went to the Williams cabin on Lake Kemp for the day. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Morrow, Bonnie Morrow, Brazil Huckabee, John Spann, Jr., Roy Bouldin, Mrs. Rupert Williams, Miss Jimmie Henslee, Beverly Webb, and Mr. and Mrs. Williams and Charlotte Ann.

J. D. Baker and family and Odia Baker and family of Littlefield, Travis Baker and family, Alexander City, Ala.; Aubrey Baker and family, Birmingham, Ala., are here for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. Baker and with other relatives.

Munday Soldier Gets Promotion

KUMMING, China.—Two Texans were promoted here recently by Major General H. S. Aurand, commanding general, Service of Supply, China Theatre.

Morgan B. Caughran, Munday, was promoted from Sergeant to Technician Third Grade, while Everett J. Terry, Corpus Christi, was promoted from Corporal to Sergeant.

On duty near the end of the world's longest supply line, which includes the famous "hump" air highway, the Stilwell road and the world's longest pipeline, three Texas boys have important jobs directly concerned with the massing of supplies for Chinese troops in action on the eastern front.

Caughran is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Caughran, Munday, and his wife Lura is also living there.

Terry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Terry, 3109 Water Street, Corpus Christi.

W. T. Ford, Well Known Resident Dies Wednesday

Mr. and Mrs. Ford resided in Haskell county for 35 years, and had been making their home in Munday for the past few years. Mr. Ford was a loyal member of the Methodist church.

Besides his wife, Mrs. Sophia Ford, he is survived by seven children, who are: Mrs. Ida Steele, Los Angeles, Calif.; Mrs. Lorene Hunt, Waxahachie; Mrs. Ella Sargent, Goree; Hugh Ford, Wichita Falls, Mrs. Ora Keown, Oklahoma City, Okla., Morris Ford, Goree; and Mrs. Leona Voes, Munday. It is the desire of all the officers that all members of the guard attend these meetings.

Munday Boy, In 45th Division Is On Way Home

With the 45th Infantry Division, France.—The 45th Infantry Division is coming home from Europe. The "Thunderbird" is merely going to sharpen its combat-hardened beak and claws for the final assault on Fascism's last stronghold.

The division, of which Pfc. Harry Cecil Booe, Box 552, Munday, Texas, is a member, already has established a brilliant record as a spearhead unit in the drive to free Europe from Nazi rule.

Now, at Camp St. Louis in the Mourmelon Sub-Area of the Assembly Area Command, it is undergoing processing for redeployment, and its members will receive 30-day furloughs in the United States before transfer to the Pacific.

Under command of Major-General Robert T. Frederick, and previously led by Major-Generals W. V. Eagles and Troy H. Middleton, the Thunderbird Division has fought through 511 of the most savage days of the European war, crushing powerful German defensive positions in four invasions, over more than 1,000 miles of the most difficult combat country in the world.

Men of the 45th charged ashore on D-Days in Sicily and at Salerno. They created, grimly held and finally broke out of the Anzio beachhead, and chased first-line Nazi troops out of Rome.

They hit the coast of southern France, drove the Germans up the Rhine, and finally fought into the heart of the Nazis' "Southern Redoubt," overrunning Nuremberg and Munich and, in the capture of the Dachau concentration camp, receiving a direct object lesson in the reason for their fight.

They won, among them, five Congressional Medals of Honor and more than 4,500 other individual and unit decorations for valor, and now many of them have volunteered for Pacific service. They have a job to finish.

Pfc. Booe holds the following decorations: F. T. O. Ribbon, one Battle Star.

Sgt. Guy Hardin, who recently returned from overseas service, came in last Saturday for a visit with his mother, Mrs. Nell Hardin, and other relatives.

Mr. Wallace was born in Johnson county, Texas, on April 12, 1881, and was 64 years, 4 months and 6 days of age. He was married to Miss Minervie Owens at Frost, Navarro county, Texas, on March 18, 1902, and in September of that year they moved to Knox county. For over 40 years, Mr. Wallace was one of Knox county's well known farmers.

Prisoner Of War Service For Knox County Closed With Jap Surrender

With the surrender of Japan, the work of Prisoner of War Service in Knox county has come to a close. The county has been very fortunate in having so many prisoners of war returned.

The work of this committee has been to give what information was available, servicing next of kin with boxes, cards, and forms for communication and distributing bulletins to those who did not receive them. Meetings were held in the homes, and one public meeting was held in which Mrs. Morrell of Chicago, Ill., gave an interesting talk on prisoners of war and answered questions.

Knox county has only five officially listed prisoners of war; that is, those whose next of kin live in Knox county. They are:

Robert Snell, next of kin, John Snell, Truscott, liberated in full of the Philippines; Doyce Bart, next of kin Mrs. Jim Goode, Goree, liberated in Germany; Robert Barton, next of kin, Mr. and Mrs. C. DON'T THROW BRICKBATS NOW

The armed forces are doing a great job in getting the soldiers home from Europe more rapidly than anyone hoped for. The railroads, using all available equipment, are carrying the men from the ports to their homes with no more than the delays incident to so huge a mass transportation task.

If you are inclined to complain because you can't get peacetime railroads service, just stop and think what it means when a ship like the Queen Mary lands some 15,000 troops and the Queen is but one ship, several may arrive in a single day. These troops must be moved—some a few miles, some 3,000 miles.

Never was such transportation job faced by any railroad system. Responsible officers in the armed forces and in the railroad industry realize that no transportation task of this size can be accomplished as rapidly as this one is being done without some difficulties and discomforts. The total passenger travel on the railroads this year will probably be nearly five times that of pre-war years, but it is being carried with virtually the same number of coaches and sleeping cars then available. This year's tonnage, close to two and one-half times that of the peak year of the first world war, must be carried with 30 per cent fewer passenger-carrying cars.

The railroads would have built more cars to meet the increased traffic demand of recent years, but permission to build them could not be obtained during the war because of material and manpower shortages. The roads are now being allowed to build some cars, but these will not help relieve the situation for some months. Every effort is being made both by the railroads and by government agencies concerned, to secure the maximum use of existing equipment in moving soldiers promptly and with as much comfort as can be provided, with facilities limited by the government's own needs.

Impatience and name-calling will not change the fact that the demands of war convinced those in government who had final authority, that it was not earlier desirable to permit the railroads to buy additional equipment.

MAKE ALL PAY TAXES

For ten years before the war, agencies and officials of government seeking to establish government ownership of electric power in the United States kept before the people the thought that a power shortage was just around the corner. They claimed that private companies would be unable to supply demand. How wrong they were has now been proved beyond any argument.

The greatest demand for electric power in world history has passed, and there was never a power shortage or rationing for one minute in any of the industries or homes of our nation. The electric industry made monkeys of its critics. During the war years, installed capacity of power houses increased 25 per cent, total power produced gained 77 per cent, the number of electric power customers went up by one and one-half million, revenue from sales climbed by 43 per cent, and the average price per kilowatt dropped by 26 per cent. And there was no increase in net earnings over 1939. In the five-year period, 1939 to 1944, the tax share which government took from private electric company earnings rose from $352,000,000 to $703,000,000, while dividends to stockholders dropped 5 and 1-2 per cent.

The ability of the electric industry to meet all the requirements of customers and a government is a tribute to its foresight and management under the American system of private enterprise. It is in striking contrast with the tax-exempt, publicly-owned power plants which seek to displace private companies, while they refuse to bear the same tax obligations as other citizens and industries, thereby escaping their share of the tremendous burden of maintaining the cost of the government which finances them.

PLANNED INFLATION

No one wants to argue against labor getting a fair wage that will enable it to meet increases in the cost of living. But labor is the biggest living, labor, and that means 99 per cent of the people, will pay either directly or indirectly, all wages received by labor.

Therefore, such demands as those of the railway brotherhoods for a 25 per cent increase in existing wartime wage rates, is a definite threat to the possibility of government, industry and labor working out any successful reconversion of anti-inflation program.

A child can see the implications in the demands of railway labor leaders.

IS COAL SHORTAGE MILITARY NECESSITY?

Secretary of the Interior Ickes has appealed to the Army to release 80,000 miners to increase our output of coal, and thus provide for at least the minimum needs here at home. He estimates that there are 130,000 miners in the armed forces and says:

"I want the American people to know that this decision involves the risk that we may have to suffer a shortage of coal in this country next winter, which will be more acute than heretofore predicted, and substantially greater than that which we experienced last winter. We may have to curtail industrial supplies to the point which will mean a partial or complete shutdown of some plants. We may have to reduce the 80 per cent quota which we have fixed for domestic consumption. Shipments to Europe should prevent disorders which would cost American lives, and they should enable the European countries to resume the production of fuel, textiles and other materials which we would otherwise have to supply to Europe from our own depleted stocks.

"I know of only one sure way to avoid, at the same time, disaster in Europe and further distress at home. This is to increase production, and to increase production we must have coal miners. There is only one source of additional miners, and that is the Army."

It will be hard for the American people to understand arbitrary refusal to release the necessary coal miners from the Army. The welfare of our soldiers and their families depends upon an abundant supply of coal.

IMPROVING FARM TELEPHONE SERVICE

The telephone companies of the nation have been quietly experimenting with the problem of running telephone lines on electric light poles. In the past, the noise caused by power lines has made this combination service on one pole unsatisfactory.

During the war period, while it has been impossible to get equipment to make telephone extensions in rural areas, electric companies and telephone companies have been carrying on experiments to provide telephone service to rural homes after the war by utilizing existing power lines poles, and thus save the expense of building a separate pole line.

One of many such tests is being conducted by the Alabama Power Company and the Southern Bell Telephone Company. Indications are that the practicability of the plan will be demonstrated. There will be "bugs" to be worked out in certain special safety and service equipment, which will require time, but it now seems almost certain that as equipment and instruments become more plentiful, dependable telephone service carried on power poles in rural areas, will become as commonplace as dependable electric service.

JOB-WRECKING PROGRAM PREDICTED

It is predicted by Harry Bridges, who has long been a central figure in labor warfare, that strikes on the Pacific Coast after the war will be bigger and better than ever.

Apparently the public is being "processed" so that it will become reconciled to the inconvenience and turmoil which it will be asked to accept as part of the postwar reconversion program. There would be no business for the top flight labor leaders, and no high salaries if there was peace and contentment within the ranks of labor.

"What's the first thing you do when you clean your rifle?" asked the corporal.
"Well, sir, first I look at the number, to be sure I'm not cleaning someone else's."

'Tis said that more women should be in politics, because their minds are cleaner. Maybe so, but they ought to be, they change them more often.

Hogs Easily Injured

"MAKES no difference if they're market bound, you oughta stop kicking your hogs around."

There's more sense than meter in this paraphrase of an old ditty. Rough handling of hogs while they are growing and at market time causes bruising and crippling which reduce their value. Even death may result.

The University of North Carolina comes up with some good suggestions for handling hogs. A university bulletin points out that even slight bruises lower the grade of prime cuts. Many of these bruises are caused by use of sticks, clubs, sharp instruments, prodpoles, and whips. The bulletin urges use of canvas slappers or electric prods to drive hogs.

Striking a hog with a canvas slapper, the bulletin says, results in an unusual noise which in itself helps to control the herd better than use of heavy or sharp weapons.

A survey in 1935 by the National Livestock Loss Prevention Board showed that 9,000,000 meat animals were either bruised, crippled or dead on arrival at stockyards. The cost to growers was $11,000,000. The loss from bruises to hogs alone was estimated at $3,000,000, with the most valuable cuts, such as hams and bellies, suffering the greatest injury.

strong difference of opinion about it.

To promote a clear understanding it should be pointed out that amendment number four does not guarantee a flat payment of forty dollars per month to every old person. About forty thousand old people are now getting thirty dollars per month. Most of these will ultimately receive the forty dollars if the people adopt amendment number four, and there would be some increase in payments to all on the rolls. The Federal Government definitely requires that each case be investigated once a year, and that payments be made according to need shown. It is hoped that every voter will study this amendment carefully and vote as he or she thinks best.

How Will You Vote On The Amendments

(By Senator George Moffett)

On the 25th of August Texas voters will have an opportunity to pass judgment upon four proposed amendments to the State Constitution. In many countries, the people do not have an opportunity to make changes in the Constitution of the Government under which they live. It contributes something toward better Government when a great many people cast their ballot upon public questions, and it is hoped that a large number will do so on the fourth Saturday in this month.

How Will You Vote On The Amendments

(By Senator George Moffett)

On the 25th of August Texas voters will have an opportunity to pass judgment upon four proposed amendments to the State Constitution. In many countries, the people do not have an opportunity to make changes in the Constitution of the Government under which they live. It contributes something toward better Government when a great many people cast their ballot upon public questions, and it is hoped that a large number will do so on the fourth Saturday in this month.

The first of the four amendments provides that citizens of Texas now in the armed services of our country may vote without the payment of a pool tax, while still in the service and for eighteen months after being honorably discharged. LIMITED QUANTITIES OF DDT FOR CIVILIANS

COLLEGE STATION. — Although more DDT, the new insecticide, will be made available for civilians and agricultural uses beginning this month, its distributor will not be in quantity, says Paul Gregg, entomologist for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

While increased production has made possible releasing limited quantities, Gregg quotes an announcement by the War Production Board that "civilians and agricultural use of DDT has been restricted solely to experimental purposes." Moreover, WPB emphasizes that the quantities to be distributed to civilians for household and agricultural use in the next few months will be small.

Gregg quotes the WPB announcement further that specific allocations will be made to the Public Health Service to meet all requirements for programs related to the control of disease carrying insects. Furthermore, a U. S. Department of Agriculture representative said the Department would not request DDT for specific uses unless the following requirements were fulfilled.

(1) The crops of animals to be protected must be an important part of the food program; (2) No other insecticide is satisfactory, or satisfactory insecticides are not available; (3) Considerable loss will be involved if DDT is not obtained; (4) Use is officially recommended by the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine or by a state official required to make recommendations; (5) The person responsible for making the recommendation and requesting its allocations should indicate his willingness to keep a watchful eye on its use so that it will not involve quantities in excess of those approved and actually needed; (6) It should be determined and stated by a qualified official that no deleterious residue problem will be involved in its use, and (7) A qualified official must indicate that the danger of poisoning bees, of upsetting the biological complex, is not such as to create a hazard in the proposed use of DDT.

Now we have practically no reserve stocks of sugar to fall back on. Unfortunately Cuba has suffered from the worst drought in 87 years. . . . The sugar crop in Cuba was 900,000 tons short of expectations.

Fortunately, more sugar beets were planted in the United States this year. . . . but not enough to balance other shortages and we can not expect much improvement in supply for many months.

Sugar Scarcity Is Problem War's End Has Not Solved

COLLEGE STATION.—Today the United States has the least sugar she's had since the last war. Our sugar reserves probably can't be rebuilt until 1947.

As you probably know. . . only about one-fourth of our sugar is grown in the 48 states. So when the war started our sugar troubles began, too. Not only the United States, but our allies were cut off from sugar in the Pacific areas. . . . except from Hawaii. And likely many more months will pass before most of the Pacific producers will ship sugar to us again. . . . even from the Philippines.

In the meantime, our allies who were formerly dependent on home grown sugar and on sugar from the Pacific have had to obtain some of their sugar from the Caribbean area. . . . That means less sugar for the United States. With less sugar to buy in the world market and more people to buy it, our national supplies have gradually dwindle.

In the face of that, we used 450,000 tons more sugar for home canning purposes last summer than we actually needed for the food we put up. With the money to buy it and the appetites to eat it, we probably used some of that canning sugar for cookies, lemonade and

The reunion of the Cypert family was held on Lake Creek at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cypert on August 19th and 20th. Sixty-five relatives attended the reunion.

Sunday was spent in singing, speech making, and talks of childhood days. A delicious basket dinner was served at noon, and barbecue was the main dish for Monday, being served with vegetable salad, bread, cookies, cake, and fruit.

Ice tea and coffee was served throughout the reunion. The relatives are looking forward to a bigger and better reunion in 1946, for some of the boys in the service will likely be home for the next event.

NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH

One of the most destructive fires in world history occurred in the Spring of 1944 in Bombay, India, according to the National Fire Protection Association. The waterfront and a large section of the city was leveled when two ammunition ships exploded in the harbor. More than 1,000 persons were killed, most of them when they rushed to the waterfront after the first ship blew up and were trapped there when the second one exploded.

For reasons of military security at the time, news of the extent of the disaster was withheld by British censorship.

The world's largest refrigerator belongs to the Navy and is installed at Norfolk, Va. It has a storage capacity of 39 million pounds of meat—enough to feed a million men for a month—and 15 million dozens of eggs. That ain't hay!

Booby Trap

President of Harding College

CORPORATIONS pay income tax each year on the previous year's earnings, just as personal income taxes were paid prior to 1944. In 1946, firms will be taxed on 1945's earnings. But if war ends this year, (terminating war contracts) 1946 will be the year of change-back, of costly sales and few. Problem: How to hire more men and pay 1945's taxes with small earnings or none?

Any time a voice is raised in the interest of American business, any time a writer suggests that corporation tax laws need revision, somebody accuses him of apple-polishing or grinding the axe of big business. But right is still right. Prosperity in America depends on full employment; full employment depends on business expansion, and business expansion depends on wise tax provisions.

Quick FIRMS that have used Money their war-year profits expanding production for victory are not at fault. They are solvent. They will have adequate working capital due them under the present law after their Refund Bonds are cashable and after their Carry-back credits on excess profits taxes are allowed. But when will this be? As the law is written now, years will pass before the money comes.

Food does a man no good after he has starved to death. Neither will money due a firm help its employees after bankruptcy. What war-production firms need is money when they need it; to hire men, to buy machinery for peacetime work, to save useful enterprises and avoid wholesale unemployment in their communities. Laborers and farmers and small-town merchants have the most at stake.

Hear Labor SURELY William Executives L. Hutcheson, president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters & Joiners, was looking through the lenses of Labor when he wrote Robert L. Doughton, chairman of the Ways & Means Committee of the House of Representatives, urging the passage of amendments to make Refund Bonds and Carry-back funds promptly available to industry at plant reconversion time.

"Analysis of a large number of companies shows that . . . they have had to use their tax reserves for current operations, so that when war ends they . . . can not reconvert to peacetime operations and employment of men . . . We strongly urge that these provisions be amended in a manner which your Committee believes will make refunds available immediately at the time war production of these companies has stopped."

Mr. Hutcheson's letter reached Mr. Doughton's desk only shortly ahead of one like it from William Green, president of A. F. of L. Are these labor leaders apple-polishers? No! They are far-sighted thinkers serving the interests of working men, and they know how. They are not recommending boodle for business men. They are intelligently promoting post-war jobs and prosperity for the United States.

Meat Alternates Will Stretch Your Supply Of Meat

Among the most valuable ideas nowadays are those on how to make the meat supply go further—and when it's gone—how to prepare some appetizing protein dishes without meat.

Miss Lucile King, county home demonstration agent, has a wealth of ideas on the subject. "Meat Alternates," says Miss King, "as the name implies, are foods which can be used in place of meats. They have similar food value. Poultry, fish, eggs, cheese, dry beans and peas, and nuts are excellent meat alternates. Any one of these foods may be used in place of meat as the main dish of the meal."

Poultry, fish, eggs and cheese are good sources of protein and the B vitamins. That's why they may be used instead of meat. Dry peas and beans and nuts are also good sources of protein and the B vitamins, but the protein in these products is a little lower in nutritive value than protein from animals.

"So remember," Miss King advises, "to drink a glass of milk or eat another food containing cheese or eggs when your main dish is dry beans or peas or nuts. For instance, if you have baked beans to take the place of meat as your main dish, take a glass of milk, or eat custard for dessert to increase the food value of the meal."

And speaking of meat extenders, we can sympathize with the poor man in the song who "gets no bread with one meat ball," because as every smart homemaker knows, bread is one of the best of the meat extenders. Nowadays when bread, like other cereal products, is among the plentiful foods, you can depend upon it to spread the meat flavor to the last bite—whether it's the bun on the hamburger or the roast stuffing made of bread crumbs.

Mrs. T. C. Merrell is visiting relatives and friends in Dallas this week.

Can More Food, Give Surplus To Hungry Europe

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Dr. John W. Studebaker, United States Commissioner of Education, today called upon American victory gardeners and farm families to can more food and give this surplus to Europe's hungry millions.

In a statement endorsing the Community Canning Program for War Relief, Dr. Studebaker declared:

"Now that Europe's guns have cooled, food must continue the fight for freedom if starving millions are to survive and justify the price paid in freedom's name."

Pointing out that gardens in many areas are producing more than is being utilized locally, Dr. Studebaker said, "A good crop wasted or unused means lives lost or forever darkened. All surplus produce of American farms, gardens, orchards, and fields should be canned and shared to build strength and hope in bodies and hearts of war-ravaged people. Europe's children and men and women need the helping hand of America. Victory on the battlefield did not work the miracle of restoring normal food production and distribution. For freedom's sake, gardeners and farm families must share all they can with the suffering people overseas."

The Community Canning Program for War Relief was organized by the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration in cooperation with the U. S. Office of Education, the Camp Fire Girls, and Girl Scouts. Many national organizations including the Future Farmers of America and New Farmers, women's clubs, and home economics clubs are supporting the program. The campaign is under way at school-canning centers, custom canneries and home economics kitchens where there are facilities for canning in tin under adequate supervision. Fruit packed in water without sugar is acceptable. The program was launched to help build a food pool for Europe which faces a winter desperate shortages.

College Casual

COLLEGIANS, like business girls, claim they prefer clothes of serviceable fabrics that they can depend on. This tailored casual of spun rayon is a good example of what they mean. Count among its points beautifully cut shoulders, full shirt sleeves, smooth skirt and a rayon fabric that bears a label giving the results of laboratory wear tests. In planning your fall wardrobe, consider remodeling some of last year's clothes. The handy new leaflet, "Make-Over Tips for Your Rayon Wardrobe" will give you many useful ideas.

J. Frank Dobie Tells Story of Boy And Horse

J. Frank Dobie of Austin, who recently returned from a year as Visiting Professor of American History at Cambridge University and who has been a professor of English at the University of Texas, has an article called "A Boy and His Horse" in the September issue of Esquire. It's a story told to him by seventy-eight year-old Chester Evans, editor and proprietor of the weekly newspaper at Lebo, Kansas. . . . a story about Evan's boyhood and his horse, Prince, and the hazards of blizzards, fire, and hostile Indians that they faced together.

Evans bought the horse in 1874, near his home in Iowa, for eighteen dollars. Having always wanted to be a cowboy, Evans took advantage of his ill health and talked his father into letting him go west. On April 11, 1878, Prince and Evans started for the Farnsworth Ranch on Cheyenne Creek sixty-

The twelve-year old boy and his horse Prince were put to work riding the line, and Prince got to be as good a roping horse as a cowboy ever swung a loop from.

In the fall, rumors floated up from the South that Chief Dull Knife was stirring the Cheyennes in the Indian Territory. Evans and Prince were elected to carry word to Fort Monument on Shoky Hill eighteen miles away. Fifteen Cheyennes spotted them and headed out at full speed to cut them off. Prince outran the fast Indian ponies, but not without being twice wounded by arrows—Evans got an arrowhead in his leg, and three other arrows clipped him.

The pair's next experience noted by Dobie took place in the Spring of 1880. . . . they were caught in a raging prairie fire that was racing faster than the wind. They outran it. . . . and finally crossed a plowed fireground to safety.

The big blizzard of '86, in which thirty-eight men died, just about put an end to both Evans and Prince. They were caught out in it, miles from anyplace, and lost. Several times Evans tried to rest in the snow. . . . each time Prince paw-

CITATION IS GIVEN NEGRO OUTFIT

(From Stars and Stripes)
VOUGIERS, France.—The 969th FA Bn., a hard-fighting Negro unit that participated in the epic defense of Bastogne, was formally awarded the Presidential Distinguished Unit Citation in this little Ardennes town yesterday and became the first Negro battalion in this war to be so honored.

The original citation was awarded to the 101st Airborne Div. "and its attached units for extraordinary heroism and gallantry in defense of the key communications centers of Bastogne, Belgium," during the most critical phase of the Battle of the Bulge.

Field Marshal Gerd Von Rundstedt's December offensive through the Ardennes gave the Negro artillerymen of the 969th an opportunity to win a place in America's military hall of fame. They were in position northeast of Bastogne when the German breakthrough came, and were ordered to move southward. Arriving at Bastogne, the 969th was conscripted by Brig. Gen. Anthony McAuliffe, acting commander of the 101st, to help stop the Nazi thrust.

Pvt. R. S. Nappers, son of Mrs. Mary Downey of Munday, is serving with the 969th.

Mrs. Mary Downey spent several days last week in Fort Worth with her husband, Pvt. James Downey and they also visited their daughter, Mrs. Estella Moore, in Dallas.

On Tuesday morning, Rev. J. E. Alexander, Rev. W. A. Alexander, Mrs. Williams and her sister and brother-in-law made a short visit in the city, and Mrs. Williams was accepted as teacher for the colored school.

Pvt. Cornia Moore spent a 13-day furlough with his wife, Mrs. Ethel Moore, and his mother, Mrs. Octavius Williams. Pvt. Moore left Tuesday morning for Oklahoma, where he has been stationed for quite a while.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Atkins were here this week from Childress, Texas, to visit her mother, Mrs. Bessie Warren and to accompany Charline home, who spent a few weeks with them.

Enrollment at the University of Texas summer field school at the National University of Mexico totals 1,050 students, Registrar E. J. Mathews reports.

Fixing Up the Farm
 by BURTON WILLIAMS

Guard Against Roof Fires
 NEARLY one third of the annual fire damage in the United States results from flames which consume farm property. The tremendous loss is due largely to the lack of adequate fire-fighting equipment to prevent the spread of flames from one building to another, and to the nearly universal use of inflammable construction on farms.

In most cases fires spread because flying brands from a burning building fall on roofs of other buildings. Farmers in increasing numbers are realizing the need for roof protection against fire and are using fireproof materials in re-roofing old buildings or in new construction.

One of the most widely used fireproof roofing materials today is asbestos cement shingles, which will not burn. Unless the existing roof is in very bad condition, asbestos shingles can be applied directly on top of it. In some cases, however, it is necessary to remove the old roofing before the asbestos shingles or any other type of roof covering are laid. In addition to protecting the building from roof fires, asbestos shingles will make a strong cover that will resist wind, rain and snow. They will not rot and will last the life of the building.

Farm Director Would Employ Cotton Aides

Memphis, Tenn.—Federal Extension Service Director M. L. Wilson in a letter to state directors in the cotton area has recommended the immediate employment of three cotton specialists in each of the states.

Director Wilson's letter is the latest development in a program sponsored by the National Cotton Council. Approved by Extension Service leaders, the project calls for employment of a cotton agronomist, a gin specialist, and an entomologist in every major cotton state.

Specialists would work on a full-time basis. In cases where one or more men already are employed in any classification, a specialist would be added in the other jobs.

The agronomist would be concerned with one-variety cotton work, since such a program long has been recognized as an important factor in increasing the farmer's income and as a method of providing textile mills with an improved product.

Ginning specialists would help to increase gin efficiency by rendering engineering advisory services, while the entomologists would promote insect control programs in an effort to reduce cotton losses. The gin experts would work with the U. S. Cotton Ginning Laboratory, Stoneville, Miss., where new information constantly is being developed.

The council and major farm organizations strongly supported the Bankhead-Flannigan Bill, which provides funds for expanding Extension Service activities, to assure appointment of the three types of specialists.

POST-WAR FLYING IN YOUR HOME TOWN

By C. C. CAMPBELL

The Aviation Committee
When it comes to consideration of the establishment of an airport or other aviation landing facility, each community finds itself faced with its individual needs and problems. A landing facility for each of two communities only a few miles apart may have to meet quite different requirements.

Before construction can start, even before a bond issue can be listed, pertinent information should be tabulated and plans made accordingly. Such matters as location of the airport, size, prospective use, cost, potential income, related business enterprise and many other subjects must be studied, at least in a preliminary way, if the venture is to be a success.

Leaders in community affairs compose the board of directors and officers of the Webster City, Iowa (population 7,000) chapter of the National Aeronautic Association. Left to right: Willis Scott, airport manager and operator; Richard Hahne, Vice President, publisher; Robert McCarthy, President, implement dealer; Paul Swope, Director, dry cleaning; John Whaley, Director, chamber of commerce secretary; Harland W. Mead, Secretary, high school principal.

An airport is usually considered a public utility, much the same as streets, highways and parks. The chief difference is that an airport may ultimately provide self-supporting revenue if correctly planned, whereas other community utilities generally do not.

Based upon experience, aviation authorities advise that the first step taken by a community should be the organization of an air landing facility committee. All members preferably should be local people who know the community's history, its relation to other communities and to the state, and its plans for the future.

It is suggested that committee members might include representatives of the city or town council, chamber of commerce, civic clubs, and newspapers. If there are any persons in the community who have had an intimate connection with any phase of aviation, such as having a part in the Civil Air Patrol program, or experience as commercial air operators, they would by all means be urged to participate.

In addition to representatives of the community's officialdom, there should be a cross section of local business and social enterprise. The components of this will differ according to the area, but generally speaking, may include merchants, professional men, labor leaders, farmers and school principals and teachers.

This is recognized as a logical procedure since the airport must be a community affair and if it is to succeed must cater to all local interests. It will probably surprise many people to discover how many varied activities in even a small community will be influenced in one way or another by the coming era of flight.

The appointed committee, after obtaining and classifying the necessary local data, will then be in a position to take up its preliminary plans with aviation authorities and profit by their experienced advice and criticism. Forty-four states now have aviation boards or commissions ready to help and Washington authorities such as the Civil Aeronautics Administration of the Department of Commerce, the Personal Aircraft Council of the Aircraft Industries Association of America and the National Aeronautic Association, will also aid the local planning group.

This is the fourth of a series of articles on post-war flying and its effect on community life. The next article, "Determining Local Needs," will appear in an early issue.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin, Texas.—Millions of flies help to cause the illness and death of thousands of children and adults each year in the United States. Hundreds of these casualties may be in State of Texas this year if residents fail in their responsibility for developing the best possible sanitation measures in the area where they reside. Typhoid fever, summer complaint, and other intestinal diseases can be traced to the common housefly as the carrier of infection.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, speaking in this connection recently said, "Be sure that your windows and doors are tightly screened so that stray flies from a careless neighbor will not endanger your family. Be sure that flies are kept away from food, drink, and utensils used in the preparation of food. Make sure, if you live in rural districts, that outside privy vaults are tightly covered so as to prevent the entrance of flies. Infections from this source can be picked up and spread to human beings through contact with food, drink, and utensils. Keep all garbage covered until collected or buried. Eliminate all breeding places for flies and you will be helping your community in its work of controlling communicable diseases and preventing unnecessary illness.

Dr. Cox said that the State Health Department would furnish upon request a pamphlet outlining safe and practical methods recommended for use in fly control.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Cunningham are announcing the arrival of a son, who was born on Sunday night, August 19, at the Knox county hospital. Mother and little son are reported to be doing nicely.

Leaders Of War Chest Drives To Meet August 28

War Chest leaders from this area who attend the United War Chest of Texas regional conference at Sheppard Field, Wichita Falls, Tuesday, August 28, 1945, will hear from one of America's prettiest and most talented USO camp show entertainers a report on services being provided for our fighting men through agencies of the National War Fund.

At the same time, while laying the groundwork for the October war chest campaign in Texas, they will hear from one of the nation's most outstanding battle heroes a personal account of the fighting abroad.

The USO entertainer, Miss Paula Bane, has just returned from a tour of both the Atlantic and Pacific fronts, during which she sang for thousands of American troops. She will appear at the war chest conference in uniform, to tell of USO work abroad in an informal talk entitled "This is the Foxhole Circuit."

Capt. R. G. Morere, twice-wounded battle veteran and holder of the nation's second highest award for bravery, will give a first-hand account of modern warfare.

Captain Morere is now a patient at McCloskey General Hospital, where he is recuperating from serious wounds, but volunteered to make a tour of Texas because of his intense interest in the success of the National War Fund Drive in Texas.

Judge O. O. McCurdy, chairman of the war chest Region 13, will preside at the conference, at which Wayland D. Towner, general manager of the United War Chest of Texas, will discuss plans for another over-the-top campaign in Texas. The meeting will be attended by the war chest leaders and workers from every county and community in the region. All local persons interested in the October campaign have been invited to attend. The conference will open at 10 a. m. Following the business discussion, all delegates will be guests at luncheon. During the afternoon, the entire group will be conducted on a tour of Sheppard Field.

Mrs. Woolsey and son of Abilene visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Voss over the week end.

AAA FARM NEWS

Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson has repeated his previous declaration that the government must fulfill its price support promises to farmers to protect them against future consequences of increased wartime production.

In a recent speech at New York, the new Secretary said that farmers want assurance that the promises will be kept. He urged that "we total up our food needs, both military and civilian, and see that total as a production goal for agriculture in 1946 but that the military requirements be regarded as firm contracts or commitments. "I think the Army and Navy will need the food, but if they don't the surplus must not be used to break the economy of the American farmer. It can much better be employed in relieving distress around the world."

Describing himself as "an apostle of abundant production," Mr. Anderson said that food subsidies will be difficult to eliminate "but the job must be done." If the "eliminations of subsidies it not to have serious effects on the producer, they must be removed when "the demand is good and the price is strong."

He praised the farmer for his wartime efforts and said that he must be protected "against the possibility that his very patriotism and hard work will become the instrument of his own destruction."

Elmo Todd of Truscott was in the office recently and signed for Wheat Insurance. Mr. Todd stated that last year was the first year in several that he had not insured his wheat. It so happened that that was the first year he needed the insurance. He had a total loss of 179.0 acres of wheat.

Actual count of the number of farmers to visit the AAA office during the month of July was 219. 105 of these farmers came to the office for the purpose of discussing Conservation Practices; 8 for Commodity Loans; 42 for Crop Insurance; 50 for subsidy payments; 5 for miscellaneous priorities; and 47 miscellaneous.

Mr. C. R. Hendrix, who lives 8 miles north-east from Munday, was in the Office that week signing his 'Statement in Proof of Loss for Cotton.'

Mr. Hendrix planted 55.0 acres of cotton, got a good stand and had cultivated the crop. July 2, he had a 60 per cent loss due to excessive rains. July 4th and 5th, the balance of the cotton was blown out.

Mr. Hendrix premium is approximately $47.58 and his collectible insurance is approximately $845.46.

A recent order by the War Production Board eliminates the necessity for obtaining a priority rating to buy metal bath tubs. Any person may now buy metal bath tubs with out filing an application with any agency.

We have been notified by Porter and White of Knox City that the 55,000 pounds of Austrian Winter Peas we ordered will arrive the last of this week. We will also receive a small supply of Hairy Vetch seed with this shipment. Any farmer wishing to secure some of these seed should contact the AAA office.

Mr. O. D. Propps, Benjamin, made application for 500 pounds of Austrian Winter Peas this week.

John Brown of the Rhineland Community was in the office last week and placed an order with us for 150 pounds of Austrian Winter Peas and 40 pounds of Hairy Vetch.

America's War Equipment May Be Placed In Storage

DALLAS.—America's big guns and other heavy artillery equipment which have brought peace to the world, may be stored in hermetically sealed containers instead of being scrapped.

In cooperation with the army, methods and procedures for this storage program are being developed by United States Steel's American Bridge Company plant in Ambridge, Pa.

Extensive research and experiments have been under way for several months. A welded steel container closely resembling the Army Quonset hut has been developed. The equipment, after being stowed in these sealed-in units, will be subjected to an inert gas atmosphere which, replacing the normal atmosphere with its corroding factors of oxygen and moisture, it is anticipated will prevent deterioration of the contents over a period of time.

Equipment so preserved will be ready for use in the event of another Pearl Harbor. Under the plan now being worked out reconditioned artillery pieces will be delivered to the Ambridge plant for "packaging" and ultimately shipped to designated storage locations.

The containers are designed for storage almost anywhere under extreme temperatures ranging from 60 degrees below to 170 degrees above zero.

Should it come time to open the "cans" and use the guns again a burner's torch would do the trick.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe L. Mayes and family of Corpus Christi came in the latter part of last week for a visit with Mr. Mayes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Mayes, and with other relatives.

Textile Industries Double Output

This is not the console of an iron-cased organ, although it does look like it. Actually it is a warping machine in a Canadian textile factory. The "musical" strings are threads of cotton being drawn together with humming precision. The warping machine can assimilate the ends of threads from as many as 400 spools at one time. Camouflage cloth, web equipment, tire fabrics, powder bags, rifle slings, and parachute strappings are but a few of the cotton industry's war products being turned out in increasing quantities.

THE need for clothing and equipment for Canada's rapidly expanding Navy, Army and Air Force placed a heavy burden upon the textile industries. These industries are, to a high degree, centralized in the Provinces of Quebec and Ontario. In 1942 the gross value of production was $753,394,750, an increase of 102 per cent over 1939. Employment was given to 165,478 persons, and $185,731,313 was paid out in salaries and wages. Of all females employed in the manufacturing industries, 32 per cent were in the textile group, compared with 43 per cent in 1939.

The variety of individual industries included with those of the textile group is representative of practically all stages of manufacturing necessary to convert the various raw materials into products ready for purchase by the public. Men's factory clothing led the group in 1942 with a gross value of production amounting to $149,563,457; this was an increase of 111 per cent over 1939. Cotton yarn and cloth came a close second with a gross production of $141,899,520, an increase of 102 per cent. Other leading industries in order named, were: women's factory clothing, hosiery and knitted goods, woolen cloth, and silk and artificial silk, which showed increases of 95 per cent, 39 per cent, 165 per cent and 89 per cent respectively. A new development in the textile field is the use of artificial silk yarns in the production of tire cord and tire fabrics.

Fixing Up the Farm

Protect Machinery

THE machine shed, in years past regarded as a secondary building which usually was cold and drafty and in poor repair, is becoming one of the most important structures on the American farm. In fact, on many farms it is not only housing a variety of valuable labor-saving machinery, but also is used as a garage and repair and workshop.

These uses call for a completely enclosed building which will protect the machinery and equipment from cold winds, rain and snow and at the same time provide reasonably comfortable working quarters. The importance of this protection has been emphasized by the need for farmers to keep every piece of machinery in operation because of the difficulty of replacement. An average mechanized middle western farm of about 200 acres requires an investment of $7,000 to $8,000 in modern farm machinery which can't be left out in the weather.

Existing sheds with strong frameworks and poor coverings can be made weather-tight and comfortable by applying asbestos cement siding over the present cover. If a new roof is needed, asbestos cement shingles applied over present roofing will assure permanent protection.

VACATION TIME?

A PATRIOTIC VACATION AT HOME

Wartime travel has convinced most West Texans that the only place to get a real vacation is at home. Creeks and lakes in this vicinity are full of fish and some of us are learning for the first time the beauties of our own immediate outdoors. A few days out in the country doesn't disrupt the household as it did some years ago. You don't have to throw out all the food in the house. Now folks just leave their electric refrigerator on "medium" and when they get back—day or night—cold and inviting foods await them.

Servicemen need every bit of traveling space available for the next ninety days, and by your staying at home this summer a little extra room will be left for these returning heroes.

Rediscover the vacation spots in our vicinity. Reddy Kilowatt guarantees that you'll write to your friends, "Having a wonderful time—wish you were here."

Precaution Urged To Prevent Spread Of Screwworm Fly

Unusual increases in the screwworm fly populations from the Edwards Plateau area north into Kansas should be warning to farmers to take every precaution to cut down the possibility of stock becoming infested, according to R. O. Dunkle, county agent.

Dunkle said that sheep and goat raisers should treat all shear cuts promptly and to avoid wounding the stock in any way. Usually, the screwworm fly population decreases after June 1, and after the normal spring increases. But this summer, fly numbers have become greater, and estimate made by the Bureau of Entomology indicate that the population during the first half of July was the highest of the past six years—approximately the same as 1941—and 140 per cent of normal.

The Bureau of Entomology reports that their organization hasn't been able to determine the cause of the unexpected increase of the flies and the rather persistent, heavy attacks on livestock. Some ranchmen have suggested that the condition has been provoked by deterioration of equipment and fences to the extent that more animals are wounded, and that wounded stock have been neglected on account of a shortage of help.

All wounded animals should be treated with smear 62, Dunkle said. Even though screwworms are not present, the wound should be treated, since smear 62 acts as a healing agent and will kill any worms that hatch within two days after the smear is applied.

Smear 62 applied to animals infested with the worms will not only kill this parasite, but will act as a surgical dressing, Dunkle said. The application should be repeated in three days in severe cases, but usually one application is enough. Smear 62 is available in most drug stores and veterinary supply houses.

Division Gets Bronze Star For Battle, France

WITH THE 106TH INFANTRY DIVISION OF THE SEVENTH ARMY—490 men of the 422nd Infantry, the "Smash and Drive" regiment of the 106th "Lion" Division, were recently awarded a bronze battle star for participation in the Northern France campaign. All had previously won battle stars for the Rhineland Campaign.

In Northern France the 422nd was among the units which held a ring of steel around the German forces in Lorient and St. Nazaire. In the Rhineland, the 106th Division drove through and over the German 26th Division's positions in the Siegfried Line.

The full story of the 422nd Infantry Regiment's heroic stand in the Ardennes in December has only recently been released. On the flank of the Lion Division's sector of the Germany-Belgium border, the regiment's first taste of combat came with the massive panzer assault which heralded the breakthrough into the Bulge. The full force of the Nazi panzer and SS attack smashed into the 422nd and 423rd regiments.

For two days and two nights the Smash and Drive men bore the brunt of the attack charged with the mission of holding. Holding until reserves could be brought up, holding the approaches to key road centers, to supply dumps. . . . nearly surrounded the first day, completely encircled by the second, roads for food and ammunition cut off. . . . and yet, they held against two German Divisions, long enough to save the Bulge from exploding into a decisive Nazi victory.

The defense of the Ardennes cost the 42nd and 423rd combat teams nearly 7,000 men missing in action. Most of the missing soldiers were liberated from German prisoner of war camps in later campaigns.

Frozen Foods Are Easier Prepared For Quick Meals

COLLEGE STATION.—It's no wonder that homemakers like to buy quick frozen vegetables. They take so much less time and effort to prepare for the table than fresh vegetables. Perhaps you'd enjoy a quick trip through a commercial plant to learn how vegetables are processed.

Peas, for example, are sweetest when they're young and tender, in the early stage of maturity. So it's important to get them quickly from the field to the plant.

The first step in the packing plant is that of dry cleaning the peas. The bits of skins or pods are blown and shaken out. Then the peas go through a wet wash. And by that time they are scrupulously clean and ready for the blanching process. For thirty seconds the peas receive a steam blanch that destroys or checks the bacteria. Color and flavor are set, too, so they change very little throughout the freezing, storing, and final cooking in your kitchen.

The process of cooling the peas follows immediately after the blanching. The next step in this commercial quick-freezing process is a salt water bath. Over-mature, starchy peas will go to the bottom in this salt solution, and the tender ones will float on top.

After the tender peas are washed to remove the salt water, they are spread out on moving belts. A group of skilled women give the peas a final once-over. One more bath, and they're ready to be packaged in waxed paper cartons.

The last important step is the quick freezing process. The peas are frozen so quickly that they retain all their natural goodness.

One of the most recent additions to the quick-frozen food family is citrus juice. In order to save metal, citrus juice is frozen in large blocks—10 to 30 pounds in size—and shipped in fibre containers to domestic army camps. When the block melts, the juice has the natural flavor of fresh fruit.

Victory Drive For War Fund To Start In October

AUSTIN.—The October "Victory" campaign will be the last drive on behalf of the National War Fund, Judge Ben H. Powell, president of the United War Chest of Texas, announced today.

Following completion of the 1945 campaign, which will raise funds to keep USO and other war fund agencies going until America's fighting men have been returned home, both the United War Chest of Texas and the National War Fund will liquidate, Judge Powell said.

The state war chest leader called on all Texans to make the October "Victory" drive the greatest of all.

"Through our generosity in this final campaign, we can show our fighting men and our allies our full appreciation for their sacrifices," Judge Powell declared. "Funds raised this year will maintain USO-Camp Show operations for our men still abroad and for occupation troops, and provide vitally necessary aid for suffering war victims in liberated areas."

"It should be our greatest effort, for only by generous response to the appeal of humanity can we prove to the world that Americans can be as generous in victory as we were determined in war."

"Millions of our men still are overseas, and large numbers will be left on occupation duty in Europe and Japan. We cannot abandon our service men now, just because victory has been won. We must help them fight the battle of boredom, and prove to them that our appreciation of their great sacrifices is more than a mere phrase."

"And we must extend a helping hand to our allies in the Philippines, in China and in other liberated countries, in order that they may once again take their rightful place among friendly nations."

"We can't let them down now, just because the fighting is over," Judge Powell urged Texans in every part of the state to an all-out effort on behalf of the coming campaign, through which the nation must raise $115,000,000 "for our own and our allies."

Texas, which went over-the-top in two previous war fund drives, has been given a quota of approximately $4,500,000. This means that every community and county will be asked to give this year approximately the same amount as contributed during the 1944 campaign.

The National War Fund drive will open October 1, with local community and county war chests canvassing every residential and business area in Texas.
